The 59th Annual Beanpot

Behind three second-period goals and 41 saves from Chris Rawlings, Northeastern skated to a 4-0 victory against Harvard in the semifinals of the 59th Beanpot Monday evening at TD Garden. The Huskies advanced to play No. 1 Boston College in the Feb. 14 championship, while Harvard will face No. 14 Boston University in the consolation game.

The Crimson registered a season high in shots, including 17 in the first period. Pier-Olivier Michaud (Mont-Joli, Que.) led Harvard with seven shots on goal, while Rence Coassin (Hamden, Conn.) logged six.

Leading the Crimson

Alex Killorn (Montreal, Que.) paces Harvard with seven goals. With 16 points, he shares the team lead with linemate Michael Biega (Montreal, Que.), Harvard's assists leader with 10.

Crimson Calendar

Harvard is 20-3-0 in February home games under Ted Donato and 38-21-8 in all post-exam league games in Donato's six-plus seasons.

The Bright Stuff

The Crimson is 59-35-3 (.624) at home under Ted Donato and 281-128-28 (.675) all-time at Bright Hockey Center, which opened in 1979-80.

Top of the [Blue] Line

Danny Biega (Montreal, Que.) has 15 points (6-9-15) to lead Harvard defensemen. He is tied for the league lead among defensemen and tied for 13th among all skaters with six goals in ECAC Hockey play. He has totaled 14 points (6-8-14) in league games to tie Princeton's Taylor Fedun for second in ECAC defenseman scoring, a point behind Rensselaer's Nick Bailen (5-10-15). Biega is tied for 13th in league scoring among all players.

With six goals and nine assists overall, Biega averages 0.68 points per game, ranking him 20th nationally among defensemen.

Getting Defensive

Harvard has held four of its last five opponents to two goals or fewer. The Crimson limited No. 3 Yale to its lowest scoring output of the season Feb. 4 and held No. 12 Union, which ranks seventh nationally in scoring offense, without a goal for more than 46 minutes Jan. 22.

The Killers

The Crimson has fended off 27 of the last 29 power plays it has faced. The only power-play tallies Harvard has allowed in the last seven games were Locke Jillson's second-period game-winner for Cornell (Jan. 29) and Brodie Reid's second-period goal for Northeastern (Jan. 7). The Crimson was a season-best 6 for 6 on the penalty kill at Northeastern (Jan. 19) and 5 for 5 at Union. The Dutchmen own the nation's top power play.

Busy Crimson

Friday's game against Princeton begins a run of five games in 12 days. That comes after Monday's Beanpot opener capped stretches of four games in 11 days and seven games in 20 days for Harvard. Only two of those seven games were at home.

Close Calls

Harvard has lost eight games by a single goal and another game by two goals with one coming on an empty net. In 2011, five of the Crimson's seven league games have been one-goal losses.

Hall of Famer

Bob McManama '73 became Harvard's 10th inductee to the Beanpot Hall of Fame when he was honored between semifinal games Monday. McManama totaled eight points on three goals and five assists in six Beanpot games, including two final appearances. McManama was a 1973 All-America selection and a two-time All-ECAC and All-Ivy honoree.

Vote for Alex

Alex Killorn is one of 68 nominees in the preliminary fan-voting phase of the Hobey Baker Award selection at www.hobeybakeraward.com, running through March 6. The fans' vote accounts for one percent of the total ballot in each phase.

All in the Family

Michael Biega has notched five goals and six assists in the last 12 games, and brother Danny has five goals and five assists in the last 11 games. A Biega brother has scored or assisted on 14 of the last 18 Harvard goals.

Help from the Blue Line

Defensemen have assisted on or scored 20 of Harvard's last 25 goals, totaling six goals and 18 assists in the last nine games.

Outside the Box

Harvard averages 12.2 penalty minutes per game, Division I's 12th-lowest mark. Harvard has allowed four power plays or fewer in four straight games.

