SHIRK FIELD
at Musselman Stadium

Shirk Field at Musselman Stadium

State-of-the-art artificial turf was installed at Musselman Stadium prior to the 2003 season thanks to the generosity of Richard D. Shirk '67, starting quarterback of the 1966 squad that won the Lambert Cup as the top College Division program in the East.

Musselman Stadium retained its long-time name, but the field itself was named in recognition of the Shirk Family Foundation's gift.

"Artificial turf returns Musselman Stadium to the status of an elite venue at the NCAA Division III level," said Director of Athletics David Wright.

In December 2009, Shirk Field had its artificial turf resurfaced for the first time. The former in-fill synthetic grass surface called AstroPlay was replaced by a DuraSpine Monofilament Turf System created by FieldTurf, which manufactures the playing surface for numerous teams in the National Football League.

Shirk Field is shared by the Bullets football, field hockey, and men's lacrosse teams. In the spring of 2010, men's lacrosse became the first team to compete on the new surface, which opened to rave reviews by players and fans alike for its lush cushioning and stunning graphics.

Shirk – now the retired president and chief executive officer of Cerulean Companies, Inc., parent of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Georgia – was a two-year football letterwinner.

As a junior in 1965, he was a starting defensive back as well as the backup for 1985 Hall of Athletic Honor inductee and future NFL quarterback Jim Ward '66. The next season, Shirk was one of three team captains who led the Bullets to a 7-2 record and the region's top team honor. He was also a starting catcher on the Bullets baseball team.

WHY BULLETS?

About Gettysburg College

There are no bystanders at Gettysburg, a national college of liberal arts and sciences founded in 1832. Our 2,600 students prize our academically rigorous and personally challenging experience, which features an average class size of 18 and a student-faculty ratio of 11:1. Close student-faculty collaboration is the norm, frequently leading to joint publications and presentations at scholarly meetings. Gettysburg's 180 full-time faculty members are accomplished teachers and scholars. More than 95 percent hold a doctorate or the highest degree in their field.

Students come to Gettysburg not only for the challenge offered by 63 majors, minors, and academic programs, but also for wide-ranging opportunities such as our Eisenhower Institute for leadership and public policy, our Civil War Institute, and our Sunderman Conservatory of Music. Our programs include preparation for professional schools in law, medicine, and the allied health sciences. More than 50 percent of students study abroad before they graduate. Each year, students provide thousands of volunteer hours through Gettysburg's Center for Public Service. Approximately 70 percent of the student body receives financial aid.

Our beautiful 200-acre campus is suffused with history. The Union and Confederate armies swept through Gettysburg College during the Civil war's pivotal battle on July 1-3, 1863 and transformed Pennsylvania Hall into a hospital for troops. A few months later, Gettysburg students processed through town to hear President Lincoln hallow the National Cemetery with his Gettysburg Address.

In its 18th year of excellence on and off the field, the Centennial Conference is one of the nation's elite small college conferences. On June 4, 1981, Keith Spalding, president of Franklin & Marshall College, made the announcement that "eight private colleges found it timely and appropriate to form a round-robin football schedule among institutions with similar attitudes and practices in intercollegiate football competition." With that statement, the Centennial Conference was born.

From 1983-92, the eight private colleges - Dickinson College, Franklin & Marshall College, Gettysburg College, Johns Hopkins University, Muhlenberg College, Swarthmore College, Ursinus College and Western Maryland (now McDaniel) College - participated in a football-only conference. Because of the success in operating the Centennial Football Conference, the presidents began to study the feasibility of an all-sports conference early in 1991. The presidents received a positive report from an ad hoc committee in March 1992, which also recommended that Bryn Mawr College, Haverford College and Washington College be invited to join as charter members.

On April 29, 1992, Gordon A. Haaland, president of Gettysburg College and acting chairman of the committee of the original eight presidents, announced the expansion of the Conference to an all-sports conference. He also announced that Bryn Mawr, Haverford and Washington had accepted the invitations to become charter members. A purpose and mission statement adopted by the presidents stated, "recognizing that our fundamental purpose is the academic mission of institutions, we agree to establish an all-sports conference in the spirit of rationalizing our competition by controlling travel, schedule and costs. The Conference will be controlled by the presidents of the member institutions."

