The NCAA Committee on Infractions imposed a penalty of four years of probation on the University of Louisville from June 15, 2017 through June 14, 2021, among others, in a June 15, 2017 decision in which the committee found UofL responsible for certain violations of NCAA legislation. Included were violations of NCAA legislation relating to 1.) impermissible inducements and benefits and ethical conduct, which stem from a former operations director arranging striptease dances and sex acts for several prospective and enrolled student-athletes, a friend of a prospect and two nonscholastic basketball team coaches over a three-year period; 2.) unethical conduct and failure to cooperate by the former operations director when he refused to participate in interviews or provide relevant information to the enforcement staff during its investigation; 3.) failure to cooperate by a former program assistant when he refused to provide phone records relevant to the investigation to the enforcement staff during the investigation; and 4.) head coach responsibility when the head coach failed to monitor the former operations director when he gave the former operations director recruiting responsibilities but did not ensure that he complied with NCAA rules. UofL had self-reported the initial discovery of possible misconduct to the NCAA enforcement staff, participated in an extensive joint investigation and later self-imposed severe penalties. The complete report and additional information, including the imposed penalties, may be found online at this link: http://uofl.me/2utS4LB UofL and Coach Rick Pitino have each filed separate appeals of certain aspects of the decision with the NCAA Division I Infractions Appeals Committee, appeals which were in progress at the time of this publication.

Media Information

This publication featuring the 2017-18 University of Louisville men's basketball team has been prepared to aid you in covering the Cardinals this season. Additional information is available through Senior Associate Athletic Director Kenny Klein, UofL's primary men's basketball contact (502-852-6581).

■ Media Credentials: To obtain credentials for a UofL home contest, please make the request via email to Kenny Klein at kenny@gocards.com. Credentials are held at Media Will Call, located inside the Suite Entrance on the Second Street side of the KFC Yum! Center (front right side of the arena). Credentials will not be mailed. Passes are limited to WORKING MEDIA ONLY. We do not have complimentary game tickets, but we will assist in purchasing tickets when they are available. The media room is located on the event level, the first door to the right after entering the Suite Entrance/Media Entrance. Media seating is either at courtside or at tables in designated corner areas of the arena in sections 119 and 120.

■ Internet Access: Wireless internet access is available throughout the KFC Yum! Center. A password is required for special media access. Wired connections are also available in the media room.

■ Telephones: A limited number of telephones are provided in the press room on a first-come, first-served basis. Media desiring personal phone service should have a phone installed through the KFC Yum! Center by calling (502) 690-9000 in advance. Please list Kenny Klein as the contact for placement of the line. There are no general media use phones available at courtside. A UofL sports information representative can to assist you if you need an item faxed or copied.

■ Parking: Limited media parking is available in garages within one block of the KFC Yum! Center. Requests should be made well in advance to Kenny Klein.

SIDEARMSPORTS

■ Notes/Stats: Updated notes and statistics are maintained on the Men's Basketball page of the Cardinals' web site at www.GoCards.com. Please contact us if you would like any materials emailed to your attention.

■ Statistical Services: Rosters, notes, game programs and cumulative statistics are available for pickup in the media room prior to tipoff. Statistical summaries, written play-by-plays and shot charts will be distributed at halftime and post-game. Broadcast personnel will have access to a computer monitor displaying live game statistics throughout the game.

■ Interviews: Coach David Padgett and selected players are available at a news conference generally the day prior to each game. Selected news conferences may be available live via teleconference; contact the sports information office at (502) 852-6581 to obtain a schedule and the number to participate. The recorded video from all news conferences is available online from the "CardsTV " link from the Cards' web site at www.GoCards.com and each news conference will be streamed live from that site. To request a specific interview with Coach Padgett or a player, please call or email Kenny Klein (502-852-6581; email: kenny@gocards.com). The best time to reach Coach Padgett is mid-day, while players are usually available between 2-2:30 p.m. EST. Home or cell phone numbers will not be provided.

■ Postgame: Coach Padgett is most often first up with the media in the press room following the game, but that is subject to change. The UofL dressing room will be open to media postgame for access to squad members following Padgett's remarks. If agreed to by the visiting coach, we will have that coach come to the interview room. Visiting team locker rooms are located to the left as one exits the media room hallway (southwest corner of the arena). The Louisville locker room is located to the right when exiting the media room (southeast corner of the arena). Proper credentials are required to gain admittance to each area.

■ Teleconference: The ACC offers a periodic teleconference for its men's head basketball coaches throughout the season. Please contact the ACC (336-369-1002) to obtain the phone number and times for the call. Selected UofL news conferences may be available live via teleconference; contact the sports information office at (502) 852-6581 to obtain a schedule and the number to participate.

■ Internet Services: UofL is partnered with Sidearm Sports to host its official athletic site. Located at www.GoCards.com, the web site contains updated game notes, cumulative statistics, box scores from previous games, weekly video interviews with Coach David Padgett and selected players, and many other resources. This media guide is also available online. The Atlantic Coast Conference site is located at www.theacc.com, with a protected media services site at www.sportssystems.com/s/?scmsID=accmedia.

KFC Yum! Center Diagram

Interesting Figures on the KFC Yum! Center

- Structural steel placed in the arena weighs 5,975,000 pounds - the same weight as 746 average-size Asian elephants.
- The center-hung scoreboard weighs 40,000 pounds - as much as 11 Ford Explorers.
- There are 130 miles of electrical conduit and 322 miles of electrical wiring installed in the arena - enough to stretch from Louisville to Chicago.
- There are 9,000 light fixtures in the arena with 17,000 lamps.
- The overall square footage of the arena (721,762) equals approximately 13 football fields.
- 60,000 cubic yards of concrete were placed in the arena, equaling 6,000 concrete trucks - represented by 25 miles of concrete trucks parked bumper to bumper.
- The arena contains 58,655 square feet of exterior glass panels - the glass on the east side of the arena could provide for approximately 60 houses.
- The length of the arena's catwalk totals ½ mile.

Cardinal Facts and Figures

■ Louisville has an all-time 1,803-901 record in 103 seasons of intercollegiate basketball. The Cardinals rank 11th among all NCAA schools in victories. The Cardinals played their first official men's basketball game on Jan. 28, 1912 when it lost 35-3 to Louisville YMCA, but did not field teams in 1916-17, 1922-23 or 1942-43. The Cardinals have produced winning seasons in 69 of the last 72 years, including winning 20 or more games in the last 15 straight seasons and 30 or more in three of the last six years.

■ UofL is seventh nationally with 10 Final Four appearances. No other school went to the Final Four four times during the 1980s and Louisville won two NCAA titles in that decade, winning the national championship in 1980 and 1986. Louisville's 42 NCAA Tournament appearances is fifth best all-time and its 118 NCAA Tournament games are the sixth most played in the event (76-43 record).

■ Twenty Louisville players have earned All-America status, the latest being consensus All-America pick Russ Smith in 2014. The Cardinals have had 72 players drafted by the NBA, including 24 first-round selections. Donovan Mitchell was UofL's latest first round selection in the 2017 draft as the 13th overall pick by the Denver Nuggets and was subsequently traded to the Utah Jazz. Seven Cardinals have been drafted over the last five years.

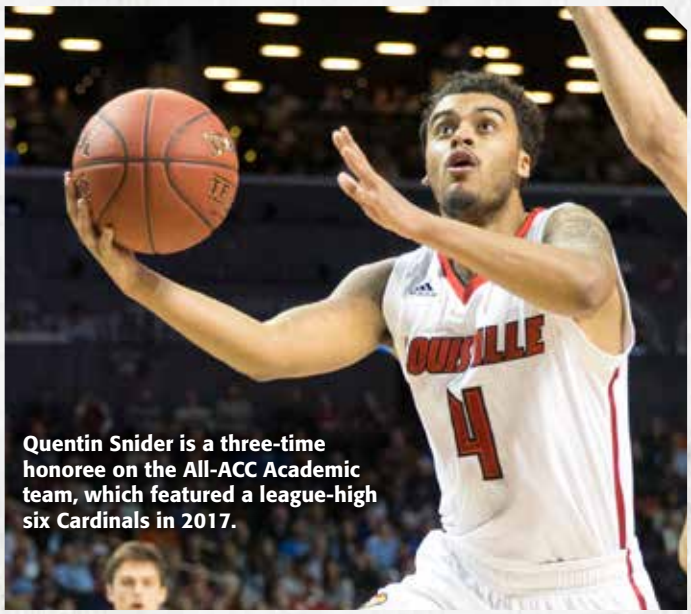

■ Louisville has won its conference championship or finished second in its league in 27 of the last 41 years, including six of the last 11 years (American Athletic Conference champion in 2014, Big East champion in 2009 and 2013, second place in the Big East in 2007, 2008, ACC second in 2017). The Cardinals were tied for second in the Atlantic Coast Conference last season and finished fourth in the regular season title race in their initial two ACC years.

■ Louisville is the only school in the nation to have claimed the championship of three major national post-season tournaments including the 1948 NAIB Championship, the 1956 NIT title and the 1980, 1986 and 2013 NCAA Championships. This season marks the 70th anniversary of the 1948 national title.

■ UofL produced the second most consecutive winning seasons all-time in the NCAA with 46 (not current). The Cards played winning basketball from 1944-45 through 1989-90, winning 20 or more games on 31 occasions during that period.

■ Louisville has three representatives in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. Cardinal All-American and former Washington Bullets All-Star Wes Unseld was inducted in 1988, former head coach Denny Crum was inducted in 1994 and former head coach Rick Pitino was in the 2013 induction class.

■ Louisville has ranked among the top six nationally in average home attendance each of the last 36 years. In 17 home games last season, a total of 354,390 fans attended games, a 20,846 average that trailed only Syracuse and Kentucky. UofL played its seventh season in their new home in 2016-17, the 22,000-seat KFC Yum! Center in downtown Louisville.

Quentin Snider is a three-time honoree on the All-ACC Academic team, which featured a league-high six Cardinals in 2017.

■ Only five times in the last 52 years have the Cardinals failed to reach either the NCAA or NIT post-season tournaments. UofL has reached the NCAA Tournament Elite Eight five of the last 10 years and two of the last six Final Fours, winning the 2013 title.

■ The Cardinals are one of the most televised teams in college basketball. UofL games will be televised on national networks during the 2016-17 regular season on at least 22 occasions. Every possible UofL game over the past 34 years has been televised on either a live or delayed basis — a total of over 980 games — including over 450 national television appearances.

■ The Cardinals have been ranked on 621 occasions in the AP poll, sixth most all-time. Louisville had been ranked 60 consecutive weeks entering 2015-16, when it started the year unranked but finished 16th in the final poll. The Cards have been ranked No. 1 in the nation on five occasions -- Jan. 14, 2013 in the Associated Press poll; in the ESPN/USA Today poll on March 15, 2009; in the final AP poll that same 2008-09 season; in the final USA Today coaches poll of 2012-13, and when it opened the 1986-87 season as the top team in the UPI coaches poll. Louisville has been ranked as the No. 2 team in the AP poll on 18 occasions all-time. The Cardinals have been ranked among the nation's top 15 in the preseason poll in five of the last six years.

■ Four former Cardinals were active on NBA rosters during the 2016-17 season: Gorgui Dieng (Minnesota Timberwolves), Montrezl Harrell (Houston Rockets), Chinanu Onuaku (Houston Rockets) and Terry Rozier (Boston Celtics). At least 24 former Cardinals are playing professionally now with other U.S. or foreign teams. Forty-two UofL players have reached the NBA in the last 43 years.

■ UofL has retired the numbers of four of its former hoop greats: 8 Charlie Tyra, 31 Wes Unseld, 35 Darrell Griffith and 42 Pervis Ellison.

■ Louisville is second to North Carolina for the national lead with 67 all-time 1,000 point scorers. Quentin Snider is the next closest Cardinal to that milestone, entering his senior year with 784 career points.

■ Over the last six years, Louisville has won 171 games, seventh-most in the nation. Louisville is one of just three schools in the nation entering this season to win at least 30 games in three of the last six years.

■ Louisville is one of four Division I schools in the nation that has won 20 or more games in each of thevpast 15 seasons. Kansas tops the list with 28 consecutive years, followed by Duke (21), Gonzaga (20) and Louisville (15). UofL has won at least 20 games in 37 of the last 47 years. The Cardinals won avschool-record 35 games during their 2012-13 NCAA Championship season, closing the season on a 16-game winning streak. UofL has won at least 19 games in 43 of the last 46 years.

■ Louisville is consistently the highest-rated television market for college basketball. Louisville has been the top market for ESPN each of the last 15 years since tracking the data, averaging a 4.5 rating or higher over the past eight seasons. Louisville's 5.5 rating during the 2016-17 season more than doubled the next closest market (Kansas City with a 2.3 rating).

■ Louisville was the first university ever to win a BCS Bowl game, place both its men's and women's basketball teams in the NCAA Final Four and reach the College World Series in the same season in 2012-13. In addition to the Cardinals' 2013 NCAA men's basketball title, UofL's women's team was the national runner-up to Connecticut. The Cardinals' football team beat then No. 3/4 Florida 33-23 in the 2013 Sugar Bowl on Jan. 2. UofL's 2013 baseball team won a record 51 games while reaching a visit to Omaha.

■ Aside from basketball lettermen, some notable UofL alumni include: the late Johnny Unitas (football), Mitch McConnell (U.S. Senator, Kentucky), Chris Dodd (former U.S. Senator for 30 yrs., Conn.), Bob Edwards (former National Public Radio host, now weekends on Sirius/XM), Tom Jackson (former ESPN commentator) and 18 players active in the NFL during the 2016 season, including Miami Dolphins receiver Devante Parker.

■ UofL has a 203-46 record (.819) against non-conference opponents over the last 16 seasons (includes post-season), including a 140-10 record in home regular season non-conference games. The Cardinals are 63-3 at home in regular season non-conference games over the last seven seasons.

Cardinal Facts and Figures

■ Louisville has received an NCAA Public Recognition Award in each of the last five years for ranking among the top ten percent in men's basketball in the Academic Progress Rate, which measures academic eligibility, retention and graduation for student-athletes. Louisville is one of only two schools in the nation to have perfect men's basketball multi-year APR scores each of the past four years.

The Cardinals produced a collective 3.18 grade point average for the 2016-17 academic year, just below its record 3.40 GPA from the 2013-14 team. Prior to joining the ACC, UofL's men's basketball team earned four conference Team Academic Excellence Awards (one American, three Big East), which recognized the highest collective grade-point averages in each of the conference sponsored sports. The men's basketball team has been around a collective 3.0 GPA for 18 straight semesters. Twenty-nine of the Cardinals' 34 four-year seniors over the last 13 years have earned their degrees, including 19 of the last 20 from the last eight years.

■ UofL is in its fourth season in the Atlantic Coast Conference in 2017-18. Louisville was a member of the American Athletic Conference during the 2013-14 season and for the eight previous years competed in the Big East Conference. Louisville accepted an invitation to join the ACC on Nov. 28, 2012 and moved to its current home in the 15-member ACC on July 1, 2014.

■ UofL is among 16 programs in the nation that have won at least 70 percent of their games over the last 16 years. Louisville has a .748 winning percentage since UofL Coach Rick Pitino took over the reins of the Cardinal program, sixth best in the nation during his tenure at Lousville.

■ UofL's large co-ed cheerleading squad has won 17 National Cheerleading Association Championships, including nine of the last 15 (1985, '86, '89, '92, '94, '96, '98, '99, '03, '04, '05, '06, '07, '08, '09, '11, '16). The Cards' all-girl squad has won 13 championships, including seven of the last nine titles (2001-05, '07-'09, '11-12, '15, '16, '17). UofL also won the small coed national title 10 times(2005, '06, '08, '09, '11, '13, '14, '15, '16, '17). The Cardinals also won their fourth NCA Cheer stunt national championship in 2016.

The Ladybirds, UofL's dance team, has won 17 national titles, winning National Dance Association Championships in Div 1A team performance (2016, 2017), Div 1A Dance (2002, '03, '04, '07, '08, '09, '11, '15) and Div 1A Hip Hop Dance (2014, 2016 and 2017). UofL won the Universal Dance Association title in 1995 and 1997. Lifetime television network followed the Cardinals and Coach Todd Sharp in a reality-style program "So Sharp" in their run to their 2017 dual title.

■ Louisville is the only school in the nation to have players drafted in both the last four NBA drafts and NFL drafts.

Cards in the NCAA Tournament

■ Louisville made its 42nd NCAA Tournament appearance in 2017. The Cardinals have reached the NCAA Tournament 33 of the last 41 years (10 of the last 11, 13 of the last 15, 15 of the last 19 years, 21 of last 26). The Cards have reached the Sweet 16 on 21 occasions and have advanced to the Elite Eight five of the last 10 seasons. Louisville is sixth in tournament victories (76) and is fifth in NCAA Tournament appearances (42). UofL has a 76-43 overall NCAA Tournament record, reaching the Final Four 10 times.

■ Only four teams – Kentucky (57), North Carolina (48), UCLA (47), and Kansas (46) -- have more NCAA Tournament appearances than Louisville's 42.

■ UofL Acting Head Coach David Padgett participated in three NCAA Tournaments as a player, reaching the regional finals twice (7-3 NCAA Tournament record as a player). As a freshman at Kansas, the Jayhawks beat Illinois-Chicago, Pacific and UAB before falling to Georgia Tech in the St. Louis Region championship. As a junior at UofL, the Cardinals beat Stanford before losing to Texas A&M in the NCAA Second Round. UofL beat Boise State, Oklahoma and No. 2 seed Tennessee his senior year in 2008 before falling to North Carolina in the NCAA South Region Championship. UofL reached the NIT national semifinals in 2006 when Padgett was on the sidelines from knee surgery as a sophomore.

■ Only four teams have been to more Sweet 16 appearances than Louisville's 21 since the NCAA began Sweet 16 records in 1975 (North Carolina 28, Duke 25, Kentucky 25 and Kansas 22).

■ The NCAA Champion has come from UofL's conference in five of the last seven years, more than any other team in that period (2011-17), including the most recent 2017 champion and Atlantic Coast Conference member North Carolina. The ACC is Louisville's third conference in the last five years (also Big East 2005-2013, American Athletic 2013-14).

■ ACC teams received a league record nine bids to the 2017 NCAA Tournament, with North Carolina capturing the national title. An NCAA record six teams from one league advanced to the Sweet 16 in 2016, a year in which two ACC teams reached the Final Four (Syracuse and NCAA runner-up North Carolina). Three ACC teams participated in the postseason NIT.

■ Louisville won its third NCAA Championship in 2013 and its first in 27 years. UofL is one of 15 schools that have won multiple NCAA Championships and is one of eight universities with at least three titles.

■ Louisville's schedule has ranked among the top 16 toughest in the nation by the ratings percentage index (RPI) in eight of the last 10 seasons, including the third-toughest in 2016-17. All but one of the Cardinals' losses over the last four seasons came to teams that reached the NCAA Tournament.

■ Louisville has a 53-11 record in NCAA Tournament play when the Cardinals are the higher seed. The Cardinals are 10-17 when playing as a lower seed and 0-1 when facing a team of the same seed (in Final Four). The NCAA began seeding teams in 1979.

■ The 2017-18 season will mark notable anniversaries for two great Louisville teams. This season also marks the 35th anniversary of the Cardinals' 1982-83 NCAA Final Four team, which posted a 32-4 record, won the Metro Conference title, and won 16 straight late season games before falling to Houston in the NCAA national semifinals. It is the 70th anniversary for UofL's 1948 NAIB National Championship, the forerunner to what is now the NAIA.

