AZTEC FOOTBALL MEDIA GUIDE

Welcome to San Diego State football!

No matter if you are a longtime member of the San Diego State community or if you are just beginning to discover our University, I am sure you will be as impressed as I am with all that it has to offer.

My staff and I are committed to coaching a team this community can be proud of as we return to the winning tradition of Aztec Football.

I truly believe there will be cause for much celebration in the very near future.

Our quest for a football championship continues.

The official website of SDSU athletics, goaztecs.com, is the place for official information on the 2007 San Diego State Aztec football team. Game notes, releases, statistics, schedules, press conferences and quotes are all available on the web site.

Thank you for your interest in San Diego State. The Aztec media relations staff has produced the 2007 media guide to assist in your coverage of SDSU football. Please contact a member of the staff with any questions, concerns or requests.

CREDENTIALS

All requests for press and photo credentials should be submitted to the media relations office on official letterhead at least one week in advance of the game. Requests should be directed to Mike May and should be submitted by the sports editor or sports director of the media outlet.

Priority is given to daily newspapers, television stations and radio stations with sports programming.

If approved, credentials will be mailed only when specifically requested, and at the risk of the applicant. Those not delivered by mail, in person, or through the visiting director of media relations, will be left at the Qualcomm Stadium Press Entrance (Gate H) and will be available beginning two hours prior to kickoff.

Credentials will be issued to working media only. Family and friends are not allowed in the press area.

SEASON CREDENTIALS

A season credential form will be sent out in July to outlets which cover SDSU athletics on a regular basis. This season, any individual seeking a season credential will need to submit a photo for the credential.

Only those outlets which routinely cover Aztec practices and media conferences are eligible for season credentials.

SINGLE-GAME CREDENTIALS

Requests should be made for single-game credentials at least one week prior to the game. Any organization that requests a single-game credential and does not use it, may not be granted another pass for the remainder of the season. No credentials will be granted after Thursday of game week.

QUALCOMM STADIUM

Qualcomm Stadium is the home of the SDSU Aztecs and the San Diego Chargers, as well as the site of the Holiday Bowl and the Poinsettia Bowl. The stadium is located off Interstate 8, just west of Interstate 15. Enter from the north off of Friars Road.

The media entrance and media will call are at Gate H. The open-air press box can be reached by taking Elevator 4 (elevator closest to the press gate) to stadium level 2A.

GAME PARKING

Parking passes at Qualcomm Stadium are limited and will be prioritized similar to the way credentials are issued. Media parking is in the H1 lot and game credentials can be used to access the lot. Visiting media parking should be requested through the opponent's media relations office.

PRESS BOX SERVICES

Working media will be provided with pregame notes, a game program, flip card, and quarterly and final statistics, including postgame notes and quotes. An in-house television system provides updates and replays during the game. Video and audio of Chuck Long's postgame news conference will also be available. Pregame meals are available through the stadium food service in the media's working area. There is a charge for the meal. Postgame notes and final stats will also be available on goaztecs.com following the game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Only accredited photographers on assignment will be issued sideline credentials for Aztec home games — per NCAA guidelines. The NCAA also specifies that photo shooting must take place outside the restraining line that encircles the playing field and outside of the team areas (25-yard line to 25-yard line).

TELEPHONES, FAXING AND INTERNET

The media relations office will provide four charge-per-call phones in the visiting media's section of the press box for all home games. The phones are available on a first-come, first-serve basis. Media requiring special service are urged to order individual phone lines through Gary Brashear at Qualcomm Stadium, (619) 281-1500. Those requiring their own phone instruments should make arrangements through their local AT&T representative. Phone lines for originating radio stations, as designated by the opposing athletic department, will be provided through the MWC co-op agreement.

Postgame faxing service is also available to the media by contacting a member of the media relations office.

Wireless Internet is available, free of charge, in the main area of the press box.

POSTGAME POLICY

The Aztec locker room is closed. Head coach Chuck Long and selected players will be available at a postgame news conference in the interview room located just down the hall from the Aztec locker room. Video and audio from that news conference will be available in the press box. There is no formal postgame format involving the visiting coaches or players.

No postgame interviews will take place on the field without the prior approval of the media relations office.

For postgame purposes, the Aztec and visiting team locker rooms, and the postgame interview room at Qualcomm Stadium are located at the B2 level of the facility. That level can be reached via the press elevator and heading left.

INTERVIEW REQUESTS

For interviews with a member of the San Diego State football staff, including head coach Chuck Long, contact assistant athletic director for media relations Mike May or assistant media relations director Peggy Curtin at (619) 594-5547. For video or phone needs, please contact Mike May.

