BY THE NUMBERS

56 The Cardinals scored 56 second-half points in their comeback against NC State, shooting 19-of-34 from the field. Louisville had eight 3s in the half, one more basket than NC State made over the final two periods. Mariya Moore scored 24 points in the stretch for the Cardinals, who had 35 in the fourth.

10 Louisville has been exceptional as of late at taking care of the ball. The Cardinals, who rank 10th nationally in turnover margin (+5.84), have lost the ball more than 15 times just twice in the last 11 games. In that span, UoFL is averaging 13.5 turnovers.

25 Louisville has collected double-digit steals in 12 games this season and ranks 25th in the country steals per contest (10.6). The Cardinals, who are forcing 20.68 turnovers, are generating 27.1 points on the exchange during the 11-game streak.

21 Asia Durr was named the USBWA National Freshman of the Week on Jan. 19, becoming the first player in program history to earn the national honor. The award came on the heels of a season-high 21 points, going 5-for-5 from 3, in the comeback win at NC State.

1 Mariya Moore, with her career-high 31 points against NC State, boosted her season average to 14.7 points per game. The sophomore is the only player in the ACC to rank in the top 10 in scoring (No. 9) and top five in assists per game (No. 4, 4.9).

■ About Syracuse - Louisville, searching for its seventh-consecutive conference win, heads to New York to play at Syracuse on Monday evening (Jan. 25, 7:02 p.m., RSN/FOX). It is the first meeting in Syracuse since 2013.

The Orange had their three-game winning streak snapped, when they fell 90-62 at No. 3 Notre Dame on Thursday. Syracuse, despite grabbing 28 offensive rebounds for 23 second-chance points, managed to hit just 28.0 of its shots. The Orange also made only 10 of their 17 free throws.

Brianna Butler and Alexis Peterson led Syracuse in scoring with 12 points apiece, however, the duo combined to go 8-for-35 from the floor. Brittney Sykes added nine points and seven rebounds, and Cornelia Fondren had eight points and eight rebounds.

On the season, Peterson is pacing the team in scoring (14.2) and assists, with 103. Brianna Butler (13.2) and Briana Day (10.7) also are averaging double figures in points, with Butler hitting a league-best 63 pointers (206 attempts), and Day boasting a team-best 7.5 rebounds per game. Fondren has a team-high 53 steals.

Nationally, Syracuse ranks second in steals per game (14.4), turnovers forced (25.0), and turnover margin (+10.68), fifth in offensive rebounds per game (19.1), and eighth in 3-point field goals per game (9.4).

Located in Syracuse, N.Y., Syracuse is the alma mater of current Vice President of the United States Joe Biden, sportscasters Marv Albert, Bob Costas, and Mike Tirico, the late television personality Dick Clark, broadcast journalist Ted Koppel, actor Jerry Stiller, and NFL Hall of Fame members Art Monk and Jim Brown.

■ Louisville-Syracuse Series - Louisville and Syracuse have met 12 times in series history, with the Cardinals holding a 7-5 advantage. The Orange boast a 4-2 record in games played in Syracuse. The two programs were conference rivals during their time together in the BIG EAST.

Last time out, Louisville outscored Syracuse 49-28 in the second half to earn a 78-58 victory and deliver head coach Jeff Walz his 200th career win. The Cardinals had 26 assists on 31 baskets and hit 51.7 percent of their shots. Myisha Hines-Allen had 23 points off the bench on 11-of-14 shooting, and Mariya Moore poured in 21.

In the last game in New York, Syracuse outscored Louisville 41-28 in the second half to earn a 68-57 victory on March 4, 2013. Shoni Schimmel scored a game-high 19 points for the Cardinals, who connected on just 27.6 percent of their second-half shots.

■ Turning the Corner - Since Louisville's upset victory over No. 19 Michigan State on Dec. 3, the Cardinals have turned the corner over the 14-game span. Louisville is 13-1, with three wins over Associated Press top-25 teams and three more victories over teams receiving votes.

In the stretch, Louisville holds a +13.7 scoring margin, is shooting 45.1 percent from the field, forcing opponents into 20.9 turnovers per contest, and averaging 24.8 points off turnovers.

Individually, Myisha Hines-Allen is averaging 15.6 points on 55.6 percent shooting and 7.7 rebounds, Mariya Moore is contributing 14.5 points and 5.5 assists, and Briahanna Jackson is producing 11.9 points and 2.1 steals. Cortnee Walton has played a critical role on the boards, averaging 7.3 per contest.

■ Statistical Trends - Louisville is 150-15 (.910) when scoring 70 or more points under head coach Jeff Walz (10-1 in 2015-16). ... UofL boasts a 76-1 record (.987) when shooting 50 percent or better from the field under Walz (5-0 this year).

■ Raining 3s - Louisville has continued to display its firepower from long range this year. The Cardinals, against California, connected on 10 3s - the most in a season opener in school history. Sophomore Mariya Moore, for the second time in her career, knocked down six treys - the most by a Cardinal in a season-opener in school history.

