GSU Radio Network, including Atlanta flagship WCFO-AM Newstalk 1160, as well as WGST-AM 640 and FM 92.3, and WMLB-AM 1690 Announcers are Dave Cohen (play-by-play), Harper LeBel (analyst), and Sam Crenshaw (sideline).

THE KICKOFF

The Georgia State football team opens its third season of play by hosting South Carolina State in a Thursday night game at the Georgia Dome. Head coach Bill Curry's Panthers would like to kick off their third season, and the final campaign for Curry, the same way they opened years one and two: with a rousing victory in front of a packed house at the Georgia Dome.

In GSU's inaugural season of 2010, the Panthers defeated Shorter, 41-7, before a crowd of 30, 237 on Thursday, Sept. 2. Last year's opener ended in the same 41-7 score as GSU downed Clark Atlanta before 26,273 on Friday, Sept. 2.

But the Panthers face difficult a much different challenge in their 2012 opener against a very strong South Carolina State program that defeated the Panthers last year while posting a 7-4 record.

Georgia State returns six starters on offense, led by running back Donald Russell and wide receiver Albert Wilson, and four on defense as the Panthers look to improve upon last year's 3-8 record, which followed a 6-5 mark in the inaugural season of 2010.

Coached by Buddy Pough, South Carolina State has posted 11 consecutive winning seasons. The Bulldogs return many of the standouts from last year's 23-13 win over GSU, including quarterback Richard Cue (900 yds passing with 7 TD; 514 yds rushing with 8 TD) and running back Asheton Jordan (774 yds rushing with 5 TD). The Bulldogs are not ranked but are among others receiving votes in the Preseason FCS Coaches Poll.

LAST MEETING WITH SOUTH CAROLINA STATE

Georgia State and South Carolina State met for the first time on Oct. 15, 2011, when the Bulldogs earned a 23-13 victory in Orangeburg, S.C.

FINAL SEASON FOR CURRY

Georgia State head coach Bill Curry announced during preseason camp that the 2012 season will be his last on the sideline. Curry was named GSU's first head coach on June 12, 2008 and has guided the program through its infancy. The former head coach at Georgia Tech, Alabama and Kentucky is entering his 20th season as a collegiate head coach. He will remain at Georgia State as a special assistant to Director of Athletics Cheryl L. Levick and President Mark Becker.

YEAR ONE OF FBS TRANSITION

Season three of Georgia State football marks another significant milestone for the program as the Panthers begin their two-year transition to the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) and the Sun Belt Conference while playing their first and only season of CAA Football.

The Panthers will play a full CAA schedule this fall but are not eligible for the CAA championship or the FCS playoffs. In 2013, Georgia State will play a full Sun Belt schedule but will not be eligible for the conference title or for postseason bowl games until 2014.

McLANE TAKES THE REINS

For the third time in three seasons, the Panthers will start a quarterback in the opening game who will be under center in a collegiate game for the first time. Redshirt freshman Ben McLane from Snellville, Ga., takes the reins after earning the job in spring practice.

Although he is playing his first game for Georgia State, McLane is no stranger to the Georgia Dome. In fact, his last competitive game also took place in this venue when he led Brookwood High School to the 2010 Class AAAAA state title with a 52-38 victory over Colquitt County.

NEW FACES ON DEFENSE

The Georgia State defense under first-year coordinator Anthony Midget has a decidedly young face. The Panthers return just four starters on defense, and there are just four seniors on the entire two-deep. Three true freshmen are expected to play prominent roles, with linebacker Joseph Peterson earning a starting berth and defensive linemen Joe Lockley and Melvin King seeing plenty of action.

Midget, a former All-America defensive back at Virginia Tech, was elevated to coordinator in March. He is an original member of Bill Curry's GSU staff, hired in 2008.

ALL-22

Junior right tackle Grant King, the only returning starter on Georgia State's offensive line, is also the only current player who has started all 22 games in the Panthers' brief history. The Columbia, S.C., native was a member of GSU's first recruiting class in 2009.

