▶ #CARDFACTS

▶ No. 5 University of Louisville football team will go for its fourth-straight win and tenth in the last 11 games when it travels to Boston College on Saturday, Nov. 5 for a noon kickoff on ESPN2. It will be the fourth noon kickoff for the Cards this season.

▶ Saturday's game will be the ninth meeting between the two schools, with the Cardinals leading the series at 5-3. Louisville has won the last three encounters, including a 17-14 victory at Papa John's Cardinal Stadium last season.

▶ Louisville improved to 5-1 in the ACC for the first time after a 32-25 come-from-behind win at Virginia on Saturday. Sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson hit Jaylen Smith with a 28-yard touchdown pass with 13 seconds remaining in the game.

▶ The Cardinals, at 7-1, are off to their best start since 2013 when the squad finished the year at 12-1 and a victory over Miami in the Russell Athletic Bowl. It's the fourth time in his collegiate coaching career that Bobby Petrino's teams have started at 7-1 or better. His 2011 Arkansas squad started 7-1, while at Louisville, his 2004 team finished the year at 11-1 and the 2006, which began the year at 8-0, closed with a 12-1 record.

▶ Jackson tossed four touchdown passes in the win — the third time this season the Pompano Beach product threw for four or more scores in a game. He has 22 touchdown passes this season to stand ninth in school history, and 34 in his career, which places him eighth. It was the first time in 10 games the sophomore didn't record at least one rushing and passing touchdown in a game dating back to last season.

▶ Boston College picked up its first ACC win of the season to even its overall record at 4-4 with a 21-14 win at NC State.

With four more touchdowns last Saturday, sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson extends his school record for touchdowns in a season with 38. The 6-foot-3 signal caller has tossed a career-best 22 touchdown passes — including the game winner in the final seconds at Virginia.

▶ TOP STORYLINES

▶ With 451 yards of total offense, Jackson has 3,520 yards of total offense, the seventh-highest total in school history, and just 528 yards short of breaking Teddy Bridgewater's school mark for total offense in a season.

▶ Totalling 88 yards rushing, Jackson fell short of becoming first quarterback in school history and the 18th player in school history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. He has 996 yards and 16 touchdowns this season from the quarterback position.

▶ Jackson, who averaged 15.0 yards a completion last Saturday versus Virginia, leads the country in yards per completion — totaling 15.96 yards a completion. He has 43 completions of over 20 or more yards this season, which ranks third nationally, and eight of over 60 yards.

▶ With four more touchdowns last Saturday, Jackson leads the country with 38 touchdowns responsible for through eight games. The sophomore signal caller leads the country with 16 rushing touchdowns and is 10th in the country with 22 passing scores. He is responsible for 61 touchdowns (27 rushing and 34 passing) in his 20-game career, which ranks fifth all-time in school history.

▶ Senior tight end Cole Hikutini recorded six receptions for 89 yards in the win over Virginia. The Sacramento, Calif., native has caught 24 passes for 305 yards and a touchdown over the last four games. He has taken over the team lead with 33 receptions and is third on the team with 482 yards receiving.

▶ Despite scoring 32 points, the Cardinals remain the top scoring offense in the nation at 50.0 points per game and continue to lead the country in total offense at 603.3 yards per game.

▶ Defensively, the Cards held Virginia to 322 yards of total offense and just 84 yards on the ground to remain in the top 20 in total defense and rushing defense. Louisville ranks as the 10th-best defense overall and are 16th against the run.

▶ With two interceptions versus Virginia last Saturday, sophomore Jaire Alexander is second nationally with five picks through eight games. The Charlotte native recorded his second two interception game of the season — also picking off two versus Clemson — to give him six in just 21 career games.

QUARTERBACKS

- LAMAR JACKSON has thrown a touchdown pass in 11-straight games and tossed 22 this season.
- Leads the nation with 16 rushing touchdowns and is seventh with 996 rushing yards. He needs four yards to become the first quarterback in school history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season and the first player to do so since 2010.
- Recorded his fourth 300-yard passing game and posted his third contests with four or more touchdown passes.
- Averaging 358.0 yards passing per game in the last two contests.
- Has recorded five 100-yard rushing games and 10 for his career.

RUNNING BACKS

- BRANDON RADCLIFF ranks 10th in the nation with an average of 7.12 yards per carry.
- Second on the squad with three 100-yard rushing games and owns six in his career.
- Became the 14th player in school history to rush for over 2,000 yards (2,067) in his career.
- JEREMY SMITH is second on the team with seven rushing touchdowns
- Scampered for an 80-yard touchdown run versus Duke — the longest since Bilal Powell raced 85 yards for a TD in 2010.
- Rushed for a career-high 97 yards versus Duke.
- Carried a season-high 14 times for 51 yards versus NC State

WIDE RECEIVERS

- JAMES QUICK ranks 11th in the ACC at 16.3 yards a catch.
- Tied his career-high for receptions in a game in two of the last six games — catching seven versus Florida State and Clemson.
- Owns two of the team's five 100-yard receiving games and is second on team with 523 yards receiving.
- Has caught 113 passes for 1,786 yards in his career

- JAMARI STAPLES leads the team with 546 receiving yards and is third with 29 receptions.
- Second on the team with a 18.8 yards per catch average.
- Posted his second 100-yard game this season and fourth of his career with 120 yards against Virginia.

- JAYLEN SMITH has caught a pass in 13-straight games and is first with five receiving touchdowns. He caught a 29-yard pass with 13 seconds left to win the game versus Virginia. He averages a team-best 24.9 yards per catch.

TIGHT ENDS

- COLE HIKUTINI has caught 25 passes — including a career-high seven versus Clemson — for 390 yards and three touchdowns in the last five games. First on the squad with a career-best 33 receptions for 482 yards.

OFFENSIVE LINE

- GERON CHRISTIAN will make his 22nd-straight start at offensive tackle when the Cards face Boston College on Saturday.

DEFENSIVE LINE

- DEANGELO BROWN ranks third on the squad with 4.5 tackles for loss.

LINEBACKERS

- JAMES HEARNS is third in the nation and second in the ACC with four forced fumbles.
- Totaled a career-high seven tackles versus Duke.
- Team leader with 5.0 sacks.

- KEITH KELSEY has recorded 50 tackles in the last seven games.
- Team leader with 56 tackles.
- Has 274 tackles during his career.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

- JAIRE ALEXANDER picked off a pair of passes versus Virginia and two more and forced a fumble in the loss to Clemson on Oct. 1. Ranks second in the nation with five interceptions.
- Team leader in interceptions with five — has six in his career.
- One of the top punt returners — averaging 13.6 yards a return and one touchdown.

- JOSH HARVEY CLEMONS is second on the team in tackles with 53 — posting 11 in back-to-back games versus Marshall and Clemson.
- Has started 21-straight games since transferring from Georgia.

- CHUCKY WILLIAMS recorded his second interception of the season versus Clemson.
- Sixth on the team in tackles with 34.

► LAST TIME VERSUS BOSTON COLLEGE

2015 • Louisville 17, Boston College 14

Still stewing from allowing 510 yards at No. 9 Florida State and somewhat overshadowed by Boston College and its top-ranked defense, the Cardinals showed their stinginess early, often and particularly the Eagles' final possession. A drive in which BC hoped would at least provide an opportunity to tie went backward and ended with Trevon Young's fourth-down sack of quarterback Troy Flutie for a 4-yard loss that preserved a hard-fought 17-14 victory on Saturday.

That final stand and sack capped a dominant defensive effort for the Cardinals, who recorded a season-high eight sacks and held the Eagles to just 79 yards including minus-14 rushing. Louisville tied for the eighth-lowest yardage allowed since 1962 and provided the last word in the expected defensive battle. Sheldon Rankins helped the effort with 46-yard fumble return in the second quarter for Louisville's second TD. The 303-pound defensive end looked pretty nimble when he scooped up Jeff Smith's fumble after being sacked by Trumaine Washington, leaping a defender as he raced down the left sideline. Louisville allowed just one third-down conversion in 14 chances and tied their highest sack total since making eight against Wake Forest last season. Lamar Jackson ran for a 4-yard touchdown and completed 15 of 25 passes for 230 yards. Jamari Staples caught four passes for 96 and Javonte Bagley had three catches for 69. Reggie Bonnafon rushed 10 times for 56 yards as Louisville gained 365 overall, but just 166 after halftime.

2014 • Louisville 38, Boston College 19

Safety Gerod Holliman intercepted three passes to set up three Louisville scores and the Cardinals beat Boston College 38-19. Coming off last week's late loss to No. 2 Florida State, Louisville overcame early red zone struggles to pull away in the second half. DeVante Parker caught eight passes for 144 yards for his third straight 100-yard game since returning from a broken bone in his foot. Will Gardner completed 13 of 19 passes for 188 yards for the Cardinals, who had lost two of their last three games - both to ranked teams. Holliman, who leads the nation with a school-record 13 pick-offs this season, intercepted Murphy on the first play of the game to set up a field goal. He did it again early in the fourth before returning it 38 yards to set up a touchdown that gave the Cardinals a 31-19 lead.

NOTING THE VIRGINIA GAME

- Virginia won the toss and elected to receive — the first time this season the Cards opened the game on defense. Louisville has won its last 14 games when kicking off first.
- Louisville improved to 5-1 in the ACC for the first time in its third year in the league.
- The Cardinals failed to score on their opening drive for the second-straight contest. Louisville trailed for the first time after the first quarter — trailing Virginia 10-7.
- Louisville, which has scored 108 first-quarter points this season, has scored seven or fewer points in the first stanza in four the last five games.
- The Cardinals were held without a point in the second quarter for the first time this season.
- With two interceptions versus Virginia, the Cards have recorded an interception in seven straight games.
- The Cardinals trailed at the half for the second time this season. UofL was behind 28-10 at Clemson at the break before scoring the next 26 points in the game.
- Louisville totaled 508 total yards of offense versus Virginia, the 10th-straight game of over 400 yards of offense and the sixth time this season surpassing 500 yards. The Cardinals have amassed over 500 yards in total offense in eight of the last nine games.
- Redshirt freshman linebacker Jonathan Greenard made his first career start in place of linebacker Devonte Fields, who missed the game due to injury.
- QB Lamar Jackson has thrown at least one touchdown pass in 11-straight games. His four TD passes today marked the fourth time this season he has had three or more TD passes and the fifth of his career.
- Entering the game with 18 touchdown passes this season, Jackson has 22 for the season, which is ninth on the school's single-season list and 34 for his career, which ties him for eighth.
- With four more touchdowns versus Virginia, Jackson extends his school record for touchdowns responsible for to 38 this year and 61 for his career.
- With 451 yards of total offense on Saturday, Jackson has 3,520 yards on the season, which ranks as the seventh-most at UofL for a single season.
- With 88 rushing yards today, Jackson moved within two yards of becoming the 18th Louisville player to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. He has 996 this year.
- CB Jaire Alexander picked off two passes in the game, his fifth interceptions this season and the sixth of his career in the second quarter. He previously had interceptions against Syracuse and Clemson (2) this season.
- WR Jamari Staples led the Cards in receiving with seven catches for 120 yards — his second 100-yard game this season and the fourth of his career. He matched his single-game season high with the seven receptions, including five in the first half.
- WR Traveon Samuel caught a season-best five passes -- one below his career high -- for 69 yards -- which is a new career-best for yards in a game.
- WR Reggie Bonnafon caught two touchdown passes in the game, doubling his total to four this season. It was his first since scoring a TD in the win over Marshall on Sept. 24.
- CB Trumaine Washington produced a season-high seven tackles, the fourth game of his career with five or more stops.
- S Chucky Williams led the Cards with a season-high eight tackles.
- K Blanton Creque booted a 32-yard field goal in the fourth quarter, connecting on his eighth straight attempt.
- TE Cole Hikutini had six receptions for 89 yards, including a key reception on fourth down with a minute to go in the game. It was the third time in the last four games that he has had six or more receptions.

CARDS HAVE 23 ROAD WINS SINCE 2011

- Head coach Bobby Petrino's teams have always been great road teams at Louisville — owning a mark of 26-11 in true road games. Over the last two seasons, the Cards have won six of their last nine games after falling to Clemson on Oct. 1
- The Cards have the fourth-most wins nationally since 2011 with 23 wins — tying themselves with Alabama and Stanford. Northern Illinois leads the way with 25 victories over that span. Louisville is 23-8 in road games since 2011.

CARDS IN THE ACC

- The Cardinals are in their third full season in the ACC after officially joining the league in 2014. During their time in the league the Cardinals have an overall record of 15-7 — after identical 5-3 records in 2014 and 2015. This season, the Cards are off to a 5-1 record in the league — the best mark since joining the league.
- At home, the Cardinals have posted an 9-2 record and have won six-straight ACC games after the 54-13 victory over NC State on Oct. 22. The last loss at home in league play was a 20-17 defeat against Clemson on Sept. 17, 2015.
- The Cardinals are 6-5 on the road since in the ACC after the 32-25 win over Virginia loss to Clemson on Oct. 29. The last road win in the league last weekend on Oct. 29 — a 32-25 victory over the Cavaliers.

