The 2010 Georgia State University Softball Media Guide was designed, written and edited by Russell Dorn with assistance from Allison George and Charlie Taylor and all previous SIDs that kept records. Photographs were provided by Stephen Jones, Scott Lowry and many photographers of the past. Covers were done by GSU University Relations.

On the front cover: 2010 seniors (L-R): Lily Skelton, Danielle Roddy, Elizabeth Thomas, Rachel Cunningham and Lauren Fetters.

SOFTBALL SPORTS INFORMATION DIRECTOR

Russell Dorn enters his first season as a graduate assistant for the Georgia State Sports Communications Department, as he looks to obtain a Master's Degree in sports administration. Dorn comes to Georgia State from the Southern Conference where he was the Media Relations Assistant for a year, and was the primary contact for volleyball, cross country, wrestling, track and field, softball and the FCS Football Coaches Poll. Dorn was also a gameday assistant for the NFL's Carolina Panthers in 2008 and the Atlanta Falcons in 2009. The Greenwood, S.C., native graduated from Furman University in the spring of 2008, with a B.A. in history. While at Furman Dorn was the Sports Editor for the student newspaper, The Paladin, for two years and assisted the sports information department on football gamedays for two seasons.

ABOUT GEORGIA STATE

PRESIDENT

Dr. Mark Becker
President

Dr. Mark P. Becker, the seventh president of Georgia State University, began his tenure on Jan. 1, 2009.

A biostatistician, public health researcher and academic leader, Becker, 50, had served as executive vice president for academic affairs and provost at the University of South Carolina before assuming Georgia State's presidency.

Prior to that appointment, Becker spent three years at the University of Minnesota as a biostatistics professor, dean of the School of Public Health and assistant vice president of Public Health, Preparedness and Emergency Response.

From 1989 to 2000, Becker was a professor and associate dean for academic affairs at the University of Michigan's School of Public Health. He also has held academic posts at the University of Washington, the University of Florida and Cornell University.

Becker earned his bachelor's degree in mathematics from Towson State University and his doctorate in statistics from the Pennsylvania State University.

As provost at University of South Carolina, Becker was responsible for formulating and implementing academic policy, coordinating the university's teaching, research and public service programs and allocating resources in all academic areas, among other roles.

Internationally recognized as a researcher in biostatistics and public health sciences, Becker has published more than 40 articles and has been principal investigator on research grants from the National Institutes of Health and the National Science Foundation and co-investigator on numerous research grants from the Centers for Disease Control, Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, and other granting agencies.

During his career, Becker has been involved in several professional associations, including the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the International Biometric Society and the American Statistical Association, where he is a fellow.

Becker, who is married to Laura Voisinet and has two children, Matthew, 22, and Julia, 18, enjoys outdoor activities like hiking and whitewater rafting and "experiencing and learning about new cultures."

He said he will bring to the Georgia State presidency "energy, a passion for and a commitment to public higher education as well as significant academic leadership experience in both established and up and coming public research universities."

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Cheryl L. Levick
Director of Athletics

Cheryl L. Levick brings a resume of experience and success from prestigious athletics programs across the nation to her position as Director of Athletics at Georgia State University.

She is charged with leading Panther athletics in an era of unprecedented exposure and opportunity with the launch of Georgia State football and the continued growth of the overall program.

Levick came to Georgia State from the University of Maryland, where she served as chief of staff/executive senior athletic director, overseeing daily management of 27 sports programs, a 180-member staff and an annual budget of $51 million.

Her impressive career is highlighted by a total of seven years as the director of athletics at Santa Clara University and Saint Louis University and also features nearly two decades in senior administrative positions at Maryland and at Stanford University as well as stints with the Pacific 10 Conference and the NCAA headquarters.

"Cheryl Levick is widely considered one of the best collegiate athletics administrators in the country," said Georgia State President Dr. Mark Becker as he introduced Levick on Feb. 25, 2009.

"Her dedication to excellence both on and off the field made her the obvious choice to lead the charge for exciting change in athletics here at Georgia State University."