■ Cards As No. 1 Seed — Louisville's 2012-13 team marked the third time the Cardinals entered the NCAA Tournament as a No. 1 seed (also: 1983, 2009) and the second time as the overall top seed (also 2009). Louisville reached the Final Four in 1983 before falling to Houston in the national semifinals, and reached the Elite Eight in 2009 before losing to Michigan State. The seeding process began in 1979.

Yum! Center

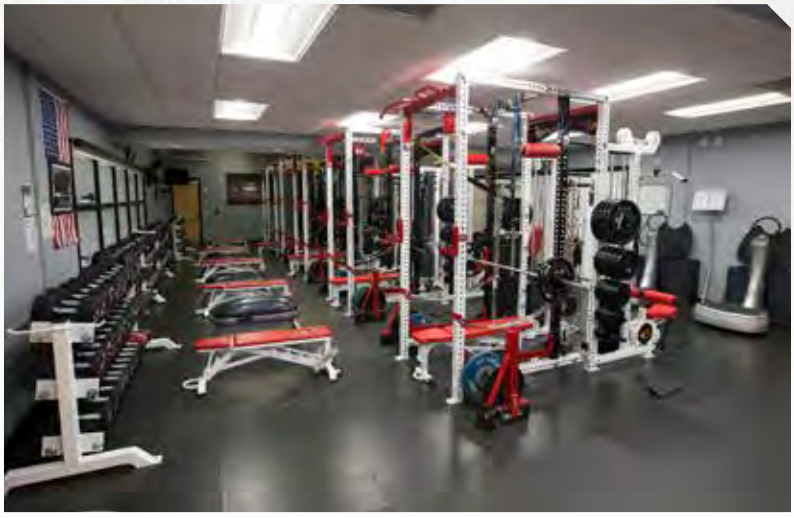

The Yum! Center, which opened in August of 2007 on the University of Louisville campus, houses training facilities and offices for the Cardinals' men's basketball, women's basketball and women's lacrosse teams. The facility includes (clockwise from top) the basketball practice court, a theatre, an extensive weight room, the training room, a well-lit front exterior of the building, and the main lobby entrance.

Yum! Center

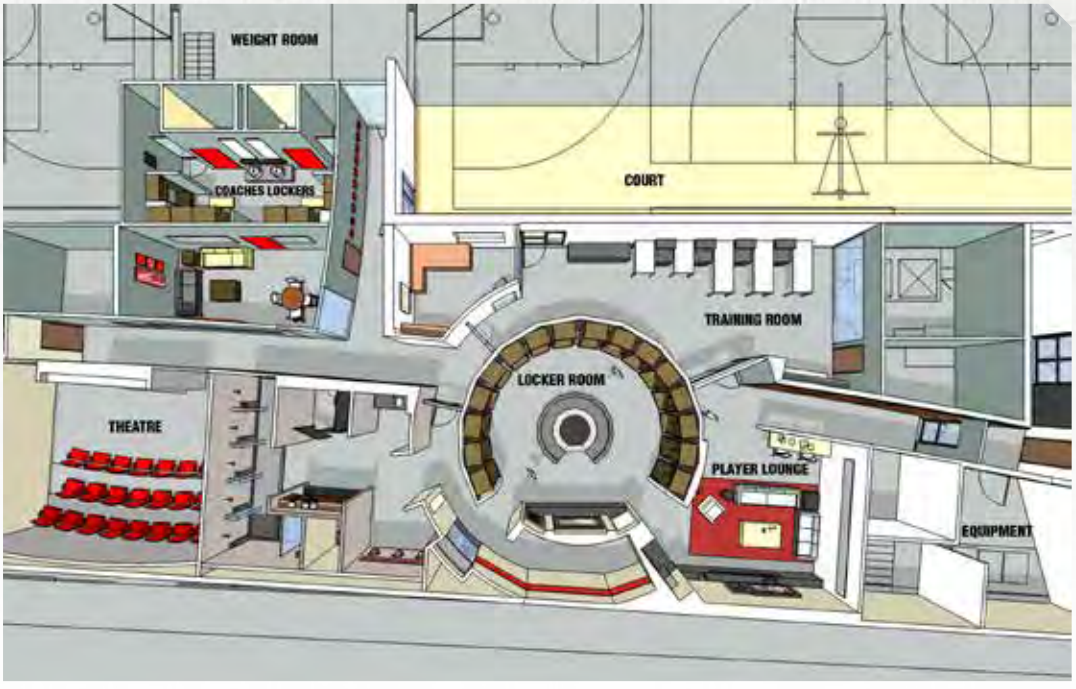

The Yum! Center also features (clockwise from below) a men's basketball conference room, a cardio workout room which overlooks the weight room and court, the player lounge and the circular locker room with a section of the 2013 NCAA Championship court in the center. The diagram at the bottom provides an overview of the player's facilities within the building.

An overview of a portion of the ground floor in the Yum! Center includes (clockwise) the tip of the weight room, coaches locker room and meeting space, the basketball court which can accomodate two side-by-side full courts and has limited seating on the side, a training room, equipment room, the player lounge, circular locker room, showers and rest room area, and a theatre for reviewing video footage and team meetings.

KFC Yum! Center

The University of Louisville began a new era in its tradition-rich basketball program with its move in 2010-11 to the sparkling KFC Yum! Center, located on the banks of the Ohio River in downtown Louisville.

The 22,000-seat multi-purpose arena is truly a state-of-the-art facility, which will rival any, including those in which a professional franchise is the primary tenant. Built at a cost of $238 million, the arena features the latest in technological advancements - including WiFi within the arena bowl for patrons - and provides a superb experience for fans to enjoy.

The Cardinals had played basketball from 1956 through 2010 in Freedom Hall, where they amassed a 682-141 record in 54 seasons and ranked among the top five nationally in attendance for the last 29 straight seasons there. Freedom Hall - which currently remains in operation - had been the site of six NCAA Final Fours, four additional NCAA men's basketball tournament events and 10 conference tournaments in which UofL participated.

In their first seven seasons in their terrific new home, the Cardinals have posted a 115-15 record.

Owned by the Louisville Arena Authority and managed by Anshutz Entertainment Group (AEG), the KFC Yum! Center is bordered by Main Street on the south, Third Street on the west, River Road on the north and Second Street to the east.

UofL's men's and women's teams have permanent locker rooms, including expansive space for its coaching staffs, equipment, training room and a lounge area for each team. There are five additional team locker rooms, two officials locker rooms, five star dressing rooms, a full-function media work room and a full-sized basketball practice court on the event level. An interior truck staging area can accommodate three television production trucks and a nearby area includes four loading docks.

The seven levels of the arena (including the upper catwalk) include a collective 721,762 square feet, or roughly the area of 13 football fields. The 22,000 seats - split about evenly between the upper and lower arena - include 71 luxury suites, 62 four- or six-seat premium boxes, over 2,000 side-court club seats and four party suites with a seating capacity of 32 each. Centerplate is the concessionaire for the facility, which has 27 permanent stands, 32 portable locations, two fixed novelty stands and 234 total points of sale.

After passing through the one and a half acre landscaped entry plaza that features a basketball-themed fountain, entering fans can visit the 2,500-square foot UofL adidas store; the 3,000-square foot UofL Hall of Honor, which features former Cardinal greats; or head to their seats using one of the eight escalators or seven elevators within the building.

Lounge space is abundant within the arena. Four spacious donor rooms are available for Cardinal fans, including three that overlook the Ohio River. The 7,000-square foot main concourse restaurant overlooks the river and a main concourse sports bar has views directly into the arena bowl. Two 4,000-square foot club lounges on the event level, as well as the terrace club and premium box lounges, provide amenities for their respective patrons.

The arena quickly established itself on the entertainment scene, hosting such acts as the Eagles and Katy Perry while ranking among the top arenas in the nation by Rolling Stones and Pollstar magazines. It served as the site for the NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship in December 2012, early rounds of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament in 2012 and 2015 and hosted the South Regional in 2016

UofL Hall of Honor

Situated in the middle of the massive lobby of the KFC Yum! Center, the University of Louisville Hall of Honor is a legacy to the rich history of the Cardinals' basketball program.

Designed by Workshop Design in Kansas City, the UofL Hall of Honor highlights the finest team and individual performances from the Cardinals' past with displays and interactive features.

Among the items on display are multiple trophies from national championships, Final Fours and league titles; artifacts ranging from the early 1900's to the game ball from the last game in Freedom Hall; and a host of interesting memorabilia in a timeline from nearly 100 years of Cardinal Basketball.

A multimedia 14-foot wide projection screen and six additional digital monitors within the area capture a multimedia experience of Cardinal Basketball history. Visitors can use two touch-screen kiosks to watch highlights from many memorable games in UofL history.

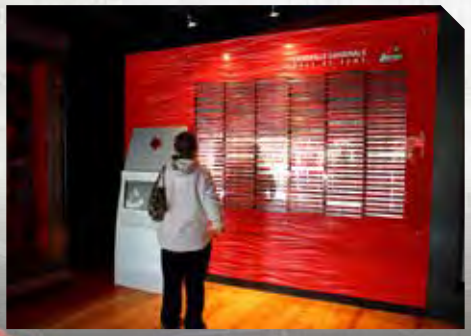

Inductees to the UofL Athletics Hall of Fame are displayed and visitors can view photos and additional information on each member on a pair of interactive kiosks. A scrolling LED board continually displays all of the 1,000 point scorers in the program's history.

Campus Living in Billy Minardi Hall

Billy Minardi Hall was completed in August 2003 on the UofL campus. The newly-updated student quarters are equipped with modern kitchens and private bedrooms featuring individual computer and television connections. The complex also contains a computer work room, television room, game room, dining area and meeting room. The privately-funded facility is named to honor the memory of Billy Minardi, brother-in-law of UofL Coach Rick Pitino who died in the Sept. 11 terrorist attack on the World Trade Center. Campus life continues to build at UofL with multiple new and expanded athletic facilities, new student housing, and many on-campus student events.

UofL Athletics Facilities

The University of Louisville features impressive facilities that have enriched the campus and entire Louisville community. Every Cardinal sports team has a new facility since 1994, with most being built within the last 19 years.

The state-of-the-art, 22,000-seat KFC Yum! Center has been the home of Cardinal Basketball since opening in 2010 (more info on preceding pages).

The Cardinals kicked off their 1998 football season in Papa John's Cardinal Stadium, a 55,000-seat on-campus facility that was expanded in 2010. Another expansion that will enclose the end zone is in progress.

Cardinal Arena, expanded in 2017 as the home for UofL volleyball, and many athletic offices are housed in the Swain Student Activities Center on the northeast corner of campus.

Built in 1994, the Bass-Rudd Tennis Center was honored as the 1995 USTA College Facility of the Year. It was the first component of Cardinal Park, an area which features multiple playing facilities for the Cardinals: Ulmer Stadium (softball), Cardinal Track Stadium and Trager Stadium (field hockey).

The University of Louisville Golf Club, located just east of Louisville in Simpsonville, Ky., is the home to the UofL men's and women's golf teams.

Patterson Stadium, the recently expanded home to the Cards' baseball team, opened in 2005, as did the Ralph Wright Natatorium and Trager Center fieldhouse. The Yum! Center provides a stellar basketball practice facility and offices as well as a practice home for women's basketball and women's lacrosse. UofL opened in 2008 the Marshall Center, a multi-sport weight training facility, and the Field Hockey Complex, to house offices and locker rooms for field hockey. A riverside boat house for the Cardinals' rowing team opened in 2011.

Cardinals By the Numbers

1 Louisville has been the highest-rated television market for college basketball on ESPN for each of the last 15 years, averaging a 5.5 rating during the 2016-17 season, more than double the No. 2 market (2.4). Louisville's 2013 NCAA Championship game against Michigan is the top-rated television event all-time in the Louisville market.

3 UofL acting head coach David Padgett is just the third men's basketball coach for Louisville in the last 46 years, following Denny Crum (1971-2001) and Rick Pitino (2001-2017).

3 NCAA Championships for Louisville (1980, 1986, 2013). Only eight schools have won as many as three championships and only four schools have more than three titles.

3 Louisville is one of just three schools that have been ranked in the final Associated Press poll in each of the past seven years (also Kansas, 17 years; Duke, 10 years).

3 UofL's national ranking in attendance last season. The Cardinals have been among the top five nationally in average home attendance for the last 36 straight years, including a 20,846 average in its seventh season in the KFC Yum! Center last year.

4 UofL acting head coach David Padgett's uniform number as a player at Louisville (2005-08).

4 Numbers retired by UofL including No. 8 Charlie Tyra (1953-57), No. 31 Wes Unseld (1965-68), No. 35 Darrell Griffith (1976-80) and No. 42 Pervis Ellison (1985-89). Each was a consensus All-America selection.

4 Division I schools in the nation, including Louisville, which have won 20 or more games in each of the past 15 seasons. Kansas tops the list with a current string of 28 consecutive years, followed by Duke (21), Gonzaga (19), and UofL (15).

5 Consecutive NCAA Public Recognition Awards over the past five years for ranking among the nation's top 10 percent in the Academic Progress Rate. Louisville is one of only two schools in the nation to have perfect men's basketball multi-year APR scores each of the past four years.

6 The eventual national champion has played in Louisville's home arena, the KFC Yum! Center, in six of the arena's seven seasons in existence. Louisville faced eventual champions Connecticut (2011, 2014) and Duke (2015) in home games, Kentucky won a pair of games in the 2012 NCAA second and third rounds in the KFC Yum! Center, 2016 Champion Villanova won the NCAA South Regional in Louisville, and UofL won the 2013 itself.

10 NCAA Final Four appearances for the Cards (seventh most all-time), including national championships in 1980, 1986 and 2013.

13 Number of NIT appearances all-time for UofL, including winning the 1956 title.

14 Times Louisville has ranked among the top 40 nationally in field goal percentage defense over the last 15 years (.401 in 2016-17, 20th).

18 Consecutive semesters that the UofL men's basketball team has posted a collecive 3.0 grade point average entering the 2017-18 school year. UofL placed a league-high six individuals on the 27-member 2017 ACC All-Academic Team, and placed a conference-best seven on the team each of the previous two seasons.

21 Games out of the Cardinals' 31 regular season contests that will be played against teams that participated in postseason competition last season, including 14 from the 2017 NCAA Tournament. The Cardinals have played a schedule ranked among the top 16 toughest by the ratings percentage index in eight of the past 10 seasons, including the nation's third-toughest schedule byt the RPI last season.

25 Games over the last seven seasons in which the Cardinals recovered from nine or more points down to win. Two occurred in both games of the 2013 Final Four as UofL trailed by 12 against both Wichita St. and Michigan before rallying to win.

27 Number of times Louisville has either won or finished second in its conference championship over the last 39 years. UofL tied for second in the ACC last season.

35 This year marks the 35th anniversary of the Cardinals' sixth Final Four appearance in 1983 (32-4) and the 70th anniversary of the Cardinals' NAIB National Championship team (29-6).

47 Times in the last 52 years that the Cardinals have participated in post-season competition.

48 Consecutive NCAA Final Fours staffed by the UofL statistics crew.

171 Number of victories for Louisville over the last six years, the seventh-most wins in the nation in that stretch. Louisville is one of just three schools to win 30 games in three of the last six seasons.

621 Times the Cardinals have been ranked in the weekly Associated Press poll, ranking UofL sixth most all-time. UofL has ranked among the nation's top 15 in the preseason poll five of the last six years (13th in 2016-17, eighth in 2014-15, third in 2013-14, second in 2012-13, ninth in 2011-12).

1803 Number of all-time victories for Louisville entering the 2017-18 season, which ranks as the 10th-most in the nation. Only UCLA has had fewer seasons to attain its victories among the top 10 teams.

3M Attendance milestone the Cardinals will likely pass for games in the KFC Yum! Center this season. A total of 2,774,048 fans have flocked to the arena to watch UofL play in the first seven seasons entering 2017-18.

Cards on the Air

Radio

All University of Louisville basketball games will be broadcast live through the Louisville Basketball Network developed by Learfield Sports. WHAS Radio (840 AM), a 50,000-watt, clear-channel station in Louisville, will continue to serve as the Cards' flagship station. The broadcast of some UofL games will move to WKRD (790 AM) when there is conflicting programming. The Cardinals also have extensive UofL programming on WKRD Radio, an all-sports station with primary UofL coverage as well as Fox Sports Radio programming.

Paul Rogers is in his 23rd season as the play-by-play voice of the Cardinals while Bob Valvano is in his 17th year providing analysis. A native of Louisville, Rogers has been covering UofL sports for WHAS radio and television since 1973. In addition to serving as the morning sports anchor for WHAS radio, he has called Cardinal Football games and thoroughbred racing from Churchill Downs -- including the local radio broadcast of the Kentucky Derby and the Breeders Cup -- and has broadcast NCAA Tournament basketball for CBS Radio. He was named the 1995, 1998, 2002, and 2013 Kentucky Sportscaster of the Year. He was inducted into the Kentucky Athletic Hall of Fame in 2014.

Valvano is in his 17th year as a television and radio analyst for the Cardinals. He is a weekend host for ESPN Radio and is a basketball analyst for the ESPN Television family of networks and ESPN Radio. He also has a weekday radio show on the local ESPN radio affiliate in Louisville. He served as a collegiate basketball coach for 19 years, setting single season records for wins at three different schools (Kutztown University, Catholic University and St. Mary's College). He also served as head coach in the professional league in Sweden, where his team won two cup championships in international tournaments.

When Valvano's schedule brings him to other events, Jody Demling or Luke Hancock serve as an analyst with Rogers. A Louisville native, Demling was a sports writer for the Courier-Journal for 12 years before becoming Publisher in 2012 for Cardinal Authority, a Scout.com site. Demling also previously hosted a morning radio show for two years and is the host for Cardinal Insider, a weekday radio program on UofL Athletics that airs on WKRD. He also provides play-by-play and analysis for ACC Network Extra telecasts of UofL Athletics.

A native of Roanoke, Va., Hancock played two years for the Cardinals (2012-14) after two seasons at George Mason University. As a junior, he helped the Cardinals win the 2013 NCAA Championship, becoming the first non-starter to ever win the Most Outstanding Player of the NCAA Final Four. The two-time team captain currently has regular afternoon radio appearances on 93.9 the Ville.

UofL acting head coach David Padgett. is featured on a one hour call-in show on WHAS Radio and on network affiliates once a week during the season.

UofL fans beyond the station's wide-ranging signal can listen to live play-by-play broadcasts of UofL games through SIRIUS/XM satellite radio. The WHAS radio broadcasts of Cardinal games are also available over the internet with Sidearm online through UofL's web site at www.GoCards.com, which also offers an iPhone and Android application to listen for a fee. Fans can sign up for the CardsTV service for a monthly or full-season fee. The broadcasts are also available live on the TuneIn app.

UofL coaches, student-athletes and staff are also featured in radio programming on 93.9 the Ville, an ESPN Radio affiliate in Louisville that is a broadcast partner with the Cardinals.

Television

All University of Louisville basketball games will be featured on television by some means this season. Over the last 34 years, all but 12 UofL basketball games have been televised on either a live or delayed basis.

UofL will be featured on 19 national television exposures during the regular season (five ESPN, seven ESPN2, three ESPNU, two CBS and two games which will be on either ESPN or ESPN2).

