"V" is for Valley

Fresno State prides itself on being the "Valley's team." This pride can be seen in the form of a large green V on the back of the Bulldog helmets, as a symbol to the agricultural community of the Central Valley of California. The San Joaquin Valley is the world's richest agricultural area in export dollars.

Fresno State Identification

The University's formal name is Fresno State, not Cal State University, Fresno and not Fresno State University. Fresno St. is the acceptable shorter, less formal name for the University and is acceptable as a first text reference, as well as subsequent references.

The University prefers to never be referenced as just Fresno, only Fresno State or Fresno St. For graphics or abbreviations, we ask that you please use FS - not FSU, CSUF or Fresno. Another acceptable abbreviation is Fresno St.

BULLDOG STADIUM

Bulldog Stadium has been the home of the Fresno State football team since it first opened in 1980 for that year's season finale on Nov. 25. As the new home of Bulldog Football to kick off the 1981 season, the Bulldogs' 2020 campaign will mark the 39th full season of football at the corner of Cedar and Barstow.

The 40,727-seat facility has established itself as one of the most difficult places to play for visiting teams. A claim staked on having the 18th-best home stadium winning percentage among all FBS football teams at the conclusion of last season.

Fresno State has found great success in its home facility, owning a record of 181-59-2, a winning percentage of nearly 75 percent. Since the turn of the century, the 'Dogs have posted an 83-35 home record, which has been aided by four undefeated seasons at home in that stretch.

Some of the memorable home victories at Bulldog Stadium include winning back-to-back Mountain West Championships on its home field in 2012 and 2013. The 2013 edition was the inaugural Mountain West Championship game, led by the dynamic offensive duo of Derek Carr and Davante Adams, against Utah State.

Other notable games include a 44-24 win over No. 10 Oregon State in 2001 - the highest ever ranked opponent Fresno State has defeated. The 2017 season was capped by Fresno State defeating No. 23 Boise State, 28-17, and the Bulldogs rode that momentum into 2018 compiling an 11-1 record at home over the 2017-18 seasons.

Fresno State has been able to bring in some of the nation's top teams to Bulldog Stadium over the years. Included on that list are Baylor, BYU, Cal, Cincinnati, Colorado, Illinois, Kansas State, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ole Miss, Oregon, Oregon State (twice), Rutgers and Wisconsin. Looking ahead to more nonconference foes, the 'Dogs will welcome Oregon State (Pac-12) in 2022, BYU in 2025, Washington State in 2027 (Pac-12) and both Kansas (Big 12) and Texas Tech (Big 12) in 2029.

The Red Wave has packed Bulldog Stadium to its limit countless times over the years. In 2000, the Bulldogs set a new single-season attendance record when they averaged 42,410 fans, the 22nd-best mark in the nation. The following season, in which Fresno State achieved a program-record national ranking of No. 8, was even better. The Bulldogs set another record by averaging 42,802 fans, including stadium single-game records of 42,881 in each of the last five contests of that year. In all, Fresno State has played 33 games in the stadium with 40,000 or more fans in the stands.

Original construction of Bulldog Stadium began in June of 1979, following what was then the most successful capital fundraising project ever undertaken in the San Joaquin Valley. Local residents raised in excess of $7 million for the project. No state tax dollars or student fees were used to build the stadium.

Built partially below ground level with the playing field 37 feet below grade, the bowl features a low profile appearance. A unique cantilevered lighting system extends toward the field and is directed downward to concentrate lighting on the playing surface.

Bulldog Stadium underwent a two-phase expansion project in 1991, which included the addition of more than 10,000 seats -- increasing the stadium's capacity from 30,000 to more than 40,000 -- and the construction of 22 sky suites. Other improvements included additional restrooms and concession facilities.

BULLDOG STADIUM

The first phase entailed filling in the panels beyond the north and south end zones with bench seating and the reconfiguration of the seating on the stadium's east side. The second phase, completed prior to the 1992 season, featured the addition of the sky suites, each of which includes seating for 20, among other amenities. At its present state, chair seating is available for more than 5,000 spectators on the west side of the stadium between the 18-yard lines to accommodate the contributors of the $7 million. There are also 4,240 chair-back seats on the east side and the rest of the stadium seating is on aluminum benches.

In the summer of 2011, Bulldog Stadium moved away from its natural grass field and installed FieldTurf. Renovations continued with a new high-definition video and ribbon board in the north end zone before the start of the 2015 season and new fencing was added before the start of the 2016 season.

At its present state, University President Joseph I. Castro anticipates that Bulldog Stadium will see approximately $45 million in upgrades in the near future that will modernize the stadium with a focus on improving the existing restrooms, concession stands and the path of travel around the stadium. He also intends to replace the seating and better the existing skyboxes in that plan.

During the summer of 2019, Bulldog Stadium underwent some initial improvements towards President Castro's vision, including upgrades to the electrical infrastructure, a new playing surface and stadium lights.

The playing surface, AstroTurf, is a new synthetic turf system that is built to help regulate field temperature and keep the surface closer to ambient air temperature. The lighting, provided by Musco, is an LED system, designed to be more energy efficient. Bulldog Stadium also saw the addition of four new light poles installed in each corner of the facility to increase the lighting of both end zones.

On Nov. 25, 1980, the first game was played at Bulldog Stadium, uniquely closing the season after playing their first five home games at Ratcliffe Stadium. Fresno State defeated Montana State 21-14 in the season finale. The first full season began in 1981, starting with a 23-16 win over Oregon on Sept. 5.

Bulldog Stadium was also home to the California Raisin Bowl from 1981-91. Fresno State played in the game five times, winning the title on four occasions. In 1994, the Stadium hosted friendly matches prior to the FIFA World Cup.
