Karen Davies - 2000

Karen Davies came to the University of Florida as a freshman from England. She would leave as one of the most decorated golfers in program history, a distinction she still holds to this day. Davies is one of only six golfers in school history to win an SEC individual championship, which she accomplished in 1986 as a sophomore. She was a three-time All-American who also helped the Lady Gators to two SEC team titles, in addition to being a member of back-to-back NCAA Championship teams (1985-86). Davies also excelled in international competition as she helped the European team retain the Curtis Cup twice from 1986-88. Davies is still an active player on the LPGA Tour and has garnered more than $250,000 in career earnings.

Donna Horton - 1978

Donna Horton was the biggest name in the young history of the women's golf program when she arrived on campus from UNC Greensboro in 1974. Horton would go on to win the Tucker Invitational during her first season as a Gator and would follow the win with three more victories during the 1975 season. However, those accomplishments paled in comparison to the year she had in 1976. In January, she was named to the U.S. Curtis Cup team (the female equivalent of the Walker Cup). The Horton-led United States team defeated the Europeans 11-6 to retain the cup. The high point of the year came in August when she defeated Marianne Bretton to win the U.S. Women's Amateur Championship. Horton would go on to have a 15-year LPGA career before retiring in 1992 with more than $900,000 in career-earnings.

Page Dunlap arrived in Gainesville in 1984, following her older brother Scott's footsteps to become a Florida golfer. She made an immediate impact and was named a two-time All-American, while also being a member of two-straight NCAA Championship squads in 1985 and 1986. The 1986 Lady Gator golf team was the only team in the history of the program to win the state, conference and national titles all in the same season. Dunlap continued to make history in 1986 after being named an All-Conference selection and becoming the first and only female golfer in school history to win an individual NCAA Championship. She also received the Broderick Award for golf in 1986-an award given annually to the nation's top female collegiate student-athlete in each sport.

Suzanne Jackson - 2006

A native of LaGrange, Ga., Jackson was named UF's Woman Athlete of the Year in 1974, while also earning team Most Valuable Player recognition twice. She captured three collegiate tournament titles before graduating with a degree in journalism in 1974. Following her college career, Jackson became an instrumental figure at the LPGA, earning the rank of Director of Tournament Operations in 1984. She went on to become one of the first three women to ever officiate the U.S. Open Men's Championship, and she also served as an official at The Masters during her career. In 1996, Jackson was awarded the Patty Berg, named after the founder of the LPGA and given in acknowledgement of her diplomacy, sportsmanship, goodwill and contributions to the game. Prior to her passing in 1998, Jackson was widely regarded as one of the world's top experts on the Rules of Golf.

Mary Hafeman - 1998

Mary Hafeman transferred to the University of Florida from the University of South Florida in 1977. Hafeman easily adjusted to her new surroundings and was named team captain and MVP two years in a row. She twice ranked among the top-five amateur golfers in the country by Golf Digest. In 1980, Hafeman helped the U.S. Team retain the Curtis Cup with a 13-5 victory over the Europeans. She played professionally on the LPGA Tour until 1985, when injuries forced her to retire. In 1987, Hafeman was elected a member of PGA of America, becoming one of the few woman professionals in the country at that time. In 2003, she was appointed Golf Director of the Ocean Hammock GC in Palm Coast, Fla., where she is considered one of the top-50 female golf instructors in the nation. Hafeman took her experience to the next level as she was recently named the new Director of Golf at LPGA International Golf Courses in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Deb Richard - 1995

If there is one name that stands as the bar by which all other Lady Gators golfers are measured, that name is Deb Richard. Richard is the only female golfer in school history to win multiple SEC titles, which she did three times in a row ('82-'84). Her titles were not the result of luck, as she won all three by at least three strokes. In 1984, Richard helped the Lady Gators to the SEC team title and won the U.S. Women's Amateur Championship. Then in 1985, as a senior, Richard was named the initial SEC Women's Golfer of the Year. She capped off her collegiate tenure by finishing second in the NCAA Championship and receiving the Broderick Award for golf. Richard has continued her success on the professional level where she has earned almost three million dollars during her 17-year LPGA career.

UF NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS

1985 NCAA Champions

May 22-25, Amherst College • New Seabury, Mass.

The University of Florida team lived up to its No. 1 ranking as it registered a 15-stroke victory over the 18-team field at the fourth NCAA Women's Golf Championship. Florida opened the tournament with an eight-stroke advantage and watched the lead grow as the tournament progressed. Senior standout Deb Richard finished in a three-way tie for second place at 299, one stroke away from the champion Danielle Ammaccapane of Arizona State. UF freshman Karen Davies took fifth place with a three-round score of 301.