The Cardinals' Nov. 28 Big Ten-ACC Challenge game at Purdue will be featured on ESPN, as will UofL's home game against Indiana on Dec. 9. Additional national telecasts during the Cardinals' non-conference schedule include Dec. 3 vs. Seton Hall on ESPN2, Dec. 6 vs Siena on ESPN2, Dec. 11 vs. Bryant on ESPNU, Dec. 16 vs. Memphis on ESPN2 and Dec. 20 vs. Albany on ESPNU.

Louisville's two appearances on CBS will be Dec. 29 at Kentucky and Feb. 24 at Virginia Tech.

UofL's ACC opener against Pittsburgh will air on ESPNU. Ten more of the Cardinals' 18 league games in the Atlantic Coast Conference will reach a national audience, including two games which will air on either ESPN or ESPN2 in Jan. 13 vs. Virginia Tech and March 3 at NC State. Three February games will appear on ESPN including Feb. 5 vs. Syracuse, Feb. 17 vs. North Carolina and Feb. 21 at Duke. Four ACC games will be televised on ESPN2 including Jan. 16 at Notre Dame, Jan. 24 at Miami, Jan. 31 at Virginia, Feb. 8 vs. Georgia Tech.

ESPN's family of networks and the ACC Network will both televise the entire 65th Annual ACC post-season tournament at the Barclays Center in Brooklyn, N.Y.

The Cardinals will appear on the ACC Network on six occasions this season, a network of nearly 120 local and regional affiliates, including 18 of the nation's top 20 television markets. UofL will appear locally in Louisville on WAVE-TV or WHAS-TV in those ACC Network games and the network will include games from around the league.

UofL will appear on three occasions on the ACC's regional sports network (RSN), a group of stations which covers much of the nation and includes FOX Sports South, FOX Sports Southeast, FOX Sports Florida, FOX Sports Sun, FOX Sports Midwest, FOX Sports Indiana, Comcast SportNet Mid-Atlantic, YES Network and AT&T Sportnet Pittsburgh.

Five games, including a pair of exhibitions, will originate on ACC Network Extra, a digital production available to authenticated subscribers of ESPN on the Watch ESPN app.

A weekly UofL basketball program — Inside the Cardinals with David Padgett — with game highlights, features, and comments will also appear throughout the season on WAVE-TV. The show is hosted by WAVE-TV Sports Director Kent Taylor, the 2014 Kentucky Sportscaster of the Year.

Consult the basketball schedule on page two of this book for a complete listing of television exposures and game times.

2017-18 Outlook

Optimism is high for the University of Louisville men's basketball team in what many have recognized as one of the Cardinals most talented teams in many years. Coupled with a talented group of newcomers, the Cardinals return five of their top eight scorers from a year ago when UofL posted a 25-9 record, tied for second in the ACC and earned a No. 10 ranking in the final Associated Press poll.

And while there is a blend of returning players and exciting new faces on the court, Louisville will also have a new coach on the bench for just the third time in the last 46 years. David Padgett, a member of the UofL basketball staff for the last three years and a former three-year starter at center for the Cardinals, was named as acting head men's basketball coach at UofL on Sept. 29. He replaced Rick Pitino, who had coached the Cardinals for 16 years.

"This is a special group," said Padgett, who particpated in two NCAA regional finals as a player. "They are resilient and extremely close on and off the court. We have a very, very talented basketball team."

A trio of captains will serve as the Cardinals' leaders on the court in guard Quentin Snider, wing Deng Adel and center Anas Mahmoud.

In his second year as a team captain, Snider is the Cardinals' top returning scorer (12.4 ppg) for the third consecutive season. He enters his senior year needing 216 points to become the Cardinals' 68th career 1,000-point scorer. An All-ACC Academic Men's Basketball team selection for three years, the 6-2 guard from Louisville was second in the ACC in assists-to-turnovers ratio (2.74; 22nd in the NCAA). Snider was eighth in the ACC in assists (4.1) last season and hit 30-of-63 three-pointers in his 11 ACC games (.476).

Adel was the Cardinals' primary starter at small forward as a sophomore when he averaged 12.1 points, 4.5 assists, and made 44 3-point goals. An All-ACC Academic Men's Basketball team selection each of the last two years, Adel scored in double digits in 22 games. The 6-foot-7 forward from Melbourne, Australia, was the Cards' scoring leader over the last six games of the season, averaging 16.3 points, shooting 54 percent from the field (35-of-65), and scoring at least 16 points in five of the six.

A 2017 All-ACC Academic Men's Basketball team selection, Mahmoud started 15 games last season. A 7-0 center from Cairo, Egypt, he was second in the ACC and 38th in the nation in blocked shots (2.10 bpg) last year while leading the Cardinals in field goal percentage (.623). Mahmoud averaged 5.7 points and 4.0 rebounds as a junior, blocking a shot in 29 of his 31 games.

The tri-captains join three lettermen as returnees, including wing V.J. King, forward Ray Spalding and sharpshooting guard Ryan McMahon. Former North Carolina-Asheville standout forward Dwayne Sutton, a Louisville native, is ready after redshirting last season as a transfer.

That talented core of players will be paired up with Louisville's highly touted 2017 signing class, which was ranked in the nation's top ten. Guard Darius Perry and forwards Jordan Nwora, Lance Thomas and Malik Williams will all compete for playing time as freshmen. A pair of freshmen walk-on guards in Jo Griffin and Jacob Redding complete the Cardinals' roster.

King, who scored a season-high 24 points at Virginia last year, had a solid rookie season, averaging 5.5 points and 2.1 rebounds per game. Spalding, a 6-10 junior, has improved in the off season after averaging 5.9 points and 5.5 rebounds in 19.2 minutes per game as a sophomore. Sutton averaged 12 points and 7.7 rebounds per game as a freshman at UNC-Asheville and impressed the coaching staff during his redshirt year. McMahon saw action in 25 games last season and averaged 2.5 points per game.

The Cardinals' freshman class is talented, eager and have already made a positive impression with their workouts over the summer months. In his final prep season at Vermont Academy, Nwora averaged 18.7 points and 5.3 rebounds while scoring over 500 points in the 2016-17 season as Vermont finished 19-11. Williams averaged 23.6 points, 11.8 rebounds, 3.9 blocked shots and buried 44 three-pointers as a senior as Snider High School posted a 17-7 record and won the school's first Summit Athletic Conference championship since 2009. Thomas averaged 9.7 points, 8.8 rebounds and 2.6 blocked shots as a senior, while helping Norcross post a 26-6 record as the runner-up in the Georgia Class 7A state championship.

Perry averaged 20.2 points, 5.1 assists, 4.3 rebounds and 3.1 steals as a senior when he helped Wheeler High School achieve a 21-10 record and reach the final eight teams in the Class 7A Georgia State Championship. Griffin averaged 21.4 points, 4.5 rebounds and 4.3 assists while connecting on 42.3 percent of his three-point attempts (58-of-137) as a senior last season at South Oldham. Redding averaged 16.5 points, 2.9 rebounds and 2.6 assists as a senior at Carroll High School. He connected on 45 percent of his three-point attempts and 92.4 percent of his free throws.

Once again, the Cardinals will be tested and tested often with a demanding schedule. A total of 21 of the Cardinals' 31 games will be played against teams that participated in post-season competition last season, including 14 from the 2017 NCAA Tournament. The Cardinals will play 22 games against teams that won at least 18 games last season, including 15 that won more than 20. The Cardinals have played a schedule ranked among the top 16 toughest by the ratings percentage index (RPI) in eight of the past 10 seasons.

UofL is one of just four teams that have won 20 or more games in each of the last 15 seasons. The Cardinals have received an Academic Performance Rate Public Recognition Award each of the last five years, including posting a perfect score the last four years.

Three starters departed in All-ACC selection Donovan Mitchell, the 13th pick in the 2017 NBA draft who led the ACC in steals (70, 2.0 per game, 23rd in the nation) and paced the Cardinals in scoring (15.6 points per game); center Mangok Mathiang, who started 44 games in his four seasons and averaged 7.8 points, a team-high 6.0 rebounds and blocked 37 shots as a senior; and forward Jaylen Johnson, who averaged 8.0 points and 5.8 rebounds.

Anas Mahmoud (from left), Deng Adel and Quentin Snider were chosen by their teammates and coaches as tri-captains for the 2017-18 Cardinals.

Louisville Coaching Staff

Acting Head Coach David Padgett

David Padgett, a member of the University of Louisville basketball staff for the last three years and a former three-year starter at center for the Cardinals, was named acting head men's basketball coach at UofL on Sept. 29, 2017.

Padgett was UofL's director of basketball operations for two seasons (2014-16) before his move to an assistant coaching position in 2016. He is just the third head coach for the Cardinals in the last 46 years, following Rick Pitino (2001-17) and Denny Crum (1971-2001).

In his three seasons on the UofL staff, the Cardinals have produced a collective 75-26 record (.743), finished among the top four teams in the ACC in each year, and UofL reached the NCAA Elite Eight in 2015. Last year, UofL posted a 25-9 record, tied for second in the ACC and earned a No. 10 ranking in the final Associated Press poll. He helped the Cardinals assemble a top ten recruiting class in 2017, as UofL's class was ranked seventh in the nation by ESPN and Rivals and 247Sports, while the Cardinals were 10th by Scout.com.

Before joining the UofL staff, Padgett spent three years as an assistant coach at IUPUI from 2011-14. He served a year as assistant strength coach with the Cardinals as UofL posted a 25-10 mark, beat seven ranked teams and reached the title game of the Big East Championship.

Padgett played professional basketball for UB LaPalma in the Canary Islands for two years following his graduation from UofL. He had reached the final preseason cut of the Miami Heat before his playing career in Spain.

Director of Basketball Operations Michael Bowden

A member of the UofL men's basketball staff for the past three years, Michael Bowden is in his second season as the Cardinals' director of basketball operations.

Bowden served a year as director of video operations at UofL and a season as the Cards' assistant video coordinator before his current role. He spent over two months in the summer of 2015 assisting UofL Coach Rick Pitino with his duties as the coach of the Puerto Rico National Team.

Prior to joining UofL, Bowden worked three years as video coordinator for the women's basketball team at Maryland, where he prepared scouting videos, highlight packages for distribution and served as co-director for camps among his duties. The Terrapins reached the NCAA Elite Eight, Sweet 16, and Final Four in his three seasons there, producing a combined 85-20 record.

Bowden previously served as video coordinator on the women's basketball staffs at South Florida for two seasons (2009-11), as well as for one year at Tulsa (2008-09) where he also served as head manager. Before joining the Tulsa staff, he was the Assistant Player Development Intern at IMG Academy in Bradenton, Fla., where he worked primarily with NBA, collegiate and international basketball players with offensive skill development.

Bowden was a volunteer manager with the University of Florida men's basketball team for the 2007-08 season. Bowden also worked with the Florida women's basketball team for four seasons (2004-08) as a member of the scout team, and assisted coaches in film breakdown and scouting reports. He worked three summers with the Clifford Ray & Robert Parrish Big Man Camp (2006-08), and with the Pete Newell Big Man Camp in 2007.

Bowden earned a bachelor's degree in physical education with a concentration in coaching from Florida in 2008. While a student at Florida, he was an assistant varsity coach at Buchholz High School in Gainesville, Fla. for two seasons.

He and his wife Stephanie have one daughter, Penelope, born in August 2017.

The Greatest — Louisville native Muhammad Ali passed away on June 3, 2016 at the age of 74 and was laid to rest in his hometown. A fervent UofL supporter, the champ attended many of the Cardinals' games over the years and started a scholarship fund with the Cardinals' baseball program. The legendary figure was a three-time World Heavyweight Champion and Olympic gold medalist boxer, as well as a social activist and philanthropist. He will be greatly missed.

Basketball Support Staff

Ray Ganong
Strength and Conditioning Coach

Ray Ganong is in his 33rd season on the UofL athletic staff as a Strength and Conditioning Coach for the Cardinals.

Ganong, 63, joined the UofL staff in 1985 after six seasons at Miami (Fla.) where he helped the Hurricanes win their first national titles in both football in 1983 and baseball in 1982.

He is one of a select few strength coaches in America to have a National Championship ring in three different sports. Ray has worked for five head coaches who have won national championships: Denny Crum, basketball, Louisville, 1997-2000; Howard Schellenberger, football, Miami, 1979-83; Jimmy Johnson, football, Miami 1984; Ron Fraser, baseball, Miami, 1980-82; and Rick Pitino, 2001 to present.

Ganong has trained numerous NFL, MLB, and NBA players, as well as UofL's Olympic medalist bobsledder Doug Sharp for 18 months prior to the Olympic Trials.

A pioneer in his field, he was the first person to finish the national certification in its first year in 1985 and has been a certified strength and conditioning specialist through the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) ever since. He was NSCA Conference USA Strength and Conditioning Specialist of the Year in 1998. Ganong has lectured nationally and internationally and has been published in the National Strength and Conditioning Association Journal.

Since 1985, Ganong has run in 28 Kentucky Derby Mini Marathons, will run in the 2018 event and also competes as a power lifter.

Ganong earned his master's degree in health education from Miami in 1985. A native of Baltimore, Ganong and his wife Maria Fernandez have two children: Raquel and Erika.

Fred Hina
Director of Sports Medicine - Basketball

Fred Hina is in his 17th year as Head Men's Athletic Trainer for the University of Louisville men's basketball team and his sixth year as Director of Sports Medicine.

Hina (pronounced HEE-nuh), 53, is a 1987 graduate of Western Kentucky with a degree in Health Care Administration and a 2004 graduate of the University of Alabama with a Master's of Arts Degree.

Prior to his arrival at UofL, he spent 15 years as an Athletic Trainer in the New York Mets organization, including the last seven years as head athletic trainer for the major league team in New York.

Hina is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association as well as the National Strength and Conditioning Association. He and his wife Gina have three sons: Jared, Justin and Jacob.

Former UofL center Mangok Mathiang earned a bachelor's degree in communication from UofL in December of 2016. He was a graduate student for the spring semester of his final season.

Kamari Wooten
Assistant Director of Academic Services

Kamari Wooten, a member of the UofL athletics staff since 2011, is in his first year overseeing the academic support for the Cardinals' men's basketball team as an assistant director of academic services.

Prior to working with the men's basketball student-athletes, he guided the academic support services for UofL's lacrosse, men's soccer, men's tennis, women's golf and volleyball programs. He joined the UofL staff after an eighteen month stint with Alabama State University, where he served as an athletic academic advisor for men's basketball, women's soccer's, and men's and women's track & field, while also serving as the SAAC (student-athlete advisory committee) advisor.

A native of Detroit, Wooten played basketball at Kentucky State University and Wayne County Community College. He is a member of National Association of Academic and Student-Athlete Development Professionals (N4A) and Minority Opportunities Athletic Association (MOAA).

Wooten earned a bachelor's degree in Physical Education from Kentucky State University (2007) and a master's in Sport Management from Eastern Kentucky University (2008).

He and his wife Marnika reside in Louisville.

Vincent Tatum
Equipment Manager

Vincent Tatum, a member of the UofL athletics staff for the past 15 years, is in his ninth year as the Cards' men's basketball equipment manager.

Tatum coordinates the men's basketball equipment needs and oversees a staff of student managers who assist with practice sessions and game preparation. He served two years as the director of the Yum! Center and was executive assistant to Rick Pitino for four years prior to that.

Tatum, 45, served as a student manager from 1990-93 under Pitino at the University of Kentucky, where he studied business. UK reached the NCAA Final Four during his final season there (1993).

After leaving UK in 1993, Tatum spent nine years in his family's trucking business in Jeffersonville, Ind. An avid sports fan, Tatum enjoys travel, horse racing, boating and other outdoor activities. He serves on the Board of Directors of the Daniel Pitino Foundation.

A native of Harrodsburg, Ky., Tatum played high school football and baseball at Mercer County High School.

Basketball Support Staff

Jordan Sucher
Executive Assistant to David Padgett

Jordan Sucher is in his 11th year on the UofL men's basketball staff as executive assistant to Coach David Padgett.

Sucher coordinates the basketball office, assists with team travel arrangements and coordinates Padgett's personal schedule.

Prior to joining the Cardinals' staff, Sucher worked three years for Nelligan Sports Marketing (now Learfield Sports), one year with the Horizon League property in Indianapolis, Ind. and two years at UofL.

Sucher was a four-year basketball letterman at Centre College, where he earned a bachelor's degree in economics and history in 2004. The Colonels posted an 18-8 record during his senior year.

He is married to Dr. Nessa Timoney.

Wayne Turner
Director of Player Development

Wayne Turner, who was a member of two collegiate national championship teams and played nine years in professional basketball, is in his fifth year on the UofL staff, currently serving as the Cardinals' director of player development.

Turner played two of his four seasons at the University of Kentucky under Pitino when the Wildcats won the 1996 NCAA Championship and reached the championship game in 1997. He was a backcourt starter on Kentucky's 1998 NCAA title team and finished his career as the NCAA's all-time leader in games played with 151, a figure which has since been passed.

Turner worked on the UK men's basketball staff in 2010-11 while completing his undergraduate degree. He is Kentucky's career leader in steals (238), ranks fourth in career assists (494) and he scored 1,170 career points with the Wildcats. He was an All-SEC selection as a senior and was honored as the 1998 NCAA Regional Most Outstanding Player and SEC Tournament MVP that year.

A native of Boston, Turner played nine years of professional basketball, including a year with the Boston Celtics (1999-2000), the Harlem Globetrotters (2000) and seven years with multiple CBA and European teams, winning a CBA Championship with the Dakota Warriors in 2002. He worked two years in player development and was UofL's assistant strength coach for two years before his current role.

Logan Baumann
Director of Video Operations

Logan Baumann is in his third year on the University of Louisville's men's basketball staff, serving as director of video operations after a year as assistant video coordinator.

Baumann gained experience with the Cardinals' video operation as a student manager at UofL, where he earned his bachelor's degree in economics in 2015 while attending UofL on a Trustee's Scholar academic scholarship. After starting the Cards' 2013 NCAA Championship season as a student manager, he walked on to the squad that year after an injury depleted UofL's roster. He played one season before returning to his student manager role.

Baumann averaged 17.3 points, 3.8 rebounds, 2.5 assists and buried 69 three-point goals as a senior in helping Ohio County High School in Hartford, Ky. to a 29-3 record, the 10th District Championship and a No. 9 ranking in the state of Kentucky.

Honored as the 2012 Third Region Player of the Year, he scored over 1,000 career points at Ohio County, which won the 10th District Championship all four years he played with the Eagles.

He and his wife Paiger were married in 2017.

R.J. Evans
Program Assistant

R.J. Evans is in his first season as a program assistant on the UofL men's basketball staff.

Evans joined the UofL staff after working two years as a graduate assistant at the University of Texas under head coach Shaka Smart. Prior to his time in Austin, Evans was an assistant coach at Nichols College in Dudley, Mass. for one season (2014-15) as the Bison posted a 20-6 record and won the Commonwealth Coast Conference Regular Season Championship with a 17-1 mark.

Evans played basketball at the College of the Holy Cross, scoring over 1,200 career points in his three-plus seasons there. As a co-captain in his final season in 2011-12, Evans averaged 11.5 points, 4.8 rebounds, and 2.8 assists while earning recognition on the Patriot League Academic Honor Roll. He received a medical redshirt after missing most of the 2010-11 season with a sports hernia.