LONG MEDIA OPPORTUNITIES

Coach Chuck Long will have a weekly gathering with the media each Sunday afternoon (of game weeks) during the season with the exact time to be determined. He is also available on the MWC coaches' teleconference on Tuesday mornings, at his weekly media luncheon, and daily after practices. His radio show (time still TBD) will air weekly on KOGO (600 AM). The best time to contact the head coach is weekday mornings before noon. All interviews with coach Long or any member of the football staff should be arranged through the media relations office.

TUESDAY LUNCHEONS

This fall, SDSU will once again play host to a Tuesday media luncheon with head coach Chuck Long and requested players. The location will be the second floor of the Aztec Athletic Center.

Exact times are still to be determined, but Chuck Long, selected players, defensive coordinator Bob Elliott and offensive coordinator Del Miller will be available.

Player requests for the press conference should be made by noon on Monday.

A transcript of the weekly media luncheon is posted on goaztecs.com. Contact the media relations office for additional details.

AZTEC ATHLETICS CENTER

The Aztec Athletics Center is the home of SDSU athletics. The four-story facility is located at 5302 55th Street in San Diego, just west of Cox Arena and adjacent to the football practice facility and Tony Gwynn Stadium. The football offices are located on the second floor and the media relations office is on third floor in suite 3014. Usually, major news conferences take place in the first-floor auditorium. Most of Long's media gatherings will be on the second floor.

CAMPUS PARKING

Media wishing to attend Aztec workouts during the week will need to obtain a special parking permit from the media relations office, located in suite 3014 of the Aztec Athletics Center. The credential is good for parking in Parking Structure 5, just south of the AAC at the corner of Montezuma Road and 55th Street.

SDSU PRACTICES

San Diego State practices are closed to the public, but will be open to members of the media which routinely cover SDSU athletics. Members of the media wishing to attend practice should contact the media relations office for approval and to confirm practice schedules. Photographers and videographers will be allowed to shoot the final 15 minutes of practice.

Pending schedules, San Diego State players and coaches will be available for interviews following practice (please refer to the SDSU in-season weekly schedule below).

WEEKLY RELEASE

The media relations office will once again e-mail its weekly football releases this season. The updates will be sent via fax only when specifically requested. The release will be posted at www.goaztecs.com on Sunday evenings in both text and Adobe Acrobat formats. To receive the weekly release via e-mail on Sundays, please contact Mike May at mmay@mail.sdsu.edu.

COLLEGEPRESSBOX.COM

CollegePressBox.com is the official media website for Mountain West Conference football. Access and download weekly game notes, statistics, media guides and more for the conference and each of its nine member schools throughout the season. Login information will be distributed by the conference office to accredited media or you can apply for a password by sending an e-mail to password@collegepressbox.com.

MWC TELECONFERENCE

Interviews with San Diego State head coach Chuck Long, as well as the other eight Mountain West Conference coaches, are available each Tuesday during the season on the league's teleconference. Contact the MWC office at (719) 488-4040 for more information.

AM 600 KOGO

In 2007, San Diego State football will have a new home, AM 600 KOGO, the highest rated AM station in the San Diego market.

Aztec Sports Properties, the Division of Learfield Sports that holds multi-media rights for San Diego State University Athletics, signed a five-year agreement in late March that will make Clear Channel Broadcasting in San Diego and AM 600 KOGO the radio home of Aztec athletics, beginning with the 2007-08 academic year.

The station is serving as the flagship for San Diego State football and men's basketball broadcasts both on the road and at home, and will also feature a variety of other Aztec programming, including coaches shows and other live events.

KOGO's signal stretches from north of Santa Barbara to south of Tijuana. In addition, Clear Channel will showcase 15 additional live sporting events, including baseball and women's basketball games.

"We are pleased that Learfield has been able to put together a new radio deal for San Diego State," San Diego State Athletic Director Jeff Schemmel said. "Having our football and men's basketball games and coaches shows all on one station and to have that be the highest rated AM station in the market gives us a great opportunity to better serve our Aztec fan base. In addition, Clear Channel's commitment to provide coverage to additional sports, as well as its ability to help promote San Diego State athletics to a variety of demographics, will help our entire athletic program grow."

"We are proud and privileged to be the new home of the Aztecs and begin a strong new partnership with SDSU," Clear Channel Vice President and Marketing Manager Bob Bolinger said. "We know the Aztecs are committed to a winning program and we are committed to providing the best college sports broadcast in the country for the fans, the alumni and the community."