FACING TOP-RANKED OPPONENTS

- Clemson was the second top-five opponent the Cards faced this season. It was first time in school history that the Cards have matched up against a pair of top-five foes in the same season — not too mention two times in three weeks. At this points, the Cardinals are scheduled to face their third-ranked foe on the year, when they travel to face Houston on Nov. 17.
- Louisville is 3-30-1 on the road against AP Top-25 teams, while head coach Bobby Petrino is 3-12 on the road versus ranked opponents — going 0-5 at Louisville and 3-7 at Arkansas.
- Louisville's last win over a Top-25 opponent on the road came in 2013 when the Cardinals dropped No. 23 Cincinnati. The Cardinals are 16-47-1 all-time versus ranked opponents in school history.

► Louisville is 20-1 at home when ranked No. 16 or higher in the AP poll, including 11-0 under Bobby Petrino. Three of Bobby Petrino's 11 wins came against ranked opponents.

WELCOME FRESHMEN

► A total of 17 freshmen have made their Cardinal debut this season.

► True Freshmen (2): Seth Dawkins and Malik Staples.

► In addition, junior-college transfers Ronald Walker and Chris Williams have also made their debuts for the Cards this season.

NON-CONFERENCE NOTABLES

► Since 2003, head coach Bobby Petrino's first year at Louisville, to now, the UofL has won 48 of its 61 (.787) regular-season non-conference games. Under Petrino, Louisville is 27-10 in those contests — including a 15-9 mark on the road.

► At home, the Cardinals have been victorious in 28 of the last 34 (.824) non-league games, while Petrino has guided his teams to wins in 12 of 13 non-conference games at home, with the lone loss coming last season in a 34-31 defeat to Houston.

► Louisville has finished the non-conference portion of its schedule undefeated six of the last 13 seasons.

► Dating back to the 2010 campaign, the Cardinals are 22-7 against non-conference opponents during the regular season and have won four-straight against non-conference foes.

► The Cardinals are 2-0 against non-league opponents this season — defeating Charlotte 70-14 to open the season on Sept. 1 and beating Marshall 59-28 on Sept. 24. The Cardinals have non-conference games remaining versus Houston on Nov. 17 and Kentucky on Nov. 26.

OCTOBER IS OVER/BRING ON NOVEMBER

► Louisville has been dominant under head coach Bobby Petrino in the month of October. In his seventh year as head coach, Petrino's teams have posted a 19-7 record during the calendar's tenth month.

► Dating back to last season, the Cardinals have won eight of the last 11 games — posting a 3-1 record this season and a 3-1 mark a year ago.

► While the Cardinals have posted 21 wins in the month of September under Petrino, the Cardinals' best winning percentage comes in November where the Cards have won 81.8 percent of their games — posting an 18-4 record.

► Louisville has won six of its last seven games in November dating back to last season. The only loss was a 45-34 decision last season at Pitt on Nov. 21.

CARDS OWN BIG HOME ADVANTAGE

► Louisville has rewarded the loyalty of its fans with great success at Papa John's Cardinal Stadium — especially under head coach Bobby Petrino. The Cardinals have won eight in a row at home dating back to last season (last loss was a 20-17 defeat to Clemson on Sept. 17, 2015).

► Head coach Bobby Petrino improved to 35-4 at home after the 54-13 win over NC State on Oct. 22.

► Of those 35 wins, the Cardinals have scored 60 or more points eight times, 50-plus points six times, and 40 points 20 times.

► Petrino is 23-3 all-time in conference games at home — 9-2 at home in ACC play and 14-1 in Conference USA and the BIG EAST.

► UofL is 89-29 (.754) at Papa John's Cardinal Stadium since the facility was constructed in 1998.

► Louisville's most recent perfect home season occurred in 2006 — going 6-0 that year.

► Louisville is 4-0 at home in 2016 and are 9-2 in ACC home games since joining the league in 2014.

► The Cardinals had a 20-game winning streak from Nov. 22, 2003 to Sept. 6, 2007 — until it was snapped on Sept. 22, 2007 in a 38-35 loss to Syracuse.

► Over the course of its history, Louisville is 312-186-6 (.624) all-time at home — including a 133-88-2 (.601) mark at Cardinal Stadium. Louisville has played its games at six different stadiums over the course of its history (Maxwell Field, Parkway Field, Manual Stadium, Cardinal Stadium and Papa John's Cardinal Stadium).

PETRINO VS. ACC TEAMS

► Bobby Petrino is 23-10 overall against ACC teams since he became the Louisville head coach in 2003.

► The Louisville head coach has faced 12 different ACC teams since he became head coach in 2003 after defeating NC State 54-13 on Oct. 22. Petrino has a winning record against every ACC team with the exception of Clemson, Virginia Tech and Florida State. Six of his 10 losses against ACC teams have been against those three schools. He is 0-3 against Clemson, 1-2 against Florida State and 0-1 against Virginia Tech.

► Petrino is 22-5 vs. the combinations of Boston College, 2-0; Duke 1-0; NC State, 3-0; North Carolina, 1-0; Pitt, 2-1; Syracuse, 6-0; Miami, 2-1; Virginia, 2-1; and Wake Forest, 3-0.

LOUISVILLE TO PLAY ALABAMA IN 2018

► The University of Louisville and Alabama will open the 2018 season in the Orlando Citrus Bowl as part of an annual series of Orlando Kickoff games.

► The 2018 match-up, announced Aug. 6, 2015, is the second publicized game in a multi-year agreement between Florida

Citrus Sports (FCSports) and ESPN Events, a division of ESPN, to host major neutral-site, regular-season college football games in the Orlando Citrus Bowl. The Orlando Citrus Bowl is already home to the Buffalo Wild Wings Citrus Bowl, Russell Athletic Bowl, and Florida Blue Florida Classic games. Neither school has played in the stadium since its near-complete reconstruction a year ago.

► The Cardinals and Crimson Tide have met three previous times on the gridiron, with Alabama holding a 2-1 series advantage. In the last meeting in 1991, the Cardinals defeated the No. 25 Crimson Tide 34-7 in the 1991 Fiesta Bowl.

CARDINALS CONTINUE SCORING STREAK

- Louisville has tallied points in 207 consecutive games dating back to the 2000 season.
- The scoring streak has endured 123 conference games, including 88 true road games and 15 neutral-site contests.
- In addition, Louisville has not been held scoreless in 177 consecutive home games dating back to 1987— a 25-0 loss to Cincinnati.

ON THE ROSTER

- Louisville welcomes back 17 starters from last year's team that went 8-5 overall, won eight of its last 10 games, and claimed a win over Texas A&M in the Music City Bowl. UofL's starting returnees consist of 10 on offense and seven on defense.
- Of the 41 players who started at least one game for Louisville in 2015, 30 return this season.
- With 44 total freshmen (27 true freshmen, 17 redshirt freshmen) among 113 players, freshmen represent 38.9 percent of Louisville's 2016 roster. The junior class is the largest on the team with 28 members, while there are 22 seniors on the squad.

FOR STARTERS

- In 2016, the Cardinals have 34 players who have one game or more of starting experience.
- Tops on the list are linebacker Keith Kelsey (33), center Tobijah Hughley (30) and wide receiver James Quick (26).

CARDINALS REACH 500

- The 2016 season marks the 98th season of intercollegiate football at the University of Louisville, dating back to 1912.
- It is the 71st-consecutive year in which Louisville has competed on the gridiron. The University did not field a team from 1943-45. Louisville is 52 games over the .500 mark with an all-time record of 502-450-17. The Cardinals secured their 500th career win with the 24-14 victory over Duke.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS AND NOTES

- The Cardinals are looking for their 16th win in the last 19 games dating back to last season.
- With the win over NC State, the Cardinals are 22-0 as an AP Top 25 team at home, with an average winning margin of 51-17.
- The Cardinals improved to 13-11 in games decided by seven points or less under head coach Bobby Petrino.
- Louisville, which leads the NCAA in scoring, has scored 50 or more points in five games this season, the most in FBS.
- The Louisville offense leads the nation with 35 red-zone touchdowns this season in 52 attempts. The Cards are 45-of-52 on red-zone attempts this season.
- The Cardinals have given up only three rushing touchdowns all season, which ties for tops in the nation. Opponents haven't recorded a rushing touchdown in the last 14 quarter. The last one came versus Clemson on Oct. 1 in the second quarter of the 42-36 loss. Louisville is tied with Alabama, Ohio State and Michigan for the lead nationally.
- On defense, the Cardinals held the Wolfpack to 54 total yards of total offense in the first half — their lowest output of the season. NC State also totaled -1 yards in the first quarter.
- Redshirt freshman kicker Blanton Creque leads the ACC and is 10th nationally in field goal percentage, connecting on 9-of-10 attempts. Since missing his first attempt versus Marshall, the product of Shelbyville, Ky., has connected on nine in a row.
- Louisville held Virginia to 4-of-14 on third down in the win last weekend, moving the Cardinals to sixth in the country in third-down defense at 28.2 percent.
- Louisville has won nine of its last 11 ACC games dating back to last year. After falling to Florida State last season, the Cardinals went on to win four-straight league games for the first time in the ACC. The Cardinals did fall to Pitt last November, but have responded with five wins in the last six contests.
- Through the first eight games of the 2016 season, the Cardinals have tallied 27 rushing touchdowns — besting the 13-game total from last season when they scored 24 times. The Cards have totaled 25 rushing scores in the last seven games — seven coming versus Syracuse on Sept. 9 and Florida State on Sept. 17. Louisville was held without a rushing score for the first time in 13 games.
- The Cardinals limited Virginia to just 322 yards of total offense, including just 4.7 yards per play. Louisville remains in the top 10 nationally, holding opponents to just 303.9 yards a game and are seventh in the country by giving up just 4.5 yards per play.
- Louisville, which is ranked 16th against the run, limited Virginia to 84 yards rushing and have held the last two opponents to a combined 96 yards on the ground for an average of 48.0 yards per game.
- Quarterback Lamar Jackson has more rushing (16) and passing touchdowns (22) than 110 FBS teams, including 19 squads listed in the AP Top 25.
- Jackson, who leads the nation with 16 rushing touchdowns, was held without a rushing score for the first time since the Virginia game last season when he carried just once for 45 yards. The native of Pompano Beach, Fla., has a rushing touchdown in 15 of 20 career games.

SECOND 70-POINT PERFORMANCE

► Head coach Bobby Petrino's specialty is producing points, and that's exactly what his team did on Sept. 1 versus Charlotte. The Cardinals posted a 70-14 win over Charlotte — the second time in his seven-year career at Louisville that his squads tallied 70 points in a game; the other time was a 70-7 win over Cincinnati in 2004.

► Under Petrino's offensive tutelage, the Cardinals have scored 40 or more points in 35 of 79 games and over 50 points in 18 contests.

SIX COLLEGE GRADUATES ON THE ROSTER

► Six current Louisville players have already earned their undergraduate degree at the university. Fullback Lamar Atkins, defensive tackle DeAngelo Brown, long snapper Colin Holba, center Tobijah Hughley, placekicker Anthony George and running back Brandon Radcliff graduated in spring 2015 and are seniors on the 2015 football squad.

► Atkins earned his degree in sport administration, while Brown earned his degree in health and human performance and Holba graduated with a degree in finance. Hughley, an all-ACC academic selection, was a sports administration graduate, while George owns a biology degree and Radcliff picked up a degree in communications.

NFL TALENT

► Former defensive end Sheldon Rankins was selected with the No. 12 overall pick in the first round of the 2016 National Football League Draft by the New Orleans Saints. Rankins was the Cardinals' fifth first-round pick over the last three drafts and 13th first-round selection in school history. In 2014, safety Calvin Pryor, outside linebacker Marcus Smith, and quarterback Teddy Bridgewater all went in round one, while wide receiver DeVante Parker went in the opening round last season.

► Under the watch of head coach Bobby Petrino, the Cardinals have placed three players in the first round: Rankins, Parker, and Amobi Okoye. Former center Eric Wood was a first-round selection in 2008, but played for Petrino from 2004-07. Petrino has coached 32 Cardinals who were selected in the NFL Draft under his guidance.

► The Cardinals are just one of seven teams who have had a first-round pick for the last three seasons. Alabama leads the way with a first-rounder for the last eight seasons, while Texas A&M has one in the last year years. Clemson, Florida State and Florida have a first-round pick in four-straight years, and Louisville and Michigan State have had first-round selections over the last three seasons.

GROUP OF 21 SENIORS PROVIDE LEADERSHIP FOR LOUISVILLE

► Louisville has the benefit of a 21-member senior class. It is the second-largest largest senior class that Bobby Petrino has had since he became head coach three years ago. 11 of those seniors are listed as starters on the 2016 preseason depth chart.

DRAMA KINGS

► Since 2008, Louisville is 23-20 in games decided by seven points or less after the 42-36 loss to No. 5 Clemson on Oct. 1, 2016.

► Head coach Bobby Petrino is 13-11 at Louisville in games decided by seven points or less and 26-19 during his coaching career after the loss to the Tigers.

► The Cardinals are 5-5 all-time in overtime games since the NCAA instituted the rule in 1996. Petrino is 0-2 in overtime games at Louisville.

PIPELINE TO THE PROS

► The Cardinals boast 24 players in the NFL heading into Week 2 of the season:

► Louisville saw DE Sheldon Rankins drafted in the first round with the No. 12 pick overall by the New Orleans Saints — the fifth first-rounder for the Cards since 2014. The Cards are one of seven teams that have had a first round selection over the last three seasons. Here is how it breaks down: Alabama (8), Texas A&M (6) Clemson (4), Florida State (4), Florida (4), Louisville (3), and Michigan State (3).