Evans played his final year as a graduate student at the University of Connecticut, where he helped the the Huskies post a 20-10 record in 2012-13. He appeared in 27 games (three starts) and averaged 3.1 points and grabbing 25 steals. He faced Louisville once that season, grabbing two rebounds in seven minutes against the Cardinals in a 73-58 UofL victory in Hartford.

Evans played for four different coaches in his four collegiate seasons in Kevin Ollie at UConn and Ralph Willard, Sean Kearney and Milan Brown at Holy Cross. He played one year professionally for the Durham Wildcats in the United Kingdom. His sister Kastine played basketball at Kentucky.

Evans, who hails from Salem, Conn., earned a bachelor's degree in economics from Holy Cross in 2012, a master's degree in educational psychology from UConn in 2013, and a master's in kinesiology from Texas in 2017.

Patrick Reilingh
Assistant Video Coordinator

Patrick Reilingh is in his second year on the University of Louisville's men's basketball staff as assistant video coordinator.

Reilingh gained experience with the Cards' video operation as a student manager at UofL, where he earned a bachelor's degree in sport administration in 2014 and a master of science in sport administration in 2016.

Reilingh has served as a basketball coach at several camps, including four years with the Chris Dudley Foundation in Vernonia, Ore., where he helped manage campers' diabetic needs. He also worked extensively with the Hoop Group in Reading, Pa. While an undergraduate at UofL, he worked in the UofL ticket office for a year, aiding with ticket sales strategies, communication with season ticket patrons and with general ticket operations.

Reilingh played basketball, football (defensive end/tight end) and baseball (third base) at Pleasantville (N.Y.) High School before his graduation in 2010.

Billy Minardi Classic

Billy Minardi

The Billy Minardi Classic originated in 2002 to honor the memory of Billy Minardi, brother-in-law of UofL Coach Rick Pitino who died in the Sept. 11 terrorist attack on the World Trade Center. UofL is 19-1 in the event over the past 15 years. The Cards won the inaugural event in 2002 in Freedom Hall, defeating Manhattan in the championship game of the four-team tournament. Reece Gaines was honored as the tourney MVP.

In 2003, the event was a single, truly classic game. The Cardinals posted a 73-65 victory over then top-ranked Florida behind MVP Francisco Garcia.

The event returned to a two-day, four-game tournament the following two years. UofL beat Austin Peay in the 2004 championship game and the Cardinals beat College of Charleston in the 2005 title game. UofL suffered its first defeat in the event in 2006 as Massachusetts prevailed 72-68, followed by a 70-65 Cardinal victory over New Mexico State in 2007 in another single-game event.

In 2008, UofL capped a two-day, four-game tournament by beating South Alabama 81-54 in the championship game as Terrence Williams earned MVP honors. Edgar Sosa scored 17 points and handed out five assists as the game's MVP as UofL beat Western Kentucky 102-75 in the 2009 Billy Minardi Classic. The Cards beat No. 20 UNLV 77-69 in the 2010 event as Chris Smith earned MVP honors. UofL beat Western Ky. 70-60 for the 2011 title.

Peyton Siva earned MVP honors in the 2012 Minardi Classic, but the coaching matchup of UofL's Rick Pitino and his son Richard Pitino, then the head coach at FIU, was center stage in the 79-55 UofL win. The Cardinals beat Western Kentucky 79-63 in the 2013 event and prevailed 68-57 in 2014 over UNC Wilmington. UofL beat UMKC and Grand Canyon in the 2015 four-team event.

The Cards won 87-56 over EKU last season.

Members of the Minardi family present the 2016 Minardi Classic MVP award to Quentin Snider, who totaled 13 points and six assists.

ANAS MAHMOUD

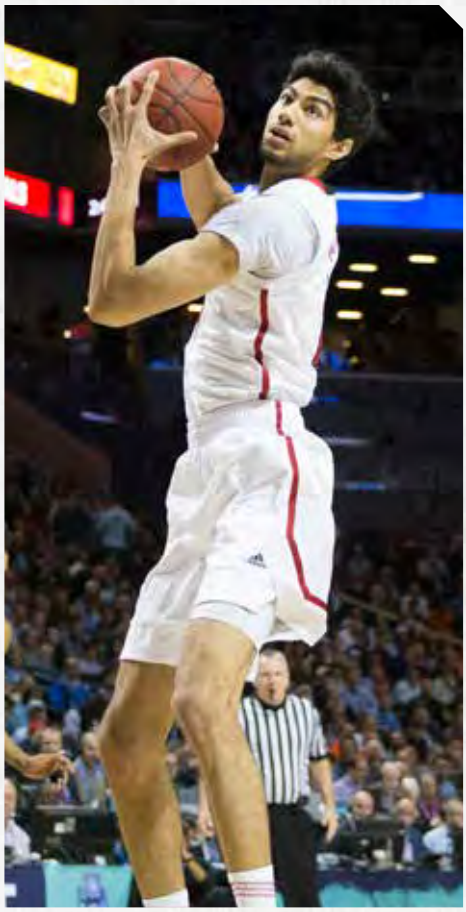

Forward | 7-0 | 225 | Sr.-3L | Cairo, Egypt (West Oaks Academy, Fla.)

#14 Anas Mahmoud

Junior Year:
- Full name is Anas Osama Mahmoud (pronounced AH-nahs o-SAW-mah mah-MOOD).
- 2017 All-ACC Academic Men's Basketball team selection.
- Second in the ACC and 38th in the nation in blocked shots (2.10 bpg). He was the Cardinals' leader in field goal percentage (.623).
- Totaled eight points, five rebounds, four blocked shots and two steals at North Carolina.
- Had his best outing in five games at Syracuse with 12 points, eight rebounds, three blocked shots and two steals. He had eight points, nine rebounds and a career-high four steals against the Orange in Louisville.
- Scored a career-high 17 points and pulled down a career-high 11 rebounds against Duke in Louisville (1/14), registering his first career double-double.
- Blocked a shot in 54 games over his career, blocking a shot in 29 of his 31 games as a junior. He blocked six shots in a game twice in 2016-17 (vs. Wichita State, Notre Dame).
- Scored 14 points at Pitt, making all seven of his field goals.
- Pulled down his 200th career rebound against Syracuse on Feb. 26.
- In his 15 starting assignments, Mahmoud averaged 3.9 points, 5.9 rebounds, and 1.7 blocked shots.
- Finished with 10 points, two assists and two steals while adding three blocked shots against Indiana, making his first start of the season.
- Returned to action against Eastern Kentucky after missing the three previous games with a concussion suffered against Purdue.
- Had eight points and eight rebounds vs. Long Beach State off the bench.
- Speaks four languages, including English, Arabic, French and German.

Sophomore Year:
- Skilled, long big man played in 22 games.
- Second on the team in blocked shots with 29.
- Blocked three shots in three of his last seven games.
- Scored a season-high 15 points at Georgia Tech, connecting on 6-of-9 from the field while pulling down four rebounds and dishing out two assists.
- Pulled down a season-high 10 rebounds against Clemson while scoring seven points.
- Sprained his right ankle in practice on Feb. 15 and missed the remaining six games of the season.
- Sprained his ankle in practice on Dec. 15 and missed three games. He returned to action against Utah Valley, playing nine minutes while matching a career-high with four blocks.
- Swatted three shots at Michigan State, adding six rebounds and two points.
- Grabbed six rebounds in 11 minutes of action against Samford.
- Mahmoud and former reserve center Matz Stockman are the first seven-footers to play for the Cardinals since Felton Spencer, a 7-0 center from Louisville who scored 1,168 points at UofL from 1986-90. David Schrag, a 7-1 center from Winterthur, Switzerland, who prepped at Maine Central Institute, initially signed to play with the Cardinals in 1997 but went to Vincennes instead.

Freshman Year:
- Started and played 21 minutes against Long Beach State and contributed four points, three rebounds and two blocked shots.
- Had a season-high game against Western Kentucky as he scored six points, pulled down five rebounds and blocked three shots in 23 minutes of action.
- Blocked a shot in 6 of his last 12 games.
- Had two points, three rebounds and two assists off the bench against Indiana in the Jimmy V Classic.
- Skilled big man was pressed into action vs. Ohio State due to teammates' foul trouble and responded with seven rebounds, three points and two blocked shots in 24 minutes.

High School:
- Averaged 13.8 points, 8.8 rebounds and 3.1 blocked shots during the 2013-14 season for West Oaks Academy, which posted a 28-8 record in 2013-14.
- Was ranked No. 99 nationally in the ESPN 100 and was No. 164 by 247Sports.com.
- Came to the United States in September 2013 for his senior year at West Oaks. He began playing basketball on club teams in Egypt when he was 12 and played in recent years with Egyptian national teams.
- Was a reserve on the 2013 Egyptian senior national team and averaged 5.4 points and 4.0 rebounds the previous summer for his country's 2012 U17 team.
- Opted to attend Louisville after also considering Georgia Tech, Minnesota and Cincinnati. He had 23 Division I scholarship offers when he committed to the Cardinals.

Personal:
- Born May 5, 1995 ... Son of Osama Mahmoud ... Has three siblings (Aya and Alaa older, Ahmed younger) ... Major is sport administration.
- Best moment of his athletic career to date was winning the African championshp with his national team.
- Personal goal at UofL is to "graduate with a respected degree."
- Enjoys swimming in his spare time.
- Chose to attend UofL because of "the opportunity I have under a great coach. I have all that I need to be great."
- Best basketball advice given to him was to "stay humble and hungry."
- Most proud of representing his country in basketball.
- His parents and his first coach Fady Hany have had the greatest influence on his athletic career.
- Feels Will Smith would be the best actor to play him in a movie.
- If you walked into his dorm room, the first thing you would notice is his two video game systems.
- Few people know that "I am the best FIFA player I know (soccer video game)."
- Best thing about being a Cardinal is of the support from the fans.
- What impresses him the most about Coach Pitino: his ability to push and teach.

- Honored as Kentucky's Mr. Basketball, Snider was a first team all-state selection and was ranked 33rd nationally by Rivals.com, No. 38 by 247Sports.com, No. 40 in the ESPN 100 and was rated the seventh-best point guard in the nation by Scout.com.
- Career leader in scoring and assists (633) at Ballard. His 2,442 points passed Allan Houston and DeJuan Wheat. His 371 three-pointers (including 34 as an eighth-grader at Fern Creek) rank third in state history.
- Top scoring effort as a senior was 32 points on three occasions and he handed out a season-best 11 assists against Newport Catholic. He scored 20 or more points in 22 games as a senior.
- Averaged 19.3 points, 4.5 assists, 3.3 rebounds and 2.0 steals as a junior in helping Ballard to a 32-5 record and the Kentucky state championship game, where the Bruins fell 65-64 to Madison Central. He was a first-team all-state selection and the Seventh Region player of the year as a junior.
- UofL greats DeJuan Wheat (1993-97), the Cardinals' No. 2 all-time scorer, and Jerry Eaves (1978-82), the starting point guard on UofL's 1980 NCAA Championship team, were also graduates of Ballard High School.
- Chose to attend Louisville after also considering Illinois, UCLA, Michigan State and Connecticut.
- Honored as MVP of the 2014 Kentucky Derby Festival Basketball Classic all-star game after totaling eight points, four rebounds and a game-high nine assists for the winning White team.
- His combined 64 points in the two games of the Kentucky-Indiana All-Star Games are tied for the third most in the history of the event that dates back to 1940, passed only by George McGinnis (1969) and Oscar Robertson (1956). He had 37 points — the sixth most ever in the event — six three-pointers and seven rebounds in the game played in Kentucky; 27 points and five rebounds in the game played in Indiana.

Personal:
- Born Feb. 14, 1995 ... Son of Scott and Latonda Snider ... Has one younger brother (Cameron) ... Major is communication.
- Personal goal at UofL is to "go to the Final Four."
- Best moment of his athletic career to date was advancing to the NCAA Elite Eight as a freshman and reaching the state championship in high school.
- Enjoys playing spades and other card games in his spare time.
- Chose to attend UofL because "I always dreamed to play for Louisville since I was seven, I'm from Louisville and I want to play for my city."
- Best basketball advice given to him was to "stay in the gym."
- Feels Wagner Moura would be the best actor to play him in a movie.
- His dad has had the greatest influence on his athletic career.
- When he played basketball as a kid, he pretended he was Allen Iverson.
- Few people know that "I'm cold at spades."
- Chose to wear number 4 when it became available — changing from No. 2 his first two collegiate seasons — because he has worn No. 4 throughout his career.
- Most proud of gaining "an education and having a life to enjoy."
- Best thing about being a Cardinal is "playing in front of your hometown."
- What impresses him the most about Coach Pitino: "his strive for greatness and the energy he puts in with the team."
- Would most like to meet God

- Split the time at small forward with Deng Adel as a freshman. Made his first career start against Indiana, and started seven games.
- Led the team in free throw percentage (.821 46-of-56) and three-point field goal percentage (.421, 16-of-38; among players with over 20 attempts).
- Scored a career-high 24 points against Virginia, finishing 3-of-5 from behind the arc while scoring a career-high eight field goals and connecting on 5-of-6 from the line.
- In his last 13 games, King hit 47.5 percent of his field goals (19-of-40, including 5-of-11 three-pointers).
- In the five games he played 20 or more minutes, he averaged 13.3 points, 3.3 rebounds and shot 52.1 percent from the field in those games.
- Missed the Virginia Tech game with a thigh bruise, but returned to the court the following game at North Carolina.
- Totaled 14 points, three rebounds and a season-high three assists at Grand Canyon, scoring 12 of his points in the second half.

High School:

- A McDonald's All-America selection, King averaged 22.9 points, 9.6 rebounds, 2.5 assists and 2.1 steals as a senior last season in leading Paul VI (20-11) in Fairfax, Va. to the Virginia Independent Schools Athletic Association Division I state championship game.
- The Virginia Gatorade Player of the Year also earned all-state and all-conference honors. He was ranked No. 20 nationally by Scout.com, No. 23 in the ESPN 100, 26th by Rivals.com, and 27th by 247Sports.com.
- Participated in the prestigious McDonald's All-America game at the United Center in Chicago and the Jordan Brand Classic at the Barclays Center in New York, totaling 15 points, four rebounds and three assists in 24 minutes in the latter event.
- Averaged 18.5 points, 12.3 rebounds and 4.2 assists as a junior in helping Paul VI to a 20-15 record while earning first-team all-state, all-area and all-conference honors.
- Originally from North Carolina, King moved to Akron, Ohio, where he played at St. Vincent-St. Mary -- the alma mater of LeBron James -- through his sophomore season before transferring. He averaged 16.2 points as a sophomore in helping SVSM to a 19-10 record and the 2013 Ohio Division II State Tournament semifinals.
- As a freshman, he averaged 16.3 points, 6.0 rebounds and four blocked shots as SVSM advanced to the 2013 Ohio Division II State Tournament finals and posted a 20-12 record.
- King has won two gold medals with USA Basketball in the 2013 FIBA Americas U16 Championship in Maldonado, Uruguay, averaging 8.2 points and 5.2 rebounds; and the 2014 FIBA U17 World Championship in Dubai, United Arab Emirates where he averaged 6.7 points and 2.9 rebounds. He participated in the 2015 USA Basketball Junior National Team minicamp in October.
- In AAU competition for Team Takover, King was the semifinals MVP at the 2015 Peach Jam in Savannah, Ga. when he totaled 26 points and six rebounds.
- His father Vincent King played professional basketball in foreign countries for 10 years after scoring 1,037 points in his collegiate career at Indiana University of Pennsylvania from 1988-92.
- Chose to sign with the Cardinals after narrowing a host of opportunities to UofL, Arizona, Connecticut, Kentucky and Virginia.

- His Paul VI Catholic High School teammate Frank Howard is a junior guard at Syracuse.

Personal:

- Born Jan. 22, 1997 ... Son of Vincent and Lo King ... Has one younger sister, Jalen ... Major is sport administration.
- Personal goal at UofL is to win a national championship.
- Enjoys playing golf occasionally, art and playing video games in his spare time.
- Chose to attend UofL because it "just felt right, the best place for me, and its tradition."
- Best basketball advice given to him was to believe in yourself.
- Most proud of winning two gold medals with USA Basketball.
- Best moment of his athletic career was when he chose to attend the University of Louisville.
- Feels Will Smith would be the best actor to play him in a movie.
- Few people know that he is good at drawing.
- His parents have had the greatest influence on his athletic career.
- When he played basketball as a kid, he pretended he was Kobe Bryant.
- If you walked into his dorm room, the first thing you would notice is his Cleveland Browns blanket on the wall.
- Chose to wear No. 0 because former Cardinals Damion Lee and Terry Rozier wore it, and his first choice of 13 was already taken.
- What impresses him the most about Coach Pitino: his knowledge of the game.
- Among reality shows, he feels he would fare best on Worst Cooks in America.
- Best thing about being a Cardinal is "the support of the fan base."
- Would most like to meet Beyonce.

UofL's Record on Television

Records for UofL television appearances listed at the right are since the 1979-80 season. Post-season TV appearances are included in totals. If games were carried by both local and national or regional network, coverage is listed by the largest reaching audience. Various cable outlets may not be included in the listing. Many of the regional groups listed are no longer in existence. This season, UofL will be featured on CBS, ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU, ESPN3, Regional Sports Networks and the ACC Network. Since the 1983-84 season, all but 12 UofL basketball games have been carried either live or delayed on television, including exhibition games.

Origin of the Cardinal Nickname

The University of Louisville's athletic symbol, chosen sometime after 1913, is a Cardinal. The Cardinal bird was chosen to give UofL statewide identification, since the Cardinal is the state bird of Kentucky. The school colors — cardinal red and black — were adopted at the suggestion of Mrs. John L. Patterson. In printing terms, the UofL color for red is PMS 200. All of the University of Louisville's present logos are trade marked.

- His father Mark is the girls basketball coach at Carroll High School. He played basketball at Danville (Ill.) Community College. His mother Holly ran track and cross country at Anderson (Ind.) University.
- Also considered IPFW before choosing to walk on at UofL.

- Had also considered Indiana, Purdue, Georgetown, Iowa, Michigan State, UCLA and others before signing with the Cardinals.

Personal:

- Born Aug. 26, 1998 ... Son of Devlyn Williams and Natasha Gibson ... Has five sisters (LaShonda, Raven, Jessica, Tiasha, Devita) and two brothers (Marques and Devlyn) ... Major is business.
- Personal goal at UofL is to earn a 3.0 GPA and win a national championship.
- Enjoys watching movies in his spare time.
- Chose to attend UofL because I "felt it when I visited."
- Best basketball advice given to him was to "play my game."
- Most proud of "making it to college."
- Feels Will Smith would be the best actor to play him in a movie.
- Best moment of his athletic career to date was scoring 48 points in a a game against Blackhawk Christian as a high school junior.
- His older brother Devlyn has had the greatest influence on his athletic career.
- When he played basketball as a kid, he pretended he was Kevin Durant.
- If you walked into his dorm room, the first thing you would notice is it stays clean.
- Chose to wear No. 5 because a girl passed away who played basketball and also wore No. 5.
- What impresses him the most about Coach Pitino is "he keeps it real."
- Would most like to meet Martin Luther King.

2016-17 Year in Review

A Look Back at 2016-17

■ Cards Have 15 Straight 20-Win Seasons — Louisville is one of four Division I schools in the nation which has won 20 or more games in each of the past 15 seasons. Reaching 20 victories during the 2016-17 season and extending their streaks are Kansas (28), Duke (21), Gonzaga (19) and Louisville (15). UofL Coach Rick Pitino has won at least 20 games in a season on 25 occasions, ranking him fifth among active coaches in 20-win seasons and 11th overall. Pitino won 30 in a single season for the sixth time in 2013-14. UofL has won at least 19 games in 43 of the last 47 years. The Cardinals gained their 20th victory this season against Miami on Feb. 11.