San Diego State has partnered with Clear Channel the past three years to play host to the annual KGB SkyShow event in conjunction with an Aztec football game. The results have been successful as the SkyShow event has accounted for three of the five largest home crowds in school history.

"We have worked with Clear Channel on other initiatives and they have a proven and exceptional reach in the San Diego marketplace," said Steve Becvar, General Manager of Aztec Sports Properties. "It's important to be creative and find ways to grow our fan base and the Clear Channel partnership will allow us to do that."

KOGO, San Diego's News and Talk Station, is owned by Clear Channel Communications. Clear Channel Communications is a global leader in out-of-home advertising and entertainment.

The company owns radio and television stations, outdoor advertising displays, produces live entertainment productions and owns venues in 65 countries, including throughout the United States. In San Diego, Clear Channel owns a total of six radio stations in addition to AM 600 KOGO: KGB-FM (101.5), KIOZ-FM (Rock 105.3), KMYI-FM (STAR 94.1), KHTS-FM (Channel 933), KUSS-FM (US 95.7 FM) and KLSD-AM (AM 1360).

CSTV, VERSUS and The Mtn.

On Aug. 26, 2004, College Sports Television (CSTV) and the Mountain West Conference announced a visionary partnership that revolutionized the college sports landscape. The landmark agreement was the first NCAA Division I football and men's basketball conference-wide deal for CSTV. The advent of the new television model gives the fastest-growing independent cable network exclusive rights to all conference events, including cable and satellite television coverage, national over-the-air and satellite radio, video-on-demand and online broadcast rights. The CSTV/MWC partnership has guaranteed greater levels of television exposure for all MWC sports and has resoundingly met the fundamental goals of more exposure, preferred start times and competition on select days of the week.

A succession of events since the fall of 2004 have improved the new television model, including the CBS purchase of CSTV, and the merger with Comcast SportsNet to create The Mtn. - MountainWest Sports Network. The centerpiece of this historic relationship was the launch of The Mtn. - the first sports network dedicated to serving a single collegiate athletic conference 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

The relationship with Comcast also delivered a new national broadcast partner in VERSUS. The MWC was the first exclusive college programming provider for the Comcast-owned entity, with football and both men's and women's basketball games.

CSTV Networks, Inc., the new 24-hour power in college sports, is the nation's leading digital and cable programming company dedicated to college sports. CSTV (CSTV.com), part of CBS Corporation, connects more fans to more college sports than any other company and is now available to more than 65 million households across the nation.

Building upon a successful inaugural season of MWC football in 2006, CSTV will broadcast 14 MWC football games this year. In addition, CSTV offers a variety of original programming and studio shows featuring expert analysis and in-depth coverage of the Mountain West Conference, in addition to the entire landscape of college football. Together, CSTV, VERSUS and The Mtn. will showcase all of the passion and rivalries of the Mountain West Conference, while delivering unparalleled 24/7 coverage to fans across the nation.

The Mtn. - MountainWest Sports Network is a partnership between CSTV and Comcast. It's the first sports network dedicated to a collegiate athletic conference. The Mtn. provides sports fans blanket coverage of MWC athletics across multiple sports. The Mtn. features more MWC games on television than ever before, including 30 live

MWC football games, 75 live men's basketball games, 23 live women's basketball games, conference championships and men's and women's Olympic sports. In addition to live game coverage, fans get original programming and a comprehensive array of news, features and analysis about their favorite MWC teams and players.

2007 Season Outlook

► 2007 SAN DIEGO STATE FOOTBALL

It's happening; you just have to look a little harder to see it.

You don't see it in the 3-9 record. No, you have to look a little deeper to see it.

You see it in the weight room and on the practice field where the commitment to winning has never been more intense.

You see it in the eyes of the student-athletes who now genuinely believe that they can win games.

And you see it in the big office at the end of the hall where a man who played and coached at the highest level and on the national stage has assembled one of the nation's top coaching staffs to turn around a dormant program.

Every so often when it looks like a time and place mesh, magical opportunity presents itself. On these rare occasions, what was thought to be impossible, happens.

It happened in Iowa City in the mid-80s when a coach with a Southern twang took over an Iowa program long thought of as dormant and led the Hawkeyes to the top of the Big Ten.

It happened in the early '90s in of all places Manhattan, Kan., when a soft-spoken gentleman with big wired-rim glasses took over what Sports Illustrated referred to as the worst program in college football and had them competing to win national championships.

It happened again at Iowa, this time in the 2000s, when a little-known first-time head coach took over a one-win team and led the Hawkeyes ascent up not only the conference standings, but also the national polls.

