OPENING DRIVE

- The Lions return home for the first of two consecutive home games when Dartmouth comes to the Big Apple for Columbia's annual Homecoming game.
- Columbia came back from a 17-point deficit to earn a 28-27 victory at Penn last Friday.
- First-year wide receiver Bryce Coleman was named Ivy League Rookie of the Week for the second consecutive week and third time this season. On Wednesday, Stats Perform also named him to the Jerry Rice Award Watch List.
- Sophomore MD Awe leads the nation with 2.0 passes defended per game and was named to the Phil Steele Mid-Season All-America Fourth Team.
- AJ George was named Ivy League Defensive Player of the Week.

A COLUMBIA WIN WOULD...

- Break a four-game losing streak on Homecoming.
- Snap a four-game losing streak against the Big Green.
- Be the first victory over Dartmouth at home since 2016.

TEAM NOTES

PENN LEFTOVERS

- Columbia held the Quakers to just 72 rushing yards, the lowest total for the Lions' defense this season.
- The Lions picked off four passes, which led to 14 points in the victory.
- AJ George led the defense with eight tackles, two tackles for loss, a sack and an interception.
- Senior linebacker and co-captain Charlie Newton made his season debut after missing the first four games of the season due to injury.

LIONS ON HOMECOMING

Saturday marks the 85th edition of Columbia Homecoming. The Lions are 26-57-1 overall and 14-28 at Wien Stadium. The Quakers are the Lions' most common Homecoming opponent with 21 prior matchups. Columbia has drawn over 10,000 fans in 11 of the last 13 seasons.

GAME 6 | COLUMBIA VS. DARTMOUTH | OCTOBER 24, 2026

SERIES HISTORY

- Saturday marks the 95th meeting between Columbia and Dartmouth all-time. The series started in 1899 with a 22-0 Columbia win.
- The Big Green lead the series 74-20 after a 49-3 loss at Buddy Teevens Stadium in 2025.
- Saturday will be the 46th game of the series played in New York City.

JON POPPE

PATRICIA & SHEPARD ALEXANDER HEAD COACH OF FOOTBALL
THIRD SEASON
WILLIAMS '07

Jon Poppe was named the 22nd Patricia and Shepard Alexander Head Coach of Football at Columbia University in December 2023 and made an immediate impact in his first season. He led the Lions to a 7-3 overall record—their best since 2017—and a 5-2 Ivy League mark to claim a share of the conference title. It was Columbia's first Ivy League Championship since 1961.

The seven wins were the most by a first-year head coach at Columbia since 1899, and the five Ivy League victories were a program record for a rookie head coach. Under Poppe's leadership, a school-record 14 Lions earned All-Ivy League honors. Additionally, defensive back Hayden McDonald became the first All-American since 2019, having been selected by five different publications and organizations.

Columbia earned its first win over a ranked opponent since 2015 and its first over a top-15 team since 1995, defeating No. 14/18 Lafayette in the season opener. The Lions received votes in the national top-25 polls for seven weeks and were named the Stats Perform National FCS Team of the Week following the upset of the Leopards.

Poppe's success earned him national recognition as a finalist for the Eddie Robinson Award, presented to the nation's top FCS head coach. His staff was also named Ivy League Coaching Staff of the Year.

Before returning to Columbia, Poppe served as head coach at Union College in 2023, guiding the Garnet Chargers to a 10-2 record, a Liberty League title, and a trip to the second round of the NCAA Division III Tournament. He coached 15 All-Liberty League honorees, and his team ranked eighth nationally in scoring defense, averaging over 32 points per game offensively.

Poppe has more than a decade of Ivy League coaching experience. He previously served as Columbia's secondary coach and recruiting coordinator from 2015-17, helping the Lions to their best season in decades in 2017 (8-2). During that time, Columbia's defense led the Ivy League in interceptions and pass defense, with seven defensive backs earning All-Ivy honors.

He also spent nine seasons at Harvard (2011-14, 2017-22) coaching the secondary and special teams. Under his guidance, Harvard's defense consistently ranked among the best in FCS. In 2022, the Crimson ranked third nationally in blocked punts and fourth in blocked kicks. Poppe was honored as the FBS/FCS Assistant Coach of the Year by the Gridiron Club of Greater Boston in 2021 after leading a Harvard defense that topped the nation in rushing defense and ranked third in interceptions.

Earlier in his career, Poppe coached at Holy Cross, Springfield College, and King's College (Pa.). He is a 2007 graduate of Williams College, where he was a three-year starter in the secondary. As a senior, he earned All-East Region honors and first-team All-NESCAC recognition while helping Williams to a perfect 8-0 season.

