MEMO TO THE MEDIA

On behalf of Furman University I would like to extend an invitation to all members of the news media to visit our beautiful campus at any time during the coming season.

If there is anything that I can do to make your job easier when covering Furman athletics, please do not hesitate to call.

Charlie Dayton
Sports Information Director

The 1973-74 Furman University basketball brochure is published as a service to the press, radio and TV. Additional information and pictures will be furnished to all news media. All ticket requests (working press, scouting, etc.) should be made through the Sports Information Office, 803-246-3650, ext. 359.

All working press will be seated at assigned spots on press row (courtside). No hazing of any kind by press towards players, officials, etc. will be allowed.

All home games during the 1973-74 season will be played in Greenville Memorial Auditorium beginning at 8 p.m. Preliminary games will start at 6:00.

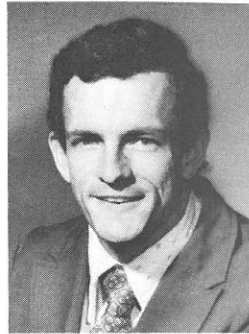

THE PALADIN RADIO TEAM

BILL HOGAN

For the third consecutive year, Furman Basketball will be broadcast by the capable team of Bill Hogan and John Block. The originating outlet for the 10-station network will be WLBG-AM and FM in Laurens, S. C. All Furman games, home and away, will be broadcast live.

Once again the Iowa-born Hogan will do the play-by-play action while Block provides a knowledgeable and interesting color commentary. Hogan has been in radio since his graduation from Mount Saint Mary's College (Emmitsburg, Md.) in 1948. In 1955 he purchased Station WLBG, which he still owns and operates. Hogan is not a newcomer to the sports scene. He has been in sports announcing of some variety since college, and for 19 years has been the Voice of the Presbyterian College football team. Hogan resides in Clinton, South Carolina.

Block is a history professor at Furman, where he graduated in 1963. A native of Chicago, Ill., Block played on the freshman team and for a year on the varsity. After getting his undergraduate degree, Block earned his Masters Degree and Doctorate at the University of Wisconsin. An avid basketball fan, he combines his knowledge of the game and close association with the players for interesting insight.

ABOUT THE FRONT COVER

Furman's big men—7-1 Fessor Leonard, 6-9 Clyde Mayes, and 6-6 Craig Lynch—will play a large role in determining the Paladin's success. Leonard and Mayes were all-Southern Conference as sophomores while Lynch's impressive finish last year as a freshman has thrust him into a starting role.

FURMAN FACTS

- Furman University is a private, coeducational college of liberal arts located in Greenville, S. C. Founded in 1826, and located on its present campus in 1958, the University is partially supported by the South Carolina Baptist Convention.
- The University is located on a 750-acre wooded campus six miles north of the city. Campus facilities and activities include a 30-acre lake for swimming, boating, and fishing, an 18-hole golf course, 20 tennis courts, a playhouse for experimental drama, a 2,000 seat auditorium, physical activities center, an athletic building, seven playing fields, a movie series, a lecture series, and a fine arts series.
- Furman offers the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Music and Bachelor of Science degrees. The graduate division awards the Master of Arts degree with a major in education and the Master of Science degree with a major in chemistry. A Master of Business Education degree is offered jointly by Furman's Department of Business Administration and the Clemson University College of Industrial Management and Textile Science.
- The James B. Duke Library, fully air-conditioned, houses over 205,000 volumes. More than 1,250 periodicals are received regularly and the microfilm and record collections are extensive. New books are now being acquired at the rate of approximately 10,000 per year.
- The faculty, 75 per cent of whom hold earned doctoral degrees, consists of 128 full-time and 12 part-time professors. The student-faculty ratio of 15:1 allows for individual attention and personal relationships.
- Enrollment during the 1972-73 academic year was 2,089, with students from 34 states in the United States and six foreign countries in attendance.
- The Furman University physical plant is valued at over $29,000,000. Twenty-one major buildings have been completed. Buildings for music and the visual arts will be begun shortly.
- Buildings are reinforced concrete, faced with handmade Virginia brick. The contemporary Williamsburg colonial architecture captures much of the flavor of the Old South, adapted to modern needs and usage.
- The 1972-73 Furman freshman class averaged 1118 on the Scholastic Aptitude Tests.
- Furman is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the Southern University Conference, the Association of American Colleges and the South Carolina Association of Colleges. It is on the approved list of the American Association of University Women and the American Chemical Society, and is a member of the National Association of Schools of Music.
- Students at Furman are eligible to earn college credit by participating in foreign study programs for a term or an academic year. Programs offered include travel to England, Spain, France, Austria, and the Middle East.