Through 19 games, the Cardinals have nailed 117 3-pointers and rank fifth in the ACC in percentage (.346) and seventh in 3-pointers per game (6.2).

Moore and Briahanna Jackson are combining for 3.9 per contest.

Fifteen times this season, UofL has connected on at least five treys, including a season-high 12 against NC State on Jan. 17.

■ Can I help you? - Louisville continues to pile up the assists this year on made field goals. Through 19 games, the Cardinals have been credited with 314 assists on 498 field goals, a 63.1 percent rate.

Louisville, which has recorded double-digit assists in each game this season, including at least 20 on seven occasions, ranks fifth in the ACC at 16.5 per game. Individually, Mariya Moore is fourth in the league at 4.9 assists per game.

Nationally, Louisville is 25th in total assists (314) and 31st in assists per game.

Last year, the Cardinals were one of the best teams in the country in earning assists on made field goals, helping on 62.8 percent of their baskets (587 assists on 934 field goals).

Cortnee Walton	7.0 pts., 7.3 rebs.

■ Moore Leads Comeback - Mariya Moore helped preserve the Cardinals' winning streak with an incredible 24-point, second-half performance against NC State to complete a comeback against the Wolfpack on Jan. 17. Coupled with her efforts against Virginia, she was named ACC Player of the Week for the second time this season in addition to securing College Sports Madness ACC Player of the Week status.

The sophomore averaged 21.0 points, 6.0 assists, 4.0 rebounds, and 2.5 steals in the two contests.

Against NC State, she totaled a career-high 31 points - the most since Shoni Schimmel scored the same total against Maryland on April 1, 2014, in the NCAA Tournament. With Louisville trailing by 14 at the half, Moore scored 24 points in the second half. She tallied the Cardinals' final four points - all from the free throw line - to tie and then win the game.

■ Durr Adds to Historical Freshman Season - After passing the midway point of the regular season, it's becoming evident that Asia Durr, the top-rated recruit in the class of 2015, makes a difference.

The freshman, after a season-high 21 points - including 5-for-5 shooting from 3 - in the comeback against NC State, was named the U.S. Basketball Writers Association National Freshman of the Week and the ACC Rookie of the Week. Durr is the first player in school history to earn the national honor.

Durr, who suffered a groin injury over the summer that has been difficult to overcome, has made quite the impact in the 13 games in which she has played at least 20 minutes. She is averaging 11.5 points on 42 percent shooting, including a 46-percent clip from 3.

■ Ms. Clean - Cortnee Walton is cleaning up the glass at record pace this season.

The redshirt junior has collected 81 offensive rebounds through 19 games.

Walton is first in the ACC, 11th nationally, at 4.3 offensive rebounds per game. Seven times this year, she has recorded more than five rebounds on the offensive end.

Her seven-game total of 29 was the most in school history over that span since Jazz Covington grabbed 33 in seven games in 2004-05.

The most offensive rebounds in a season in the Jeff Walz era was achieved by Candyce Bingham, who collected 125 in 2008-09.

■ Cardinals in the Polls - Coupling the 2006-07 campaign with that of head coach Jeff Walz's tenure, which started in 2007-08, Louisville has appeared in the Associated Press poll 125 times, with an average rank of 13th over that span. The Cardinals' total appearances in the nine-year timeframe ranks 13th among all NCAA Division I programs. When UofL exited the poll on Nov. 30, it ended a period of 81-straight weeks in the top 25.

Last year, Louisville debuted at No. 12 in the AP preseason poll and reached as high as fourth from Jan. 12-19. The Cardinals finished the 2014-15 campaign eighth in the AP Poll, their third time concluding the year in the top 10. Louisville also maintained a top-15 ranking throughout the year in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll, taking 10th in the final poll.

■ Success in the KFC Yum! Center - Louisville captured its 70th victory in the KFC Yum! Center last season following its 68-55 victory over Miami (Fla.) on Jan. 25. The Cardinals finished the year with a 16-1 mark at home.

UofL boasts an 81-10 record (.890) in the World's Most Spectacular Arena. All-time in the venue, Louisville holds a +21.9 scoring margin (75.8-53.9) and is shooting 45.0 percent from the field. With its 25 field goals against Duke on Jan. 10, 2016, Louisville surpassed 2,500 field goals made inside the KFC Yum! Center (2523 for 5605).

■ Comeback Cardinals - Louisville, on a few occasions this season, has pushed its fans to the edges of their seats. Three times this year, the Cardinals have fallen behind by 14 or more points before dominant performances on both ends of the court gave way to Louisville wins.

Most recently, impressive shooting from NC State that included a 9-for-12 stint from 3 in the first half put Louisville in a 14-point hole at halftime. The Cardinals finally punched back in the second, connecting on 55.9 percent of their shots, with only four turnovers, while holding the Wolfpack to 7-for-18 from the floor.

Earlier this year, Louisville trailed IUPUI by as much as 18 and College of Charleston by 14 before overcoming the deficits for victories - both during the winning streak.

