CAMERON INDOOR STADIUM

Duke University's Cameron Indoor Stadium, the crown jewel of college athletics classic venues, was conceived on the back of a matchbook cover in 1935 and renovated in the late 1980s at a cost of $2 million. Cameron underwent a series of improvements over the summer of 2009 to enhance the gameday experience, while also retaining the revered qualities of the facility now in its 80th year as the home of the Blue Devils. Legend has it that it all began with a book of matches, which for a town and a school founded on local tobacco fortunes, seems a promising way to start.

It's the intimacy of the arena, the unique seating arrangement that puts the wildest fans right down on the floor with the players. It's the legends that were made there, the feeling of history being made with every game. And it's something more than either of these, something indescribable that comes from the building itself. No one who has experienced it will ever forget it.

Originally the largest indoor arena in the South, Cameron is today one of the smallest in the nation. Nevertheless, its stature grows from year-to-year. In its June 7, 1999, issue, Sports Illustrated rated Cameron Indoor Stadium fourth on a list of the top 20 sporting venues in the world in the 20th Century, ranking ahead of such notables as Wrigley Field, Fenway Park and Pebble Beach Golf Club.

Glen Lanham was introduced as Duke wrestling head coach April 16, 2012 and has made major strides in each of his seasons at the helm. The Blue Devils have seen at least two wrestlers qualify for the NCAA Championships in seven of his 12 seasons. Duke earned consecutive top-25 finishes at the NCAA Championships in 2018 and 2019, missing the 2020 event due to the cancelation of the tournament (COVID-19). Throughout his tenure, Lanham has coached three NCAA All-Americans, six All-ACC honorees (12 honors) and 15 NCAA qualifiers (32 times earning bids).

In Lanham's 12th year as the Blue Devils' head coach, the 2023-24 season was led by a youthful roster featuring four freshmen starting in all dual matches. Redshirt freshman Connor Barket emerged as the team leader in wins with 16. At the same time, fellow redshirt, Gaetano Console showcased his work ethic by posting nine victories and delivering a notable performance at the Keystone Classic. The true freshmen on the squad, Raymond Adams and Kwasi Bonsu, gained valuable experience competing in over 20 matches with Adams achieving his first ACC win. All four freshmen participated in the 2024 ACC Championship.

This season was the first year in Lanham's Duke coaching career without sending at least one wrestler to the NCAA Tournament. Junior Logan Ferrero secured fourth place in the 157 weight class in the ACC Championship, marking his inaugural podium finish as a Blue Devil.

Additionally, Duke continued its success off the mat with a league leading nine Blue Devils earning spots on the All-ACC Academic Wrestling team for the second consecutive year and marking the 12th year in a row registering at least one NWCA Scholar All-American.

During the 2022-23 campaign, Lanham guided senior heavyweight Jonah Niesenbaum to a career-best season, including his first appearance at the NCAA Championships. The Allentown, Pa., native punched his ticket to the championship after a silver medal finish at the ACC Championships, earning him All-ACC status. Niesenbaum finished the year with a 26-6 ledger, including five wins over nationally ranked opponents.

Duke wrestling enjoyed a bounce back year in 2021-22, finishing 7-10 in dual match play. The Blue Devils would qualify two wrestlers - Josh Finesilver and Matt Finesilver, for the 2022 NCAA Championship, while also leading Kaden Russell to an ACC Wrestler of the Week nod. The Finesilver brothers combined to go 57-17, with Josh Finesilver reaching the round of 16 at NCAA's. In the classroom, the Finesilvers, Jonah Niesenbaum and Patrick Rowland each took home NWCA All-Academic Team honors.

Despite a 2020-21 season shortened by the COVID-19 pandemic that limited the team to only five duals, all of which came in conference, Lanham led another wrestler back to the NCAA Championship in Josh Finesilver. Finesilver went 9-5 overall and won three ranked matches in the NCAA Championship, nearly capturing All-American status.

The 2019-20 season was a youthful one as Duke's lineup featured six weight classes with starters listed in their freshman or redshirt freshman season. Redshirt freshman Mason Eaglin was the Blue Devils' lone NCAA qualifier as he led the team with a 9-8 record during duals matches and finished the tournament season with an 11-2 mark. The Port Orchard, Wash., native went 3-3 against ranked opponents throughout the year and was above .500 during ACC duals at 3-2, including a pin of Virginia's Victor Marcelli. The two remaining Finesilver brothers (Josh and Matt) both took Olympic redshirts this season, while Kaden Russell, another starter from the 2018-19 season, also decided to redshirt this year, taking three starters out of the lineup for the Blue Devils.

