THE MATCHUP...

SCOUTING MICHIGAN

- Michigan is 28-6 on the year, advancing to the championship game of the Big Ten tournament. The Wolverines are ranked No. 8 in this week's AP top-25 poll.
- Michigan is in the NCAA tournament for the ninth time in the past 11 seasons, advancing to the Sweet 16 four times during that span and the Final Four twice.
- The Wolverines returned three starters from last year's squad that played in the national title game, including junior Xavier Simpson, who leads the team for minutes, assists and steals.
- Canadian freshman Ignas Brazdeikis averages a team-best 15.1 points per game. He is one of six players averaging at least 8.0 points per contest.
- Brazdeikis and Simpson were named to the All-Big Ten second team, while Charles Matthews, Jordan Poole, and Jon Teske earned honorable mention honors.
- The Wolverines have one of the nation's best defenses, allowing just 58.6 points per game (second in NCAA). While Montana ranks in the top 10 for field-goal percentage (.497), the Wolverines rank in the top 20 for field-goal defense (.399). Similarly, Montana ranks 30th in the NCAA for three-point shooting (.380) while the Wolverines rank fifth for three-point defense, allowing opponents to shoot just .289.
- Michigan leads the nation with just 8.9 turnovers given up per game.
- Michigan is averaging 8.0 three-pointers per game and has three player with 48 treys or more this season.
- Teske leads the Wolverines with 6.9 rebounds per game, posting eight double-doubles. Five players average at least 4.0 boards per game.
- Michigan has five players on its roster who have played in the NCAA tournament, including Matthews, who had a double-double with 20 points and 11 rebounds in last year's game vs. Montana.
- John Beilein is in his 12th season leading Michigan. The veteran coach has more than 800 career victories (all divisions) and led Michigan to the 2013 and 2018 national championship games.

SERIES VS. THE WOLVERINES

Montana and Michigan will be meeting for just the second time in school history, but the first matchup was fairly recent, and in a similar setting. The Griz and Wolverines squared off in the opening round of the 2018 NCAA tournament from Wichita, Kan. Michigan won 61-47, propelling the Wolverines to the national championship game vs. Villanova.

More from the 2018 NCAA tournament meeting:

- Montana jumped out to a 10-0 lead over the Wolverines, holding Michigan scores for the first 4:16 of the contest. During that span, Michigan was 0-for-4 from the floor, turning the ball over twice and committing three fouls.
- In the 39 games since Michigan and Montana last met, the Wolverines have trailed by more than 10 points in a game just four times.
- Montana led for more than 13 minutes in the first half and entered the locker room trailing by just three (31-28).
- Montana held Michigan to 61 points, its lowest total in its past 10 games and second-lowest among its six games in the NCAA tournament.
- In the second half, Montana missed 12 consecutive shots at one point and were held scoreless for 9:56, allowing Michigan to turn a three-point lead into a 14-point advantage.
- The scoring drought would prove to be the backbreaker for the Griz. Once Montana scored again, the Grizzlies out-scored the Wolverines 14-9 over the next 7 minutes, and over the final 10 minutes overall the two teams each scored 17 points.
- Michigan entered the contest ranked No. 2 nationally with just 9.1 turnovers per game. A strong defensive effort forced the Wolverines into 14 miscues, however, their second-highest total of the season. For the first time all season, they had a negative assist-to-turnover ratio (-3).
- Playing in his first NCAA tournament game, Michael Oguine had 15 points, including a thunderous dunk through the lane. He also added seven rebounds and three assists.
- Ahmaad Rorie was the only player on Montana's roster with prior NCAA tournament experience - advancing to the second round as a freshman at Oregon. He finished with 15 points, seven boards, two assists and two steals.
- Hindered by a 0-for-12 stretch in the second half, Montana shot just .321, including .200 from beyond the arc.

MONTANA BASKETBALL

GOING DANCING

Montana is playing in the NCAA tournament for the 12th time in school history, including the fifth appearance in the past decade. Montana is 2-12 all-time in the Big Dance, beating Utah State in 1975 – its first-ever tournament game – and upsetting No. 5 seed Nevada in 2006.

There have been eight 15-over-2 upsets since the NCAA tournament expanded its field to 64 (now 68) teams in 1985, including four in the past seven years. It happened most recently in 2016, when Middle Tennessee knocked off Michigan State.

HOW WE GOT HERE

Montana is playing in the NCAA tournament for the second season in a row after winning both the Big Sky Conference regular-season and tournament titles. The Grizzlies faced the nation's 43rd-toughest non-conference schedule, coming away with a 7-4 record, including wins over NCAA tournament participants Georgia State and North Dakota State. They then went 16-4 during Big Sky play, repeating as conference champions behind a balanced scoring attack and pesky defense, before qualifying for March Madness with three wins in the conference tournament last week in Boise, Idaho.

GRIZ TRACKS

- Montana, winners of 15 of its past 17 games, won the Big Sky Conference regular-season and tournament titles for the second year in a row.