A recipient of numerous awards for her work in athletics, Levick was named the 2001 Division I Athletic Administrator of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Women Athletic Administrators (NACWAA). In 2005-06, she received the General Sports TURF Systems Athletic Director of the Year Award for the NCAA Division I Central Region, and she was recognized in both 1998 and 1999 as one of the nation's Top 25 Female Sports Executives by Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal. Levick is also a past president of the NCAA Division I-AAA Athletic Directors Association.

Before going to Maryland in August 2007, Levick served three years as athletics director at Saint Louis (2004-07), where she led the transition from Conference USA into the Atlantic 10 Conference while managing the 18-sport program.

Not only did she lead fund-raising efforts for the school's new $80 million on-campus arena, but she was also responsible for the design and layout of the 10,600-seat Chaifetz Arena as well as the adjacent practice and office complex.

In addition, she served on the 2005 NCAA Men's Basketball Final Four executive committee and partnered with the St. Louis Sports Commission to serve as host for the 2006 NCAA Men's Soccer College Cup. She was honored with the 2006 Carl O. Bauer Award, presented by the Missouri Athletic Club, as the top amateur sports figure in the St. Louis area.

Before joining Saint Louis in June 2004, Levick spent four years as the director of athletics and recreation at Santa Clara University, a 17-sport program in the West Coast Conference. She also was a senior administrator at the 8,000-student, Jesuit Catholic university.

Levick oversaw a time of significant growth at Santa Clara. In her first three years at the Mission Campus, Levick reorganized the department's administrative staff and oversaw a major renovation of the Broncos' basketball arena as well as securing approval for a $42.75 million commitment within the University's capital campaign.

During that time, the department added new athletic scholarships, sold out and managed the 2002 NCAA Men's Basketball West Regional, won the school's first-ever NCAA title in a women's sport with the 2001 soccer championship and successfully completed an NCAA certification process.

Prior to Santa Clara, she spent 12 years at Stanford as the senior associate athletic director and senior woman administrator. As the department's chief operating officer, she supervised internal operations and served as the primary administrator for 33 varsity sports programs that for more than a decade have been considered the best in the country. She also oversaw student services, NCAA compliance and eligibility, sports medicine and strength programs, postseason championships and personnel.

During Levick's tenure at Stanford, the Cardinal won 44 national championships and six straight Sears Cup titles. She oversaw the addition of three women's sports to the Cardinal program, which increased participation from 600 to 800 student-athletes.

She was the WCC representative to the NCAA Management Council and completed a term as the chair of the NCAA Committee on Women's Athletics. Levick also served on the board of directors for the San Jose Sports Authority, the organizing committee for the Bay Area's bid for the 2012 Olympics and the Pacific-10 Conference Council. She chaired the Local Organizing Committee for the 1999 NCAA Women's Basketball Final Four, which was hosted by Stanford and held at the San Jose Arena.

In 2001, she was honored with a Bay Area Woman Achievement Award. Levick also is an active speaker on issues of sport and leadership, professional development and gender equity, and she has served as an executive mentor in the NCAA Fellowship Leadership Development Program.

Prior to her stint at Stanford, Levick was an assistant commissioner of the Pac-10 Conference, an assistant director of communications and women's programs at the NCAA, the women's gymnastics coach and associate athletic director at Slippery Rock University, and the assistant gymnastics coach and synchronized swim coach at Indiana University. Levick began her career at Pattonville Senior High School in St. Louis, Mo., where she coached gymnastics and assisted in coaching the women's track team.

Levick is a 1974 graduate of the University of Missouri, and she holds a masters degree in athletic administration from Indiana University. She has two daughters: Heather, who is married to Michael Klass, and Melissa.

HEAD COACH BOB HECK

23RD SEASON (658-560-2)

One person will forever be known as the founder, architect and icon of Panthers' fast-pitch softball.

