The Montana women's basketball team, last in action on Saturday, Dec. 7, will return to the court this week when it plays Michigan State and Tulsa at the West Palm Beach Classic.

The six-team event will be hosted at Rubin Arena on the campus of Palm Beach Atlantic University in West Palm Beach, Fla.

The Lady Griz (4-5) will face unbeaten Michigan State (10-0) at 10 a.m. (MT) on Thursday, Tulsa (5-5) at 10 a.m. (MT) on Friday. The Spartans are ranked No. 15 in this week's AP poll.

Also competing at the high-level event are No. 18 Tennessee (8-0), Alabama (10-1) and Richmond (9-2).

Both the Crimson Tide and the Spiders are receiving votes in this week's AP poll, while Richmond tops this week's World Exposure Report Mid-Major Top 25 Poll, one spot ahead of South Dakota State.

Montana will be playing both Michigan State and Tulsa for the first time in program history. The Lady Griz are seeking their first win over a ranked opponent since the 2003-04 season.

Michigan State, which opened its Big Ten schedule with a 68-66 home win over Iowa on Sunday, has a NET ranking of No. 12.

Three previous Montana opponents are in this week's NET top 100. Minnesota is No. 34, South Dakota State is No. 41, Washington is No. 84.

Montana's strength of schedule currently ranks No. 113, which puts the Lady Griz in the top third in the country for difficulty.

"You schedule your nonconference thinking teams are going to be this or that, but with the transfer portal, teams can change so dramatically over the offseason," said Lady Griz coach Brian Holsinger.

"Has our schedule been harder than I'd want it to be? Probably, but sometimes you can't control that, so you turn it into a positive.

"Maybe you don't win as many games as you want to in the preseason but when you play a really good team, they expose your weaknesses and make you get better quicker."

Michigan State has won its first 10 games by an average of nearly 35 points per game and on Sunday against the Hawkeyes roared back from a 58-49 fourth-quarter deficit to win 68-66.

The Spartans are holding their opponents to 54.4 points per game on 33.6 percent shooting and forcing more than 25 turnovers per game.

Michigan State made the NCAA tournament last year, then added transfers from Ball State, Ohio State, Arizona State and Oregon in the spring.

"I wasn't sure they were going to be the toughest team on our schedule, but they are right there," said Holsinger. "They press, they run, they are physical.

"They are one of nine teams left in the country that are still undefeated. We'll get our chance to go down there and see what we can do against them."

Coverage: The games can be watched by purchasing a subscription to Baller TV. Radio coverage with Ace Sauerwein can be heard on KGRZ 1450 AM/92.7 FM or KGRZMissoula.com.

At a glance (Montana): The Lady Griz head to Florida on a two-game losing streak after dropping both of their games in the Big Sky Conference-Summit League Challenge.

On Wednesday, Dec. 4, Montana fell behind North Dakota State in Fargo by a score of 30-15 after the first quarter and trailed 51-31 at the half and could never claw all the way back.

The Lady Griz went 17 for 29 (.586) in the second half but could get no closer than six points in the fourth quarter.

It marked the third time this season Montana allowed 29 or more points in the first quarter. Gonzaga raced out to a 31-15 lead after 10 minutes, Minnesota a 29-7 advantage.

Three days later, Montana hosted mid-major power South Dakota State and fell 78-70 in Missoula to the Jackrabbits.

Montana missed a 3-pointer with 4:14 left in a tie game, a driving layup with 1:35 remaining while down one and a 3-pointer with 56 seconds to go while trailing by three.

Brooklyn Meyer, last year's Summit League Player of the Year, went 12 for 15 and hit eight of her nine free throws to score 32 points, the most scored against Montana this season.

2024-25 MONTANA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

It was the most scored against the Lady Griz since McKenna Hofschild of Colorado State put up 36 in CSU's 78-69 win in Missoula early last season.

Dani Bartsch matched a career high with five 3-pointers against SDSU and scored 19 points, one off her career high. Mack Konig dished out a career-high 11 assists.

Adria Lincoln added 12 points on 5-of-6 shooting, Avery Waddington 11 off the bench and Izabella Zingaro 10 points.

The game marked only the second time this season that Montana's bench has been out-scored by the opponent's reserves.

South Dakota State shot 54 percent and went 8 for 16 (.500) from the 3-point line, 16 for 19 (.842) from the free throw line. NDSU and SDSU combined to go 53 for 102 (.520) against Montana.

Montana went 11 for 25 (.440) from the 3-point line, the fourth time this season the Lady Griz have hit 10 or more 3-pointers.

Waddington scored in double figures for the third time this season, the first since Nov. 14.

Zingaro is shooting 33 for 44 (.750) from the field this season. She has scored 10 or more points the last three games, averaging 15.7 points on 74.1 percent shooting.

Montana is No. 184 in the NET, the sixth-ranked team from the Big Sky, which has three in the top 100: Montana State (55), Northern Arizona (76) and Idaho (86).

Montana vs. ranked opponents: Thursday will be the 64th time Montana has faced a ranked opponent in its history. The Lady Griz are 12-51 in those games.

Only four of those 12 wins have come away from Missoula, at Nebraska (1986-87), at San Diego State (1994-95), at Western Kentucky (1995-96) and a neutral-site win over Colorado (1996-97).

Montana has lost its last 16 matchups against ranked opponents. Its last ranked win was over No. 24 Utah, 61-58, in Missoula in January 2004.

At a glance (Michigan State): At 10-0, the Spartans are off to the best start in program history under second-year coach Robyn Fralick.

Michigan State opened the season with wins by scores of 107-42 over Oakland and 100-44 over Yale, and scored 95 or more points in five of its first six games.

