Hanson Field, home of the Fighting Leathernecks, is nestled in the heart of the Western Illinois University campus. Named after former Leatherneck football, basketball and baseball coach and athletics director Ray "Rock" Hanson, the stadium, then located at the far north end of campus, was dedicated on Sept. 23, 1950. As Western Illinois University has expanded, Hanson Field now rests directly in the center of campus, just north of the University Union and east of the Leslie F. Malpass Library. Western Hall, home to the Western Illinois Department of Athletics, is located to the north, while academic buildings and residence halls are located, west, northwest and southwest.

The stadium has seen several renovations throughout the years, most recently the installation of a video board and new scoreboard in 2014. A Western Illinois University arch was installed right above the scoreboard during the 2014 season.

Matrix Turf was installed during summer 2011. Matrix Turf is one of the field surfaces used at Cowboys Stadium by the Dallas Cowboys, installed by Hellas Construction. The Hanson Field renovation project also included: removal of the current grass surface and the track and field jump pits, installation of Matrix Turf and renovation of the field events area. The installation of a javelin runway, four new pits for long jump and triple jump, and redesigning the discus/shot put area put the total cost of the project at $1.3 million.

The east side received a $5 million face-lift prior to the 2007 season. The renovation to the student seating section, funded largely by a facilities enhancement and life safety fee at the request of student leaders, included: new bleachers, increased seating capacity, a new entrance, restrooms and concession stands.

Hanson Field seats 16,368 fans, however, the extensive hillside surrounding the playing field allows for thousands more to enjoy a game. Some local residents can view the field from their homes on Stadium Drive, which borders the stadium to the east. A record crowd of 19,850 watched the Leathernecks defeat Central Michigan on Oct. 20, 1973.

HANSON FIELD

In 2001, the stadium received a new main entrance, decorated by an iron gate, brick pillars and an arch displaying the words "HANSON FIELD", surrounded by an eight-lane, all-weather track and field facility, renovated through a $518,000 project in 2002.

A $150,000 gift from Western Illinois alumnus Al Boyer along with other private donations and support from Musco Lighting of Oskaloosa, Iowa, provided broadcast-quality lighting at Hanson Field in time for the 2002 opener. The $175,000 project included removal of Hanson Field's original light standards and installation of new directional lighting. Three 80-foot galvanized steel poles behind the east stands and two 90-foot galvanized steel poles behind the west stands now provide unobstructed sight lines for spectators. The system consists of 80 2,000-watt metal halide fixtures equipped with Musco's trademarked glare control technology.

The stadium has two permanent sculptures on display. Near the southwest entrance, inside the stadium, is a life-size bronze sculpture entitled "Excellence on Winged Feet." It honors former track and field coach and two-time Olympic gold medalist Lee Calhoun. The other is a concrete bulldog which guards the main entrance and is often painted by student groups.

Hanson Field has provided a rich, winning tradition for the Leathernecks, who hold an outstanding 229-116-7 record at home. The first game played at the stadium was against Central Michigan in the 1950 season opener. Western won that game and went on to win its first eight games at the facility.

The 6-3, 195-pounder, who was an eight-time Gateway Conference Player of the Week during his tenure, not only set 17 school records, but was named the league's Offensive Player of the Year. He passed for 8,257 career yards and 62 touchdowns. The strong-armed Singer was picked for six All-America teams and was a runner-up in the Coach's Choice Player of the Year Award.

Capturing Western Illinois' first-ever I-AA postseason victory, the 1997 Leathernecks became the first squad to win 11 games, after matching the record for most wins in a regular season. Junior running back Aaron Stecker helped establish the highest-scoring offense and most successful rushing team in Western's Division I history. Stecker rushed for 2,293 yards in 13 games, led the nation in scoring and rewrote the record books on his way to numerous player of the year and all-America honors. He finished second on the Walter Payton Award ballot.

Gateway Coach of the Year Randy Ball led the Leathernecks to just the second outright Gateway title in school history (also 1988) with a spotless 6-0 league record. The season's only loss came to I-A Marshall as the Leathernecks climbed as high as No. 2 in the national polls.

