Caryl Smith Gilbert, who led the University of Southern California women to the 2018 and 2021 NCAA outdoor team championships and was the National Women's Coach of the Year both of those seasons, was named Georgia's Director of Track and Field on June 13, 2021. Smith Gilbert became the first female head coach of a men's sports program in the history of Georgia Athletics.

The Bulldogs remained one of the country's dominant programs during Smith Gilbert's third year in 2024 as UGA tallied three top-10 finishes at the NCAA Championships and a bronze medal showing by the Lady Bulldogs at indoor Nationals. Known worldwide as one of track and field's premier speed coaches, Smith Gilbert guided her 2024 teams to 29 improvements to the school's all-time top 10 lists, 15 scoring spots at the Southeastern Conference Championships, had nine First Team All-Americans, set six school records and had a pair of SEC and NCAA individual crowns on the track.

The program as a whole made 61 top 10 improvements, had 39 SEC scorers and 20 First Team All-Americans, broke nine school records, had five SEC and four NCAA individual titles in 2024. That tally of accomplishments started during the indoor campaign as the Lady Bulldogs finished third (33 points) at the NCAA Championships and the Georgia men took 15th (14). Outdoors, the men and women went ninth and 10th, respectively, to finish with a cumulative 50 points at Nationals.

Sophomore Kaila Jackson, who is already an eight-time scoring All-American, jumpstarted the year with her consistently strong showings in the 60-meter dash. Jackson matched her school record with a 7.07 (No. 5 all-time collegiate performer) in the prelims at the NCAA Championships before taking silver (7.08) in the final. The third-place finisher at SECs had nine races at 7.20 or better. Jackson was nearly as impressive in the 200m after posting a season best of 22.55 and taking fourth at the NCAA Championships thanks to a 22.63. In addition, Aliyah Butler ran her only 200m of the season and clocked the school's fourth-fastest finish in history (22.80) at the Tiger Paw Invite. Butler also took over the No. 14 spot on the all-time collegiate performer list after winning the 300m at the Clemson Invite.

For the men, Jehlani Gordon rocketed to third in the UGA record books with his 6.60 in the 60m during his first year in 2024. Fellow freshman sprinter Brody Buffington reached the 6.63 mark and was fifth in the always competitive SEC final. In the 300m, sophomore sensation Christopher Morales Williams became the No. 6 all-time collegiate performer with his 300m time of 32.47.

Outdoors, Jackson remained with the elite after setting a school record in the 100m (10.95) to collect silver at the conference meet and taking fifth at Nationals (11.00). She completed the season third on Georgia's all-time top 10 list in the 200m with a 22.28. Jackson was fifth at both the SEC and NCAA meets in the event during her second year.

The longer sprints also made monstrous strides in her third year. Morales Williams won two SEC crowns and established a collegiate record and a world all-time best in the 400m. Morales Williams ran an all-time world-best 400m time of 44.49 to win the 2024 SEC indoor title, creating fresh Canadian, collegiate, school and meet records in his wake. Two weeks later, he had the No. 5 all-time collegiate performance (44.67) to collect the national championship in the event. Outdoors, the budding superstar mastered the difficult SEC/NCAA sweep. Morales Williams blistered a 44.05 to win the league's outdoor title with a Canadian, meet and school record finish that was the world leader at the time and made him the No. 6 all-time collegiate performer. Morales Williams then went for the school's first NCAA outdoor 400m title with a 44.47, marking his fifth sub-45 second 400m of the year. First-year Bulldog Hossam Hatib clocked the No. 3 time in the Georgia record books (45.12) and set a Moroccan national record with a 46.02 indoors.

On the women's side, Butler set the outdoor 400m school record with a 49.79 to take fourth at the SEC Championships to become the No. 9 all-time collegiate performer. She clocked UGA's third-fastest indoor time in school history (51.19) prior to taking fourth at the NCAA meet. In addition, three other 400m sprinters – Kimberly Harris (52.25), Haley Tate (53.03) and Sydney Harris (53.71) – earned a spot on the school's all-time top 10 lists indoors. Outdoors, Kimberly Harris ran UGA's fourth-best time in history (51.23) at SECs to make the final and qualified for the NCAA Championships.

Teaming with Karim Abdel Wahab to manage the relays, Georgia also had success with the baton in Smith Gilbert's third year. The Harris sister, Butler and Tate combined for memorable performances both indoors and outdoors, starting with a school record of 3:28.01 (No. 9 all-time collegiate performance) at the Razorback Invitational and taking sixth at both the SEC and NCAA Indoor Championships. Outdoors, the foursome posted the No. 8 all-time collegiate performance and school record of 3:24.26 to take fourth at the NCAA Championships. The Lady Bulldog quartet that also took fourth at SECs had five times under 3:30 in 2024 outdoors.

In the 400m hurdles, Dominique Mustin capped her final year by earning SEC runner-up honors with the second-fastest time in school history (55.60, fastest time for UGA since 1996) and qualified for the NCAA Championships. Teammate and training partner Zoe Pollock went 56.39 (No. 3 in school history) to also punch her ticket to Nationals.

Jumps continued to thrive thanks in part to Smith Gilbert's hiring of accomplished jumps technician Ryan Bailly. Elena Kulichenko posted matching bronze medal performances and 1.91 meters/6 feet, 3¼ inches clearances at the 2024 SEC and NCAA Championships indoors before elevating her performances to an even greater level outdoors. Kulichenko soared over the bar at a Cypriot, school and meet record mark of 1.97m/6-5.50 to tie for the NCAA outdoor crown and move to No. 4 on the all-time collegiate performer's list. Kulichenko went on to take seventh at the Paris Olympics (1.95m/6-4.75).

On the men's side, freshman Riyan Rankin earned a pair of First Team All-America certificates in the high jump. A breakout season also came from Nikolai van Huyssteen in the pole vault while triple jumper Mikeisha Welcome had a stellar finale to her career. Van Huyssteen shattered the school record with a mark of 5.42m/17-9.25 at the NCAA East Prelims to punch his ticket to Nationals and was the SEC runner-up indoors and outdoors. Welcome was in the top eight at both the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships, topping out with a bronze media finish indoors, and won the SEC indoor title in her final year.

In addition, hardware was won and school lists were altered in the throws. Marc Minichello's second year training with Don Babbitt ended with an NCAA title outdoors in the javelin after the Penn graduate reached 80.70m/264-9. Collecting his second straight SEC championship to start the postseason, Minichello kicked off his final season with a national leading launch of 82.32m/270-1 to win the Hurricane Collegiate Invitational, which vaulted him to No. 2 in the school record books and No. 13 on the collegiate all-time list. Throws teammate Alex Kolesnikoff dropped a UGA personal best shot put of 19.78m/64-10.75 at the NCAA East Prelims to punch his ticket to NCAAs. Boosted by consistency the entire outdoor season, the Australian native later earned First Team All-America honors (6th – 19.70m/64-7.75). For the Lady Bulldogs, Stephanie Ratcliffe earned a silver medal honors in the hammer at the SEC Championships with a UGA PB (67.68m/222-0).

Indoors, Kolesnikoff launched the nation's longest put in '24 (20.45m/67-1.25) at the New Balance Showdown, which ranked No. 2 in UGA history. Kolesnikoff returned to Boston to end the season and earned First Team All-America honors with a seventh-place finish in the shot put.

Year two directing UGA's teams reaped noticeable dividends as Smith Gilbert was named the men and women's U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) South Region Coach of the Year indoors and collected four top-10 national team finishes, including a runner-up showing for the Bulldog men at the 2023 NCAA Indoor Championships.

The Georgia men had their top finish in history at the 2023 NCAA Indoor Championships, earning second-place honors with a program record 40 points. The finish was highlighted by school records in both the 200-meter dash (Matthew Boling, 20.12, No. 5 all-time collegiate performer) and 400m (Elija Godwin, 44.75, No. 5 all-time collegiate performer) for NCAA titles as well as a collegiate record score of 6,639 points from the 2023 USTFCCCA Indoor National Field Athlete of the Year, Kyle Garland, in the heptathlon. Garland's score was only six points from the world record.

Boling joined Morales Williams, Caleb Cavanaugh and Will Sumner in the 4x400m relay at Nationals to score eight more points with a second-place finish. With Godwin running in place of Sumner, the Bulldogs ran a season-best relay of 3:02.90 at the Tiger Paw Invitational for the second-fastest finish in school history and fourth best in the nation in 2023. Also, Boling, Cavanaugh, Sumner and Godwin combined for runner-up honors in the relay at the SEC Championships.

The women finished fifth at the 2023 indoor Nationals after tallying 31 points. Individual performances from true freshmen Kaila Jackson and Autumn Wilson shined during the Lady Bulldogs' trip to Albuquerque. Jackson, who was the SEC Freshman Runner of the Year indoors and outdoors, clocked a World Junior (under-20) and school record 7.07 to become the No. 4 all-time collegiate performer in the prelims before taking second in the 60m final with a 7.08. In addition, Jackson was eighth in the 200m final.

Wilson shot to No. 7 on the all-time collegiate performer's list with a school record 22.42 in the 200m prelims and earned a bronze in the final (22.45). She complemented Jackson's finish in the 60m by taking fourth in the final with a personal record 7.12.

Other notable 2023 First Team All-America performances on the track came from Sumner, a true freshman who battled for a seventh-place finish in the 800m indoors. Sumner registered a 1:48.28 to win his first SEC title at the conference meet weeks earlier and set a school record with a 1:47.28 at the Music City Challenge.

Sumner was later voted the SEC Freshman Runner of the Year before also garnering the honor outdoors while Godwin was named the league's Co-Runner of the Year honors. In addition, Boling collected his record-tying third SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year award.

Sumner was not the only Bulldog who shined at the 2023 SEC Indoor Championships. Jackson earned second and fourth-place finishes in the 60m and 200m, respectively, while Wilson went fourth-fifth in the same short sprints. On the men's side, Godwin captured the 400m title with a matching 44.75 (meet record) from Nationals and Boling was second in the 200m. In addition, Keshawn Black competed at his first league meet and finished seventh with a 6.73.

A number of Georgia sprinters and hurdlers made significant improvements as well during the regular season, including Bella Witt clocking an 8.20 in the 60m hurdles, Kenondra Davis managing a 23.12 in the 200m, Butler registering a 52.92 in the 400m and Butler teaming with Mustin, Haley Tate and Pollock, who were all first-year Bulldogs, to record the school's second-fastest 4x400m relay time in school history (3:33.28).

For the year, Georgia collected three national titles and two conference crowns to go with six school records (men's 200m, men's 400m, men's 800m, decathlon, women's 60m, women's 200m) and 36 improvements to the school's all-time top-10 lists.

Outdoors, Smith Gilbert's squads were equally impressive. The Bulldog men posted a seventh-place finish at the NCAA Championships with 28 points, marking their sixth consecutive top-10 finish at the meet. Sumner highlighted Nationals after clocking the fifth-best time in collegiate history (1:44.26) to collect Georgia's first NCAA 800m title. The USTFCCCA Outdoor South Region Men's Track Athlete of the Year shaved more than two seconds off of his prep personal record in the 800m during his first season under Smith Gilbert and distance assistant Patrick Henner.

Sumner was one of nine Bulldog men who qualified for the NCAA Outdoor Championships. He ran a leg on the seventh place 4x400m relay team (3:03.22) at Nationals along with Morales Williams, Boling and Cavanaugh. Individually, Cavanaugh advanced to his first NCAA final in the 400m hurdles and scored thanks to a 49.20 for sixth place. This performance came after Cavanaugh dropped his career best to 49.04 in the hurdles at SECs. The Bulldogs' final points at the meet came from Minichello, who finished fourth in the javelin.

The Lady Bulldogs also managed to take 10th at the NCAA Championships with the contributions from 12 team members, including a half dozen sprinters who Smith Gilbert directly coaches. Jackson sped to a wind-aided 10.96 for fourth in the 100m final and also ran a leg on the scoring 4x100m relay, a quartet that included Butler, Brandee Presley and Wilson. The Lady Bulldogs ran a school record 42.87 to take sixth place. Also on the track, Mustin bettered her No. 2 spot in the school record books to 56.68 during the 400m hurdle semifinal.

In the jumps, Kulichenko reached the six-foot mark for the sixth time of the season to take third (1.87m/6-1.50) in the high jump while Titiana March, who advanced to a jaw-dropping 10 straight NCAA Championships over her five-year career, concluded her run as a Lady Bulldog with a season-best mark of 13.67m/44-10.25 for fifth in the triple jump.

Garland gave the Bulldogs' their third USTF-CCCA South Region Men's Field Athlete of the Year honor after securing an SEC decathlon title and a silver medal in the combined events at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. He scored the No. 3 all-time collegiate decathlon tally (8,630, NAAs) and the No. 4 tally (8,589, SECs) and posted collegiate all-time dec bests in both the 110m hurdles (13.54) and the shot put (16.77m/55-0.25) during his final outdoor campaign.

