SEASON RECAP

Queen's Artistic Swimming had an exciting season this year, with three teams showcasing their skills in unique ways.

The yellow team, who swam to classic rock, brought energy to the pool with their upbeat routine, placing sixth at McGill invitational with a score of 69.0833 and fourth at Eastern with a score of 68.3167. The blue team, swam to a pirate-themed routine. Their choreography was creative and engaging, and they incorporated exciting lifts into their routines. The blue team placed 13th at McGill Invitational with a score of 62.5417 and 15th at Eastern with a score of 61.6250.

The novice team swam to a funky dark magic routine. Their innovative choice of music showed off their energy and enthusiasm, and their technical skills were impressive for a novice team.

The yellow team had two expert duets by Noémie Guidon Riopel and Meghan Vrkoc and Emma Wansbrough and Claire Christie who had great swims at McGill and Eastern's.

Lastly, competing in the experienced solo event, Sarah Taylor had fantastic swims placing fifth at McGill Invitational and third at Eastern's and Payton Hooey had beautiful swims placing sixth at McGill and fifth at Easterns.

Despite each team having their unique style, they all shared a common goal of working hard and performing at their best. Throughout the season, they supported and encouraged each other, creating a positive and supportive team dynamic. Overall, the Queen's Artistic Swimming team had a successful season, with each team bringing their unique strengths and personalities to the pool.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Baseball won the 2022 OUA Championship.

In the regular season, the team finished 10-4. This included winning 3 of 4 against Carleton, 3 of 4 against Laurentian, 3 of 4 against Concordia, and splitting a doubleheader against McGill.

In the Ottawa regional, Queen's came out on top, knocking out Carleton and Ottawa.

In the OUA semifinals, Queen's beat Guelph 1-0. Jordan Leishman threw a complete game shutout with ten strikeouts.

In the OUA Final, Queen's overcame an early 5-0 deficit and an 8-3 deficit in the 7th inning. The final score was 13-11 for Queen's. This was the Gaels first ever OUA Championship.

Leishman was named OUA Pitcher of the Year. Rowan Radzinski was voted to the All-Star team.

Jeff Melrose was named OUA Coach of the Year.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Cheerleading came second at Nationals this season. The score difference between first and second was the closest Queen's Cheer has come to first place since 2014.

This season marked a notable difference in both the dedication to competing and effort to return this program to it's former national renown.

Post COVID, this was the Gaels' first time returning to cheering games, which has been a huge success in both resuming old traditions and creating news one for Gaels fans gameday experience.

The program's efforts to increase local involvement has allowed our athletes to become a positive representative of both the Queen's and Kingston community. This season as a whole has setup a strong foundation for success moving forward.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Women's Curling had an exciting season, working to integrate three returning players with three rookies while learning new roles and positions.

The transition was seamless, leading to strong team dynamics that would be helpful throughout the season.

The team spent the season practicing and playing in league games at the Cataraqui Golf and Country Club. They also played in a local one-day exhibition event, and had a strong showing, winning both of their games and finishing in second place.

The team faced other university teams for the first time this season at the OUA championship weekend. The team was hopeful and confident after Day 1 of OUAs, where they went 2-0, including a commanding win over McMaster. The women finished round-robin at 3-1, and were very proud of their draw-to-the-button score. They beat Brock in a tight quarter final game that came down to the very last rock and a difference of 3 mm. The team came fourth overall at OUAs and are proud of their hard work and results this season.

SEASON RECAP

After a three-year hiatus, Queen's Cycling took on the challenge of restarting university mountain biking.

Queen's Cycling worked tirelessly, getting nine community sponsors and bringing in schools from across Canada.

In a 1hr men's race, Queen's Cycling was able sweep the podium with a nail biting sprint finish won by Jack Ciotlos in front of Seamus Carlyle and Taegan McGuire.