Georgia State's living legend of softball, Bob Heck, took the program from slow-pitch to fast-pitch status 25 years ago and has continued the growth pattern ever since. When the normal called for two years to take a program into NCAA fast-pitch, Bob Heck said he could do it in one. When Georgia State moved to the Colonial Athletic Association in 2005-06 and some sports needed time to grow, Bob Heck stepped up to the challenge and won the regular-season title in his first year and advanced to the tournament championship game.

Heck will enter the 2010 season with 1,218 games coached in 22 seasons as the head coach at Georgia State. With 658 career victories, he ranks among the nation's active leaders. Heck has been voted the Coach of the Year in the previous Atlantic Sun Conference and the current CAA.

Still Going Strong

Coach Heck is still going strong as evidenced by a 2009 campaign in which the Panthers posted a 30-20 record and finished second in the CAA (15-5) during the regular season.

Georgia State moved into the Colonial Athletic Association in 2005-06, and the Panthers were picked by the league head coaches to finish fifth in their inaugural season. But Heck guided his team to the regular-season championship and the No. 1 seed in the CAA Championship, which was played at Bob Heck Field. Although State lost the CAA title game, the Panthers set a record for most home runs at Georgia State and the team's top pitcher, Elizabeth Hyman, set a school record for strikeouts in leading the CAA. In addition to coaching CAA Pitcher of the Year Hyman, Heck tutored the CAA Rookie of the Year in Jackie Jaegle and was named the CAA Coach of the Year. He produced an Academic All-American, Meghan McCoy, as well.

In 2006-07, Heck guided his team back to the championship game of the CAA Tournament with another 30-win season as five players earned All-CAA recognition. This team set 11 school records, and the Panthers boasted the league's Rookie of the Year for the second straight year, with Danielle Roddy named a co-winner of the award.

The Formative Years

The World War II veteran began in 1981 as a volunteer assistant coach with Georgia State's slow-pitch softball team. In 1984, he served as the head coach of the slow-pitch team, but the NCAA did not recognize this as a sport. In the spring of 1985, Georgia State was playing NCAA fast-pitch softball, thanks first and foremost to Bob Heck's efforts.

All the team had in 1985 was a rough, over-used Recreation Department field, no locker rooms, no practice facilities and no scoreboard. In other words, it was as basic as basic could have possibly been.

Year by year, Bob Heck took his theme:

"The ladies deserve the best place to prepare and play, so I will do whatever I can to provide that for them."

For Bob Heck, that meant coming up with most of the money and providing his own extra financial support to put in a fence, to move the playing field to a new area, to upgrade the playing surface and grounds, to put up a beautiful scoreboard, to put in dugouts with bathrooms, to build a stadium with concrete stands and arm-chair seats, to build a concession stand and press box, and to build a state-of-the-art year-round, indoor practice facility with batting and pitching cage. The facility has locker rooms, a training room, a video room, a game room, a weight room, and restroom facilities. It is no wonder the scoreboard, the field itself and the team house are all aptly named in his honor.

In addition to his coaching duties, he has been a diligent groundskeeper in maintaining his field as well as any professional landscaper. Now, he has help with that. He has actually planted, maintained and manicured the shrubs, cut the grass, painted the lines, and rolled out the tarp. Bob Heck Field is recognized as an excellent facility and hosted the 2006 CAA Championship.

Putting Georgia State Softball on the Map

Heck started a college Division I program from scratch, pretty much by himself. He has recruited his student-athletes on his own merits. He has scheduled top schools and has a philosophy of being willing to play anyone, anywhere, anytime.

He has guided the fledging program from the NSWAC (New South) through its growth into the TAAC (Trans America) and then the A-Sun (Atlantic Sun). In 2005-06, Georgia State moved into the Colonial Athletic Association (CAA).

His first season, 1985, was his only losing record in his first 10 years. From 15-24 with losses to SEC, ACC, Big 10 and even a future CAA school (VCU), Heck turned year two into .500 at 26-26 and then year three into a winner at 26-22.

By his fourth year, he had produced his first 40-win team with a 42-20 squad (.677). By year five, he had a NSWAC championship team. In year six (1990), he had yet another conference championship team, a school record-tying 42-win team. In 1993, his 39-16 conference championship team was in the top five in the NCAA South Region rankings.