Three other Panthers have played in all 22 games: wide receiver Danny Williams, linebacker Akeen Felder and long snapper Scott McQueen.

MR. CONSISTENCY

Georgia State has played 22 games in its history, and sophomore Danny Williams has caught at least one pass in every one of them. After two seasons, he has 84 receptions for 1,134 yards and eight touchdowns, all GSU career records.

Williams led GSU in receptions (54), receiving yards (649) and touchdown catches (5) during the inaugural season of 2010. Last season, he had 30 catches for 485 yards and two scores.

He also owns the Panthers' single-game record for receptions (11 vs. Old Dominion in 2010). He has four of the seven 100-yard games in GSU history.

WILSON EARNS PRESEASON RECOGNITION

Georgia State wide receiver Albert Wilson was tabbed to the preseason All-Colonial Athletic Association second team by Phil Steele's FCS College Football Preview.

The junior from Port St. Lucie, Fla., was also named to the College Football Performance Awards watch lists for top FCS wide receiver, punt returner and kickoff returner.

Wilson was GSU's leading receiver in 2011 with 37 catches for 772 yards (20.9 yds per catch) and six touchdowns in nine games. He ranked eighth in the nation in punt returns (11.9), 20th in receiving yards per game (85.8) and 29th in all-purpose yards (134.4).

The 5-9, 195-pound speedster has career totals of 56 receptions and 1,066 receiving yards, both second in GSU annals, with a career average of 19.0 yards per catch. His eight touchdown catches are tied for the GSU career record, and all eight are 28 yards or longer, including three over 50 yards. Wilson is the Panthers' career leader in all-purpose yards 2,142 yards (112.7 pg).

THE DONALD

One of just 10 seniors on this year's roster is Georgia State's top running back, Donald Russell. A transfer from Kentucky, Russell joined the Panthers last season and led the team with 665 yards rushing nine touchdowns. He was voted the team's Most Valuable Player on offense and was named to the FCS Independent All-Conference team by College Sports Madness.

Adding his two seasons at Kentucky, Russell has 1,095 career rushing yards.

BILUKIDI, MUASAU CHASE NFL DREAMS

A pair of seniors from Georgia State's 2011 squad look to make GSU history in professional football.

Defensive lineman Christo Bilukidi became the first Panther to be drafted when he was selected in the sixth round of the 2012 NFL Draft by the Oakland Raiders. Linebacker Muasau is in camp with the New York Giants after signing a free agent contract.

Should either one make the team, not only would he be the first Panther in the NFL, but he would become just the second former Georgia State athlete to play in a regular-season game in one of the four major sports leagues. The only other Panther to do so was basketball player Lanard Copeland, who spent time with the NBA's Philadelphia 76'ers and Los Angeles Clippers, last playing in a regular-season game for the Clippers on Nov. 30, 1991 with a four-minute stint against the Charlotte Hornets.

A third senior from last year's squad, safety Brandon Jones, was actually the first GSU football alumnus to play in a professional game when he appeared in the Arena Football League, playing for the Tampa Bay Storm.

Georgia State actually had an alumnus in professional football long before the school had a football team. Former GSU soccer player Keith Gispert, a standout for the Panthers from 1996-98, was a kicker in the Arena League for the Chicago Rush and Georgia Force from 2003-07.

HOGAN PULLS DOUBLE DUTY

Junior inside linebacker Mark Hogan was the first scholarship football player in Georgia State history when he enrolled in January 2009. In 2001, he achieved another first as the football program's first two-sport athlete. Hogan played for the GSU baseball team last spring as a left-handed hitting outfielder. He saw action in 42 games and had the team's top batting average (.319) and on-base percentage (.448) with two home runs and 13 RBI.

SCHEDULE STEPS UP

Georgia State's schedule has toughened considerably in the Panthers' third season. The CAA features six teams ranked 16th or higher in the preseason FCS Coaches' Poll, and GSU will face four of the six.

