The Bearcats defense in 2005 was the youngest in the nation, with nine freshmen regulars, including four on the defensive line.

Cincinnati football is a mixture of old and new.

It is a rich tradition. It is one of the nation's oldest and most established major college football programs, a program whose origin dates back to 1885 (only four schools can boast earlier starting dates).

It features one of college football's up-and-coming head coaches. Mark Dantonio, who helped Ohio State to the 2002 national championship, took over the leadership of the program following the 2003 season, and in 2004 directed the Bearcats to a second place conference finish and a victory in the PlainsCapital Fort Worth Bowl. He posted the second-best record among the nation's "rookie" head coaches.

Cincinnati means competing in the BIG EAST, one of the nation's top six football leagues, which aligns the Bearcats with elite teams and provides opportunity to play in the Tostitos Fiesta, FedEx Orange, Nokia Sugar or Rose Bowls as part of its BCS membership as well as the Toyota Gator, Vitalis Sun, Meineke Car Care, Houston, International and Birmingham Bowls.

The opening of the Richard E. Lindner Athletic Center last May completed the Lindner Varsity Village, a three-year long complete upgrade of UC's athletics facilities.

"ATTITUDE is the whole thing in FOOTBALL."

Every TEAM has the TAIL

Senior Brent Celek is UC's career record holder for touchdown catches by a tight end.

It is being a part of history and playing in one of the nation's oldest stadiums, but a stadium whose charm has been enhanced with modern amenities.

It is playing and practicing in new and modern facilities. FieldTurf, a revolutionary new artificial turf with the characteristics of natural grass, provides the latest in playing surfaces.

The completion of the Richard E. Lindner Varsity Village provides a new state-of-the-art home for football, and all student-athletes benefit from new academic services, sports medicine and strength training facilities as well as new locker rooms and meeting rooms.

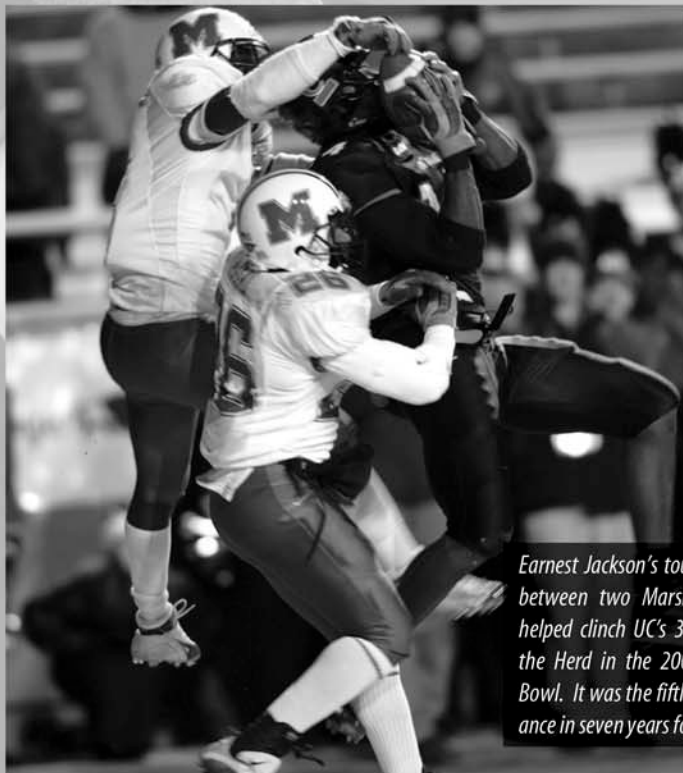

Being part of Cincinnati football is studying at a university which has been designated as one of the elite Research I universities by the Carnegie Commission, and which is ranked as one of America's top 20 public research universities.

UC provides an academic venue which offers over 450 academic majors, to meet just about every educational interest.

Cincinnati football means success in the classroom as well as on the field. UC has achieved Honor Roll status by the American Football Coaches Association for having a graduation rate of over 70 percent in three of the last five years, highlighted by an 85 percent grad rate in the most recent class.

Cincinnati football is playing, studying and residing in a sports-minded city which is annually rated as one of the most liveable cities in the nation. It is playing before fans who support their teams.

Earnest Jackson's touchdown catch between two Marshall defenders helped clinch UC's 32-14 win over the Herd in the 2004 Fort Worth Bowl. It was the fifth bowl appearance in seven years for the Bearcats.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI

The University of Cincinnati traces its origins to 1819, the year in which Cincinnati College and the Medical College of Ohio were chartered. In 1870, the City of Cincinnati established the University of Cincinnati, which later absorbed the earlier institutions. In 1906, the University of Cincinnati created the first cooperative education program in the United States through its College of Engineering. For many years, the University of Cincinnati was the second oldest and second largest municipal university in the country. In 1968, UC became a "municipally sponsored, state affiliated" institution, entering a transitional period culminating on July 1, 1977 when UC became one of Ohio's state universities. The University of Cincinnati is classified as a Research Extensive University by the Carnegie Commission, and is ranked as one of America's Top 25 public research universities.

CINCINNATI FIRSTS

UC has been the source of many contributions to society, including:

- ♦ the first electric organ
- ♦ the first oral polio vaccine
- ♦ the first observations of the National Weather Service
- ♦ the first safe anti-knock gasoline
- ♦ the first antihistamine
- ♦ the first use of lasers to remove brain tumors
- ♦ the first bachelor's degree program in nursing and first emergency medicine residency program
- ♦ the first degree program offered via satellite

CINCINNATI SPORTS FIRSTS

- ♦ Cincinnati hosted one of the first night football games in the U.S. in 1923.
- ♦ George Smith, captain of the 1934 football team, wore a device to protect a facial injury, a fore-runner of the facemask.
- ♦ In 1961, Hank Hartong became college football's first soccer-style kicker.
- ♦ UC was the first school to make five consecutive appearances in the men's basketball Final Four, 1959-1963.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

At the University of Cincinnati, excellence is a hallmark of the academic program. U.S. News & World Reports ranks 10 UC programs among the top 10 in the country, while another 21 programs are ranked among the top 50 in the nation.

Money Magazine's Elite Values In Higher Education, Kaplan's Unofficial, Unbiased Insider's Guide to the 320 Most Interesting Colleges, Octameron's College Match: A Blueprint for Choosing the Best School for You and Yahoo's Internet Life have all ranked the University of Cincinnati's programs among the best in the nation.

Undergraduate students in any college may apply to the University Honors Scholars Program. If selected as an Honors student, the rewards for being an outstanding student include smaller classes, honors housing, special advising and scholarships worth up to $60,000 over four years.

UC's cornerstone scholarship program is Cincinnatus, which awards more than 1,400 scholarships totaling more than $11 million.

A LOOK AT THE UNIVERSITY

- ♦ In fiscal year 2005, UC earned more than $332 million in grants and contracts. Research funding has quadrupled in the past 20 years, and the university's National Science Foundation ranking has climbed from a placement of 76th to 46th.
- ♦ UC's annual endowment is $1.03 billion, ranking 54th in the U.S. and 12th among public universities.
- ♦ UC offers 98 doctoral degree programs, 170 master's degree programs, 167 bachelor's degree programs and 139 associate degree programs.
- ♦ The Carnegie Commission has designated UC as a Research I university.
- ♦ The University of Cincinnati has an economic impact of over two billion dollars annually on the state's economy.
- ♦ The University of Cincinnati is the home of cooperative education. The first co-op program in America was offered at UC in 1906, and UC's co-op program is now the second largest in the country.
- ♦ The University of Cincinnati is the Greater Cincinnati area's fourth-largest employer with 9,000 employees (not counting student workers).
- ♦ UC's library system contains over three million books, and subscriptions to 39,787 periodicals—ranking it among the top research libraries in the country.

ALL-AMERICAN CITY

The city of Cincinnati provides the perfect complement to the UC educational experience.

Cincinnati and the surrounding area provides recreational and leisure time activities to meet just about every interest—from rock-climbing, canoeing and camping for outdoor enthusiasts to theatre and arts for the culturally-inclined.

Cincinnati is truly a major league city. Fans flock to the waterfront to attend games and events at a pair of new venues—the Bengals' Paul Brown Stadium, opened in 2001, and the Reds' Great American Ballpark, opened in 2003.

The variety of museums and galleries, fine dining, festivals and events, attractions and sports, parks, recreational facilities and shopping are the reasons millions visit the Queen City year after year.

Paramount's Kings Island theme park and the world-renowned Cincinnati Zoo are just two of the major attractions that are on the list of "must see" items on any trip to Greater Cincinnati.

Numerous concert facilities attract big-name entertainers and acts to the Cincinnati area. The Ohio River offers a variety of scenic views and entertainment options.

Five-star dining, revolving circular restaurants, and riverboat dining are just a few of the succulent options that Cincinnati offers. Its visitors find themselves coming back for classic "Cincinnati-style" chili, tasty barbecue ribs, and local homemade ice cream.

Annual surveys of the area's quality of life resulted in Cincinnati being listed as the most liveable city in North America.

Cincinnati and the tri-state are the corporate headquarters of 10 Fortune 500 companies. Major corporations, such as Procter & Gamble, Chiquita Brands and Kroger, make Cincinnati their home while carrying the city's trademark to worldwide marketplaces.

The area's diversified industry helps create a stable economic climate.

The corporate community has strong ties to UC and provide a wealth of employment opportunities.

Cincinnati is one of America's truly spectacular cities. Its character provides a prime place to enjoy all the best in life. A great place to visit, an even better place to live and learn.

BIG EAST CONFERENCE

In 2006-07, the BIG EAST will be in its second year as the nation's largest Division I-A conference. The first year with 16 members was wrought with curiosity among those in the world of collegiate athletics and in the media, but the league thrived in its new alignment, enjoying significant success in the athletic arenas, on the playing fields and in the classroom.

The goals of the BIG EAST have remained constant throughout its history -- to compete at the highest level and to do so with integrity and sportsmanship.

In football last year, West Virginia garnered the attention of the college football world with its victory over Georgia in the Nokia Sugar Bowl. The Mountaineers were the BIG EAST's representative in the Bowl Championship Series. In men's basketball, BIG EAST squads secured a league-record eight NCAA bids. Seven BIG EAST women's basketball teams earned NCAA berths.

In 2005-06, the BIG EAST welcomed five new members to increase its membership to 16: University of Cincinnati, DePaul University, University of Louisville, Marquette University and the University of South Florida. Some were ready to call the new BIG EAST alignment too unwieldy, but the league showed that there can be strength in numbers even when that number is a large one.

BIG EAST institutions reside in nine of the nation's top 34 largest media markets, including New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., Tampa, Pittsburgh, Hartford, Milwaukee and Cincinnati. With its newest members, BIG EAST markets will contain almost one fourth of all television households in the U.S.

Since opening its doors in 1979, the league has won 25 national championships in six different sports and 123 student-athletes have won individual national titles.

Last year, the Villanova women's cross country team was named the NCAA's Silver Anniversary Cross Country Program. The Wildcats have won seven NCAA team titles since 1981. Former Wildcat standout Carole Zajac was named the top individual performer of the women's cross country era.

The BIG EAST has always been able to boast that some of its best students are also some of its best athletes. More than 350 student-athletes have earned Academic All-America honors. Last year, West Virginia's Joe Herber was named the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American of the Year in men's basketball.

The BIG EAST has continued its basketball success in the 21st century. In 2003-04, Connecticut became the first school in NCAA history to win the men's and women's NCAA titles in the same season. With the Syracuse men and the UConn women grabbing NCAA crowns the previous year, the BIG EAST became the first conference in NCAA history to win the men's and women's titles in consecutive seasons. In fact, the BIG EAST has won five of the last seven women's basketball crowns and three of the last eight men's titles.

Moving proactively has been a consistent strategy for the conference that was formed in 1979. The BIG EAST has continually turned challenges into opportunities to become stronger.

In the spring of 2001, the BIG EAST added women's lacrosse and rowing to its growing list of sports. The inaugural women's golf championship was held in the spring of 2003.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence College, St. John's, Georgetown and Syracuse Universities. Seton Hall, Connecticut and Boston College completed the original seven school alliance.

While the membership has both increased and changed, the focus of the BIG EAST has not wavered. The conference reflects a tradition of broad based programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on academic integrity. The BIG EAST Conference has enjoyed a leadership role nationally. Its student athletes own significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably show a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

Any successful organization needs outstanding leadership. Michael Tranchese, the league's first full-time employee, and for 11 years the associate to Dave Gavitt, moved into the Commissioner's chair in 1990. In his first year, he administered the formation of The BIG EAST Football Conference.

The league has long been considered a leader in innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television. Those efforts have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student athletes. The conference has enjoyed long-standing relationships with CBS, ESPN, Inc. and ABC.

While BIG EAST basketball games are regular sellouts at campus and major public arenas, including the annual men's BIG EAST Championship in Madison Square Garden, attendance figures also are significant at BIG EAST soccer, women's basketball and baseball games.

More than 550 BIG EAST athletes have earned All America recognition and dozens have won individual NCAA national championships. The BIG EAST has been well represented in U.S. or foreign national and Olympic teams. Several athletes earned gold medals in each of the last five summer Olympiads.

The BIG EAST has its headquarters in Providence where the conference administers to more than 5,500 athletes in 23 sports.

BIG EAST BOWL GAMES

As a member of the BIG EAST Conference, Cincinnati has the opportunity to earn entrance into the Bowl Championship Series as well as gain a spot in five other bowls.

The BIG EAST champion automatically qualifies for a spot in the Bowl Championship Series (BCS), which puts the league champ in the Tostitos Fiesta, FedEx Orange, Allstate Sugar or Rose Bowls and the chance to move on to the BCS National Championship Game.

The BIG EAST is in a collaborative with The Big 12 and Notre Dame, which in alternating years will allow the Toyota Gator Bowl or Vitalis Sun Bowl to select a BIG EAST team after the league's BCS representative is determined.

The Meineke Car Care Bowl, in Charlotte, N.C. has the next selection, followed by the Houston Bowl, the International Bowl in Toronto, Ont., and the Birmingham Bowl in Birmingham, Ala.

MEDIA EXPOSURE

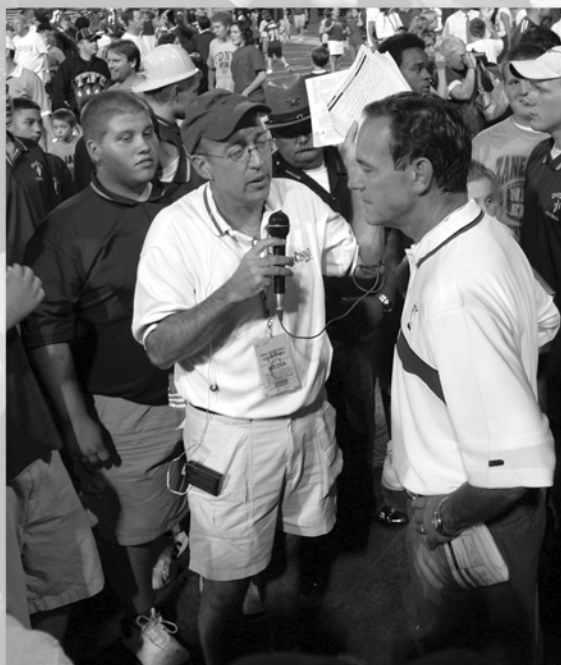

As a member of the BIG EAST Conference, the University of Cincinnati football program enjoys extensive media exposure.

The BIG EAST's television agreements with ABC and ESPN virtually guarantee that at least one league game will be televised nationally each weekend.

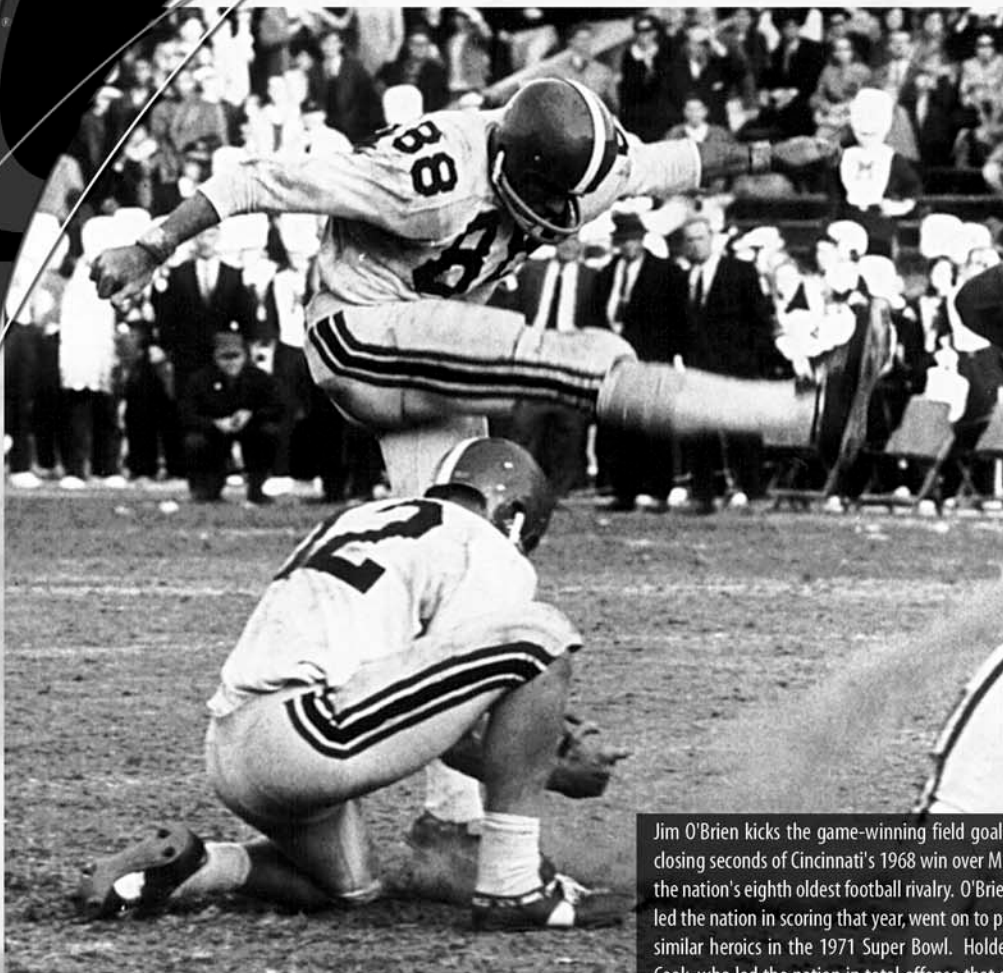

ESPN Regional (ERT) produces a BIG EAST game-of-the-week syndicated package that is distributed regionally to the local markets of the member schools as well as to cable and subscription services. The BIG EAST also produces a weekly television show, Inside the BIG EAST, which is distributed regionally. The Bearcats also enjoy local and regional exposure via The Mark Dantonio Show, the weekly half-hour show featuring the Bearcats' head coach.

Bearcat games can be heard over nearly a quarter of the country in 38 states via the 50,000-watt signal of WLW-AM 700. The ClearChannel station broadcasts every UC football game and hosts a weekly telephone call-in show featuring head coach Mark Dantonio.

BEARCAT FOOTBALL

A STRONG TRADITION

Jim O'Brien kicks the game-winning field goal in the closing seconds of Cincinnati's 1968 win over Miami in the nation's eighth oldest football rivalry. O'Brien, who led the nation in scoring that year, went on to perform similar heroics in the 1971 Super Bowl. Holder Greg Cook, who led the nation in total offense that season, earned pro Rookie of the Year honors a year later.

Participating in the University of Cincinnati football program is being a part of a rich history and tradition.

Cincinnati boasts one of the nation's oldest football programs. Only four other NCAA Division I-A schools have played the sport longer than UC.

UC first fielded a football team in 1885, playing against athletic clubs in the area. In 1888, UC took part in the first intercollegiate football game played in the state of Ohio when the school sent a team to nearby Oxford, Ohio to play a team of students from Miami University. That contest was the birth of a rivalry which today ranks as the eighth-oldest and 11th-longest running rivalry in NCAA Division I football.

Cincinnati has been a launching pad for coaching success. Three Bearcat head coaches are in the College Football Hall of Fame. Frank Cavanaugh, the legendary Iron Major, began his 24-season career at Cincinnati. Sid Gillman, inducted into both the College and NFL Hall of Fame shrines, was the architect of one of the top eras in Bearcat football history. He directed UC to three conference titles and a pair of bowl game appearances in six seasons (1949-54) before departing for the pro ranks.

Cincinnati, with Gillman developing the passing offenses which would make him successful in the professional ranks, became known for its aerial attack in the early 1950s. That notoriety continued. In 1968, the Bearcats boasted the nation's top passing offense. Quarterback Greg Cook was the NCAA's total offense leader with receiver/kicker Jim O'Brien the nation's scoring champ. Both distinguished themselves in the NFL. A year later, Cook earned Rookie of the Year honors with the Cincinnati Bengals. O'Brien, two years later, kicked the game-winning field goal for the Baltimore Colts in the Super Bowl.

Over 90 Bearcats have advanced to the professional ranks. UC boasts 31 All-Americans and 11 Academic All-Americans. Cincinnati football clearly has a history of accomplishments, both on and off the field.

BEARCAT FOOTBALL TIMELINE

1885-UC fielded its first football team under the organization of Arch Carson, who served as the first coach. The team won a pair of games over a club from neighboring Mt. Auburn.

1888-UC played Miami in Oxford in the first college football game in the state of Ohio. The game ended in a scoreless tie, but launched a rivalry which is the nation's eighth-oldest and 11th-longest running college grudge match.

1897-Cincinnati compiled a 9-1-1 record, the lone loss to the fabled Carlisle Indians. At the conclusion of the regular season, the Southern Athletic Club invited UC to New Orleans to play its team in what could be considered the first bowl game. UC won the game on New Year's Day, then responded to a challenge and defeated LSU the following day.

1898-Frank Cavanaugh, immortalized as the Iron Major, got his head coaching start at Cincinnati. He was elected to the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

1902-UC played its first home game at the current site of Nippert Stadium, defeating Hanover, 18-0.

1912-Cincinnati scored a school-record 124 points in a shutout win over Transylvania. Ike Stewart and Bob Heuck each tallied six TDs and Alonzo Wells kicked 12 PATs, all UC records.

1912-16-Cincinnati teams began using the nickname Bearcats.

1916-Construction began on Nippert Stadium.

1922-George McLauren, another UC mentor to be elected to the College Football Hall of Fame, began his four-season tenure as UC's head coach.

1923-Nippert Stadium was the site of the first night football game in the Midwest as Cincinnati defeated Kentucky Wesleyan, 17-0. Jimmy Nippert sustained a wound in the season-ending Miami (O.) game and died a month later of blood poisoning. His grandfather, James Gamble, donated the money needed to finish the stadium construction.

1924-Nippert Stadium was dedicated.

1933-UC won the first of two straight Buckeye Athletic Association titles.

1934-UC played its first Homecoming game, defeating Marshall, 7-0.

1935-The Bearcats' first NFL players, Bill Feldhaus (Detroit) and Ray Nolting (Chicago), lead UC to a 7-2 record before embarking on their pro careers.

1942-UC hosted No. 2 Georgia at Nippert Stadium. The Bulldogs won, 35-13, and captured the Rose Bowl a few months later. The lone other blemish on UC's 8-2 record was to Sugar Bowl victor Tennessee.

1943-44-Football suspended due to World War II.

1946-Cincinnati defeated Big 10 defending champ Indiana in the season opener en route to a 9-2 record, which included an 18-6 win over Virginia Tech in the Sun Bowl.

