OPENING TIPS

- Columbia makes its final road trip of the regular season, traveling to New England to face Yale on Friday night at 6 p.m., followed by Brown on Saturday at 5 p.m. Both games are available on ESPN+.
- The Lions enter the weekend tied for first place atop the Ivy League standings and own the head-to-head tiebreaker against Princeton. Columbia is seeking a fourth straight regular-season title.
- Columbia has 10 points in this week's Associated Press Top 25, the most it has ever received in an AP Poll in program history. The Lions have received votes in the AP Poll four times this season. Columbia also checked in at No. 22 in The Athletic's weekly Power Rankings, its highest ranking of the season.
- Columbia has won 9 of its last 10 games entering the weekend. Over that span, the Lions are averaging 72.8 points per game, shooting over 45% from the field, outscoring opponents by 19.1 per game, outrebounding opponents by an average of 9.6 per game, and hold a +4.7 turnover margin. Two of those 10 games include victories over nationally-ranked Princeton, as well as a road win at Harvard.
- Riley Weiss leads the Ivy League and ranks top 25 in the nation in both scoring (19.7) and 3-pointers made per game (2.83). She also leads the league in total points (472), 3-point percentage (36.2%), total threes (68) and total field goals made (170).
- Perri Page is one of three players in the NCAA to average at least 14.5 points, 6.0 rebounds, 2.0 assists, 2.0 steals and shoot 50% or better from the field. The other two players are reigning All-Americans Sarah Strong (UConn) and Madison Booker (Texas). Nationally, Page ranks top 50 in FG% (53.1%).
- Columbia's 14-game series winning streak against Brown is its longest series winning streak against any opponent in program history. The Lions also own an 11-game active series winning streak against Yale.

SIMMONS SPEARHEADS THIRD-QUARTER EXPLOSION IN WIN AGAINST YALE

Saturday, January 17, 2026

YALE 58
COLUMBIA 85

NEW YORK— Columbia women's basketball walloped Yale, 85-58, Saturday afternoon from Schiller Court at Levien Gymnasium. In the win, sophomore guard Nasi Simmons set a new program record with 10 steals.

Columbia (11-5, 2-1 Ivy) grabbed 17 steals, forcing 23 Yale turnovers and converting them into 33 points. Yale (4-12, 0-3 Ivy) forced six lead changes before the Lions jumped in front in the second quarter and ran away with the game in the third.

Nasi Simmons' school-record 10 steals came with 10 points, three rebounds, an assist and a block. It is her first career double-double and marks the first time that an Ivy League player recorded a double-double with points and steals against a Division I opponent since 2019.

"We've been preparing all week. We knew the scout and we knew the plays," Simmons told Steve Gelbs in her postgame interview on SNY. "I was just there, on time, and anticipating the next steal – reading eyes and in the right spacing at the right time."

Riley Weiss led the offense with a game-high 22 points. Perri Page scored 18 points on 8-of-15 shooting and grabbed a game-high eight rebounds. Junior transfer Hilke Feldrappe, who made her first collegiate start in place of the injured Susie Rafiu, was 6-of-8 from the field with a career-high 13 points, filling up the stat sheet with two rebounds, two steals, two blocks and an assist. Simmons' 10 points rounded out a quartet of Lions in double figures.

Feldrappe scored two of the Lions' first five baskets to help them race out to a 10-4 lead. After a rare four-point play on the other end, the Bulldogs went on to outscore the Lions 14-7 to finish the first quarter and take a slim 18-17 lead.

LAST TIME VS. BROWN

COLUMBIA LEADS WIRE-TO-WIRE, HANDS BROWN FIRST IVY LOSS

Monday, January 19, 2026

BROWN 52
COLUMBIA 68

NEW YORK— The Columbia women's basketball team scored the game's first 13 points and finished on an 11-1 run to put away visiting Brown, 68-52, Monday afternoon from Schiller Court at Levien Gymnasium.

Columbia (12-5, 3-1 Ivy) led the entire way and forced 25 Bears turnovers. The Lions pushed their lead to as many as 18, but Brown (11-5, 3-1 Ivy) trimmed the deficit all the way down to four points in the fourth quarter. Columbia scored 11 straight to put the Bears away.

Fliss Henderson recorded her second double-double of the Ivy League season, going for 14 points, and game-highs of 13 rebounds and six assists. She scored Columbia's final seven points on the finishing run.

"Just wanting the ball the whole time ... As soon as we constantly demand the ball in the post, it makes the game so much easier," Henderson told Lance Medow in her postgame interview on ESPN+. "That's what we were doing and that's how we took over in the end."

Riley Weiss led the team in scoring with 15 points and pulled down a season-best seven rebounds. Mia Broom and Perri Page rounded out the Lions in double figures, scoring 14 and 13, respectively.

With Monday's 15 points, Weiss now has 1,062 in her career. She passed her head coach for 11th on Columbia's all-time scoring list.

"I'm just happy she's rebounding," Lavine Family Head Coach of Women's Basketball Megan Griffith quipped when asked about it postgame. "We have a lot of really talented players that are starting to trust each other, trust the play call, and just trust the system. That's what great teams do. There is a lot of trust and team chemistry that's built up over the course of the year. We didn't have that to start ... but we're figuring it out. This player leadership that we want to lean into, you're seeing it first-hand right now."

BY THE NUMBERS

- Columbia has played 1,117 games since forming the Columbia-Barnard Athletic Consortium in 1984. The consortium merged what was then the Barnard College Bears basketball program into one program, where students from either Barnard College or Columbia University could compete. Currently, there are three players on the roster who attend neighboring Barnard College (Blau Tor, Hilke Feldrappe, Alicia Mitchell).

164

- Megan Griffith is the all-time winningest coach in Columbia women's basketball history, entering today's game with an overall record of 164-97 (.628) at Columbia. Griffith earned her 100th career victory in the 2023-24 home opener against Seton Hall, 72-61. She surpassed Nancy Kalafus as the program's all-time winningest coach in the 2023 WNIT. Her current winning percentage is also the best in program history.

41

- The 2025-26 season marks the 41st competition season of Columbia women's basketball. The program began in 1984-85, playing two years at the NCAA Div. III level before transitioning to NCAA Div. I for the 1986-87 campaign. The COVID-19 pandemic canceled the 2020-21 competition season for all of Ivy League athletics.

