MONTANA HOSTS RIVAL MONTANA STATE, LOOKS TO STAY UNBEATEN

MONTANA VS. MONTANA STATE / TUESDAY, SEPT. 25 / 7 P.M. / MISSOULA, MONT.

MONTANA AT NORTHERN COLORADO / THURSDAY, SEPT. 27 / 7 P.M. / GREELEY, COLO.

Montana volleyball coach Allison Lawrence wants to use the overused coaching cliché and tell her team that Tuesdays is 'just another game'.

The truth is, Tuesday is not 'just another game', so while she wants her team to stay even-keeled and focused on the big picture, she's not trying to hide the excitement surrounding the program ahead of Tuesday's rivalry match vs. Montana State.

Montana is coming off of a 2-0 weekend, defeating Sacramento State and Portland State. Sacramento State won the league a year ago, and was picked to finish third in the 2018 preseason poll. Portland State advanced to the semifinals in 2017 and is expected to get back there again, picked to finish fourth.

On Thursday, the Grizzlies came from behind, overcoming an 0-2 deficit to knock off the defending champs. On Saturday, Montana basically led from start to finish, making clean work of the Vikings.

"This weekend meant the world to our program," Lawrence said. "It was really, really rewarding to see our team go out and play to win. I got so much response from people who have been watching our program for many years who said we looked like we wanted to take charge of our matches, and that we weren't playing with any fear.

"That's something we've been talking about, not only this preseason and this season but last year and all spring. To see that come into being right in front of our home crowd, it was a really special night."

Now, the next test: the Cats.

"You can't go into Montana State saying it's just the same old game," Lawrence said. "The emotion surrounding this rivalry is one of the most unique, coolest things you can be a part of, and it's a pure rivalry. Our emotions are different for this match."

The emotions are different, but the key is to keep the focus the same.

"It's whether or not we choose to use our emotions to focus on the same things that we always need

ABOUT MONTANA

- Montana opened Big Sky play 2-0 for the first time since 2014 and second time in the past decade.
- The Grizzlies have won three consecutive matches overall (also South Dakota).
- Montana is 3-2 at home this season, winning three in a row. Its two losses came against top-30 teams.
- Senior OH Mykaela Hammer is the Big Sky Conference Offensive Player of the Week. She averaged 19.5 kills and 10.0 digs on .443 hitting last week.
- The Grizzlies have five attackers who average at least 1.50 kills per set, including Hammer and senior Alexis Urbach (2.76).
- Montana has used three liberos, but freshman Sarina Moreno has started each of the past 10 matches, averaging 3.79 digs per set.
- The Grizzlies have out-dug their opponents seven times this season, and out-blocked them six times.
- Three of Montana's losses have come to top-30 teams nationally.
- UM made great strides during its first season under Allison Lawrence, seeing a three-win improvement from the 2016 campaign.
- UM improved in every statistical category from 2016 to 2017, including a 40-percent increase in blocking (132-spot improvement nationally).
- The Grizzlies return every player who earned a start in 2017, in addition to 99.9% of their kills, 99.5% of their blocks, 95.7% of their assists, 83.6% of their service aces and 81.6% of their digs.

ABOUT MONTANA STATE

- MSU is 6-7 on the season, including 1-1 in Big Sky play. The Bobcats beat Portland State (3-2) and lost to Sacramento State (3-1) at home last week.
- The Bobcats also have wins over Binghamton, Canisius, Seattle, SMU and Tennessee Tech.
- Junior Allyssa Rizzo's 5.66 digs per set rank No. 11 nationally. She is seventh in MSU history with more than 1,000 career digs. She also leads the Bobcats with 20 service aces this season.
- Junior OH Evi Wilson (3.06 kills per set) and Rizzo were named the Big Sky offensive and defensive player-of-the-week honorees last week. Rizzo again earned co-defensive honors this week.
- Sophomore Hannah Scott (2.89 kills, 2.16 digs) and senior Natalie Passeck (2.70, 2.16) each average at least 2.0 kills and 2.0 digs per set.
- The Bobcats have used two setters in 2018, including sophomore Allie Lynch (8.92 assists per set).
- MSU went 10-15 in 2017, returning four starters and its libero from last year's roster.

