WHAT IS A CHANTICLEER?

Chanticleer (SHON-ti-cleer) gives Coastal Carolina University one of the most unique nicknames in all of sports. Chanticleer comes from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales and came to Coastal when the University was a member of the University of South Carolina system.

Chanticleer is a rooster who rules the barnyard with cunning and wit. His competitiveness never wanes as he battles to the end, using his brains to come out on top every time.

2006 Season Outlook

The 2006 season is one of great hope and expectations for the Coastal Carolina University softball team. The team returns 15 letterwinners, including eight of the regular position players and its entire pitching staff from a year ago, and adds depth to the roster with six talented newcomers. With the amount of talented players returning and a core group of eight seniors as leaders, it's easy to see why the Lady Chanticleers are excited for the 2006 season to arrive.

"As I evaluate my team this season, I see a focused group of players," head coach Jess Dannelly said. "Bringing back so many experienced players from last year's team has brought an additional focus. The players have set some personal and team goals and have come in ready to play from the first day of practice in the fall and in the early part of the spring.

"We, as a coaching staff, are having to do less re-teaching and its allowed us to hit the ground running," Dannelly explained. "The players have done their preseason conditioning and lifting to ready themselves for the season, so we are starting at point B instead of point A.

"My feeling is if we stay healthy this season, especially in the circle, we can be a very strong team," Dannelly continued. "I feel one of the keys is the fact we will be having the same pitching coach this season as last year. The rapport and the routine that was developed last year will carry over to this year. The players have faith in her, and she has faith in them. I can already see it making a difference in practice, and I'm confident it will carry over to the games."

Besides a strong experienced pitching staff, Coastal also returns eight regular starters from last year's team plus all of its key reserves. The bench may hold the key to what Coastal does this season.

"We have eight positions that have starters returning, not including our pitching staff," Dannelly said. "Depth wise, we are in a unique position of having not only starters but an experienced, versatile bench and newcomers that have fit right in with what we are doing here at Coastal. Defensively I think we are a solid team all the way around. I feel we have good overall team speed that will give us the opportunity of running on teams. This year it will come down to scoring runs, and I think we are in line to have a great offensive year with the experience that was gained last year. If all these factors come together, I foresee us having a great year."

With that in mind, let's meet the 2006 Coastal Carolina softball team.

Pitching

There is an old saying that pitching and defense wins championships. If this is the case, Coastal Carolina is in great shape as it has five pitchers on staff with college experience. The Lady Chants have all four regular pitchers from last year back as well as a healthy Christine Doyle. The 2003 Big South Freshman of the Year returns after sitting out most of the last two seasons with injuries. Brittany Nelson, the staff ace the last two years, returns for what is hoped to be a memorable senior campaign. Nelson led the team in wins, innings pitched and strikeouts last year. Fellow senior Meagen Johnson, who was a First Team All-Big South selection as a designated hitter and an All-Big South All-Tournament selection as a pitcher a year ago, will spend time in the circle. Johnson had a team-best earned run average in 2005. Also returning are the most improved pitchers on the staff from last year, juniors Danyelle Gerdts and Trish Kretchman.

"The most improved pitcher on the team is Danyelle," Dannelly stated. "She is throwing the ball exceptionally well as is Trish. All my pitchers have really improved their changeups. Having Christine back and throwing well gives us a weapon that we didn't have last year. Meagen really came around and did a great job on the mound in the last few weeks of the regular season and Big South Tournament last year. Brittany is our most steady pitcher and is back throwing well this year.

"The great part about having five pitchers that all can throw well is it gives us the sort of flexibility that is necessary to be a successful team," Dannelly commented. "I don't have a set pitching rotation and having this many quality arms allows me the luxury of matching up against any of our given opponents this year."

Infield

The entire Coastal Carolina starting infield returns from a year ago with more experience and strength both up the middle and on the corners. Back to anchor the group is two-time All-Big South selection senior third baseman Sara Hostetler. Hostetler was among the league and team leaders in most offensive categories while providing a steady influence on defense. At the other corner infield spot is junior first baseman Kimberly Cillis, who was named Second Team All-Big South a year ago.

Last year's double play combo of sophomores Ashley Gerdts and Allison Cantrell return for a second go around. Cantrell, who was the regular at second base in 2005, led the team in hits and batting average while Gerdt's, last year's starting shortstop, was among the team leaders in home runs.

Adding depth and pushing for playing time on the infield this season will be seniors Irene Finley, Brittany Nelson and Meagen Johnson. junior Kristina Sheppard, and freshmen Brittany Birnbaum and Kelsey Riffel.