- Montana is one of 19 schools nationally to rank in the top 100 for scoring offense (76.8) and defense (67.4).

- Montana finished the regular season with three players ranked in the top 20 in the Big Sky for scoring, not including Jamar Akoh (16.3), who did not play in enough games to qualify.
- Montana has held opponents under their season scoring average in 27 of 33 games.
- During Big Sky play, the Grizzlies led the league for rebounding defense (29.8) and rebounding margin (+5.3).
- Montana has forced at least 10 turnovers in 82 of the past 85 games played dating back to the 2016-17 season.

- Two-time, first-team All-Big Sky pick Ahmaad Rorie led the league with a 3.0 assist-to-turnover ratio. He hasn't had a negative assist-to-turnover ratio since Dec. 19, and over the past 13 games has a 3.9 ratio, with at least four assists in each contest.
- In addition to more than 1,500 career points (seventh in school history), Michael Oguine ranks third for career steals (159) and is among the leaders for career starts (121). He has 10 steals in the past three games.
- Senior Bobby Moorehead (133) has played in more games than any player in school history.

- Only Hartford, Nevada and Jacksonville State average more years of experience than Montana (2.49 years per player).
- Travis DeCuire won his 100th career game on Feb. 9. He now has 109 wins, more than any UM coach through his first five seasons.
- During Montana's 10-game winning streak (Jan. 12-Feb. 23), the Griz trailed for just 29 minutes (approximately 7.3 percent of action).
- Montana has won 26 of its past 28 home games. The Grizzlies are one of 20 teams nationally to lose two or fewer home games over the past two seasons. They drew more than 4,000 fans per game, a better average than three Pac-12 schools.
- Montana's 7-4 non-conference record was its best since 2010-11, and came against the nation's 43rd-toughest schedule. More impressive, the Grizzlies had their full roster available just twice.
- Seven players have made their collegiate or Grizzly debuts.
- All-conference forward Jamar Akoh has missed the past 12 games with a knee injury. He has missed 19 games overall this season.

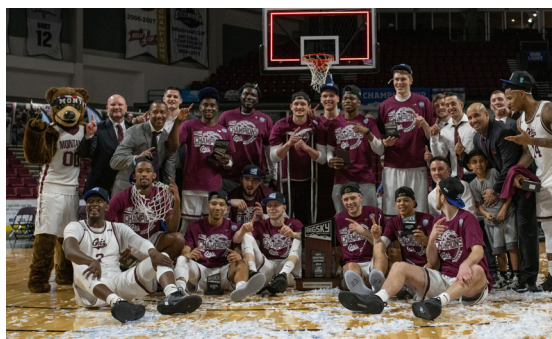

MONTANA BASKETBALL

ON TOP OF THE BIG SKY

Throughout its history, it's hard to find many teams across the region with more success than Montana. The Grizzlies have won 12 regular-season conference titles, 11 tournament championships and are playing in the NCAA tournament for the 12th times. Perhaps Griz fans have never had it better than the last several years, however. Over the past eight seasons, Montana has won five regular-season Big Sky titles, finishing runner-up two other times. Montana has also won five tournament titles in the past decade.

BACK-TO-BACK

The Grizzlies are on top of the Big Sky for the second consecutive season, winning both the regular-season and tournament titles. Montana was the most-recent team to go back-to-back in the regular season, doing so in 2012 and 2013, as well as 1991 and 1992, when Travis DeCuire was a player. Montana followed its regular-season title up with a tournament championship, becoming the fifth program in school history to win back-to-back Big Sky Conference regular-season and tournament championships. Again, the 2012 and 2013 Grizzlies were the last to do so. No Big Sky school other than Montana has done it since 1982.

ALL-CONFERENCE RECOGNITION

Four Grizzlies were recognized by the Big Sky Conference last week, headlined by first-team all-conference selections Ahmaad Rorie and Sayeed Pridgett. For Rorie, it was his second consecutive first-team nod, while Pridgett was recognized for the first time. Michael Oguine also earned his second all-conference pick, being named to the third team, while Kendal Manuel, a Billings native who transferred from Oregon State, was named both the Newcomer of the Year (co) and Top Reserve.

Montana had three of the 15 all-conference selections, tied with Eastern Washington for the most. The Grizzlies were also the only team with two first-team selections.

Last weekend, Rorie and Oguine added additional hardware, with Rorie being named the Big Sky tournament MVP and Oguine being named to the six-person all-tournament team. Rorie averaged 18.7 points per game on .537 shooting, also averaging 5.7 rebounds per game and 4.0 assists. He had 28 points in Montana's win over Weber State in the semifinals, its largest margin of victory in school history (29 points).

MONTANA BASKETBALL

TERRIFIC TWO YEARS

Montana's 52 victories over the past two seasons are more than any other Montana team has achieved over a two-year span. The current Grizzlies were previously tied with the 2011-12 and 2012-13 seasons and the 1990-91 and 1991-92 campaigns, when Travis DeCuire was a player. Coincidentally, those are the three instances in which Montana has won back-to-back Big Sky Conference titles.