SERIES VS. THE BOBCATS

In late 2016, Montana swept Montana State to take the series lead over the Bobcats. MSU won both meetings in 2017 to recapture the series lead, 56-55. Montana is 28-21 at home, however, winning two of the last three. In last year's home match vs. MSU, Mykaela Hammer had 18 kills and 22 digs while Maddy Marshall had 17 kills. In four career matches, Missy Huddleston has 39 kills.

ABOUT NORTHERN COLORADO

- UNC enters the week with a 5-6 mark, splitting with Idaho (L, 3-0) and Eastern Washington (W, 3-0) at home last week.
- The Bears also own wins over Alabama State, Northeastern, Pacific and UNC-Wilmington.
- The Bears lost 3-1 at South Dakota, a team the Grizzlies defeated on a neutral court in five sets.
- UNC leads the Big Sky for assists and kills, and ranks second for service aces and third for digs.
- OH Kortney Lockey recorded her 1,000th career kill last weekend. The senior leads the Bears with 3.66 kills per set. She also ranks second on the team with 3.18 digs per set.
- Running a high-powered offense, sophomore setter Daisy Schultz ranks 31st nationally with 10.83 assists per set. Sophomores Lauren Hinrichs (2.71 on .366 hitting), Taylor Muff (2.63) and Jadyn McCartney (2.08) are also averaging better than 2.0 kills per set.
- Junior libero Taylor Els averages 5.13 digs per set, a figure which ranks 35th nationally.

SERIES VS. THE BEARS

Montana is 9-17 all-time vs. Northern Colorado, and is looking for its first win in the series since 2013. The Bears have won eight in a row and are 10-2 overall vs. UM on their home court. Maddy Marshall recorded 18 kills over two matches vs. UNC as a freshman in 2017. Missy Huddleston has been in double figures for kills twice in her career.

to focus on that is going to be the difference,” Lawrence said. “Griz-Cat is unique, and it’s a different environment, but we have to execute the same.”

For the first time in a long time, Montana is visibly building momentum. Montana had one of its largest crowds in recent memory on Saturday, and Tuesday’s rivalry match will be held inside Dahlberg Arena. It’s a Maroon Out, with the first 150 students receiving free T-shirts and pizza. Additionally, Montana is offering a buy-one-get-one-free ticket offer.

Montana’s rivalry with Montana State dates back to 1975 – its first year as a program – and the two teams have played at least twice every year since. Montana has played – and beaten – the Cats more than any other opponent, and a win on Tuesday would even the all-time ledger at 56-56.

Just like the focus didn’t change through early-season struggles, it hasn’t changed after a successful weekend. Regardless of Tuesday’s result, that mantra will remain, as the Grizzlies get on a plane and travel south for their first conference road test of the season.

Montana will play a strong Northern Colorado team on Thursday, and then, finally, after four matches in eight days to begin Big Sky, it will get a breather.

“This doesn’t mean we’re going to have a winning streak and never lose a match again, but I think this weekend showed that we know what works and we know how to get there, and now we have to keep chipping away so the results continue to come.”

WITH A WIN TUESDAY...

A win Tuesday over Montana State would be significant on many levels:

- Montana would even the all-time series ledger at 56-56. The series dates back to 1975, UM’s first as a program, and has been played at least twice every year since then. Montana has more wins over Montana State than any other opponent.
- The Grizzlies would improve to 3-0 to begin Big Sky play for the first time since 2006, and just the second time in more than two decades.
- Montana would extend its winning streak to four matches, the longest since November 2013.
- Montana would run its home winning streak to four matches, the longest streak since 2011.
- Montana would match last year’s conference win total for the entire season.

PARTY LIKE IT'S 2014

Montana had a good weekend overall, defeating Sacramento State and Portland State to start Big Sky Conference play hot.

- Montana is 2-0 to open conference for the first time since 2014.
- Montana has won three consecutive matches overall for the first time since 2014.
- Montana has won three home matches in a row, also for the first time since 2014.
- Mykaela Hammer was named the Big Sky Offensive Player of Week, UM’s first honoree since 2014.
- Nearly 800 fans were in attendance for UM’s match vs. Portland State, the largest crowd in the WAG since 2014.