20

- Columbia has put together four straight 20-win seasons. Following a 25-7 record in 2021-22 and a run to the WNIT Championship Game, the Lions won their first Ivy League Regular Season Championship in 2022-23, going 28-6 overall with a 12-2 Ivy League record. In 2024-25, they went 23-7 overall with a program-best 13-1 Ivy record. Last season, the Lions are currently 24-7, securing their 20th win on Feb. 28 against Brown (70-44).

3

- Columbia won its 3rd straight Ivy League Regular Season Championship last year. The championship was the team's first outright title, finishing alone at the top at 13-1.
- Columbia won its first two Ivy League Championships in 2023 (12-2) and 2024 (13-1). The Lions shared each of those regular-season titles with Princeton.

COLUMBIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

RECORD BOOK TRACKER

- Perri Page enters the weekend with 485 career rebounds. She is 15 rebounds away from becoming the 17th player in program history to reach 500.
- Weiss's 472 points this season are the ninth-most in program history (472). She is 49 points from the No. 8 spot, occupied by Judie Lomax's 521 points from the 2009-10 season. Weiss also holds the No. 6 spot on that list with 553 from last season. Her 19.7 points per game this season currently ranks fourth.
- Weiss (1,239) is No. 8 on Columbia's all-time scoring list, 53 points behind Kristina Tyler '88CC (1,292) for seventh.
- Weiss (440) is No. 7 all-time in FG made. She passed Ellen Bossert '86BC (435) on Feb. 21 at Dartmouth.
- Weiss (207) is the 18th player in Ivy League history to make 200 career threes. She is now 17th on that list and just 15 threes away from Brown's Sophie Bikofsky (2001-05) for a top 10 spot.
- Perri Page (137) is ninth all-time at Columbia in steals. She is nine behind Kathleen Barry '11CC for eighth.

HALFTIME WINNING STREAK

- Columbia has won 43 consecutive games when leading at halftime. The Lions have won their first 15 such games so far this season, all 20 games when leading at the half in 2024-25, and their final eight such games in 2023-24. Columbia's last loss with a halftime lead came at Princeton on January 20, 2024, taking a 37-33 lead into the locker rooms but coming up short, 80-65.

OVERCOMING OPPONENT THREES

- Columbia is the only team in the NCAA to win at least five games this season when allowing the opponent to shoot 50 percent or better from 3-point range. Last year, TCU led the NCAA in winning six such games, eventually advancing to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament.

DARTMOUTH POSTGAME NOTES (FEB. 21)

- Columbia outrebounded Dartmouth by 22, its second-largest rebound margin of the season (Ohio, +25).
- Nasi Simmons was 5-for-5 from the floor. She is the first Lion to go perfect from the floor (min. 5 makes) since Mikayla Markham went 5-for-5 in an 89-64 win against Harvard on Feb. 15, 2020.
- Columbia registered 20+ assists for the sixth time this season.
- Sophomore Marta Jaama made her career collegiate free throw.
- Susie Rafiu played in her 100th career game.

SINGLE-GAME RECORD BREAKERS

- Riley Weiss broke Columbia's single-game scoring record with 40 points in an 89-32 victory over Dartmouth (Jan. 24). She is also tied for third on that list with her 38-point performance in a win at Cornell (Feb. 7).
- Weiss also owns the No. 1 and No. 3 spots in field goals made, making 15 at Dartmouth and 13 at Cornell.
- Weiss tied the record for 3-pointers made in a game with nine against both Dartmouth and Cornell.
- Nasi Simmons broke Columbia's single-game steals record with 10 on Jan. 17 against Yale.
- Perri Page tied the previous single-game steals record with eight against Binghamton (Nov. 24).

WEISS IS NICE

- Riley Weiss is one of two players in the NCAA to score 38+ points in multiple games this season. The other is Iowa State's Audi Crooks, who has three 40-point games.
- Weiss is the first player in the NCAA since Caitlin Clark (Iowa) and Madison Conner (TCU) to have multiple games with 9+ made threes in a single season. Clark and Conner did it during the 2023-24 season.
- In her 38-point performance at Cornell (Feb. 7), Weiss tied the Columbia record with nine made threes. It is the second time she has made 9+ threes in a game this season. The other came in her record-breaking 40-point performance against Dartmouth.
- Weiss ranks Top 25 in the NCAA and leads the Ivy League in scoring average (19.7 ppg). She also leads the league in total points (472), field goals made (170), 3-pointers made (68) and 3-pointers made per game (2.83).
- Weiss is a finalist for the IChesman Award, presented to the top Jewish athlete in the country by the Manischewitz Athletic Honors Society.
- She has been named Ivy League Player of the Week five times this season, the most of any player in the league
- She is a two-time Met Basketball Writers Association (MBWA) Women's Div. I Player of the Week this season. She was also named a USBWA Women's National Player of the Week once in January, named an AP Honorable Mention Player of the Week (Feb. 17) and named to the NCAA Startling 5 of the Week (Jan. 27).

PENN POSTGAME NOTES (FEB. 14)

- Columbia had 17 steals, marking its eighth game of the season with at least 15.
- Nasi Simmons hit career-highs in FG attempts (10), 3-point attempts (3), blocks (2) and minutes (27:24).
- Mia Broom tied a career-high in 3-pointers made by going 4-for-9. She also played a career-high 33:31.

PRINCETON POSTGAME NOTES (FEB. 13)

- Columbia completed a regular season sweep against Princeton for the second consecutive year. Its four-game series winning streak is its longest against the Tigers since winning nine straight from 2001-05.
- The Lions earned their third win against an AP Top 25 opponent in program history, all of which have come since 2024, and all of which have come against Princeton.
- Perri Page (25) and Riley Weiss (23) each scored 20+ points, marking the first time the Lions had two players score 20+ since Weiss (26) and Kitty Henderson (22) did it in an 80-71 win at Harvard on Jan. 31, 2025.
- Page posted her second 20-10 game of the season, the other coming in a 58-55 win at Harvard on January 10.

COLUMBIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

CORNELL POSTGAME NOTES (FEB. 7)

- Cornell's 14 rebounds are the fewest by any team in the NCAA this season. They are the fewest by any team since Alcorn State had 13 in a 74-69 win over Florida A&M on Feb. 13, 2025. They are the fewest amount of rebounds by a Columbia opponent dating back through the 2009-10 season (16+ seasons).
- Riley Weiss's 38 points tie for third most in a game in program history. Her nine threes tie for the most.
- Weiss had a career-high five assists.
- Nasi Simmons tied her career-high in field goals made (5-7).
- Mia Broom tied a career-high with six assists and also had a career-high five steals.