Specifically in Big Sky play, Montana's 32 wins over the past two seasons are tied for the most in Big Sky history (along with the 2012/2013 and 2013/14 Weber State teams).

20 ONCE AGAIN

Montana's rivalry win over Montana State (Feb. 23) gave the Grizzlies their 20th of the season, an impressive accomplishment that has become the norm in Missoula. Montana, though, has done it consistently of late, doing so for the fourth time in the past five seasons, something that has been accomplished just five other times in the history of Griz basketball.

HISTORIC SENIOR CLASS

Montana will graduate an historic senior class, saying farewell to seniors Jamar Akoh, Bobby Moorehead, Michael Oguine and Ahmaad Rorie. The group, specifically Moorehead and Oguine, who have been part of the past four seasons, have been a key component for one of the best classes in school history.

Over the past four seasons, Montana has won 89 games, tied for the second-best four-year stretch in school history. Will Cherry's 2013 graduating class holds the record with 93 wins from 2010-13.

SUSTAINING SUCCESS

Not only has Montana won more games in the past two seasons (52) than in any two-year stretch in school history, but the Grizzlies are also one of just 21 schools nationally – entering the tournament – who have won at least 25 games in both 2017-18 and 2018-19. The list includes Buffalo, Cincinnati, Duke Gonzaga, Houston, Kansas, Kansas State, Kentucky, Michigan, Michigan State, Murray State, Nevada, New Mexico State, North Carolina, North Carolina-Greensboro, Old Dominion, Tennessee, Texas Tech, Vermont and Virginia.

BIG SKY TOURNAMENT TIDBITS

- Montana won the tournament for the 11th times (more than any other team) and has advanced to the finals on 20 occasions (also first).
- Montana is 43-29 all-time in the Big Sky tournament, the second-most wins of any Big Sky team.
- Montana has played in the tournament championship game eight times in the past decade, including four times in five years under Travis DeCuire.

- Since Montana's first tournament title in 1991, the Grizzlies are 11-4 in the championship game. No team has won more titles during that span.
- Montana has won eight consecutive semifinals games since 2010.
- The Grizzlies became the 11th team ever to repeat as tournament champions.

105 AND COUNTING

With its win over Northern Arizona (March 4), Travis DeCuire earned his 105th win as head coach of the Griz (he's now at 109). The number is the highest total ever by a UM coach through his first five seasons. Blaine Taylor, DeCuire's head coach while he was a player, had 104 wins through his first five seasons. Other notable coaches are Stew Morrill (98), Wayne Tinkle (91), Mike Montgomery (89), Jud Heathcote (80) and George Dahlberg (70).

DeCuire is the only coach in UM history to win 20 or more games in both of his first two seasons (he's now done it four times). The 2018 Big Sky and NABC District 6 Coach of the Year is also the fastest coach in Big Sky history to win 50 league games. His .763 winning percentage ranks third in league history, and is first among those who coached more than three seasons. Overall, only two Big Sky coaches have ever averaged more than DeCuire's 21.8 wins per season, and both coached three or fewer seasons.

ONE... TWO... THREE

In its history, eight different Griz coaches have won a Big Sky Conference regular-season title. Three coaches – Blaine Taylor, Wayne Tinkle and DeCuire – have won two, but DeCuire is the only one to earn three regular-season titles. He now also has two tournament championships to his credit, leading the Grizzlies to back-to-back titles.

HOT SHOOTING

Montana remains one of the top shooting teams in the country, shooting .497 from the field. The figure leads the Big Sky and ranks eighth nationally. The Grizzlies have made at least half of their shots in 20 games this season.

HITTING FROM DEEP

Montana made a season-high 15 three-pointers vs. Montana State (one shy of tying a school record), and impressively did so on 50.0 percent shooting. Montana has made at least eight three-pointers in 22 of 34 games this season. The Grizzlies reached eight treys just four times in all of 2017-18.

On the season, Montana is shooting .380 from beyond the arc (30th out of 351 Division-I teams) and is averaging 8.3 makes per game (118th). A year ago, the Grizzlies shot .339 (236th) and made just 5.5 per game (331st).

A big difference is the addition of Pac-12 transfers Donaven Dorsey and Kendal Manuel. Both ranked in the top five in Big Sky play, helping the Grizzlies connect on 39.1 percent of their long-range shots during league action. Dorsey is shooting .453, including a game vs. Northern Colorado (Feb. 25) in which he shot 6-of-7. Manuel is shooting .432, including a two-game stretch in which he was 11-of-13 (Feb. 16-23).

LEADING THE LEAGUE

Montana won another Big Sky regular-season title, and it's easy to see why: Of the 21 statistical categories, Montana ranked in the top three of 14 of them. The Grizzlies led the league for scoring margin, field-goal percentage, three-point percentage, rebounding defense and rebounding margin.

MONTANA BASKETBALL

IRON-MAN MOOREHEAD

Over the past four seasons, senior Bobby Moorehead hasn't missed a game, let alone a practice. The Tacoma native has played in 133 career games, more than any player in school history, including 71 consecutive starts.

