Pilch Inducted To CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame

Lance Pilch, a 1993 graduate and three-year letterwinner, was inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame in the summer of 2007.

A team captain who batted .361 in 1993, Pilch hit 11 career triples ranking seventh all-time at the Academy.

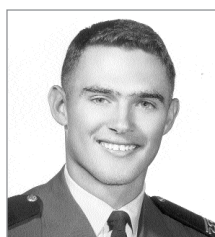

At the time of induction he was one of only three pilots in the world qualified to fly the F-16, F-15 and the F-22.

Air Force has led the nation in team batting more than any other team (six times). The team batting championships are as follows:

YR	G	AB	H	HR	AVG.
1962	32	1067	352	34	.330
1963	26	945	310	59	.328
1964	27	981	331	40	.337
1980	37	1167	446	60	.382
1994	50	1602	576	76	.360
2017	53	1969	678	75	.344

Air Force has led the nation in slugging percentage five times, more than any other school. The slugging percentage titles follow:

YR	TB	AB	%
1975	610	1,183	.516
1980	728	1,167	.623
1994	998	1,602	.623
1995	944	1,675	.564
2017	1094	1,969	.556

Air Force has led the nation in triples per game four times. That total is the second most in the nation, behind Arizona.

YR	G	3B	PER GAME
1993	50	35	0.70
1994	50	38	0.76
2008	51	32	0.63
2010	55	36	0.65

THE SPRING OF '94

The 1994 season was one of the most prolific in AFA history. The Falcons led the nation in batting average, triples per game and slugging percentage. The Falcons also ranked third in scoring (9.34 runs per game), sixth in home runs (1.52 per game) and 11th in doubles (2.36 per game).

Individually, the Falcons ranked in the top 10 in six categories. Senior Vern Mullis led the nation in triples per game (0.24) and was 19th in runs scored per game (1.24). Junior outfielder Glenn Harris, who earned third-team All-America honors, was third in the nation in slugging percentage (.876), third in RBI per game (1.47), 10th in batting average (.429) and 19th in home runs per game (0.33).

The 1994 Falcons, which went 26-24 on the season, including a stellar 18-6 mark at home, were one of the top hitting teams in the nation that year. The '94 Falcons led the nation with a .360 batting average, .623 slugging percentage and a 0.76 triples per game average. The Falcons ranked third in runs per game (9.34), sixth in homers per game (1.52) and 11th in doubles per game (2.36).

Dave Lyons won a school record 10 games, including nine in a row, for the Falcons in 1995. Lyons ranks third all-time at AFA with 21 career wins and is eighth with 270.1 innings pitched.

Wilson Parma is AFA's only two-time All-American (1962 & 1963). Parma led the Falcons with a .418 batting average in 1962.

Falcon Field - 7,000 Feet Above Sea Level

Over the years, Falcon Field has become one of the toughest parks in which to play in the nation. Nestled against the Rampart Range of the Rocky Mountains, Falcon Field sits at over 7,000 feet above sea level. In 1991, the field became one of the most unique in the country. Due to the severe Colorado weather, an AstroTurf infield was installed with a brand new grass outfield and drainage system. The turf allowed the Falcons to play games after spring snowstorms which, in the past, would have had to be postponed. Also in 1991, the fences were moved back more than 20 feet in some spots. The current dimensions are 349 in left field, 393 in left center, 400 in center, 365 in right center and 316 in right field. The “short porch” in right field is protected by a 24-foot chain link “Monster.” As part of the renovation, the dugouts were upgraded with heaters and, permanent helmet and bat racks and the park gained space for more than 500 fans with additional seating on the grass for a capacity of more than 1,000. In the fall of 2004, the old AstroTurf infield was replaced with new Sport Turf.

During the first five seasons after the renovation, the Falcons improved in every area of the game - team defense, team offense and team pitching. The batting average of .328 and fielding percentage of .942 were the highest in any five-year period up to that point. The team ERA consistently improved and the five-year ERA of 7.25 is the best since joining a major conference in 1981.

As a result, the Falcons posted a 128-122 record during that time for a winning percentage of .512, the best since joining a major conference in 1981. The Falcons averaged nearly 26 wins per season in those five years, the best five-year average in school history. AFA's home winning percentage of .550 in 2000 is the best since a .625 mark in 1995.

Falcon Field also earned national recognition as the host of the 1976 and 1995 U.S. Olympic Festivals.

Falcon Field has seen many upgrades over the past several seasons, including indoor batting cages, improved dugouts with upgraded heating system, hitter's eye and a new FieldTurf surface, which was installed prior to the 2020 season.

Brad Fulk was the second overall pick in the 1972 winter draft by the Texas Rangers. In his two years with the baseball team at the Academy, Fulk led the team in home runs, runs and RBI. Fulk hit 12 homers in 1971 and 10 in 1970, for a total of 22 homers in 73 games. He drove in 64 runs and scored 75 runs in that span.