Sensing a theme? Montana is hoping it’s a good omen. The Grizzlies have publicly stated their main goal is to get back to the Big Sky Conference tournament. If they’re able to do so, it will be their first berth since... 2014.

HAMMER NAMED PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Senior outside hitter was named the Big Sky Conference Offensive Player of the Week on Monday. Hammer averaged a double-double with 19.5 kills and 10.0 digs over two matches, doing so on an impressive .443 efficiency. Her 4.88 kills-per-set average was nearly double the next-closest Grizzly.

In a come-from-behind victory over Sacramento State, Hammer recorded a career-high 23 kills on .409 hitting, eclipsing her previous high for kills on the final swing of the match. The Grizzlies found themselves trailing two sets to none, but closed the third set on a 10-5 run to extend the match. Hammer had three kills during that stretch. Trailing 15-11 in the fourth set, Montana used a 9-4 run to take the lead. During that period, Hammer had four kills. The Grizzlies then scored three of the final four points to earn a 25-23 advantage, with a pair of kills coming from Hammer. In the deciding fifth frame, the Grizzlies jumped out to a 5-0 lead and never trailed. Hammer had two kills during the 5-0 run, plus the final point of the match.

Two nights later vs. Portland State, Hammer again led the Grizzlies, this time with 16 kills on .500 hitting. The outside hitter also recorded three service aces.

Montana jumped out to an 11-5 lead in the first set, with Hammer recording four kills and serving five points during the run. Leading by just one, 13-12, in the second set, Hammer had three consecutive points – a kill and back-to-back service aces – to force a Vikings timeout. She had seven kills, an ace and a block in Montana’s Set-3 victory to seal the match.

CELEBRATING ITS PAST

For the first time in more than a decade, Montana hosted an alumni weekend, welcoming back 13 former players – including All-Americans, school record-holders, conference champions and some of the top students and athletes in school history.

“That was one of the highlights of my whole coaching career, not just as a head coach,” Lawrence said. “The moment that the alumni saw each other, to see them and feel their energy and hear their stories was really special for me and for our team.”

The past and present Grizzlies ate dinner together last Friday night, reminiscing and sharing stories, in addition to passing along advice to the younger group.

“The biggest thing was to see their relationships now,” Lawrence continued. “I don’t think they talk very frequently; they have their own busy lives. But the way those bonds come back when they’re in this environment I think made our team realize what the bigger picture is and what this is all about, which is who you are for your teammates.”

SETTING UP THE GRIZ

Setter Ashley Watkins moved into 10th place in Montana history earlier this month with more than 1,800 career assists. Making the feat even more impressive, Watkins is just a junior, and she spent her freshman season hitting during half of the team’s rotations. At her current pace, Watkins could finish her career near the top five in school history.

NON-CONFERENCE COMPETITION

Of the 12 teams Montana played in the preseason, four have either been nationally ranked or have received votes in the AVCA top-25 coaches' poll this season. The Grizzlies challenged themselves by playing two teams from the Pac-12 and another from the Big 12, but all around, their opponents had success throughout the first month of the season. The combined non-conference winning percentage of Montana's 12 preseason opponents was .570 (81-61), with nine teams posting a .500 record or better.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM PRESEASON