3 X 1,000

Montana is in rare company, with three 1,000-point scorers on its current roster. There have been just 34 players in school history to score 1,000 career points, and never before have three been on the floor at the same time. Making the feat even rarer, Montana is one of just 12 schools nationally to have three current 1,000-point scorers (Ball State, Hartford, UIC, Lipscomb, Kansas State, Montana, Nevada, Northwestern, TCU, The Citadel, Virginia Tech and Washington).

DOUBLE THE TROUBLE

Michael Oguine recently became the eighth Griz player to join the 1,500-point club. Two nights later, Ahmaad Rorie joined his teammate, becoming the only Griz player to reach the figure in three seasons. Just four other teams across the country currently have a pair of 1,500-point scorers at their respective universities (Buffalo, College of Charleston, Marshall and Oregon State).

While there have been some great scorers in Montana history, never before have there been two this good playing at the same time. Rorie and Oguine are currently tied for sixth place in school history with 1,644 points.

Even more impressive, they're both having success on a team loaded with offensive weapons, and they're not limited to just scoring. Including his stats at Oregon – 149 points and 66 assists as a freshman in 2014-15 – Rorie is part of the exclusive 1,500-400 club. Only 11 active players across the NCAA have scored 1,600 career points and dished out at least 400 assists. Despite standing 6-2, Oguine has collected 600 rebounds and is one of six active members of the 1,500-600-150 club, recognizing career points, rebounds and steals.

PRIDGETT PERFORMING

Through 21 games as a starter, junior Sayeed Pridgett was averaging 12.2 points per game, up significantly from the 8.4 he put up as a sixth man in 2017-18. Over the final 10 games of the regular season, however, Pridgett broke out, averaging 20.7 points on .685 shooting, leading the Grizzlies in scoring eight times.

Pridgett was named the league's player of the week in back-to-back weeks, becoming the first Grizzly to do so since Brian Qvale in January 2011. During the two-week span, Pridgett averaged 22.8 points per game on .731 shooting, in addition to 9.0 rebounds and 3.0 assists per game.

GOOD AT BOTH

Montana is one of 19 teams across the country to rank in the top 100 nationally for scoring offense (76.8 points per game, 71st) and scoring defense (68.3 points allowed per game, 93rd).

DOMINANT DEFENSE

Travis DeCuire preaches defense first, and it shows, as Montana has held its opponents under their season scoring average in 28 of 34 games this season. Montana's defense can be felt across the board. The Grizzlies are one of two Big Sky teams to limit opponents under 70.0 points per game. The Grizzlies rank second for field-goal defense (.437), third for three-point defense (.344), third for steals (6.5) and fourth for turnover margin (+1.2). Perhaps most notable, Big Sky opponents averaged just 29.8 rebounds per game against the Griz, leading to a +5.2 rebounding margin (both first).

Collectively, Montana's defense went up against the 12th-toughest offensive schedule in the country during non-conference, with three of its opponents ranking in the top 20 nationally for scoring: Georgia Southern (87.0 points per game, 11th), Creighton (84.8, 14th) and South Dakota State (84.7, 16th). During an eight-game stretch from Dec. 3-Jan. 3, Montana held its opponents to 63.1 points per game.

OFFENSIVE WEAPONS

Not only does Montana hold one of the nation's top field-goal percentages, but the Grizzlies are also getting production from multiple weapons. Montana is one of two Big Sky schools to have three players rank in the top 20 in league play for scoring; the Grizzlies had a fourth, but Jamar Akoh no longer qualifies due to playing just 11 league games.

DOUBLE-DIGIT WIN STREAKS

Montana strung together 10 consecutive wins from Jan. 12 through Feb. 23, marking the second consecutive season the Grizzlies have won at least 10 games in a row. The feat has been accomplished 11 times in school history.

PLAYING FROM IN FRONT

When Kendal Manuel hit a three-pointer early in Montana's Jan. 19 win at Idaho, he tied the score at 10-10. Little would he know that it started a stretch of more than 116 minutes – nearly three entire games – in which the Grizzlies never trailed. Montana played from in front for the final 35 minutes vs. the Vandals and never trailed in wins over Idaho State and Weber State.

During Montana's 10-game winning streak (Jan. 12-Feb. 23), the Griz trailed for just 29 minutes, 2 seconds (approximately 7.3 percent of action).

ADJUSTING WITHOUT AKOH

When Montana lost its all-conference big man to a knee injury in early February, the Grizzlies didn't hit the panic button, despite losing the likely Big Sky Player of the Year up to that point. First of all, the team played seven non-conference games without Akoh, and one month into the season led the entire country for field-goal efficiency. Secondly, while the Grizzlies lose some strengths without Akoh on the court, it opens up some other opportunities.

