2018 Season Outlook

After an injury plagued 2017 campaign, the 2018 George Mason men's volleyball team returns 13 letterwinners and welcomes four new faces to the roster. Head Coach Jay Hosack will look to lead the Patriots back to the NCAA tournament for the second time in his three-year tenure in Fairfax, Va.

Graduate student Johnny Gomez has one more year of NCAA volleyball eligibility to his illustrious career with the Green and Gold, boasting three EIVA Defensive Player of the Week awards, First and Second Team All-EIVA honors and AVCA All-American recognition. Gomez and seniors Brian Negrón and Christian Malias will captain the Patriots this upcoming season. Negrón started in 26 of the Patriots 27 matches last season while compiling 9.63 assists per set, and gained invaluable experience playing for the Puerto Rican National Team over the summer. Malias missed the entire 2017 season due to back and shoulder injuries, but is now healthy and looks to pick up where he left off from 2016, where he was named Second Team All-EIVA.

The Patriots have six juniors on the roster, including Kyle Barnes and Langston Payne who will look to build off breakout 2017 seasons. Barnes, an outside hitter, started in all 27 Mason matches last year and finished second on the team in total kills and third in kills per set. Barnes also recorded his first career double-double Mar. 24 in a 3-2 win vs. 2017 NCAA Tournament participant Barton College. Payne, a middle blocker, was the team's most utilized player at that position starting 21 of his 24 match appearances and led the team in solo blocks and total blocks. Payne also contributed offensively to the mark of fifth on the team in kills per set.

With Negrón switching to a right side hitter, the setter position is up for grabs. Junior Justin Coleman and redshirt-freshman Luis Velez are the two players who have been competing for that job. Coleman has 285 career assists and Velez, who redshirted in his first season with the program, has not recorded any statistics. With the track record Hosack has a developing players, the potential at the setter position is something to look forward to.

Sharing the middle blocker duties will be sophomore Bryce Gatling, who worked his way into the starting lineup as a true freshman by starting the last nine Patriots matches. Additionally, sophomore Brad Creamer, redshirt freshman Jack Reese and true freshman Justin Spiegel will give Hosack plenty of options to rely on to make big plays in key situations at the middle blocker position. As a position that favors tall players, Creamer stands at 6-9, Reese at 6-8 and Spiegel one inch below that. Sophomore outside hitter Sam Greenslade compliments the Patriots outside hitters expected to contribute to the team's attack. The Millersville, Pa. native was fourth on the team in total kills and kills per set and his .458 hit percentage vs. Sacred Heart on Apr. 1 was the third highest individual performance of the season among outside hitters.

The Patriots kick off their season the weekend of Jan. 5-7 by welcoming Limestone College to the RAC that Friday, followed by a back-to-back with Grand Canyon University the following two days. With the team's schedule featuring 12 teams ranked in the preseason AVCA poll as well as four teams that played in last year's NCAA Tournament, George Mason will be tasked with an important matchup each match in order to make them battle-tested for postseason play.

Head Coach | 3rd Season | Alma Mater: UC Santa Cruz, 1997 | Record at Mason: 31-26

Jay Hosack was announced as the fifth head men's volleyball coach in Mason history on August 25, 2016. Hosack, who brings 17 years of coaching experience to Mason, becomes the fifth head coach in the program's 41-year history. He begins his third year at the helm of Mason's program in 2017-18.

Hosack led the Patriots to an incredible season during his first campaign at the helm in 2016. The Patriots captured the EIVA Championship title for the first time since 1988, earning the league's automatic NCAA Tournament bid. Following a sweep over Harvard to open the championship, Mason knocked off St. Francis (Pa.), 3-1, to claim the EIVA title. Voted the 2016 Bob Sweeney EIVA Coach of the Year, Hosack tutored six Patriots to All-EIVA honors. Dom Edgley and Johnny Gomez were tabbed to the All-EIVA First Team, while teammates Christian Malias and Radoslav Popov were named to the All-EIVA Second Team. Sam Kollar, along with Edgley and Popov also earned spots on the EIVA All-Academic Team.

Making their first appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 28 years, Mason faced Ohio State in the opening round, falling 3-1 to the Buckeyes. The Patriots finished the season ranked No. 11 in the AVCA national poll. Mason also capped the season ranked No. 9 in the Off the Blocks/Springbak, Inc. National Media Poll.

