GAME OVERVIEW

Geneva is coming off its first winning season in over 15 years that saw the Golden Tornadoes make the postseason with an ECAC bowl game at SUNY Brockport. Geneva returns senior quarterback Caleb Romano to lead the offense after he broke almost every single season passing record in program history last year. Geneva and Widener matched up in last year's season opener for both teams, with Widener jumping out to a big early lead en route to securing the victory. The Pride finished last year with a 4-6 record overall, with the offense managing 17.6 ppg and defense allowing 24.5 ppg. Geneva will face the same two non-conference opponents to start this year as the GTs did last year, before PAC play begins later this month.

GENEVA GAME NOTES

- Geneva posted its first winning season last year since 2009, qualifying for a post-season ECAC bowl at SUNY Brockport.
- Saturday's game marks the head coaching debut for Tom Contenta, who took over for 33-year head coach Geno DeMarco, who stepped down at the end of last season. DeMarco is still serving as an assistant coach this year during the transition. Contenta has spent the last 19 years as an assistant coach under DeMarco after a standout playing career for the Golden Tornadoes.
- Geneva returns one of the top quarterbacks in all of Division III in senior Caleb Romano. Romano broke numerous single-season passing records last year, throwing for 3,471 yards and 33 touchdowns. He's one of the most talented passing quarterbacks to ever wear a Geneva College uniform, and the offense will again be built around his ability to throw the ball.
- The offense does have some big holes to fill in its wide receiver and running back room. Geneva's top three receivers and top two running backs graduated or moved on. Junior wide receiver Dayne Johnke is back after a strong first season with Geneva, and junior Liam Gibson is the top returning running back. The Golden Tornadoes do return four starters along its offensive line to help make sure Romano is protected.
- The defense returns some of its best talent as well, headlined by senior defensive lineman Coltin Hill, junior linebacker Wyman Shaheen and junior defensive back Noah Hutcherson. All three earned All-PAC honors last year. Geneva does have big holes to fill in its linebacking group after the graduation of its top two tacklers in Nicholas Ciriello and Reed Gordon.
- Geneva will need to find new kickers this year. Ryan Reitler, who handled most of the kicking duties, graduated, and punter Evan Baker did not return to the team. Junior James Winters is first in line to take over kicking duties, while senior Titan Thomas will be first up to take over the punting role.
- Geneva was picked fifth in the preseason PAC Poll. W&J was named the favorite.

WIDENER GAME NOTES

- After opening the season with its victory over Geneva, Widener finished the year 4-6 overall, with the squad eventually placing eighth out of ten teams in the Middle Atlantic Conference. The Pride were picked seventh in this year's preseason poll.
- After scoring 44 points against Geneva in the opener, the Widener offense averaged just 14.7 points over its final nine games. The Pride used three different quarterbacks over the course of the season. Senior Eli Warfel, who had a big game against Geneva last year, is currently listed as a starting wide receiver for Widener on its initial 2-deep.
- Sophomore Corey Schock, who spent last year at Lycoming, punting six times for the Warriors, transferred to Widener over the offseason and is currently listed atop the depth chart at QB. Junior Andrew Olsen, who played in eight games last year at QB, attempting 53 passes, is listed as the backup.
- The Pride do return almost their entire offensive line, who last season were all freshmen and sophomores. In fact, Widener returns most of their offensive production from last season.
- Defensively, Widener allowed 24.5 points per game. The Pride lost All-American defensive end Jalen Walker to graduation but otherwise returns the bulk of their two-deep on the defensive side of the ball, similar to the offense. In fact, the top five tacklers from last season, led by junior linebacker Luke Shimko, are all back. Widener's four starting defensive backs are all seniors.
- Widener has been a fairly consistent program over the last decade. Over the past 11 seasons, the Pride's record has hovered between 4-6 and 7-4 every year but one, when they went 3-7 in 2022.

OVERALL SERIES RECORD:
Widener leads 1-0

LAST MEETING (2025)

Last year's meeting was decided in the first 20 minutes as Widener scored the first 34 points of the game as Geneva adjusted to the new spread offense that the Golden Tornadoes were implementing after operating out of the triple option attack for the prior eight seasons. Geneva rebounded after the rough start and outscored Widener 18-10 over the final 40 minutes, but the damage had been done. The GTs did see some promising results from its spread passing attack, though, with Caleb Romano passing for 258 yards and three touchdowns, a sign of things to come for the junior quarterback. Geneva contributed to Widener's early success with four turnovers. Widener's quarterback Eli Warfel was responsible for most of the Pride's success with two touchdowns passing and two more running.