YOUR 2016 LOUISVILLE TEAM CAPTAINS

OUT-OF-THE LOCKEROOM DOMINANCE

► Not only are the Cardinals getting off to a fast start in the first quarter, out-scoring the opposition 101-17, but they are also great coming out of the locker room at the half. Louisville is dominating opponents 75-34 in the third quarter.

► The Cardinals have scored on five of the eight second-half drives coming out of the locker room, including on Oct. 14 when Jeremy Smith went 80 yards for a touchdown to put the Cards up 17-7 in the win over Duke on Oct. 14.

► The Cardinals have held seven of the eight opponents without a touchdown on the opening drive of the second half — after Virginia went 69 yards on its first possession of the second half.

CARDS IN THE TOP FIVE

► The Cardinals remained in the top five in both polls after the win over Virginia on Oct. 29 — their 10th-straight week in the rankings. It marks the fourth week this season that the Cardinals sit in the top five of each major poll. Louisville was as high as third this season before losing to Clemson on Oct. 1.

► This will be only the seventh week in school history that the Cards sit in the top five of both polls — and the first time since Sept. 18 and Sept. 25 this season when Louisville was ranked No. 3 in the Associated Press Poll.

► The last time the Cards were No. 5 in each poll came on Oct. 30, 2006 when Louisville moved to 7-0 after a 28-13 win over Syracuse.

► The Cards own a 3-2 mark when ranked as a top-five team — defeating Marshall this season and West Virginia in 2003, while losing to Clemson on Oct. 1 and dropping a 28-25 decision to Rutgers in 2006.

TRANSFER IMPACT

► The Cardinals have had a number of transfers who have made an impact on the program.

BIG WINS

► The Cardinals picked up another big win with a 53-14 win over NC State on Oct 22. It was the 22nd win of Bobby Petrino's 65 career victories that came with a margin of 30 or more points.

► The average margin of victory in those wins is 43.3 points.

► Petrino's teams are 23-2 in games decided by 28 or more points.

► The Cardinals are 12-0 under Petrino when scoring 60 or more points.

SCORING AT RECORD PACE

► In producing seven wins in the first seven games, the Cardinals are producing points at a record pace. Louisville leads the nation in scoring at 50.0 points per game — scoring over 60 points in three of the eight games this season and over 36 in six contests. The NCAA record for scoring per game was 56.0 by Army in 1944.

► The Cardinals have scored 400 points — just 50 points from tying for fifth for the most points in a season by a UofL team. The Cardinals are 198 points shy of breaking the school record for points in a season. The 2004 team — coached by Bobby Petrino — holds the school record for points with 597.

► Staying on their current pace, the Cardinals are on track to score 650 points, which would shatter the school record. In eight games this year, Louisville has already tallied more points than the 374 points scored in 2015. Louisville averaged 28.7 points per game a year ago.

► The Cardinals have scored 52 touchdowns this year, which is second only to the 53 that South Florida has scored in one more game than the Cards. Louisville is one of five schools to score 50 or more touchdowns this year.

► The Cardinals' scoring average is up 21.3 points from last year's team that averaged 28.7 points for the entire season. No Louisville team has scored 50.0 per game — the closest being 49.8 in 2004 under head coach Bobby Petrino. Only three teams have averaged more than 40 points in a season.

GROUND CARDS

► The Cardinals' early-season rushing success has already resulted in eight individual 100-yard rushing efforts this season in eight games this season — two short of ten set by the 1957 team. Under coach Bobby Petrino, the Cardinals are 35-6 when a Cardinal hits the century mark. In addition, the Cardinals hold a 34-0 record when the team rushes for 100 or more yards and holds the opponent below 100 yards on the ground.

► For the 18th time in school history, the Cardinals produced multiple 100-yard rushers in the same games as Lamar Jackson (146) and Brandon Radcliff (118) versus Florida State on Sept. 17. It marked Jackson's eighth 100-yard contest and Radcliff's seventh.

► The Cards dropped to 10th nationally in rushing yards per game at 268.0 after totaling a season low 147 yards on the ground in the win over Virginia. Despite ranking 51st with just 331 attempts, the Cardinals have rushed for 2,144 yards, which is the eighth-highest total in the country.

► Louisville totaled 414 yards on the ground on Sept. 9 in a 63-28 win over Syracuse — the sixth-highest single-game total in school history and the second 400-yard game under head coach Bobby Petrino.

► The Cardinals had rushed for over 270 yards in eight-straight games for the first time in school history and over 200 yards in eight-consecutive contests for the first time since 2004, before the streak was snapped against NC State.

► The Cardinals are one of just 13 teams averaging better than 250 yards on the ground this season. After totaling an average of 305.6 yards on the ground in the first six games, the Cards have been held to 155.0 yards in the last two wins.

► Louisville has rushed for 27 touchdowns, which is the fifth-most in the country. The Cards need 20 more rushing scores to tie the school record of 47 rushing touchdowns in a season, which was set in 2004 when the Cards ended the year at 12-1.

► The Cardinals are third in the country with 79 rushes of 10 or more yards and second with 16 runs of over 30 yards.

► After averaging less than 4.0 yards per carry in the last two games, the Cardinals are ranked third in the nation with an average of 6.48 yards per carry. Senior Brandon Radcliff is 10th in the country at 7.1 yards per carry, while Lamar Jackson is 16th with his 6.8 yards an attempt.

GAME-WINNING DRIVE FIRST SINCE 2012

► Trailing 25-24 with 1:57 left in the game, the Cardinals took the play and went eight plays and 75 yards for the game-winning touchdown — a 29-yard pass from quarterback Lamar Jackson to Jaylen Smith with 13 seconds remaining in the contest.

► The touchdown on the final drive was the first to win the game since 2012 when Teddy Bridgewater directed the same type of drive — an 8-play, 75-yard drive that took 10 seconds longer — which ended with a Bridgewater 11-yard pass to Eli Rogers with 1:35 to play in a 27-25 victory over USF.

► The win in the final 20 seconds was the third in school history — Oct. 15, 1988, when the Cards beat Virginia 30-28 on a Ron Bell 34-yard field goal at 0:10 and Oct. 16, 1999, when UofL won at Memphis 32-31 on an 18-yard pass from Chris Redman to Lavell Boyd at 0:06.

SCORING 40 OR MORE POINTS

► Under head coach Bobby Petrino, the Cardinals are 36-1 when scoring 40 or more points. The only loss came in 2005 when the Cardinals fell 46-44 in triple overtime at West Virginia.

► Since 2000, the Cardinals are 58-1 when hitting the 40-point plateau.

RUSHING TOUCHDOWNS IN 31 OF 34 GAMES

► Louisville's rushing game had produced a touchdown in 12 consecutive games dating back to 2015 before being shutout last week versus Virginia. The last time the Cards werheld without a rushing touchdown came on Oct. 30, 2015 — a 20-19 win over Wake Forest on the road.

► The Cardinals have now scored a rushing TD in 31 of 34 games coached by Bobby Petrino since his return in 2014.

CAREER RUSHING TOUCHDOWNS

RED-ZONE OFFENSE

► The Cardinals have been one of the top offenses in the nation this season, and that has resulted in great numbers inside the red zone. Louisville leads the country with 35 red-zone touchdowns this season — one more than Houston, which is second with 34 touchdowns.

► Louisville has converted its last 12 attempts in the red-zone — seven of which have resulted in touchdowns and five field goals.

► The Cardinals' 52 attempts inside the opponents 20-yard line is also the most in the country. Louisville averages 6.5 attempts per game in the red zone.

RADCLIFF SURPASSES 2,000 AND ON PACE FOR 1,000

► Senior running back Brandon Radcliff is saving his best for last. In his last season with the Cards, and is on pace to pick up his first 1,000-yard rushing season at Louisville. The Miami, Fla., native is second on the team with 605 yards and three touchdowns, while averaging 75.6 rushing yards per game.

► Radcliff rushed for a career-high 156 yards on Sept. 9 versus Syracuse and added 131 yardson Sept. 24 in the 59-28 victory over Marshall. He added 118 yards versus Florida State on Sept. 17.

► The product of Columbus High School is 73rd in the nation in rushing with 605 yards and stands seventh in the country with a 7.1 yards per carry average. Averaging just 10.6 carries per game, Radcliff, who had seven runs of 20 or more yards all of last season, is tied for 41st nationally with seven runs of 20 or more yards and tied for 23rd in the nation with four carries of 30 or more yards.

► Playing in 44 career games, Radcliff has posted eight 100-yard rushing games, which is tied for eighth-most in school history and 23 rushing scores. Radcliff ranks 14th in school history with 2,013 yards and became the 14th player in school history to rush for 2,000 yards in a career.

JACKSON'S RUSHING TOUCHDOWNS; NEARS ACC RECORD

► Sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson leads the way with 16 touchdowns — putting him sixth in school history, and needs just eight more to break Michael Bush's school record of 23 set in 2005. Jackson, who is averaging 2.0 rushing scores per game, is on pace to total 26 rushing scores, which would shatter the school record of 23 set by running back Michael Bush in 2005.

► The Pompano Beach native, who is third in ACC single-season history, needs five more rushing touchdowns to break the ACC record for rushing touchdowns by a quarterback, which would break Georgia Tech's Tevin Smith's record of 20 set in 2012. Pitt's James Conner set the rushing touchdowns record with 26 in 2014.

► The NCAA record for rushing touchdowns by a quarterback is 31 by Navy's Keenan Reynolds in 2013.

JACKSON ON PACE TO SHATTER OTHER ACC RECORDS TOO

► While sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson will likely shatter every University of Louisville record, the native of Pompano Beach, Fla., is on pace to wreck the ACC record book as well. With 996 yards rushing in just eight games, Jackson, who is tenth on the league's single-season rushing list by a quarterback, needs 189 to break former Boston College quarterback Tyler Murphy's mark of 1,184, which was established in 2014.

- ▶ Jackson is on pace to rush for 1,610 yards this season, which would be the sixth-highest total for any position in the history of the league. Jordan Lynch of Northern Illinois holds the NCAA record for rushing yards by a quarterback with 1,920 in 2013.
- ▶ Averaging 439.8 yards of total offense through eight games, Jackson is on pace to break the ACC mark of 5,209 yards of total offense, which is held by Deshaun Watson in 2015. Jackson needs 480 yards to crack the league's top 10 list.
- ▶ Responsible for 38 touchdowns this season, Jackson also needs nine touchdowns to tie Watson's single-season mark for touchdowns responsible in a season with 47. Jackson's 38 touchdowns — 16 rushing and 22 passing touchdowns — is tied for fifth in league history with Taj Boyd (2011) of Clemson on the single-season list. Jackson averages 4.75 touchdowns per game, and is one pace for 63 touchdowns this year, which would tie the NCAA mark set by Hawaii's Colt Brennan in 2006.

PROLIFIC IN THE PASSING GAME

- ▶ Entering the ninth game of the season, the Cardinals have developed one of the most potent passing games in the country — ranking 12th in the country at 335.3 yards per game through the air.
- ▶ After throwing for over 250 yards in just five games in 2015, the Cardinals have passed for over 250 yards in six of the first eight games — including a season-high 431 against Syracuse and 417 versus Marshall.
- ▶ Ranking 52nd in the country last season with 21 touchdown passes, the Cardinals have surpassed that total with 24 this season, which ranks 12th in the country. Sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson has tossed 22 touchdown strikes, which is tied for 10th nationally with Clemson's Deshaun Watson. Jackson's 22 touchdowns are the ninth-most in school history for a season and needs just 10 more to break Teddy Bridgewater's school record for 31 touchdown throws in 2013.
- ▶ The Cardinals are fifth nationally in passing yards per completion at 15.9 yards and have already totaled 45 passing plays of over 20 or more yards, which is fifth in the country. Louisville is sixth in the country with eight receptions of over 50+ yards and have three catches of over 70 yards this season. Last season, the Cards averaged 3.9 receptions of over 20+ yards for the season, while Louisville is averaging 5.6 through the first eight games of 2016.
- ▶ The Cardinals have three touchdown receptions of over 70 yards — two coming from senior wide receiver James Quick, who scored from 72 yards versus Syracuse and 71 against Marshall, and one last week from sophomore Jaylen Smith, who scored from 74 yards out on the longest pass from sophomore Lamar Jackson.
- ▶ Senior wide receiver Jamari Staples is averaging 18.8 yards a reception and leads the team with 11 receptions of over 20 yards. The group has totaled five 100-yard receiving games after Staples totaled 120 yards last weekend at Virginia.

MULTIPLE SCORING THREATS

- ▶ A total of 14 different Louisville players have scored either a rushing or receiving touchdown this season. In addition 16 players have made a catch, while 14 players have made multiple receptions, and 10 have caught touchdown passes this season.
- ▶ Sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson leads the way with 16 touchdowns, while running back Jeremy Smith has scored eight times. Wide receivers Jaylen Smith leads the receiving corps with five touchdowns. James Quick and Cole Hikutini have added four scores, while running back Brandon Radcliff have both crossed the goal line on three occasions.