Georgia's successful 2023 outdoor postseason run began with the SEC Championships, including Boling collecting his record-breaking fourth SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year honor. The Bulldog sprinters, hurdlers and relays combined to score 68 points in the country's toughest conference. While Sumner's league crown in the 800m highlighted the weekend in Baton Rouge, Godwin managed a runner-up finish in the 400m and Jackson, who also won a bronze in the 200m, was second in her first outdoor final with a legal personal record of 11.04.

Smith Gilbert helped her team continue their onslaught of the school's all-time top-10 lists, including school records in the women's 4x100m and 4x400m relays, the men's 4x400m relay and the men's 800m. There were a total of 44 revisions to the Bulldog record books, including 29 in the sprints, hurdles and relays. Two of those improvements came from a pair of freshmen in the 100m (Jackson's 11.04, Wilson's 11.17) and another in the 400m (Butler's 51.32) as the trio passed one of the sport's all-time greats in Gwen Torrence in the events (11.20, 51.60).

In her first season with the Bulldogs, Smith Gilbert guided the men to an eighth-place finish at the 2022 NCAA Indoor Championships. She led Boling to UGA's first SEC 60m title as well as the Bulldogs' first conference crown in the 4x400m relay. Highlighted by school records in the men's 4x400m relay, distance medley relay, long jump, mile and women's shot put, Smith Gilbert's squads registered 30 improvements to the school's all-time top-10 lists.

Outdoors, Georgia had seven First Team All-Americans while collecting four SEC crowns, seven school records and 26 improvements to the UGA record books in 2022. Smith Gilbert directed the men to a fifth-place finish at the NCAA Championships during a campaign that was driven by her sprints corps. Following the collegiate season, Smith Gilbert continued to work with Godwin as he registered gold and bronze medals in the men's 4x400m relay and the mixed 4x400m relay, respectively, at the World Athletics Championships in Eugene, Ore.

Smith Gilbert extended her work with the Bulldogs' talented duo of Boling and Godwin as the pair hit a level of success new to the Georgia program. Boling established school records in the 100m (9.98, No. 5 nationally) and 200m (19.92, No. 3 nationally), collected SEC titles in both the 60m and outdoor 200m and finished as a national scorer in the 60m and 100m as well as becoming a top eight finisher in the 200m indoors and outdoors nationally. Smith Gilbert's leadership of Godwin was just as apparent as he posted his best finish at the SEC Championships of runner-up before earning a bronze medal nationally in the 400m with a then school record 44.50. Boling and Godwin were also two legs on the indoor 4x400m relay team that captured the 2022 SEC title for the first time in school history.

Godwin continued his success in the collegiate postseason as he re-set his own school record in the 400m with a 44.34 for fourth at the USATF Championships. Godwin's splits on his opening legs of the mixed relay and men's relay at Worlds were an impressive 44.89, 44.71, 44.46 and 44.28.

In addition, Smith Gilbert trained Cavanaugh in his third year to become an NCAA semifinalist after clocking the school's fourth best 400m hurdle time in history (49.59) and taking fourth at SECs. Cavanaugh's training partner, freshman Bryce McCray, also scored at the conference meet with the sixth-best time in UGA history (50.21). Working with short sprinter Delano Dunkley, Smith Gilbert helped him drop his 100m to 10.22 (No. 9 on UGA's all-time top-10 list) and 60m to 6.65 (No. 4).

On the women's side, first-year sprinter Kenon-dra Davis finished with the fourth-best indoor 200m time in school history (23.33) and the eighth-best outdoor finish (23.23) in 2022. Meanwhile, fellow freshman Eddiyah Frye qualified for the World Under-20 Championships thanks to her runner-up finish in the 100m hurdles at the USATF Championships with a time of 13.26, which stands eighth in the school record books. Indoors, Frye sped to an 8.23 in the 60m hurdles to move to No. 5 on UGA's all-time top-10 list under Smith Gilbert's direction.

The 2021 USC women's squad gave Smith Gilbert her second national title in the last three NCAA Outdoor Championships, while the Trojan men finished in the top-five at the 2021 outdoor Nationals for the fourth time in the last seven championships under her guidance.

Smith Gilbert spent eight seasons (2014-21) as the Director of Track and Field at USC, building the program into a national powerhouse. She guided the women's team to a 2018 NCAA Outdoor National Championship, earning the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association Women's (USTF-CCCA) National Coach of the Year honor and being named the USATF Nike Coach of the Year. That same season, the Trojans' men's squad finished second at the NCAA Indoor Championships. In 2021, Smith Gilbert again garnered National Coach of the Year honors after her women's team earned a spot at the top of the podium and her men's team was fifth at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

The Trojan track and field teams combined to finish in the top-10 an impressive 16 times in Smith Gilbert's eight seasons at the helm. She mentored over 200 first-team All-Americans, while her teams set close to 130 school top-10 marks and 50 program records. Her athletes also won over 20 individual NCAA event titles.

Smith Gilbert garnered the USTF-CCCA West Region Coach of the Year award on six occasions and is a five-time South Region Coach of the Year, two-time Pac-12 Coach of the Year and six-time Conference USA Coach of the Year. In 2015, she became the first woman to earn the Pac-12 Men's Coach of the Year honor.

USC's 2018 NCAA outdoor championships was just the second women's title in program history. The women claimed the crown with a come-from-behind victory over Georgia in the 4x400m relay, the meet's final event. That national championship was the culmination of another successful season under Smith Gilbert's guidance. The women's team also won the Pac-12 title, while the men's squad finished third.

She led the USC men's program to top-five national finishes in the outdoor championships in 2014, 2015, 2018 and 2021 while the women finished in the top-five of the outdoor event in 2017, 2018, 2019 and 2021.

Prior to her time with the Trojans, Smith Gilbert was a six-time Conference USA Coach of the Year at the University of Central Florida. She guided the Knights' women's team to a program-best fifth-place finish at the 2013 NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships.

The Knights won six C-USA track and field indoor and outdoor crowns, while her athletes earned All-America status more than 100 times and set over 100 school records.

Smith Gilbert spent five seasons (2003-07) as an assistant coach at Tennessee, where she was responsible for coaching sprints, hurdles and jumps. Her Lady Vol athletes won three NCAA titles and seven Southeastern Conference crowns. In 2005, Tennessee won its first NCAA indoor championship as her athletes combined for 24 All-America honors.

Smith Gilbert was an assistant coach at Alabama for three years (2000-02) and an assistant at Penn State from 1998-99.

Prior to her career in the collegiate ranks, the Denver, Colo. native was the head coach at her prep alma mater, George Washington High, from 1994-97. In addition to her experience at the high school and collegiate levels, Smith Gilbert was an assistant with Team USA and was invited to coach the 2005 Pan Am Junior Championships. She was also selected to serve as an assistant coach for the 2007 World Championships in Osaka, Japan.

Smith Gilbert is a 1991 graduate of UCLA, where she was a three-time All-American and Pac-10 champion in the 100m, 4x100m relay and the 4x400m relay. She holds a bachelor's degree in Film and Television Production from UCLA and earned Master's degrees in Sport Management and Sport Psychology from the University of Tennessee.

Smith Gilbert is married to former University of Alabama standout and NFL linebacker Greg Gilbert. They have three sons: Alex, Spencer and Osiris.

2003 National Assistant Coach of the Year

With the arrival of his 29th year in red and black and in his 41st year overall coaching, Don Babbitt has transformed the Georgia throws program into arguably the most continually talented group in the country. And along a total of 31 NCAA champions and 153 All-Americans, the dean of SEC throws coaches is perhaps the most accomplished throwing coach in the world. Babbitt was promoted to Associate Head Coach in June 2015 and since his promotion, the Bulldogs have finished in the top six nationally 18 times, including two national team titles and a trio of runner-up finishes.

Under Babbitt's guidance since 1996, Georgia's throwers have reached a continued high level of success. The Bulldog throwers have captured 16 NCAA titles, earned 118 All-American certificates and won 65 SEC titles since Babbitt arrived in Athens.

Thanks to the performances listed above and others, Babbitt has garnered the following honors while coaching at Georgia:

- 2003 USTFCCCA National Assistant Coach of the Year
- 2007 USTFCCCA East Region Women's Throws Coach of the Year
- 2009 USTFCCCA East Region Men's Throws Coach of the Year

Babbitt has also had mammoth success at the international level, including have four current or former Bulldog in the 2024 Olympics (Stephanie Ratcliffe, Ana da Silva, Denzel Comenentia, Marie-Therese Obst):

- 58 athletes who have competed at the Olympic Games/World Championships
- His throwers have captured 26 medals in international competition
- His throwers have won 20 titles at the USA Championships

Nine NCAA titles, 67 All-American honors and 31 SEC crowns during the last 17 seasons further solidified Babbitt's hold as one of the world's premier throws coaches.

Most recently, another flurry of notable performances in a variety of events arrived under Babbitt's watch in 2024. Marc Minichello's second year training with Babbitt ended with an NCAA title outdoors in the javelin after the Penn graduate reached 80.70 meters/264 feet, 9 inches, marking his third series of the season at 80 or more meters. Collecting his second straight SEC championship to start the postseason, Minichello kicked off his final season with a national leading launch of 82.32m/270-1 to win the Hurricane Collegiate Invitational, which vaulted him to No. 2 in the school record books and No. 13 on the collegiate all-time list. Throws teammate Alex Kolesnikoff dropped a UGA personal best shot put of 19.78m/64-10.75 at the NCAA East Prelims to punch his ticket to NCAAs. Boosted by consistency the entire outdoor season, the Australian native later earned First Team All-America honors (6th - 19.70m/64-7.75). For the Lady Bulldogs, Babbitt guided Stephanie Ratcliffe to silver medal honors in the hammer throw at the SEC Championships with a UGA PB (67.68m/222-0) as she battled through injuries. Newcomer Kelsie Murrell-Ross posted a regular season shot put mark of 18.33m/60-1.75 (fifth best in NCAA), scored at the conference level and qualified for the NCAA Championships under Babbitt's tutelage. Also of note, graduate transfer Erin McMeniman shattered her previous personal best with a javelin mark of 53.32m/174-11 (No. 6 in UGA history) for 10th at the NCAA Championships a month after taking sixth at SECs.

Indoors, Kolesnikoff launched the nation's longest put in '24 (20.45m/67-1.25) at the New Balance Showdown, which ranked No. 2 in UGA history. Kolesnikoff returned to Boston to end the season and earned First Team All-America honors with a seventh-place finish in the shot put. Murrell-Ross made her Lady Bulldog debut and quickly made her mark with a fourth place showing at SECs. Her effort of 17.10m/56-1.25 was a Grenadian national record and No. 2 on Georgia's all-time top-10 list. Murrell-Ross also took control of the No. 10 spot in the UGA record books in the weight (18.63m/61-1.50).

In 2023, Babbitt's corps of throwers scored at the conference and national level and continued to sharpen the school record books. A javelin specialist himself during his UCLA days, Babbitt began work with Minichello who finished the season as the SEC champion and a First Team All-American. Minichello's season best of 80.62m/264-6 ranked second in Georgia history and stood at the No. 3 spot on the national list at season's end. After coming from behind to win the Bulldogs' 12th SEC title in the javelin all-time, Minichello sent his spear 77.27m/253-6 to take fourth at the NCAA Championships.

Also on the men's side, Babbitt guided senior Alencar Pereira to a runner-up finish in the hammer throw at SECs and a personal record in the event (72.85m/239-0) that stands second on the Bulldogs' all-time top-10 list and sixth on the NCAA's 2023 list. Pereira finished one spot out of scoring at NCAAs. Fellow Brazilian Ana da Silva also surged during her final season under Babbitt's tutelage in both the shot put and hammer throw. Da Silva went 17.62m/57-9.75 to win the LSU Invitational in the shot put and was a Second Team All-American in the event after taking sixth at SECs. In the hammer, Babbitt helped da Silva make the necessary changes that helped her lock down a fresh personal best (64.60m/211-11, No. 6 in UGA history) for 10th at the NCAA Championships.

Babbitt had another range of throwers improve on their career-best efforts, including his stepdaughter Julia Harisay. Harisay, who shot up to No. 7 in the school record books in the discus (50.41m/165-4), advanced to her first NCAA meet and scored for the second season in a row at the SEC Outdoor Championships in the javelin. Her training partner, McMeniman, also punched her ticket to Nationals in the javelin, scored during her first opportunity at SECs and took over the No. 10 spot in the school record books (50.48m/165-7).

