NOTING THE WOLFPACK

NC STATE VS. FLORIDA STATE:

Although the overall series record between NC State and Florida State has been dominated by the Seminoles, Carter-Finley Stadium has not always been a friendly place for FSU. Since 2002, the Wolfpack has won four of the eight home games against the 'Noles and the scoring margin of those eight games has been just 6.6 ppg..

The last time FSU visited, the Wolfpack dropped a heartbreaker. NC State entered the fourth quarter with a 20-17 lead, but a dropped interception in the endzone gave the 'Noles another chance to score the winning touchdown with 3:09 remaining in the game.

In 2014, NC State came out of the blocks firing, taking a 24-7 lead in the 1st quarter over the top-ranked 'Noles, but eventually lost 41-56. The Pack, led by quarterback Jacoby Brissett (Indianapolis Colts) scored more points against FSU that year than any team except for Oregon in the national title game (59).

In 2012, the Wolfpack defeated the third-ranked Seminoles in a 17-16 thriller behind QB Mike Glennon (Chicago Bears) and in 2010, Russell Wilson (Seattle Seahawks) orchestrated a 28-24 win over the No. 16 visitors from FSU.

HOME vs. THE 'NOLES

Year	Res.	Score	Margin
2002	W	17-7	+10
2004	L	10-17	-7
2006	W	24-20	+4
2008	L	17-26	-9
2010	W	28-24	+4
2012	W	17-16	+1
2014	L	41-56	-15
2016	L	30-33	-3
Totals	4-4	184-199	6.63

The Wolfpack also won the 2010 contest behind QB Russell Wilson, lost by 9 in 2008, won 24-20

FAST STARTS:

In each of the last four contests versus Florida State, NC State has held the lead after the first quarter, outscoring the Seminoles 58-14 total in the opening frame.

HOME SWEET HOME(COMING):

The Florida State game will be homecoming for the Wolfpack in more than one way. It will mark NC State's first home game since Oct. 6 (vs. Boston College) and will follow an open week and two straight road games.

The Wolfpack is undefeated at home in 2018, posting a 4-0 overall mark and a 2-0 mark in ACC play.

An NC State squad has not finished the season undefeated at home since 1986.

INJURIES

The Wolfpack was without the services of several key players in the loss at Syracuse due to injuries, including three starters and one key backup.

The offense was particularly hit hard. Graduate captain Stephen Louis, a wide receiver, missed his second game of the season after going out late in the Clemson game. RS-sophomore Justin Witt, who had started the first six games at right tackle, did not make the trip and neither did true freshman tailback Ricky Person, who had rushed for 254 total yards in the previous three games as the backup to starter Reggie Gallaspy.

On the defensive side, junior Nick McCloud, starting corner in each of the first six games, was unable to go.

THE GOOD NEWS

In the first five games of 2018, the Wolfpack defense gave up 1,707 total yards - an average of just 341.4 yards per game. That's the good news.

In the last two games, the opposition has gained 1,032 total yards - an average of 516 yards per game. That, obviously, is the bad news.

But NC State isn't the only team that those two opponents have moved the ball on. Clemson and Syracuse rank sixth and ninth respectively in the Power 5 in total offense.

HARMON-IOUS:

Junior wideout Kelvin Harmon is not only one of the top offensive weapons in college football, but he has now etched his name alongside some of the greats in ACC history following his performance at Syracuse.

Harmon pulled down 11 catches for 247 yards in the Wolfpack's 41-51 loss, accounting for 46% of the team's 541 yards of total offense while playing 71 snaps on offense. That yardage total was the second-highest in the FBS for the entire 2018 season.

It also was the second-highest receiving game in school history. Only Torry Holt's 255 yards vs. Baylor in 1998 outpaced Harmon's mark. It ranked as the 10th-best receiving yardage total in ACC history for a single game

Harmon, who had two receiving touchdowns on the night - including a 74-yard strike from Ryan Finley - now has 11 100-yard receiving games for his career - the fourth-best mark in school history.

PICK YOUR POISON:

That's what the Wolfpack has fielded thus far in 2018.

BALANCE

Year	Rush Att	Pct.	Pass Att	Pct.	Diff
2016	504	.535	438	.465	.070
2017	496	.505	485	.494	.020
2018	248	.481	267	.519	.038
Totals	1,248	.512	1,190	.488	0.24

Offensive balance has been a hallmark of a Dave Doeren football team. In the three seasons under offensive coordinator Eliah Drinkwitz (2016-present) the Wolfpack has rushed the ball 51% of the team (1,248total rushes) and thrown 48.8% of the time (1,190 pass attempts).

