Head Coach Meghan Boenig sat down to discuss the upcoming season, the history of Georgia Equestrian and the competitiveness of Varsity Equestrian.

On the upcoming season...

"This is going to be a challenging season. We have meets that are back-to-back all through November. We have a lot of travel, visiting schools that we haven't seen very often like Texas A&M and Oklahoma. During the trip to Oklahoma, we are seeing multiple competitors in one weekend, and that theme is repeated several times this year. What we have to do is to focus on the moment everyday in practice and in every competition. It's going to be a very good test to see where we are right from the beginning. I believe going through this season will really help prepare us for the championship season."

On the goals for 2011-12...

"We set four goals at the beginning of every season. The first one is an academic goal. As a team, we are striving for a 3.25-combined GPA. Our second goal is an athletic one. It is to earn the 2012 National Title as well as reclaim the SEC title. Our third goal is to give back to the community over 400 hours. That has been a goal that we have met every year. Our final goal is to carry on the tradition of creating top-notch unity that our equestrian team is known for."

Michelle Morris

On the Asst. Coach Lisa Anderson...

"It's so exciting to have the coaching staff that we have here. Our new assistant coach Lisa Anderson will work primarily with the Hunt Seat riders. She's been able to bring a fresh perspective to the rest of the staff and really invigorated everyone. I've found that when you bring someone in from industry, they tend to see things a little differently. That challenges us to look at rides and the level at which we are competing. It's a welcomed challenge. I believe that the contributions that she will have to equitation over fences are unlimited."

On Asst. Coach Mary Meneely...

"Mary is entering her second season with us and has already shown her value by taking the Western riders up to a third-place finish last year. The recruiting class that she brought in her first year is so talented and highly regarded in the horse industry. It shows her personality and determination, which bodes well for the future."

On the success of Georgia Equestrian...

"Once you set the standard, no one wants to go backward. That goes for our competitors too, here in the SEC and across the country. Every team is continuing to get stronger. The thing about success is that it continues to breed success. We can use our past success as a recruiting tool because it shows the drive, dedication and commitment to excellence that our Athletic Association and the University of Georgia has for the equestrian program."

McKenzie Lantz

However, it can put the pressure on you to stay at the top. You have to learn how to handle being a moving target.

By the standards of most programs, we had an extremely successful season last year, finishing second and third at nationals. With the success that we had over the years, the bar is set a little higher at Georgia. We push a little more because our goal is to take home the national title again. That shows the growth and competitiveness that Varsity Equestrian teams have."

On the seniors...

"The senior class includes two of our captains in Michelle Morris and Katelyn Van Allen, who have been leaders for several years on this team, now culminating in their captainship. They have seen this team transition from a group of girls to a group that focuses on the goals as a team. They have given this program some consistency in both disciplines. The seniors have been a part of championship teams and know what winning feels like. They also know what it feels like to come so close last year and they have no less desire to bring home another title. They know what it takes to win."

On the depth of the team...

"We have great depth on this team. If you look at who has travelled to Nationals the past few years, there is always an underclassman in that group. We have riders like Carly Anthony who have been instrumental in Individual National Championships and All-Americans. I look for her to continue that leadership. On our Western side, we are fortunate to have the depth that we have with Becca Haaland in the reining event and Maria Salazar horsemanship. Both wonderful character, drive and determination. We are very fortunate to have the depth that we do. I look for strong leadership to be a part of this team for years to come because of how important the underclassmen are to this program."

On the newcomers...

"We have some phenomenal freshmen, transfers and walk-ons this year. They have tremendous success in their industry standard competitions and their experience in front of judges will be a huge asset in their confidence. Their willingness and desire to be the best at this format is something that has impressed me the most. They are asking questions, asking for extra work and pushing themselves beyond what is asked of them. That has translated to every single rider getting better and pushing herself to be the best. I am really excited about these riders who are coming in with a wealth of knowledge and still are willing and excited to learn more from the returning riders and the coaching staff."

On competing in the SEC...

"The SEC is the dominant force in Varsity equestrian. No school outside of the SEC has ever won the national championship and I don't foresee that changing. That being said, you're really only as good as the team that you defeat. Travelling to all of these other schools is a learning experience. As important as it is to do well, it is really more important that you learn a lesson each time. I would rather be challenged by a team and have a loss than go somewhere and win straight through."

On having a strong schedule...