DR. GORDON W. BLACKWELL

President, M. A., Ph. D., LL. D., L. H. D.

A Furman graduate, Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell became the university's eighth president on February 1, 1965.

Since becoming President, Dr. Blackwell has led the Furman administration and student body into closer week-to-week dialogue through an open-door policy concerning students and faculty. Students now serve on most administrative and faculty committees as well as on committees of the Board of Trustees and Advisory Council. Academic innovations have resulted in a thoroughly revised curriculum and academic calendar.

Blackwell's teaching career began at Furman, where he served as professor and chairman of the Sociology Department from 1937-41. He was a member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill for a short time before serving two years during World War II as a community organization specialist in the Office of Civilian Defense.

After the war he taught further at Chapel Hill, becoming Kenan Professor, the most prestigious in the University. He was also Director of the Institute for Research in Social Science for 13 years. For two summers he was visiting professor at Columbia University and lectured at Oxford University in England in 1955.

At the time of his election to the Furman presidency, he was president of Florida State University, Tallahassee, where he served for four and one-half years. Prior to assuming this position, he was chancellor of the Women's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro for three and one-half years.

Blackwell graduated summa cum laude in 1932, and was captain and number one man on the tennis team for three years, editor of the literary magazine, and president of the band. He received the Master of Arts degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1933, and the Ph. D. degree from Harvard University in 1940.

Born in Timmonsville, S. C., Dr. Blackwell is married to the former Elizabeth Blair Lyles. Sons, Gordon and Randy, are Furman graduates and were Furman varsity basketball players. The Blackwells also have two daughters, Blair (Mrs. Charles Cooper) and Millie (Mrs. W. D. Yarbrough).

J. LYLES ALLEY, M. A.

Director of Athletics

One of the foremost figures in Furman Athletic history, J. Lyles Alley is in his 16th year as the Paladins' Director of Athletics. However, his role in the Furman University athletic program reaches back over a period of almost 30 years as an athlete, coach, and administrator.

As a student, Alley lettered in basketball, football, baseball, and track, and was named Furman's most valuable football player in 1932 when the Paladins rolled to an 8-1 mark. Altogether, Alley won 12 letters before graduating in 1933.

After a 12-year separation, the Spartanburg, S. C., native returned to Furman in 1945 to assume the position of head basketball coach and within 10 years Furman University had become a familiar name throughout the nation. Under his guidance, Furman produced its first two All-Americans, Frank Selvy in 1954 and Darrell Floyd in 1956.

His teams were national scoring champions, 1953-56, setting records each time, and his 1951-52 team was voted the nation's most improved. His 1952-53 team still holds the record for most victories by a Furman team with 21 triumphs.

In 1957, Alley assumed the duties of athletic director as well as basketball coach, and continued the dual position nine years before relinquishing his coaching position in order to devote fulltime to his duties as Director of Athletics.

In recognition of his many contributions to Furman and the State of South Carolina, Alley has been honored with membership in the state's Athletic Hall of Fame. However, all of his contributions are not in the past. Under Alley's leadership, Furman is currently enjoying new peaks in athletic morale and looks to go higher.

JOHN WEST, M. ED.

Associate Director of Athletics

In only a year John West has established himself as one on the nation's most capable young administrators. Through his promotional efforts, Furman football attendance reached an all-time high last season as the Paladins drew 55,000 spectators for five home games.

Before concentrating his efforts on the administrative end of athletics, West was one of the nation's most successful track coaches at Furman and the University of South Carolina.

The Memphis, Tenn. native coached the Paladin track teams to unprecedented heights during the mid-sixties before going to the University of South Carolina in 1968. His 1971 team at South Carolina had the first undefeated dual season in the history of the University with a perfect 6-0 record including a victory in the prestigious Penn Relays.

West attended Louisiana State University and graduated from East Texas State University, where he was one of the nation's fastest sprinters with a 9.4 clocking in the 100-yard dash.