The Centennial Conference encourages athletic competition among national liberal arts colleges and universities that share similar academic aspirations and a commitment to the importance of the total educational experience of students engaged in sports. Intercollegiate athletics programs are an integral part of the life of the member institutions and flow from their educational objectives. Each institution provides a comprehensive, broad-based athletics program. All varsity sports are treated equitably, and every sport is important.

The Centennial Conference crowns champions in 24 sports and continues to sponsor intercollegiate programs of national prominence for women and men. Soccer, basketball, lacrosse and track and field are just four of the sports in which Centennial schools have been synonymous with national excellence. On the average. Centennial members boast of 21 varsity teams per campus, which is well above the national norm.

BARRY STREETER
Head Coach
Lebanon Valley '71
32nd Season at Gettysburg

Barry Streeter returns for his 32nd season as the head football coach at Gettysburg College in 2010. Streeter is not only the winningest coach in program history with a record of 155-154-5, but he is also the longest tenured coach having passed the legendary Henry "Hen" Bream (1927-51) on both counts. In addition, Streeter became the all-time winningest coach in Centennial Conference history with a 27-20 win over Moravian College on Oct. 6, 2007, giving him 78 Centennial victories.

Streeter and Bream (104-69-12) are the only Gettysburg football coaches to surpass 100 career victories. The former picked up his 100th win when the Bullets closed out their 1994 season with a 52-20 triumph over Franklin & Marshall College. Midway through the 1995 campaign, the Bullets knocked off Muhlenberg College, 28-16, giving Streeter his 105th win and making him the all-time leader at Gettysburg. Heading into the 2010 season, Streeter ranks 11th among active coaches by victories in NCAA Division III.

Streeter has molded the Bullets into one of the top offensive teams in the Centennial Conference. In 2009, Gettysburg led the conference in both scoring and total offense for the fourth year in a row, with the Bullets averaging 34.2 points and 493.1 total yards per game. Gettysburg also placed among the top-two in the conference in rushing for the fifth straight season, finishing second with 218.9 yards per game. In addition, the Bullets were second among the conference leaders in passing offense in 2009, throwing for 274.2 yards per outing. His team spent three weeks ranked No. 1 in Division III in total offense before finishing fourth.

Streeter joined the coaching staff at Gettysburg in 1975 as an assistant on Joseph Sabol's football staff and as the head coach of the track & field program. On Feb. 3, 1978, he succeeded Sabol on the gridiron, becoming one of the youngest head football coaches ever at Gettysburg.

Starting with the 1980 season, when the Bullets fashioned a 6-3-1 record, he guided the program to winning records for eight consecutive years, the longest such streak in school history. In 1985, he guided Gettysburg to its third consecutive Centennial Conference Championship and its inaugural appearance in the NCAA Division III playoffs, advancing all the way to the national semifinals and finishing with an 11-1-1 record. His 1994 squad posted an 8-2 mark and set numerous conference records, including the still-standing mark of yards gained in a single season (4,544).

A 1971 graduate of Lebanon Valley College, Streeter earned two varsity letters as a tight end on the football team and two as a defenseman on the school's lacrosse team. In 2003, he was inducted into Lebanon Valley's Hall of Fame. He was awarded a master's degree in health and physical education from the University of Delaware in 1975 and was a graduate assistant on Tubby Raymond's football staff at Delaware. Streeter became an astute student of the Delaware Wing-T, which is the basis for Gettysburg's Spread Wing offense.

Streeter has two sons, Jason and Brandon, and two daughters, Kelly and Lindsey. Jason played football at Lehigh University, and Brandon was a starting quarterback for Clemson University. Streeter and his wife Patricia are residents of Spring Grove, Pa.

KEVIN BURKE
Offensive Coordinator/Offensive Line
Gettysburg '90
7th Season at Gettysburg

Kevin Burke is in his seventh season as Gettysburg's offensive coordinator in 2010. He became a permanent member of the staff after serving on an interim basis during the 2004 campaign.

Burke has guided Gettysburg from the bottom of the conference offensive statistics to the top in his tenure. For the past four seasons the Bullets have led the Centennial Conference in total offense, and in every year since 2005, Gettysburg has finished among the top-two in the conference in rushing, leading the league in the statistic three straight seasons from 2005-07.

