Bulldogs Extend One Of The Nation's Longest Active Bowl Streaks

Fifth-ranked Georgia will face seventh-ranked Baylor in the 2020 Allstate Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1 at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome in New Orleans at 8:45 p.m. ET on ESPN. The Bulldogs (11-2) will represent the SEC while the Bears (11-2) hail from the Big 12. Both teams played for their respective conference championships, Georgia qualifying by winning the Eastern Division title, while Baylor tied for the Big 12 regular-season title. Second-ranked LSU ran past Georgia 37-10 for the SEC title while Oklahoma outlasted Baylor in overtime 30-23 to claim the Big 12 crown.

The Bulldogs have the second-longest active bowl streak in the nation now at 23, trailing only Virginia Tech (27). Overall, the Bulldogs rank among the nation's top bowl teams as they will be making their 56th all-time appearance. Georgia owns a 31-21-3 bowl record while Baylor is 13-11. Last season, Georgia also advanced to the Sugar Bowl and dropped its matchup with Texas 28-21.

In Georgia's bowl history, the Sugar Bowl is the only bowl that the Bulldogs have been to in consecutive years. In fact, Georgia went three straight years to cap the seasons from 1980-82.

Sugar Bowl History For The Bulldogs

Georgia has played in the Sugar Bowl 10 times – more than the Bulldogs have played in any other postseason game. Georgia's last trip to the New Orleans game was last Jan. 1, when the Bulldogs fell to Texas 28-21.
Jan. 1, 1947, #3 Georgia defeated #9 North Carolina, 20-10
Jan. 1, 1969, #4 Georgia lost to #9 Arkansas, 16-2
Jan. 1, 1977, #5 Georgia lost to #1 Pittsburgh, 27-3
Jan. 1, 1981, #1 Georgia defeated #7 Notre Dame, 17-10 to win the national championship
Jan. 1, 1982, #2 Georgia lost to #10 Pittsburgh, 24-20
Jan. 1, 1983, #1 Georgia lost to #2 Penn State, 27-23
Jan. 1, 2003, #4 Georgia defeated #16 Florida State, 26-13
*Jan. 1, 2006, #8 Georgia lost to #11 West Virginia 38-35; *played in Atlanta due to Hurricane Katrina
Jan. 1, 2008, #4 Georgia defeated #10 Hawaii, 41-10
Jan. 1, 2019, #5 Georgia lost to #15 Texas, 28-21

Georgia-Baylor Series History

Georgia leads the all-time series with Baylor 4-0, with Baylor with all of those games coming in Athens. Three of them started the season for each team, while this year's showdown will be the finale.
Sept. 16, 1972 season opener in Athens.....#16 Georgia defeated Baylor, 24-14
Sept. 16, 1978 season opener in Athens.....Georgia defeated Baylor, 16-14
Sept. 14, 1985 in Athens .....Georgia defeated Bayor, 17-14

A Look At The Senior Class

The 2019 seniors enter the Baylor contest with a 43-12 record, three SEC Eastern Division crowns and one SEC title (2017). The Bulldogs picked up their 43rd win after crushing Georgia Tech 52-7 in Atlanta on Nov. 30. The most wins by a senior class belongs to the 2005 group that went 44-9 and claimed a pair of SEC titles (2002, 2005). Georgia's most decorated senior class came in 1983 as they went 43-4-1, winning the 1980 National Championship and three SEC titles (1980-82).

Kirby Smart — Head Football Coach

When Georgia looked for a head coach after the 2015 season, all arrows pointed to Kirby Smart, former Bulldog player and assistant coach, and longtime University of Alabama defensive coordinator. Four years later, the decision to bring Smart home has paid handsome rewards.

In his first year leading the Dogs in 2016, Georgia extended its school record to 20 consecutive bowl appearances and had five fourth-quarter comebacks including wins over No. 8 Auburn and No. 22 UNC.

In 2017, Smart directed UGA to a 13-2 record, an SEC title, a win at The Rose Bowl Game during the CFP semi-final and a spot in the National Championship. He was named the Maxwell Football Club's George Munger National Coach of the Year. Before 2017, the Bulldogs last SEC title was 2005.

The 2018 season saw the Bulldogs go 11-3 and earn a second straight trip to the SEC Championship Game and a berth to the Sugar Bowl.

He has also made an immediate impact in recruiting, posting the nation's top-ranked class in 2018, the second-ranked class in 2019 and the third-ranked class in 2017. In addition to coaching, Smart oversees the Kirby Smart Family Foundation, which is focused on being champions in the community by supporting and giving back to needy children and families.

Smart officially came home to Georgia on Dec. 6, 2015. But he still had unfinished business at Alabama, which was chasing a national title. He juggled two jobs for a month until January 11, 2016, when the Tide won its fourth national championship in a seven-year span. Twelve hours later, he was at work in Athens.

Did You Know?

Fromm Directs The Offense

* Jake Fromm is 34-7 as a starter, including 12-6 versus Top 25 teams. He has started an FBS-best 41 straight games for QBs.

* The Warner Robins, Ga., native ranks in the top five in UGA history for TD passes (76-No. 2), passing yards (7,974-No. 4) and pass completions (601-No. 4).

* Has directed Georgia to three straight SEC Eastern Division titles, one SEC title and an appearance in the CFP National Championship Game. Fromm had three TD passes in a 21-14 win at #12 Auburn to clinch the 2019 SEC East crown.

* Pushed his career record versus Florida to 3-0 by topping the #6 Gators 24-17 with a performance that included 20-for-30 for 279 yards and two scores. The team was 12-for-18 on third downs.

* Currently he has a 60.3% completion percentage and has 2,610 passing yards and 22 touchdown tosses in 2019.

* In his career, Fromm has led his team to three comeback wins when trailing at the half, including versus #7 Notre Dame in Athens this season and over #2 Oklahoma in the 2018 Rose Bowl Game/College Football Playoff Semifinal Game.

* Currently, the No. 2 QB is RSo. Stetson Bennett, who is in his second stint with the Bulldogs after re-enrolling in UGA in January. Bennett was on the 2017 Bulldog team. This season, Bennett is 20-for-27 (74.1%) for 260 yards with two TDs and one pick.

Pound The Rock

* For the second straight year, junior D'Andre Swift has gone over a 1,000 yards for the season. He eclipsed the mark in the second quarter at #12 Auburn on a 26-yard run. Swift is the fifth Bulldog in history to have a pair of 1,000-yard seasons and the first since Nick Chubb did it three times (2014, '16-17). He has registered more than 100 yards five times this year (nine in his career) and ranks seventh in Bulldog history with 2,883 career rushing yards.

* A 2019 Maxwell Award semifinalist, Swift has 1,216 yards on 195 carries (6.2 per carry) along with seven touchdowns.

* Swift earned SEC Offensive Player of the Week honors after carrying the ball 21 times for 179 yards (8.5 avg.) in the win over UK. This was the highest output for Swift since he piled up a career-high 186 on 17 carries during the win over #24 Auburn last year.

* Along with Swift, Georgia's tailbacks who have shared the load include Sr. Brian Herrien, So. James Cook and RFr. Zamir White. Five different Bulldog tailbacks have scored this season.

* Herrien shined versus #6 UF in the receiving game with career highs of four for 46 yards. He had a one-handed grab on third down that led to a field goal in the third quarter. Against #12 AU, Herrien had his second career TD catch (first of 2019) to put the Bulldogs up 14-0.

A Look At The Line

* Georgia's starting offensive line, which is a 2019 Joe Moore Award semifinalist, averages 6 feet, 5 inches and 328.6 pounds, making it the biggest unit in Bulldog history.

* Georgia is ranked fourth nationally giving up only 12 sacks.

* The Bulldogs returned four of five starters, including All-American LT Andrew Thomas and Freshman All-American RT Isaiah Wilson and Cade Mays, who lined up at OG and OT last season and has continued that trend in 2019. The trio is also joined by junior guards Solomon Kindley and Ben Cleveland and sophomore C Trey Hill, who all had starts in 2018.

* Thomas was recently named a Midseason All-American and an Outland Trophy semifinalist and is a two-time SEC Offensive Lineman of the Week this year.

* Mays has now played every spot on the line in 2019, including C against Missouri after Hill went down with an ankle injury.

* It's worth noting that all of Georgia's current offensive linemen have been coached throughout their careers by Sam Pittman, who accepted the head coaching job at Arkansas on Dec. 8, 2019. Within 48 hours, Pittman's replacement had been hired in former Ole Miss head coach Matt Luke, who joined the Bulldogs' staff immediately and will coach the linemen in preparation for the Allstate Sugar Bowl.

Next Man Up At Receiver

* UGA's top receivers are freshman George Pickens (37 rec., 552 yds., 7 TDs), graduate transfer Lawrence Cager (33 rec., 476 yds., 4 TDs), and junior Demetris Robertson (30 rec., 333 yds., 3 TDs). This position group has been dealing with injuries all year. Cager, who had been limited because of an injury since the win over #6 Florida, sustained an ankle injury during practice leading up to the Georgia Tech game. He is now is out for the year.

* Freshman Dominick Blaylock (18 rec., 310 yds., 5 TDs) leads the group with a 17.2 per catch average. He had his first career 100-yard game in the win over Ark. State (4 rec., 112 yds., 1 TD) and caught his third career TD against the Gators. In the win over #12 AU, he started the scoring with a 51-yard touchdown catch. Blaylock and Kearis Jackson went down with injuries versus #2 LSU.

* Pickens registered his team-leading sixth touchdown catch in the rout at Ga. Tech. However, he missed the first half of the SEC Championship Game after being ejected for an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty. In the second half versus #2 LSU, he led the team with four catches for 54 yards and a TD.

* Senior Tyler Simmons had his first TD of the year in the blowout of Tech. He has 17 catches for 208 yards this season.

* The Bulldogs also have a pair of veteran tight ends in senior Charlie Woerner and graduate transfer Eli Wolf (Tennessee). Wolf has 13 catches for 194 yards this season and one touchdown while Woerner has nine for 78 yards and a score. Woerner scored the first TD of his career in his last regular season game at GT.

Defense Leading The Way

* Before the SEC Championship Game, Georgia was one of only two FBS teams (Clemson) to not allow more than 20 points in a game this year. Then, the No. 2 ranked LSU Tigers, who are second nationally in Scoring Offense (48.7), beat Georgia 37-10.

* Still, Georgia is No. 2 nationally and the SEC leader in Scoring Defense at 12.5 points/game. In Rushing Defense (75.7 yds/g) Georgia is No. 3 nationally as the SEC leader. The Bulldogs are No. 4 nationally in Total Defense with an SEC-best 274.2 yds/g.

* Fain & Billy Slaughter defensive coordinator/outside linebackers Dan Lanning has been named a Broyles Award finalist as one of the nation's top assistant coaches.

* The Bulldogs have allowed just 162 points in 2019 including only 84 during the SEC regular season.

* The Bulldogs held #12 AU scoreless through the first three quarters. The Tigers ended up running 86 plays for the game, which is the most ever by an opponent in the Kirby Smart era.

* UGA has allowed just one rushing touchdown. Georgia ranks eighth in the nation in Red Zone Defense.

* The defense has posted 31 scoreless quarters, including shutouts against Arkansas State (55-0), Kentucky (21-0) and Missouri (27-0). The school record for fewest average points allowed in a 12+ game season is 14.5 in 2003. The fewest points allowed in a 12+ game season is 198 in 2004.

* In its last 11 games, Georgia has surrendered just 68 points in the second half. The Bulldogs have outscored opponents in the second half 189-78, including 105-45 in the fourth quarter.

* Georgia held #24 Texas A&M to minus-two yards rushing, the lowest by a Bulldog opponent since 2011 (UF had minus-19). The Aggies averaged 434.3 yards of total offense a game and managed 273 against Georgia.

* Georgia held the #6 Gators to 21 yards rushing on 19 carries and just 278 total yards during a 24-17 win. UF came in averaging more than 400 yards/game on offense.

* Georgia was trailing #7 Notre Dame 10-7 at the half (the touchdown allowed was on a five-play, 8-yard drive following a turnover) and held the Irish scoreless in the third quarter and just a touchdown in the final period in the 23-17 win.

Up Front

* The personnel up front this season includes primarily Jordan Davis, Michael Barnett, Tyler Clark, Malik Herring and Devonte Wyatt.

* Georgia held #7 Notre Dame (46), #6 Florida (21) and #24 Texas A&M (minus-2) to a combined total of 65 yards rushing.

* Clark leads the unit with 26 stops, including a team-leading 8.0 tackles for loss of 34 yards. Freshman Travon Walker extinguished #12 AU's last hope with a sack in the fourth quarter.

Reed Leading Defensive Backfield

* Graduate J.R. Reed and Jr. Richard LeCounte are starting at the safety spots along with RSo. Eric Stokes and Jr. DJ Daniel on the corners. Jr. Mark Webb, RFr. Divaad Wilson and So. Tyson Campbell also have a combined 12 starts in the backfield.

* LeCounte is second on the team with 59 tackles while Reed, a 2019 Bronko Nagurski Trophy & Jim Thorpe Award finalist, is fourth with 54 stops. They had six stops apiece versus #2 LSU.

* LeCounte, who leads the SEC with three recovered fumbles and has two fumble recoveries, had his second pick of the year and third of his career against Missouri. He returned it 71 yards.

* Campbell jumped on a fumbled punt late in the fourth quarter at Georgia Tech for a touchdown. With Campbell out against #7 Notre Dame and Stokes leaving in the first series with a knee injury, Georgia leaned on Wilson and Daniel. Wilson had his first career pick and an 11-yard return. Daniel finished with five stops, including a TFL, and had the final pass breakup at the 7-yard line on fourth down with 0:48 left.

* Freshmen Tyrique Stevenson had four tackles in his first career start versus #2 LSU while freshman Lewis Cine had a career-high six stops in the SEC Championship Game.

Linebacker Leaders

* Led by veteran linebackers Tae Crowder and Monty Rice, the Bulldogs have welcomed in a younger contingent of RFr. Azeez Ojulari, JUCO transfer Jermaine Johnson and true freshmen Nolan Smith and Nakobe Dean along with sophomore Quay Walker.

* Rice is the team leader with 84 tackles and had a 10-tackle performance during the win at #12 AU. Crowder, a 2019 Butkus Award semifinalist, is third on the team with 58 stops.

* Ojulari has a team leading 4.5 sacks for the year and is second on the squad with five tackles for loss. He became the first freshman captain in the Kirby Smart era at Tennessee and responded with a pair of sacks.

* Crowder led Georgia with nine stops, including a TFL, against #7 Notre Dame. At UT, Crowder scooped up a fumble following a sack by Eric Stokes and returned it 60 yards for a touchdown.

Rodrigo Owns The Record

* 2019 Lou Groza Award winner Rodrigo Blankenship owns the Bulldog record for Career Points with 432 and that is second in SEC history. He set the mark in the 19-13 win over No. 24 Texas A&M as he tallied 13 points in the victory. He has 119 points this year. His 9.2 pts/game is second in the SEC. He is 25-for-31 on FGs and 44-for-44 on PATs.

* Connected on a school record and SEC-record tying 198 consecutive PATs (Daniel Carlson, AU, 2014-17 made 198 PATs; NCAA record: 233 by Alex Trlica, Texas Tech, 2004-07)

* School record holder with 229 career touchbacks in 55 games (229 out of 324 kickoffs = 71%). This season, he has 60 touchbacks out of 79 kickoffs (76%). Set school single season record for touchbacks in 2018 with 82 out of 96 kickoffs (85%).

* Set a Rose Bowl Game record by drilling a career-long 55-yard field goal during the 2OT win over #2 Oklahoma. His performance included a 38-yard FG in overtime. In the 2018 National Championship Game, he drilled a 51 yarder in overtime to give Georgia a 23-20 lead over #4 Alabama.

No. 3 Georgia 30, Vanderbilt 6

Aug. 31, 2019 • Vanderbilt Stadium • Nashville, Tenn.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. - The third-ranked Georgia Bulldogs opened their 2019 season with a 30-6 victory over Vanderbilt in front of 40,350 at Vanderbilt Stadium and a national audience on ESPN.

Junior quarterback Jake Fromm began his third season under center for the Bulldogs with a 15-of-23 passing performance for 156 yards and a touchdown. Junior tailback D'Andre Swift led the Bulldogs with 147 yards rushing, the fifth time he has eclipsed the century mark in his career.

The Georgia defense also turned in a stout effort, allowing 225 total yards of Vanderbilt offense and only five plays of over 10 yards. Junior defensive back Mark Webb and junior inside linebacker Monty Rice tied for the team lead with seven tackles.

The Bulldogs opened the contest with an impressive 8-play, 75-yard drive, asserting themselves with six rushes for 60 yards before Fromm found junior wide receiver Demetris Robertson in the back of the end zone for a touchdown. Georgia then turned toward the air with Fromm connecting again with Robertson on a 17-yard completion, finishing with sophomore running back James Cook scoring on an 18-yard rush to cap off a 10-play, 89-yard drive.

Fromm and the offense continued to roll on the ensuing possession, highlighted by a game-high 38-yard strike to Lawrence Cager and a 16-yard run from Swift. After a Commodore pass interference penalty in the end zone, the Bulldogs extended their lead to 21-0 on a 1-yard touchdown run by senior running back Brian Herrien, completing a 7-play, 80-yard drive.

The remainder of the scoring came from the kicking game with Vanderbilt kicker Ryley Guay connecting on two field goals late in the first half and senior Rodrigo Blankenship notched three in the second half. Junior defensive lineman Devonte Wyatt also grabbed a fumble recovery in the fourth quarter, leading to Georgia's final field goal of the night.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We've still got a long way to go...But, I'm proud of our guys. I don't take it lightly when you go on the road in a SEC opener and you open up with a couple touchdowns. We had a lot of young guys on defense step up and play well…We wanted to come in here and play physical, establish a brand of football that we play. I thought we did that... We have a chance to be explosive offensively, and we're going to try to be aggressive defensively...We're going back to work Monday, and go out there and go good-on-good, and put the hammer down and find out who's going to get better."

D'Andre Swift, with downfield help on this play from Tyler Simmons, ran for 147 yards against the Commodores.

• With the victory, the Bulldogs improved to 96-27-3 in season openers including 4-0 under Kirby Smart. Georgia is now 58-20-2 in the all-time series with Vanderbilt including 27-12-2 in Nashville. The game marked Georgia's first season opener versus an SEC team since 1995 and the first time an SEC season-opener was on the road since 1994. Georgia also extended its streak to 14 consecutive wins over SEC Eastern Division teams, dating back to the 2016 season.

• QB Jake Fromm was efficient in the first half, completing 8-of-12 for 103 yards and 1 TD and finished the night 15-for-23 for 156 yards and 1 TD as the offense ended the night with 481 yards on 63 plays. He led Georgia to TD drives in the first three possessions of the contest to build a 21-0 lead. The first one was eight plays, 75 yards in 3:59, and the second tallied 10 plays for 89 yards in 5:34 while the third covered 80 yards in seven plays in 4:03.

• Demetris Robertson's first career catch as a Bulldog resulted in a 3-yard TD from Jake Fromm. He finished with three for 23 yards and a score. Redshirt sophomore Matt Landers notched his first career catch for 11 yards. Graduate transfer Lawrence Cager notched a 38-yard catch for his first as a Bulldog in the 2ndquarter. In the third quarter, redshirt freshman RB Zamir White made his debut with a 3-yard rush. Graduate transfer TE Eli Wolf made his first catch as a Bulldog for 11 yards in the fourth quarter.

• Redshirt freshmen Kearis Jackson (WR), John FitzPatrick (TE) and Azeez Ojulari (OLB) made their first career starts. Trey Hill made his fifth career start but his first at center. Jake Fromm started his 29th straight to lead the offense while J.R. Reed made his 30th straight start.

No. 3 Georgia 63, Murray State 17

Sept. 7, 2019 • Dooley Field at Sanford Stadium • Athens, Ga.

ATHENS - A 35-point second quarter helped the third-ranked Georgia Bulldogs defeat Murray State, 63-17, in front of 92,746 fans at the newly-named Dooley Field at Sanford Stadium and a national audience on ESPN2. Before kickoff, former head coach and athletic director Vince Dooley was joined by his family and captains from each of his 25 Georgia teams for the unveiling of Dooley Field.

The Bulldogs used an efficient 10-of-11 passing effort from junior quarterback Jake Fromm, as well as 269 rushing yards from seven different running backs to run past the Racers. Redshirt-freshman tailback Zamir White led all rushers with 72 total yards and scored the first touchdown of his career off a six-yard scamper in the second quarter. Fromm then directed a four-play, 56-yard drive, capped off by D'Andre Swift's first touchdown of the season to open the game.

Murray State quickly answered as quarterback Preston Rice connected with wide receiver DaQuon Green for a 60-yard score to knot the game at 7-7 with 6:36 remaining in the first quarter, but the Bulldogs scored back-to-back touchdowns early in the second, thanks to a Brian Herrien two-yard rush and a J.R. Reed fumble recovery that he took back for a 14-yard score.

With Georgia up 21-7, Swift added a 10-yard touchdown rush, followed by freshman wide receiver's George Pickens' first career score, a 15-yard reception from Fromm. That set up White's six-yard touchdown that put Georgia up 42-7.

On the Bulldogs' first offensive possession of the second half, Racer defensive back Nigel Watson intercepted a Stetson Bennett pass and ran it back 35 yards to cut into Georgia's lead. The home team quickly answered as Bennett connected with Demetris Robertson for a 15-yard strike — the quarterback's first career touchdown pass. The Bulldogs led 49-17 at the end of three quarters and maintained their lead the rest of the game, adding a pair of touchdowns in the fourth.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We're always proud to get a win ... At the end of the day, a lot of work goes into a game, and I want the kids to be able to celebrate that. We just need to fix a few things. … We'll work this week, like we always do, on fundamentals. We've got to tackle better. We had sloppy, sloppy tackling. Against good people, that will come back to haunt you. We'll work on that."

• The 42 first half points was the most points since UGA scored 42 points against New Mexico State in 2011 in route to a 63-16 victory. The Bulldogs also scored 42 points in the first half versus Middle Tennessee and UMass last year. Today, Georgia collected 561 yards of total offense on 65 plays. The Bulldogs have won eight consecutive home openers including 4-0 under Kirby Smart.

• J.R. Reed collected a fumble in the second quarter and returned it 14 yards for a touchdown, marking the first time the Bulldogs returned a fumble for a score since sophomore DB Tyson Campbell went 64 yards to the end zone against Missouri last year. Reed last returned a fumble for a touchdown during the 2017 Florida game. This marks the sixth defensive touchdown for Georgia since the Kirby Smart era started in 2016.

• With his nine extra points (tied career high), graduate Rodrigo Blankenship is second in SEC history for Career Consecutive PATs made with 166 and tied his career mark. The SEC record is 198 held by Daniel Carlson (Auburn) with 198. Blankenship already owns the Bulldog record.

No. 3 Georgia 55, Arkansas State 0

ATHENS - The third-ranked Georgia Bulldogs totaled nearly 700 yards of offense and held Arkansas State scoreless in a 55-0 win Saturday afternoon at a sold-out Dooley Field at Sanford Stadium and a national audience on ESPN2. The fans in attendance filled the stands with pink attire as they honored Wendy Anderson, the late wife of Arkansas State head coach Blake Anderson, who passed away from breast cancer on Aug. 19.

Georgia finished with 656 total yards, while the Bulldogs' defense helped the team record its largest margin of victory under head coach Kirby Smart. Arkansas State finished with 220 total yards, including just 43 on the ground. Junior quarterback Jake Fromm completed 17-of-22 passes for 279 yards and three touchdowns, while junior tailback D'Andre Swift led all rushers with 76 yards on the ground.

Swift did most of the heavy lifting on Georgia's first offensive possession with two rushes for 17 yards. Brian Herrien capped off the six-play, 60-yard drive with a three-yard touchdown to put the Bulldogs up 7-0.

Following an Arkansas State three-and-out, Georgia's drive stalled at the Red Wolves' 12-yard line. Senior kicker Rodrigo Blankenship knocked in a field goal from 29 yards and followed with a 41-yarder to send the Bulldogs to the second quarter with a 13-0 advantage.

Georgia scored quick with 60-yard TD strike from Fromm to freshman Dominick Blaylock on the first play of the second quarter. Swift added a 48-yard TD dash and Lawrence Cager caught a five-yard TD score to give the Bulldogs a 34-0 halftime advantage.

Georgia's defense held the Red Wolves to just 81 yards in the first half, including 11 total yards in the opening quarter.

It was much of the same in the final 30 minutes. The Bulldogs added a 37-yard touchdown from James Cook, a one-yard score from Zamir White and a 62-yard scamper from Kenny McIntosh to put the final score at 55-0.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We played really hard and we were focused ... Our Saturday scrimmages leading up the season helped us toward that. We started fast and really played hard. … We did some good things. At the end of the day, it's all about execution. You can't have a lack of focus or discipline, and our kids did that ... I was happy with the way the defense played. We had good matchups outside and we challenged our guys to get their hands on them. They made some plays. … With our bigger people up front, they struggled to move us (in the running game). They could not get us out of there. We controlled the line of scrimmage."

Jake Fromm powered the Bulldogs' offense, completing 17 of 22 passes for 279 yards and three touchdowns.

• The Bulldogs (3-0) posted their first shutout of the year and the first since the 2018 season opener (45-0 over Austin Peay). The 55-point margin of victory was the largest by the Bulldogs since 2014 when it blanked Troy 66-0. The Bulldogs have allowed only 23 points in three games.

• For the third straight game, Georgia's opponent was held under 300 yards of total offense. ASU finished with 220 on 68 plays. The leading tacklers were Robert Beal, Jr., and Tyler Clark with five apiece. Clark registered his first sack of 2019 and the fifth of his career. Sophomore OLB Quay Walker also had his first career sack as the Bulldogs had four.

• The Bulldogs upped their lead to 55-0 at the 9:07 mark in the fourth quarter on a six-play, 98-yard drive. This was the longest TD-drive since going 98 yards in 11 plays against Auburn in 2014 that made it 34-7 Bulldogs. Freshman TB Kenny McIntosh went 62 yards for a touchdown on the drive, marking the first score of his career.

No. 3 Georgia 23, No. 7 Notre Dame 17

ATHENS - No. 3 Georgia scored 16 straight points to start the second half and held off a late push from seventh-ranked Notre Dame in a 23-17 victory at Dooley Field at Sanford Stadium. The game was played in front of a record crowd of 93,246 and a prime time national audience on CBS.

In the first quarter, Notre Dame was able to move the ball into Georgia territory, but a fumbled snap by quarterback Ian Book on 4th-and-2 stalled the Irish drive.

A muffed punt by Tyler Simmons set Notre Dame up at the Georgia 8-yard line, eventually leading to a 4th-and-goal at the one. The Bulldogs were able to press Book out of the pocket, but he found tight end Cole Kmet in the end zone for the first score of the night, giving the Irish a 7-0 lead.

The Bulldogs countered with an 8-play, 75-yard drive capped off by a 3-yard touchdown plunge by D'Andre Swift. Irish kicker Jonathan Doerer ended the half with a 27-yard field goal to put the halftime score at 10-7.

On the Irish's first possession of the second half, Wilson intercepted a Book pass and set the Bulldogs up at the Notre Dame 22-yard line. Georgia's drive came to a halt and Rodgrigo Blankenship knotted the score at 10-10 with a 40-yard field goal, before adding another - this time from 31 yards out - to give Georgia its first lead at 13-10.

Georgia's surge continued into the fourth quarter as senior wide receiver Lawrence Cager capped off an 8-play, 82 yard drive with a 15-yard touchdown reception in the corner of the end zone. Following another Blankenship field goal, Book marched the Fighting Irish down the field on a 10-play, 75-yard drive, which ended with Chase Claypool's 4-yard TD reception.

Notre Dame forced a 3-and-out and got the ball back with two minutes left. On a 4th-and-8 play, Book's heave fell just short and the Bulldogs held on for the 23-17 win.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"That was a hard-fought game. I have a lot of respect for Notre Dame and their program and how they battled. But man, our kids played hard … That was a huge win for them. They play so hard and work so hard and play with toughness. I was happy to see them pull that out... They (the crowd) impacted those guys. They had 5-6-7 penalties and had to use their timeouts. Our fans caused their quarterback to have some issues. … We need that out of our fans all the time. That is a real homefield advantage. You need that in college football"

J.R. Reed tallied seven tackles against Notre Dame, as well as this fourth-quarter interception in Georgia territory.

• Georgia is now 7-4 all time in top-10 matchups at Dooley Field at Sanford Stadium, with this being the first involving a non-conference team since 1966 (No. 7 Georgia beat No. 5 Ga. Tech 23-14). The Bulldogs are now 6-3 against top 10 teams in the Kirby Smart era and 2-0 in Athens. It also marked Georgia's 16th straight win at home dating back to 2017, which ranks third in school history. The Bulldogs are now 3-0 against Notre Dame.

• The game was scoreless in the opening period, which is the first time UGA and its opponent did not score in the first quarter since the 2018 National Championship Game versus Alabama. It was the first time Georgia won a game after trailing at halftime since the 2018 Rose Bowl Game victory over Oklahoma 54-48 in double overtime.

No. 3 Georgia 43, Tennessee 14

Oct. 5, 2019 • Neyland Stadium • Knoxville, Tenn.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - Third-ranked Georgia used 33 unanswered points, starting in the second quarter, to run away from Tennessee in a 43-14 victory in front of 92,709 fans at Neyland Stadium and a national audience on ESPN.

After Tennessee punted on its opening possession, Georgia took nearly seven minutes off the clock with a methodical drive that concluded with a 1-yard touchdown run from junior tailback D'Andre Swift. Tennessee then quickly responded with a 73-yard touchdown strike from freshman quarterback Brian Maurer to senior wide receiver Marquez Callaway.

On the next Georgia possession, the offensive momentum was slowed by the Volunteer defense, leading to a 50-yard field goal from senior place kicker Rodrigo Blankenship. Tennessee responded by efficiently moving down the field before Maurer found redshirt senior wide receiver Jauan Jennings for a 12-yard touchdown on the first play of the second quarter, giving the Volunteers a 14-10 lead. The Bulldogs then would again settle for a 34-yard Blankenship field goal.

Following three consecutive stalled drives from both teams, Georgia took advantage of great field position with a 6-play drive that concluded with a 3-yard touchdown pass from Fromm to Cager. Tennessee looked to answer, but came away empty when kicker Brent Cimaglia missed from 47 yards out.

With an extra possession to end the half, Georgia padded its lead with a 7-yard touchdown catch from freshman wide receiver George Pickens in the back of the end zone with nine seconds remaining.

In the third, Blankenship notched his third field goal of the night with a 27-yard try. On the next drive, the Volunteers reached midfield, but a deep throw from Maurer was intercepted by LeCounte at the Georgia 22-yard line. Later, Georgia steadily moved down the field on a game-sealing drive that ended with a 1-yard Herrien touchdown run. The Bulldogs added another score with senior linebacker Tae Crowder's 60-yard fumble recovery touchdown, resulting from a Maurer fumble on a blind side sack by redshirt sophomore cornerback Eric Stokes. On Tennessee's final drive, the Volunteers were set up with 1st-and-goal at the 5-yard line, but a Bulldog goal line stand preserved the second half shutout.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We knew they would come ready to play. They had a week off and they have a good football team...They came out and played physical, and so did we…Our kids came back and played hard. They came out in the second half and played a lot harder...A lot of time people think it's adjustments when it's just guys doing what they're supposed to do. They had us rattled with the big play early. We busted a coverage and got beat on it, and our kids got a little awe-struck...The defense came to play, and in the second half, they played a lot harder."

Brian Herrien led Georgia in rushing with a career-high 88 yards, including a career-best 40-yard rush.

• With Georgia's 43-14 victory, the Bulldogs now lead the all-time series 24-23-2 as it dates back to 1899. It marks the first time they broke a tie to take a series lead over UT since 1981 when it went up 9-8-2. Also, the Bulldogs now have won 15 straight games over teams from the SEC's Eastern Division dating back to 2016.

• The Bulldog defense only allowed 104 yards from the Volunteers in the second half, with 70 of those coming on their final drive of the game. Safety Richard LeCounte and junior defensive back Mark Webb tied for the team lead with five tackles, while redshirt freshman linebacker Azeez Ojulari tallied two sacks.