A much sought after banquet speaker and member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, West holds a Master's degree from Memphis State University and coached at Fraysure High School (Memphis) and Union University (Jackson, Tenn.) before coming to Furman.

West married the former Charlotte Dickerson of Greenville, Tex., and they have three children, DeAnn, 13, John, 11, and Elizabeth, 9.

DR. FRANCIS W. BONNER, M. A., PH. D.

Vice President and Provost
Faculty Chairman of Athletics

One of the most respected men in the Southern Conference, Dr. Bonner was elected President of the Conference last January. He has served as Faculty Chairman of Athletics since January of 1968. Dr. Bonner came to Furman as an associate professor of English in 1949, and was named Dean of the University in 1961. Two years later he was named Vice President of the University. He has been a member of Furman's Faculty Committee on Athletics since 1953 and is one of the most loyal Paladin sports fans.

A native of Lanett, Ala., Dr. Bonner received his B. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of Alabama and his Ph. D. from the University of North Carolina.

Prior to coming to Furman, Dr. Bonner taught at the University of Alabama, was head of the English department of the Marietta, Ga., High School, and was a graduate instructor at North Carolina.

HEAD COACH JOE WILLIAMS, M. A.

The test of time is often referred to as the best criteria for greatness. If that is the case, Furman coach Joe Williams has twofold case for coaching excellence.

On the one hand, Williams has gone six consecutive seasons without suffering a losing season. In his nine year head coaching career, he has been associated with a loser only once, and that was the first season that his Jacksonville team entered the NCAA University Division. He has won over 65 per cent of his games while compiling an impressive 144-92 lifetime record.

However, Williams also has credentials for greatness in terms other than "longevity." Time after time, he has demonstrated the ability to achieve a goal in an incredibly short period of time, and has no failures to his credit. Should Furman win 18 games this season, Williams will become the Paladins' second winningest coach (ranking only behind Lyles Alley) despite having logged only four years in his present position.

During his brief stay at Furman, Williams already has two Southern Conference Championships to his credit, a goal which the Paladins had never achieved prior to his arrival. The 20 victories by Furman last season missed by a single game equaling Furman's all-time high for triumphs in a season.

While Furman's recent successes have been extremely pleasing, they have not been unexpected. Everywhere Williams has gone he has been a winner.

Prior to coming to Furman, Williams performed one of the great miracles of collegiate basketball history when he guided Jacksonville University to the finals of the NCAA tournament in 1969. To appreciate the magnitude of his accomplishment, one needs to realize that only six years earlier, the Dolphins had barely managed a winning season against NAIA competition.

Following his stunning year with the Dolphins, Williams again surprised the basketball world when he announced that he was leaving Jacksonville to come back to Furman, where he had served as an assistant coach during the 1963-64 season.

"I had always wanted to return to Furman," says Williams. "It is a unique school and I felt that I could make Furman a winner."

In his very first year, Williams made good on his promise as he guided the Paladins to a 15-12 record and their first Southern Conference Championship. An overtime upset to East Carolina in the finals prevented Furman its second crown the next season, but last year the Paladins erased that bitter memory by rolling to the conference championship at Richmond, Va. The 20-9 record compiled by the Paladins was the best for a Furman team since 1953-54, and for his accomplishments, Williams was tabbed Southern Conference Coach of the Year.

A native of Morton, Miss., Williams graduated from Durant High School (Okla.) in 1952. He entered Southern Methodist University the next fall and played freshman football and basketball for the Mustangs. He then transferred to Oklahoma City before returning to SMU where he obtained his Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1956.

After an army hitch, Williams entered Tulane University and did graduate work in English. He received his masters degree from Florida State in 1968.

Williams began his coaching career at Terry Parker Junior High School in Jacksonville in 1960 and went to Ribault High a year later. The following season he guided the Florida State freshman team to an 11-7 mark in 1962-63 in his first fling with college coaching. The following year, Williams joined the Furman staff as an assistant to head coach Lyles Alley, and remained one year before embarking on his head coaching career at Jacksonville in 1964.

He is married to the former Dale Mahoney of Jacksonville and they have two sons, Joey 8, and Patrick 5.

BOB DOTSON, M.A.

Assistant Coach

When Coach Joe Williams speaks of his "right hand man," the person to whom he is referring is assistant coach Bob Dotson. A top recruiter and an excellent game tactician, Dotson is in his sixth full season on the Paladin staff.