A defense that allowed just 17.3 points per game throughout the regular season was in top form for the postseason. Despite not giving up a touchdown to the McNeese State offense, the Leathernecks' hopes of advancing to the national semifinals were cut short with a two-point loss to the Cowboys.

With back-to-back Gateway titles behind them, the 1998 Leathernecks advanced to the semifinals for the first time in school history. The defense paved the way, allowing a nation-best 9.4 points per game during the regular season. Central Michigan (I-A) was the only opponent to score more than one touchdown while Western held eight opponents to under 10 points, while the 12.5 points allowed per game overall was the best school mark since 1959. Linebacker James Milton became the first Leatherneck to win the Buck Buchanan Award, and defensive lineman David Bowens was named the league's Newcomer of the Year.

Western climbed to as high as No. 2 in the national polls and finished the season at No. 4. After a rout of Montana and a 3-point win over Florida A&M in the first two rounds of the I-AA playoffs, the Leathernecks suffered a semifinal loss at Georgia Southern.

Head coach Randy Ball, who was named the American Football Coaches Association Regional Coach of the Year, ended his nine-year Leatherneck career with a record of 63-40-1, including a 35-18 mark against Gateway Conference competition.

The Leathernecks took the 2000 Gateway title in exciting fashion as punter Mike Scifres turned his first career field goal attempt into a school-record 56-yard field goal as time expired in the UNI-Dome. The win completed a 5-1 Gateway schedule, after Western Illinois was predicted to finish fifth, and gave head coach Don Patterson his first league crown in just his second season. The Leathernecks entered the season ranked No. 23 and climbed as high as No. 3. They earned their fourth trip to the I-AA playoffs in five years, but fell to Lehigh in the first round.

Western was the only team with finalists for all three national postseason awards, as linebacker Edgerton Hartwell won the Buck Buchanan Award, Charles Tharp was a finalist for the Walter Payton Award, and Patterson was a finalist for the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year Award. Each of the three won Gateway player/coach of the year awards and Patterson was named the AFCA Regional Coach of the Year. Hartwell and defensive back Will Peterson later became the first two I-AA players selected in the 2001 NFL Draft.

Western averaged 32.5 points per game as Patterson strung together the best two-year record for any I-AA Leatherneck coach.

After being picked fourth in the Gateway preseason polls and 40th in the national rankings, the 2002 Leathernecks surprised everyone but themselves by climbing to No. 2 in the national polls. The Leathernecks had a perfect regular season spoiled by a Southern Illinois touchdown at the buzzer, leading to a 10-1 regular season, which included a win over I-A Northern Illinois. As the No. 2 seed in the I-AA playoffs, they rolled past Eastern Illinois in round one. However, eventual champion Western Kentucky, which the Leathernecks had shut out earlier in the season, kicked a field goal with 40 seconds remaining to upset the Leathernecks by three points in the quarterfinals.

Scifres, a consensus All-American became the first I-AA punter ever placed on the Ray Guy Award Watch List. Gateway Offensive Player of the Year Russ Michna set a Leatherneck record for single-season total offense and fell just nine yards shy of the school's passing record. Don Patterson earned his second Gateway Coach of the Year award, as well as his second AFCA Regional Coach of the Year honor.

Western averaged 36.2 points, the second-highest mark in school history, and nearly 400 yards of total offense.

The third-ranked Leathernecks led the Hilltoppers in 11 statistical categories, including total yardage (512-254), but six pass interceptions, two of which went back for second-quarter touchdowns, led to their demise.

Paul Singer was intercepted on five consecutive drives, but rallied to bring his team back with 29 points and 407 yards in the fourth quarter. With just over one minute to play, Singer threw back-to-back passes which slipped out of the receivers' hands, including one in the endzone.