During the summer, Hosack served as head coach of the 2016 USA Men's Junior National Team, leading Team USA to a gold medal at the 2016 NORCECA Championship. With the gold medal, MJNT clinched a spot in the 2017 FIVB World Championships, played in Brno, Czech Republic.

The University of California, Santa Cruz alum brings collegiate and national team experience to Fairfax, including 25 seasons with NCAA men's and women's programs as well as helping both men's and women's national teams get recognized at the world stage. Most recently, Hosack spent six seasons as an assistant coach of the men's program at volleyball powerhouse Penn State. In his role as an offensive coordinator, Hosack helped the Nittany Lions to six conference titles and six NCAA Final Four appearances for an overall record of 142-46.

Most of Hosack's NCAA coaching career has taken place on the West Coast, where volleyball has the reputation as one of the most popular and competitive intercollegiate sports. He began his career as head coach for both the men's and women's programs at his alma mater UC Santa Cruz where he held the role from 2000-04. During his tenure, Hosack earned UC Santa Cruz Coach of the Year accolades in 2002 and 2004, guided the men's team to the national semifinals in 2004 and tutored the program's first All-American.

Following a one year stint at Idaho State University, Hosack served as associate head coach for both the men's and women's programs at Irvine Valley College for five seasons, where the men won back-to-back titles in the Orange Empire Conference - one of the nation's most competitive community college athletic conferences. Additionally, the Lasers earned consecutive California Junior College State Championship titles in 2007 and 2008. In 2007, Hosack was named conference Co-Coach of the Year and guided the women's program to a conference crown. As a result of those successes, Hosack spent the following season as assistant coach and defensive coordinator for the University of California, Irvine women's team before joining the Nittany Lions.

In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, Hosack has over 10 years of international coaching experience working with USA National Teams. In 2006, Hosack received the opportunity to be an assistant coach for the men's national team. He held that position for four years and played an important role in USA Volleyball's historic triumph in 2008, when the team won gold medals in the Beijing Olympics and the FIVB World League.

In 2010, Hosack was the advance scout coach for the women's national team which earned fourth place in the FIVB World Championship in Tokyo, Japan. Hosack and the USA Women's A2 USA National Team earned a bronze medal in the Pan American Games. Recently, Hosack was named head coach of Team USA's men's junior national team after being the team's assistant coach since 2012. For that time, he has coached the country's top youth players to a gold and bronze medal, respectively, in the 2012 and 2014 Junior Continental Championship.

A member of the UC Santa Cruz men's volleyball team from 1995-97, Hosack received his bachelor's degree in sociology at UC Santa Cruz and earned a Masters in Coaching and Athletic Administration from Concordia University in Irvine, Calif.

Joe Norton

Assistant Coach/Recruiting Coordinator | 3rd Season | Alma Mater: George Mason, 2012

Joe Norton returned to George Mason men's volleyball in 2016 as an assistant coach on head coach Jay Hosack's staff and will enter his third coaching season in 2017.

During his first year back, Norton helped Mason win its first Eastern Intercollegiate Volleyball Association title in 28 years and get an automatic bid to the National Collegiate Men's Volleyball Championship. Norton was the only member on Mason's 2016 roster who had tasted a win against arch-rival Penn State before the Patriots took down the ninth-ranked Nittany Lions on Senior Night, April 16. A week later, Norton lifted the EIVA trophy with Mason at the Nittany Lions' den, Rec Hall, after a 3-1 win over Saint Francis (Pa.). Mason's memorable season came to an end on May 3, when the team fell to eventual national champion Ohio State in the play-in match of the NCAA Championship.

Norton spent five seasons with the men's volleyball program as an outside hitter between 2008 and 2012, progressing from a redshirt freshman in his first season to one of the Patriots' leaders in attack four years later. Norton accumulated 362 kills for Mason in 253 sets played across 82 matches as a Patriot and will be remembered with his thunderbolt serves, which allowed him to accumulate 41 aces in his intercollegiate career.

Off the court, Norton was an active member of Mason's Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC) for four years and was one of the 25 council members to represent the university at the 2010 NCAA National Leadership Conference.

Immediately after obtaining his undergraduate degree in Sport Management in May 2012, Norton began working as a strength and conditioning specialist at a local strength and conditioning facility while continuing his education. In September 2014, once he received his graduate degree in International Sport Management, Mason's former No. 5 returned to volleyball as the head coach of a U17 formation of Northern Virginia Volleyball Association. Soon after, the Eden, N.Y. native assumed the role of strength coordinator in the organization, helping athletes across all NVVA age groups prepare for competition and properly recover afterwards.