The 32-year old Louisville, Ky., native joined the Paladin staff in September of 1968, and served as head freshman coach his first two seasons.

The following year he was promoted to varsity assistant where his responsibilities have increased each year. Along with his coaching and recruiting duties, the personable Dotson also has a large role in forming the Furman radio network.

Dotson did his prep coaching at Louisville's Butler High School where he compiled a 28-21 mark for two seasons. In the six seasons prior to Dotson's arrival, Butler had not had a winning campaign and had finished with a disastrous 3-18 record the previous year, but Dotson took the Bears to the regional finals in his first year, and was tabbed Coach of the Year in the Sixth Region.

A graduate of Lindsey Wilson Junior College and Western Kentucky University, Dotson holds a Masters Degree in mathematics. He and his wife, Bobbie, have no children.

JOHN JONES, B.S.

Assistant Coach

A former Georgia state high school coach-of-the-year, John Jones is in his third year at Furman. His main responsibilities are recruiting and scouting as well as working with the Paladin Junior Varsity squad.

The versatile Jones has an excellent athletic background in high school and college as well as the professional ranks. A native of Mobile, Ala., he attended Alabama State College where he played basketball and baseball.

Following graduation, he played in the Philadelphia Phillies' farm chain until he was forced to retire due to an arm injury.

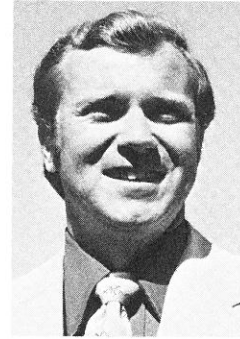

After his baseball career was cut short, Jones began a high school coaching career which culminated with the Georgia high school championship in 1971. During his three years at Carver High School, Jones won 73 games while losing only 14 times. All three years he was named Coach of the Year in the Columbus-Phenix City area.

Jones developed a number of outstanding high school players, including 7-1 center Fessor Leonard, who is currently a member of the Furman varsity team.

Coach Jones and his wife Mattie have one son.

STEVE YODER, B.A.

Assistant Coach

Energetic Steve Yoder was named to the Furman staff last summer, replacing Wayne Krueger who left a year ago to coach in Spain. Regarded as one of the top high school coaches in Indiana, Yoder compiled a 105-35 record for six years. During that period he guided Plymouth High School to two regional titles, three sectional championships, and three conference crowns and missed going to the state finals by a single point in 1970. The two most outstanding seasons during those years were 1970 when Plymouth compiled a 23-4 record and 1973 when Plymouth went 22-2.

The 33-year old Yoder graduated from Illinois Wesleyan College in 1962 after playing four years of baseball and two seasons of basketball. He served as freshman basketball coach his last two years of college.

Following graduation, Yoder taught three years at Glen Ellyn High School (Ill.) before returning to his hometown of Plymouth, where he served as an assistant for two years prior to being named head coach.

Yoder is married and he and his wife, Joanie, have four children.

JAY SHOOP, B.S.

Trainer

Jay Shoop has become one of the most indispensable members of the Furman family since his arrival in 1970. A graduate of East Tennessee State, where he earned a double major in health and physical education, Shoop has rapidly become one of the top trainers in the South.

The Wise, Va., native has a thorough background in physical training, serving as assistant trainer at East Tennessee for three years. He has also worked in five summer training camps with the NFC Atlanta Falcons and one summer with the Detroit Tiger baseball farm club at Bristol, Va.

Shoop maintains an up-to-date training room, and is always available to Furman athletes from his campus apartment. In addition to serving as trainer for the entire athletic department, Shoop also oversees four student trainers and handles all travel arrangements in football and basketball.

When not tied up with training responsibilities, Shoop enjoys golf and is active in local church work. He is married to the former Anne Brockman.

1973-74 OUTLOOK

If colorful Furman coach Joe Williams is spending the off-season looking at white wardrobes, it should be a warning to 1973-74 Paladin foes. The last time Williams donned his white attire, he took the Jacksonville Dolphins to the NCAA finals.

That was four years ago, but if Furman makes the anticipated improvement over last year, white may be coming back in style. Last winter, Furman's sophomore-dominated quintet came within one point of the Eastern Regionals while enroute to a 20-9 record.