■ Hines-Allen Taking Command - Myisha Hines-Allen is receiving notice as one of the best post players in the country.

Named ACC Player of the Week on Dec. 21 and College Sports Madness ACC Player of the Week on Jan. 11, Hines-Allen is averaging 15.9 points on 54.6 percent shooting and 7.7 rebounds over a 15-game period. Her free throw shooting has sharpened too, connecting on 73.5 percent of her trips to the charity stripe. In the three-game week, when she earned league honors, she produced two of her three double-doubles this season.

Hines-Allen's play has pushed her name into the top 15 in multiple ACC categories: seventh in scoring (15.1), fourth in rebounding (7.6), 14th in field goal percentage (.519), 13th in free throw percentage (.755), fifth in defensive rebounds (4.9), and tied for 12th in offensive rebounds (2.7).

■ January Joy - Louisville boasts a 49-20 (.710) record in the month of January under head coach Jeff Walz. UofL has won 21 of its last 22 games in the month, and with the win over No. 18 Duke, Louisville has been victorious in 23-consecutive home games in the month of January dating back to the 2009-10 season.

The best record in Walz's tenure in January came in 2013-14, when the group compiled an 8-0 mark.

■ Resolution to Defense - Judging by Louisville's numbers since the New Year, it would appear one of the Cardinals' resolutions was to become a better defensive team.

Since opening league play against Florida State on Jan. 1, Louisville is holding its opponents - in a span of six games - to just 59.7 points per game on 40.9 percent shooting. Foes are turning the ball over 19.5 times per game. Four opponents - Georgia Tech, Virginia Tech, Duke, and Virginia - shot below 40 percent, with the last three each failing to score more than 50.

■ Stretches and Spurts - Through 19 games this season, Louisville has produced 28 runs of 8-0 or better (none against NC State), including an 18-0 stretch against Dartmouth. Defensively, the Cardinals have forced their opponents into 48 scoring droughts of at least three minutes, including two against NC State. Louisville held Purdue without a basket for 7:40 and Valparaiso scoreless for a collective 19:43.

Last year, Louisville recorded 76 runs of 8-0 or better and forced opponents into 107 scoring droughts of at least three minutes.

HEAD COACH JEFF WALZ

Head coach Jeff Walz, entering his ninth season as a head coach, has compiled a 222-82 (.730) record as the Cardinals' leader. He has led Louisville to six NCAA Sweet 16 appearances, two of which culminated with NCAA runner-up finishes (2009, 2013). Walz, who is averaging 26 wins per season, became the winningest coach in program history in 2013-14. He also has the most 20-win seasons in school history (7) and the top-three entries for most victories in a season (34 in 2008-09; 33 in 2013-14; and 29 in 2012-13).

Hired on March 27, 2007, the Bluegrass State native took the program to its first NCAA Sweet 16 and it culminated with Louisville earning the No. 12 ranking in the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll. For his efforts, Walz was named the WBCA Maggie Dixon Rookie Coach of the Year.

Prior to taking the reins at Louisville, Walz spent time on four other coaching staffs: Western Kentucky (1996-97), Nebraska (1997-01), Minnesota (2001-02), and Maryland (2002-07). He helped Maryland win the program's first national title in 2006.

Walz's Milestone Collegiate Victories

No.	Date	Score

150	11/11/13	Louisville 100, Quinnipiac 82
200	1/29/15	Louisville 78, Syracuse 58

Note: Walz is 28 wins shy of 250 for his career, boasting 222 to date.

■ Playing in a Packed House - Since beginning play in the KFC Yum! Center in 2010-11, Louisville has played in front of three arena-capacity crowds (capacity is 22,000), while averaging more than 9,000 per game.

In Louisville's regular-season finale against Connecticut on March 3, 2014, fans packed the venue for a program-record crowd of 22,163. The record prior to that was attained against Kentucky on Dec. 5, 2010, a 78-52 victory in front of 22,152.

The record was first set in the team's opening game in the downtown arena, playing host to Tennessee with 22,124 on hand on Nov. 12, 2010.

All three games ranked in the top five of Division I games attended that season: vs. Kentucky, No. 1 in 2010-11; vs. Tennessee, No. 2 in 2010-11; and vs. UConn, No. 2 in 2013-14.

KFC Yum! Center Attendance

Year	Games	Avg. Attendance	DI Rank
2010-11	15	10,859	2nd
2011-12	13	10,670	2nd
2012-13	18	9,358	3rd
2013-14	20	9,469	3rd
2014-15	17	9,515	3rd
2015-16	8	9,813	3rd

■ Streaking - Louisville is currently riding an 11-game winning streak, tied for the longest active stretch in the ACC - with Notre Dame - and tied for the eighth-longest nationally.

It is nearing the longest winning streak in school history of 16 that was set during the 2013-14 campaign. Since the program started in 1975-76, Louisville has built double-digit winning streaks on eight occasions - four under head coach Jeff Walz.

