RECORD BOOK

Furman's Paladin Stadium, nestled beautifully on one of the nation's most beautiful campuses and boasting a scenic view of Paris Mountain, is the football home of the Paladins, having opened in 1981.

During the 2013-14 school year the school completed construction of the Pearce-Horton Football Complex, a 44,000-square foot, four-story facility that serves as the operational home for Furman football and includes a locker room for 105 players, coaches' offices, meeting rooms, sports medicine center, and "Mauldin Hall" that highlights the program's championship history. The building also features a club level and press box. Design was by McMillan, Pazdan, and Smith of Greenville, and Triangle Construction, also of Greenville, served as builder.

From its beginning through the 2012 season Paladin Stadium featured a natural grass playing surface. In the summer of 2021 FieldTurf Revolution 360 was installed, giving the facility a bold, new look and industry standard playing surface.

Paladin Stadium is the third home of Furman football since 1919. Manly Field, completed in that year, served as the home of Furman football until 1936, when the university moved the site of its football contests to then-newly constructed Sirrine Stadium in downtown Greenville. The first game played in Sirrine Stadium — a 14-13 Furman win over Davidson — was the sixth game of the year for Furman during the 1936 season. In 1980, Furman closed its association with Sirrine Stadium with a 28-15 victory over arch-rival The Citadel to win its first outright Southern Conference football championship.

Furman opened Paladin Stadium in the same fashion it did Manly and Sirrine, winning the first game played within its confines. The Paladins defeated East Tennessee State, 21-0, in the stadium's inaugural and have gone on to record a 194-70-1 home record (.734), claiming 13 Southern Conference championships and the 1988 NCAA FCS national title along the way, including the 2023 SoCon crown.

Furman has posted a 194-70-1 record in Paladin Stadium and won 13 Southern Conference championships, including the 1988 NCAA FCS national championship, since the facility opened in 1981.

In 1985 the stadium's field was named Eugene Stone Field in honor of Stone, who was directly responsible for the additional seats added to the stadium prior to the 1985 season. The stadium boasts a seating capacity of 13,406.

From initial grading to completion, Paladin Stadium took two years to be realized at a cost of approximately $2 million

1988 NCAA FCS National Championship — Furman 17, Georgia Southern 12
December 17, 1988, Milton Holt Arena, Attendance: 9,714

POCATELLO, IDAHO — Nowhere in the pre-season Top 20 and picked to finish fourth in the Southern Conference, the Furman Paladins capped the greatest season in school football history by downing Georgia Southern, 17-12, on national television to win the 1988 NCAA I-AA national championship.

With memories of the 44-42 loss to the Eagles in the 1985 championship game on the minds of many, Furman, and in particular the Paladin defense, saw to it that there would be no miracle comeback for Georgia Southern this time around. An interception by Jeff Blankenship in the game's final seconds made sure of it, as did the Paladins' control of the line of scrimmage, as Furman effectively shut down one of the nation's leading ground games, limiting Georgia Southern to just 134 yards rushing and 198 total yards.

Despite being outclassed on both sides of the football, the Eagles hung tough with superior special teams play, which nearly delivered to Georgia Southern a third national championship in four years.

Furman went to the air with success on the game's first play. Disguising an option to the right side, Paladin quarterback Frankie DeBusk rolled back at the last second and hit a wide open Donald Lipscomb for a 48-yard gain to the Eagle 32 Three players later, however, the Paladins turned it over when tailback John Bagwell fumbled while attempting a simple shift of the football in his arms.

Starting at its 27, Georgia Southern moved 36 yards in nine plays to the Furman 37. From there the Eagles got on the board first when David Cool split the uprights from 55 yards out to put Georgia Southern ahead 3-0 with 7:13 to go in the first quarter.