• Graduate PK Rodrigo Blankenship made four PATs, nailed a 50-yard field goal in the first quarter, a 34-yarder in the 2ndquarter and a 27-yarder in the 3rd-quarter for a total of 13 points. He is 11-for-11 in field goals this season. In his career, Blankenship is 5-for-6 from at least 50 yards including 2-for-2 this year. He made a 50-yarder at Vanderbilt this year too. For his career, Blankenship now has tallied 371 points including 64 field goals.

ATHENS - Georgia senior kicker Rodrigo Blankenship missed a 42-yard field goal in the second overtime period to seal South Carolina's 20-17 upset win in front of a sold-out crowd at Dooley Field at Sanford Stadium and a national audience on ESPN.

Blankenship had started scoring with a 50-yard field goal to put the Bulldogs ahead 3-0 in the first quarter. South Carolina responded by stringing together a nine-play, 93-yard drive, capped with a 46-yard passing touchdown from Ryan Hilinski to Bryan Edwards to give the Gamecocks the 7-3 lead.

Georgia opened the second quarter by completing a nine-play, 75-yard drive capped by a one-yard rushing touchdown by junior tailback D'Andre Swift to put the Bulldogs back in front. The Gamecocks evened the score with three minutes left in the half on a 49-yard field goal by White. With a minute left in the half, Israel Mukuamu intercepted a Jake Fromm pass and returned it 53 yards to give the Gamecocks the 17-10 advantage. It was the first of three picks in the game for Mukuamu.

Fromm helped the Bulldogs finally draw even at 17 with 1:48 left, when he found Demetris Robertson in the back of the end zone from six yards out. The score capped Georgia's 13-play drive that covered 96 yards and survived a failed fourth-down try that was negated by a holding penalty on Carolina. Following a missed Gamecocks field goal, Georgia's drive stalled on the ensuing possession, and the two teams went to overtime.

In the extra period, Fromm threw an interception on Georgia's second play. South Carolina kicker Parker White then missed a 33-yard field goal to send the game into a second overtime. From there, the Gamecocks ran seven plays to set up a short try for White. This time he converted from 24 yards to give his team a 20-17 lead. A 3-and-out on Georgia's next possession set up Blankenship with his 42-yard attempt that went wide right and sealed the game for South Carolina.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"Any time you get ready to play a football game, you have to set your jaw and go play physical. We didn't do that. They played physical and attacked us. We've got to go out and help our players, and that starts with me ... This is when you find out about yourself. You look in the mirror and say, 'What can I do better?' As coaches and leaders of the team, we've got to do what helps our guys ...We'll learn from it. If you let it linger, South Carolina beats you twice. Everything we want to achieve is still in front of us. We'll work to get better. We've got to look at ourselves and what situations we need to be in to be successful."

• With its 20-17 loss in double overtime, Georgia is now 8-7 all-time in overtime games, including 1-2 in Athens. Today marked the first overtime game for the Bulldogs since the 2018 National Championship game in Atlanta vesus Alabama. The Gamecocks snapped Georgia's 15-game winning streak against SEC Eastern Division foes dating back to 2016. Also, it ended Georgia's four-game winning streak in the series, which the Bulldogs lead 51-19-2.

• Sophomore punter Jake Camarda drilled a career-long 66 yarder in the opening period that positioned the Gamecocks on their own 7-yard line. Graduate place kicker Rodrigo Blankenship has connected on a school record 181 consecutive PATs and the Bulldogs are second nationally with a streak of 272 consecutive PATs dating back to 2014.

• Junior Justin Shaffer started his second straight game at LG for Solomon Kindley. Kindley did return to the lineup on the second series. The Bulldogs actually started six linemen with sophomore Cade Mays lining up at a TE spot. Graduate defensive tackle Michael Barnett started his first game of the season and second of his career. Jake Fromm started his 34th straight to lead the offense while graduate S J.R. Reed now leads the defense with 35.

• Georgia is now 6-7 when it is trailing at halftime under Kirby Smart. Before today, the last time was when the Bulldogs were trailing 10-7 at halftime to #7 Notre Dame earlier this year and UGA won 23-17.

No. 10 Georgia 21, Kentucky 0

ATHENS - D'Andre Swift rushed for 179 yards and scored two of Georgia's touchdowns as the Bulldogs overcame sloppy conditions to defeat Kentucky 21-0 in front of home crowd and a national audience on ESPN.

As a steady rain fell, both teams struggled to advance the ball on offense. Thirteen of the game's first 14 possessions ended with a punt, the lone exception coming in the second quarter, when Georgia failed to convert a 4th-and-1 at midfield.

Kentucky's Max Duffy - the nation's top punter heading into the game - shanked a 15-yarder that went out of bounds at the UK 39-yard line midway through the third quarter. It was the break in this tug-of-war for field position the Bulldogs needed.

On Georgia's next play, Swift skirted off right tackle, eluded one Kentucky defender and ran 39 yards for the game's first score. The Bulldogs proceeded to score on their next two possessions to put the game out of reach.

After Swift's first score, Kentucky gained six yards in two plays before J.R. Reed forced a Lynn Bowden fumble that was recovered by safety Richard LeCounte. Five Georgia plays, a Swift run, followed by four straight Brian Herrien carries - netted a second touchdown on an 8-yard run with 2:47 left in the third period.

Aided by a 58-yard kickoff return, Kentucky reached as far as the Georgia 8-yard line on its next possession. The drive stalled, however, on three straight incompletions by Bowden.

Georgia promptly marched 92 yards in 13 plays, 12 of which were on the ground, for its final score, a 3-yard Swift run with 8:18 left in the game. The lone pass, a 7-yarder from Jake Fromm to George Pickens, converted a 4th-and-4 at the UK 22-yard line.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"You have to be patient with those type of elements. You're not just going to run the ball down their throats or throw it 30-40 times in those conditions. It was a field position game, and we needed to win field position. In the second half, we did that, along with running the ball...That's how you win in those conditions. That's important. We were talking to (James) Coley and the offensive staff on the headsets about being patient and keep running the ball. Trying to throw in those conditions, you can turn it over quickly. It's not easy throwing. Anybody would struggle in those conditions...Our guys worked their tails off and were in great spirits. They are grinding and preparing. Our best football is ahead."

• Georgia was able to score 21 points following a scoreless half and registered a shutout. It was the second shutout of the year (Arkansas State 55-0 on Sept. 14) and fourth in the Kirby Smart era. Before tonight, the last one in an SEC contest came in 2017, 44-0 over Tennessee in Knoxville. With tonight's win, Georgia leads the UK series 59-12-2 including 10 straight over the Wildcats. Also, Georgia is 78-18-2 on Homecoming including 15-2-1 against the Wildcats. This was the first shutout of Kentucky since a 1981 Homecoming win (21-0).

• Georgia came into the game leading the SEC and sitting sixth nationally in Scoring Defense at 12.3 points/game. Tonight marked the Bulldogs' second shutout of the year after topping Arkansas State 55-0. The Bulldog defense held Kentucky to 177 yards of total offense (160-rushing, 17-passing). The Wildcats had just two first downs on 21 plays in the first two quarters. Senior Tae Crowder, junior Richard LeCounte, sophomore Quay Walker and freshman Nakobe Dean tied for the team lead with six tackles apiece. Sophomore Jake Camarda punted the ball six times for an average of 52.8, including a long of 64.

• Graduate PK Rodrigo Blankenship kicked three extra points. He has connected on a school record 184 consecutive PATs. The Bulldogs lead the nation with a streak of 275 consecutive PATs dating back to 2014. Blankenship is now tied with Blair Walsh (2008-11) for second place in all-time career PATs made by a Bulldog.

No. 8 Georgia 24, No. 6 Florida 17

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. - In a matchup of two top-10 teams, eighth-ranked Georgia defeated the No. 6 Florida Gators, 24-17, in front of a crowd of 84,789 at TIAA Bank Field and a CBS national television audience.

The Bulldogs gained possession after stopping Florida on a 4th-and-1 on its first drive. Georgia drove down the field and converted 4–of-5 third downs to set up a 31-yard field goal by Rodrigo Blankenship. Up 3-0, Azeez Ojulari sacked Kyle Trask to set up a 3rd-and-25. The Gators were unable to convert and Georgia took the ball back deep in its own territory.

A pass interference penalty on the Gators set Georgia up 1st-and-10 at the Florida 26. The Bulldogs once again were impressive on 3rd downs, converting 3-for-3 on the drive, including a 3-yard TD pass from Fromm to Dominick Blaylock. Down 10-0, the Gators drove 54 yards in six plays, capped off by an Evan McPherson 38-yard field goal to cut into Georgia's early advantage. Following a season-high 27-yard kickoff return from Brian Herrien, Blankenship added another score — this time from 37 yards out to give Georgia a 13-3 halftime lead.

Georgia put together an efficient drive to open the half, highlighted by an acrobatic 18-yard reception by Herrien. Blankenship knocked in his third field goal of the day to give the Bulldogs a 16-3 lead with just under 10 minutes to go in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, Florida took just three plays to score with a 23-yard TD pass from Trask to Van Jefferson. On the ensuing Bulldog possession, Fromm hit a wide open Cager on a 52-yard touchdown strike to give the Bulldogs the answer and the 22-10 lead. Cager was not finished as he caught a pass from Fromm to convert a two-point conversion to give his team a 24-10 advantage.

Florida answered with a 17-play, 75-yard drive capped off by a Freddie Swain score to cut Georgia's lead to 24-17. The Gators' offense would not the ball the rest of the way as the Bulldogs hung on for the win.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"That was a hard-earned win against a good football team. Credit goes to these kids who played hard and played with grit. So many people doubted and they never did. I am just happy for these guys in that locker room... We played really well on third down on both sides of the ball. When I was on the set of SEC Nation this morning, I told them that would be a key today. We executed well on both sides of the ball and that was a difference maker today...I am proud of Jake Fromm, those receivers, and our entire offense. Those guys at receiver have a chip on their shoulder and did a good job today."

Lawrence Cager hauled in seven catches for a career-high 132 yards, including the clinching 52-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter.

• Georgia's 24-17 win over No. 6 Florida gave the Bulldogs their third straight win in the series (for the first time since 2011-13) and now the Bulldogs are 4-3 all-time when both teams are ranked in the top 10. This was the second straight year it was a top 10 matchup. The Bulldogs lead the all-time series now 53-43-2. Bulldog coach Kirby Smart is 7-3 against top 10 teams in his career including 2-0 this year and 2-0 versus UF when both are in the top 10.

• QB Jake Fromm improved to 3-0 against the Gators in his career, joining Johnny Rauch (4-0 from1945-48), Buck Belue (3-1 from 1979-81) and Aaron Murray (3-1 from 2010-13) as the only Bulldog quarterbacks with at least three wins in starts over Florida.

• Graduate Lawernce Cager enjoyed a career afternoon. He caught a 52-yard touchdown from Jake Fromm with 10:01 left that gave him seven catches for 132 yards, all career highs. They connected on a two-point conversion to make it 24-10. It capped a 7 play, 75-yard drive in 3:50. It was Georgia's first successful two-point conversion since the 2017 SEC Championship Game win over Auburn.

• For the 14th-straight year in the series, the team with the most rushing yards got the victory as Georgia outgained Florida 119 to 21. Junior D'Andre Swift had a game-high 86 yards on 25 attempts.

• Graduate DB J.R. Reed had his team-high 37 consecutive starts for the defense while junior QB Jake Fromm had his 36th consecutive start. Captains for the Florida game were Reed, Fromm and D'Andre Swift.

No. 6 Georgia 27, Missouri 0

Nov. 9, 2019 • Dooley Field at Sanford Stadium • Athens, Ga.

ATHENS, Ga. - The sixth-ranked Georgia Bulldogs defeated the Missouri Tigers, 27-0, Saturday in front of 92,746 fans at Dooley Field at Sanford Stadium and an ESPN primetime national television audience.

After forcing the Tigers to punt on their opening drive, Georgia drove the field and scored when Fromm connected with Pickens, his third touchdown of the season, on a 25-yard pass to jump on the board first, 7-0. Georgia's scoring drive included six plays, covering 60 yards.

The second quarter began with a 20-yard field goal by Blankenship, adding to Georgia's lead, 10-0. The field goal, Blankenship's 16th of the season, punctuated a 13-play, 67-yard drive that lasted five minutes, 51 seconds. Junior defensive back Richard LeCounte intercepted a pass from Taylor Powell and returned it 71 yards to the Missouri 18-yard line around the eight-minute mark, his second interception of the season.

Following a rush for a loss, Blankenship came on and split the uprights on a 48-yard attempt, widening the lead to 13-0 with 6:06 left in the half. The field goal was Blankenship's fourth from 40 or longer this season and 19th of his career. The first half concluded with a 47-yard field goal by Blankenship to bring Georgia's lead to 16-0 at halftime. The opening half was the eighth time Georgia has held an opponent scoreless in a half this season, the third scoreless first half.

Blankenship connected on his fourth made field goal just under the seven-minute mark in the third, this time a 29-yarder, widening the lead to 19-0. The Bulldogs' second touchdown came with 14:02 left in the contest when Fromm completed an 18-yard pass to Pickens. Georgia completed a two-point conversion on a pass to sophomore James Cook, bringing the Bulldogs' tally to 27-0.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"I have a lot of respect for our offense. That (Missouri) defense is really good; they're big and physical…We made more plays than they did. Our quarterback made some throws. They didn't make explosive throws and we did... Our defense takes a lot of pride. I'm happy with our coaching staff and they deserve a lot of credit. The kids have bought in, too, thinking, 'You're not running it in.' They made some big stops on second, third, and fourth down (on the final drive). … That's hard to do in this day and age of college football. And we don't leave our starters in. We rotate players. If they score, they score. We take a lot of pride in our defense."

Richard LeCounte snagged his second interception of the season in the second quarter, returning it 71 yards to set up a Georgia field goal.

• This was the third shutout of the year for the Georgia defense, which marks the first time since 1981 that Georgia has done that. The Bulldogs held Missouri scoreless in the first half and went into the locker room with a 16-0 edge. This marked the 21st scoreless quarter Georgia has held its opponents to this year and the eighth scoreless half (third scoreless first half) that the Bulldog defense has held its opponents to in 2019. Georgia remains the only FBS team in the nation not to surrender a rushing touchdown.

• Graduate PK Rodrigo Blankenship connected on two PATs and then kicked four field goals (20, 48, 47 and 29-yards) to tie his career high (2016 at Kentucky, 2017 vs. Missouri). He has now connected on a school record 187 consecutive PATs and is No. 2 in the SEC all-time record books by 11 kicks. Blankenship has 403 points in his career, which ranks fourth in school history and fifth in SEC history. He is 20-for-28 from 40-49 yards in his career and 5-for-7 from that distance in 2019.

• Georgia now has won six in a row over Missouri and leads the all-time series 8-1. This was the third shutout in the series (1960 Orange Bowl 14-0; 34-0 in 2014 in Columbia).

• Jake Fromm started his 37th straight to lead the offense while graduate S J.R. Reed now leads the defense with 38 in a row. After missing five games with a foot injury, sophomore DB Tyson Campbell returned to action on special teams and on defense.

No. 4 Georgia 21, No. 12 Auburn 14

Nov. 16, 2019 • Jordan-Hare Stadium • Auburn, Ala.

AUBURN, Ala. - Fourth-ranked Georgia held off a late Auburn rally and clinched its third straight SEC Eastern Division championship with a 21-14 victory over the No. 11 Tigers in front of 87,451 fans at Jordan-Hare Stadium and a national television audience on CBS.

On their opening possession, the Tigers quickly moved into Bulldog territory with a pair of first downs, but came away empty as Anders Carlson missed wide right from 47 yards out. Midway through the quarter, Fromm's 51-yard touchdown strike to freshman wide receiver Dominick Blaylock, capped off a 3-play, 61-yard drive and put the Bulldogs on the board first.

After a series of punts, Auburn's 4th-down conversion attempt was stopped at the Bulldog 37-yard line as the Georgia defense perfectly read the wildcat formation. The Bulldog defense continued to assert itself later in the quarter as junior linebacker Jermaine Johnson forced a Bo Nix fumble that was recovered by junior safety Richard LeCounte at the Georgia 44-yard line, his second recovery of the season.

Although the Bulldogs were unsuccessful on the ensuing drive, they would close out the first half with a one-minute scoring drill, powered by Swift's 26-yard rush to the Auburn 14-yard line. Three plays later, senior tailback Brian Herrien scored on a 5-yard screen pass from Fromm, concluding a 7-play, 81-yard drive that gave the Bulldogs a 14-0 lead entering the locker room.

In the third quarter, Georgia embarked on its longest drive of the afternoon, a 12-play, 88-yard sequence that effectively closed the quarter. After a touchdown pass to redshirt freshman wide receiver Kearis Jackson was overturned on review, Fromm found tight end Eli Wolf for a 5-yard touchdown to make the score, 21-0. Auburn would score twice in the fourth quarter to narrow the margin, but their final drive was snuffed when freshman tackle Travon Walker sacked Nix on 4th-and-10.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"Good teams never quit, and we've got to do a good job of putting people away when we have an opportunity to. We have a lot of respect for Gus and this program, their staff. A lot of friends on their staff. Their kids played really hard...Our kids were very resilient to come into this place, lose momentum, obviously lose momentum, and be able to go back out and get it shows some fortitude and the ability to handle adversity. I'm really proud of our guys... We're not where we need to be, but I give Auburn a lot of credit for that as well."

• With the 21-14 victory, Georgia clinched its third consecutive SEC Eastern Division title in this Kirby Smart's fourth year as a head coach. They are the first Eastern Division team to win three straight since Florida won five in a row from 1992-96. The Bulldogs will make their eighth appearance in the SEC Championship Game where they are 3-4, winning titles in 2002, 2005 and 2017.

• Georgia became the first team to defeat Auburn under Gus Malzahn following a bye week as the Tigers were 9-0 coming off a bye week, including 8-0 against SEC foes and 5-0 against ranked opponents under Malzahn after a bye. The Tigers were the fifth team this year that Georgia faced that was coming off a bye week including the fourth SEC opponent. In the overall series, Georgia now leads 60-56-8, including winning 14 of the past 19 meetings. Georgia is 17-12-2 on the Plains in this the Deep South's oldest rivalry.

• Georgia's leading tackler was junior Monty Rice with 10 stops, and he leads the team this year now with 66. It was his third career game with 10+ stops. Coming in, Georgia and Auburn were two of the six FBS teams that have not allowed more than 24 points in a game this year and that streak continued.

• Sophomore Jake Camarda had an eventful day, punting 11 times for a 50.7 average including six for 50+ yards and four inside the 20. His 11 punts tied for the third-most in a game in school history and most since Bucky Dilts had 11 versus Ole Miss in 1976. His first punt today tied his career high as it went 66 yards and was downed at the AU 2.

• Graduate DB J.R. Reed now has a team-high 39 consecutive starts for the defense while junior QB Jake Fromm leads the offense with 38 consecutive starts. Today's game captains were Reed, Fromm and junior tailback D'Andre Swift.

No. 4 Georgia 19, No. 24 Texas A&M 13

ATHENS - Fourth-ranked Georgia defeated No. 24 Texas A&M, 19-13, before 92,746 fans and a CBS television audience.

Senior Rodrigo Blankenship etched his name as Georgia's career points leader Saturday, concluding the game with four field goals. He also extended his school-record streak of PATs made to 190. Defensively, Georgia held the Aggies to -1 rushing yards and 274 total yards on 62 plays.

Blankenship put the Bulldogs on the board with 8:22 left in the opening quarter, connecting on a 41-yard field goal. The Aggies knotted the contest on a 37-yard field goal from Seth Small just a minute and 31 seconds into the second quarter. The following drive resulted in a 49-yard field goal from Blankenship with 11:38 left in the half, giving the Bulldogs the three-point advantage back, 6-3.

Fromm then connected with George Pickens on a 16-yard touchdown pass, lengthening Georgia's lead to 13-3 with 6:44 remaining in the opening half, with that margin holding until halftime. The scoring drive spanned seven plays over 65 yards highlighted by pass completions to Tyler Simmons (27 yards) and Kearis Jackson (22).

Richard LeCounte forced a turnover on the Aggies' opening drive of the second half, giving Georgia the ball on the Texas A&M 21-yard line. Georgia's resulting drive ended on a 37-yard field goal by Blankenship, who set the school's all-time scoring record on the kick and stretched the Bulldogs' lead to 16-3.

The two teams traded field goals before A&M put together its best drive of the game early in the fourth quarter. Kellen Mond drove the Aggies 75 yards in 10 plays, converting a pair of long third downs along the way. Mond capped the drive with a 19-yard pass to Jhamon Ausbon for a score that closed the gap to its final score.

After an exchange of mid-quarter punts, Georgia began its last possession on its own 10-yard line with 4:26 left. The Bulldogs converted two big third-down plays and were able to expire the clock, advancing the ball to midfield, thanks largely to the running of D'Andre Swift and Brian Herrien.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"We make things so complicated. If we had cashed in on a touchdown, the game's over. We just couldn't put them away. Give them credit, they had us on our heels. It was like Auburn when we were tired. We've got to clean things up offensively. We need to run the ball and score some points...(Rodrigo's) incredible. What a great kid, what a great story. He's given so much to our university. He's methodical in what he does and he's so trustworthy... The fans were tremendous, especially in the second half. The atmosphere was awesome. The noise affected their communications and was a factor in their delay of games."

The Georgia defense held Texas A&M to -1 yards rushing.

• Coming into the game, Georgia led the SEC and ranked second nationally in Scoring Defense, allowing just 10.5 points per game and third nationally in rushing defense (75.5 yards per game). After today's 19-13 win, Georgia improves to 10-1 (7-1 SEC) and held the Aggies to 274 yards of total offense (-1 rushing, 275 passing) on 62 plays. It was the first time since 2011 when a team facing the Bulldogs was held to negative yards rushing. Florida finished with minus 19 in Georgia's 24-20 win in Jacksonville in 2011.

• Georgia is one of three FBS teams (Clemson, Ohio State) to not allow more than 21 points in a game this season. The Aggies came in averaging 34 points a game and 434.3 yards a game of total offense (175 on the ground). Georgia led 3-0 after the first quarter. It was the 28thscoreless quarter by the Bulldog defense this year.

• The senior class closed out their Sanford Stadium career with a 19-13 win today over No. 24 Texas A&M to improve to 42-11. The 42 wins is tied for third most in school history with the 2004 (42-10) and 2018 (42-13) classes.

• Graduate DB Jake Reed now has a team-high 40 consecutive starts for the defense while junior QB Jake Fromm leads the offense with 39 consecutive starts. Today's game captains were Reed and juniors Solomon Kindley and Monty Rice.

No. 4 Georgia 52, Georgia Tech 7

Nov. 30, 2019 • Bobby Dodd Stadium • Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA - The fourth-ranked Georgia Bulldogs defeated rival Georgia Tech, 52-7, in front of 55,000 fans and an ABC television audience.

After being forced to punt on its first drive, Georgia then scored on three consecutive drives in the first quarter. Rodrigo Blankenship put the Bulldogs on the board with a 49-yard field goal, his eighth this season from over 40 yards. The next scoring drive was capped by a two-yard rushing touchdown from Brian Herrien, followed by a 25-yard scoring pass from Jake Fromm to Tyler Simmons. On the ensuing drive, Charlie Woerner caught his first career touchdown with a 20-yard reception.

Georgia Tech was able to capitalize on a fumbled punt return with its lone score of the game, a 6-yard touchdown pass to Tyler Davis early in the second quarter. The fumble by returner Dominick Blaylock was the first turnover committed by the Bulldogs since their loss to South Carolina on Oct. 12. After another Georgia fumble, Georgia Tech could not add more points, missing a 42-yard field goal to end the half.

Following a Georgia Tech punt that allowed Georgia to begin its drive on the Yellow Jacket 41-yard line, Fromm immediately connected with George Pickens on a 41-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter. The lead was widened on a Fromm touchdown pass to Blaylock, tying the quarterback's career high set last season against Georgia Tech.

Reserves enjoyed the spotlight during fourth-quarter play. Stetson Bennett took over at quarterback and directed a scoring drive that consumed 6:40 off the clock. Freshman Kenny McIntosh scored from two yards out with 11:19 left to boost the Georgia lead to 45-7. Later, a Georgia Tech fumble in the end zone was picked up by sophomore Tyson Campbell with three minutes left in the game, finalizing Georgia's lead at 52-7.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"I'm proud of our seniors. The senior class that's going out of here, somebody told me, may be tied for the second-most wins of any senior class to ever leave Georgia... They continued to play really well. I mean, I thought our defensive guys played super hard. They've got an unbelievable challenge in front of us this week. It'll be a whole lot different than the team we just played, I can promise you that. They have passion, energy, juice. They love just playing football. They love to get in those situations, and I think they were 3-of-17 or something. Our guys really enjoy that."

• The Bulldog defense has posted 31 scoreless quarters this season. Georgia, along with Clemson, is one of two FBS teams not to allow an opponent more than 20 points in a game this year. Also, Georgia has surrendered just one rushing TD all year (to Auburn on Nov. 16).

• Georgia finished the regular season 11-1 for the third straight year and fifth time since 2002. This year's squad is the 12th in school history to tally at least 11 wins in a season. Georgia extends its advantage in the Tech series to 68-39-5 and retains the Governor's Cup Trophy. The victory was Georgia's 10th straight over Tech in Atlanta.

• The 52 points and the 45-point margin of victory were the largest in the series that began back in 1893. This year's senior class improved to 43-11, which is tied for the second most wins in school history (1983 squad went 43-4-1). The 2005 class has the most wins with a 44-9 mark.

• Georgia got a touchdown when Tech fumbled a punt in the end zone (recovered by Tyson Campbell) while Tech scored seven points off three Bulldog miscues. Georgia now has 13 scores by the defense or special teams in the Kirby Smart era. It was Campbell's second career TD; he had a 64-yard fumble recovery for a TD at Missouri in 2018.

• Graduate DB J.R. Reed now has a team-high 41 consecutive starts for the defense while junior QB Jake Fromm leads the offense with 40 consecutive starts. The game captains were juniors D'Andre Swift and Andrew Thomas, along with graduate Michael Barnett.

No. 2 LSU 37, No. 4 Georgia 10

Dec. 7, 2019 • Mercedes-Benz Stadium • Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA - Fourth-ranked Georgia fell 37-10 to the second-ranked LSU Tigers in the SEC Championship Game before 74,150 fans at Mercedes-Benz Stadium and a CBS television audience.

On the opening drive, Georgia neared midfield thanks to an LSU facemask penalty on third down, but a pair of drops stalled the drive. The Tigers moved efficiently, striking first with a 23-yard touchdown pass from Joe Burrow to Ja'Marr Chase. After both teams punted, Georgia crossed midfield when Fromm found Dominick Blaylock for an 11-yard reception on third down, but the Bulldogs came away empty as Rodrigo Blankenship missed from 52 yards out. LSU took advantage of the miss, with Burrow hitting Terrace Marshall, Jr. for a 7-yard touchdown five plays later.

In the second quarter, the Bulldogs opened with their most successful drive of the game, as Jake Fromm moved toward the red zone with a pair of long completions, but they would have to settle for a 39-yard field goal from Blankenship. After LSU's first 3-and-out of the day, Georgia looked to steal momentum, but Fromm was sacked on a safety blitz. LSU continued to bolster its lead with a 41-yard field goal by Cade York.

Late in the second period, Fromm led the Bulldogs to the LSU 40-yard line with two completions, but his ensuing pass was intercepted by Derek Stingley, Jr. at the 13-yard line. LSU began the second half with a lengthy scoring drive, culminating in a 28-yard field goal. Georgia then embarked on a long drive of its own, but the drive proved fruitless with a missed 37-yard field goal by Blankenship.

Following the missed kick, LSU sealed the game with a pair of quick scores to Marshall and Justin Jefferson. In the fourth quarter, both teams added to their final tallies, with Fromm finding George Pickens on a 2-yard pass for Georgia's lone touchdown of the game, while York notched his third field goal, a 50-yard kick.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"Unfortunately, we just couldn't make enough plays tonight. I give LSU a ton of credit. That is a really good football team, and we knew that coming in...I am very proud of the way our players compete, and I am very proud of the leaders on this team who have continued to compete...That's not what we thought was going to happen, and certainly disappointing, but it doesn't take away from the face that we've been here three straight years. I'm really proud of this senior class, who led us to a lot of victories."

• Georgia dropped to 3-5 all-time in SEC Championship Games after falling 37-10 to undefeated LSU. The Bulldogs (11-2) are now 1-3 versus LSU when the teams have met with a league title on the line. LSU (13-0) leads the all-time series over Georgia, 18-13-1. Georgia was making its third straight appearance in the SEC Championship Game under Kirby Smart.

• Before today, the Bulldogs and Clemson were the only two teams in the FBS not to allow more than 20 points. LSU registered a 37-10 win as the Tigers came in ranked second nationally in Scoring Offense (48.7 ppg). Georgia was ranked second nationally in Scoring Defense, allowing just 10.4 ppg.

• Graduate PK Rodrigo Blankenship had four points (FG, PAT) to give him 432 for his career. He already owns the school record for career points and ranks second in SEC history. He has tied the SEC record for consecutive PATs with 198 makes, tying Daniel Carlson of Auburn (2014-17).

• Graduate DB J.R. Reed now has a team-high 42 consecutive starts for the defense while junior QB Jake Fromm leads the offense with 41 consecutive starts. Graduate Eli Wolf made his first career start for the Bulldogs as they started two tight ends. Wolf made seven starts at Tennessee in his career. On defense, freshmen Lewis Cine (DB) and Tyrique Stevenson (DB) both made their first career starts as the team employed seven DB/Safeties. Fromm, Reed and Andrew Thomas (LT)started their third straight SEC Championship game.

Three straight SEC Eastern Division championships, three 11-win seasons, one SEC title, Rose Bowl/CBP semi-final victory, and appearance in one national championship game are more than respectable rewards over a four-year period. That's what Georgia got when it hired Alabama defensive coordinator and former Bulldog player and assistant coach Kirby Smart to head the program in December, 2015.

His impact, along with a stellar group of assistant coaches, players, and a passionate fan base has put Georgia on the national stage three years running.

Smart's 2019 Bulldogs became the first team in Bulldogs history to win 11 or more games in three straight seasons. The senior class has posted a four-year record of 43-12—one win shy of the school record of 44 for a senior class. Along the 2019 schedule, the 'Dogs defeated three top 15 teams in the final CFP ranking: Notre Dame, Florida, and Auburn and finished as the fifth-ranked team in the final CFP ranking of teams. The 2019 Bulldogs secured an invitation to the Allstate Sugar Bowl marking the 23rd consecutive season Georgia has played in a bowl game—second best active streak in the country

The Bulldogs in 2018 posted an 11-1 regular season record, a second straight SEC Eastern Division title, and a ranking as high as number four in the College Football Playoff poll. Georgia landed in the prestigious Allstate Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1, 2019—the program's tenth all-time appearance in the New Orleans classic. It also extended the Bulldogs' bowl-game streak to a record 22 straight years, second-highest active streak in the country. For his efforts, Smart was named a semifinalist in the Maxwell Club George Munger National Coach of the Year balloting and a finalist in the Bobby Dodd Trophy Coach of the Year competition.

Smart's second season in 2017 was a special one, with an 11-1 regular-season record, an SEC championship, a win over Oklahoma in the Rose Bowl Game (College Football Playoff semifinal) and advancement into the College Football Playoff National Championship Game in the program's first appearance. In the SEC championship game, the Bulldogs avenged their only regular-season loss with a 28-7 victory over Auburn. It was the first conference title since 2005 for the Red and Black.

Both Smart and his players reaped the bounty of their banner 2017 season. He was named George Munger National Coach of the Year by the Maxwell Football Club, SEC Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and SEC Coaches, and the Regional Coach of the Year by the AFCA. Roquan Smith earned first-team All-America honors and the Dick Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker. Smith, Isaiah Wynn and Sony Michel were all taken in the first round of the 2018 NFL Draft, which also claimed seniors Nick Chubb, Lorenzo Carter and Javon Wims in subsequent rounds.