Consecutively, the Cardinals won 16 in 2013-14; 15 in 2006-07; 14 in 2008-09; 11 in 2000-01 and 2015-16; and 10 three times: 1996-97, 2003-04, and 2007-08.

■ Stepping Up to the Competition - In the Cardinals' four games against AP top-25 teams (Michigan State, Kentucky, Florida State, Duke), Louisville boasts a 3-1 record and four players are averaging double figures in scoring. Mariya Moore has produced 15.5 points and 5.3 assists, Myisha Hines-Allen has logged 13.8 points and 5.8 rebounds, and Briahanna Jackson is contributing 12.3 points, 4.3 rebounds, and 2.8 steals. Asia Durr also has starred, averaging 12.8 points and 2.0 steals. The freshman has the best 3-point field goal percentage on the team in those games, connecting on 8-of-16 (.500) from long range.

Collectively, Louisville is forcing 22.8 turnovers for 21.8 points per game.

■ Trio of Scorers - Louisville knew heading into the 2015-16 campaign that it had a potent mix of offensive threats in sophomores Mariya Moore and Myisha Hines-Allen and newcomer Briahanna Jackson. Moore was one of the top scorers as a freshman last season, Hines-Allen was one of the best percentage shooters in the country, and Jackson was hailed as one of the best offensive players in the country.

Hines-Allen and Durr rank in the top 10 in the ACC in points per game, making Louisville the only school in the ACC with two players in the list's top 10.

Hines-Allen is seventh at 15.1 points, Moore is ninth in the league at 14.7 points per contest, and Jackson is 21st at 12.7 points per game.

■ On the Plus Side - Head coach Jeff Walz has spoken, both with his team and the media, about carefully grading the student-athletes when they go into the game and whether Louisville is in the plus or minus during their time on the court - essentially measuring a player's impact on the game.

Through 19 games this season, redshirt junior Cortnee Walton and sophomores Mariya Moore and Myisha Hines-Allen are having the most positive impact. With Walton on the court, Louisville is plus-188, outscoring its opponents 1037-849. Moore is plus-171, with the Cardinals holding a 1123-952 advantage, and Hines-Allen rounds out the top three at plus-154 (986-832).

■ Jackson Eclipses 1,000 - Redshirt junior Briahanna Jackson reached and then surpassed 1,000 career points on a layup with 15 seconds left in the Cardinals' victory over Virginia Tech. She accumulated 769 points in one-and-a-half seasons at UCF.

Jackson, who finished the game with 13 points, has reached double digits in 14 games. A prolific scorer, Jackson has tallied at least 20 points three times this season and ranks 21st in the ACC in scoring (12.7). For her career, including her tenure at UCF, Jackson has reached 20 points in a game on 16 occasions.

Arguably one of her best performances of the year came against IUPUI, when she poured in 21 of her game-high 23 points in the second half. She logged eight of Louisville's final 10 points to complete the comeback.

Jackson dropped 24 points on Western Kentucky after a 21-point performance in the season-opener versus California. The highly talented guard who starred at UCF had the eighth most points in UofL a season-opener in school history and second most by an individual making her debut.

■ Bonus from the Bench - Louisville's bench has contributed in major ways this season, including posting 47 points in the victory over Dartmouth - the most since totaling 47 against Ball State in 2013 (Dec. 17). The group, through 19 games, is averaging 21.0 points per game. The unit has reached at least 20 points in 10 games.

■ Forcing Turnovers, Leading to Offense - Louisville is forcing opponents into 20.68 turnovers per game this season, a mark that is second best in the conference and 22nd nationally. On 11 separate occasions, the Cardinals' defense has bullied its foes into more than 20 turnovers.

Notably, California (27 TOs, 27 FGs), Marist (24 TOs, 18 FGs), Michigan State (27 TOs, 27 FGs), Valparaiso (22 TOs, 13 FGs), IUPUI (22 TOs, 21 FGs), Dartmouth (22 TOs, 17 FGs), Tennessee Tech (27 TOs, 19 FGs), Virginia Tech (21 TOs, 16 FGs), Duke (22 TOs, 18 FGs), and Virginia (19 TOs, 15 FGs) each had as many or more turnovers than field goals.

Of the 393 times opponents have turned over the ball, Louisville has converted those opportunities into 445 points (23.4 per game) - more than 32 percent of its offense.

■ Success against AP Top 25 - Following victories over No. 18 Duke, No. 15

Florida State and one of the Big Ten favorites in No. 19 Michigan State, Louisville has defeated a stellar 25 schools over the last six seasons that were ranked in the Associated Press' top 25.

Wins over AP Top 25 Teams in 2015-16

Date	Opponent	Decision
12/3/15	at No. 19 Michigan State	W, 85-78
1/1/16	No. 15 Florida State	W, 79-69
1/10/16	No. 18 Duke	W, 65-48

In 2014-15, the Cardinals knocked off No. 22 Iowa 86-52 at home on Dec. 4 in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge, No. 24 California 70-57 on Dec. 21, No. 23 Syracuse 78-58 on Jan. 29, No. 17 North Carolina 75-66 on Feb. 15, North Carolina again (No. 15) 77-75 in overtime on March 6, and No. 25 USF 60-52 on March 23 in the NCAA Tournament.