1947-UC won its first of four Mid-American Conference championships during its six-year association with the league.

1949-Sid Gillman took over as head coach and promptly piloted UC to a Mid-American Conference title and a win over Toledo in the Glass Bowl. Tom O'Malley's 1,617 passing yards led the nation.

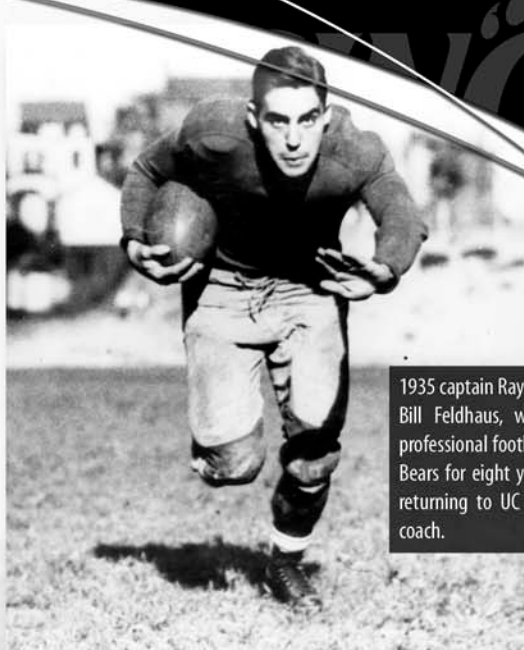

1950-The Bearcats advanced to the Sun Bowl, but were edged by West Texas State, 14-13.

1951-UC posted an all-time best record of 10-1. Gene Rossi and Bob Stratton became the Bearcats' first All-Americans.

1953-Cincinnati led the nation in both total offense (409.5 yards per game) and total defense (184.3), a feat accomplished by only three other teams in college football history.

1954-Sid Gillman left for the Los Angeles Rams after directing UC to an 8-2 ledger. In six seasons under the eventual college and pro Hall of Fame coach, the Bearcats posted a 50-13-1 record and won three Mid-American Conference titles.

1956-UC led the nation in punt return average, 17.7 yards per return.

1935 captain Ray Nolting (left), along with teammate Bill Feldhaus, were UC's first graduates to play professional football. Nolting played for the Chicago Bears for eight years, winning five NFL titles, before returning to UC in 1945 to become head football coach.

The 1946 Bearcats were one of the school's most successful teams, defeating defending Big Ten champion Indiana and beating Virginia Tech in the Sun Bowl.

FIFTH OLDEST

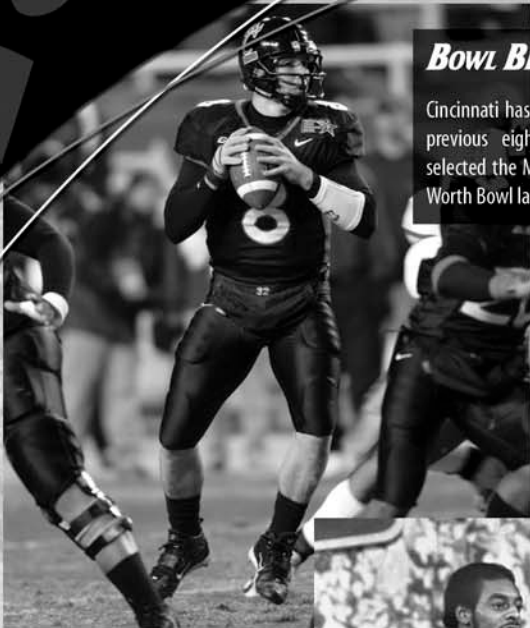

Only four NCAA Division I-A football programs have been in existence longer than the University of Cincinnati:

1st Year

1. Rutgers 1869
2. Michigan 1879
3. Navy 1880
4. Minnesota 1883
5. Cincinnati 1885

The 1953 Bearcats are the only team in college football history to lead the nation in total offense and total defense. Dick Goist (62) led the team with 561 yards rushing, one of four players to gain over 400 yards on the ground. He was also a star defensive back, helping to limit opponents to just 184.3 yards per game. A two-time All-American, Goist was also UC's top punter that year.

BOWL BEARCATS

Cincinnati has been to five bowl games over the previous eight seasons. Gino Guidugli was selected the Most Outstanding Player of the Fort Worth Bowl last year.

ALL-AMERICAN TRADITION

Thirty Bearcats have earned All-American recognition. Mike Woods garnered first team honors in 1977, earning him an appearance on Bob Hope's television special.

THE TOE

Jonathan Ruffin received the Lou Groza Award as the nation's top kicker in 2000 after booting a record 26 field goals. He was presented with the award by Chris Fowler on ESPN. Ruffin was also a consensus All-American that year.

1959-Dave Canary, who later earned fame as an actor in several TV series, became the first of 11 Bearcats to earn Academic All-American honors. Teammates Jack Lee and Jim Leo were named MVP of the Senior Bowl and College All-Star games, respectively.

1963-64-Cincinnati won back-to-back Missouri Valley Conference titles under Chuck Studley, who went on to become head coach of the Houston Oilers. UC compiled a 14-6 records during those two seasons.

1968-Cincinnati led the nation in passing offense, averaging 335.8 yards per game. Greg Cook led the nation in total offense, amassing 3,210 yards, while receiver/kicker Jim O'Brien was the nation's leading scorer with 142 points. Cook, later an NFL first round draft pick of the Cincinnati Bengals, went on to earn AFL Rookie of the Year honors while O'Brien booted the game-winning field goal for the Baltimore Colts in the 1971 Super Bowl.

1970-Bob Bell became the second Bearcat in as many seasons to be a first round selection in the NFL draft. Greg Cook was a first round pick in 1969.

1976-Cincinnati posted an 8-3 ledger, later changed to 9-2 due to a forfeit, featuring wins over Arizona State and Vanderbilt. Co-captain Mike Woods earned first team All-American honors and was a second-round draft pick by the Baltimore Colts.

1979-Cincinnati entered the fourth quarter with a 21-7 lead over No. 6 Florida State, only to have the Seminoles rally for a 26-21 win.

1983-UC opened the season with a 14-3 upset of defending national champion Penn State at Beaver Stadium.

1985-The Bearcats upset a pair of 1984 bowl teams, Virginia Tech and Boston College.

1986-UC hosted the No. 1 Miami Hurricanes at Nippert Stadium. The Hurricanes validated their ranking with a 45-13 win.

1992-Nippert Stadium reopened following an extensive renovation. The Bearcats hosted No. 8 Penn State in the season opener, and nearly pulled off the upset before falling, 24-20.

1993—UC won its last five games to post an 8-3 record to win the Independent Football Alliance title.

1995—Robert Tate led the nation in kickoff return average, averaging 34.3 yards on 15 returns. Tate was named both Offensive and Special Teams MVP in Conference USA.

1996—Cincinnati began competition in Conference USA. The Bearcats set home attendance records in back-to-back games vs. Kentucky and Miami (0.).

1997—Cincinnati played in the inaugural Humanitarian Bowl, where it defeated Utah State, 35-19, to finish the year at 8-4.

1998—Cincinnati set Nippert Stadium attendance record for third time in three years with crowd of 32,117 for Indiana contest.

1999—Cincinnati upset No. 8 Wisconsin, 17-12 in Nippert Stadium.

2000—UC won five of its last six games to finish second in C-USA and earn a bid to play Marshall in the Motor City Bowl. Jonathan Ruffin became the program's first consensus first team All-America choice, receiving the Lou Groza Award after leading the nation in field goals.

2001—Bearcats set a new Nippert Stadium home attendance record of 35,097 when opening the season against No. 25 Purdue. UC won its first four league games en route to second-place finish in Conference USA and second straight trip to Motor City Bowl.

2002—Bearcats set a school single game attendance mark when 66,319 packed Paul Brown Stadium to see UC fall to eventual national champion Ohio State, 23-19. UC won its final five league games to claim a share of the Conference USA title and earn a berth in the New Orleans Bowl.

2003—Cincinnati was invited to join the Big East Conference in November. Mark Dantonio became the Bearcats' head coach in December.

2004—UC won four of its final five games to finish second in Conference USA and earn a berth in the Fort Worth Bowl, where the Bearcats beat Marshall, 32-14. Mark Dantonio was the nation's second-winningest first-year head coach.

2005—UC begins play in the BIG EAST Conference.

TROPHY GAMES

Cincinnati's annual clash with the Miami RedHawks is the nation's eighth-oldest and 11th-longest running Division I-A rivalry. The victor claims the Victory Bell. The Bearcats are involved in three trophy games. The winner of the UC-Louisville contests takes home the Keg of Nails, while beginning this year the UC-Pittsburgh winner will claim the newly created River City Rivalry Trophy.

UPSET CATS

Bearcat football has been dangerous to top teams over the years. UC's most notable upset came in 1999 when the Bearcats upended No. 8 Wisconsin, 17-12, in Nippert Stadium. Robert Cooper (above) rushed for 143 yards in the game, including a 51-yard score. Prior to that win, UC's 1983 season-opening 14-3 win at defending national champion Penn State had held the honor. UC nearly repeated the feat in 1992, falling to then-No. 8 Penn State 24-20 in the season opener at the newly renovated Nippert Stadium. In 1995, the Bearcats dominated Virginia Tech on the road, 16-0, allowing just 41 yards offense in the second half.

COACHING LEGACY

Sid Gillman is one of four UC head coaches in the College Football Hall of Fame. Gillman is also a member of the NFL shrine. His 50 wins in six years is the second-most at UC and his .789 winning percentage is the highest of any Bearcat mentors to coach more than one year.

UC's representation in the college coaching ranks is highlighted by a trio of former assistants. Paul Dietzel, an aide to Gillman in 1949-50, directed LSU to the national title in 1958 and later coached at Army and South Carolina. Dick MacPherson, a UC assistant in the early 1960s, concluded a distinguished career at Syracuse. Don Nehlen, on the 1963 UC staff, was West Virginia's winningest coach following his 21 seasons there. Other UC assistants to garner head coaching positions include Foge Fazio (Pittsburgh), Mark Duffner (Holy Cross), Chuck Stobart (Toledo, Utah, Memphis), Lou West (Indiana State) and Ron Zook (Florida, Illinois).

Joe Morrison, a standout as a Bearcat player and later in the NFL, achieved similar success during his 15 seasons as a major college head coach. Urban Meyer, a Bearcat in the mid-1980s and later a student assistant coach, is carving out an impressive career at Florida following successful stints at Bowling Green and Utah.

The University of Cincinnati has been well-represented on the lists of professional and college coaching greats, a legacy which continues in 2005 with a proliferation of former Bearcat mentors, assistant coaches and players in the NFL, CFL and major university ranks.

Sid Gillman has long been the standard-bearer for Bearcat coaching greats. Gillman, whose 50-13-1 record in his six seasons in the late 1940s and early 1950s is the winningest mark at UC, is one of the few coaches to earn induction into both the college and professional football halls of fame. His UC success vaulted him into the NFL, with the Los Angeles Rams.

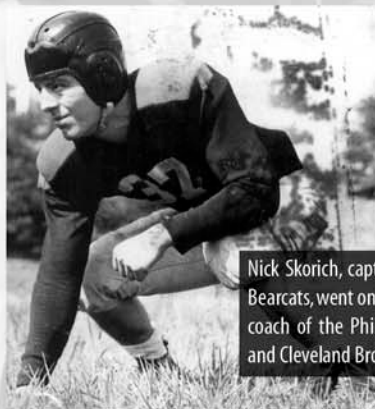

Two other members of the College Football Hall of Fame, Frank Cavanaugh and George Little, launched their head coaching careers at UC. Cavanaugh, the legendary "Iron Major" for his accomplishments as a coach and war hero at Army, in 1898, and Little, who earned fame at Michigan and Wisconsin, in 1914-15.

One-time Bearcat mentors Homer Rice (1967-68), and Chuck Studley (1961-66) were NFL head coaches at Cincinnati and Houston, respectively, as were former assistants Leeman Bennett (Atlanta) and Jack Faulkner (Denver).

Up North, former Bearcat player and coach Dave Ritchie directed British Columbia and Winnipeg to Grey Cup titles, the Canadian Football League's Super Bowl, a feat that former UC quarterback Danny Barrett would like to match as head coach at Saskatchewan.

Nick Skorich, a member of the UC Athletic Hall of Fame for his football prowess in the 1940s, was head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles and Cleveland Browns.

Tom Rossley, who set many UC receiving records and had a distinguished career in the college coaching ranks, including a stint as head coach at SMU, is among Bearcats currently in the NFL. Rossley is offensive coordinator at Green Bay. Another recent Bearcat, Bill Davis, is defensive coordinator at San Francisco. Former UC aide Bill Sheridan is linebackers coach for the New York Giants while John Harbaugh, another UC assistant, is special teams coach at Philadelphia.

Nick Skorich, captain of the 1942 Bearcats, went on to become head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles and Cleveland Browns.

Mike Scarry, a member of the UC staff from 1956-62, went on to a long career in the NFL. He coached in five Super Bowls as a member of Don Shula's Miami Dolphins staff, winning two titles. Scarry was the defensive coordinator of the Miami team which went unbeaten.

+Head Coach, unless otherwise noted

Active coaches in bold

Mike Gottfried directed the Bearcats to back-to-back winning seasons during his two years (1981-82) as head coach. The current ESPN college football analyst was head coach at Kansas and Pittsburgh before beginning his broadcast career.

Mentored during his UC career by Homer Rice, who went on to become head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals, and Leeman Bennett, eventual head coach of the Atlanta Falcons, Tom Rossley was part of the Bearcats' nation-leading passing attack in 1968, setting a single season record with 80 receptions. Following service in the college ranks, where he served as head coach at SMU, Rossley currently tutors all-pro Bret Favre as offensive coordinator at Green Bay.

Dave Ritchie (left) coached British Columbia (1994) and Winnipeg (2001) to Grey Cup championships, the Canadian Football League's Super Bowl, and is an assistant at British Columbia in 2005. Danny Barrett set numerous passing and total offense records during his playing career in the CFL, once throwing for over 600 yards in a Grey Cup game. He is currently head coach at Saskatchewan.

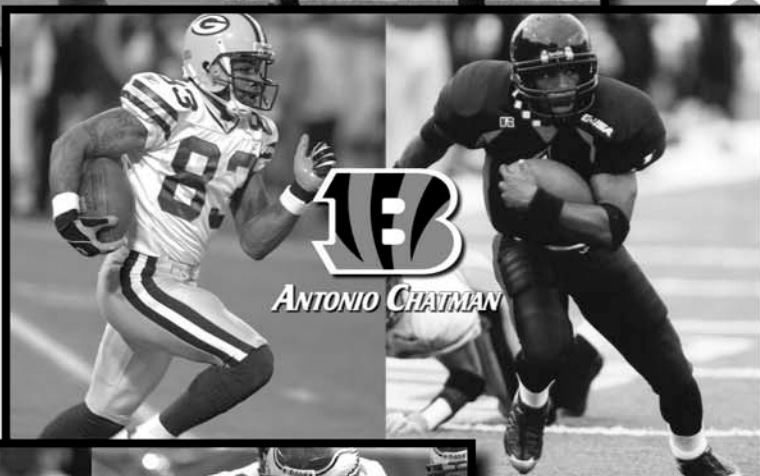

Cincinnati's 1950 football staff carved impressive careers. FRONT ROW: Paul Dietzel went on to coach LSU to the 1958 national title and was head coach at South Carolina and Army before becoming a respected athletic director; Jack Faulkner was head coach of the Denver Broncos; Bill Schwarberg served as a coach and administrator at UC for 32 years. BACK ROW: Head coach Sid Gillman went on to coach in the NFL at Los Angeles and San Diego and was elected to both the college and pro football halls of fame; Athletic Director Chic Milleham; George Blackburn succeeded Gillman as head coach at UC; Joe Madro was a longtime assistant in the AFL and NFL.

NIPPERT STADIUM

Nippert Stadium featured more brand new amenities in 2005. A new, permanent grandstand provides new and improved seating in the North endzone. Underneath the structure are new game locker rooms for both the Bearcats and the visiting team.

The scoreboard features a new video board, nearly twice as large as the previous display, while the playing field is a new installation of FieldTurf, the grass-like artificial turf.

These are just the latest enhancements which preserve the rich history and tradition of Nippert Stadium while making it a contemporary place in which to play and watch a game.

Nippert Stadium has been home to Bearcat football since 1902, making it the fourth-oldest playing site and fifth-oldest stadium in college football.

The stadium's founder was Arch Carson, who as captain and principal organizer, played a significant role in starting football on the UC campus in 1885. In 1901 as physical director of the university, Carson guided the construction of the field which was later named for him—the playing surface is still called Carson Field.

In 1916, construction began on a permanent brick-and-concrete stadium structure, which was completed, section-by-section, as funds were raised.

During the season-ending clash with rival Miami (Ohio) in 1923, Jimmy Nipperts sustained a spike wound injury and died a month later from blood poisoning. His grandfather, James N. Gamble of Procter and Gamble, provided the funds needed to complete the horseshoe-shaped structure, and the James Gamble Nippert Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Nov. 8, 1924.

Nippert Stadium has undergone a series of expansions. In 1936, the playing field was lowered 12 feet to allow spectator seating to increase to 24,000. The Reed Shank Pavilion was added in 1954 to bring the capacity to 28,000. In 1991, the capacity was upped to 35,000 through extending the upper deck, now called the Herschede-Shank Pavilion, and a new pressbox was constructed.

Artificial turf was first installed in 1970 and in 2000, the stadium became one of the first in the U.S. to utilize FieldTurf, a grass-like synthetic surface.

Early-century brickwork combined with wrought iron gates and trim give Nippert a comfortable old-time stadium charm and appeal, while continuing renovations have enabled it to remain a classic showplace for college football.

NIPPERT STADIUM NOTES

- Home of UC football since 1902
- Capacity: 35,000
- Playing surface: FieldTurf
- Fourth-oldest playing site for college football in the nation
- Nation's fifth-oldest NCAA Division I-A or I-AA stadium still in use, preceded by Harvard Stadium (1903), Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd/Grant Field (1914), the Yale Bowl (1914) and Cornell's Schoellkopf Stadium (1915).
- Cincinnati's all-time record in Nippert Stadium: 276-164-13.

NIPPERT STADIUM TIMELINE

1895—Arch Carson introduced a plan to build a stadium on a site in Burnet Woods.

1902—Cincinnati played its first game on Carson Field. Wood bleachers were built on the surrounding hillside.

1909—Lights were first used because the large number of co-op students on the team could practice only at night.

1916—Funds to build a permanent brick and concrete structure were made available by a city bond issue.

1923—UC defeated Kentucky Wesleyan, 17-0, in the first night collegiate football game in the Midwest.

1923—James Gamble donated $250,000 in memory of his grandson, Jimmy Nippert, to complete the stadium.

1924—The completed James Gamble Nippert Stadium was dedicated. Capacity is 12,000.

1936—Carson Field was lowered 12 feet to allow the capacity to expand to 24,000.

1954—Reed Shank Pavilion was completed to boost the capacity to 28,000.

1968—Nippert served as the first home of the Cincinnati Bengals while the city constructed a facility for the new pro franchise.

1970—Astroturf replaced the natural grass surface.

1989—Nippert Stadium was closed for renovation. UC played its 1990 home games at Riverfront Stadium.

1991—Phase I of the stadium renovation was completed to allow for UC home games to be played. The structure was fortified and a three-tiered press box was added.

1992—Phase II of the renovation was completed, upping the seating capacity to 35,000 through the expansion of the Herschede-Shank Pavilion, and adding new lighting and a scoreboard.

1998—UC overcame a 17-point fourth quarter deficit to defeat Houston, 44-43 for its 250th win in Nippert Stadium.

2000—FieldTurf, a revolutionary new grass-like artificial surface, was installed. The pressbox was renamed the John and Dorothy Hermanies Pressbox.

2001—A new video scoreboard was added in the north endzone and 10,000 seats were upgraded. The season opener against Purdue produced the first advance sell-out in Nippert Stadium history.

2005—A permanent grandstand upgraded seating behind the North endzone and provided new locker rooms at field level for game use. A new, larger video board was installed and the FieldTurf playing surface replaced.

Before the 2005 season, Nippert was outfitted with brand new Field-Turf (above), as well as a state-of-the-art Daktronics video board and endzone seating (right).

FOOTBALL FACILITIES

The new football lockerroom sports custom-designed carpet, all oak lockers, and its own equipment room and dispensary. The room also features a football-shaped entrance room (see drawing below).

The Bob Goin Meeting Room can accommodate the entire football team and staff, or be divided in half for offensive and defensive meetings.

Each position group has its own meeting room with multimedia capabilities.

The football staff has state-of-the-art video equipment at its disposal.

The staff offices all look out over Nippert Stadium, as do their meeting rooms.

Under the bleachers in the North endzone are gameday lockerrooms for both teams and an athletic training area.

RICHARD E. LINDNER VARSITY VILLAGE

The future arrived for the University of Cincinnati athletics program in May with the completion of the Richard E. Lindner Varsity Village.

The extensive renovation and upgrade of all of UC's athletics facilities, and the construction of some new venues, positions the Bearcat sports programs to compete among the nation's best.

The term "village" aptly applies because the close proximal location and interconnection of the facilities provides ease of use and access to services for all of the sports teams and their student-athletes, similar to that of a small town.

There was nothing small about the vision for Varsity

Village, a $105 million project, over half of which is privately financed.

The centerpiece of the project is the construction of the new Richard E. Lindner Center, to serve as the home for all of the sports programs as well as the centralized support services.

Located between Nippert Stadium and Fifth Third Arena, the Lindner Center is a futuristic eight-story structure which houses offices, locker rooms, and reception and meeting space for each of the sports teams. The administrative services and support areas are also housed in the building.

The emphasis of the Lindner Center programming is on the student-athlete. One entire floor of the building is devoted to the Nancy Hamant Academics Center, which contains study facilities for UC's 530 student-athletes, including over 80 computer stations.

A new athletics training center, equipped with state-of-the-art diagnostic and treatment equipment, including three hydrotherapy pools, is included in the Lindner Center. The University Health Services for students has been relocated to the Lindner Center and provides expanded medical coverage conveniently located for UC student-athletes. An MRI diagnostic center is also part of the building.

Space for strength and conditioning training in the adjacent Fifth Third Arena has been doubled to 18,000 square feet and has been furnished with the latest in weight training equipment. A new 12,000-square foot practice gymnasium will ease the scheduling of workouts.

While the Lindner Center provides for the present and future of UC athletics, it also recognizes and celebrates the UC's proud past. The ground level of the five-story atrium features the George and Helen Smith Museum detailing the history of both the athletics program and the university. Sports histories are portrayed in graphic murals and on video screens. Terminals in the Jack Twyman Traditions Lounge enable former student-athletes and their families to look up photos and records of their participation. A five-story trophy case houses the Bearcats' championship memorabilia.

The unique building was designed by signature architect Bernard Tschumi. UC graduate Eva Maddox (DAAP 1966) orchestrated the design of the museum.

Varsity Village created three new sports venues and made significant upgrades and enhancements to two others.

A new baseball stadium, named for the late Cincinnati Reds owner and area philanthropist Marge Schott, opened late in the 2004 season. UC's tennis program benefits from a new on-campus tennis center. The swimming and diving teams have a new training and competition Varsity Village is named in honor of Cincinnati philanthropist and businessman Richard E. Lindner, who gave the founding gift to get the project started.

LINDNER ATHLETICS CENTER

home, the Keating Aquatics Center, in the nearby new student recreation center.

UC's track and soccer complex was totally renovated, and permanent seating for 1,400 was added, along with a press box, and reopened as the Ben and Dee Gettler Stadium.