MONTANA BASKETBALL

In the 13 games since Akoh last played, Montana is still averaging right around its season average for scoring (76.2 points per game), and the defense has improved, allowing just 66.6 points per game. The biggest areas of growth, however, have come in field-goal efficiency (Montana is shooting .513 over the past 13 games, including .402 from beyond the arc) and rebounding. Despite not having their big man, Montana has virtually the same rebounding margin and is allowing three fewer boards per game.

HOME SWEET HOME

Dating back to February 2017, Montana has won 26 of its past 28 games inside Dahlberg Arena. Prior to its overtime loss to Portland State (Jan. 5), the Grizzlies had won 20 in a row, the third-longest active streak in the NCAA and the fifth-best in school history. Montana is one of 20 schools nationally with two or fewer home losses over the past two seasons.

The Grizzlies boast one of the nation's best home-court advantages, going 709-246 (.742) all-time in their home arena, including 127-26 (.828) over the past decade. Montana averaged more than 4,000 fans for the second consecutive season, a better average than three Pac-12 schools.

KEEPING IT 100

With Montana's win over Eastern Washington (Feb. 9), fifth-year head coach Travis DeCuire became the fifth coach in Griz history to win 100 games. He joined George "Jiggs" Dahlberg, Mike Montgomery, Blaine Taylor and Wayne Tinkle. Of those, DeCuire's .645 winning percentage trailed only Montgomery, a 2016 inductee into the College Basketball Hall of Fame, and Taylor, who DeCuire starred for in the 1990s.

SWEEPING THROUGH WEBER

Montana and Weber State rank No. 1 and 2 in the Big Sky Conference for all-time wins, conference championships, NCAA tournament appearances and attendance. The Grizzlies, though, have won four consecutive in the series vs. the Wildcats, including 75-68 (home) and 83-80 (road) wins this year. It marked the first time since 1991-92, when Travis DeCuire was a player, that Montana has swept the Wildcats during the regular season.

BIG SKY BLOWOUT

Montana's 41-point victory over Idaho (Feb. 7) was historic on many levels:

- Montana's 41-point win was its largest since beating Idaho – prior to the Vandals joining the Big Sky Conference – 75-33 in December 2010.
- The last time Montana beat a Big Sky opponent by at least 40 points was in 1996-97, when Montana beat Sacramento State 95-51.
- Montana scored 100 points for the 30th time in school history.
- The 100 points scored were tied for the most veteran coach Don Verlin has ever given up. The only other time he has allowed 100 points was to No. 6 Michigan State.

NO PROBLEM IN NON-CONFERENCE

Montana knocked off South Dakota State (Dec. 22) to close non-conference play with a 7-4 record. Not only was the winning percentage Montana's best since 2010-11, but it was made even more impressive considering who the games were played against. Montana played the 43rd-toughest non-conference schedule in the entire country. Never before have the Grizzlies had a winning record against such steep competition (for comparison, a year ago, when Montana went 7-5, its non-conference strength of schedule ranked 98th. The time before that, when the Grizzlies had a winning record in 2011-12, their strength of schedule ranked 181st). Overall, seven of Montana's nine Division-I non-conference opponents posted a winning record.

Since the turn of the century, Montana has had a winning non-conference record in five previous seasons (2005-06, 2009-10, 2010-11, 2011-12, 2017-18), advancing to the NCAA tournament in four of those seasons and the CBI in the other.

In 2018-19, Montana beat the preseason favorite to win the Summit League (South Dakota State) and Sun Belt (Georgia State), in addition to a narrow road loss at the Big West favorite UC Irvine. The Grizzlies also played in front of more than 16,000 fans at Creighton (BIG EAST) and nearly 13,000 fans at Arizona (Pac-12). Of the 68 NCAA tournament teams from 2018, just seven played more tournament teams in non-conference than Montana (four: Arizona, Creighton, Georgia State, South Dakota State).

STREAK SNAPPERS

Montana went into Frost Arena on Dec. 22 and did something no team had done in nearly two years, coming away with a victory over host South Dakota State. The Jackrabbits entered the contest having won 26 consecutive home games, the longest active streak in the NCAA.

Dating back to 2010-11, SDSU was 95-5 on its home court, the nation's best record during that stretch. Prior to Montana's 86-75 win over SDSU, the last time the Jackrabbits lost a non-conference game on their home court was in November 2013, to... Montana. At that point, the Grizzlies snapped SDSU's 30-game home winning streak.

STARTING STRONG

Montana opened the year with four consecutive victories for the first time since 1995-96. It was tied for the ninth-best start in school history.

TALENT IN MISSOULA

Nov. 9 marked the first time in four years that an NCAA tournament team from the previous season played a non-conference game in Missoula. Overall, Montana's game vs. Georgia State marked the 37th time it has ever happened, including the fourth time in the past decade.

Even rarer, it marked the ninth time in Dahlberg Arena history that two NCAA tournament teams played each other, and the first time since 2012-13.

RETURNING PRODUCTION

Montana graduated just one player a year ago, returning six of the team's seven rotation players. The group was responsible for the majority of Montana's production, including more than 86 percent of its scoring. Out of 351 Division-I teams, just 20 returned a higher percentage of its scoring from 2017-18.