During 2010-11, Louisville defeated five schools in the top 25, including three in the top 10: Kentucky (No. 8), DePaul (No. 7), and Xavier (No. 5). After defeating one in 2011-12, the Cardinals again defeated five ranked in AP Poll in both 2012-13 and 2013-14. In 2013-14, UofL defeated No. 14 LSU and No. 11 Oklahoma within a three-day window.

■ Moore Assists - Mariya Moore recorded her second career double-double, with 15 points and a career-best 12 assists against College of Charleston on Dec. 20.

It's the most assists by a UofL player in nearly five years, since Shoni Schimmel dished out 12 against UT Martin on Dec. 28, 2010.

Over the last 13 games, Moore is averaging 5.6 assists (73 assists). She has recorded at least five assists in nine of those contests.

Her two points-assists double-doubles are the seventh-most in school history.

■ Cardinals on the Road - Since Jeff Walz became head coach at Louisville in 2007, the Cardinals have a 110-62 record (.640) in games away from home (includes 35-18 record for neutral site games).

This year, the Cardinals own a 7-4 record away from the KFC Yum! Center (includes 1-2 neutral record). Louisville is forcing 19.0 turnovers per game in those contests, owns a +4.0 rebounding advantage, and is connecting on 73.0 percent of its free throws.

In its 17 away games in 2014-15, Louisville went 11-6 and had a +6.5 scoring margin behind 40.9 percent shooting. The Cardinals forced 329 turnovers and tallied 177 steals.

With a 12-2 record in true road games the previous year, UofL tied for third in the nation for road game wins behind Notre Dame and Connecticut.

■ Keeping the Offense Alive - Louisville has been active on the offensive glass this season, averaging 15.3 boards for sixth in the ACC. UofL has grabbed double-digit offensive rebounds in 16 of its 19 games, including 20 against IUPUI. The Cardinals collected 31 against Western Kentucky on Nov. 21, the most in the Jeff Walz era and the highest total since 2002-03. This year's 291 offensive rebounds have translated into 264 second-chance points, an average of 13.9 per game.

■ Major Comeback - Louisville put together one of the biggest comebacks in recent history to earn the win over IUPUI on Dec. 13.

The Cardinals trailed the Jaguars by 14 at halftime and saw the deficit grow to 18 in the third quarter. Louisville outscored IUPUI 42-15 over the final 16:45 of the contest, including a 24-9 advantage in the final quarter.

In the second half, Briahanna Jackson scored 21 of her game-high 23 points, and Myisha Hines-Allen added 12 points and eight rebounds in that span.

The 18-point comeback is the biggest deficit the Cardinals have overcome since Jan. 21, 2005, when Louisville climbed out of an 18-point hole in the first half against TCU and went on to win 63-57.

■ Short on Seniors - Louisville's 2015-16 team essentially is a fountain of youth. Of the 12 student-athletes on its roster, nine (75 percent) are freshmen or sophomores. It also marks the first time since head coach Jeff Walz took the reins in 2007 that the Cardinals' roster does not feature a single senior.

■ First-Half Explosion Against Michigan State - Louisville, playing on its biggest stage in 2015, put together one of its best offensive performances through two quarters this season. The Cardinals scored a then-season-best 23 points in the first quarter and blew out their previous season high of 32 first-half points with 45 in 20 minutes of action.

By the break, Briahanna Jackson (11), Mariya Moore (10), and Asia Durr (10) had double-digit points and the Cardinals were shooting 60.7 percent (17-of-28) from the field. Louisville hit six of its nine 3-pointers, the most in an opening half since connecting on seven against California last season, and went 5-for-5 from the charity stripe.

■ Nest Nuggets - The 56-45 victory over Virginia Tech marked the lowest combined point total in the 34-game series history, which started in 1981. Three games later, Louisville's 92-90 win over NC State was the highest combined score since the Cardinals beat Oklahoma 97-92 in overtime on Nov. 17, 2013. ... Mariya Moore went 12-for-16 from the free throw line on Jan. 3 against Georgia Tech. It's the most free throws since Shoni Schimmel hit 13 versus Colorado (Dec. 21, 2013). Moore's 16 attempts are tied with Angel McCoughtry (2006) and Schimmel (2013) for sixth most in a game in school history. ... The Cardinals held Virginia Tech to just five points in the second period, the fewest Louisville has allowed in a quarter this year. ... Myisha Hines-Allen went 10-for-11 (.909) against College of Charleston, tied for the sixth-best single-game shooting percentage this season. She has connected on at least 10 field goals three times in her career (twice as a freshman). ... Louisville announced a crowd of 16,524 for its season-opener against California, the second-highest opening week attendance in the nation in women's college basketball.

■ Melting Pot - Louisville's 2015-16 roster is even more of a melting pot than in years past. Of the 12 student-athletes on its roster, 10 are from different states (Arizona, California, Georgia, Indiana, Florida, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Texas, and Virginia).