Nippert Stadium, which has been home to UC football, and the activities of just about every other outdoor sport since 1902, has undergone significant improvements in seating and other accoutrements for the spectators, such as expanded concourse and concessions areas and a new video board. Teams benefit from field-level game-day locker rooms and the grass-like FieldTurf artificial playing surface.

Even UC's Marching Band benefited with the creation of the Rockwren Band Center.

Landscaping has created a major walkway, O'Varsity Way, that leads visitors through the heart of Varsity Village. The Raymond D. Sheakley Lawn and Victory Plaza provide gathering and activities space for UC fans attending events.

The eight-floor Richard E. Lindner Athletics Center stands nestled between Nippert Stadium and Fifth Third Arena and houses the entire UC Athletics Department.

The main entrance of the Lindner Center opens into a five-story atrium (top left) that features a history of the University down one side and a timeline of UC Athletics down the other (left). Also in this area is the George & Helen Smith Athletics Museum, which houses the Bearcats' two men's basketball national championship trophies (above) and the James P. Kelly Athletics Hall of Fame (above right).

LINDNER ATHLETICS CENTER

The entire fifth floor is taken up by the Nancy Hamant Academic Center, which includes a computer lab with 71 work stations (left), a large study hall and 19 smaller meeting rooms.

The building includes a 335-seat auditorium for University use.

The Jack Twyan Traditions Lounge, named after one of three Bearcats to have their men's basketball number retired, features couches, fireplaces and electronic kiosks where former student-athletes can gather and view archived information on UC athletics.

The Sports Medicine Suite includes a 4,000-square foot treatment and rehab space, three hydrotherapy pools, a sauna and a steam room. Student Health Services, located on the third floor, houses X-ray facilities and a pharmacy.

The Bob Goin Team Meeting Room can seat the entire football team, or be divided in half for separate offensive and defensive meetings.

The first floor of the building houses a 12,000-square foot practice gym.

Specially-designed carpet and all-oak lockers highlight the new football lockerroom.

ACADEMICS AND STUDENT SERVICES

Cincinnati annually ranks among the leaders in the graduation rate survey conducted by the American Football Coaches Association. UC has posted graduation rates of 85.7 and 85.2 percent in recent AFCA reports, and that tradition will continue as all 10 of the seniors on last year's team will receive degrees. UC was one of 28 schools to achieve a graduation rate of 70 percent or above for the entering freshman class of 2000-01 to earn honorable mention status by the AFCA's Academic Achievement Award recognition.

The Academic Services Office works with coaches, faculty and administrators to help make the student-athlete's academic and athletic experience as enriching and rewarding as possible. The office helps student-athletes keep abreast of the eligibility requirements of their particular colleges, assists with the coordination of class schedules and monitors their progress in their respective programs and toward graduation.

Weekly meetings with athletic academic advisors are set up for all first-year student-athletes to better monitor their academic progress and assist with adjustment to college. Tutoring and educational assistance are also readily accessible.

THE UC TEAM APPROACH

To help new student-athletes adjust to college life, Cincinnati utilizes a mentorship program which pairs new student-athletes with members of the local community who are committed to helping the student-athletes enjoy their first year college experience.

UCTEAM, an acronym for University of Cincinnati Together in Excellence for Athletes through Mentoring, familiarizes student-athletes with UC's academic culture, helps them focus on responsibilities, and ultimately enriches their personal development and experience at the university.

NANCY HAMANT ACADEMIC CENTER

The opening of the Richard E. Lindner Athletic Center will pay huge dividends for student-athletes in terms of academics, as the building houses the spacious Nancy Hamant Academic Center on the entire fifth floor.

The center, named in honor of the longtime Faculty Athletics Representative, gives student-athletes a variety of ways to fulfill their study needs. The large study room is furnished to accommodate a variety of study habits and features 34 work areas. There are also 14 tutor rooms for more focused attention and five group meeting rooms.

Additionally, the Center includes a computer lab, equipped with 71 work stations, that provides a wide-range of computer and word-processing activities, as well as access to the internet.

SERVICES PROVIDED FOR STUDENT-ATHLETES

Academic Advising: The UC Academic Services staff provides information regarding policies, procedures, course selection, selection of major and minor areas of study as well as NCAA and university guidelines for adequate academic progress.

Priority Registration: Student-athletes meet with an advisor in their college in order to obtain a checksheet and a graduation plan. The student-athlete then meets with an athletic academic advisor during priority registration in order to register for the quarter. Priority registration allows student-athletes to register for classes around practice and competition schedules.

Counseling: Individual work is done with student-athletes with specific concerns such as decision-making, adjustment to college, communications, relationships, test-anxiety and necessary study skills. Appropriate referrals are made to other campus resources.

Monitoring Academic Progress: Progress reports are used to gather classroom performance information from professors. This information is shared with the student-athlete and his/her coach so everyone can keep abreast of the current academic progress.

Tutorials: Services are provided for one-on-one and small group tutoring. Student-athletes may submit requests for a tutor assignment in most courses.

Career Development and Placement: The interests and strengths of each student-athlete are continually measured to prepare the student-athlete for a career beyond college. In addition to aiding career exploration and placement, this program provides assistance in securing vacation employment opportunities and internships.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Computer rendition of the 18,000 square foot strength and conditioning center in the Richard E. Lindner Athletic Center.

TIM SWANGER

Strength and conditioning is one of the most important ingredients of any successful college football program. To help Bearcat athletes maximize their athletic potential, UC combines a modern, comprehensive facility with the latest techniques in strength training.

With the opening of the Richard E. Lindner Athletic Center, the Bearcats will now be able to utilize an 18,000 square foot strength training facility. The new center will include over $1 million in Hammer Strength equipment and a five-lane running track. When completed before the 2006 season, it will be almost three times the size of the previous facility.

The mirror-covered room is trimmed in red and black and features a tufflex floor made especially for weight training facilities. The modernized weight facility is highlighted by a quadraphonic sound system, making it the perfect environment for Cincinnati student-athletes to train to maximize their abilities.

Tim Swanger is the director of UC's strength training and conditioning facility. Swanger is an innovator and motivator, using a computer to design programs to meet the specific needs of each individual, then works to help each reach his physical potential.

Strength and conditioning is an ongoing program. Programs are tailored to enable athletes to maintain strength during the peak physical demands of a playing season and increase strength through more extensive training during the off-season.

No area of the football program is given greater attention and emphasis than strength and conditioning. As a result, UC has become one of the nation's strongest college football

ATHLETIC TRAINING

The University of Cincinnati's sports medicine program is responsible not only for helping student-athletes make speedy recoveries from injuries, but in preventing injuries from occurring.

UC's sports medicine program is a comprehensive approach to the injury care and the wellness of the university's over 500 athletic participants, utilizing state-of-the-art diagnostic and treatment equipment with the latest methods in the care and prevention of injuries. Its objectives are simple; to prevent injuries, to rehabilitate injuries, to adjust to the stress following injuries and to educate student-athletes about various wellness issues.

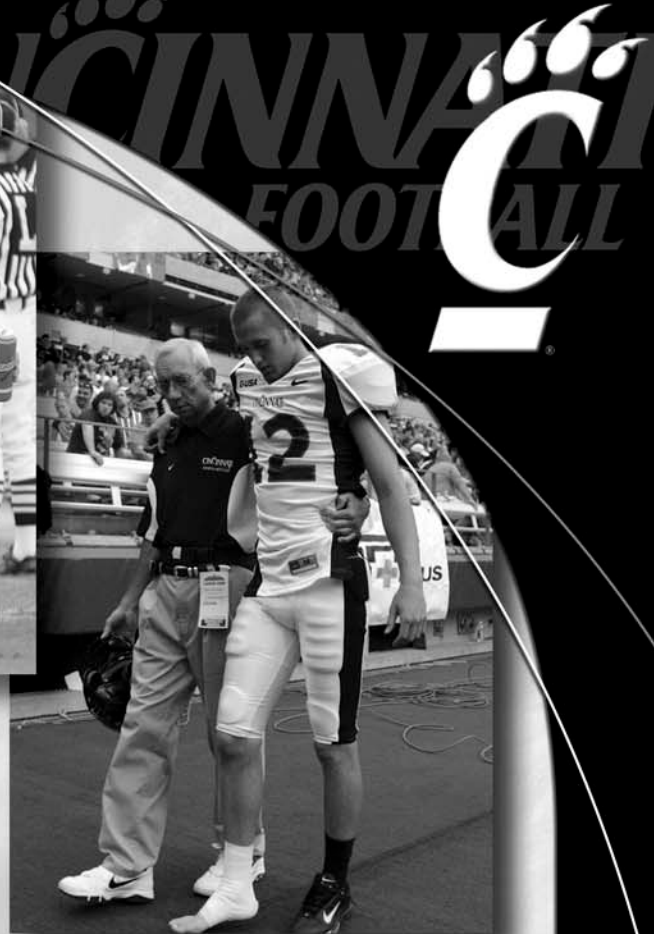

The goal is to get UC's athletes back in the classroom and back on the playing field functioning at 100 percent capacity. The goal is attained in several ways. New student-athletes are carefully examined before they participate to detect potential problems. Student-athletes are afforded state-of-the-art therapeutic care.

The opening of the Richard E. Lindner Athletic Center in May 2006 provided a new, state-of-the-art sports medicine facility that will cater to the needs of UC's student-athletes. Features of the new center include over 4,000 square feet of space for treatment and taping, spacious office suites for training staff and physicians, a physicians exam area, pharmacy, and x-ray facilities. A highlight is the hydrotherapy facility which has a three-level, 5,000 gallon, two-treadmill exercise pool, and two 12-person whirlpools (one for hot and one for cold therapy). The sports medicine facility is located one floor below the new University Health Services center, providing easy access to physicians and services. University Radiology will have an MRI diagnostic center as part of the new complex.

UC's athletics training staff, under the direction of Bill Walker, is the backbone of the sports medicine program. Trainers are present at every practice and event to monitor the health of the student-athletes and respond to injuries.

Dr. W. Kenneth Stephens, a fellow in the American College of Sports Medicine and member of the American Medical Society for Sports Medicine, has served as the Bearcats' team physician for the past 29 years. UC's University Health Service provides a staff of medical professionals accessible to student-athletes 24 hours a day.

Dr. Angelo Colosimo and the staff of the University Orthopaedics Associates of Cincinnati are on call to address orthopedic injuries, performing all orthopedic surgeries and supervising post-operation rehabilitation programs.

The UC medical college provides nationally-recognized specialists who are immediately accessible. University Hospital, a nationally-recognized medical center, is immediately adjacent to the campus, providing UC student-athletes the absolute best in health and medical care.

The new Sports Medicine Facility features a 4,000-square foot treatment room (left), hydrotherapy pools (above), a steam room, a sauna (right) and an on campus MRI diagnostic center.

 Delta

When the Bearcats hit the road, they do so first class.

UC takes charter airplane flights to away games via its arrangement with Delta Air Lines. The flights originate from the Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky International Airport. Police escort to the airport, and with the team once it arrives at the city of the competition, assures safe and speedy transport.

The Bearcats stay in luxury accommodations, usually provided by Marriott Hotels.

For home games, the team stays at a local hotel the night before the contest.

In all cases, the players are treated to luxury accommodations while at the same time freeing them from distractions and allowing them to focus on the upcoming game.

EQUIPMENT

The Bearcats had a new look in 2005. The University of Cincinnati's widely-recognized and unique C-paw logo underwent a slight revision to make it an even stronger point of identity. As part of the new design, UC's uniforms featured new printing and numbers.

The Bearcat football team is always well-dressed and well-equipped through UC's agreement with Nike. UC endeavors to provide the latest and most contemporary equipment and training devices to help each student-athlete maximize performance. Jeff Hericks, as the football equipment manager, coordinates the purchase and inventory of equipment and apparel.

The completion of the Richard E. Lindner Athletic Center this year brought about new dressing facilities for the football team and equipment storage and distribution areas (below right). Each Bearcats team has a separate storage area in the equipment room.

JEFF HERICKS

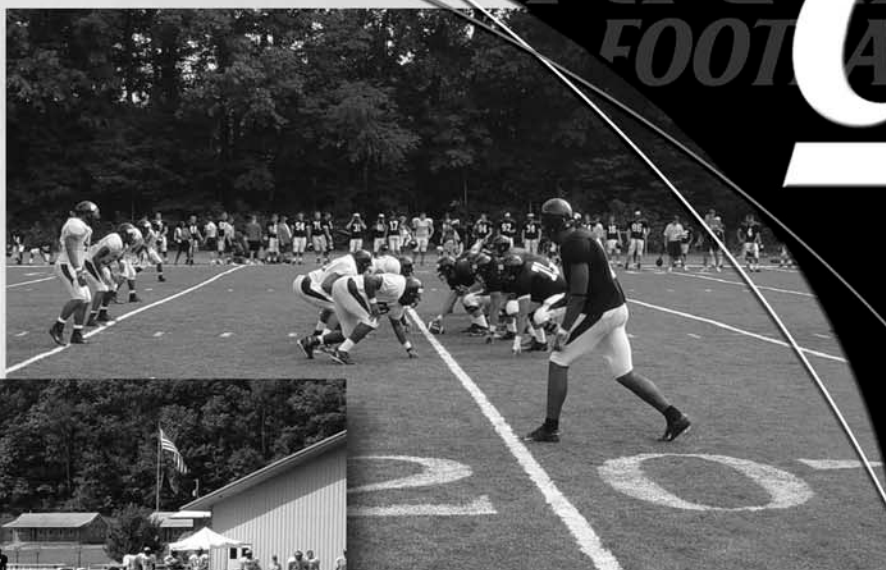

CAMP HIGHER GROUND

Preseason football practice is held at the Higher Ground Conference Center in rural West Harrison, Ind., which allows the Bearcat players and coaches to better focus on their preparations and facilitates bonding.

The Bearcats practice on a pair of FieldTurf fields at the facility. They also set up temporary weight and equipment rooms in different buildings of the Center.

The team generally spends two weeks at Higher Ground, which is located less than 30 miles from campus.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Bearcat football program is committed not to just achieving success on the playing field, but also to be a contributing member in the community.

Throughout the year, the team gives back to the community in a number of ways, from volunteering time around the holidays at the Drop Inn Center to visiting the Cincinnati Children's Hospital. The team has also taken part in various other community service activities ranging from Make A Difference Day to volunteering at area YMCA's. Various other community service projects include Sports Buddies, Habitat for Humanity, Cincinnati Kid Fest, the Special Olympics, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, volunteering at the Ronald McDonald House and a homeless shelter and reading to school children.

The Bearcats have also helped the football community as well. The coaching staff hosts more than 100 area youth coaches for a free coaching clinic and a youth skills camp, also free.

Head coach Mark Dantonio serves as a spokesperson for the Star Shine Hospice at the Cincinnati Children's Hospital and Honorary Chair of the Arthritis Foundation.

The Bearcats also give back to the fans. It was a small gesture following UC's win at Virginia Tech in 1995 that led to a new tradition, a tradition aimed at the fans. Following the shutout of the Hokies on a rain drenched field that day, the Bearcats moved enmass to the corner of the field where the UC supporters were located. The Bearcats then sang the school fight song, "Cheer Cincinnati," as a way to thank the fans for their support. Since then, the UC players celebrate every victory this way.

LETTERMAN'S WEEKEND

Football Letterman's Weekend is an event which links the current staff and players with those of the past. Set each year on the weekend of the Red and Black spring game, the weekend events reunite the lettermen with a series of activities leading up to the spring game. Eighty former players took part in the first Alumni Weekend in 1995 and that number grew to over 500 in 2006.

The 2006 edition of the Letterman's Weekend kicked off with a golf tournament at the Pebble Creek Golf Course. That was followed by the annual pig roast (right).

10-year NFL veteran Robert Tate, letterwinner from 1993-96, was one of the featured letterwinners.

A special guest at this year's weekend was Dick MacPherson, longtime Syracuse head coach and an assistant coach for the 1965 Bearcats.

Jim Kelly, Sr. (right), letterman 1947-50 and former coach, and Jim Kelly, Jr., letterman 1973-75 and UC radio color analyst.

GAMEDAY AT UC

Two and half hours before each Bearcat home game, Cattitude at Varsity Village kicks off the gameday excitement at UC. Located just behind Nippert Stadium on Sigma Sigma Commons, Cattitude offers a fun and exciting alternative to tailgating.

Fans enjoy food, beverages, and visits by the Bearcat, the UC Band, and Cheerleaders. Bearcats Kid Zone is located in Marge Schott Stadium. It features inflatable games, special appearances and fun for the whole family.

BEARCAT SPIRIT

Important aspects of the excitement and pageantry of the University of Cincinnati home football games are the UC cheerleading and dance teams and the Bearcat Marching Band. These groups provide more than just entertainment, however. Like the Bearcat athletic teams, they have brought national recognition to the university.

CHEERLEADERS

The UC cheerleaders have consistently proven themselves to be one of the elite squads in the nation. They have posted 10 finishes in the top 10 at the College National Cheerleading Championships and have made 15 appearances in the finals. UC finished eighth at the 2004 nationals, the third top 10 finish in four years.

Cincinnati has finished as high as third place, in 1991, and has a pair of fourth-place finishes. Between 1990 and 1997, the cheerleaders ran off a streak of eight straight top-10 finishes.

UC cheerleaders have been selected to perform at international events. In 1994 they made a 10-day tour of Taiwan and they performed in the opening ceremonies of the 1996 Olympics.

Tabby Fagan enters her 14th year as cheerleading coach. A 1993 Cincinnati graduate, Fagan was a member of the varsity cheerleader team for five years and cheered on three squads which advanced to the national finals.

DANCE TEAM

The UC dance team has distinguished itself among the nation's best.

Last year, UC won its third-straight national championship in the hip-hop competition and posted a sixth-place finish in the dance competition.

Cincinnati has advanced to the finals of the College Dance Team National Championships 13 times, nine of which resulted in top 10 finishes. UC's fourth-place finish in 2005 was its best ever.

Sport Magazine rated the squad No. 1 under the category of "Five Cheerleading Squad/Dance Teams to See" in 1999-00.

Lisa Spears is in her ninth year as the head coach. She was member of the dance teams in 1991-94 and later served as an assistant coach.

BEARCAT BANDS

The Bearcat Marching Band is known for its contemporary approach to both music and drill design. It has been a fixture at UC home football games and selected UC road contests for the past 84 years. Over 200 students are involved in the band as instrumentalists or as members of the Bearcat Guard, Twirlers and Drum Majors.

The Bearcat Varsity Band, a smaller pep-band unit, performs at all Cincinnati home basketball games and other selected events, providing the spark for the crowd enthusiasm of games in Fifth Third Arena.

Dr. Terren L. Frenz, who has compiled 42 years of success in music education and performance, is director of the bands. Nationally known as a conductor, lecturer and marching drill writer, Frenz has directed previous bands or drum and bugle corps to five national championships.

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

Eric Hicks earned second team All-BIG EAST honors in 2006 en route to leading UC to a 17th-straight post-season berth, reaching the quarterfinals of the NIT.

Chandler Groves leapt a season-best 25' to qualify for his first NCAA Championships in 2006.

Omar Cummings was named first team All-BIG EAST and All-Region in 2005 after leading the Bearcats in scoring.

Treasure Humphries was named second team All-BIG EAST and led the Bearcats to the 2006 WNIT, their eighth postseason appearance in nine years.

Renee Hein became the first Bearcat woman to reach the NCAA Championships twice, qualifying in the high jump in 2005 and 2006.

Ann Degenstein concluded her Bearcat career with nine conference titles and two school records. She competed in the NCAA Championships in 2006 in two events for the second-straight year.

Jessie Nevitt was named BIG EAST Rookie of the Year, first team All-BIG EAST and honorable mention All-American in 2005.

The University of Cincinnati athletic department is nationally recognized as one of the most comprehensive Division I athletic programs in the nation. UC offers 18 intercollegiate sports, 10 for women and eight for men.

UC has celebrated unprecedented successes in Conference USA and the BIG EAST over the past 11 years. Some of the impressive numbers include:

36 Conference Champions

42 All-Americans

57 Postseason Appearances

Last year, two teams and three individuals celebrated postseason play.

HOME OF CHAMPIONS

FOOTBALL

Ann Degenstein became UC's first BIG EAST champion when she won the 100 and 200 meter butterfly at the 2006 Swimming & Diving Championships.

UC football made its fifth bowl appearance in eight years in 2004, defeating Marshall in the Fort Worth Bowl, 32-14.

John Bowie (top) won the 100 meter dash at the 2006 BIG EAST Outdoor Track & Field Championships and then anchored the winning 4x100 meter relay team that featured Bob Kandell (middle), Justin Conway (bottom) and Cedric Powell.

The last eight years will go down as one of the most successful eras ever at the University of Cincinnati. Bearcat teams have compiled a winning percentage over .600 in this time.

As the chart below illustrates, four of the most successful years in Bearcat history have taken place in the last eight years, including a .677 mark in 1999-2000, the highest percentage in 39 years.

Volleyball won its fourth league title in five years in 2003.

Men's basketball won its eighth Conference USA regular season title and fourth tourney championship in 2004.

CATAPULT

CINCINNATI ATHLETICS' DRIVE TO EXCELLENCE

BIG EAST Championships in every sport within the next five years, continued leadership by UC student-athletes in academics, and community engagement are the main goals of CATAPULT, an action plan for UC athletics unveiled by athletics director Mike Thomas.

Thomas's five-year vision for UC's 18-sport intercollegiate program was launched on the six-month anniversary of his hiring as AD. The plan focuses on three main initiatives: winning BIG EAST team championships, high-level academic achievement, and a comprehensive integration with the Greater Cincinnati Community.

CHAMPIONSHIPS

UC will win a BIG EAST championship in every sport within the next five years. The Bearcats completed their first year in the BIG EAST without claiming a league title, though almost every sport was competitive.

ACADEMICS

UC student-athletes will set the pace academically by continuing to lead the general student body in graduation rate and over a five-year period outperform the general student body in grade point average.

TOGETHER

UC student-athletes, coaches and staff will respect and honor the privilege of competing as Cincinnati Bearcats. All participants recognize that UC's goals cannot be achieved without engaging the UC family and the Cincinnati community.

2006 OUTLOOK

EXPERIENCE AN ASSET FOR 2006 BEARCATS

Experience will be a major factor for the University of Cincinnati as it begins its second season in the BIG EAST Conference.

Thirty of the 44 players on last year's depth chart had one season or less of Division I-A experience. The Bearcats played 10 first-year freshmen, six of whom made starts. Though the 2006 squad will be a sophomore-junior dominated team, UC will have starters returning at 17 positions, and an extensive corps of 44 lettermen from which to draw for their second season of play in the BIG EAST.

The impact of this playing experience should be evident both on offense, which was led by a redshirt freshman quarterback last season, and defense, where Cincinnati relied on nine first-year players most of last year.

"We now have two full recruiting classes, and we are seeing daily the positive effects of our new facilities, our membership in the BIG EAST Conference and our BCS affiliation," stated UC head coach Mark Dantonio.

"We were a very young and inexperienced football team in 2005, and it showed," Dantonio noted. "This is not the case this year. We have experienced depth at just about every position."

Two of last year's rookie defenders, cornerback Mike Mickens and outside linebacker Corey Smith, return as stalwarts after earning Freshman All-American honors and berths on the All-BIG EAST Conference second team.