WE OWN NEW YORK

- Columbia has dominated teams from New York state. Over its last 24 games against Empire State foes, Columbia owns a record of 22-2 (.917). Cornell's 67-60 win over the Lions earlier this season put an end to a 10-game winning streak against New York state opponents.
- Columbia has now won eight straight games against teams from New York City's five boroughs. The winning streak began with a 70-51 victory over Fordham on November 10, 2019, followed by two wins over LIU (2021, 2022), a win over Fordham in the WNIT (2023), back-to-back wins against Wagner (2023, 2024) and win this season over Manhattan (Dec. 3) and Wagner (Dec. 6).
- In the Megan Griffith head coaching era (2016-pres.), Columbia is 9-1 against teams from New York City.

PENN POSTGAME NOTES (JAN. 31)

- Penn's 10 turnovers were the fewest by a Columbia opponent this season.
- Weiss's 15 three-point attempts matched her career high.
- Penn ended Columbia's streak of 16 consecutive true road wins.

PRINCETON POSTGAME NOTES (JAN. 30)

- Columbia defeated an AP Top 25 team for the second time in program history. Both wins have come against Princeton, the first on Feb. 24, 2024, at Levien Gymnasium.
- Columbia shot 50.9%, marking its best shooting percentage vs. Princeton through 2009-10 season.
- The Lions extended their winning streak in true road games to 16, the longest active streak in the country.
- Perri Page had career-highs in free throws made and attempted (7-10), and tied a career-high of 5 assists.

ROAD WARRIORS

- Columbia won 16 straight true road games from Dec. 21, 2024 - Jan. 30, 2026, which was the longest active "away" winning streak in the country. The streak did not include "neutral" site games.
- The Lions went 12-0 in true road games during the 2025 calendar year and were the only team in the nation to post an undefeated record.
- Columbia defeated No. 19 Princeton, 73-67, on Jan. 30 to extend the streak to 16.
- Penn ended the streak with a 64-55 win over Columbia the next night, Jan. 31, at the Palestra.

HOME COURT ADVANTAGE

- Despite three losses at home so far this season, Columbia is still a combined 45-7 (.865) at home since the start of the 2022-23 season.
- In Ivy League play, the Lions are 30-4 (.882) at home since the start of the 2021-22 season.
- The Lions won 20 straight regular season games at home between the 2023-24 and 2024-25 seasons.
- Columbia went 14-1 (.933) at home during the 2023-24 regular season, followed by 10-1 last season.

MID-MAJOR COACH OF THE YEAR WATCH LIST (JAN. 28)

- Lavine Family Head Coach of Women's Basketball Megan Griffith was named to the 10-person mid-season watch list for the Kathy Delaney Smith Mid-Major Coach of the Year Award, presented by Her Hoop Stats. Now in its third year, the award recognizes the best mid-major coach in Women's Div. I college basketball.
- Griffith was a finalist for last year's Kathy Delaney-Smith Mid-Major Coach of the Year Award. She was also a finalist for the 2024-25 WBCA National Coach of the Year, named the Ivy League Coach of the Year for a third straight season, named the Coach of the Year by the Asian Coaches Association, and also named the Met Basketball Writers Association (MBWA) Women's Division I Coach of the Year.

LATE-GAME HEROICS

- Columbia has taken the lead in the final 10 seconds and won on three occasions this season.
- Perri Page hit a layup with 0.7 seconds left to defeat Seton Hall, 54-53 (Dec. 9).
- Fliss Henderson broke a 65-65 tie on a game-winning layup with 5.1 seconds left against UTSA (Dec. 20).
- Page broke a 55-55 tie on a game-winning three-point play with 1.9 seconds left at Harvard (Jan. 10).
- Prior to this season, the last time the Lions scored a game-winner in the final 10 seconds was at home on December 3, 2023, when Abbey Hsu had a game-winning three-point play against Villanova (8.7 seconds).

WEISS EXPLODES FOR RECORD 40 POINTS (JAN. 24)

- Riley Weiss broke Columbia's single-game scoring record with 40 points in an 89-32 win over Dartmouth (Jan. 24). She broke the previous record of 39 set by Ellen Bossert '86BC on Feb. 17, 1986 vs. New Rochelle.
- Weiss was 15-of-23 from the field and 9-of-13 from 3-point range. She also broke the single-game record for field goals made, and tied Abbey Hsu '24CC for the single-game record in 3-pointers made.
- The 40-point game is the 12th in Ivy League women's history and the 17th in the NCAA this season.
- Weiss had 26 points at halftime, which is a Columbia record for points in a half. The previous record was a 25-point half from Tori Oliver '17CC on Dec. 30, 2014 against Wagner. Oliver scored 38 in that game.
- Weiss went on to be named Ivy League Player of the Week for the third time this season. She was also named to the U.S. Basketball Writers Association Ann Meyers Drysdale Women's National Players of the Week, and was named to the NCAA Digital March Madness Starting 5 Players of the Week.

COLUMBIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

DARTMOUTH POSTGAME NOTES (JAN. 24)

- Weiss passed Ellen Bossert '86BC and Kaitlyn Davis '23CC to enter the Top 10 on Columbia's all-time scoring list. She is now No. 9 with 1,102 points.
- Dartmouth's 22% shooting is the worst by a Columbia opponent dating back through the 2009-10 season.
- Columbia's 57-point margin of victory is a new program record against a Division I opponent. The previous was a 56-point win over NJIT, 99-43, on Dec. 21, 2019.
- Columbia's 32 points allowed are a new program record against a Division I opponent. The previous was 37, on multiple occasions, last occurring in an 89-37 win over Dartmouth on Feb. 14, 2025.
- Weiss also matched her career-high in rebounds with eight.
- Hilke Feldrappe had a career-high six rebounds.
- Perri Page had a career-high five assists.