■ Walton a Good Works Team Nominee - Cortnee Walton is among 103 nominees for the 2016 Allstate Women's Basketball Coaches Association and National Association of Basketball Coaches Good Works Team.

In its fourth year, the Allstate WBCA and NABC Good Works Teams® recognize players at all levels of college basketball who have made outstanding contributions in the areas of volunteerism and civic involvement. From establishing nonprofits that provide youth with the necessary tools to become leaders of tomorrow, to raising awareness around pertinent issues that could save lives, these student-athletes exhibit leadership skills both on and off the court.

Walton, who graduated with her bachelor's degree in less than four years, has participated in a plethora of community service activities. Among the many organizations, she has volunteered her time to Family Scholar House (provides academic and family support services for disadvantaged families), Girls on the Run (teach life skills to 3rd-8th grade girls through games and compete in a celebratory 5K), and Women 4 Women (raise money for female organizations in the city through a 5K walk/run).

The Surprise, Ariz., native also has dedicated time to Maryhurst (mentoring young girls who struggle with emotional/behavioral disabilities and normally have to be placed in out-of-state facilities for treatment), Bring Peace Home (raise awareness about family violence prevention), Read to Achieve (reading to and speaking with elementary school student on literacy importance), and Healthy Hoops Clinic for Kids (clinic put on by UofL basketball legend Darrell Griffith that encourages kids with asthma to stay active).

■ Hines-Allen Earns Tournament Honors - Myisha Hines-Allen was named to the Gulf Coast Showcase's five-player, all-Tournament Team on Nov. 29. She averaged 18.0 points on 47 percent shooting and 7.3 rebounds. Hines-Allen, who scored in double figures in all three contests, including a 20-point performance against Dayton, went 7-for-7 from the charity stripe and added five steals.

■ Weatherford Earns Scholarship - Dakota Weatherford, who walked on to the team after the start of the preseason, was awarded a scholarship for the 2015-16 season. Weatherford, a Cicero, Ind., native, played at Evansville in 2013-14. She started 26 games and was named to the Missouri Valley Conference all-Freshman Team. She averaged 6.8 points and totaled 114 assists and 65 steals.

■ Two More McDonald's All-Americans

- Signees in the 2016 class Ciera Johnson and Kylee Shook were named McDonald's All-Americans on Jan. 17. Johnson, who was named to the East Team, and Shook, named to the West Team, will participate in the 15th annual game on March 30 in Chicago's United Center at 6:30 p.m. ET on ESPNU. The game showcases 24 of the nation's elite seniors.

Louisville's two selections are tied for the most in the Atlantic Coast Conference and give the Cardinals nine in school history, seven in the last three seasons.

■ Naismith Trophy Midseason Team - Jazmine Jones and Ciera Johnson were named to the Naismith Trophy Girl's High School Player of the Year Midseason Team on Jan. 14. The All-American teams are scheduled to be announced on March 7, and the high school girl's player of the year will be revealed on March 10.

■ A Tie in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge - For the second-consecutive season, third time overall, the Atlantic Coast and Big Ten conferences played to a tie in the annual Big Ten/ACC Challenge. Over the two-day period, each league won seven games.

The ACC was down 5-2 following the first day of competition, but the league rallied to win five games, including Louisville's 85-78 upset victory over No. 19 Michigan State, on the final date to tie and retain the trophy.

■ Achieving Nonconference Success -

Head coach Jeff Walz has compiled an impressive 100-26 record (.794) against nonconference foes in his nine years at the helm of the program. Two times - in 2008-09 and 2013-14 - he rolled through nonconference play with just one loss, sporting 13-1 and 12-1, records, respectively.

■ Return of the All-Americans - Louisville returned just four of its letterwinners from a season ago, but the Cardinals regained the services of two of their top players in All-Americans Mariya Moore and Myisha Hines-Allen.

Moore, an Associated Press All-America honorable mention and a Full Court Freshman first team All-American, paced the Cardinals in points (13.4) and knocked down a team-high 62 3-pointers as a freshman. She also totaled 121 assists, becoming just the fourth player in school history to achieve the feat as a freshman, and 55 steals.

Hines-Allen was just as critical to the Cardinals' success, averaging the second-most points (11.8) on the team. The Full Court Freshman third team All-American connected on a team-high 55.8 percent of her shots, fourth best in the ACC and 13th nationally. During the postseason, she averaged a team-best 12.8 points.

■ Introducing Briahanna Jackson - The 5-foot-6 guard came to Louisville from UCF, where she averaged 16.3 points, 3.7 rebounds, and 2.8 steals over her two years (2012-14), knocking down 82 3-pointers. In 2013, she was named the Conference USA Freshman of the Year and earned C-USA All-Tournament Team honors after producing 18.5 points and shooting 92.9 percent from the charity stripe. She sank 11 3-pointers in the tournament, sixth most in league history at the event.