WIDE DISTRIBUTION:

The depth of the NC State wide receiver unit is evident in the load they are carrying in the Wolfpack's passing game. Prior to 2018, the highest percentage of passes caught by wide receivers for the Wolfpack under Dave Doeren was 71.9% in 2013.

In the previous two seasons (2016-17) under quarterback Ryan Finley, the WRs accounted for 61% of the total receptions (355-579).

That number has changed so far in 2018. Of 179 completions this season, 162 have been caught by the Wolfpack wideouts - a mark of 90.5%. That is the third-highest percentage in the FBS.

Two Wolfpack wideouts rank in the top four in the ACC in receptions: Jakobi Meyers (2nd, 7.2/game), Kelvin Harmon (4th, 6.6/game).

In terms of receiving yards per game, Harmon leads the league (and ranks 4th in the FBS) with 113.4 ypg.

TRUE FRESHMEN

The road can be a scary place - especially the weekend before Halloween against a team called the Orange. Or actually, because that team happens to average 474.6 yards of total offense per game. That place becomes even scarier when you are starting two true freshmen on defense.

That's the situation the Wolfpack found itself in at Syracuse. Tanner Ingle got the start in his seventh game at nickel while corner Teshaun Smith, who had only played 10 snaps on defense prior to the game, got the start for the injured Nick McCloud.

It marked the first time since 2013 - Dave Doeren's first year as head coach - that two true freshman started on defense in the same game (CB Jack Tocho and DT Monty Nelson).

THE BUS:

Senior running back Reggie Gallaspy, Jr., changed all of his social media handles to @The-Bus25 this season. That bus seems to have one destination in 2018: the end zone.

Gallaspy, who had scored 11 touchdowns in his first three years, has crossed the goal line 10 times in 2018 (in seven games). He ranks third in the ACC in touchdown scoring and eighth in overall scoring for the season with 7.7 ppg.

Gallaspy is the first Wolfpack running back to rush for a touchdown in seven straight games since Hall of Famer Ted Brown did so in eight straight games in 1976.

With 20 career rushing touchdowns, Gallaspy is now tied for 11th in school history. He has played almost all of 2018 while battling injuries after offseason surgery.

DEFINING THE DEFENSE:

From the end of the 2017 Hyundai Sun Bowl until the 2018 season opener, the biggest talk surrounding NC State football was about who would not being playing this season. Seven players were drafted, including the entire defensive line in the first four rounds. Eight starters - including the entire front seven - were gone from the defense.

That exiting front seven had combined for 258 career starts. The front seven that started against James Madison in the opener had exactly three (Darian Roseboro-2, Germaine Pratt-1).

RESURRECTING THE RUN:

After gaining just 323 team rushing yards in the first three games of the season (107.7 ypg), the Wolfpack has rushed for 505 (168.3 ypg) in the next three. That number was down to 68 yards at Syracuse as half of the Wolfpack's one-two punch at running back was injured.

Over those three games, Reggie Gallaspy and Ricky Person combined to rush for 464 yards (a stark increase from the 323 TOTAL team rushing yards in the first THREE games of the season).

In the home win over Boston College, Gallapsy had a career-best 104 yards on 25 carries, including 10 carries in the fourth quarter.

Person, who was hampered by injuries dating back to the spring, produced 254 yards rushing over those three games (108 vs. Virginia, 92 vs. BC and 54 vs. Clemson). In his first three ACC games, he has averaged 5.9 yards per rush (43 carries). However, he missed the Syracuse game with an injury

During fall camp, there were days when there wasn't a single scholarship running back going through drills. Dylan Autenrieth, the RS-sophomore tight end who plays a huge role in the run game, missed the first two games of the season with an injury, while transfer TE Cary Angeline had to sit out the first two contests. OG Terronne Prescod, who has been rated as one of the top performers in the ACC on offense so far this season by Pro Football Focus, did not play in Game 2.

In the win over BC, NC State rushed for season-high 225 yards as a team. Under head coach Dave Doeren, NC State is 21-4 when rushing for over 200 yards in a game, winning the last eight.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK:

Seven games into the season, the Wolfpack has garnered eight ACC Player of the Week honors.