"Strength of schedule is extremely important. It will help us in the rankings, where we are seeded for nationals. With all of that said, it's where you finish that is the most important part of the season. A team can be undefeated through the regular season but not put it all together and lose in the championship."

Strengths of the Hunt Seat riders...

"We have lot of returning riders this year. Our Hunt Seat riders will have a lot of experience in competing at a national level and how to handle the pressure that comes with that. With the depth that we have, I think we will be battling it out with another school for the Hunt Seat Championship this year and I am excited about that opportunity."

Strengths of the Western riders...

"We graduated some talented riders in the Western division. We had some holes to fill, but I think Coach Mary was able to address those needs in the recruiting class that she brought in. It also gives some of the younger riders that have been here for a year or two to compete at the highest level. I know they are going to be really ready to fill the shoes that we need to fill. I am confident this group will achieve the goals that they have set for themselves."

On the facility...

"We have been at this facility for three years. I knew it would be a good thing, but I didn't know how much of a good thing it would be. It has affected us in ways that we didn't know that it would. It has allowed the coaches to have more time in the ring and less time traveling. It gives the girls some more opportunities in their riding. Our horses are 100 times healthier and happier because we have so much more space for them. We are in the process of more development - creating permanent offices, locker rooms and further amenities for our horses. We are very excited about the future at this facility."

On the environment at competitions...

"This is a sport that fans can get right up close to the action. Our promotions staff has really helped created a family atmosphere at our events with events like pictures with a horse, paint the pony and stick horse races. It really is an incredible experience for the whole family."

Meghan Boenig Head Coach 10th Season at Georgia

Meghan Boenig came to Georgia in October of 2001 as the first head coach of the Georgia equestrian program. During her time with the Bulldogs, Boenig has led the program to unprecedented heights including five national titles, six Southern Equestrian Championships, two reserve championships and a 42-1 dual-meet record at home.

During the 2010-11 campaign, the Bulldogs again were competing for a championship, when they took on Southeastern Conference for Auburn in the finals of the VENC National Championship. Georgia came away with its second Reserve Championship, falling 51-49 to the Tigers. The Bulldogs defeated Auburn in the Western Division to finish third overall in the discipline, but Auburn edged Georgia on the Hunt Seat side.

The 2010-11 campaign was just the latest testament to their greatness, but it was also evidence of the growing state of competitiveness within their sport.

Georgia spent the first months of the season finding its way but the Bulldogs closed their season by winning yet another national crown. This time they needed the first "ride-off" in the sport's history to edge Texas A&M in the overall standings. In addition, two Georgia hunt seaters, Michelle Morris and Emma Lipman, claimed individual championships, the third and fourth such honors in Georgia history.

In just eight seasons Boenig has made great strides in developing Georgia's equestrian program from Square One. The number of riders has tripled from 24 to near 70, while the number of horses has more than quadrupled going from 12 to over 60. In addition, the staff has grown from Boenig, on her own, to seven full-time members.

She galloped through her first seasons at Georgia with trailblazing success, winning national titles in both of the program's first two years on the varsity level. In 2002-03, she coached the University's first varsity team to the national crown at the VENC in College Station, Texas. The next year she steered her team to a dramatic comeback at the VENC, held at the Georgia International Horse Park in Conyers, Ga.

Boenig first began to work her magic on Georgia's club team. When she arrived in Athens in the fall of 2001, her mandate was to bring the club team through the transitional 2001-02 season and elevate the equestrian program to a varsity level. She accomplished the task with flair, leading the Bulldogs to the first of three straight English discipline titles at the precursor to the inaugural VENC held in 2002 in Gainesville, Fla.

During the transitional year Boenig hired a coaching staff, selected the first team, and began selling the sport to the Bulldog Nation. In succeeding years, much of her administrative focus turned to facilities and development.

Her attention to the latter concern led to Georgia's palatial home in nearby Bishop, Ga., in 2009. The 109-acre layout gives her team the finest training and competition facility of its kind in America. It also fulfilled a twofold dream of Boenig's that began back in the early days: to give her team a place to call "home" and to ease the burden upon the University's Animal Science department, which owned the property where the Bulldogs had begun their program.

Beyond Athens, Boenig is heavily involved in shaping the development of varsity equestrian, which is classified as an "emerging" sport by the NCAA. She serves on the Varsity Steering Committee that governs the sport through biannual coaches' meetings and has been its Chairperson for two seasons. She was also a leading advocate for the bracketed tournament format that is currently in existence.