HIGH-OCTANE LOUISVILLE OFFENSE RANKS AS NATION'S BEST

▶ Through eight games this season, Louisville has once again proved it has one of the nation's top offenses. Backed by the play of quarterback Lamar Jackson, a talented group of running backs and depth at wide receiver, the Cardinals lead the country in total offense (603.3) and scoring offense (50.0), while ranking fourth in first down offense (228) and fifth in passing yards per completion (15.9).

- ▶ Louisville scored at least 50 or more points in five games, which is the most since the 2004 team put up seven games of 50 or more points in its 11-1 season. Louisville has scored 50 or more points 20 times in Head coach Bobby Petrino's 84 games on the sidelines.
- ▶ Between Lamar Jackson and Kyle Bolin, the Cardinals have thrown for 2,682 yards and are on pace to throw for approximately 4,300 yards, which would be the second-best total in school history. The school record for passing yards in a season is 4,498 yards by the 1998 team.
- ▶ Part of Louisville's offensive success comes from its success on third downs. The Cards rank 37th in the country, converting 44 percent of their conversions, which is also fourth-best in the ACC.

- ▶ Another part of their success stems from their balance. Jackson and Bolin have found 10 different receivers for touchdowns, five of which have scored multiple touchdowns. Four different rushers have found the endzone this season, led by Jackson's 16 touchdowns. Jackson, who had a career-high four rushing touchdowns twice this season, leads the nation in rushing touchdowns.
- ▶ In 84 games as head coach, Bobby Petrino has guided the Cardinals offense to at least 500 yards of total offense 34 times during his tenure, including even of the eight games this season. Louisville leads the country with 603.3 yards of total offense.
- ▶ Jackson ranks among the nation's top passes, sitting 13th in the country with 2.522 yards and 10th in passing touchdowns with 22. The Pompano Beach native is leading the country in points responsible for with 230 and points responsible per game with 38.8.
- ▶ Louisville boasts one of the most accurate place kickers in Blanton Creque. The red-shirt freshman has found the uprights in 90.0 percent of his kicks (9-of-10) this season, which is 10th nationally and tops in the ACC. He has connected on nine in a row since missing his first attempt against Marshall on Sept. 24.
- ▶ The Cardinals totaled a school record 845 yards of offense versus Syracuse on Sept. 9.
- ▶ Under Petrino's guidance, the Cardinals led the nation in scoring offense (49.4) and total offense (539) in 2004.
- ▶ Louisville led the nation in total offense once (2004) and finished in the top 10 on four different occasions during Petrino's tenure (2003, 2004, 2005, 2006).

PETRINO KNOWS POINTS

- ▶ In his 12 seasons as a head coach, Bobby Petrino's teams have been able to put up points at a pretty consistent basis. The Cardinals lead the country in scoring offense at 50.0 points per game — having put up 50 points in five of the eight games this season.
- ▶ During his seven seasons with the Cardinals, Louisville has scored 40 or more points 37 times, including five times this season.
- ▶ Petrino's squads have averaged 35.99 points per game during his time as a head coach, which is the seventh-highest point total among active head coaches in the FBS.

Highest scoring average among active coaches (Minimum two full FBS seasons):

1.	Mark Helfrich, Oregon – 43.97 (2,155 points/49 games)
2.	Jeff Brohm, WKU – 43.63 (1,570 points/36 games)
3.	Kevin Sumlin, Texas A&M – 40.27 (4,510 points/112 games)
4.	Kliff Kingsbury, Texas Tech – 39.04 (1,796 points/46 games)
5.	Chris Petersen, Washington – 38.53 (5,356 points/139 games)
6.	Jimbo Fisher, Florida State – 36.36 (3,272 points/90 games)
7.	Todd Graham, Arizona State – 36.15 (5,097 points/141 games)
8.	Bobby Petrino, Louisville – 35.99 (5,290 points/147 games)
9.	Bryan Harsin, Boise State – 35.92 (1,688 points/47 games)
10.	Larry Fedora, North Carolina – 35.35 (3,995 points/113 games)
11.	Sonny Dykes, California – 35.22 (2,888 points/82 games)
12.	Blake Anderson, Arkansas State – 35.12 (1,159/33 games)
13.	Dino Babers, Syracuse – 34.2 (1,197 points/35 games)
14.	Dana Holgorsen, WVU – 33.99 (2,413 points/71 games)

FIRST 15 AND 15 PLAYER

- ▶ Add another record to sophomore Lamar Jackson's incredible 2016 season. With one rushing and one passing touchdown versus Duke, Jackson has 15 passing and rushing touchdowns — becoming the first player in ACC history with 15 touchdowns in each of those categories.
- ▶ Jackson is the only player to record one passing and rushing touchdown in 10-straight game dating back to last season, and has 13 dating back to last season. His streak was stopped last weekend versus Virginia when he was held without a rushing score.
- ▶ Jackson's added his 16th rushing touchdowns last weekend, which is sixth in school history. Jackson is tied with Jeremy McNichols of Boise State in scoring per game (13.7), total points scored (96) and total touchdowns (16). Jackson is second in points responsible (204) and points responsible per game (29.1).

JACKSON 300-100

- ▶ Sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson is second nationally in total offense, averaging 439.8 yards per game, which would shatter the ACC mark for total offense per game — held by Phillip Rivers of NC State, who averaged 353.8 yards in 2003. Jackson is the only player in the FBS who averages over 300 yards passing and 100 yards rushing this year. The 6-foot-3 sophomore is 12th in the nation at 315.3 yards passing per game and ninth in rushing at 124.5.
- ▶ Jackson is averaging 8.52 yards per play this year, which ranks sixth in the country, as does his 360 plays.
- ▶ Jackson is sixth in the nation with 37 plays from scrimmage of 10 yards or more and is third nationally with three passing plays of over 70 yards and fourth with eight passes of 50 or more yards.

QUICK CONTINUES TO BE RELIABLE TARGET

- ▶ Wide receiver James Quick continues to have a big year for the Cards as he has been one of the top receivers with 32 catches for 523 yards and four touchdowns through eight games in 2016. Quick continues to show why he has been one of the most reliable targets over the last three seasons. He reached the 100-career catch plateau with 113 career receptions for 1,786 yards. He needs 214 yards to become just the 11th player in school history to register 2,000-career receiving yards.
- ▶ Quick's 4.0 receptions per game ranks 11th in the ACC and is 90th nationally. The native of Louisville also stands 56th in the country and seventh in the league at 17.1 yards a reception. His 523 receiving yards are 46th nationally.
- ▶ The product of Trinity High School has tied his career-high for receptions in a game three times with seven — equaling a career-best against the Tigers. He also caught seven for 122 yards versus Florida State — the fifth 100-yard receiving game of his career and needs one more to move into a tie for 10th place on the school's all-time list.
- ▶ Over the last five games, Quick has 27 receptions for 383 yards and two touchdowns — averaging 76.6 yards per game.
- ▶ Quick is only one of four players to record two receptions for over 70 yards this season — scoring on a 71-yard pass against Marshall last week and a 72-yarder versus Syracuse on Sept. 9.
- ▶ Quick is on pace to be UofL's ninth 1,000-yard receiver and the first since Harry Douglas totaled 1,159 yards in 2007. The Louisville native ranks fourth on the school's career yards per catch list at 16.4.

FIRST DOWN SUCCESS

- ▶ The Cardinals have amassed first downs at a record pace through the first eight games — totaling 38 in the opener versus Charlotte on Sept. 1, 31 against Clemson on Oct. 1 and 30 against Syracuse on Sept. 9.
- ▶ The 38 first downs in the victory over Charlotte was the second-highest total in school history. It only trails the 1998 team's 39, accomplished against East Carolina.
- ▶ Louisville is fourth in the nation in first downs with 228 — totaling 105 on the ground, which ranks 12th nationally, and 104 through the air.

MAGIC NUMBERS

- ▶ Head coach Bobby Petrino owns a 59-5 overall record when leading after three quarters of play. In addition, his teams hold a 60-7 overall mark when holding a lead after the first half.
- ▶ Petrino's offenses have been known for putting up outstanding numbers through the air, but also having success on the ground. His teams own a 41-3 overall record when rushing for at least 200 yards. On the flip side, Petrino holds a 4-8 overall record when his teams do not run for at least 100 yards.
- ▶ On the defensive side of the ball, Petrino holds a 40-1 overall record when his teams hold their opponents to less than 20 points. In addition, his squads own a 37-1 when holding opponents to less than 100 yards rushing.

RUSHING JACKSON

- ▶ With 88 yards rushing in the win over Virginia last Saturday, sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson inched closer to becoming a 1,000-yard rusher from the quarterback position, which would be a first at Louisville. Jackson has 996 yards rushing, which ranks seventh nationally and his 124.5 yards per game is first among quarterbacks and ninth in the country.
- ▶ Jackson owns five 100-yard rushing games this season and has 10 in his career — tying him with Michael Bush for fifth on the school's all-time list and needs five to tie the school record of 15 held by Walter Peacock.
- ▶ In just 20 career contests, Jackson has 27 career rushing touchdowns, which puts him in a tie for fourth all-time — with Anthony Shelman and Frank Moreau.
- ▶ The Cardinals lead the nation in runs of over 30 yards with 13 in the first seven games.
- ▶ A native of Pompano Beach, Fla., Jackson needs just 88 yards to move into a tie for 10th-place on the school's single-season rushing list. With at least five games remaining, Jackson is on pace for over 1,600 yards, which would shatter Howard Stevens' school record of 1,429 yards set in 1971. The NCAA record for rushing yards by a quarterback was 1,920 by Northern Illinois' Jordan Lynch in 2013.
- ▶ A 6-foot-3 sophomore, Jackson averages 6.8 yards a touchdown run, which ranks 19th in the country.
- ▶ In his career, Jackson has rushed for 1,956 yards — needing 44 yards to become the 15th player in school history to run for 2,000 yards in a career.

PUTTING UP MONSTER NUMBERS

- ▶ The Cardinals totaled a school-record 845 yards in the win over Syracuse on Sept. 9 — breaking the old mark of 779 yards versus Houston in 2003, which was Bobby Petrino's first season as a head coach of the Cardinals.
- ▶ It marked the sixth time in school history that the Cards recorded more than 700 yards of offense in a game — four coming with Petrino on staff.
- ▶ As the offensive coordinator in 1998, Petrino's offense totaled 769 yards in a 63-45 win over East Carolina and added 742 yards in a 62-19 win over Cincinnati. Four of the top five total offensive performances have come with Petrino leading the offense.

RECORD-BREAKING OFFENSE

- ▶ Head coach Bobby Petrino has coached four of the most prolific offenses in Louisville history. The 2004 team set school marks for most points (597), points per game (49.8), and touchdowns (74). The previous highs of 521 points and 65 touchdowns were set in 2005 — Petrino's third season. In 2004, the Cardinals led the nation in total offense (539.0) and points per game (49.8), while also finishing eighth in rushing offense (250.4) and ninth in passing offense (288.6). The Cards finished third in the nation in scoring in 2005 (43.4) and fourth in 2006 (37.8).
- ▶ Petrino's first season as head coach in the Derby City came in 2003 when his team totaled 450 points (fifth all-time) and 2,966 rushing yards (second all-time). His 2006 squad, which tied a school record with 12 wins, tallied 491 points (third most) and 57 touchdowns (fourth most). Nationally, the Cards were second in total offense (475.3), seventh in passing offense (290.0), and 12th in rushing offense (185.3).
- ▶ Louisville posted 845 yards of total offense on Sept. 9 versus Syracuse — the 10th time under Petrino's guidance as a head coach, and the 14th time at Louisville (was offensive coordinator at UofL in 1998).
- ▶ His offenses have totaled more than 500 yards of total offense 34 times in 84 games — registering a 31-3 mark in those games.

35-6 WHEN A BACK REACHES 100 YARDS

- ▶ Louisville is 35-6 under Bobby Petrino when a running back reaches 100 yards in a game. Of the running backs and quarterbacks who make up the 2016 roster, Louisville has 19 career 100-yard games to its credit as quarterback Lamar Jackson leads the way with 10 while running backs Brandon Radcliff also had eight, while L.J. Scott has logged one.
- ▶ As a freshman in 2015, Jackson totaled 226 yards versus Texas A&M, 186 at Kentucky, 121 at NC State, 184 versus Samford and 106 in his first game against Auburn.
- ▶ Radcliff has three 100-yard games this season, which equals the three he had in 2014. Last season, Radcliff added two 100-yard games. Scott had his lone 100-yard game during his freshman season — rushing for 126 yards against Murray State in 2014.

WHEN WINNING THE TURNOVER BATTLE

- ▶ Louisville is 34-4 under Bobby Petrino when winning the turnover battle after securing a +1 margin in the win over NC State on Oct. 22. Against ranked teams under Petrino, Louisville is 4-3 when having fewer turnovers than its opponent, with three victories coming in 2006 and Sept. 17 in the victory over Florida State. Louisville defeated No. 17 Miami 31-7, and forced two Hurricanes' turnovers while only committing one. The Cardinals forced three turnovers in wins over No. 3 West Virginia and No. 15 Wake Forest in the Orange Bowl.
- ▶ The four losses for the Cardinals under Petrino when having fewer turnovers than their opponent have come against Clemson on Oct. 1, Auburn in the 2015 season opener, versus Florida State in 2014, and South Florida in 2003.
- ▶ In Petrino's tenure at Louisville, the Cardinals have a combined turnover margin of +27. Louisville was +11 in 2004 and +6 in 2005. The only time the Cardinals were negative under Petrino was last season when they finished at -1.