Category	% Returning
Minutes	81.3
Scoring	85.2
Rebounding	71.4
Assists	85.2
Blocks	70.2

LOFTY EXPECTATIONS

With so much returning production, it came as no surprise when Montana was named the overwhelming favorite to repeat as Big Sky champions by both the league's coaches and media members. Among the coaches, Montana earned 10 of 11 first-place votes (coaches weren't allowed to vote for their own team), with Weber State earning the other top vote. In the media poll, Montana garnered 33 of 35 first-place picks.

MONTANA BASKETBALL

"Survival mode is hard to sustain when the bullseye is on your back," said Travis DeCuire, the 2018 Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year. "We have to find ways in practice every day to compete in a competitive environment that forces us to get better. You know our motto: Compete with desperation every day."

The last time a team earned as many first-place votes was Weber State in 2013-14. The last time Montana was picked to win the league was in 2015-16 (first in the media poll, tied for first in the coaches').

HIGH PRAISE

If they didn't before, the league's head coaches have now fully appreciated the value of Montana guards Ahmaad Rorie and Michael Oguine. And why wouldn't they? The duo combined for 33 points per game while leading Montana to a Big Sky title in 2017-18.

Rorie and Oguine were two of six players recognized on the preseason all-conference team in October, with Rorie earning Big Sky Conference preseason player-of-the-year honors and Oguine being named to the preseason all-conference team. Voting was conducted by the league's head coaches, sports information directors and media members.

An All-Big Sky first-team honoree a season ago, Rorie earned a spot on his second consecutive preseason team after finishing seventh in the league for scoring last season with 17.2 points per game and ranking third for assists (3.7) and eighth for steals (1.2). He also came in third with a 2.1 assist-to-turnover ratio during league games, and made 85 percent of his attempts from the free-throw line. Rorie was named a Big Sky Championship all-tournament team selection as he helped the top-seeded Grizzlies earn a NCAA tournament berth by claiming the Big Sky Championship, finishing the season with a 26-8 overall record and 16-2 conference mark. He also captured NABC All-District 6 first-team honors.

Oguine was just as valuable to the Grizzlies, being named the Big Sky Conference Defensive Player of the Year and earning Big Sky Championship MVP honors, helping the Grizzlies knock off North Dakota, Northern Colorado and Eastern Washington on consecutive nights to earn a trip to March Madness. On the season, Oguine averaged 15.8 points per game while ranking fifth in the league with 1.4 steals. He was the only player in the Big Sky to rank in the top 20 during league play for scoring, steals and rebounding.

Since the league introduced the preseason poll prior to the 2015-16 season, no team has had more selections than Montana (five). This is the first time a Grizzly has been selected as the preseason player of the year.

While Montana returned the bulk of last year's production, the team welcomed six new players to its roster.

- Bozeman, Mont., native Mack Anderson earned numerous all-state honors as a senior, including the USA Today All-USA Montana Boys Basketball First Team. He led the state with 12.9 rebounds and 3.3 blocks per game, also adding 16.6 points and helping the Hawks to a third consecutive state-title game appearance.
- Freshman guard Freddy Brown III won a national championship as a junior, playing alongside McDonald's All-American/first-round NBA Draft pick Michael Porter, Jr. As a senior, Brown moved into the spotlight and dominated, averaging 28.7 points, 8.4 rebounds, 5.4 assists and 2.4 steals for Nathan Hale High School in Seattle.
- Montana's Australian pipeline continued with the signing of Ben Carter, a 6-10 big man from Adelaide. He competed on several national teams abroad, including winning a silver medal at the under-20 Australian National Championship in March 2018, where he averaged 11.0 points and 9.0 rebounds per game.
- Eddy Egun was a two-time All-CIF Los Angeles City Section Boys' Basketball Team selection, playing in one of southern California's top conferences. As a team captain, the guard led El Camino Real High School to the state tournament, where he scored 27 points. He was selected to several postseason all-star games, including being named MVP of the Collision All-Star Game.
- Billings native Kendal Manuel returned to his home state after three seasons at Oregon State. As a redshirt freshman in 2016-17, he started 25 games and knocked down 52 three-pointers – the second-most ever by a Beaver freshman.
- Tony Miller will also have to sit out this season after transferring from Seattle Pacific, where he led the Falcons for points per game in back-to-back seasons. The forward was named the 2016-17 Great Northwest Athletic Conference Freshman of the Year, nearly averaging a double-double.

NEW SIGNEES

In addition to four of Montana's rotation players, each of the program's three Class of 2019 signees hail from the Golden State. Derrick (D.J.) Carter-Hollinger, Kyle Owens and Josh Vazquez signed during the early signing period and will suit up for the Grizzlies beginning in 2019-20.

"I wanted bigger, more athletic wings and a pure point guard. We got that, no question," Travis DeCuire said. "They are three guys we've been recruiting for a long time. We've spent a lot of time with them and have invested in."

Derrick (D.J.) Carter-Hollinger / Wing / 6-5/200 / El Cajon, Calif.

