BY THE NUMBERS

20.0 Louisville's pressuring defense has forced opponents into an average of 20.0 turnovers over the last seven games, including at least 20 three of the last four contests. The Cardinals, averaging 8.7 steals in that span, are converting the turnovers into 21.7 points per contest.

16 Myisha Hines-Allen totaled 24 points and a career-best 15 rebounds against Vanderbilt, the junior's fourth double-double of the season. Hines-Allen, averaging 12.1 points and 8.5 rebounds, is tied for eighth all-time in school history with 16 career double-doubles.

7-2 Louisville has won seven of its last nine conference openers, including the last three straight. The Cardinals defeated Georgia Tech to open the 2015 league slate and then Florida State to begin the 2016 conference campaign.

2 Asia Durr ranks second nationally in 3-point field goals made, connecting on 48 over the course of 14 games. The sophomore, who is hitting at a 44.0 percent clip, has knocked down at least four treys in seven games, including a career-best eight earlier this year.

11 Louisville has enjoyed a string of success in its first game after Christmas, winning 11-consecutive contests. The Cardinals, who boast a 32-9 all-time record in the first game after Christmas, are 9-0 in those contests under head coach Jeff Walz.

■ About Syracuse - Louisville returns from holiday break and opens Atlantic Coast Conference play at home, where it faces No. 25 Syracuse on Thursday (Dec. 29, 7 p.m., ACC Network Extra).

Syracuse had its five-game winning streak snapped last time out, falling to Texas A&M 105-84 on Dec. 21 in the final game of the Florida Sunshine Classic. The Orange shot 40.7 percent from the field, connecting on just 7-of-32 3-pointers. Syracuse scored 21 second-chance points and tallied 46 in the paint. Texas A&M made 34 of its 40 trips to the free throw line and hit 60.0 percent of its field goals.

Alexis Peterson scored a game-high 34 points on 14-of-24 shooting. Brittney Sykes registered 19 points, but went 8 of 24 from the field. Briana Day tallied a double-double of 13 points and 10 rebounds, Gabby Cooper added 12 points, and Desiree Elmore scored the bench's only three points. Danni Williams had 30 points for the Aggies.

Through 13 games, Peterson is pacing the team in scoring (22.9), 3-pointers (33), free throws (51), assists (86), and steals (42). Sykes is averaging 18.0 points on 51.9 percent shooting to go with 8.2 rebounds, and Day boasts 13.2 points and a team-leading 8.8 rebounds.

Collectively, Syracuse ranks second in turnover margin (plus-9.69) and sixth in 3-point field goals per game (9.7) and offensive rebounds per game (18.0).

■ Series History - Louisville leads Syracuse 8-6 in the all-time series, boasting a 5-1 advantage in Louisville. The Cardinals have won two of the last three meetings.

The programs played twice last year, with the Cardinals earning a 71-53 regular-season victory in Syracuse. The Orange then defeated the Cardinals 80-75 in the ACC Tournament. Louisville shot 42.9 percent from the field, while Syracuse totaled 21 points on 16 Louisville turnovers and outscored the Cardinals 18-13 in the final period.

Myisha Hines-Allen scored a game-high 27 points to go with 12 rebounds, while Asia Durr added 23 points. Briahanna Jackson totaled 18 points and nine rebounds. Alexis Peterson led Syracuse with 19 points, and Cornelia Fondren had 18.

■ High-Percentage Shooting - Louisville has shown its capability of firing from long range. While the Cardinals' 3-point total ranks in the upper half of the ACC, it's the team's accuracy from inside the arc that deserves attention.

Louisville has connected on 353 of its 699 2-point field goals this year, a solid 50.5 percent clip. It's the second-highest rate in the Jeff Walz era, only trailing the 2007-08 team's mark of 50.9 percent (874 of 1716).

■ Picking Pockets - Under head coach Jeff Walz, Louisville consistently has been among the best in thefts. The Cardinals have ranked in the top 40 in steals on six occasions over the last nine seasons.