Boenig initiated varsity equestrian's departure from the meet format associated with the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association (IHSA), under whose auspices Georgia competed in 2003. She helped introduce the dual-meet format that SEC schools now use, competing by proposed NCAA rules designed to make the sport more competitive and fan-friendly.

Boenig is a 1999 graduate of Berry College where she earned her bachelor's degree in Biology. Prior to her arrival at Georgia in October of 2001, she spent two years as an assistant coach at Texas A&M during which time she also earned a master's degree in Animal Science.

Her two seasons at Texas A&M were deciding factors in her hiring as the Bulldogs' inaugural head coach. Georgia sought a coach with the knowledge of working hand-in-hand with a university's Animal Science community in forging a new equestrian team, something the Aggies had enjoyed during her tenure there.

A native of Powder Springs, Ga., the former Meghan Nolan is married to Markus Boenig. The couple are proud parents of a son, Josef Peter, who was born Aug. 23, 2009.

Mary Meneely Assistant Coach (Western) Second Season at Georgia

Mary Meneely, who has a breadth of experience that covers all aspects of the equine industry, is in her second season as Assistant Coach for Georgia's Western riding corps.

Meneely joined the UGA program as a volunteer assistant in April of 2010. She played an integral role in steering Georgia's Western riders to a fourth-place finish at the Varsity National championships, an effort that included a second-round upset victory over TCU.

Not long after Nationals, Meneely was named to the coaching staff on a full-time basis.

"We are very, very excited to have Mary joining our program on a full-time basis," Boenig said. "She jumped in with both feet back in April and displayed tremendous dedication and passion toward helping our young ladies. She is well-respected with 25 years in the industry, and I'm very confident she will continue her outstanding work with our program in the future."

Since 1992, Meneely has co-owned and operated Meneely Show Horses, Ltd., of Conyers, Ga., along with her husband Rob. They have produced over 450 World and National Championships in both Western and Hunt Seat. During that time Meneely has handled all aspects of the business, including recruitment and training of show riders, selection and training of horses, sales and marketing of the business, farm management, and custom design of show clothes.

Meneely already has experience as an instructor on the collegiate level. For three years (1996-99) she developed and taught Equestrian courses at Georgia Perimeter College in Conyers. Yet her latest venture will take her career in a much different direction.

A native of Seattle, Meneely started her own equine coaching and training business while attending the University of Washington. She completed her undergraduate studies in 2009.

Lisa Anderson Assistant Coach (Hunt Seat) First Season at Georgia

Lisa Anderson begins her first season as an assistant equestrian coach at Georgia. Anderson will work mainly with the Hunt Seat riders.

After graduating Cum Laude from Barnard College, Columbia University in New York, Anderson managed her own horse business for over 30 years. During this time, she coached hundreds of top students at the highest levels of competition in both the Hunt Seat and Jumper rings at the national and international level.

Anderson also worked as the equitation, hunter and jumper coach at Copper Ridge Farm in Maple Park, Ill., coaching on the

"AA" circuit.

Prior to her time at Copper Ridge Farm, Anderson spent over 13 years coaching equitation, hunter and jumper clients at the "AA" level at Grove Place Farm. While there, she also managed the staff, organized show schedules and trained and schooled customer and sale horses.

This is a homecoming of sorts for Anderson, as she operated her own business out of Glory Farm in Alpharetta, Ga. During this five-year span, Anderson competed in and coached at "A" shows and combined training events from Massachusetts to Florida.

Anderson has also worked with the United States Equestrian Team under coach Jack LeGoff and spent two years teaching show jumping to event riders at the USET headquarters in South Hamilton, Mass. Anderson either trained the leading horse or was named the USCTA area-leading rider for 10 consecutive years from 1982-1992. In 1989, she was the sixth leading USCTA rider in the United States.

Anderson is married and has four children.

Amber Bradley Farm Manager

Amber Bradley joined the Georgia program in 2006 as Farm Manager. In her position she oversees not only the care of Georgia's 60-plus horses, but also the facilities used by the Equestrian team.

A native of Pauline, S.C., Bradley has enjoyed a lifelong association with horses. She grew up on a 124-acre horse farm and first began showing hunters & jumpers at the age of five. By age 15 she was managing her family's farm.

In 2002, Bradley moved to Georgia, managed a 300-acre horse farm, supervised three community living facilities and attended college at Athens Tech. She was also a member of the Cowboy Mounted Shooting Association, from which she won several division titles, two state crowns and the Southeast regional championship.