- Montana earned victories over Gonzaga (3-2), UTEP (3-0) and South Dakota (3-2).
- Senior outside hitter Mykaela Hammer was named to the Montana Invitational and Borderland Invitational all-tournament teams. At the Roadrunner Classic, outside hitter Alexis Urbach and setter Ashley Watkins earned all-tournament honors.
- Montana out-blocked its opponents six times during the preseason, averaging 2.1 blocks per set. Sophomore middle blocker Bailey Permann has led the Grizzlies for blocking six times.
- During a seven-match stretch from Aug. 31 through Sept. 14, Montana was out-dug just one time (in a victory at UTEP). The stretch featured three matches vs. top-30 opponents.
- Montana hit a season-best .229 in a five-set loss to New Mexico State. It marked the first time in more than a year that the Aggies, who now own a 16-match home win streak, had been pushed to five sets at home.
- The Grizzlies out-hit their opponents twice during the Borderland Invitational, holding UTEP to .150 efficiency.
- The Grizzlies recorded more service aces than their opponents in each of the final two matches of non-conference play (CSU Bakersfield and South Dakota).
- Hammer recorded 20 kills vs. New Mexico State. She has led the Grizzlies for kills a team-high five times this season.
- Junior outside hitter Missy Huddleston has recorded double-figure kill totals six times, including 24 on .333 hitting in a five-set win over Gonzaga. Trailing 14-13 in the fifth set, she had a kill and service ace to set up match point for Montana. She also has three double-doubles and has led UM in hitting percentage a team-high four times.
- Urbach had 21 kills on .390 hitting vs. CSU Bakersfield and 16 kills at a .483 clip in the season opener against UC Riverside. She has led Montana for kills four times this season.
- Watkins has four double-doubles and a team-high 12 service aces.
- Over the past four matches, freshman middle blocker Olivia Bradley is averaging 2.07 kills and 1.07 blocks per set. She has led the Grizzlies in blocking four times this season.
- True freshman Sarina Moreno has started eight matches at libero, averaging 3.71 digs per set in those matches, including a career-high 20 vs. Gonzaga. She also has six service aces.
- During the Montana Invitational, junior middle blocker Janna Grimsrud totaled 12 blocks over two matches. On the season she is averaging 1.50 blocks over 10 sets.
- Against New Mexico State, Montana used an 8-0 run to force a deciding fifth set. The Grizzlies and Aggies were tied at 13-13 in the final frame before NMSU won the final two points.
- The Grizzlies learned how to close out tight sets late at UTEP. They led 23-22 in the first set before winning two of the final three points. The two teams were knotted at 23-23 in Set 2, before Montana won the next two points. Tied at 24-24 in the third set, the Grizzlies got back-to-back kills to seal the match.

MONTANA VOLLEYBALL

SEARCHING FOR THE RIGHT LINEUP

In 14 matches, Montana has used 12 different starting-lineup combinations, not repeating the same one until the eighth match of the season. Setter Ashley Watkins and outside hitter Mykaela Hammer have started all 14 matches, while outside hitter Missy Huddleston has started 12.

A SIGNATURE WIN

After a 0-5 start to the year, the Grizzlies earned a signature win over Gonzaga (Sept. 1), winning the first two sets before rallying in the fifth frame to win, 17-15. In the deciding set, Montana trailed 14-13 before scoring four of the next five points.

"I think I jumped as high as I have since college," head coach Allison Lawrence said after the match. "I was very emotional. We had players crying, we had coaches hugging. We're a program that has been starved for wins, and I want us to be so hungry that when that last ball falls, it's the feeling of coming up for air and all of your emotions come pouring out."

The result was even more important considering Gonzaga is one of Montana's regional recruiting rivals.

HANGING WITH THE BEST

Montana knew the challenge would be steep, facing a pair of top-30 teams nationally. The Grizzlies were up for the challenge, however. Despite losing in straight sets to both Utah and Iowa State (Aug. 31), Montana showed fight, and pushed the Power-5 teams in many sets.

Against No. 22 Utah, the Grizzlies jumped out to an early lead and forced the Utes to call timeout first. Montana led by as many as three points, and as late as 17-16. In the third set, Montana was within a single point, 15-14, midway through the frame. Montana was even better against Iowa State. In the second set, the Grizzlies led by as many as seven points, 15-8, and were tied at 21-21. The two teams were knotted at 20-20 in Set 3, before Iowa State again closed the set on a run.

MONTANA VOLLEYBALL

SARINA'S DEBUT

Freshman Sarina Moreno, who did not travel with the team to Montana's first tournament in California, made her collegiate debut during the second set vs. Utah (Aug. 31). She had six digs vs. the Utes, and has continued to find her comfortability. In her 10 starts, the libero has averaged 3.79 digs per set, in addition to eight service aces.

COMING HOME

Montana played a home match in the month of August for the first time since 2014, hosting the four-team Montana Invitational (Aug. 31-Sept. 1). A year ago, Montana played its first 15 matches away from home, playing its own gym for the first time on Sept. 28.

RANKED FOES IN MISSOULA

For just the fourth time ever, and the first time in 15 years, a nationally ranked volleyball team played in Missoula. The Grizzlies hung tough with No. 22 Utah, leading by as many as three points in the first set, and as late as 17-16.