"We should be solid on the infield," Dannelly said. "With Hostetler back at third and Cillis at first we should be set at the corners. Cantrell and Gerdt's have come a long way from the end of last season both offensively and defensively. Behind Cillis we have a group of players that are capable of playing first base in Johnson, Nelson, Birnbaum, Finley and Sheppard. Sheppard gives us depth at all the infield positions, and Finley is a good defensive second baseman."

Catching

With three catchers, depth behind the plate could be a plus this season. Seniors Kelly Feely and Lynee Hastings have split time behind the plate the last three seasons and Coastal welcomes in junior transfer Glynn Tolleson to the mix. All three catchers have shown that they can handle a pitching staff with each bringing something unique to the dish. Freshman Candra Witt is a tremendous hitter that is only going to get better behind the plate with more experience.

"The catching situation is to be determined," Dannelly explained. "I have all the faith in the world that Kelly can do it. She has been our primary catcher for the last two years, so I'm confident she has the stamina that is necessary to last the entire season. But I also know that her batting average was affected last year when she was not fresh. Lynee has improved her throwing from last year and with Glynn coming in, it's going to be an interesting race to see who our catcher is this season."

Outfield

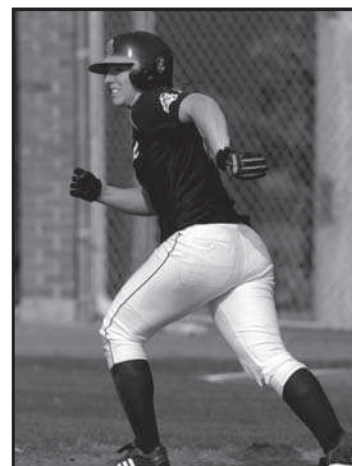

The outfield is one of the most competitive positions on the team.

The Lady Chants return five players that saw regular playing time in the outfield last season. Senior Katey Allen is expected to return to centerfield this season after being limited last season with injuries. Junior Danyelle Gerdts will receive significant playing time in the outfield. Also expected to see action are juniors Carla Hood, Glynn Tolleson and Kristina Sheppard with freshmen Whitney Gibson, Brittany Birnbaum, Kelsey Riffel and senior Kelly Feely also in the mix.

"When Danyelle is not on the mound she will be out in the outfield," the 19th-year head coach commented. "Katey will be in the mix to be a starter this season. Kristina is a strong candidate to start somewhere, along with Kelly when she is not behind the plate. The injury to outfielder Erika Trujillo in the fall has opened the door to having Kelsey, Brittany or Whitney get significant playing time. This additional depth in the outfield will give us a capable bench with less designated starters and more players that can be used in situations."

2006 Schedule

Six in-season tournaments, 31 home games at the CCU Softball Field, and 13 games against 2005 NCAA Tournament teams highlight the 2006 Coastal Carolina softball schedule.

The Chanticleers will begin the season hosting their first tournament of the season, Feb 10-11. Coastal welcomes in Illinois State and #3 Tennessee, which advanced all the way to the Women's College World Series, and finished third nationally.

Coastal then heads to the road to play in the Triangle Classic, where it takes on Minnesota, Toledo and North Carolina Feb. 17-19. The Chants return home to host its second tournament of the season, with Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh and Minnesota on the docket Feb. 24-26.

A trip to the Crimson Classic in Tuscaloosa, Ala., to take on Drake, Ohio State and #6 Alabama, March 3-5, highlights the second road tournament of the season. USC Upstate comes to Conway for a doubleheader, March 7, before Coastal heads to Clearwater, Fla., to play in the USF-Adidas Spring Break Invitational, March 9-12.

The Chants starts conference play with a twin bill against the Big South's representative in the NCAA Tournament a season ago, Texas A&M-Corpus Christi, March 17, in Conway, S.C.

The Chants begin its longest and last home stand of season from April 13-26. Among the teams to be played are South Carolina, College of Charleston, UNC Wilmington and conference foes Charleston Southern, Liberty and Radford.

CCU finishes the 2006 regular season as it travels to Rock Hill, S.C. to take on the host Winthrop Eagles in doubleheader, May 7. The Big South Tournament, which is in Radford, Va., is set to take place May 11-13.