Georgia State is scheduled to face No. 6 Old Dominion, No. 8 James Madison, No. 12 New Hampshire and No. 16 Maine. No. 9 Towson and No. 14 are not on GSU's schedule.

In addition, tonight's opponent, South Carolina State, and CAA foe William and Mary are among the others receiving votes.

FIVE GRADUATES

This year's Georgia State team features five student-athletes who have already earned a degree from GSU.

Two of the graduates are actually juniors in terms of eligibility. Offensive lineman Michael Davis graduated last spring in real estate and has begun work on his MBA. Linebacker Mark Hogan graduated in finance and is now completing a second major in managerial sciences.

Senior linebacker Akeen Felder is working on a minor in hospitality management after graduating in sociology. Running back Rosevelt Watson also graduated in sociology and is now completing a second major in math education, and running back Malcolm Smith graduated in film and video and is completing a second major in computer information systems.

WHAT COULD HAVE BEEN

Georgia State looks to reverse its trend of close losses that resulted in 2011's 3-8 record, which could have been much different with just a few plays. The Panthers stood at 2-5 after an overtime victory over South Alabama and looked to put together a strong finish. But GSU dropped its next three games by a total of 13 points, including overtime losses to UTSA (17-14) and St. Francis (30-27) and a 30-23 defeat at West Alabama.

NFL FACILITIES

Georgia State is one of just nine Division I programs to play its home games in the same facility as an NFL team. The others are Miami, Pittsburgh, San Diego State, Temple, Tulane, USF, Tennessee State and UMass.

FREE FOOTBALL

Of Georgia State's first 22 football games, five have been decided in overtime. In the inaugural season of 2010, the Panthers split a pair of overtime games. Last season, Georgia State played three straight overtime games, including a double-overtime victory of South Alabama. All but one were played at the Georgia Dome.

GSU VS. FBS

Georgia State's program is in its infancy, but the Panthers have not shied away from tough competition, playing an FBS team in each of its first two seasons. In last year's inaugural season, Georgia State played at defending national champion and 10th-ranked Alabama, and this year the Panthers travelled to Houston.

Georgia State will face its third FBS opponent, and its second SEC foe, when the Panthers travel to Tennessee on Sept. 8.

FATHERS & SONS

Two members of the Georgia State team are the sons of head coach Bill Curry's former players at Georgia Tech.

Mark Hogan, Jr. was GSU's first scholarship football player when he enrolled in January 2009. His father, Mark, Sr., played for Curry at Tech from 1982-85. Mark, Jr., spent the spring 2009 semester as a team of one, working out by himself.

The father of redshirt freshman safety Nick Henderson, Steve Henderson, played for Curry at Georgia Tech in the early 1980s.

In addition, redshirt freshman defensive lineman McClain Head is the nephew of Tony Head, a running back at Tech when Curry was an assistant coach in 1976.

ANOTHER FAMOUS FATHER

Sophomore cornerback Brent McClendon is the son of former Chicago Bears running back Willie McClendon. The elder McClendon starred at Georgia, where he was the 1978 Southeastern Conference Player of the Year. Brent's older brother, Bryan, also played at Georgia and is now the running backs coach for the Bulldogs.

WHAT IS THIS STUFF?

Georgia State's game at Tennessee will mark just the third time in three seasons that the Panthers will play a game on natural grass. The first two games were also at FBS opponents with the 2010 game at Alabama's Bryant-Denny Stadium and the 2011 contest at Houston's Robertson Stadium.

HEAD COACH BILL CURRY

BILL CURRY is the architect and builder of GEORGIA STATE UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL as the program's first head coach.

An Atlanta native and former head coach at Georgia Tech, Alabama and Kentucky, Bill Curry was introduced on June 12, 2008, eight weeks after the football program was officially launched on April 17.

Curry spent more than two years developing, directing and promoting the football program in preparation for Georgia State's inaugural season. When his Panthers took the field for the first time in 2010, the city of Atlanta and the football world took notice. Not only did his fledgling squad post a winning record at 6-5, but the program exceeded all expectations in terms of attendance, excitement and media exposure.