Louisville, which has recorded double-digit steals in seven games, boasts 136 steals. The Cardinals opened the season with 14 against UT Martin, followed with 10 versus Belmont, and tallied 16 against Bowling Green and Lafayette. Fourteen players have at least one steal this season, and Briahanna Jackson has a team-high 28 to rank 62nd nationally.

■ Can I help you? - Louisville was one of the best teams in the country last year in earning assists on made field goals, helping on 62.8 percent of its baskets (587 assists on 934 field goals). Through 14 games, the Cardinals have been credited with 267 assists on 441 field goals, a 60.5 percent rate.

Briahanna Jackson has a team-leading 69 assists, Mariya Moore boasts 61, Taylor Johnson owns 34, and Myisha Hines-Allen has 26.

■ Statistical Trends - Louisville is 167-18 (.903) when scoring 70 or more points under head coach Jeff Walz (9-1 this year; 18-3 in 2015-16). ... UofL boasts an 81-1 record (.988) when shooting 50 percent or better from the field under Walz (3-0 this year; 7-0 last season).

■ Closing in on Milestones - Louisville's success under 10th-year head coach Jeff Walz has expedited its pace to new milestones.

With Walz at the helm of the program, the Cardinals are averaging 26 victories per season and now are seven shy of reaching 800 wins (793-478) as a program. Louisville entered the year with 781 victories, 41st most in NCAA Division I history.

Louisville, also approaching the 100-win milestone in the KFC Yum! Center, currently stands at 96-13 in the downtown venue.

■ League Openers Under Walz - Louisville boasts a 7-2 record under head coach Jeff Walz in conference openers, dating back to the 2007-08 season. The Cardinals have won three straight, including both ACC lidlifters: 2015 vs. Georgia Tech, 75-48; 2016 vs. Florida State, 79-69.

Louisville's only blemishes came in 2008 against Syracuse (79-56) and 2013 versus DePaul (86-80).

■ 3-Point Threat - Asia Durr has experienced little issue dialing long distance. The sophomore has connected on 48 3-pointers this season through 14 games, a total that ranks second nationally. Her 3.43 per game is 11th best in the nation. Maybe equally impressive is the fact she is connecting on the shots at a 44.0 percent clip.

While early, Durr is well on her way to crack the school's single season top-10 list for 3-pointers made (Brandie Radde is 10th, with 70). Currently, Durr is ahead of the pace Shoni Schimmel used to set the school record in 2013-14 with 118 treys. Schimmel had 43 through 14 contests.

■ Returning to Form - The reigning and preseason ACC Player of the Year, Myisha Hines-Allen is returning to last year's form as a dominant offensive player.

The junior, overcoming a "slow" start for her standards, is averaging 15.4 points over the Cardinals' last seven games, shooting 53.3 percent from the field. She is pulling down a team-leading 8.4 rebounds and has three double-doubles in the stretch.

In the first seven games, Hines-Allen averaged 8.9 points and 8.6 rebounds, while shooting 45.8 percent - well below her 54.3 percent career average.

■ Climbing the Ranks - Myisha Hines-Allen and Mariya Moore have enjoyed plenty of success, especially on the offensive end during their times at Louisville.

Hines-Allen became the 26th member of the school's 1,000-point club in the Cardinals' victory at Middle Tennessee. The junior boasts 1,153 for her career and is 33 away from passing Joan Dunaway-Burks (1977-81) for 17th place.

Moore, meanwhile, joined the elite club following her second field goal against Chattanooga. She currently has 1,083 points, three shy of moving into 22nd place.

The last time a pair of teammates reached 1,000 career points in the same season was during the 2014-15 campaign, when Sara Hammond and Bria Smith achieved the feat. Prior to that season, only two other times in school history did at least two teammates reach the milestone in the same year: 1991-92, Nell Knox, Tuonisia Turner, and Gwen Doyle; 1984-85, Jackie Spencer, Devita Ceaser, and Stephanie Edwards.

■ Bonus from the Bench - Louisville's bench contributed in a major way in the team's victory over South Dakota State, totaling 51 points on 20 of 31 shooting, including a 4 of 6 stint from 3. It's the most points the Cardinals have received from their bench since the 2011-12 season, when Louisville's reserves totaled 58 points in a 105-62 victory over Murray State on Nov. 29.