In Smart's first season leading the Bulldogs, Georgia made its 20th straight bowl appearance and posted four fourth-quarter comebacks, including wins over No. 8 Auburn and No. 22 North Carolina. He led the Bulldogs to an 8-5 final record, which included a victory over TCU in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl.

Smart has also made an immediate impact in recruiting circles by posting the nation's third-ranked class in 2017, followed by two more classes of signees that ranked either first or second by every authority.

In addition to his coaching duties, Smart oversees the Kirby Smart Family Foundation, which is focused on being champions in the community by supporting needy children and families facing adversity.

Smart officially came home to Georgia on Dec. 6, 2015, but he had unfinished business at Alabama, which was still chasing a national title. He juggled two jobs for a month until Jan. 11, 2016, when the Crimson Tide won its fourth national championship in a 7-year span. Twelve hours later, he was at work in Athens, where he remains one of nine head coaches at schools from Power 5 conferences that are coaching at their alma mater.

Smart had served on the Alabama staff the previous nine years, the past seven as defensive coordinator. During his tenure at Alabama, the Crimson Tide won three BCS National Championships, one College Football Playoff national title, three SEC crowns, six SEC Western Division titles, and was ranked in the nation's final top 10 the last eight years in a row.

Smart was one of the nation's most respected defensive coordinators. During his time at Alabama, he coached players at three different positions, in addition to his coordinating duties. He was recognized as the 2012 AFCA Assistant Coach of the Year and the 2009 Broyles Award winner as college football's top assistant coach. He also was a finalist for the 2015 Broyles Award.

Prior to joining the Alabama staff in 2007, Smart spent the 2006 season as safeties coach with the NFL's Miami Dolphins. He served six years on the collegiate level as the running backs coach at Georgia (2005), defensive backs coach at LSU (2004), graduate assistant at Florida State (2002-03), defensive coordinator/linebackers coach (2001) and defensive backs coach (2000) at Valdosta State, and administrative assistant at Georgia (1999).

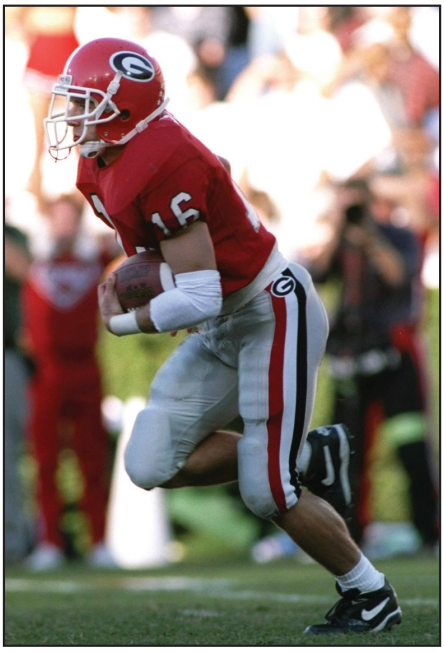
Back: Mary Beth and Kirby



Smart was a first-team All-SEC choice as a senior in 1998, when he led the league with five interceptions. Smart had six interceptions in his junior season of 1997.

Smart was the running backs coach for Georgia's 2005 SEC Championship team. His unit averaged 162.2 rushing yards per game, third in the SEC. He coached Thomas Brown, Danny Ware and Kregg Lumpkin — all future NFL players. In 2004 at LSU, he tutored two NFL draft picks: Corey Webster (second round, New York Giants) and Travis Daniels (fourth round, Miami).

As a player, Smart was a four-year letterman at defensive back for Georgia, where he was a First-Team All-SEC pick as a senior. He finished his career with 13 interceptions, a mark that still ranks sixth in UGA annals, and paced the Bulldogs with six interceptions in 1997 and five in 1998. He led the SEC in interceptions during his final season. Smart also scored two points as a collegian. He was the first player in UGA history — and one of just two Bulldogs since the rule was introduced in 1988 — to return a blocked PAT for two points, having brought one back 88 yards against New Mexico State in his freshman year of 1995.

A four-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll, Smart received his bachelor's degree in Finance from Georgia in 1998 and his master's in Physical Education from Florida State in 2003.

The Bainbridge, Ga., native is married to the former Mary Beth Lycett of McDonough, Ga., a 4-year letterwinner and 2-year starter, on the Georgia women's basketball team from 2000-03. The couple met long after their undergraduate days at Georgia, when Lycett — then working in the UGA Athletic Association Business Office — helped arrange Smart's trip to interview for the Bulldogs' running backs coaching job in 2005. They are the proud parents of twins Weston and Julia (born Feb. 8, 2008) and son Andrew (born May 25, 2012).

James Coley

Offensive Coordinator — Quarterbacks

James Coley, who served as Co-Offensive Coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Georgia in 2018, was promoted to Offensive Coordinator in January, 2019.

Coley has been on the UGA staff since Kirby Smart took over as head coach in 2016. He was named Co-Offensive Coordinator and QBs Coach at Georgia in 2018 after two seasons coaching the Bulldogs' wide receivers.

Coley was part of a 2017 staff that led the Bulldogs to a record-tying 13 victories, first SEC title since 2005, first appearance in the College Football Playoff, first appearance in the College Football Playoff semifinal, and first appearance in the CFP Championship Game. Georgia's offense finished first in the SEC and 9th nationally in Rushing Offense, 3rd in the SEC in Scoring Offense, 5th in Total Offense, and 4th nationally in Red Zone Offense.

In 2018, the Georgia offense finished first in the SEC in total rushing offense, rushing offense per game, and second in the SEC in total offense, touchdowns scored, and scoring offense.

Coley's two seasons of coaching Bulldog receivers produced a pair of NFL draft picks: Isaiah McKenzie (Denver) and Javon Wims (Chicago). In 2018 he coached sophomore quarterback Jake Fromm, who posted the second-best completion percentage in school history at 67.3, which was 12th nationally, and second-best passing efficiency for a QB at 171.21, which was fifth nationally.

Coley served as offensive coordinator and QBs coach at Miami from 2013-15. Prior to joining the Miami staff, he held the position of offensive coordinator and tight ends coach at Florida State from 2010-12 and tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator at FSU in 2008 and 2009. A native of Miami, he served as an offensive assistant with the Miami Dolphins in 2005-06. His coaching resume also included a stop at 2003 national champion LSU, where he was a graduate assistant coach.

Coley earned his bachelor's degree from Florida State in 1997 and his master's degree from LSU in 2004. He and his wife Kenia have two children – Madison and Brady.

Dan Lanning

Fain and Billy Slaughter Defensive Coordinator -- Outside Linebackers

Dan Lanning was named the Fain and Billy Slaughter Defensive Coordinator in February, 2019, after serving one year as Georgia's outside linebackers coach. He joined the Bulldog staff after two years as inside linebacker coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Memphis.

In his first season coordinating the Georgia defense, Lanning has already been named one of five finalists for the 2019 Broyles Award, which is presented to college football's assistant coach of the year. The Bulldog defense has ranked among the nation's top five in total defense, scoring defense and rushing defense throughout the season.

In his first year at Georgia, Lanning was part of a coaching staff that led the Bulldogs to their second straight season with 11 or more wins, second straight SEC Eastern Division title, and appearance in a New Years Six bowl game. The UGA defense finished second in the SEC in total defense, third in pass defense and opponent third down conversions, and fifth in scoring defense and rushing defense. Lanning coached 2018 second-team All-SEC OLB D'Andre Walker who led the team in sacks (7.5) and tackles for loss (11.0).

Lanning joined the Memphis staff in 2016 after spending the 2015 season at Alabama as a graduate assistant coach with the outside linebackers. Prior to Alabama, he held positions at Pittsburgh (2011), Arizona State (2012-13) and Sam Houston State (2014).

At Memphis he was part of a staff that that led the Tigers to their third 10-win season in school history and finished in the top five in the country in turnovers gained two years in a row. On that team, Lanning coached two-time first team All-American Athletic Conference linebacker Genard Avery.

At Alabama, Lanning was a member of the coaching staff that guided the Crimson Tide to a 14-1 record, the SEC Championship and the 2015 College Football Playoff (CFP) national title. Lanning worked with a Crimson Tide defense that ranked top-10 nationally in five statistical categories.

Lanning began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant on the staff at Pittsburgh in 2011. He also includes stops at Arizona State (2012-13) and Sam Houston State (2014) before coming to Alabama in 2015.

Lanning got his start in coaching at Park Hill South High School in Riverside, Mo., from 2008-10. In his three seasons there, he served as an assistant coach with emphasis on special teams, defensive backs and wide receivers.

A Richmond, Mo., native, Lanning played linebacker at William Jewell College, located in Liberty, Mo. He earned two Bachelor of Science degrees in physical education and secondary education in 2008. Two years later, Lanning completed coursework for his master's degree in secondary administration from William Woods University in Fulton, Mo.

Lanning and his wife, Sauphia, have three sons: Caden, Kniles and Titan.

Scott Fountain

Special Teams Coordinator

Scott Fountain joined the Bulldogs' full time, on-field staff in 2018, after serving as a special teams analyst for the 2017 season and a short time in the off-season as special teams coordinator at Mississippi State.

In his two seasons guiding Georgia's special teams, the Bulldogs have had three of the SEC's top specialists in return man Mecole Hardman, PK Rodrigo Blankenship and punter Jake Camarda. Hardman in 2018 led the SEC in average punt return, was fifth in average kick return, and was named to the ESPN.com All-America first team. Blankenship has become UGA's all-time scoring leader and its most accurate kicker ever, earning All-America and All-SEC honors the past two years. Camarda's improvement as a sophomore has helped Georgia rise from 70th to a Top Five ranking nationally in net punting this season.

Before joining Georgia's staff, Fountain had spent the previous eight years assisting the football program at Auburn, the first four as the Tigers' player personnel director and the latter four as an on-field assistant, coordinating special teams and coaching tight ends. From 2014-16, Fountain coached kicker Daniel Carlson, a three-time Lou Groza Award finalist.

Fountain, a part of three SEC championship teams, led Auburn's administrative and recruiting efforts from 2009-12. He followed Gene Chizik to Auburn after spending two seasons (2007-08) on Chizik's staff at Iowa State as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator.

Fountain has coaching experience in four national championship games (1997, 2010, 2013, 2017) since beginning his collegiate coaching career at Florida State (1994-97) as an offensive graduate assistant. He then spent seven seasons as an offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Central Florida. Before his eight-year stint at Auburn, Fountain also included coaching stops at Middle Tennessee State (2004-05), Georgia Southern (2006) and Iowa State (2007-08).

Fountain earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from Samford in 1988 and a master's degree in educational leadership from Florida State in 1998. He is married to the former Rosie Hidalgo and the couple has four sons: Brookes, Hunter, Tanner and Skyler.

Cortez Hankton

Pass Game Coordinator — Wide Receivers

Former NFL wide receiver Cortez Hankton was named Pass Game Coordinator and Wide Receivers Coach in February of 2019 after serving the 2018 season as an assistant coach in charge of the receivers.

In his first year at Georgia, Hankton was part of a coaching staff that led the Bulldogs to their second consecutive season with 11 or more wins, second straight SEC Eastern Division title, and appearance in a New Years Six bowl game. Hankton coached several big-play receivers in Terry Godwin, Mecole Hardman and Riley Ridley who combined for 1,475 receiving yards and were all taken in the 2019 NFL Draft.

Hankton joined the Georgia staff in February, 2018, after coaching wide receivers for three seasons at Vanderbilt. Prior to his time in Nashville, Hankton coached receivers for three seasons at Dartmouth in the Ivy League (2012-14). During that time, he helped the Big Green to a 20-10 overall record, including an 8-2 mark in 2014.

Hankton was signed as an undrafted rookie free agent in April, 2003, by the Jacksonville Jaguars. In his four years with the Jaguars, he caught 34 passes for 310 yards and a pair of touchdowns, both of which came in his sophomore campaign in 2004. Hankton signed with Minnesota in 2007 and spent the entire 2008 season on injured reserve with Tampa Bay.

Hankton received his bachelor's degree in business administration from Texas Southern in 2002, where he set season and career records for receiving yards. A native of New Orleans, Hankton and his wife, the former Shon Holder, were married in July, 2014. They are the parents of sons Cortez "Trip" III and Cruz.

Todd Hartley

Assistant Coach — Tight Ends

Todd Hartley, a University of Georgia graduate who had previously been a full-time staff member of the Bulldog football program, was named tight ends coach on January 14, 2019.

Hartley, a native of Gray, Ga., served as Miami's Special Teams Coordinator and Tight Ends Coach from 2016-18.

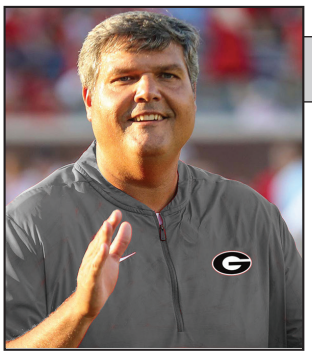
During his tenure at Miami under head coach Mark Richt, Hartley coached tight end David Njoku before he was taken in the 2017 NFL Draft as the 29th overall pick and also guided tight end Christopher Herndon, who was drafted in the fourth round as the 107th overall pick in the 2018 draft.

Hartley arrived in Miami after serving as Georgia's Director of Player Personnel in 2015. Before his return to Georgia, he spent four years at Marshall serving in a variety of roles, including tight ends and safeties coach and recruiting coordinator from 2011-14.

Hartley originally joined the Georgia program as a student assistant at the end of the 2005 season. He worked with the offense and special teams until the spring of 2008 while he was an undergraduate.

Georgia had an 11-win season and tallied three bowl victories during Hartley's years working with the Bulldogs, including a 41-10 rout of No. 10 Hawai'i in the 2008 Sugar Bowl. He was instrumental in preparation of the Georgia defense for the 2009 Independence Bowl at a time when only one full-time defensive assistant was on staff.

Hartley graduated from Georgia with a degree in health and physical education in May, 2008. He and his wife Jessica have four children: Tucker, Teagan, Tenley and Tatum.



Matt Luke

Associate Head Coach — Offensive Line

Matt Luke, head coach at Ole Miss for the past three seasons, was named Associate Head Coach and Offensive Line Coach at Georgia on Dec. 10, 2019.

Luke brings a wealth of experience, both as a developer of talent and a builder of offenses. During his 25 years in the collegiate game, both as a player and coach, he has worked alongside a number of successful coaches. On the field he has tutored 17 all-conference players, including All-Americans and first-round NFL draftees Laremy Tunsil and Laken Tomlinson.

A native of Gulfport, Miss., Luke was named the interim head coach at Ole Miss in time for the 2017 season. After a 6-6 regular season, capped by a road victory over Mississippi State in the Egg Bowl, the "interim" tag was removed from his title.

Luke lettered four seasons (1995-98) as a center at Ole Miss. A starter in 33 career games for the Rebels, he served as team captain in 1998 as the Rebels posted a 7-5 ledger and defeated Texas Tech in the Independence Bowl.

After his playing career, Luke was a student assistant coach at Ole Miss in 1999, and he graduated in May 2000 with a degree in business administration. His coaching career included stops which led to his head coaching position at Ole Miss: Murray State (OL, 2000-2001), Ole Miss (OL/TE, 2002-2005), Tennessee (OL/TE, 2006-07), Duke (Co-Off. Coordinator/OL, 2008-2011), Ole Miss (Co-Off. Coordinator/OL, 2011-2016).

Luke is married to the former Ashley Grantham of Oxford, Miss., and the couple has two sons, Harrison (born Feb. 18, 2008) and Cooper (born July 20, 2011). Luke's father, Tommy, was a defensive back at Ole Miss in the 1960s while his brother, Tom, quarterbacked the Rebels from 1989-91.

Dell McGee

Run Game Coordinator — Running Backs

Dell McGee was named Run Game Coordinator and Running Backs Coach after one season as Assistant Head Coach. He had served the previous two seasons as an assistant coach, overseeing running backs.

In his four seasons at UGA, McGee coached four 1,000-yard season rushers: Nick Chubb (1,345 in 2017 and 1,130 in 2016); Sony Michel (1,161 in 2017); D'Andre Swift (1,049 in 2018); Elijah Holyfield (1,018 in 2018); and Swift again in 2019 (1,216). In the 2018 NFL draft, Michel was the 31st player picked by the New England Patriots and Chubb was 35th pick of the draft by the Cleveland Browns. Chubb and Michel finished their careers as the Nos. 2 and 3 career rushers in UGA history, amassing over 8,400 combined yards and 87 touchdowns. Additionally, Rivals.com named McGee the 2018 National Recruiter of the Year after the Bulldogs signed the consensus No. 1-rated recruiting class.

Just 10 days before he came to UGA, McGee led Georgia Southern to victory in its first-ever bowl game (GoDaddy Bowl) as interim head coach.

He served as running backs coach at GSU the previous two seasons, during both of which the Eagles led the nation in rushing offense—384 yards per game in 2014 and 363 yards per game in 2015.

McGee developed Carver-Columbus High School into a perennial powerhouse. The Tigers rattled off seven straight seasons with 10 or more wins, including a perfect 15-0 season en route to the Georgia state title.

McGee was a two-year starter and four-year letterwinner at Auburn from 1992-95, helping preserve the Tigers' undefeated 1993 season with a critical interception against Alabama.

McGee and his wife Linda have a son, Austin.

Co-Defensive Coordinator — Inside Linebackers

Glenn Schumann was named Co-Defensive Coordinator & Inside Linebackers coach at Georgia in February of 2019 after three seasons in charge of the Bulldogs' inside linebackers.

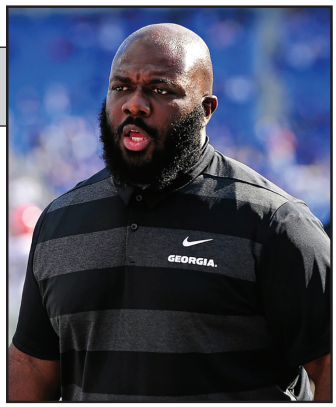
In 2019 he was part of a coaching staff that led Georgia to its third straight season with 11 or more wins, third straight SEC Eastern Division title, and appearance in a New Years Six bowl game. The Georgia defense finished ranked among the top five nationally in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense all season.

Schumann's star pupil over his first two years was Roquan Smith, the Bulldogs' leading tackler who capped his junior season by winning the Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker. Smith in 2017 was a consensus All-American, SEC Defensive Player of the Year, and he finished in the top ten in the Heisman Trophy voting. He has led the Chicago Bears in tackles in each of his first two years as a professional.

Schumann spent eight years with the Crimson Tide, first as an undergraduate analyst (2008-Dec. 2011) and then as a graduate assistant (Dec. 2011-Feb. 2014). He was named Director of Player Development and Associate Director of Player Personnel in Feb., 2014.

Born in Valdosta, Schumann graduated from McKinney Boyd High School in McKinney, Texas, where he lettered in both football and basketball. He earned his B.A. degree from Alabama in 2011 and his M.S. in sports management UA in December, 2013. He and his wife Lauren were married in the summer of 2015 and the couple has a son, Bryson Eric Schumann, born in September of 2019.

Tray Scott



Assistant Coach — Defensive Line

Tray Scott was named defensive line coach at UGA on February 10, 2017, after serving two years in a similar position at the University of North Carolina (2015-16).

In 2019 he was part of a coaching staff that led Georgia to its third straight season with 11 or more wins, third straight SEC Eastern Division title, and appearance in a New Years Six bowl game. The Georgia defense finished ranked among the top five nationally in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense all season.

Scott's top player during his tenure at UNC was Nazair Jones, an All-ACC tackle who had 70 stops, 9.5 for lost yardage and 2.5 QB sacks as a junior in 2016. Jones was a third-round selection by the Seattle Seahawks in the 2017 NFL Draft.

Prior to moving to North Carolina, Scott served two years (2013-14) as defensive line coach at UT Martin, an FCS team in the Ohio Valley Conference. He also held positions as defensive line graduate assistant at Ole Miss (2012), assistant coach at Arkansas State (2010-11). Scott was also a graduate assistant coach at his alma mater, Arkansas Tech, from the fall of 2008 until the spring of 2010.

Scott earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Arkansas Tech in 2008. He also received his Master's degree from Arkansas Tech in 2010. He is married to the former Sarah Fancher and the couple has a son, Julian Thomas Scott, born on May 22, 2017.

Charlton Warren

Assistant Coach — Defensive Backs

Charlton Warren was named Defensive Backs Coach in January 2019, after coaching the secondary at the University level for more than 14 years.

In 2019 he was part of a coaching staff that led Georgia to its third straight season with 11 or more wins, third straight SEC Eastern Division title, and appearance in a New Years Six bowl game. The Georgia defense finished ranked among the top five nationally in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense all season.

Warren, a native of Atlanta, spent the 2018 season coaching cornerbacks at Florida and the 2017 season coaching Tennessee's defensive backs and serving as the program's special teams coordinator. In addition to stops at North Carolina (2015-16) and Nebraska (2014), Warren worked at his alma mater of Air Force from 2005 to 2013 in a variety of roles.

Warren graduated from Air Force in 1999 with a degree in Human Factors Engineering. While stationed at Warner Robins AFB from 2000-03, he earned an MBA from Georgia College and State University. Before returning to the Academy in 2005, Warren was stationed at Eglin AFB, Fla., as an air-to-ground weapons program manager for the Air Armament Center.

During his time at Air Force, Warren was a three-year letterman at defensive back for the Falcons, helping the program achieve consecutive 10-win seasons in 1997 and 1998, including a 12-1 record and an outright conference title in 1998.

Warren is married to Jocelyn Warren and the couple has three children: Jayree, Teya and Chase.

Scott Sinclair

Director of Strength & Conditioning

Scott Sinclair was named Director of Strength and Conditioning on January 6, 2015, after serving two years in the same position at Marshall.

Sinclair joined the Marshall program in January, 2013, after nine years as an associate director of strength and conditioning at the University of Central Florida (UCF), where he worked with the football program along with baseball and track & field. He was directly responsible for the football speed and agility programs in addition to the program's administrative duties.

In 2012, he was awarded the highest honor in his field when he was certified as a master strength and conditioning coach (MSCC) at the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association's national conference.

Prior to UCF, he served as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Georgia Tech from 2001-03. While with the Yellow Jackets, he worked as the assistant director of player development for the Yellow Jackets' football squad. From 1999-2001, he worked in the Wake Forest strength and conditioning department.

A native of Rockingham, N.C., he earned his bachelor's degree in sports medicine from Guilford College in 1999. Sinclair, a member of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association, received a master's degree in physical education from UCF in 2006. Sinclair and his wife, Farrah, have one son, Creed, and one daughter, Asher.

Sinkwich Leads Bulldogs Past TCU In 1942 Orange Bowl

Georgia All-American quarterback Frankie Sinkwich, playing with an oversized chin mask to protect a broken jaw, put on an offensive display still considered by many as the greatest in any bowl game, as he led his Bulldogs to a 40-26 win over Texas Christian before 35,786 fans in the 1942 Orange Bowl game (a record crowd in '42).

Sinkwich passed for touchdowns of 61, 60 and 15 yards and raced 43 yards on a QB draw for another score. He completed nine of 13 passes for 243 yards and rushed for 139 yards for a total offensive gain of 382 yards.

Georgia scored first as Ken Keuper rushed two yards over the goal line to give the Dogs the early 6-0 lead. TCU tied the game less than four minutes later after a Lamar Davis fumble led to a Horned Frog score from the four yard line. TCU kicked the point after and led 7-6. Georgia answered soon after the score on a 60-yard pass play from Sinkwich to Melvin Conger, giving the Bulldogs a 12-7 lead they would never relinquish.

When the Dogs left the field at halftime the score stood 33-7, prompting head coach Wally Butts to proclaim it the greatest offensive performance he ever saw by a UGA team. He also believed the Georgia squad, at the end of the 1941 season, was the most powerful he coached.

The lead was 40-7 in the third quarter before TCU mounted a late three-touchdown effort. Bruce Alford caught two passes for scores from Emory Nix and Frink Kring scored on a 53-yard play from Kyle Gillespie for the 40-26 final.

The 1942 Orange Bowl was played less than a month after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and was a record-setting event. Sinkwich set five individual Orange Bowl records in the win for combined rushing and passing yards (382), touchdown passes (3), points scored (24), yards gained on touchdown pass plays (136) and yards gained on all touchdown plays (179). Georgia's four touchdown passes set a bowl team record, as well as the Dogs' four interceptions. The combined seven touchdowns for Georgia and TCU also set a new Orange Bowl mark.

Trippi Gets Helms Award In 1943 Rose Bowl

With All-American Frankie Sinkwich hobbling on two sprained ankles, his young sophomore understudy — Charley Trippi — paced Georgia to a 9-0 victory over UCLA before 90,000 in the 1943 Rose Bowl at Pasadena.

Trippi rushed 27 times for a net gain of 115 yards and received the Helms Award as the game's outstanding player.

Recently the Rose Bowl named its all-time first team and put Trippi at left halfback.

Tackle Red Boyd blocked a Bob Waterfield punt, which rolled out of the end zone for a safety to give Georgia two points in the last quarter. A few minutes later center Clyde Ehrhardt intercepted a Waterfield pass and returned to the UCLA 25. Sinkwich finally scored from the one and Leo Costa converted.

Charley Trippi was at his best as Georgia defeated Tulsa, 20-6, in the Oil Bowl at Houston before 27,000 on Jan. 1, 1946.

He passed 64 yards to John Donaldson for Georgia's second TD and returned a punt 68 yards for the final Bulldog tally in the fourth quarter — a run still considered by many as the greatest punt return of all time. He completely reversed his field and ran over two Tulsa tacklers who had him trapped near a sideline.

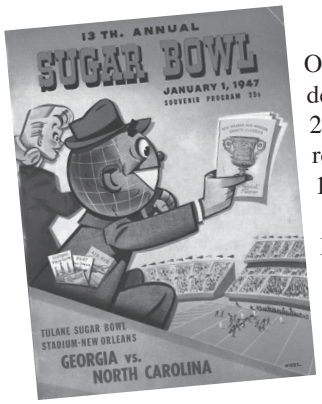
Trippi Closes Great Career In '47 Sugar Bowl Playing Entire 60 Minutes



On a chilly and rainy day in New Orleans, Georgia battled back from two deficits to knock off North Carolina, 20-10, in front of 75,000 in the 13th renewal of the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1, 1947.

Charley Trippi led the way for the Bulldogs, playing all 60 minutes in his last game wearing the red and black. His 67-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter to Dan Edwards gave the Dogs a 13-10 lead that the club would not relinquish.

The win was Georgia's 16th consecutive victory and gave the Bulldogs a perfect season (11-0) for just the second time in school history.

The scoring started when North Carolina's Walt Pupa ran 25 yards in the second quarter for the first lead of the game. Kicker Bob Cox added the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

Georgia was held scoreless into halftime, but Johnny Rauch plunged into the endzone from one yard out in the third quarter and was followed by George Jernigan's extra point for a 7-7 tie.

Cox gave the Tar Heels the lead later in the third quarter with an 18-yard field goal, but the play of the day, Trippi's 67-yarder to Edwards, answered the Tar Heel score and Georgia never looked back.

Rauch, Geri Shine In 1948 Gator Bowl

Joe Geri

Georgia's All-America quarterback Johnny Rauch had one of the best days of his career in Jacksonville, completing 12 of 17 passes for 183 yards. Captain Dan Edwards caught five passes and Joe Geri averaged 43.5 yards on seven punts.

The game remained scoreless after one quarter of play, but Maryland's Lu Gambino ran 35 yards for the first score of the game. The Terps held that 7-0 lead into halftime.

Georgia took the opening drive of the second half 87 yards, capped by Rauch's 1-yards plunge into the end-zone. Maryland answered with an 80-yard drive of its own and took the lead again on Gambino's second TD of the day. Later in the third, Georgia drove to its own 40 yard line but fumbled away possession. Three plays later the Terps were leading 20-7.

The fourth quarter was all Georgia, as the Bulldogs scored once on a Geri four-yard run and again on a nine-yard pass from Rauch to John Donaldson. The extra point was no good after Geri's TD and time ran out on a tied ball game with Georgia knocking on the door for another score.

A&M Zips Past Georgia In 1950 Presidential Cup Tilt

Georgia lost its seventh visit to a post-season affair, 40-20, to Texas A&M in the first and only Presidential Cup game at College Park, Md., before 12,245 fans on Dec. 9, 1950.

Georgia's Zippy Morocco, who later was to set the all-time SEC basketball scoring record, scored two touchdowns on brilliant runs, the first coming on a 65-yard punt return and the other a 23-yard rush.

A&M jumped out early and never looked back, scoring 40 unanswered points through three quarters of play. Before two minutes had been played in the opening quarter, the score was 13-0 after Bob Smith took the opening kickoff 100 yards and Glenn Lippman scored from five yards out after a Bulldog fumble. Another 81-yard TD rush by Smith in the first quarter buried the Bulldogs.

Morocco scored on a two-yard run in the third and a 65-yard punt return in the fourth to get the Dogs on the board. Lauren Hargrove added the last score of the day on a one-yard rush to make the final 40-20.

Tarkenton's TD Passes Key 1960 Orange Bowl Win

Francis Tarkenton directed two excellent scoring drives of 62 and 71 yards in Georgia's 14-0 victory over Missouri in the 1960 Orange Bowl before 75,280.

Late in the first quarter Tarkenton anticipated a quick kick to set up the first score. He returned it 17 yards to the M 38. On third down and nine he passed to Fred Brown for 12 to the M 25. On third and 14 he fired to Bill McKenny, rookie RHB from Jacksonville, for 29 yards and the TD, Durward Pennington's PAT made it 7-0.

Ridlehuber Rips Raiders In 1964 Sun Bowl

The 7-0 conquest of Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl at El Paso Dec. 26, 1964, before 28,500 may have been the Bulldogs' best game of a glorious "Cinderella" season.

The defense held the Red Raiders' vaunted offense, which led the Southwest Conference with almost 300 yards per game, to only 128 yards (32 rushing and 96 passing). And, the offensive troops rolled up 329 yards (245 rushing and 84 passing), their second best performance of the season.

Preston Ridlehuber had by far the most productive day of his Georgia varsity career and clearly deserved the trophy awarded him as the game's outstanding performer. Preston ran 19 times for 87 yards, completed 4x5 passes for 77 yards, giving him a total of 164 yards.

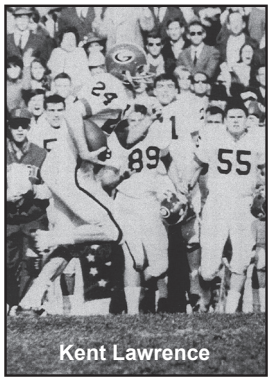
Georgia blanked Texas Tech 7-0 in the 1964 Sun Bowl (Vince Dooley's first Bulldog team). The big play on the 68-yard TD drive was a 52-yard reception by Fred Barber from Preston Ridlehuber that gave the Bulldogs first and goal from the six-yard line.

Kent Lawrence Sets Cotton Bowl Record As Bulldogs Win Big over SMU



Kent Lawrence

Georgia magnificently upheld the honor of the SEC with its decisive 24-9 victory over Southern Methodist University, Southwest Conference champ, Dec. 31, 1966, in Dallas' Cotton Bowl before 75,504.

Kent Lawrence established a Bulldog bowl-game rushing record vs. the Mustangs. His 149 yards in 16 carries erased the old Georgia bowl-game mark of 139 yards in 22 rushes by Frank Sinkwich vs. TCU in the 1942 Orange Bowl.

Lawrence's 74-yard TD rush on the game's third play also was the longest scoring play in Bulldog bowl annals. He was voted the game's outstanding player.

Bob Etter's 28-yard FG put Georgia out front 10-3 at the quarter. Steve Neuhaus set up another score with an interception at the SMU 33. Kirby Moore hit Billy Payne on a 20-yard scoring pass and Etter made it 17-3.

There was only one score in the last half. The Bulldogs drove 59 yards to goal early in the fourth quarter with Ronnie Jenkins carrying nine of the 12 rushes. Jenkins scored from the one. Etter made it 24-9.