Veterans will also play a considerable role. Brent Celek, a John Mackey Award candidate, will be a focal point of the passing attack from his tight end position, with fellow senior Bill Poland providing leadership at wide receiver. A trio of seniors—Kevin McCullough, who led the 2005 Bearcats with his tough and determined play at middle linebacker; Antoine Horton, a two-year starter at cornerback; and Dominic Ross, a regular contributor at strong safety the past two years—along with junior Haruki

COACH DANTONIO COMMENTS

Overview of 2006

"Last year, we worked to gain valuable experience as both players and coaches in our first year of BIG EAST competition. We return players who made significant contributions at virtually all positions and are continuing to build on that foundation. There will continue to be opportunities for young players to impact the future of our program. Consequently, with that opportunity will come responsibility."

Challenges Facing UC in 2006

"We enter 2006 with a challenging schedule that will again be one of the nation's toughest. Unlike last year, we have players who have begun to establish themselves with their play and experience. We will play seven games at home, including games against four BIG EAST members. Games vs. Miami of Ohio and Louisville will as always be critical to our program's overall success. A key to our success will again be how we handle adversity. Football has become a game of inches. Anyone can rise to the top depending on what kind of foundation they build through their summer camp and early season games."

The Impact of the BIG EAST and BCS

"The BIG EAST Conference makes us the only other Bowl Championship Series team in the state of Ohio. It creates national exposure and gives us a base for our recruiting while bringing college football at its highest level to the Cincinnati area. The BIG EAST allows our vision to become a reality in terms of playing in a BCS championship atmosphere. This is the goal of all college players and coaches."

Assessment of Year No. 3 of the Program

"We see continual progress in our program from the convergence of a number of key elements. Continuity of our coaching staff will always be a key to our success as we build a foundation for our football program. We now have two full recruiting classes, and we are seeing daily the positive effects of our new facilities, our membership in the BIG EAST Conference and our BCS affiliation. Entering our second year in the BIG EAST, we are well aware—as a staff and as a team—what it takes to compete at this level. Our players have been graduating at an 85 percent rate and are committed to developing as athletes and as young men. We have players at virtually every position who have been there and are ready to compete."

About the Offense

"Our goal on offense will be to run and throw effectively while creating mismatches that can create the big play. We need to take full advantage of our opportunities and play mistake free. We need to be an offense that scores touchdowns in the Red Zone."

About the Defense

"We need to build on the experience and success that we had last year. We need to become a great Red Zone defense, force turnovers and be able to make the game one-dimensional while eliminating the big play. Championship teams are built around defenses."

About the Special Teams

"Special teams have become the difference-maker in modern day football. We will continue to emphasize and work on the various techniques involved in special teams play. Our special teams will be indicative of the experience and enthusiasm of our football team. It will control our team's vertical field position in each and every contest."

Goals for 2006

"Our goal will always be to win our conference championship and earn a spot in a postseason bowl game. We will again ask our players to play with great effort and toughness; to know of what to do and play fast. Our team will continue to focus on this throughout the offseason workouts, preseason practice and game preparations. We have asked our players to take ownership. Whether you are a fan, student, player or coach, with ownership comes responsibility. This will continue to be a key to our development. We need to continue to develop relationships with each other. Relationships are built upon trust. We all need to trust in each other."

Nakamura, a hard-hitting free safety who led the 2005 squad in tackling, will be the anchors of a still young, but evolving defense.

"Offensively, we need to be multi-dimensional," Dantonio explained. "We have valuable experience back at about every position, unlike in 2005. We need to run the ball consistently, protect the quarterback and create big plays.

"Overall, our defense is much improved, the coach continued. "We started five freshmen throughout the season in 2005 and were able to develop experience. We need to find play-makers. We need to stop the run and eliminate the big play. Last year, we didn't get enough turnovers, and our lack of experience hurt us in this area. We need to become a more opportunistic team in 2006."

The UC coaches have bolstered the talent level of the team with another quality class of recruits, some of whom will have an immediate impact. The big difference from 2005 is that the Bearcats will not be forced to rush these newcomers onto the playing field.

The BIG EAST, one of six member conferences in the Bowl Championship Series, will provide the staple of competition for the Bearcats, who will have the challenge of facing league powers West Virginia and Louisville on the road. Cincinnati's non-conference schedule is difficult with visits to Top 10 contenders Ohio State and Virginia Tech. The Bearcats will face seven teams that played in bowl games in 2005.

RUNNING GAME

Greg Moore

The junior trio of Butler Benton, Bradley Glatthaar and Greg Moore continues to make running back a position with great depth. Each has his own particular set of skills to be an effective runner. Benton is a sure-handed rusher. Known for his ability to get the tough yard, Glatthaar led the team in yards (620) and TDs (7) last season. Moore possesses the combination of speed and power.

Senior Mike Daniels is a scat back type of performer who provides good depth as well as a different running style.

Doug Jones, a versatile 6-4, 273-pound junior has manned the fullback position essentially by himself the past two seasons, during which he has proven valuable as a rusher, receiver and pass protector. Jones will have help available this year in sophomore Brad Bury and redshirt frosh Marcus Waugh.

"Running back continues to be a position of depth on our football team," Dantonio stated. "Benton had an outstanding spring. Moore and Glatthaar are proven commodities. The talents of our young freshmen coming this fall should make this a position of strength."

OFFENSIVE LINE

Though three starters were lost on the offensive line, the unit returns with a greater aggregate of experience than it had at the start of the 2005 campaign.

Digger Bujnoch is the Bearcats' top returning lineman. The 6-5, 290-pound junior will move to left tackle this year after starting in 2005 at right tackle. Sophomore Trevor Canfield, one of three who alternated as the starter at right guard last fall, took hold of the position with a good performance during spring drills.

Junior J.P. Simon and sophomore Khalil El-Amin, who both saw considerable action with the No. 1 offense during spring practice, will continue the battle for starting jobs, Simon at right tackle and El-Amin at left guard. Mario Duenas' quick adaptation to the offense following his arrival from junior college may help him earn the first nod at the vacant center position over junior Chris Flores and senior Jeff Reinstatler.

Redshirt freshman Jeffrey Linkenbach and junior Jeremy Bolton bolstered their stock as tackles with impressive performances during spring drills. Reinstatler and Jon Tobin have experience as starters and will continue to battle with incoming junior college transfer Ken Rodriguez for the left guard post.

"Many of our linemen gained valuable experience last year," stated Dantonio.

"It is a matter of solidifying who are the best five to get on the field. We need to execute our assignments with proficiency. It is imperative that we protect the quarterback and have the ability to run the football."

PASSING GAME

A seasoned quarterback and a veteran cast at the skill positions should add punch to the Cincinnati offense.

"We have experience coming back at our quarterback position in 2006," stated Dantonio. "Quarterback will always be a position in which consistency, decision-making and the ability to make a positive play out of a negative one is essential."

Dustin Grutza showed excellent poise and leadership as a redshirt freshman signal caller in 2005. Experience and physical maturity should enhance his ability as a passer. The battle for the signal-caller post is not yet over, however.

Tony Pike, a redshirt freshman, thrust himself into consideration with an excellent performance during spring drills. Multi-talented David Wess, who experimented at wide receiver and running back during spring practice, was moved to quarterback where his array of athletic skills adds a different dimension to the position. A season's experience in the program will enable Nick Davila, Grutza's backup in 2005, and Craig Carey, a redshirt freshman, to challenge for the position.

Whoever takes the ball from center will have the luxury of working with a seasoned group of receivers.

Brent Celek, a 6-4, 260-pound senior who has amassed more receptions (56) and receiving yards (654) than all but one tight end in UC history and already owns the mark for TD catches (11), is back for his third season as a starter and is an All-BIG EAST honors candidate. Connor Barwin, who saw considerable playing time and averaged 18.0 yards on eight catches as a first-year frosh, and redshirt freshman Kazeem Alli are more-than-capable backups who make tight end a position of strength for the offense.

The Bearcats return five of their six performers from last season at the wide receiver posts, headed by senior Bill Poland, juniors Earnest Jackson and Antwuan Giddens, and sophomore Dominick Goodman. Recovering from knee surgery when the season began, Poland came on strong down the stretch of the campaign, making 16 catches for 244 yards in the final five games. Jackson, who led the Bearcats with 364 receiving yards, assumed the role of the big play receiver in the passing attack. Giddens, like Jackson a two-year performer, showed continued improvement. Goodman broke into the rotation as a true freshman and proved to be a dangerous weapon as a receiver and return specialist.

DeAngelo Smith, a sophomore who blossomed at the position upon being moved from the secondary during spring drills, and redshirt freshman Jared Martin, who picked up the offense while running the scout team last fall, bolster the talent pool at wide receiver. Sophomore Derrick Stewart along with members of the incoming freshman class has the speed to challenge for spots in the receiver rotation.

"Brent Celek returns as one of the top tight ends in the BIG EAST," Dantonio offered. "He has excellent leadership skills which boost the entire offense. Connor Barwin and Kazeem Alli make this a position of strength for our offense. We have big-bodied wide receivers who have the ability to be physical. The speed and raw talent of Derrick Stewart, redshirt freshman Jared Martin and some of our incoming freshmen give them the ability to make an immediate impact."

DEFENSIVE LINE

If the coaching axiom—the best thing about freshmen is that they become sophomores—is true, then a lot of good things should happen for the Bearcat defense, which started as many as six freshmen in 2005.

This is particularly true for the UC defensive line, which employed as many as three true freshmen starters last fall. Two of them, Terrill Byrd and Trevor Anderson, return as key players. The 6-1, 285-pound Byrd became a steady mainstay at one of the tackle position, while Anderson, who finished third on the team in tackles for loss, quickly assumed a starting job at end.

Jon Newton and Thomas Claggett amassed playing time alternating at the other tackle spot. It will be difficult to keep senior Tony Carvitti off the field after the success he showed in spring drills. The progress shown by Adam Hoppel during spring practice should thrust him into the competition for increased playing time at tackle.

Anthony Hoke is the most experienced of the candidates to fill the other end position. Angelo Craig, who shined upon moving from linebacker to end during spring drills, and Lamonte Nelms are others in the thick of the battle for playing time at end. Others who have shown that they are ready to see action include redshirt freshmen Tyler Clifford and Donnell McKenzie at end.

"It all starts up front," noted Dantonio. "We have developed good pass rushers to pressure the quarterback. We have a good run stopper in Byrd. We need to have guys on the field who can make plays."

LINEBACKERS

The linebacking unit returns intact and boasting the Bearcats' second, third and fourth-leading tacklers. Kevin McCullough, a 6-2, 240-pound senior, will anchor the group from the middle linebacker position. Despite missing a game and having a reduced role in two others due to knee surgery, McCullough compiled 60 tackles and was second in tackles for loss.

Corey Smith, who earned all-league and Freshman All-American honors as a first-year frosh, returns at one outside linebacker post. The 6-1, 220-pound sophomore was third on the team in tackles (64) despite missing the final two games due to injury. Anthony Williams, a 6-1, 220-pound junior who was second in tackles (66), is back at the other OLB spot.

Others in the linebacking contingent who will benefit from last year's experience include sophomore Ryan Manalac, who made a pair of starts at middle linebacker last fall and had a productive spring, and juniors Tyjuan Jones and Jon Carpenter on the outside. Senior Leo Morgan and redshirt freshman Andre Revels have made steady improvement. Freddie Lenix is among the incoming frosh who could make an immediate impact.

"Like every other area of our defense, we were inexperienced at linebacker last season and it showed," stated Dantonio. "Now we have experience. Each of these players brings different things to the table. We need to continue to develop a blitz attitude with this group."

SECONDARY

Mike Mickens, an All-BIG EAST second team selection as a first-year frosh last season, returns to lead the secondary. The 6-foot, 165-pound cornerback finished second nationally in passes defended (breakups plus interceptions) to earn Freshman All-American honors.

Haruki Nakamura, a hard-hitting 5-10, 185-pound junior who raised his level of play with an outstanding performance in spring practice, will key

Mike Mickens

UC's strike force from his free safety position. He made 76 stops and led the Bearcats in interceptions to lead UC in tackling in 2005.

The senior trio of Antoine Horton, John Bowie and Dominic Ross helps make the secondary the most experienced area of the defense. Horton, a two-year starter, will battle Bowie, the BIG EAST Conference reigning 100-meter dash champion, at the other cornerback position. Ross returns at strong safety, where he has alternated as a starter the past two seasons.

There is ample depth to spell the starters and compete for playing time. Sophomore Cedric Tolbert made a start at free safety last year and gained experience on the special teams. Senior JaJuan Hall has attained ample experience playing in a backup role at safety. Redshirt freshman Brad Jones and several of the incoming freshmen will contribute depth.

"We will continue to play the players who have proven that they can tackle in space," explained Dantonio. "We will continue to look for big play production from this group. We need to create more big play opportunities on defense."

KICKING GAME

Kevin Lovell, who has led the team in scoring in each of the past two seasons, returns to handle the kicking chores. Kevin Huber, who saw action last year, and Brian Steel will continue their battle for the punter assignment. Their competition during spring drills improved the performance of each.

Patrick Farfaring is back for his fourth season as the long snapper, with sophomore Brad Bury working into the position. Senior Mike Daniels, junior Haruki Nakamura and sophomore Dominick Goodman are seasoned return specialists, though they may be challenged by incoming freshmen. Daniels has amassed nearly 1,000 return yards over his previous three seasons. Nakamura led last year's team in punt returns with his 8-yard average, while Goodman amassed the most kickoff return yardage.

Kevin Lovell

"Special teams play needs to be the heartbeat of our team. All aspects of our kicking game have improved," Dantonio stated. "Lovell needs to have a great year, and we know we must create opportunities for him. Our punting game looked consistent in the spring. We will continue to develop big play return men."

MARK DANTONIO

BEARCATS' THIRD-YEAR HEAD COACH

Mark Dantonio has established himself as one of the nation's up-and-coming head coaches during his two seasons at the University of Cincinnati.

During that time, Dantonio has led the Bearcats to a bowl game victory, directed the team's transition into the BIG EAST Conference and established the groundwork for the future success of the program.

Fifteen of his players have earned all-conference honors. Twenty-five have received conference academic recognition. Six members of his first squads were on the rosters of National Football League teams last fall. Eighteen members of the 2004 team completed their degrees.

Dantonio, who was named head coach at Cincinnati on Dec. 23, 2003, became the first head coach in 23 years to pilot a team to a winning season in his initial campaign at UC. The Bearcats' 7-5 record included a 5-3 mark in Conference USA, good enough for a second place finish. The Bearcats capped the season with a convincing 32-14 win over Marshall in the PlainsCapital Fort Worth Bowl.

During the 2005 season, Dantonio molded a team that ranked among the nation's youngest—the Bearcats started as many as five first-year freshmen on defense—to be a competitive squad in their first season in the BIG EAST en route to a 4-7 record.

The development of those young players, plus the addition of another strong recruiting class, portends a bright future for Cincinnati football under Dantonio.

Only one other coach has taken UC to a bowl game in his initial season at the helm—the legendary Sid Gillman—a feat that puts Dantonio in pretty select company. Dantonio has been in good company throughout his coaching career, having served as an assistant coach for Nick Saban, Jim Tressel and Earle Bruce—coaches who have directed teams to conference championships, postseason bowls, and national championships.

Dantonio has compiled nearly a quarter of a century of coaching experience, during which he has played integral roles in building winning programs. He has crafted defensive units which have been nationally recognized. And he has built a reputation for the close bonds that he builds with the players he coaches and the staff members with whom he works with.

He has strong Midwest ties. An Ohio native who has spent half of his coaching career in the state, Dantonio has been effective recruiting its top talent.

Dantonio had served as the defensive coordinator at Ohio State the previous three seasons, where he helped craft the defense which was the backbone of the Buckeyes success.

Ohio State's defense was the nation's second stingiest against the run in 2003, allowing 62.3 yards per game, and was ranked No. 10 in total defense and No. 16 in scoring defense. Those efforts helped the Buckeyes attain the No. 4 ranking in the final polls.

Dantonio assembled the defense which led Ohio State to the national title in 2002. The Buckeyes were second nationally in scoring defense (13.1) and third in rushing defense (77.7) during their perfect season.

Six Buckeye defenders were named first team All-Big Ten during Dantonio's tenure there and 13 were drafted by the pros, which includes a pair of first-round picks.

Dantonio has compiled 23 seasons of coaching experience in the college ranks, 12 of them in the state of Ohio.

Prior to his stint at Ohio State, Dantonio spent six seasons (1995-2000) as secondary coach at Michigan State, five under Nick Saban and one under Bobby Williams. He was promoted to associate head coach in 2000.

Dantonio contributed to Michigan State's successful 1999 season, during which the Spartans posted a 10-2 record, were Florida Citrus Bowl champions and were ranked No. 7 in the final polls. The MSU defense was ranked 12th nationally and led the Big Ten in total defense.

Michigan State's secondary under Dantonio was regarded as one of the best in the nation. The Spartans were ranked 10th in pass efficiency defense in 1998 and seventh in 2000.

Dantonio tutored Amp Campbell, an MSU cornerback who earned third team All-American honors in 1999, while two other Spartan defenders

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING ABOUT MARK DANTONIO

"Mark Dantonio is an outstanding football coach. More importantly, he is an outstanding person and family man. He's the kind of coach and person who cares deeply about his players and the people around him."

*Jim Tressel, Head Coach
Ohio State University*

"Working with Coach D, I learned that football wasn't about individual goal—success is a matter of unity on the field. Coach Dantonio is a great disciplinarian. He has this way of getting you to do things the way he wants them done without getting on you. He is a great coach to play for."

*Mike Doss
Indianapolis Colts safety formerly of Ohio State*

"Coach Dantonio takes a special interest in you as a player. He wants to make sure that you do the extra work to make you the best you can be. He's more than just a good coach. He is a great family man and he treats his players like they are part of his family."

*Renaldo Hill
Miami Dolphins CB formerly of Michigan State*

"Coach Dantonio did a lot for me. I liked him because he was honest. I enjoyed playing for Coach D and I know UC will have an excellent team because of his leadership and toughness and how much he cares about his players and coaches."

*Trent Cole
Philadelphia Eagles DE and former Bearcat*

"Coach Dantonio is a great person first, and then a great coach. He is an outstanding teacher. He's been involved in coaching football at the highest level, working for two national championship coaches. He knows what winning is all about."

*Julian Peterson
Seattle All-Pro LB formerly of Michigan State*

"Coach Dantonio is a great leader and he really cares about his players. I appreciate that he keeps in touch with me and cares about what is going on with me, and I know he does that with a lot of former players."

*Adam Roberts
Tennessee Titan LB and former Bearcat*

were named to All-American teams and a half dozen were NFL draft picks.

Dantonio served as defensive backs coach at Kansas for four seasons (1991-94). His work helped the Jayhawks produce an 8-4 record and defeat BYU in the Aloha Bowl in 1992.

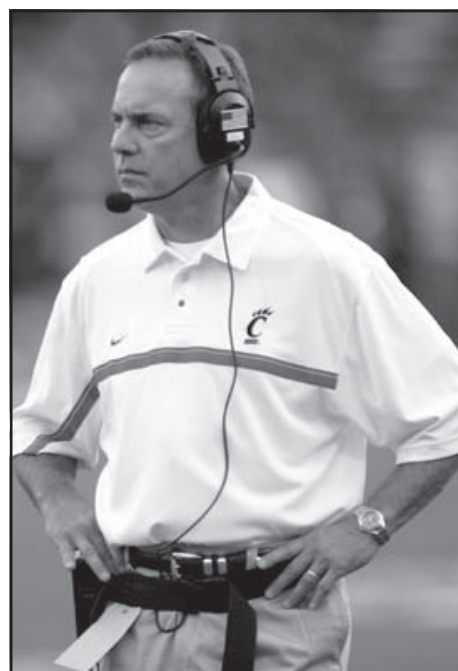

A 1979 graduate of South Carolina, Dantonio began his coaching career as an assistant at Westside High in Anderson, S.C.

In 1980, he served as a graduate assistant at Ohio University, under head coach Brian Burke. He spent the 1981 season as a graduate assistant at Purdue for head coach Jim Young and was defensive coordinator at Butler County (Kan.) Community College in 1982.

Dantonio was a member of Earle Bruce's Ohio State football staff in 1983 and 1984, helping the Buckeyes to the Fiesta and Rose bowls. He spent the 1985 season as the secondary coach at Akron where he coached under Jim Dennison, helping the Zips to an 8-3 record and an appearance in the Division I-AA playoffs.

Dantonio joined Jim Tressel's staff at Youngstown State. The Penguins made three trips to the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs during his five seasons there, and posted a perfect 11-0 regular season record in 1990, when Dantonio was YSU's defensive coordinator.

When Tressel became head coach at Ohio

State, Dantonio joined him as the Buckeyes' defensive coordinator.

A native of Zanesville, Ohio, Dantonio earned All-Ohio honors as a senior at Zanesville High. He was a three-year letterman as a defensive back at South Carolina (1976-78).

He completed his bachelor's degree in English at South Carolina in 1979 and earned his master's in education at Ohio University in 1981.

Dantonio and his wife Becky are the proud parents of two daughters, Kristen (13) and Lauren (11).

MARK DANTONIO'S PHILOSOPHIES FOR FOOTBALL...AND LIFE

SUCCESS

"Success is a journey that starts with knowing what you want to accomplish. Hard work, persistence, confidence, and the ability to handle adversity are all integral parts of being successful."

WINNING FOOTBALL

"Football is a game of inches. Playing winning football requires an attitude of togetherness to develop a team concept. This requires character, which is a result of physical and mental toughness and an ability to play with great effort on each given play."

ACADEMICS

"Getting a degree will have the most significant impact on an individual's quality of life. That commitment will become a person's most rewarding experience in college."

COACHING

"Coaching is about relationships and relationships involve trust. There must be a genuine concern for the individual player and his life. This is when, as a coach, you will begin to impact a young person for a lifetime."

- Cincinnati (2004-present), offensive coordinator

Born: June 10, 1960

Personal: Married, wife Lola; daughter Whitney (20), sons Blake (15) and Spencer (13)

Don Treadwell has amassed a wealth of offensive coaching experience during his 22 seasons in the college ranks.

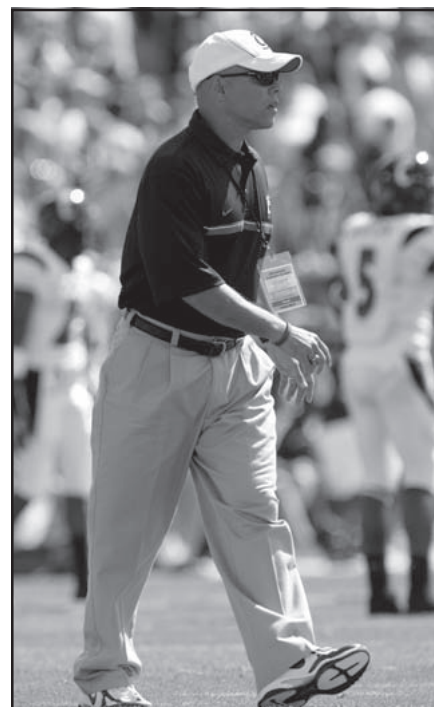

Upon becoming Cincinnati's offensive coordinator in 2004, he put together a balanced offense that produced a 2,500-yard passer, 1,000-yard rusher and 1,000-yard receiver, while topping the 2,000-yard mark in both rushing (2,201) and passing (2,666), only the second time that feat has been accomplished in UC history. Working with the wide receivers, Treadwell tutored Hannibal Thomas, who compiled the fourth 1,000-yard receiving season by a Bearcat while earning all-conference honors.

Treadwell has served as offensive coordinator at four schools. In 2003, he developed Ball State' offense which set school records for passing yards and passing TDs. He was co-offensive coordinator while serving as quarterbacks and receivers coach at Boston College (1997-98). His work as offensive coordinator in 1991 helped Youngstown State win the NCAA Division I-AA title.