Conference Call

Harvard's Beanpot games are the last non-league games of the regular season for any ECAC team. The conference has posted a combined 22-28-10 record against WCHA (8-8-4), CCHA (6-10-2) and Hockey East (8-10-4) teams. ECAC squads were 27-6-5 against teams from Atlantic Hockey for an overall record of 49-33-15 from outside the conference (records courtesy USCHO.com).

Scouting the Tigers

Princeton was 9-1-1 in its previous 11 games before falling to No. 11 Union, 7-4, and No. 9 Rensselaer, 5-2, last weekend at home. The Tigers held a 4-1 lead Friday before the Dutchmen rallied with six straight goals. Princeton swept St. Lawrence and Clarkson a week earlier, extending its road win streak to seven games.

Rookie Andrew Calof leads Princeton with 24 points and 19 assists, while Mike Kramer and Kevin Lohry share the team lead with nine goals each. Mike Condon has started the last two Fridays in the Tigers' goalie rotation. He owns a .907 save percentage and 2.70 goals-against average.

Nov. 19 at Baker Rink

The Tigers' Mike Condon made 36 saves to hand the Crimson a 1-0 loss in its Ivy League opener. Mike Kramer's first-period goal held up as the game-winner. Kyle Richter (Calgary, Alta.) made 34 saves for Harvard.

Series History

Only Yale has faced off against Harvard more than Princeton. Starting with a 6-3 win March 1, 1902 in New York City, Harvard holds a 146-55-10 series edge. The Crimson is 9-6-1 against Princeton under Ted Donato. Harvard has swept two league playoff series from the Tigers—including last season at Baker Rink—but Princeton scored a 4-1 win against Harvard in the 2008 ECAC final.

College Classics

The 109-year-old Harvard-Princeton rivalry is one of college hockey's oldest and is tied as its 18th-most-contested. Only five pairs of Eastern rivals have faced off more often. Here are the top 25 rivalries in terms of games played:

A New Teammate

The Crimson adopted Nathan Potvin as a member of the team in a Friends of Jaclyn Foundation gathering Jan. 14 at Bright Hockey Center. Nathan, a 12-year-old left wing from Hooksett, N.H., has been battling a spinal cord tumor since age 5 and travels to Boston frequently for treatment. Nathan has been attending Harvard games and meeting the team throughout the 2010-11 season and is now a member of the Crimson, complete with his own stall in the locker room.

Elite Company

Ted Donato needs five wins to become the fourth head coach to lead Harvard to 100 victories. He is seeking to join Harvard legend Bill Cleary (324 wins), Hockey Hall of Famer Ralph "Cooney" Weiland (315) and Ronn Tomassoni (140) in that exclusive club.

Crimson Captains

Harvard is led by captains Michael Del Mauro (Watchung, N.J.) and Chris Huxley (Weymouth, Mass.) and assistant Kyle Richter. Del Mauro, a three-time ECAC All-Academic selection, earned the Angier Trophy as the Crimson's most improved player last season. Huxley has played 106 games, registering 30 points. Richter was the 2008 winner of the Dryden Award as ECAC Hockey's top goalie and holds Harvard records for games (34), starts (34) and minutes (2,023) in a season.

Leaving His Mark

Kyle Richter is tied with Bruce Durno '71 for third in Harvard history with six career shutouts. Dov Grumet-Morris '05 is the all-time Crimson record with 11 shutouts, and Grant Blair '86 ranks second with nine.

Richter has made 2,288 career saves to rank fourth on Harvard's all-time list. He needs 373 more stops to equal J.R. Prestifilippo '00 for third place. Grumet-Morris holds the Crimson career saves record with 3,081. Richter ranks fifth in career games started (83), games played (88) and minutes played (4,910) at Harvard.

Oh, Brother

The Harvard roster features a set of Biega brothers for the fourth straight season and at least one Biega for the fifth straight year. Alex Biega '10 signed with the National Hockey League's Buffalo Sabres just before 2010 commencement and is now playing for the Sabres' American Hockey League affiliate, the Portland Pirates.