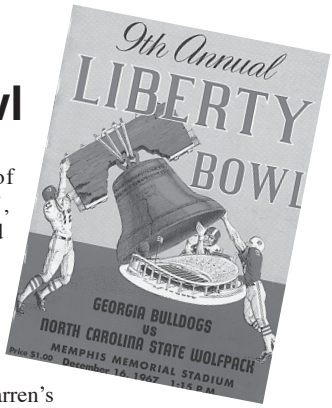
N.C. State Rallies Past Georgia In 1967 Liberty Bowl



A record Liberty Bowl crowd of 35,045 at Memphis Dec. 16, 1967, saw N.C. State, led by former Bulldog head coach Jim Donnan, trim Georgia, 14-7.

The Wolfpack cashed in their scoring opportunities, drawing first blood in the second quarter on a 65-yard drive—aided by a timely 15-yard penalty —that saw Donnan pass 6 yards to Martell for a TD. Warren's PAT made it 7-0.

Georgia retaliated with a fine 68-yard scoring drive, Lawrence starting things off with a 42-yard kickoff return. Kirby Moore hit on four passes, three to Dennis Hughes and one to Billy Payne. Ronnie Jenkins scored from the one and Jim McCullough's PAT knotted the count at 7-7 midway the second quarter.

State went ahead early in the fourth quarter, driving 73 yards with Barchuk scoring from the one. Warren's PAT was good.

Georgia again fought back and mounted a great 98-yard drive that ended with Lawrence failing to score by inches after taking a pitchout from Moore at the N.C. State 3 and sprinting to the 1. Lawrence was voted the game's most valuable offensive back, while Edgar Chandler was the most valuable offensive lineman.

Georgia Upset by Arkansas Razorbacks In 1969 Sugar Bowl

A huge Sugar Bowl crowd of 82,113 saw Arkansas, champion of the Southwest Conference, upset Georgia, champion of the Southeastern Conference, 16-2, on Jan. 1, 1969.

The Bulldogs had the ball six times in the first quarter but lost possession three times on fumbles and once on a pass interception. But the Georgia defense played well and the quarter ended scoreless.

The Razorbacks moved 65 yards for a TD early in the second quarter, scoring on a 27-yard pass, Montgomery-Dicus. White's PAT made it 7-0.

Midway the second quarter David McKnight tossed Burnett for a six-yard loss and a safety to make it 7-2, but a Bulldog fumble a few plays later gave Arkansas position for a 34-yard field goal by White which made it 10-2 at halftime.

Georgia ''blew'' a good chance early in the third quarter after recovering an Arkansas fumble on the kickoff. Brad Johnson fumbled on the goal line on third down, and the ball went out of the end zone.

A fumble and pass interception in the fourth quarter put Arkansas in position for two more field goals by White (24 and 31 yards).

Nebraska Too Much for Dogs In 1969 Sun Bowl

Nebraska turned out to be every bit as good as advertised.

''They were the best team we played all season,'' said Captain Steve Greer following the Cornhuskers' 45-6 victory before a sun-baked Sun Bowl crowd of 31,176 in El Paso Dec. 20.

The Cornhuskers took advantage of a strong wind to kick four field goals in the exceptionally-long first quarter (scoreboard clock broke and officials admitted afterwards that the first quarter was too long).

Trailing 18-0 after the first quarter, Georgia fought back to hold the big and fast Big Eight co-champions scoreless in the second quarter. But the Nebraskans took advantage of six pass interceptions and two fumble recoveries to run up the score, 14 points in the third quarter and 13 in the fourth.

Paul Gilbert directed Georgia's lone TD in the fourth quarter. He completed passes of 16 yards to Charley Whittemore, 11 to Dennis Hughes, then scored himself from the six. Jim McCullough's PAT kick was wide.

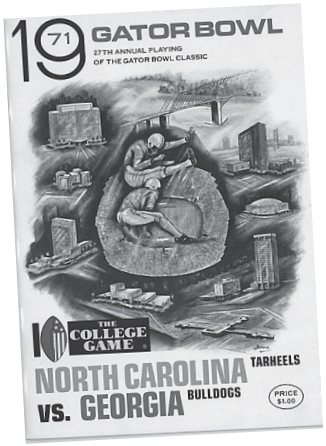
Poulos Superb in 1971 Gator Bowl



Georgia played perhaps its finest defensive game of the season to beat North Carolina 7-3 in the Gator Bowl, Dec. 31, 1971, before 71,208.

The Bulldogs held the Tar Heels to only 181 yards total offense (115 rushing and 66 passing).

Dennis Watson was the defensive hero, making tackles time and time again. He made three straight tackles during one stretch.

Offensively, the Bulldogs gained a lot of ground (322 yards) but were sporadic, particularly in the first half. But, following the Tar Heels' lone scoring drive of the game which resulted in a 35-yard FG by Craven, the Bulldogs finally mounted a beautiful 80-yard march that settled the issue.

The scintillating sophomores, Jimmy Poulos and Andy Johnson, ran the ball from Georgia's 20 to the G 43. Then Johnson hit split end Lynn Hunnicutt on a great 32-yard play to the NC 25. On the next snap, Poulos broke around left end down the sidelines to score, side-stepping the safety. Braswell made it 7-3.

The nation's TV audience once again was thrilled by the exploits of Poulos, the Greek Streak, who set a Georgia bowl rushing record in the Gator Bowl. He netted 161 yards on 20 carries to better the old Bulldog bowl mark of 149 yards on 16 rushes by Kent Lawrence against SMU in the 1966 Cotton Bowl.

Tough Terps Trimmed in 1973 Peach Bowl

Hats off to the Bulldogs for their thrilling 17-16 triumph over the Terrapins in the 1973 Peach Bowl Dec. 28 before 38,017 in Atlanta Fulton County Stadium.

Early in the second quarter, thanks to runs by Horace King and Andy Johnson, Georgia reached the Maryland 17 but was stopped. Johnson hit Jimmy Poulos on a screen and the Greek Streak went 62 yards for a score in one of the finest runs ever made by a Georgia back. Two plays later Maryland's Carter and White hooked up on a 68-yard haymaker and Mick-Mayer's PAT tied it 7-7.

Later Mike-Mayer put Maryland out front 10-7 on a 36-yard FG. Then the Bulldogs roared back with one of their best drives of the season. Captain Bobby Burns ripped up the middle for 21. Johnson hit King for 30, then ran 12 after faking a pass to the UM 9. With the clock running out, the Bulldogs had to settle for a 26-yard FG by Leavitt to make it 10-10 at halftime.

Tremendous defensive play set up Georgia's go-ahead TD late in the third quarter. Following Golden's 43-yard punt to Smith, tackled in his tracks at the UM 11 by Glynn Harrison, Sylvester Boler smashed through and hit QB Kinard as he was pitching out to Jennings. The hit caused a fumble that was recovered by Dick Conn at the Maryland 8 yard line. On third down, Johnson scored from the one and Leavitt made it 17-10.

A nine-yard punt and fumble by Richard Appleby, on an end-round, presented Maryland with two FG opportunities in the fourth quarter. Both were cashed in on by Mike-Mayer (25 and 28 yards) to close the gap to 17-16.

Miami of Ohio won its 23rd in a row with a 21-10 vicotry over Georgia in the Tangerine Bowl before 20,246 at Orlando, on Dec. 21, 1974.

It might have been a close game had not the Bulldogs given Miami two easy scoring chances with fumbles at their own 25 (first play from scrimmage) and 22. The Redskins cashed both opportunities, and in between, marched 68 yards to goal, QB Smith passing seven yards to E. Taylor for the TD.

After trailing 7-0, Georgia did make a good drive, first down at the UM 9, the big gainer being a 43-yard pass, Robinson to Appleby. But the vaunted Miami defense held and Allan Leavitt kicked at 21-yard FG.

Georgia came back strong in the second half and won it, 7-0. The defense played considerably better.

Midway through, the third quarter Butch Box, covering a Bucky Dilts punt, recovered a fumble at the Miami 41. Glynn Harrison immediately broke loose for 28 yards to the UM 13. Five plays later Ray Goff plunged over from the one and Leavitt made it 21-10.

Georgia outgained Miami in total offense, 274 to 242. Georgia had only 74 yards rushing but 200 passing. Miami had 228 rushing, 14 passing.

Cinderella Dogs Bow to Hogs in 1976 Cotton Bowl

The big clock in the Cotton Bowl showed 1:49 left in the first half with Georgia leading Arkansas, 10-0. Not a soul there or any one of the millions watching CBS-TV had any idea then that the Bulldogs, who had played almost a perfect game for nearly a half, would suffer one tough blow after and finally succumb, 31-10 on Jan. 1, 1976.

Georgia amazed the crowd of 74,500 by taking the opening kickoff and ramming the ball all the way to the A4. But the Razorbacks held and Georgia had to settle for a 35-yard FG by Allan Leavitt.

But two Georgia fumbles in the last two minutes of the first half resulted in an Arkansas FG (Little, 39 yards) and TD (Forte, 1-yd. rush).

It was a scoreless third quarter but the Hogs tallied three times in the final period.

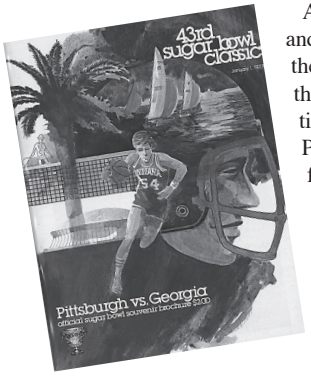
#1 Pittsburgh Tops Dogs In '77 Sugar Bowl



Armed with a number four national ranking and the distinction of being first team to represent the conference in the SEC's "marriage" with the Sugar Bowl, Georgia's dreams of a national title were convincingly shattered by top-ranked Pittsburgh, 27-3, in the Sugar Bowl shootout for the national championship.

With a Sugar Bowl record crowd for the Superdome of 76,117 fans looking on, Pittsburgh made believers of the whole nation in justifying their top national billing.

Junior quarterback Matt Cavanaugh and heralded Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett supplied most of the offensive fireworks for the Panthers in building a 21-0 halftime lead. Cavanaugh directed his team 80 yards in the first quarter for Pitt's initial score, covering the last six yards himself on a keeper. In the second quarter, the Pittsburgh junior unveiled a brilliant passing game to account for another Pittsburgh score by hitting FLK Matt Jones for a 59-yard scoring strike. Dorsett added the Panthers' third TD of the day on an 11-yard burst to make the halftime tally 21-0.

The Bulldog offense, which had been stymied all day by the swarming Pittsburgh defense, finally was able to put something on the scoreboard in the third quarter. On Pitt's first possession of the second half, fullback Elliott Walker was separated from the ball on the Panthers' own 26-yard line, where defensive end Lawrence Craft fell on it for the Bulldogs. But several plays later, Georgia found themselves faced with fourth and goal on the seven and had to settle for Allan Leavitt's 25-yard field goal for their only score of the day.

Pitt's Carson Long added field goals of 42 and 31 yards as the Panthers claimed the 1976 national championship.

Stanford Rallies For Win In 1978 Bluebonnet Bowl

Georgia's Wonderdogs outgained Stanford 525 yards to 31, but lost the game 25-22 before 34,084 fans in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston on December 31, 1978.

Fumbles and penalties, missed PAT's and FG's and precision passing by All-American QB Steve Dils, enables the Cardinal to overcome a 22-0 deficit in the second half.

The Bulldogs played their best game of the season in running up an early advantage to the 22-0. They scored on their second possession in the first quarter, Rex Robinson kicking a 31-yd FG. On their third possession, Georgia's Buck Belue passed to flanker Carmon Prince 22 yards for a TD, but Robinson missed on the PAT to make Georgia a 9-0 leader.

As the half closed, Jeff Pyburn directed an 80-yard drive in seven plays as he spotted Prince for an eight-yard strike. Robinson was wide again on the PAT and Georgia led 15-0.

Georgia drove 75 yards to goal after the second half kick-off and took only six plays as Pyburn dove in from the one, making the score 22-0.

Two Bulldog fumbles accounted for Stanford's first pair of touchdowns, and their third tally came on a 14-yard pass from Dils to Ken Margerum. The two-point conversion was good, knotting the score at 22. The Cardinal recovered another Georgia fumble to set up their go-ahead field goal of 24 yards. Georgia came back strong, driving to the Stanford 14, but Robinson missed on a 31-yard attempt.

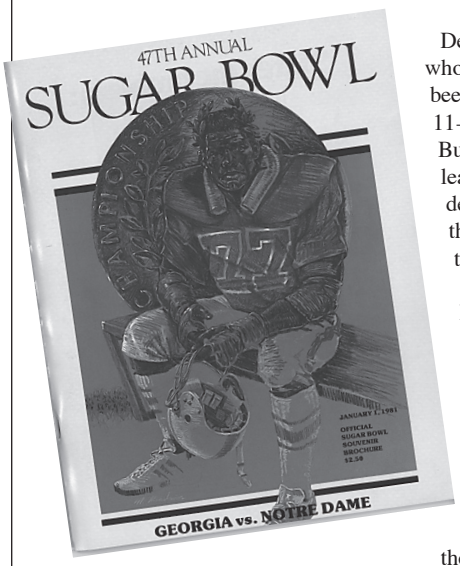
Georgia Whips Irish For 1981 Sugar Bowl Win And The National Championship



Determined to silence the critics who claimed that Georgia had been lucky in streaking to a perfect 11-0 regular season slate, the Bulldogs journeyed to New Orleans, No. 1 ranking in hand, and defeated Notre Dame, 17-10, in the 1981 Sugar Bowl to claim the national championship.

Played before a record Sugar Bowl crowd of 77,895 in the Louisiana Superdome, the game was one where Georgia capitalized on early Irish mistakes to take a 17-3 lead at halftime.

Notre Dame took the ball on the first possession of the contest from its own 20 all the way to the UGA 32 where kicker Harry Oliver booted a 50-yard field goal to give the Irish a 3-0 lead with 10:41 to go in the opening quarter.

Oliver tried another field goal moments later from the 48, but this time Bulldog freshman rover Terry Hoage slipped through the line to step in front and block the attempt, giving Georgia the ball at the ND49. Nine plays netted 20 yards and placekicker Rex Robinson was called on for a 46-yard field goal. The All-American was successful to tie the game at three apiece with less than two minutes remaining in the first period.

On the ensuing kickoff, Georgia capitalized on confusion among two Notre Dame return men, and Bulldog senior Bob Kelly recovered a loose football at the Irish one-yard line. Freshman marvel Herschel Walker, who would go on to gain 150 yards (the first 100-yard performance against the Notre Dame defense all season) and win the Miller-Digby MVP Trophy, dived on the second play for the touchdown. Robinson coverted the PAT and Bulldogs were up, 10-3, still in the first quarter.

Erk Russell's defense, which led the country in takeaways during the season, recovered another Notre Dame fumble early in the second period as Irish fullback John Sweeney was separated from the ball at the ND22 and Bulldog senior roverback Chris Welton pounced on it.

Walker broke an off tackle play for 12 yards to the ND10. Quarterback Buck Belue swept left for seven more to the Irish three-yard line, setting up a second and goal situation. Belue gave it to Walker and the 6-2, 220-pounder stormed into the endzone for his second score of the game. Robinson added the PAT and Georgia enjoyed a 17-3 lead.

Down 14 points, Notre Dame drove the second time it had the ball in the second half from its own 40-yard line to the G13. On a third down play there, Irish QB Blair Kiel dropped back, threw into the endzone to flanker Pete Holohan, only to watch Georgia's All-American cornerback Scott Woerner step in at the last minute to bat the pass away. Notre Dame's Oliver came in to kick a 30-yarder, but the ball sailed wide right.

The Irish finally got a touchdown after Georgia punted on the next possession. The passing of Kiel and running of tailback Phil Carter took Notre Dame 57 yards in 11 plays as the drive was climaxed by a one-yard plunge by Carter for the touchdown. Oliver booted the PAT and the Georgia lead was now 17-10 with :54 seconds of the third quarter showing on the Superdome scoreboard clock.

After Georgia was unable to move the ball, senior Mark Malkiewicz was called in to punt. The boot carried to the Irish 46 and Notre Dame, with momentum mounting, took over. Seven plays later, the Fighting Irish were at the G21 and fourth down staring them in the face. Oliver's 38-yard field goal attempt went wide to the left this time and the Bulldogs clung to their seven-point lead.

After two unsuccessful possessions by each team, Notre Dame got the ball one last time with 5:10 to go in the ballgame at the ND43. Carter ran around the end for seven yards to midfield. On second down, 6-1, 265-pound defensive guard Eddie Weaver caught Kiel behind the line for a four-yard loss, setting up a third and seven play. A Kiel-to-Nick Vehr pass got six yards back, making it fourth down, one yard to go.

A running play looked to be forthcoming, but Kiel surprised everyone when he faded back, looking for Dean Masztak, the big tight end, on the side line. One Bulldog, apparently not surprised by the call, was cornerback Woerner, who stepped in front of Masztak for the interception (his second of the game) at the G34. Only 2:56 remained.

Runs by Belue and Walker gave the Bulldogs a first down at the G47. Two plays after that, Georgia recorded the biggest first down of the game when Belue hit his very first completion of the day on a seven-yard pass to senior flanker Amp Arnold. Walker got the Bulldogs another first down at the ND 38, where Georgia ran off three plays and watched the clock expire, prompting a sea of UGA fans to engulf the playing field for the national championship celebration.

Pitt Edges Bulldogs 24-20 In 1982 Sugar Bowl

Pittsburgh QB Dan Marino hit tight end John Brown on a fourth-down, 33-yard TD pass with just 35 seconds left to give the Panthers a come-from-behind 24-20 win over Georgia in the 1982 Sugar Bowl, dashing the Bulldogs' hopes for a second straight national championship.

Perhaps the most exciting of the holiday games of '82, the Pitt-Georgia matchup had six lead changes for the 77,224 who were in attendance at the Superdome.

Early in the fourth quarter it was Pittsburgh which capitalized on a Dog fumble at the G23. Four plays later, QB Marino found John Brown open for a six-yard TD play. The conversion put the Panthers, 17-13 with 11:40 to play in the game.

But the Bulldogs, entering the game ranked No. 2 in the country, weren't quite through yet. Taking over on the G20, Georgia drove the distance in 10 plays, climaxing the drive with a Buck Belue-to-Clarence Kay TD pass from six yards out. Kevin Butler's PAT put the lead in Georgia's favor, 20-17, with 8:31 remaining.

Each team failed on a possession and, with 3:46 left, the Panthers got the ball on the P20. Eleven plays later, they were at the G33, fourth down and five. Seconds later, TE Brown was in the endzone on the receiving end of Marino's game-winner.

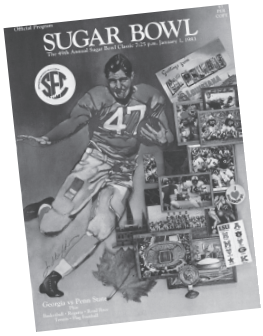
Penn State Clips Dogs 27-23 In 1983 Sugar Bowl



After staking Penn State to a 20-3 second-quarter lead, the Bulldogs staged a great comeback but came up short, 27-23, to the Nittany Lions before 78,124 in the '83 Sugar Bowl Classic. The outcome foiled Georgia's chances for another national championship and a perfect 12-0 season.

Trailing 20-3 with only :39 remaining in the first half, Georgia took over on its 34-yard line. Lastinger completed four of five pass attempts, the final completion coming on a 10-yard scoring play to Herman Archie. Butler's PAT cut the deficit to 20-10 at intermission.

The Bulldogs took the second half kickoff and drove 69 yards in 11 plays as Herschel Walker, who netted 103 yards on the day, ran in from a yard out. Penn State's lead now was only 20-17.

The Nittany Lions took possession late in the third quarter at their 19. Six plays advanced the football to the G47. From there, Blackledge found his receiver Garrity, who made a diving catch in the endzone for a TD. Gancitano's PAT increased the PSU lead to 27-17.

Georgia didn't roll over, however. With 5:38 left to play, the Dogs took the ball at the P43 after a fumbled punt. Six plays later, Lastinger found TE Clarence Kay for a nine-yard TD pass. Only 3:54 remained. The two-point try failed and Georgia trailed 27-23.

Georgia could not prevent the Nittany Lions from getting two first downs and used up its allotted timeouts as Penn State ran out the clock. The game ended with the ball rolling into the Georgia endzone after a 62-yard punt from Ralph Giacomarro.

Georgia Upsets Texas 10-9 In 1984 Cotton Bowl

The winning TD had been set up when Bulldog sophomore Gary Moss recovered a Craig Curry fumbled punt at the Longhorn 23-yard line. Lastinger called his own number on the third play from scrimmage and darted outside right for the TD.

Texas had one more possession, but the Bulldog defense rose up, recording two sacks (Kenny Sims and Ed Moore) to back the Longhorns up from their 28-yard line all the way to their seven. Georgia took control and ran off the final 2:19 on the clock after converting a fourth down play at the Texas 36.

As expected going into the Cotton Bowl, defense was the key for both teams as there were just 13 first downs and three points each achieved in the first half. Texas grabbed an early 3-0 lead with 10:32 to go in the first quarter when freshman Jeff Ward booted a 22-yard FG. The Bulldogs, after Moss returned a punt 29 yards to the Longhorn 43 late in the quarter, used four plays to move to the Texas 26 where Butler came in and kicked a 43-yarder.

Ward added his second three-pointer on the day with 7:10 to play in the third quarter as he connected on a 40-yard field goal. After a Georgia fumble at the G37, the Longhorns moved 26 yards in eight plays to the G11 where Ward came on and extended the Texas advantage to 9-3 with 3:50 to play in the third quarter.

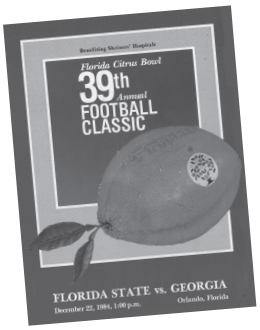
FSU Rallies To Tie Bulldogs In 1984 Citrus Bowl



Georgia placekicker Kevin Butler's attempt of a 70-yard field goal fell a foot short as time expired in the '84 Florida Citrus Bowl, enabling favored Florida State to hold off the upstart Bulldogs and earn a 17-17 tie before 51,821 in Orlando on Dec. 22, 1984.

The Bulldogs, who had hoped to use the Citrus Bowl as the start of their 1985 season, stormed out to a 14-0 halftime lead. Florida State battled back to tie the score through the efforts of a talented offense and an aggressive punt rush with under four minutes remaining.

After averaging 35.3 points a game, the Seminoles were held to just 10 points through three quarters until noseguard Lenny Chavers blocked a Chip Andrews punt, which was picked up by teammate Joe Wessel for a Seminole touchdown. Darrin Holloman's sweep around the left side gave FSU a two-point conversion and knotted the game at 17 late in the fourth quarter. The Dogs tried to repeat the miracle they had staged earlier in the season against rival Clemson in which they drove up field in the closing seconds enabling All-American Kevin Butler to kick a conference record 60-yard FG and secure a Georgia victory. FSU's defense proved to be a bit stiffer than that of Clemson, and after three incomplete James Jackson passes, Georgia coach Vince Dooley called on Butler once again, but his kick fell just short of the crossbar and the game ended deadlocked at 17.

Although disappointed with a tie, Georgia walked off the field encouraged by the play of their underclassmen. Freshman QB James Jackson saw his first stretch of extensive playing time and responded by earning the game's Most Valuable Player trophy. The game's most valuable offensive player was another Georgia freshman, TB Lars Tate, who scored both of Georgia's TDs. Senior CB Kevin Harris was awarded Defensive Player of the Game, giving the red and black a clean sweep of the awards ceremony.

Dogs, Wildcats Tie 13-13 In 1985 Sun Bowl Game

A Sun Bowl crowd of 52,203 saw the Georgia Bulldogs rally for 10 fourth quarter points to pull even with the Arizona Wildcats, 13-13, then watched as both teams miss potential game-winning field goals in the final two minutes to preserve the tie.

Georgia struck first, marching 72 yards in 13 plays to set up a 37-yard FG by Steve Crumley. Crumley, who had pulled a muscle in his kicking leg before the final game of the regular season, reinjured himself on the kick, however, and was unable to continue.

Arizona responded on the following possession to tie the game, driving to the G1 before an illegal procedure penalty on fourth down forced the Cats to call upon All-American Max Zendejas to tie the score at three from 21 yards.Zendejas added a 52-yarder, and the the Wildcats made it 12-3 when Martin Rudolph picked off QB James Jackson's pass and returned it 35 yards for a TD. Georgia backup kicker Davis Jacobs was true on a 44-yard field to close the gap to 13-6.

With 12:35 to play senior DB Tony Flack recovered RB James Debow's fumble at the A23 to set up what would be the game's last score behind Tate on the ground. With 1:14 left, Jacobs missed a 44-yard field goal.

Georgia held Arizona until the Wildcats gambled on fourth-and-two from their own 36, and David Adams rambled for 25 yards on a draw play with DL Henry Williams executing a game-saving tackle at the G39. The Wildcats drove to the 22, called time out, and Zendejas' 39-yard attempt went wide and Georgia averted a last-second defeat.

B.C. Edges Dogs 27-24 In 1986 Hall of Fame

Boston College scored a five-yard TD pass with 32 seconds remaining to nip Georgia, 27-24, in the first Hall of Fame Bowl held at Tampa on Dec. 22, 1986, in front of 25,368 in Tampa Stadium.

The last second win spoiled a brilliant comeback from a 13-point halftime deficit by Georgia which actually took the lead, 24-20, with a five-yard TD run by QB James Jackson with 11:51 left in the game.

Georgia came out in the third quarter to score 10 points and added another seven in the final period to take the lead. B.C. got the ball the final time with 2:38 left and drove to the Georgia 27 when an incomplete fourth-and-two pass appeared to have iced the game for the Dogs. But a pass interference penalty gave the Eagles new life and three plays later, they scored on a five-yard TD toss.

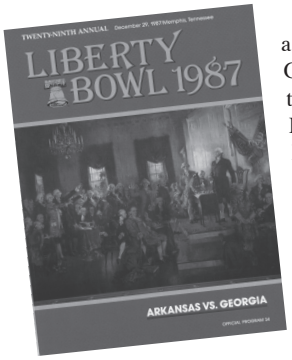
Kasay Kick Defeats Arkansas In 1987 Liberty Bowl



Freshman placekicker John Kasay booted a 39-yard field goal with no time left to give Georgia a 20-17 come-from-behind victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks before 53,249 fans at Liberty Bowl Stadium in Memphis, Tenn., on Dec 29, 1987. The victory provided Georgia with its first nine-win season since 1983 and the first victory over Arkansas after two previous attempts.

Bulldog QB James Jackson was the Georgia most valuable offensive player after rushing for 72 yards and completing 15 of 25 passes for 148 yards. Bulldog LB John Brantley was the Georgia most valuable defensive player.

Kasay's game-winning kick was set up when Georgia cornerback Carver Russaw intercepted an Arkansas pass and ran it back to the Razorback 43-yard line with 46 seconds to play. Arkansas had missed a 35-yard field goal with 1:42 left which would have given them the lead. The Bulldogs ran three plays to set up Kasay's, kick the big one being a Jackson-to -Sadowski pass for 16 yards to put the Dogs in field goal range.

Georgia had trailed at halftime, 10-7, and Arkansas took the second half kickoff and drove for a touchdown to take a 17-7 lead with 11:35 left in the third period. But the fourth quarter belonged to Georgia.

Kasay kicked a 24-yard FG with 14:57 left to cut the lead to 17-10, and James Jackson scored on a five-yard run to tie the score at 17.

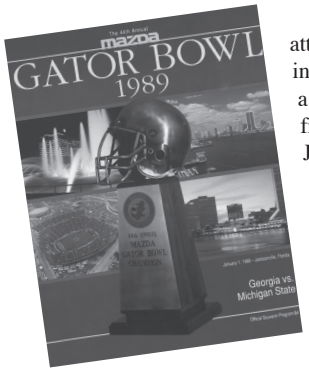
Dogs Use New Tricks To Win 1989 Gator Bowl



Largely discarding their trademark rushing attack, Vince Dooley's Bulldogs took to the air in the 44th Mazda Gator Bowl en route to a 34-27 victory over the Michigan State in front of 76,236 fans in Jacksonville, Fla., on Jan. 1, 1989.

Georgia not only secured its second straight 9-win season but handed Dooley the 201st, and final, win of his illustrious 25-year coaching career. QB Wayne Johnson, who was named Georgia's MVP for the game, had a career-high 227 yards and three touchdowns. Two of Johnson's three TD strikes went to tailback Rodney Hampton, who also carried the ball 10 times for 109 yards and a TD.

Georgia took a 7-0 lead on a 6-yard Johnson-to-Hampton touchdown pass. By halftime, the Dogs led 17-7. Georgia scored again in the third when Johnson capped a 64-yard drive with an 18-yard pass to tight end Kirk Warner.

MSU closed the gap to 27-20 with 14:24 to play, but the Dogs countered on their next possession when Hampton raced 32 yards for his third touchdown. The Spartans scored once more, but Georgia, which finished the season ranked 15th, hung on for a 34-27 win.

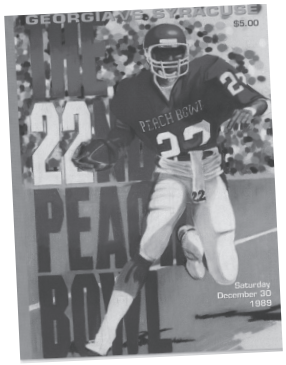
Syracuse Nips Georgia 19-18 To Win '89 Peach



With :25 left in the game, Syracuse PK John Biskup booted a 26-yard field goal to lift the Orangemen over the Bulldogs, 19-18, in Atlanta at the 22nd Peach Bowl on Dec. 30, 1989.

Despite putting together an impressive opening drive and coming up with several big plays, the Dogs couldn't sustain a balanced offensive attack throughout the game. Georgia's leading rusher Rodney Hampton was held to 32 yards on the ground, while Syracuse TB Michael Owens ran for 112 yards on 14 carries. The Georgia passing attack was limited to 88 yards, the first time all season the Dogs were held under 100 yards in the air.

Georgia opened the game with a 66-yard drive, capped off by a 5-yard TD pass from QB Greg Talley to tight end Kirk Warner. Syracuse answered with an 80-yard drive of its own, with Owens scoring from one yard out.

In the second quarter, Syracuse suffered from three miscues, but managed to stay close. The first came when Georgia linebacker Mo Lewis set a new Peach Bowl record with a 77-yard interception return to the Syracuse five. The Bulldogs were unable to get into the end zone, however, and had to settle for a John Kasay field goal. In the second half, the Orangemen gave up a safety, and Georgia added a TD for an 18-10 edge going to the fourth.

Syracuse rallied, first with a 94-yards drive to close to 18--16. Then, Biskup's field goal lifted the Orange over Georgia in the closest Peach Bowl since 1973.

Georgia Beats Arkansas 24-15 In '91 Independence

The Bulldogs jumped out to a 14-0 lead behind two scoring strikes thrown from Eric Zeier to Arthur Marshall and Andre Hastings stretching their lead to 17-0 on a 39-yard FG by freshman Kanon Parkman.

The Razorbacks battled back and got on the scoreboard with a 7-yard run by the Hogs' leading rusher, E.D. Jackson. The run capped off an eight-play 37-yard drive by the Razorbacks.

The second half continued to be a showcase for the play of Hastings and Zeier and the ball-hawking Georgia defense led by junior linebacker Torrey Evans.

Georgia's defense forced Arkansas quarterback Jason Allen into throwing five interceptions. Evans came off the bench for the injured John Allen and played brilliantly, recording four tackles, an interception and fumble recovery to earn defensive MVP honors.

The game's offensive MVP, Hastings caught four passes for 94 yards and outran all pursuers on a third quarter 53-yard reverse that put the Bulldogs out front 24-7. The Hogs added eight points in the fourth quarter, but it was too late, the Bulldogs had won the Independence Bowl.

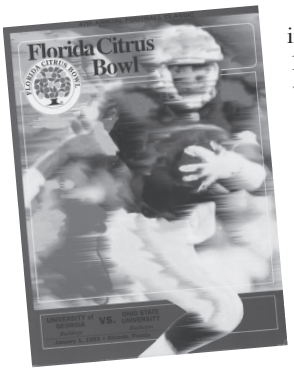
Dogs Beat Ohio State In 1993 Florida Citrus Bowl



Georgia secured its best finish in a decade, including a top-10 final ranking and the first 10-win season since 1983, with a 21-14 victory over Ohio State. A New Year's Day crowd of 65,861 attended the 47th annual Florida Citrus Bowl.