JOHN TONER PLAYER OF THE GAME

Since 2009, Columbia has awarded the John Toner Homecoming Player of the Game. Toner was a former assistant coach under Aldo "Buff" Donelli, who led the Lions to the 1961 Ivy League title. Last season, quarterback Caleb Sanchez earned the honor, going 26 of 46 for 300 yards and two touchdowns.

COLUMBIA/DARTMOUTH CONNECTIONS

Dartmouth wide receivers coach Todd Gilcrist served in the same role at Columbia from 2015-19 under Al Bagnoli.

COMEBACK KIDS

The Lions have had to come back in three of their four victories this season, all on the road.

- Columbia trailed 17-10 heading into the fourth quarter at Georgetown and tied the game early in the final frame before Hugo Merry knocked in a 25-yard field goal to win it in overtime.
- Columbia scored 20 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to erase a 28-21 deficit at Marist.
- Trailing 24-7 in the second quarter at Penn, the Lions used two scores before the half to spark a rally and went ahead with 6:41 left in regulation to cap the comeback in a 28-27 win.

ROAD WARRIORS

Columbia is 3-0 on the road this season and has won four straight road games for the first time since the end of the 2017 season and the start of the 2018 season.

YOUTH MOVEMENT

Columbia saw 19 student-athletes make their career debuts against Lafayette, marking a new era for the program. Of that group, 17 were either first-years or sophomores, and six new offensive linemen got their feet wet against the Leopards.

This week's depth chart features 21 underclassmen. Columbia is projected to start seven sophomores, with 11 more listed as backups.

Additionally, first-years Bryce Coleman and Rocco Costello will start at wide receiver and right guard, respectively. Fellow rookies Gavin Barth (wide receiver), Austin Baird (defensive back) and CJ Willingham (kickoff returner) are also listed on the depth chart.

LIONS IN PRIMETIME

Columbia won both of its Friday night games this season after going 0-4 in 2025. The Lions are 11-23 all-time when playing night games. On Fridays, Columbia is just 5-13.

NON-CONFERENCE ROARING

Columbia went 3-0 in non-conference play for the fifth time in the previous seven years after knocking off Lafayette, Georgetown and Marist in the early portion of the season. The Lions are 23-7 in their last 30 non-conference contests.

NEWTON NAMED SEMIFINALIST FOR CAMPBELL TROPHY

Senior linebacker Charlie Newton was named a semifinalist for the William V. Campbell Trophy on September 23. The National Football Foundation awards it to the American college football player with the best combination of academics, community service, and on-field performance. Many consider it the "Academic Heisman" and have nicknamed it as such. Newton was third on the squad with 62 tackles last season and holds a +4.0 GPA at Columbia's Fu Foundation School of Engineering & Applied Sciences.

THE CAPTAINS

Newton and junior defensive back Caleb Solomon were named team captains ahead of the 2026 season. Newton has played in all 30 games throughout his career at linebacker. Solomon anchored the secondary as a sophomore last season, with 73 tackles, 1 interception and 2 forced fumbles.

STARTING ON THE RIGHT FOOT

Columbia has won seven of its last nine season openers, dating back to 2017 and is 3-0 when debuting at home during that span.

FOUR GETTING CALL TO THE HALL

Football will induct four new members of the Columbia Hall of Fame when it inducts the Class of 2026 on October 22.

Leading the class is William V. Campbell, one of the most influential figures in Columbia Athletics' history. A former Columbia football student-athlete and head coach, Campbell earned All-Ivy League honors as an offensive lineman before returning to coach the Lions from 1974-79. Beyond athletics, Campbell became one of Silicon Valley's most respected executives and mentors, serving as chairman of Intuit and a longtime Apple board member. Campbell remained a passionate supporter of Columbia until his passing in 2016, and the University's athletics department now bears his name through the Campbell Family Director of Athletics position and the Campbell Sports Center at the Baker Athletics Complex.

Jeff Adams '12CC, a former standout offensive lineman with a six-year NFL career, and Tom Vasell '62CC, the quarterback of Columbia's 1961 Ivy League Championship squad, will join other Lion greats. Additionally, former head coach Al Bagnoli was selected after guiding Columbia to 35 wins from 2015-22, the most in eight years for the program.

THE INJURY REPORT

Columbia will be without three starters, who are dealing with season-ending injuries.