Bradley and her husband Andrew who won the team's "Mane Dawg" award in 2008 for extraordinary service to the program -- are the parents of 4-year-old James Audie and daughter Agnes who was born in June 2011.

Rachel Garrison Barn Manager

Rachel Garrison is into her fourth year as the Barn Manager for the Georgia Equestrian program.

Garrison brings 15 years of horse experience to the Georgia program, having successfully competed in local and regional hunters, dressage and combined training, as well as participating as a working student for several national and international equine professionals.

Garrison joined the Georgia program after one year working in Athens as a Recruiter for the American Red Cross Biomedical Services. In her former position, she solicited blood donations from both individuals and many groups and organizations throughout North Georgia.

A 2004 graduate of Wesleyan College, Garrison is an alumni of the Wesleyan Equestrian Team and holds a degree in Advertising and Marketing Communications. After college, Garrison worked as the Barn Manager and Trail Riding Director for the Lodge on Little St. Simons Island, Georgia where she maintained the island's stable of seven horses, and also led horseback tours of the 10,000-acre, privately-owned barrier island in southeast Georgia. Garrison is currently pursuing her master's degree in Animal and Dairy Science at Georgia.

About Collegiate Varsity Equestrian

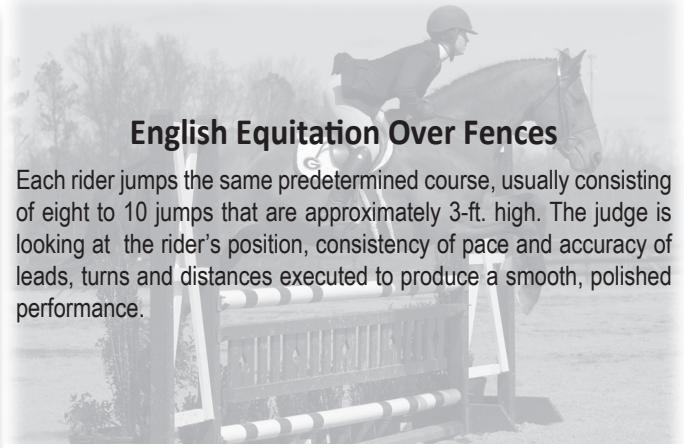

Dual-Meet Format

The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) classifies Equestrian as an “emerging” sport. Until 2003, all collegiate equestrian shows were conducted under the auspices of the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association (IHSA). Georgia riders departed from that format for the 2003-04 season. Since then, they have competed in the dual-meet format governed by proposed NCAA rules set forth in the biannual equestrian coaches meetings hosted by the United States of America Equestrian Federation.

Teams compete in four events at each dual meet: English Equitation over Fences, English Equitation, Western Horsemanship and Western Reining. In each event a minimum of four athletes from each team ride head-to-head on the same set of horses, which are provided by the host school. Riders are assigned to the horse in a random draw and face the challenge of riding an unfamiliar horse after a brief timed warm-up period. A point is earned when a rider’s score is higher than their opponent riding the same horse.

