Prior to that, the Cardinals' last home loss was on November 17, 2019 against Boston College in the quarterfinals of the NCAA championship.
- UofL compiled a 7-0 record in the 2020-21 season. Facing a daunting home slate in the COVID-19-altered season, Louisville defeated Duke twice in its opening weekend. The following weekend, UofL defeated two-time defending national champion North Carolina 3-1, halting the Tar Heels' 47-game win streak. Louisville wrapped up the home season with a 2-1 win against 2019 semifinalist Boston College. The Cards defeated No. 14 Virginia in the 2021 spring home opener.
- In 2013, UofL posted a perfect 10-0 record at Trager Stadium, going undefeated at home for the first time in school history.

TRAGER STADIUM FUN FACTS

Louisville's Trager Stadium will be the host site for the ACC Championship in 2025 and the NCAA Division I Field Hockey Championship in 2026.

- In 2022, the Cardinals began play on a brand new turf at Trager Stadium. The new playing surface provides the finishing touch to recent upgrades which include a new state-of-the art video board on the north end of the stadium and secondary scoreboard on the east side. The project was funded through private donations to The New Standard campaign.
- The recently-installed AstroTurf System 90 combines the traditional knitted nylon synthetic turf with a 3/8th inch closed cell pad. The turf and pad system provides high level performance for a fast, non-directional ball roll.
- Trager Stadium has served the host site for six NCAA Division I Championships (2002, 2005, 2008, 2011, 2017, 2018) as well as the NCAA first and second rounds in 2019. Additionally, the facility has showcased three NCAA Division II Championships (2010, 2014, 2017). In 2002, Trager Stadium became the first University of Louisville facility to host a national championship since the 1969 NCAA men's basketball Final Four was held at Freedom Hall.

HOMEGROWN TALENT

The Cardinals' roster features three players who are from the Louisville area: junior Tyler Everslage (Assumption), who was named Miss Field Hockey by the Kentucky Field Hockey Coaches Association in 2022. Sophomore Megan Mauzy, helped Christian Academy to the state title in 2023 and freshman Tatum Bohnert played for 2024 state runner-up Sacred Heart.

NEW FACE ON THE SIDELINE

Cardinal faithful will notice a new face on the sideline this season in associate head coach Mike Pallister. He came to Louisville following two seasons as head coach at Long Island University. In 2024, he led the Sharks to a 7-10 overall record and their first appearance in the Northeast Conference (NEC) tournament semifinals since 2021.

- Pallister is no stranger to ACC field hockey. Prior to his time at LIU, Pallister served as an assistant coach at Syracuse University from 2021 to 2022. During his tenure, the Orange made back-to-back NCAA Elite Eight appearances and produced nine All-ACC and seven All-American honorees.
- From 2011 to 2018, Pallister was an assistant coach at Princeton University. In that span, the Tigers earned eight consecutive NCAA tournament bids, including three Final Four appearances and a national championship in 2012. That title-winning season saw the team go 21-1. He coached seven Olympians, 24 Junior National Team members, and 17 NCAA All-Americans during his time in New Jersey.

ACC STRONG

- The ACC has won 16 NCAA field hockey championships in the past 23 years. The ACC also boasts an NCAA-record 23 total national championships in the sport. North Carolina holds the NCAA record with 11 national championships, including back-to-back titles.
- Including the 2024 NCAA Tournament, the ACC has placed at least one team among the NCAA final four for the 35 of the last 36 years. Additionally, 48 of the last 88 teams to reach the national semifinals have been ACC teams.

LOOKING BACK

In a rebuilding year following the graduation of seven veterans, the 2024 UofL field hockey team posted a 6-11 overall record and a 1-7 mark in ACC play. Fifth-year senior Aimee Plumb earned All-ACC honors and was joined by Izzy Bianco on the NFHCA All-West Region team. Plumb went on to earn her third NFHCA All-America nod to cap her career.

LEADERS IN THE CLASSROOM

Louisville field hockey wrapped up the 2025 spring semester with a 3.81 grade point average marking the 29th consecutive semester with a collective GPA of 3.0 or above, dating back to the 2011 spring term.

- Nine student-athletes posted a perfect 4.0 GPA while 24 were named to the Athletic Director's Honor Roll and 21 to the NFHCA Academic Squad.