Gettysburg posted another outstanding offensive season in 2009, leading the Centennial Conference in both scoring offense (34.2 points per game) and total offense (493.1 yards per game) while finishing second in rushing offense (218.9 ypg) and passing offense (274.2 ypg). Among the Division III leaders, the Bullets were ranked No. 1 in total offense for three weeks midway through the season before finishing fourth. The team also finished 28th in rushing offense, 30th in passing offense, and 36th in scoring offense. Gettysburg set numerous offensive school records in 2009, including passing yards, pass completions, receiving yards, pass receptions, all-purpose yards, and total offense. In the team's 59-14 homecoming victory over Juniata College, the Bullets rushed for a school-record 525 yards, a mark that ranks second in Centennial Conference history.

Before arriving at Gettysburg, Burke served as the head coach at Juniata College from 1998-2003. During that time he helped the Eagles establish program records in nearly every offensive category. His best season came in 1999, when Juniata went 6-4 and finished second in the MAC Commonwealth Division - the best showing in school history.

After graduating from Gettysburg in 1990 with a degree in history, Burke coached at SUNY Stony Brook and Hamilton College before becoming Juniata's offensive coordinator in 1994. He left to take the offensive coordinator position at Norwich University before returning to Juniata as the head coach. Burke was a four-year member of the Bullet football and track & field teams.

SHAUN WEAVER
Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers
Wilmington '02
5th Season at Gettysburg

Shaun Weaver enters his fifth season as a member of the Gettysburg coaching staff and his fourth as the defensive coordinator in 2010.

Weaver will also coach the linebackers for the fifth straight season this year. Last season, Gettysburg held a pair of teams to just a field goal, including defending Centennial Conference champion Muhlenberg College. In 2008, the Bullets finished fifth in the Centennial Conference in sacks with 21 and had a player, defensive end Josh Jerrold '09, earn a spot on the All-Centennial Conference First Team. Jerrold led the conference and tied for 15th in Division III in sacks (9.5). In total, Weaver has coached four players who have captured six All-Centennial Conference awards.

Prior to his arrival at Gettysburg, Weaver served as the defensive line coach at Bemidji State University in Minnesota from 2004-05. He also spent two seasons coaching the defensive line and serving as the junior varsity defensive coordinator at his alma mater, Wilmington College in Ohio, from 2002-03. Weaver guided his players to multiple postseason accolades at both Bemidji and Wilmington, including coaching one to All-America status at the latter.

Weaver holds two Bachelor of Science degrees from Wilmington College, one in secondary education/social studies licensure, and one in history. In the spring of 2006, he was awarded a master's degree in sports studies by Bemidji State University.

BOB CAMPBELL

Bob Campbell returns for his 11th season on the Gettysburg staff in 2010. After working as the Bullets wide receivers coach for the past 10 years, he will serve as the team's kickers/punters coach this season.

Campbell has helped lead Gettysburg's offense to the top of the Centennial Conference charts in recent years. For the past four seasons the Bullets have led the Centennial Conference in total offense, and last season Gettysburg set school records for passing yards, pass completions, receiving yards, pass receptions, all-purpose yards, and total offense.

A native of Vestal, N.Y., Campbell was a three-year letterwinner at halfback under head coach Joe Paterno at Penn State University and played on the 1968 Nittany Lion squad that went 11-0 and finished No. 2 in the nation. He went on to play for the Pittsburgh Steelers for one season in 1969.

After graduating from Penn State, he earned his master's degree from SUNY Cortland in 1972 and began his teaching and coaching career in Cicero, N.Y., as the head football coach. He assumed head coaching duties at Frederick (Md.) High School in 1986 and retired from that role in 1996, but will enter his 39th year of teaching in 2010.

Prior to his stint as head coach, Conner was Urbana's defensive coordinator from 2005-08 and helped the team win three Chesapeake Conference championships from 2005-07.

From 1999-2003, Conner worked as the head coach of the Washington Chiefs, a member of the Minor Football League (MFL). In 1998, he helped the Chiefs win a MFL title as the team's general manager, assistant head coach, and defensive coordinator.