Offensively, Georgia found ball control to its liking in the first quarter as it opened the game with its longest touchdown drive of the season. The Bulldogs drove 80 yards in 14 plays, grinding up 6:18 on the game clock, to take a 7-0 lead. Georgia then opened it up in the second quarter, calling for passes on five of its first eight plays. An Eric Zeier fumble just inside OSU territory proved costly as the Buckeyes drove 54 yards to paydirt in 11 plays for a 7-7 halftime tie.

After the break, Andre Hastings ignited the Dogs' offense on the opening kickoff of the second half with a spectacular 49-yard return. Then from the OSU 45, Garrison Hearst gained all 45 yards on four carries en route to a 14-7 Bulldog advantage. But after a short punt by Georgia, which the Buckeyes returned to the UGA 33, Ohio State seized the opportunity and tied the game again, 14-14, on a five-yard run by Robert Smith.

Slowly, the Buckeyes had taken control of the game's momentum and after a 45-yard completion to Smith to the UGA 15, it appeared Ohio State would take its first lead of the game. But quarterback Kirk Herbstreit fumbled, and the Bulldogs drove 80 yards in 11 plays to take the victory. A final Buckeye drive ended with a desperation pass intercepted in the endzone.

Virginia Rallies For 34-27 Win In 1995 Peach Bowl

At the Peach Bowl, two of the nation's most fatestruck teams took to Atlanta's Georgia Dome in search of season-ending consolation. Although the Bulldogs entered the contest as underdogs, Georgia again battled back from adversity, this time a 14-0 deficit with 4:09 left in the first quarter, only to lose in the closing minute. Virginia's Demetrius Allen proved the difference, returning a Kanon Parkman kickoff for an 83-yard TD with :57 remaining.

Sophomore QB Hines Ward engineered the Georgia comeback, lighting up the Cavalier secondary for 413 yards on 31 of 59 passing. Figure in another 56 yards rushing, and Ward had set new Georgia bowl records for pass attempts, completions, yards passing and total offense. However, a pair of first-quarter interceptions and a blocked Dax Langley punt led to an easy 14 points for Virginia and considerable red and black frustration.

Once again, Georgia's defense kept the team's hope alive. Besides limiting Virginia to 256 yards total offense, the UGA "D" even gave the 70,824 audience a temporary charge when defensive tackle Jason Ferguson returned UVA's Walt Derey fumble 10 yards for a TD—Georgia's first tie of the game (27-27) with only 1:09 left.

Bobo, Edwards Lead UGA Past Badgers in '98 Outback Bowl

Mike Bobo completed 26 of 28 passes for 235 yards and one touchdown and running back Robert Edwards ran for three more scores as Georgia defeated Wisconsin 33-6 before an Outback Bowl crowd of 56,186 and an ESPN national television audience.

Bobo, who earned MVP honors, set an Outback Bowl record for best completion percentage (92.8). He also set Outback and Georgia records for consecutive completions with 19. Edwards set a Georgia bowl mark and tied an Outback record with three rushing touchdowns. Senior Hines Ward set an Outback Bowl record for receptions and yardage with 12 catches for 122 yards.

Georgia sported a new look for the Outback Bowl, donning black pants instead of the traditional "silver britches" to go along with the Bulldogs' white jerseys and red helmets. "The players came to me a while back and requested we do something special for the bowl game," Georgia head coach Jim Donnan said. "The idea the players liked best was wearing black pants. After discussing it with (athletic director) Coach Dooley we decided to go along with the players' suggestion for this game."

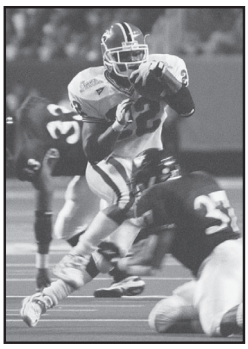
Georgia Rallies Past Virginia In 1998 Peach Bowl



Olandis Gary

No. 19 Georgia rallied from an early second-quarter deficit of 21-0 to post a thrilling 35-33 win over 12th-ranked Virginia. A Peach Bowl record crowd of 72,876 in Atlanta on Dec. 31, 1998 was in attendance for the memorable comeback.

Virginia capitalized on three second quarter interceptions by Georgia freshman Quincy Carter, turning each of them into a touchdown to build a 21-0 lead. Georgia got on the scoreboard when Carter connected with senior Tony Small on an 11-yard score with 1:15 left in the second quarter.

Georgia got its first lead of the night when Olandis Gary capped a 67-yard drive with a 2-yard run on the Dogs' first possession of the fourth quarter. The Bulldogs then built an 8-point lead when Carter called his own number on a quarterback sneak from the one-yard-line with 7:01 remaining.

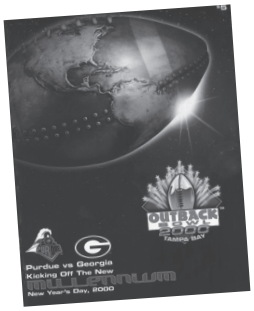
Record Comeback Highlights '00 Outback Win over Purdue



Georgia kicked off the new year by staging the largest comeback in bowl history, scoring 28 unanswered points to defeat Purdue 28-25 in overtime at Raymond James Stadium in front of 54,059 in a game broadcast by ESPN.

Purdue jumped out to an early lead in the first quarter behind three Drew Brees touchdown passes. In the second quarter Brees threw his fourth touchdown pass to Chris James. Purdue missed three of the four extra point opportunities to lead 25-0 with 10:38 left in the first half.

Georgia got its first points of the game on a Terrence Edwards 74-yard touchdown run off an option reverse to cut the lead to 25-7. Quincy Carter, who had 243 yards on 20 of 33 passing with two touchdowns (one rushing, one passing), helped continue the Georgia surge when he scored on an eight-yard run with 4:22 left in the third quarter. Patrick Pass made the two-point conversion to move the score to 25-18.

The Bulldogs tied the score at 25 with just 1:19 left in regulation, when Randy McMichael caught a Carter pass over two defenders for an eight-yard touchdown. In overtime, Georgia managed to stop Purdue on its first drive when Dorsch missed a 43-yard field goal. After two Pass rushes for 19 yards, Hap Hines nailed a 21-yarder to cap the Bulldogs' come from behind victory.

Georgia Cruises Past Virginia In 2000 O'ahu Bowl

Terrence Edwards

The 24th-ranked Georgia Bulldogs (8-4) defeated Virginia 34-17 in the 2000 Jeep O'ahu Bowl in front of an Aloha Stadium crowd of 24,187 and an ESPN television audience on Christmas Eve.

Georgia jumped out to a 17-0 lead in the first quarter. The Bulldogs got on the board with a 35-yard field goal by freshman kicker Billy Bennett. On the Bulldogs' next series, one play after a successful fake punt, Edwards scampered 40 yards into the end zone on a reverse to give Georgia a 10-0 lead. On Virginia's next possession, freshman safety Kentrell Curry recovered a Cavalier fumble in the end zone for the 17-0 lead.

The Cavaliers pulled within 24-14 in the third quarter as senior linebacker Byron Thweatt returned a Georgia fumble 58 yards, but that was as close as Virginia would get. Georgia added two more touchdowns for the final margin, a 21-yard pass from sophomore quarterback Cory Phillips to freshman receiver Damien Gary and a four-yard fumble return by sophomore safety Cap Burnett after senior linebacker Kendrell Bell knocked the ball loose.

Edwards was named MVP after leading UGA in both receiving and rushing with eight catches for 79 yards and five rushes for 97 yards and one touchdown.

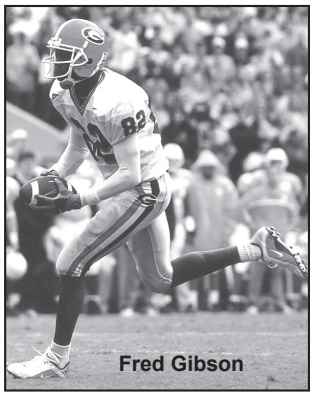
Eagles Edge Dogs In 2001 Music City Bowl



Fred Gibson

Running back William Green scored a 7-yard touchdown with 4:43 remaining to lift Boston College to a 20-16 win over Georgia at the Music City Bowl.

Running back Verron Haynes capped his Georgia career with 132 yards on 27 carries, including a 1-yard scoring run in the third quarter. That touchdown gave the Bulldogs a 16-10 lead.

The Bulldogs began the game with some trickery when Fred Gibson took the opening kickoff and gave a reverse handoff to Decory Bryant, who raced 86 yards to the Boston College 18. On Georgia's second play, Greene found Gibson on a swing pass and he fought his way into the end zone from 15 yards out.

Boston College grabbed the lead in the second quarter when quarterback Brian St. Pierre threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to receiver Dedrick Dewalt. The play was set up by Green's 75-yard run, the longest play allowed by the Bulldogs this season.

Sciortino then converted from 26 yards out to give the Eagles a 13-7 lead. The Bulldogs answered with Bennett's 24-yard field goal as Georgia trailed 13-10 at the break. Haynes' third-quarter touchdown gave the Bulldogs their final lead of the contest.

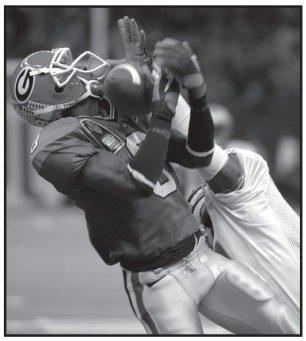
2003 Dogs Get Record 13th Win In Nokia Sugar Bowl



Terrence Edwards

Georgia bowl MVP Musa Smith rushed for 145 yards and Billy Bennett kicked four field goals as Georgia defeated Florida State 26-13 before 74,269 fans in the Nokia Sugar Bowl. Georgia completed the season at 13-1, the most wins in school history.

The Bulldogs' defense forced three turnovers by the Seminoles, including cornerback Bruce Thornton's 71-yard interception return for a touchdown. Nose tackle Ken Veal's fumble recovery led to one of Bennett's four field goals.

Bennett staked the Bulldogs to a 3-0 lead in the first quarter . The Seminoles took their only lead of the game in the second quarter as quarterback Fabian Walker found receiver Anquan Boldin on a 5-yard scoring toss. Thornton's second-quarter interception and score gave Georgia the lead for good.

Bennett pushed the advantage to 20-7 by drilling a 42-yard field goal early in the third quarter. On FSU's next possession, Veal's fumble recovery set up a third Bennett field goal, pushing Georgia ahead 23-7.

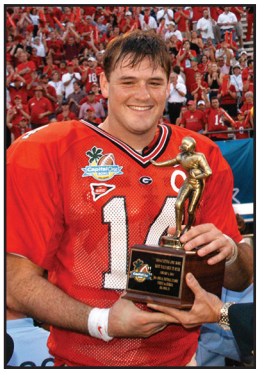
Georgia Defeats Purdue In OT In 2004 Capital One Bowl



David Greene

After scoring the game's first 24 points, Georgia needed a Kregg Lumpkin overtime touchdown run to hold off Purdue, 34-27, in front of a Capital One Bowl crowd of 64,565 and an ABC national television audience.

The Bulldogs opened the game with a nine-play, 68-yard drive culminating in a six-yard Fred Gibson touchdown pass from quarterback and offensive MVP David Greene (left). The Bulldogs used a Billy Bennett field goal and two more Greene TD passes--one each to Gibson and Reggie Brown--to open a 24-0 lead with 4:47 left in the first half.

Purdue scored the fourth quarter's first points on a Kyle Orton two-yard run with 9:11 left. Georgia then used up 4:44 on a 12-play, 57-yard drive ending in a 40-yard Bennett field goal. Late in the fourth, Purdue needed just three plays to go 66 yards and pull within three, 27-24, on a Kyle Orton three-yard touchdown pass. Ben Jones kicked a 44-yard field goal with 49 seconds left to tie the game at 27-all.

On the first possession of overtime, Lumpkin pushed his way into the end zone to give the Bulldogs a 34-27 lead. Purdue also drove inside the 10 yard line, but failed to convert.

Bulldogs Beat Badgers In 2005 Outback Bowl

David Pollack

Georgia (10-2) held off a late Wisconsin rally to defeat the Badgers 24-21 in front of 62,414 Outback Bowl fans at Raymond James Stadium and an ESPN national television audience.

It was the last game for several Bulldog seniors, including All-American DE David Pollack (right) whose three-sack performance earned him Outback Bowl MVP.

Overall, Georgia's defense stifled the Badgers' offense, allowing just 13 points while recording seven quarterback sacks and forcing and recovering two fumbles.

Wisconsin (9-3) took an early second-quarter 6-3 lead in a battle of field goals, but Georgia's offense came to life in the middle of the game. Senior QB David Greene connected on a 24-yard touchdown to Fred Gibson and later a 24-yard TD to senior Jeremy Thomas.

Freshman Thomas Brown notched his fourth 100-yard rushing game of the year with 111 yards on 16 carries, including a 29-yard touchdown run to give Georgia a 24-6 lead.

West Virginia Upsets Dogs In 2006 Nokia Sugar Bowl

Kregg Lumpkin

Georgia was unable to overcome a 28-0 deficit and fell to West Virginia 38-35 in the 2006 Nokia Sugar Bowl in front of 74,458 fans at the Georgia Dome and an ABC national television audience.

Despite three touchdowns and 277 yards passing by quarterback D.J. Shockley, the Bulldogs' late rally fell short after they outscored the Mountaineers 35-10 to finish the game. Tailback Thomas Brown led Georgia with 78 yards rushing, including a 52-yard touchdown.

West Virginia started the game's scoring with three touchdowns in the first quarter and went up 28-0 with 14:10 remaining in the second quarter. Georgia got its first points at the 12:58 mark in the second quarter on Kregg Lumpkin's career-long 34-yard touchdown run.

The Bulldogs managed to close the gap to 38-35 after Shockley connected with fellow senior Bryan McClendon for a 43-yard touchdown with 5:13 left in the fourth quarter. But West Virginia converted a fake punt in the game's final drive, enabling the Mountaineers to run the clock out.

Bulldogs Rally Past Va. Tech In 2006 Chick-fil-A Bowl

Tony Taylor

Georgia stormed back from an 18-point deficit to defeat 14th-ranked Virginia Tech 31-24 in the Chick-fil-A Bowl in the Georgia Dome in front of a bowl-record crowd of 75,406 and a national ESPN television audience.

Bulldog linebacker Tony Taylor (two interceptions) and quarterback Matthew Stafford (129 yards, 1 TD) were named the Defensive and Offensive MVPs. In the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs got scoring runs from tailback Kregg Lumpkin and fullback Brannan Southerland along with one of kicker Brandon Coutu's three field goals (including a Georgia bowl record 51-yarder) to complete the comeback.

Georgia led 3-0 after the first quarter, but then the Hokies built a 21-3 halftime edge. Taylor's interception at the start of the fourth quarter set up the game-tying touchdown, a 3-yard Lumpkin run. On the Hokies' next possession, Charles Johnson sacked Sean Glennon and caused him to fumble, which Quentin Moses recovered. It led to the go-ahead field goal by Coutu.

Bulldogs Blast Hawai'i To Win 2008 Sugar Bowl

Knowshon Moreno

The Bulldogs trounced previously undefeated Hawai'i 41-10 in the Sugar Bowl on New Years night from the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans, La. This was the most points the Bulldogs have ever scored in a bowl game as well as their largest margin of victory in a bowl game.

Georgia struck early against the Warriors, starting with a Knowshon Moreno 17-yard touchdown run with 9:42 in the first quarter. Moreno also had an 11-yard scoring run late in the first period.

Early in the second half, defensive end Marcus Howard sacked Warrior quarterback Colt Brennan on the goal line and recovered Brennan's fumble on the play for a TD, the first of his career. Thomas Brown got in on the scoring action with a one-yard scamper in the third quarter, and QB Matthew Stafford got into the books with an 11-yard TD pass to Sean Bailey midway through the second quarter.

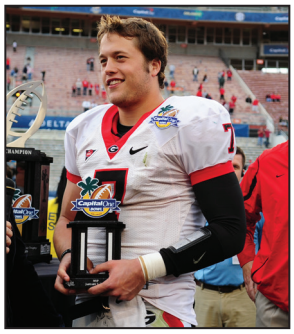
Bulldogs Notch 10th Win At 2009 Capital One Bowl



Matthew Stafford

Matthew Stafford threw three touchdown passes in the final 18 minutes against Michigan State, as the Bulldogs posted a 24-12 Capital One Bowl victory in front of 59,681 fans and an ABC national television audience.

The first half was ugly for Stafford, projected to be an early first-round NFL draft pick, and Georgia. He was just 6-for-14 with an interception in the first half and Michigan State (9-4) led 6-3. In the second half, he looked more like the quarterback NFL teams covet. He completed 14 of his final 17 throws, including three TD passes.

Stafford started the comeback by directing a 10-play, 96-yard drive midway through the third quarter. He went 6-for-6 for 92 yards and capped it with a 35-yard touchdown toss to Michael Moore. Stafford and Aron White hooked up on a 21-yard TD toss with 9 seconds left in the third quarter to put Georgia up 17-6.

Dogs Defeat Texas A&M For Independence Bowl Win

Georgia closed out the 2009 football season in dominant fashion as it defeated Texas A&M 44-20 in the AdvoCare V100 Independence Bowl in front of 49,653 fans in Shreveport, La.

After the Aggies tied the game early in the third quarter, Georgia scored 30 unanswered points to win with relative ease. The 44 points was a Bulldog bowl record.

Neither team scored until the final 2:33 of the second quarter, when Georgia followed an A&M touchdown with two quick scores before halftime, highlighted by Brandon Boykin's kickoff return.

A 49-yard field goal by Blair Walsh with 9:25 left in the third quarter gave Georgia the lead for good and started the string of 30 consecutive points.

Brandon Boykin

Georgia's defense, coached by defensive line coach Rodney Garner and graduate assistants Mitch Doolittle and Todd Hartley, was led by sophomore linebacker Marcus Dowtin, who had nine tackles. Junior linebacker Rennie Curran had eight, and junior safety Reshad Jones had five tackles and an interception.

No. 24 UCF Edges Bulldogs In 2010 Liberty Bowl

Georgia saw its four-game bowl winning streak stopped by dropping a 10-6 decision to #24 Central Florida in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl, marking Georgia's first postseason loss since the 2006 Sugar Bowl.

UCF's Latavius Murray scored on a 10-yard touchdown run with 9:01 left, and the Knights were able to stave off Georgia to post the victory. The Bulldogs had the ball last and converted two fourth downs before Kemal Ishmael knocked down Aaron Murray's final throw into the end zone as time expired.

A.J. Green

The Bulldogs also started both halves driving down field easily before bogging down and settling for field goals of 20 and 41 yards by Blair Walsh. These teams went to halftime tied at 3-3 after a first half in which both Georgia and UCF wasted chances at the end zone.

No. 12 MSU Rallies Past Bulldogs In 2012 Outback Bowl

Tavarres King

Georgia dropped a 33-30 decision to Michigan State in a thrilling three-overtime game in the Outback Bowl in front of 49,429 fans and a nationally televised ABC audience.

Bulldog junior Tavarres King set a school-record with 205 yards receiving on six catches, including a career-long 80-yard TD. Defensive back Brandon Boykin, who was named the MVP of the game, forced a safety, returned a punt 92 yards for a TD and scored on a 13-yard run.

With 2:06 left, MSU quarterback Kirk Cousins led a 10-play 85-yard drive that tied the game at 27-27 to send it into overtime. After an interception by Bacarri Rambo on MSU's first possession, Georgia senior Blair Walsh missed a 42-yard field goal to send it to another overtime. Both teams exchanged field goals in the second OT. The Spartans opened the third OT with a field goal that gave them a 33-30 lead. Georgia had a chance to tie it again, but its 47-yard field goal attempt was blocked, sealing the win for the Spartans.

Bulldogs Defeat Nebraska In 2013 Capital One Bowl

Chris Conley

No. 5 Georgia handed the 21st-ranked Nebraska Cornhuskers a 45-31 loss in front of 59,712 fans and a national TV audience in the Capital One Bowl.

On the second Georgia drive of the game, Aaron Murray capped an 80-yard drive with a 29-yard completion to Arthur Lynch.

Nebraska answered with a pair of TDs to take a 14-9 lead, but the lead didn't last, as Todd Gurley rushed for a 24-yard TD. The Huskers responded with a six-play, 44-yard drive that resulted in a 39-yard field goal that made it a 23-17 game midway through the second quarter. After a Georgia three-and-out, Nebraska took a 24-23 lead on a 16-yard pass to Rex Burkhead.

On the opening drive of the second half, Nebraska scored on a two-yard TD run by Burkhead that extended Nebraska's lead to 31-23. Georgia answered on the following drive with a 49-yard touchdown grab by Chris Conley. Georgia scored TDs on its next two possessions to take a 45-31 lead and seal the bowl victory.

Nebraska Holds On For 2014 TaxSlayer.com Gator Bowl Win

No. 23 Georgia Bulldogs sustained a 24-19 loss to Nebraska in the TaxSlayer.com Gator Bowl in front of 60,712 fans in Jacksonville and a national ESPN audience.

After a scoreless first quarter, Hutson Mason led Georgia on an 12-play, 38-yard drive that produced a Marshall Morgan 39-yard field goal. Nebraska, however, took advantage of a fumbled punt return by the Bulldogs to take a 7-3 lead with 9:05 left in the second quarter. The teams traded field goals to complete first-half scoring with the Huskers holding a 10-9 edge.

Todd Gurley

Nebraska forged ahead 24-12 with touchdowns on its first two possessions of the second half. The latter came on a 99-yard pass from Tommy Armstrong, Jr. to Quincy Enunwa with 4:58 left in the third quarter.

Georgia scored its first touchdown of the game at the start of the fourth quarter when Hutson Mason passed for 25 yards to Todd Gurley. Later in the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs looked to take the lead, twice driving inside the Nebraska 20. Georgia was unable to convert on either fourth down, however, allowing Nebraska to come away with the victory.

Nick Chubb
Belk Bowl MVP

Nick Chubb rushed for a UGA-bowl record 266 yards to propel No. 13 Georgia past 20th-ranked Louisville 37-14 in front of a crowd of 45,671 and a national ESPN audience in the Belk Bowl at Bank of America Stadium in Charlotte.

Georgia struck first, taking a 7-0 lead on a nine-play, 60-yard drive in the first quarter. On 2nd-and-14, Hutson Mason connected with Chris Conley for a 45-yard touchdown that gave the Bulldogs a 7-0 lead after the Marshall Morgan PAT.

The Cardinals answered on the next drive, going 84 yards on nine plays to tie the game at 7-7. Gerald Christian scored the TD on an 11-yard pass from Kyle Bolin.

Already leading 20-7 at halftime, Georgia broke the game open late in the third quarter. Chubb's 82-yard run, starting at his own 3-yard line, paved the way for Sony Michel to score from two yards out with 5:41 left. After UL answered with a score, the Bulldogs put the game out of reach in the fourth period with a Morgan field goal and an 8-yard TD run by Chubb.

Terry Godwin
Taxslayer Bowl MVP

After jumping ahead 24-3 in the third quarter, Georgia was able to hold on and beat Penn State 24-17 in the TaxSlayer Bowl at Jacksonville's EverBank Field.

Freshman Terry Godwin became the first non-quarterback to throw for a score for Georgia since 2005, and the first Bulldog wideout to throw for a score since 1998, when he hit senior Malcolm Mitchell in stride for a 44-yard strike for the first touchdown of the game. Later in the first half, he pulled in a 17-yard touchdown from Greyson Lambert.

After Sony Michel's third-quarter TD run pushed Georgia comfortably ahead, Penn State finally broke through on the first play of the fourth quarter. Backup quarterback Trace McSorley connected with Geno Lewis for a 17-yard score. Two drives later, McSorley hit DaeSean Hamilton for a TD that trimmed the margin to 24-17.

Georgia got the ball back and consumed most of the remaining 6:07 with a solid drive. Bulldog defenders, however, had to preserve the victory by batting down a 43-yard Hail Mary heave by McSorley on the final play.

Ground Attack Pushes Dogs Past TCU in Liberty Bowl Win

Sony Michel

The Georgia Bulldogs grabbed the school's 30th all-time bowl victory in a 31-23 win over the TCU Horned Frogs in the Autozone Liberty Bowl at the Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium in Memphis.

Georgia junior tailbacks Nick Chubb and Sony Michel combined for 268 total yards and three touchdowns. Chubb amassed 142 yards on the ground, including a 13-yard touchdown run that strengthened the Bulldogs' lead to eight points at 31-23 with 2:48 left in the game.

Michel, the Liberty Bowl Offensive MVP, supplied the Bulldogs with one rushing touchdown on 87 yards and another on 39 receiving yards. On the defensive side of the ball, sophomore lineman Trenton Thompson collected three sacks, a Liberty Bowl record, and was named Liberty Bowl Overall MVP and defensive MVP.

Georgia took its first lead of the game at 21-16 on a 4-yard pass from Jacob Eason to Javon Wims midway through the third quarter. The Horned Frogs answered late in the period with a short touchdown pass of their own. Rodrigo Blankenship's 30-yard field goal 90 seconds into the fourth quarter gave Georgia the lead for keeps.

Bulldogs Top Sooners In Classic Rose Bowl Game

• Sony Michel's 27-yard touchdown run in the second overtime capped one of the wildest games in program history, a 4-hour roller coaster ride that sent Georgia into the National Championship Game.

• Michel's winning score was his fourth of a career-best game, one in which he gained 181 yards rushing and also caught four passes.

• Georgia overcame a 17-point second-quarter deficit and and a 7-point margin in the final minutes of regulation. Nick Chubb scored the equalizer on a 2-yard sprint around right end with just 55 seconds left, knotting the score at 45. The tying drive covered 59 yards in seven plays.

• After an exchange of field goals in the first overtime, Lorenzo Carter blocked a Sooner field goal from 27 yards to give Georgia the advantage. It was the Bulldogs' third block of a placement kick in the 2017 season and fourth block overall.

Bulldogs' Bid for Title Falls Short vs. Alabama

Mecole Hardman

• Alabama defeated Georgia in the 2018 College Football Playoff National Championship Game, overcoming two 13-point deficits and an errant field goal attempt that would have won it in regulation.

• Still, the Bulldogs led in overtime on the strength of a 51-yard field goal by Rodrigo Blankenship. They even took the upper hand by sacking Bama quarterback Tua Tagovailoa for a 16-yard loss on the Tide's first play in the extra period. But on second down, Tagovailoa hit DeVonta Smith for a 41-yard scoring pass that ended the game.

• Georgia controlled the first half, taking a 13-0 lead on Mecole Hardman's 1-yard run just before intermission. Hardman scored again on an 80-yard pass from Jake Fromm with 6:52 left in the third quarter, answering Bama's first score of the night.

• This game marked Georgia's first appearance since 1982 in a game where victory would have given it a national title in football.

• It was also the first time that any Bulldog team had played consecutive overtime games. Georgia is now 8-6 all-time in overtime contests, including 3-3 at neutral sites.

Texas Topples Bulldogs In Sugar Bowl Upset

NEW ORLEANS — A fast start by Texas -- aided partly by a pair of early Georgia miscues -- enabled the #15 Longhorns to post a surpising upset victory over the fifth-ranked Bulldogs in the 85th annual Allstate Sugar Bowl.

Texas tallied scores on four of its first five possessions in building a 20-7 first-half lead. The margin reached 28-7 before Georgia put together two scoring drives in the fourth period, the latter touchdown with just 14 seconds left.

Texas took the opening kickoff and and marched 75 yards in 10 plays, with quarterback Sam Ehlinger covering the final two yards on a keeper. The ensuing Georgia drive stalled at its own 41-yard line, whereupon a low snap caused punter Jake Camarda to field it with his right knee touching the turf at the 27. Georgia's defense, however, forced the Longhorns to settle for a 37-yard field goal.

After an exchange of punts, D'Andre Swift's fumble at his own 12-yard line gave Texas another scoring opportunity. The Longhorns took advantage when Ehlinger scrambled for a 9-yard score three plays later for a 17-0 margin.

Georgia responded with its most effective drive of the night. Jake Fromm completed four passes and Elijah Holyfield ran four times for 20 yards in a touchdown drive that covered 75 yards in 5:50. Brian Herrien caught a 17-yard pass from Fromm for the score at the 9:03 mark of the second quarter.

The Texas lead reached 28-7 on Ehlinger's 1-yard plunge with 11:49 left in the game. Georgia answered with a quick touchdown drive of its own, as well as another late score in the final seconds. Texas, however, was able to expire the clock after it recovered an onside kick at the 47-yard line.

Coach Kirby Smart said…

"I want to congratulate Texas. Tom [Herman] did a great job with his team and his program. They've gotten better throughout the season. They played more physical than us, and it showed to me that they wanted it more than we did. And you've got to give them credit for that."

Texas running back Tre Watson is brought down by a host of UGA defenders in first-half action of the Allstate Sugar Bowl.

Worth Noting…

• Georgia finished the season 11-3 while UT improved to 10-4. The Bulldogs made their 55th all-time bowl appearance, including the program's 22nd consecutive appearance. With the loss, the Bulldogs are now 31-21-3. The 2018 senior class finished its career with a 42-13 mark and that win total ties for third in school history with the 2004 team.

• Georgia made its 10th all-time appearance in the Sugar Bowl and with the 28-21 loss, it is now 4-6 here. Texas now holds a 4-1 edge in the series history with UGA. The teams are slated to meet during the regular season in 2028 (Austin) and 2029 (Athens).

• In the first half, junior Elijah Holyfield gained 43 rushing yards on nine carries, to give him 999 yards for the year. He went over the 1000-yard mark with an 11-yard gain on the first play of the 2nd half and finished the game with 62 yards and 1,018 total for the season. Holyfield is the 15th Bulldog to have a 1,000-yard season for the 21st time total. Holyfield joins sophomore D'Andre Swift who hit that milestone in the SEC Championship Game. Swift finished the season with 1,049 yards. It marks the second straight year that Georgia has had a pair of 1,000-yard rushers after Nick Chubb (1,345 yards) & Sony Michel (1,227 yards) did it a year ago.

• Coming in to the game, Georgia ranked 13th nationally in scoring at 39.2 points per game but was held to 21 points and 274 yards of total offense. Georgia was blanked in the first half for the first time since the LSU game on Oct. 13 (Down 16-0).

The Arch

Serving as the official symbol of the University of Georgia, the Arch was built in the 1850s and originally served as part of a larger iron fence securing the campus. Daniel Redfearn (BL 1909, BS 1910) is credited with making the Arch the sacred symbol of UGA. Recognized as one of the school's finest icons, students today hold the Arch in high regard as its three pillars represent the virtues of wisdom, justice, and moderation.

The Arch

The "G"

In 1963 after becoming the Bulldogs' Head Football Coach, Vince Dooley redesigned the football uniform, choosing a red helmet with a black "G" on a white background as the dominant feature of the new uniform for the 1964 season.

He discussed with his staff that a forward-looking "G" would be an appropriate emblem for the helmet of the Georgia team. Dooley had just hired John Donaldson, former Georgia player from 1945 to 1948, as backfield coach. Donaldson was keen on the idea of a new image and volunteered his wife, Anne, who had a BFA in commercial art from UGA, to design a logo for the new Georgia helmet with the general specifications Dooley had outlined. Dooley accepted Anne's original "G" which fit his vision for a forward look to Georgia's new emblem.

Since the Georgia "G", though different in design and color, was similar to Green Bay's "G", Coach Dooley thought it best to clear the use of Georgia's new emblem with the NFL team. Athletic Director Joel Eaves called for permission, which was granted. However, since its inception in 1961, the Green Bay "G" has been redesigned several times and now looks like Georgia's original 1964 "G." Georgia is proud that the Packers apparently liked the special nuances of the Bulldogs' forward-looking "G".

Georgia's oval "G", eventually replacing Georgia's old block "G" as the official UGA symbol, has stood the test of time. It made its first appearance in the opening game in 1964 and was an immediate hit with the Georgia fans, especially after Dooley's first three teams were so successful—highlighted by the 1966 SEC Championship.