And it happened in Norman, Okla., where a first-time head coach with seemingly limitless energy, took over a sleeping Oklahoma program that suffered through five consecutive non-winning seasons and had gone just 12-22 its three previous years. He led them to the Independence Bowl in his first season and to an undefeated national championship in his second.

The four examples above have a common thread. San Diego State head coach Chuck Long, was a player or an assistant coach with Hayden Fry, Bill Snyder, Kirk Ferentz and Bob Stoops, the men who authored the aforementioned turnarounds, and Long was present when three of them occurred.

While the first year of the Long era at San Diego State included some struggles and tribulations, the Aztecs gained depth and experience, laying the foundation for what could become the next great turnaround program.

SDSU returns 15 starters and 39 letterwinners from a year ago, including 99 percent of its rushing yards, 59 percent of its passing yards, 77 percent of its receiving yards and 89 percent of its scoring on offense. SDSU also welcomes back two linebackers worthy of all-conference consideration and two kickers who may just give the Aztecs the best kicking duo in the country.

THE AZTEC OFFENSE

Injuries were the theme of the 2006 San Diego State football season and nowhere was that more apparent than on the offensive side of the ball. Three starting quarterbacks in the first five weeks and the fourth-string tight end starting a majority of the season are just a couple of indications of just how much of an impact injuries made.

"You have to tailor your offense to who you have in there handling the ball," Long said. "In all fairness to that position, we had to scale back and we were not where we wanted to be at certain points during the season because of that. We didn't have much continuity on that side of the football and that hurt us. But coming out of spring, we feel much better about that."

There was plenty of experience to be had last season and Aztec fans are hopeful it will help this season. Nine starters are back this season, including a veteran quarterback, two running backs, a tight end and three members of the offensive line.

That added experience, with what one would assume to be more continuity, should help the Aztecs in 2007.

"We feel like this can be a strong point for this football team," Long said. "We have to shore up our offensive line and the depth there. One of our main goals is to establish the quarterback position. That goes a long way toward success."

"I like the path we are on right now."