As a football player, Conner was a minor league quarterback for the Prince Georges Stallions in 1992-93 and the Metro Bulls from 1988-91. Away from the coaching world, he served as an officer for the Metropolitan Police Department in Washington, D.C. from 1990-2006. He is currently the head boys lacrosse coach at Urbana.

GARDY LAWRENCE
Running Backs
Shepherd '78
9th Season at Gettysburg

Gardy Lawrence enters his ninth year at Gettysburg in 2010 after rejoining the Bullet staff in 2005 for his second stint as an assistant to Barry Streeter. Lawrence previously coached the Bullet linebackers and defensive line from 1986-88. He now oversees the Bullets' running backs.

Lawrence has helped lead the Bullets' ground game to a highly-successful run since arriving at the Battlefield. Gettysburg led the Centennial Conference in rushing offense in 2006 and 2007 before finishing second in each of the past two seasons. The Bullets have cracked the top-30 in Division III in rushing in each of the last three years, placing as high as 21st in 2007. Lawrence has also coached two players to All-Centennial Conference honors, including the Centennial Conference Player of the Year and a AFCA All-American in 2007.

A native of McSherrystown, Pa., and a graduate of Shepherd College, Lawrence guided Bermudian Springs (Pa.) High School to a league championship in his first season as a head coach (1982). Most recently, he spent 16 years as the head coach at New Oxford (Pa.) High School from 1989-2004, leading the Colonials to a PIAA District III AAA runner-up finish in 1996 and a YAIAA Division I crown in 2002.

Lawrence, who also holds a master's degree from George Mason University, has been employed as an economics teacher at New Oxford since 1996, part of a 30-year career in public education.

ANDREW SMITH
Defensive Line
McDaniel '05
1st Season at Gettysburg

Andrew Smith will spend his first year at Gettysburg College in 2010 as the team's defensive line coach.

Smith graduated from Centennial Conference member McDaniel College in 2005 and has spent the past five years as an assistant football coach at various levels. In 2008-09, he was the offensive and defensive line coach at Washington (Md.) High School.

In 2005-06, Smith worked at Bowling Brook (Md.) Preparatory School, where he was the offensive line coach in 2005 and the offensive coordinator in 2006. He helped the offensive line to its first 1,000-yard rusher in school history in 2005.

At McDaniel, Smith earned a spot on the All-Centennial Conference Second Team as an offensive lineman after helping the Green Terror finish 6-4 (4-2 CC), win a share of the conference title, and lead the league in rushing (232.0 ypg).

Smith earned a degree in psychology at McDaniel.

Bullets Set for 2010 Campaign

With 14 returning starters, the Gettysburg College football team will take to the gridiron with an experienced unit as it embarks on its 2010 season in the highly-competitive Centennial Conference (CC).

Gettysburg, which brings back six starters on offense and eight on defense, is coming off a 3-7 (3-5 CC) season. However, that record is deceiving, as all but one of the team's losses were by 10 points or fewer, and four were decided by less than a touchdown.

"We have quite a few returning players who have played a lot on both sides of the ball, so I think our depth is going to be strong," said head coach Barry Streeter, who enters his 32nd year at the helm.

The Bullets posted one of the top offensive seasons in school history a year ago, setting a program record and finishing fourth in Division III with 4,931 yards of total offense. The team also broke a school record for all-purpose yards (6,127) and led the Centennial Conference in both scoring offense (34.2 ppg) and total offense for the second year in a row. A veteran core returns, including first-team all-conference and all-region tailback Jamel Mutunga. However, the Bullets must replace record-setting quarterback Matt Flynn '10.

The Orange and Blue is coming off a tough season defensively; however, an experienced group returns from a team that held a pair of opponents to only a field goal. Six of the team's top-eight tacklers are back from a year ago, including junior safety Joe Delaney, who posted 86 hits.

The Bullets special teams units remain virtually intact with the return of all three of their primary players.

"I think we could have a really good team," said Streeter. "It's just going to be a day-to-day process of how well we mesh together."

The Bullets schedule is relatively similar to its 2009 docket, with the change of only one opponent. Susquehanna University entered the conference as an associate member in football, and to make room for the Crusaders, Gettysburg dropped non-conference opponent Hampden-Sydney College from its schedule.