An accomplished receiver as an undergrad at Miami (Ohio) who signed a pro free agent contract upon graduating in 1982, Treadwell has excelled as a receivers coach. During his three seasons at Michigan State, he developed Charles Rogers, the 2002 Biletnikoff Award winner and the No. 2 pick of the 2003 NFL draft.

Treadwell launched his coaching career as receivers coach at Dayton in 1984 and in 1985 was a graduate assistant at North Carolina State. In 1986, he joined Jim Tressel's staff at Youngstown State where he helped the Penguins to four I-AA playoff appearances. He also participated in the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship Program in 1989-90.

Treadwell was receivers coach at Miami (Ohio) (1992-93) and served in the same capacity at Cincinnati in 1994. He tutored the running backs at Stanford (1995-96) before moving to Boston College as passing game coordinator and quarterbacks and receivers coach (1997-98). Treadwell was running backs coach at North Carolina State in 1999 before moving to Michigan State.

Blake, Don, Spencer, Lola and Whitney Treadwell

PAT NARDUZZI DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

College: Rhode Island (1990)

Coaching Experience: 16 seasons

- Miami (Ohio) (1990-91), graduate assistant; (1992), receivers
- Rhode Island (1993-97), linebackers; (1998-99), defensive coordinator
- Northern Illinois (2000-02), linebackers
- Miami (Ohio) (2003), defensive coordinator
- Cincinnati (2004-present), defensive coordinator

Born: April 22, 1966

Personal: Married, wife Donna; daughters Arianna (13), Christina (11), son Patrick (8), and daughter Isabella (4)

Pat Narduzzi has made a habit out of coaching championship-caliber defenses.

Upon becoming Cincinnati's defensive coordinator in 2004, Narduzzi constructed the defense which led the Bearcats to a runner-up finish in Conference USA and a championship in the Fort Worth Bowl. UC was ranked No. 49 in total defense in 2004, 37th against the pass. Three Bearcat defenders from that team, Trent Cole, Tyjuan Hagler and Daven Holly, were taken in the NFL Draft, while six others earned all-league recognition. UC's 2005 defense had as many as five first-year freshmen starters, and Narduzzi helped groom two of them, Mike Mickens and Corey Smith, for second team All-BIG EAST and third team Freshman All-American honors.

Prior to coming to Cincinnati, Narduzzi was the architect of the Miami (Ohio) unit in 2003 which helped the RedHawks to a No. 10 finish in the national polls, a Mid-American Conference championship and a win over Louisville in the GMAC Bowl. Miami was ranked first in the MAC in four defensive categories and ranked No. 24 nationally in total defense.

Narduzzi previously helped Northern Illinois to a pair of MAC divisional titles during his three seasons there (2000-02) as linebackers coach. In 2002, the Huskies had the league's stingiest defense against the run and were ranked No. 39 nationally in scoring defense.

Narduzzi, who has compiled 16 seasons of coaching experience, launched his career at Miami in 1990, serving two seasons as a graduate assistant and tutoring the receivers in 1992.

In 1993, he began a seven-year tenure at Rhode Island. In his very first season as defensive coordinator, he turned around the Rams, who had finished last in the Atlantic 10 Conference in total defense, scoring defense and rushing defense the preceeding year to No. 2 in all three categories.

A Youngstown, Ohio native, Narduzzi earned all-state football honors at Ursuline High. He played for his father, Bill Narduzzi, at Youngstown State, as a freshman and led the Ohio Valley Conference in tackles. He transferred to Rhode Island and became a three-year starter at linebacker. Narduzzi completed his bachelor's at Rhode Island in 1990 and his master's at Miami in 1992.

Born: Jan. 2, 1967

Personal: Married, wife Tammy; son Todd (12), daughter Tori (11)

Harlon Barnett can draw from his career as a player as well as his experience as a coach when he tutors the Bearcat defensive backs.

Barnett played in the NFL for seven seasons following his four years of college football at Michigan State. As a coach, he was part of LSU's national championship campaign in 2003.

Barnett became secondary coach at Cincinnati in 2004. Two members of the secondary, Daven Holly and Doug Monaghan, earned all-conference recognition during his initial season, with Holly taken in the 2005 NFL Draft. UC was ranked 37th nationally in pass defense.

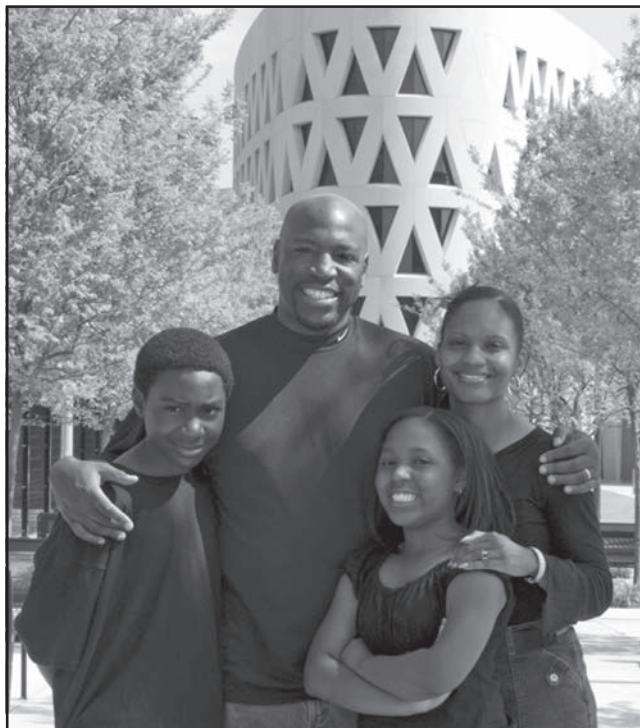

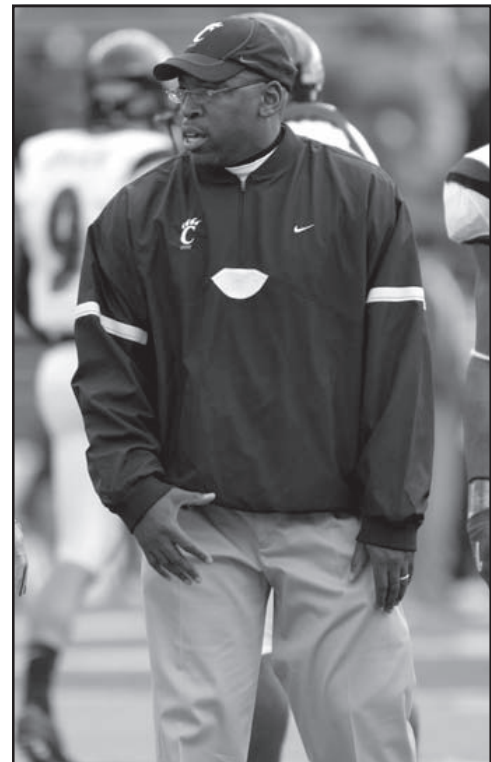

In 2005, Barnett aided the development of Mike Mickens, who earned second team All-BIG EAST honors and was a third team Freshman All-American.

A native Cincinnati, Barnett played on four bowl teams at Michigan State where he was a three-year starter in the secondary. He earned first team All-Big Ten and All-American honors as a senior.

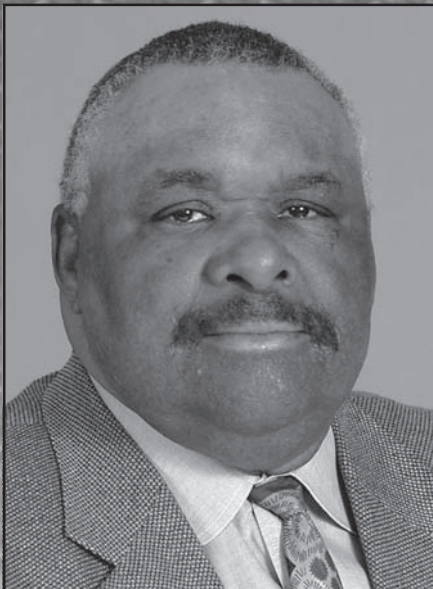

Barnett was taken in the fourth round of the 1990 NFL draft by the Cleveland Browns where he played for three seasons. He spent two seasons at New England (1993-94) and two more with Minnesota (1995-96).

Barnett launched his coaching career in Cincinnati in 1998 at Princeton High. He served two seasons as secondary coach and became defensive coordinator in 2000.

Barnett earned his bachelor's degree in communications at Michigan State in 1990 and has a certificate from the Ohio Center for Broadcasting.

Cincinnati's defensive linemen have rewritten the University of Cincinnati record books while keying the team's aggressive defense since Ted Gill arrived on the staff in 2003.

During Gill's tenure, Antwan Peek set season and career records for sacks as well as the career mark for tackles for loss before earning All-Rookie honors in the NFL with the Houston Texans. Trent Cole and Andre Frazier finished second in career tackles for loss and sacks, respectively. Three linemen from the 2004 team, Cole (fifth round draft pick by Philadelphia), Frazier (free agent, Pittsburgh), and Mike Wright (free agent, New England) furthered their careers in the NFL.

Another protege, Adam Roberts, was the keystone of the 2005 defensive line, ultimately earning a berth in a postseason all-star game as well as interest from the pros.

Gill's resume includes 31 seasons of coaching experience at almost every level of football. He coached in the professional ranks with the Carolina Panthers of the NFL (1996-98), the Los Angeles Xtreme of the XFL (2000) and the Montreal Alouettes of the CFL (2002).

Gill's collegiate career includes three seasons as defensive coordinator at Ball State (1977-79), where he built a defense that ranked in the top 10 nationally in each of his final two seasons and led the nation in scoring defense in 1978, helping Ball State to the Mid-American Conference title.

Gill launched his coaching career as offensive line coach at Utah (1974-76) and moved to New Mexico State in 1977. He sandwiched a four-year stint as linebackers and defensive line coach at North Carolina (1984-87) between stops at Cornell (1982), Army (1983) and Rice (1988-89).

Gill moved to Iowa in 1990, working with the defensive line for Hawkeye teams that made bowl appearances in all five seasons, including the 1991 Rose Bowl. He left Iowa in 1995 to become defensive coordinator at Oklahoma State.

The professional ranks beckoned in 1996 with Gill becoming defensive line coach for the Carolina Panthers, who reached the NFC Championship game.

A 1973 graduate of Idaho State University with a bachelor's degree in education, Gill lettered twice in football for the Bengals, earning All-Big Sky honors as linebacker and nose tackle as a senior in 1969.

TIM HINTON RUNNING BACKS

College: Wilmington (1982)

Coaching Experience: 25 seasons

- Wilmington College (1982-85), TEs and WRs
- Ohio State (1985-86), graduate assistant
- Zane Trace High (1987-88), head coach
- Van Wert High (1989), head coach
- Ohio (1990), receivers; (1991-92), defensive line
- Marion Harding High (1993-2003), head coach
- Cincinnati (2004-present), running backs

Born: April 12, 1960

Personal: Married, wife Bev; daughters Dawn (18) and Drew (15)

Tim Hinton has achieved great success in coaching on both the high school and college levels.

Hinton struck success almost immediately after arriving at Cincinnati in 2004 as running backs coach. In his first season, he helped develop Richard Hall into a 1,000-yard rusher and all-league running back, and tutored a ground attack which averaged 183.4 yards per contest.

Hinton previously served 11 seasons as head coach at Marion (Ohio) Harding High, during which time he directed teams to five conference titles and five appearances in the state playoffs. He had two teams advance to the regional finals and sent 13 players to the major college playing ranks, including current Bearcats Dominic Ross and Brad Bury. In 1995, he was named Ohio Division I co-Coach of the Year.

Hinton has served as an assistant in the college ranks for eight seasons. He spent three seasons at Ohio University, two as defensive line coach (1991-92) and one as receivers tutor (1990). He was a member of the Ohio State staff for two years (1985-86), helping the Buckeyes to a pair of bowls and the 1986 Big Ten co-championship as a graduate assistant.

During his four seasons at Wilmington College (1981-84), Hinton helped the school to two conference titles and a pair of appearances in the NAIA playoffs.

Hinton launched his coaching career while an undergraduate at Wilmington, serving as an assistant at Amanda-Clearcreek High for three years (1978-80). He was a student assistant coach at Wilmington in 1981. He also was head coach at Zane Trace (1987-88) and Van Wert (1989) high schools.

- Illinois (2003), running backs; (2004), offensive coordinator/running backs
- Cincinnati (2005-present), offensive line

Born: Sept. 27, 1960

Personal: Married, wife Patti; daughters Marissa (8), Mallory (7), Maura (3); son Danny (1)

Dan Roushar has compiled an extensive background of experience during his 22 seasons in the coaching profession.

Roushar became Cincinnati's offensive line coach in 2005 after spending the previous two seasons at Illinois. Roushar served as the Illini running backs coach in 2003 and added the duties of offensive coordinator in 2004.

Roushar served as offensive coordinator for the final five years of his six-year coaching stint at Northern Illinois (1997-2002), where he also tutored the offensive line. During his tenure there, NIU set school marks for total yards and rushing yards and produced four 1,000-yard rushers.

A two-time letterman as an undergrad at Northern Illinois under Hall of Fame coach Bill Mallory, Roushar launched his coaching career at his alma mater as a student assistant in 1984 while completing his bachelor's degree. He spent a year as a grid aide at Aldine Eisenhower High in Houston, Texas following his graduation in 1985, before returning to the college ranks.

Roushar spent seven seasons at Butler, the first three (1986-88) as offensive backfield coach and the final four (1989-92) as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. The Bulldogs won five conference titles and made two Division II playoff appearances during his tenure.

After stints as offensive line coach at Rhode Island (1993) and offensive coordinator at Ball State (1994), Roushar served two years at Illinois as quarterbacks coach (1995) and offensive tackles and tight ends (1996).

MARK STATEN TIGHT ENDS AND TACKLES/ RECRUITING COORD.

College: Miami (Ohio) (2001)

Coaching Experience: 6 seasons

- Crespie Carmelite High, Encino, Calif. (1999), assistant coach
- Miami (Ohio) (2000), student assistant; (2001), graduate assistant
- Ohio State (2002-03), graduate assistant, offensive line
- Cincinnati (2004-present), tight ends and tackles; recruiting coordinator.

Born: Oct. 8, 1970

Personal: Married, wife Dana; son Quinn (1)

Mark Staten combines professional playing experience with his solid coaching background.

Staten made an impact both as a tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator upon joining the Cincinnati staff in 2004. Brent Celek set a UC record for touchdown receptions by a tight end with eight en route to earning second team All-Conference USA honors, while Anthony Hoke earned C-USA All-Freshman honors.

Staten expanded his duties to include tutoring the offensive tackles as well as the tight ends in 2005. The tight end position continued to play a key role in the passing game, with Celek finishing second in both receptions (32) and receiving yards (361). Two more products of the recruiting efforts, Mike Mickens and Corey Smith, earned Freshman All-American honors.

Staten previously served on the Ohio State staff the previous two seasons, where he contributed to the Buckeyes' 2002 national championship. As the offensive graduate assistant, Staten worked with the offensive linemen, tight ends and long snappers.

A four-year starter at defensive tackle at Miami (Ohio), Staten earned All-Mid-American Conference honors as a senior. He made the Cincinnati Bengals practice squad as a free agent in 1993 and was a member of the New England Patriots for the end of the 1993 season and in 1994. Staten was drafted by the Barcelona Dragons of the World Football League in 1995, but sustained a career-ending knee injury.

Staten launched his coaching career as an assistant at Crespi Carmelite High in Encino, Calif. in 1999. He returned to Miami in 2000 as student assistant coach and was promoted to graduate assistant in 2001.

Staten attained his background in recruiting, helping coordinate on-campus recruiting arrangements while at Miami and Ohio State. He oversaw junior college recruiting efforts while at Ohio State.

Staten completed his bachelor's degree at Miami in 2001 and is pursuing his master's in sports exercise science.

MIKE TRESSEL LINEBACKERS/ SPECIAL TEAMS

College: Cornell College (1996)

Coaching Experience: 11 seasons

- South Dakota (1996-97), graduate assistant
- Wartburg College (1998-00), offensive line; (2001), offensive coordinator, quarterbacks
- Ohio State (2002-03), graduate assistant, linebackers
- Cincinnati (2004-present), linebackers and special teams

Born: Sept. 28, 1973

Personal: Married, wife Megan; son Logan (5), daughter Quincy (2)

Mike Tressel has been part of championship football programs.

Prior to arriving on the Cincinnati staff as linebackers and special teams coach in 2004, Tressel served two seasons at Ohio State where he contributed to the Buckeyes' 2002 national championship.

Tressel previously coached at Wartburg College for four seasons (1998-01), where he helped the school to one conference title and a 36-4 record during that tenure. He was offensive line coach for three years and offensive coordinator for one season.

Tressel continued to build on his track record for success at Cincinnati. In his first season (2004), his three linebackers were the Bearcats' first, third- and fifth-leading tacklers, with Jamar Enzor and Tyjuan Hagler both earning all-conference honors. Hagler was selected in the fifth round of the NFL Draft and was with the Indianapolis Colts.

In 2005, he helped develop Corey Smith into a second-team All-BIG EAST Conference selection and a berth on the Freshman All-American team.

A four-year starter in the secondary at Cornell (Iowa) College, Tressel twice earned Academic All-American honors. Upon graduation in 1996, he launched his coaching career at South Dakota as a graduate assistant for two seasons, working with the offense.

Mike comes from a bloodline of championship college football coaches. He is the nephew of Ohio State head coach Jim Tressel, who in addition to winning the 2002 BCS national title, won four Division I-AA championships while at Youngstown State. Mike's grandfather, Lee Tressel, won a Division III national championship and was one of the winningest coaches in that division at Baldwin-Wallace College. His father, Richard, is currently running backs coach at Ohio State after serving as head coach at Hamline for 23 seasons.

Tressel earned his bachelor's in mathematics at Cornell in 1996 and his master's in sports administration at South Dakota in 1998.

DAVE WARNER QUARTERBACKS

College: Syracuse (1982)

Coaching Experience: 22 seasons

- Syracuse (1982-83), graduate assistant
- Kent State (1984-85), running backs; 1986-87) quarterbacks
- Kansas (1988-96), quarterbacks
- Bucknell (1997), quarterbacks
- Wyoming (1998), passing game coordinator
- Connecticut (1999-00), offensive coordinator
- Houston (2001-02), passing game coordinator
- Southern Miss (2003-04), wide receivers
- Cincinnati (2006-present), quarterbacks

Born: May 10, 1960

Personal: Married, wife Leigh Ann; daughter Alexandra (15), son Jackson (2)

Dave Warner has compiled over two decades of offensive football coaching experience.

Warner, who joined the University of Cincinnati staff as quarterbacks coach in February, 2006, has been a quarterbacks coach and/or offensive coordinator or passing game coordinator for 18 of his previous 22 seasons as a college assistant.

He also brings the experience of having played at a BIG EAST school and coached at another. Most recently, he served stints at Southern Miss and Houston, where he had the opportunity to coach against three other BIG EAST programs.

Warner, who coached the wide receivers at Southern Miss in 2003 and 2004, previously served for two seasons as passing game coordinator at Houston (2001-02), was offensive coordinator at Connecticut (1999-00), passing game coordinator at Wyoming (1998) and quarterbacks coach at Bucknell (1997). He spent nine seasons as quarterbacks coach at Kansas (1988-96), where he and Dantonio served together, and spent four seasons—two as quarterbacks coach—at Kent State (1984-97).

A three-year letterwinner as a quarterback at Syracuse, Warner concluded his playing career ranked seventh in career passing yards (2,593) and was a member of the 1979 team that won the Independence Bowl. Upon graduation in 1982, he began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for the Orange, working with the quarterbacks and offensive backs.

He has coached in four bowl games: the 2004 New Orleans and 2003 Liberty Bowls while at Southern Miss, and the 1992 and 1995 Aloha Bowls while at Kansas.

Among Warner's top quarterback products is Kansas' Chip Hilleary, who became only the second player in Big Eight Conference history to rush for over 1,000 yards and pass for more than 4,000 yards. At Wyoming, he developed a passing attack that was ranked third in the Western Athletic Conference.

 • Cincinnati (1998-present), strength and conditioning coach

Born: April 17, 1962

Personal: Married, wife Karyn; sons Austin (12) and Connor (10)

University of Cincinnati football teams have developed a reputation for their strength and endurance during Tim Swanger's tenure as the head strength and conditioning coach.

Swanger, who has 17 years of experience of coaching strength training at the collegiate level, is responsible for developing and implementing a comprehensive strength and conditioning program for more than 400 student-athletes in 18 sports, providing the latest in equipment and nutritional data.

Swanger, 44, came to Cincinnati in 1998 after serving in the same capacity at the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. for six years (1992-98).

A native of Shelby, Ohio, Swanger graduated from Muskingum College in 1989. He was a four-year starter in football, earning All-Ohio Athletic Conference honors three times. As a senior in 1985, he received Division III All-American honors and received the league's Critchfield Award as the league's top defensive player. The 1985 recipient of the W.G. Moore Award as the top senior student-athlete at Muskingum, Swanger was inducted into the school's athletic hall of fame in 1997.

In addition to his duties working with UC student-athletes, Swanger teaches a course in strength methods and applications through the Health Promotions Department. Swanger holds a BA in Health and Physical Education from Muskingum College and has a Masters Health Promotion and Education from the University of Cincinnati.

He is also a certified strength and conditioning specialist (CSCS) through the NSCA as well as certified strength & conditioning coach certified (CSCC) through the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association. Tim has earned his certification as a Master Strength and Conditioning Coach (MSCC) from the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association, a title accorded to only a handful of coaches nationally.

2005-06 BEARCATS

DR. NANCY L. ZIMPHER

PRESIDENT

Since October 1, 2003, Nancy L. Zimpher has served as the University of Cincinnati's 25th President and its first woman president. At UC, Dr. Zimpher has launched a comprehensive academic planning process that involved a wide spectrum of the university's stakeholders and resulted in the university's strategic vision, UC21: Defining the New Urban Research University.

From 1998 to 2003, Dr. Zimpher was the Chancellor of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and held a faculty position in its School of Education. Prior to her appointment in Wisconsin, she served as the Executive Dean of the Professional Colleges and Dean of the College of Education at The Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio. During her career, Dr. Zimpher has worked in various administrative positions and engaged in research and development efforts concerned with improving the preparation of teachers, especially teachers for urban contexts.

Dr. Zimpher is the co-author and co-editor of books on university leadership as well as books on teacher education and urban education. She also has authored and co-authored many monographs, book chapters, and academic journal articles related to academic leadership, school/university partnerships and teacher education, and in many instances her co-author has been her husband, Dr. Kenneth R. Howey, a research professor in education at UC. She often is sought after as a key participant at both national and international conferences, making numerous presentations for groups such as the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (AACTE), Association of Teacher Educators (ATE), American Educational Research Association (AERA), American Association for Higher Education (AAHE), National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC) and the American Council on Education (ACE).

Currently, she serves as chair of a national network of presidents of Urban Serving Universities (USU), chair-elect of the NASULGC Board of Directors and on the boards of ACE and the National Commission on Writing for America's Families, Schools, and Colleges. A past president of a national education reform network, The Holmes Partnership, she has previously served on the Executive Board of the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, as key investigator in the eight-year Research About Teacher Education (RATE) Study, on the American Council on Education's Leadership and Institutional Effectiveness Commission, on the Board of Directors of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I, as chair of NASULGC's Commission on International Programs and as Project Director for a U.S. Department of Education Teacher Quality Grant.