Hat Trick Facts

With three goals against Colgate (Jan. 28), Danny Biega became the first Harvard defenseman to record a hat trick since eventual New York Islander Dylan Reese '07 scored three times in a 5-2 home win against Yale March 2, 2007 in the opening game of the ECAC playoffs.

Biega's hat trick was Harvard's second of the year. The first was a natural hat trick by older brother Michael, who scored three straight goals in the second period against Brown (Jan. 7).

Brother to Brother

Michael Biega assisted on Danny Biega's first goal against Colgate. One brother has assisted the other five times in the last 11 games (Danny to Michael three times, Michael to Danny twice). They had never played together before last season, and neither had assisted the other before Jan. 7.

Adding Offense

Danny Biega has 20 points (9-11-20) in the last 29 games after logging one goal and three assists in the first 25 games of his rookie season of 2009-10.

Family Tradition

A Biega brother has led Harvard in assists in each of the last two seasons, Alex with 16 in 2008-09 and Michael with 15 last season.

Streaker

Alex Killorn registered points in 10 straight games from Nov. 20 through Jan. 15.

Clutch Performer

Alex Killorn has scored three of Harvard's four game-winning goals, including the lone goal with 8.2 seconds left on the clock against No. 18 Rensselaer (Nov. 6).

Shooting Gallery

Alex Killorn leads ECAC Hockey with 73 shots on goal in league play. He has a team-high 94 total shots in 21 games this season, including a season-high 12 at Clarkson.

On the Dot

Alex Killorn has won a team-high 177 faceoffs, while losing 174 (.504). Killorn has posted a winning record in 11 games and an even mark in three. Killorn won a season-high 15 draws, with 11 losses, at Clarkson.

David Valek (Zagreb, Croatia) went 6-2 on faceoffs at Yale and owns a team-high .574 win percentage (35-26). Daniel Moriarty (Bienfait, Sask.) is 55-44 (.556), while Marshall Everson (Edina, Minn.) is 50-39 (.562).

The Century Mark

Chris Huxley skated in his 100th game for Harvard Nov. 15 at Boston University. He has registered six goals and 24 assists in his career. Michael Biega skated in his 100th game Nov. 19 at Princeton. He leads the Crimson with career totals of 28 goals, 43 assists and 71 points. Biega's 100th game was Harvard's 102nd as a team in his three-plus years.

Impact Freshman

Dan Ford (Skaneateles, N.Y.) ranks fifth in scoring by freshman defensemen with a goal and four assists in league play. He has six points (1-5-6) overall.

Delay of Game

Harvard's game scheduled for Feb. 2 at Brown was postponed due to heavy snow in the Northeast. It will be made up Feb. 22 at 7 p.m.

Top 50

Hobey Baker winner and Olympian Lane MacDonald '88-89 was named to ECAC Hockey's list of the top 50 players in league history last week, joining Mark Fusco '83, Joe Cavanagh '71 and Gene Kinasewich '64 as Harvard's honorees so far.

A member of the 1988 U.S. Olympic Team, MacDonald was twice selected to the All-America first team and is the Crimson's all-time leader with 111 career goals. He was the captain and most valuable player of Harvard's 1989-89 NCAA championship team, led the Crimson to the 1987 ECAC title and ranks second all-time at Harvard with 225 points.

Happy 50th

The Crimson, like its fellow league members, is wearing a patch on its jerseys this season commemorating the 50th season of ECAC play. ECAC Hockey has been home to seven NCAA champions, witnessed over 15,000 games and produced more than 500 NHL players and nearly 300 All-Americans. The league will honor its rich history with initiatives throughout the season. Harvard has won a regular-season or tournament title (or both) in 17 of the previous 49 seasons.

