2007 Furman Football

The Record Book / Football Dateline

1889 — Furman and Wofford bring football to South Carolina when the two schools meet in the state's first gridiron clash, in Spartanburg, on December 14. Wofford defeats Furman 5-1 in a game that features no uniforms for its players, no positions, and rules formulated before the game. Described by Wofford alumnus G. Rougie ('91) in the January, 1890, issue of Old Gold and Black, the game "lasted one hour and half, with two fifteen-minute rests, and was won with ease by Wofford, the score being five to one. The visiting team (Furman) left on the afternoon train wiser and sadder men, having learned that though they receive instruction in their heads, not feet, at Furman, a little education of the pedal extremities is requisite to make good football players."

1890 — Furman loses 2-1 to Wofford in the first football game ever played in Greenville. Football team disbands following loss and first Furman baseball team is formed.

1891 — Furman topples Wofford 12-0 on January 24, in Spartanburg, for the school's first collegiate football victory. Coached by H.C. Granger, Furman completes sweep of Wofford with a 28-2 win in Greenville on March 21.

1892 — Furman plays South Carolina in Charleston on Christmas Eve and wins 44-0. Furman wears purple jerseys and goes by the name of Mountaineers. Professor H.P. Young plays quarterback and serves as head coach. Furman's players average 156 pounds. At an alumni meeting headed up by James Andrews Tate of York, South Carolina, the school's colors — royal purple and white — are selected.

1893 — Opposition to football is revealed in the April issue of the Furman Journal, which reports one foe as saying, "There are not a few people in this state who think football is proper only for 'toughs'. You boys are members of the church and ought not to do such things." Team (with 51 other students) takes train to the Augusta Exposition to play Georgia and loses 22-8.

1895 — Quarterback and head coach H.P. Young suffers self-inflicted gunshot wound to his wrist and is forced to have his hand amputated.

1896 — Furman and Clemson meet on the football field for the first time, and Clemson wins 14-6.

1897 — Furman Board of Trustees abolishes all intercollegiate sports at June meeting.

1898 — Furman student newspaper, The Echo, reports in its October issue that tennis clubs are organized "since we are not allowed to play football." In the November issue of The Echo, football scores from across the nation are printed and students complain that "the problem with southern colleges is they don't advertise, don't play football, and don't teach business classes."

1900 — Football resurfaces at Furman under the direction of Frank Spencer.

1902 — Furman and South Carolina meet again on the football field in a game that is significant in South Carolina athletic history. After taking a 10-0 win, Furman's players — known then as Purple Fighters — hoist above their heads a garnet and black rooster with plucked tail feathers. This prompted the use of the name Gamecocks to describe South Carolina's football team, a name that was widely used by 1903.

1903 — No coach can be found to direct Furman's football team; season is suspended.

1905 — Furman faculty passes a new rule stating that "any student who fails an exam can't play on a varsity team." As reported in The Echo, the faculty's reasoning for its action centers on the poor classroom performance of athletes. "Members of many of the college's teams go to school simply to play ball, taking only a light course and just stumbling along until ball season is over."

1913 — Furman revives football under coach W.C. Farmer.

On Miami trip, team spends time at the beach, where it has a picture taken with two sports heroes of the time: Gene Sarazen and Gene Tunney. In addition to win over Miami, season features triumphs over Duke (13-7), North Carolina State (20-0), Wake Forest (53-0), South Carolina (34-0), and Clemson (28-0). In all, Furman notches seven shutouts and seventh state title.

in Chattanooga. Paladins' outstanding season produces a wealth of recognition, including a school record six All-Americans and 16 All-Southern Conference honorees — another program high. Donnie Littlejohn, a consensus All-America choice at tackle, becomes the third consecutive Paladin to capture league Jacobs Blocking Award. Louis Ivory and Will Bouton, meanwhile, are named conference offensive and defensive players-of-the-year, respectively, for second straight season, and Ivory becomes only third player in Furman history to have his jersey (No. 34) retired. Brian Bratton captures league freshman-of-the-year honors after pacing the nation in kickoff returns (37.2 avg., 3 TDs), and head coach Bobby Johnson is tabbed national coach-of-the-year by American Football Coaches Association. Johnson ends eight-year head coaching tenure when he accepts head coaching position at Vanderbilt in late December. Former Paladin quarterback great and 13-year assistant Bobby Lamb succeeds Johnson.

2002 — Paladins go 8-4 under first year head coach Bobby Lamb, earn program's fourth straight NCAA I-AA playoff berth, and finish No. 9 in Sports Network final poll. Quarterback Billy Napier throws for school record 2,475 yards and sets SoCon career pass completion record (68.5 percent). Wide receiver Bear Rinehart establishes new Furman season (70) and career (126) receptions records en route to earning South Carolina Player-of-the-Year honors. Paladins trounce arch-rival The Citadel, 37-10, and edge Wofford in quagmire in Spartanburg, 23-21, denying the Terriers a playoff bid. Offensive guard Trevor Kruger is named to four All-America squads, and cornerback Rodney Johnson lands Verizon Academic All-America accolades.