Dr. Zimpher participates on numerous state, regional, civic and community commissions and boards. Presently, she co-chairs the Ohio Board of Regents' Articulation & Transfer Advisory Council, serves on the board of the Governor's Ohio Partnership for Continued Learning and is a co-founder of a new coalition of higher education constituencies in Ohio called the Higher Education Leadership Coalition. She also serves on the Cincinnati Business Committee and co-chairs its Education Task Force; serves on the boards of the Cincinnati USA Regional Chamber of Commerce, Cincinnati Center City Development Corp. (3CDC), the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center, the United Way of Greater Cincinnati; and chairs the Uptown Consortium, a five-way partnership in neighborhood development adjacent to UC and the consortium partners.

She is the recipient of numerous awards including the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education's Chief Executive Leadership Award; Ohio State University's Alumni Association Professional Achievement Award; the Association of Teacher Educators' Distinguished Research Award; the AACTE's Edward C. Pomeroy Award for Outstanding Contributions to Teacher Education; and Virginia Commonwealth University's Distinguished Woman Scholar Award. In 1998, she was inducted into the Ohio Women's Hall of Fame, and she has been recognized with the YWCA's Women of Achievement award in Columbus, Milwaukee and Cincinnati.

MIKE THOMAS

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

University of Cincinnati athletics director Mike Thomas has compiled a wealth of experience in all phases of the administration of intercollegiate athletics at the major university level.

Thomas took charge of UC's 18-sport intercollegiate program on Dec. 1, 2005. He met several immediate challenges head-on upon his arrival. Thomas' first order of business was to select the Bearcats' new men's basketball head coach Mick Cronin, reuniting the program with a Cincinnati native who had been part of its success.

In June, upon his six-month anniversary at UC, Thomas unveiled CATAPULT, the action plan for the university's athletics program that focuses on athletics success, academic achievement and community engagement.

Thomas served as the Director of Athletics at The University of Akron the previous five years, during which the school's 18-sport program experienced unparalleled growth and success on and off the field or court of competition.

Thomas brings two decades of diverse and comprehensive experience to the helm of the UC athletic department. He spent seven years as associate athletic director at the University of Virginia, an institution known for achieving impressive success both academically and athletically. Virginia finished in the Top 25 in the Director's Cup in each year of Thomas' tenure there while at the same time was in the Top 10 nationally in student-athlete graduation rates.

Thomas brought that model with him to Akron. Under his direction, the Zips rose from last place to second among Mid-American Conference schools in the Director's Cup annual rankings. Simultaneously, Akron vaulted from last to second place in the MAC Academic Achievement Awards.

Thomas hired highly successful football and men's basketball head coaches at Akron, resulting in the Zips' first-ever Division I-A bowl game and a 42-20 men's basketball record the past two seasons. In his 20-year career he has worked with coaches with over 30 national championships among them.

Thomas increased the financial base of the Akron athletic program through increasing corporate sponsorship levels by 750 percent and boosted annual giving to athletics to its highest level in the school's history. Community support was rallied, with marked increases shown in football and men's basketball attendance.

Thomas improved Akron's multimedia presence, overseeing the development of the Zips Sports Radio and Television Networks, which increased UA's statewide radio coverage from 200,000 to 5 million homes and broadened television exposure. Akron's athletics image was re-branded, resulting in a double-digit increase in the department's licensing and merchandising royalties.

During his Akron tenure Thomas oversaw more than $25 million worth of athletics capital improvements, with the crown jewel being the university's Athletics Field House/Indoor Golf Facility. The $18.6 million, 155,000 square-foot, state-of-the-art facility opened in 2004 and is one of the finest facilities of its kind in the nation and is the host site for the BIG EAST Indoor Track & Field Championships. Thomas also laid the fundraising and physical planning groundwork for a new 30,000 seat on-campus football stadium which will be constructed in Downtown Akron.

Recognized for his administrative acumen by his peers, Thomas has served on several national and conference committees, including the NCAA Division I Academics/Eligibility/Compliance Cabinet, NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Issues Committee, and presently serves on the Division IA Athletic Directors Association Legislative Review Committee.

On Aug. 1, 2005 at the Chicago Athletic Club, Thomas received the General Robert R. Neyland Outstanding Athletic Director Award for his tremendous achievements at Akron. The award was presented by the All-American Football Foundation.

Prior to assuming the Director of Athletics position at UA, Thomas spent seven years as an associate director of athletics at the University of Virginia. As part of the senior management team at UVA, he handled a wide range of responsibilities including the direction of eight varsity programs, oversight of all game operations and athletics facilities, and the management of several departmental and program budgets.

Thomas also played an integral role in Virginia's $86 million football stadium expansion and supervised several capital projects during his tenure at the school. He served on several committees including those related to development, fiscal matters, gender equity and strategic planning. Thomas was active in the Atlantic Coast Conference as he chaired the league's committees on men's and women's swimming and diving, and rowing, and was a member of the sportsmanship committee. Thomas also served on the NCAA Rowing Committee.

Before joining the staff at Virginia, Thomas spent seven years as the assistant director of athletics for internal operations at the University of Denver. In that position, he supervised the areas of programs, compliance, business affairs, facilities and event operations. Prior to that post, he was on the athletics promotions and marketing staff at the University of Iowa.

Thomas, 46, received his B.S. degree in Business Administration from Colorado State University in 1983, and his M.S. in Athletic Administration from Western Illinois University in 1986. He and his wife, Jenifer, have four children: Vincent (21), Joseph (17), Mick (15), and Meredith (11).

BIG EAST CONFERENCE

BIG EAST

BIG EAST CONFERENCE FOOTBALL

The 2005 season began a new era of BIG EAST Conference football as the University of Cincinnati, University of Louisville and University of South Florida joined Connecticut, Pittsburgh, Rutgers, Syracuse and West Virginia to give the league an expanded gridiron presence that now ranges as far south at Tampa, Fla. and as far west as Louisville, Ky.

The league that quickly established itself as a national force after its inception in 1991, continued its success a season ago as four schools earned trips to bowl games. West Virginia (11-1, 7-0 BIG EAST) finished the regular season unbeaten in league play for the first time since 1993 to win the 2005 BIG EAST Conference title. Earning the BIG EAST's automatic Bowl Championship Series bid, West Virginia represented the conference in the 2006 Nokia Sugar Bowl in Atlanta. The Mountaineers defeated Georgia, 38-35, to finish the year fifth in the final Associated Press Top 25 Poll and sixth in the final USA Today Poll. Louisville was ranked 19th and 20th, respectively, in the final AP and USA Today polls.

Over the last five seasons, the BIG EAST has compiled one of the best winning percentages of any BCS conference in bowl games. BIG EAST Conference teams are 16-13 in postseason play since 2000.

The BIG EAST has been a frequent contender for the national championship. Eight times in the league's 15 seasons a BIG EAST squad has been in a bowl game, playing for a claim to the national crown.

The BIG EAST has always been proud of its football student-athletes for their academic achievements. In 2005, West Virginia's Jay Henry was named an ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America First Team performer as selected by CoSIDA. In addition, seven league players earned Academic All-District honors. Henry and teammates Dan Mozes and Gavin Justice, as well as Connecticut's Rhema Fuller and Rutgers'

Brian Leonard and Ryan Neill earned first team accolades. Louisville's Brian Brohm and Cincinnati's Earnest Jackson garnered second team honors.

Since its birth, the BIG EAST has been a national power, both on and off the field. Commissioner Michael Tranchese served as coordinator of the BCS for two years from 2002-03. He has spearheaded the development of BIG EAST football since its beginning.

The BIG EAST Conference's entrance into football was announced on February 5, 1991. The league gained instant notice and credibility with its level of excellence on the field and with its television and bowl relationships. The BIG EAST has been a charter member of each of the major bowl agreements with the major conferences, beginning with The Bowl Coalition in 1992 followed by The Bowl Alliance in '95. The Bowl Championship Series began in '98. Recently, it was announced that the BIG EAST will continue as an automatic qualifier in the new BCS agreement that will begin in 2006.

Extensive TV Exposure

Extensive television exposure and the BIG EAST have been synonymous terms. For football, the league established its own regional television package in 1991 before it had played a game. The BIG EAST Television Network immediately was the largest regional college football network in the country.

The BIG EAST has television agreements with ABC and ESPN that run through the 2007 season. Both

NOTING BIG EAST FOOTBALL

- Every one of the BIG EAST Conference member schools has been to a bowl game during the past two seasons.
- Over the past five years, no conference owns a better winning percentage in bowl games than the BIG EAST.
- The BIG EAST Conference begins its second season of utilizing instant replay to assist its game officials. Under the procedure, which began in 2005, an official in a pressbox booth will determine if a play is to be reviewed, and utilize the video provided from various angles of the play. Unlike the NFL, coaches do not have the prerogative of asking for a play to be reviewed.

agreements ensure that ABC or ESPN telecasts a BIG EAST game virtually every week of the year.

ESPN Regional Television owns broadcasting rights for all telecasts not assigned to ABC or ESPN. ERT, which took over for the BIG EAST Network in 1996, produces and distributes additional games, including a BIG EAST Game of the Week, through syndication, local markets and pay-per-view.

The BIG EAST has always aligned itself with prestigious bowl games. The league champion plays in the Tostitos Fiesta, FedEx Orange, Allstate Sugar or Rose Bowls as part of its membership in the Bowl Championship Series.

In a first-of-its-kind collaboration among Division I conferences and football bowl partners, the BIG EAST and Big 12 Conferences — along with the University of Notre Dame — have together forged a bowl partnership beginning in 2006 that will assure both BCS Conferences' and Notre Dame's participation in the Toyota Gator Bowl and Vitalis Sun Bowl over a four-year period. In years when selecting a BIG EAST team, the Toyota Gator Bowl or Vitalis Sun Bowl will have the first pick after the BIG EAST's representative to the Bowl Championship Series has been determined. The Atlantic Coast Conference will provide the opposition in the Toyota Gator Bowl and the Pac-10 Conference will participate in the Vitalis Sun Bowl.

Six Bowl Opportunities

The Meineke Car Care Bowl is now in its fifth year with the BIG EAST Conference. The Meineke Car Care Bowl, which is played in Bank of America Stadium in Charlotte, N.C., will pick after the Toyota Gator Bowl or Vitalis Sun Bowl. If Navy is bowl eligible in 2006, the Midshipmen will receive the bid to the Meineke Car Care Bowl.

In November, the BIG EAST entered into a four-year agreement to participate in the Houston Bowl and will meet an opponent from the Big 12 Conference beginning in the 2006 season. On April 27, the NCAA Bowl Certification Committee gave the Houston Bowl a 60-day extension before making a decision on certification. The Houston Bowl is played at the state-of-the-art Reliant Stadium in Houston, Texas.

The BIG EAST Conference has also aligned itself with two new bowls — the International Bowl in Toronto, Ontario, and the Birmingham Bowl in Birmingham, Ala. The two bowls were approved by the NCAA Bowl Certification Committee on April 27. The new agreements currently give the BIG EAST a total of six bowl deals. In the International Bowl, the BIG EAST will meet a team from the Mid-American Conference. In the Birmingham Bowl, the BIG EAST will play a team from Conference USA. The International Bowl will be played in the Rogers Centre on Jan. 6. The Birmingham Bowl will be played at Legion Field on Dec. 23. Both games will be televised by ESPN or ESPN2.

THE BIG EAST CONFERENCE

MICHAEL TRANGHESE COMMISSIONER

Mike Tranghese has accepted and answered the challenges of The BIG EAST Conference since he opened the league's doors as the first full-time employee in 1979. Now in his 17th year as Commissioner, he embarks on the second academic year of serving the nation's largest Division I-A conference. He will help the 16-member BIG EAST continue on its path of success with his effective leadership and staunch commitment to integrity.

During his tenure as Commissioner, which began in 1990, Tranghese has been faced with critical membership issues on several occasions. The league has always emerged in a stronger position.

The number of sponsored sports, now at 23, has risen steadily under Tranghese. He orchestrated the formation of BIG EAST football, which began in 1991. Tranghese, who is acknowledged as an industry leader in television negotiation and production, has been a central figure in every television negotiation in the league's history. All of this has been accomplished in an NCAA environment that seems to be in a continual state of change.

Tranghese has ensured the league's position as a leader in television exposure. The BIG EAST has been a long-time partner with CBS Sports and ESPN and has enjoyed multi-year agreements with both entities in basketball and football. The league's current television contract also includes appearances on ABC.

Additionally, Tranghese was the force behind The BIG EAST Television Network, which was a benchmark for regional network television. In 1995, the league awarded ESPN, Inc. exclusive rights to all of its basketball and football games not broadcast on a national network.

Tranghese moved into the Commissioner's chair on June 21, 1990 and has been an active leader nationally since his appointment. During the 2002 and '03 football seasons, he was the lead administrator of the Bowl Championship Series, the group of major conferences and bowls that produces a national championship game and the best possible bowl matchups.

In 2000-01, he concluded a five-year term on the NCAA Men's Basketball Committee by serving as chair. Tranghese also has served as chair of the NCAA Men's Basketball Subcommittee on Television. In addition, he has served as chair of the Division I-A Commissioners and the Collegiate Commissioners Association.

2005 SEASON REVIEW

2005 IN REVIEW

YOUNG BEARCATS BUILD FOUNDATION

The 2005 University of Cincinnati football team was quite a contrast from the 2004 Bearcats.

Gone were 25 seniors who had played pivotal roles over the ensuing seasons. The Bearcats took the field for their opening game without a quarterback who had thrown a pass in a college game, or a line-backer who had played a single down at the position the previous year. With just 10 seniors, leadership was at a premium.

UC was making its debut in the BIG EAST Conference after a nine-season run in Conference USA, a move which significantly strengthened the schedule.

On the plus side, head coach Mark Dantonio and his staff were in their second year, giving them the opportunity to refine their systems after building a solid foundation during the 7-5 campaign of 2004, which concluded with a win in the Fort Worth Bowl.

Especially critical for the team's success were the results of the staff's first two recruiting efforts, as the Bearcats were a freshman sophomore dominated team in terms numbers, talent and depth.

Cincinnati was clearly one of the youngest teams in the country, with 21 freshmen seeing action, 10 of whom were first-time frosh. A total of 31 Bearcats saw their first-ever college action in 2005.

Defense Dominated by Freshmen

The UC defense was dominated by freshmen, eight of whom started during the course of the campaign. Those rookies quickly made their marks.

Corey Smith led the team in tackles throughout the season from his outside linebacker season, before his year was ended prematurely after nine games by injury.

Mike Mickens became a mainstay in the secondary and ranked among the nation's leaders in passes defended, finishing the year No. 2 in the NCAA stats. Smith and Mickens both earned Freshman All-American recognition, and were second team All-BIG EAST selections.

Terrill Byrd locked onto the starting spot at nose tackle almost upon his arrival for preseason drills and was a mainstay on the unit, starting all 11 games. Byrd was flanked by Trevor Anderson, who made eight starts at end, and Thomas Claggett, who started three games at tackle.

The Bearcat defense started as many as seven freshmen in 2005, yet continued to strive on its attacking style of play.

Ryan Manalac, a redshirt frosh, started two games and saw significant playing time in others at middle linebacker. Cedric Tolbert saw considerable action at safety with Patrick Mimms, Lamonte Nelms and K.L. Smith all contributing.

The youngsters were provided leadership by a trio of established veterans. Adam Roberts, a senior co-captain, turned in big play after big play from his defensive end position to lead the team in tackles for loss and sacks. Antoine Horton and Dominic Ross had experience as starters in the secondary.

Three other Bearcats emerged from support roles to become major cogs in the defense. Kevin McCullough, whose previous action had been limited to the special teams, took over the middle linebacker position. Despite missing one game and being limited in part of two others by injury, the junior was the team's fourth-leading tackler, finished second in tackles for loss and was tops in recovering turnovers with three fumble recoveries—one returned for a touchdown—and an interception.

Sophomore Haruki Nakamura, a backup a year ago, turned in some of the hardest hits from his free safety spot and eventually took over the team lead in tackles with 75. Anthony Williams emerged to become a steady performer at outside linebacker, finishing second in tackles with 66.

Redshirt Frosh Leads the Offense

The offense had a larger core of returning veterans, which created fewer opportunities for first-year players to make an immediate impact. The glaring exception was at quarterback, where redshirt frosh Dustin Grutza was thrust into the fray. Grutza responded admirably by completing 56 percent of his passes for 1,799 yards and 11 TDs.

Senior Derick Ross, junior Bill Poland and sophomores Earnest Jackson and Antwan Giddens provided an experienced group of receivers for the Grutza-led passing game. The biggest target was Brent Celek, whose 32 catches and 361 yards was the third-best season by a UC tight end.

The rushing game was one area in which UC enjoyed depth and some experience. Bradley Glatthaar, Butler Benton and Greg Moore en-joined in a three-back rotation at running back. Glatthaar, the starter, was particularly effective near the goal line, scoring seven touchdowns in UC's first six games. He led the team in both scoring and rushing.

Doug Jones, converted from tight end the previous season, enjoyed another good year as a lead blocker at fullback and pass receiver out of the backfield.

The senior trio of center Matt Webster, left guard Ryan Brown and left tackle Steve Eastlake, and sophomore right tackle Digger Bujnoch formed the core of the offensive line.

Bearcats Win Two of First Three

Cincinnati opened the season with a 28-26 win over Eastern Michigan via Grutza's 176-yard, two-TD passing performance and a 293-yard ground attack. The Bearcats rebounded from a 42-24 loss to eventual Big Ten champion and No. 3 Penn State to edge Western Carolina, 7-3. A 28-17 win over Connecticut in the BIG EAST home opener snapped a two-game losing skid and evened the Bearcats' record at 3-3 at the midpoint of the season. A loss to Louisville was followed by a 22-16 win at Syracuse and put UC in position to become bowl eligible for the fifth time in the past six seasons. Injuries and the team's youthfulness caught up with UC, which dropped its final three games to finish with a 4-7 ledger.

The best thing about freshmen is that they become sophomores. If the 2005 football season is not viewed as a success in its own right, when compared to recent Cincinnati teams, it certainly has laid a solid foundation, complete with talented and experienced players for future years.

FROSH EARN BIG EAST, ALL-AMERICAN HONORS

First-year freshmen Mike Mickens and Corey Smith were named to the 2005 BIG EAST second team all-conference team.

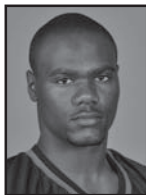

Mickens led the BIG EAST and was second nationally in passes defended, averaging 1.5 per game. Mickens, who won a starting berth in the UC secondary during preseason, finished sixth on the team in tackles with 51.

Smith became a mainstay at outside linebacker during the preseason. He was UC's leading tackler before injury curtailed his season after nine games, and finished third with 64 stops. He also had seven tackles for loss.

Mickens was named to FootballNews.com's Freshman All-American second team with Smith attaining third team honors. Both players received Freshman All-American honorable mention recognition by The Sporting News.

Captains

Three seniors and a junior provided the leadership of the 2005 Bearcats as team captains. The four, who were elected by their teammates, were offensive tackle Steve Eastlake, defensive end Adam Roberts, wide receiver Derick Ross, all seniors, and junior tight end Brent Celek.

Grutza First Freshman Starter

Dustin Grutza made University of Cincinnati history when he took the first snap from center in UC's season opener vs. Eastern Michigan. Grutza became the first freshman to open the season as the Bearcats' starting quarterback. There is no evidence in available records, dating back to World War II, that a freshman had ever before started the season opener.

Double Digit Tacklers

The Bearcats recorded eight double-digit tackling performances during 2005, an increase over the 2004 season total of five.

Freshman Corey Smith set the team season high for tackles when he posted 13 stops vs. Western Carolina (Sept. 17).

Sophomore Haruki Nakamura led UC in double digit performances with three, having recorded 12 tackles vs. Penn State (Sept. 10), Miami (Ohio) (Sept. 28) and West Virginia (Nov. 9).

Freshman Mike Mickens had 11 tackles vs. Miami (Ohio) on Sept. 28.

Junior Kevin McCullough turned in two double digit performances, making 10 stops vs. Pittsburgh (Oct. 8) and 10 vs. USF (Nov. 19).

Sophomore David Wess recorded 10 tackles vs. Rutgers on Nov. 26.

Poland on the Prowl

Bill Poland became Cincinnati's hottest receiver

MICKENS AMONG LEADERS IN PASS DEFENSE

First-year freshman cornerback Mike Mickens finished second nationally in passes defended. Mickens had 14 breakups and one interception in 10 games this season, giving him an average of 1.5 passes defended.

down the stretch run of the season. The junior wide receiver, who had only one catch for 11 yards in UC's first six games, made 16 receptions for 244 yards and two TDs over the last five contests. Poland recorded career highs with six catches for 124 yards vs. USF on Nov. 19, becoming the first UC receiver to top the century mark in receiving yards in 2005.

Glatthaar's Scoring Streak

Bradley Glatthaar tallied seven TDs in the Bearcats' first six games. Going back to the 2004 season, Glatthaar put together a streak in which he had scored a touchdown in 10 games over a 12-game stretch.

Good Efforts from Goodman

Dominick Goodman found numerous ways to contribute to the Bearcats. As a result of his multifaceted play, the first-year freshman finished second on the team in all-purpose yards (578) though he did not play in two of the first three contests.

In the Nov. 19 game vs. USF, Goodman caught a 25-yard touchdown pass, and threw a 32-yard pass off a lateral which set up UC's second TD. Goodman piled up 141 all-purpose yards in the Sept. 28 game vs. Miami (Ohio), gaining 64 yards on five pass receptions and returning four kickoffs for 77 yards.

CELEK TOPS AMONG UC TIGHT ENDS

Brent Celek has turned in two of the top four receiving seasons by a Bearcat tight end. In 2005, Celek finished second on the team in receptions (32) and receiving yards (361), both of which were the third highest single season totals by a UC tight end. Celek's 2005 stats bettered those of his 2004 season, which are the fourth-best by a tight end, except in touchdown receptions. Celek had eight TD catches in 2004, tops for a UC tight end.

UC BIG EAST HONOR ROLL

Six Bearcats earned BIG EAST weekly awards for their game performances in 2005.

- Kevin McCullough was named Defensive Player of the Week following Cincinnati's win over Syracuse on Oct. 29. McCullough scooped up a fumble and returned it 17 yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown, and recorded five tackles, 1.5 sacks and two tackles for loss.
- Chet Ervin earned Special Teams Player of the Week following the Syracuse win, in which he punted six times for a 46.0-yard average, twice pinning the Orange on their 1-yard line.
- Dustin Grutza was named BIG EAST Conference Offensive Player of the Week after passing for two touchdowns and running for a third in the Bearcats' 28-26 victory over Eastern Michigan in the season opener. The redshirt freshman from Maysville, Ky., completed 17 of 26 passes for 176 yards and ran for 49 yards, including a 21-yard TD.
- Bradley Glatthaar was named to the BIG EAST weekly honor roll for the week of Oct. 15 after rushing for a career-high 123 yards and two touchdowns in UC's 28-17 win over Connecticut.
- Dominick Goodman earned BIG EAST Honor Roll recognition for catching a touchdown pass and completing a pass which set up another TD in the Nov. 19 game vs. USF.
- Bill Poland was named to the BIG EAST Honor Roll after his performance in the Nov. 19 game vs. USF, in which he established career highs with six receptions for 124 yards.
- Dominic Ross was named to the BIG EAST Honor Roll for his performance in the Bearcats' 7-3 win over Western Carolina on Sept. 17. Ross entered the game in the fourth quarter and made two key interceptions to stop WCU.
- Adam Roberts was named to the BIG EAST Honor Roll twice this season. He was recognized after posting three tackles for loss in the Oct. 29 win over Syracuse, and repeated honors with his 9-tackle, 2.5 TFL performance vs. USF on Nov. 19.