■ Cards Finish Tied for Second in ACC — Louisville posted a 12-6 record in its third season in the Atlantic Coast Conference, finishing in a three-way tie for second in the league with six of its members ranked among the nation's top 25 teams. Louisville has won at least 10 league games for 10 straight seasons. The Cardinals have finished in the top three in its conference seven of the last 11 years. In each of its first two years in the ACC, UofL finished fourth with identical 12-6 conference records. The Cardinals' have won 23 regular season conference championships (regular season conference championships: American 1, Big East 2, Conference USA 1, Metro 12, Missouri Valley 7). Louisville has won its conference championship or finished second in 27 of the last 41 years. Louisville was the No. 4 seed in the postseason tournament and fell to eventual tournament champion Duke in the quarterfinals of the event played at the Barclays Center in Brooklyn, N.Y.

■ Top 25 Consistency -- Louisville is one of just three schools that have been ranked in the final Associated Press poll in each of the past seven years (also Kansas, 17 years; Duke, 10 years). Louisville has appeared in seven consecutive final AP polls from 2011-17, matching the longest streak in school history (also attained from 1977-83). Louisville was one of only three schools in the nation in 2016-17 with its football and men's and women's basketball programs all ranked among the Associated Press' final top 25 teams (men's basketball - 10th AP, 14th USA Today; women's basketball - 13th AP, 12th USA Today; football - 21st AP, 22nd USA Today).

■ Cardinals Beat Four Champions -- Louisville defeated the regular season champion of four different conferences last season in Kentucky (Southeastern), Purdue (Big Ten), Wichita State (Missouri Valley) and Texas Southern (SWAC). Three other non-conference opponents that UofL beat were second or third in their respective leagues in Grand Canyon (WAC, T2nd), Old Dominion (C-USA, T3rd) and Southern Illinois (Missouri Valley. T3rd). Louisville's non-conference schedule was ranked sixth in the nation according to the RPI and its overall schedule is was third in the nation.

■ Stifling Defense -- Louisville was eighth in the nation in Ken Pomeroy's adjusted defensive efficiency stats in 2016-17. The Cardinals were 20th in the nation in field goal percentage defense (.401), 10th in blocked shots (5.4 per game), 33rd in three-point field goal defense (.316), 37th in turnover margin (+2.7), 21st in rebounds per game (39.5), 13th in offensive rebounds per game (13.4), 15th in scoring margin (+11.3), 41st in scoring defense (66.0 ppg) and 23rd in rebound margin (+6.0). Ten of the Cards' 34 opponents scored 60 or fewer points.

While the Cardinals were ranked eighth nationally in adjusted defense, they did it against staunch competition. UofL faced the nation's third-toughest schedule according to the RPI and battled many of the nation's top offenses. Twenty-one of the Cardinals' 34 games were played against teams among the top 50 in offensive efficiency according to kenpom.com, including eight of its last nine opponents.

Louisville held Kentucky to 39.7 percent shooting from the field, one of 14 opponents that have shot below 40 percent against the Cardinals this season. Twelve of Louisville's 32 opponents this season have shot below 36 percent from the field and five have shot below 32 percent. On Jan. 24, Pittsburgh shot a season-low 25.5 percent for the game (.160 in the first half) when the Cardinals limited the Panthers to 18 first-half points. It was the fifth time UofL has held a team under 20 points in a half this season (also vs. Georgia Tech, Eastern Ky., Wichita State and Purdue). UofL held seven opponents to 20 or fewer points in a half last season.

■ Unique Professional Selections -- Louisville is the only school in the nation to have players drafted in both the last four NFL drafts and the last four NBA drafts. Donovan Mitchell, a sophomore guard for UofL last season, was selected by the Denver Nuggets with the 13th pick overall in the 2017 NBA Draft first round and was subsequently traded to the Utah Jazz.

■ ACC Success -- In its three years in the ACC, Louisville has a combined 333-106 record in the four sports of baseball, football and men's and women's basketball, a .759 winning percentage that is the best in the league. Florida State is second among ACC schools in those three years with a 312-132 record and .703 winning percentage.

■ Challenging Schedule — Louisville faced the nation's third-toughest schedule during the 2016-17 season according to the ratings percent index (RPI). The Cardinals have played a schedule ranked among the top 16 toughest by the RPI in eight of the last 10 seasons. Twenty-three of the Cardinals' 31 regular season games were played against teams that participated in post-season competition the previous season, including 16 from the 2016 NCAA Tournament. A total of 25 of the Cardinals' regular season games were played against teams that won 20 or more games a year earlier. Louisville's non-conference schedule was ranked 12th by the RPI. Eighteen of Louisville's 31 regular season games were against teams ranked among the nation's top 25 or were receiving votes in the preseason USA Today coaches poll. Louisville played 21 games against teams that reached the 2017 postseason (16 NCAA, 5 NIT).

■ Magnificent March — Over the past 13 years (since 2005), Louisville has a collective 67-27 record during the month of March (.713). UofL is 34-11 in March over the last six years (.756; since 2012). UofL coach Rick Pitino has a 141-53 collegiate record in the month of March (.727), including a 78-34 mark while at Louisville (.696). UofL has an 18-9 record in regular season games in March over the last 13 years (since 2005). Add in another closing month of February and the Cards are 84-31 in those two closing months in the last 13 years during the regular season (.728). UofL has a 57-18 record (.760) during the month of February over the last 10 years (since 2007-08), winning 23 of its last 31 in the month (5-2 this year).

■ Card File — Louisville finished No. 11 in the RPI, 8 in the Sagarin Ratings and 9 in Ken Pomeroy's rankings ... Deng Adel was the Cardinals' scoring leader over the last six games, averaging 16.3 points in that stretch and scoring over 20 in two of those games ... Nine different players led the Cardinals in scoring in a game for the season and 11 different players scored in double figures ... The Cardinals faced 13 AP Top 25 ranked teams, the second-most ever for a Louisville team and the most since UofL produced a 9-5 record against ranked foes in its 1986 NCAA Championship season. Louisville was 5-8 against Top 25 teams ... Louisville outrebounded 27 of its 34 opponents, including 11 by double-digit margins. Louisville was 23rd in the nation in rebounding margin (+6.0) ... Louisville trailed Miami by 14 points in the first half and was down by nine points in the second half. Over the last seven seasons, Louisville has recovered from nine or more points down to win on 25 occasions ... Louisville won 12 of its last 16 ACC games after opening its conference schedule 0-2 for the first time since 1991-92 ... With an unbalanced league schedule, Louisville played four of the top five teams in the ACC among its nine league road games in 2016-17 (excluding UofL).

■ Cardinals Place Six on 2017 All-ACC Academic Team — Six University of Louisville men's basketball players were honored on the 2017 All-ACC Academic Men's Basketball team. Earning the honor for the Cardinals were Deng Adel, Tony Hicks, V.J. King, Anas Mahmoud, Quentin Snider and Raymond Spalding. The six selections for Louisville were a league-high on the 27-member team. Pittsburgh placed three on the squad while seven schools had two selections each. Louisville placed seven members on the team each of the previous two seasons. To be eligible for consideration, a student-athlete must have earned a 3.00 grade point average for the previous semester and maintained a 3.00 cumulative average during his academic career. It was the third straight year that Snider was honored on the team and the second time for Adel and Spalding.

■ Six of Last Seven NCAA Champions Have Played in Louisville — The eventual national champion has played in Louisville's home arena, the KFC Yum! Center, in six of the arena's seven seasons in existence. Louisville faced eventual champions Connecticut (2011, 2014) and Duke (2015) in home games, Kentucky won a pair of games in the 2012 second and third rounds in the KFC Yum! Center, 2016 Champion Villanova won the NCAA South Regional in Louisville, and UofL won the 2013 itself. UofL played 2017 NCAA Champion North Carolina, but it was in Chapel Hill.

■ Shooting, Defense were Keys — Shooting percentages, both offensively and defensively, were keys to the Cardinals' success. Offensively, Louisville connected on 39.4 percent of its three-point shots in its 25 victories for the season and shot 23.7 percent from three-point range in its nine losses. In its nine losses, Louisville opponents collectively shot 45.4 percent from the field while Cardinal opponents made just 38.3 percent of its shots in Louisville's 25 victories on the season. Louisville was 20-4 when it shot better from the field than its opponent. The Cards also had a +9.0 rebounding margin in victory and a -2.2 margin in its losses.

■ Block Birds — UofL's 185 blocked shots (5.5 per game) in 2016-17 ranked 10th in the nation. The Cardinals blocked at least four shots in 25 of their 34 games, including 12 at Georgia Tech, the fourth double-digit blocked shot total of the season (also 14 vs. Eastern Ky, 10 vs. Evansville, 11 vs. William & Mary). UofL has had 10 or more swats in a game seven times over the last six years, four of which occurred during the 2016-17 season. UofL's 185 blocked shots marked just the fifth time in the last 27 years it has swatted as many in a season. Anas Mahmoud was second in the ACC and 38th nationally in blocks (2.10). Mahmoud has blocked a shot in 54 career games.

■ Over 2.5M Fans — Attendance for UofL basketball games at the KFC Yum! Center surpassed the 2.5 million mark against Southern Illinois. A total of 2,774,048 fans have flocked to the arena to watch UofL play in the Cardinals' seven seasons in the spectacular facility, an average of 21,339 fans per game. The 22,783 fans that witnessed the Cardinals' victory over Kentucky on Dec. 21 was the 10th largest crowd in the facility. Louisville's average attendance this season of 20,846 is the third largest this season behind Kentucky and Syracuse. Louisville has ranked among the top six nationally in average home attendance each of the last 36 years.

■ Impressive Home Record — Louisville finished its season with a 16-1 home record (.941), its second-best since the Cardinals posted a perfect 16-0 mark in Freedom Hall during its 1979-80 NCAA Championship season. Over the past 37 years since that 1980 title year, the Cardinals have had five one-loss home records, including its 1986 and 2013 NCAA Championship teams. The Cardinals produced an 18-1 record in 2015-16 in the KFC Yum! Center, their best in the seven years in the impressive facility. Louisville has a 51-12 record in home conference games (.809) in the KFC Yum! Center.

■ Milestone Victories for Pitino in 2016-17 — UofL Coach Rick Pitino, who has a 416-143 record in 16 seasons at Louisville, won his 400th victory with the Cardinals on Dec. 10 when the UofL beat Texas Southern. He won his 750th career collegiate victory when Louisville beat Wichita State on Nov. 24. He is one of five active coaches with at least 750 victories.

■ Cards Win 1,800th — With its win over Virginia Tech on Feb. 18, Louisville won its 1,800th victory in its 103 seasons of collegiate basketball. UofL is 10th in the nation in all-time victories with a 1,803-901 record. The Cardinals played their first official men's basketball game on Jan. 28, 1912 when it lost 35-3 to Louisville YMCA, but did not field teams in 1916-17, 1922-23 or 1942-43. The Cardinals have produced winning seasons in 69 of the last 72 years, including winning 20 or more games in the last 15 straight seasons and 30 or more in three of the last six years.

The University and City

University of Louisville

The University of Louisville attracts many of the nation's best and brightest minds to its friendly, park-like campus in the heart of Kentucky's largest city. UofL's incoming freshman class scored an average 25.5 on the ACT test in 2015, more than four points higher than the national average and the most dramatic jump in Kentucky over the past decade.

Since 2003, more than 100 UofL students have won prestigious Fulbright awards, more than all of Kentucky's other public universities combined and on par with several Ivy League universities. This success stems in part from the fact that UofL faculty are not only among the best in their fields, but they take personal interest in students and push them to do more than they dreamed possible.

Students at UofL enjoy a wide range of study options - more than 170 fields in 11 schools and colleges - with many nationally ranked programs among them. UofL's location in an area of more than a million people is also an asset, giving students many opportunities to apply the critical thinking skills they hone in the classroom to relevant, hands-on experiences in the community.

UofL students benefit from superb facilities, including a library system ranked among the top 100 research libraries in North America and one of the nation's top 10 academic clean rooms, where work in bioengineering, nanotechnology and other high-demand fields occurs. New apartment-style housing and a sparkling $38 million, 128,000-square-foot student recreation center provide first-class places to live and play on campus. Also, the 40,000-square-foot Thronton's Academic Center for Excellence at the south end of the football stadium provides a new central location for academic operations for student-athletes and support staff.

UofL remains committed to building a nurturing and challenging intellectual climate, a respect for diversity and a genuine understanding of how diversity enriches a vibrant metropolitan research university. One of the university's goals is to give every arts and sciences student the chance to study abroad at

The university also is one of the fastest-growing research institutions in the nation, yielding many milestone discoveries. UofL faculty conducted the world's first successful implantation of an artificial heart and completed the nation's first successful hand transplant. University faculty currently head the world's first FDA-approved clinical trial using adult cardiac stem cells to treat heart disease and are pioneering the use of locomotion training to help paralyzed patients walk again.

Over the last couple of years, UofL has emerged as an advanced manufacturing hub. Through partnerships with industry leaders such as General Electric and UL (formerly Underwriters Laboratories), faculty and students interact with makers from around the world, whether they are physically present or connected virtually. In addition, the maker spaces UofL placed in the West End School and Nativity Academy — both located in lower income areas of Louisville – allow at-risk students to learn the latest 3-D printing techniques and improve their self-confidence.

In 2009, UofL and the Commonwealth of Kentucky announced the establishment of the Conn Center for Renewable Energy Research and Environmental Stewardship, which annually recognizes outstanding ideas with its Leigh Ann Conn Prize for Renewable Energy. UofL's School of Public Health and Information Sciences received $5.7 million from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to establish a Youth Violence Prevention Center. In recognition of the growing senior population, UofL initiated an Institute for Sustainable Health and Optimal Aging to foster a collaborative community that enables older adults to flourish.

UofL also stands out in community service. In fact, it is ranked among the top 12 "Best Neighbor" schools in the nation. Based on its curricular engagement, outreach and partnerships, the university is ranked as a Carnegie Community Engagement university, one of fewer than 200 such institutions nationwide. In one year alone, UofL students, faculty and staff contributed more than $25.1 million to charitable organizations through volunteerism and direct donations. UofL's Signature Partnership, a project with community organizations and businesses to improve the social, cultural, educational, health care and economic development services in a historically underserved area of Louisville, is considered a national model for community engagement.

City of Louisville

The Louisville area owes its existence to the Falls of the Ohio, the only place where the 981-mile Ohio River flows over bedrock. The falls were really a rapids where the river dropped about 27 feet in three miles, usually blocking passage by boat.

Early explorers recognized the strategic importance of the Falls. George Rogers Clark established the first settlement there in 1778, to use as a base of his invasion of British territory in Southern Illinois and Indiana. Two years later that settlement became Louisville -- named for King Louis XVI of France, who was supporting the American Revolution.

Louisville quickly became a vital transportation center for the young nation. Ports were establish above and below the Falls. Passengers and freight moved overland around the rapids. Trails and roads connected the ports to inland settlements in Kentucky and Indiana. The steamboat brought prosperity and growth to the area; by 1850, Louisville was the 10th-largest city in the nation.

In the decades that followed, railroads greatly improved connections with cities throughout the nation, and Louisville became known as the "Gateway to the South." Businesses and industries were attracted by the strong and convenient transportation network and Louisville became an industrial center.

In recent years, the economy of the Louisville area has shifted from a heavy reliance on industry to an increasing emphasis on services, including earning a worldwide reputation as a transportation and distribution center. Once again, location is a key factor. Louisville is located near the center of the eastern half of the contiguous 48 states, with nearly half of the nation's consumer markets within a 500-mile radiuws. The climate is mild enough that Louisville's airport is rarely closed because of weather.

Climate, location and a good transportation system helped convince United Parcel Service to establish its national hub in Louisville in the early 1980s. UPS, in turn, is attracting businesses that depend on fast and efficient transportation of their goods to other parts of the nation and throughout the world.

Cardinal fans participate in a rally at Fourth Street Live!, a downtown entertainment area.

The Kentucky Center for the Arts is one of the nation's premier performing arts facilities, housing three spacious theatres.

"The Ville" has been labeled as the Best College Sports Town in America

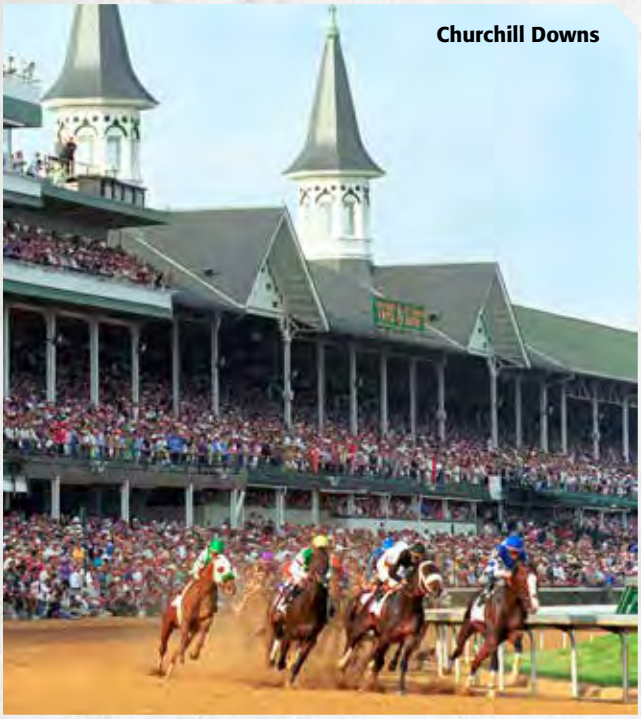

Sports, including UofL athletics, are an important facet of life in the Louisville area. Churchill Downs has hosted three Breeders' Cups and continues its traditional Run For The Roses -- the Kentucky Derby -- the first Saturday each May. The 1996, 2000 and 2014 PGA Championships were staged at Valhalla Golf Course in eastern Jefferson County, which was also the site of the 2008 Ryder Cup international competition. The Louisville Bats, the triple-A baseball team of the Cincinnati Reds, have drawn over 1 million fans to games in a single season with Slugger Field stationed on the downtown riverfront. Over 140 public parks, 20 public golf courses and 226 public tennis courts also provide outdoor entertainment.

Yet even though Louisville has changed through the years, it still has the flavor and gentleness of a Southern town. The Belle of Louisville steamboat still paddles its way up and down the Ohio River daily, mint juleps are still served under an old oak tree during the hot and muggy summers and fishing in the many lakes and rivers of Louisville and surrounding counties is still a favorite pastime.

Another favorite in Louisville is trying to figure out the correct pronunciation of the city. So if you're a tourist, don't say Louie-ville or Lewis-ville. Natives claim it's Lou-a-vuhl. Either way, Louisville is still the same happy place.

Dr. Gregory Postel
Interim President

Gregory C. Postel, M.D. assumed the interim presidency of the University of Louisville in January 2017.

Dr. Postel already was serving as Interim Executive Vice President for Health Affairs, a position to which he was appointed in December 2015. The EVPHA provides leadership for the university's Health Sciences Center, which includes the Schools of Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, and Public Health and Information Sciences, as well as 16 centers and institutes. The EVPHA serves as a key member of the UofL President's leadership team and has principal responsibility for external affairs, including hospital relations and other affiliated entities.