2003 — After getting off to 4-1 start, Furman stumbles down the stretch to finish 6-5. Paladins lose four conference games by a combined total of 10 points despite leading the league in four of five major defensive categories and ranking first nationally in passing defense. Placekicker Danny Marshall converts 16-of-20 field goals, finishes his career as the SoCon's all-time leading kick scorer (312 points), and is named to three All-America teams. Linebacker Mike Killian tops league with 134 tackles. Twelve Paladins earn All-SoCon honors.

2004 — Furman posts 10-3 record and wins program's 12th Southern Conference championship on the way to No. 5 final national ranking. Paladins win first three in impressive fashion and then, after losing starting safeties Cam Newton and Shelton Riley to injury, narrowly miss upsetting eventual Fiesta Bowl participant Pittsburgh, losing 41-38 in overtime. Furman rebounds to win seven of its final nine games, including 33-14 triumph over The Citadel that saw the Paladins limit the Bulldogs to no first downs in the first half. Furman takes down second-ranked Georgia Southern 29-22 in front of 17,145 fans at Paladin Stadium and then knocks off Wofford 31-24 for third straight win in Spartanburg, snapping the Terriers' 13-game home winning streak. Program clinches league crown with 51-31 triumph over Chattanooga and opens NCAA I-AA playoff action with 49-7 victory over Jacksonville State. Furman takes 13-7 second half lead against James Madison but surrenders last minute score to fall 14-13 to eventual national champion. Junior linebacker William Freeman registers team leading 100 tackles on SoCon's top scoring defense and is consensus SoCon Defensive Player-of-the-Year selection. Strong safety Andrew Thacker captures SoCon Freshman-of-the-Year honors, and Bobby Lamb is tabbed league coach-of-the-year. Offensive tackle Ben Bainbridge is named SoCon Jacobs Blocking Award winner and joins defensive end Roy Ravenell and Freeman in garnering All-America accolades. Quarterback Ingle Martin throws for school record 2,792 yards and another school best 22 touchdowns. Program finishes 12th in NCAA I-AA in home regular season attendance, averaging 14,109 over five contests.

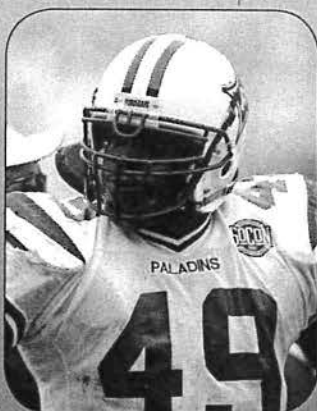

2005 — Furman rolls up 11-3 record and advances to semifinal round of NCAA I-AA playoffs before dropping 29-23 decision to eventual national champion Appalachian State in Boone. Paladins open the season with dramatic 37-35 win at Jacksonville State on 8-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Ingle Martin to flanker Justin Stepp on game's final play, and later reel off six straight wins during regular season, including a pair of overtime triumphs over Hofstra (44-41, 2OT) and The Citadel (39-31, 3OT), and 34-31 victory over Appalachian State in Greenville. Furman edges Nicholls State (14-12) in first round playoff action and Richmond (24-20) in quarterfinal round. Quarterback Ingle

Martin breaks his own season passing record by throwing for 2,959 yards and 20 touchdowns and completes two-year career with 15 school records, including Furman's all-time passing (5,761 yards) and total offense (6,277 yards) standards. Jerome Felton rushes for Furman fullback record 940 yards and 18 touchdowns. Three Paladins — Martin, center Corey Stewart, and offensive guard Patrick Covington — are named All-America. Martin, who also leads the SoCon in punting (43.2 avg.), is selected by the Green Bay Packers in the fifth round of the NFL Draft.

2006 — Furman goes 8-4 and earns third straight NCAA I-AA playoff bid. Freshman quarterback Jordan Sorrells throws game winning 19-yard touchdown pass to Brantley Kendall with 28 seconds left in 17-13 season opening win over Jacksonville State. Paladins pile up 521 yards offense in 45-42 loss to North Carolina. Fullback Jerome Felton scores SoCon record six touchdowns in 42-7 whipping of Western Carolina and goes on to set new school season rushing touchdowns (23) and scoring standards (140 points). Scott Beckler kicks game tying 23-yard field goal on final play of regulation in Paladins' eventual 28-22 overtime win over Chattanooga. Paladins extend home winning streak to 13 games with 13-10 victory over Georgia Southern in regular season finale. Offensive guard Adi Filipovic becomes school's 12th Academic All-American and also garners NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship and NACDA FCS National Scholar Athlete-of-the-Year accolades.

Consensus SoCon Defensive Player-of-the-Year linebacker William Freeman keys Paladins to league crown and 10-3 season.