Duke did well in the classroom in 2019-20 with four wrestlers earning All-ACC Academic honors and the Blue Devils posting the 24th-best team GPA among Division I teams. The Blue Devils, sporting a 3.2081 team GPA that season, were one of two ACC schools (NC State) honored.

Despite having a lean lineup in terms of depth in 2018-19, five Blue Devils qualified for the NCAA Championships for the second straight season. The group consisted of the four Finesilver brothers and redshirt freshman Ben Anderson. Headlining the squad all season was redshirt senior Mitch Finesilver at 149 pounds. A three-time ACC runner-up, Mitch broke through for his first ACC title and ultimately finished fourth at the NCAA Championships to earn All-America recognition. Junior Matt Finesilver garnered All-ACC as the runner-up at 174 pounds, while Josh and Zach Finesilver took third to earn a spot in the NCAA postseason event.

The Blue Devils also were quite successful in the classroom, finishing ninth nationally in team GPA. The five NCAA qualifiers also garnered NWCA Scholar All-America awards and Mitch picked up the prestigious ACC Postgraduate Scholarship as well as the ACC Scholar Athlete of the Year accolade.

After just missing a top-25 finish in recent years, the 2017-18 season finished with a bang as Duke placed in the top 25 for the first time in program history. In addition, the Blue Devils made NCAA history as the four Finesilver brothers earned bids in the NCAA Championships, marking the first time in history four brothers have qualified in the same season. Jacob Kasper took home his second All-America award with a fourth-place showing, while Mitch Finesilver missed a podium spot by one match.

Kasper also won his first ACC title at heavyweight and Mitch and Zach Finesilver took runner-up at 157 and 165, respectively. As a team, Duke finished 7-7 overall and upended Virginia in ACC dual action. The Blue Devils took fourth at the ACC Championships.

Lanham's continued to add to All-Americans to the wall in 2016-17 as Kasper achieved All-America status with a sixth-place finish at the NCAA Championships. He became the second wrestler under Lanham to earn the honor and the fourth All-America award won under Lanham's watch.

In addition to Kasper, Jake Faust and Connor Bass advanced to the NCAA Championships, marking the third straight season Duke has landed at least three wrestlers at the postseason event and the fifth straight year multiple Blue Devils qualified. Prior to the 2015-16 season, Duke had never sent more than two wrestlers to the NCAA Championships in consecutive seasons.

Duke also did well in the classroom in 2016-17 with four wrestlers earning NWCA All-Academic honors and the Blue Devils posting the 17th-best team GPA among Division I teams. Duke was the lone ACC team represented in the top 30.

Lanham made history in 2016 as Conner Hartmann, under Lanham's mentoring, became Duke's first three-time All-American. Also the first Duke wrestler to be a four-time NCAA qualifier, Hartmann finished seventh at the NCAA Championships at 197 pounds. Overall, four Blue Devils qualified for the NCAA Championships, marking the second consecutive season and the first time in program history the Blue Devils have landed at least four wrestlers in the field. Duke previously had never sent more than two wrestlers to the NCAA postseason event in consecutive years. In addition, Mitch Finesilver was one shy of landing on the podium for the Blue Devils - the farthest two Duke wrestlers have advanced at NAAs in program history.

On the team side of the results, Duke grabbed a pair of top 25 wins with victories over rival No. 13 North Carolina and No. 23 Purdue. The triumph over the Tar Heels was the highest ranked win in program history and was the first victory over UNC since 2004. Duke upset the Boilermakers 28-18 to earn its third Big Ten win in program history and the second ranked win of the year.

Lanham's third season was arguably his best as the Blue Devils landed a program-best five wrestlers in the NCAA Championships and posted its highest finish at 28th. Marcus Cain, Mitch Finesilver, Hartmann, Kasper and Immanuel Kerr-Brown all earned bids to the NCAA field, while Hartmann led the charge with his second All-American performance and sixth-place finish. Overall, three Blue Devils advanced to the second day of competition for the first time in program history.

In conference action, Lanham led the Blue Devils to a fourth-place showing at the ACC Championships, the highest finish since taking third in 2004. Duke defeated a pair of Big Ten opponents for the first time in program history en route to an 11-5 overall record.

In addition to his All-America performance, Hartmann took home the ACC title at 197 pounds, while Kasper and Finesilver both garnered All-ACC honors.

Off the mat, Duke ranked sixth nationally in team GPA and had four wrestlers earn NWCA All-Academic honors. The Blue Devils were tops in the ACC in GPA for a second straight year.