While Elsie Igberaese bettered her hammer throw personal record to 64.01m/210-0 thanks in part to Babbitt's teaching, Beverage used Babbitt's techniques to improve his career best to 18.81m/61-8.50, which ranks No. 9 in UGA history, during the 2023 outdoor campaign.

Babbitt also continued to work with decathlete Kyle Garland and during a combined events competition at the Mt. SAC Relays, Garland posted the all-time best collegiate dec shot put mark of 16.77m/55-0.25.

Babbitt continued the development of his throwers by having two SEC scorers and making a pair of improvements to Georgia's all-time top-10 lists during the 2023 indoor campaign. Da Silva posted a season-best shot put toss of 17.25m/56-7.25 to take fourth while Pereira managed a sixth-place showing in the weight throw. Pereira rocketed to fourth in the Bulldog record books in the weight at the Dr. MLK Jr. Invite with a toss of 21.89m/71-10. In the women's weight, Igberaese improved to No. 7 on the school's all-time top-10 list after reaching 19.57m/64-2.50 at the Tiger Paw Invite.

Babbitt's throwers earned four All-America certificates in 2022, broke two school record and captured the women's SEC outdoor shot put title. Competing for the first time in the red and black, da Silva worked up to a school record of 17.52 meters/57 feet, 5 ¾ inches, which ranked ninth nationally, for bronze honors at the SEC Championships. The Brazil native answered that performance with a First Team All-America showing at Nationals after finishing seventh. Outdoors, da Silva launched the longest toss of her career for a school record (18.46/60-6.75) on her sixth and final toss to secure the Lady Bulldogs their first SEC shot put title since 2000. She went on to win the Brazilian National Championships and competed at the 2022 World Championships. Da Silva was one of a number of competitors who experienced success under Babbitt's tutelage in 2022. Pereira earned SEC runner-up honors in the hammer throw after building to a PR of 70.74/232-1 during the regular season finale and qualified for Nationals for the second year in a row. Pereira's year began with establishing a fresh career best in the weight throw (21.30/69-10.75) indoors. Another second-place finish at SECs came from Ahmed Magour in the javelin after the Qatar native acquired the fifth-longest throw in Bulldog history (74.40/244-1). He returned to score at his first NCAA Championships. In addition, Beverage eclipsed 61 feet outdoors in the shot put to earn a spot on the school's all-time list and qualify for the NCAA Prelims. Igberaese, Mia Anderson and Harisay also all tallied a combo of personal bests in the weight throw, shot put, hammer, discus and javelin.

In 2021, Babbitt wrapped up the collegiate development of javelin standout Marie-Therese Obst as she won seven meets in her final campaign, including capturing the 2021 SEC and NCAA titles. Obst topped out at a school record 61.37 meters (201 feet, 4 inches) in her final home meet at the Spec Towns Invitational and ended as the NCAA's No. 4 all-time collegiate performer.

Babbitt concluded coaching one of the Bulldogs' all-time greats, Denzel Comenentia, in 2019. Comenentia finished his UGA career as a 13-time First Team All-American, eight-time SEC individual champion, two-time NCAA individual champion and the Amsterdam native accomplished a feat in 2019 that had never been conquered in history. Comenentia balanced a trio of events at the NCAA Championships and scored in all three, including a runner-up finish in the shot put (20.77m, 68-1.75) and fifth-place showings in both the discus (a personal record of 59.97m, 196-9) and the hammer throw (72.93m, 293-3). Following Babbitt's leadership, Comenentia was named the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) Co-South Region Men's Field Athlete of the Year outdoors for the second straight year. He also captured the SEC Commissioner's Trophy for the second year in a row as the league's high scorer at the conference meet thanks to his third shot put title in a row and second-place finishes in both the discus and hammer. His personal bests from his final outdoor campaign featured a hammer mark of 76.80m (252-0, No. 10 all-time collegiate performer, longest NCAA mark in 2019, Dutch national record), a shot put effort of 20.78m (68-2.25, No. 5 on 2019 NCAA list) and a personal-best discus mark that finished No. 2 on Georgia's all-time list.

Comenentia earned another USTFCCCA honor at the conclusion of the indoor season as he was third in both the weight throw (23.32m, 76-6.25) and the shot (20.58m, 67-6.25) at the NCAA meet and won his second SEC indoor shot crown. Babbitt tuned his All-American up to muscle a school record in the shot (20.72m, 67-11.75), which ended up being the country's third-longest toss of the year, and the NCAA's third-longest weight throw of 2019 with a mark of 23.52m (77-2).

On the women's side, Obst launched the then fifth-longest javelin effort in UGA history during the 2019 campaign, was third at SECs and qualified for another NCAA Prelims. In addition, Hayden Merrick worked her way up to No. 4 on Georgia's all-time list in the discus to finish one spot from qualifying for Nationals with a toss of 52.34m (171-9).

In 2018, Babbitt directed Comenentia to two NCAA crowns, four First Team All-America honors and a trio of SEC individual championships. Most importantly, Comenentia was the key component to bringing the Bulldogs' first NCAA team crown back to Athens outdoors. Sweeping the hammer throw and shot put at the SEC Outdoor Championships for the second straight year (while also placing in the discus to win the Commissioner's Trophy as the meet's high scorer), Comenentia collected the hammer and shot put NCAA titles together for only the third time in meet history to lead the Bulldog men to their national championships. Babbitt first coached the Amsterdam native to reach a school record distance of 20.44m (67-0.75) in the indoor shot put and 23.71m (77-9.50) in the weight throw, which is a mark that sits only behind one of Babbitt's former throwers, NCAA champion and Olympian Andras Haklits (79.30m, 80-2). Outdoors, Comenentia improved to second on Georgia's all-time list in the shot (20.88m, 68-6), hammer (a Dutch national record of 76.41m, 250-8) and discus (58.81m, 192-11). The effort in the hammer put Comenentia as the No. 10 all-time collegiate performer and gave the Bulldogs two on the all-time list as Haklits remains No. 2.

Babbitt's trend of coaching his student-athletes to greatness became even more evident as the native of Santa Monica, Calif., led freshman Freya Jones to the 2013 NCAA javelin title and four other throwers to All-America honors that year. In 2014, his throwers swept the SEC hammer throw titles (first time the Bulldogs have won both since 2001; UGA accomplished the feat again in 2017) and added six more All-America certificates, including three top-six national finishes in the men's hammer, men's shot put and women's javelin. Alex Pouranidis won his second consecutive SEC hammer championship in 2015 and Ashinia Miler topped a 20-year-old school record in the indoor shot put (20.31m, 66-7.75) as Babbitt's corps picked up another pair of First Team All-America honors at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. When 2016 had come and gone, Babbitt had directed then freshman Comenentia to First Team All-America honors in the indoor shot put and Ashinia Miller to a sweep of the SEC shot put titles.

Babbitt's throwers have seen success throughout the 2000s. Nikola Lomnicka registered four All-America certificates over her years at UGA (2010-12) to go along with the 2010 national title in the hammer throw, marking Georgia's third championship in the event during a five-year span (2006-10). In 2009, Chris Hill won his second consecutive NCAA title in the javelin throw and capped his NCAA career with a USATF National Championship as well with a throw of 83.87m (275-2). This mark established a new NCAA American collegiate record.

Other notable Bulldog performers under Babbitt's tutelage include now former collegiate record holder Jenny Dahlgren (hammer throw), 2003 NCAA champion Lucais MacKay (hammer) and the three-time national champion Haklits (two hammer, one weight). In 2007, Dahlgren finished her Bulldog career with three NCAA titles, eight All-American certificates and four SEC titles while the Argentinian shattered school, SEC, collegiate, NCAA Championship and South American records in the hammer throw (72.94m, 239-3) under Babbitt's guidance. Two years before Dahlgren's finale, Babbitt led his throwers to eight top-20 finishes during the 2005 NCAA Championships, highlighted by Trevor Snyder's second-place finish in the javelin and Dahlgren's pair of top-five finishes in the NCAA Championships.

In 2003, Babbitt guided MacKay to All-America honors in the weight, hammer and discus as MacKay became a six-time All-America thrower while at UGA. Babbitt also coached MacKay to an NCAA title in the hammer throw and led Panagiotis Mavraganis to All-America honors in the weight throw as well as SEC titles in the weight and hammer throws in 2003.

In addition, Babbitt has had a long-term coaching relationship with Haklits, the four-time Croatian Olympian and hammer record holder. Haklits finished eighth in the 2008 Beijing Olympics and seventh in the hammer at the 2009 World Championships in Berlin, Germany.

Babbitt has also guided a number of the world's top performers at the professional level. These include 2004 Olympic champion and 2005 World Outdoor shot put champion Adam Nelson and 2006 World Indoor and 2007 World Outdoor shot put champion and 2012 Olympic bronze medalist Reese Hoffa. Hoffa developed into the world's most consistent thrower over a 15-year period and will go down, along with Nelson, as one of the all-time greats in the sport. Babbitt is has also served as the personal coach of eight-time U.S. Champion and current American record holder Breaux Greer (javelin), as well as Canadian record holder Jason Tunks (discus) and three-time Canadian Olympian and former Canadian record holder Brad Snyder (shot put).

Babbitt came to Athens from California State University in Los Angeles where he was an assistant from 1988-96. He built the Cal State-Los Angeles throwing program into the strongest at the NCAA Division II level, producing 46 NCAA qualifiers, 39 All-Americans and 15 NCAA Champions.

Babbitt received his bachelor's degree in Biology from UCLA in 1989 and his Master's degree in Exercise Science from Cal State-Los Angeles in 1994. He is currently completing a PhD in Kinesiology (Sport Pedagogy) at the University of Georgia.

An avid writer and clinician, Babbitt has written over 83 articles and three book chapters for publications on six continents and in six different languages. He has also conducted clinics and seminars on six different continents, including 18 different states in the US. Babbitt has served the Throws Editor for the World Athletics Coaches Education Program and a World Athletics Level V Lecturer for the World Athletics Throws Academy Courses since 2009. In addition, Babbitt produced and taught the throws curriculum for the new USATFCCCA Coaching Academy which was established in 2011 and has contributed to the development of the UK Athletics Coaching Education Curriculum for the heavy throws (shot, discus, hammer) and ALTIS' Coaching Education Program.

Babbitt is also an NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist and designed strength and conditioning programs for Cal State-Los Angeles' basketball, soccer and track and field teams. He served as assistant manager and throws coach for the U.S. men's track and field team at the 1997 World University Games in Italy. He has also been a national team coach for Canada, Croatia, Taiwan, Netherlands and Argentina in various major international championships.

While at UCLA, Babbitt competed in the javelin throw for the Bruins, placing seventh at the 1988 Pac-10 Outdoor Championships.

Babbitt is married to the former Petra Juraskova, who is a member of the NCAA Division II NCAA Track & Field Hall of Fame. They have two daughters, Julia (born in 1998), and Veronika (born in 2006). Julia competed on Princeton's track and field team and was a graduate transfer NCAA qualifier in the javelin for the Bulldogs. Julia reached 52.03m/170-8 for fourth place at her first SEC Championships in 2022 and rocketed to sixth on the school's all-time list.

Karim Abdel Wahab, who is a native of Egypt, joined Georgia's staff guiding the sprinters and hurdlers in July 2023 after serving in a similar role for the University South Carolina team during the 2019-23 seasons.

In 2024, Abdel Wahab wasted little time making his mark on the 400-meter dash, outdoor hurdles and the 4x400m relay. His Bulldog sprinters made 22 improvements to Georgia's all-time top-10 lists, including five school records, and earned First Team All-America honors in five events with a pair of individual national championships. Sophomore sensation Christopher Morales Williams also won two Southeastern Conference crowns and established a collegiate record and a world all-time best in the 400m under Abdel Wahab's watch.

Morales Williams ran an all-time world-best 400m time of 44.49 to win the 2024 SEC indoor title, creating fresh Canadian, collegiate, school and meet records in his wake. Two weeks later, he had the No. 5 all-time collegiate performance (44.67) to collect the national championship in the event. Outdoors, Abdel Wahab managed his budding superstar to another SEC/NCAA sweep. Morales Williams blistered a 44.05 to win the league's outdoor title with a Canadian, meet and school record finish that was the world leader at the time and made him the No. 6 all-time collegiate performer. Abdel Wahab then guided Morales Williams to the school's first NCAA outdoor 400m title with a 44.47, marking his fifth sub-45 second 400m of the year. First-year Bulldog Hossam Hatib clocked the No. 3 time in the Georgia record books (45.12) and set a Moroccan national record with a 46.02 indoors.