By 1994, he had built a team that was ranked in the Top 25 in the nation, and No. 3 in the South rankings, and earned a NCAA Tournament

Coach Heck's 600th win came on February 23, 2008 with an 8-2 victory over Dayton.

HEAD COACH BOB HECK

bid. Ironically, he lost a 2-1 game to UCLA in the tournament, which plucked his top pitcher of two years, Kaci Clark. Clark went on to an outstanding professional softball pitching career. Coach Heck was named the conference Coach of the Year for the 1994 season.

In 1995, his 30-win team marked the eighth time in the short 11-year history he had a team hit the 30-win plateau.

After 14 successful years as State's head coach, Bob Heck actually thought he wanted to retire.

That lasted for three years, before Georgia State convinced him to come back in the fall of 2001 and coach some more.

Heck has now coached 22 seasons of his "second career" and given his signals from the third base box for 1,218 games, including 15 winning seasons. He has led his teams to five conference championships and has advanced to seven other championship games.

During his career at State, Heck has had 48 student-athletes earn first team all-conference recognition and 30 more earn second team honors, while six have received All-Freshmen honors.

While Georgia State has moved into the CAA, Coach Heck has also played, and often won, against some of the NCAA's bigger schools, who have more resources. In the past 10 years, for example, Heck has built the Georgia State program to a level where it has recorded wins over schools in major conferences, including SEC schools Arkansas, Auburn, Georgia, Kentucky, South Carolina; Big Ten schools Iowa, Michigan State, Purdue; ACC schools Boston College, Georgia Tech, Maryland, North Carolina, Virginia Tech; Big East schools Pittsburgh and St. John's; and the Big 12's Iowa State. He believes in playing anyone who will play him and challenges his team to rise to the competition. He is an avid teacher of the fundamentals of the game.

Life Before Georgia State

Before softball and Georgia State entered into Bob Heck's life, he had a remarkable career that showed his dedication, devotion and service. As a young man, World War II interrupted his classroom education for three years of service to his country in the U.S. Navy and an education in the reality of the world.

Coming out of the service in 1946, Heck began an education path that earned a college degree from the University of Georgia. He then earned a master's degree from Emory, and a MBA in finance from Georgia State.

His early jobs including teaching at Druid Hills High in Atlanta for five years, serving as the head coach of the track team and the assistant coach for the football team.

In 1957, Heck put his master's in business to good use and began a career as a national bank examiner with the Controller of the Currency's office for 10 years. He moved on up to the Federal Reserve, the arm of the government that oversees the nation's banking system and manages the supply of money, credit, and interest rates. He retired as a Vice President of the Federal Reserve in 1991.

All the while he had his "day job" for 35 years, Heck stayed busy as a high school football referee for 25 years as well as a high school basketball official for five years.

Honored off the Field

The ever-generous Heck is also known in other ways. Georgia State University honored him in 2005 with its Sparks Award and asked him to serve as the head of the university-wide fundraising campaign. He has generously helped other collegiate softball programs in the metro Atlanta area with his donations and his time.

Heck is one of the eight Founding Life Members of the Georgia State Department of Athletics by contributing at least $100,000 to athletics in a three-year pledge. He is respected by his First United Methodist Church and serves on its Board of Stewards among his other lifelong service with that church.

Born in Wheeling, W. Va., Robert E. Heck's family has proven to be the hundreds of young women he has tutored in softball and nurtured into adult life, as well as the hundreds of people he has touched in the Georgia State community and the city of Atlanta.

His leadership, dedication, commitment and passion for Georgia State and the sport of softball most likely will never be equaled. But, his commitment will always be remembered.

ASSISTANT COACHES

ROGER KINCAID 2ND SEASON ASSISTANT COACH RECRUITING COORDINATOR

Roger Kincaid enters his second year as an assistant coach with the Georgia State softball program.

Kincaid's responsibilities with the team include coaching first base and the infield. He is also the recruiting coordinator for the Panthers, equipment manager and assists with the day-to-day operations of the program.