WE'RE (ALL) BACK!

The 2017 season was a rebuilding year, with a new head coach and zero seniors on roster. But the Grizzlies made promising strides a year ago, and now have the benefit of returning every statistical leader. In fact, every player who earned a start in 2017 is back.

Returning Production

- Kills: 99.9%
- Blocks: 99.5%
- Assists: 95.7%
- Service Aces: 83.6%
- Digs: 81.6%

TRENDING UP

The Grizzlies saw a three-win improvement during Alison Lawrence's first season as head coach. Even more impressive, UM improved in every statistical category from 2016 to 2017, including a 40-percent increase in blocking (132-spot improvement nationally).

It was a similar trend in Big Sky Conference play, with Montana improving its ranking in hitting percentage, opponent hitting, assists, kills, blocks and service aces.

WELCOME TO UM

In addition to returning nearly every contributor from 2017, the Grizzlies also added five freshmen to their roster. The newcomers made an immediate impact during fall camp, with Lawrence praising each of them for what they brought to the court.

"Olivia (Bradley) is fast and she thinks on her feet," Lawrence said of the Nampa, Idaho, native. "When she doesn't know what she's supposed to be doing – which is rare – she kind of pushes through it and grinds it out."

Bradley made two starts during her opening weekend, leading the team with five blocks vs. Akron (Aug. 25). She has played in 12 of UM's 14 matches (eight starts), and is averaging 1.51 kills and 0.81 blocks per set.

Montana's other freshmen are outside hitter Elsa Godwin (Missoula, Mont.), defensive specialist Sarina Moreno (Missoula, Mont.), defensive specialist Kelsey Nestegard (Pullman, Wash.) and setter Casey Stites (Bozeman, Mont.). Moreno has started at libero each of Montana's last 10 matches.

LOOKING AHEAD

After four matches over an eight-day period to begin conference play, Montana will get a breather. The Grizzlies will next play at Southern Utah (Oct. 4) and Northern Arizona (Oct. 6).

ALLISON LAWRENCE

Head Coach | 2nd Season/9th Overall | Oregon State, 2005

The 2018 season is Allison Lawrence's second year as head coach of the Montana volleyball program, her ninth overall. She was hired in January 2017 after serving the previous seven years as an assistant.

Lawrence joined the Grizzlies in the summer of 2010 after one season as an assistant coach at Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas.

Montana went 8-21 in Lawrence's first year as head coach, matching the most wins for the program since 2013.

In Lawrence's seven seasons as an assistant, Montana three times finished .500 or better in Big Sky Conference matches and three times made the league's postseason tournament.

At the 2013 Big Sky tournament, No. 5 Montana defeated No. 4 Northern Arizona in the quarterfinals, the Grizzlies' first postseason victory since 1996.

Since Lawrence has been on staff, Jaimie Thibeault earned first-team All-Big Sky honors in 2010, Kayla Reno in 2013 and Hannah Sackett in 2015. The Grizzlies also have had three second-team selections during that time.

Lawrence, from Alta Loma, Calif., was a four-year starter at outside hitter for Oregon State, from 2001 to 2004. She graduated from OSU in 2005 with a degree in philosophy and added a master's degree in applied women's studies from Claremont Graduate University in 2008.

Lawrence was a freshman on Oregon State's NCAA tournament team in 2001 and would go on to earn honorable-mention All-Pac-10 honors as a junior and senior. She was awarded Pac-10 academic honors in 2002, 2003 and 2004, and was an academic all-district selection as a junior.

One of the top outside hitters in Beaver history, Lawrence finished her career ranked among OSU's leaders in both kills (1,255) and digs (965).

Lawrence was a volunteer assistant coach at Oregon State in 2005 and an assistant coach at Pomona-Pitzer in 2007 and La Verne in 2008, both NCAA Division III schools in Southern California. She also gained extensive coaching experience at the club level during that time.

Lawrence spent the 2009 season at Trinity. She helped lead the Tigers to a 30-win season and a spot in the NCAA Division III national quarterfinals. She is married to Nate Michael. They are the parents of two sons, Wyatt and Carson.