- Senior wide receiver Titus Evans was hurt during spring practice and will not be back this season. Evans led the squad with 46 receptions for 584 yards and a touchdown in 2025.
- Junior starting linebacker Liam Donagher suffered a season-ending injury in Columbia's season-opener against Lafayette on September 19.
- Sophomore starting defensive end Austin Coronado was injured in Week 3 against Princeton and will not return in 2026.

IVY LEAGUE ADDING BYE WEEK IN 2027

On September 14, the Ivy League football announced it will institute a bye week as part of its regular-season schedule, beginning in 2027.

For the 2027 season, league games originally scheduled for Week 6 – the first week featuring Ivy vs. Ivy competition exclusively – will instead be played in Week 1 on Sept. 11. The league-wide bye week will take place the weekend of Oct. 23. Next season, Columbia will open its campaign at Dartmouth.

Options for implementing the bye week beyond the 2027 season will continue to be discussed throughout the upcoming year.

GAME NOTES: OFFENSE

CHASE IS ON THE CASE

Senior Chase Goodwin leads the Ivy League in passing yards (1,489), a career high and completions (122). His 297.8 yards per game are No. 2 in the FCS, while his 24.4 completions per game are also No. 4 nationally.

He has thrown for over 300 yards twice this year, including 25-of-39 for a career-high 367 yards and two touchdowns in Columbia's win over Lafayette. Goodwin's 35 completions were the most for a Columbia quarterback since Craig Hormann in 2007.

Goodwin is in eighth place with 26 career passing touchdowns after three last week at Penn. He also ranks fourth in career completion percentage (58.0 percent), No. 10 in passing yards (3,645) and No. 11 in completions (311). He is just the 14th Lions quarterback to eclipse 3,000 career yards.

He has started 17 games over the past three seasons and also saw action in five games in 2023, serving as the Lions' short-yardage QB.

INSTANT IMPACT

Wide receiver Bryce Coleman was named to the Jerry Rice Award Watch List, which Stats Perform gives to the most outstanding freshman in NCAA FCS. He has also been named Ivy League Rookie of the Week three times.

- Coleman leads the team with 453 receiving yards, which is second in the Ivy League. His 90.6 per game is No. 8 in FCS.
- His eight touchdowns rank No. 4 in the nation and are a Columbia first-year record.
- The Los Angeles native is just the third player in program history to have a receiving TD in five consecutive games (Josh Wainwright from 2016-17 and Bill Reggio in 1982).

GRIFFIN ON THE GROUND

Senior running back Griffin Johnson is third in the Ivy League with 486 rushing yards. He recorded three consecutive 100-yard rushing games, becoming the first Columbia running back to do so since Jonathan Reese in 2000.

He closed 2025 with 203 yards in the season finale against Cornell, racked up 124 yards in Week 1 against Lafayette and added 121 more at Georgetown.

Against Penn, Johnson became the 25th Columbia running back to reach 1,000 career yards and comes into the weekend ranked No. 22 on the Lions' all-time rushing list.

SPREADING THE WEALTH

Columbia's quarterbacks have done a great job distributing the ball through five games. At least five different players have caught the ball in all three games, including a season-high nine catches from different targets against Princeton.

HOLD THE LINE

Columbia's offensive line has been a bright spot, even with three first-year students at center and right tackle. The Lions are rushing for 122.2 yards per game and controlling the clock, holding the ball an average of 33:11, which is fourth in the FCS.

GREATEST SHOW ON BROADWAY

Columbia's offense has exploded early in the season, averaging 420.4 yards per game, second in the Ivy League and No. 24 in the FCS. Columbia posted 524 yards of offense in its win over Lafayette, the fourth-highest single-game mark in program history. It was the team's first 500-yard performance since the Lions put up 515 yards against Brown in 2018.

IF I COULD BE LIKE MIKE

Running back Michael Walters set the program's rookie rushing record with 534 yards last season. He earned Ivy League Rookie of the Week honors after posting a career-high 123 yards on 27 carries against Brown and led the team in rushing seven times in the eight games he played.

THE SANCHIZE

Junior quarterback Caleb Sanchez has started two games in each of the last two seasons. He posted a career day against Penn on Homecoming last season, completing 26-of-46 passes for 300 yards and two touchdowns. To close out the 2024 season, he led Columbia to two wins and helped the Lions clinch their Ivy League title. He was the Ancient Eight's Rookie of the Week on Nov. 25 after the 17-9 win over Cornell, where he went 11-of-19 for 221 yards, a passing touchdown and a rushing score. His 12-for-27, 241-yard performance at Brown also kept Columbia in the title hunt in the season's penultimate game.