SIMMONS BREAKS SINGLE-GAME STEALS RECORD (JAN. 19)

- Nasi Simmons' program-record 10 steals marked the first 10-steal game by an Ivy League player since Ania McNicholas (Cornell) had 10 steals in a 93-49 win over NCAA Div. II Clarion on Dec. 28, 2022. In that game, McNicholas recorded a triple-double of 13 points, 13 rebounds and 10 steals.
- It is the first time an Ivy League player had 10+ steals against an NCAA Div. I opponent since Carlie Littlefield (Princeton) had 10 in a 75-50 win over George Washington on Nov. 10, 2019. In that game, Littlefield had a double-double of 22 points and 10 steals.
- Simmons' double-double with steals is just the 10th by an NCAA Div. I player this season. The last came on Dec. 21 when Notre Dame's Hannah Hidalgo had 30 points, 13 steals and 10 assists vs. Bellarmine.
- Only Simmons and Georgia State's Grace Lanier have had a steals double-double off the bench.
- Simmons had six steals in the third quarter, which is a program record for steals in a quarter.
- Earlier this season, Perri Page tied Columbia's former program record of eight steals in a game as part of Columbia's 73-60 win over Manhattan.

BROWN POSTGAME NOTES (JAN. 19)

- Mia Broom went 4-of-5 from 3-point range, marking the first time a Lion has gone 4-for-5 or better from deep since Cecelia Collins went 4-for-5 in an 84-50 win over Pacific on Nov. 20, 2024.
- Brown's five assists were the fewest by a Columbia opponent since Nov. 4, 2024, when Stony Brook had just four in an 87-47 Lions win at Levien Gymnasium.
- Columbia's 17 steals marked its seventh game with 15+ this season. The Lions are 7-0 in those games.
- Mia Broom matched her career-high in scoring (14) and set new career-highs in 3-pointers made (4) and minutes played (27:21).
- Fliss Henderson matched career-highs in both field goals made and attempted (6-12)
- Perri Page set a new career-high in field goal percentage (min. 5 made) by going 6-of-8.
- Two days after setting a new program record with 10 steals against Yale (Jan. 17), Nasi Simmons had six against Brown. Six steals in a game ties for ninth in program history.
- Riley Weiss (1,062 points) passed Lauren Dwyer (2007-11) and Megan Griffith (2003-07) for 11th on Columbia's all-time scoring list.
- Weiss recorded the 50th double-figure scoring game of her career.

YALE POSTGAME NOTES (JAN. 17)

- Columbia tallied 17 steals, marking the sixth time this season the Lions have had 15+ in a game.
- Hilke Feldrappe made her first collegiate start in her 63rd career game. Feldrappe played in 52 games during her two seasons at Mizzou, and has now played in 11 in her first season as a Lion.
- Feldrappe recorded career-highs in points (13), field goals made and attempted (6-8), field goal percentage (75.0%) and blocks (2).
- In addition to her career-high 10 steals, Simmons also matched her career-high in field goals made (5) and set a new career-high in field goal percentage (83.3%, min. 5 made).
- Columbia extended its winning streak against Yale to a series-best 11 games. It is the second-longest active winning streak against an Ivy League opponent (Brown, W13).

LIONS UNVEIL EXCLUSIVE NIKE UNIFORMS (JAN. 14)

- Columbia women's basketball, in partnership with Nike, has unveiled an exclusive alternate uniform, which will debut on January 19 against Brown. The Lions will also wear these uniforms at home on February 13 vs. Princeton and on March 7 against Harvard.

- The anthracite uniform set features custom Columbia wordmarks and number fonts, with subtle design elements that reflect how New Yorkers move through the city. Details include nods to subway tile patterns and the iconic checkerboard motif of New York City taxis, grounding the design in the program's urban identity.

- Following three consecutive Ivy League championships and two NCAA Tournament appearances, Columbia was selected by Nike to collaborate on a New York City-inspired uniform concept. The Lions are one of just a few women's basketball programs nationally to receive a premium alternate set. The design draws from the program's core "EDGE" principles, incorporating the energy of New York City, the discipline of the lion, the grit synonymous with the city, and the pursuit of excellence symbolized by the Statue of Liberty. Together, those elements are reflected through bold styling, purposeful details, and a modern aesthetic that represents Columbia's competitive identity.

HISTORIC LAVINE FAMILY GIFT (JAN. 12)

- Columbia Athletics announced a $10 million gift to its men's and women's basketball programs from Jeannie and Jonathan Lavine and their family. The gift, one of the largest in the history of the Columbia Athletics program, provides support for both teams and endows the women's head coaching position, now known as the Lavine Family Head Coach of Women's Basketball. Megan Griffith '07CC assumes the new head-coaching title immediately. It is the single largest gift for women's athletics at Columbia.

- The endowed coaching position is named in honor and recognition of the leadership and generosity of University Trustee Chair Emeritus Jonathan Lavine '88CC, '23HON, his wife and partner Jeannie Lavine '23HON, and their family, daughters Allison Lavine '16CC and Emily Lavine Rosin '18CC and son-in-law Nathan Rosin '18CC.

COLUMBIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

PAGE EARNS IVY LEAGUE AND MET BASKETBALL POTW HONORS (JAN. 12)

• Perri Page earned her first career Ivy League Player of the Week Award, as well as her second Met Basketball Writers Association (MBWA) Women's Div. I Player of the Week Award, following Columbia's 58-55 win at Harvard (Jan. 10). In that game, Page recorded career- and game-highs of 24 points and 12 rebounds, also adding a game-high five steals to go with two assists and a block. The tweener from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, came out on fire with 12 first-quarter points, eventually ending the game 9-of-14 from the field and a perfect 2-for-2 from 3-point range. Page then came through in the game's biggest moment, breaking up a 55-all tie by scoring the game-winning basket with 1.9 seconds left. Harvard was whistled for a foul on the play and Page converted her free throw to finish off the three-point play.

HARVARD POSTGAME NOTES (JAN. 10)

• Perri Page had 24 points, 12 rebounds and five steals. It is just the seventh time since 2010 that an Ivy League player had at least 24 points, 12 rebounds and five steals in a game. Page is the first Lion to do it since Judie Lomax '10BC had 24 points, 15 rebounds and six steals in a win over American on Jan. 2, 2010.
 • Page matched career-highs in points (24) and rebounds (12).
 • Fliss Henderson played a career-high 39:39 and had a career-high three blocks.
 • Riley Weiss (1,025) passed Sienna Durr '23CC (1,019) for 14th on Columbia's all-time scoring list.
 • The Lions beat Harvard at Lavietes Pavilion for the sixth straight time in the series.