As a freshman, she broke the 15-year-old conference record with 89 steals. Arguably her most notable performance as a Knight came when registered 28 points on 11-of-22 shooting, including six treys, against Connecticut on Jan. 1, 2014.

■ Duo Receive ACC Recognition - Sophomore Mariya Moore and freshman Asia Durr received ACC preseason accolades. Moore was named to the preseason all-ACC team by both the Blue Ribbon Panel and the league's 15 coaches. Durr was selected to both of the Newcomer Watch Lists. Louisville is one of just three schools - others are Duke and Notre Dame - with at least one student-athlete on each of the four lists (ACC coaches' and Blue Ribbon preseason all-ACC teams and coaches' and Newcomer Watch Lists).

■ Changing of the Guard -

During the offseason, women's basketball underwent a host of rule changes. Among the modifications:

- The women's game is going from two, 20-minute halves, to four, 10-minute quarters.

- Teams will now reach the bonus and shoot two free throws on the fifth team foul in each quarter, eliminating the one-and-one free throw opportunity in women's basketball.

- Each team now gets four timeouts per game (three, 30-second timeouts, and one 60-second timeout), with three carrying over to the second half.

- If a team calls timeout after a made basket during the last 59.9 seconds of the fourth quarter or any overtime period, they can advance the ball to the 28-foot mark.

- Teams have a total of 10 seconds to advance the ball into the frontcourt. The count no longer will reset when the defense deflects the ball out of play, the offense retains possession after a held ball, or if there is a technical foul assessed to the offensive team.

■ Louisville Chosen Third in ACC Preseason Polls - For the second-consecutive season, the Cardinals were picked to finish third in both the Atlantic Coast Conference's Blue Ribbon Panel and coaches' polls. Louisville received 649 points from the Blue Ribbon Panel, including a pair of first-place votes, while earning 190 points from the league's 15 head coaches. Notre Dame was picked to win the title in both polls. The conference tournament will be held at the Greensboro Coliseum from March 2-6 in Greensboro, N.C.

■ National Preseason Honors

- In one of the first preseason national honors announcements, College Sports Madness named Louisville guard Asia Durr as its freshman of the year, while selecting sophomores Mariya Moore (second team) and Myisha Hines-Allen (third team) to the all-Atlantic Coast Conference teams.

Moore, who was named an Associated Press honorable mention All-American last year, also earned Sporting News third-team All-America honors, while Durr was selected as Sports Illustrated's Freshman of the Year.

■ UofL Features Top-Ranked Incoming Class - One of the major storylines heading into the 2015-16 campaign was the Cardinals' incoming class - Taja Cole (Richmond, Va.), Erin DeGrate (Waco, Texas), Asia Durr (Douglasville, Ga.), Sam Fuehring (Wanaque, N.J.), and Brianna Jones (North Babylon, N.Y.) - that was No. 1 by Prospects Nation and first in the espnW HoopGurlz's rankings in the early signing period.

The group boasts a school-record three McDonald's All-Americans (Durr, Cole, Fuehring).

Durr, the top-ranked recruit in the class of 2015 and a two-time Miss Georgia Basketball selection, finished her prep career with 2,764 points on better than 50 percent shooting, 706 rebounds, 254 assists, 266 steals, and 75 blocks.

Cole totaled 1,520 points, 534 rebounds, 553 assists, and 308 steals in her career, while DeGrate produced 2,166 points on 56 percent shooting, 1,395 rebounds, 101 steals, and 355 blocks before entering college. Fuehring's successful tenure included 2,188 points, sixth most in Bergen County history, over 600 rebounds, and more than 150 blocked shots, and Jones averaged 27.8 points, 8.3 rebounds, and 1.1 assists as a senior.

■ Challenging Slate Awaits - Eight of the Cardinals' opponents this season were ranked in the Associated Press' preseason top 25 (Notre Dame 3, Florida State 7, Duke 14, Kentucky 18, South Florida 20, North Carolina 22, Syracuse 23, Michigan State 24), with three receiving votes (California, Western Kentucky, Miami (Fla.)).

Nearly half (13) of the Cardinals' 28 known opponents won at least 20 games a year ago. Twenty of this year's opponents reached postseason play in 2014-15, including 11 that competed in the NCAA Tournament.

■ Collecting More Gold - Head coach Jeff Walz and sophomore Mariya Moore, for the second-consecutive summer, helped USA Basketball earn gold. Walz, serving as an assistant coach, and Moore spent nearly the entire month of July overseas with the U.S. Women's U-19 World Championship Team. The team went 7-0 in the tournament, with Moore averaging 10.3 points on 47.7 percent shooting, connecting on a U.S.-best 11-of-25 from 3-point range. She also added 2.9 assists and 1.7 steals per game.

The previous summer, Walz - again serving as an assistant coach - and Moore guided the U.S. U-18 Women's National Team to a 5-0 mark in Colorado and USA Basketball's seventh-consecutive gold medal in the FIBA Americas U-18 Championship.