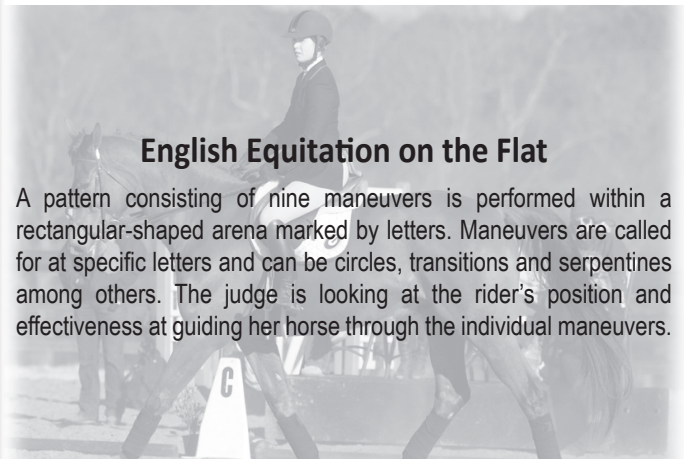

General Scoring

Hunt Seat riders are scored on a scale of 1-100. There are nine maneuvers each worth 10 points, plus an overall score worth 10 points, to total 100 possible points per ride. Maneuvers are scored on this scale: 10=Excellent; 9=Very Good; 8=Good; 7=Fairly Good; 6=Satisfactory; 5=Sufficient; 4=Insufficient; 3=Fairly Bad; 2=Bad; 1=Very Bad; 0=Not Executed. Scores usually range from 70-80, depending on the judge. Western riders are scored on a 70-point scale. There are a minimum of eight maneuvers which are scored on the following scale: +1.5=Excellent, +1=Very Good, +.5=Good, 0=Correct, -.5=Poor, -1=Very Poor, -1.5=Extremely Poor. Scores range from 68 to 72. Horsemanship and English Equitation riders are judged on their ability to control and show the horse while maintaining the correct riding position. Riders in Equitation over Fences are judged on their ability to position the horse correctly and not interfere with its balance while maintaining the correct riding position for a smooth, polished performance. Reiners are judged for precision and application of natural aids as they execute intricate maneuvers at varying speeds.

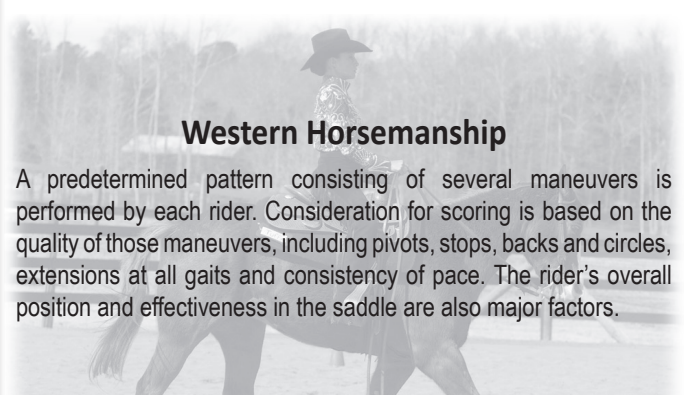

English Equitation Over Fences

Each rider jumps the same predetermined course, usually consisting of eight to 10 jumps that are approximately 3-ft. high. The judge is looking at the rider’s position, consistency of pace and accuracy of leads, turns and distances executed to produce a smooth, polished performance.

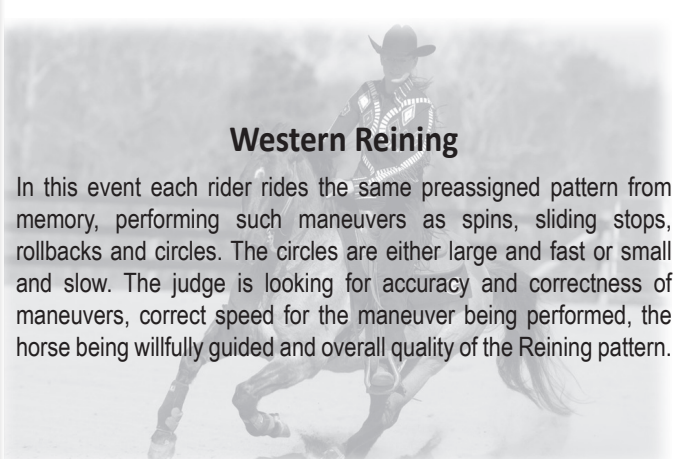

English Equitation on the Flat

A pattern consisting of nine maneuvers is performed within a rectangular-shaped arena marked by letters. Maneuvers are called for at specific letters and can be circles, transitions and serpentines among others. The judge is looking at the rider’s position and effectiveness at guiding her horse through the individual maneuvers.

Western Horsemanship

A predetermined pattern consisting of several maneuvers is performed by each rider. Consideration for scoring is based on the quality of those maneuvers, including pivots, stops, backs and circles, extensions at all gaits and consistency of pace. The rider’s overall position and effectiveness in the saddle are also major factors.

Western Reining

In this event each rider rides the same preassigned pattern from memory, performing such maneuvers as spins, sliding stops, rollbacks and circles. The circles are either large and fast or small and slow. The judge is looking for accuracy and correctness of maneuvers, correct speed for the maneuver being performed, the horse being willfully guided and overall quality of the Reining pattern.

Key Terms in Equestrian

Crop

A short whip used in riding, used only as an aid to reinforce the rider's leg.

Diagonals

The correct posting, up/down motion, of the rider in sequence with diagonal movement of the horse's legs at the trot.

Equitation / Horsemanship

In competitions, these indicate that riders are being judged on their ability to control and show the horse while maintaining the correct riding position. Riders have the added challenge of riding an unfamiliar horse, one that they draw for in a lottery system just before their event.