That's one more PoW award than NC State players earned for the entire 2017 campaign. The Wolfpack had just nine ACC PoW honors in the 2014, '15 and '16 seasons combined!

GP3

Graduate linebacker Germaine Pratt has been a beast in his first year as a starter. While he is unquestionably the vocal leader of the Wolfpack defense, Pratt is also the leader of the ACC.

Pratt currently leads the league and ranks 23rd in the FBS in tackles per game with 10.4 per game. Originally a safety, he switched to linebacker while redshirting the 2016 season. He came off the bench last year in all 13 games - playing just 55.8% of the defensive snaps but still finishing fouth on the team in tackles with 69.

He has led the Pack in tackles in six of seven games this season, and was named the ACC Linebacker of the Week after recording what was then a career-best 13 tackles against Boston College. He also forced and recovered a fumble in the fourth quarter after the Eagles advanced to the NC State five-yard line in the 28-23 win.

Against Syracuse, he tallied a career-high 16 tackles and a career-best 2.5 sacks for a loss of 21 yards. 14 of his 16 tackles were solo stops - he leads the ACC and ranks sixth in the FBS in solo tackles with 6.4 per game.

U of WHO?

#QBU?

In 2017, NC State became only the fourth school in history to boast four NFL starting quarterbacks during the same season. For four weeks, a quartet of Wolfpack alums were the starting signal callers for their respective teams: Mike Glennon (Chicago Bears), Philip Rivers (Los Angeles Chargers), Russell Wilson (Seattle Seahawks) and Jacoby Brissett (Indianapolis Colts).

The Wolfpack joined Miami (1993 with Craig Erickson, Jim Kelly, Bernie Kosar and Vinny Testeverde), Michigan (2004 with Tom Brady, Brian Griese, Chad Henne and John Navarre) and USC (2009 with Matt Leinart, Matt Cassell, Carson Palmer and Mark Sanchez) as the only school ever to have four alums starting at QB in the same NFL season.

For the 2017 season, the Wolfpack's four NFL QBs combined to start 51 games - a new NFL record for starts in a season by alums from one school. Former Pack QBs are now the winningest QBs in the history of two different NFL franchises: Rivers with the Chargers and Wilson with the Seahawks.

#DLineU?

With four defensive linemen selected in the top four rounds of the 2018 NFL Draft, the Wolfpack isn't just known for its NFL quarterbacks any more.

In addition to those four (Bradley Chubb, B.J. Hill, Justin Jones and Kentavius Street) two other former Wolfpack d-linemen were on NFL rosters in camp: T.Y. McGill (who has since been cut) and J.R. Sweezy (plays OG in the NFL). NC State's last four first-round draft picks have all been defensive linemen: Bradley Chubb, John McCargo, Manny Lawson and Mario Williams.

NO SACKS:

The Band of Brothers (aka the Wolfpack offensive line) has arguably been the top performing unit in the country since the beginning of last season, despite losing two starters from 2017.

NC State leads all Power 5 teams in sacks allowed this season, averaging just 0.57 per game (2nd in FBS). In four ACC games, the opposition has sacked Ryan Finley just twice.

FIRST ON THIRD:

NC State ranks 5th in the FBS and leads the ACC in third-down conversion percentage this season, converting at a .521 rate. The Wolfpack has reached a first down on 50 of its 96 third down tries.

THIRD AND NO MORE(HEAD):

Although Syracuse scored 51 points on the Wolfpack, the Orange weren't particularly good at converting on 3rd down - gaining a 1st on just 5 of 12 attempts.

Morehead tallied seven total tackles (six solo stops) in the game and broke up two passes. Both of those breakups were on third down plays and he also made a big stop on on third down quarterback scramble.

Earlier this season, Morehead picked off a third-down pass at Marshall and returned it 57-yards for a touchdown.

LEAGUE LEADERS:

It's no wonder that NC State leads the ACC and ranks 6th in the FBS in passing offense with 344.7 yards per game The Wolfpack enters Game 8 boasting the league's leading passer and receiver.

Quarterback Ryan Finley stands atop the league leaders with 321.4 passing yards per game - the No. 6 mark in the FBS. The graduate student has passed for 2,250 passing yards this season - already the No. 18 single season mark in school history with five regular season games left. He now ranks third in school history with 8,827 career passing yards.

Junior receiver Kelvin Harmon is the leading receiver in terms of yards, averaging 113.4 yards per contest - the No. 5 mark in the FBS. He now ranks 5th in school history with 2,273 career yards.