This year, Louisville's bench has accumulated 393 points - or 28.1 per game. The contingent has achieved at least 40 points on four occasions.

■ Cardinals in the Polls - Coupling the 2006-07 campaign with that of head coach Jeff Walz's tenure, which started in 2007-08, Louisville has appeared in the Associated Press poll 141 times, with an average rank of 12th over that span. When UofL exited the poll on Nov. 30, 2015, it ended a period of 81-straight weeks in the top 25.

Last year, Louisville debuted at No. 12 in the AP preseason poll and reached as high as fourth from Jan. 12-19. The Cardinals finished the 2014-15 campaign eighth in the AP Poll, their third time concluding the year in the top 10. Louisville also maintained a top-15 ranking throughout the year in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll, taking 10th in the final poll.

■ Happy (from the) Holidays - The Cardinals, historically, have enjoyed success with their first game back on the court after Christmas. Louisville has won 11-consecutive games, with its last loss coming during the 2004-05 campaign (Dec. 28, Florida State).

Louisville, which boasts a 32-9 all-time record in the first game after Christmas, is 9-0 in those contests under head coach Jeff Walz.

■ Welcome Back Walton - Louisville redshirt senior Cortnee Walton, who suffered a right elbow injury during the preseason and missed the first six games of the regular season, returned and has started the last seven. Overall, Walton is averaging 4.6 points and 6.9 rebounds, including 3.4 offensive boards per game.

Walton averaged 5.9 points, 7.3 rebounds, and 1.2 steals last season in 34 games. She completed the year with 136 boards on the offensive end, pulling down 4.0 per game for the second-highest average in the ACC.

■ Puny Periods - Louisville's defense clamped down on opponents last year, limiting foes to single-digit points in a period on 25 occasions through 34 contests.

The Cardinals are continuing that trend in 2016-17. Louisville has stifled nine of its 14 opponents to single-digit points in one period, most recently Evansville to nine points in the third quarter.

Diving deeper into the numbers, of the 36 (25 in 2015-16) times the feat happened, 14 took place in the first period, 12 in the second, eight in the fourth, and two in the third.

■ Running Through a Gauntlet - Even before reaching their difficult ACC schedule, the Cardinals are putting themselves through a rigorous nonconference slate.

The Cardinals have faced 2016 NCAA Tournament participants Belmont (win), Middle Tennessee (win), Chattanooga (win), No. 3 South Carolina (loss), No. 5 Maryland (loss), No. 17 Kentucky (win), Western Kentucky (win), South Dakota State (win), and Vanderbilt (win), which was receiving votes. Still looming, the Cardinals' out-of-league schedule includes South Florida.

In a report compiled by the NCAA, the Cardinals' future opponents have won 82.1 percent of their games, the 14th highest in Division I.

More than half (17) of the Cardinals' 29 opponents won at least 20 games a year ago. Nineteen of this year's opponents reached postseason play in 2015-16, including 12 that reached the NCAA Tournament.

■ Outlasting Opponents - Louisville defeated in-state foe Kentucky on Dec. 4 in overtime, only the Cardinals' 43rd contest in school history that went beyond regulation. With the victory, Louisville has won five-straight overtime games, dating back to 2013.

All-time, Louisville boasts a 24-19 overtime record, including a 15-6 mark at home. Under head coach Jeff Walz, the Cardinals are 7-4 in games that need extra time.

HEAD COACH JEFF WALZ

Head coach Jeff Walz, entering his 10th season as a head coach, has compiled a 246-87 (.739) record as the Cardinals' leader. He has led Louisville to six NCAA Sweet 16 appearances, two of which culminated with NCAA runner-up finishes (2009, 2013). Walz, who is averaging 26 wins per season, became the winningest coach in program history in 2013-14. He also has the most 20-win seasons in school history (8) and the top-three entries for most victories in a season (34 in 2008-09; 33 in 2013-14; and 29 in 2012-13).