Equitation Over Fences

An individual performance where each rider shows a horse over 8-10 jumps approximately three feet high. Riders are judged on their ability to position the horse correctly at the jumps and avoid interfering with the horse's balance, while maintaining the correct riding position and producing a smooth, polished performance.

Figure Eight

Two circles connected by a change of direction, most often seen in Reining patterns.

Gait

Three ways — canter/lope, trot/jog, or walk — by which a horse can move by lifting the feet in different order or rhythm.

Horsemanship

Refers to an event in Western discipline which is judged on a predetermined pattern consisting of several maneuvers is performed by each rider. The rider's overall position and effectiveness in the saddle are major factors in scoring.

Hunt Seat

The category of Equitation English riders compete in, whose foundation lies in jumping and riding across country, such as foxhunting.

Leads

They are determined at the canter/lope by which front foot is leading. Correct leads have the inside foreleg reaching furthest.

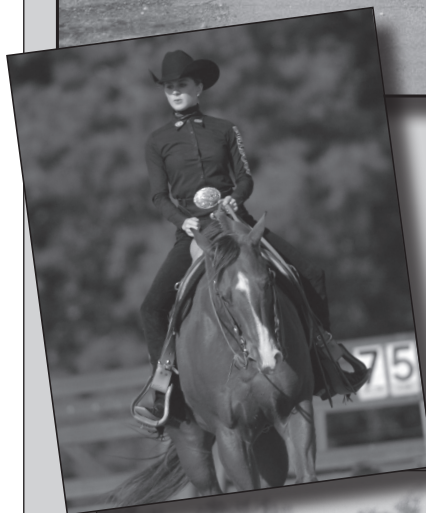

Natural Aids

Body signals from the seat, legs, hands and voice to communicate commands to the horse, all the while appearing comfortable, relaxed and balanced. These signals should be subtle or imperceptible to the judge and spectators and exaggerated shifting of the rider's weight is not desirable. The resulting performance shown by the horse is not to be considered more important than the methods used by the rider in obtaining them.

Reining

In this class, Western riders perform an individual, pre-assigned pattern from memory, demonstrating a variety of stops, turns and maneuvers at various

UGA Equestrian Complex

In January of 2009, Georgia riders moved into their spacious new home, the UGA Equestrian Complex, located just outside Bishop, Ga. The 109-acre farm offers Georgia the finest in equine accommodations.

Formerly known as High Point Farm, the facility served the Athens-area equine community with boarding and training facilities since 1993. In 1996, High Point was selected as the training site for the U.S. Dressage Team, which competed in the Summer Olympic Games at the International Horse Park in Conyers, Ga.

speeds. The emphasis on this class is on precision, technical application of natural aids and the rider's ability to show unfamiliar horses.

Rollback in English

A turn performed in Equitation Over Fences class to show control of the horse and rider's ability to maintain a position throughout a turn. A tight turn performed between two Fences. In Western Reining, a rollback is a 180 degree pivot with speed after a halt.

Warm-Ups

Practice time before the classes, normally 4-5 minutes. The horses will be schooled, or prepared for competition using stretching and supping exercises at various gaits, or practice jumps if necessary by riders who will not compete the day of the show.

Sliding Stop

A smooth stop from the lope, in which the horse is supposed to balance on its back feet while the front feet continue to move.

Bulldogs Finish Second at VENC's

Georgia finished the 2010-11 campaign just two points shy of a sixth national championship. Auburn earned a 6-2 victory in the Hunt Seat final to edge the Bulldogs 51-49 for the overall crown.

Earlier in the day, Georgia defeated Auburn in the duel for third place in the Western discipline. The Bulldogs were tied 2-2 after one Western event, but they tallied two points in Horsemanship to Auburn's one point.

"We are all very proud to be Bulldogs," Georgia coach Meghan Boenig said. "This team has worked as one all season and today was no exception. Everyone was a contributor all the way through. Today we fought hard against a great rival for every point. For our Western team, it was a great way to end our journey for the season."

SEC Showdown for National Title

Georgia once again made a decisive push to another national championship in Equestrian.

This time, however, the Bulldogs faced perhaps their toughest challenge yet in a face all too familiar. They took on SEC foe Auburn for the Hunt Seat championship, and squared off against the Tigers for third place in the race for the Western crown.