Kincaid was named assistant coach by Bob Heck prior to the start of the 2008 fall season. Roger Kincaid is a graduate from the University of Georgia's Terry College of Business, earning his degree in Business Management. While at UGA, Kincaid played football and was a member of the 1980 National Championship Team. Being around coaches such as Vince Dooley, Erk Russell, and Bill Lewis helped build the foundation for his current coaching philosophies.

After graduating from college, Roger began coaching football with the DeKalb Yellow Jackets youth football organization. His duties included being a defensive coordinator and head coach. Kincaid also coached at Parkview High School as the 8th grade offensive coordinator.

Roger's interest in softball began when his daughter started to play. He began to coach her team after sitting in the stands and watching for one season. He and a colleague coached The Rookies softball team before later starting Xtreme Fastpitch, which began a 12 year coaching odyssey that eventually led to Georgia State.

Kincaid comes to Georgia State after spending 24 years as a coach, over 12 of which he has worked with various softball programs in the area. He comes from Union Grove High School in McDonough, Ga., where he worked under Brian DeBerry as Varsity Softball Community Coach. In addition to his work at the high school level, he has extensive experience in travel ball as manager of the Xtreme-Mavericks of Georgia Gold, Xtreme of Georgia and with the help of 2 colleagues, started the Georgia Xtreme Softball Organization which now consists of six teams.

A native of Decatur, Ga., Kincaid has spent his entire life living and working in the Metro Atlanta community. Kincaid's daughter, Karly Kincaid, is currently a senior at the University of Georgia. He is married to the former Becky Chase and they live in McDonough, Ga., with daughters Morgan and Brittney.

CHRISTINE SHERIDAN 2ND SEASON ASSISTANT COACH

Christine Sheridan enters her second season as an assistant coach with the Panthers.

Sheridan is responsible for coaching outfielders and hitters. She is also the travel coordinator for the Panthers and assists with day-to-day operations.

Sheridan was hired in January of 2009 before the start of the spring season. Prior to coaching at Georgia State, Sheridan served as a hitting instructor for Champions Fast Pitch Academy in Marietta, Ga. During the fall of 2008, Sheridan acted as a community coach for EPHS, leading them to the Region 5AAAAA Tournament.

Along with the experience gained from coaching, Sheridan brings with her the knowledge and experience of being a college athlete. After transferring from East Carolina, Christine had two successful seasons at Georgia Tech during her junior and senior years. As a senior, she started in 69 games at shortstop for the Yellow Jackets and was selected to the ACC All-Tournament Team after hitting .500 over the course of five games. She finished fourth in the ACC in runs scored (57), third in walks (37), fourth in on base percentage (.425), fourth in hits (73), and ninth in stolen bases (16). She was awarded the team's Most Valuable Defensive Player for both years as a Tech player.

During her junior campaign, Sheridan was selected to the All-ACC First Team and led the ACC with a .485 on base percentage. She tallied four home runs on the season and had 13 multiple-hit games and eight multi-RBI games. Sheridan also led the ACC and Georgia Tech with her .380 batting average. She ranked second in the ACC in walks per game (0.60), fourth in runs scored per game (0.62), sixth in hits per game (1.07) and slugging percentage (.521), and seventh in total bases per game (1.47).

While at East Carolina, Sheridan started all 126 games she played in for the Pirates and earned all-conference second team honors as a sophomore and first team honors as a freshman. Christine was also named C-USA Freshman of the Year in 2003.

The Pasadena, Md. native graduated from Georgia Tech with a degree in Economics in 2006.

2010 SEASON PREVIEW

The Georgia State softball team heads into the 2010 season with high expectations after finishing the 2009 season with a 30-20 record, including an elimination game upset of 11-time conference champion, Hofstra, in the CAA Tournament.

Head coach Bob Heck returns 16 letterwinners, including five position starters and one full-time pitcher in CAA Rookie of the Year, Alana Thomas. Also returning are All-CAA members Danielle Roddy (2007 and 2009) and Rachel Cunningham (2008) along with several veterans in the field.