CALLING THE PLAYS

Columbia's offensive coordinator, Seitu Smith, is no stranger to the Ivy League. After coaching stops at Yale and Dartmouth, he played wide receiver and kick returner at Harvard. Smith has won seven Ivy League titles as a player or coach.

GAME NOTES: DEFENSE

IN AWE

Sophomore cornerback MD Awe was named to the Phil Steele Mid-Season All-America Fourth Team on October 16. Awe has nine pass breakups, an interception and 17 tackles.

GIMME THAT

Columbia has forced six turnovers in the last two games after going two weeks without any. Against Marist, the Lions had two strip sacks. Jonah Walker posted his first career sack, which was returned 44 yards for a touchdown, and Julius Patton forced a turnover, recovered it and led to the go-ahead touchdown in the fourth quarter. The Lions followed that up with four interceptions, which led to 14 points in the win at Penn. Columbia has posted two takeaways in three games this season.

BY GEORGE

Senior AJ George has stepped into a starting linebacker role for the Lions and leads the squad with 32 tackles, including four for a loss. In the win over Penn, he posted a team-high eight tackles, a sack and an interception to earn Ivy League Defensive Player of the Week honors. He has takeaways in two consecutive games after recovering a fumble and taking it 44 yards for a touchdown at Marist.

PATTERSON STEPPING UP

Junior Keller Patterson has been a disruptive force at defensive tackle for the Lions. He has at least one tackle for a loss in three of the five games this season. Against Princeton, Patterson posted his first career multi-sack game with 1.5 and registered a career-high six tackles. He matched his personal best in tackles at Penn, helping the Lions hold the Quakers to 72 yards on the ground.

HANS SOLO-MON

Junior Caleb Solomon led the defense with 10 tackles in Columbia's win over Lafayette for his second career double-digit tackle game. At Penn, he was one of four players to record an interception.

Solomon had a breakout season for the Lions in 2025 with 73 tackles, leading the team and ranking among the Ivy League leaders. Last season, he notched a career-high 15 tackles against Lehigh and had a strong all-around game against Penn, posting seven tackles, his first career interception and a forced fumble. He forced another fumble and added seven tackles at Yale.

SECONDARY OF DEFENSE

Columbia returned its entire starting defensive backfield from a year ago, and seven of eight members of the two-deep. Two-year starter Carter McCray leads the returnees at corner and will be joined by sophomore MD Awe at the other corner spot. Junior Jeremiah Douglas returns to patrol strong safety, and senior Ethan Fullerton is slated to roam free safety. The group should be bolstered by the return of junior Miron Magee, who suffered a season-ending injury in last year's season opener at Lafayette.

THE WIZARD OF OZ

Columbia hired Ryan Osborn as its new defensive coordinator in January. He joins the Lions after a season as Oklahoma State's defensive line coach. He was the defensive coordinator at Charlotte for two seasons and previously coached at the Baltimore Ravens and the University of Michigan.

GAME NOTES: SPECIAL TEAMS

SKY-WALKER

Sophomore Jonah Walker picked up Columbia's first blocked kick of the season at Marist. Walker burst through and swatted a 25-yard attempt, which was recovered by Carter McCray and returned 85 yards for a touchdown. It marked the first-ever blocked field goal returned for a score and the longest return on any blocked kick in program history.

BE MERRY

In his three-plus seasons, kicker Hugo Merry ranks among Columbia's all-time leaders in field goals made (28, third) and extra points made (69, third). Merry set a program record by making 11 straight field goals, surpassing the old mark of eight, between the 2023 and 2024 seasons. He also converted on 38 consecutive PATs from the end of 2023 until the Georgetown game last season, a new Columbia record.

TOMMY BOY

Junior Tommy Sleeman is back after a second team All-Ivy League selection in 2025. Against Lafayette, Sleeman punted four times, averaging 39.5 yards per kick, with a long of 53 and one inside the 20. He has allowed no return yards in two of the first three games this season.

Last year, he averaged 42.7 yards per kick, posted a 65-yard long and had nine kicks over 50 yards. In high school, Sleeman played for national powerhouse Bishop Gorman in Nevada and averaged 50.5 yards per punt as a senior. In high school, Sleeman played for national powerhouse Bishop Gorman in Nevada and averaged 50.5 yards per punt as a senior.