Ervin Tops Career Punting Marks

Senior Chet Ervin became Cincinnati's all-time punting leader in career punts and punting yards. The senior finished with 241 punts for 9,446 yards, surpassing the previous marks of 236 punts set by Jeff Blaylock (1991-94) and 9,244 yards set by Shaun Burdick (1983-86).

Eastlake Closes on a Streak

Steve Eastlake closed his career with a streak of 35 consecutive starts at left tackle. The 6-6, 305-pound senior had been a fixture at the position since the beginning of the 2003 season.

Freshmen Lead Bearcat Defense

Cincinnati had the youngest defensive unit in the nation in 2005, starting as many as five first-year freshman at a time. Those true frosh starters did more than hold their own. Cornerback Mike Mickens was No. 2 nationally in passes defended, averaging 1.5 per game. Outside linebacker Corey Smith led the team in tackling throughout the season and despite missing the final two games of the season due to injury, finished third with 64 stops. Terrill Byrd started every game at defensive tackle and finished fifth on the team with 6.5 tackles for loss. Trevor Anderson, who made eight starts at defensive end, was third with 8.5 TFLs. Thomas Claggett, who started three games at tackle, finished second at UC in forced fumbles (2).

Nakamura Got Them By The Dozen

Sophomore Haruki Nakamura turned in three 12-tackle performances. Nakamura reached the dozen mark vs. West Virginia in a performance that included five solo stops, a sack and a quarterback hurry. The Bearcat free safety originally set his career high with 12 tackles in the Sept. 10 game at Penn State, and matched that total on Sept. 28 vs. Miami (Ohio). Nakamura was the team's tackling leader with 76 total stops.

Dominic Ross Makes Key Plays

Dominic Ross was not about to allow disappointment affect his performance. The junior lost his starting spot at strong safety to freshman Cedric Tolbert for the Sept. 17 Western Carolina game. Ross replaced the injured Tolbert in the fourth quarter and made two clutch interceptions. The first, on the UC 2-yard line, stopped WCU's go-ahead scoring drive early in the fourth quarter. His second pick, in the final minute, clinched the 7-3 victory. In UC's next contest at Miami (Ohio), Ross made a career-high 13 tackles, six of them solos, and had a tackle for loss.

Two Bearcats Picked for All-Star Game

University of Cincinnati seniors Adam Roberts and Chet Ervin were selected to play in the All-American Classic college football all-star game in Las Vegas on Jan. 14. Roberts, a 6-3, 255-pound defensive end, led UC in sacks (6.0) and tackles for loss (12.5) and was the team's seventh-leading tackler (50) in 2005. Ervin, a 6-3, 190-pound kicking specialist, handled the punting duties for the past four seasons, averaged 39.3 yards per punt in 2005.

30 Bearcats See First Action

A total of 30 Bearcats saw their first college game action during the 2005 season. Ten were first-year freshmen and 11 others are redshirt freshmen. A total of 12 Bearcats made their first college starts, six of them true freshmen.

HOW YOUNG WERE THOSE CATS?

- Cincinnati began the 2005 season with eight returning starters, the third fewest in the nation.
- UC's five senior starters was the second-fewest nationally.
- The Bearcats' initial two-deep had 41 lettermen, second-fewest to Navy.
- UC started four first-year freshmen on defense for eight games, the most in the nation, and for four games had five freshmen starters.

GAME 1: UC 28, EASTERN MICHIGAN 26

Sept. 1, 2005

Nippert Stadium

Cincinnati, OH

Dustin Grutza

Dustin Grutza passed for two touchdowns and ran for a third, and the Cincinnati defense came up with a game-deciding stop in the final seconds as the Bearcats opened the 2005 season with a 28-26 win over Eastern Michigan.

Grutza, a redshirt freshman making his college debut, directed touchdown drives on UC's first two possessions, connecting with Antwan Giddens for 10 yards and Greg Moore for 38 yards. He finished with 176 yards, completing 17 of 26 pass attempts.

UC's defense had troubles with EMU's explosive offense and the Bearcats fell behind, 20-14, at the half. Grutza showed his running ability, putting Cincinnati back in the lead with a 21-yard scamper on the first possession of the third quarter. The Bearcat defense stiffened, holding the Eagles to 29 yards in the third quarter. Bradley Glatthaar extended the lead with an 11-yard run early in the fourth quarter, but Eastern responded with a TD and cut the margin to two points.

Facing a fourth-and-1 from their 48 with 55 seconds to play, the Bearcats elected to go for the first down which would have allowed them to run out the clock. Butler Benton was stopped short. With 21 seconds to play, the UC defense was faced with the challenge of holding EMU on a fourth-and-1 situation. The Bearcats held to clinch the victory.

UC rolled up 469 yards in total offense, 293 on the ground. Glatthaar, with 75 yards on 14 carries, topped four runners who gained 50 or more yards.

GAME 2: PENN STATE 42, CINCINNATI 24

Sept. 10, 2005

Beaver Stadium

University Park, PA

Haruki Nakamura

Penn State's veteran defense limited the Bearcats to 31 net yards rushing as the Nittany Lions downed Cincinnati, 42-24. UC suffered four turnovers and PSU turned the miscues into three touchdowns. The first of those TDs came 3:29 into the contest when an interception by Dustin Grutza set up a 25-yard scoring drive, capped by Michael Robinson's 1-yard run. UC's offense got untracked early in the second quarter to produce a 24-yard field goal by Kevin Lovell, but the Nittany Lions closed the half with an 80-yard drive capped by Robinson's 3-yard pass to Patrick Hall.

Robinson struck for a pair of long passes in the third quarter, a 59-yard TD strike to Justin King and a 41-yard toss to Derrick Williams which set up a 1-yard run by Austin Scott. Grutza closed the third period with a 27-yard TD pass to Derick Ross. Penn State struck for two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter. Grutza retaliated with a 64-yard scoring drive capped by Bradley Glatthaar's 2-yard run with 39 seconds to play. After recovering an on-side kick, junior college transfer Nick Davila hit Earnest Jackson with a 5-yard TD pass with 18 seconds to play.

Frequently avoiding the Penn State rush with his scrambling ability, Grutza passed for 286 yards, completing 27 of 47 passes. Brent Celek had seven catches for 73 yards, both career highs. Haruki Nakamura had a career-best 12 tackles in addition to an interception and a fumble recovery.

GAME 3: UC 7, WESTERN CAROLINA 3

Sept. 17, 2005

Nippert Stadium

Cincinnati, OH

The University of Cincinnati defense, which started five first-year players, played the key role in the Bearcats' 7-3 win over Western Carolina.

Junior safety Dominic Ross intercepted a WCU pass on the UC 2-yard line midway through the fourth quarter, stopping a Catamount scoring march which had begun on the WCU 6. Ross clinched the victory with an interception with 22 seconds to play.

Ross, a junior safety who had entered the game in the fourth quarter when starter Cedric Tolbert left the game with an ankle injury, wasn't the only defensive star of the game.

Sophomore Haruki Nakamura snuffed a first half WCU scoring threat, which had reached the UC 17, win an interception. Anthony Williams, splitting time at outside linebacker with Jon Carpenter, helped set the stage for Ross' eventual game-clinching interception by sacking Clark for a 9-yard loss on the first play of WCU's final possession.

Corey Smith, one of those true freshmen starters on defense, turned in big play after big play in accumulating 13 tackles, including 2.5 tackles for loss and a sack.

The Bearcat offense mounted what turned out to be its lone scoring drive in the second quarter, Bradley Glatthaar capping an 89-yard march with a 7-yard TD burst.

UC reached WCU territory on its first three possessions of the second half, but turned the ball over twice on an interception by Dustin Grutza and Mike Daniels' fumble, and Kevin Lovell's 51-yard field goal try bounced off the crossbar.

Dominic Ross

Daniels' fumble set up the drive which culminated in the Catamounts' lone score, a 23-yard field goal by Stephen Brown.

GAME 4: MIAMI 44, CINCINNATI 16

Sept. 28, 2005

Yager Stadium

Oxford, OH

The Miami RedHawks proved that a heated rivalry game was a difficult situation for freshmen in defeating Cincinnati, 44-16, in the 110th meeting between the two schools.

Miami senior quarterback Josh Betts passed for 359 yards and three touchdowns as the veteran RedHawks piled up 539 yards of total offense.

The Bearcat defense, with four first-year freshmen starters and four other frosh seeing significant action, held its own at times. Jajuan Hall came up with an interception to stop a Miami threat. Dominic Ross made a career-high 13 tackles with Haruki Nakamura matching a personal best with a dozen stops. Mike Mickens also recorded a career high with 11 tackles.

Miami took a 10-0 lead early in the second quarter and added a touchdown with 53 seconds to play in the first half. UC's offense awakened to march 63 yards in nine plays, with Kevin Lovell putting the Bearcats on the scoreboard with a 34-yard field goal as time expired in the half.

The Bearcats put together a 10-play, 80-yard drive in the third quarter with Bradley Glatthaar scoring on a one-yard run. Redshirt freshman quarterback Dustin Grutza was intercepted three times in the fourth quarter, two of those picks leading to Miami TDs. Nick Davila, in relief of Grutza, engineered a late 65-yard drive, hitting Dominick Goodman with a four-yard TD toss. Goodman, another frosh, was one of the offensive bright spots with five catches for 64 yards, and had 77 yards on four kickoff returns.

GAME 5: PITTSBURGH 38, CINCINNATI 20

Oct. 8, 2005

Heinz Field

Pittsburgh, PA

Special teams miscues proved to be Cincinnati's undoing in a 38-20 loss to Pittsburgh. Those miscues started on the opening kickoff of UC's first-ever BIG EAST Conference game when the Bearcats surrendered a 69-yard kickoff return to Terrell Allen. UC's defense responded to the challenge and held Pitt to a field goal.

In the second quarter, a blocked punt set up a Pitt six-yard TD drive, quarterback Tyler Palko taking it the final five yards. A penalty on the ensuing kickoff put UC on its 15 where an interception led to another field goal and a 16-0 halftime deficit.

The Bearcats showed life in the third quarter with a 5-play, 73-yard scoring drive, keyed by Dustin Grutza's 56-yard hook-up with Earnest Jackson. The Panthers retaliated with a touchdown almost as quickly, Rashad Jennings' 13-yard run capping a six-play, 52-yard drive, and later in the quarter took a 30-7 lead with a 79-yard punt return by Darrell Revis.

Grutza rallied UC with TD passes of 47 yards to Brent Celek and 22 yards to Jackson. The freshman finished with 180 yards on 9-of-19 passing. Bradley Glatthaar, who scored UC's first TD on a five-yard run, had 63 yards in 16 carries.

The game was fairly even statistically. Pitt out-gained UC, 321-312, in total offense. The Bearcats actually had two more first downs than the Panthers and owned an edge in time of possession.

GAME 6: CINCINNATI 28, CONNECTICUT 17

Oct. 15, 2005

Nippert Stadium

Cincinnati, OH

Bradley Glatthaar

Connor Barwin on UC's first possession of the half. Benton caught a 34-yard pass from Grutza, then scored on a 27-yard run down the sideline.

D.J. Hernandez kept UConn in the game with a 16-yard TD pass to Lou Allen just before the end of the quarter and added a 13-yard scoring pass with 2:40 left in the game.

While UConn's defense entered the game with impressive credentials—the Huskies were No. 1 in pass defense in addition to total defense—the Bearcat defenders stole the show. Adam Roberts and Trevor Anderson each had two sacks. Mike Mickens had an interception and three pass breakups. Kevin McCullough had two fumble recoveries and Anthony Williams came up with a loose ball.

Bradley Glatthaar rushed for 123 yards and two touchdowns and the Bearcat defense came up with six sacks to spark Cincinnati to a 28-17 win over Connecticut, capping Homecoming on the UC campus.

Glatthaar scored the game's first TD on a seven-yard run near the end of the first quarter, then broke free for a 72-yard scoring run midway through the fourth quarter to give Cincinnati a 28-10 lead. The sophomore finished with a career high for yardage in helping UC rack up 223 yards on the ground against the UConn defense, which entered the game ranked No. 1 nationally in total defense.

Greg Moore, whose 28-yard run ignited UC's first scoring drive, finished with 64 yards in 11 carries with Butler Benton adding 44 yards and a TD in eight tries.

Cincinnati boosted its 7-3 halftime lead with a pair of third quarter touchdowns. Dustin Grutza capped a 65-yard drive with a seven-yard toss to

GAME 7: LOUISVILLE 46, CINCINNATI 22

Oct. 22, 2005

Nippert Stadium

Cincinnati, OH

Michael Bush rushed for 127 yards and three touchdowns and Louisville rolled up 547 yards in total offense, the most by a UC opponent in 2005, to defeat Cincinnati, 46-22, in the Battle for the Keg of Nails.

Louisville got on the scoreboard less than five minutes into the game on a 13-yard run by Bush, which capped a 5-play, 80-yard drive. The Bearcat defense stiffened, holding the Cardinals to a 3-and-out and forcing fumbles on UofL's next three possessions. UC converted the second fumble into a score when Brent Celek caught a 9-yard pass from Dustin Grutza early in the second quarter to give Cincinnati a 7-6 lead.

Louisville regained the lead on Brian Brohm's 8-yard pass to Montrell Jones on its next possession. The Bearcats then let an opportunity slip by when, after marching to the UofL 2, Grutza threw an interception. The Cardinals marched 98 yards in five plays to up their margin to 18-7 right before halftime.

Greg Moore

Louisville put the game out of reach with a pair of drives capped by Bush TDs in the third quarter. The Bearcats got two late scoring drives with Nick Davila at quarterback. Davila connected with Earnest Jackson for a 15-yard TD and found Bill Poland for an 11-yard score.

Davila finished with 136 yards on 9-of-15 passing. Grutza was 9-of-24 for 75 yards. Greg Moore provided an offensive spark, gaining 75 yards on 16 rushes.

GAME 8: CINCINNATI 22, SYRACUSE 16

Oct. 29, 2005

Carrier Dome

Syracuse, NY

Kevin McCullough scooped up a fumble and raced 17 yards for a TD early in the fourth quarter to lead Cincinnati to a 22-16 win at Syracuse.

The fumble was forced by Anthony Hoke's hit on quarterback Joe Fields. Dustin Grutza passed to Bill Poland for the 2-point conversion, which gave Cincinnati a 22-16 lead with 13:00 to play.

The defense continued to come up with big plays to preserve the victory. On Syracuse's ensuing possession, Anthony Williams had a 10-yard sack on a third-down play to force a punt. Hoke stopped Damien Rhodes dead in his tracks on a 3rd-and-1 situation to end the Orange's next drive. Syracuse drove to the UC 28 on its final possession. Tony Carvitti's 10-yard sack forced the Orange into 4th-and-17 spot, and their final pass was incomplete.

Syracuse scored on the game's first possession, Damien Rhodes' 4-yard run capping a 48-yard drive. Cincinnati retaliated with a 10-play, 80-yard scoring drive. Grutza was 5-of-5 for 61 yards, completing passes of 21 yards to Earnest Jackson and 18 yards to Derick Ross before finding Bill Poland for a 6-yard TD toss.

The Bearcats took a 14-7 lead on their next possession. The drive was kept alive by a roughing penalty on a UC punt and a Grutza run up the middle on a fake field goal try. Grutza carried the final two yards for the TD.

Rhodes took a screen pass 70 yards and scored from the 1-yard line late in the first half, but the extra point kick was missed.

Late in the third quarter, the Orange marched to the UC 2. Adam Roberts, who finished with three tackles for loss, threw Rhodes for an 8-yard setback and Syracuse had to settle for a field goal.

GAME 9: WEST VIRGINIA 38, CINCINNATI 0

Nov. 9, 2005

Nippert Stadium

Cincinnati, OH

Steve Slaton rushed for four touchdowns and the West Virginia defense stymied Cincinnati for a 38-0 blanking of the Bearcats.

Slaton gained 129 yards on 25 carries as the Mountaineers ground out 297 rushing yards on UC. West Virginia's defense may have played the more dominant role in the outcome of the game. UC was held to just 269 yards of total offense, and a mere 62 yards on the ground.

Excluding the game-ending drive, when a Hail-Mary pass put Cincinnati at the WVU 5-yard line with time expired, the Mountaineers allowed UC to penetrate midfield only three times. The Bearcats reached the Mountaineer 37 on their first possession, but suffered a tackle for loss and eventually punted.

Slaton scored on a 4-yard run to cap a 9-play, 81-yard drive on West Virginia's first possession. The Mountaineers had scoring drives of 89 and 59 yards in the second quarter, both culminating in Slaton TD bursts. The redshirt freshman tallied from 33 yards out in the third quarter. Quarterback Pat White, who contributed 111 yards rushing, completed 7-of-12 passes for 100 yards and a 15-yard TD toss to Darius Reynaud.

While the Bearcats surrendered 406 yards in total offense, there were some individual performances of note. Sophomore safety Haruki Nakamura recorded 12 tackles for the third time this season and had a sack and a quarterback hurry. Freshman linebacker Corey Smith turned in eight tackles and a TFL. Chet Ervin punted eight times for a 40.5-yard average.

GAME 10:

Nov. 19, 2005

USF 31, CINCINNATI 16

Raymond James Stadium

Tampa, FL

Cincinnati fell victim to South Florida's ball-control running attack and solid defensive play in losing to the Bulls, 31-16.

USF held the Bearcats to 89 yards rushing, eventually wearing down the UC attack and forcing a pair of costly turnovers in the third quarter, both of which resulted in Bulls TDs.

USF mounted a 16-play drive, consuming 8:12, on its opening possession before settling for a 25-yard Kyle Bronson field goal. Andre Hall extended that lead to 10-0 with a 1-yard TD plunge early in the second period, capping an 8-play, 64-yard drive.

Cincinnati got on the scoreboard shortly before halftime when Dustin Grutza hooked up with Dominick Goodman for a 25-yard TD. Midway through the third quarter, Grutza's third-down pass was intercepted by D'Juan Brown and returned 26 yards for a touchdown. Later in the quarter, the

Bill Poland

Bulls converted a Grutza fumble into a TD, Amarri Jackson scoring on a 22-yard end-around.

USF added a touchdown early in the fourth quarter. Grutza generated an 80-yard scoring drive, passing to Butler Benton for the final six yards. Grutza's 56-yard pass to Bill Poland set up Kevin Lovell's 26-yard field goal late in the game.

The Bearcats actually held a slight edge, 362-345, in total offense. UC held Hall, who entered the game ranked No. 4 nationally in rushing, to 100 yards on 29 carries, 24 yards under his season average. USF held a 13-minute advantage in time of possession.

GAME 11: RUTGERS 44, CINCINNATI 9

Nov. 26, 2005

Rutgers Stadium

Piscataway, NJ

Cincinnati was held to a season-low 146 yards in total offense, including minus-23 yards rushing, in absorbing a 44-9 loss to Rutgers in the season finale.

The Scarlett Knights boosted their BIG EAST Conference-leading sack statistics by throwing UC QB Dustin Grutza for nine losses totaling 68 yards. Grutza did managed to complete 15 of 24 passes for 169 yards and the Bearcats' lone touchdown, an 8-yard toss to Brent Celek in the fourth quarter. By that time, the game was well in the hands of Rutgers, which ground out 337 yards rushing for a healthy 6.7-yard average.

UC showed promise, taking the opening kickoff and driving to the Rutgers 39 before stalling. The Knights marched down the field for a 32-yard Jeremy Ito field goal. An 11-yard UC punt gave Rutgers a short field, from which the Knights took a 10-0 lead.

The Bearcats got on the scoreboard via a 45-yard field goal by Kevin Lovell early in the second quarter, but Rutgers retaliated with a TD drive capped by Ryan Hart's 24-yard pass to Clark Harris, and two late field goals by Ito, to take a 23-3 halftime lead. The lead was expanded in the third quarter by TD runs of 58 and 11 yards by Ray Rice.

Rice finished with 195 yards in 24 carries while Hart completed 16 of 26 passes for 237 yards.

HANK HARTONG - USA'S FIRST SOCCER STYLE PLACEKICKER

UC football can lay claim to a first of sorts.

During the 1961 season, the Bearcats featured a soccer-style kicker in Heinrich "Hank" Hartong.

A native of Eindhoven, Holland, Hartong caught the eye of the coaching staff in preseason drills when he successfully made 48-of-50 extra point tries.

Used on PATs and short field goals (under 40 yards) during the campaign, Hartong kicked five extra points and two field goals during the 1961 season.

In the opening game against Dayton on Sept. 16, Hartong kicked two points after touchdown. This was four days before Pete Gogolak made his first conversion for Cornell. Later he and his brother, Charlie Gogolak received much attention for this style of kicking which has now become commonplace. Hartong can claim being the first, if not the more noteworthy player, in this department.

------------------	-----------

Joe Morrison, who played six different positions, was a reliable runner and receiver for the N.Y. Giants in the late 1950's and 60's.

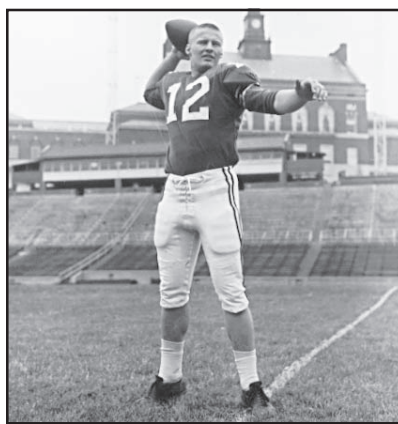

Ken Byers was drafted in 1962 by the New York Giants and was a starting guard in two NFL title games. He finished his career at Minnesota.

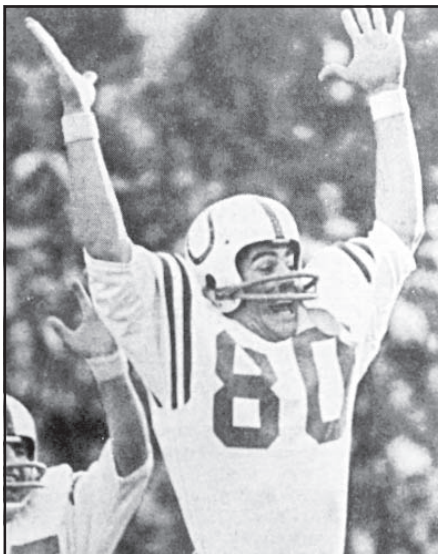

Bare-footed Rich Karlis (left) helped Denver to a pair of Super Bowl appearances and is the most notable of UC's impressive kicking alumni. Jim O'Brien (right), whose last-minute field goal lifted Baltimore to the 1971 Super Bowl title, heads the list, which includes former Washington Redskins punter Mike Connell and Jeff West, who punted for three NFL teams before completing his career with the Seattle Seahawks.

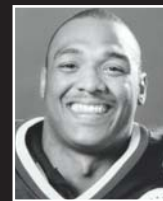

A triple threat as a Cincinnati QB, Brig Owens was one of the NFL's top defensive backs with the Washington Redskins.

Greg Cook was a first-round draft pick by the Cincinnati Bengals and earned NFL Rookie of the Year honors.

Jack Lee enjoyed an 11-season career in the American Football League with the Kansas City Chiefs, Houston Oilers and Denver Broncos.

A four-time all-league selection at UC, Jason Fabiani has started every game he during his eight seasons with the New York Jets before moving to Dallas..