For the 10th season in a row, the Bullets will open with Lebanon Valley College, their only non-conference date of the year. After an early bye in Week Two, Gettysburg hosts defending conference champion Johns Hopkins University in its Centennial and home opener. After hitting the road for Muhlenberg College, the Bullets have back-to-back home games, starting with its Homecoming date with Ursinus College followed by a match-up with Moravian College.

Gettysburg plays two straight road games at Juniata College and Dickinson College before playing two of its last three contests at home. The team hosts Susquehanna – its first game against the Crusaders since 1922 – and visits McDaniel College before wrapping up at home against Franklin & Marshall College.

OFFENSE

Although the Bullets have some holes to fill on offense, the cupboard is far from bare for offensive coordinator Kevin Burke's Spread Wing set.

The team's top two running backs return from a unit that finished second in the Centennial Conference in rushing (218.9 ypg) a year ago, and its top two receivers also return. In addition, five offensive lineman who started at some point last season are back.

QUARTERBACK

Perhaps the biggest question mark surrounding the team this season is at quarterback, where Flynn leaves some huge shoes to fill.

Last year Flynn capped a remarkable career in which he set nearly every school record for passing and helped the team set a handful of single-season school records, including total offense, all-purpose yards, passing yards, and pass completions.

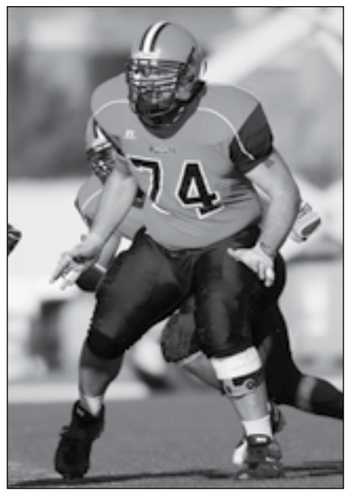

This season, three returning Bullets will battle for time under center: junior Kyle Whitmoyer and sophomores Erick Lapice and Kody Smith.

Whitmoyer played sparingly as the top backup last season, completing 3-of-6 passes for 28 yards, but enjoyed a solid performance in his longest outing of the year. Playing the fourth quarter of a blowout against Juniata, he rushed for 64 yards and a pair of touchdowns on six carries.

Smith and Lapice did not appear in any varsity games last year but performed during spring ball.

The decision as to who will start in Week One may take some time, according to Streeter.

"We'd really like to get it settled as early as we can, since none of them has much experience," he said. "But if they're all doing well, there's no reason to pick one of them too soon. If they're on the same page as [the coaching staff] and they're making good reads and good decisions, there's no reason to rush it."

Senior Kyle DiVito

TAILBACK

The team should be exceptionally strong on the ground with the return of Mutunga and senior Anthony DeSalva.

Mutunga, who enters the season ranked eighth in school history in rushing yards, finished second in the Centennial Conference with 1,015 yards last year. He also scored 16 touchdowns, and his 14 rushing TDs fell just one shy of the school record. DeSalva gained more playing time as the season progressed and averaged 5.4 yards per carry. He racked up 144 yards in the Juniata game and ran for a pair of touchdowns for the season.

WING

At wing, senior Charles Curcio will lead the way as a three-year starter.

Curcio was the Bullets second-leading receiver last season, hauling in 36 passes for 501 yards and four touchdowns. Also the team's primary return specialist, he enters the season ranked sixth in school history in all-purpose yards (3,647).

At the other wing position, junior John Pesce appears to be the favorite to replace three-year starter Ricky Manigat '10. Although he saw limited action last season, Pesce rushed for 52 yards and a touchdown on three carries against Lebanon Valley.

Senior Greg Namrow will also compete for a starting job.

WIDE RECEIVER/TIGHT END

The Bullets are equipped with their top receiver from last season in senior Brian Betley, who grabbed a team-leading 40 catches for 588 yards and four touchdowns. He enters the season ranked sixth in school history in receiving yards and ninth in receptions.

The second receiver spot could be filled by either sophomore Kyle Davis or senior Eddie Pinkerton. Davis caught three passes for 69 yards last year while Pinkerton had three catches for 33 yards. In addition, a highly-talented crop of five freshmen could also push for playing time.