On the women's side, fellow sophomore Aliyah Butler set the outdoor 400m school record with a 49.79 to take fourth at the SEC Championships to become the No. 9 all-time collegiate performer. Wahab started his year with Butler indoors as she clocked UGA's third-fastest time in school history (51.19) prior to taking fourth at the NCAA meet. In addition, three other of Abdel Wahab's 400m sprinters – Kimberly Harris (52.25), Haley Tate (53.03) and Sydney Harris (53.71) – earned a spot on the school's all-time top-10 lists indoors. Outdoors, Kimberly Harris ran UGA's fourth-best time in history (51.23) at SECs to make the final and qualified for the NCAA Championships.

Abdel Wahab's work with Georgia's relay teams paid off immediate dividends as well. The Harris sister, Butler and Tate combined for memorable performances both indoors and outdoors, starting with a school record of 3:28.01 (No. 9 all-time collegiate performance) at the Razorback Invitational and taking sixth at both the SEC and NCAA Indoor Championships. Outdoors, the foursome posted the No. 8 all-time collegiate performance and school record of 3:24.26 to take fourth at the NCAA Championships. The Lady Bulldog quartet that also took fourth at SECs had five times under 3:30 in 2024 outdoors.

Abdel Wahab's hurdlers also showed massive improvements to take over the No. 2 and No. 3 spots in the Lady Bulldog record books. Dominique Mustin capped her final year by earning SEC runner-up honors in the 400m hurdles with the second-fastest time in school history (55.60, fastest time for UGA since 1996) and qualified for the NCAA Championships. Teammate and training partner Zoe Pollock went 56.39 (No. 3 in school history) to also punch her ticket to Nationals.

The veteran sprints and hurdles coach was instrumental for the Gamecocks, helping the women experience some of the finest seasons in well over a decade. During the 2023 indoor season, the South Carolina women's 4x400-meter relay finished second at the SEC Indoor Championships and then seventh at the NCAA Championships. Outdoors, Abdel Wahab coached true freshman Sylvia Chelangat to a new 800m school record (2:02.58) at the UFTom Jones Memorial, marking an eight second improvement from Chelangat's previous personal best. This was her first year specializing in the 800m. Later during the outdoor season, Chelangat finished as the runner-up at the SEC Championships.

In 2022, Abdel Wahab coached 13 All-Americans and witnessed a handful of scorers at both the SEC Championships and NCAA Championships. Among those All-Americans were Stephanie Davis, Makenzie Dunmore and Destinee Rocker. Rocker broke the school record in the 60m hurdles (8.07) and registered the third best 100m hurdle time of (12.95). Rocker also finished eighth at the NCAA Outdoor Championship to earn All-American status, while Davis earned hers as part of the 4x400m relay team – the same team that claimed the title at the Penn Relays. In fact, that same relay team of Davis, Dunmore, Angel Frank and Jahnile Registre broke the 4x400m relay school record at the SEC Outdoor Championships with a time of 3:25.45.

The 2022 season also yielded student-athletes like freshmen Jayla Jamison who became the USATF Jr. Nationals champion in the 200m and earned silver in the 200m at World Jr. Championships for Team USA with a time of 22.77. Jamison was the first leg on the 4x100m relays at Worlds, setting a new American record, helping her team earn a silver medal and only finishing behind the relay team from Jamaica.

Abdel Wahab worked with Olympians and athletes from the World Championships, including the likes of Gamecock Alum Wadeline Jonathas. Jonathas, who continued to train in Columbia under Abdel Wahab's tutelage, competed in the 400m for Team USA in the Tokyo Olympics. He also coached Aliyah Abrams to the Tokyo Games for her home country of Guyana. Both Jonathas and Abrams made it to the semifinals of the 400m at the Olympics. Jonathas was also a member of the women's 4x400m relay team that advanced in the first round of competition, later earning gold medal for her efforts.

In addition, Abrams competed in the 2022 World Indoor Championships where she finished fifth and broke the South American and Guyana record.

Prior to the shutdown because of COVID-19, Abdel Wahab continued to coach Jonathas and Abrams throughout their run to the 2019 IAAF World Championships in Doha, Qatar. Abrams captured the Guyana national title in the 400m while Jonathas qualified for Team USA with her finish at USA Nationals. Jonathas eventually reached the IAAF World Championship final in the 400m and posted a new collegiate record (49.60) to finish fourth in the world.

In 2019 and his first year as a Gamecock, Abdel Wahab's student-athletes achieved numerous milestones, including the women's 4x400m relay team winning the NCAA Indoor Championship. Abrams was a silver medalist in the 400m at the NCAA Indoor Championship that same season.

Moving over to the outdoor season, Abdel Wahab coached Jonathas to win the NCAA Championship in the women's 400m, while her teammate Abrams placed fifth overall in the 400m. That year, South Carolina was the only school in the nation that sent two women to the NCAA finals in the 400m and both achieved personal bests in the finals. The 4x400m relay took third at the same championship.

Abdel Wahab came to Columbia after eight seasons in charge of the sprinters and hurdlers at Colorado State University. His student-athletes combined for 13 new school records, including three Mountain West Conference records.

During his eight seasons in Fort Collins, Abdel Wahab led his student-athletes to six All-America honors and one honorable mention All-America honor. From 2012-14, Abdel Wahab coached Trevor Brown to five All-America finishes, including laurels in the 110m and 400m hurdles outdoors and the 60m hurdles indoors. Brown left CSU as the Mountain West's record-holder in the 60mH (7.73) and 110mH (13.55).

On the women's side, Abdel Wahab molded Lorenda Holston into an All-American in the 60m and 100m hurdles in 2017. Holston set the Mountain West's all-time record in the 60mH (8.06). Before joining the staff at Colorado State, Abdel Wahab spent four seasons at the University of Northern Colorado. He coached UNC's first-ever NCAA West Preliminary Round qualifiers in the men's 100m and 200m, helped four Bears set new school records and led multiple Big Sky Conference champions. He also spent two seasons at Colorado School of Mines.

Outside of the collegiate level, Abdel Wahab served as the personal coach for Fort Collins native and 2012 Olympic long jump bronze medalist Janay DeLoach. Under Abdel Wahab's tutelage, DeLoach finished third in the long jump at the 2016 U.S. Olympic Trials, earning a spot at the 2016 Rio Olympics. DeLoach was also a fourth-place finisher in the long jump at the 2016 World Indoor Championships and won the 2016 60m hurdles at the MILROSE Games (7.85m) under Abdel Wahab's leadership.

Prior to his time out west, Abdel Wahab served as a team coach for the Egyptian National Team at the 2010 African Championships, the 2011 World Outdoor Championships, the 2012 World Indoor Championships and the 2012 and 2016 Olympic Games. Among those to train under Abdel Wahab are Amr Seoud who broke the 100m (10.13) and 200m (20.36) national records, and Anas Beshr who set a national record in the 400m (45.40) to qualify for the Rio Olympics.

Recognized as one of the top sprints and hurdles coaches in the world, Abdel Wahab has published several articles discussing the mechanics and methodologies of each discipline. He has taught extensively on the subject throughout the United States and Canada.

Abdel Wahab graduated in 2002 from Helwan University in Cairo with a degree in Physical education, exercise science and track and field coaching. He is a USATF Level I Coach and is recognized as an ISSA Fitness Trainer and ISSA Fitness Therapist.

Ryan Baily began coaching Georgia's multi-event athletes, pole vaulters and jumpers in December 2023 at Georgia after serving in the same role at Colorado State.

Baily made his presence felt immediately with the Bulldogs during his first year in 2024. His corps established 10 fresh marks to Georgia's all-time top 10 lists, including two school records, had six scoring First Team All-Americans, including a national champion, and left with a pair of Southeastern Conference individual title winners.

The high jump particularly benefitted from Baily's guidance. Elena Kulichenko posted matching bronze medal performances and 1.91 meters/6 feet, 3 ¼ inches clearances at the 2024 SEC and NCAA Championships indoors before elevating her performances to an even greater level outdoors. Kulichenko soared over the bar at a Cypriot, school and meet record mark of 1.97m/6-5.50 to tie for the NCAA outdoor crown and move to No. 4 on the all-time collegiate performer's list. The 2024 SEC outdoor champion won nine competitions in 2024, clearing at least 1.84m/6-0.50 in all of her meets. Baily went on to help Kulichenko take seventh at the Paris Olympics (1.95m/6-4.75).

On the men's side, freshman Riyon Rankin earned a pair of First Team All-America certificates in the high jump under Baily's tutelage. Rankin had indoor and outdoor seasons bests of 2.21m/7-3 during his first year in the program. Also in jumps, newcomer Zavien Wolfe posted fourth and fifth place finishes in the triple and long, respectively, at SEC Indoors while fellow freshman Micah Larry soared 7.80m/25-7.25 to command the silver medal at the league's outdoor meet.

Baily was instrumental in a breakout season for Nikolai van Huyssteen in the pole vault as well as a stellar finale for triple jumper Mikeisha Welcome. Van Huyssteen shattered the school record with a mark of 5.42m/17-9.25 at the NCAA East Prelims to punch his ticket to Nationals and was the SEC runner-up indoors and outdoors. Welcome was in the top eight at both the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships, topping out with a bronze medal finish indoors, and won the SEC indoor title in her final year.

Also of note, sophomore heptathlete Ella Rush won the long jump in both SEC combined event competitions and moved into UGA's all-time top 10 list in the hep with her third place showing (5,606 points) at SECs.

Complementing Kulichenko's success at the Olympic Games, Baily coached former Lady Bulldog SEC and NCAA champion and current UGA Athletic Association employee Chanice Porter to a spot on Team Jamaica in the long jump.

The Scottsbluff, Neb., native left a strong impact at CSU, helping coach multiple Rams to a combined 19 school records, 23 Mountain West individual titles, eight All-America honors and two Honorable Mention All-America honors.

During the 2022-2023 season, Baily guided a sweep of the indoor multis at the Mountain West Championships as Lexie Keller won the pentathlon with a score of 4,306 and Drew Thompson won the heptathlon with 5,281 points. Keller went on to earn her third All-American honor in the pentathlon at the 2023 NCAA Indoor Championships. Thompson won the outdoor decathlon championship as well, scoring a lifetime best of 7,338.

Baily also guided Sharde Johnson to a first-place finish in the high jump (1.73m/5-8) at the Mountain West Outdoor Championships. Keller concluded her season at the USA National Championships in Eugene, Ore., where she finished in 10th place and earned an invitation to compete for Team USA in the Thorpe Cup.

In 2021-22, Baily helped coach a number of athletes to both school records and championships. Eldridge Harris broke the school record for outdoor pole vault (5.19m/17-0.25) to win the Mountain West Championship and Celyn Stermer broke the school record for indoor pole vault (4.12m/13-6.25). Allam Bushara broke the school record for indoor triple jump (16.07m/52-8.75) en route to an Indoor Mountain West Championship in the event.

Baily also coached Keller to a third-place finish in the heptathlon at the Indoor NCAA Championships (4,321 points) and sixth in the Outdoor NCAA Championships. Keller also won the heptathlon while setting a new meet record at the Mountain West Championship meet (5,834) and set new school records as she recorded the second-best heptathlon and pentathlon in conference history.

The 2018-19 campaign brought a flurry of accolades. Hunter Powell won indoor heptathlon and outdoor decathlon in the Mountain West Conference, totaling five in six seasons. Powell also qualified for the NCAA Championships in the decathlon. MaryBeth Sant broke school records in both the 60-meter dash (7.18) and 100m (11.41), while finishing fifth in the 60m at the Milrose Games among professional athletes. She also led off CSU's first-ever 4x100m All-American Relay. Nick Kravec capped his career off with a runner-up to Powell at the MWC Championships. The Rams' decathlon squad finished the year as the top-ranked decathlon team in the NCAA.

Among the highlights for Baily's athletes in 2017-18 was the performance of high jumper Autumn Gardner, who cleared 1.84m/6-0.5 to break CSU's previous program record at the NoCo Challenge. That performance ranked Gardner sixth in Mountain West history in the event and distinguished her as one of five high jumpers in the conference to leap higher than six feet that decade. In addition, Gardner finished as the NCAA's No. 8-ranked performer in the event in 2018.

Under Baily's guidance, the Rams experienced one of the most successful stretches in the combined events in program history. During the 2016-17 indoor season, Hunter Price shattered the Mountain West and CSU records in the heptathlon, scoring 5,906 at the CSM Alumni Classic & Multis. Price broke his own records again at the NCAA Indoor Championships, piling up 5,996 points to place fourth and earn First-Team All-America status. No other heptathlete in MW history has finished as high as Price at the NCAA Indoor Championships.

The 2016-17 season continued with more success from Baily's combined events athletes, as Josh Cogdill earned Second-Team

All-America honors and Price earned Honorable Mention honors at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. Cogdill placed 16th at the national meet, marking the highest finish for a CSU decathlete since 1982 (John Harrell – 10th). During the outdoor season, Price broke the CSU record and set the No. 2 all-time mark in conference history with a score of 7,801 in the elite invitational section of the Mt. SAC/California Invitational Combined Events.