Hired on March 27, 2007, the Bluegrass State native took the program to its first NCAA Sweet 16 and it culminated with Louisville earning the No. 12 ranking in the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll. For his efforts, Walz was named the WBCA Maggie Dixon Rookie Coach of the Year.

Prior to taking the reins at Louisville, Walz spent time on four other coaching staffs: Western Kentucky (1996-97), Nebraska (1997-01), Minnesota (2001-02), and Maryland (2002-07). He helped Maryland win the program's first national title in 2006.

Note: Walz is four wins shy of 250 for his career, boasting 246 to date.

■ Playing in a Packed House - Since beginning play in the KFC Yum! Center in 2010-11, Louisville has played in front of three arena-capacity crowds (capacity is 22,000), while averaging more than 9,000 per game.

In Louisville's regular-season finale against Connecticut on March 3, 2014, fans packed the venue for a program-record crowd of 22,163. The record prior to that was attained against Kentucky on Dec. 5, 2010, a 78-52 victory in front of 22,152.

The record was first set in the team's opening game in the downtown arena, playing host to Tennessee with 22,124 on hand on Nov. 12, 2010.

All three games ranked in the top five of Division I games attended that season: vs. Kentucky, No. 1 in 2010-11; vs. Tennessee, No. 2 in 2010-11; and vs. UConn, No. 2 in 2013-14.

■ Dreaming of December - As the Cardinals noticeably improve each month under head coach Jeff Walz, so too does their record. In the 12th month, Louisville boasts a 59-13 mark (.819) under its leader. In 2007-08 and 2008-09, Louisville produced consecutive 8-0 records. Last season, the program put together a 7-1 mark.

■ Million Mark Surpassed - Louisville has thrived in more ways than one in the KFC Yum! Center since beginning play there in 2010. Along with winning 88.1 percent of its games, Louisville hit a milestone earlier this season when attendance surpassed the one-million mark for women's basketball games.

Through 109 games in the downtown venue, Louisville averages 9,896 per contest and has welcomed more than 1.05 million fans through the doors of the KFC Yum! Center.

■ Louisville Athletics Above the Rest - Louisville continues to remain as one of the elite athletics departments in the country. Currently, Louisville is one of only two schools nationally (other: West Virginia) that has its football, men's basketball, and women's basketball programs in the Associated Press' top 15 (men's basketball: No. 6; women's basketball: No. 8; football: No. 15).

The Cardinals have four additional sports currently ranked among the nation's top teams in men's soccer (8th), field hockey (8th), men's swimming (8th), and women's swimming (11th). UofL's men's soccer team was the No. 4 overall seed in the NCAA Championship and advanced to the Elite Eight. UofL's women's cross country team advanced to the NCAA Championship for the first time in school history and the Cardinals' field hockey team competed in the NCAA Tournament.

■ Fantastic Fourth - Louisville was stellar in the fourth quarter in wins over Western Kentucky and South Dakota State. Combined, the Cardinals outscored their foes 46-14, outrebounded them 17-5, and shot 67.9 percent from the floor over the 10-minute span. Opponents shot just 19.2 percent.

Against Western Kentucky, Louisville entered the final period behind 52-46. The Cardinals used a 9-2 run to open the quarter and take the lead, finishing with a season-best 24 points in the frame. Louisville shot a remarkable 9 of 15 from the floor, connecting on two 3-pointers, and outrebounded the Hilltoppers 14-4 in the period. Defensively, Western Kentucky mustered just nine points on 4 of 14 shooting.

The next game, Louisville outscored South Dakota State 22-5 in the final period. The Cardinals forced six turnovers and held the Jackrabbits to 1 of 12 from the floor, while shooting 10 of 13. Sydney Zambrotta had all 10 of her points in the period.

■ Achieving Nonconference Success - Head coach Jeff Walz has compiled an impressive 115-30 record (.793) against nonconference foes in his 10 years at the helm of the program. Two times - in 2008-09 and 2013-14 - he rolled through nonconference play with just one loss, sporting 13-1 and 12-1, records, respectively.