Jharred Tulloch

Assistant Coach/Technical Coordinator | 2nd Season | Alma Mater: Penn State, 2013

Jharred Tulloch is entering his second year as Assistant Coach and Technical Coordinator for the George Mason Men's Volleyball team. In that role he is responsible for coordination of all film associated with team play, as well as statistical analysis of both matches and practices.

On the floor Tulluch works with the liberos and focuses on the defensive skills and schemes of the team. Additionally, he is involved in scouting opponents through VolleyMetrics game film and works with the liberos and focus on the defensive skills and scheme of the team.

After graduating American Heritage High School in Plantation, Florida as a four-year varsity player and two-year captain, he attended Penn State University where he studied Recreation, Park, and Tourism Management with a specialty in Community Service.

While at Penn State Jharred was a member of the 2008 Men's Volleyball staff during their EIVA Tournament victory and NCAA National Championship. He also volunteered with the Penn State Women's Volleyball program and was present for their four-year National Championship winning streak. Jharred also served as the Head Coach of the Penn State Women's Club Volleyball program for 3 seasons, where he was nominated for NCVF Coach of the Year in 2011 and 2012 and finished his tenure with an overall record of 211-19 (91.7%).

Jharred additionally works as the Head Coach of the Thomas Edison High School Girls' Volleyball program, where he has led his team to three consecutive conference tournament finals and four regional tournament appearances. He was named District Co-Coach of the Year in 2015 and Coach of the Year in 2016.

Eric Johnson

@ericjohnsoon
@ericjohnson15

Volunteer Assistant Coach | 1st Season | Alma Mater: Springfield College, 2016

Eric Johnson is entering his first year as a volunteer assistant coach for both the George Mason men's and women's volleyball teams. He had held those positions since August 2017.

A native of Tustin, Calif., Johnson put together a decorated playing career at both the professional and college levels. He suited up for Balboa Bay Volleyball Club for eight seasons in Orange County, Calif., and coached the program for three years after his playing career was complete. He led the club to Junior National silver medals and two bronzes as a coach and led the same Balboa Bay club program to a gold and two bronze medals as a player.

Johnson starred for Division III volleyball powerhouse Springfield College during his undergraduate career, leading the Pride to two NCAA Championship titles over his four seasons. His seven service aces in the 2014 NCAA Quarterfinal is a national record that still stands today.

While in college, Johnson joined the USA Volleyball Team and participated at the 2013 World University Games in Kazan, Russia.

HIGH SCHOOL/PREP

Three-year letter winner at Bethel Park High School...
Two-time First Team All-State selection...Also a two-time First Team All-WPIAL pick...Named the Almanac Boys Volleyball MVP in 2017.

WHY HE CHOSE MASON

"I came to Mason because I felt that the environment of the school was where I wanted to be. The team also treated me like family from the start, which opened my eyes to the brotherhood that I was going to be a part of. Another deciding factor was the opportunity of experience I was going to have living so close to D.C for job experience. With my major there are plenty of opportunities to work in the D.C area."

COACH HOSACK ON KAPUSTA

"Mike is a two pin hitter and will compete at both opposite and outside hitter for us. He has a great passing platform and will give us options during the season."

HIGH SCHOOL/PREP

Three-year letter winner at Webster Thomas High School...Named First Team All-County and All-Greater Rochester...Earned all-academic accolades in basketball and volleyball.

WHY HE CHOSE MASON

"I chose Mason because the academics and location were perfect for me. My aunt lives 20 minutes from campus and with moving far from home, it's great to have family in the area. I wasn't sure what career path I was going to take, and Mason offered numerous majors which was a major deciding factor for me. Since of the guys on the team were very welcoming and made me feel at home on my official visit, I couldn't see myself at any other place than Mason."

COACH HOSACK ON SPIEGEL

"Justin was recruited as a middle blocker for us, but he could also be a opposite or even outside hitter down the road. He has great ball control for a middle, and that gives us other options as well."

WHY HE CHOSE MASON

"Being from New York, George Mason was close to my family, so I knew it was a great fit. Also being so close to D.C., it was a perfect place for a criminology major, like myself. The coaching staff is amazing, and I've known Jay for a long time - When I was a kid at USA camp he really stood out with his knowledge of the game. From its impressive features to its diversity, I love George Mason's campus and the atmosphere it possesses."