In our 1hr women's race, Queen's Cycling was able to completely sweep the podium again with Kaitlyn Shikaze winning the event in a long attack early on in the race just in front of our very own Hannah Rydlo and Sarah Fabbro. A double podium sweep allowed Queen's to secure the overall uCup victory again.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Distance Track had a tremendous year, capped with earning medals at both the provincial and national level.

The Gaels opened their season by earning six medals at the Ottawa Winter Classic with Jude Wheeler-Dee and Madelyn Bullock earning golds, Miles Brackenbury, Caleigh Pribaz, and Elizabeth Vroom earning silvers, and Gillian Porter winning a bronze.

The rest of the season ahead of championships saw a number of Gaels set personal bests and climb Queen's all-time Top 10s, including Wheeler-Dee breaking a couple school records.

At the OUA Track & Field Championship, Wheeler-Dee became the first Queen's runner to earn double gold (Men's 1,000M and Men's 1,500M) since the 1970s. Wheeler-Dee was named the OUA Men's Track MVP at the event.

Queen's Women's 4X800M Relay Team also earned a bronze medal and trip to nationals at the OUA Championship.

Wheeler-Dee capped his incredible season with a gold medal in the Men's 1,000M at the U SPORTS Track & Field Championship.

SEASON RECAP

This year brought a new league format to OUA Field Hockey, with a solidified East and West division. This meant that Queen's would compete against their East division counterparts, York, Toronto and McGill twice, and having divisional crossover games once against McMaster, Guelph, Waterloo and Western.

Overall, Queen's completed the season with a 2-7-1 record, which included narrow losses to Western and Waterloo. Isabelle Mastantuono and Nina Watson were again recognized for their athletic contributions, being named OUA All-Stars.

We welcomed 10 new players to our roster and welcomed back 11.

Nina Watson was awarded the MVP award for always being a dependable and aggressive player, who played on all three lines this season.

Monica Johnston was awarded the Most Improved Player award. Monica worked hard at every practice, constantly received coaches' feedback well, and earned her way to a regular playing position.

Jennie Izatt was awarded the Coaches award for taking on a new role with the team by stepping into the net to be our goaltender.

Ellie Duggan received the Rookie of the Year award. Ellie was a very reliable player, a strong defender, and played in every game this season.

SEASON RECAP

The first invitational hosted by Brock University landed Queen's Figure Skating in sixth place overall with podium finishes in three events: Star 10 Solo Dance (2nd), Open Rhythm Dance (2nd), and Gold Solo Dance (3rd).

Soon after returning from the holiday break, the University of Waterloo hosted the second invitational which resulted in another sixth overall placement with three silver medals in Star 10 Similar Dance, Open Rhythm Dance, and Gold Solo Dance.

At the OUA Championship hosted by Western University, the team placed sixth overall once again. After the first day of competition, the Gaels were in sixth place, just missing the podium in four events (Star 8/9 Similar Dance, Star 10 Solo Dance, Gold Solo Dance, and Star 10 Free Skate).

However, on the second day of competition, Queen's had podium finishes with a silver medal for Zander Neilsen, who skated to a near flawless program in Open Men's Free Skate, and bronze medals for Shaundra Buelow and Jade Paganelli, who impressed the judges with their technique, flow, and expression in the Paso Doble and the Viennese Waltz in Star 10 Similar Dance.

The team won the Team Spirit Award that was voted on by all the varsity teams.

SEASON RECAP

The Men's Team was hoping to return to the podium after a successful 2021 season and winning the OUA Championship. Despite losing seven athletes to graduation, the team picked up some fantastic recruits. First Year player, Daniel Abraha started great out of the gate with a second place finish in his first tournament.

The Men's Team battled each tournament but came up shy of podium finishes. The Gaels are young and they now know what it takes to get back on the podium.

The Women's Golf Team was led again by Rachel Demaine. Each tournament she was able to crack the Top 15.

The Women's Team added two additions in Rachel Wing and Megan Rodrigues. These two new players contributed to helping the Gaels finish in the Top 5 in each Tournament.