NC State is averaging 45.7 passing yards per game more than any other ACC team.

#HOMEGROWN

When Dave Doeren took over as head coach of the Wolfpack in December of 2012, he made a promise that he and his staff would strive to keep the best players in North Carolina. The Wolfpack has done just that under Doeren's leadership, as 38 of the 83 scholarship players on this week's roster (46%) hail from the home state, while 56% of the total roster are N.C. natives.

UPWARD MOBILITY:

Following his 473 yard passing performance against Syracuse, QB Ryan Finley passed Russell WIlson (2008-10) to move into 3rd place in school history in career passing yards. That yardage total was the highest single-game mark of his career and the fourth-best tally in school history.

With 8,827 aerial yards in his 33 games at NC State, Finley needs to average just 162.8 passing yards in the remaining five regular season games to pass Jamie Barnette's second-place tally of 9,461 yards (Philip Rivers' first-place mark of 13,484 career passing yards would be a tough one to pass).

MR. DEPENDABLE:

You don't hear his name called very often. He's not making tackles or catching passes. But left tackle Tyler Jones is a major factor in the success of the Wolfpack offense and the entire team.

Called "underappreciated" by offensive coordinator Eliah Drinkwitz, Jones is a major reason the Wolfpack leads the ACC and ranks 2nd in the FBS in sacks allowed this season. (And that's not a fluke - last season the Wolfpack ranked 2nd in the Power 5 that category).

Jones has started the last 33 games at left tackle, seeing action in 2,985 snaps at that position and allowing just four sacks. For his career (Jones has also started games at LG and RT during his career), he's played in a team-high 3,516 snaps. He has played every offensive snap in the Wolfpack's last 24 ACC games, dating back to 2015.

THE D LEAGUE:

Player Development has become a hallmark for the Wolfpack under head coach Dave Doeren and his staff. One reason for the success of players who may not have been very highly recruited in making it to the NFL is the way the staff organizes practice.

Every Thursday and Friday during the season, the Wolfpack holds what the staff calls "Developmental Practices." At the end of Thursday's workout, the travel squad heads into the building to lift weights while the redshirts and other young players continue to practice.

Since most redshirts are on the scout team during the week, they don't have a chance to be with their position coaches in practice situations as much. These practices give the younger players a chance to do that.

Those players then watch the film from that practice with their position coaches and on Fridays, have a second developmental workout with their position coaches (after the travel squad has completed its walkthrough) to correct mistakes from the previous day.

TRIPLE DIGIT GAMES:

Since the beginning of the 2016 season (33 games), the Wolfpack has turned in 40 100-yard performances on offense (15 individual 100-yard rushers and 25 individual 100-yard receivers). That's more than double the number from the previous 38 games, as between 2013-15 there were just 18 such outings.

100/300

Receiving	3	1	0	8	11	6	29
Passing (300)	1	1	0	4	6	5	17
Totals	7	4	7	20	22	13	73

In Dave Doeren's first three seasons at NC State, the Wolfpack had five total individual 100-yard receiving games. Five ... in three years. That number turned around in 2016 when the offense turned in eight 100-yard games. Last season, that tally was up to 11 - tying a school record.

Meanwhile, Wolfpack players rushed for 100+ yards 12 total times in the three seasons between 2013-15, and have done it 15 times in the past two+ seasons.

In terms of passing, NC State's quarterbacks turned in just two total 300-yard games in the three seasons between 2013-15, but in the past 33 games (2016-18), Ryan Finley has posted 15 300-yard games.

THE 300-YARD MAN:

QB Ryan Finley opened the 2018 season with three straight 300+ yard passing games and has gone over the 300-yard mark in five of the Pack's seven games in 2018.

300-YARDERS

Name	Career Starts	300-yd Games	Pct.
Philip Rivers, 2000-03	51	19	.373
Ryan Finley, 2016-pres.	33	15	.454
Russell Wilson, 2008-10	38	12	.316
Mike Glennon, 2009-12	26	8	.307

The graduate student posts the 6th-highest passing yardage average in the FBS for 2018 (321.4) and now has 15 300-yard passing games in his 33-game career at NC State. That means he's thrown for 300+ yards in 45% of the contests he's played at State.

In Wolfpack history, only Philip Rivers (19 from 2000-03) has turned in more 300-yard games.