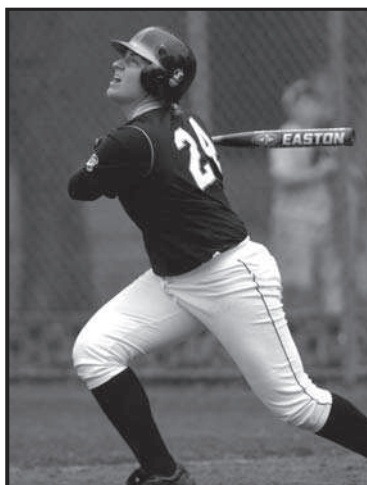

"The schedule is strong," Dannelly commented. "Our RPI will probably end up in the top-75, which is good since it will give us an outside chance, if we don't reach our goal of winning the conference tournament, of receiving an at-large bid into the Women College World Series. I'm not counting on it. I'm depending on us reaching our goal of winning the conference and 40 or more games."

In the end, the competition that is most on the mind of the 2006 Lady Chants is the Big South Conference.

"I think any of five teams can win the conference this season," Dannelly stated. "Winthrop lost a few key seniors from last year but still brings back sophomore Stephanie Reid and are a talented, well-coached team. Radford brings back most of its pitching staff and lineup from last season. Liberty returns reigning Big South Conference Softball Player of the Year Jessica Moore and Birmingham-Southern always does a terrific job of competing."

"The conference gets better every year because everyone in the conference is beginning to schedule tougher teams outside of the league play," Dannelly concluded. "Any time you play better competition you have to adapt and raise your own level of play. Any of those teams in the Big South can beat you on any given day, but I'm still confident that if we play to our capabilities, we can match up with any of those teams. Our goal is and always will be to win the conference. If we do that, everything else after that is gravy."

HEAD COACH JESS DANNELLY

Jess Dannelly is entering his 19th season at the helm of the Lady Chanticleer's softball program and is in his 13th year as Associate Director of Athletics at Coastal Carolina University. During his tenure, Dannelly has led the Lady Chants to four Big South Conference Championships and trips to the 1998, 2000, and 2001 NCAA Regionals. With his 574-410 (.583) career record, he is Coastal Carolina's all-time winningest coach in any sport and ranks 30th among active NCAA softball coaches in victories and 61st in winning percentage. Dannelly recorded his 500th career victory at Coastal Carolina on March 11, 2003, when the Lady Chanticleers downed Monmouth at CCU Softball Field, 2-1.

In addition to the great overall career record, Dannelly has also posted a 144-72 (.666) mark against teams from the Big South Conference. Entering the 2006 season, the Dannelly-led Lady Chants have placed 19 players on NCAA's All-Region teams, 82 players on Big South All-Conference teams and 55 players on Big South All-Tournament teams.

During his career, Dannelly has been named the Big South Conference Coach of the Year six times and had the NFCA Regional Coaching Staff of the Year in 2000. In addition to the 1998, 2000, and 2001 NCAA Tournament teams, Coastal's 1994 team is known as perhaps the best team to have ever played in the Big South Conference. That team posted a 44-15 record on the season, broke or tied 54 individual or team records and sported the NCAA Academic Athlete of the Year, the Big South Conference Player of the Year, Rookie of the Year, four all-conference players and three NCAA All-South Region players. Also off of that team came Sara Graziano, who went on to star with several teams in the Women's Professional Softball League.

In 1998, Coastal Carolina earned its first trip to an NCAA Regional by sweeping through the Big South Conference Tournament and then defeating Florida A&M in consecutive extra inning games in the best two-of-three play-in series. The Lady Chants were two and out in the NCAA Regional in Lincoln, Nebraska, falling to the fifth-ranked Cornhuskers and Oregon.

After losing in the Big South Conference championship game in 1999, Dannelly's squad was poised for the 2000 season. That season not only saw Dannelly reach the 400-win plateau, but it also saw the Lady Chanticleers program reach yet another level. The squad, which completed the season with a 37-28 overall record, not only won the program's third Big South Conference title and advanced to its second NCAA Regional, but the Lady Chants became the first female team in any sport in the Big South Conference to earn a victory in an NCAA Championship event. Coastal traveled to the NCAA Region 5 tournament in Tempe, Arizona, and eliminated #21 Florida Atlantic and Penn State before Arizona State scored a 2-1 come-from-behind victory to end the Lady Chants season. The run at the NCAA Regional gained the Coastal Carolina program much national attention and a ranking of 29th in the nation in the final NFCA poll.

The 2001 season proved to be a roller coaster of a season and the chances for a third trip to the NCAA Regionals in four seasons appeared bleak. Coastal Carolina dropped five of its final eight regular season games, but entered the Big South Tournament winning the final two games by a combined 13-1 margin. The offensive pressure continued in tournament action as Dannelly rallied his squad for three consecutive victories, outscoring the opposition 21-6. After making the cross-country trek to Los Angeles, California, the Lady Chants fell to second-ranked UCLA and lost a heartbreaker to #17 Fresno State.