SEASON RECAP

After a slow start to the season, Queen's Men's Lacrosse really came together to make a big playoff push for home field advantage, which saw the last weekend of league play come down to two must win games.

The first was against a very strong McGill team, who at the time, held a 23-0 series lead over the Gaels. Queen's won 13-7 against McGill earning them their first ever victory over the Redbirds and to earn a home playoff game under the lights on Homecoming weekend.

Unfortunately, Queen's hosted McGill the following weekend and came up short but with lots of positives to build on for the next year and future years to come.

The team also saw a massive fourth quarter comeback against the Carleton Ravens to ensure a victory on the road and keep them in the hunt for a top spot in the Eastern Conference.

Overall it was a fantastic season and the team should be extremely proud of their play and acknowledge how far they came during the short season.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Women's Lacrosse entered the 2022 season with redemption as a main theme. Having lost by a goal in the '21 gold medal game, this team was not going to accept anything less than gold in '22.

A perfect 10-0 regular season record was highlighted by a win over Western and two wins over Trent. A PPD game with Toronto was never played, so entered as a tie.

After winning our two pool games, the Gaels went on to defeat Guelph in a strong semifinal to put Queen's through to a repeat of the '21 Gold Medal Match against Trent.

Trent got an early lead, but Queen's played a dominant three quarters, including a run of 14 unanswered goals to take the gold medal with a 16-5 win.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Nordic attended three events this year including Coupe Skinouk, the Eastern Canadian Championships and the OUA Championship.

Coupe Skinouk and the Easterns were well attended and our racers skied well with our top finishers in each category being Aidan Westdal and Sophie Edney at both races.

At the OUA Championship, there were three races, two individual, and one team relay. In the team relay, the Men's Team placed eighth and the Women's Team placed 16th. Overall it was a very successful season.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Sailing Team had a fantastic start to the season. The Gaels' 420 team showed exceptional results at five regular-season events across Canada. Highlights included first and second at the Can/Am Cup, and second at the U of T invitational.

Going into the postseason, schools from across Canada came to Kingston to compete in Team Racing Nationals hosted by Queen's. Though the team faced adversity in competing against the defending champions (McGill) in the final, Queen's was able to secure first, beating McGill in a Best of Three races.

Two weeks later, the team headed to Montreal to compete in the final dinghy National Championship: Fleet Racing Nationals where Queen's was able to secure first once again.

Going into the winter break, this put the Gaels 0.5 points behind DAL in the National Standings with two races to go in the spring.

This year was a fresh start forthe Queen's Keelboat Team. The team gained experience in Annapolis on Navy 44s and began to come together as a crew. Still green, Queen's headed off to the GLIOR in Chicago, finishing sixth of 16. It was at the Larchmont IOR that the team came together, finishing fourth place, one cumulative point off podium.

For the last National event of the season, the Keelboat team headed to Vancouver for Match Racing Nationals where they secured second place losing to an undefeated U of T crew.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Men's Squash saw a return to normal action in 2022-23 following two Covid-disrupted seasons.

The Gaels' two veterans, James Crook and Stephen Messier, were bolstered by an enthusiastic crop of returning players, Salah Elsherif, Duncan Genge, Yohann Poncha, Felix Scholberg and Will Tiwana.

The team had a very successful season in the Jesters University Squash League, which they followed up with a fourth place finish at the OUA Championship.

The team missed medalling at the OUAs this year but will be hungry to improve on their standing at next year's Championships. Based on the quality of our returning players this should be a real possibility.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Women's Squash capped off the 2022-2023 season with their eighth straight OUA championship in early February with a 7-0 win over McMaster University. Not a single game was dropped all weekend. The women were seeded No. 1 heading into the tournament, based on last year's OUA performance.

In the regular season, the team competed in the East division of the Jesters League. This league consists of two one-day sectional tournaments as well as two full weekend crossover tournaments, where all university teams are present.