QUARTERBACKS

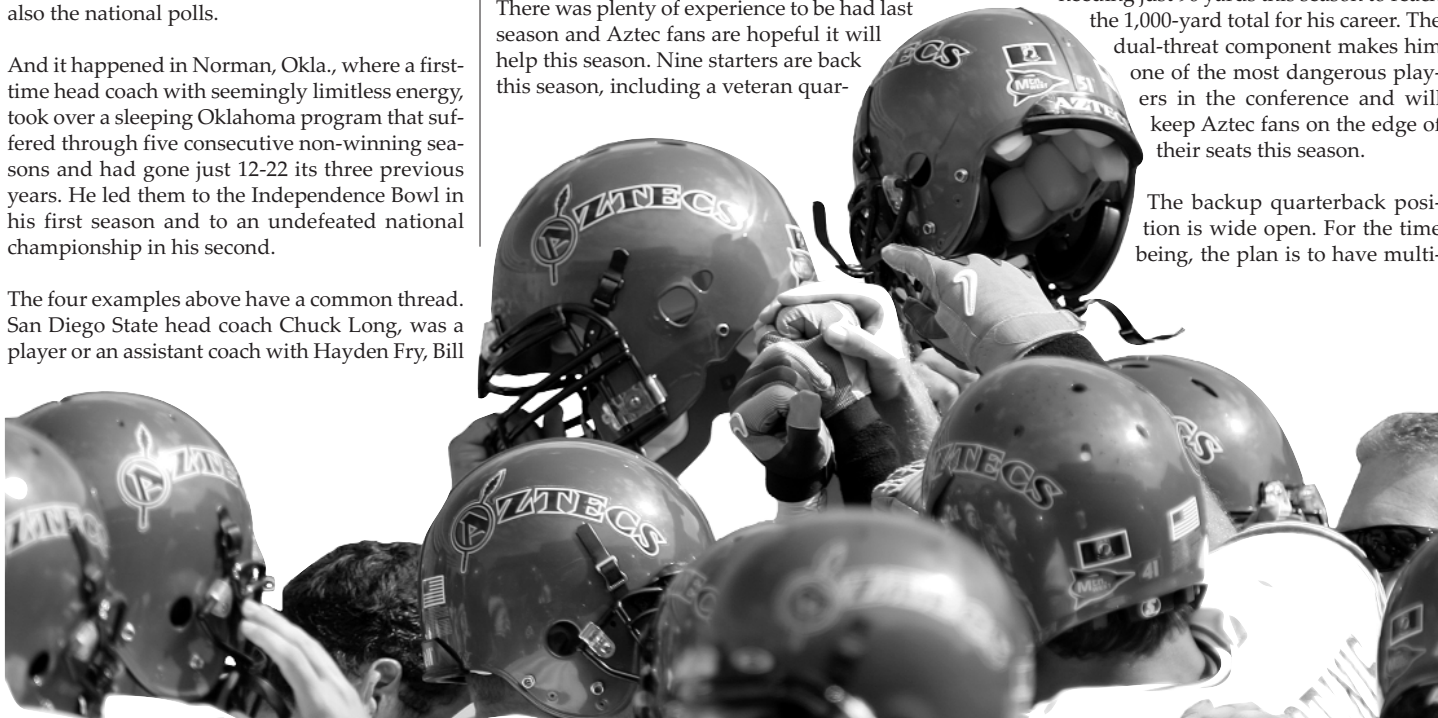

Returning players with starting experience: Kevin O'Connell and Darren Mougey

Perhaps no position on the team is more certain as far as the starter, and so open with regard to the backup, as the quarterback position. Three-year starter Kevin O'Connell returns for his senior campaign having already reached the school's top 10 career chart in passing attempts, completions and yardage. A native of Carlsbad, Calif., O'Connell looks to rebound from a junior season in which he was forced to the sidelines and missed six games after suffering a broken thumb in the second half of the season-opening contest.

"I really feel good about Kevin O'Connell," Long said. "The experience factor helps him and having gone through our system for a year is a big bonus."

O'Connell, who has 31 career passing touchdowns, is also a threat with his feet. He is the school's all-time leading rushing quarterback, needing just 96 yards this season to reach the 1,000-yard total for his career. The dual-threat component makes him one of the most dangerous players in the conference and will keep Aztec fans on the edge of their seats this season.

The backup quarterback position is wide open. For the time being, the plan is to have multiple position player Darren Mougey serve as the second-team quarterback.

2007 Season Outlook

The junior from Scottsdale, Ariz., made three starts as the Aztecs signal caller last season and has seen action in 10 games at that position in his career. Following last season, Mougey was moved to the wide receiver position and the coaches are hoping to use his 6-6, 225-pound frame in numerous positions and formations outside of the pocket this season.

After that, additional contenders include redshirt freshman Kelsey Sokoloski and true freshman Ryan Lindley, the 2006 San Diego area high school player of the year. Both will get a chance to advance up the depth chart sooner than expected.

"I like the way Kelsey Sokoloski stepped up and made every opportunity count," Long said. "We feel good about the future of that position."

RUNNING BACKS

Returning players with starting experience: Brandon Bornes, Atiyyah Henderson and Lynell Hamilton

Once again in 2007, the running back position appears to hold a stockpile of talent for the Aztecs. Whether that stable can remain healthy and can contribute, not only in the backfield but on the return teams, could go a long way toward determining how affective the Aztecs' offense will be.

How deep is the position? The Aztecs will open fall camp with a pair of former The Sporting News Freshman All-Americans in a battle for second-team positions.

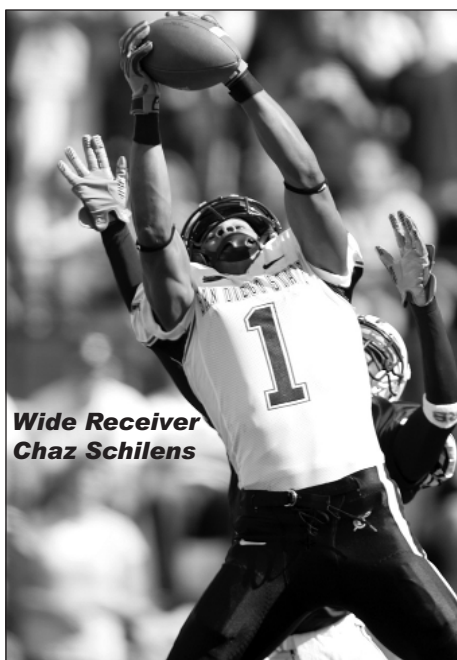

The feature back entering the fall is Brandon Bornes at tailback. A senior from Vista, Calif., Bornes saw limited carries a year ago, mainly in short yardage situations. Nonetheless, he has compiled 1,199 yards in his first three seasons as an Aztec and his hard, punishing running style has won over the coaching staff.

"We like the way Brandon came to the surface for us by the end of last year," Long said. "He is a hard worker who runs very hard. He will go in No. 1."

Behind Bornes at tailback are redshirt freshman Davon Brown and sophomore Atiyyah Henderson. Brown is a lightning quick 5-9, 175-pound back who the coaches are convinced needs to find a home on the field. He could be used outside the backfield, and no one would be surprised if he was able to establish himself on the return teams.