With the backbone of that squad returning, no one can blame Williams if he is doing a little early shopping. The two "biggest" reasons for the optimism in the Paladin camp are 7-1 Fessor "Moose" Leonard and 6-9 Clyde "Marvelous" Mayes.

Last year was a learning season for both, but it was Paladin opponents who were taught the lessons as Leonard averaged 18.4 points per game and Mayes followed with a 15.2 points per contest average.

The Moose threatened the fabled Frank Selvy's sophomore scoring record for much of the season and should be much improved with a year under his belt. A finesse player, who combines a feather soft touch with great strength, Leonard thrills fans with 20 foot jump shots as well as close range scoring. Just as impressive as his scoring average were his 52.6 percentage from the field and 77.1 per cent average from the foul line.

Leonard's rapid development and appealing personality spurred a rash of "Moose is Loose" bumper stickers throughout Greenville last winter, but Williams is more comforted by the fact that "The Moose is Back."

Along with Leonard is Clyde Mayes, who was the team's leading rebounder in addition to finishing second in scoring. After a mediocre start, Mayes came into his own during the final 11 games when he averaged over 20 points and 14 rebounds per game.

During the Paladins' Southern Conference Tournament championship, Mayes dominated play as he scored 54 points and grabbed 40 rebounds while earning the Most Valuable Player award.

"Both players are also great intimidators on defense," says Williams. "Having them in the middle enables us to play an effective pressure defense."

Expected to join Leonard and Mayes in the starting five is sophomore Craig Lynch, who also finished fast last season after a slow start. Lynch averaged 6.5 points a contest as a freshman reserve, but averaged over 11 points per game during the final nine contests, which included a 25 point outburst in Madison Square Garden.

The rest of the starting lineup is not certain, but Williams has an abundance of veteran players from which to choose. Junior Baron Hill started every game at the point position last winter, but will receive stiff competition from senior Ed Kelley and junior college transfer Phil Garrett, who was voted the best player under six feet at the National Junior College Tournament.

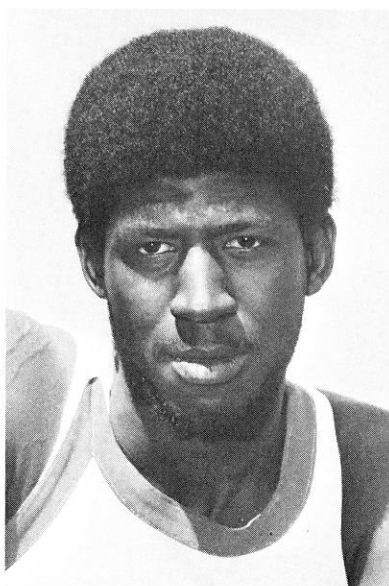

The wing spot opposite Lynch is also a toss-up. Top candidates are seniors Todd Brenizer, Gary Clark, and Bud Bierly, but keep an eye on freshman Bruce Grimm, who averaged 31.0 points per game while earning prep All-American honors.

Another player who could work his way into the lineup is junior Mike Hall, who scored over 40 points twice while playing junior varsity ball.

"I think this is the most well-rounded team we've had since I've been at Furman," concludes Williams. "However, we will have to prove on the court just how good we are."

A LOOK AT LAST YEAR

Beginning and ending in excitement, Furman overcame some mid-season disappointments to record its best season in 19 years as the Paladins raced a 20-9 mark last year. Included in the season were a national ranking at one time, the first Poinsettia Classic Championship in 13 years, the second Southern Conference crown in three seasons, and a trip to the first round of the NCAA playoffs as the Paladins inched closer to the national prominence predicted upon the naming of Joe Williams as head coach four years ago.

The season started on an ominous note when sophomores Fessor Leonard and Clyde Mayes combined for 38 points and 26 rebounds as the Paladins thrashed William & Mary 112-90 in the season opener. Three more consecutive victories (Wofford 91-54, Clemson 83-69, and Appalachian State 96-80) sent the Paladins in the nation's Top Twenty teams before an experienced Illinois squad held off a gallant Furman rally to claim an 86-81 victory at Champaign-Urbana.

The following 48 hours were a nightmare as the Paladins were fogged out of their flight from Chicago to Jacksonville and were forced to take a bus ride from the Windy City to Florida coast and were consequently crushed 86-66 by the powerful Dolphins.