■ A Brief Look Back at 2014-15 - The Cardinals reached the NCAA Sweet 16 last year, advancing to the regional semifinal for the sixth time in program history. The Cardinals, making their program debut in the Atlantic Coast Conference, put together a 27-7 record, with a 12-4 mark in league play to finish third in the conference standings. In reaching its 18th NCAA Tournament, the Cardinals defeated BYU in the first round and then edged USF on its homecourt before falling to Dayton in Albany, N.Y.

■ Quartet Sign Contracts - Louisville's senior class was well-decorated and filled with an abundance of talent. Between next-level potential and the visibility of the program, four of the Cardinals' five senior student-athletes graduated and landed professional contracts overseas.

Shawnta' Dyer was one of the first to land an international deal, heading to Romania to team with former Cardinal Monique Reid. Sara Hammond, a two-time all-conference selection, traveled to Spain after signing an agreement. Sheronne Vails is playing in Switzerland, and Bria Smith was competing in Portugal before suffering an injury.

■ Cardinals Among Statistical Leaders in '14-15 - Louisville ranked in the top 25 nationally in 2014-15 in six Division I statistical categories. The Cardinals were in the top 15 in four areas (scoring margin, assists per game, assist/turnover ratio, and turnover margin). UofL ranked just outside the top 15 in scoring offense (No. 30, 73.1) and rebound margin (No. 23, +7.0).

Individually, Myisha Hines-Allen ranked 13th in field goal percentage (55.8), and Jude Schimmel was 68th in assist/turnover ratio (1.83).

■ Schimmel Invited to White House - Jude Schimmel, a member of the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation, was selected to moderate the seventh annual White House Tribal Nations Conference between President Barack Obama and tribal youth on Nov. 5.

Schimmel is a highly active leader of Generation Indigenous, an initiative that 'focuses on improving the lives of Native youth through new investments and increased engagement.' It was created to improve the lives of Native youth by promoting a national dialogue and policies and programs to mobilize and cultivate the next generation of Native leaders, including programs that focus on education, health and nutrition, juvenile justice, housing, and youth engagement.

■ Another Top-Five Class - Head coach Jeff Walz and his staff did it again - the group compiled the fifth-best recruiting class in the country for 2016, according to espnW HoopGurlz and Prospects Nation. It is the fifth top-10 class under Walz's watch.

The five-member class, with three five-star prospects, consists of Ciera Johnson, a 6-foot-4 center from Duncanville, Texas; Kylee Shook, a 6-foot-4 center from Colorado Springs, Colo.; Sydney Zambrotta, a 5-foot-9 guard from North Babylon, N.Y.; Jazmine Jones, a 5-foot-10 guard from Tallahassee, Fla.; and Bionca Dunham, a 6-foot-3 forward from Philadelphia, Pa.

Johnson, a five-star recruit according to espnW HoopGurlz, is ranked as the 15th-best overall player in the class of 2016. She is the second-best player at the post spot.

A top-20 recruit according to espnW HoopGurlz, Shook heads to Louisville as the 18th-best overall player and the fourth-best post player in the class of 2016 rankings.

Zambrotta, a five-star recruit according to espnW HoopGurlz, is listed as the 29th-best player in the class of 2016, ninth at the guard position.

Jones, a highly athletic guard from Florida, is a four-star prospect in the class of 2016 according to espnW HoopGurlz. She was tabbed as the 55th-best prospect overall, 14th at the guard position. She is tabbed 19th overall by ProspectsNation.

Dunham, a 6-foot-3 forward, comes to Louisville after leading Imhotep Institute Charter to consecutive Public League championships in Philadelphia. Despite having played basketball for just three years, with limited AAU experience, she is rated a three-star recruit by espnW HoopGurlz.

■ Combined Hoops Success - Louisville is one of only three NCAA Division I schools that sent both its men's and women's basketball programs to the NCAA Tournament in each of the last four seasons (also Duke and Gonzaga). Louisville was one of 21 schools with both programs in the 2015 NCAA Tournament and the Cardinals were one of six schools with both its teams seeded four or above (women 3, men 4).

Louisville was one of two schools in the nation with both its men's and women's teams ranked among the nation's top 10 teams in the final 2014-15 USA Today coaches poll (UofL men #10, women #10), joining Notre Dame with that distinction.

■ UofL Has Five-Consecutive 20-Win Seasons

- With the victory over Pittsburgh on Feb. 8, 2015, Louisville notched its 20th win of the year. It marked the program's fifth-consecutive season in which it achieved at least 20 wins and the seventh time achieving the plateau under head coach Jeff Walz.

In the five-year stretch that begins in the 2010-11 season, Louisville has compiled a 134-44 mark (.753). Against league competition, the Cardinals are a stellar 59-23 (.720) between the BIG EAST (2010-13), the American Athletic Conference (2013-14), and the ACC (2014-present).

Since 2010, Louisville has registered one 30-win season (33-5, 2013-14) along with 20-win seasons the other four years (22-13, 2010-11; 23-10, 2011-12; 29-9, 2012-13; 27-7, 2014-15).