The Queen's Men's and Women's teams were proud hosts of the OUA Championship this year. Maddie O'Connor played in her first OUA championship, representing the Gaels in the No. 1 spot on the roster for the entire season. Marlow Benson, Dileas MacGowan and Heather McLachlan, all former All-Stars and Peak Performers of previous championships, helped steer the ship to an undefeated record. The roster was rounded out with graduating player, Courtney Orcutt, and third year teammates, Maddy Fisher and Nicole Tomei.

Maddie O'Connor was recognized as MVP and Peak Performer of the OUA championships as well as a tournament All-Star along with teammate Marlow Benson. Marlow also received the Jack Fairs Award, given to "an extremely hard-working player who contributes the most to their team".

SEASON RECAP

The 2022-2023 Queen's Triathlon team had an exciting and successful year with the return to in-person competitions. The teamwork and dedication throughout Fall training led to many members achieving personal bests and top performances when racing came around.

One of the highlights of the season was the University of Toronto indoor triathlon with several team members placing in top spots, including Lauren Miller and Emily MacGowan as first and second female overall respectively, and Andrew Fryer as third male overall.

The talent and hard work of team members this season is providing huge momentum going into their final collegiate competition.

Additionally, the Gaels on the triathlon team plan to work together to raise money for charitable causes in their community by racing this summer. It has been an incredible year for team bonding, and we look forward to improving on our results next season.

SEASON RECAP

Queen's Men's Ultimate returned to competition looking to return to the podium after a successful 2021 season.

Despite losing nine athletes to graduation or internships, the Gaels picked up some fantastic recruits.

Four members represented Canada at the 2022 World U20 Championships.

The Gaels won the Provincial and Eastern Canadian Championships in convincing fashion with statement wins over Waterloo and Ottawa in each of the finals.

The National Championships were a challenge as the Gaels drew eventual gold and silver medalists Manitoba and Ottawa in pool play, and bronze medalist Montreal in quarterfinals.

In spite of their only win coming in the last game of the tournament, the Men's Ultimate team held their head high and fought all the way through despite a number of injuries.

SEASON RECAP

The goal for Queen's Women's Ultimate this year was to make Division 1 at Nationals.

Coming into the season, the team had to say goodbye to 10 graduating players the year before, the most the team has had to lose at once. With an already shorter roster and 10 rookies, the team truly surpassed all expectations.

The Gaels finished second at their first tournament after multiple rain delays, and fifth at the Canadian Eastern University Ultimate Championships.

To earn a spot in Division 1, the team had to head up to Brampton a day early and compete for one out of three spots. Not only did the team make Division 1, but the Gaels also had to grind out eight games in three days.

Absolutely exhausted, every single athlete gave it their all on the fields, finishing fourth at Nationals. This team had shown outstanding dedication, resilience, and positivity.

There is no doubt that the future of this program will be bright.

SEASON RECAP

It was an awesome year of rebuilding for Queen's Wrestling. The Gaels were very excited to welcome many new faces to the team, including some impressive athletes that were new to the sport entirely!

The team competed at the McMaster Invitational, York Open, Brock Invitational, Guelph Open, and Western Open, and had athletes qualify for the OUA and U SPORTS Championships.

The team showed incredible skill and growth over the course of the season. The most exciting tournament was the Western Open where Queen's earned three gold medals from Marthe Laplante Brady, Claire Vandesande, and Joseph Liao.

Queen's had athletes representing nearly all the weight classes at the OUA Championship and were proud of Marthe Laplante Brady, who fought through tough matches and earned third place.

Bella Du, Liam Horton and Claire Vandesande's performance was also notable, earning them spots at the U SPORTS Championship in Alberta.

At the U SPORTS Wrestling Championship, the Gaels saw impressive performances from all athletes, and the season ended off with an exciting redemptive performance from Claire Vandesande, who was able to beat a competitor whom she had lost to earlier in the season, earning fifth in Canada.