"Silver Britches"

Silver Britches were an innovation of Coach Wally Butts, who took over as head coach in 1939. The handsome pants complemented the bright red jersey and made for a striking uniform. Through the years, fans referred to the Bulldogs' silver britches in their chants and on banners, but the phrase really caught on in the early fifties with a cheer, banners, and colorful vests that proclaimed "Go, You Silver Britches." Coach Vince Dooley re-designed the uniform when he came in 1964 and used white pants; however, he re-instituted the silver britches in 1980 just prior to what turned out to be Georgia's national championship season.

The Chapel Bell

The ringing of the chapel bell after a Georgia victory is a tradition that continues even though freshmen are no longer ordered to do the chore. In the 1890's, the playing field was located only yards from the Chapel and first-year students were compelled to ring the bell until midnight in celebration of a Bulldog victory. Today students, alumni, and townspeople still rush to the Chapel to ring the bell after a gridiron victory.

"Between the Hedges"

"Lone Trumpeter"

"Silver Britches"

"Glory, Glory"

Among the University's oldest and most lasting traditions is the school fight song, "Glory, Glory," which is sung to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." It was sung at games as early as the 1890's, but arranged in its present form by Georgia's immortal musician-composer Hugh Hodgson in 1915. There have been many Bulldog songs through the years and at least two collections dating back to 1909 have been published, but none have enjoyed more acceptance than "Glory, Glory."

"How 'Bout Them Dogs"

This is a slogan of recent vintage, but one that has become a battle cry of Bulldog fans probably because of its obvious grammatical slur. It first surfaced during the mid to late 1970's especially during the 1978 season when the Bulldogs posted several remarkable, come-from-behind victories. It gained national attention and exposure when Georgia won the national championship in 1980. A major wire service used the phrase in its story of Georgia's victory over Notre Dame and many newspapers picked it up in glaring headlines across the country proclaiming "How 'Bout Them Dogs!"

"Bulldogs"

Many oldtimers say Georgia acquired the nickname, "Bulldogs," because of the strong ties with Yale, whose nickname is "Bulldogs." Georgia's first president, Abraham Baldwin, was a Yale man and the early buildings on campus were designed from blueprints of the same buildings at Yale. However, the first references to the nickname "Bulldogs" actually came in the 1910's (1911-20) by Atlanta newspaper writers covering both football and baseball games. Although used occasionally during the previous decade, the nickname began to be consistently used around 1920.

On Nov. 3, 1920, Morgan Blake of the Atlanta Journal wrote about school nicknames and said "The Georgia Bulldogs would sound good because there is a certain dignity about a bulldog, as well as ferocity." After a 0-0 tie with Virginia in Charlottesville on Nov. 6, 1920, Atlanta Constitution writer Cliff Wheatley used the name "Bulldogs" in his story five times. Gene Hinton also used the term "Bulldogs." The nickname seemed to be off and running.

"Between The Hedges"

A reference to Sanford Stadium that dates to the early 1930's. The famous Chinese privet hedges that surround Sanford's playing field were only one foot high when the stadium was dedicated in 1929 and were protected by a wooden fence. It was natural for a clever sports writer, referring to an upcoming home game, to observe "that the Bulldogs will have their opponent 'between the hedges." At least one old-timer says the phrase was first coined by the legendary Atlanta sportswriter Grantland Rice.

"Lone Trumpeter"

Seven minutes before kickoff in Sanford Stadium, the Bulldog Nation directs its attention to a lone trumpeter standing in the upper deck of the southwest corner of the stadium. The soloist is recognized and begins to play the first 14 notes of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." The Battle Hymn solo was originally composed in 1987 as a student project by Jeff Simmons and became a part of the pre-game traditions in 2000. Each year, 25-30 members of the Redcoat Band audition for one of the 4-5 soloist positions.

Although the University of Georgia is now known as the home of Uga, the pure white English bulldog, several mascots led the Red and Black before Frank W. Seiler provided the current lineage beginning in 1956.

The Goat -- Feb. 22, 1892

Georgia's mascot for its first football game against Auburn, February 22, 1892 in Atlanta, Ga., was a goat. Old newspaper clippings indicate that the goat wore a black coat with red U.G. letters on each side. He also had on a hat with ribbons all down his high horns, and the Auburn fans yelled throughout the game "shoot the billy-goat."

Trilby, 1894

Trilby with owner Charles H. Black

In 1894, Georgia's mascot was a solid white female bull terrier owned by a student, Charles H. Black, Sr., of Atlanta. Trilby, named after a novel by George Du Maurier, served as the campus pet and mascot for the Chi Phi fraternity.

Disputing stories speculate the origin of the Bulldog nickname, and the story of Trilby provides yet another opinion: "...every day Trilby took herself down to old Herty field with her master for football practice. She ran signals with the best of them and became an accustomed figure on the athletic field...One morning, Trilby failed to appear for her breakfast and after a frantic search she was finally discovered proudly washing the faces of her newborn family, 13 white puppies...Late one dusky fall afternoon, Trilby appeared for a grid workout and scampering after her came her 13 children, darting through players' legs, barking and pace. 'Well,' suggested one of the players, 'Trilby has brought us a name, Bulldogs.' ...Every time a game was played on Herty Field, the boys would floss Trilby and her 13 offerings up with red and black ribbons, and so attired they have gone down in history as perhaps the first 'sponsors' in southern football." —Ruth Stanton Cogill (Atlanta newspaper)

"After the rein of Trilby and her family, chaos developed in the mascot department at the university. Many games had several, depending on which alumnus got his dog to the game first." —AJC, Nov. 18, 1962

Mr. Angel, 1944-46

Mr. Angel, a brindle and white colored English Bulldog owned by Eastman,Ga.,-physician, Warren Coleman, filled a void during some of the war years.

There was no mascot roaming the sidelines and Coleman took Mr. Angel to games and stood with him on the sidelines. His picture on the field and with the Georgia cheerleaders appears in the 1945 and '46 UGA annual, the Pandora.

Butch, 1947-50

Butch was a brindled English bulldog owned by Mabry Smith of Warner Robins, Ga. He was spotted by students who were attending the 1946 Georgia-Georgia Tech game in Athens, and the canine appeared to be suited for the mascot position. Smith agreed to loan Butch to the University during the football season along with a female puppy named Tuffy. The female died of a heart attack following the Georgia-Kentucky game in 1948, but Butch continued to serve. Spending the off-season at Smith's home in Warner Robins, Butch was tragically shot in the summer of 1951 by a policeman after the dog escaped from his pen and was found roaming the streets. Butch is buried behind Smith's business along Watson Boulevard.

In 2004 plans for a marker honoring Butch in his hometown were put into motion by longtime Warner Robins resident Guy Fussell.

Mike, 1951-55

Uga Takes the Field

In the last 100 years of intercollegiate football, Georgia's Uga has established himself as the nation's most well-known mascot. The line of pure white English bulldogs, which epitomizes everything Georgia, has been owned by the Frank W. "Sonny" Seiler family of Savannah, Ga., since Uga I first graced the campus in 1956.

Through the years, Uga has been defined by his spiked collar, a symbol of the position which he holds. He was given his name, an abbreviation for the university, by William Young of Columbus, a law school classmate of Seiler. Each of the Uga mascots is awarded a varsity letter in the form of a plaque, identical to those presented to all Bulldog athletes who letter in their respective sports.

As determined and published by the Pittsburgh Press, the University of Georgia is the only major college that actually buries its mascots within the confines of the stadium. Ugas I-IX are buried in marble vaults near the main gate in the embankment of the South stands. Epitaphs to the dogs are inscribed in bronze, and before each home game, flowers are placed on their graves. The memorial plot attracts hundreds of fans and visitors each year.

For the past 20 years, Uga's jerseys have been custom-made at the beginning of each season from the same material used for the players' jerseys. Old jerseys are destroyed.

Uga's on-field home is a permanent air conditioned doghouse located next to the cheerleader's platform, providing comfort in the heat of August and September. The custom-made doghouse is a gift from the Bahamian Bulldog Club of Nassau, Bahamas, through the courtesy of Fred Hazlewood.

Uga I, 1956-66
"Hood's Ole Dan"
Record: 53-48-6

Uga I

The current Uga line of solid white English bulldogs began with Uga I, Hood's Ole Dan, born Dec. 2, 1955, in Columbus. Uga I was given to Cecelia Seiler by a friend, Frank Heard of Columbus and appeared in his first game in the 1956 home opener. As recalled by Sonny Seiler, "...his original red jerseys were made by Cecelia. It was necessary to take up children's t-shirts to fit the dog in the right places. There is no telling how many of these jersey's he wore out. During the early games in Athens, especially the hot ones before he had a dog house, the large green hedges that surround Sanford Stadium afford welcomed shade in the heat of battle. Unfortunately, the hedges constantly tore these jerseys and new ones had to be made."

"Ole Dan's Uga"
Record: 42-16-3

Uga I was succeeded by his son, Ole Dan's Uga at an impressive pregame ceremony at Homecoming, 1966. With the Georgia Redcoat Band lining the field, Uga II was led to the center of the field by Charles Seiler, son of Sonny and Cecelia. The student body erupted in a cheer that was picked up by the entire stadium, "Damn Good Dog!"

Uga II had an impressive reign as he watched Georgia participate in five bowl games and win two SEC championships.

Uga III

"Seiler's Uga Three"
Record: 71-32-2

Born Oct. 9, 1972, Seiler's Uga III was present for Georgia football's finest moment as Herschel Walker took the Bulldogs to the 1980 national championship. He led Georgia to six bowl games in nine years and closed out his career in ultimate fashion winning the 1980 NCAA championship. Uga III retired on the 100th football game of his career, marking the season-opener of the 1981 season. He died just weeks later.

Uga IV

Uga IV, 1981-89
"Seiler's Uga Four"
Record: 77-27-4

Uga IV was perhaps the most active of all the Georgia mascots, standing as the only one to attend a bowl game every year of his service (1981-89). He took over for Uga III in the 1981 season opener and over the next nine seasons, led Georgia to a record of 77-27-4. The highlight of his career was his personal appearance at the Heisman Trophy Banquet with Herschel Walker in New York on December 9, 1982. Uga IV was escorted through thebanquet hall by the president of the Downtown Athletic Club, and was earlier photographed with Herschel by photographers from across the country. The proud Bulldog donned his game jersey for the outing and added the formal touch of a collar and black tie. Uga IV was the first mascot invited to the Heisman Banquet.Declared "Dog of the Decade" by Vince Dooley in 1991, Uga IV was posthumously awarded the highest honor available to University of Georgia mascots — the Georgia varsity letter.

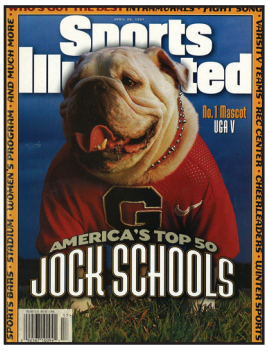
Otto

Otto, 1986
"The Substitute"
Record: 3-1

Although Otto was not pure white like his father, he was called upon to fill in for his younger brother, Uga IV, who injured ligaments in his left hind knee when jumping off a hotel bed before the Vanderbilt contest. In four games during the 1986 season, Otto led the team to a 3-1 record and also co-mascotted (along with Uga IV), a victory over instate rival Georgia Tech. After winning his first two games, fans cheered, "2-and-0 with Otto!" Dooley, serving as head coach during Otto's brief tenure, favored the substitute the most. "I have always had a great affection for those who came off the bench and performed, and he did that and had a great time," Dooley said. Otto is buried in the Seiler's backyard.

Uga V, 1990-99
"UGA IV's Magillicuddy II"
Record: 65-39-1



In the first game of 1990, Uga V officially began his reign as the Georgia mascot, taking over from his father Uga IV, who passed away at his home in Savannah on Feb. 26, 1990. Uga V was the last pup sired by Uga IV and was born on March 6, 1990.

Named in honor of one of the greatest Bulldogs, Dan Magill, former Assistant Athletic Director for Public Relations and longtime tennis coach and sports information director. Surprisingly, the Seiler family became aware that Uga IV's mate was expecting only 10 days before the litter was due. This notice came a week after Uga IV had passed away at his home in Savannah from kidney failure. There were only three pups in the litter and the last one born on March 6 was the only solid white male.

Uga V had been perhaps the most well known of all the Bulldog mascots, highlighted by his appearance on the cover of the April 28, 1997, Sports Illustrated which declared him the nation's best college mascot. Rocketed to stardom, he also appeared in Clint Eastwood's "Midnight In The Garden Of Good And Evil" — filmed in his hometown of Savannah, Ga. He died on Nov. 22, 1999, just over two months after his retirement.

"Uga V's Whatchagot Loran"
Record: 87-27

In 2007, Uga VI became the winningest mascot in school history and owned a record of 87-27. The fall of 2008 would have been his 10th season after Uga VI reigned over more games than any other mascot with 114. He died on June 27, 2008. In his last game, the Bulldogs defeated Hawai'i 41-10 in the 2008 Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

The pregame passing of the bone ceremony from Uga V to his heftier and friskier son, Whatchagot Loran, took place at the 1999 Georgia-South Carolina contest. Only a year old at his coronation, Uga VI stood as the biggest of all the Uga mascots weighing in at 65 pounds — 20 pounds heavier than his father.

His first season climaxed in a magnificent come from behind victory over Purdue at the Outback Bowl in Tampa. The 2000 season ended in Hawaii, but due to the distance and a quarantine rule, Uga VI missed the O'ahu Bowl, marking the first time the Georgia mascot had missed the postseason game since the 1969 Sun Bowl.

Alongside first-year head coach Mark Richt, Uga VI saw his third consecutive 8-4 season, which included a 26-24 win at then-No. 6 Tennessee for the Bulldogs' first win in Knoxville since 1980.

Uga VI and Georgia experienced their best run in two decades during the 2002-05 seasons. That stretch included 44 wins, a pair of SEC titles and appearances in the Sugar, Capital One and Outback Bowls.

In 2007, Uga VI passed Uga IV (77-24-4) for the most wins of any bulldog in school history.

"Loran's Best"
Record: 16-7

The seventh in the Uga line of Georgia mascots was introduced to the Georgia people on Aug. 30, 2008, during pre-game ceremonies of the Bulldogs' season opener against Georgia Southern.

"Loran's Best" officially became "Uga VII," when he was introduced for the first time to the Sanford Stadium crowd prior to kickoff of the Georgia vs. Georgia Southern game. He was escorted onto the field by members of the Frank W. "Sonny" Seiler family of Savannah who have owned the continuous line of mascots since Uga I took up the mantle in 1956.

Uga VII passed away unexpectedly on Nov. 19 of heart-related causes. It was the Thursday before the final home game of the 2009 season and the Bulldogs did not have a live mascot at the game. Instead, a wreath was placed on UGA VII's doghouse, and the players wore a special UGA VII decal on their helmets to remember him. "Russ," the five-year-old half brother of Uga VII, served as the Bulldog mascot for the Georgia Tech game in Atlanta and helped his squad to a 30-24 win. He was the first substitute mascot since "Otto" in 1986.

Epitaph: Gone Too Soon

Uga VIII, 2010
"Big Bad Bruce"
Record: 4-2

Uga VIII

Born Sept. 12, 2009 in Savannah, Ga., Uga VIII is the grandson of Uga VI. He carried on the tradition of more than 60 years of all-white bulldogs bred by Frank "Sonny" Seiler and family.

Uga VIII was named in honor of Dr. Bruce Hollett from the University's School of Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Hollett has been a longtime caregiver for the famed line of English bulldogs. UGA VIII served six games in the 2010 season before he became ill and missed the AutoZone Liberty Bowl. He passed away with lymphoma on February 4, 2011.

Epitaph: He Never Had a Chance

("Russ", 2009-2012: 16-9)
Record: 44-19

Uga IX

"Uga IX, formerly "Russ," the half-brother of Uga VII, served as interim Bulldog mascot for a total of 25 games. He worked nine games during the 2009 and 2010 seasons after Uga VII and VIII passed away. He roamed the sidelines at all 14 games during the 2011 season. He then served for two wins at the beginning of the 2012 season before being promoted as Uga IX prior to the Florida Atlantic game on Sept. 15, 2012. His time as mascot included the 2011 and 2012 SEC Eastern Division championships, three road wins at Georgia Tech, a victory over Texas A&M in the 2009 Independence Bowl in Shreveport, La., and a win over Nebraska in the 2013 Capital One Bowl. He was the first substitute mascot since "Otto" in 1986.

Epitaph: He endeared himself to the Georgia people. His dedication to duty when called upon was exemplary.

Uga X, 2015-Present
Record: 53-15

Uga IX officially retired as the Bulldogs' mascot at the end of the 2014 season. After a three-month "audition" in that role, his grandson "Que" was formally crowned as his successor in a collaring ceremony prior to the Georgia-Georgia Southern game on Nov. 21, 2015. Que assumed the title of Uga X at the age of 2 1/2 years. During his audition, he made appearances at the Countdown to Kickoff event in July 2015, as well as Picture Day in August, before presiding over the entirety of the 2015 football season. Que capped his inaugural season by leading the team to a 24-17 victory over Penn State at the 2016 Taxslayer Bowl.

Greg McGarity

J. Reid Parker
Director of Athletics

Athens native and University of Georgia graduate Greg McGarity was named Director of Athletics at UGA on August 13, 2010, after serving 18 years in the athletic department at the University of Florida. Since that time, McGarity has emphasized exploring new ideas and initiatives designed to move the organization forward in all areas of competition, academics, service, and exceptional experiences for student-athletes and supporters.

McGarity oversees a 21-sport athletics program supported by a budget of $154 million. Since he became Director of Athletics, UGA teams have won national championships in women's swimming and diving (2013, '14, '16), equestrian (2014), women's indoor track and field (2018), men's outdoor track and field (2018), women's indoor tennis (2019) and SEC championships in football (2017), men's tennis (2011, '13, '14, '15, '16, '17), men's tennis SEC Tournament (2012, '13, '17), women's tennis (2013, '19), women's tennis SEC Tournament (2014), women's swimming and diving (2011, '12, '13, '14, and '15), equestrian (2015, '17, and '18), and four SEC eastern division titles in football (2011, 2012, 2017 and 2018). The 2017 football team was also the 2018 Rose Bowl champion and College Football Playoff national runnerup. During McGarity's tenure as AD, 18 different Georgia teams have been ranked in the nation's top 20 and 10 in the top ten. Georgia's finish in the Learfield Directors' Cup, which annually measures athletic teams success in NCAA championships, has been in the top 25 every year during his tenure and as high as 8th in 2018.

McGarity has also been a standard bearer for academic achievement. Since his arrival, Georgia student-athletes have won 20 NCAA Post Graduate Scholarships, 30 CoSIDA Academic All-American awards, three NCAA Top Ten honors, an NCAA Woman of the Year award, three SEC Boyd McWhoter Scholar-Athlete of the Year winners, and numerous other SEC honors.

In addition, McGarity has been at the forefront of facility expansion and renovation which have totaled over $170 million during his tenure with more on the way. The construction of the new $30 million William Porter Payne and Porter Otis Payne Indoor Athletic Facility adjacent to the Butts-Mehre Building was completed in January, 2017, and provides a facility for use by multiple sports.

Completed in July, 2018, is the $63 million Sanford Stadium west end addition which features a new home locker room, recruiting facility, and entry plaza connecting the Gillis Bridge to the stadium. Also either completed or under construction in 2018 were $7 million in improvements to Stegeman Coliseum; the Boyd Golf Center expansion; an $8.5 million renovation of the Henry Feild tennis stadium; a $3.5 million equestrian locker room and support facility; and a $1 million overhaul of Sanford Stadium lighting.

Under McGarity's leadership fundraising has reached unprecedented heights. For the 2018 fiscal year, The Georgia Bulldog Club raised a record $80 million in cash and pledges to support UGA Athletics. In September of 2015 a new philanthropic arm was created, The Magill Society, which currently has over 1,000 members that have contributed more than $109 million to support athletic facility projects. The Scholarship Endowment has grown to over $43 million, and five coaching and administrative positions have been endowed.

A 1976 graduate of UGA's Grady College of Journalism and Mass Communication, McGarity is a 2012 inductee into the Grady Fellowship, a recognition program to honor those whose influence, achievements and service to the media professions have enhanced the reputation of the Grady College.

At UF, he served as Executive Associate Athletic Director after serving as an Associate and Senior Associate AD. His duties included assisting with daily operations, assisting in preparation and approval of the annual budget, and extensive involvement in long-term planning, contracts, competition scheduling and employment searches.

McGarity was a letterman on the Bulldog tennis team in 1973. After graduation he began his professional career at UGA, holding positions as assistant sports information director, head women's tennis coach, and Assistant AD for facilities and event management.

McGarity is married to the former Sheryl Holland, who graduated from UGA in 1976 with a Bachelor of Science degree in education. They have one son, Alex, a graduate of the University of Florida and the University of Georgia.

Jere W. Morehead

President
University of Georgia

President Jere W. Morehead began his tenure as the 22nd University of Georgia President on July 1, 2013. Under his leadership, the University has risen in the rankings of the best public colleges and universities and has completed a series of initiatives to enhance student learning and success, including a requirement for experiential learning for all undergraduates.

Additionally, the University already has surpassed the $1.2 billion goal of its ongoing fundraising campaign and launched an Innovation District initiative to create UGA's campus of the future, where students and faculty will partner with industry to generate ideas and solutions to continue the University's role as a powerful driver of economic development in Georgia. Research expenditures have increased 30 percent in the past five years, and UGA was the top U.S. institution for products based on university research reaching the marketplace in 2018.

In keeping with his focus on student success, President Morehead launched the ALL Georgia Program to support students from rural areas and created the Double Dawgs program, which enables students to save time and money by earning an undergraduate and graduate degree in five years or less. UGA graduates are in demand: in 2018, 96 percent of graduates were employed or in graduate school within six months of graduation.

President Morehead has served the University of Georgia since 1986 in both faculty and administrative roles. Before becoming President, he was Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost from 2010 to 2013. Prior to 2010, he held several key administrative assignments, including Vice President for Instruction, Vice Provost for Academic Affairs, Associate Provost and Director of the Honors Program, and acting Executive Director of Legal Affairs.

He is the Meigs Professor of Legal Studies in the Terry College of Business, where he has held a faculty appointment since 1986. He is a co-author of several books and book chapters, including The Legal and Regulatory Environment of Business, and he has published scholarly articles on legal topics ranging from export controls to jury selection. He has served as Editor-in-Chief of the American Business Law Journal.

His external service currently includes serving as Co-Chair of the University Leadership Forum, a national initiative led by the Council on Competitiveness to expand the role of American higher education in the global innovation economy. He is Vice President of the Southeastern Conference and a member of the SEC Executive Committee, which oversees the financial and fiscal affairs of the SEC. He also serves as a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I Presidential Forum and the NCAA Legislative Working Group on Name, Image, and Likeness. Additional service includes membership on the boards of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, Metro Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, Georgia Research Alliance, University System of Georgia Foundation, Atlanta Regional Council for Higher Education, and Emory University Candler School of Theology. He also serves on the Association for Public and Land-grant Universities Committee of Research Intensive Universities.

President Morehead has received several University-wide teaching awards, including the Josiah Meigs Award—UGA's highest honor for teaching excellence, the Richard B. Russell Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching, the Teacher of the Year Award in the Terry College of Business, and the Lothar Tresp Outstanding Honors Professor Award.

He holds a bachelor's degree from Georgia State University and a law degree from the University of Georgia.

Fromm Is Bulldogs' Leading Man

By: John Frierson
Published Sept. 20, 2019

Trey Hill softly chuckled at the question after practice Wednesday. Of course, the Georgia sophomore lineman seemed to be saying as he shook his head, some things are as they are, now and forever — and Jake Fromm is one of them.

Is the Fromm we see today leading the Bulldog offense the same guy Hill played with and blocked for at Houston County High School?

"Most definitely," Hill said four days before No. 3 Georgia hosts No. 7 Notre Dame at Sanford Stadium, "same guy, same leader, same person, everything."

When Fromm steps onto Dooley Field this Saturday in one of the biggest games of this college football regular season, and in perhaps the most anticipated home game in Georgia football history, the junior from Warner Robins, Ga., will be making his 32nd consecutive start. That's the most among FBS quarterbacks and among the Bulldogs it's second only to senior safety J.R. Reed's streak of 33. A redshirt sophomore at the time, Reed started his first game as a Bulldog in the 2017 opener against Appalachian State, while Fromm, then a true freshman playing behind returning starter Jacob Eason, was called into action minutes into the season after Eason's knee injury. A pivotal injury, a pivotal moment.

Fromm came in and played well in Georgia's comfortable win over the Mountaineers. The following week, the Bulldogs headed north to South Bend, Ind., where Fromm would be making his first career start inside Notre Dame Stadium.

"I remember he was very calm and very poised even then, like he always is," Reed said this week of Fromm that night at Notre Dame. The game was a defensive battle and Fromm and the offense, powered by the rushing of Nick Chubb and Sony Michel, did enough to get the Bulldogs in front, and then the defense secured the 20-19 win with Davin Bellamy's strip-sack late.

Asked at the beginning of the season what he sees when he looks back at the QB he was as a freshman, Fromm said: "I see a guy that loves handing the ball off to Nick and Sony, a guy who made plays ..." during Georgia's run to the SEC championship and the College Football Playoff.

Fromm threw for 2,615 yards and 24 touchdowns that freshman season and followed it up with 2,749 yards and 30 touchdowns as a sophomore. With his five touchdowns already this season, Fromm has 59 career TD passes and only 13 interceptions, in 653 passing attempts as a Bulldog.

Notre Dame coach Brian Kelly went straight to No. 11 when asked this week about what makes Georgia so difficult to beat.

"The quarterback. The quarterback. He's efficient. He's unflappable. You can pressure him, and he doesn't panic. He makes great decisions. He's sound with the ball," Kelly said. The Bulldogs are 26-5 with Fromm in the starting lineup.

"Sometimes there's a man," Sam Elliott's character said early on in "The Big Lebowski." Elliott, flexing his finest Texas drawl in the classic Coen Brothers film, was talking about the Dude, of course:

"Sometimes there's a man ... he's the man for his time and place." In this time and place, on Georgia's campus in week four of the 2019 college football season, with Notre Dame about to provide the Bulldogs with a very thorough test, Fromm is the man. Spend even a few seconds around him and you'll see that he's been the man in just about every room he's entered for many years. He exudes total confidence in who he is and what he's doing. He appears comfortable in every situation like he's never met a stranger or been anywhere he didn't

In talking to about a dozen of his teammates since the start of preseason practice, the thing they said over and over again was what a great leader Fromm is. Every quarterback has to be a leader, it's the most leadership-laden position in sports, and Fromm appears purpose-built for the job.

"Leader, awesome leader," redshirt freshman tight end John FitzPatrick said. "He always brings the juice and has a smile on his face."

Defensive back Mark Webb, one of Georgia's funniest players, said when I asked for his thoughts on his fellow junior: "The captain. If you want to know how to do anything, ask Jake. If you want to do it right, just watch Jake."

Along with his leadership, his teammates praise Fromm's positive attitude and ability to keep calm and happy in most every situation.

"He's a great teammate and he's a great quarterback," said receiver Matt Landers, a redshirt freshman. "I feel like on the field he's a technician; he doesn't miss anything and he's smart. As a person, I feel like he's a great guy. He doesn't give you any bad vibes.

"Every time you see Jake, he's smiling and happy. Honestly, I don't think I've ever seen Jake mad or anything. Ever since I met him, I've never seen him mad. He's a great person, probably one of the greatest people I know."

At 6-foot-2 and 220 pounds, Fromm is a bit bigger, a bit thicker, than you might think. It's something he's worked hard on for many years, pushing himself to be better today than he was yesterday.

Just as he lifts weights and does conditioning for his body while also watching tons of film to get better as a QB mentally, Fromm also works at being a great leader. He has a natural gift for it, yes, but like his completion percentage (that would be 75.0% this season heading into Saturday), it can always improve.

"I think it's talking to a lot of people that I trust and know, getting wisdom from them," Fromm said before the season of getting better as a leader. "I think opening up and reading your Bible, there's a ton of wisdom about leadership there.

"For me, it's just you learn so much going through daily things, learning from Coach (Kirby) Smart and how he leads this football program. There's a lot of different places for me to go and learn how to be a leader, and hopefully I'm doing okay in that area."

The Unlikely Path the Georgia Bulldogs Took to Building an Elite Defense

By: Seth Emerson, The Athletic
Published Dec. 5, 2019

ATHENS — They meet three times a week, late at night after most of their teammates — and sometimes even their coaches — have already left the Georgia football facility. J.R. Reed and Monty Rice, having already gone through rigorous practice and coach-led film work, retreat to a near-empty room to watch more film. Sometimes Malik Herring, a fellow veteran defensive player, will join them.

"What time is it?" Reed, the senior safety, asked one night recently. He looked at his watch. "Yeah, it's 7:30. So about in an hour."

"And whoever else wants to join us, we let them know we're there," Reed said. "But me and Monty, we hit it hard."

Above all, this might symbolize why Georgia's defense has been the biggest surprise of the season, becoming one of the best in the country despite, by its own coach's admission, lacking a true star player. And it's not just that two key veterans are putting in the extra work, it's who those two stars are: Rice, who was rated the nation's 334th best prospect three years ago, and Reed, who couldn't start at Tulsa as a freshman before transferring to Georgia, in large part because the coaches wanted his bigger-name cousin.

The impression may be that Georgia, this recruiting powerhouse under Kirby Smart, has built this defense on five-stars. And there are a few of those. But this great defense has been as much about development as recruiting and has risen to its status through players like Rice and Reed. The starting lineup Georgia's defense used in its last game had only one five-star, and just two starters were even rated among the top 200 prospects in their class coming out of high school. And yet here they are, one of the best in the nation, getting ready to match up with LSU's great offense.

"It's just a big challenge," said Eric Stokes, who was the 669th-ranked prospect in the 2017 class. "I know that we're ready to show everybody, 'OK, we are real!'"

How did this happen? It all started with a late-night phone call five years ago … to a tailback.

Tae Crowder's story is well known around Georgia now. In fact, it's so well known that it might not be fully appreciated. He was a two-star running back recruit from a small Georgia town near the Alabama border. He was committed to Georgia Southern, but just before midnight on Feb. 3, 2015 — the night before signing day — Crowder's high school coach fielded a call from a Georgia coach, offering a scholarship. But a little over a year later, Crowder, buried sixth on the depth chart, was moved to inside linebacker by new head coach Kirby Smart, who had always thought Crowder would make a better defensive player.

And thus, after sitting and developing, Georgia now has its savvy fifth-year inside linebacker, second on the team in tackles this year.

Michael Barnett was another 2015 recruit, the last of the Mark Richt-Jeremy Pruitt class. The same week Crowder was moved to inside linebacker, Barnett, a defensive lineman, was moved to the offensive line. That didn't take. But instead of it being career doom, Barnett kept plugging away and is one of those relatively unknown starters on this great unit. "In my personal experience, I don't really like anybody knowing my name," said Barnett, who has 23 tackles and three quarterback pressures this season. "I just like getting the job done. You feel me?"

Smart's first class at Georgia would include a few more of the pieces on the defensive line: defensive linemen Tyler Clark, David Marshall and Julian

Rochester. But the most important addition was a transfer who everyone assumed was just to lure Deangelo Gibbs, a five-star cornerback, into the 2017 class. Gibbs is long gone, having come to Georgia and then transferred to Tennessee. But Reed, his cousin and former Tulsa backup, has become a three-year starter, one of the leaders of this defense and a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award, which goes to the nation's top defensive back.

Reed's fellow safety is Richard LeCounte, the only five-star who regularly starts on this year's defense. LeCounte, as a high school junior, was the first commitment for Smart after Smart was hired, committing about a week after Smart was introduced.

A few more key pieces came from that 2017 class, which was Smart's first class with a full recruiting cycle: Stokes, Herring, outside linebacker Walter Grant, nickel back Mark Webb, defensive lineman Devonte Wyatt … and Rice, who almost wasn't part of the class. He originally committed to LSU but then retreated to another room and called a coach at Georgia to say he immediately regretted it. Rice is now Georgia's leading tackler and will help lead the defense in the SEC championship against the team with which he originally committed to play.

As time went on, Georgia kept recruiting even better players. The past two classes have included five-stars such as Tyson Campbell, Nakobe Dean and Nolan Smith and junior college standouts Jermaine Johnson and D.J. Daniel. There was also an overlooked three-star nose tackle, Jordan Davis, who has quickly emerged as a difference-maker on Georgia's defensive line.