■ Crashing the Boards - Louisville's superior size and athleticism was on full display in the Cardinals' victory over Lafayette.

Paced by Myisha Hines-Allen's career-tying high 14 rebounds, Louisville finished with a 62-28 advantage on the boards. The Cardinals' rebounding total is tied for third most in a game in school history and is the most since the 2013-14 team set the program record with 68 on Nov. 9, 2013, against Loyola Chicago.

This season, Louisville is averaging 15.57 offensive rebounds per game and producing 14.9 second-chance points.

■ Relentless Defense - Louisville has forced at least 20 turnovers in eight of 14 games this season. Maybe the more impressive note, though, is the Cardinals matched a season best against Bowling Green, when they forced the Falcons into 32 turnovers.

The Cardinals pressured South Dakota State into 30 turnovers on Dec. 14, more than three times the number of South Dakota State's field goals (9).

Opponents are turning the ball over 21.7 times per game, a mark that ranks 21st nationally, leading to 333 points for Louisville - or 23.8 points per contest.

■ Paint Points a Positive - The Cardinals have taken advantage of points in the paint, averaging 38.7 in the area. Louisville has surpassed the 30-point plateau 11 times this year, including a season-best 56 - the most since tallying 58 against Iowa on Dec. 14, 2014.

The Cardinals averaged 31.2 points in the paint a year ago (1,062 points). The 2014-15 team scored a program best 72 in the area against Western Kentucky.

■ Stretches and Spurts - Through 14 games this year, Louisville has produced 37 runs of 8-0 or better (none against Vanderbilt), including a 21-0 stretch against UT Martin. Defensively, the Cardinals have forced their opponents into 38 scoring droughts of at least three minutes (one by Vanderbilt), including a 7:36 drought by South Dakota State.

Last year, through 34 games, the Cardinals totaled 61 runs of 8-0 or better and 96 scoring droughts of at least three minutes.

■ Wade Watch List - Louisville juniors Myisha Hines-Allen and Mariya Moore were named two of the 25 "Wade Watch" list candidates for the 2017 Wade Trophy that recognizes the national player of the year.

Louisville is one of six schools to have multiple representatives on the list.

The Wade Trophy — now in its 40th year — is the oldest and most prestigious national player of the year award in college women's basketball. It is named in honor of the late, legendary Delta State University head coach Lily Margaret Wade, who won three consecutive national championships with the Lady Statesmen.

■ Trio to Watch - Sophomore Asia Durr, Myisha Hines-Allen, and Mariya Moore were three of the top-50 players nationally named to the Naismith Trophy Women's 50 preseason list. The Cardinals' trio of selections are tied for the most in the ACC and tied for the second most in the country.

Named in honor of Dr. James Naismith, the creator of the game of basketball, the first Naismith trophy was awarded in 1969. The trophy was sculpted by Marty C. Dawe of Atlanta and has become among the most prestigious national honors awarded each year to top basketball players in the nation.

■ Louisville Chosen Second in ACC

Preseason Polls - The Cardinals were picked to finish second in both the Atlantic Coast Conference's Blue Ribbon Panel and coaches' polls. Louisville received 758 points from the Blue Ribbon Panel, including eight first-place votes, while earning 209 points from the league's 15 head coaches. Notre Dame was picked to win the title in both polls. The conference tournament will be held at the HTC Center from March 1-5 in Conway, S.C.

■ Melting Pot - Louisville's 2016-17 roster continues last year's pattern of being diverse. Of the 15 student-athletes on its roster, 11 different states are represented (Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Texas).

■ Tournament No. 50 - When Louisville played in the Basketball Hall of Fame Women's Challenge, it marked the program's 50th regular-season tournament in school history. The Cardinals, who went 3-1 in the event, have been crowned champions in 17 of those.

Most recently in 2013-14, when the program defeated three schools before earning an upset win at No. 11 Oklahoma in the Preseason WNIT. Interestingly, the Cardinals' season-opening win and first victory in the tournament was against Taylor Johnson's Loyola Chicago team. Johnson had 18 points and three assists in the 101-54 loss.