1986 NCAA Champions

May 28-31, Ohio State University • Columbus, Ohio

It wasn't as easy as the year before, but UF took home the NCAA Championship trophy for a second-straight year, matching Miami's back-to-back national titles in 1977-78. To add icing to the cake, Florida junior Page Dunlap claimed the individual crown with a one-stroke victory over New Mexico's Caroline Keggi and Michelle Estill of Arizona State. Florida fell three strokes behind intra-state rival Miami after the opening round, but moved into a tie with the Hurricanes after the second day and took a five-stroke edge into the final round. UF struggled on the front nine during the last day, but regrouped on the back nine to post an eight-stroke victory.

SEC CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS

1981, 1982, 1984, 1986, 1987, 1991, 1995

From 1981 to 1987, Lady Gator golfers claimed five of seven SEC Titles. Also during that reign, the 1983 and 1985 teams each came in second at the conference tournament. In addition, Lady Gator golf teams brought home first-place hardware from two NCAA National Championships during the six-year span.

The 1984 Lady Gators claimed the program's third SEC Title with a six-stroke victory.

The 1986 team not only won the SEC Title, but also claimed the NCAA Championship. The 1985-86 team still holds the school record for most tournament titles won in a season (10). Karen Davies won the SEC individual title as a sophomore.

The 1987 team successfully defended its SEC Championship Title with a two-stroke victory to earn back-to-back conference titles.

The 1991 team claimed the program's fourth SEC Title, as the Lady Gators outplayed the field by six strokes.

The 1995 Lady Gator golf team earned UF's most recent women's SEC title. Florida's lineup of Dina Taylor, Kimberly Little, Sarah Jones, Jeanne-Marie Busuttill and Ann Pohira each earned All-SEC honors in 1995, an unprecedented feat in league history. Taylor was crowned the individual SEC medalist, as she shot a 217 (69-76-72) at the league championships.

Lynn Connelly

71-72-68=211 (1981)

Lynn Connelly became the first Lady Gator to win an SEC Championship when she captured the title by eight strokes in 1981. Her win was the largest margin of victory in any of Florida's SEC Championships.

Connelly was one of the leaders on the Florida team which also captured the championship at the inaugural SEC Women's Golf Championships.

In her senior season, Morley battled back from an early season shoulder injury, which kept her out of the line-up for most of the fall. But she came back strong, posting top nine individual finishes in every spring tournament except the NCAA Championships, where she finished 11th.

As a freshman, Morley was a member of the Lady Gator squad which captured the 1986 national championship. It was the second consecutive title for the Florida women's golf program, still the only women's golf program in SEC history to win a national title.

Deb Richard

72-67-77=216 (1982)
74-72-71=217 (1983)
73-73-72=218 (1984)

Deb Richard is the only Florida women's golfer to win multiple SEC titles. She won her first in 1982 and then captured two more in 1983 and 1984.

Richard recorded a four-stroke win in 1982, while she outplayed the field in 1983 by three strokes, and captured her third title in 1984 six shots ahead of the competition.

Richard was also the 1984 U.S. Women's Amateur Champion. As a senior in 1985, she was named captain of the Lady Gator golf team and received the Broderick Award as the outstanding female collegiate golfer. She was the winner of seven tournaments in her UF career, as well as runner-up at the 1985 NCAA Championships.

Dina Taylor

69-76-72=217 (1995)

Dina Taylor won her title by the closest margin of any Lady Gator SEC Championship medalist. The win came down to a one-hole playoff against teammate Jeanne-Marie Busuttill for Taylor to win her conference championship in 1995.

In addition, the 1995 team also won the SEC team title to mark the first time Florida had swept the SEC team and individual crowns since 1986. Taylor received honorable mention All-America honors as a freshman in 1993 and as a junior in 1995 by the National Golf Coaches Association. During her 40-tournament career, Taylor finished in the top-10 21 times. Her career stroke average was 76.73. Taylor's career low round was a four under par 68 at the 1993 Ryder/Florida Women's Collegiate. Her low tournament also came at the Ryder, when she finished with an overall score of 214.

Karen Davies

77-75-69=221 (1986)

Karen Davies narrowly escaped with her SEC Championship, winning by one stroke as a sophomore in 1986. She was a three-time All-America selection (1986, 87, 88). In 1987, the season after she won her SEC Championship, she was named SEC Player of the Year.

Aimee Cho

72-73-71=216 (2003)

Aimee Cho became the second freshman in UF history to win medalist honors at the SEC Championships. Cho sank a 30-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole to win the title by one stroke. She shot an even-par 216 (72-73-71) to win the title, including a career and tournament-low one-under-par 71 in windy conditions on the final day. The freshman was named GolfWorld Player of the Week after her performance at the SEC Championships. Cho left the team in July of 2004 to pursue a professional career.

Cheryl Morley

75-68-68=211 (1988)

Cheryl Morley won the 1988 SEC title with a two-shot margin over the tournament field.

In Morley's career as a Lady Gator (1986-89), she was named All-SEC three times and All-America all four years of her collegiate career. She was the first UF women's golfer to receive All-America honors every year of her playing career.