Local Legends

Harvard's prolific "Local Line" of Bill Corkery '73, Bob McManama and Dave Hynes '73 was inducted into the Massachusetts Hockey Hall of Fame Nov. 10. McManama, a native of Belmont, Mass., centered left wing Hynes of Cambridge and right wing Corkery of Arlington for each of their three seasons on the Crimson varsity squad. They helped Harvard capture the ECAC title and reach the NCAA semifinals as sophomores in 1970-71 and share the ECAC regular-season crown as seniors in 1972-73.

The Crimson posted a 52-16-3 record in those three years as the members of the Local Line totaled 201 goals and 407 points. At the time of their graduation, McManama and Hynes ranked second and third, respectively, on Harvard's career scoring chart and were tied for second all-time in goals at Harvard.

Offensive Behavior

Harvard's six goals against Colgate (Jan. 28) were one more than it had totaled in its previous four games and two more than it had scored in any game this season. The Crimson had not registered six goals in a game since blowing out Quinnipiac, 11-0, to open an ECAC quarterfinal series March 14, 2008.

Career Highs

In addition to Danny Biega's career highs for points and goals against Colgate, Chris Huxley set career bests with three assists and three points, and Marshall Everson registered his first two-assist game. Conor Morrison and Michael Biega matched their career highs in assists with two each.

Comeback Crimson

The Jan. 7 game against Brown, an eventual 4-3 loss, was the second time in three games that the Crimson came back to take the lead after trailing by two goals in the second period. Harvard rallied from two goals down to defeat Army, 4-2, Jan. 1. The Brown loss was the Crimson's first when leading at any point in a game. Harvard was previously 3-0 after taking the lead.

Trick or Treat

Michael Biega's hat trick against Brown was the second of his career. Biega previously scored all three goals—the first three of his career—in a 3-3 tie Nov. 28, 2007 at Yale. The last Crimson player to score three goals in a game was Conor Morrison, who netted four in a 6-5 home loss to BU Nov. 24, 2009.

Getting Going

Danny Fick (Marine on St. Croix, Minn.) entered the Jan. 1 Army game without a collegiate point and with a -2 plus/minus rating. He logged two assists and was +3 against the Black Knights.

Homecoming King

Rence Coassin scored the first goal of his career, shorthanded, while playing in his hometown of Hamden, Conn., Nov. 20. The score was part of a Harvard comeback from three goals down to tie the game before the end of the second period, but host Quinnipiac pulled out a 5-4 win.

Back in the Lineup

Matt McCollem (Westford, Mass.) is back on the ice this season after the first healthy offseason of his collegiate career. He has battled injuries since his freshman season of 2007-08, when he logged 11 points (5-7-12) and a +8 rating over the final 14 games.

Returning Statistical Leaders

Five of Harvard's top six scorers are back from 2009-10. Michael Biega ranked second on the team with 22 points while logging a team-high 15 assists a year ago. Alex Killorn ranked third on the squad with 20 points and nine goals. Conor Morrison (London, Ont.) is the top returning goal-scorer, having netted 10 goals to go with eight assists. Chris Huxley led Harvard defensemen with 13 points, one fewer than forward Daniel Moriarty.

Stability Amid Turnover

Harvard lost four defensemen to graduation but returned three who skated in at least 30 games last season: Danny Biega (32 games), Chris Huxley (32) and Ryan Grimshaw (30).

What a Difference a Year Makes

Harvard's 2009-10 opening-night lineup featured six freshmen and four sophomores among the 12 forwards. None of the Crimson's 14 forwards began 2010-11 with fewer than 22 games played.

Dependability in Goal

Seniors Kyle Richter and Ryan Carroll (Hackensack, N.J.) have combined to start 113 games in their Harvard careers. Richter owns a .913 save percentage and 2.66 goals-against average in 88 career games (83 starts). Carroll has registered a .917 save percentage and 2.84 goals-against average in 38 games (30 starts).