With their national aspirations ended for the time being, the Paladins returned to Greenville for the Poinsettia Classic, which they had not won since 1960. With Leonard dominating play as he scored 50 points and grabbed 21 rebounds to earn the Most Valuable Player award, the Paladins defeated Texas 101-95 and Clemson 70-59 to break the Poinsettia jinx at last.

Losses to nationally ranked North Carolina and Jacksonville sandwiched an 82-77 triumph over Niagara before the Paladins went on five game winning streak against conference foes East Carolina, VMI, The Citadel, Appalachian State, and Davidson.

The following six games brought the darkest moments of the season for Williams and his squad as Furman lost four times, including back-to-back upsets to East Carolina and Mercer. The slide started against the unbeaten N. C. State Wolfpack and was narrowly averted from being even worse as the Paladins scored the last 12 points for a come-from-behind 66-62 victory over Richmond. Then came the low point of the season as Furman couldn't score in a 61-57 defeat to ECU and couldn't stop its opponents five nights later in a 118-115 loss to Mercer. Following the upsets, the Paladins bounced back to topple VMI 94-60 only to lose to Davidson 89-84 soon afterwards in the game for the Southern Conference regular season championship.

With a possible NIT bid now out of the question, the Paladins were faced with an all or nothing dilemma as they headed down the season's stretch. Responding in magnificent fashion, Furman crushed Richmond, The Citadel, and St. Peter's to close out the regular season.

Next came the Southern Conference Tournament and after an opening 103-68 victory over Appalachian State, the memory of the previous year's stunning double overtime loss to East Carolina was relived as the Paladins trailed the Pirates by 11 points at the half. However, in an incredible second half, Furman held the Pirates scoreless for the first 12 minutes of the period and claimed a 68-60 victory and the right to meet Davidson in the championship game.

Spurred by the regular season defeat to the Wildcats, the Paladins piled up an early lead and went on to a 99-81 triumph for the Southern Conference championship. While coach Williams termed the triumph "a team effort," Mayes was clearly the individual star as he scored 54 points and snared 40 rebounds to earn the tourney's MVP award.

Fourteenth ranked Syracuse provided the opposition in the NCAA Tournament opener at Philadelphia's famed Palestra, and with 10 minutes remaining, the Paladins looked as if they did not belong there as they trailed the Orangemen by 19 points. Suddenly however, Furman started coming back in a spectacular fashion and trailed Syracuse by only three points with 1:30 remaining in the game. When the final horn sounded the Paladins trailed by a single point, and although they had not made the Eastern Regionals, every one who saw the game that Furman would be back.

THE POINSETTIA CLASSIC

Furman will find itself in the unusual position of defending champions in this year's Poinsettia Classic. Last year, the Paladins won the event for only the second time in the history of the tournament, which was began in 1960. Should the Paladins retain their title, it will be only the second time in the tournament's history that a team has repeated as champions.

The Paladins will open their title defense on the opening night when they meet Xavier in the second game starting at 9:00 p.m. Kicking off the tournament will be a game between Clemson and Delaware, beginning at 7:00 o'clock.

RECORDS & PAST SCORES

Cage Success Not New To Furman

Some call it "tradition." Others refer to it as a "rich heritage." Call it what you like, but successful basketball is not new at Furman University. While some feel that the current edition of the Paladins could develop into one of the finest in the school's history, it will have to go far to surpass some of the team and individual performances of the past.

Since Furman started playing basketball at the turn of the century the Paladins have enjoyed more than moderate success. During the early years, Furman's reputation was primarily regional, and in the early 1930's that reputation reached a peak under coach A. P. "Dizzy" McLeod.

During the 1930-32 seasons, the Paladins rolled to 49 victories against only five defeats, compiling 17-2 marks in 1930 and 1931, and a 15-1 record in 1932. In each of the three seasons, the Paladins swept the State Championship in South Carolina. Among the stalwarts on those great teams were Bill Wells, Truett Wakefield, Red Watson, Swede Ohlsen, and Ernie Southern as well as current Furman Director of Athletics J. Lyles Alley.

The Paladins never reached such heights again before World War II, but soon after the conclusion of the conflict Furman reached a peak never before attained by the Baptist School. Coach Lyles Alley assumed coaching duties during the 1945-56 season and the Paladins rolled to a 15-4 mark.