16 PLAYERS CATCH PASSES IN WIN

- ▶ In 13 games last season, the Cardinals had 16 players catch at least one pass. Additionally, in the win over Charlotte on Sept. 1, the Cards saw 16 players catch a pass in that game. Quarterbacks Lamar Jackson and Kyle Bolin combined to complete 26 passes to 16 players, and eight different players scored on touchdown passes.
- ▶ Eight players recorded two or more receptions against Charlotte, with senior wide receiver Jamar Staples leading the way with four receptions for 83 yards, including a game-long 44-yard pass from Jackson.
- ▶ In his first start at wide receiver, junior Reggie Bonnafon caught two passes for 33 yards and his first receiving touchdown — a 13-yard reception in the first quarter.
- ▶ Running backs Brandon Radcliff, L.J. Scott and Jeremy Smith each recorded their first touchdown receptions against Charlotte.
- ▶ True freshman Seth Dawkins — making his collegiate debut — scored on a 13-yard pass — the first reception of his career. He is the eight true freshman to score a touchdown in his first game — joining teammate Charles Standberry (2014) and former Cardinals DeVante Parker (2011), J.R. Russell (2001), Lenny Lyles (1954), Jack Coleman (1946), Mal Boughen (1942) and Dave Earl (1928).

acuse this season — matching a school record for first-quarter points. Louisville scored 28 points in the 2007 opener versus Murray State and tied it the following week against Middle Tennessee State.

- ▶ The 28-0 lead versus Charlotte was the largest after one quarter besting the previous school mark of 27 — set in a 79-0 win over Ogden in 1926. Louisville was up 28-7 over Murray State in 2007 and 28-21 over Middle Tennessee.
- ▶ Including the victory against Florida State, over the last 10 games, the Cardinals have totaled 135 points in the opening quarter — also scoring 20 against Texas A&M in the Music City Bowl and 17 last week against NC State.
- ▶ Louisville, which has scored 108 first-quarter points this season, has scored seven or fewer points in the first stanza in four the last five games.

HIKUTINI'S A TOP TARGET

- ▶ Senior tight end Cole Hikutini has become a top target in the offense as a senior in one of the nation's top offenses. Heading into Saturday's game versus Boston College, Hikutini is first on the squad with 33 receptions for 393 482yards, and has already surpassed his total reception and yardage total from 2015. As a junior last season, Hikutini caught 19 passes for 348 yards and three touchdowns.
- ▶ The Sacramento, Calif., native is coming off one of his top games as a Cardinals — catching a career-best seven passes for 84 yards in the loss to Clemson on Oct. 1. Over the last five games, the senior has grabbed 25 passes for 385 yards and three scores. He scored twice on four receptions in the win over Marshall on Sept. 14.
- ▶ Hikutini recorded his second career 100-yard receiving game with a career-high 118 yards versus NC State — including a career-long 67-yard reception. He totaled 103 yards in the bowl-game win over Texas A&M last season.
- ▶ In two seasons, Hikutini owns seven touchdown receptions — which ties him for ninth place on the school's career receiving touchdowns lists by a tight end. With 830 yards receiving during his career, he needs 66 yards to tie for 10th all-time for receiving yards by a tight end.

10+ YARD PLAYS

- ▶ One of the keys to Louisville's success on offense is its ability to produce plays that result in 10 or more yards from the line of scrimmage. The Cardinals have manufactured 180 plays that gained at least 10 or more yards this season, which is first nationally. Louisville, which is second in the country with 68 plays of over 20 yards, is also second in the nation with an average of 7.82 yards per play and are one of nine teams in the country averaging better than 7.0 yards per play this year.
- ▶ Last season, the Cardinals were 27th in the nation with 220 plays of 10 or more yards, which ranked third in the ACC.

SCORING 30

- ▶ Louisville has made scoring 30 points seem quite easy under Bobby Petrino. The squad has done so 60 times in the 84 games with head coach Bobby Petrino at the helm of the Cardinals. Over that span, the Cardinals are 54-6 when tallying more than 30 points in a game after the 32-25 win over Virginia on Oct. 29.
- ▶ The Cardinals have lost only four games at home during his tenure at Louisville, but two of his three losses have come when the Cards have scored more than 30 points. Louisville had won 22-straight games when scoring 30 or more points before losses to Florida State last season and Houston on Sept. 12. The Cardinals are 22-2 at home when scoring 30 or more points under Petrino.
- ▶ For comparison's sake, Louisville scored 30 or more points just 33 times over the seven years that Petrino wasn't coaching the Cardinals' program.

STAPLES HAS BEEN A FIND

- ▶ Senior wide receiver Jamari Staples has been a big-time addition since transferring from UAB in 2015. In only 16 games, Staples has caught 66 passes for 1,184 yards and five touchdowns after recording his fourth 100-yard game versus Virginia on Oct. 29. He caught seven passes for 120 yards, including a 15-yard touchdown reception. On Sept. 24 in the win over Marshall, Staples added five receptions for 94 yards.
- ▶ In the first eight games, Staples has caught 29 passes for 546 yards — a 18.8 yards per catch average, which ranks 22nd nationally and fourth in the ACC. In the opener versus Charlotte, Staples caught four passes for 83 yards. In two seasons with the Cards, of Staples' 59 career receptions, 23 have gone for 20 or more yards.
- ▶ Despite missing his first four games last season, his first year with the Cardinals, he caught 37 passes for a team-high 638 yards and three scores, averaging 17.2 yards a reception. He caught 10 passes for 133 yards versus Wake Forest last season and nine passes for 194 yards in a loss at Pitt.

JACKSON'S A WINNER

- ▶ Sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson has been a huge reason why the Cardinals have won 15 of their last 18 games. As a starter, Jackson improved to 12-3 overall — tying Stefan LeFors for the second-best winning percentage for a starting quarterback at Louisville. John Madeya's 82.8 winning percentage is the best in school history — compiling a 23-4-2 record.
- ▶ In 15 starts, Jackson's has totaled nine 100-yard rushing games, including a career-high 226 yards in the Music City Bowl win over Texas A&M, while passing for over 300 yards in five games — throwing for a career-best 417 yards and five touchdowns in a win over Marshall. He has two 400-yard games this year, and has tossed multiple touchdown passes in seven games, including six in the season opener versus Charlotte and five against Marshall.
- ▶ The Cards are 8-1 in games where Jackson rushes for over 100 yards — falling to Clemson when he rushed for 162 yards in the 42-36 loss to the No. 5 Tigers.
- ▶ Jackson had five consecutive 100-yard rushing games snapped on Sept. 24 by rushing for 62 yards against Marshall, but has registered two-straight games over the century mark.
- ▶ Since falling to Florida State in only his fourth career start in 2015, Jackson has won 10 of his 11 starts.

- ▶ Sophomore wide receiver Jaylen Smith made the player of the year when he leaped over a defender to make a 29-yard touchdown reception with 13 seconds remaining to give the Cards a 32-25 win over Virginia. It was Smith's five touchdown catch of the season — the most on the team this season.
- ▶ The native of Mississippi has only caught 14 passes this season — five of which have resulted in touchdowns — and

► DEFENSIVE TDS UNDER PETRINO

Louisville has scored 11 defensive touchdowns since Bobby Petrino took over as head coach in 2003. He coached from 2003-06 before returning to the Cardinals in 2014.

is third on the team with seven receptions this year of over 20 yards. He caught a 74-yard touchdown pass in the win over NC State. He leads the Cards with a 24.9 yards per catch average, with three touchdowns of over 50 yards this season — catching a 74-yarder versus NC State, a 61-yard touchdown against Syracuse and a 51-yarder against Marshall.

► For his career, in only 21 games, Smith has 43 receptions for 695 yards and six scores — averaging 16.3 yards a catch. He has 13 receptions of over 20 yards over the course of his career.

► Jackson is second nationally by averaging 438.4 yards of total offense. He totaled 457 yards of total offense and set a new single-game record for total plays in a game with 75 versus Clemson.

JACKSON'S BEING OFFENSIVE

► Sophomore Lamar Jackson is second nationally in total offense at 439.8 yards per game behind Patrick Mahomes of Texas Tech, who averages 474.4 yards per game. Jackson has totaled five games of over 400 yards of total offense this season, including a career-best and ACC record 610 yards in the win over Syracuse on Sept. 9.

► Jackson, who ranks sixth in total plays at 419, ranks seventh in the country at 8.4 yards per play. Jackson has totaled 3,518 yards of total offense this season, which is 530 yards away from breaking Teddy Bridgewater's school record for 4,048 yards, which he set in 2013. Jackson's total

► In just 20 career games, Jackson ranks seventh all-time with 6,320 yards of total offense. He's averaging 316.0 yards in his career, which would be a new school mark

► Jackson set a school and ACC record versus Syracuse on Sept. 9 with 610 yards of total offense in Louisville's 62-28 win over Syracuse. The Pompano Beach, Fla., product passed for 411 yards and rushed for 199 yards — the second-best mark in his career — averaging 9.5 yards per carry. He totaled 479 yards of total offense versus Marshall on Sept. 24 against Marshall — the sixth-highest total in school history.

► Jackson, who has accounted for 38 touchdowns, leads the nation in points responsible for with 230 after eight games, throwing for 22 touchdowns and rushing for 16 scores.

► Jackson has 38 total touchdowns this year broke the school record for touchdown responsible for in a season, breaking the record of 33, held by Dave Ragone and Brian Brohm.

► Jackson accounted for seven touchdowns in the win over Marshall — the second time this season he has been responsible for seven or more touchdowns. Former Texas Tech quarterback B.J. Symonds (2003) was the last player to record seven or more touchdowns in multiple games.

► Dating back to last season, Jackson has been responsible for 43 of the last 57 touchdowns since his 13-yard run versus Kentucky in the regular-season finale. He accounted for all four of the touchdowns in the bowl game and has a hand in 38 of the 52 offensive touchdowns scored this season.

► Jackson was responsible for a school-record 13 consecutive touchdowns dating back to the Kentucky game season before fellow quarterback Kyle Bolin snapped the streak in the third quarter with an 18-yard touchdown pass to Traveon Samuel.

► Through 20 career games, Jackson is fifth in school history with 61 touchdowns and is 26 away from tying the school record.

RUSHING TO SUCCESS

► In racing out to a 7-1 record, the Cardinals are one of the best in the country in rushing the football — ranking sixth nationally averaging 268.0 yards per game after running for a season-low 147 yards against Virginia last weekend. It's the second-straight game where the Cardinals were held under 200 yards.

► In the last 10 games, the Cardinals are averaging 276.4 yards per game and have tallied 33 rushing scores over that span — including seven in wins over Syracuse and Florida State.

► The Cardinals have run for over 300 yards in four of the last 10 contests. The Cardinals ran for 314 yards versus Kentucky in the regular-season finale and 307 versus Texas A&M in the Music City Bowl win. After running for 272 yards in the opener against Charlotte, the Cards totaled 414 against Syracuse on Sept. 9 and 314 on Sept. 17 versus Florida State.

► The Cardinals have are 13-0 under head coach Bobby Petrino when rushing for over 300 yards in a game and 41-4 when totaling over 200 yards on the ground.

QUARTERBACK RUNNING WILD

► Taking a quick glance at the record books, sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson's name is everywhere. Jackson owns nine of the top 10 rushing games by a quarterback in school history — only Jim Wagoner remains on the single-game rushing list for a quarterback. Jackson registered his 10th 100-yard game versus Clemson on Oct. 1 with 162 yards and two touchdowns.

► Jackson has 14 touchdowns in the last seven games, becoming the first player since Fred Koster in 1926 to record back-to-back four touchdown games. Jackson leads the nation with 16 rushing touchdowns in the first eight games.

► One of the most dynamic players in the nation, Jackson owns 10 100-yard rushing games in his career, which ranks sixth in school history and is tied for second in the school annals with four 150-yard games. Through 20 games, Jackson has 1,956 yards and 26 touchdowns — an average of 97.8 yards per game.

► Despite playing the quarterback position, Jackson is seventh nationally with 996 yards rushing and stands ninth in the country by averaging 124.5 yards per game — the most among quarterbacks at the FBS level. Take away the He has 156 yards lost because of sacks this season, Jackson would have his season total at 1,152 yards this season.

► Jackson ranks 16th nationally with an average of 6.9 yards per carry. He is first nationally with 42 runs of over 10 or more yard, tied for fourth with 11 rushes of over 20 yards and tied for second with eight runs of over 30 yards this year.

PASSING IT DOWN THE FIELD

► The Cardinals have opened up the play book this season, and it's shown by the number of big plays, especially in the

THE TODD GRANTHAM EFFECT

Veteran defensive coordinator Todd Grantham was hired at Louisville prior to the 2014 season and his influence on the Cardinals' defense has been undeniable, especially in scoring and run defense and takeaways.

passing game. The Cardinals are fifth in the country with 45 passing plays of 20+ yards and 20 of over 30 yards. The Cards have three passing plays of over 70 yards this year — two going to wide receiver James Quick for touchdowns and one touchdown pass to Jaylen Smith.