Gettysburg faces the challenge of replacing a highly-productive tight end with the graduation of A.J. Perrotti '10, who finished with 501 yards receiving and a team-best five touchdown catches last season. Among the players who will compete for the starting job include junior Dennis Bazow, junior Mack Krush, and sophomore Matt Brophy.

OFFENSIVE LINE

On the line, the Bullets bring back both of its starting tackles as well as its starting center from a unit that paved the way for a prolific offense.

Leading the way is junior left tackle James Monreale, a two-year starter who was named Second Team All-Centennial Conference last season. Senior right tackle Kyle DiVito is also back after starting the last seven games of the year in 2009 while classmate Julius Jackson returns after an injury-shortened junior campaign in which he started the first three games. Sophomore Jake Treinish provides the team with an additional option at tackle.

At center, senior Dan DiStefano started every game in 2009 and should return to the lineup once again. His backup from a year ago, senior Matt Grujich, also returns.

Although the Bullets lost both of their starting guards to graduation, junior Kyle Reutter comes back after performing well in his only two starts last season.

Other players who, following spring ball, emerged as frontrunners at guard include junior Walter Ackermann, junior Tom Piccirillo, and sophomore Jim Bennett.

DEFENSE

Although the Bullets defense faced its share of challenges a year ago in its newly-implemented 4-4 scheme, Streeter remains optimistic heading into the 2010 season.

"We had a tough go at it [in 2009], but I was really encouraged this spring at how well they responded to some things that we gave them," said Streeter. "We saw significant improvement in our secondary, with players that we already had there and players that were moved over from offense. I feel like we made adjustments to use our talent the best."

Senior Matt Coffey

Under defensive coordinator Shaun Weaver, the Bullets will employ a multiple-40 system.

DEFENSIVE LINE

On the defensive line, Gettysburg will showcase a mix of veterans and new faces.

At defensive end, senior Matt Coffey comes back after starting every game and finishing with 26 tackles, including 4.5 for loss, and 3.5 sacks.

A host of additional Bullets will vie for playing time, including sophomore Ben Zepnick, junior Chris Douthett, sophomore Mark Wojcik, and junior Gabe Gallante. Of the three, Zepnick saw the most action last season, starting five games and finishing with 14 tackles.

Competition will also be strong at tackle, where a large number of players could challenge for playing time. Junior Chad Bucur moves over from end after posting 18 tackles over eight starts last year. Sophomore Joe Ventresca is also among the contenders for a starting role after playing all 10 games and making 14 tackles last season. Senior Matt Dietz adds additional experience after making 24 stops over 10 games played in 2009.

LINEBACKERS

The Bullets feature a deep crew at linebacker, where a number of players could step in. Coming out of spring practice, a trio of players appear to be fighting for the two starting jobs at inside backer in sophomore Wes Taylor, junior Don Murphy, and sophomore Larry DelViscio. Taylor has the most experience of the three following an impressive freshman season in which he started the final eight games and finished fourth on the team with 67 tackles.

At outside linebacker, three players could be in the hunt for one job in senior Bryan DiSabato, sophomore Mark Covington, and sophomore Justin Dhyani. Of the three, only DiSabato saw significant time last fall, when he started nine games, was sixth on the team with 40 tackles, and led the squad with four interceptions.

The bandit/strong safety spot could be filled by junior Peter Hak, who is moving over from free safety. After missing the early part of the season with an injury, he finished with 35 tackles while starting the final six games. Junior George Schmidt, a transplanted tailback, played well in the spring and could also compete for playing time.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

Competition is also wide-open in the secondary, with a medley of returners and underclassmen pushing for playing time.

Senior Charles Curcio

After spending last season at linebacker, Delaney will likely move to free safety, where he played during the spring. A two-year starter, Delaney was second on the team in tackles last year. Junior Mac Drane and sophomore Drew Olsen also had good springs and could challenge for playing time.

At cornerback, senior Tairi Mobley returns as one of the team's most experienced defensive backs. A two-year starter, he was fifth among the Bullets with 42 tackles and third on the squad with three interceptions last season.