After a disastrous 3-20 mark in 1951, the Paladins had a reversal of form the next season and put together to an 18-6 mark. At the conclusion of the year, Furman was named the country's most improved team.

The following year the Paladins posted a 21-6 for their best record in modern history.

While the Furman team as a whole was gaining national recognition, it was the unbelievable performances of Frank Selvy that really brought the nation's eyes upon Greenville and Furman. Selvy became the most prolific scorer in the history of college basketball during the 1953-54 campaign as he averaged 41.7 points per contest.

On Saturday, February 13, 1954 Selvy astounded the basketball world when he scored 100 points in a single game against Newberry College. The Corbin, Ky., native was selected All-America as a junior and senior to become Furman's first player to be so honored.

However, the second was not far behind. In 1954-55 a lanky junior named Darrell Floyd took over where Selvy had left off as he averaged 35.9 points a contest to earn All-America honors. During that season, the Paladins averaged 95.3 points a game for the highest scoring average in the nation.

While Furman did not enjoy such success in the following years, the Paladins were still not without their moments of glory. Ten years to the day after Selvy had shocked the world with his 100 point performance the unheralded Paladins celebrated the event by stunning the fourth ranked Davidson Wildcats 70-55.

Furman showed that it was intent on maintaining its cage heritage four years ago when the Paladins once again surprised collegiate fans by luring Joe Williams away from Jacksonville, where he had just finished second in the NCAA tournament.

During Williams' first season, the Paladins captured their first Southern Conference basketball crown and with another championship last year, it is obvious that Furman's future is as bright as its past.

THE PALADIN CLUB

The Paladin Club is an organization of alumni and friends of Furman University. It exists for the primary purpose of elevating athletics through contributions to its scholarship programs.

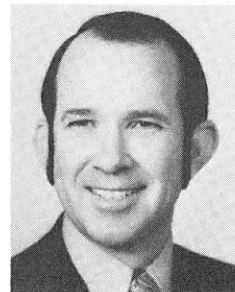

Charles Huff

While there are important tangible benefits such as priority on season football and basketball tickets, informative periodicals, special parking at home games, and golf course privileges (depending upon level of membership), the most rewarding benefit is the feeling of satisfaction that members derive from knowing they are helping worthy student athletes achieve a college education. Anyone can become a Paladin Club member by making a contribution of $20 or more.

The Paladin Club has grown to over 1,200 members, who last fiscal year contributed over $145,000 to help Furman achieve its goal of continuing excellence in athletics.

Six different types of memberships are available in the organization with special privileges attached to each category. Members who give $1,000 or more are members of the Scholarship Donor class; $500-$999 donors are Tower Club members; $250-$499 contributors are called Bellringers; $100-$249 members are in the Century Club; $50-$99 members are termed Pace-setters; and $20-$49 donors are Paladin Club members.

Jack E. Powers, class of '56, is currently serving as president. Skip Lindler is vice-president and George Short is secretary-treasurer. All three men are Greenville area residents.

Jack Powers

Charles L. Huff, class of '68, is entering his third year as Executive Director of the Paladin Club. A native of Greer, S. C., he also holds the MBA degree from the University of South Carolina. He accepted the Paladin Club post after serving as an Army Lieutenant ten months in Vietnam, where he was awarded the Bronze Star. He is married to the former Sherrill Vaughn of Greer.

Paladin Club presidents for the past decade are: 72-73, B. O. Thomason, Jr.; 71-72, Frank Mayfield; 70-71, Randy Blackwell; 69-70, Bill Lay; 68-69, Jim Smith; 67-68, Tom Pitts; 66-67, Dan Joyner; 65-66, Ray Davis; 64-65 and 63-64, Mac Christopher; 62-63, Bill Timmons; and 61-62, Harry Coggins.

ORIGIN OF THE PALADIN

Furman University athletic teams were known by different names until the 1960 school year. The baseball team was "Hornets," the football team "Hurricanes," and the basketball team "Paladins."

The basketball team was dubbed "Paladins" by a Greenville sportswriter in the 1930's and the name stuck. When it was decided in 1960 to consolidate all athletic teams under one name, the popular choice was "Paladins."

"Paladin" is derived from Count Palatine, one of the twelve knights who comprised the bodyguard and inner circle of Emperor Charlemagne.