Among Baily's top multi-event athletes at CSU was Jessica Green, who placed 22nd in the heptathlon (5,032 points) at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. With her performance, Green became the first CSU athlete to earn any level of All-America honors in the women's heptathlon since 2008. Baily also coached an All-American in his first season at CSU, guiding Justin Green to Second Team honors (11th place – 5,348 points) in 2015.

Prior to his time at Colorado State, Baily was the head track & field and cross country coach at Chadron State. In his five years at Chadron State, Baily's men's team placed as high as ninth nationally in indoor track & field and 16th nationally in outdoor track & field. Baily's Chadron State teams broke 18 men's and 22 women's school records and featured 22 All-Americans and a Division II national champion. His teams were also honored for their work in the classroom, as his men's team earned the USTFCCA's Scholar Team of the Year award in 2011.

Baily has been recognized for his teams' accomplishments several times and was a seven-time Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Coach of the Year. Baily earned honors as recently as in 2013 (men's outdoor), also earning that honor twice in 2011 (women's indoor, women's outdoor) as well as in 2010 (men's indoor).

While the head coach at Western State (2005-09), Baily earned that same honor in 2008 (men's indoor) and twice in 2007 (women's outdoor, men's outdoor). Additionally, Baily was named the USTFCCA North Central Regional Coach of the Year in 2008. Among the top performances by his Western State squads was its showing at the 2007 RMAC Outdoor Championships, where each of his women's and men's teams placed second.

Baily was a conference champion in the decathlon at Chadron State. He was named the Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year while attaining his bachelor's degree in education (2003) and added a master's degree in education in 2005 from the University of the Cumberlands. In addition, Baily holds a USA Track & Field Level I certification.

Baily is married to his wife, Janel, and the couple has two children: Jayden and Trenton.

Lauren Hirneisen joined the Georgia program as an assistant coach for distance and the Director of External Operations in July of 2024 after spending a cross country and an indoor season and two outdoor seasons at California Baptist University with current Bulldog cross country coach Adam Tribble. Prior to her last stop, Hirneisen was at North Florida for two years under former Georgia distance coach Jeff Pigg.

In her first season aiding Tribble with the “Distance Dawgs,” Hirneisen helped guide sophomore Ryan Olree to a 19th-place finish (30:34.9) and All-Region honors at the NCAA South Regional. For the women, Tribble and Hirneisen began the development of freshman in-state product Izzy Yonas, who scored at all five meets and was UGA’s top finisher in three of them.

In addition, a pair of underclassmen in Conner Rutherford and Kate Robinson strengthened the case for future optimism in Georgia’s distance program. Rutherford, a sophomore, was the second Bulldog across the line in all four of his meets while Robinson, a freshman, topped her teammates in two races and scored in all five.

In the 2024 outdoor season at CBU, Hirneisen helped the Lancers earn multiple NCAA qualifiers for the second consecutive season with both Valentin Soca and Greta Karinauskaite punching their ticket to Eugene, Ore. Both Soca and Karinauskaite earned All-American status, marking the first time in program history that multiple athletes earned All-American status at National in the same meet. CBU collected five All-WAC nominees as well in 2024, including two Individual champions and four First Team selections.

During the 2023 cross season with the Lancers, CBU put their men and women’s teams to Nationals for the first time where they placed 16th and 17th, respectively. The men’s team also won its fourth straight WAC Championship and the women brought home their sixth straight top-two finish.

Hirneisen helped coach two runners to the 2023 NCAA Outdoor Championships for the first time in program history in Karinauskaite and Yasna Petrova. Karinauskaite collected a silver medal in the women’s 3000-meter steeplechase in Austin.

She worked as an assistant coach and the Director of Operations during the 2021-22 cross country and track & field seasons at North Florida. Hirneisen assisted in producing four event winners, as well as 11 All-ASUN placements, highlighted by helping the men’s cross country team win the 2021 ASUN Championship. She also aided student-athletes from both teams to multiple records, personal best times and conference award recognitions.

Hirneisen brings a wealth of distance running knowledge and experience from her time as a collegiate runner at Liberty from 2017-21. When she was a team captain during her junior year, Hirneisen was selected Second Team All-Conference in cross country.

She was also selected to the Big South Presidential Honor Roll in 2018 and the ASUN Academic Honor Roll in 2019 and 2020.

COACHING EXPERIENCE

- 2023-PRESENT, ASSISTANT COACH (SPRINTS, HURDLES) GEORGIA

Bailey Lear was named an assistant coach for sprints and hurdles by Georgia Director of Track and Field Caryl Smith Gilbert in October 2023, working with assistant coach Karim AbdelWahab in the 400-meter dash, 400m hurdles and the relays. She also serves as the program's operations coordinator.

Lear arrived in Athens following an All-American track career at the University of Southern California, where she competed as a sprinter from 2019-2023. She spent her first three seasons under the guidance of Smith Gilbert, USC's Director of Track and Field from 2014-2021, and helped the Trojans bring home a national title during the 2021 outdoor season. Lear also helped guide Southern California to Pac-12 titles in 2019 and 2021.

During her time as a Trojan, Lear set the program's freshman indoor record in the 400m while also posting the No. 4 in school history in the indoor 400m. She also clocked the No. 6 time in school history in the outdoor 400m and ran the leadoff leg on USC's 4x400m relay, which had the second, ninth and 10th-fastest outdoor times in program history. Lear was a two-time All-American in 2019, running on the 4x400m relay teams that placed sixth at the NCAA Indoor Championships and eighth at the NCAA Outdoor Championship meet.

A native of New Orleans, La., Lear graduated from Southern California with a bachelor's degree in Communication in 2021. Lear also earned two master's degrees at USC, completing programs in Entrepreneurship & Innovation in 2022 and in Digital Media Management in 2023. She was the founding member of the university's United Black Student-Athletes Association and served as the group's Co-Communication Chair.

In 2024, the Bulldog sprinters who Lear helped with made 22 improvements to Georgia's all-time top-10 lists, including five school records, and earned First Team All-America honors in five events with a pair of individual national championships. Sophomore sensation Christopher Morales Williams also won two Southeastern Conference crowns and established a collegiate record and a world all-time best in the 400m.

Morales Williams ran an all-time world-best 400m time of 44.49 to win the 2024 SEC indoor title, creating fresh Canadian, collegiate, school and meet records in his wake. Two weeks later, he had the No. 5 all-time collegiate performance (44.67) to collect the national championship in the event. Outdoors, Lear helped Abdel Wahab manage his budding superstar to another SEC/NCAA sweep. Morales Williams blistered a 44.05 to win the league's outdoor title with a Canadian, meet and school record finish that was the world leader at the time and made him the No. 6 all-time collegiate performer. Georgia's coaching staff then guided Morales Williams to the school's first NCAA outdoor 400m title with a 44.47, marking his fifth sub-45 second 400m of the year. First-year Bulldog Hossam Hatib clocked the No. 3 time in the Georgia record books (45.12) and set a Moroccan national record with a 46.02 indoors.

On the women's side, fellow sophomore Aaliyah Butler set the outdoor 400m school record with a 49.79 to take fourth at the SEC Championships to become the No. 9 all-time collegiate performer. Lear and Abdel Wahab started their year with Butler indoors as she clocked UGA's third-fastest time in school history (51.19) prior to taking fourth at the NCAA meet. In addition, three other of 400m sprinters – Kimberly Harris (52.25), Haley Tate (53.03) and Sydney Harris (53.71) – earned a spot on the school's all-time top-10 lists indoors. Outdoors, Kimberly Harris ran UGA's fourth-best time in history (51.23) at SECs to make the final and qualified for the NCAA Championships.

A seasoned All-American in the relays herself during her collegiate days, Lear's work with Georgia's relay teams paid off immediate dividends as well. The Harris sisters, Butler and Tate combined for memorable performances both indoors and outdoors, starting with a school record of 3:28.01 (No. 9 all-time collegiate performance) at the Razorback Invitational and taking sixth at both the SEC and NCAA Indoor Championships. Outdoors, the foursome posted the No. 8 all-time collegiate performance and school record of 3:24.26 to take fourth at the NCAA Championships. The Lady Bulldog quartet that also took fourth at SECs had five times under 3:30 in 2024 outdoors.

The hurdlers also showed massive improvements to take over the No. 2 and No. 3 spots in the Lady Bulldog record books. Dominique Mustin capped her final year by earning SEC runner-up honors in the 400m hurdles with the second-fastest time in school history (55.60, fastest time for UGA since 1996) and qualified for the NCAA Championships. Teammate and training partner Zoe Pollock went 56.39 (No. 3 in school history) to also punch her ticket to Nationals.

Charnay Ryland was named an assistant sprints and hurdles coach by Georgia Director of Track & Field Caryl Smith Gilbert in August 2024. Prior to her time in Athens, she spent two seasons at the University of Michigan as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator, where she worked with the sprinters, hurdlers and jumpers. Ryland has coached her student-athletes to a combined 46 NCAA All-America between stops at Michigan and Lee University.

During her time in Ann Arbor, Ryland assisted in coaching one national champion, one Olympic finalist, one World Champion finalist, 11 individual NCAA All-Americans and two All-American relay teams. Her student-athletes earned six individual Big Ten titles and two in the relays, and she coached and assisted in coaching 11 school records. She was a member of two Big Ten Championship teams at Michigan and guided eight individuals and two relay teams to the NCAA Preliminary round.

During the 2023-24 season, Aasia Laurencin and Savannah Sutherland made NCAA Championships appearances in both the indoor and outdoor seasons while Dubem Amene made an NCAA Indoor Championship appearance under Ryland's guidance. Sutherland won a pair of Big Ten titles in the indoor 400-meter dash and the outdoor 400m hurdles, defending her hurdles title from 2023. She finished on the podium at both the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships, earning First Team All-America honors for each performance. Sutherland's NCAA Outdoor Championship run saw her finish second and set the program and Canadian national record in the semifinals (54.04) and the finals (53.26). Laurencin took home the 60m hurdles Big Ten title and defended her 100m hurdles title, earning podium finishes and First Team All-America honors at the Indoor and Outdoor NCAA Championships. In the 60m hurdles semi-finals at the NCAA Indoor Championships, she ran a 7.99 as just the third Wolverine to break eight seconds. Amene finished third in the 400m at the Big Ten Indoor Championships before claiming the Big Ten Outdoor Championship title in the event to cap his career at U-M, also setting the indoor (45.75) and outdoor (45.36) 400m programs records.

Both the men's and women's DMR teams took home silver at the Big Ten Indoor Championships, with the men's team setting the program record (9:43.96) and advancing to the NCAA Indoor Championships. Sutherland and Amene both qualified for the 2024 Olympics, with Amene representing Nigeria in the 4x400m relay and Sutherland representing Canada in the 400m hurdles.

During her first indoor season in 2022-23, she helped coach the women's team to an indoor Big Ten Championship, along with assisting in leading four athletes to individual Big Ten event titles. Ryland also coached two athletes and one relay to NCAA All-American Honors at the 2023 NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships. The U-M Women's team won the outdoor title, with Ryland helping lead Ziyah Holman to a record-setting performance in both the 200m and 400m while winning the 400m. Holman advanced to the NCAA Championships after finishing second at the NCAA East Preliminaries, earning a sixth-place finish and First Team All-America honors. Ryland also assisted in coaching Holman in NACAC. Holman went on to compete for Team USA at the NACAC U23 Championships where she returned home with a silver medal in the 400m and a gold medal from the 4x400m relay.

Ryland assisted in the hurdle performances of Aasia Laurencin and Savannah Sutherland, with Sutherland winning the NCAA 400m hurdle title as well as the Canadian Title. Ryland coached the 4x400m indoor and outdoor relay teams, setting the program record at the Big Ten Outdoor Championships in a narrow second-place finish. The 4x400m relay team of Nikki Stephens, Sophie Isom, Aurora Rynda and Ziyah Holman punched their ticket to the NCAA Outdoor Championships, finishing 13th and coming just over a tenth-of-a-second behind the school record time. Joshua Zeller and Dubem Amene saw success in 2023 as well, with Zeller earning a silver medal at the Big Ten Outdoor Championships in the 110m hurdles and Amene winning the indoor 400m title, followed by a third place finish outdoors.

Ryland came to Ann Arbor from Tennessee's Lee University, where she most recently served as associate head coach of the track and field team. She left Lee University with an impressive track record, guiding the women's track and field team to four Gulf South Conference (GSC) outdoor championship titles and three indoor GSC championship titles, along with an additional GSC outdoor and indoor championship title for the men's team. In 2022, she was named USTFCCA South Region Men's Indoor Track and Field Assistant Coach of the Year before earning women's assistant coach of the year honors during the outdoor season. She became associate head coach at Lee in May of 2020 after serving as assistant coach from 2016 to 2020. Ryland was named USTFCCA South Region Men's Indoor Track and Field Assistant Coach of the Year for the first time in 2018, earning the same honor outdoors in 2021.