Dannelly first came to Coastal in 1984 as an assistant baseball coach on the then-head coach Bobby Richardson's staff. Following the 1984 season, he left Coastal to coach high school baseball for one season, but returned to Coastal to resume his assistant coaching duties with the baseball team prior to the 1986 season. He held that position until 1988, when he accepted the head coaching position of the Lady Chanticleers' softball program.

Dannelly attended USC-Salkehatchie from 1970 to 1972 and graduated from the University of South Carolina in 1974 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Health and Physical Education. He returned to USC-Salkehatchie as the head baseball coach in 1975 and posted a 273-214 (.561) record over nine seasons.

He and his wife, Wendy, live in Conway and have two sons, McKewn and Travis.

She was a three-year letterwinner at BYU from 1999-2003, including serving as captain for the 2002-03 season. Lockett was the 2001 Big South Conference Player of the Year and Tournament MVP, as she led Coastal to its second consecutive league title and NCAA Regional. Named a CoSIDA Division I Academic All-American First Team member and the 2000 and 2001 Big South Conference Softball Scholar-Athlete of the Year, she currently shares the single-season home run record for CCU at 15 and, in just three years of play, ranks in the top 10 in career home runs, batting average, hits, doubles, runs scored, runs batted in and on-base percentage.

Lockett returns to Coastal after having been a graduate assistant coach for two years at Kennesaw State after wrapping up her collegiate playing career there as a NFCA Division II All-American player during the 2001-02 season. She also has extensive international softball experience, having played for the national teams for Australia and Great Britain.

For more than 20 years, the Big South Conference has been a progressive, NCAA Division I athletic conference reflecting the energy and growth of the Southeastern United States. Founded in 1983, the Big South has matured into a competitive leader in college athletics, actively pursuing excellence both on the field of play and in the classroom. Based in Charlotte, N.C., the Big South Conference's growing presence as an NCAA Division I athletic league is evident by competitive success on the national stage, innovative marketing and media partnerships, increased football and basketball television packages, the enhancement of the quality of the student-athlete experience, and strategic planning that will carry the Big South Conference throughout the 21st Century.

Now in its 22nd year of existence, the Big South Conference is emerging, providing quality athletic competition while intentionally fostering the academic, personal, social and athletic development of each student-athlete. The League consists of nine member institutions: Birmingham-Southern College, Charleston Southern University, Coastal Carolina University, High Point University, Liberty University, UNC Asheville, Radford University, Virginia Military Institute and Winthrop University, while its geographic breakdown features Alabama (1 member), North Carolina (2), South Carolina (3) and Virginia (3). Gardner-Webb University is an associate member in football.

In the Fall of 2002, the Big South welcomed the addition of football as a Conference sport, bringing the number of Division I championship programs the Big South sponsors to 18. The League sponsors nine championship sports for men: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, soccer, indoor/outdoor track, and tennis, as well as nine for women: basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, indoor/outdoor track and volleyball. Again this year, Big South champions in men's and women's basketball, men's and women's soccer, volleyball, men's and women's golf, baseball, softball, men's and women's tennis and men's and women's track & field will receive automatic bids to NCAA Championships.

The Big South continues to secure aggressive television packages, making the Conference one of the leaders among all Division I Leagues in television exposure for its student-athletes. During the 2004-05 season, a League-record six football games were televised, men's and women's basketball had several regular-season games broadcast in addition to the tournament semifinals and finals, and Big South baseball was televised for the first time in League history. Entering this season, the 2006 Advance Auto Parts Men's Basketball Championship game will once again air on ESPN2 as part of the network's "Championship Week" programming. The Conference also boasts relationships with FSN South, Comcast SportsNet (CSN), Comcast Sports Southeast (CSS), College Sports Television (CSTV), Fox College Sports (FCS), and ESPNU. In addition, the Big South Television Network (BSTN) will again air football and basketball games to local affiliates throughout the region.

The Big South enjoyed its finest athletic season to date in 2004-05, as evident by several "firsts" in League annals. Former Gardner-Webb standout Jim Maxwell was the first Big South player to play in the NFL; Liberty's Josh McDougal was the League's first cross country All-American; Winthrop's Mary Hock was the Big South's first volleyball All-American; Gardner-Webb's Harold Wells was the Conference's first consensus All-American in football; Liberty became the first Big South basketball team – men's or women's – to win an NCAA first round game and reached the Sweet 16; a record four student-athletes earned All-America honors in indoor track & field; Liberty's Katie Feenstra was the first Big South player ever drafted in the WNBA; Coastal Carolina's men's golf team became the first Big South squad to qualify for the national golf championship; Coastal Carolina's baseball team earned the League's first No. 1 seed in the NCAA's; a record 16 players were selected in the MLB Draft, including three in the second round; and a League-high 22 student-athletes earned All-America honors.