A Harvard Trade

Alex Fallstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) was traded from one Harvard alum to another in October 2009. Minnesota Wild general manager Chuck Fletcher '90 played on the Harvard junior varsity team, and Boston general manager Peter Chiarelli '87 was the Crimson's 91st captain. Chiarelli acquired Fallstrom's draft rights from Fletcher in a deal involving forward Chuck Kobasew. Fletcher and Chiarelli are two of the three NHL general managers with Harvard degrees. The other is Brian Burke LAW '81 of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Crimson opponents in italics *RPI adjusted to remove negative effect from defeating weak opponent.

The PairWise Ranking is a system which attempts to mimic the method used by the NCAA Selection Committee to determine participants for the NCAA Division I men's hockey tournament. The PWR compares the teams with a Ratings Percentage Index (RPI) of .500 or better, judging them by four criteria: record against common opponents, head-to-head competition, record against other teams under consideration (TUC) and the RPI.

For each comparison won, a team receives one point. The final PWR ranking is based on the number of points (comparisons) won against TUC. Ties are settled by the RPI. A team's record is based only on games against other Division I hockey schools which are eligible for the NCAA tournament.

Pro Prospects

Danny Biega was the second returning collegiate player selected in the 2010 NHL Entry Draft. He was taken with the seventh pick of the third round, the 67th overall selection, by the Carolina Hurricanes. Biega was the first Quebec native to be drafted, making it the second straight year a Harvard player has held that distinction, following the 2009 first-round selection of Louis Leblanc '13 by the Montreal Canadiens.

Biega's selection gives the Crimson four NHL draftees on its roster. Alex Fallstrom was chosen in 2009 (Minnesota Wild, fourth round, 116th overall, traded to Boston Bruins), Alex Killorn in 2007 (Tampa Bay Lightning, third round, 77th overall) and Matt McCollum in 2006 (St. Louis Blues, sixth round, 154th overall).

In the Show

Dylan Reese made his NHL debut March 4, 2010 at Atlanta, becoming the 24th Harvard player to skate in the world's top hockey league.

In the NHL

Dominic Moore '03 in his first season with the Tampa Bay Lightning. Two-time Stanley Cup champion Craig Adams '99 of the Pittsburgh Penguins is in his 10th NHL season, while Dylan Reese of the New York Islanders is in his second. Noah Welch '05 made his first appearances with the Atlanta Thrashers, his fourth NHL team, this season. All four Harvard alumni who have skated in the NHL this season are former Crimson captains. "Harvard Hulk"

Danny Biega was one of the top performers at the 2010 NHL Draft Combine. He had the top overall numbers in the right-hand grip (185 pounds), left-hand grip (176), push strength (329), pull strength (328), bench press (20 reps of 150 pounds) and upper-body power (tossed four-kilogram medicine ball 261 inches). Biega ranked in the top 10 in more than half of the 31 strength and conditioning tests, earning him the nickname "Harvard Hulk," in a Yahoo! Sports article.

Crimson Miscellany

Harvard has the largest Division I athletics program in the country with 41 varsity sports and nearly 1,200 student-athletes ... Crimson teams have won 139 national championships in 18 sports, most recently the 2010 women's squash title ... Harvard, founded in 1636, is the nation's oldest university ... Five graduates of Harvard College, more than any other school, have gone on to become U.S. presidents. Barack Obama LAW '91 is the eighth overall Harvard alumnus (undergraduate or graduate) to serve in the nation's highest office.

TED DONATO '91

The Robert D. Ziff '88 Head Coach for Men's Ice Hockey

Following success as a player at the collegiate, professional and international levels, Ted Donato has begun piling up a long list of accomplishments in six years as head coach at his alma mater. The former Crimson captain has guided Harvard to its first back-to-back 20-win seasons since 1992-93 and 1993-94, captured ECAC Hockey and Ivy League championships, claimed two NCAA tournament berths, led his team to three league championship games, coached two All-Americans and set a new standard for wins by a Harvard coach in his first three seasons.