The team has a challenging schedule with 32 home games and 23 road games. GSU will also play in three tournaments before an always tough CAA schedule begins in late March. The CAA Tournament will again include only the four best teams and will be held at the No. 1 seed's home field. The Panthers have reached the tournament in every season they has been a part of the CAA.

"I'm very optimistic about this year's team, provided we stay healthy," said Coach Heck. "Everything hinges on being fortunate to not have one or two key injuries that can change a season in a heartbeat."

"The team really has excellent chemistry. They all pull for each other and that really helps as you battle through a long season together."

Pitchers

Despite losing two-time All-CAA honoree Madi Gore to graduation, the pitching staff should be a strong point for the squad. The staff is headlined by Thomas, Virginia Tech transfer Heather Lowry and freshman McCall Langford and total five players that will see action in the circle.

Thomas is coming off a CAA Rookie of the Year and All-CAA second team season in which she finished with a 12-7 record and an ERA of 2.78 in 126 innings pitched.

Lowry will be making her first appearance since the 2008 season having sat out the 2009 season recovering from "Tommy John" elbow surgery. In two seasons with the Hokies Lowry compiled a 16-9 record with an ERA of 2.25, including a 7-2 record and a 1.82 ERA during her sophomore season.

Adding to the pitching depth will be freshman lefthander Langford, a two-time all-region selection in high school, who gained valuable experience pitching during fall games.

Looking to provide valuable depth will be senior Elizabeth Thomas and sophomore Erin Collins. Thomas started out as a pitcher when she arrived at Georgia State but saw some duty in the field during her sophomore and junior seasons before being moved back to pitcher for her senior season.

"We have a strong pitching staff," said Coach Heck. "I think our pitching staff should be a big plus for us during the season."

Infield

The infield returns four of the five starters from last year's squad, losing only catcher Catherine Lee. The infield provides a wealth of starting experience with returning starters at first base (Lauren Jones), second base (Rebecca Roles), shortstop (Cunningham) and third base (Roddy). Sophomore Emily Althafer and senior Lily Skelton will compete for the open catcher position.

Jones, a co-captain, was tied for first in home runs and second in slugging percentage last season for the Panthers. Providing backup at first base will be sophomore Megan Kallatsa.

Roles had a productive year in 2009 with 22 RBI and 43 hits, including eight doubles. Sophomore Cassie Boese will backup Roles.

Senior and four-year starter Cunningham led the team in RBI and was tied for third in the CAA with 31. Providing support at shortstop will be freshman Whitney Phillips, who is also competing for a starters spot in the outfield.

Roddy, another senior and four-year starter, returns at third base. Last season Roddy led the team in batting avg., runs scored and hits while finishing second in several other offensive categories. Entering the season the Woodstock, Ga., native is near the top or already in the top five in almost every Panthers' career record. Freshman Paige Nowacki will fill the backup role at third base.

Senior Lily Skelton and sophomore Emily Althafer will split time at catcher. Althafer has improved significantly since her freshman season and should be able to step in immediately and play. Skelton, a three-year letterwinner, enters the season with 16 career homeruns, which is tops on the team. Kallatsa will also provide backup at catcher besides her duties as backup at first base.

Outfield

The outfield was decimated by graduation following last season as both Natsha Berry and Holly Willis completed their eligibility. Berry was a first-team All-CAA member last season while Willis picked up second team accolades. In all there are six players vying for three spots in the outfield.

Lauren Jones will return as the starter at first base.

Looking to fill those three roles are junior Tiffany Bess, senior and co-captain Lauren Fetters, freshman Audrey Mason, Phillips, sophomore Chelsea Sparks, sophomore Emily Whitaker and freshman Carrie Williams. Several of these outfielders will also be used as base runners in key situations late in games.

Coaching

Heck enters his 23rd season overall having accumulated 658 wins during his career. Assistant coaches Roger Kincaid and Christine Sheridan return for their second seasons with the team.