- ▶ Jackson ranks fifth nationally with 29 pass plays of over 20 yards and seventh nationally in passing plays of 30 or more yards (14)
- ▶ One of the reasons for the number of big plays has been the emergence of quarterback Lamar Jackson. The Pompano Beach, Fla., native ranks second nationally in yards per pass attempt at 9.2.
- ▶ Jackson has tossed 22 touchdown passes this year, which have averaged 24.3 yards per score — including a 74-yarder to James Quick versus Syracuse and a 71-yard on Sept. 24 Marshall. Of Jackson's 22 touchdown passes this season, six have been over 30 yards.
- ▶ The Cardinals are averaging 15.9 yards per completion, which ranks fifth in the country, while Jackson is second at 15.8 yards a completion.
- ▶ Louisville has three players averaging over 16.0 yards per reception: Jaylen Smith 24.9 ypc, Jamari Staples at 18.8 and James Quick at 16.3 ypc.

QUICK STRIKES

- ▶ Sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson has been responsible for 38 touchdowns, but the signal caller likes to do it quickly. Of his 38 touchdowns this season, 31 were on drives under three minutes and have averaged 5.2 plays.
- ▶ The Cardinals have scored on 35 of 52 offensive touchdowns this season in less than three minutes — including one versus Clemson.
- ▶ The Cardinals had a season-high 15-play drive versus Marshall on Sept. 24, and had two drives of 11 or more plays versus Clemson, and added two scoring drives against Duke of over 10 plays. This season, Louisville has enjoyed 12 drives of 10 or more plays that led to scores.
- ▶ The Cardinals won the Virginia game with an 8-play, 75-yard drive that lasted only 1:47. Jackson was 2-for-4 on the final drive for 34 yards, including a five-yard pass to Cole Hikutini on 4th-and-3. The talented quarterback accounted for 54 of the 75 yards on the drive.

OFFENSIVE LINE BOUNCE BACK

- ▶ After giving up 44 sacks a year ago, with youth all over the offensive line, the unit has bounced back in a big way this season. Having the same five starters in the first seven games of the season, the Cardinals have yielded only 18 sacks. Louisville allowed a season-high five in the loss to Clemson on Oct. 1 and the win over Virginia, but have yielded a combined total of eight in the other six contests.
- ▶ Sophomore Geron Christian has started 21-consecutive games at offensive tackle and has provided stability that group, while senior center Tobijah Hughley is the leader of the group with 33 career starts and will be making his 17th-straight start since last season.
- ▶ The offensive line has helped the Cards average 268.0 yards of rushing this season, which is sixth nationally. The entire offensive line has started all eight games this season.

PENALTIES A BIG PROBLEM

- ▶ If the Cardinals are going to make a run to the College Football Playoffs, they must cut down on the penalties. Louisville ranks 125th in penalty yards per game at 80.5 and stand 124th at 8.8 penalties per game — both are last in the ACC.
- ▶ The Cardinals were victimized by 11 infractions for 104 yards in the 42-36 loss to Clemson on Oct. 1 and 12 in the win over NC State on Oct. 22. Over the last five games, the Cardinals have committed 46 penalties (9.2 ppg.) for 441 yards (88.2 ypg.). Louisville committed a season-low four penalties for 32 yards in the win over Duke on Oct. 14.
- ▶ Louisville has recorded nine or more penalties in five of eight games this season — including a season-best 12 for 143 yards versus Marshall.

A FEW FIRST-QUARTER STRIKES

- ▶ Offensively, the Cardinals have dominated the opposition, scoring 108 points after adding 17 to the total in the win over NC State on Oct. 22. On the flip side, the Cardinals have yielded just two first-quarter touchdowns and a field goal.

- ▶ The Cardinals have allowed three first quarter touchdown passes this season — one versus Syracuse on Sept. 9, one versus Duke on Oct. 14 and one last week against Virginia.
- ▶ Louisville hasn't allowed a first-quarter rushing touchdown since the Music City Bowl win over Texas A&M.
- ▶ On opening drives, the Cardinals have forced the opposition to punt in seven of the eight games, with the only score coming in the 24-14 win over Duke.

CARDS DOMINATE IN FIRST HALF VERSUS NC STATE

- ▶ While the Louisville offense raced out to a 17-0 lead in the first quarter and 44-0 at the half, the defense did its part by getting the offense the ball back quickly. The Cardinals forced five three-and-outs in the first two quarters.
- ▶ NC State was limited to 54 yards of total offense — 10 coming on the ground. Quarterback Ryan Finley was held to 5-of-10 passing for 44 yards.
- ▶ The Wolfpack were limited to just two first downs and were 1-of-7 on third down, while throwing three first-half interceptions.

TURNOVER TICKER

- ▶ The Cardinals didn't force a turnover for the first time this season in the win over Duke, but that hasn't been the norm under defensive coordinator Todd Grantham. The Cardinals have forced an opponent miscue in 31 of 34 games under the third-year coordinator, and forced three in the win over NC State and two last week at Virginia.
- ▶ Under Grantham's tutelage, the Cards have forced 73 turnovers over the last three seasons, including 17 in the first eight games in 2016. Over the 34 games with Grantham leading the charge, the Cardinals have enjoyed multiple turnover games 24 times and have forced three or more miscues on 11 times. The Cards turned Clemson over a season-high five times in the 42-36 loss on Oct. 1.

DON'T GIVE UP THE BIG PLAY

- ▶ The Cardinals' defense prides themselves on not giving up the big play. Through eight games, the Cardinals ranks seventh nationally in average yards per play allowed (4.52) and have allowed just 31 plays of 20 or more yards. The Cardinals rank 10th in the nation in total defense, allowing 303.93 yards per game and are 16th against the run by allowing just 112.1 yards per game.
- ▶ The Cardinals have limited five of the first eight opponents to less than 300 yards of total offense after limiting NC State to 250 yards on Oct. 22. Grantham's defense has held 18 of the 34 opponents to less than 300 yards of offense since arriving in 2014.
- ▶ The Cardinals yielded 332.8 yards last year and a low of 308.5 under defensive coordinator Todd Grantham in 2014.
- ▶ In finishing with a top-20 defense a year ago, Todd Grantham's unit allowed an average of 4.82 yards per play, which ranked 16th nationally.

300 IS NOT THE NORM

- ▶ Giving up passing yards to Clemson quarterback Deshaun Watson isn't a crime when the Cardinals' allowed 306 passing to the 2015 Heisman Trophy finalist. The 306 yards allowed were the most since giving up 307 yards in the Music City Bowl win over Texas A&M last season. The Cards also allowed 377 to Florida State last year and 401 to the Seminoles in 2014.
- ▶ The Cards rank 21st in the country allowing just 191.8 yards per game and also forcing the opposition to complete only 53.1 percent of their throws — which ranks 20th nationally. Opponents are averaging 17.1 completions per game, but have tossed 20 touchdown passes, which ranks 120th nationally.
- ▶ The Cardinals, who have 54 interceptions since 2011, have 11 picks this season — tied for 13th nationally.

HARVEY-CLEMONS LEADS THE SECONDARY

- ▶ Senior Josh Harvey-Clemons was third last season in tackles with 88, but the safety is looking to make sure he leads the squad in 2016. The product of Valdosta, Ga., is second on the team with 53 tackles after the first eight games of the season.
- ▶ Harvey-Clemons matched a season-high with 11 tackles versus Duke. It was the sixth time in the last 10 games that he has recorded seven or more tackles.
- ▶ A starter in 21-straight games, Harvey-Clemons has totaled 141 tackles since transferring from Georgia.

PICK IT OFF

- ▶ The Cardinals have 11 interceptions through eight games and have totaled 54 since 2014 — the most among FBS teams during that span. The Cardinals have registered at least one interception in 26 of the last 34 games dating back to 2014.
- ▶ Six different Cardinals have totaled interceptions in Chucky Williams, Jaire Alexander, Trumaine Washington, Jonathan Greenard and Devonte Fields, who recorded his first career interception. Alexander picked off a pair of passes in the loss to Clemson and last week versus Virginia to give him five this season, which ranks second in the ACC and the nation.

► Louisville ranks 13th nationally with 11 interceptions after eight games.

TOP 20 DEFENSE

► Under defensive coordinator Todd Grantham, the Cardinals have elevated themselves into the top echelon of defensive teams in the nation after finishing in the top 20 in each of his three seasons as the defensive coordinator. This season, the Cardinals are among the national leaders — standing 10th after eight games — yielding just 303.9 yards per game.

► The Cardinals are allowing an average of 4.52 yards per play, and are 34th in total plays, having been on the field for 538 total plays. Syracuse ran a season-high 93 plays against the Cardinals on Sept. 9 — the sixth-most ever by an opponent.

► The Cardinals have allowed only 23 touchdowns this season — three on the ground and 20 through the air. The three rushing touchdowns allowed are tied for first nationally.

► Last season, Louisville closed the year at 18th in the nation after allowing 332.8 yards per game en route to an 8-5 record and was sixth in 2014 at 308.8 yards per game.

► Louisville joined Wisconsin, Alabama and Florida as the only four schools in the nation to finish in the top 20 nationally in total defense over the last three seasons.

GOING BACK-TO-BACK

► Senior linebacker Keith Kelsey is attempting to become only the 13th player in school history to lead the Louisville defense in tackles in consecutive years after registering a career-best 107 last season. The Gainesville, Fla., native is looking to become the first player to achieve the feat since Preston Brown — a two-year linebacker for the Buffalo Bills — led the program in 2012 and 2013. He leads the Cards this season with 56 stops, which ranks 19th in the ACC.

► For his career, Kelsey has 272 stops — posting over 80 in each of his last two seasons and owns seven games of 10 or more tackles, including five last year. He was credited with a career-high 15 tackles and 4.5 tackles in a loss to Houston and totaled 11 stops and a career-best 5.0 tackles for loss in a win over Boston College. He totaled six in the win over Charlotte on Sept. 1.

► Kelsey has produced six or more tackles in nine of his last 11 games, and 15 of his last 21 games over the last two seasons — after recording eight against NC State last weekend.

THE KING

► After losing its starting punter, Josh Appleby, and having no one with game experience behind him, the Cardinals turned to redshirt freshman Mason King to be the starting punter. Not knowing what they would get out of the rookie, King has opened the eyes of the coaching staff after the first seven games. King is averaging 40.0 yards per punt on 29 punt attempts and is one pace for the third-best season in school history behind Wilbur Summers (42.03) and Brandon Brookfield ((41.03).

► The Cardinals have only had nine punts returned this season for a total of 83 yards. Fifteen punts have been fair caught and 10 have been placed inside the opponents' 20-yard line, including two inside the five-yard line versus NC State.

► A three-year starter at punter for St. Xavier in Louisville, where he earned all-district accolades, King had his best game versus Clemson on Oct. 1 — punting five times for a career-best 48.0 yard average, including a career-long of 60 yards.

MR. VERSATILITY

► Sophomore Jaire Alexander showed why he is one of the top young overall players in the game. Named the ACC Defensive Back for his two interceptions in the win over Virginia, leads the Cardinals with five picks and already has a career-best 29 tackles this season.

► The Charlotte, N.C. native has developed as one of the top cornerbacks in the country and becoming a top punt returner in country. Alexander leads the team with five interceptions after recording a career-best two last weekend versus Virginia and a pair in the loss to Clemson on Oct. 1. He also recorded a pair of tackles and forced a fumble — and needs two tackles to register more tackles than he did all of last season (19).

► A true sophomore, Alexander ranks fourth nationally with 0.6 interceptions per game and his five interceptions

► As a punt returner, Alexander is averaging 13.6 yards, which is 14th in the country, and is one of 22 players in the country to return a punt for a touchdown — returning one for a touchdown against Florida State on Sept. 17.

► Alexander leads the FBS with two punt returns of over 60 yards this season. He had two punt returns of over 60 yards in the win over the second-ranked Seminoles.

► Despite being a sophomore, Alexander ranks eighth in school history with 413 return yards in just 20 games.

THIRD-DOWN DOMINANCE

► The key to any good defense is the ability to get off the field on third down, and over the last three seasons, the Cards have been on the top programs in the country. During that span, the defense has held the opposition to just 166-of-515 on the "money down" — ranking 35th in the country last season and 10th in 2014.

► This season has been no different as the Cardinals are sixth in the country, holding opponents to just 33-of-117 for a 28.2 percent conversion rate. In the wins over Florida State and Marshall, the Cards held both offenses to a combined 4-of-28 in a pair of wins — limiting Florida State to just 2-of-13 on Sept. 17 and Marshall to 2-of-15 on Sept. 24.

BOBBY PETRINO

12th Season Overall • 7th Season at Louisville • Career Record: 107-40

- Record at Louisville: 65-19 • Second at UofL in Wins
- 2004 Conference USA Champions • 2006 BIG EAST Champions
- 2007 Orange Bowl Champions • Six AP Top 25 Finishes

WINNING TRADITION

- ▶ Bobby Petrino, who is 65-19 as the Cardinals' leader, owns the top winning percentage in school history behind a 77.3-career mark. His 65 wins are the second-most in the Louisville annals.
- ▶ He won more games in his first four seasons (41) than any other coach in the history of the program. Petrino went 41-9 in his first stint at UofL.
- ▶ He is the first UofL head coach to end the season with eight or more wins in six consecutive seasons on the sidelines.
- ▶ Impressively, Petrino owns a 34-4 record at Papa John's Cardinal Stadium — including a school-best 18-game home streak from 2003-06.
- ▶ He is the only coach in school history to post two top-10 finishes in the final Associated Press poll — closing at No. 6 in 2004 and 2006. His UofL teams have finished in the top 25 on four occasions.
- ▶ The Cardinals are a combined 10-0 under Petrino against their two biggest rivals (6-0 versus Kentucky and 4-0 against Cincinnati).
- ▶ He led the Cardinals to a school-record 12 wins in 2006 (later matched in 2013).
- ▶ Picked up a win over No. 2 Florida State 63-20 on Sept. 17, 2016 — his second home win over a top-5 opponent.

