*RMAC game # RMAC Tournament game

This Week:

Metro State will play a four-game series at Colorado Christian this weekend on Friday and Saturday at All-Star Park in Lakewood. Doubleheaders start both days at noon with a nine-inning game followed by a seven-inning game.

RMAC Pitcher/Player of the Week:

Jake Draeger was named RMAC Pitcher of the Week on March 1. He shut down Colorado State-Pueblo in the season-opener on Feb. 26, a 7-2 victory. Draeger allowed just two hits in seven innings, while striking out a career-high 10 batters. Both runs came on a two-run home run in the top of the seventh after a two-out walk as he was nearly flawless for 6.2 innings.

Zach Krueger was named RMAC Player of the Week on March 15. He hit safely in all four games as Metro State earned a sweep on the road at Colorado Mines. Krueger batted .500 with eight hits in 16 at bats, while scoring nine runs and driving in eight. He had a double and a home run and stole three bases in three attempts. He was also named NCBWA Central Region Player of the Week.

Clutch Hitting:

David Fox was Metro State's most clutch hitter a year ago, batting .463 with runners in scoring position last season. This season, Fox is 11-for-21 (.524) in that situation and Zach Krueger is 8-for-14 (.571) and David Kaplan is 10-for-18 (.556). As a team, Metro State is hitting .406 with runners in scoring position, while holding opponents to .295. When serving as the leadoff hitter to start an inning, Jordan Stouffer is reaching base at a .438 clip (7-for-16) and Mike Coffey has a .313 (5-for-16) on-base percentage.

Preseason Awards:

David Fox was named RMAC Preseason Player of the Year. Joining him on the preseason all-conference team were Jordan Stouffer, Brennan Brown and Bradshaw Perry. Fox was also named to the Tino Martinez Award watch list for the best player in Division II. Stouffer and Fox were also selected to Collegiate Baseball Magazine's Preseason All-America Central Region team. That publication also named Corey Collins as a newcomer to watch.

Records Watch:

Stouffer was one of several players to break or nearly break records at Metro State last season. Stouffer's 17 home runs broke the single season record of 15 set by Todd Vaughn (1986) and Rusty Befus (1989 and 1990). David Fox's slugging percentage of .771 was the fifth-highest ever in a season at Metro State. The current record is held by Brendon Peach at .813. Ted Jamison became the school's all-time games started leader earlier this year and finished with 44. Jamison passed Anthony Cortez's innings pitched record of 256.1 against New Mexico Highlands on April 30 and now has 260.2. Jamison also became the school's all-time strikeouts leader earlier this season against Nebraska-Kearney. He wrapped up his career with 202, six ahead of the Cortez's previous record of 196. Jamison is fourth all-time in appearances with 54 and Tony Weber is tied for fifth all-time with 53. The record is 64 by Eric Smith (1990-93).

Metro State in Season-Openers:

The Roadrunners are 8-4 in their past 12 season-opening games since 2000 and have gone 20-9 in season-opening series during that time after Metro State's sweep of Colorado State-Pueblo on Feb. 26.

RMAC Preseason Poll:

The Metro State baseball team was picked to finish second in the RMAC preseason coaches poll. Additionally, outfielder David Fox was picked as the RMAC Preseason Player of the Year. New Mexico Highlands righthander Trent Evins was the preseason pitcher of the year.

First baseman Jordan Stouffer, outfielder Brennan Brown and pitcher Bradshaw Perry joined Fox on the preseason all-conference list.

The Roadrunners were picked both second overall and second in the Mountain Division, behind Mesa State. Metro State received two first place votes.

Season Outlook:

Metro State returns eight position players who started at least 20 games last season, led by RMAC Preseason Player of the Year David Fox. Fox was a second team all-region selection last year after betting .431 with 32 extra-base hits and eight stolen bases. Also returning are three more preseason all-conference players in first baseman Jordan Stouffer, outfielder Brennan Brown and pitcher Bradshaw Perry. Stouffer broke the single season school record with 17 home runs last season and hit .327 with 46 runs batted in. Brown hit .333 with 14 RBIs in just 16 starts as an outfielder/designated hitter. He was the 2008 RMAC Freshman of the Year.