The Georgia Hunt Seaters advanced to the championship round by defeating Baylor 5-3 in the semifinal round. Michelle Morris continued her flawless performance thus far, taking points in both events, including a 71-point winning margin in her ride in Equitation over Fences. Also posting double victories was freshman Abby O'Mara. Kacy Jenkins claimed the Bulldogs' other point in Hunt Seat by taking her Fences ride in convincing fashion, 157-138.

Georgia's Western squad was defeated by top-seeded Texas A&M in its semifinal match. The team went on to a third-place finish, defeating Auburn.

Georgia and Auburn Meet for Southern Equestrian Title

Georgia finished second at the Southern Equestrian Championship after dropping an 11-9 decision to Auburn.

The Bulldogs got to the championship round by rallying to defeat South Carolina 11-8 in the first round of the event.

In June of 2001, Georgia took a bold step forward in the development of its athletics program when Equestrian was added as the 21st varsity intercollegiate sport. In the eight years since, the Bulldogs' program has become a national leader, both in the performance and in the movement, toward sponsorship by the NCAA.

First Season Closes With a Bang

Georgia's inaugural campaign of Equestrian in 2003 was exciting enough in itself. The final month of the season, however, made it unforgettable. This amazing streak started when the Bulldogs took first place at the Varsity Equestrian National Championships in College Station, Texas, on the weekend of April 18-19. The field of competing teams was comprised of nearly every school in the country which sponsors equestrian as a varsity sport. It continued the very next weekend when Georgia took first place at the Southern Equestrian Championship, a show in Athens that equated to competition for the SEC title. Participating were the three SEC schools that already have Equestrian on the varsity level - Georgia, Auburn and South Carolina - as well as three schools (Florida, Miss. State and Vanderbilt) whose programs hope to reach varsity status.

Georgia Wins Second Straight Varsity Equestrian Championship in 2004

The Georgia equestrian team capped its second year of competition in grand style successfully defending its overall title at the sport's national championship meet. Coach Meghan Boenig's team trailed SEC rival Auburn by 14 points after the first day of riding. The Bulldogs, however, took control of the meet on the final day winning four of the seven flights and placing second in two others. Auburn finished second with 49 points behind Georgia's 60 in the final team standings. Oklahoma State was third at the third annual event which was held this year at the Georgia International Horse Park in Conyers, Ga. Georgia also took first place in the hunt seat standings easily outpointing Auburn 32-23. The Bulldogs placed second to Oklahoma State in the western standings by a 28-29 count.

Bulldogs Gallop to Undefeated Regular Season

After defeating Fresno State on March 12, 2005, the Bulldogs completed their first undefeated season in their history, going 11-0 overall and 4-0 in the conference. Georgia faced South Carolina in the Southern EQ Championships where the Bulldogs knocked off the rival Gamecocks 987-971.625. The Bulldogs first loss of the season came in the Varsity EQ National Championships where they fell to South Carolina 60-51. After only scoring 16 points on day one, Georgia found itself in sixth place. The Bulldogs would later bounce back with three first place finishes.

Bulldogs Nearly Perfect Again In '06

Georgia had yet another memorable season, finishing with just one loss in the regular season. The Bulldogs galloped their way through the fall schedule with wins over Kentucky, South Carolina, Berry and Auburn. In addition, the English squad placed first at the Big Eight Tournament held on October 7 and 8 in Athens. Georgia's lone loss came in College Station, Texas where the western riders finished third at the Big Eight Western Tournament. The Bulldogs wrapped up the regular season with a win at home versus South Carolina and road victories at Fresno State and Auburn. The Bulldogs claimed their third straight Southern Championships before finishing fourth at the Varsity National Equestrian meet.

Bulldogs Record Another Successful Season in 2007

The 2006-07 team enjoyed a strong regular season finishing with a 9-2 record including an unblemished mark of 6-0 at home where it remains undefeated over the past five years. Georgia swept the 2006 Varsity Equestrian National Champion Auburn Tigers and picked up a win against the would-be 2007 Champion South Carolina Gamecocks. The Bulldogs closed out their fourth consecutive undefeated fall season with the win against Berry College on Nov 19. In addition, Georgia boasts an unblemished record of 23-0 in home meets since riding under the NCAA format during the 2003-04 year.