CORNELL POSTGAME NOTES (JAN. 3)

• Fliss Henderson's career-high 16 rebounds were the most by a Lion since Susie Rafiu went for 16 in an 89-37 win over Dartmouth on Feb. 14, 2025.
 • Henderson recorded her first career double-double.
 • Perri Page scored a career-high 24 points and recorded just her second career 20+ point game.
 • Page also hit a career-best 11 field goals and shot a career-best 11-of-15 (.733).
 • The Big Red earned their first series victory against Columbia since Jan. 25, 2020, in Ithaca. It was their first win at Columbia since Jan. 20, 2018. It snapped Columbia's eight-game series winning streak.

DECEMBER DOMINANCE

• The Lions were a perfect 5-0 in December. Over that time, they averaged 70.6 points on offense and held opponents to an average of 48.4 points. The Lions also shot 44.8% from the field over those five games and held opponents to 34.5 percent. The five victories came against Manhattan (Dec. 3), Wagner (Dec. 6), Seton Hall (Dec. 9), UTSA (Dec. 20) and FGCU (Dec. 29).
 • Since 2020, Columbia is a combined 24-3 (.889) in the month of December. That record includes a perfect 5-0 mark in 2023 and a perfect 7-0 mark in 2022.

WEISS JOINS 1,000-POINT CLUB

• Junior Riley Weiss surpassed 1,000 career points as part of Columbia's 63-44 victory over FGCU (Dec. 29). She hit the milestone on a basket with 6:44 left in the third quarter.
 • Weiss is the 16th player in program history to score 1,000 career points. Six Lions have reached the milestone in Megan Griffith's 10 years as head coach.
 • Weiss is one of five Lions to reach 1,000 points by their junior year, joining all-time leading scorer Abbey Hsu (2019-20, 21-24), Camille Zimmerman (2014-18), Tori Oliver (2013-17) and Ula Lysniak (1983-87).

FGCU POSTGAME NOTES (DEC. 29)

• Columbia's 25-4 third quarter was its best quarter in terms of scoring differential of the season, and its best since outscoring Dartmouth 24-1 in the third quarter on Feb. 14, 2025 at Levien Gymnasium.
 • Perri Page had her second straight five-steal game. She has gone for 5+ steals four times this season.
 • Columbia improved to 2-0 all-time against FGCU, also defeating the Eagles in New York City, 62-51, last year.
 • Weiss passed Melissa Shafer (2008-12) for second in program history in 3-pointers made. Weiss now has 167 made threes, 208 behind Abbey Hsu's career record of 375.

250 GAMES OF THE GRIFFITH ERA

• Columbia head coach Megan Griffith coached her 250th career game in a 63-44 win at FGCU on Dec. 29.
 • Griffith is the winningest coach in program history, owning an overall record of 155-96 (.618).
 • Earlier this season, Griffith earned her 150th career win when the Lions defeated South Dakota State, 80-67, at the Cancun Challenge (Nov. 28).
 • Under Griffith, Columbia has won its first three Ivy League Regular Season Championships (2023, 2024, 2025) and earned its first two bids to the NCAA Tournament (2024, 2025). She coached the Lions to their first NCAA Tournament win in program history, defeating Washington, 63-60, on March 20, 2025.

UTSA POSTGAME NOTES (DEC. 20)

• Fliss Henderson's go-ahead layup with 5.1 seconds left marked the second game in a row Columbia has taken the lead in the final seconds. Perri Page hit a game-winning layup at Seton Hall (Dec. 9) with 0.7 on the clock.
 • Marija Avlijas set or matched career-highs in points (21), field goals made (8) and attempted (15), 3-pointers made (3) and attempted (8), and free throw attempts (9).
 • Perri Page recorded five steals, marking her third game of the season with five or more.
 • The Lions came away with 15+ steals for the fifth time this season.
 • Riley Weiss posted career-highs in free throws made and attempted (9-11).

BIG EAST DOMINANCE

• With wins over Butler and Seton Hall this season, Columbia is now 11-2 over its last 13 games against BIG EAST opponents. All 13 of those games have come in the Megan Griffith head-coaching era (2016-pres.). That includes a 4-0 record against Providence, 2-0 vs. Georgetown, 1-1 vs. Villanova, 3-1 vs. Seton Hall, and 1-0 against Butler. The Lions earned their first BIG EAST win in program history when they defeated Providence in overtime, 66-64, on Dec. 7, 2016 in New York. In fact, four of Columbia's BIG EAST wins have now come in overtime, including each of its last two.

COLUMBIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

SETON HALL POSTGAME NOTES (DEC. 9)

- Perri Page's game-winning basket was the first by a Lion with less than 10 seconds remaining since Abbey Hsu hit a game-winning 3-point play against Villanova on Dec. 3, 2023.
- Page's game-winner was the closest Columbia has come to winning on a buzzer-beater since Lauren Dwyer hit a game-winning 3-pointer as time expired to defeat Robert Morris, 64-63, on Dec. 30, 2009.
- Columbia's 54 points were its fewest in a victory since defeating Boston College, 54-51, on March 24, 2022, at Leaven Gymnasium in the WNIT. It ties for the fewest points in a win in the Megan Griffith head-coaching era.
- The Lions were 1-of-4 at the free throw line. It was the first time Columbia made one or fewer free throws since Jan. 15, 2012, at Princeton (1-3).
- Page registered her fourth career double-double and her second of the season. Both of her double-doubles this season have come against BIG EAST opponents (Butler, Seton Hall).
- Fliss Henderson tied her career-high with nine rebounds and played a career-high 38 minutes.

WAGNER POSTGAME NOTES (DEC. 6)

- Columbia shot 61.1 percent (33-54), its highest percentage in a game since shooting 61.4 percent in an 88-45 win over Northeastern on Nov. 25, 2023.
- Columbia's shooting percentage ranked seventh in program single-game history.
- Columbia had a season-high 25 assists.
- Fliss Henderson hit career-highs in points (15), field goals made (6), field goal percentage (6-10) and 3-pointers made (2).
- Riley Weiss matched a career-high with four assists.

MANHATTAN POSTGAME NOTES (DEC. 3)

- Columbia's 38 points allowed were one off the program record for the fewest allowed in a game against a Division I opponent. The Lions held Dartmouth to 37 in both February of 2023 and 2025.
- Columbia's 23 steals were its most ever against a Division I opponent. It tied for the fourth-most in a game in program history.
- Manhattan's 22.8-percent field goal percentage was the lowest by an opponent since Harvard shot 22.4 percent in a 59-43 Columbia win on Feb. 13, 2015.
- Nasi Simmons scored a career-high 12 points.
- Riley Weiss tied her career-high of five steals.
- Mia Broom tied a career-high with four steals.