Averaged a double-double as a junior in 2017-18, posting 20.3 points and 10.2 rebounds per game for Foothills Christian High School... Also added 1.3 blocked shots and 1.3 assists per game... Earned first-team all-league honors... Helped his school to the San Diego Section championship game of the Open Division – the top classification in the state – and state tournament... Was invited to participate in the 2018 under-17 Nike Elite Youth Basketball League.

Kyle Owens / Wing / 6-8/200 / Calabasas, Calif.

Averaged 13.8 points, 7.3 rebounds, 1.8 steals and 1.3 assists as a junior for Crespi Carmelite High School in 2017-18... Has played all five positions on the court... His high school won a state championship as a freshman in 2015-16, competing at the Division I classification, the second-highest in the state... Went 12-0 in league play as a junior.

Josh Vazquez / Point Guard / 6-3/165 / Torrance, Calif.

Averaged more than 15 points, seven assists, five rebounds and four steals per game as a junior for Bishop Montgomery High School in 2017-18... Earned first-team All-Del Rey League and second-team all-state honors... Has helped his high school to three consecutive top-eight finishes in the Open Division – California's premier classification – including a state championship in 2017... Last season, Bishop Montgomery went 31-2 and was ranked No. 1 in the state of California and No. 3 nationally by Max-Preps.

2017-18 HIGHLIGHTS

The 2017-18 men's basketball season was record-setting on many levels:

- Montana's 26 wins were the third-most in school history, and the most in 26 seasons.
- The Grizzlies won the Big Sky Conference regular-season and tournament titles, advancing to the NCAA tournament for the first time since 2013.
- It marked the fifth time in program history that a Montana team has won both the regular-season championship and tournament title.
- Montana reached 20 wins for the third time in DeCuire's four seasons. The Grizzlies have finished at least .500 all four seasons, advancing to three postseason tournaments.
- The Grizzlies won their first 13 conference games. The winning streak was one game shy of tying a school record and was the third-longest active streak in the NCAA at the time.
- Montana set a school record with seven consecutive true road wins from Dec. 28 through Feb. 3.
- Montana finished its home slate undefeated (14-0). It marked the first time in 26 seasons, and the fifth time ever, that the Grizzlies have posted a perfect home record.
- Montana finished the regular season ranked No. 14 in the College Insider Mid-Major Top 25.
- Montana posted its first winning non-conference record since 2011-12, including a win at Pitt – its first over a Power-5 program since 2010 and first over an ACC team since 1966.
- DeCuire was named the Big Sky Conference Coach of the Year after leading Montana to a 16-2 mark and an outright league title.
- DeCuire became the fastest coach in Big Sky history to win 50 conference games, needing just 65 games.
- The Grizzlies had three of the 15 players named to the All-Big Sky Conference teams: Ahmaad Rorie (first team), Michael Oguine (second team) and Jamar Akoh (third team).
- Rorie also earned NABC All-District 6 first-team honors, while Oguine was named the Big Sky Conference Defensive Player of the Year and Big Sky Championship Most Outstanding Player.
- Montana was the only Big Sky team to have three players rank in the top 15 for scoring.
- Both Oguine (32nd member) and Rorie (33rd) joined Montana's 1,000-point scoring club.
- The Grizzlies were one of 17 schools nationally to rank in the top 100 for scoring offense (78.1; 67th) and scoring defense (68.7; 80th).
- Montana's defense ranked in the top 25 nationally for turnovers forced (15.4; 21st), steals (7.8; 22nd) and turnover margin (+3.0; 27th).

TRAVIS DECUIRE

Head Coach | Fourth Season | Montana, 1994

Travis DeCure continues to rewrite Montana's record books as he enters his fifth season as head coach in 2018-19. During his four seasons, the former Griz player has led Montana to three postseason appearances and 20-win seasons, including 2017-18 campaign that featured Big Sky Conference regular-season and tournament titles and an appearance in the NCAA tournament.

DeCure (pronounced: duh-CURE) was tabbed as coach of the year by the Big Sky Conference and the NABC (District 6) in 2018, and made league history by becoming the fastest coach ever to win 50 games (50-15). His current Big Sky winning percentage (55-17, .764) ranks third in league history and is best among coaches with at least 40 wins.

The 2017-18 season was historic on many levels, with Montana posting 26 victories (third in program history), winning both the Big Sky Conference regular-season and tournament titles, and advancing to the NCAA tournament. The 26-8 record included a 14-0 mark on their home court. In late December, Montana closed its non-conference slate with a winning record for the first time in six seasons – featuring a signature victory at Pitt – before beginning Big Sky play 13-0. The 13-game winning streak was the third-longest in school history, in addition to the third-longest active streak in the NCAA at the time. The stretch also featured a program-record seven consecutive road victories.

The Grizzlies finished the season ranked No. 14 in the final College Insider Mid-Major Top 25 poll. Montana had three representatives on the All-Big Sky teams, including first-team selection Ahmaad Rorie and Defensive Player of the Year Michael Oguine. During the 2017-18 season, both guards surpassed 1,000 career points, becoming the 32nd and 33rd players to join UM's exclusive list. Rorie became just the third in UM history to reach the milestone in just his second season.