Someday, more than a few of those younger players will be picked high in the NFL draft or be All-Americans. But this year's unit has succeeded without that consensus star. Two years ago, the Bulldogs had linebacker Roquan Smith making plays all over the field. Last year, they had cornerback Deandre Baker locking down one side of the field. This year, it really is a collective effort: They don't have any obvious weak links, and the depth is so good that they use up to 24 players in the first half, utilizing guys like Adam Anderson (a five-star recruit in 2018) in a situation pass-rush role.

"It's 11 hats around the ball. That's what we pride ourselves on," Barnett said. "It doesn't really make a difference who's the star guy now. We don't have to rely on Roquan or whatnot. Everybody's the star."

So what does this great defense mean for Georgia this week and the prospect of winning it all?

The old rule that defense wins championships might not be as true anymore. Offenses have become more innovative, and defenses are still catching up.

Last year, the nation's top defense (as measured by yards per play) was Mississippi State, which had only the 32nd-ranked offense and finished 8-5. The top three offenses, meanwhile, were Oklahoma, Alabama and Clemson, who all made the College Football Playoff. Even Smart, the defensive coach, acknowledged times have changed.

"I don't know that the adage defense wins championships stands as much as it used to," Smart said. "When you saw scores from the '60s and the '70s and the '80s and you saw scores of games, it was indicative of defense, compared to now. Now, it's like I got to play pretty good defense and I got to score a lot of points."

But Smart went on to say that some good defenses have won championships lately, and he's right: The only Playoff participant to be in the top 10 defensively was Clemson, which was second, to go along with its powerful offense. And Clemson won the championship. Moral of the story: You need to have a complete team. Georgia's offense has been the problem this year. The defense, however, has given it a chance.

Homegrown: Why Brian Herrien Personifies the Georgia Bulldog spirit

By: Jeff Sentell, Dawgnation
Published October, 2019

There are so many scrappy moments. Those moments where he plays like the most devout member of DawgNation would if God blessed them with the gift to play at UGA.

Georgia's staff sometimes brings up the notion of players who bring the juice. Herrien is something else entirely.

No. 35 would be the battery.

Watch him cycle through every Saturday during warm-up. When he was younger, Herrien would just bob with the beat. His face has always been plastered with a forever smile.

Bulldogs young and old now plug into him. Like an Isaiah Wilson-sized portable battery for their phone. The current is especially strong to his fellow running backs.

"I don't know where it comes from but I definitely don't think that anybody [on his team] is more energetic than me," Herrien said this fall. "I just love the game. I just love the atmosphere. I'm an energy person so when the energy is good then I will have it."

It's hard not to notice his sheer grit and determination this fall. Did you see that Herrien run? It seems as if the phrase "which one" might be the most pertinent one to delve into.

• The one he made just to get eligible at Georgia?

• What about the ones from spring 2017?

When Nick Chubb and Sony Michel were in bubble wrap? Herrien and former teammate Elijah Holyfield cut through a salty National finalist defense often enough to convince everyone inside the program they were elite SEC backs.

When Herrien gets a chance, he delivers. It seems like he has all of Douglas County and DawgNation on his back. He can carry that load and a little bit more.

Herrien picked up three stars just as he signed with Georgia. Yet with that, he's still the lowest-rated RB signee of the Kirby Smart era.

Despite those labels, there is something special in what Herrien continues to do. Runs angry might be a modest descriptor. The feeling here is unchained fits even better.

"My running style, I kind of like to bruise," Herrien explained during a media session this week. "I kind of just want to hit the defense as much as I can so then as the game goes on, the defense isn't going to want to come back making the same tackles.

"They'll kind of get to the side, hesitate

Why what Brian Herrien does is special to DawgNation

Herrien is on a brisk pace to set career highs this fall. Some might think he's a valuable stack of cord word for Georgia's running backs room. Another valuable asset finally showing what he can do.

Truth be told, he's always been that way. When he made plays in high school, he was just doing the same things he did in middle school.

We had got on the field early at Georgia, it was what he did at the prep level absent of those stars.

The reality is it was what he had already been doing on the practice fields at Georgia for years.

The senior just needed a spot closer to the center of the stage. It can't be missed then.

"You tell Brian he can't do something and he's going to do his best to make you eat those words," said Myron Terry, who was one of his coaches at New Manchester High School. "That kind of sums him up. He loves to prove people wrong."

"People doubted him academically. People even doubted him athletically. He was just kind of biding his time and was going to show you."

Homegrown: Don't forget this about Brian Herrien

Who can forget him showing the world that snatching 135 pounds in one hand was what a "man child" was prone to do? He did that in high school. What about theway he pummeled Tennessee's defense a year ago with the finishing body blows to that game?

Smart first noticed him at an Alabama football camp. Herrien drilled and tested just as well as other elite backs there. Especially catching the football. He tucked it in stride the way elite receivers do.

Smart remembered him a few years later as a true under-the-radar recruit. His transcript needed as much overhaul as the Braves NLDS rotation back then, but Herrien never gave up on himself.

Herrien entered his final high school semester believing he needed to get all As in his three remaining core courses and achieve a 16 on his ACT to qualify. He did more than that in recording an 18 on his final ACT attempt. That gave him some wiggle to qualify to sign. He only had to make all As and Bs in the spring semester.

"Every time," Herrien said after a game this fall. "I mean if you see the passion and if you see every time that I beat on my chest I almost can't breathe when I do it. I knock the wind out every time. It means a lot because everything I did, I did it on my own. I got everything I got because of me. It just took a lot. It was hard work and I really want to show [it]."

He began to buckle down in the second semester of his junior year of high school to boost his GPA. Herrien made just one "C" during the final two years of high school. His marks were all "As and Bs" after that.

He was also sure to point out how much his high school teachers helped him during that grind, too.

Herrien went through ACT tutoring sessions and reported to school early to do make-up work and to make sure that he stayed on top of all of his assignments. He told DawgNation in March of 2016 his transcript issues were compounded when a school representative mistakenly put one of his grades as a "D" instead of a "B" on his grade report.

The storyline gets richer from there for a recruit who was so under-the-radar he wasn't even ranked. No stars. No major SEC offers.

The major college programs saw the talent but doubted his ability to overcome the classroom hole he'd dug along his freshman and sophomore years. That's why he wasn't offered.

He told DawgNation in March of 2016 he wanted to qualify and play for Georgia more than anything. There was no Plan B. He was going to do whatever it took.

It wasn't just his grades. He was also trying to become the first player from New Manchester High School to play in the SEC.

"This was being down 21-3 late in the third quarter and we didn't have the ball," Terry said back in 2016. "It looked bleak. You just punted and haven't gotten a first down all game. Then you get the first one. Then you get a score. Then you get a strip-sack and return it. That's when his test score popped. Then he just kept rolling from there. Everything that was working against him, he wasn't going to let it stop him."

When Smart met the media after his first win, that 19-yard run by Herrien was on his mind.

"Tears almost came to my eyes when that kid had that touchdown run," Smart said. "Because a lot of y'all don't know how far he came. He's sitting in his second semester and he's got to make four or five 'As' to even be eligible. … For that kid to come as far as he did and get thrust into the limelight and go out there and do what he did is really special."

Look for UGA and coach Smart making his rounds. Especially the pre-game chat at midfield with the coach of the opposing team. The newest 5-stars who are already flashing for the red and black.

There was the one time when pilots were honored in the middle of a game last year. Their crew flew over the stadium prior to kickoff.

Those servicemen were then honored during the game. Herrien watched them. With respect. But he lost it when one of them unzipped their flight suit to show he had on UGA gear underneath.

He had an animated look. He was just that happy and surprised. But it was pretty much the way he always is.

"Back in high school we'd have to get on him and we'd try to punish him a little bit," Terry said this week. "We'd give him conditioning runs and he would just take it. He'd be smiling through the whole thing. You'd condition him extra hard and he'd said 'I got you' and he wouldn't like it but he'd still smile and say he's got you."

That forever smile is about the only thing about him that runs counter to being a Bulldog

"He's just smiling and saying 'oh little do you know' because he's smiling because of how everybody out there still doesn't know what he's capable of," Terry said this week.

Terry has seen him frustrated. Herrien has had bad days. Still does. But he doesn't let it show.

"He loves life," Terry continued. "He loves the brotherhood and always being around people. That's why you always see him smiling. He never lets it appear like he's having a bad day."

Emojis were made for certain folks. Not Herrien. Terry calls him a "little ugly dude" when they chat.

"I can even be texting him and I can tell he is always smiling," he added. "I can tell just by what he is texting. He's always smiling. That's not going to change about this kid. Never."

Brian Herrien: He just loves proving people wrong

Herrien was named one of Georgia's offensive players of the week after the UT game. His head coach said it was the type of game that they expect from him.

"The Brian that I'm seeing now is the Brian I've always seen," Smart said after that win. "The difference is you guys are seeing him. You say, why didn't he play? The guys that are in the NFL is the reason he didn't play."

"Brian has been perfectly capable. And when he got that opportunity, he seizes his opportunity the times he got in the past."

What is the team motto these days? That "it takes what it takes" line? That's what Herrien has lived to just get to Georgia.

He would arrive at school an hour earlier than his peers. He stopped playing baseball. He had extra work and assignments in the morning. Then tutoring after school and more studying.

For his stretch academic grind, he chose to rise at 5 a.m. to study for his ACT and take practice exams online.

"I want this now more than anything," he said then. "This is what I have been dreaming for. I have to make this happen."

He improved his GPA from 2.16 to a 2.5 during his senior year of high school. But he still needed to get that score on his ACT to qualify on the NCAA's sliding scale. "I will do this," he said then. "I just have to."

Herrien grew up racing Georgia teammate Tyler Simmons in high school. There were some days when the 6-foot, 215-pounder was even a step faster than the fleet wideout.

Is it any wonder he's so determined to make the most of this time? When he was the first to run through the Georgia banner this fall, it was a well-deserved honor.

Brian Herrien: Where he is now

Smart is not shocked by what he's seen from Herrien this season. Or in any season. That's because of how his former no-star to 3-star RB practices every day. It was how he ran in the spring practice before the 2017 season.

"The Brian that I'm seeing now is the Brian I've always seen," Smart said. "The difference is you guys are seeing him. You say, why didn't he play? The guys that are in the NFL is the reason he didn't play.

DawgNation's Mike Griffith reported this week that Herrien has 40 carries for 251 yards this season He's almost matched his production (50 carries, 295 yards, 3 TDs) from last season. Herrien seeks those "Dawg Yards" with his spot in Dell McGee's running backs room. Not the runs behind 18-wheeler holes. He values those yards a lesser back wouldn't have gotten. The type McGee does not sign to play for Georgia.

"My favorite runs usually aren't the longest runs, they are the hardest ones, like the tough ones that shouldn't have been a gain, or should've been a loss and kind of get back to the line of scrimmage or gain a couple yards," Herrien said this week.

Terry boils down his former player's success to pure resolve. "The first thing I think of is his perseverance," he said. "In this day and age where kids can transfer at the whim. They felt like they were promised this or that and it didn't go right."

Terry said he gets as excited to see Herrien succeed as his own children. That's because of everything it took to get to Georgia. He feels Herrien stayed at UGA because he belonged there.

Terry feels that the 40-yard run last week reflects the work it took to get there.

"You're talking SEC-caliber talent and he's what dragging nine guys or nine guys get a hand on him before he goes down with that?" Terry said. "When you see him, you see feet moving and that pile moving forward. You see nothing but his resolve."

There will be times in the future when a young RB flashes a desire for those "Dawg Yards" and doesn't go down easy. When they do, it will remind folks of Herrien. That will be high praise for any future Bulldog.

"UGA has got a great kid in 35," Terry said. "You can't measure what he has and what he is all about. He's going to be proud alumni and he really exemplifies what it really is to be a UGA 'Dawg. Brian Herrien is a UGA 'Dawg. He really is."

Quick Chat: Monty Rice

Published Thursday, August 29, 2019

Monty Rice is very, very, very ready to play some football on Saturday when the No. 3-ranked Georgia Bulldogs open their season at Vanderbilt. It has been a long wait for all of the Bulldogs since their Sugar Bowl loss to Texas, but it has been even longer for Rice.

A junior linebacker from Huntsville, Ala., Rice had a breakout sophomore season in 2018 — he was the Bulldogs' leading tackler through 10 games with 59 — before a foot injury kept him out of action for the final four games, most notably the losses to Alabama and Texas.

Frierson: What was the best or most interesting thing you did this summer?
Rice: I went fishing for the first time — well, not for the first time, for the second time. I did it with my granddad when I was younger but I didn't like it because he never caught anything, so we were just sitting out there and it's hot.
Frierson: Are you looking forward to doing it again or was that a one-time thing?
Rice: Yeah, I look forward to doing it again, I just can't do it right now because of the season.
Frierson: I know with Jake Fromm, fishing can kind of be his escape from everything. Do you have anything like that when you need to get away from everything from time to time?
Rice: Honestly, my escape when I'm upset or not feeling well or something, I just go sit on my front porch for about an hour and I listen to music. I just sit there and think about everything, and it helps me calm down.
Frierson: Is there a specific kind of music you listen to when you're doing that?
Rice: It's just a range of music that I like and I just sit there, I'll sing the song and just chill.

Rice: To be honest, it's a blessing to even be here. Last year, my last game was really the Auburn game, so I'm blessed to be out here again. You don't realize how good of an opportunity you have until you can't go out there and do it because of something physically.
Frierson: I thought about that with Andrew Luck retiring the other day, you guys get so few chances to actually play games compared to baseball and basketball.
Rice: Oh, yeah, for sure. Some days, obviously, as a football player you're like, ahh, I don't feel like practicing today, but I remember (after the foot injury knocked him out for the season) we were practicing for Georgia Tech and the second day of me not practicing I was like, what else is there to do? The day seemed long and everybody else was out there getting better, and I was just doing treatment.
Frierson: Do you have any specific pregame routines or rituals?
Rice: I've got to stretch, I'll stretch my lowers (legs) or get one of the strength coaches to help me. I would say I just listen to my music and hone in and get ready to go have fun with my boys.
Frierson: If you play a really good game will you listen to the same music the next time out?
Rice: Oh, yeah. My best game since I've been here was the game I played against Florida last year (11 tackles and a forced fumble), and I could have played better. After I played good in that game, the next week I was trying to do everything I did before the Florida game, to play well again. [Laughs.]
Obviously, that's just a mental thing. If you're going to play well, you're going to play well; if you're not, you're not.
Frierson: In track you did the 100, you did the javelin, the shot put, long jump — you were a one-man team, it seems like — so which was your best or favorite event?
Rice: To be honest, I could have been better at the shot put, but I just got up there and threw it with no technique. I didn't mind running — I didn't like losing, though. My first ever race, I lost to Josh Burks, he runs track at Auburn. He's not as fast as Matthew Boling that we got here, but he's fast. That was my first real race.
Rice: The first time I ever stepped on the football field, 9 years old, and Coach Ed, I remember I said, "Coach, what do I do?" He put me at linebacker and he said: "Go tackle the dude with the ball." That's what I did and I was like, dang, that was pretty easy.
I like running back, too, but I feel running backs, you've just got an arrow on you and everybody's trying to hit you and take you so, so I wasn't the biggest fan of running back. I would be in games, but not in practice. I applaud D'Andre Swift for making everybody miss the way he does.
Rice: You know, all these guys think they're the best dressed. Just give me a suit and I'll put it on; give me one, preferably black, I like black everything.
Rice: Oh, yeah, I would. But we can't do that.
Rice: According to my uncle, I remember he said it was Pokémon, I think it was the Pikachu. My uncle always said I played with the Pokémon when I was small, like 3 years old. So I guess the Pokémon was my favorite.
Frierson: But you don't have any memory of it?
Rice: No, not really.
Rice: I remember I used to like Scooby-Doo and I had a Scooby-Doo stuffed animal. I liked him a lot.

Georgia's Tyler Simmons Overcomes Adversity, Providing Textbook Examples of Leadership and Resilience

DawgNation
By: Mike Griffith
Published Monday, November 11, 2019

ATHENS — Spend five minutes talking to Georgia senior receiver Tyler Simmons, and you can understand why any coach or quarterback would want the ball in his hands.

It's clear Simmons is going to be successful at anything in life he chooses after football, but right now the senior captain is focused on helping the Bulldogs win a championship.

Simmons is willing to do anything for his team — and he has — from his special teams expertise, to his downfield blocking and leadership in the receivers room.

But football is not always fair, and Simmons has had the misfortune of playing most of the past two seasons in a shoulder brace that has limited his range of motion. There's pain, too, but Simmons accepts that's part of the game.

"Of course, it's football, (pain) comes with the game," said Simmons, who injured his shoulder the second game of the season. "You can either sit out and miss those opportunities, or you can go and do what you can do."

This was supposed to be Simmons' season to breakout and use his elite speed to make plays with the ball in his hands. Instead, he's dealt with the regret of missing a pass in overtime against South Carolina that ended up in the hands of a Gamecocks defensive back.

Simmons took full accountability while providing insight into Georgia's biggest game of the season, a 3:30 p.m. match with Auburn in Jordan-Hare Stadium on Saturday.

On how he has dealt with adversity of this season

TS: "At the end of the road there's still a plan for me, everything happens for a reason. Of course I got down on myself for a little bit, but you just have to keep pushing. You're either going to dwell on the past or keep pushing for a better future, and that's what I've been doing, keeping a positive mindset and telling younger guys that are stepping up to play, to take advantage of those opportunities because that's big."

On the role teammates played in Simmons bouncing back

TS: "It happens, it's part of the game, I took my eyes off the ball and that's what happens. That was the consequence, dropping the ball. Of course I learn from my mistakes and just try to move on and get better. It is (hard to get over) but as I said, at the end of the day, you can either dwell on the past or get better for the future.

"(Teammates) gave me a lot of support, of course they were mad at first, like anybody would be, but they were there to pick my head up when I was down, and tell me to get better for the next opportunity. I've been doing a great job blocking and on special teams, and just playing my part and taking advantage of my opportunities on the field."

TS: "2017, on the road, the energy there, the fans, the environment, how Auburn feeds off the crowd. Just honing in on the details and staying focused. We do a lot of crowd noise during the week to prepare ourselves for that and Jake (Fromm) is doing different things to stay in control of the snap count.

"(2017 crowd noise) I feel like it really did (affect us) and the way they fed off the energy of the crowd, it kind of demoralized us and they took off with that.

TS: "He's definitely not missing opportunities. He's live and well at practice, he's moving around great, and he's been great this week. He's made some big plays and we're looking to him to play this weekend.

"I think he'll definitely be on the field and it's great having Cager out there. He's great on third down plays, he's always made them since he got here. That's his game style, he takes pride in being one of the best receivers in the SEC and he takes pride in not many DBs in the SEC being able to guard him. He really enjoys the game and he loves helping the team and he does that any way he can."

On if he has talked to George Pickens about his emotions, and what Pickens brings

TS: "I've talked to Pickens just because I know he was committed there for a minute, and I know his emotions are going to be going wild, and we're going to need him to make some big plays, so I'm telling him to stay level-headed and hone in on details and do what you need to do.

"George brings a lot of energy — a lot of energy — he is the energy of the receivers room. He comes in, he's always in a pretty good mood, and he comes in and he loves football, he loves the game of football. He loves coming in and watching film, he's just a student of the game.

"Seeing him make those plays, it kind of encourages other guys to bring juice and make it a competition a little bit. You see George make a play and kind of celebrate, and it's, now I want to make a play and celebrate. So he brings competition and energy.

"(Talking) is just a part of his game. He likes to get in the DBs heads, he likes to do a little talking now and then, and that's just a part of his game and how he keeps himself going. I don't have any problem with it as long as he's making plays and he isn't doing anything to hurt the team.

"He was pretty understanding about the whole situation, he's not a bad or defiant kid, so he's pretty understanding about what I had to say to him."

On how the team is handling and views the CFP Rankings

TS: "We kind of look at it as a distraction right now. We just try to focus on every week, and focus on getting better. Try to block all the outside things out and just hone in on the details. Coach Smart emphasizes that a lot, just honing in on us, we don't worry about the outside sources. We just want to get better and focus on us."

Anna Glenn Grove | Red & Black
Published October 3, 2019

Eli Wolf grew up in Minster, Ohio — a town positioned almost directly between Columbus, Ohio, and Indianapolis. He was always a football fan but could never pick a team to pull for, despite living near powerhouses in both the NFL and college football. Wolf didn't cheer for the Indianapolis Colts or the Ohio State Buckeyes.

Instead, he rooted for close games and underdogs.

Wolf had his own underdog experience when he walked on at Tennessee in 2015. He was listed at 205 pounds as a 2-star prospect on 247Sports.

When he returns to Knoxville, Tenn., on Oct. 5, Wolf won't be as much of an underdog after four years with the Vols and a transfer to Georgia. He's now 236 pounds and right where he wants to be in weight, playing on a team that's favored by 25 points as of press time.

Taking on new challenges

Wolf played football at Minster High School in Ohio and by his senior year was committed to play for Eastern Michigan. Later, he received the offer to walk on at Tennessee, but following the news, an unforeseen tragedy impacted his plan.

Wolf's close friend and former teammate Austin Brackman was killed after being struck by a vehicle on Nov. 29, 2014. Wolf's mindset was instantly changed.

"To see someone that close to him go so early, [Wolf] didn't want to pass up any opportunity just because it might be a little harder," Wolf's older brother and former Tennessee teammate Ethan Wolf said.

Going to a school far from home wasn't an easy choice, but Wolf had Ethan alongside him in the tight end room.

"You can only play football with your brother for so long and obviously with it being an awesome program like Tennessee, he didn't hesitate," Ethan said. "He took on the challenge."

Wolf moved to Knoxville for his freshman year and redshirted soon thereafter. He played in six games the next year and nine the year following. In his final year, Wolf played in all 12 games with seven starts. He finished the season with five catches for 30 yards and a touchdown.

"Everyone talks about brotherhood in football but that was the most literal meaning of it," Ethan said.

Finding his place

After four years at Tennessee and a year of eligibility left, Wolf made the decision to pick up his life and football career and take an opportunity in Georgia. Wolf became a graduate transfer for the Bulldogs in his final season. Ultimately, Wolf felt like Georgia was a better fit for him as a player — and more specifically, as a tight end.

"Realistically, there was a position of need [at tight end]," Wolf said on Aug. 13. "Charlie [Woerner] and [John] FitzPatrick are both great tight ends. I felt like I could help the team along with those guys."

Quarterback Jake Fromm and Woerner immediately invited Wolf to live in their house until he could find a home of his own so he could move out of a hotel.

"They let me look for a place with some other teammates, so it wasn't long right after I got [to Athens] that it felt like family and everybody just kind of took me in," Wolf said.

Wolf had met Fromm and Woerner on his first official visit to Georgia, and the pair took time out of their day that Sunday to show Wolf around the facilities.

"The transition has been smooth for him because he's bright, he picks things up, he's smart," head coach Kirby Smart said. "He's got a lot of pride in knowing what to do, and that part he spent extra time on so that he could have an effective senior year."

At Georgia, Wolf had to learn a new offense. He said there were similarities between the Bulldogs and the Vols, but the terminology was the most difficult change. Wolf said it took him extra time to adjust to the same words that now had different meanings, but the offensive coaches were patient.

"He's really gelled with the team and the tight ends' room," Fromm said. "He's given us a lot of meaningful reps and done a great job of being the receiving tight end that he is."

Wolf's battle with weight was another obstacle he now had to face again. When he walked on at Tennessee, Wolf said there would be nights where he would set his alarm for 3 a.m. to eat a peanut butter sandwich.

"[Eating at night] probably made him feel like he wanted to throw up, but he just made sacrifices that people don't really see outside of the game," Ethan said.

Wolf said the weight room was a huge aspect of maintaining his strength, and the weight and nutrition staff at Georgia have helped him keep on the healthy weight.

This weekend, Wolf will return to Knoxville, and his brother will be there too. "There's no bad blood," Ethan said. "I'm rooting for the Vols, but I hope Eli has a good game."

Quick Chat: Jordan Davis

By: John Frierson
Published Sept. 2, 2019

Listed at 6-foot-6 and 330 pounds, defensive lineman Jordan Davis moves like a much smaller person — while still using his size to move massive offensive linemen out of his way. The Georgia football sophomore was a basketball player for much of his life, loving the game long before he started taking football seriously.

In Saturday's season opener at Vanderbilt, Davis had two tackles, a 4-yard tackle-for-loss and got a handle on a Vandy field-goal attempt though the ball still managed to clear the crossbar. He celebrated what he thought was a block, only to discover that he didn't get quite enough of the ball.

Davis: We were talking amongst the players and we felt like it was a home game. Either way, if it was home or away we played our game, but it was amazing, it gives us an extra boost of confidence to see all those fans in Nashville.

Frierson: After you got a hand on the field-goal attempt, how long did it take you to realize that the ball still went through?

Davis: It was when I looked to the sideline and I saw Kirby (Smart), he had his hand out like he was giving me a high-five, but he wasn't hyped. So I turned around and I looked and I saw the ref's arms in the air. I was disappointed, I was so disappointed. The fact that I even got back there was pretty good, though.

Frierson: What can you tell me about Jordan Davis the basketball player?

Davis: I was a big post guy, really aggressive, a king of crash-the-boards type of dude. I think basketball played a big role in my agility and quickness.

I've been playing basketball for a while, since I was really little, and it was my first sport. I didn't really start playing football competitively until my sophomore year of high school. Basketball taught me a lot of things that I can translate to the football field, but it can't teach you everything. Football is just a different breed of aggression, smash mouth, hit somebody.

Frierson: I always ask this when I do these with basketball players and it's certainly fitting to ask you — do you remember your first dunk?

Davis: My first dunk, I was in a YMCA and we were playing pickup. I hadn't been picked up yet, I came halfway into the game. They were playing full-court so when the teams were on the other side of the court those of us not playing would get a couple of shots up on the other rim.

My first dunk was a putback — it was just a rim-grazer, it wasn't anything special. My next one, somebody shot it and I went up, tipped it in and grabbed the rim. It wasn't really a dunk but in my eyes it was a dunk because I grabbed the rim. From that day on I tried to jump as high as I can.

Frierson: How old were you at that point and how big were you?

Davis: I was about 12, 11-ish and I was a good 6 feet.

Frierson: In your life as a big man, what is the thing that most of us average-sized folks don't understand that you have to deal with?

Davis: A lot of attention. It seems like all eyes are on you all the time. I think the stature kind of helps with being a leader — if I say something people will listen. It's hard sometimes, like when you're traveling as a team, when we're traveling on a plane I always bump my head on the door of the airplane.

It's definitely great to have and I wouldn't wish anything against my height. It's a little convenient at times.

Frierson: I did one of these with Cade Mays last week and I asked about dealing with something basic like going to buy a sweater, and he said there's usually nothing too simple about it.

Davis: Oh, man, it can be hard. You either shop online or shop at the store very early, as soon as they get the merchandise. Online shopping is our best friend in my family. I think my little brothers, they're huge, too, for their age, and it's going to be a problem for my mother.

Davis: It wasn't really a toy, it was a Nintendo Game Cube; I got it the first Christmas that I can remember. I remember I got the Game Cube and it had a lot of games. Some of these games I'm still looking for as an adult, to this day.

I'm planning on buying another one and hopefully I can get it hooked up to my TV. We had the box TV back then so it was easier to hook up, but I've been looking for those games for a while.

Davis: SpongeBob SquarePants: Battle for Bikini Bottom, that was the game I played all the time. And I never had a memory card so I had to start over every time. The older I got, the farther along I got in the game, but I never got to the point where I beat the game.

It was just fun to play and I remember spending hours on end sitting in my room and playing video games. That was when life was good and simple.

Athens Banner Herald
By Marc Weiszer
Published Wednesday, November 13, 2019

Much has changed for Georgia since Rodrigo Blankenship helped the Bulldogs push past Auburn with a pair of fourth quarter field goals in 2016.

The offense doesn't have a single starter remaining from that 13-7 win in Athens. The only defensive starter still on the Bulldogs, defensive tackle Julian Rochester, has appeared in just two games this season.

"That man is a superstar," defensive lineman Malik Herring said. "It's crazy. You never see kickers get so much hype." Along the way as he heads into a fifth game against Auburn (including the 2017 SEC championship), he's climbed the SEC career scoring list and made "Respect the Specs" and "Hot Rod" cool. Oh, yeah, and upped his field goal total as a Bulldog to 72, more than any current FBS kicker.

"…I've been fortunate I haven't had a lot of kickers," fourth-year Georgia coach Kirby Smart said. "Rod's kind of been our kicker. …It's kind of rare that you have a kicker for this long. I guess it's rare you have any position for this long."

Blankenship came to Georgia as a preferred walk-on under Mark Richt believing he'd go on scholarship after one season, but Smart came aboard after a coaching change. He turned to him to handle field goals and extra points in the fourth game of the 2016 season at Ole Miss.

"I think honestly when I first started kicking, I was very intimated," Blankenship said. "That could stem from a lot of things. Obviously, Coach Smart is a very passionate coach, he's a very energetic coach. He's not afraid to get in your face when you're not performing at the standard that the university deserves. That was a little bit of a shock to the system for me."

Blankenship was awarded a scholarship prior to the Notre Dame game in 2017, some nine months after his parents went public with what they thought was an injustice with him not being put on one that winter.

Now, with 402 points he's closing in on a trio of former Georgia kickers just in front of him on the SEC's career scoring list who ranked behind only former Auburn kicker Daniel Carlson's 474: Blair Walsh with 412, Billy Bennett with 409 and Marshall Morgan with 407.

That would be Blankenship missing a 42 yard field goal attempt in double overtime to end a 20-17 upset loss to South Carolina on Oct. 12.

"Those guys have been nothing but the best," he said. "They wished nothing but the best for me and have always been very supportive. I've known some of them from back when I was coming here to the kicking games when I was in middle school and high school and I first connected with them."

Blankenship said he remembered he did "some good things in that game that I use as kind of a silver lining to kind of keep my head up."

Kevin Butler, the College Football Hall of Fame kicker who starred for Georgia, worked with Blankenship on the mental aspects of his game when he was a student assistant in 2016 and 2017.

"It was a really great resource to be able to pick his brain and learn about how he handled things," Blankenship said. "He really helped with processing things and the immediate aftermath of a kick whether it's good or bad or somewhere in between. Just to look at it objectively, take something away from it immediately and then put it away and be able to come back to it and process it later."

Blankenship is 19 of 22 this year and Georgia's career field goal percentage leader at 83.7 percent, which is fifth on the SEC list.

"I'm just trying to go out and try to make every kick I can, hit every touchback I can or not hit a touchback if the coaches ask me not to," he said.

Blankenship is a five-time winner this season of the SEC special teams player of the week, including on Monday when he was recognized for making four of five field goal attempts in the 27-0 win over Missouri. He also added an extra point to extend his school-record to 186 in a row. He's tied for third in the FBS this year with 19 field goals and has made three from 50 or more yards.

"I definitely have the utmost confidence in that guy," offensive lineman Cade Mays said. "You can count on him getting 3. That's really what you can count on from Rod. He does a great job in all aspects of the kicking game."

Blankenship and Smart have become closer as the games and seasons have passed.

"Over the years, we've just come to develop a sense of trust and a really good relationship," Blankenship said, "to just know he has faith and confidence in me to go out and execute my job."

Homegrown: The Charlie Woerner story will read a bit differently than most

By Jeff Sentell, Dawgnation
Published September, 2019

Charlie Woerner had a 10 a.m. class his senior year of high school. It was his first class of the day.

It allowed him to hunt in the early mornings with his brother Peter before school. Those hunts bagged a wild turkey and a hog, among other game.

It will be a departure from the connections he has coming from a family of educators with one very famous All-American uncle (the College Football Hall of Famer Scott Woerner) who also played at Georgia.

This narrative will seek to break apart from all of that. Woerner is, after all, his own man. The senior tight end is set to be one of three captains for the Bulldogs on Saturday as they host Murray State.

He collected knives coming up. His father, Kent, did some work at an auction house. Woerner would come over whenever they had new inventory and buy some of those. He'd then sell them on eBay.

But then there was also that time he sampled that deer heart. It was fried up in a pan and everything.