Dr. Postel has been with the University of Louisville School of Medicine since 1994, where he began as an Assistant Professor of Radiology and the Head of the Neuroradiology section. He served as Acting Chairman of Radiology from 1997-1999 and was named permanent Chairman in April 1999.

In July 2011, Dr. Postel became the founding Chairman of the Board for University of Louisville Physicians (ULP) and then served as the Interim Chief Executive Officer from 2013-2014. In August 2014, he was named permanent CEO of ULP.

Dr. Postel was appointed as the Vice Dean of Clinical Affairs for the University of Louisville School of Medicine in September 2014. He has been active in payment reform initiatives and medical practice reform projects.

Dr. Postel has played a key role in the formation and governance of numerous Health Sciences Center entities including Passport Health Plan and the Kentuckiana Medical Reciprocal Risk Retention Group. He was the Principal Investigator on an institutional grant to establish imaging research facilities at UofL. He is an active member of a number of academic societies including the American College of Radiology, Radiological Society of North America, et al., was a board examiner for the American Board of Radiology and is a graduate of the Academy of Radiology Leadership and Management.

In their free time, Dr. Postel and his wife Sally enjoy spending time with their twin 7-year-old sons, Chris and Alex.

Elaine Wise

Faculty Athletics Representative

A member of the UofL faculty for decades, Elaine Wise is in her 19th year as UofL's Faculty Athletics Representative. Appointed by the President, she serves as the university's liaison between academics and athletics, responsible for the certification of student-athlete eligibility to the NCAA and providing academic and compliance oversight as Chair of the Committee on Academic Performance of the ULAA Board. As a member of the ACC FAR Council, she serves on the Autonomy Committee and on the Sportsmanship and Infractions Review Committee. She also serves as the Provost's Liaison for Athletics.

A lifelong resident of Louisville, Wise graduated from local Seneca High School. She earned her bachelor's degree in English from Agnes Scott College, where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She earned a master's degree in English Literature on a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship at Indiana University, and then joined the UofL faculty in the Department of English. After resuming her graduate studies, she returned to UofL to join the faculty of the Division of Humanities as Program Coordinator for the Freshman Symposium, an interdisciplinary program for first year students. In 1977, she was awarded tenure in Humanities.

Wise served as Chair of the Division of Humanities from 1997 to 2016, and holds appointments in both the English and Comparative Humanities departments. Medieval and Renaissance Literature and Culture are her areas of academic specialization. In 1990, she was named the University's Distinguished Teaching Professor; in 1995, she earned the Carnegie Foundation Kentucky Professor of the Year Award; in 2005, she received the University of Louisville Trustees Award for her service to students; in 2009, she was the recipient of the Tower Award in Education; in 2015, she was honored by the Athletics Department with the National Women and Girls in Sport Award; and in 2016, A&S honored her with the Career of Service Award.

An on-campus leader throughout her many years at UofL, Wise serves on the University Club Board, the Graduate Council and the A&S Committee on Committees and Committee on Planning and Budget. She was a long-time member of the Faculty Senate and its Executive and Library Committees, and was the faculty liaison to Student Senate and advisor to Mortar Board Senior Honor Society. In the community, she is active with the Montpellier Committee of Sister Cities of Louisville and serves on the Board of the English Speaking Union.

Elaine and her husband, Barry, have one daughter, Amanda, a graduate of Wellesley College and the UofL Brandeis School of Law, who resides in Chicago, with husband Greg and children Matthew and Audrey; and a "Danish son," Peter Preisler, a graduate of the University of Kentucky School of Architecture, who resides in Nashville, with wife Melissa and children Sophia, Jackson, and Anabel.

More about the University of Louisville

■ The Thinker: UofL's most famous landmark is a large, original bronze casting of Rodin's "The Thinker" in front of Grawemeyer Hall. The statue, given to the city of Louisville to recognize its namesake, French monarch Louis XVI, has been in place at UofL since 1949. In 2012, the sculpture was completely refinished.

■ Diverse Campus: With a student body of more than 22,600 and faculty and staff of around 7,000, UofL's 12 academic schools and colleges offer over 200 undergraduate, graduate and professional degrees and credentials. Its students hail from 117 counties across Kentucky, 54 U.S. states and territories, and more than 90 countries. UofL offers its students 458 recognized student organizations, 34 national Greek letter fraternities and sororities, and 23 sports clubs.

■ Home for Many Fulbright Scholars: WireSince 2003 UofL has claimed 104 Fulbright scholars—more than all other Kentucky public universities combined. The university set a record in 2016 with 15 scholars, besting the previous record of 14 scholars in 2010 and again in 2011.

■ FirstBuild Microfactory: WireThe University of Louisville is home to the unique FirstBuild micro-factory, a partnership among the university, GE Appliances, and Arizona-based Local Motors. The 35,000-square-foot facility is a space where home appliances are designed, built, and sold, using an online co-creation community and micro-manufacturing model.

■ $1.3 Billion Investment: UofL's drive to become a premier metropolitan research university is highlighted by its $1.3 billion investment in campus and facility developments since 2001. The Micro/Nano Technology Service Center (one of the nation's largest "clean rooms" to develop leading-edge technology) and a library system ranked among the top 100 for research capabilities in North America are two examples of the university's cutting-edge facilities designed to enhance the academic experience.

■ Renowned Research Center: UofL's Alcohol Research Center is the only NIH-designated center researching the interactive role of nutrition and alcohol to discover the deleterious, as well as beneficial, effects of alcohol on the human body.

■ New Rec Center: The University recently opened a 128,000-square-foot Student Recreation Center featuring an exercise and weight facility, six basketball courts, a multi-activity court, a jogging track, aerobics studios, fitness labs, a gaming area and classrooms.

Athletics Administration

Tom Jurich

Vice President for Athletics/
Director of Athletics

Tom Jurich, Vice President and Director of Athletics for the University of Louisville, has made a permanent mark on Cardinal athletics, leading a department that has enjoyed tremendous athletic and academic accomplishments, as well as experiencing an unprecedented period of growth during his tenure.

While his abundance of accomplishments have transformed the university, clearly among the most substantial was engineering UofL's move into the prestigious Atlantic Coast Conference where the Cardinals have completed their first two seasons to rave reviews. UofL was officially welcomed into the ACC on July 1, 2014, changing the outlook for the entire university for years to come.

The Cardinals have been successful in their new home. In its three years in the ACC, UofL has a combined 333-106 record in the four sports of baseball, football and men's and women's basketball, a .759 winning percentage that is the best in the league.

CBS Sports has recognized the UofL Athletics program among the top seven nationally in its annual "Best in College Sports" review in four of the last five years, including a No. 7 ranking in the 2016-17 season. Louisville finished 26th nationally in the 2016-17 Learfield Sports Director's Cup national allsports standings, its highest ever.

In the nearly two decades since Jurich was hired on Oct. 21, 1997, the dramatic progress at UofL has been stunning. Louisville has enjoyed some of its most dynamic eras on the playing fields and courts, and more importantly, has seen a complete transformation of the athletic department's infrastructure that has improved not only the image of the athletic department, but the beautification of the entire campus. He has created a comprehensive athletic department that has continued to "stay hungry and humble."

His mission for the UofL athletics program is to compete and execute at the highest level – on the field, in the classroom, and in the community, while graduating student-athletes. For Jurich, the focus has been and always will be on Louisville's nearly 750 student-athletes who have been successful in a culture established by Jurich and the entire department. With a tireless work ethic and engaging personality, Jurich has created new standards of excellence on the playing field and in academics, and those standards continue to be raised.

UofL took a dramatic step toward maintaining that upward trend by signing Jurich to a contract extension that will keep him with the Cards through 2023. In an unprecedented appointment, he was named Vice President at UofL in 2003 and continues in that capacity.

UofL recently signed a 10-year, $160 million deal with international giant adidas, positioning the Cardinals among the top five nationally in footwear and apparel rights among all brands and as the top school for adidas.

Jurich's efforts received national acclaim when he was selected as the 2007 Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal/Sports Business Daily Athletic Director of the Year, and he became the award's first two-time finalist in 2013. He was honored as the Kentucky Monthly Magazine 2013 Kentuckian of the Year.

From facilities to gender equity, from community involvement to national leadership, Jurich's actions prompted one state media outlet to write that "it all shows yet again that the hiring of Tom Jurich, the architect of this Louisville emergence, as UofL AD in the fall of 1997 stands as one of the most significant events in our state's modern sports history." After just eight years working his constructive efforts, he was inducted into the state's Kentucky Athletic Hall of Fame in 2006.

During his outstanding tenure at Louisville, Jurich has overseen hundreds of millions of dollars in capital improvements, including completing Dr. Mark and Cindy Lynn Stadium, a state-of-the-art $18.5 million facility for men's and women's soccer, and an expansion of softball's Ulmer Stadium, both completed in 2014. A $4 million expansion of Jim Patterson Stadium was completed in 2013 and Papa John's Cardinal Stadium's was expanded in 2010, adding a new club area, club seating and additional suites. Another $63 million expansion of the football stadium will be completed for the 2018 season, will enclose the end zone with an additional 10,00 seats, field level suites, premium boxes, a pair of clubs and an expansion of the football training complex,. UofL opened the state-of-the-art $18.5 million Thornton's Academic Center of Excellence in August 2016.

Under Jurich's watch, one of the premier facilities in the country opened in 2010 when the men's and women's basketball programs moved downtown into the 22,000-seat KFC Yum! Center, perhaps the most spectacular arena in the nation.

At the time, Jurich navigated one of the school's biggest moves when Louisville was a member of the Big East Conference from 2005-13. The move translated into remarkable success as UofL produced 58 Big East championships, which was second only to Notre Dame in that stretch.

Under Jurich's guidance on the field, Louisville's athletic teams have produced unparalleled success. The football program has produced two BCS bowl wins, including a dominating performance over third-ranked Florida to win the 2013 AllState Sugar Bowl and a win over Wake Forest in the 2007 FedEx Orange Bowl. In 2016-17, quarterback Lamar Jackson and pitcher/first baseman Brendan McKay gave the Cardinals the Heisman Trophy and Golden Spikes Trophy winners, respective, marking the first time in history that one university has featured both winners in the same academic year.

UofL's baseball team made its fourth appearance in the College World Series in 2017 (also in 2007, 2013, 2014).

In 16 seasons guided by former head coach Rick Pitino, the men's basketball program won the school's third NCAA title and the program has advanced to three Final Four appearances, while the women's basketball team has reached the title game twice in the last seven years. Jurich attracted Pitino to UofL in 2001 when many deemed it impossible.

Louisville's 2012-13 "Year of the Cardinal" marked the first time a university has ever won a BCS level bowl game, place both its men's and women's basketball teams in the NCAA Final Four and reach the College World Series in the same season.

Individually, Louisville athletes have earned some of the highest honors the NCAA has to offer, including seven national titles in track & field and eight swimming titles in the last six years. Two Cardinals won individual NCAA titles in 2017. ACC Swimmer of the Year Mallory Comerford tied for the NCAA Championship in the 200 meter freestyle with Olympic champion Katie Ledecky. The 2017 ACC Men's Track Perfomer of the Year Edwin Kibichiy won the NCAA outdoor title in the 3,000 meter steeplechase.

Jurich has been active in the scope of college athletics on a national level, within conference issues, and in his local community. He served three years as a member of the NCAA Management Council, one of the top legislative bodies of the NCAA, and the NCAA Division I Baseball Committee. He sits on the Board of Directors for Republic Bank and American Heart Association.

Jurich has received the Louisvillian of the Year Award by the Louisville Advertising Federation; the Dan Mangeot Memorial Award; and the Louisville Quarterback Club's Sportsman of the Year. He shared UofL's prestigious Hickman-Camp Award, presented for exemplary contributions to the athletic department, with his wife Terrilynn in 2007. He was named the 2007 Louisville Magazine Person of the Year.

Jurich's high energy, community and family-minded approach have been contagious, infecting the university, city and UofL fans everywhere. It is a formula that has provided a trail of success in each situation Jurich has touched.

Guiding Colorado State as its athletics director for four years prior to his arrival at UofL, Jurich oversaw not only one of the most successful periods in school history in terms of on-field competitiveness, but was the force behind a successful capital campaign that included facility renovation.

Prior to his constructive efforts at Colorado State, Jurich operated as director of athletics for eight years at his alma mater, Northern Arizona. When appointed at NAU, he was the youngest director of athletics at the NCAA Division I level at the age of 29. He was honored as the NAU Alumnus of the Year in 2011.

He became athletic director at Northern Arizona in 1988, after previously serving as co-director (1986-88) and assistant director (`84-86) at NAU. He was inducted to the NAU Sports Hall of Fame in 1989 and the Flagstaff Sports Foundation Hall of Fame in 2015. Jurich is among the finest football players in Northern Arizona history. A punter, placekicker and backup quarterback for the Lumberjacks, Jurich earned first-team Kodak All-America honors in 1977 -- the first collegiate kicker to make the Kodak honor list -- and also received All-America acclaim from The Sporting News. He is the only kicker in Big Sky Conference history to be named the league's offensive player of the year (1977).

A 10th-round NFL draft pick of the Pittsburgh Steelers, Jurich later played with the Minnesota Vikings before a brief collegiate coaching stint at Minnesota.

He and his wife, Terrilynn, a former Miss Wyoming, have four children: sons Mark – senior associate athletic director of development at UofL, who is married to wife Lainey, with children Jay Ryan, Jack and Remy -- and Brian, who is married to wife Melissa; and twin daughters, Haley and Lacey.

Two Decades of Success — Over the past 20 years, UofL teams have won 67 conference championships, 42 conference tournament championships, finished among the nation's top 25 teams on 125 instances, and had 207 occasions in which teams or individuals participated in NCAA postseason championship events. Over the last two decades, 287 Cardinal student-athletes earned All-America honors, 30 were Academic All-Americas, 191 were selected in professional drafts in their respective sports and 28 UofL teams earned NCAA Academic Progress Rate Public Recognition Awards.

Facilties — A total of $278.8 milion has been invested in facilities that have been built or are under construction over the last 20 years. That figure does not include the original construction of Papa John's Cardinal Stadium that opened in 1998, but includes the $63 million current expansion project for the stadium due for completion in August 2018.

Conference Evolution — UofL rose to its current status in a Power Five conference over the last 20 years. Louisville was a member of Conference USA (1995-2005) before its move to the Big East in 2005. After eight successful seasons in the Big East (2005-13), the Cardinals spent one year in the American Athletic Conference (2013-14) prior to moving to its current home in the Atlantic Coast Conference on July 1, 2014.

Year of the Cardinal — Louisville was the first university ever to win a BCS Bowl game, place both its men's and women's basketball teams in the NCAA Final Four and reach the College World Series in the same season in 2012- 13. In addition to the Cardinals' 2013 NCAA men's basketball title, UofL's women's team was the national runner-up to Connecticut. The Cardinals' football team beat then No. 3/4 Florida 33-23 in the 2013 Sugar Bowl on Jan. 2. UofL's 2013 baseball team won 51 games while reaching a visit to Omaha.

Athletic Administration

Kevin Miller

Executive Senior Associate Athletic Director

Kevin Miller, a veteran administrator in the Cardinal athletics department for the past 31 years and a UofL staff member for 42 years, is in his ninth year as Executive Senior Associate Athletic Director. He had served six years as Senior Associate Athletic Director, 11 years as Associate Athletic Director for Internal Operations and worked six years as assistant athletic director for business at UofL.

Miller oversees the athletic department financial and personnel operations while also supervising football and men's basketball. He has served on the Cardinal Club Advisory Board of Directors and oversees the management and recent renovation of the University of Louisville Golf Club. He serves on the ACC Finance Oversight Committee and previously served on the Big East Conference golf championship committee.

Since joining the Athletic Department, Miller has helped implement the long-term Financial Management Plan and Gender Equity Plan for the Athletic Association. He served on two NCAA Certification Steering Committees (1996-97 and 2002-03) and assisted in negotiating the Cards' local media, Louisville arena lease and the Sports Marketing Agreements currently held by Learfield Sports.

Miller served as the athletic department representative on UofL's NCAA self-study steering committee. He has served as tournament manager for the 1992, 1993 and 1995 Metro Conference Tournaments; 2001 and 2003 C-USA tournaments; as well as the First and Second Rounds of the 1991 NCAA Tournament hosted by UofL. He helped establish the UofL Student-Athlete Advisory Council in 1994.

Miller worked 11 years in the UofL controller's office prior to joining the athletic department. He served in various capacities with the University Credit Union, including six years as a member of the union's Board of Directors.

A native of Lebanon Junction, Ky., Miller earned a bachelor's degree in accounting from Western Kentucky University in 1973. Miller and his wife Betty have two children — son Jeremy and daughter Jennifer Buckingham. Jennifer and husband David — both UofL graduates — have two children: Riley and Daylen. Jeremy and his wife Meghanne have two children: Ethan and Jordin.

John Carns

Senior Associate Athletic Director for Compliance

John Carns is in his 20th year with the Cardinals and his eighth as Senior Associate Athletic Director for Compliance.

He served seven years as Associate Athletic Director for Compliance after serving as UofL's Director of Compliance for four years.

Carns is responsible for the development and implementation of the University's policies and procedures in accordance with NCAA, ACC and University regulations. He supervises the Cardinals' men's and women's tennis programs and currently serves on the ACC Men's Tennis Committee.

Carns joined the UofL staff in August of 1998 after nearly two years assisting in the compliance office at the University of Miami (Fla.).

Prior to his roles in athletics, Carns worked in government for the City of Binghamton (N.Y.). He was a community relations assistant for the mayor's office (1986-88), an economic development assistant for two years (1988-90), the Highway Safety Program Director (1990-91) and a risk manager/paralegal of the Office of the Corporation Counsel (1991-93).

Carns earned a B.A. in Communications at State University College at Oswego (N.Y.) in 1985. He graduated with a juris doctor from the Thomas Cooley Law School in Lansing, Mich., in 1996, the same year he was admitted to the New York State Bar. He also earned a master's degree in sports administration at St. Thomas University in Miami, Fla. in 1997.

A native of Binghamton, N.Y., Carns and his wife Patti have two children: Luke and Payton Ann.

Mark Jurich

Senior Associate Athletic Director for Development

Mark Jurich, Senior Associate Athletic Director for Development, is in his ninth year in athletics administration at UofL.

Jurich had served four years as Associate Athletic Director for Development and another as Assistant Athletic Director for Development. He oversees the development office and is the sport administrator for the Cardinals' baseball, softball, and men's and women's golf programs.

As the head of the Cardinal Athletic Fund, Jurich has raised money for numerous capital projects, and is leading the efforts to fundraise $63 million for the "Coming Full Circle" capital campaign to expand the north end zone of Papa John's Cardinal Stadium and the expansion of the Howard Schnellenberger Football Complex.

Recently, he led a $45 million capital campaign for the expansion of the baseball and softball stadium, as well as the completion of the Mark and Cindy Lynn Soccer Stadium and the Thorntons Academic Center of Excellence.

Jurich's fundraising efforts helped secure $5 million gifts to name the new premium club in the north end zone and the lead gift for the soccer stadium, which was completed in 2014. He attained the $3 million lead gift for the Thorntons Academic Center of Excellence, as well as a partnership with Maker's Mark that generated $2.5 million toward the center.