Scoring on their second and third possessions, the No. 8 Thundering Herd appeared to be headed for an easy win over No. 14 Western Illinois. The Leathernecks turned the game around in the second half using stiff defense (ranked sixth nationally) and a no-huddle offense. Western marched 83 yards on the first possession after the break as quarterback Donny Simmons broke away for a 15-yard keeper. A determined Leatherneck offense hit a 42-yard field goal to come within eight, 17-9. Simmons then led an 85-yard drive which was capped with a 24-yard strike to Lance Earl with 8:16 left to play. Pete Carlson caught the two-point conversion to tie the game. Western threw an interception in overtime, and Marshall kicked the game-winning field goal five plays later.

Dave Watson recovered another Jackson State fumble late in the game to set up the game-winning drive. Dayton	7	0	0	0	- 7

Dayton scored the first touchdown of the game, from there though it was all Western Illinois on the scoreboard as the Leathernecks won 24-7 in their opening round FCS Playoffs game on Saturday.

Nikko Watson rushed for a game-high 152 yards on 34 attempts while on defense Pete Swenson recorded four sacks as Western limited Dayton to just 25 yards in the second half. The second half, Western held the ball for 19 minutes and held UD to 2-of-9 on third downs.

Watson turned in his 13th career 100-yard game, averaging 4.5 yards per carry, and scored a TD. Sean McGuire went 12-of-26 for 183 yards and two touchdowns with two interceptions. Lance Lenoir ended with 93 yards on six catches, tying his own season record for most receptions (75).

Western out-gained Dayton 424-206 in total yards in the game, including 241-82 edge on the ground. The Leathernecks held a 34:30-25:30 overall edge in time of possession, and scored 14 points off the four UD turnovers.

Brett Taylor and Swenson had seven tackles each to lead the defense. Swenson tied his career-high and set a new standard with his four sacks and 5.0 tackles for a loss. He tied for the second-most sacks by a Leatherneck in a game.

2015 Second Round

#2 Illinois State 36, Western Illinois 19

Dec. 5 • Normal, Ill.

W. Illinois	3	3	6	7	- 19
Illinois State	7	0	8	21	- 36

For the third straight meeting, Western Illinois took a third quarter lead on Illinois State. However, the Redbirds broke away late for a 36-19 decision in the Division I FCS Playoffs second round. Western closed out the season at 7-6 overall, its first winning record in five years.

The Leathernecks took a 12-7 lead in the third quarter following a 22-yard touchdown pass from Sean McGuire to Lance Lenoir. The second-seeded Redbirds responded with two touchdown runs from quarterback Tre Roberson to take a 22-12 lead.

Western responded with a drive to cut the deficit to three points. McGuire found Jaelon Acklin for a 26-yard touchdown midway through the third quarter. The Redbirds made it a two possession game again with a 21-yard touchdown pass with 5:53 remaining and a score of 29-19 and added to the final margin with four minutes left on a Marshaun Coprich 72-yard touchdown run.

2017 First Round

#11 Weber State 21, #9 Western Illinois 19

Nov. 25 • Ogden, Utah

W. Illinois	3	3	6	7	- 19
Weber State	0	14	0	7	- 21

Western Illinois scored with just under five minutes remaining to make it a one-possession contest, but the Weber State Wildcats came up with four first downs to secure a 21-19 NCAA FCS Playoffs opening round victory. The ninth-ranked Leathernecks ended the season 8-4 overall.

Down by nine, Western took advantage of a fourth down completion from Sean McGuire to Jaelon Acklin, a facemask penalty after another completion to Acklin and scored from 18 yards out when the junior quarterback found Tyler Slamans on an 18-yard scoring strike to eventually make it 21-19.

YEAR-BY-YEAR RESULTS

According to research by WIU professor emeritus John Hallwas and Kathy Nichols (WIU Archives), Western Illinois played four games during the 1902 season.

Western defeated 'Macomb Normal' (Western Illinois Normal & Business Institute) 38-0, lost 16-0 at Quincy HS, defeated Macomb Normal 18-5 and lost at Moline HS 33-5.

During the Fall 1903, the Athletic Association was officially formed, which marked the start of Western football. The University celebrated 100 years of WIU football during the 2003 season.

The following year-by-year results are based off research by John Hallwas, the previously existing record book, the Sequel and Rock Hanson biography book.