"My brother Peter shot a deer, so I went out and found it for him," Woerner said back in 2015. "We brought it back and skinned it and cleaned it. Then my buddy Eli and I broke open the chest cavity and tore out the heart and went and fried it in the pan and it tasted pretty good. Mom was pretty mad about it because it smoked up the whole house, but it was really good."

That didn't taste like chicken. He said it tasted more like the tenderloin of a deer back then.

Woerner now rooms with Georgia quarterback Jake Fromm. Those two are working on trying to fish or hunt every good private spot within 45 miles of Clarke County. That's when their time away from the team allows it.

It is an interesting twist to when he chose Georgia. The Rabun County great basically only knew Jacob Eason and Ben Cleveland on the team when he committed to Georgia. That was all he needed.

Woerner had the good sense back then to make his decision based on what he felt and what he wanted out of college. Not what others were going to do.

"College football is a business," Charlie Woerner said back during the 2015 season. "Coaches come and go so you can't commit based on a coach who could be gone the next day or the next season."

Woerner said then he'd even go to UGA if Mark Richt was no longer the head coach.

"It would be a little weird," Charlie Woerner said. "It would definitely be a curveball not knowing who the head coach is going to be. But I guess I am more committed to (the) Georgia football than I am all of the coaches."

He wasn't active on social media. He still doesn't waste his time with that.

When he chose the Bulldogs, he was also interested in Alabama and Clemson. He also hoped to take advantage of a trip to check out Oregon, but that was likely just too far.

Woerner simply took two trips to check out colleges during the summer prior to his senior season. Both of those were to Georgia. His lead recruiter at the time was Jeremy Pruitt.

"It wasn't one thing you know to make me go to Georgia," Charlie Woerner said back in 2015. "It was kind of like a checklist where you kept checking stuff off through a recruiting process with UGA and finally I just knew that it was the place for me to go."

He was the nation's No. 25 WR prospect then but has been exclusively a tight end in Athens. He was already 6 feet, 5 inches and well over 230 pounds during his senior year of high school.

But he could play. He could really play.

He reeled in nine catches for 205 yards and four touchdowns for his Wildcats on one Friday night.

It was not an aberration. The stats he racked up heading into his senior season at Rabun County still boggle the mind.

2,302 rushing yards and 35 TDs
1,743 receiving yards with 15 TDs
323 tackles on defense
10 interceptions
5 blocked kicks

He was the eighth-highest rated prospect in that class. It is a little-known fact that only 10 of those signees remain as seniors in Smart's first class.

Eason is at Washington. Mecole Hardman, Elijah Holyfield, Isaac Nauta and Riley Ridley are all in the NFL now. Cleveland and Woerner remain. Of the 10 highest-rated signees of the group, it is just those two plus Michail Carter and Julian Rochester which remain.

The fact he grew up Georgia and now plays for the Bulldogs will always matter to him.

"It means a lot," Woerner said at a recent media session in Athens. "I was an hour and a half up the road from Rabun County, Georgia. "It is awesome to play for your hometown team and for Georgia. It has meant a lot to me in my time here to play for Georgia. It is really special."

Homegrown: The things to know about Charlie Woerner

The first of those was that he was rated as a WR prospect coming out of high school. He was the nation's No. 133 overall prospect when he signed with Georgia.

He also played everywhere for Rabun County in high school. From defensive back to safety to pass rusher to run stopper to playmaker out wide.

The Woerner name is known around UGA for athleticism and there's a clip from a high school track practice his senior year which shows just how good of an athlete he was back then.

There's also the notion of how valuable he has been to the perimeter run game. Woerner is an outstanding perimeter blocker.

So much that his mid-game injury against Oklahoma still comes readily to mind when thinking about how much he would have helped Georgia in that fateful next game against Alabama with a national title on the line.

Woerner showed off more of the same in the season opener at Vanderbilt last week. He also added two catches for seven yards in the 30-6 victory.

The Ballad of 'Dirty Red': How Eric Stokes Found a Home at Georgia, And Georgia Found its Lockdown Cornerback

By Seth Emerson, The Athletic
Published Oct. 31, 2019

ATHENS, Ga. — A local elementary school was conducting a kindness initiative in October, and to recognize it the school asked Georgia's football program if a player could come visit. The team responded by sending over Eric Stokes, who three days earlier had showed his kindness by clobbering Tennessee's quarterback on a cornerback blitz, causing the ball to come loose and be returned for a touchdown.

Still, he was a good choice. Stokes smiled his way through the visit, which included meeting a first-grade teacher who is a Tennessee fan, so Stokes could (insincerely) apologize for obliterating her team's quarterback. All in all, everyone at the school was quite taken with the kid they affectionately call Dirty Red, so named because of his reddish hair and freckles, which adorn an infectious personality.

"He's got a smile that lights up the room," said Mel Tucker, now Colorado's head coach, but who as a Georgia assistant three years ago gets much of the credit for discovering the team's emerging defensive star.

Tucker was at the Georgia state high school track meet the spring of 2016, watching the players his team was already recruiting, and keeping an eye out for others. When a tall, skinny kid zipped through a sprint event, Tucker took note of the name — Eric Stokes — and sent a staff member a text.

"Who is this kid?" Tucker wrote.

"Really?" Tucker thought to himself, looking at a kid who couldn't have been more than 160 pounds. "That kid's probably not a tailback. But he does run a 10.3, and he is tall, and you can't coach speed."

Stokes' ascent has been quite rapid. This time last year he didn't even play against Florida, at least on defense. Now he's not only starting but he's become Georgia's lockdown cornerback, taking on the role of the next Deandre Baker, the consensus All-American and first-round pick now with the New York Giants.

The parallels between the two careers are remarkable: Both were three-star recruits, both didn't become starters until their sophomore years, and both quickly became difference-makers. This isn't to say that Stokes will turn out as good as Baker, but Stokes has people rooting for him simply because of the way he carries himself.

"He's charismatic," Georgia coach Kirby Smart said. "He cares about his family. He's a great person. He's a joy to be around. Like I said, coach Tucker did a tremendous job with him."

Tucker, speaking this week from his office at Colorado, recounted that process, which goes against the typical case of Georgia just out-recruiting everybody for a five-star. This was the staff, especially Tucker, pinpointing someone who they felt had high upside.

The coaches invited Stokes to camp at Georgia the summer of 2016, before Stokes' senior season, and they could tell he wasn't that comfortable at defensive back. But Stokes was also willing to try it. And in a fortuitous bit of timing, Eastside hired a former NFL defensive back as an assistant that year. They put Stokes on defense and nurtured him, and Tucker kept in touch with Stokes' new coach and watched film. It only took three or four games to tell that Stokes was learning the position very well.

"So I figured if this kid has gotten this much better from where he was over the summer in less than a year's time, then if we could get ahold of this kid and work with him every day then I thought he could develop into a player," Tucker said. "That was the thinking. So we got him."

Stokes redshirted his first year, but kept putting on weight, kept learning the position and kept working hard. The coaches noticed him getting more physical in practice and making tackles. Stokes was a coach's dream in the meeting room: Tucker and his assistants marveled at how they would tell Stokes something, he would just nod and respond, and then after practice they would turn on the film and there was Stokes, doing exactly what he was told to do.

"The kid is going to be where he needs to be every time," Tucker said. "He's very intelligent. He's one of those guys who you only have to tell him one time, and he's got it. And he doesn't say anything, he just sits there! He absorbs it."

It was actually on special teams where Stokes made his first mark, blocking a punt and returning it eight yards for a touchdown. But what received less attention was when starting cornerback Tyson Campbell got hurt and Stokes went in for him — Stokes played well against Missouri's big and talented receivers. Campbell was able to return the next week, but he was now on notice: Stokes was ready to play.

By the end of the season Stokes was starting, and he has become the team's top cornerback. That doesn't mean it will continue that way, as Smart pointed out this week: "You have to understand, our guys haven't had a chance to play a lot of guys when you think about it." That will begin to change this week against Florida's talented receivers, and continue down the stretch of this season.

In the meantime, Stokes has become one of the team's public faces, whether it's speaking to the media, local elementary schools or about his experience as an eighth-grader who was bullied. Whether the bullies now realize what that kid has become is uncertain. But Stokes realizes how far he's come, from barely playing on special teams in last year's Florida game to being one of the pivotal players this year.

"It's just a tremendous journey," he said. "I couldn't even put my words on it. To where I'm at now to where I was last year is just a big flip. I'm shocked. I've got people back home shocked for me, (saying) 'I didn't see it coming.'"

Stokes also credited Tucker. ("He was the one who took a chance on a three-star speeder who a lot of people just looked on as a track guy.") And taking a break from preparing for UCLA this week, Tucker said he's pulling hard for Dirty Red, and is glad it's working out. Tucker is hesitant to make the Stokes-Baker comparison, saying he hasn't had a chance to see Georgia games this season.

"But I will say this," Tucker added. "He has the tools. He has a passion for the game. He's very coachable. He's a willing tackler. And he competes, and he's a very unselfish guy. The team is important to him. He's one of those guys who's going to do anything he can for the team. Those type of guys, usually good things happen for them."

Quick Chat: J.R. Reed

In the past week or so, Georgia safety J.R. Reed has been named a finalist for a pair of big-time college football awards: the Bronco Nagurski Trophy, awarded to the nation's top defensive player, and the Jim Thorpe Award, which goes to the best defensive back.

Reed talks about Thanksgiving, starting his collegiate career as a backup at Tulsa before blossoming at Georgia, his gameday routine and much more. Here's some of what he had to say:

Frierson: In the past we've talked about Christmas and Halloween, but now Thanksgiving is a few days away. What is the most essential part of the Thanksgiving meal?

Reed: Candied yams. Candied yams are my favorite food in the world. I go home and eat a pot of candied yams. Before I leave, I eat a pot of candied yams. Thanksgiving, a pot of candied yams.

Frierson: So when you've getting inducted into a hall of fame one day, you're going to say you owe it all to candied yams?

Reed: Candied yams, without you I would be nowhere. [Laughs.]

Frierson: During your one season at Tulsa, you played in 13 games and had five tackles. In your first game after transferring to Georgia, the 2017 opener against App State, you had five tackles, a sack and a forced fumble. And now you've started 40 straight games and are regarded as one of the top defensive players in the country. How did all this happen?

Reed: First off, it's nothing but God and believing in Him and just staying prayed up and having faith. And then believing in myself, that was a big thing. I think a lot of people, if they believe in themselves, they can achieve anything.

This journey and these coaches and my parents, they've done an unbelievable job of helping me get here. I wouldn't be here if I didn't have some type of confidence instilled in myself. These coaches, (former defensive coordinator) Mel Tucker, he did a great job when I got here, as did Coach Smart, helping me and coaching me.

Frierson: It's one thing to get here and it's another to emerge and develop like you have. When did you know that you belonged here, on this level?

Reed: Being at Tulsa, I always believed that I needed to be somewhere bigger and that I can do more. My dad (former NFL receiver Jake Reed), when I was like 5 years old watching football on TV, he was like, you can play with those guys — they're no better than you. I'm just 5 and I'm like, yeah, whatever. He didn't know what I was going to grow up to be but he was like, you can play with those guys. Ever since then, I always believed that I could be on this level and I needed to be here.

So when I got here, just seeing some of the guys, it's like, OK, they're a little bit bigger so I've got to do this and do that, but my skill set was there. Being redshirted and going against those guys, going against Nick (Chubb), Sony (Michel), Isaiah McKenzie, that made me better and that's when I realized that I can do this.

Frierson: On your Twitter feed, your pinned tweet is the Latin phrase, "dolor hic tibi proderit olim." According to Google, that means, "someday this pain will be useful to you." Where did that come from and what does it mean to you?

Reed: "The Walking Dead."

I was watching "The Walking Dead" and I think the lady that was like the mayor of the little town, she was dying and she said that. I looked it up and I was like, this totally resonates with me. I first tweeted it a long time ago, but I accidentally unpinned the tweet and then I was like, I don't want this other tweet up there so I put it back up there earlier this year.

[Reed looks it up on his phone and found that he first tweeted it in 2015.]

Frierson: You were still at Tulsa at that point. What did it mean to you at that moment?

Reed: Just, when you're young and you're a freshman and things aren't going your way — everyone wants to play. I always believed that I should be on the field and when I heard it I wondered what it meant and then it was something that spoke to me: just be patient and tough and someday it will pay off. Now, when I go on my Twitter, I see it, so if I have a rough day or am going through tough times, just be patient and tough.

Reed: I was a pretty good track runner but I'm also a good swimmer, good swimmer. My mom would tell you that I could swim and I should have been on the swim team. I'm not as good now but I'm a good swimmer and I love the water.

Reed: Nerf guns, I love Nerf guns and I used to have a bunch of those. That's definitely my favorite toy.

Frierson: Is there a toy now or a game that you're still into?

Reed: I really like paintballing and I'm a big gamer. I was a big gamer when I was little and I still game now. We're about to hit the holidays and there's going to be nothing to do, no class, and when I'm done with workouts and watching film, I'm going to game all day. I'm going to be playing Xbox all day long.

Reed: I've got the new "Call of Duty," I play "Rainbow Six Siege" a lot and I started to get good at that, but then I stopped when the new "Madden Ultimate Team" came out.

Frierson: What's it going to mean to you when, hopefully, you're in the "Madden" game someday soon?

Reed: It's going to be kind of weird, always playing it as a kid and always looking at different guys. I really wish the "NCAA Football" was still out because that was the game back then, everyone played that one.

Just to be in "Madden" would be crazy. [Laughs.] It would freak me out. I definitely would play my team and myself the whole time.

Frierson: Do you have any specific pregame routines or rituals?

Reed: Saturdays, when we have games at 12 it's really hard, but I try to get up at 8 a.m., 8:30-ish, get up. I'll watch a full game of film with my notes that I've taken and some of the packets and the tests and everything. I'll watch the game and then go to the training room and relax, then I'll eat some breakfast. I'll do that and let the day go on, and then once I get dressed in my suit I never go back to my room. .... Once I'm dressed I'm gone and once we do the walkthrough, when we're on our way to the stadium, I'll call my dad and talk to him for a little bit.

Then at the stadium, pregame speech, listen to some music — whatever I'm feeling that day, it always depends, whatever catches my mood – and then get ready.

Reed: Yeah.

Frierson: How much time do you put into what you're going to say? Or is it just whatever you're feeling in the moment?

Reed: It's kind of whatever I'm feeling in the moment. Like right now, I don't know what I'm going to say Saturday, I couldn't even tell you. But leading up to it, maybe Thursday night, a little bit of Friday, mainly Friday, I start to think of things I want to say. I try to get the feel of the team, too, and if I feel like they're ready for it, ready to go out there and dominate, it will be a short, quick speech. Sometimes you just feel it and give a good speech.

Frierson: You may be the fanciest game-day dresser of anyone on the team, so do you have an outfit already picked out for the SEC Championship Game?

Reed: My outfits this year have not been planned. They've all been like, all right, it's Friday, let me figure out what I want to do. Friday before we've got to come here, I'll put it together, or maybe Thursday night I'll think of something. But this year I have not planned out exactly what I want to wear this week and this week and this week.

I kind of go based off of, have I worn this yet? If I have, OK, let's figure out what I want to do.

Quick Chat: Cade Mays

Sitting and talking to Georgia offensive lineman Cade Mays after practice a thought occurred: What does someone like Mays, a 6-foot-6 and 318-pound sophomore, do when he needs a basic piece of clothing like a new sweater?

Mays, who started seven games last season and earned Freshman All-America and Freshman All-SEC honors, is a big man from a family of big men in Knoxville, Tenn. His dad, Kevin, was an All-SEC lineman for Tennessee in 1994, and Mays' younger brother also is a lineman.

During a Quick Chat, Mays talked about going through a lot of food at the family dinner table, shopping for clothes when you're his size, tearing it up at baseball when he was 12 and much more. Here's some of what he had to say:

Frierson: I know your dad was a big football player, you're a big football player and your younger brother is a big football player, so my question is: what is dinnertime like at the Mays house? There has to be an extraordinary amount of food on the table.

Mays: Oh, yes, it's a lot of food. I'm trying to think, we were having spaghetti one night and my mom, she cooked four pounds of hamburger meat, maybe.

Frierson: Take me back to the last Christmas lunch or dinner, whatever the big meal that day is for you guys.

Mays: There's a big ole prime rib, a big bone-in prime rib that my dad cooks in the oven. My mom, she'll make the homemade mashed potatoes with cheese in them and all that good stuff. Green beans, macaroni, some rolls — my grandmom, she'll come over and she'll bring pies. It's everything you can eat and it's good.

Mays: My baby brother probably eats more than anybody. I've got a 4-year-old little brother and for breakfast he'll eat six eggs and six pieces of bacon.

Frierson: So he's going to be the biggest Mays in the family?

Frierson: What movie have you seen more than any other?

Mays: "Step Brothers" is definitely my go-to. All Will Ferrell movies, but I love "Step Brothers."

Frierson: If you could go anywhere in the world on somebody else's dime, where would you like to go and who would you take with you?

Mays: Bora Bora.

Frierson: You're the second person today to say that. There was a women's soccer played I done one of these with, Jessie Denney, and she said Bora Bora.

Mays: How many people do I get to take with me?

Frierson: This is all hypothetical so let's say up to 10 counting you.

Mays: I'd definitely take my mom, my brothers, my dad and my girlfriend, and go spend a week in Bora Bora. ... That's my dream vacation spot.

Frierson: How much of your success as a player is a result of your dad's coaching, in the backyard or the living room, just teaching you the little things that only somebody like your dad that's done it a high level could teach you?

Mays: A lot, I think he definitely made me the player that I am today. He coached me from the like I was 6 or 7 years old until I went to high school and he was constantly trying to perfect little stuff when I was young, like stepping and getting your head in the right spot and your hands and leverage.

All that stuff that's taught at a higher level, he was teaching me when I was young. Also, I think he just taught me how to play hard and play through the whistle and love the game and enjoy doing those things.

Frierson: You can travel back in time 100 years or you can travel forward in time 100 years, which do you choose?

Frierson: You've got to go further back than 100 years now to get to the time when everyone was riding horses. To go back to the Old West, that's like 200 years ago.

Mays: That's definitely where I want to go, the wild, wild West. That would definitely be better than going 100 years into the future. I want to go back to when there weren't any cell phones. I'd be a gold miner or something.

Frierson: What's the most creative thing you do, or something creative you wish you could do?

Mays: People that I sing in front of tell me that I can sing, but I'm super picky, I will only sing in front of a select three or four people. They say I can sing but I don't know.

Frierson: What do you sing in front of them, a country song? I can see you being able to do that pretty well.

Mays: I'd say Solomon (Kindley). Just in meetings and on the field, he just jokes around and he really brings a smile to our room every single day. He's coming in smiling and he's got something funny to say. He gives off a radiant energy.

Frierson: Where is the most interesting place that sports have taken you, where you've gotten to see a part of the country that you otherwise may not have?

Mays: The coolest place that sports have taken me would definitely be Cooperstown, N.Y. I went there for baseball (the 2011 American Youth Baseball Hall of Fame Invitational) when I was 12 and my team ended up winning the tournament out of something like 109 teams. I broke the record for most hits, I went 38-for-40 with like 46 RBIs, I want to say, and 16 home runs.

I was two off the home run record and I broke the hit record and the RBI record. I don't know if I still have those records but I broke them. [Editor's note: Those records, sadly, no longer stand.]

Frierson: Okay, we're going to have to dig deeper into this.

Mays: [Laughs.] Growing up I played travel ball and in that tournament we were playing teams from, like, Puerto Rico and all over. Travel baseball was my love growing up, I loved baseball; I wasn't really big on football until I got to high school. But growing up I always wanted to play professional baseball.

Frierson: What was your position?

Mays: First — I played first, third, pitched, batted clean-up. Honestly, I was better at baseball than I was at football my whole life growing up. I was a stud at baseball, I was killing the ball.

Frierson: Were you just way bigger than everyone else?

Mays: Not really. I don't know what it was but I could just hit the baseball.

Frierson: If you went to a batting cage now, could you light it up?

Mays: I can't tell you about now but I probably got a little bit of it still in me.

Frierson: How come we haven't heard about this? We've all heard about Jake Fromm and his Little League World Series experience, but I don't think many people know about this.

Mays: I don't know, that's a good question. You better dig, you better find out. You can't show anybody my picture though. You're going to be like, how was this kid even remotely good at baseball.

[Mays then grabs his phone and shows me his team headshot from that season. He's a big kid with a big smile and a lot of hair. You didn't hear it from me, but it doesn't take too much Google expertise to find the photo online.]

Frierson: You were pretty big already at that point, and look at all that hair.

Mays: Oh, yeah, I was stylin'. I repeated the eighth grade, not because I failed it but because my parents wanted to hold me back, I was really young. Me and my little brother both did it.

I went through eighth grade the first time, went through it the second time, ... and after my first one I think I was like 5-8 and I hit 6-4 my second eighth-grade year.

Frierson: Good grief.

Mays: Yeah, I grew a lot.

Mays: I did; I'd say it was a pretty good move. I don't know, though, with the way they're paying in baseball now.

Mays: I'm retired from the League (NFL) and I've got me a ranch in Colorado; that's my dream, I want to own a huge ranch in the mountains of Colorado, on a lake. Not in the mountains but with a mountain view on a big lake, no neighbors.

I want to have some horses, some cows, a couple of kids running around, and I want to hunt, I want to hunt a lot.

Tae Crowder Earned a Chance at Georgia, And He Continues to Make the Most of It

By Seth Emerson, The Athletic
Published Mar. 4, 2019

It was late on the night before signing day, an hour before midnight, when Dwight Jones' phone rang. The conversation he was about to have, about a mere two-star recruit, would lead to one of the most consequential plays in Georgia history.

Tae Crowder was a hard-working but unheralded prospect from a tiny town. He dreamed of playing for Georgia, but had not been offered a scholarship there, so he had settled for a spot at Georgia Southern. But then Jones, who coached Crowder at Harris County High School, picked up the phone. It was a coach from Georgia. They had changed their mind.

"They wanted to know for sure before everyone went to bed on Tuesday night on whether they had a verbal commitment from Tae Crowder," Jones said of the late-night conversation on Feb. 3, 2015. "So I got off the phone and called Tae."

Crowder will go down in Georgia lore for one play alone, the improbable play he made that sparked Georgia to the comeback win in the Rose Bowl. But he also has a chance, as spring practice begins this month, to complete one of the more surprising careers in recent Georgia history. From tailback to linebacker. From two-star to starter. From transfer candidate to senior leader.

"I really don't think people appreciate him as much as they should," Georgia senior safety J.R. Reed said.

Crowder's bio says he's from Hamilton, Ga., a town near the Alabama border with a population of just over 1,500. But Jones said Crowder actually grew up in nearby Pine Mountain, which has a few hundred fewer people. Crowder was a two-sport athlete at Harris County, in football and basketball. He played a little baseball in his younger days, which would come in handy in the Rose Bowl.

Jones, who arrived at Harris County before Crowder's senior year, tried to get the big schools interested in Crowder, a 6-foot-3 tailback and receiver. But while some coaches showed interest, their responses were along the lines of what Jones heard from then-Alabama assistant Kirby Smart. "We have such depth at running back at Alabama that Tae would not play running back for us," Jones recalled Smart saying.

Georgia Southern and its triple-option offense seemed the right fit for Crowder, who played in a Wing-T offense where the quarterback, TaQuon Marshall, was headed to Georgia Tech. That was the plan until the 11th-hour offer from Georgia — which was literally 11th hour, coming just before midnight. Georgia already had five tailbacks on the roster — including Nick Chubb and Sony Michel, only sophomores — but had a spot in the class open up. How low-ranked was Crowder? He was only the 214th overall prospect in the state of Georgia, per the 247Sports Composite, and the nation's 269th-ranked receiver.

Crowder's first season saw him redshirt. Then came the coaching change. Jones, who like most coaches in the state of Georgia had known Kirby Smart a long time, called Smart and asked him to take care of Crowder, who he said he loves like a son.

"I will," Smart said, according to Jones. "But you know he's probably not going to stay at running back."

Smart was true to his word. Ten months after his arrival, during the off week before the Florida game, Crowder and two other teammates switched positions as experiments. The other two would not stick: Shaquery Wilson, switching from receiver to tailback, eventually switched back and transferred. Michael Barnett, going from defensive line to offensive line, quickly abandoned the experiment and has emerged as a contributor there.

Crowder, meanwhile, didn't quite know what to expect. The coaches had told him to think of it as a two-day tryout. On the third day, Crowder was simply told before practice to keep going to the defensive meeting until further notice.

"So I just went," Crowder recalled a few years later, shrugging. "From that day on I started learning."

The process would be very gradual. Crowder played free safety "every now and then" in high school, but didn't take a lot of snaps. He appeared in one game as a redshirt freshman, not recording any stats, and appeared in 13 games in 2017, making seven tackles. But his biggest impact would come on special teams.

In that Rose Bowl.

Oklahoma and Baker Mayfield had just surged to a 31-14 lead with six seconds left in the first half. The rout was on, and all the momentum was against Georgia as Crowder took his spot on kickoff return, about 11 yards from the ball. He was directly ahead of the kicker.

The squib kick took a couple quick bounces in front of Crowder, who lurched up to his right to grab it in the air. Then, alertly, Crowder hit the ground. All of one second went off the clock.

"I'd love to say that we coached that, I'd love to say that we work that all the time," then-Georgia special teams coach Shane Beamer said after the game. "That's just Tae Crowder, who's a really good football player making a really, really good football play. Changed the game."

That's exactly what it did: Georgia had just enough time to complete a nine-yard pass to get into field goal range, and Rodrigo Blankenship booted the 55-yarder. Momentum swung, and Georgia eventually won a classic to get to the national championship.

"I told him that night: Tae Crowder, you do not know how big a play you just made for the University of Georgia," Jones said. "If they don't make that play they don't win. I don't care what y'all say, I don't care. I'll believe that until the day I die."

That could have been it for Crowder, who if he called it a career at that point would already have his place in school history. But he had already quietly been moving up the depth chart at inside linebacker, seeing snaps during the playoff run, including the national championship.

Then with the departures of Roquan Smith and Reggie Carter, the two starters in the Playoff, Crowder was among those in the four-man rotating committee. He finished as Georgia's fifth-leading tackler in 2018, with 53, including six tackles for loss and two interceptions.

"It's always guys like that behind the scenes," Reed said. "Everybody's caught up on the new guys coming in and the freshmen, but you can't forget about the guys who have been working hard for years and have been waiting their turn. So he's gotten his turn to shine, his opportunity. And he's taken advantage of it."

This year the competition will be stiff: Monty Rice, a junior, is back, as are sophomores Channing Tindall and Quay Walker, and five-star signee Nakobe Dean, as well as four-star Trezmen Marshall.

But Crowder offers experience, leadership, and a blend of size and athleticism that can't be underrated. Dan Lanning, Georgia's new defensive coordinator, made a point last December about why Crowder was able to make the transition from running back to linebacker, invoking Roquan Smith as another inside linebacker who played running back in high school.

"That always seems to be a really smooth transition for players that have good vision. They can play the running back position and then turn," Lanning said. "And when we look for linebackers in our league and certainly like the Big 12, you're looking for guys that can run and Tae is one of those guys that can run. And you don't create some of those same matchup issues that can happen out of the backfield or a wideout, that he might have to match up with or a tight end that he might have to match up."

Crowder, whose full first name is Dequartavious, was asked if he appreciates how far he's come, and what a story this is for him. He chuckled.

"Of course I think about it a lot," Crowder said. "I just try not to over-think it. But I mean it was a process. It was hard. But I got through it. I just thank my coaches for being there for me, and helping me out through the process. It took a lot of hard work."

Quick Chat: Richard LeCounte

Richard LeCounte III was quite literally jumping for joy down in Jacksonville, Fla., late Saturday afternoon, after Georgia's 24-17 victory over Florida. For the junior safety from Riceboro, Ga., about 40 miles south of Savannah, it was his third win over the Gators in his career — reason enough to do a few flips.

During a Quick Chat before practice, LeCounte, who had six tackles and a big pass breakup on a fourth-down throw against Florida, talked about his gymnastics moves, Halloween candy, a developing hidden talent and much more. Here's some of what he had to say:

Frierson: I have to start by asking about a video I saw this morning on Twitter. It showed you executing some very impressive gymnastics moves — a handspring and a backflip — while celebrating the win over Florida. Where did you learn how to do all that stuff?

LeCounte: [Laughs.] Man, I learned how to do that in the backyard when I was younger, like 7 or 8 years old, just being out there and trying things with my older cousin and my brothers. Once I learned how to do it, I just couldn't stop. [Laughs.]

Frierson: What else can you do? Could you do some of the stuff the GymDogs do?

LeCounte: Oh, I'm pretty sure I could learn how to do a lot of the things that they do — except the triple the flips and all that. I haven't ever been on those types of trampolines and springboards and things like that; there's no telling what I could cook up if I had time.

Frierson: The last time we did one of these, about 15 months ago, I asked you for some of your hidden talents, and you said juggling and untying knots. It was perhaps the greatest answer to any question I've ever asked. So what else do you have, what else are you secretly good at?

LeCounte: Man, yeah, I can say parallel parking.

Frierson: OK. [Laughs.]

LeCounte: We can throw that in there. I think I'm one of the best drivers, I hang my hat on driving and being able to back in and things like that — parallel parking, that's my type of skill that I know I'm an expert at.

Frierson: Does your car have a rear camera? Because doing it with a camera is a lot easier than parallel parking without one.

LeCounte: It does, but this is the first time — I just got this car — that I've had a camera, and I never use it, you know what I'm saying? I'm so used to not having a camera and using my mirrors and things like that.

My car before that didn't have a rear assistance things and my Jeep in high school definitely never had a back-up camera on that.

LeCounte: Probably Africa or Dubai, somewhere overseas. I always talk about it with my best friend, Raekwon (McMillan), he plays for the Dolphins, and he actually is going to go this offseason, after they get done with their season. And he wants me to go, and I don't even have a passport.

Step one for me is getting a passport and then I want to go and experience the world a little bit.

LeCounte: I have to say L.A., especially when we went for the Rose Bowl, and then I went another time, during the summertime for a few days. I love L.A., I just don't like the traffic.

Frierson: When you're from a tiny town like Riceboro, with about 800 people, and you get to go and experience all the places that you have, do you ever think about moving to a big city like L.A. or New York? Could you see yourself living far away from home?

LeCounte: I fight with that all that time — you know, your thoughts when you're lying down and thinking, trying to go to sleep. I want to be pretty close to home and I want to be able to reach back and give back to my community.

I want to go to those places and come back and share the experience with the people that have never been outside of the state of Georgia. You know, there's a lot of my friends that have never been to Atlanta — there's things like that that I take for granted, like they've never been on a plane, and I want to share those experiences with them.

Because of that, I don't want to just move away and seclude myself from what built me, the village that raised me.

Frierson: Have you thought about ways you'd like to give back in town, like a park or running camps or anything?

LeCounte: Yeah, definitely. I want to do that, I want to pour into the youth. My mom is very active in the community, our church with the youth program and things like that, and I see myself also contributing to that. No matter if it's a park or football camp or just getting some of the kids in the community gathered up and going to the water park, just something I can do to help the new generation. I think that's a big step that I'll be able to get into.

Frierson: We're just coming off of Halloween, so what is your favorite Halloween candy and what is the best costume you ever wore?

LeCounte: I like those corn things, the candy corn. A lot of people don't like them, I've started to see, but I love the candy corn. I eat them, just pop them in my mouth.

My best Halloween costume? I was Flash this year — that was the best one I've had and that was what I did this year.

LeCounte: Nah, nah, some of the guys got up at one of our houses and just chilled for a few hours. We had candy and really were just watching football and getting ready for our game.

Frierson: You were sitting there as the Flash.

LeCounte: As the Flash — I felt fast. [Laughs.]

LeCounte: Oh, yeah, kind of.

Frierson: As I've told you before, you're always mentioned as one of the funniest guys on the team. Who among the new guys this season is pretty funny?

LeCounte: Probably Pickens. George is a real energetic guy, has a great personality and I love being around him — a lot of guys love being around him. He's going to bring a lot of energy, he's definitely hyper, and I love being around him. He's a great guy and he's going to be a great player here, also.