Junior D.J. Thompson turned in a highly-impressive spring season at corner and could also compete for starting duties. Other players who will be in the mix include juniors Luke Johnson, Tyler Fasanella, and Rob Pennella, who started seven games and made 37 tackles last year.

SPECIAL TEAMS

The special teams unit is in good hands with the return of senior Mike Barrett, Betley, and Curcio.

The team's place-kicker last season, Barrett finished as the Bullets second-leading scorer, converting 39-of-41 PATs and 5-of-12 field goals for 54 points. Betley captured first-team all-conference honors at punter in 2009 after leading the conference with 37.7 yards per punt. Curcio took all but two of the team's punt returns and the majority of the squad's kickoff returns and finished with a team-leading 135.6 all-purpose yards per game, a mark that ranked third in the Centennial Conference.

The Bullets Marching Band

Founded in the 1909-10 academic year, bands at Gettysburg are in their 101st season of musical excellence. Since its first performance at a home football game vs. Bucknell 101 years ago, the Bullets Marching Band has provided entertainment for students, alumni and fans as well as a superb musical education for the talented student-performers that comprise the many wind band ensembles in the Sunderman Conservatory of Music. This year's Bullets Marching Band continues the spirit of Gettysburg, with members from 17 states and 31 major fields of study. The marching band is truly an example of the liberal arts tradition and exemplifies arts for all; only 21 percent of its members are music majors.

The Bullets Marching Band begins each game with its traditional pregame show. The Centennial Fanfare honors the band's 100 years of performance. This new fanfare mixes the themes of the Gettysburg Alma Mater with Loyalty, our school song, and was commissioned from alumnus Mark Deen '82 P'10. Pregame continues with Loyalty, and we invite you to clap and sing along as the band marches the "Block L" down the field. We next honor the state of Pennsylvania with the Pennsylvania State Song, adopted in 1990, followed by the Spirit of Gettysburg March (also known as the "Bullet Song"), composed in 1925 by Robert Fortenbaugh and Bertram Saltzer. We form the "Big G" during the Spirit of Gettysburg March and remain there for the Alma Mater and The Star-Spangled Banner, our national anthem. Finally, we march the "Big G" down the field and form a tunnel to welcome our Bullets Football team.

The year's halftime show features progressive rock music. With music from the popular bands Yes, Chase, and Emerson, Lake, and Palmer, the Bullets Marching Band will rock out to Roundabout, Handbags and Gladrags, and Karn Evil 9. Our high-velocity drills echo the thrill of the intensity in each of these shows, while showcasing the performing ability of our students. Prepare yourself for the psychedelic sounds of Progressive Rock 2010.

The Bullets Marching Band is based in the Sunderman Conservatory of Music at Gettysburg College and is only one of our ensembles and musical organizations which include the Wind Symphony, Symphony Band, College Choir, Symphony Orchestra, Jazz Ensemble and many more. For information about the Sunderman Conservatory, our concerts, programs and events, visit us online at www.gettysburg.edu/music.

Game 1 — Lebanon Valley 47, Gettysburg 42

Sept. 5, 2009 — Shirk Field at Musselman Stadium — Gettysburg, Pa.

Senior Matt Flynn passed for 386 yards and three touchdowns while nearly willing the Bullets to a stunning second-half comeback, but a big Lebanon Valley first half was too much to overcome as Gettysburg dropped a wild 47-42 decision in the season opener for both teams at Shirk Field at Musselman Stadium.

Flynn, who broke the school record for career completions (387) with his eighth of the game, finished just 13 passing yards shy of his career-high and 18 short of the school record.

The two teams combined for 974 total yards, with the Bullets outgaining the Flying Dutchmen 581-393. It was Gettysburg's highest total offense output since its school-record 733-yard performance at St. Lawrence University in 1999.

Gettysburg trailed 41-14 at halftime and 41-21 heading into the third quarter before scoring on its final three drives. After their final touchdown of the game – a 15-yard pass from Flynn to junior tailback Jamel Mutunga with 1:48 remaining – the Bullets had a chance to regain possession, but an onsides kick was recovered by the Dutchmen. With Gettysburg out of timeouts, LVC was able to run out the rest of the clock.