Henderson was the breakthrough in 2006, earning honorable mention freshman All-America accolades after rushing for 764 yards. He started seven games in the middle of the season and found a comfort zone in the one-back set.

"Atiyyah had some good moments for us a year ago," Long said. "He gives us a dimension in our

Wide Receiver

one-back offense with his quickness that we really like."

San Diego State has equal depth at the fullback position. Entering the fall, junior Tyler Campbell is the leader at the position. The son of NFL Hall of Famer Earl Campbell, Tyler Campbell has long impressed teammates and coaches alike in practice with hard-nosed running and his ability to hit the hole quickly. He played in all 12 games a year ago, but had just 10 carries during the season. He will likely get more of an opportunity to show his skills this season.

Behind him at the fullback spot are redshirt freshman Brandon Sullivan and senior Lynell Hamilton. Hamilton, whose career numbers of 2,051 rushing yards and 14 career rushing touchdowns are eye-popping, particularly considering that he has played in just 16 games the last three seasons due to injuries. A 2006 Maxwell Award Watch List candidate for college football's player of the year, Hamilton saw action in just five games last year. His health will likely determine how much playing time he will see.

"Tyler and Lynell are great guys to have at fullback," Long said. "Lynell, with his injury situation behind him, we think will have a good year for us. He will play more at fullback or a one-back role, but he is very smart and can block."

No matter who is running at the one spots in the backfield, expect to see many players and many combinations.

"This is probably our deepest position and has been for a couple of years," Long said. "I have always believed that you need more than one running back for the season and we certainly have the luxury of playing a number of guys."

WIDE RECEIVERS

Returning players with starting experience: Chaz Schilens, Brett Swain and Mekell Wesley

One area in which San Diego State appears to be improved is in the receiving corps. Chaz Schilens, who started all 12 games for the Aztecs a year ago, and Brett Swain, who made seven starts and led the team in catches, are both back for their senior campaigns. The two combined for 81 receptions and 1,011 receiving yards a year ago.

Schilens is a two-year starter at receiver for the Aztecs with 924 career receiving yards. Swain, meanwhile, has 32 career games to his credit and has 920 receiving yards.

The pair didn't have a lot of help last season, as the third-leading receiver caught just 23 passes, a problem the coaching staff hopes to avoid in 2007.

Joining Schilens and Swain is former quarterback and new-found wide receiver Darren Mougey. The junior is expected to line up all over the field and the staff hopes they can utilize his 6-6 frame to cause match-up problems with would-be defenders.

"You start with the experience in Chaz and Brett and that gives you a lot of comfort entering the season," Long said. "They both have really grown this year and have become better players physically. Then you throw in Darren Mougey, who is going to be a jack of all trades. He is going to be moved around to every wide receiver and tight end position as well."

The trio of second-team receivers will certainly have opportunities. Junior Justin Shaw, sophomore Mekell Wesley and sophomore Roberto Wallace will all see playing time this season.

"Guys who really came on this spring were Justin, Mekell and Roberto," Long said. "Those three guys really grew over the spring. They give us good depth and have an opportunity to get some good playing time."

"We feel good about our experienced guys and feel like we now have good depth at the position," Long said. "There is still some growing to do, but we like where we are at."

TIGHT ENDS

Returning players with starting experience: Matthew Kawulok, Lance Louis and Eric Miclot

There is no better example of the injuries that plagued the 2006 team than at tight end. Entering the season, the position was believed to be one of strengths and the staff was looking at multiple tight end formations. All of that went away as both Eric Miclot and Lance Louis, believed to be two of the top players in the Mountain West at their position, were sidelined for the season.

2007 Season Outlook

► 2007 SAN DIEGO STATE FOOTBALL

2007 SEASON OUTLOOK ◀ 2007 SEASON

Tight end Matthew Kawulok

Fast forward one year and San Diego State is still trying to recover from the loss of those two players. The coaching staff is hopeful that Louis may be able to make a comeback this season, but the prognosis for Miclot is not as good, as the Aztecs aren't counting on the Oceanside native in 2007.

The depth is better at the position this time around. Entering fall camp, senior Steve Schmidt and sophomore Matthew Kawulok are listed as co-No. 1s on the depth chart.

Kawulok was forced into starting action a year ago. Originally fourth on the depth chart, the sophomore played in all 12 games and made six starts.

"Matt is coming back with excellent experience," Long said. "He didn't quite have the size last year to handle that, but he does now. He has started to gain that weight. He is very smart and knows the offense like a coach does."

