GAME OVERVIEW

Geneva enters Saturday's game off of a 51-38 victory at Thiel in which the Golden Tornado offense continued to put up huge results behind a prolific passing attack. Waynesburg is coming off a 24-14 loss at Grove City in which the Yellow Jackets put up quite the battle on the road. Waynesburg was within three points in the fourth quarter before a Grove City touchdown put the game away. Geneva quarterback Caleb Romano comes into the game with the most passing yards (2,093) of any quarterback in Division III. Waynesburg's offense has been a more balanced attack between passing and rushing. Both teams' defenses have had their struggles as both teams are giving up 31 points per game, so it could be another high-scoring affair.

GENEVA GAME NOTES

-- The Geneva offense continues to put up impressive numbers this season behind the passing of junior quarterback Caleb Romano. After scoring 51 points in a 51-38 win at Thiel on Saturday, the Golden Tornadoes have now scored 189 points (31.5 ppg) through their first six games, the most since 2013.

-- It's been a remarkable offensive philosophy shift for the football program this year after operating out of the triple option attack for the past eight seasons, and Romano is the catalyst for this successful change. He leads all of Division III with 2,093 yards through his six games, and his 19 passing TDs are tied for second in Division III. In fact, if you add in his four rushing touchdowns, he's accounted for more TDs than any player in Division III. Romano is on pace to break the single season program record for passing yards, which is currently held by Geneva Hall of Fame quarterback Justin Myers, who recorded 3,125 yards in 1997 in 13 games. Romano is on pace to break that total in just ten games.

-- As would have to be the case with that many passing yards, Geneva's wide receivers have seen a huge spike in their numbers, led by senior Keaton Baker. Baker is second in all of Division III with 704 yards receiving, and his 8 receiving TDs are second in Division III. Senior Luke Crumbacher's 532 yards receiving are 26th in Division III, and senior Seth Tyson is 38th in Division III with 484 yards receiving, giving the Golden Tornadoes three receiver in the top 40 of NCAA Division III. In fact, in last week's victory at Thiel, all three topped 100 yards receiving in the game, the first time on record that has occurred in program history.

-- Geneva has had a number of injuries in its defensive secondary, and that has shown up defensively as the Golden Tornadoes are currently allowing 326.2 yards passing per game, second to last in the PAC. Geneva's run defense has been solid, though, allowing just 96.8 yards per game, which could be important in Saturday's game.

-- Senior linebackers Nicholas Ciriello (66 tackles) and Reed Gordon (61 tackles) are currently second and third in the PAC in stops. Ciriello (9.0 TFLs) and junior defensive lineman Coltin Hill (8.5 TFLs) are second and third in the PAC in tackles-for-loss.

-- A win Saturday would give Geneva its best PAC start since joining the PAC in 2011.

WAYNESBURG GAME NOTES

-- Waynesburg put together a solid performance up at Grove City last Saturday on the Wolverines' Homecoming. The Yellow Jackets were within three points midway through the fourth quarter before eventually falling 24-14. So far in conference play this year Waynesburg has beaten PAC opponents Hiram (35-27) and Thiel (45-14), while losing to Grove City and Allegheny (21-11).

-- Waynesburg is eager to get star senior running back Zayne Cawley back after missing the last three games due to injury. Cawley led the PAC in rushing last year with 1,225 yards, earning him First Team All-PAC honors. He is listed as the starter on the 2-deep, but his status will be determined on the day of the game. Junior Carson Shriver has been a strong replacement for Cawley over the last three games, averaging 102 ypg in Cawley's absence, including 161 yards and three TDs in the win over Thiel.

-- Sophomore quarterback Luke Hudson has given Waynesburg a nice balance through the air to its successful rushing attack. Hudson is averaging 177.5 yards passing per game while throwing for five touchdowns. Junior receiver Tyler Richmond leads the team with 29 catches for 393 yards, and a total of four receivers have at least 100 yards receiving this year.

-- Waynesburg's defense is currently third in the PAC in defending the pass, giving up just 212.0 ypg, which should make for a matchup to watch on Saturday going up against Geneva's potent passing attack. The Yellow Jackets have played well in pass defense despite picking off just three passes, last in the PAC.

-- Waynesburg's offensive line has performed well, giving up just seven sacks in six games, while also paving the way for Waynesburg's strong running attack.

-- Waynesburg has been penalized 52 times this year, second most in the PAC.

LAST MEETING

Geneva and Waynesburg met on Reeves Field last year in the season finale for both teams, with the winner earning a .500 record for the year and the loser finishing below .500. The game proved to be a lopsided affair in favor of the Golden Tornadoes. Geneva received three rushing touchdowns from David Reid, along with a passing touchdown from Caleb Romano to Seth Tyson, as the Golden Tornadoes led from start to finish in a convincing 33-6 win over the Yellow Jackets. Geneva outgained Waynesburg 336 to 205 in yardage in the game as the defense really limited the Yellow Jackets' offensive attack. The GT defense forced three turnovers in the victory as Geneva won its second straight in the series, while making it five victories in the last six games against Waynesburg.