2009 YEAR-IN-REVIEW

The Georgia State University softball team produced another successful season with a 30-20 final record for 2009. The 30 wins marked a third consecutive 30-win season and gave the team 101 wins over the past three years, good for a .600 winning percentage during that span. For Coach Bob Heck, it was a 12th 30-win season and upped his career record at Georgia State to 658-560-2 in 22 seasons.

The softball program has produced 18 winning seasons, one .500 season and just seven losing campaigns in its 26-year history at Georgia State.

Georgia State earned its third-consecutive second place regular season finish in the CAA; behind only 11-time conference champion Hofstra. State had the most wins (15-5, .750), but Hofstra produced the best winning percentage (14-3, .824). GSU got the last laugh as they eliminated Hofstra from the tournament on the Pride's home field with a dramatic, 3-1, 12-inning, two-day game. State went 1-2 in the CAA Tournament with both its losses to third-seed Towson.

The Panthers finished strong by winning 16 of their final 20 regular-season games to enter the CAA Championships as the No. 2 seed. At one point in the season, Georgia State reached No. 66 (with a No. 69 final) in the NCAA RPI with a final strength of schedule of 75.

Georgia State enjoyed a 10-game winning streak that began on March 29 with a 6-3 win over Delaware and was snapped by a 6-3 loss to Kennesaw State on April 15. The 10-game streak marked the fourth-longest winning streak in Georgia State softball history.

State played nine games against NCAA tournament teams, led by a convincing three-game sweep over CAA Tournament champion James Madison in Harrisonburg, Va., as the Panthers won each game by four or more runs and had a 24-10 three-game run advantage over the host Dukers.

The Panthers gave the hometown fans a 16-6 (.727) home mark at Bob Heck Field.

Much of the Panthers' success in 2009 came from having the highest-scoring CAA team (4.34 runs per game) with the second highest batting average (.281), while banging 22 home runs (third most).

Five Panthers earned All-CAA accolades for the 2009 campaign. Junior Danielle Roddy, sophomore Catherine Lee and senior Natasha Berry were first team All-CAA picks with senior Holly Willis and freshman Alana Thomas as second-team members.

Georgia State had its fourth consecutive CAA Rookie of the Year when pitcher Alana Thomas got that honor as well as All-Rookie team recognition, following former Panthers' Catherine Lee and Jackie Jaegle and current star Danielle Roddy to pick the CAA accolade. Thomas, from Oconee County High School in Athens, Ga., posted a 12-7 overall record and a 2.78 ERA in 126 innings of work, tossing 11 complete games and recording four shutouts in her 25 appearances.

Four seniors concluded their Panther careers as Natasha Berry, Madi Gore, Chelsey Morgan and Holly Willis played their final games for the blue and white.

Gore (Kell High School, Acworth) leaves her name fourth in the Georgia State career record books with 364 strikeouts. With three consecutive years of 14 or more wins, Gore finished fifth in school history with 48 victories. The right-hander finished her career with 50 complete games and 11 shutouts. Gore's final start for the Panthers was a made memorable with a 12-inning marathon win that eliminated 11-time champion Hofstra. Gore's senior campaign of 14 wins and 90 strikeouts were both good for fifth most in the CAA.

Junior third baseman Roddy (Woodstock High School) has already put her name atop one school career record category with 103 walks and sits third in most runs scored (129), needing just 22 next year in her senior season to claim that school record. Roddy led the team this season with her .335 batting average that was sixth in the CAA and her 33 runs scored that were fifth most in the CAA. She also earned two-consecutive CAA Player of the Week honors (April 27 and May 9) on the season.

Lee earned first-team all-conference honors for the second straight year. She was second on the team with a .338 batting average and a team-high .463 on-base percentage, and she had five homers and 27 runs batted in. The 2008 CAA Player and Rookie of the Year ended her two-year career with the Panthers ranked fourth in school history with 22 career home runs. Lee also became the third Georgia State athlete to be named Academic All-District in 2008-09.