Jeff Brown led the Falcons in hitting in 1973, 74, 75 and 76. Brown hit .400 in '74 and .419 in '75 and ranks 10th all-time at the Academy with a .390 career batting average.

Matt Kaercher, the second-winningest pitcher in Air Force baseball history also played professionally, in the Boston Red Sox minor league system.

The 2002 AFA graduate began the 2003 season pitching for the Gulf Coast League Red Sox in the GCL Rookie League where he posted a 2.70 earned run average.

Midway through the season, Kaercher was promoted to the Portland Sea Dogs in the Eastern League at the AA level where he made one appearance.

Kaercher concluded the season with the Sarasota Red Sox, a single A affiliate of the Red Sox in the Florida State League, where he had a 3.38 ERA in eight appearances.

Mike Thiessen, one of the best players ever to come out of the Air Force baseball program, played professionally with the Lancaster JetHawks, an Advanced A affiliate of the Arizona Diamondbacks in 2003.

A two-sport star at the Academy (was also the starting quarterback for the football program), Thiessen owns numerous AFA baseball records including hits, walks, games played, doubles and more.

In 2003, Thiessen batted .278 with five homers and 42 runs scored in 85 games played for Lancaster. Thiessen was drafted in the 42nd round by the Diamondbacks in the 2001 Major League Baseball amateur draft.

Thiessen was also a standout on the football team, earning Mountain West Conference Offensive Player of the Year honors as a quarterback in 2000.

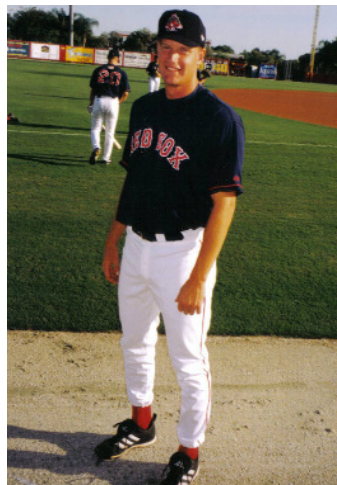

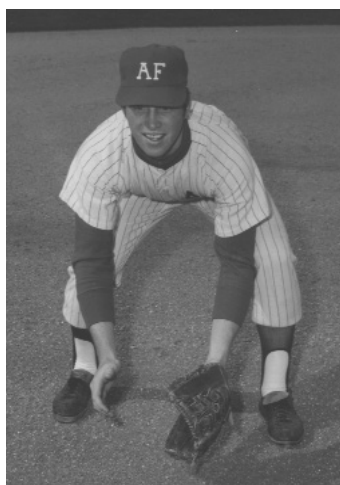

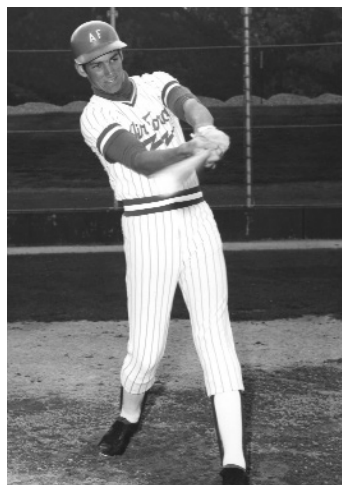

He is currently the offensive coordinator with the Air Force football team.

Karl Bolt, one of the most complete hitters ever to come out of the Air Force baseball program, played professionally with the Gulf Coast League Phillies, a GCL Rookie League affiliate of the Philadelphia Phillies in 2007.

Bolt batted .257 with 10 doubles, four triples and 31 RBI in 57 games for the GCL Phillies. He led the GCL with 95 total bases and eight homers.

As a senior, Bolt was a first-team all-Mountain West Conference selection, batting .354 with eight homers and 47 RBI.

A four-year letterwinner, Bolt batted .334 for his career at Air Force, hitting 33 home runs and driving in 148 runs. His 232 career hits ranks fourth all-time at the Academy.

Bolt was drafted in the 15th round by the Phillies in the 2007 Major League Baseball amateur draft.

In 2008, Bolt played for the Lakewood BlueClaws, the Single A affiliate of the Phillies. In 91 games, Bolt batted .266 with 15 doubles, five homers and 35 RBIs.

Garrett Custons, was drafted in the 10th round by the Toronto Blue Jays in 2013.

Custons was a four-year letterwinner who batted .333 for his career with 275 hits, 77 doubles and 50 stolen bases. Custons was a freshman All-American and two-time All-Mountain West honoree. He is Air Force's all-time leader in doubles and at bats.

