LADY PALADIN INVITATIONAL

2024 marks the 50th anniversary of the storied Lady Paladin Invitational. Since its inception in 1972 as the Carolinas Collegiate, Furman's Lady Paladin Invitational Golf Tournament has hosted many of the top golfers and teams in the country.

The Lady Paladin Invitational has featured some of the game's best young golfers who have gone on to become established players on the LPGA Tour. Past winners include Tulsa's Nancy Lopez (1976), Georgia's Cindy Mackey (1982), North Carolina's Donna Andrews (1989), and Furman's Betsy King (1975), Sherri Turner (1979), and Dottie Pepper (1986).

In 1991, the Invitational was moved from the spring to the fall to take advantage of Greenville's beautiful autumn weather. For many years the Furman golf course played at 5,885 yards for the Furman Invitational, but in 2005, former Lady Paladin coach Jen Hanna lengthened the course to 6,103 yards for tournament play.

After a year's absence due to course renovations in 2008, the Lady Paladin returned in 2009 with defending NCAA Division II National Champion Nova Southeastern edging out a strong field for the tournament title in two rounds after rain suspended play during the third round.

The course was again lengthened in 2012 to 6,266 yards by former Lady Paladin coach Kelley Hester.

Former Paladin Taylor Totland, who was inducted into the Furman Hall of Fame in 2022, won the Lady Paladin in 2014.

FURMAN WOMEN'S GOLF 1976 AIAW NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

In 1976, Furman men's golf coach Gary "Doc" Meredith took on the additional responsibility of coaching the women's program, inheriting one of the most talented rosters in the history of collegiate golf. The Lady Paladins returned future LPGA professionals in senior Cindy Ferro, junior Betsy King and sophomore Beth Daniel. Furman added a fourth future LPGA star when Meredith eventually talked Greenville native Sherri Turner into enrolling at Furman prior to the 1975-76 season along with freshmen Leigh Coulter and Holly Hunt.

One of the preseason favorites to claim the 1976 Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women national title, Furman was quickly overshadowed by the play of the fully-funded University of Tulsa Golden Hurricanes and their freshman sensation Nancy Lopez. The Lady Paladins, who had almost no scholarship money and no recruiting or travel budget, claimed three tournament titles and standout Betsy King took individual medalist honors three times during the season. Tulsa, however, defeated Furman each time the schools went head-to-head, including a Golden Hurricane victory at Furman's own Lady Paladin Invitational in the Spring.

The 1976 AIAW Championship was held in June at the Forest Akers West Course in East Lansing, Mich., where Furman had claimed a victory earlier in the season. Furman was in fifth after the first day, in a third place tie after day two and in second behind Florida entering the final round. But coming down the stretch on the final day of the tournament, it was Tulsa and Furman pacing the field. Playing in the final group and needing par at the par 3 18th hole to give Furman the title, Daniel missed the green to the right with her tee shot. With the pressure on, the two-time U.S. Amateur champion and LPGA Hall of Famer chipped onto the green and buried a three-foot putt to secure a one-stroke victory for the Lady Paladins.

Following their Furman careers, Daniel, Ferro, King and Turner went on to win a combined 70 LPGA Tour events, including eight major championships. Daniel will serve as captain of the 2009 United States Solheim Cup team. King, also a member of the LPGA Hall of Fame, served as captain of the Solheim Cup team in 2007.

NATALIE SRINIVASAN - 2020 GOLFWEEK ANNIKA AWARD WINNER

Furman senior Natalie Srinivasan won the 2020 Golfweek ANNIKA Award, as announced by the Golf Channel. The award, which is presented by Stifel and named in honor of Annika Sorenstam, has been given annually since 2014 to the nation's top female collegiate golfer, and the recipient is chosen by a vote of current players, coaches, and members of the golf media. As the winner of the ANNIKA Award, Srinivasan received an exemption to compete in the 2021 Evian Championship on the LPGA Tour.

"It is such an honor to be named the winner of this year's ANNIKA award," said Srinivasan. "This is something I have only ever dreamed of receiving. This award means so much since it is voted on by my peers, and I am grateful to have this opportunity. I would like to thank my family, my teammates, and my coaches, especially my head coach, Jeff Hull. I would not be the player I am today without them."

A native of Spartanburg, S.C., Srinivasan, the 2020 PING WGCA National Player of the Year, finished the 2019-20 season as the top-ranked active collegiate women's golfer, according to the Golfstat ratings. She boasted an adjusted scoring average of 70.51 during her senior campaign.

The seventh first team All-American selection in the history of the Paladin program and the first since 1998, Srinivasan won two tournaments, the Glass City Invitational and the Lady Paladin Invitational, in September then opened the 2020 spring season with an individual victory at the Moon Golf Invitational in Melbourne. In March, she finished as runner up at the Darius Rucker Inter-collegiate in Hilton Head.

Srinivasan, who earned an invitation to the Augusta National Women's Amateur for the second-consecutive year, paced the Paladins with a 70.8 stroke average over 18 rounds in 2019-20, the best single-season stroke average ever for a Paladin women's golfer. She concluded her Paladin career with a 72.6 stroke average over 118 rounds, the best career stroke average in Furman women's golf history.

She was voted the Edna Hartness Furman Female Athlete of the Year and awarded the Dr. Gary Clark Student-Athlete Achievement Award, in addition to winning the inaugural Juli Inkster Senior Award presented by WorkDay, which recognizes the highest-ranked women's collegiate golfer in her final year of NCAA eligibility.

"I am so proud of Natalie for winning the ANNIKA Award," said Hull. "She had an amazing career at Furman, and for her to cap it off with this award is a testament to her hard work and dedication during her time here. This award is so important because it comes from the players, coaches, and media around the country. I can't think of a more deserving player than Natalie."

The 2020 SoCon Female Athlete of the Year and a three-time All-SoCon selection, Srinivasan, who finished in a tie for 17th at the inaugural Augusta National Women's Amateur in 2019, was honored as an All-American twice by the WGCA and for three-consecutive seasons by Golfweek. The 2018 Southern Conference Player of the Year, she competed in the 2017 U.S. Women's Open and ranked among the nation's best collegiate golfers throughout her career.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, America's most prestigious honor society, Srinivasan graduated with a 3.9 GPA in health sciences and continued her golf career as a professional before enrolling in medical school. She was the recipient of the Winston Babb Memorial Award, which is given by the Furman Chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa to the woman in each class who has demonstrated the most outstanding qualities of leadership, scholarship, and service to the university.

Furman joins UCLA and Stanford as the only three programs in the country to have won both a Fred Haskins Award and an ANNIKA Award. Former Paladin Brad Faxon was honored with the Fred Haskins Award in 1983.