On the pitching side, Perry and Jake Draeger both return to anchor the rotation. Perry posted a 2.92 ERA in his final six starts last season. Draeger was named all-conference last year after leading the team in most pitching categories, posting a 5-2 mark with a 5.24 ERA in 55 innings. Nate Van Bibber started four games last year, but will begin this season as the closer.

NCAA Division I transfers Corey Collins and Zach Cleveland will likely fill out the rotation. Collins is a transfer from Mississippi State University and Cleveland hails from the University of New Mexico. Two other transfers, Ty Jacobs and Forrest Carpenter, will see action on the mound and in the field.

Metro State Baseball History:

Metro State has been a consistently solid program through the year, but surprisingly has never made the NCAA Tournament. The Roadrunners won the RMAC Tournament championship in 2002, but the conference did not have an automatic bid to the postseason. Metro State also won the RMAC regular season title in 1998. Since 1998, Metro State has had 10 winning seasons with just three sub-.500 seasons during that time.

Metro State has had six head coaches in its history, but three in the past four seasons. This is the first time since 2008 that a coach has returned from the previous year. Bobby Pierce coached from 2007-08, replacing Vince Porreco who had a 14-year run. Jerry Schemmel took over for Pierce in 2009 and gave way to Carcione last season.

Head Coach Tom Carcione

- Second year as head coach at Metro State
- 52-51 career record (2nd year)
- 30-30 record at Metro State (1st year)

Tom Carcione is entering his second season as the head coach at Metro State in 2011. In his first season, he guided the Roadrunners to a 21-23 record, including 18-12 in the RMAC for the conference's fourth-best record.

A lack of pitching depth was overcome in the conference season by all-conference pitchers Jake Draeger and Ted Jamison, and a turnaround by Bradshaw Perry, who had an ERA of 11.52 through his first six starts, but rebounded with a 2.92 ERA in his final six starts. The offense was dominant throughout the year as the Roadrunners led the RMAC in home runs and finished in the top three in batting average, slugging percentage and on-base percentage.

Metro State set numerous single game records in a 34-12 victory over Colorado Christian on March 5, including most runs in a game.

Junior outfielder David Fox earned all-region honors and finished the year with a .431 batting average and had a 19-game hitting streak at one point during the season. Junior first baseman Jordan Stouffer broke Metro State's single season home run record with 17 bombs and ranked 10th in the nation in home runs per game.

Carcione joined Metro State from the Ottawa Rapidz of the Canadian American Association of Professional Baseball independent league. He took over as interim manager for Rapidz in mid season 2008 and was named full-time manager in spring 2009, but the team disbanded in April.

Prior to his time in Ottawa, Carcione worked as the hitting instructor at NCAA Division I Northern Illinois University for two years. While at NIU, the Huskies had their two highest conference win totals in school history, going 16-11 in 2007 and 16-10 in 2008. Additionally, NIU tied the school record for the most wins in a season with a 34-24 record in 2007. His team batted .292 with 42 home runs in 2007 and .286 with 48 home runs in 2008. Four players signed professional contracts following their collegiate careers.

He also spent two years as the pitching coach for the Sioux City Explorers of the American Association independent baseball league. With the Explorers, he helped the team to a 10-game improvement and second-place finish in the North Division during the second half of the 2007 season. Carcione also served one year as the bench and bullpen coach of the Fargo-Moorhead RedHawks, helping the team to a Northern League division championship in 1999.

Other coaching experience includes four years as an assistant coach at the University of South Dakota and a year as the head coach in 2005 at Si Tanka University, an NAIA school in Huron, S.D. While at Si Tanka, he coached the team to a school record 22 wins and its best finish ever in the Dakota Athletic Conference, along with its first-ever regional tournament appearance. The school closed following the 2005 season.

Carcione started his collegiate playing career at Connor State Junior College in Warner, Okla., where he led his team to two regional tournament berths, including a championship his freshman year. He then went on to play two years at Texas A&M University as the starting catcher for the Aggies, leading the squad to a 52-15 record in 1988 and a runner-up finish to Cal State Fullerton at the NCAA South Region Tournament that year. Following his time at Texas A&M, Carcione was drafted in the 10th round by the Oakland Athletics and spent five years in their organization, reaching as high as Double A. He then played five more seasons of minor league baseball with Sioux City of the Northern League and Grand Forks of the Prairie League.

He received his bachelor's degree in recreation from the University of South Dakota in 2001.