Curry announced in August that the 2012 season would be his last on the sideline. He will remain at GSU as a special assistant to the President and Director of Athletics.

Curry brought to Georgia State his 17 years of experience as a head coach in the Southeastern Conference and the Atlantic Coast

Conference—including Coach of the Year awards in both leagues—as well as an All-Pro playing career in the National Football League, and, most recently, national notoriety as a college football analyst for ESPN.

In the NFL, he participated in three Super Bowls and two Pro Bowls and was part of three championship teams (1965, 1966 and 1970). As a center, Curry snapped the ball to legendary quarterbacks Bart Starr and Johnny Unitas, and he played for two of the most highly-regarded coaches in professional sports history in Vince Lombardi and Don Shula. His college coach, Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd, is an icon in Southern football annals.

Curry's 10-year playing career as a center included stops with the Green Bay Packers (1965-66), Baltimore Colts (1967-72), Houston Oilers (1973) and Los Angeles Rams (1974). He served as President of the NFL Players Association.

Curry entered the coaching ranks as offensive line coach at Georgia Tech in 1976. He then spent three years as an NFL assistant with the Packers (1977-79) before returning to his alma mater as head coach in 1980.

Curry took over a Georgia Tech program in transition, moving from independent status to the Atlantic Coast Conference while in need of facilities upgrades. His first two seasons were highlighted by a stunning 3-3 tie against No. 1-ranked Notre Dame in 1980, in which the Yellow Jackets' quarterback was a freshman walk-on named Ken Whisenhunt, who is now the head coach of the Arizona Cardinals, and a 24-21 victory at fourth-ranked Alabama the following year.

Curry's teams also scored a pair of victories over nationally-ranked Georgia teams as well as a win over 13th-ranked Clemson that snapped a 20-game ACC winning streak.

Curry's rebuilding efforts culminated in 1985, when he led Tech to a 9-2-1 season for the school's highest win total in two decades and its first bowl victory in 13 years, defeating heavily-favored Michigan State in the All-American Bowl. For his efforts, he was named ACC Coach of the Year.

Curry compiled a record of 20-11-3 over his final three seasons at Georgia Tech before moving to Alabama in 1987. He posted a three-year record of 26-10 with the Crimson Tide, capped by the 1989 SEC title and Sugar Bowl berth.

In addition to being selected SEC Coach of the Year in 1989, Curry received the national coaching accolade named for his beloved mentor, the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year Award.

Curry then spent seven seasons at Kentucky (1990-96), highlighted by a berth in the 1993 Peach Bowl. At the time, that marked the Wildcats' fourth bowl berth in 40 years.

Through every stop, Curry has carried an indelible reputation for integrity and class, and he has been guided by the ideal that the education and well-being of the student-athlete is paramount.

In 2007, he was recognized by the American Football Coaches Association with the Amos Alonzo Stagg Award, which honors someone "whose services have been outstanding in the advancement of the best interests of football."

In 2008, he received the President Gerald R. Ford Legends Center Award, which is presented annually to someone who has played the center position at the collegiate or professional level, has made extraordinary contributions to his team during his football career and has proven to be an exemplary citizen, philanthropist or leader in the business or football community.

Curry is a member of the State of Georgia Sports Hall of Fame and the Atlanta Sports Hall of Fame.

Curry also serves at Georgia State as a Distinguished Executive Fellow in the Robinson College of Business.

He is the author of the book, "Ten Men You Meet in the Huddle: Lessons from a Football Life," published in 2008.

Curry attended College Park High School in the Atlanta area before going on to Georgia Tech, where he earned his B.S. degree in Industrial Management in 1965.

He is married to the former Carolyn Newton of Atlanta, a graduate of Agnes Scott College who earned her master's degree and Ph.D. from Georgia State. Bill and Carolyn have two children and five grandchildren.