CONFERENCE SUCCESS

- ▶ Guided the Cardinals to a Conference USA title in 2004 and a BIG EAST championship in 2006.
- ▶ Took the Cardinals to their first BCS Bowl appearance, capturing the 2007 Orange Bowl with a win over Wake Forest.
- ▶ Owns a 36-13 conference record as the head coach of the Cardinals.
- ▶ Defeated third-ranked West Virginia as head coach of UofL in 2006.

PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

- ▶ Petrino has directed 106 players to the National Football League during his outstanding career as the head coach at Louisville, Arkansas, and Western Kentucky.
- ▶ As the head coach of the Cardinals, Petrino has produced 32 NFL Draft selections, including a school-best 10 in 2015.
- ▶ First UofL head coach to end the season with eight or more wins in six consecutive seasons on the sidelines.
- ▶ Coached four first-round draft selections at Louisville (Sheldon Rankins, 2016; DeVante Parker, 2015; Eric Wood, 2009; Amobi Okoye, 2007).
- ▶ Saw Gerod Holliman win the Jim Thorpe Award (2014), Art Carmody be named the Lou Groza Award (2006) winner, and Elvis Dumervil take home the Bronko Nagurski Award (2005).

#7 LOUISVILLE FOOTBALL

THE WORD ON JACKSON

► Sophomore quarterback Lamar Jackson has burst on the scene this year as one of the most dynamic and exciting players in the game. With one rushing and passing TD versus Duke, Jackson became the first player in ACC history with 15 rushing and passing touchdowns in the same season.

► Jackson owns a 12-3 record as a starter and has won eight of nine starts dating back to last season (last loss came versus Clemson on Oct. 1).

► Jackson has rushed for 1,956 yards and thrown for 4,362 yards in his Louisville career.

► The sophomore set a school record for total plays in a game with 75 in the loss to Clemson on Oct. 1 — rushing a career-high 31 times and attempting 44 passes for the second-straight week.

► He has been responsible for 61 touchdowns during his career with the Cardinals — 27 rushing and 30 passing. He has been responsible for a touchdown in 16 of 20 games.

► He ranks second in the nation in points responsible (230), points responsible per game (28.8), and first in rushing touchdowns (16) and second in scoring per game (12.0).

► In five of the last nine games, Jackson has passed for at least 200 yards and rushed for over 100 yards.

► Jackson threw multiple touchdown passes for the sixth time in his career, with four versus Virginia.

► The sophomore QB ranks 13th in the country in passing yards (2,522) and 10th with 22 passing touchdowns. The Pompano Beach, Fla., product is 11th in passing efficiency and first in passing yards per completion.

► He had his consecutive 100-yard rushing game streak stopped at five games, which was the second-longest in school history.

► The of native Florida has two games of seven or more touchdowns (8 vs. Charlotte and 7 vs. Marshall) — the first FBS player to post multiple seven or more touchdowns in a game since 2003.

► In 20 career games, Jackson owns 10 100-yard rushing games and already has five this season after totaling five as a true freshman. His 100-yard rushing contests knotted him with Victor Anderson (2008) for the most 100-yard rushing games by a freshman.

► The sophomore is the first Louisville quarterback to rush for four touchdowns in back-to-back games. (Old record: 3 TDs by Benny Russell vs. Dayton, Oct. 9, 1965, 34-0 win.)

► Jackson set an ACC record with 610 yards of total offense in the win over Syracuse on Sept. 9 - breaking Miami's Stephen Morris' mark of 568 set in 2012. Jackson tied an ACC record by accounting for eight touchdowns on Sept. 1 — tying Clemson's Tajh Boyd, who was responsible for eight scores against NC State in 2012.

► The 6-foot-3 signal caller was named the Most Valuable Player in the Music City Bowl after rushing for a game record 226 yards and a pair of scores. His 226 yards on the ground were the seventh-best total in school history and became only the third quarterback in bowl history to pass and rush for over 200 yards in the postseason.

► In 12 games in 2015, including seven as a starter, Jackson set the single-season mark for rushing yards (960) and touchdowns (11) by a quarterback.

► In the 38-24 come-from-behind win over Kentucky last season, Jackson accounted for 316 yards and three touchdowns as Louisville erased a 24-7 halftime deficit with 31 unanswered points. Jackson accounted for 171 in the third quarter alone — finishing with 186 yards rushing and TDs of 16 and 13 yards on 17 carries. He also threw for 130 yards, including a 35-yard TD to James Quick.

► As a passer, Jackson has thrown for 4,362 yards and 34 touchdowns in just 20 career games. He tied a school record for touchdown passes in a game when he threw six touchdown passes in the first half of the win against Charlotte and passed for a career-best 417 yards in the win over Marshall on Sept. 24.

► In the win over Marshall, Jackson completed a career-high 24 passes on a career-best 44 attempts.

► Jackson passed for over 200 yards in 12 games — passing for a career-high 417 yards versus Marshall and 307 yards and three touchdowns in a 41-21 loss to Florida State last season. He found James Quick for all three scores — hitting him from 18, 19 and 39 yards in Tallahassee, Fla.

► He completed a career-best 73.9 percent of his throws — going 17-of-23 for 286 yards and six touchdowns in the win on Sept. 9 versus Charlotte.

PAPA JOHN'S CARDINAL STADIUM

The University of Louisville football team plays all of its home games in Papa John's Cardinal Stadium, which was renovated after the 2009 season and is now widely considered one of the premier, on-campus college football stadiums in the country. It's scheduled to undergo its third major renovation in the next couple of years when 10,000 seats will be added, along with 12 field suites and over 100 premium boxes.

■ Named after the iconic pizza company headquartered in Louisville, Papa John's Cardinal Stadium will play host to its 18th season of Cardinal football in 2015 and has served as one of the best home field advantages in the country.

■ Since 1998, the Cardinals are 89-29 at home and owned a school record 20-game-home winning streak, which was snapped in 2007. Under head coach Bobby Petrino the Cardinals lost one home game from 2003-2006.

■ Papa John's Cardinal Stadium, which opened with a capacity of 42,000 was expanded in 2009 to the present capacity of 55,000. Approximately 12,000 additional chair back seats were added to a second deck on the east side of the stadium. Forty-five luxury suites and 2,000 premium loge seats also were added to the east side.

■ A 60-foot wide terrace was added at the top of the south end zone, connecting the east and west sides of the stadium. The area includes concessions, tables, and restrooms.

■ The PNC Club also was built in 2009, and is a 20,000-square-foot, glass-enclosed area that stretches from end zone to end zone at the loge level on the east side of the stadium.

■ The temperature-controlled club features a full-service bar, concessions, large-screen televisions, lounge seating and tables. It also has more than 1,700 outdoor seats under cover with heaters and fans.

■ In addition to being available during football games, the PNC Club is used for other community and campus events throughout the year

■ The opening of the state-of-the-art facility in September of 1998 concluded a decade's worth of private fund-raising and commitment to the dream of giving Louisville an on-campus football stadium, which is second to none in the nation.

■ Papa John's Cardinal Stadium allows an up-and-coming professional city to become a college town on Saturdays every autumn as the Cardinals play host to a number of national-caliber opponents.

■ The opening of the facility in 1998 allowed UofL to play seven home games for the second time in 51 years during the 2000 campaign and a school-record eight in 2008.

■ Fans are treated to a one-of-a-kind feature in PJCS with all 55,000 seats being of the chairback variety. No other university-owned and operated stadium in the nation can make that claim.

■ The structure, which sits on the south end of the metropolitan campus, is constructed with the ability for future expansion to more than 80,000 seats.

■ Along with the most modern press facilities, which accommodated many ESPN national television broadcasts over the last four seasons, PJCS holds the impressive Brown and Williamson Club.

■ The B&W Club runs 100 yards in length and 20 yards in width and gives the stadium the ability to play host to a number of indoor banquets and parties. A new and improved Howard Schnellenberger Football Complex stands in the north end and provides student-athletes with a number of world-class facilities.

■ After initially installing SportGrass in PJCS, the Cardinals enter their 12th season with a new, artificial playing surface in FieldTurf.

■ The stadium's multi-usage came into play in May of 1999, as the George Strait Country Music Festival invaded PJCS and entertained more than 51,000 concert goers. Kenny Chesney and Sugarland played at PJCS in May 2011 and again in 2016. The PJCS pitch also played host to the 1999 World Cup Champion United States women's soccer team as part of a trio of facilities to house the U.S. Cup.

■ With its state-of-the-art construction and fan-friendly environment, Papa John's Cardinal Stadium is one of the finest in the nation.

■ The Howard Schnellenberger Football Complex, which honors the former Cardinal head coach, also sits inside the stadium area and houses the team's coaches, staff, training room, strength and conditioning area and academic services.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Lamar Jackson accounted for a school-record eight touchdowns and 405 offensive yards by halftime to help No. 19 Louisville dismantle Charlotte 70-14 on Thursday night in the season opener for both teams.

Jackson broke Chris Redman's 1998 record for combined rushing and passing TDs and he tied Redman's mark for passing TDs. He seemed poised to add a few more before exiting without taking a snap in the second half.

He completed 17 of 23 passes for 286 yards and rushed 11 times for 119 yards, including a 36-yard TD run on Louisville's opening drive. Louisville gained 663 yards overall.

Jackson's performance was an impressive follow-up to his breakout freshman season in which he combined for 2,800 yards and 23 TDs - including 960 rushing to break Louisville season and career marks by a QB. His final game last season was a 453-yard, three-TD combined effort in a Music City Bowl win over Texas A&M that earned MVP honors.

That showing raised expectations for this year, and the 6-foot-3, 204-pound Jackson quickly delivered for a sellout crowd of 53,127.

Charlotte pressured Jackson at the start, twice forcing him out of the pocket to run for 26 combined yards. That got Louisville past midfield on its opening drive.

The 49ers barely touched him several plays later as he broke through a left-side hole and barreled for the first of eight TDs on nine first-half possessions.

Jackson weaved a 1-yard TD run between a run of powerful throws that broke the game open. He hit six receivers with touchdowns long and short, and the 49ers could do nothing to stop them.

Jeremy Smith caught a swing pass out of the backfield for a 24-yard score down the right sideline, while L.J. Scott turned a 20-yarder into another TD on the left side.

Jackson's best TD throw came late in the first half when he hit senior James Quick in the back of the end zone, a play initially ruled out of bounds. Replays showed Quick pulling in Jackson's pinpoint pass with little room to spare as his feet dragged past the end line; the call was reversed to the delight of a red-clad crowd as the score broke Redman's mark.

Given another scoring opportunity as seconds ticked down toward halftime, Jackson positioned Louisville with a 6-yard run to the 1 before coaches called timeout with nine seconds remaining. H-back Cole Hikutini then took Jackson's short pass for a 1-yard TD reception four seconds later, capping the record-setting night.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) - Lamar Jackson continued his early season onslaught, throwing a long touchdown pass and running for four more scores to help No. 13 Louisville rout Syracuse 62-28 on Friday night in the Atlantic Coast Conference opener for both teams.

Jackson, the national offensive player of the week for his performance in the opener against Charlotte, a 70-14 victory, picked up right where he left off. He hit a wide-open James Quick for a 72-yard score on the game's first play from scrimmage to put the Orange defense on its heels, and it stayed there during a first-quarter blitz by Jackson and company.

The elusive Jackson also hit Jaylen Smith for 61 yards and Jamari Staples for 55 in the opening spree.

Jackson, who was rarely pressured by a Syracuse defense that was content to lay back, scored on runs of seven, 72 and 13 yards to give Louisville a 28-7 lead after one quarter. He had 108 yards rushing and 207 yards passing as the Cardinals (2-0) outgained the Orange 352-98 in the period, then tacked on a 9-yard scoring run in the second for a 35-7 lead. That was one for the highlight reels, with Jackson displaying hurdler-like ability with a leap over defender Chauncey Scissum at the goal line.

Jackson finished with 199 yards rushing on 21 carries and was 20 for 39 for 411 yards with one in-terception as the Cardinals set a school record and came within 13 yards of the ACC record with 845 yards offensively. It was the most ever allowed by Syracuse, eclipsing the mark of 654 by West Virginia in 1993.

Eric Dungey was 25 for 51 yards for 255 yards passing and scored on a 1-yard run late in the third quarter for the Orange.

Syracuse (1-1) tried to claw its way back into it with a pair of scores late in the second, both by wideout Amba Etta-Tawo in the final three minutes of the period. On a 47-yard catch-and run, Etta-Tawo broke two tackles and slipped another on his way into the end zone and capped the rally with a four-yard catch in the final minute.

In the opener against Charlotte, Jackson accounted for eight touchdowns and 405 yards in the first half, then sat the second. No breather on this hot night inside the Carrier Dome.

Louisville halted the Orange rush with another score early in the third quarter, capped by a 21-yard end around by wideout Traveon Samuel for a 42-21 lead.