Prior to her time with Lee University, Ryland served as head track and field coach at Mount Anthony Union High School and Assistant Women's Basketball Coach at Southern Vermont College simultaneously. Ryland was a National Champion, All-American and school record-holder in the triple jump, long jump, and 4x100m while attending Montgomery Junior College (Md.). She then went on to Montreat College (N.C.) where she was an All-American and national champion, setting a school record in the triple jump. Ryland was a multi-sport athlete playing basketball at Montgomery and Montreat.

After graduating with a degree in Communications from Montreat College in 2015, Ryland went on to earn her Master's of Education in Higher Education from Lee University in 2018. She was inducted into the Montreat College Hall of Fame in 2022.

Outside of her coaching career, she has served as a dental tech in the U.S. Air Force Reserve since 2020.

COACHING EXPERIENCE

- 2023-PRESENT, ASSISTANT COACH (JUMPS, MULTIS) GEORGIA

Darryl Shaw was added to the Bulldog staff as an assistant coach and Director of Creative Operations & Recruiting in July 2023 and recently completed his first season in Athens.

Shaw helped jumps/combined events coach Ryan Baily get situated in Athens and then played a pivotal role assisting Baily with his student-athletes. In the duo's first year in 2024, the jumps and combined event corps established 10 fresh marks to Georgia's all-time top 10 lists, including two school records, had six scoring First Team All-Americans, including a national champion, and left with a pair of Southeastern Conference individual title winners.

In Shaw's first season, Elena Kulichenko posted matching bronze medal performances and 1.91 meters/6 feet, 3 ¼ inches clearances at the 2024 SEC and NCAA Championships indoors before elevating her performances to an even greater level outdoors. Kulichenko soared over the bar at a Cypriot, school and meet record mark of 1.97m/6-5.50 to tie for the NCAA outdoor crown and move to No. 4 on the all-time collegiate performer's list. The 2024 SEC outdoor champion won nine competitions in 2024, clearing at least 1.84m/6-0.50 in all of her meets. Kulichenko went on to take seventh at the Paris Olympics (1.95m/6-4.75).

On the men's side, freshman Riyan Rankin earned a pair of First Team All-America certificates in the high jump under Baily and Shaw's tutelage. Rankin had indoor and outdoor seasons bests of 2.21m/7-3 during his first year in the program. Also in jumps, newcomer Zavien Wolfe posted fourth and fifth place finishes in the triple and long, respectively, at SEC Indoors while fellow freshman Micah Larry soared 7.80m/25-7.25 to command the silver medal at the league's outdoor meet.

Nikolai van Huyssteen also had a breakout season in the pole vault while triple jumper Mikeisha Welcome had a stellar finale in 2024. Van Huyssteen shattered the school record with a mark of 5.42m/17-9.25 at the NCAA East Prelims to punch his ticket to Nationals and was the SEC runner-up indoors and outdoors. Welcome was in the top eight at both the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships, topping out with a bronze media finish indoors, and won the SEC indoor title in her final year.

Also of note, sophomore heptathlete Ella Rush won the long jump in both SEC combined event competitions and moved into UGA's all-time top 10 list in the hep with her third place showing (5,606 points) at SECs.

Complementing Kulichenko's success at the Olympic Games, Shaw helped Baily coach former Lady Bulldog SEC and NCAA champion and current UGA Athletic Association employee Chanice Porter to a spot on Team Jamaica in the long jump.

A native of Fayetteville, N.C., Shaw arrived in Athens after spending a year and half as the Assistant Director of Graphic Design at Duke. He designed graphics for print and social media for all 27 of Duke's varsity sports. Shaw was the lead on the artistic front on the campaign for head basketball coach Mike Krzyzewski's final game at Duke, including billboards and on court branding. Shaw worked closely and traveled with the Blue Devil track and field and cross country seasons throughout the year.

Shaw was a graduate transfer at Southern California where he earned All-PAC 12 Honors in the triple jump and graduated with a Master's degree in Digital Social Media.

Between undergraduate and graduate school, Shaw interned at Turner Sports (TNT) where he sat in on shows such as the NBA on TNT and Inside the NBA and helped produced content for NBA.com and WNBA.com.

Shaw was a triple jumper and a captain at UNC-Chapel Hill from 2015-2019. He earned First-Team All-ACC Honors in the triple jump along with multiple Second Team All-ACC Honors and was a member of the UNC Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC). Shaw is in the top six in UNC history in both the indoor and outdoor triple jump. He graduated with a Bachelor's degree in Media & Journalism and a second degree in Communications.

A “Double Dawg” graduate from the University of Georgia and an Athens native, Adam Tribble was added as the program’s head cross country coach and assistant coach for distance in June of 2024.

In his first cross country season with the Bulldogs, Tribble guided sophomore Ryan Olree to a 19th-place finish (30:34.9) and All-Region honors at the NCAA South Regional. Olree led his teammates in all five races in 2024. For the women, Tribble began the development of freshman in-state product Izzy Yonas, who scored at all five meets and was UGA’s top finisher in three of them.

In addition, a pair of underclassmen in Conner Rutherford and Kate Robinson strengthened the case for future optimism in Tribble’s distance program. Rutherford, a sophomore, was the second Bulldog across the line in all four of his meets while Robinson, a freshman, topped her teammates in two races and scored in all five.

Tribble came back to Georgia after being the head track and field and cross country coach at California Baptist University since August 2018. Prior to his time at CBU, Tribble had spent the seven years at the University of Alabama as the assistant coach.

Tribble earned six Western Athletic Conference Cross Country Coach of the Year awards at CBU after leading the women to three straight league crowns in 2018-20 and the men to four straight WAC titles from 2020-2023. Both teams earned votes in the NCAA Division I rankings under Tribble, as well.

In seven seasons, the Lancers produced 19 individual conference champions (11 track, eight cross country) and 109 all-conference finishers (60 cross country, 49 track) in cross country and track combined. CBU’s women cross country recorded the first perfect 15-point score in WAC history at the 2019 conference meet, while the men won the conference with a perfect score in 2021.

In the 2024 outdoor season, Tribble coached multiple national qualifiers for the second consecutive season, with both Valentin Soca and Greta Karinauskaite earning their way to Eugene, Ore. Both Soca and Karinauskaite earned All-American status, marking the first time in program history that multiple athletes have earned All-American status on the national stage. Under Tribble’s tutelage, the Lancers collected five All-WAC nominees as well in 2024, including two individual champions and four First Team selections.

In the 2023 cross country season, Tribble was named the WAC Men’s Coach of the Year for the third time and for the sixth time overall. Tribble oversaw 15 All-WAC selections, swept the individual champions at the WAC Championship Race, had five All-Regional finishers and the first All-American in program history in Karinauskaite. Karinauskaite and Arturs Medveds were named the WAC Runners of the Year under Tribble after their gold medal finishes at the WAC Championships.

The Lancers earned their best USTFCCCA rankings during the 2023 season with the men ranked as high as fourth and the women at 12th. Both teams reached Nationals for the first time in program history under Tribble with the women coming in 17th and the men in 16th.

In the 2023 outdoor season, Tribble oversaw 14 All-WAC finishers, three individual champions, six regional qualifiers and two national qualifiers. The NCAA qualifiers were the first in program history and Karinauskaite became the first Lancer in program history to become an All-American and brought home the silver medal in the 3000M steeplechase.

In the 2022 cross country season, Tribble oversaw four team victories, including a perfect sweep at the WAC Championships. The Lancers also competed in their first-ever D1 West Regional (both men and women) and D1 National Championships (women’s team only) as they made the full transition to a full-fledged D1 program. Fourteen Lancers were named to the All-WAC team and the Lancers claimed another individual champion in Said Mechaal.

The Lancers also produced five WAC Cross Country Runners of the Year and individual champions and five Freshmen of the Year the last four seasons. CBU had its best season yet in 2020 when the Lancers swept both team and individual titles and produced 14 all-conference finishers at the WAC Cross Country Championships and then added on three championship runs and 17 more all-conference performances at the WAC track meet.

Tribble oversaw the Tide’s cross country and distance runners, making him a great fit for the Lancers’ distance-only program. He also spent time as an assistant at Oregon State, Arkansas and Georgia, where he graduated in 2002.

Alabama had enjoyed some of its best seasons in recent years with Tribble on staff. The Tide’s men’s cross country and track teams enjoyed their best year in quite a while in 2017-18.

In the elite Southeastern Conference, Alabama’s men placed second at the cross country conference championship meet for its top finish since 2010. The team went on to take third in the South Region and produce the individual regional champion before it placed 14th in all of Division I with three All-American runners. It was the program’s first top-25 finish in the nation since 2010.

Momentum carried over to the track and field seasons with the men winning their first indoor SEC title since 1972 and then taking ninth at NCAAs. The Tide came back strong for the outdoor season, taking fourth in the SEC and qualifying 11 individuals for the NCAA Championships.

On the women’s side, Alabama cross country stretched its run of top-seven finishes in the SEC to five years with a seventh-place finish in 2017. The team took third and fourth in the SEC in 2014 and 2015, respectively, which were the program’s best performances since 1998. The team went on to take ninth at the 2017 South Regional after going in with six-straight top-six regional finishes, which included three-straight third-place marks from 2013-15.

Prior to Alabama, Tribble coached the Arkansas women to three straight SEC cross country championships and two runner-up finishes in five seasons. The Razorbacks were inside the top 20 at the NCAA Championships all five years and placed as high as fifth in 2006.

Tribble, a graduate of Athens Christian, ran cross country and distance races for Georgia Southern for a year before the men’s team was dropped at the institution. Tribble then returned to his hometown to run for the Bulldogs through 2002, earning two-time captain honors and All-Region accolades in cross.

Tribble graduated from Georgia in 2002 with a bachelor’s degree in health and physical education. He also earned a master’s degree from UGA in movement studies.

Tribble continued to train and compete following the completion of his collegiate career. He finished 46th at the 2008 U.S. Olympic Trials in the marathon.

In May 2012, Tribble married Meredith Crane, who was a volunteer coach with Alabama’s distance runners and a former cross country and distance coach at the University of Mississippi. The couple have two children, a son, Ben, and a daughter, Georgia.

FORREST 'SPEC' TOWNS

USTFCCA Collegiate
Track & Field/Cross Country
Athlete Hall of Fame
Class of 2025

Forrest "Spec" Towns is the greatest track and field legend in UGA history, winning SEC, NCAA and Olympic titles, setting a world record and coaching the Georgia track and field squad for over 30 years.

Born in Fitzgerald, Ga., on Feb. 6, 1914, Forrest "Spec" Towns became, over the next several decades, the greatest track and field legend in the history of the University of Georgia and the state.

Towns and his family moved to Augusta in 1923, where he attended Richmond Academy and played only one sport — football. But Towns earned a track and field scholarship as a high jumper after a neighbor saw him win a backyard high jumping contest. He entered Georgia in September of 1933 and within three years was the Olympic 120-yard hurdles champion and held both Olympic and world records in the event.

In 1934, Towns won the Southeastern AAU 120-yard hurdles in 15.1 seconds. The following year he won the SEC, NCAA and National AAU titles. In Berlin, Towns won the gold medal in the 120-yard hurdles with a record time of 14.1 seconds. Two weeks later in Oslo, he set a world record of 13.7 seconds (record stood for 14 years).

During his prime from 1935-37, Towns won more than 60 races in a row in one of the most difficult athletic events. He also held the world record in the indoor 60-yard hurdles (7.3). Towns was named to the All-America Outdoor Track and Field Team in 1936 and 1937 and the All-America Indoor Track and Field Team in 1938. He led Georgia to the 1937 SEC team championship (the only one in the men's program history) by earning individual high point honors with 16.5. Towns became head track and field coach at UGA in 1938 and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1975. That span excludes a four-year stint in the U.S. Army, where he served his country in Africa and Europe. While he was coach, his pupils won 21 individual SEC outdoor titles and five individual SEC indoor titles. Towns also held other positions at UGA. He served as an assistant football coach under Wally Butts from 1946-50 and was an assistant professor from 1950-75.

Towns was inducted into the State of Georgia Sports Hall of Fame in 1967 and was elected to the United States Track and Field Hall of Fame in 1975. The University's track and field facility was named for Towns in a dedication ceremony at the 1990 SEC Outdoor Championships. A granite monument proclaiming Forrest Towns Track stands at the southeast entrance to the facility.