Schmidt missed all of the 2006 season with a foot injury. He saw action in nine of the final 10 contests in 2005.

"Steve, coming back off a redshirt season, is poised to have a big year," Long said. "He gives us size, speed and strength. At this position you like a guy who is tough and he certainly has that."

Sophomore Waika Spencer is someone to keep an eye on. He saw action in seven games last season as a freshman, and although the staff is looking for him to add size to his 255-pound frame, they are impressed with his talent level.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Returning players with starting experience: Brandon Dombrowski, Mike Kravetz, Eric Rouser, Mike Schmidt and Will Robinson

Perhaps no other position was as depleted as the offensive line when Chuck Long arrived on campus in December 2005. Although it has been a priority of the current staff to fix that situation, you can't balance out classes overnight.

The result is a core group of three seniors with starting experience and a wide open group competing to back them up, which include some true freshmen when they reach campus this fall.

Let's start with the good news. Seniors Brandyn Dombrowski, Mike Kravetz and Will Robinson have combined to start 77 games. All three started all 12 games a year ago.

"We feel like this group really grew this spring," Long said. "Brandyn, Will and Mike Kravetz are the senior leaders. Those three put on some valuable size and muscle weight to be able to handle the rigors of the Mountain West Conference. They are starting to develop good leadership."

Dombrowski at guard and Kravetz at tackle provide experience on the right side of the line. Robinson is the incumbent at left tackle, leaving left guard and center vacant.

Redshirt freshman Trask Iosefa will open camp as the starter at center. The coaching staff is pleased with the effort from the 300-pounder.

"Trask has really grown," Long said. "Here is a young man who has really buried his head and worked hard. He has good foot work and good strength."

Junior Mike Schmidt is currently running one at left guard and is the backup at center. A former walk-on, Schmidt played in 11 games last season and will see the field plenty in 2007.

Senior Fred Amano, who played six games last season on the defensive line, has switched to the offensive side of the ball in hopes of establishing more depth.

"We are still trying to catch up depth wise," Long said. "We are still a couple years away from being where we want to be. This is one position where there were two classes of linemen who we didn't have. Because of that, you will probably see some true freshmen who will have to come in and contribute."

THE AZTEC DEFENSE

San Diego State's defense didn't get the credit it deserved in 2006. Five times the Aztecs held opponents to 16 points or fewer in a game, including the final four outings of the season. The group allowed just 41 points in the final four home contests and continually kept SDSU in games despite the injuries on offense.

Only four starters return off that squad, including both outside linebackers. The result is a new group in the secondary, coupled with potentially three new starters on the front line, that will go a long way toward determining how good the unit will be.

"We are looking to see how some positions play out up front and in the secondary," Long said. "Securing those positions will be a top priority."

DEFENSIVE LINE

Returning players with starting experience: Siaoasi Fifita, Ornan Nwansi, Nick Osborn and Jonathan Soto

The defensive line is another position where the current staff is trying to play catch up with regard to numbers.

The lone returning starter from last season who is listed at No. 1 this season is defensive tackle Nick Osborn. He has played in 32 career games, including every contest each of the last two seasons. He earned honorable mention all-conference honors a year ago and is one of the top returning players in the league.

"Nick has really done a nice job in a leadership role," Long said. "We need him to continue to provide that type of leadership as we bridge from last season to this season."

At the other tackle position, sophomore Peter Nelson leads senior incumbent Ornan Nwansi entering fall. Nwansi had a shoulder injury during spring ball but is expected to make a full recovery prior to camp opening in August.

"Ornan and Peter are fighting for a job, but both will play," Long said. "We are going to have a rotating defense and we want to get as many people on the field as we can to help us be successful."

Both end positions are open entering the fall. Junior Siaoasi Fifita and sophomore Tony DeMartinis are battling at one spot, while senior Brian Stanbra and redshirt freshman B.J. Williams are battling at the other. In the end, it may not matter much which players earn starting nods, as all four are going to have ample opportunities to showcase their talents on Saturdays this fall.

"We really like the guys up front," Long said. "Siaoasi and Tony are two guys who are fighting for a job and have excellent futures. Brian is a guy who has really come on and is extremely tough, while B.J. is someone we think could really be a special player in time."

Overall, expect to see a lot of players and a lot of rotating on the front line.

"The two line position groups (defense and offense) are where we have played catch up with numbers," Long said. "Because of that on defense, we have had to play more 3-4 defense because of the lack of numbers. We think we have some incoming players who have a chance to see some playing time."