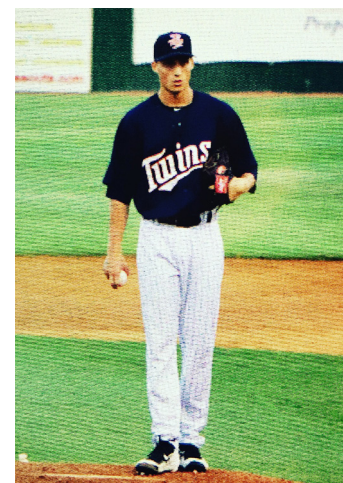

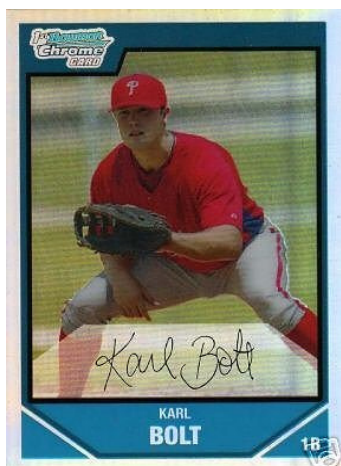

Coustons played for the Bluefield Blue Jays, a Single A affiliate of Toronto in 2013. In 17 games, Custons batted .222 with 12 hits in 54 at bats.

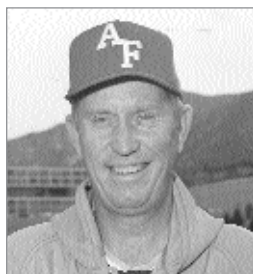

Ben Yokley, Air Force's all time leader with 95 pitching appearances, was drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals in the 29th round of the 2015 draft. As a senior, Yokley struck out 45 batters in 34.1 innings as Air Force's closer.

During the summer of 2015, Yokley played for the Johnson City Cardinals, the Appalachian Rookie League affiliate of St. Louis. Yokley pitched in seven games, posting a 5.40 ERA, striking out 15 in 13.1 innings pitched. He also had one save.

Griffin Jax, the 2016 Mountain West co-Pitcher of the Year, was drafted by the Minnesota Twins with the 93rd pick in the 2016 MLB draft. Jax set a school record with a 2.05 ERA, posting a 9-2 record. He struck out 90 batters in 105.2 innings pitched. Jax led the conference in ERA and innings pitched and ranked second in wins and strikeouts.

During the summer of 2016, Jax pitched for the Elizabethton Twins in the Appalachian Rookie League. Jax appeared in four games, posting a 4.15 ERA with eight strikeouts in 8.2 innings pitched.

Joe Robison

Joe Robison could be called the "Father of Air Force Baseball." His 282 wins are the most in school history and 77 more than the next closest coach (Kazlauskys). Robison led the 1979 team to a 33-13 record, the highest win total in school history. His 1980 team was 27-9-1 and posted the second-best winning percentage in school history. Robison led the Falcons to eight winning seasons, the most of any coach in AFA history.

Robison led the Falcons into a new era in 1981 as the Falcons joined the Western Athletic Conference. Robison coached five seasons in the WAC and produced the most WAC wins (44) and the most WAC wins per season (8.8) in school history. During his 14 seasons, Robison coached four GTE/CoSIDA academic All-Americans and seven all-WAC performers.

After leaving the Academy, Robison served as a scout in professional baseball. Robison helped build the New York Yankee baseball club that won the 1996, 1998 and 1999 World Series championships.

Paul Mainieri

Paul Mainieri's legacy at the Academy will not soon be forgotten. An enthusiastic coach with a burning desire for success, Mainieri was the first coach in school history to win 20 or more games in six consecutive seasons. The Miami, Fla., native posted a 12-4 mark in service academy games. He coached three All-Americans, two freshman All-Americans and 12 all-conference players. Mainieri has the third-most wins in school history with 152 from 1989-94. In 1989, he led the Falcons to their best conference record (13-13) in AFA history. In 1993 and 1994, he led the Falcons to consecutive winning seasons for the first time in 15 years.

Mainieri's teams consistently ranked among the nation's top hitting teams. In 1994, the Falcons led the nation in batting average, triples per game and slugging percentage. The team also ranked third in scoring and sixth in home runs.

Following the 1994 season, Mainieri left the Academy to take the head coaching position at the University of Notre Dame.

In 12 seasons with the Irish, Mainieri kept the program as a perennial national powerhouse, posting a 533-213-3 record, leading the Irish to the 2002 College World Series.

As a testament to Mainieri's coaching legacy, he was hired as head baseball coach at LSU, one of the most storied programs in collegiate baseball history, in 2007 and has remained there since. In 2009, Mainieri led the Tigers to the NCAA national title by winning the CWS, giving LSU its sixth national title. Mainieri was also CollegeBaseball-Insider.com and Rivals.com Coach of the year in 2009.