Montana used the same starting lineup for all 34 contests, leading to a balanced effort. The Grizzlies led the Big Sky in five statistical categories and ranked in the top three in 14. Nationally, the Grizzlies ranked in the top 80 nationally for both scoring offense (78th) and defense (73rd) – one of 15 schools to do so. On offense, Montana shot better than 50 percent a dozen times, ranking 68th nationally at .467 on the year. On defense, the Grizzlies were even better. They ranked in the top 30 nationally for turnovers forced (15.4, 22nd), steals (7.8, 23rd) and turnover margin (+3.0, 29th).

In his first season at the helm of a program with a rich history of success, DeCuire's Griz started the year picked to finish eighth in the conference. Led by future European professional Jordan Gregory, UM would go on to defy expectations and win the Big Sky regular-season championship and advance to the National Invitational Tournament (NIT) before finishing the season 20-13 (14-4 BSC).

At the time, he became only the second coach in UM history to notch 20 victories in his first season at the helm – a feat also accomplished by Blaine Taylor in 1991-92 (27-4).

In DeCuire's second year, he followed up with another 20-win season and another trip to the Big Sky championship game, this time led by future European professional Martin Breunig. DeCuire's Grizzlies would once again advance to the postseason, competing in the first round of the CBI tournament against Nevada, finishing with a 21-12 (14-4 BSC) record. He is the only coach in UM history to win at least 20 games in each of his first two seasons.

Paced by 10 underclassmen and just two seniors who played significant time, the Grizzlies went 16-16 (11-7 BSC) in 2016-17, earning a first-round bye in the Big Sky tournament. During the season, DeCuire became the second-fastest UM head coach to reach 50 wins (doing so in 84 contests).

The 2016-17 season was also the second consecutive year in which the Grizzlies have posted a team grade-point average above 3.0, earning NABC Team Academic Excellence recognition both seasons.

Prior to returning to his alma mater as head coach, DeCuire spent six seasons (2008-09 through 2013-14) on the University of California coaching staff – including the final four as associate head coach. Regarded as one of the top tutors in the game, DeCuire helped former Montana mentor Mike Montgomery – a member of the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame – transform Cal into one of the winningest programs in the Pac-12 during his time in Berkeley. The Bears reached the postseason all six years he was on the staff, including the NCAA tournament four times. The Golden Bears boasted 130 wins in his six seasons – the best six-year stretch in school history – winning the 2010 Pac-10 championship. He coached numerous all-conference selections, including conference players of the year Jerome Randle (2010) and Jorge Gutierrez (2012).

DeCuire he spent five seasons (2003-04 through 2007-08) as an assistant coach at Old Dominion, under former Griz head coach and player Blaine Taylor. There, he helped the Monarchs to a combined record of 117-53. The mark included 94 wins during his final four seasons – the most in school history over a four-year stretch. ODU reached the postseason each of those four seasons and advanced to the NCAA tournament in both 2005 and 2007 – winning a school-record 28 contests in 2005. Additionally, the Monarchs reached the NIT semifinals in 2006 and the quarterfinals of the College Basketball Invitational in 2008.

DeCuire, from Seattle, Wash., also has head coaching experience from stints at Sammamish High School and Green River Community College in Washington. At GRCC, DeCuire took over a last-place program and guided it to a conference championship and its first 20-win season in more than 20 years, earning league coach-of-the-year honors in 2003 – his second season. At Sammamish High School in Bellevue, DeCuire led his team to a pair of conference titles, a state tournament appearance and three consecutive trips to the district tournament.

As a point guard for Montana from 1992-94 DeCuire was named All-Big Sky Conference as a junior and senior. He set a school record in just three seasons with 435 career assists. He also established UM's single-season mark with 199 assists as a senior in 1993-94, when he was ranked 12th in the nation, averaging 7.1 assists a game. He was the recipient of the Grizzlies' Carl Dragstedt Award (MVP) as a junior and senior, and received the John Eaheart Award (Outstanding Defensive Player) following his senior year.

As a freshman at Chaminade-Hawaii, he was a starter and team MVP in 1990. He then transferred to Montana and redshirted in 1991. DeCuire attended Mercer Island High School (Wash.), where he was a three-year starter and all-state, team MVP, and a McDonald's All-America honorable mention pick as a senior.

He has a strong commitment to community service and founded and acted as president of the Fastbreak Basketball Association – an organization that assists in teaching life lessons and building self-esteem through basketball to more than 500 students in the Seattle-Tacoma area. Additionally, he has extensive experience in counseling at the Echo Glen Children's Center in Snoqualmie, Wash., from 1996-98, and with the Ryther Children's Center in North Seattle, from 1995-97.

DeCuire graduated from Montana in 1994 with a degree in business marketing. He and his wife, Sabrina, have two daughters – Brianna and Tamia.