Last year's academic success mirrored the on-field achievements. Nine student-athletes earned Academic All-America accolades, including three first-team selections, while 23 were named Academic All-District. In football, four players were named to the 36-member I-AA Athletics Directors Association Academic All-Star Team, the Big South's largest representation on the national team in its three-year football history. In addition, 50.7% of the Conference's student-athletes achieved at least a 3.0 grade point average in 2004-05 and were named to the Big South's Presidential Honor Roll.

In celebrating its 20th anniversary in 2003-04, the Big South inducted its inaugural Hall of Fame class, which included 11 former student-athletes and administrators who were an integral part in the Big South's early development and vitality. The Hall of Fame now stands at 20 members, as five more individuals were inducted in the Spring of 2005. In addition to the Big South's athletic accomplishments, the League also recognizes and honors academic excellence. Each year, the Presidential Honor Roll and the George A. Christenberry Awards honor student-athletes' outstanding work in the classroom. The Christenberry Award recognizes student-athletes graduating with a 4.0 grade point average. Furthermore, the Conference's Sports Information Directors annually select a Scholar-Athlete in each Conference sport, plus a male and female Scholar-Athlete of the Year. The League's outreach program includes a community day, at which select student-athletes help a local charity, such as Habitat for Humanity.

The Conference was formed on August 21, 1983, when Charleston Southern (then Baptist College) Athletic Director Howard Bagwell and Augusta President George Christenberry initially began recruiting members into the Big South. One month later, Dr. Edward M. Singleton was selected as the League's first Commissioner and continued to solicit new members. The League's seven charter members were Armstrong State, Augusta, Campbell, Charleston Southern, Coastal Carolina, Radford and Winthrop. In 1989, George F. "Buddy" Sasser replaced the retiring Dr. Singleton as Commissioner. Under Sasser's leadership, the Conference implemented its public relations and compliance programs, and introduced its first-ever men's basketball television package, featuring the Big South competing among some of the finest teams in the nation. Sasser was so integral to the growth and foundation of the League that in 2000, the Commissioner's Cup — the annual award given to the institution with the most successful athletic year — was renamed the George F. Sasser Cup.

In 1996, Kyle B. Kallander replaced Sasser, who would continue to serve the League as Director of Athletics at Coastal Carolina until his retirement in 1999. During his nine-year tenure, Kallander has been instrumental in aggressively promoting the Conference, including the development of the Big South Marketing Group, which has resulted in increased revenues and exposure for the Conference and its members. He also brought television coverage to Big South women's basketball and baseball for the first in Conference history, created the Big South Television Network in 2001 — which enjoyed a League-high 18 affiliates in 2004-05, and was the driving force behind the formation of the Big South Hall of Fame. Under Kallander's leadership, the Big South developed and initiated its first long-range strategic plan, reaffirming the League's vision as a distinctive athletic Conference committed to the quality of institutional life through athletic competition. In addition, Kallander has solidified membership with the addition of High Point in 1999, Birmingham-Southern in 2000 and Virginia Military Institute in 2003.

Directions to Coastal Carolina University

FROM I-95

From the South, take Highway 327 exit to SC Hwy. 76/301. Turn left onto Hwy. 76/301. This will become Hwy. 576 and then Hwy. 501. After passing through Conway, turn right at the second stop light (approx. 2 miles) into the entrance of Coastal Carolina University. You are now on College Road. Kimbel Arena (basketball/volleyball), Charles L. Watson Baseball Stadium, and the Football/Soccer Stadium are visible on the right from College Road. To get to the Softball Field or the Track & Field Complex, turn right onto Chanticleer Drive after passing Kimbel Arena and before getting to the Baseball Stadium.

From the North, take the "South of the Border" exit (IMPOSSIBLE to miss). Follow signs to Myrtle Beach and this will lead you to Highway 501. Then follow the directions above.

FROM HIGHWAY 17

Follow Highway 17 Bypass to Highway 501 (Conway exit). At this point, you are approx. eight miles from campus. You will pass the stoplight at Conway Hospital and then pass a Food Lion shopping center (on left). Just after passing Horry-Georgetown Technical College (on left), take the next left into the entrance of Coastal Carolina University. See directions above to find athletic facilities.