WEISS SHINES IN CUNCUN

- Riley Weiss averaged 27.3 points, shot 48.3 percent from the field, including 11-of-26 (.423) from 3-point range, and was 13-of-15 (.867) at the free-throw line in Columbia's three games at the Cancun Challenge.
- Weiss scored 30 in the opener against Kansas State, followed with a season-high 31 the next day in a win over South Dakota State, and finished with 21 against then-No. 12 North Carolina.
- Weiss is the first player in program history to score 30 points in consecutive games. Sue Altman nearly did it in 2003, scoring 30+ twice in three games.
- Weiss's 19 fourth-quarter points against South Dakota State tied the program record for points in a quarter, matching the mark Abbey Hsu set in the third quarter against UMass on Dec. 11, 2021.
- For her efforts, Weiss was named Ivy League Player of the Week (Dec. 1) for a second time this season.

CUNCUN CHALLENGE POSTGAME NOTES (NOV. 27-29)

- Columbia's 92 points scored against Kansas State were the most in program history in a loss. The previous was a 95-91 defeat to Penn on Feb. 20, 1987.
- Kansas State shot 65.4 percent (17-26) from 3-point range. Their 17 threes were the most in K-State program history, and the most Columbia has allowed through at least the 2009-10 season.
- Taryn Sides' 30 points were the most scored by an opposing player since March 1, 2024, when Brown's Kyla Jones scored 30.
- Marija Avlijas had career-highs in points (15), field goals made (6), field goal percentage (.667), 3-pointers made (3) and assists (6) against Kansas State.
- Columbia defeated South Dakota State, 80-67, on Friday. The Jackrabbits were ranked No. 1 in the Mid-Major Top 25 heading into the matchup.
- Columbia fell to 1-15 all-time against AP Top 25 opponents. Their first and only win to date came on Feb. 24, 2024 over then-No. 25 Princeton, 67-65, at Leaven Gymnasium.
- Columbia played Kansas State, South Dakota State and North Carolina, all for the first time.

COLUMBIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

CANCUN FUN FACTS

- Columbia, located in the borough of Manhattan in New York City, takes on Kansas State, located in the city of Manhattan in Kansas. One of NYC's famous nicknames is "The Big Apple." Manhattan, Kansas is affectionately nicknamed "The Little Apple" as a play on New York City's nickname. Columbia is the only NCAA Division I athletics program located in the borough of Manhattan in New York City.
- Of the eight women's teams in this year's Cancun Challenge, South Dakota State (1,654), Green Bay (1,617) and Columbia (1,554) are the furthest from Cancun by air miles.
- Columbia head coach Megan Griffith goes head-to-head with her former boss in UNC head coach Courtney Banghart on Saturday. Griffith was on Banghart's staff for four seasons at Princeton (2012-16) before becoming Columbia's head coach. The two faced each other six times at their Ivy League schools before Banghart took the head-coaching job at North Carolina in 2019.
- Monday's game against the 12th-ranked Tar Heels will be Columbia's 16th all-time matchup against an AP Top 25 team. The Lions earned their first AP Top 25 win in program history on Feb. 24, 2024, defeating No. 25 Princeton, 67-65, at Levien Gymnasium in NYC. The Lions are 1-14 all-time against the AP Top 25.

BINGHAMTON POSTGAME NOTES (Nov. 24)

- All five Columbia starters scored in double figures for the first time since March 24, 2023 when the Lions defeated Syracuse in the WNIT -- Hsu (21), Davis (17), Pratt (16), Patrick (13), Henderson (13).
- Perri Page's eight steals tied the Columbia single-game record, last accomplished by Jaida Patrick at Old Dominion on March 24, 2022 in the WNIT. Brittany Simmons was the first Lion to have eight steals in a game, doing so on January 19, 2013 at Cornell.
- Page also tied her career-high in assists with four.
- Marija Avlijas matched her career-highs in points (12), assists (6), field goal attempts (10), 3-pointers made (2) and 3-point attempts (5).
- Riley Weiss passed Alexa Giuliano (2014-17) for fourth on Columbia's all-time list for 3-pointers made. Weiss now has 147 made threes in her career.
- Columbia's 18 steals were its most in a game since going for 23 against Central Penn on January 3, 2016.

SAINT JOSEPH'S POSTGAME NOTES (Nov. 20)

- Columbia scored its fewest points in a game since Feb. 5, 2022, in a 57-39 loss at Princeton. It was Columbia's fewest points at home since falling to Penn, 51-36, on March 7, 2020.
- The Lions went 0-for-14 from 3-point range, failing to make a 3-point basket for the first time since going 0-for-20 against Boston College on March 24, 2022 in the Round of 16 of the WNIT. Despite not hitting a 3-pointer against BC, the Lions came back from 17 points down to win, 54-51.
- Columbia hosted its 15th annual Education Day Game. Students from more than 20 New York City schools were in attendance, with an announced crowd of 2,511. The first such game was held in 2008 and was hosted annually through 2019. After being interrupted by the COVID-19 pandemic, Education Day returned to Levien Gym in 2023.

RICHMOND POSTGAME NOTES (Nov. 15)

- Riley Weiss had a career-high five steals.
- Mia Broom scored a career-high 14 points and made a career-high five field goals.
- Fliss Henderson played a career-high 31:40.
- Columbia suffered its first non-conference loss at home since Nov. 14, 2023 to then-No. 22 Duke, 66-62. It snapped a 10-game home winning streak against non-conference opponents.
- Riley Weiss's 25 field goal attempts were the seventh-most in a game in program history.

WEISS EARNS WEEK 1 PLAYER OF THE WEEK (Nov. 10)

- Riley Weiss was named the Ivy League Player of the Week on November 10. She averaged 22.5 points in road wins at Butler (Nov. 7) and Ohio (Nov. 9). Weiss scored nine of the final 14 points in regulation on her way to a game-high 27 in the season-opening overtime win at Butler. Two days later, she netted 18 points in just 24 minutes against the Bobcats. Weiss sat most of the second half with Columbia leading by 30.

OHIO POSTGAME NOTES (Nov. 9)

- Mia Broom had a career-high 10 rebounds.
- Shay Shippen scored her first collegiate points off a 3-point play at the 4:08 mark of the fourth quarter.
- Eirny Erinugha scored her first collegiate points, making two free throws with 40 seconds remaining.
- Marija Avlijas was a career-best 5-of-5 from the free throw line.
- First years Alicia Mitchell and Vasiliki Cholopoulou made their collegiate debuts.
- All 15 Columbia players got in the game.