Through 10 games the Spartans are averaging 89.1 points on 48.2 percent shooting.

Only two opponents have reached 70 points against Michigan State, which is forcing more than 25 turnovers per game. Six of its 10 opponents have been held to 54 or fewer points.

Sixth-year player Julia Ayrault, first-team All-Big Ten last year, is averaging 16.7 points and 8.0 rebounds.

Junior Grace VanSlooten, a transfer from Oregon, is averaging 15.3 points and a team-high 8.2 rebounds.

Junior Theryn Hallock, last season's Big Ten Sixth Player of the Year, is Michigan State's third player averaging in double figures at 11.8 per game.

Michigan State went 22-9 a year ago, its first 20-win season since 2018-19, and finished 12-6 in the Big Ten to finish fourth, its highest finish since 2015-16.

The Spartans advanced to their 18th NCAA tournament, falling as a No. 9 seed to No. 8 North Carolina 59-56 in a first-round game in Columbia, S.C.

Series history: Montana will be facing Michigan State for the first time.

The only team out of Michigan that Montana has ever played is Western Michigan. The Lady Griz and Broncos played three times from 1997-98 to 2003-04.

At a glance (Tulsa): The Golden Hurricane will enter the West Palm Beach Classic with a record of 5-5 and on a three-game winning streak.

After falling to 2-5 with an 81-59 home loss to a strong Creighton team, Tulsa has won its last three, over Grambling State, San Jose State and Kansas City, by an average of more than 24 points per game.

Friday's game against Montana will be Tulsa's first of the event. The Golden Hurricane will face Tennessee on Saturday.

The Golden Hurricane returned three starters from last year's team that went 25-10 and finished in a three-way tie for first in the American Athletic Conference with a 13-5 league record.

2024-25 MONTANA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

It was Tulsa's first 20-win season since going 26-6 in 2005-06.

Tulsa was upset by No. 9 East Carolina in the quarterfinals of the AAC tournament, 75-71, then chosen to play in the WBIT.

The Golden Hurricane won 80-62 over Arkansas and 73-61 over Georgetown, both at home, before losing 69-61 to Illinois, also at home.

It was the program's seventh national tournament appearance.

Tulsa was picked fourth in this year's AAC pre-season coaches' poll, coming in behind South Florida, North Texas and Rice.

Senior guard Delanie Crawford, who scored 695 points as a junior (18.3/g), was one of five players named first-team preseason all-league.

Crawford is averaging 16.5 points per game this season, sophomore guard Elise Hill 10.5 points.

Tulsa is shooting 38.7 percent overall through 10 games, 28.5 percent from the 3-point line.

Upcoming: After a short Christmas break, Montana will open its Big Sky Conference schedule with home games against Eastern Washington and Idaho on Jan. 2 and 4.

RECORD AT MONTANA: 60-42 CAREER RECORD: 82-78

The 2024-25 season is Brian Holsinger's fourth year as head coach of the Montana women's basketball program. He was hired in April 2021 after previously serving as the associate head coach at Oregon State.

Through his first three seasons leading the Lady Griz, he coached the team to a 56-37 record and three top-five finishes in the Big Sky Conference, with a third-place showing last season, going 13-5 in league.

Montana went 23-10 in 2023-24 and advanced to the WNIT. It was the first 20-win season for the Lady Griz since 2015-16 and the first national tournament appearance since 2014-15.

Montana won a game at the Big Sky tournament for the first time since 2018 and won a game in the WNIT, 92-66 over Boise State.

Holsinger has been coaching at the collegiate level for more than two decades, with 13 of those years spent in the former Pac-12, eight at Washington State, five at Oregon State.

Holsinger, born in Republic, Wash., and a 1994 graduate of Federal Way High, began his coaching career shortly after graduating from Western Washington in 1999 when he accepted an assistant position at The Master's College.

He would spend six seasons at the Santa Clarita, Calif., school, helping the Mustangs win 132 games and advance to NAIA national tournaments in 2001, '03 and '05.

He spent the 2005-06 and 2006-07 seasons as the head coach at Montana Tech in Butte. The Orediggers went from 6-23 in Holsinger's first year to 16-13 in his second. Montana Tech broke into the NAIA top 25 in January 2007 for the first time in program history.

Holsinger joined June Daugherty's staff at Washington State prior to the 2007-08 season as Daugherty began the process of turning around a program that had gone 8-100 in the Pac-10 over the previous six seasons.

By Year 7 under Daugherty and Holsinger, the Cougars were 9-9 in league and winning 17 games overall, four over ranked opponents.

That season, 2013-14, ended in the WNIT, with Washington State losing an opening-round game at Montana. It was WSU's first national tournament appearance since 1990-91.

In Holsinger's final year at Washington State, in 2014-15, the Cougars again won 17 games, two over ranked opponents, and again made the WNIT.

After taking the 2015-16 season off from collegiate coaching, Holsinger returned to the profession when he joined coach Scott Rueck's staff at Oregon State prior to the 2016-17 season, the summer after the Beavers advanced to the 2016 Final Four.

Oregon State won 31 games and its third consecutive Pac-12 regular-season title in Holsinger's first year and advanced to the Sweet 16.

The Beavers won 26 games in 2017-18, tied for third in the Pac-12 at 14-4 and made the Elite Eight. They returned to the Sweet 16 in 2018-19 after finishing third in the Pac-12.

Oregon State was sitting on 23 wins when the 2019-20 season was canceled in March of that year.

Holsinger's wife, Stacey, played soccer for two years at Gonzaga before completing her collegiate career at The Master's, where she was a National Christian College Athletic Association second-team All-American as a senior.

The Holsingers have two daughters, Brooklyn and Quinn, and a son, Kellen.