Berry earned first-team All-CAA honors after being named to the second team in 2008. The senior had a .286 batting average and she led the team with 13 stolen bases. The Victoria, British Columbia native had 25 RBI and 25 runs scored. She also earned CAA Player of the Week award for the week of April 6th.

Willis, a senior from Chesapeake, Va., owned a .313 batting average, with 10 stolen bases and a league-leading 26 sacrifice hits. In 2008, the outfielder was named the CAA Softball Scholar-Athlete of the Year and earned first-team All-CAA honors.

Junior shortstop Rachel Cunningham (South Forsyth High School) led the team with 31 RBI to rank fifth in the CAA. She'll bring a career .309 batting average, 157 career hits, 83 career RBI and 79 runs scored into her senior campaign as she moves into the top five in those listings.

The Parker H. Petit Science Teaching and Research Laboratory is scheduled to open in spring of 2010.

Georgia State University

Georgia State University offers educational opportunities at both the graduate and undergraduate levels by blending the best of theoretical and applied inquiry, scholarly and professional pursuits and scientific and artistic expression.

An urban research university nestled in the heart of downtown Atlanta, Georgia State's location allows students to learn not only in the classroom, but also in the surrounding city, where high-profile companies can provide hands-on experience.

Founded in 1913, Georgia State offers 52 bachelor's, master's, specialist's and doctoral degree programs in 250 fields of study.

Georgia State has earned the highest Carnegie classification for research institutions with extensive research seeking breakthroughs in many exciting fields.

GEORGIA STATE UNIVERSITY

is one of the nation's leading urban research universities, educating Georgia's most diverse student population. With an enrollment of 30,000 students, it is the second largest institution in the University System of Georgia. Students arrive from every county in Georgia, every state in the nation and nearly 150 countries.

Georgia State University Housing

Opened in 2007, the University Commons feature two- and four-bedroom apartment-style units.

All units come with fully-equipped kitchens, furnished bedrooms, and spacious living areas.

Each individual private bedroom is wired for high-speed Internet, voice and cable television.

Each floor design includes a study/ community lounge space, and each building has a fully-equipped laundry facility.

The University Commons houses 2,000 students in a convenient location on the Georgia State campus. State students also reside nearby in the University Lofts as well as the new freshman hall that opened this past fall. New Greek housing is expected to be opened by fall of 2010.

University Lofts

The University Lofts house approximately 450 students who enjoy fully furnished loft-style apartments with a beautiful view of downtown Atlanta

Freshman Hall

The Freshman Hall opened to students in fall of 2009 and includes a state-of-the-art dining facility that all students are able to take advantage of during the day

Georgia State University is committed to providing educational, personal and community development that will enhance the quality of the student-athlete experience.

CHAMPS Life Skills is a unique NCAA program of educational opportunities that adds value, knowledge and growth to the lives of Georgia State student-athletes.

Student-Athlete Development

PANTHER PROMISE is the blueprint for academic and personal success for Georgia State student-athletes.

Developed in 2005, Panther Promise assists with concerns that are unique to the Division I student-athlete and is tailored to fit the unique environment of Georgia State University.

Panther Promise is an extension of the services provided by PASS - Program for Academic Support Services. Through PASS and the Athletic Learning Lab, the Georgia State student-athlete development staff monitors academic progress, arranges tutoring in a wide range of courses, offers advisement and provides access to computers and other resources as well as a convenient place to study.

Other components of Panther Promise are the NCAA's CHAMPS Life Skills program and the Panther Den, which offers services in conjunction with the Georgia State University Counseling Center.

Georgia State's commitment to academic support and student-athlete development is paying dividends as the Panthers have enjoyed unprecedented success in the classroom. State's student-athlete population posted a combined grade point average of 3.0 for the during the fall and have a cumulative GPA of 3.01. A total of 127 student-athletes earned at least a 3.2 GPA.

The softball team once again completed another strong semester in the classroom with a 3.25 grade point average for the fall. A total of 13 members of the team earned at least Athletic Director's Honor Roll (3.2 GPA or higher), while four earned Dean's List and three earned President's List.