■ Preseason Conference Accolades - Myisha Hines-Allen was voted the ACC's preseason Player of the Year - by both the coaches and league's media and SIDs - and also named to the all-conference team with Mariya Moore and Asia Durr. Louisville was the only school with three selections on both preseason teams.

Hines-Allen, who capped her sophomore campaign as the school's second player of the year, is the first student-athlete in program history to earn a league's preseason honor. She also earned preseason Associated Press All-America honorable mention accolades and was named an ESPN preseason second team All-America.

■ (Un)Hampered by Height - With the addition of 6-foot-4 freshmen Ciera Johnson and Kylee Shook, Louisville owns one of the taller teams in the ACC. The Cardinals also have significant height with Sam Fuehring and Cortnee Walton, who are each 6-foot-3, giving Louisville and Boston College four players who are at least 6-foot-3. Duke, Virginia, and Georgia Tech each have five players 6-foot-3 or taller.

■ Success against AP Top 25 - Following the win over 17th-ranked Kentucky, Louisville has defeated a stellar 28 schools over the last seven seasons that were ranked in the Associated Press' top 25.

In 2015-16, the Cardinals knocked off No. 19 Michigan State in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge, No. 15 Florida State 79-69, No. 18 Duke 65-48, No. 19 South Florida 67-50, and then 17th-ranked Miami 79-51.

Wins over AP Top 25 Teams in 2015-16

Date	Opponent	Decision

1/1/16	No. 15 Florida State	W, 79-69

2/15/16	No. 19 South Florida	W, 67-50
2/25/16	No. 17 Miami	W, 79-51

During 2010-11, Louisville defeated five schools in the top 25, including three in the top 10: Kentucky (No. 8), DePaul (No. 7), and Xavier (No. 5). After defeating one in 2011-12, the Cardinals again defeated five ranked in AP Poll in both 2012-13 and 2013-14. In 2013-14, UofL defeated No. 14 LSU and No. 11 Oklahoma within a three-day window, and then posted six ranked victories in 2014-15.

■ Johnson Joins Cardinals - Highly talented guard Taylor Johnson transferred to Louisville from Loyola Chicago during the summer of 2016.

The two-time all-conference honoree, who is playing her final season of eligibility is third on the team with 34 assists in 14 games - with 20 turnovers - and has the second-most steals with 21.

Johnson averaged 14.2 points, 4.9 rebounds, 3.3 assists, and 2.5 steals in 93 games at Loyola Chicago. In her final season there, she started all 30 games and averaged the league's eighth-best scoring mark at 15.1 points to go with 4.9 rebounds.

The 5-foot-7 guard ranked sixth in school history in career points (1,325), fourth in scoring average, tied for third in steals (234), and 11th in assists (306).

■ Cardinals on the Road - Since Jeff Walz became head coach at Louisville in 2007, the Cardinals have a 119-64 record (.650) in games away from home (includes 36-20 record for neutral site games).

In 2015-16, the Cardinals owned a 13-5 record away from the KFC Yum! Center (includes 2-3 neutral record). Louisville forced 18.0 turnovers per game in those contests, held a +6.6 rebounding advantage, connected on 72.7 percent of its free throws, and boasted +8.1 scoring margin.

■ Unmatched Exposure - Head coach Jeff Walz was one of six Division I women's basketball head coaches and 12 participants invited to the second Women's Basketball National Media Day, hosted by the NCAA and ESPN, on ESPN's campus in Bristol, Conn.

The 10th-year coach conducted multiple interviews with regional and national media, recorded a national podcast with ESPN, WNBA, and ACC analyst LaChina Robinson, held an interview with ESPN.com national women's college basketball writer Mechelle Voepel, and participated in a one-on-one interview with ESPN analyst Doris Burke.

■ Highlighting the Exhibition - Louisville's 97-50 exhibition victory over Lindsey Wilson proved to be a confidence booster for Asia Durr. Head coach Jeff Walz continually called for the sophomore to shoot the ball more, and she finished with a game-high 19 points, shooting 7-of-10 from the field. Last year, in 31 games, she only had 10 field goal attempts 12 times.