Jurich joined the Cards' athletic staff in 2008 after playing five seasons of professional baseball (2004-08) with the Atlanta Braves, which selected him in the 13th round of the MLB Draft. A two-time All-American as an outfielder for UofL, Jurich was twice selected first team All-Conference USA and was named to the C-USA All-Decade Team spanning 1995 to 2005. He earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from UofL in 2004.

He was the first Louisville player to compete for the USA National Team, which won a silver medal at the 2002 FISU World University Baseball Championship and capturing the 2002 Haarlem Baseball Week Championship.

He and his wife Lainey have two sons, Jay Ryan and Jack and a daughter, Remy.

Justin Ruffin is in his eighth year with UofL as Assistant Athletic Director for Academics. He is responsible for overseeing academics for the Cardinal football team and supervises the academic staff housed in Papa John's Cardinal Stadium Football Complex.

After serving five years in various capacities, at James Madison University, Ruffin came to the University of Louisville. He is a former student-athlete, earning All-Conference recognition as a defensive back for the football team and lettering three years on the baseball team.

In 2002, Ruffin graduated with a Bachelor's of Science in Integrated Science and Technology from JMU and he earned his Master of Science in Athletic Administration two years later in 2004.

A native of Norfolk, Va., Ruffin is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity Inc, National Association Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A) and Black Coaches and Administrators.

Ruffin and his wife Erika have three sons: Justin, Jayson and Joshua.

Lauren Rust

Assistant Athletic Director for Compliance

Lauren Rust is in her ninth year at the University of Louisville and her sixth with Cardinal Athletics, currently serving as Assistant Athletic Director for Compliance.

Rust is responsible for the eligibility of initial and transfer student-athletes, as well as assisting in the eligibility of continuing student-athletes, Academic Progress Rate (APR) and Graduation Success Rate (GSR) reports and the compliance internship program. She has worked the last three years in her current position after three years as UofL's Director of Compliance. She joined the UofL athletics staff in August of 2011 after three years as Associate Director of Advising in the UofL College of Arts and Sciences.

Prior to her arrival at UofL, Rust worked six years at the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center at the University of Tennessee. She was an Academic Athletic Counselor for women's swimming, rowing and women's golf (2002-05), as well as Assistant Director overseeing all academic counselors and serving as the primary academic counselor for men's basketball and women's volleyball (2005-08). Rust also worked a year in Membership Services for the NCAA as an intern in 2001-02.

Rust earned a B.A. in Exercise Science at Morehead State University (KY) in 1999. She graduated with a M.A. in Sport Administration at Morehead State in 2001 while serving as a graduate assistant in its athletics department.

A native of Louisville, Rust and her husband Rich have two children: Garrett and Brynlee.

Athletic Administration

Scott Sallade

Assistant Athletic Director for Student Services

Scott Sallade, Assistant Athletic Director for Student Services, is in his 22nd year as a staff member of the Olga Peers Academic Center. He oversees the academic support for women's soccer, softball, men's swimming and diving, and the spirit groups, in addition to his many administrative duties, including continuing eligibility and campus involvement.

He has been at UofL since 1987 and has worked in several areas of the university including Housing and Residence Life, Admissions and Orientation and Intramural and Recreational Sports. He currently serves as a part-time instructor for the Health and Sport Sciences Department.

Sallade earned his B.S in Sport Administration (1992) and his Master of Education (1994), both from the University of Louisville.

He and his wife, Tami, have a son, Casey and two daughters, Kayla and Naica.

Lottie Stockwell

Assistant Athletic Director for Brand Marketing

Lottie Stockwell is in her third year as UofL's Assistant Athletic Director for Brand Marketing & Licensing.

With 16 years of experience leading and developing brand/marketing campaigns, Stockwell is responsible for overall brand marketing strategy for the Athletic Department, as well as the comprehensive licensing program and how the Louisville brand translates in retail.

Before joining the Louisville staff, Stockwell spent over 13 years on the advertising agency side of marketing. Most recently she worked over 10 years at Power Creative in Louisville as the Director of Account Service, where she served as the brand steward for UofL and Churchill Downs Racetrack, two of the agency's top clients. She was responsible for the overall agency performance with each account, ensuring financial goals attainment, development of multiple agency/client relationships, while coaching and mentoring a team of account service staff members.

Stockwell is a 2000 graduate of Kentucky with an integrated strategic communications degree. She and her husband Todd, have two children, Cooper and Georgia.

Official Resale Marketplace of the Louisville Cardinals

Louisville Sports Properties

Louisville Sports Properties is the dedicated sponsorship sales entity representing the Cardinals. In complete collaboration with the university, this local team is committed to extending U of L's brand affinity to businesses and corporations of all sizes looking to align with the Cards' loyal and passionate fan base. As exclusive multimedia rights holder for Louisville Athletics, Louisville Sports Properties manages all aspects of the rights relationship, providing corporate partners both traditional and new media opportunities through venue signage; event sponsorships and promotion; corporate hospitality; television; digital engagement and visibility via GoCards.com and radio game broadcasts and coaches' shows on the Louisville Sports Network.

Led by long-time Vice President / General Manager Bill Glenn, Louisville Sports Properties is a property of Learfield, UofLAthletics' partner since February 2014 when it acquired Nelligan Sports Marketing. Learfield is proud to team with Director of Athletics Tom Jurich and the entire athletics administration in continuing to build upon Louisville's legacy. In its 45 years, Learfield has placed a great emphasis on developing trusted, long-term relationships with some of the most revered institutions and associations in the world of college athletics and now manages multimedia rights for nearly 130 collegiate properties with prominence in all of the major athletic conferences, including 27 universities in the power five conferences. The company also partners with NACDA (National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics) and USA Today to present the Learfield Directors' Cup, which annually recognizes the top overall collegiate programs in the country.

"We're pleased to have this terrific opportunity to represent the Louisville Cardinals, to build upon the exceptional traditions already established here and to work closely with Tom and his entire team to elevate the UofL brand even further," said Learfield President and CEO Greg Brown.

Learfield's mission to "Build the Team, Grow the Company and Have Fun" is accentuated through a culture driven to exceed goals, serve partners enthusiastically, work as a team, celebrate successes, and do what is right and honest in every endeavor. Learfield remains unwavering in its commitment to ensure each and every relationship is served to the best of its ability, while building on the company's history and strengths, striving to lead the way in college sports.

Cardinal Pride Pep Band

The Cardinal Pride Pep Band is in its ninth year under the oversight of Cardinal Athletics. Under the direction of Al Greener, the musical cheerleaders are a highly visible source of spirit and enthusiasm at Cardinal basketball events. In addition to U of L men's basketball, the pep band performs at an abundance of athletic events. The 1981-82 edition of the Cardinal Pep Band received special recognition as the nation's best as chosen by NBC-TV analyst Al McGuire.

ACC/NCAA

The Atlantic Coast Conference

Tradition of Excellence

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 65th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

John Swofford

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 150 national championships, including 75 in men's competition and 74 in women's and one in men's and women's fencing. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 169 times in men's competition and 134 times in women's action.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC is unrivaled in NCAA basketball annals. Eight of the last 17 NCAA Basketball Championships have been won by teams currently competing in the ACC.

No conference has compiled a better NCAA Tournament record than the ACC. Since the inaugural tournament in 1939, league teams have posted an NCAA Tournament-best mark of 423-218 for a sterling .660 winning percentage against the nation's toughest competition.

The 15 teams currently in the ACC have combined for 612 NCAA Tournament victories - 181 more than the next nearest conference.

Since 1985, the ACC has produced 28 Final Four teams, five more than any other conference. The ACC has had at least one Final Four team in 22 of the last 29 years.

Since the NCAA Tournament expanded to 64 teams in 1985, ACC teams have compiled a 320-165 (.660) record, including 86 Sweet 16 appearances and 47 Regional Final berths - all NCAA Tournament bests. Since 1985, nearly half of the league teams (86-of-175) receiving NCAA berths have won at least two NCAA Tournament games.

Teams currently in the ACC have combined to win 17 NCAA Championships. North Carolina leads the way with six national titles, followed by Duke with five, Louisville three, NC State two and Syracuse one.

The Tar Heels claimed their sixth title a year ago, following championships in 1957, 1982, 1993, 2005 and 2009. Duke won NCAA titles in 2015, 2010, 2001, 1992 and 1991, while the Cardinals' captured the crown in 2013, 1986 and 1980.

The Wolfpack walked away with national titles in 1974 and 1983, while the Orange claimed their national championship in 2003.

The ACC has posted 10 or more NCAA Tournament wins 16 times overall and with its 11-8 mark in the 2017 NCAA Tournament, the ACC extended its non-losing streak in NCAA Tournament play to 30 years in a row. The Big Ten is second with a streak of 11 straight non-losing seasons, while the SEC is third at eight.

In 2016-17, ACC teams combined to win an NCAA-record 19 NCAA Tournament games, eclipsing the previous mark of 18 set by the Big East in 1985.

Over the past three years, ACC teams have combined to win an NCAA-record 47 Tournament games, bettering the previous mark of 42 set by the ACC 2014-16. The ACC's 47 wins are 19 more than any other conference.

In 2017-18, the ACC will feature three of the six active Division I coaches that are in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame - Duke's Mike Krzyzewski, North Carolina's Roy Williams and Syracuse's Jim Boeheim.

The ACC's current membership further enhances the league's reputation in college basketball. The 15 schools that currently comprise the ACC have made 63 trips to the Final Four and have won 17 NCAA Championships, including eight of the last 17. Current league members have won 23,695 games and have had 763 NBA draft picks, including 250 first-round selections.

All 15 league members have 1,000 or more all-time wins, including eight schools with 1,500 or more victories.

Five National Titles in 2016-17

The conference will conduct championship competition in 27 sports during the 2017-18 academic year - 14 for women and 13 for men. The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The 13 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, fencing, swimming and diving, indoor and outdoor track & field, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet held in tennis at Wake Forest University. Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, field hockey, soccer, basketball, fencing, swimming and diving, indoor and outdoor track & field, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing, with volleyball deciding its champion by regular-season play.

The 2016-17 academic year saw five ACC teams capture NCAA national team titles: North Carolina in men's basketball and women's lacrosse, Clemson in football, Virginia in men's tennis, and Notre Dame in men's fencing. In all, the ACC has won 82 national team titles over the last 20 years and has won two or more NCAA titles in 34 of the past 36 years.

Academically, the member institutions of the Atlantic Coast Conference again led the way among Autonomy 5 conferences in the "Best Colleges" rankings released by US News & World Report.

ACC History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when South Carolina tendered its resignation. The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964. The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of Miami and Virginia Tech. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting July 1, 2005.

The ACC added its 13th and 14th members on Sept. 18, 2011, when Pittsburgh and Syracuse accepted invitations to join the conference. The two schools officially joined the ACC on July 1, 2013. Notre Dame also officially joined the ACC on July 1, 2013, after announcing on Sept. 12, 2012 its intention to enter the league for competition in all sports but football, bringing the membership of the conference to 15.

On July 1, 2014, Louisville entered the ACC on the same day Maryland withdrew, keeping the conference's membership at 15 institutions.

■ Conference Shifting for the Cards — The University of Louisville joined the Atlantic Coast Conference on July 1, 2014, its third different conference in three years. The Cardinals were members of the Big East Conference for eight years before the league split, with Louisville moving with four others to form the American Athletic Conference in 2013. UofL's association with the American was for one season in 2013-14, as the Cardinals accepted an invitation to join the Atlantic Coast Conference on Nov. 28, 2012. Louisville has been a member of eight different conferences, including six in the last 43 years.

ACC Facts and Figures

■ ACC Tops in NCAA Wins — With 612 wins among its 15 current members, the ACC is the all-time winningest conference in the NCAA Tournament with a .620 winning percentage. The 612 wins are 181 more than the next nearest conference.

■ Three-Year Dominance — Over the past three years, ACC teams have combined to win an NCAA-record 47 Tournament games, bettering the previous mark of 42 set by the ACC 2014-16. The ACC's 47 wins are 19 more than any other conference. The ACC set an NCAA Tournament record in 2016 by having six teams reach the Sweet 16, breaking the previous record of five set by the ACC in 2015, and the Big East in 2009. Over the past three years, 12 ACC teams have reached the Sweet 16, four more than any other conference over that span.

■ 380 NCAA Appearances — Teams currently in the ACC have combined to make 380 NCAA Tournament appearances. Five ACC teams - North Carolina (48), Louisville (42), Duke (41), Syracuse (38), Notre Dame (36) - rank among the top 10 teams in NCAA Tournament appearances. Every league member has appeared at least once in the NCAA Tournament over the last 10 years.

■ NCAA Streak — With its 11-8 mark in the 2017 NCAA Tournament, ACC teams have combined to finish .500 or better in each of the last 30 NCAA tournaments. The Big Ten has the next longest active streak at 11 straight non-losing seasons, while the SEC is third at eight.

■ 28 Final Fours Since 1985 — Since 1985, the ACC has produced 28 Final Four teams, five more than any other conference. The ACC has had at least one Final Four team in 22 of the last 29 years.

No conference has compiled a better NCAA Tournament record than the ACC. Since the inaugural tournament in 1939, league teams have posted an NCAA Tournament-best mark of 423-218 for a sterling .660 winning percentage against the nation's toughest competition.

Since the NCAA Tournament expanded to 64 teams in 1985, ACC teams have compiled a 320-165 (.660) record, including 86 Sweet 16 appearances and 47 Regional Final berths - all NCAA Tournament bests. Since 1985, nearly half of the league teams (86-of-175) receiving NCAA berths have won at least two NCAA Tournament games.

■ Eight NCAA Titles in Last 17 Years — Eight of the last 17 NCAA Basketball Championships have been won by teams currently competing in the ACC. Based on current membership, the American Athletic and Southeastern Conferences are tied for second with three titles each in that stretch.

NCAA Champions (2001-2017)

North Carolina	2017	Kansas	2008
Villanova	2016	Florida	2007
Duke	2015	Florida	2006
Connecticut	2014	North Carolina	2005
Louisville	2013	Connecticut	2004
Kentucky	2012	Syracuse	2003
Connecticut	2011	Maryland	2002
Duke	2010	Duke	2001
North Carolina	2009

■ Collective Excellence — The ACC's current membership further enhances the league's reputation in college basketball. The 15 schools that comprise the ACC in 2016-17 have made 63 trips to the Final Four and have won 17 NCAA Championships, including eight of the last 17. Current league members have won 23,695 games and have had 763 NBA draft picks, including 250 first-round selections. All 15 league members have 1,000 or more all-time wins, including eight schools with 1,500 or more victories.

■ 17 Champions in ACC — Teams currently in the ACC have combined to win 17 NCAA National Championships. North Carolina leads the way with six national titles, followed by Duke (5), Louisville (3), NC State (2), and Syracuse (1).

NCAA Champions by Schools Currently in the ACC

North Carolina	2017	Duke	1992
Duke	2015	Duke	1991
Louisville	2013	Louisville	1986
Duke	2010	NC State	1983

North Carolina	2005	Louisville	1980
Syracuse	2003	NC State	1974
Duke	2001	North Carolina	1957
North Carolina	1993

■ Coaches Successful in Tournament — Four league coaches have won national titles - Duke's Mike Krzyzewski (5), North Carolina's Roy Williams (3), Louisville's Rick Pitino (2) and Syracuse's Jim Boeheim (1). North Carolina's Roy Williams and Louisville's Rick Pitino are the only coaches in NCAA history to have led two different schools to at least three Final Fours each.

■ Poll Leaders — Six ACC teams were ranked in the final 2016-17 AP poll, including three in the top 10. North Carolina leads all teams nationally with 877 AP listings all-time. Duke is third with 770 rankings. Louisville has been ranked in 95 of the last 98 polls. The ACC extended its streak to 57 consecutive seasons with at least one team ranked in the top 10 of the final AP Poll.

AP Poll Ranking Leaders (1949-2017)

1. North Carolina	877	5. UCLA	689
2. Kentucky	863	6. Louisville	621
3. Duke	770	7. Indiana	554
4. Kansas	727	8. Syracuse	547

■ Stellar Coaches — The ACC features four of the seven active Division I coaches that are in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame - Duke's Mike Krzyzewski, Louisville's Rick Pitino, North Carolina's Roy Williams and Syracuse's Jim Boeheim. Those four make the ACC the only conference in NCAA history to have four active coaches with 700 or more career wins entering the 2017-18 season - Krzyzewski (1,071), Boeheim (903), Williams (816) and Pitino (770). Nine of the league's coaches have 400 or more career wins.

Krzyzewski (1,071) and Boeheim (903) are the two winningest coaches in Division I history. Among coaches with 20 or more years, Williams, with a 816-216 career record in 29 seasons, leads the NCAA in winning percentage among active coaches with a .791 mark.

■ ACC Tops in NBA Draft — A year ago, a league record 82 players from the current 15 ACC schools earned spots on NBA rosters, more than any other conference. In addition, over the past 10 years, 90 ACC players have made their NBA debuts, including an all-time high 15 in 2006.

In the 2017 NBA Draft, the ACC set a record with 10 first round selections, eclipsing the previous record of eight set by the ACC in 1995 and the SEC in 2012. Overall, the ACC tied the Pac-12 for most players selected with 14. With its record-setting 10 first-round selections, the ACC is the only conference to have had at least four first round picks in each of the past nine NBA Drafts. Over the past 10 years the ACC leads all conferences in both first-round selections (60) and overall selections (98).

■ 23,375 All-Time Victories — With three of the top five, four of the top nine, five of the top 11 and six of the top 25 winningest programs in NCAA Division I basketball history, ACC teams have combined for 23,375 wins since Notre Dame first took to the hardwood in January of 1898. Fourteen of the 15 league members have 1,000 or more all-time wins, including eight schools with 1,500 or more victories.

All-Time NCAA Wins by School

Team	Wins	Team	Wins
1. Kentucky	2,205	7. Notre Dame	1,819
2. Kansas	2,186	8. UCLA	1,818
3. North Carolina	2,173	9. St. John's	1,803

5. Syracuse	1,943	11. Louisville	1,778
6. Temple	1,870	12. BYU	1,764

■ Multitude of Fans — With three teams among the top four, and four in the top 10 nationally in per game attendance, the ACC drew over three million for the second time in three years. The league's 15 schools totaled 3,005,685 over 260 regular-season games and seven ACC Tournament sessions.

2016-17 NCAA School Average Attendance Leaders

Kentucky	23,461	Louisville	20,846
Syracuse	21,181	North Carolina	18,067

■ Player Honors — Since 1981, the ACC has produced 45 consensus All-Americans - 17 more than any other conference - and has accounted for 24 percent of the nation's consensus All-Americans (45-of-189).

Seven of the last 21 and nine of the last 25 consensus National Players of the Year have been from the ACC. Since 1975, the ACC has had 16 consensus National Players of the Year - nine more than any other conference. In addition, nine of the ACC's 16 National Players of the Year have been unanimous selections.

A Few Notes About the University of Louisville

■ UofL surgeons performed the first hand transplant in the United States and only the second one in the world.

■ UofL surgeons at Jewish Hospital in Louisville were the first in the world to successfully implant the first fully implantable artificial heart.