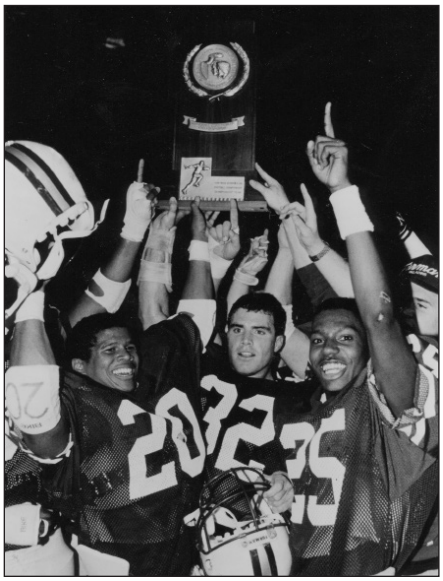

On its second possession, Furman flexed its offensive muscle with strong running and timely passing en route to its first score. Moving 88 yards in 13 plays, the Paladins proved they could handle the Eagles up front. A 19-yard strike from Frankie DeBusk to tight end Greg Key and Glen Connally's PAT gave the Paladins a 7-3 lead with 0:54 to go in the opening period.

Early in the second quarter the Paladins failed to convert on two excellent scoring opportunities. Following a Jeff Blankenship interception at the Georgia Southern 13, Furman turned to tailback Bobby Daugherty, who promptly ripped 11 yards out of the heart of Southern's defense. The Paladins would get no closer, however, as Furman lost 11 yards on the next two plays and then suffered its second turnover when Frankie DeBusk's pass was picked off in the end zone by the Eagles' Kevin Whitley.

Thanks to solid defensive work, including a tackle by Dean Williams for a loss of seven yards and a short Eagle punt, Furman opened its next drive at the Georgia Southern 42. Using an 8-yard run by Dwight Sterling and a 22-yard burst by Daugherty, the Paladins advanced to the Eagle 9, but Georgia Southern's defense again stiffened and turned the Paladins away when the Eagles' Mark Giles blocked Glen Connally's 27-yard field goal attempt.

After Georgia Southern missed a 48-yard field goal try, Furman was able to stretch its lead to 10-3 with a 36-yard field goal by Glen Connally with barely over a minute remaining in the first half.

There were only three possessions in the third stanza and two of them netted points. On its first series of the second half, Georgia Southern used 16 plays to move just 29 yards, but that was good enough for placekicker David Cool, who knocked home his second field goal of the contest, this time from 48 yards out to cut Furman's lead to 10-6 at the 5:07 juncture.

Furman turned the tables on Georgia Southern in 1988 with a 17-12 win over the Eagles to claim the NCAA I-AA national championship.

Furman answered the Eagle score by marching 80 yards behind the running of fullback Dwight Sterling and tailback John Bagwell. A 24-yard run by Sterling on the drive's second play carried the Paladins to their 49. From there Furman turned primarily to Bagwell, who on three carries netted 31 yards. From the Eagle 8, the Paladins called Sterling's number twice, and on his second attempt, behind a solid block from center Steve Duggan, he scored on a 5-yard dive up the middle. The PAT with 0:38 to go in the quarter increased Furman's lead to 17-6.

What appeared to be a safe lead with the nation's best defense was quickly placed in jeopardy early in the fourth quarter when the Eagles' Mark Giles blocked a Bruce Leicht punt and returned it 30 yards for a touchdown with 12:24 to go. Georgia Southern's critical two-point conversion pass failed, but Furman's lead was only 17-12.

With momentum, Georgia Southern stuffed Furman on its next two possessions and took over at the Paladin 40 with 7:14 to go following a short punt. Moving in for what looked like the go-ahead score, the Eagles, who in 1985 made all the key plays down the stretch in a win over Furman, committed a huge mistake when quarterback Raymond Gross failed to tuck the ball away on an option keeper. Hit by defensive end Kelly Fletcher, Gross watched the ball squirt loose and Furman's Wade Sexton recover it at the 2-yard line.

Its life again spared by its defense, Furman turned to its offense to work out the hole. In two plays the Paladin front cleared the way for fullback Billy Stockdale, who reeled off runs of 11 and 17 yards to Furman 30. From the 38, Bruce Leicht came through with his biggest punt of the game, a 48-yarder to the Eagle 14.

With the clock winding down, Georgia Southern turned to the air, but there to stop him was a Furman defense that smelled victory. After an exchange of possessions, the Eagles got one last chance, but All-America linebacker Jeff Blankenship slammed the door by stepping in front of a Raymond Gross pass at the Eagle 33 to preserve the win and give Furman its first national championship.