In just his second season, Lanham landed a Duke wrestler on the podium at NCAA Championships for the third time in the program's history. Hartmann, in his second consecutive appearance at NAAs, turned in a pair of upsets en route to becoming Duke's second All-American wrestler with a fifth-place showing at 197 pounds.

In addition, for the first time in program history, Duke had two wrestlers - Immanuel Kerr-Brown joined Hartmann - who advanced to the second day of wrestling at the NCAA Championships.

Kerr-Brown's improvement under Lanham shined through in the 2014-15 season. The Rome, Ga., native posted a career-high 26 wins, five shy of his previous two seasons combined, and took third at ACC Championships.

As a team, Duke had its highest finish at NCAA Championships in program history with a 29th-place showing. Overall, Duke finished the year 6-15 after wrestling its toughest schedule in school history.

The Duke wrestling program made strides in Lanham's first season at the helm. The Blue Devils finished the year 9-10-0 and 1-4 in the ACC. The nine wins were the most since the 2008-09 campaign as Duke sent two wrestlers - Brandon Gambucci and Hartmann - to the NCAA Championships. It marked the first time since 2009 as well that multiple Blue Devils competed in the NCAA postseason event.

On the mat, Gambucci earned All-ACC honors at 133 pounds to earn an automatic berth in the NCAA Championships. Hartmann finished third at 197 pounds, despite missing the previous month due to an injury, and garnered an at-large invitation to the postseason.

Overall, Duke placed four wrestlers among the top four in the ACC Championships and had seven different wrestlers place in the various tournaments over the course of the year.

Duke was equally as successful in the classroom in Lanham's first season. The Blue Devils landed six wrestlers on the All-ACC Academic Team, while Gambucci and Hartmann earned NWCA All-Academic recognition and the Duke team ranked fifth overall with a team GPA of 3.15.

The Blue Devils also were active in the community, helping handicapped kids learn baseball, visiting local hospitals, and cooking breakfast at the Durham Urban Ministries.

Prior to taking over the head coaching position, Lanham served as an assistant coach with the Blue Devils for two seasons. Lanham helped mentor Diego Bencomo and Tanner Hough to NCAA Championship berths in 2011 and 2012, respectively. Under Lanham's tutelage in the wrestling room, Bencomo earned 2011 All-ACC recognition after taking runner-up honors at the ACC Championships at 184 pounds. The Phoenix, Ariz., native went on to register a pair of wins in the NCAA Tournament, becoming just the second wrestler in Duke history to make it to the quarterfinal round.

With the help of Lanham in 2012, Hough became the second Duke true freshman to earn a bid to the NCAA Championships after taking fourth at the ACC Championships at 141 pounds. Hough finished his rookie campaign with a 23-13 overall record. Lanham joined the Duke coaching staff as an assistant in June of 2010 after stints as an assistant coach at Oklahoma State, North Carolina and Purdue. Prior to arriving in Durham, he spent three seasons at Purdue where he spearheaded the Boilermakers' recruiting efforts.

At Purdue, Lanham had an immediate impact on the program, helping several Boilermakers to breakout seasons. He mentored a selection of student-athletes to the NCAA Championships during his three seasons and under his watch Luke Manuel earned three bids to the NCAA postseason and climbed to as high as fifth nationally at 174 pounds.

The Boilermakers' two recruiting classes under Lanham garnered a wealth of national honors, including the nation's No. 12 class from InterMat.com in 2008. It marked the second straight top-20 national recruiting class for the Boilermakers as they reeled in three of the nation's top-100 recruits, including a pair of 2009 USA Wrestling Junior national champions.

Prior to his three years at Purdue, the former Oklahoma State competitor coached at the University of North Carolina for four years. With the Tar Heels, Lanham also worked closely with the middle to upper weight classes and headed their recruiting efforts.

In his time in Chapel Hill, Lanham tutored four ACC Champions and nine NCAA Championships qualifiers. He also went to great lengths to improve the Tar Heels' program, bringing in an InterMat Wrestling Top-25 recruiting class in 2006-07.

Lanham worked as a high school teacher and wrestling coach in Oklahoma from 1991-2003. He was at Midwest City High School for seven years, where he mentored several state champions and sent them on to prestigious college programs. While at Midwest City, he also volunteered his time at Oklahoma University, coaching several All-Americans.

Lanham served as a graduate assistant at Oklahoma State University from 1988-1991, helping the Cowboys to a pair of NCAA Championships. As a college competitor, he garnered All-American honors at both OSU and the University of Tennessee, where he earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in human service with an emphasis in juvenile counseling in August of 1988. He competed internationally as a member of the Sunkist Kids team and was freestyle wrestling All-American.

Lanham resides in Pittsboro, N.C., with his wife Melanie.