The Cardinals moved up six spots in the AP poll after their lopsided victory over Charlotte. Jackson accounted for a stunning 405 yards and eight touchdowns, six passing in the first half of that game. Another jump is on the way next week.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. – In their comeback victory over Ole Miss two weeks ago, Florida State's script followed a familiar pattern of scoring before halftime, getting the ball back to start the third quarter and then scoring again.

So maybe the surest sign that things would be different here at Louisville's Papa John's Cardinal Stadium came when Louisville, not the Seminoles, scored the momentous touchdown at the end of the second quarter.

And it was Louisville, not FSU, that scored the decisive blow early in the third.

By then, the Seminoles trailed by 32 points and their hopes for yet another jump-off-the-mat rally were gone. This time, the hole was too far deep as No. 2 FSU fell prey to a Heisman-worthy performance by Louisville quarterback Lamar Jackson in a 63-20 defeat.

Louisville's Jackson cemented his status as college football's preeminent rising star with a 372-yard, five-touchdown performance that kept the FSU defense guessing all day.

The Seminoles, meanwhile, never could find a groove on offense and, save for a few moments after cutting their deficit to 14-10 early in the second quarter, never gave the Cardinals much of a scare.

Playing in his first true road environment, redshirt freshman quarterback Deondre Francois completed seven of 18 passes for 101 yards and a touchdown. But he also threw an interception and mishandled an exchange with running back Dalvin Cook that led to another turnover.

And Francois was sacked five times by a Louisville defense that, afforded a big lead, could be relentless in its pass rush.

Cook didn't fare much better, carrying 16 times for just 54 yards.

Behind a balanced effort through the air and on the ground, Louisville outgained FSU 530-284 despite conceding a time-of-possession advantage to the Seminoles.

Matthew Thomas had 10 tackles to lead the FSU defense, which was playing shorthanded with safety Derwin James sidelined while recovering from knee surgery.

With James out and a handful of other FSU defenders hit by injuries throughout the game, the Cardinals struck for seven plays of more than 20 yards. The Seminoles had just one.

Florida State's day perhaps could best be summed up by Louisville's fateful drive at the end of the second quarter.

Leading 28-10 with less than a minute to go in the half, Jackson threw a low pass toward the right sideline that appeared to bounce off the turf for an incomplection.

But it didn't. Instead, Cardinals receiver James Quick caught the ball between his knees and, in the ensuing confusion, gathered it in his arms and raced 44 yards to the FSU 2-yard line.

Three plays later, Jackson scampered into the end zone for a score that made it 35-10.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. - The circumstances were special. Louisville, at No. 3, was the highest-ranked FBS team to ever visit Huntington. The sellout crowd, an over-capacity 40,592, was No. 2 in the 26-year history of Joan C. Edwards Stadium. Garett Morrell, a true freshman quarterback, made his first collegiate start for the home team.

That word – special – was used in post-game interviews by Marshall tight end Ryan Yurachek as he described the Cardinals' defensive front seven. That word – special – was also used by MU coach Doc Holliday as he tried to capture the 479-yard, seven-touchdown performance by U of L's Heisman candidate quarterback, Lamar Jackson.

In the end, it all stacked up to a 59-28 triumph for Louisville here Saturday night. The score looks lopsided, but here's the spin: Marshall, with a rookie teenager behind center and what Holliday called a "limited" playbook, played one of the nation's best college football teams closer than a pair of Atlantic Coast Conference schools, Florida State and Syracuse.

Louisville entered Saturday night's game averaging 65.0 points and winning by an average of 44.3 points.

It was a pat on the back from a coach who had watched his team wallop then-No. 2 Florida State by 43 points a week earlier, but couldn't find a two-score cushion against the Herd until a second quarter touchdown pass made it 14-0.

Louisville, which is off to a 4-0 start for the first time since 2013, held a 7-0 lead after the first quarter after outscoring its first three opponents 70-10 combined. The Cardinals' first touchdown was a 71-yard strike from Jackson to James Quick, the first of five touchdown passes by Jackson. He added three of those TD passes in the second quarter as the lead swelled to 28 points, 35-7, by intermission.

Jackson finished 24 of 44 passing for 417 yards and five touchdowns. He added 62 yards on the ground on 12 carries, including scoring runs of 4 and 9 yards. The sophomore entered the game as the nation's second leading rusher, but this was the first time a team held him under 100 yards. His total offensive output in Saturday's game is the second-most by any visiting player in Marshall history, trailing only UTEP's Trevor Vittatoe (517 yards in 2009).

Morrell, Jackson's QB counterpart, finished 9 of 21 passing for 59 yards and two touchdowns against one interception. Morrell started in place of sophomore Chase Litton, who missed the game because of an undisclosed injury. Morrell connected with Yurachek for a 16-yard touchdown pass with 36 seconds left of the first half, and sophomore running back Keion Davis for a 12-yard catch and run for the score in the fourth quarter.

The Herd's other offensive touchdown came from junior running back Tony Pittman, who bullied his way to a 13-yard scoring run with 2:41 left of the game. Pittman was the Herd's leading rusher with 54 yards on seven carries.

Marshall also scored on defense, a 26-yard scoop-and-score by redshirt freshman defensive end Ty Tyler. The touchdown is Tyler's second fumble return for a score this season.

Defensively, the Herd was led in tackles by senior safety Corey Neely (12). Sophomore linebacker Chase Hancock filled the stat sheet with eight tackles, his first career solo sack, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) - Marcus Edmond tackled James Quick one yard shy of a first down at the three yard line on fourth down with 33 seconds left in the game, as No. 3 Clemson held on for a thrilling 42-36 win over No. 3 Louisville at Memorial Stadium.

Led by quarterback Deshaun Watson, who was 20-31 passing for 306 yards and five touchdowns, the Tigers (5-0, 2-0 ACC) came out on top of the back-and-forth matchup featuring electrifying offensive displays from both teams. Clemson also upped its home winning streak to 19, the longest active streak in the nation.

Defense was the story of the first quarter, as both teams struggled to manufacture any substantial drives. Clemson's pass rush was particularly effective and pressured Louisville quarterback Lamar Jackson throughout.

The Cardinals were the first to score, as Jeremy Smith capped an 82-yard drive with a one-yard touchdown run in the opening minute of the second quarter.

The remainder of the quarter was practically all Clemson, however, with the Tigers outscoring the Cardinals 28-3. Deon Cain made a big splash during that stretch, hauling in two touchdown receptions that covered 70 yards altogether.

Following a fumble by Louisville's Brandon Radcliff, which was the Cardinals' third consecutive drive with a turnover, Clemson struck again. Wayne Gallman, who totaled 110 yards on the ground, sprinted into the endzone on a 24-yard run. Later in the quarter, Watson and Cain connected to put the Tigers up 21-7. Cain finished with four catches for 98 yards and two touchdowns.

The Cardinals added a field goal with under a minute to play in the half, but the Tigers were able to answer with a frenetic scoring drive in just 26 seconds. Advancing 73 yards in four plays, Clemson increased its lead to 28-10 on a five-yard touchdown pass from Watson to Artavis Scott.

Louisville outscored Clemson 16-0 in the third quarter, capitalizing on two Tiger turnovers. Following a Watson interception, Jackson connected with James Quick for an eight-yard touchdown.

A Louisville field goal on its next possession pulled it to within nine points. After a Clemson fumble in Louisville territory, Jackson drove the Cardinals 77 yards and finished the drive off with a one-yard touchdown rush.

The Cardinals pushed their run to 26-0 by scoring the first 10 points of the fourth quarter by way of a field goal and an 11-yard Jackson scamper into the endzone. In the wake of the score by Jackson, Scott provided the Tigers with excellent field position via a 77-yard kickoff return, then Watson found Mike Williams for a 20-yard touchdown pass.

The Tigers regained the lead on their next possession, as Watson finished off an 85-yard drive with a 31-yard touchdown pass to Jordan Leggett, who also hauled in a Watson pass for the succeeding two-point conversion.

Trailing 42-36 late in the game, the Cardinals marched down the field. But after a crucial pre-snap penalty on fourth-and-7, which made it fourth-and-12, Jackson connected with Quick near the sideline. An alert Edmond forced Quick out of bounds at the three, one yard shy of a first down.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) Lamar Jackson provided a cushion with a 2-yard touchdown run with 1:32 remaining and No. 7 Louisville held off Duke 24-14.

The Cardinals caught a break after Evan O'Hara's 46-yard field goal missed wide left as Duke's Breon Borders was called for roughing the kicker. The penalty moved the ball to the 14 and Jackson did the rest with a 12-yard run followed by the short score that Louisville (5-1, 3-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) sorely needed.

Jackson accounted for 325 yards of offense and two touchdowns, hitting Jaylen Smith with a 5-yard scoring pass on the opening drive. Jeremy Smith added an 80-yard TD run in the third quarter, and O'Hara kicked a 22-yard field goal as the Cardinals came off the bye and earned the program's 500th victory.

Duke (3-4, 0-3) remained winless in ACC play but gave Louisville more than it expected.

The Cardinals had sought a big bounce back after losing at Clemson, especially with a week off. The Cardinals' offense certainly looked refreshed from the break as they drove 80 yards in 10 plays with Jackson TD pass capping the drive.

Duke wasn't fazed and answered quickly as Daniel Jones hit Erich Schneider for a 9-yard TD to tie it and trail just 10-7 at the half.

Louisville played better in the third quarter as Smith's big run providing some space and Jackson adding a couple more highlight-reel runs to his impressive collection. Louisville just couldn't capitalize on its chances as Brandon Radcliff lost a fumble at the 5 and O'Hara missed a 42-yard field goal attempt.

The Blue Devils regrouped to close within three as Jones hit a 20-yard TD to Johnathan Lloyd with 6:34 remaining. But the penalty quashed their hopes of getting a final chance at an upset as Jackson took control for Louisville -- as usual.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Lamar Jackson broke a school single-season record with four first-half touchdowns, Louisville had three interceptions and the seventh-ranked Cardinals burst past North Carolina State 54-13 on Saturday.

Jackson passed for three touchdowns and ran for a 36-yard score on the opening drive, giving him 34 TDs with five games to play. Dave Ragone and Brian Brohm each had 33.

Jackson, a sophomore quarterback and Heisman frontrunner, had 359 of his 431 yards on offense by half-time. He threw TD passes of 74 yards to Jaylen Smith, 3 yards to Cole Hikutini and 16 yards to Jamari Staples.

Jeremy Smith ran for a pair of 1-yard TDs for Louisville (6-1, 4-1 Atlantic Coast Conference), which reclaimed its high-scoring ways a week after managing a season-low 24 points against Duke.

Blanton Creque had four field goals and six conversions to set a single-game school scoring record for a kicker with 18 points.

Whatever hope North Carolina State (4-3, 1-2 ACC) had of slowing the Cardinals and Jackson was quashed after kickoff.

Jackson's TD run capped a 72-yard, 93-second drive just as 55,218 were settling into their seats on homecoming. Louisville's next two scoring drives totaled 2:48 and the Cardinals might have had another if not for James Quick's fumble after a catch.

Jackson was just getting started making big plays.

His 67-yard pass to Hikutini - who finished with a career-best 118 yards receiving on six catches - set up Jeremy Smith's first touchdown run. Hikutini's TD catch capped the next drive and Staples grabbed his first scoring pass of the season. Louisville outgained the Wolfpack 553-250 and held them to just 14 yards rushing on 25 attempts.

All this against an N.C. State defense that last week forced four turnovers and returned an interception for a TD at then-No. 3 Clemson before falling in overtime. The Wolfpack managed two third-quarter touchdowns to avoid a shutout, but not the rout.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) - When he trotted back onto the field with just over 2 minutes to play and No. 5 Louisville suddenly trailing Virginia 25-24, Lamar Jackson was well aware of what was at stake.

Jackson, as has been the case all season, did the most, engineering a 75-yard drive and capping it by floating a perfectly placed 29-yard touchdown pass to Jaylen Smith with 13 seconds remaining as the Cardinals survived, 32-25.

It was Jackson's fourth touchdown pass and kept the Cardinals (7-1, 5-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) in the College Football Playoff picture, and couldn't have hurt the Heisman Trophy frontrunner's candidacy.

Virginia (2-6, 1-3) had scored with 1:57 remaining and used a 2-point conversion to take a 25-24 lead, whipping the sparse crowd at Scott Stadium into a frenzy that could only have made the task more daunting.

Not for Jackson. He ran for 18 yards on the first play, hit Cole Hikutini in traffic for 5 yards on fourth-and-3, ran twice more for 16 yards before hitting Smith in the end zone with the pass over tight coverage by Juan Thornhill.

So did Smith, who had just one prior reception. Jackson did not have one of his best days, getting sacked five times and turning the ball over twice, but still finished 24 of 41 for 361 yards. He ran 18 times for another 90 yards, and boosted his TD count to 38. His other TD tosses covered 15 yards to Jamari Staples, and 8 and 10 yards to Reggie Bonnafon.

The Cavaliers had driven 75 yards in 14 plays, getting a 30-yard pass from Kurt Benkert to Keon Johnson on fourth-and-7 to put the ball at the Cardinals 4. A TD throw to Doni Dowling on the next play and then Benkert's 2-point conversion pass to Albert Reid had put the Cavaliers ahead by a point with 1:57 left.