Notes: Freshman nose guard Allen Edwards was brilliant in the second start of his career, recording five tackles and a hit-for-loss against two-time Eagle All-America Dennis Franklin. Approximately 800 Furman fans accompanied the team on the over 2,000-mile trip to Pocatello. The national championship was the first by a Southern Conference team. On Jan. 16, 1989, Greenville honored the national championship Paladins with a parade in downtown Greenville that was attended by approximately 20,000 people, including Governor Carroll Campbell, former governor Richard Riley, and United States Senator Strom Thurmond. On Feb. 15, 1989, Furman's national championship team was honored by a joint session of the South Carolina General Assembly and by visiting President George Bush.

YOUNGSTOWN STATE (1-0)

1989	W	42-23	GREENVILLE

1889 — Furman and Wofford bring football to South Carolina when the two schools meet in the state's first gridiron clash, in Spartanburg, on December 14. Wofford defeats Furman 5-1 in a game that features no uniforms for its players, no positions, and rules formulated before the game. Described by Wofford alumnus G. Rouqie ('91) in the January, 1890, issue of Old Gold and Black, the game "lasted one hour and half, with two fifteen-minute rests, and was won with ease by Wofford, the score being five to one. The visiting team (Furman) left on the afternoon train wiser and sadder men, having learned that though they receive instruction in their heads, not feet, at Furman, a little education of the pedal extremities is requisite to make good football players."

1890 — Furman loses 2-1 to Wofford in the first football game ever played in Greenville. Football team disbands following loss and first Furman baseball team is formed.

1891 — Furman topples Wofford 12-0 on January 24, in Spartanburg, for the school's first collegiate football victory. Coached by H.C. Granger, Furman completes sweep of Wofford with a 28-2 win in Greenville on March 21.

1892 — Furman plays South Carolina in Charleston on Christmas Eve and wins 44-0. Furman wears purple jerseys and goes by the name of Mountaineers. Professor H.P. Young plays quarterback and serves as head coach. Furman's players average 156 pounds. At an alumni meeting headed up by James Andrews Tate of York, South Carolina, the school's colors — royal purple and white — are selected.

1893 — Opposition to football is revealed in the April issue of the Furman Journal, which reports one foe as saying, "There are not a few people in this state who think football is proper only for 'toughs'. You boys are members of the church and ought not to do such things." Team (with 51 other students) takes train to the Augusta Exposition to play Georgia and loses 22-8.

1895 — Quarterback and head coach H.P. Young suffers self-inflicted gunshot wound to his wrist and is forced to have his hand amputated.

1896 — Furman and Clemson meet on the football field for the first time, and Clemson wins 14-6.

1897 — Furman Board of Trustees abolishes all intercollegiate sports at June meeting.

1898 — Furman student newspaper, The Echo, reports in its October issue that tennis clubs are organized "since we are not allowed to play football." In the November issue of The Echo, football scores from across the nation are printed and students complain that "the problem with southern colleges is they don't advertise, don't play football, and don't teach business classes."

1900 — Football resurfaces at Furman under the direction of Frank Spencer.

1902 — Furman and South Carolina meet again on the football field in a game that is significant in South Carolina athletic history. After taking a 10-0 win, Furman's players — known then as Purple Fighters — hoist above their heads a garnet and black rooster with plucked tail feathers. This prompted the use of the name Gamecocks to describe South Carolina's football team, a name that was widely used by 1903.

1903 — No coach can be found to direct Furman's football team; season is suspended.

1905 — Furman faculty passes a new rule stating that "any student who fails an exam can't play on a varsity team." As reported in The Echo, the faculty's reasoning for its action centers on the poor classroom performance of athletes. "Members of many of the college's teams go to school simply to play ball, taking only a light course and just stumbling along until ball season is over."

1913 — Furman revives football under coach W.C. Farmer.

1916 — Furman's first recruited player arrives on campus. He is Harold "Speedy" Speer of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Greenville citizens raise enough money to pay his tuition. William Gressette scores a school record five touchdowns in 60-3 win over Erskine.