Game 2 — Hampden-Sydney 46, Gettysburg 43 (OT)

Sophomore David Prizzia kicked a 21-yard field goal in overtime and Hampden-Sydney College scored 22 unanswered points to rally from a 35-21 halftime deficit and defeat Gettysburg 46-43 in another Bullets-Tigers shootout at Fulton Field at Lewis Stadium.

The Bullets trailed 43-35, however, with 4:55 left when senior Matt Flynn, who threw for 376 yards and three touchdowns while rushing for another, drove Gettysburg on a game-tying five-play, 80-yard drive. Senior wing Ricky Manigat broke loose down the left sideline for a 58-yard touchdown reception before Flynn hit junior wing Charles Curcio in the back right corner of the end zone to tie the game 43-43 with 3:10 left.

After Hampden-Sydney turned the ball over on downs at the Gettysburg-39, the Bullets had a chance to win it in the closing seconds, but the Tigers blocked their second field goal of the game, snuffing out a 37-yard attempt from junior Mike Barrett.

Hampden-Sydney won the overtime coin toss and chose to play defense first. Then on third-and-19, Flynn had his pass intercepted by Trevor Ikwild. The Tigers took over, and after driving to the Bullet-4, head coach Marty Favret sent out Prizzia on fourth-and-short to kick the game-winner.

Flynn finished 25-of-37 with one interception and was nearly flawless in the opening half, completing 14 of 15 passes for 237 yards and two TDs.

Game 4 — Gettysburg 20, Muhlenberg 3

Sept. 26, 2009 — Shirk Field at Musselman Stadium — Gettysburg, Pa.

Senior Matt Flynn threw for 325 yards and a touchdown on 20-of-37 passing and Gettysburg picked up its first victory of the season, defeating Muhlenberg 20-3 in the Mules Centennial Conference opener at a rainy Shirk Field at Musselman Stadium.

Junior tailback Jamel Mutunga rushed for 91 yards on 27 carries and caught five passes for another 58 yards for Gettysburg, which shut out Muhlenberg over the final three quarters and out-gained the Mules 486-220. It was the fewest points Gettysburg allowed since its 10-3 win over Muhlenberg on Oct. 29, 2005, which was also their last win over the Mules. Muhlenberg, the two-time defending Centennial Conference champion, had won the previous three meetings.

Junior wing Charles Curcio scored a pair of touchdowns on a 10-yard run and a 24-yard pass and finished with 144 all-purpose yards, including 70 yards receiving on four catches for Gettysburg while junior receiver Gavin Jablonski caught four balls for 65 yards. Junior Mike Barrett scored eight points on a pair of field goals (21 and 27 yards).

Junior defensive end Matt Coffey paced the Gettysburg defense, which limited Muhlenberg to 61 rushing yards, as 3.0 of his five tackles were for loss, including 2.0 sacks. He also forced a fumble. Sophomore safety Joe Delaney made a team-high seven tackles.

Game 5 — Ursinus 55, Gettysburg 50

Oct. 3, 2009 | Patterson Field | Collegeville, Pa.

Gettysburg	10	13	7	20	-	50
Ursinus	21	27	7	0	-	55

In a game that featured a Centennial Conference-record 1,317 yards of total offense, it was a three-yard run by quarterback Justin Decristofaro on fourth-and-1 at the Gettysburg-29 with just over two minutes left that clinched the game for Ursinus College.

The Bears led by 32 points late in the third quarter, only to see the Bullets run off 27 unanswered points in under 11 minutes. But Gettysburg's furious rally would eventually run out of time, as the Bears held on for a 55-50 Centennial Conference victory on Ursinus' homecoming.

With Gettysburg out of timeouts, Decristofaro's run allowed the Bears to run out the remainder of the clock.

The 105 total points scored also marked a Centennial Conference record, and the Bullets set both a conference and school record for points scored in a loss.

Senior quarterback Matt Flynn led the Bullets by setting school and Centennial Conference records with 519 passing yards, seven touchdowns passes, and 522 yards of total offense. He completed 32-of-47 passes, setting a career-high for completions as well, while throwing only one interception.

Trailing 48-23 at halftime and 55-23 late in the third quarter, the Bullets set to work on their second dramatic near-comeback of the season, as Flynn threw touchdown passes on Gettysburg's final four drives of the game.