Bulldog Riders Return to Winner's Circle in 2008

Georgia won its third national Equestrian team title in just six years of existence when the Bulldogs took first place in the overall standings at the 2008 Varsity National Championships in Waco, Texas. The Bulldog riders claimed their first national crown since 2004 without finishing first in either riding discipline. Georgia's Western squad narrowly missed a victory when it dropped a tie-breaker to Texas Christian on Saturday. The two teams had ridden to a 4-4 draw before the Horned Frogs outpointed Georgia in the sum of raw scores, 1027-1026. Still, Georgia's strong finish in both disciplines allowed the Bulldogs to claim a team title with surprising ease. Their total of 49 points surpassed runner-up Texas A&M, which totaled 38, and third-place Auburn's 36 points. A new feature of the VENC meet were the competitions for individual titles in the four riding events. Georgia sophomore Sarah Locker claimed the title in Western Reining. Teammates Haylie Jayne and Kacy Jenkins in Fences to stave off elimination by South Carolina in the semifinals. For the second straight year, Georgia brought home one of the four individual national championships that were introduced to the sport in 2008. This year, junior Haylie Jayne won the Equitation over Fences crown in a match with her teammate and good friend, Kelley Cowperthwait.

Banner 2009 Season Ends with Another Title

With a resounding win in the Hunt Seat discipline and a fourth-place finish in Western, Georgia concluded the 2008-09 season by taking home its second straight overall title at the Varsity EQ National Championships in Waco, Texas. The Bulldogs totaled 51 points in the standings, nine better than runner-up Texas A&M. Both Haylie Jayne and Kelley Cowperthwait were stalwarts in Georgia's advance to the Hunt Seat championship. They led the Bulldogs to a 7-1 victory over Auburn, each with a winning ride in Equitation over Fences and Jayne also pointing in the Flat competition. Just over 12 hours before, however, the Bulldogs needed clutch points from Emma Lipman and Kacy Jenkins in Fences to stave off elimination by South Carolina in the semifinals. For the second straight year, Georgia brought home one of the four individual national championships that were introduced to the sport in 2008. This year, junior Haylie Jayne won the Equitation over Fences crown in a match with her teammate and good friend, Kelley Cowperthwait.

Bulldogs Take Third Straight Title in 2010

Collegiate equestrian on the varsity level has only been around for eight years. During that span, Georgia has taken its rule over this young sport to a dynastic level. The 2010 Bulldog squad needed two kinds of tie-breakers to settle the issue, but they prevailed over Texas A&M to capture the overall crown at the Varsity National Championships in Waco, Texas on April 17. When both Hunt Seat and Western team competitions had played out, both Georgia and Texas A&M had won titles, Georgia the former and A&M the latter. That put them in a first-place tie in the overall standings with 51 points, necessitating the first rideoff in the history of this event.

FIVE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS • SIX SOUTHERN EQUESTRIAN CHAMPIONSHIPS • TWO VENC RESERVE CHAMPIONSHIPS

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

In January of 1785 — two years after the Revolutionary War — the Georgia legislature adopted the charter that created the University of Georgia. In founding the nation's first state university, the legislature also gave birth to the American system of public higher education. Over the past 220 years, Georgia and its university have grown together as partners in a burgeoning prosperity that has made the University a fast-track contender for educational pre-eminence. With more than 33,400 students, a work force of more than 9,000 and an annual budget of over $1.4 billion, the University of Georgia is Georgia's largest, oldest and most comprehensive educational institution. Widely recognized for excellence in instruction, research and public service, the University has moved into the ranks of America's foremost public universities.

4	The National Science Foundation ranks UGA's College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences 4th in the nation based on total expenditures for research and development.
9	Kiplinger's magazine ranks UGA 9th on its list of best values among 100 public colleges and universities in America.
12	The College of Veterinary Medicine at UGA is ranked 12th among the nation's veterinary schools by U.S. News & World Report .
16	The Wall Street Journal included Georgia among 16 "Hot Schools" that are drawing increased attention from students and families because of cost, safety and academic quality.
18	UGA is tied for 18th in U.S. News & World Report's 2011 list of the 50 top public universities in America
28	U.S. News & World Report ranks Georgia's Terry College of Business 28th among all schools in the nation.

HISTORY

THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

From the hills of Georgia's northland beams thy noble bow, And the sons of Georgia rising pledge with sacred vow, 'Tis with the pine trees' stately shadow spread thy riches rare, And thy sons, dear Alma Mater, will thy trophies share. And thy daughters proudly join thee, take their rightful place, side by side into the future, equal dreams embrace. Through the ages, Alma Mater, Men will look to thee, thou the fount of the Southland, Georgia's Varsity, Alma Mater, the well honored, true and loyal be, ever crowned with praise and glory, Georgia, hail to thee.