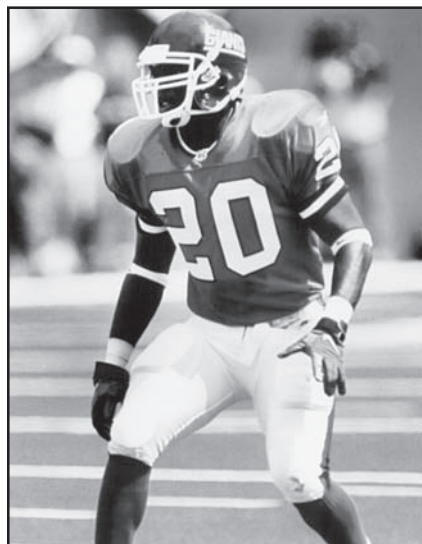

A second-round draft pick, Ron Kostelnik was part of Green Bay's NFL Championship teams of 1961, '62, '65 and '66 and Super Bowl Champs of '67 and '68.

Elbie Nickel was a three-time all-pro TE with the Pittsburgh Steelers and held many receiving records prior to the Lynn Swann era.

Vaughn Booker played nine NFL seasons, four with Kansas City, three with Cincinnati and two with Green Bay.

Sam Garnes was a starter throughout his NFL career, the first four with the New York Jets and the last two with the New York Giants.

UC BOWL HISTORY MAY INCLUDE FIRST-EVER BOWL GAME

Cincinnati's proud football history includes a number of firsts, possibly including the first postseason bowl game.

The NCAA Official Football Records recognizes the Rose Bowl, which was started in 1902, as being the first collegiate bowl game. A manuscript written by former UC athletic director Bill Schwarberg points to a bowl appearance by Cincinnati that pre-dates the Rose Bowl by five years.

Schwarberg, who played for the Bearcats from 1933-36 and served as interim athletics director in 1976, cited a record in the University's McMicken Review. It indicated that following the 1897 season, Cincinnati became the first institution from Ohio to make a trip south to play in a postseason game.

Cincinnati posted a 7-1-1 record that year, which included a 34-0 win over Ohio State. The lone team to beat UC was the powerful Carlisle Indians.

Shortly after Thanksgiving, management of the Cincinnati team received an invitation from the Southern Athletic Club to play a game in New Orleans on New Year's Day. A travel party of 14, which included the substitutes and the coach and manager, departed for New Orleans on Dec. 30 where they were hosted by the Southern Athletic Club. Accounts of the game have UC winning with ease by a score of 16-0.

At a victory party that evening, players from Louisiana State challenged the Bearcats to a game the next day in Baton Rouge. UC accepted the challenge and overwhelmed the LSU team, 28-0. Accounts of the trip describe lavish entertainment provided during the trip.

If this was indeed UC's first bowl game, it was 49 years before the Bearcats again experienced postseason play.

The post-World War II influx of veterans into colleges rejuvenated college athletics, and with that came a surge of new bowls.

Cincinnati capped a successful 1946 season with a trip to the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Texas. There, the Bearcats defeated Virginia Tech, 18-6.

UC made appearances in the Glass Bowl in Toledo in 1949 and returned to the Sun Bowl at the end of the 1950 campaign.

Cincinnati then went 47 years without a bowl appearance. That drought was broken when the Bearcats played in the inaugural Humanitarian Bowl in Boise, Idaho in 1997.

With Conference USA developing alliances with five bowls, the Bearcats made three straight bowl appearances in 2000, 2001 and 2002—the first two in the Motor City Bowl in Detroit and the third in the New Orleans Bowl.

In 2004, UC was selected to represent Conference USA in the PlainsCapital Fort Worth Bowl, the Bearcats' fourth bowl appearance in the past five years. UC defeated Marshall, 32-14, in that contest.

Cincinnati 32, Marshall 14

2004 PlainsCapital Fort Worth Bowl

Dec. 23, 2004

Fort Worth, Texas

Cincinnati's seniors capped their careers with a dominating performance in a 32-14 win over Marshall at the PlainsCapital Fort Worth Bowl.

Linebacker Tyjuan Hagler started things by blocking a punt one minute into the game, which was returned by Antwan Giddens for a touchdown. Hagler forced a fumble to set up one of three Kevin Lovell field goals, recorded a sack and had a team-high seven tackles to earn a spot on Football News' all-bowl team.

Trent Cole and Andre Frazier each recorded sacks while leading the defensive pursuit from their end positions, Cole also blocked a punt for a safety. UC's defense held the Thundering Herd to 134 total yards, minus-3 yards rushing.

Gino Guidugli capped his stellar career with his guttiest performance. Playing with a broken hand, Guidugli completed 24 of 36 passes for 231 yards and staked the Bearcats to their lead with a pair of second-quarter TD tosses. Guidugli was to be limited to shotgun snaps, but with the running game sputtering, he moved under center in the second quarter, a move which energized the offense. UC gained 168 yards on the ground, 62 by Richard Hall who capped his senior season with 1,000 yards. Hannibal Thomas caught nine passes for 102 yards to top the 1,000-yard mark in receiving.

UC jumped out to a 10-0 lead on Antwan Giddens return of Hagler's blocked punt and Lovell's 23-yard field goal. The Herd retaliated with two late first quarter TD's, the second on a 32-yard interception return of an errant Guidugli pass, the senior's lone miscue of the night. The Bearcat defense shut down Marshall after that, allowing just 52 yards in total offense the remaining three quarters.

Guidugli capped scoring drives of 13 and 11 plays with TD passes of 15 yards to Brent Celek and eight yards to Earnest Jackson to give UC a 28-10 lead before the half. The Bearcats coasted from there.

2002 New Orleans Bowl

Dec. 17, 2002

New Orleans, La.

Kevin Galbreath rushed for 130 yards and a touchdown to earn MVP honors as North Texas defeated Cincinnati, 24-19, in the second annual New Orleans Bowl.

After Cincinnati took an early 7-0 lead on a six-yard pass from Gino Guidugli to Tye Keith, North Texas ran off 24 straight points to build a 24-7 advantage.

Patrick Cobbs put the Mean Green ahead for good, 10-7, when he broke free for a 27-yard TD run with 10:53 left in the half. UNT extended the lead to 17-3 at the intermission when Jeremy Pearl returned a Guidugli interception 20 yards for a TD.

Galbreath finished the UNT scoring when he busted loose for a 35-yard TD run on the opening drive of the second half.

The Bearcats rallied however as Jonathan Ruffin connected on field goals of 29 and 33 yards, the second allowing him to break his own school record with 13 straight field goals made. Franklin Callicott pulled UC to within 24-19 when he stripped Cobbs of the ball in the backfield and raced 43 yards for a touchdown with 5:15 left. Guidugli's two-point conversion pass fell incomplete.

Cincinnati would not get the chance to come any closer as North Texas used a time-consuming ground game to key an 11-play drive to run out the clock.

Guidugli led the UC offense by completing 19-of-34 passes for 224 yards and a touchdown but the sophomore threw a career-high five interceptions.

DeMarco McCleskey rushed 23 times for 85 yards to set the UC season rushing record with 1,361 yards. Jon Olinger's four catches for 107 yards raising his season receiving total to 1,114 yards, allowed the senior to break Jim O'Brien's 34-year old record of 1,107 receiving yards.

2001 Motor City Bowl

Dec. 29, 2001

Pontiac, Mich.

Chester Taylor rushed for a bowl-record 190 yards, including a game-winning 24-yard touchdown with 3:23 left to lead Toledo to a 23-16 win over Cincinnati in the Motor Bowl.

Cincinnati had a chance to tie the game in the closing moments but could not score following a first down at the 11 yard line. End zone passes to Ray Jackson and Tye Keith fell incomplete on third and fourth down, respectively.

Toledo quarterback Tavares Bolden was 14-for-28 for 135 yards with one interception and ran for 99 yards, which helped the Rockets set a Motor City Bowl-record with 322 yards rushing.

Toledo held Cincinnati to just 13 yards on the ground, also a record in the fifth-year bowl.

Taylor's 24-yard touchdown capped an 80-yard drive, which he sparked with three carries for 52 yards. The third-team All-America selection had a bowl-record 31 carries.

After Todd France gave Toledo a 3-0 lead on a 28-yard field goal with 9:24 left in the first quarter, the Bearcats ran off 13 straight points to take a 13-3 halftime lead.

Jonathan Ruffin sandwiched field goals from 29 and 46 yards, the latter coming as time expired in the first half, around a 28-yard Gino Guidugli touchdown pass to Tim Walker.

Toledo pulled even after three quarters as France connected on a 42-yard field goal and quarterback Tavares Bolden scored on a 28-yard run with 1:44 left in the third.

Both teams put together long drives on the first two possessions of the fourth quarter but settled for field goals.

The Rockets went 76 yards on 14 plays over five minutes, but stalled at Cincinnati's 13. France's 30-yard field goal gave them a 16-13 lead with 9:42 left.

The Bearcats then stalled at Toledo's 8 after driving 73 yards. Ruffin's 25-yard kick tied the game with 6:26 to go.

The Rockets then drove 80 yards in seven plays with Taylor breaking loose up the middle for the winning score with 3:23 left.

Gino Guidugli was 29-for-46 for 283 yards and a touchdown. Tye Keith caught a bowl-record nine catches for 63 yards.

2000 Motor City Bowl

Dec. 27, 2000

Pontiac, Mich.

Byron Leftwich threw for one touchdown and rushed for another to help Marshall rally for 16 second-half points to defeat Cincinnati, 25-14, in the Motor City Bowl.

Cincinnati used a pair of DeMarco McCleskey touchdown runs to build a 14-9 halftime lead.

Marshall jumped on top, 7-0, when Leftwich connected with Darius Watts on a 77-yd catch and run. UC came right back, driving 67 yards in nine plays, culminating with McCleskey leaping over the pile to score from two yards out with 8:28 left to tie the game.

The Thundering Herd regained the lead with 2:35 left in the first quarter when Michael Owens tackled running back Ray Jackson in the endzone for a safety.

Antwan Peek recovered a Leftwich fumble at the Marshall 21 to set up McCleskey's second score, a two-yard run with 1:44 left in the half.

Marshall scored a pair of third quarter touchdowns, a one-yard run by Leftwich on its opening drive, and a Frank Wallace four-yard run with 7:24 left.

The Cincinnati offense, which ran up 181 yards of total offense in the first half, struggled after intermission, failing to score on any of its six possessions.

Leftwich paced the Thundering Herd, completing 17-of-30 passes for 221 yards while UC's Deontey Kenner connected on 19-of-39 passes for 189 yards and a pair of interceptions.

1997 Humanitarian Bowl

Dec. 21, 1997

Boise, Utah

Chad Plummer threw for a touchdown and ran for another score and Cornelius Bonner caught two touchdown passes as Cincinnati defeated Utah State, 35-19, in the inaugural Humanitarian Bowl.

Deontey Kenner, who rotated at quarterback with Plummer, completed 10-of-16 passes for 124 yards and one touchdown for Cincinnati, which had not played in the postseason since a 14-13 loss to West Texas State in the 1951 Sun Bowl.

Plummer, voted the game's Most Valuable Player, completed 5-of-10 passes for 61 yards while rushing 15 times for 53 yards.

Bonner, who had 48 yards on four receptions, caught touchdown passes of 14-yards each from Plummer and Kenner as the Bearcats raced to a 21-0 halftime lead.

Orlando Smith led Cincinnati in rushing with 82 yards on 15 carries while the Bearcats held a 265-76 advantage in rushing yards while holding the ball for more than 42 minutes.

Following a fumble by Utah State's Demario Brown early in the second half, the Bearcats went 57 yards in seven plays, capped by Plummer's 15-yard scoring run around right end that made it 28-0.

Just 1:03 later, Utah State's Steve Smith turned a five-yard pass from Matt Sauk into a spectacular 75-yard touchdown as he broke tackles and outran the secondary. But Cincinnati answered with a seven-yard scoring run by Orlando Smith on a screen pass that was ruled a lateral.

Melvin Blue's three-yard TD run capped an 80-yard drive in just 1:54, but the Aggies missed the extra point and trailed 35-13 with 29 seconds left in the third quarter.

The Aggies got themselves back in the game two minutes into the fourth quarter. Cincinnati punter Doug Johnson could not handle a high snap and freshman linebacker Brent Passey picked up the loose ball and went 10 yards for the score.

West Texas St. 14, Cincinnati 13

1951 Sun Bowl

Jan. 1, 1951

El Paso, Texas

A missed extra point in the second quarter proved to be the difference as West Texas State edged Cincinnati, 14-13, in the 16th annual Sun Bowl.

The Buffaloes took a 7-0 lead three minutes into the second quarter. Bill Cross capped off a 57-yard drive with a three-yard touchdown run.

Cincinnati used the passing game to come back. On a 68-yard scoring drive, quarterback Gene Rossi completed a 36-yard pass to Joe Benzinger and short passes to Dick Jarvis and Dan McKeever. When Dan McKeever was injured on a running play, he was replaced by his brother, Tom, who carried three straight plays, the last a three-yard touchdown.

Jim Kelly's extra-point attempt went wide right and proved to be important as the game progressed.

Cincinnati claimed its first lead, 13-7, when Rossi threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Bob Stratton and Bill Shalonsky added the extra point. A crucial play in the 69-yard drive came on third down at the UC 43 when Rossi completed a 22-yard pass to Kelly and a West Texas State penalty moved the ball to the Buffalo 20.

West Texas State used a trick play on a fake punt to score the game-winning touchdown. Faced with a fourth and long, punter Frank Wise moved under center, took the snap and lateraled to the right to quarterback Gene Mayfield. Mayfield completed a pass to Cross at the UC 40 and Cross broke several tackles to finish the 62-yard touchdown pass. Roy Lee Dunn added the extra point to give West Texas State a 14-13 lead.

Cincinnati could not take advantage of its best scoring chance in the fourth when Shalonsky's 35-yard field goal attempt went wide right.

West Texas State drove 79-yards to the UC one but the Bearcat defense held on a fourth down play. With time running out, the Bearcats moved to the Buffaloes' 27 on a long pass to Kelly, but the game ended when Rossi was sacked on successive plays.

1949 Glass Bowl

Dec. 3, 1949

Toledo, Ohio

Cincinnati used a strong defense and solid play on special teams to dominate Toledo, 33-13, in the fifth annual Glass Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter the Bearcats recorded a safety when Jack Tracy trapped Rocket back Emerson Cole in the end zone. Following a Toledo fumble, UC's Bob Stratton scored the first of his two touchdowns on a 10-yard run. He later added a 29-yard TD early in the third quarter.

Gene Gibson showed his open field running skills with a pair of touchdowns. He returned a punt 76-yards in the third quarter to give the Bearcats a 27-6 lead. On the next possession, Don Jansen intercepted a Toledo pass and pitched it to Gibson who returned it 80 yards for the score.

UC outgained Toledo, 330-286 on offense, but owned a lopsided advantage on special teams. The Bearcats returned punts, kickoffs and interceptions for 258 yards while the Rockets managed only 97 return yards.

Cincinnati 18, Virginia Tech 6

1947 Sun Bowl

Jan. 1, 1947

El Paso, Texas

The Bearcats played in their first-ever bowl game in school history, earning an 18-6 victory over Virginia Tech in the 12th annual Sun Bowl.

Both teams struggled offensively in the first half, due largely in part to the three inches of snow that fell in El Paso the day before the game.

The Bearcat offense dominated play in the second half. UC outrushed the Gobblers, 369 to 34 for the game, scoring all three touchdowns on the ground.

After a scoreless first half, Cincinnati took the second half kick-off and drove 75 yards for the game's first score, a 13-yard run by sophomore Harold Johnson. After holding Virginia Tech to just three plays on offense in the next possession, the Bearcats regained possession and drove 52 yards for the second score, taking a 12-0 lead on junior fullback Hugo Sabato's one-yard run.

Virginia Tech cut the lead to 12-6 early in the fourth quarter when Ralph Beard capped off a 55 yard drive with a three-yard touchdown run.

Johnson emerged as the defensive leader for the Bearcats, intercepting a pass in the end zone late in the third quarter to stop a potential game-tying drive.

With time running out, Tech drove into Cincinnati territory, before Johnson made his second interception, returning it deep into Gobbler territory. Three plays later, Don McMillan scored on a quarterback sneak from three yards to provide the final margin.

Cincinnati finished the season with a 9-2 record, including wins over defending Big Nine champions Indiana and Michigan State.

A complete rundown of series scores can be found on page 162

- Cincinnati and Louisville battle for the Keg of Nails, one of the more unique rivalry trophies with a somewhat vague origin. The trophy is a replica of a keg used to ship nails. The exchange is believed to have been initiated by fraternity chapters on the two campuses, signifying that the winning players were "tough as nails."
- Louisville claims a win over Cincinnati in 1922. That year, Transylvania backed out of a game with the Cardinals. UC, which played West Virginia on that date, sent a team of second liners to help UofL out of its schedule predicament.

In August, the University of Cincinnati Athletics Department unveiled a redesigned and upgraded version of www.UCBearcats.com that serves as Bearcat fans' number one stop for all the best in UC coverage.

The site is focused on being more fan-friendly and easier to navigate. Visitors can find numerous new features including blogs from student-athletes, increased audio and video content and extensive live coverage of Bearcat Olympic sports. Various interactive features, including an "Ask the AD" section, are also included.

The new home of Bearcat Athletics on the web will also be more accessible for prospective UC student-athletes. Each of UC's 17 sports now has its own specific domain name that will send visitors directly to that sport's web page. A separate site devoted solely to recruiting has also been created and is housed at www.WhyBearcats.com.

Plans for the website include an increased amount of feature articles that will give fans a look at the inner workings of Bearcat Athletics. Student-athlete and coach profiles, alumni updates and other features will join the regular event previews and recaps that fans have come to expect on the web.

UCBEARCATS.COM

NEW FEATURES

- Increased audio/video content through "Bearcat Nation All-Access," including press conferences and game broadcasts.
- Student-athlete blogs updated throughout the year.
- "Ask the AD" feature with monthly columns by Mike Thomas.
- WhyBearcats.com recruiting website.
- Feature articles giving fans a behind-the-scenes look at UC Athletics.
- Alumni updates and guest columnists.

RADIO AND TELEVISION

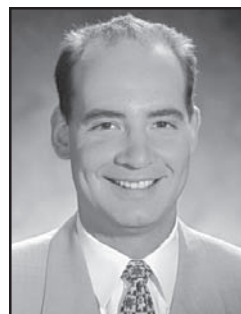

University of Cincinnati followers have had no trouble tracking the Bearcats due to their expansive media exposure.

WLW-AM 700, the signature station of ClearChannel's Cincinnati properties, begins its 13th season as the Bearcats' broadcast partner. The station's 50,000-watt signal can project Cincinnati games to 38 states and a third of Canada, making it possible for UC football fans to hear every game.

WLW augments the broadcast coverage with pre-game and postgame programming. Additionally, head coach Mark Dantonio is featured in an hour-long call-in show each Thursday, which originates from a local restaurant, allowing for Cincinnati fans to meet the coach and ask their questions up close and personal.

A veteran broadcast crew provides detailed coverage and up-to-the-minute information.

Dan Hoard returns for his seventh year as the play-by-play voice. Hoard has been a focal point of Bearcat broadcasts since coming to Cincinnati from Syracuse, N.Y. in 1995. He served as the Bearcats' radio voice in 1996 and handled the play-by-play on the local television football and basketball telecasts from 1996-2000. He took over the radio play-by-play duties in 2000.

Dan Hoard

Jim Kelly

Scott Springer

Brian Giesenschlag

Jim Kelly, a standout receiver for the Bearcats in the mid-1970s, returns for his 16th season as analyst. Scott Springer, who received the Associated Press award for best regularly scheduled sportscasts in Ohio in both 1997 and 1998, is back for his 13th fall of reporting from the sidelines.

WXIX-TV 19, a Fox affiliate, is UC's television partner. Fox 19 produces and televises the weekly Mark Dantonio Show, at 11:30 a.m. on Sunday mornings. Brian Giesenschlag, the station's sports director, serves as the primary host of the show.

Fox 19 is the Cincinnati home for the BIG EAST television package, carrying all UC games plus other contests from the series. When possible, the station originates its own broadcasts of Bearcat games, under the direction of Emmy-winning producer/director Dave Ashbrock.

UC has achieved wide regional and national exposure. Over the past nine seasons, 41 Bearcat games were televised nationally, a figure which is rapidly increasing with the school's membership in the BIG EAST Conference. The BIG EAST has extensive television arrangements with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and ESPN Regional Television for national telecasts and a regionally-syndicated game of the week package.

MEDIA SERVICES

Media Credentials: Credentials to cover Cincinnati home football games may be secured by contacting the Cincinnati Sports Communications Office (Tom Hathaway coordinates football credentials). Credentials and parking passes will be mailed if requests are received at least one week of advance notice. Credentials requested less than a week in advance of the game will be available at media will call.

Credentials shall be allocated and space in the press box shall be assigned according to the following priority:

- (1) originating radio and television outlets;
- (2) daily newspapers providing regular coverage of Cincinnati and its opponent;
- (3) national news agencies servicing the print and broadcast media;
- (4) radio and television outlets providing regular coverage of Cincinnati and its opponent;
- (5) national or regional print, broadcast and electronic media;
- (6) officially-sanctioned student media, specialty publications and electronic publications of Cincinnati and its opponent;
- (7) other types of print and broadcast media.

Entering The Press Box: An elevator to the press box is located at the 50-yard line on the west concourse of Nippert Stadium. A media credential is required for entry to the elevator.

Press Box Levels: The Nippert Stadium press box has three levels. The first level is for newspaper, radio and television reporters. The middle level is for guests of the university. The upper level is for video crews, radio and television outlets broadcasting the game and coaches.

Telephones: Telephones are available for postgame reporting. Media representatives requiring their own phones can order them through the Sports Communications Office. Those ordering phones are responsible for all installation fees.

Internet: Wireless internet is available in the press box at Nippert Stadium, as well as in adjacent Fifth Third Arena. There is no access fee.

Sideline Passes: The University of Cincinnati follows NCAA guidelines regarding media representatives on the sidelines. Photographers and videographers are permitted to shoot between the 23-yard lines and the goal lines on both sideline, or anywhere behind the restraining line in the end zone.

Postgame Interviews: The Cincinnati locker room is closed to all members of the media. Following a 10-minute "cooling off" period, head coach Mark Dantonio and selected players will be brought to a designated interview area. Requests for player interviews should be coordinated with the Cincinnati Sports Communications staff. The visiting team's locker room at Nippert Stadium will be operated according to the policy of the visiting team.

Practices: All football practices are closed. Media may interview players and coaches 15 minutes prior to practice or immediately following practice. The daily practice schedule is subject to change without notice, so please contact the Sports Communications Office for confirmation of the daily practice schedule. Unless special arrangements are made, there are NO player interviews the day prior to a game.

Mark Dantonio Weekly Media Conference: The University of Cincinnati will hold a weekly media luncheon each Tuesday, beginning at 12 noons, at which head coach Mark Dantonio and selected players and assistant coaches will be present for interviews.

Weekly Releases: Information about the UC football team is updated on a weekly basis and generally available by 11 a.m. each Monday. It is available in a number of formats, mostly electronic. The releases are updated on the internet on the UC Athletic Department site (UCBears.com). The Sports Communications Office also e-mails the release out in a PDF format. To obtain the weekly release via e-mail, please send a request to Tom Hathaway.

Radio/Television: Requests for permission to broadcast or telecast should be directed to Tom Hathaway, Assistant AD/Media Relations. Broadcast lines can be ordered by contacting the Sports Communications Office.

Statistics and Transmission Services: Complete game statistics, including play-by-play, halftime stats, and complete post-game statistics packages will be provided after the game. Statistics will be delivered to the radio and television booths throughout the game. Light food and beverages are available in the back of the press box on the media level. Quotes from both coaches will be available at the conclusion of the game. FAX service is also available. Please make arrangements for FAX service with the Sports Information staff prior to the start of the game.