The owner of a 91-89-20 career record entering this season, Donato accumulated 56 victories in his first three years. He is the third Harvard coach to total 50 wins in his first three seasons, joining Bill Cleary '56 (51 wins), who coached Donato at Harvard, and Ronn Tomassoni (50).

Donato, an NCAA champion as a Crimson player, Olympian and 13-year NHL veteran, was introduced as the Robert D. Ziff '88 Head Coach for Harvard Men's Ice Hockey July 2, 2004.

A 1991 graduate, Donato is just the Crimson's sixth head coach since 1950. He is the eighth Harvard alum to serve as the program's head coach. The appointment is his first coaching position.

Donato did not look like a rookie coach in his debut season in 2004-05, leading the Crimson to a 21-10-3 record, runner-up finishes in the ECAC Hockey League regular season and tournament and an NCAA tournament bid. His 2005-06 Harvard squad followed with another 21-win season, captured the ECACHL and Ivy League championships and made another NCAA appearance. Donato is the only head coach to take Harvard to the NCAA tournament in each of his first two years.

Sharing a trait with his playing career, Donato's teams have shown the tendency to come through in the clutch. They have gone 19-0-0 in February home games and 29-13-5 in all games following the early-February Beanpot tournament. The 2007-08 Crimson closed the year on a 10-3-1 run, reaching the finals of the Beanpot and league playoffs. In 2008-09, Harvard capped the regular season with a 4-0-2 spurt.

As an undergraduate, Donato etched his name alongside Harvard's all-time greats. He finished his career 11th on the Crimson's career scoring chart (50 goals, 94 assists, 144 points) and remains 12th in that category. He earned All-ECAC and All-Ivy accolades while serving as the 95th captain of Harvard hockey in his 1990-91 senior season.

Donato was named Most Outstanding Player of the 1989 NCAA Frozen Four, where Harvard downed Minnesota, 4-3, in overtime in the NCAA championship game. That contest, held in the Gophers' backyard (St. Paul, Minn.), saw Donato net a pair of goals, one that tied the game at 1-1 midway through the second period and another that gave the Crimson a 3-2 lead with seven minutes to go. Donato scored three goals and added a pair of assists in the tournament.

He earned the Donald Angier Hockey Trophy as the team's most improved player in 1989 and accepted the Ralph "Cooney" Weiland Award for spirit and devotion to Harvard hockey in 1991.

A native of Dedham, Mass., Donato was a member of seven U.S. national teams, including the 1992 Olympic team. He tied for the team lead in scoring with four goals and three assists in eight games in the Olympics and posted 11 goals and 22 assists in the pre-Games schedule. He also played in the World Championships in 1997 (4-2-6 in 8 GP), 1999 (2-6-8 in 8 GP) and 2002 (1-3-4 in 7 GP) and in the 1988 World Junior Championship (3-2-5 in 7 GP).

Donato was selected by the Boston Bruins in the fifth round of the 1987 NHL Entry Draft (98th overall), and he signed with his hometown club in March 1992 following the Olympic Games. His 13-year pro career included stops in New York (with the Rangers and Islanders), Los Angeles, Ottawa, Anaheim and St. Louis. He returned to the Bruins as a free agent in July 2003.

His NHL career spanned 796 games, in which he scored 150 goals with 197 assists for 347 points. Donato had eight goals and 18 assists in 58 career playoff games. With 25 goals in 1996-97, he became the first U.S.-born player to lead the Bruins in goals.

Donato graduated Catholic Memorial School as its all-time leading scorer. The son of Michael and Mary Donato, Ted and his three brothers were all active in athletics. Brother Michael played baseball at Princeton; Chris played hockey, baseball and football at Williams; and Dan played hockey and baseball at Boston University. Their sister, Paula, is a plastics engineer.

Donato is a resident of Scituate, Mass., with his wife, Jeannine, and their four children: Ryan, Jack, Nolan and Madelyn.