IS THAT A TURKEY ON THE BENCH?

Yes, it is. When Columbia gets three defensive stops in a row, the team calls that a Turkey. The team came up with the phrase from the sport of bowling, where three strikes in a row is a turkey.

Every game, the Lions set a goal for a number of turkeys they would like to get. When the team gets a turkey, the entire bench will do its best turkey call, signaling to the players on the floor that they just completed a turkey.

The turkey on the bench is affectionately named "Louise" after one of the team's former managers.

2025-26 COLUMBIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

COLUMBIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

BUTLER POSTGAME NOTES (Nov. 7)

- Columbia improved to 10-2 in its last 12 games against BIG EAST opponents. All of those games have come in the Megan Griffith head-coaching era (2016-pres.). Prior to her arrival, Columbia had never defeated a BIG EAST opponent.
- Each of Columbia's last two BIG EAST wins have come in overtime. The Lions defeated Providence on the road on November 8, 2024, by a score of 77-69.
- First years Shay Shippen and Eirny Erinugha made their collegiate debuts.
- Junior transfer Hilke Feldrappe made her Columbia debut and had two points and a rebound.

INTERNATIONAL LIONS

- According to research performed by NCAA member institution communication staffs, Columbia is one of just 12 programs in the country with nine or more international players on its roster. Of those schools, only Columbia, Washington State, South Florida and San Francisco have nine or more countries represented on their respective rosters. Columbia has two players from Spain, and one each from Australia, Canada, Estonia, Germany, Greece, Serbia and United Kingdom.

HUNTING FOR A CHAMPIONSHIP SWEEP

- Senior captains Perri Page and Susie Rafiu are the only two active players with three Ivy League Regular Season Championships. The duo entered New York City together in the fall of 2022 and have combined to go 75-20 (.789) entering their season seasons. As rookies, they were part of a 28-6 team that won Columbia's first Ivy title and became the first team in Ivy League history to make a run to the WNIT Championship Game. As sophomores, they went 23-7 and helped Columbia earn its first bid to the NCAA Tournament. Last year, they did one better, going 24-7 with a win over Washington in the First Four.

WATCH OUT FOR WEISS

- Riley Weiss has landed on preseason watch lists for the Ann Meyers Drysdale Women's National Player of the Year Award, presented by the United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA), as well as the Becky Hammon Mid-Major Player of the Year Award, presented by Her Hoop Stats. The recognitions come a year after she proved to be one of the most lethal 3-point shooters in the country, ranking No. 6 in the NCAA in 3-pointers per game (3.10), 10th in total threes (96) and No. 1 in the Ivy League in 3-point percentage (.376). Meanwhile, she scored 553 points and averaged 17.8 points per game. The Long Island native scored a career-high 34 points against Princeton to help Columbia earn its first season sweep over the Tigers since 2008. She also had a game-high 24 in the NCAA Tournament win over Washington, in which she scored a dramatic 4-point play in the fourth quarter and poured in 14 fourth-quarter points to lead a comeback from 13 points down. Her 2024-25 accolades also included being named First Team All-Ivy League, First Team All-Met, earning two National Player of the Week honors apiece from the USBWA and Associated Press, and being named Ivy League Player of the Week three times.

COACH OF THE YEAR REGULAR

- Megan Griffith was named to the preseason watch list for the Kathy Delaney-Smith Mid-Major Coach of the Year, presented by Her Hoop Stats. Last season, she was one of five finalists for the award.

- Griffith is a regular to Coach of the Year awards and watch lists. She is a three-time Ivy League Coach of the Year (2023-25), three-time Asian Coaches Association Coach of the Year (2022, 2024, 2025) and two-time Maggie Dixon Met Coach of the Year (2023, 2025). Last season, she was also one of 14 finalists for the WBCA NCAA Division I National Coach of the Year.

GRADUATING A LEGENDARY DUO

- Columbia graduated senior duo Kitty Henderson and Cecelia Collins from last year's team. Henderson, a four-year member, graduated as the winningest player in team history, going 100-27 (.787) over her four years. She ranks fourth at Columbia all-time in scoring (1,350), sixth in rebounding (703), No. 1 in assists (494), No. 2 in steals (194), No. 1 in games played (126) and No. 2 in games started (117). She is the only player in Ivy League history 1,300+ points, 700+ rebounds, 450+ assists and 150+ steals.
- Collins also made her mark in just two seasons as a Lion, transferring in as a junior after playing her first two seasons at Bucknell. She helped lead Columbia to its first two NCAA Tournaments, including a victory over Washington on March 20, 2025. A four-time all-league selection between the Patriot and Ivy Leagues, Collins played and started 60 games in two seasons, posting a combined record of 46-14 (.767), accumulating 822 points, 299 rebounds and 255 assists. Despite just two seasons, she is 12th all-time in assists, as well as top five in 3-point field goal percentage (.346) and free throw percentage (.812).

PRESEASON AP VOTES

- The Lions received votes in the AP Preseason Poll for the first time. This marks the fourth consecutive season the Lions received votes in one of the two major polls (AP, Coaches). The Lions also earned votes in the Week 14 and Week 15 AP Polls last year. Columbia has never been ranked in the Top 25.
- Columbia went on to receive four votes in this season's the Week 1 AP Poll. They lost their votes after falling to Richmond, 77-67, on November 15.

COLUMBIA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

BUILDING A RESUME

• Columbia's 2025-26 non-conference schedule includes nine games against teams that qualified for last year's NCAA Tournament, WBIT or WNIT. Five of those games are against last season's NCAA field, which includes the home opener against Richmond (Nov. 15), all three contests at the Cancun Challenge – Kansas State (Nov. 27), South Dakota State (Nov. 28) and North Carolina (Nov. 29) – as well as a late December trip to Fort Myers to battle Florida Gulf Coast (Dec. 29). The Lions will also host 2025 WBIT competitors Saint Joseph's (Nov. 20) and UTSA (Dec. 20) and travel across the Hudson to renew a rivalry with Seton Hall (Dec. 9). Butler qualified for the 2025 WNIT.

• In total, Columbia's 2025-26 schedule includes eight games against NET Top 50 teams and 12 games against NET Top 100 teams from a year ago.

