GAME OVERVIEW

Saturday's game is the final home game for 33-year Head Coach Geno DeMarco, along with the final home game for nine seniors. If that wasn't enough, Saturday's game is Geneva's biggest regular season contest since joining Division III in 2011. Geneva has a chance of capturing their first PAC Championship if the GTs can win their final two games of the season and Grove City loses one more game. Geneva faces a tall task, though, as W&J is the only undefeated team in the PAC and is coming off a 28-17 victory on Saturday against Case Western Reserve. The Presidents, who have already defeated Grove City handily early in the season, can clinch the PAC title and a bid to the NCAA Division III playoffs with a win over Geneva.

GENEVA GAME NOTES

- It's a bittersweet day for the Geneva College Golden Tornado program, as Head Coach Geno DeMarco coaches his last home game after a storied 33-year career that has seen him secure 172 career victories and impact thousands of young men, both on the field, but also spiritually. His legacy will impact the players and this program for years to come.
- It's been a historic season so far for junior quarterback Caleb Romano and his talented wide receiver group. After posting 475 yards passing and six touchdowns against Bethany two weeks ago, Romano is now up to 2,941 yards passing this season, along with 29 touchdowns. He leads all of Division III in passing yards, and he's tied for third in touchdowns. Romano needs just 185 yards and three passing touchdowns over the final two games to set Geneva's single season record in both categories. He's also on pace to set Geneva's single season record for total offense.
- Senior Keaton Baker became the first receiver in Division III this season to surpass 1,000 receiving yards with his performance in the win over Bethany, and he's currently second in Division III with 1,055 receiving yards, which is third in program history for a single season. His 11 receiving touchdowns are also tied for third in program history. He has posted two of the top ten single game receiving performances in program history already this season, including the top mark of 282 yards and four touchdowns in the win over Saint Vincent.
- Baker (57 catches) and senior Seth Tyson (52 catches) both have a chance to finish in the top ten in program history for catches in a single season. Senior Luke Crumbacher is also having a huge season with 34 catches for 686 yards and seven touchdowns. Sophomore Dayne Johnke has added 35 catches and three touchdowns, while freshman Damien Lacks has posted receiving touchdowns in back-to-back games.
- Geneva's defense is led by its front seven, one of the better groups in the PAC. The Golden Tornadoes are giving up just 97 yards per game on the ground and have two of the top four tacklers in the PAC in senior linebackers Nicholas Ciriello (82) and Reed Gordon (78). Junior Coltin Hill (11.5 TFLs) is also a force along the defensive line.
- Senior kicker Ryan Reitler continues to be a big asset for the Golden Tornadoes. He's hit three field goals over the last two games of at least 39 yards in length.

W&J GAME NOTES

- Head Coach Mike Sirianni reached a significant milestone in W&J's win over Case Western Reserve on Saturday, his 200th career victory. Sirianni and the Presidents have been the standard bearing program over the last 20 years in the PAC, and this year's squad is of the same quality.
- Despite losing PAC Offensive Player of the Year Jacob Pugh to graduation after last year, the W&J offense hasn't missed a beat. The Presidents lead the PAC offensively, averaging 41.3 points per game, a half point ahead of Geneva's offense. W&J is led by senior quarterback Kellan Stahl, who patiently waited for his time behind Pugh before exploding onto the scene this year. For the season he's thrown for 2,382 yards and 16 touchdowns.
- W&J boasts two of the top receivers in the nation in seniors Jacob Macosko and John Peduzzi. Their numbers are split very evenly, with the pair combining for 106 catches for 1,363 yards and 12 touchdowns. The two receivers will be a big challenge for Geneva's young secondary to match up against.
- W&J also has one of the strongest running games in the conference, averaging 164.6 yards per game, second in the PAC, making it hard for defenses to focus on one area. The Presidents' running game is also powered by a talented pair of players in senior Kobe Derosa and sophomore Andrew Sharp. The pair also have almost identical numbers, combining for 979 yards rushing and 19 touchdowns while averaging almost five yards per carry.
- Not to be outdone, W&J's defense is allowing just 18.5 points per game and is in the top three in the PAC in both passing and rushing yards allowed. Sophomore Brock Sherman is tied for third in the PAC with 78 tackles. Junior Nathaniel Kadosh-Harris is tied for second in the PAC with 5.5 sacks, while junior Antonie Smith has 9.5 TFLs.

LAST MEETING

After a high scoring first quarter in last year's matchup at W&J, the Presidents pulled away for the victory. Geneva had no answer for the W&J offense as the Presidents finished with 73 points, their most in a game since 2007. Quarterback Jacob Pugh, who went on to be named the PAC Offensive Player of the Year, passed for 324 yards and six touchdowns. For Geneva, Landon Smith scored on two short rushing touchdowns, while Darin Myers connected with Keaton Baker for an 84-yard touchdown pass. W&J has defeated Geneva in all 17 games since the Golden Tornadoes joined the PAC in 2007, and the Presidents overall have won 19 straight in the series, dating back to 1983 when Geneva secured a 19-0 victory over W&J. Geneva's closest game in that stretch was a 24-20 loss in 2021.