LINEBACKERS

Returning players with starting experience: Russell Allen and Brett Martin

AZTEC FOOTBALL MEDIA GUIDE

2007 Season Outlook

► 2007 SAN DIEGO STATE FOOTBALL

No position has provided more talented players this decade for the Aztecs than at linebacker. Since 2002, an Aztec linebacker has made the all-conference team four times and Matt McCoy, Kirk Morrison and Freddy Keiaho were all selected in the first three rounds of the NFL Draft since 2005.

That impressive tradition looks to continue this season, with a pair of returning starters in junior Russell Allen and senior Brett Martin.

Allen is the leading returning tackler on the squad and started all 12 games a year ago. He started the last eight at strong-side linebacker, a position he will make his home in 2007.

"Russell Allen has been our leader and has an excellent future," Long said. "We expect him to have a big year and believe that he will."

Martin made eight starts last season, playing in all 12 contests, and is slated to start at weak-side linebacker in the fall.

"I like the way Brett Martin has come on for us," Long said. "He gives us another experienced linebacker who is familiar with our scheme and shows good speed to the ball."

At middle linebacker, the Aztecs will start the fall with sophomore Luke Laolagi atop the depth chart. He played in 10 games last season and backed-up leading tackler Joe Martin. Redshirt freshman Marcus Yarbrough will also see time at the middle linebacker position.

"Luke and Marcus are two young guys with bright futures," Long said. "We have not seen a lot of them yet on the field, but they both will contribute not only next season but for years to come."

Other players expected to make contributions at linebacker this season are sophomore Jerry Milling, redshirt freshman Andrew Preston and senior Freddy Dunkle.

"Freddy is a former walk-on who has a chance to contribute on special teams," Long said. "Jerry is someone who really stood out during the spring game. If he keeps working the way he is, he will see some playing time."

Once again this season, the linebacker group appears to be one of the better units in the league.

"I think they are going to be a real strength for us the way they run and the leadership they give us," Long said.

SECONDARY

Returning players with starting experience: Ray Bass, Scotty James, T.J. McKay and Aaron Moore

With four starters gone, this unit's ability to learn quickly despite a lack of experience will be a key to the success of the defense.

Senior strong safety Ray Bass is the lone returnee in the secondary to start more than three games in 2006, appearing in all 12 and drawing a starting assignment on six occasions. He quickly established himself as a play-maker, recording two interceptions, a forced fumble and five passes broken up in his first season as an Aztec.

"Ray really came on last year," Long said. "He understands the game and what it takes to win."

At the other safety position, a pair of upperclassmen are battling for a starting spot. Junior T.J. McKay has 23 career games under his belt, while senior Corey Boudreaux is a hard-hitting veteran who had a strong spring campaign.

The corner positions are wide open. Sophomore Aaron Moore and senior Scotty James will lead the way entering camp. A pair of redshirt freshmen in Jose Perez and Ray Patterson will see action and have bright futures at the position.

Moore played in 10 games last season as a redshirt freshman

"Aaron Moore got some playing time last season," Long said. "He was thrown into the fire early. They made some plays on him but he did a nice job recovering. You always look for guys who can react well and he did that."

Look to see a host of players in the secondary positions for San Diego State in the fall.

"There is more uncertainty at these positions than any other heading into fall camp," Long said. "True freshmen will have an opportunity to compete for playing time."

SPECIAL TEAMS

Returning players with starting experience: Michael Hughes, Garrett Palmer and Tyler Schmitt

How comfortable is Chuck Long with the special teams?

"As a group (place-kicker, punter and long snapper) they are as solid as anyone I have been around based on experience and production," Long said. "Those are guys who score points and change field position for you."

The Aztecs have a pair of kickers worthy of all-conference and national award watch list consideration. Senior place-kicker Garrett Palmer has made 54 consecutive extra-points and has connected on 67.3 percent of his field-goal attempts in his three seasons at San Diego State. He has 11 career field goals of 40 or more yards.

Senior punter Michael Hughes was on the Ray Guy Award Watch List last season, averaging 41.1 yards per boot with nine punts of 50 or more yards.

Add into the mix senior Tyler Schmitt, who Long has called the best long snapper at this level that he has ever been around. That makes for a pretty good mix in the category.

"We like our three guys," Long said. "Michael Hughes was nursing that foot injury all last year and he is in a really nice rhythm right now. He has worked hard and is healthy. Garrett Palmer is the same way. Both of those guys have gotten stronger."

The Aztecs will go into fall camp looking to secure both their kickoff and punt returners.

"Our No. 1 goal is finding returners and we are still working that out," Long said. "We feel like we will have more strength there this year."