PRESEASON NUGGETS

• Columbia begins its 41st varsity season and 39th competing at the NCAA Div. I level as a member of the Ivy League. The program's first season competing as the Columbia-Barnard Athletic Consortium was 1984-85, followed by its first season competing in both the Ivy League and NCAA Div. I in 1986-87. The 2020-21 season was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

• Columbia returns nine of its 12 players from the 2024-25 season, including three of its five starters. The Lions return 62.9 percent of their scoring and 70.1 percent of their rebounding. Eight of the nine returners played in at least 20 of Columbia's 31 games last season.

• Kitty Henderson and Cecelia Collins are Columbia's biggest losses from last season. Both graduated last May. Henderson was a four-year member of the program, while Collins was a two-year member who transferred in as a junior from Bucknell. Last season, the duo combined for 825 points, 357 rebounds and a staggering 288 assists. Both were All-Ivy League selections.

• Columbia's top returning scorer is junior Riley Weiss. Last season, she scored 553 points and averaged 17.8 per game, ranking top 10 in Columbia single-season history in both categories. Weiss also knocked down 96 triples last year, good for third-best in team history, with an 87.5% free throw percentage, which ranked second.

• The Lions have five newcomers to the roster this year, welcoming four first-years and one junior transfer, Hilke Feldrappe, who played her first two collegiate seasons at Missouri.

#EDGE

• Since Megan Griffith became the head coach of the Lions in 2016, the program's motto has been "EDGE" which stands for "Energy, Discipline, Grit and Excellence."

ABOUT COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

• Columbia University was founded in 1754 as King's College by royal charter of King George II of England. It is the oldest institution of higher learning in the state of New York and the fifth oldest in the United States. One of eight members of the Ivy League, Columbia University is one of the world's most important centers of research and at the same time a distinctive and distinguished learning environment for undergraduates and graduate students in many scholarly and professional fields.

COLUMBIA-BARNARD ATHLETIC CONSORTIUM

• Women's basketball at Columbia began in 1984-85, one year after the creation of the Columbia-Barnard Athletic Consortium. Two years later, Columbia became an NCAA Div. I program (1986-87). Prior to the formation of the consortium, the women's basketball program competed at neighboring Barnard College as the Barnard Bears.

• The creation of the Columbia-Barnard Athletic Consortium in 1983 was an unprecedented endeavor. Made in tandem with Columbia's decision to become coed, a request to the NCAA allowed the two schools to form an athletic consortium, making Barnard the only women's college in the country whose students could compete on Division I athletics teams.

• Columbia has three players that currently attend Barnard College (Noa Comeña, Mary Lobon, Nicole Stephens)

MEGAN GRIFFITH

LAVINE FAMILY HEAD COACH OF WOMEN'S BASKETBALL
10TH YEAR (164-97 OVERALL, 75-47 IVY LEAGUE)
COLUMBIA '07CC
COLUMBIA ATHLETICS HALL OF FAME CLASS OF 2016

The all-time winningest coach in program history, Megan Griffith '07CC is in her 10th year as the Lavine Family Head Coach of Women's Basketball in 2025-26. She was named to her position in March of 2016.

Among the many accomplishments and program-firsts that have come under Griffith's watch, the most memorable moment to date came on March 20, 2025. After earning their second straight at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament, Griffith's Lions returned to the First Four to take on Washington in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Columbia trailed by 13 at halftime but staged a comeback that will live on for decades. Led by a game-high 24 points from Riley Weiss, including 14 in the fourth quarter, as well as 11 points, seven rebounds, seven assists and four steals from senior captain Kitty Henderson, Columbia defeated the Huskies, 63-60, for the program's first victory at the Big Dance. The 11th-seeded Lions advanced into the First Round for the first time before eventually seeing another remarkable season come to a close with a 24-7 overall record.

The 2024-25 season saw Columbia win its third straight Ivy League Regular Season Championship. This time, it was the program's first outright title, as the Lions went 13-1 in league play and swept the season series against Princeton for the first time since 2008. Kitty Henderson was named the Ivy League Defensive Player of the Year and was a unanimous First Team All-Ivy League selection. Riley Weiss joined her on the First Team and Cecelia Collins was Second Team. Griffith and her staff earned the Ivy League's Coaching Staff of the Year Award, marking the third straight season Columbia has taken home the league's Coach of the Year honors. Griffith would also be named one of 14 finalists nationally for the WBCA NCAA Division I Coach of the Year Award, as well as a finalist for the Kathy Delaney-Smith Mid-Major Coach of the Year Award. She took home her second Maggie Dixon Met Coach of the Year Award and third Asian Coaches Association Women's Division I Coach of the Year Award.

Griffith has ushered in a new era and new brand of Columbia women's basketball. Her nine years back in Morningside Heights have combined to be the winningest stretch in program history. Over that time, the Lions have earned 15 power-conference wins over the likes of Miami, Washington, Syracuse, Villanova and Seton Hall, to name a few. They also include the program's first victories over opponents from the ACC, Big East and Big Ten.

Under Griffith's leadership, the Lions have qualified for the Ivy League Tournament in each of their last five competition seasons, playing in the championship game in 2022, 2024 and 2025. They accepted the program's first bid to a postseason tournament by playing in the 2022 Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT). A year later, they went back to the WNIT and made a run all the way to the championship game against Kansas. Griffith and the Lions played in front of over 11,000 fans at Allen Fieldhouse in Lawrence, Kansas and nearly came out with the win.

The 2023-24 team will live on as the first to send Columbia to the NCAA's biggest stage. After putting together a quality at-large resume for the second year in a row, Griffith and the Lions heard the Lions called on Selection Sunday. Columbia earned its first bid to the NCAA Tournament in the program's Division I history (1986-pres.), selected as a No. 12 seed in the Portland 3 Regional.

Abbey Hsu picked up several national recognitions throughout the season. On top of being Ivy League Player of the Year, she was named an All-America Honorable Mention by the Associated Press (AP), becoming just the second player in program history to earn the distinction. The star guard was named to several watch lists throughout the season, including the Jersey Mike's Naismith Trophy Women's College Player of the Year Award, the John R. Wooden Award, Becky Hammon Mid-Major Player of the Year Award, USBWA All-America Team, WBCA Coaches All-America Team and the Naismith Hall of Fame Ann Meyers Drysdale Award (Shooting Guard of the Year).

Entering the season, Griffith has led the Lions to a 100-27 (.787) record over the last four campaigns (2021-25), including a program-record 28 wins in 2022-23 on a run to the WNIT Championship Game, followed by back-to-back NCAA Tournament selections.