GAME 6 | COLUMBIA VS. DARTMOUTH | OCTOBER 24, 2026

A LOOK BACK... COLUMBIA VS. DARTMOUTH (OCTOBER 24, 2025)

HANOVER, N.H. — Dartmouth used big plays and capitalized off of several Columbia miscues to pick up a 49-3 victory on Friday night. Big Green quarterback Grayson Saunier went 12-of-13 for 162 yards, rushed for 55 yards and had four touchdowns (three rushing, one passing) in the win.

The Lions posted a season-high 156 rushing yards on the night. First-year Michael Walters had a career-best 86 yards in 19 attempts, and junior Griffin Johnson rushed 12 times for 64 yards.

"(Heck) of a job by Dartmouth and their squad and coaches", Patricia and Sheppard Alexander Head Coach Jon Poppe said. "I've never walked off a field and felt the way I do right now. And that's not to take anything away from Dartmouth, but we gave them 21 points early and just weren't able to respond with enough consistent execution to even put ourselves in position to make it an entertaining football game."

Columbia was putting together a strong opening drive until Matisse Weaver picked off a pass and returned it 63 yards to put Dartmouth in front with 11:32 left in the opening frame. After forcing a punt, Dartmouth picked up 48 yards off a long pass to Nick Lemon over the middle on its first offensive play and doubled its lead, 14-0, when Grayson Saunier scrambled for a 24-yard touchdown less than five minutes later.

With Columbia pinned in its own territory, No'Koi Maddox blocked a punt and collected it for a 19-yard score, extending the lead to 21-0.

Dartmouth took advantage of another miscue to build a 28-point cushion in the second quarter. The Lions muffed a punt at their 14, and two plays later, Saunier rushed for his second TD of the night with 5:45 before the half.

The Big Green capped the half with a 75-yard scoring drive, keyed by a sliding 15-yard grab by KyDric Fisher on third down to put the ball on the Columbia 2. Saunier finished things off with a one-yard keeper to the right to put the Lions in a big hole at the break.

Dartmouth tacked on two more touchdowns in the third quarter, and the Lions' offense could not get anything going as they dropped their fourth straight contest. Columbia broke up the shutout bid with a 26- yard field goal by Hugo Merry with 5:13 remaining in the fourth quarter.

Dartmouth running back D.J. Crowther added 106 yards on 18 carries.

"I appreciate how our guys continue to fight until the end of games, but that's not good enough and there will be some things to come in terms of improving our play as the season goes on," Poppe said.

BILL CAMPBELL '62CC '64TC

A four-year student-athlete, William "Bill" Campbell '62CC '64TC captained the 1961 Ivy League Championship football team, which was inducted into the Columbia Athletics Hall of Fame in 2010, and earned All-Ivy League accolades as a senior. In 1963, Bill and a group of football and rugby alumni founded the Old Blue Rugby Club. He returned to Columbia to coach the Columbia Football team for six seasons between 1974 and 1979.

After his coaching stint, Campbell embarked on a legendary career. He was vice president at J. Walter Thompson, an advertising agency based in New York, and then moved on to become general manager of consumer products for Kodak Europe. After Kodak, he joined Apple Computer in 1983, and rose to the level of executive vice president; he went on to found and served as president and CEO of Claris Corporation, a spin-off software developing company created and owned by Apple in 1990. Campbell assumed his role as chairman of Intuit, the maker of Quicken, QuickBooks, and Turbo Tax, in 1998 and served as its CEO until 2000. As an executive, Campbell's marketing and strategic acumen helped build Claris, Apple, and Intuit alike into remarkable Silicon Valley success stories. Later, his advisory roles as a director at Apple, Google, and others established him as the "Coach of Silicon Valley."

He joined the University Trustees in 2003 and was named Chair just two years later. He led the University through one of the most dynamic eras in its history – one that included the planning and groundbreaking of the new Manhattanville campus, the opening of the University's Global Centers, the successful completion of the record-setting Columbia Campaign and The Columbia Campaign for Athletics: Achieving Excellence, the creation of the Columbia Alumni Association and many more initiatives.

In 2009, recognizing his influence and love of the game of football, the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame announced that its highest honor, the former Draddy Trophy, sometimes referred to as the "academic Heisman," would be renamed the William V. Campbell Trophy.

Because of his tremendous leadership and passion for Columbia Athletics, the University dedicated the Campbell Sports Center in his honor in October 2013.

In fall 2014, the athletics program retired uniform number 67 – the number Campbell wore as an offensive lineman and linebacker for the 1961 Ivy League Champions – for all 31 of Columbia's varsity teams. At the 2015 Varsity C Celebration, the athletics program introduced a new award, the William V. Campbell Performer of the Year to be presented annually to the top male and female student-athletes of the academic year.