On April 9, 1991, Georgia lost this great track & field ambassador when Towns passed away at age

Towns, who is the sixth person from the left standing, and his 1936 teammates pose for their photo in front of Sanford Stadium during its early stages. The team accounted for six individual SEC titles and later collected the 1937 SEC team title.

77. On Oct. 3, 1997, Towns was inducted into the University of Georgia Athletic Association Circle of Honor, the highest tribute that can be bestowed upon former Bulldog athletes or coaches. A 2025 USTFCCA Collegiate Track & Field/Cross Country Athlete Hall of Fame inductee, Towns will be forever remembered as a key figure in Georgia's rich athletic history.

GEORGIA TRACK AND FIELD HISTORY

THE BEGINNING

Track and field is one of the oldest sports at the University of Georgia, first competing intercollegiately in 1897, five years after the inaugural football unit began play and just one year after the first baseball team took to the diamond.

Interest in track and field at UGA began in the late 1800s with the annual intramural field days. At the request of Nash Broyles and Thomas Reed, the Athletic Association set up the first track and field contest in school history on May 28, 1887.

Billy David won UGA's first-ever SEC title in 1933 in the high jump.

A subsequent field day was added a day later. Many of the events of that weekend would be foreign to a meet held today as wrestling matches, the baseball throw, tugs of war and the greased pig chase provided the entertainment in the 19th century.

After 10 years of field days, the University participated in its first intercollegiate track contest at the 1897 Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association meet in Nashville, Tenn., where Georgia accumulated 13 points to secure a fourth-place finish out of 14 teams.

The school's first dual meet came a year later against Georgia Tech with UGA taking a 75-30 victory.

Regarded as track and field pioneers in the state of Georgia, The Atlanta Constitution noted in a May 26, 1894 article that "the University was much further along with their track program than any other state school."

COACHES

In June 2021 following the NCAA Outdoor Championships, Caryl Smith Gilbert was named the 15th head coach of the Bulldog program. She also became the first female Georgia coach to lead a men's team in school history. A two-time National Coach of the Year while earning a pair of NCAA team titles at USC prior to her arrival in Athens, Smith

Gilbert has already guided Georgia to nine top-10 national team finishes, including a runner-up spot for the Bulldog men at the 2023 NCAA Indoor Championships and bronze for the women indoors in 2024. Christopher Morales Williams' all-time world best in the indoor 400-meter dash and titles at the 2024 SEC and NCAA indoor and outdoor meets along with Kyle Garland's collegiate record in the heptathlon in 2023 topped a number of accolades in her first two years in Athens.

Petros Kyprianou became the 14th head coach of the Bulldog program in July 2015. His teams finished with the 2018 NCAA indoor women's championship and the 2018 NCAA outdoor men's championship to complement 16 top-10 national team finishes, including 13 top-five finishes. A UGA assistant from 2008-14 after arriving from Boise State, Kyprianou was named the team's associate head coach in 2014 before his promotion to head coach. During a stretch from 2014-21, his crew was on a torrid pace, accumulating 34 NCAA titles, 69 SEC championships and *170 First Team All-American certificates (*counting the 16 honors earned during the pandemic shortened 2020 indoor season).

Former head coach Wayne Norton directed Georgia's storied track program until 2015 after taking over for coach John Mitchell after the 1999 season. Norton, who finished with a pair of SEC women's team titles on his resume, guided his squads to 29 top-20 national finishes and led the Bulldogs to scores of SEC and NCAA individual crowns. He previously served nine years as an assistant in charge of jumps at Georgia.

Mitchell, an esteemed member of the track and field fraternity, built his reputation at the University of Alabama, where he won three SEC Coach of The Year awards. Mitchell led the Georgia men's team to five top-10 finishes in the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

Mitchell also helped elevate the UGA women's team to a new level of excellence by guiding them to third at the 1995 NCAA outdoor meet, second at the 1996 indoor event and fourth in the 1999 NCAA Outdoor Championships. The women earned their first SEC team title outdoors in 1995, and Mitchell was named the SEC's indoor and outdoor Coach Of The Year.

The first Georgia coach was John Mahan, a native of New York, who coached during the 1897 and 1898 seasons and ended his brief career with a perfect 1-0 dual-meet record. Following Mahan were Billy Reynolds, a Princeton graduate who also coached baseball, C.O. Heidler, an assistant basketball coach, and W.A. Cunningham, one of Georgia's football coaches.

With interest in track and field waning, the sport was revived by Herman J. Stegeman, a star at the University of Chicago who developed track and field into a popular sport at Georgia. Stegeman led UGA for 17 years and built one of the strongest teams in the South during his tenure. Along with assistant Weems Baskin, Stegeman guided Georgia to the 1937 SEC title, still the only men's SEC team title in the program's history. The star of the 1937 team was a youngster named Forrest Towns, whom everyone simply called "Spec". Towns captured his second NCAA title in the high hurdles that year.

Baskin coached one more season after Stegeman ascended to the Athletic Director's position, then turned the reigns over to another future Hall of Famer, Towns, who would enjoy the longest tenure of any coach at UGA. He coached for 34 seasons before retiring in the fall of 1975.

Taking over for Towns was his long-time assistant and fellow Georgia track and field great Lewis Gainey. Gainey directed the Bulldogs during one of their most successful periods in the late 1970s and early 1980s.

All-Americans such as Mel Lattany, Stanley Blalock, Dothel Edwards, Lester Benjamin and Herschel Walker were just a few of Gainey's prized pupils.

Gainey was assisted by Georgia's first three women's coaches, Bill Katz, Steve Sitler and Mike Sheeley, before taking over the female squad in 1988. The "Bulldog

Debbie Ferguson and Mel Lattany were two of the most prolific sprinters in Georgia track and field history.

Babes”, as they were known at first, immediately began producing All-Americans like Veronica Walker, Kathy Rankins, Linda Detlefsen and Gwen Torrence.

FACILITIES

Five different facilities have housed Georgia’s track and field teams. Herty Field, named for Dr. Charles Herty, was the first and was also shared by the football and baseball teams. With the construction of Sanford Field and a track around it, the team was able to relocate for another 17 years.

A new field with the same name was later constructed just 200 yards from the original Sanford Field. The second incarnation was used until World War II when the U.S. Navy came to Athens. The Navy completed a new track, described as a “million-dollar facility”, and gave it to UGA.

In 1965, the track and field team found a permanent home on the southwestern corner of the athletic complex. The facility was renamed for Forrest “Spec” Towns in a dedication ceremony held during the 1990 SEC Outdoor Championships in Athens. Towns passed away a year later, but a granite marker honoring him stands at the southeast entrance to the facility he helped make possible.

SEC COMMISSIONER’S TROPHY

The SEC Commissioner’s Trophy is given annually to the male and female athletes who tally the most points at the SEC meets.

Denzel Comenentia won the last two trophies for UGA at the 2018-19 SEC Outdoor Championships. In 2019, he won his third straight league shot put crown and was second in both the hammer throw and discus to score 26 points.

Before Comenentia, the Bulldogs most recent honorees were Patricia Sylvester and Ian Burrell. Sylvester won both the triple jump and the long jump and was the runner-up in the high jump at the 2006 SEC Outdoor Championships to rack up 28 points as her team captured the championship. She returned to score a whopping 26 points at the 2007 SEC indoor meet and was given the honor again. Burrell, standing at 5-foot-5, captured both the 3000- and 5000-meter titles on the men’s side at the 2007 SEC Outdoor Championships to pile up 20 points.

Since 1933, Georgia has had 21 high-point performers, including Graham Batchelor in 1933 and ’34, Towns in 1937, Vassa Cate in 1939, and Lewis Gainey, who tied for the outdoors honors in 1965. Mel Lattany, however, had the most points ever by a Bulldog with 108.5 in four years, including 22.5 in 1981 when he won both the indoor and outdoor awards. Lester Benjamin took the long and triple jump titles at the 1984 outdoor meet to win the trophy with 27.5 points.

One of the Commissioner’s Trophies captured by the Lady Bulldogs was in 1999 as Debbie Ferguson won the award and a total of nine have been claimed by the Georgia women. Ferguson scored 23.5 points at the outdoor championships to lead the Georgia women to a fourth place finish. Icolyn Kelly won it twice in 1995 thanks to her diverse talents. Kelly had 23 points in the indoor championships, but her 32.5 points outdoors led Georgia to its first ever women’s team crown. Kelly’s score of 32.5 points would have beaten five of the 11 teams competing. Kelly won the triple jump, took second in the long jump, fourth in the high jump, fourth in the javelin throw and fourth in the seven-event heptathlon. Kelly’s marks in the SEC meet were all season bests. Hyleas Fountain also earned double honors in 2004. Her 44 points at the SEC Indoor meet was a conference all-time points record. She also racked up 34.50 points at the outdoor meet to take home the trophy.

Christopher Morales Williams swept the SEC and NCAA 400-meter dash titles both indoors and outdoors during the 2024 season. His Bowerman-finalist season was highlighted by an indoor all-time world-best time of 44.49 at the SEC Indoor Championships in Fayetteville, Ark.

GEORGIA TRACK & FIELD TIMELINE

1887 - The UGA Athletic Assoc. sets up the first track contest in school history with a field day on May 28.

1897 - UGA participates in first intercollegiate contest at the SIAA meet in Nashville, Tenn.

1898 - Georgia completes its first undefeated season, beating Georgia Tech and winning the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association meet over Vanderbilt and Tech.

1904 - Georgia wins the first state meet, topping Emory and Georgia Tech.

1907 - The scheduled battle of the two Southern track powers, Georgia and Vanderbilt, is canceled because a bridge at the foot of Lookout Mountain in Chattanooga is accidentally dynamited, delaying train passage; the meet is never rescheduled.

1913 - Captain Dave Paddock convinces referees at a meet to not announce the height of the high jump bar because he believes freshman Pope Hill will place if he does not know the exact height of the bar; Paddock is right; Hill, a superstitious star, soars above the bar and scores Georgia's only point of the meet.

1933 - Bill David (high jump) and Graham Batchelor (broad jump, javelin) capture Georgia's first SEC titles.

1936 - Forrest "Spec" Towns wins the Gold Medal in the 120-yd. hurdles at the Berlin Olympics.

1937 - Behind the hurdling of Towns, who never ran track until he arrived at UGA, Georgia wins its only men's SEC title.

1949 - A 9-year drought without an SEC champion is broken by J.B. Farr in the high jump.

1960 - Mark Carr outleaps the competition in the broad jump to win the Bulldogs' first SEC indoor title.

1976 - James Barrineau wins the first of two SEC outdoor high jump honors and then places 11th at the Montreal Olympics.

1981 - Mel Lattany wins both the indoor and outdoor SEC Commissioner's trophies and ends his career with an astonishing 108.5 points in conference competition.

1982 - Kathy Rankins earns the first All-America honor (indoor long jump) for the women.

1983 - The Bulldogs receive their first women's individual SEC title, thanks to heptathlete Debbie DaCosta.

1984 - Lester Benjamin, Stanley Blalock, Neal Jessie and Sam Palmer win the 400-meter relay at the NCAA Outdoor Championships; it is Georgia's first men's title since Spec Towns; Linda Detlefsen captures Georgia's first women's individual NCAA championship in the indoor 1,500-meter run.

1986-87 - Gwen Torrence sprints to an unprecedented four NCAA championships: the indoor 55-meter dash (twice) and outdoor 100-meter and 200-meter dashes.

1989 - Kim Engel hurls the javelin a school-record 196-8 to win the NCAA outdoor title.

1992-94 - Brent Noon wins three straight NCAA titles in the outdoor shot put.

1995 - Hrvoje Verzi earns the NCAA indoor triple jump crown with a leap of 54-5.5; Georgia's women, led by All-Americans Gudrun Arnardottir, Debbie Ferguson, Icolyn Kelly, Reeta Laaksonen and Monika Ronnholm, win their first SEC title during the outdoor season and then record a school-best third-place showing at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

1996 - Debbie Ferguson wins the 200-meter dash at the NCAA Indoor Championships in leading the Bulldogs to second place overall, the top finish in school history.

1997 - Erin Jones earns All-America honors outdoors in the 5000-meter run as Georgia celebrates its track centennial.

1999 - Ferguson captures NCAA indoor title in 60-meter dash for her fourth career national title at Georgia; Vigdis Gudjonsdottir wins NCAA title in the javelin; women's team finishes fourth in NCAA Outdoor Championships led by Ferguson's 21 points to register second-best NCAA Outdoor finish in school history.

2001 - Andras Haklits wins NCAA titles in the weight throw indoors and hammer throw outdoors; Thorey Elisdottir wins the NCAA indoor pole vault with the best mark-ever in the event in collegiate women's history (14-9.50); Georgia athletes garner eight additional All-America honors.