Freshmen Ciera Johnson (14 points in 20 minutes), Jazmine Jones (15 points on 7-of-8 shooting, 4 rebounds, 2 steals), and Bionca Dunham (9 points, 10 rebounds, 4 blocks in 19 minutes) also had solid performances.

Collectively, Louisville shot 54.9 percent from the field, while forcing 26 turnovers.

■ Hines-Allen Continues to Collect Honors - Myisha Hines-Allen picked up where she left off as a sophomore, receiving honors. The junior, named an Associated Press honorable mention All-American, has earned additional national attention following the announcement of being named the preseason ACC Player of the Year.

Hines-Allen, who averaged a remarkable 18.0 points and 8.1 rebounds in league play last year, was named an All-American by four other national outlets: Sporting News (first team), Lindy's (second team), Athlon Sports (second team), and College Sports Madness (second team).

■ Lofty Expectations - Louisville, returning eight letterwinners from a season ago, including all five starters, attracted plenty of attention from the preseason publications.

In addition to being selected fifth in the Associated Press preseason poll and eighth in the USA Today/Coaches' rankings, the Cardinals also rank in the top eight by five other outlets: third by Lindy's and Sporting News, fifth by SLAM Magazine, sixth by Athlon Sports, and seventh by the U.S. Basketball Writers' Association.

Though early, the Cardinals earned a No. 1 seed in the first ESPN Bracketology of the year (other No. 1 seeds: UConn, Notre Dame, and South Carolina).

■ espnW Praises Hines-Allen, Moore - espnW selected Myisha Hines-Allen and Mariya Moore as two of the top-25 players in the country for 2016-17. Hines-Allen was tabbed 11th, while Moore was voted 22nd.

Over the course of the season, the Cardinals will face nine other players that were picked in the top 25.

■ Cardinals Ink Another No. 1 Class - Head coach Jeff Walz and his staff inked the top-ranked recruiting class in the country for 2017, Louisville's second No. 1 class in three seasons, according to espnW HoopGurlz.

The three-member class, with all five-star prospects, consists of Lindsey Duvall, a 5-foot-9 guard from Mt. Washington, Ky.; Dana Evans, a 5-foot-6 guard from Gary, Ind.; and, Loretta Kakala, a 6-foot-3 forward from Manteca, Calif.

Duvall, No. 22-ranked player in the class, eclipsed 1,000 career varsity points during her sophomore campaign in 2014, averaging 23.7 points and 7.5 rebounds that year. While missing most of her junior season after having a tumor removed from just below her left knee, she returned to produce 18.7 points and 8.1 rebounds in seven contests, while leading her program to the state championship game. Evans, ranked seventh overall in the class, averaged a remarkable 35.8 points, 5.4 rebounds, and 5.0 assists in her junior season. She was named a Naismith High School All-American in 2016. Kakala, the 25th-best player in the class, was a first-team all-district player last year and averaged 16 points and 8.5 rebounds in her junior season.

■ Statistically Recapping 2015-16 - The Cardinals finished the 2015-16 season ranked in the top 35 in multiple categories: scoring margin, assists per game, turnover margin, and offensive rebounds per game.

Individually, Myisha Hines-Allen ranked 20th in field goals made (246), 25th in field goal percentage (54.7), and 66th in final points (581). Cortnee Walton also boasted a top-25 mark, holding the 22nd-best average for offensive rebounds per game (4.0).

■ Making a 180-Degree Turn - Louisville made quite the turnaround after a slow start to the 2015-16 campaign.

The Cardinals, ranked eighth in the final AP Poll, won 25 of their last 29 games, building a 15-game winning streak along the way, and cruised to a second-place finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Three of Louisville's losses in the stretch came to top-25 teams, while the program defeated five ranked schools.

Louisville outscored opponents by an average of 15 points, held them to 39.8 percent shooting, and forced 18.5 turnovers per game. Over that timeframe, Myisha Hines-Allen paced the Cardinals in scoring (18.3), rebounding (8.6), and shooting (56.8).