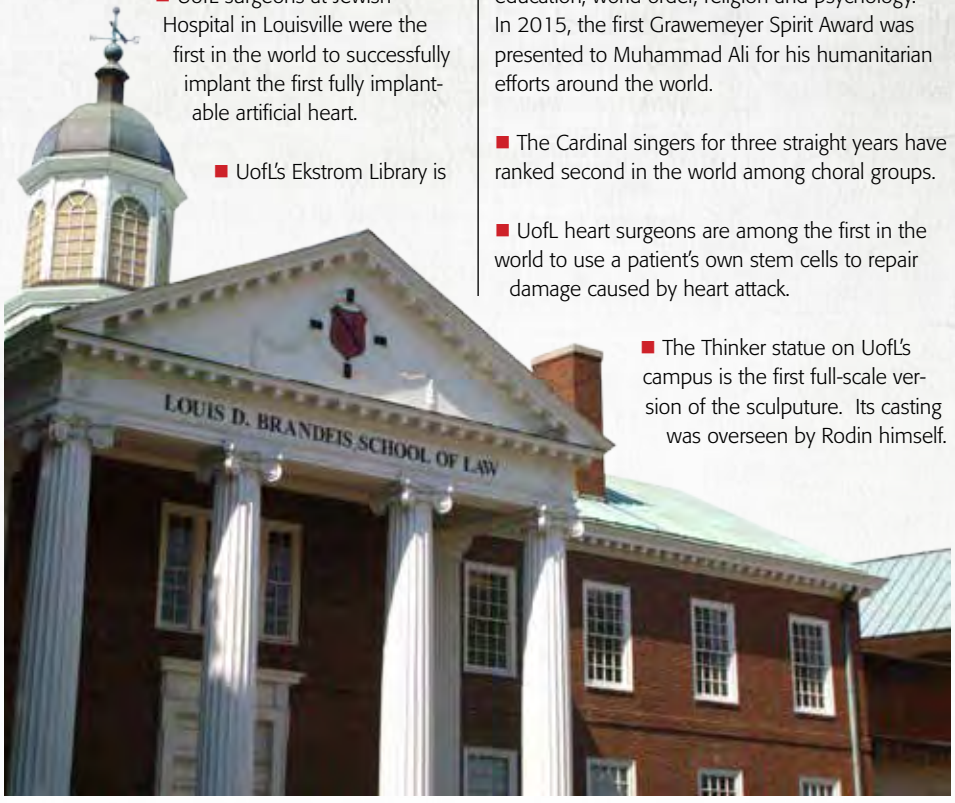

■ UofL's Ekstrom Library is home to the world's largest collection of Edgar Rice Burroughs materials.

■ The internationally renowned Grawemeyer Awards program celebrates outstanding works and ideas in the areas of music composition, education, world order, religion and psychology. In 2015, the first Grawemeyer Spirit Award was presented to Muhammad Ali for his humanitarian efforts around the world.

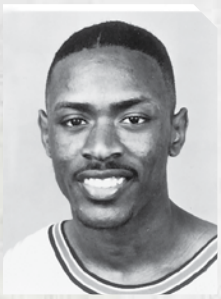

■ The Cardinal singers for three straight years have ranked second in the world among choral groups.

■ UofL heart surgeons are among the first in the world to use a patient's own stem cells to repair damage caused by heart attack.

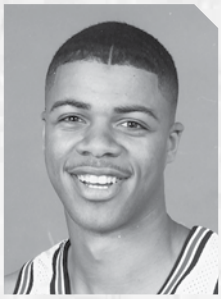

■ The Thinker statue on UofL's campus is the first full-scale version of the sculpture. Its casting was overseen by Rodin himself.

Cardinal Tradition

Louisville Basketball Tradition

Basketball is special to Kentuckians. The sport permeates everyday life from offices to farmlands, from coal mines to neighborhood drug stores. It is more than just a sport played in the cold winter months. It is a source of pride filled year-round with anticipation, hope and celebration. Kentuckians love their basketball, and the tradition-rich University of Louisville program has supplied its fans with one of the nation's finest products for decades.

Legendary coach Bernard "Peck" Hickman, a Basketball Hall of Fame nominee, arrived on the UofL campus in 1944 to begin a remarkable string of 46 consecutive winning seasons. For 23 seasons, Hickman laid an impressive foundation for UofL.

John Dromo, an assistant coach under Hickman for 19 years, continued the Louisville program in outstanding fashion following Hickman's retirement. For 30 years, Denny Crum followed the same path of success that Hickman and Dromo both walked, guiding the Cardinals to even higher acclaim. Now, Coach Rick Pitino energized a re-emergence in building upon the rich UofL tradition in his 16 years, guiding the Cardinals to the 2013 NCAA championship, NCAA Final Fours in 2005 and 2012 and the NCAA Elite Eight five of the past 10 seasons. Among the Cardinals' past successes include national championships in the NCAA (1980,1986, 2013), NIT (1956) and the NAIB (1948). UofL is the only school in the nation to have claimed the championship in all three major tournaments.

The Cardinals have appeared in the NCAA tournament on 42 occasions, which places UofL fifth in all-time NCAA Tournament appearances behind Kentucky (57), North Carolina (48), UCLA (47), and Kansas (46).

Louisville has played in the Final Four 10 times, including four times in the 1980s. Only six schools — North Carolina (20), UCLA (17), Kentucky (17), Duke (16), Kansas (14) and Ohio State (11) have reached the Final Four more often.

Taquan Dean kisses the Freedom Hall floor after his final game as a Cardinal.

Louisville was arguably the most dominant team in college basketball during the decade of the 1980s. Evidence of that claim is simple; during the decade of the 80s, the Cardinals won two national championships (equalled only by Indiana); sent an unmatched four teams to the Final Four; appeared among the final 16 teams seven times (bettered only by North Carolina's nine times); and posted the highest NCAA Tournament winning percentage of any other team (.793, 23-6).

Tremendous pride is taken in the tradition established at the University of Louisville. Student-athletes who attend UofL follow in the footsteps of some of college basketball's all-time greats. These athletes must be willing to give of themselves, just as former UofL stars did, to maintain UofL as one of the nations' top programs. It is more than the Wes Unseld's, Darrell Griffith's and Pervis Ellison's of the UofL world. It's the teamwork of those with the Tim Henderson's, Roger Burkman's and Derwin Webb's on the Cardinal rosters that blend into one team, one unit, to achieve a common goal. It is a commitment that has been worthwhile for decades.

Retired Numbers

42 Pervis Ellison

Top NBA Draft Pick of 1989

The only player in UofL history to total both 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds, Pervis Ellison ended his playing career with the Cardinals as the No. 2 all-time scorer. He is on of only three players at UofL to score 2,000 points in his career. A consensus All-American in 1989, "Never Nervous Pervis" was named MVP of the 1989 Metro Conference Tournament, an award he also won as a freshman. The all-time shot blocker at UofL and in the Metro Conference with 374 career rejections, Ellison blocked at least one shot in 130 of his 136 career games. He finished his career third among NCAA career leaders in blocked shots. In 1986, he led the Cardinals to their second NCAA Championship title and was the first freshman since 1944 to be named the Most Outstanding Player of the Final Four. The Cardinals won two regular season Metro Conference titles and three Metro tournament championships during Ellison's career. Following his playing career at UofL, Ellison became one of the select few collegiate players and the first for the Cardinals when he was chosen as the No. 1 pick in the 1989 NBA Draft. His jersey number - 42 - was retired at ceremonies following the 1989 season.

35 Darrell Griffith

Louisville's Living Legend

In 1980 Darrell Griffith received the prestigious John Wooden Award from the Los Angeles Athletic Club as college basketball's Player of the Year. He was also selected by The Sporting News for the same honor. A consensus All-American in 1980, he led Louisville to a 33-3 record and the school's first NCAA national championship. He left UofL as the school's career scoring leader (2,333 points); the first player in UofL history to surpass the 2,000 point mark; the school single-season scoring leader with 825 points; and the first player at Louisville to score more than 700 points in one season. He finished his collegiate career having scored in double figures in 41 straight games and 111 of his 126 games with the Cardinals. In his four seasons at UofL, he helped teams produce a combined record of 101-25; two regular season Metro Conference titles; two Metro tournament championships; four straight NCAA tournament appearances; and the 1980 NCAA Championship. His jersey number — 35 — was retired at ceremonies following the 1980 basketball season and his road uniform is on display at the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

31 Wes Unseld

Top Single Game Scorer

When Wes Unseld ended his career with the University of Louisville following the 1967-68 season, he left as the Cardinals' all-time leading scorer for a three-year player. Today, Unseld ranks 11th on the all-time scoring list, but his career point total of 1,686 is still tops for a three-year player. A consensus All-American during his junior and senior years, Unseld is one of only five Cardinal players to pull down over 1,000 rebounds in his career. His 1,551 career rebounds ranks second behind Charlie Tyra's 1,617. Unseld began his senior season with a 45-point effort against Georgetown College, a UofL single-game scoring record that still stands today. Unseld, chosen as second player overall in the 1968 NBA draft by Baltimore, was honored on the All-Missouri Valley Conference team all three years at UofL and the Cardinals were 60-22 during his three seasons. As a junior, Unseld led the Cardinals to a final No. 2 ranking in both wire service polls. Unseld's 20.6 career scoring average still ranks as the best in Louisville history. His 18.9 career rebounding average also ranks as the top average for a Cardinal. While playing on the Cardinals' freshmen team, Unseld averaged 35.8 points, 23.6 rebounds and hit 68.6 percent from the field.

8 Charlie Tyra

Top All-Time Rebounder

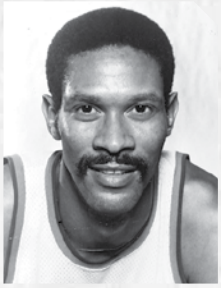

A consensus All-American during the 1956 and 1957 seasons, Charlie Tyra led the University of Louisville to its first NIT title in 1956 and was named the tournament's MVP for his performance. Tyra was named Helms Athletic Foundation All-American in his junior and senior years. One of only five Cardinals to record over 1,000 rebounds in his career, Tyra ranks as the all-time rebounder in UofL history with 1,617. During the 1955-56 season, Tyra pulled down 645 rebounds, a mark that has been bettered by only three players in NCAA history. He set the Louisville record for most rebounds in a game when he pulled down 38 against Canisius during the 1955-56 season. In his four seasons with Louisville, he helped teams generate a combined 88-23 record and reach three straight NIT appearances. Tyra ranks fourth in career free throws made (448), second in career rebounding average (17.0), fourth in career scoring average (18.2), ninth in career scorers (1,728 points) and ninth in field goals made (640). Tyra is one of only five players in UofL history to score 40 points or more in a game (achieved against Notre Dame when he hit 12 of 16 field goals and all 16 of his free throw attempts). Tyra passed away on Dec. 29, 2006 at the age of 71.

* There was no formal team in 1916-17. Also, Bowman coached the opening season loss in 1918-19, then turned the team over to Earl Ford.

 Earl Ford was named head coach after the 1918-19 season opener.

 John Dromo suffered a heart attack after nine games in 1970-71 and did not complete his fourth season.

* Assistant Coach Howard Stacey was named interim head coach on Jan. 3, 1971, following John Dromo's heart attack. Stacey served as UofL's head coach for the final 20 games of the 1970-71 season.

Bernard "Peck" Hickman
1944-1967

Before Bernard "Peck" Hickman arrived, UofL had produced only one winning season in its previous nine. Hickman promptly turned the Cardinals' program around, guiding his initial UofL team in 1944 to a 16-3 record and starting a string of 46 consecutive winning seasons for the Cardinals. In 23 seasons at UofL (1944-67), Hickman directed the Cardinals to a 443-183 overall record, a .708 winning percentage that ranks him among the top 45 NCAA Division I coaches of all time.

He never had a team with a losing record, produced eleven 20-win seasons at UofL and averaged over 19 victories a season. He guided the Cardinals to five NCAA Tournament appearances and six NIT appearances. In only his fourth season at UofL, Hickman's Cardinals won the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament (NAIB) in 1948, the school's first national championship. Eight years later, his 1956 team won the NIT championship. He directed UofL to its first NCAA Final Four appearance in 1959.

Hickman took over the administrative responsibilities of serving as UofL's Director of Athletics in 1954. He remained in the dual role of athletic director and head basketball coach until his retirement from coaching in 1967. His .708 winning percentage ranked seventh among active major college coaches when he retired to devote full time to his athletic director duties, a position he held until 1973. He died at the age of 88 on Feb. 20, 2000.

John Dromo
1967-71

John Dromo joined University of Louisville staff as an assistant coach in both football and basketball in 1948, begining the longest coaching tenure in UofL history. He remained an assistant football coach under Frank Camp until 1951, when he gave up football to become the Cardinals' head golf coach. While an assistant for 17 years under Bernard "Peck" Hickman, UofL produced a 359-162 record, won the 1956 NIT Championship, played in five NCAA Tournaments and reached the 1959 NCAA Final Four.

He succeeded Hickman as head coach in 1967, compiling a 68-23 record (.747 winning percentage) in nearly four seasons as UofL's head basketball coach (1967-71). His first UofL team was 21-7, won the Missouri Valley Conference title and went to the NCAA Tournament. A heart attack during the 1970-71 season forced Dromo from continuing as the Cardinals' basketball coach. He died on Sept. 29, 1992 at the age of 76.

Denny Crum
1971-2001

One of the most impressive eras in collegiate basketball came to an end following the 2000-01 season as former UofL Coach Denny Crum retired after 30 seasons with the Cardinals.

The man admirably labeled "Cool Hand Luke" by former commentator Al McGuire was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame on May 9, 1994.

He directed Louisville to the 1980 and the 1986 NCAA Championships, ranking him as one of only 10 coaches in NCAA history to win two or more titles. Six times he guided the Cardinals into the NCAA Final Four, including four times in the decade of the '80s. Only three coaches all-time coached more Final Four teams than Crum.

He directed the Cardinals to 23 NCAA Tournament appearances. Three of his squads participated in the NIT, reaching the NIT semifinals in 1985. The Cardinals captured or shared 12 Metro Conference regular season titles and 11 post-season tournament championships under Crum's guidance. Crum engineered UofL to 20 or more victories in 21 of his 30 seasons.

Crum's 675 victories rank him 15th all-time, holding a 675-295 career record. His NCAA Tournament mark is 42-23. He retired at the conclusion of the 2000-01 season and continued to work as a special assistant to the UofL president for several years. The KFC Yum! Center court has been named in his honor.

Joe Kitchen Memorial Scholarship

The Joe Kitchen Memorial Scholarship is named for one of U of L's most enthusiastic and loyal Cardinal fans. A basketball letterman who played in the late fifties, Kitchen was a rugged frontline performer on the Cardinals' first NCAA Final Four team in 1959. He remained closely tied to Cardinal basketball throughout his life as a fan and booster.

The Joe Kitchen Memorial Scholarship is awarded each year to a senior basketball player who exemplifies excellence in academics, athletics and community involvement. If not presented to an individual, the Joe Kitchen Memorial Scholarship shall be awarded to underprivileged youth of Louisville to allow them to attend a basketball camp and an accompanying enrichment program.

Cardinal Athletic Fund

The Cardinal Athletic Fund was established in 1979 as an avenue for the Athletic Department to be a self sustaining entity. Since then, the commitment and growth of the CAF has been extraordinary.

For over 30 years, the goals and dreams of UofL student-athletes have been made possible by the Cardinal Athletic Fund and over 10,000 gracious supporters. Through our members' annual contributions ranging from $100 to $100,000 and above, UofL student-athletes are provided the opportunity to pursue their academic goals and their athletic dreams, while learning the skills that will prepare them to impact their future communities. Achieving this mission is a tribute to the true spirit of the Cardinal Athletic Fund.

Your membership in the CAF provides you with many exciting benefits. Whether in Papa John's Cardinal Stadium or in the KFC Yum! Center, these benefits will provide you with great value and enhance your overall experience as part of the UofL team.

Information on the Cardinal Athletic Fund can be obtained through our website: www.CardinalAthleticFund.com.

Cardinal Athletic Fund Priority Points

The CAF Priority Point system is a fair and effective way to allocate tickets. The goal of the Priority Point system is to reward those fans who support the program the "longest and the strongest." The CAF utilizes the Priority Point System in the allocation and relocation of home tickets, away tickets, ACC Tournament tickets, NCAA tickets, Bowl Game tickets and parking.

Every donor to the Cardinal Athletic Fund is essential in our mission to support the scholarship needs of UofL student-athletes. The CAF as well as the Cardinal student-athletes greatly appreciate your support.

Priority Points are awarded accordingly;

- One point for every $100 donated to the CAF
- One point for every $100 donated to an individual sport or Capital Campaign
- One point for each year a donation is made
- One point for each year in which football season tickets are purchased
- One point for each year in which basketball season tickets are purchased
- Two points for each year in which season tickets are purchased for women's basketball, volleyball or soccer
- One point for signing up a new Cardinal Athletic Fund member (New member must insert your name in the 'referred by' column on their membership form).

Priority Point Ranking

CAF members earn priority points through a variety of ways including years of giving, season ticket purchases, and donations. CAF members are then ranked against all other members according to their total points. This ranking is used to prioritize benefits such as NCAA Tournament tickets, BIG EAST Tournament tickets, Bowl Tickets, etc. and was used to determine the order basketball season ticket holders selected their seats in the new arena.

Ways To Give

The Cardinal Athletic Fund provides support for the University of Louisville Athletic Department and student-athletes through various avenues, including contributions to the annual fund, endowments, matching gifts and planned giving.

Please be advised under IRS Code Section 170(1) any amount of your donation that results in priority event seating is 80% tax deductible. All other contributions are 100 % tax deductible unless otherwise specified by IRS regulations.

The following are methods of giving and gift destinations:

Gifts of Cash. Cash, checks, VISA, MasterCard and American Express are all acceptable ways to contribute. Please make checks payable to the University of Louisville.

Gifts-in-Kind. In lieu of monetary donations, the CAF may accept certain gifts and services that would otherwise have needed to be purchased. The donor receives a retail credit for the gift/service as well as a deduction. These gifts must have prior approval by the ULAA.

Gifts of Real Estate. A personal or "recreational" residence, a farm or ranch, a commercial building, subdivision lots or an undeveloped parcel of land - gifts of real estate can consist of almost any type of property. Individual financial needs and goals will determine which method of giving real estate is most appropriate for you.

Gifts of Appreciated Securities. Contributions of long term appreciated securities (those held for more than one year) to the Cardinal Athletic Fund eliminate paying a capital gains tax on the securities and entitle you to an income tax charitable deduction equal to the fair market value of the securities at the time the gift is given. This tax advantage allows you to contribute the appreciated securities directly instead of selling them and then giving the net proceeds to the Cardinal Athletic Fund.

Trusts. Options for donating the income of a trust are available and offer substantial tax benefits.

Bequests. A testamentary bequest (i.e. a gift under a will) may be in the form of cash, securities, real estate, tangible personal property or other assets.

Corporate Matching Gifts

Benefits of Matching Gifts

Participation in the corporate matching gifts program is a great way to increase your Cardinal Athletic Fund Donor Level and priority points as well as increase scholarship support for the University of Louisville student-athletes. A matching gift may not be used to pay your annual CAF seat pledge but may be used to supplement your total CAF giving.

The following is a list of companies which have participated in our matching gifts program. This list is not all inclusive and the policy of a company is subject to change, so please be sure to check with your human resources department.

Does My Company Match? To find out your companies policy on corporate matching gifts simply check with your human resources department. The matching gift policies of most corporations can also be found at http://matchfinderonline.blackbaud.com/matchgiftinquiry.aspx?cid=21867. Simply type in your corporation's name to find the corporation's policies.

How do I submit a Matching Gift? Obtain a matching gift form from your human resources department. Then return the completed form with your donation, to the Cardinal Athletic Fund.