2002 - Andras Haklits wins his fourth NCAA title, winning the hammer throw for the second straight year; UGA earns a total of nine All-America certificates on the year; legendary Lady Bulldog Gwen Torrence elected to National Track and Field Hall of Fame.

2003 - Georgia earns 14 All-America honors, including Lucias MacKay's NCAA title in the hammer throw and Hyleas Fountain's NCAA title in the heptathlon.

2004 - Georgia's 13 All-America awards include Hyleas Fountain's three national titles, as well as the American collegiate record in pentathlon for Fountain; freshman sensation thrower Jenny Dahlgren is a double All-American honoree.

2006 - The Lady Bulldogs swept both the SEC indoor (first in school history) and outdoor titles; Patricia Sylvester earns the SEC outdoor Commissioner's Trophy.

2007 - Edging teammate Lavern Spencer, who finished second, Sylvester won the NCAA indoor high jump title and Dahlgren won her second straight NCAA outdoor title in the hammer throw.

2008 - Chris Hill captured Georgia's first NCAA men's javelin title on the same track that he shattered the school record in the event earlier in the season at the Drake Relays.

2009 - Freshman Torrin Lawrence opens his career by breaking the school record in the indoor 200 before recording UGA's first SEC indoor title in the event as well as an All-America certificate; Chris Hill claims his second straight NCAA javelin title for the men.

2010 - Lawrence's 45.03 and 45.10 400 times indoors makes him one of the world's top performances of all-time; Nikola Lomnicka debuts for UGA and wins the NCAA hammer title.

2012 - The UGA men score the most points in history (85.5) at the SEC Indoor Championships; the teams combined for the best total (217) ever at the SEC outdoor meet.

2013 - For the first time since 2007, Georgia had a pair of NCAA champions in a single year as freshmen Shaunae Miller (indoor 400m) and Freya Jones (javelin) won.

2014 - UGA combined for three top-10 team NCAA finishes with five individual national champions; the Bulldogs lost former NCAA sprint champion and record holder Torrin Lawrence in a tragic car accident.

2015 - Kendell Williams topped her NCAA record in the pent (4,678) as UGA matched its 3rd and 5th-pl. finishes from '14; Maicel Uibo won his second NCAA decathlon title and third consecutive SEC title.

2016 - Lady Dogs scored a team record 45 pts. to take 3rd at NCAA Indoors, match UGA best with 3rd-pl finish at NCAA Outdoors; women's team tied UGA record with five NCAA individual titles.

2017 - Four top-six national team finishes highlighted year as women were runner-ups indoors and outdoors; Devon and Kendell Williams completed the "sibling sweep" by winning NCAA multi titles

2018 - The Lady Bulldogs captured their first NCAA team title indoors after scoring a school record 61 points to top the nearest foe by 12 points; the Georgia men answered with their first outdoor national team championship by topping the Gators by 10 points with a program record 52 points.

2019 - The Georgia men highlighted the year with a fourth-place finish at NCAA outdoors thanks in part to Johannes Erm's national title in the decathlon with the 10th-best score in NCAA history (8,352).

2020 - The indoor season was stalled before the NCAA Championships and the outdoor season was canceled because of the COVID-19 pandemic.

2021 - Georgia combined for four top-five team finishes at the NCAA Championships and four national individual titles, including a heptathlon-decathlon sweep by Karel Tilga.

2022 - Caryl Smith Gilbert's first year was highlighted by a pair of top-10 finishes for the men at the NCAA Indoor & Outdoor Championships and a collegiate record in the decathlon by Kyle Garland.

2023: The Bulldogs combined for four top-10 national team finishes, including a runner-up placing by the men at the NCAA Indoor Championships. Garland's collegiate heptathlon record (6,639 pts.), which was only six points shy of the world record, helped deliver Georgia with a program record 40 points at the meet.

2024: Georgia collected three top-10 showings at the NCAA Championships, including a bronze for the Lady Bulldogs at indoor Nationals. Christopher Morales Williams swept the 400-meter dash at the SEC and NCAA indoor and outdoor meets and established Canadian records, topping out with an all-time world best indoors (44.49). On the women's side, Elena Kulichenko set a school record in the high jump (1.97 meters/6 feet, 5 ½ inches) to tie for the outdoor national championship.

Track and field has produced some of the most memorable moments in Olympic history. The state of Georgia witnessed many such moments when the 1996 Centennial Olympics were held in Atlanta and surrounding cities, including Athens.

Bulldog track and field was again well represented at the 2024 Games, with 19 team members, coaches, or alumni (12 women, seven men) representing the University of Georgia in Paris.

Aaliyah Butler captured Georgia's lone medal of the 2024 Games, bringing UGA's total to 18. Butler ran on Team USA's gold medal 4x400-meter relay team to secure Georgia's ninth gold medal all-time and extend the Bulldogs' medal streak to nine-straight Olympics dating back the 1992 Games in Barcelona.

Aaliyah Butler collected Georgia's ninth Olympic gold medal (18th total) when she helped Team USA earn the women's 4x400-meter relay title in Paris. Butler competed in both the 4x400m and the 400-meter dash in her Olympic debut and brought home Georgia's lone medal from Paris with her 4x400m victory, extending the Bulldogs' gold medal streak to three-straight Games.

Butler ran the relay's third leg to help the Americans clock the fastest time in the semis (3:21.44) and advance to the final. While Butler did not run in the final, Team USA went on to leave the field behind and claim its eighth-straight women's 4x400m gold medal.

A rising junior at UGA, Butler already has seven All-America honors across the 400-meter dash, 4x100-meter relay, and 4x400-meter relay. She is Georgia's 400m school record-holder outdoors with a time of 49.79, making her the No. 9 performer in NCAA history in the event.

1896: First modern international Olympic Games in Athens, Greece.

1900: Alvin Kraenzlein wins an unprecedented four events at the Games.

1936: Forrest "Spec" Towns, a SEC and NCAA champion at UGA, hurdles to a gold medal.

J. Reid Parker Director of Athletics & UGA President

J. Reid Parker Director of Athletics Josh Brooks, a finalist for Sports Business Journal's Athletic Director of the Year in 2023, continues to lead the University of Georgia Athletic Association through historic success.

Georgia Athletics boasts remarkable accomplishments over the last three years, including a No. 7 final ranking in the 2023 LEARFIELD Directors Cup — Georgia's highest mark in 18 years, a record-setting student-athlete GPA in each of the last two academic campaigns, unparalleled fundraising and over 15 capital projects that have been completed or are in progress.

Bulldog athletic teams have won three team national championships and a total of seven SEC crowns, while there have been 15 individual national champions.

The women's soccer and volleyball teams have made the NCAA tournament in back-to-back years for the first time ever. The baseball program advanced to a NCAA Super Regional for the first time since 2008 during Wes Johnson's first season as head coach. Keidane McAlpine guided the soccer team to the 2023 SEC Championship, finishing with its highest ranking ever at No. 13 nationally.

In addition to back-to-back national titles in 2021 and 2022, Georgia's football team boasts an incredible 39-0 regular season record during Brooks' three-year tenure. They have also recorded three-straight 12-0 regular seasons — the first time in SEC lore a program has done so. The Bulldogs enter the 2024 campaign having won an SEC and school record 27-straight regular season conference games and riding a school record 25-game home win streak.

From academic and athletic success to historic fundraising and a multitude of facility projects, Brooks has continued to sustain UGA's standing as a national powerhouse. The Georgia Bulldog Club set new fundraising records in each of the last three years with $86.4 million raised in 2022, $102 million in 2023 and $113 million in 2024.

Brooks has overseen substantial facility upgrades that include the brand-new Lindsey Hopkins Indoor Tennis Courts, improvements to the south side of Sanford Stadium, a $45 million renovation to Foley Field, a $38 million upgrade to the Jack Turner Softball Stadium, a new $1.8 million men's and women's basketball weight room as well as expansive updates to Stegeman Coliseum and a renovation in the Butts-Mehre Heritage Hall.

Georgia also built a new, state-of-the-art track and field locker room and recently announced plans to construct a one-of-a-kind track facility off South Milledge Avenue. This project will include the only indoor track and field venue in the state of Georgia and will allow the Bulldogs to host NCAA/SEC events as well as summer camps.

While facility upgrades have been at the forefront, Georgia's emphasis on Name, Image, and Likeness has further enhanced its commitment to the student-athlete experience. Georgia Athletics was one of the first departments to announce a comprehensive NIL program, which provides wide-ranging education, multi-media management tools and brand-building training. The Bulldogs became one of the first schools to build an in-house NIL department with an Athlete Manager to help student-athletes navigate this space.

Under his guidance, Georgia re-branded the mental health and performance department, bringing in a new full-time director and an additional clinical counselor as well as adding sports psychology services for every team. A Diversity, Equity and Inclusion committee was also established as Courtney Gay was hired to lead in the department's DEI efforts.

A native of Hammond, La., Brooks' vision of competing for championships and postseason success and his passion for student-athletes began well before his time as Athletic Director.

Before returning to UGA in 2016 as Executive Associate Director of Athletics, Brooks served as Deputy Athletics Director at the University of Louisiana Monroe from 2015-16 and Director of Athletics at Millsaps College from 2014-15. He also served in capacities as Director of Football Operations (2008-11) and Assistant and Associate Athletic Director for Internal Operations (2012-14) in his previous stint at UGA.

Brooks also served as director of football operations at the University of Louisiana-Monroe beginning in 2004. He gained experience as a student at Louisiana State University, working as an equipment manager and a student assistant coach. During his four years at LSU, the Tigers participated in the 2000 Peach Bowl, 2002 Sugar Bowl, and won the 2001 Southeastern Conference championship.

Brooks graduated from LSU ('02) with a degree in Kinesiology and completed his master's degree in Sport Management from UGA ('14). He and his wife, Lillie, have twin sons, Jackson and James, born in July of 2009 and a third son, Davis, born in March of 2012.

He and his wife Lillie have become a vital part of the Athens community. On January 20, 2021, just two weeks after becoming Athletic Director, Brooks pledged $100,000 to create a need-based scholarship to support UGA students from Athens-Clarke County. His gift created a Georgia Commitment Scholarship (GCS), adding to the more than 550 endowed, need-based scholarships created under the GCS program since its launch in January 2017.

President Jere W. Morehead began his tenure as the 22nd University of Georgia president on July 1, 2013. Under his leadership, UGA has risen in the rankings of the best public colleges and universities and has completed a series of initiatives to enhance student learning and success, including a requirement for experiential learning for all undergraduates.

Additionally during President Morehead's tenure, the university completed the most successful capital campaign in its history and established the UGA Innovation District, through which students and faculty partner with industry leaders to create products and enterprises that strengthen Georgia's economy. UGA has increased its research expenditures by more than 50% over the past decade and is ranked first in the nation for the number of research-based products reaching the marketplace.

In keeping with his focus on student success, President Morehead launched the ALL Georgia program to support students from rural areas and created the Double Dawgs program, which enables students to save time and money by earning an undergraduate and graduate degree in five years or less. Demand for a UGA education has more than doubled during the past decade, and the university's enrollment reached an all-time high last fall.

President Morehead has served the University of Georgia for more than 35 years in both faculty and administrative roles. Before becoming president, he was senior vice president for academic affairs and provost from 2010 to 2013. Prior to 2010, he held several key administrative assignments, including vice president for instruction, vice provost for academic affairs, associate provost and director of the Honors Program, and acting executive director of Legal Affairs.

He is the Meigs Professor of Legal Studies in the Terry College of Business, where he has held a faculty appointment since 1986. He is a co-author of several books and book chapters, including The Legal and Regulatory Environment of Business, and he has published scholarly articles on legal topics ranging from export controls to jury selection. He has served as editor-in-chief of the American Business Law Journal.

President Morehead currently serves as co-chair of the University Leadership Forum, a national initiative led by the Council on Competitiveness. Additional service includes membership on the boards of the Georgia Research Alliance, Georgia Chamber of Commerce, Atlanta Regional Council for Higher Education, Metro Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and Emory University Candler School of Theology. He also is a member of the National Football Foundation board of trustees.

He is the immediate past chair of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division I board of directors. He previously served as president of the Southeastern Conference (SEC) and chair of the SEC executive committee and as a member of the NCAA's board of governors; presidential forum; working group on name, image, and likeness; and federal and state legislation working group.

In 2021, he received the Chief Executive Leadership Award from the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education District III for outstanding leadership and service in support of education. He has received several university-wide teaching awards, including the Josiah Meigs Award—UGA's highest honor for teaching excellence, the Russell Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching, the Teacher of the Year Award in the Terry College of Business, and the Lothar Tresp Outstanding Honors Professor Award. He also earned the UGA School of Law's premier honor for alumni, the Distinguished Service Scroll Award. Following a nearly $12 million capital campaign, the University System of Georgia Board of Regents named the Honors College at the University of Georgia in his honor.