THAYER HE GOES:

Two months ago, wide receiver Thayer Thomas was a walk-on who had never played a collegiate game. Now just four games into the 2018 season, he's not only earned himself a scholarship, but a spot in Wolfpack history as well.

With 114 yards on nine receptions in the 41-7 win over Georgia State, Thomas earned his first 100-yard game faster than any rookie receiver in school history. In 1972 - the first year that freshmen were allowed to play NCAA football, freshman split end Don Buckey had a 100-yard game in Game 3.

Thomas, who also threw a 56-yard pass in the win, is the first Wolfpack player since 1982 (WR Ricky Wall) to score at least one receiving touchdown in each of the first two games of his Wolfpack career.

Thomas touched the ball twice in the season opener. The first time was on a punt return early in the second quarter, which he took 40 yards to the JMU 38 yardline. That was the first return of his career. Five plays later, he had the first reception of the year. This one, he took 16 yards to the endzone for the Wolfpack's first touchdown of the season.

Thomas was named the ACC Rookie of the Week following the win over Georgia State.

Since the beginning of the 2016 campaign, the Wolfpack has suffered 12 losses, posting a 21-12 record during that frame (7-6 in 2016, 9-4 in 2017 and 5-2 in 2018).

Seven of those 11 losses have been by a touchdown (7 pts.) or less - including three of the four losses in 2017.

In the three years prior to that time frame (Dave Doeren's first three seasons at NC State), the Pack suffered 20 losses. Of those, only one was by 7 points or less and only two were by less than a double-digit margin.

FAITHFUL FOLLOWERS:

Wolfpack Nation has a well-deserved reputation as being one of the most passionate fanbases in the country. NC State fans purchased the fifth-highest number of season tickets in school history prior to the 2018 season.

THREE DEGREES ABOVE:

In addition to his success on the field, Ryan Finley may hold the distinction of being the most educated player in the nation for 2018.

The Wolfpack quarterback enters his final season with three academic degrees: a B.A., a Master's and a graduate certificate. He is the only player from a Power 5 school who will enter the 2018 season with a Master's degree already in hand and one of only three in the FBS.

TURNOVER TALE:

SPOILER ALERT!

When the Wolfpack holds on to the football, it usually wins games. Since 2014, Dave Doeren's second year with the program, the Wolfpack posts a 22-5 record when it wins the turnover battle, is 11-2 when it breaks even and is 3-16 when turning the ball over more than the opponent.

The Pack has won its last 12 games when it had the same or less miscues than the opposition.

TRANSFERENCE: Obviously, the Wolfpack has benefitted greatly from the talents of one transfer, as quarterback Ryan Finley is now in his third year as a starter. But in 2018, other transfers are making an impact on NC State's fortunes. That was in evidence in the win over Virginia.

DT Larrell Murchison (who redshirted with the Wolfpack last season after transferring) had four tackles for loss and three sacks in the contest, while tight end Cary Angeline (a transfer from USC) scored a touchdown. Nickel Stephen Griffin (a transfer from Tennessee) had a couple of key stops and breakups in the second half.

DOEREN IT RIGHT:

The Wolfpack gained national notoriety when seven members of the 2017 squad were drafted by the NFL - a school record and the second-highest tally in the country only behind Alabama. That number was impressive, but what was even more impressive is that of those seven players drafted (plus four others who are in NFL camps), only one was a four-star recruit coming out of high school.

Player development has been a hallmark of head coach Dave Doeren's tenure at NC State and last year in year 5, that development began to really show. His 2017 squad posted nine wins for the season - a mark that tied as the third-highest in school history and was the highest since 2010. The squad's six ACC victories tied a school record and was the most in 23 years. His teams have qualified for four consecutive bowl games and he could become only the second coach in school history to take teams to five straight in 2018.

Doeren's players aren't just prepared for the NFL. During his tenure 155 members of his team have graduated and NC State's graduation success rate for football is at an all-time high (74%) and has risen each of the past four years. The Wolfpack has boasted 23 Academic All-ACC performers under his guidance.

Doeren was recently named to the midseason watch list for the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year Trophy and the Paul "Bear" Bryant Coach of the Year Award.

CENTER STAGE:

Graduate Garrett Bradbury always expected to follow in his dad's footsteps. Tim Bradbury played tight end at Eastern Washington (he was Jim McElwain's roommate). After finishing his high school career with a state title (NC Independent schools), the younger Bradbury was rated the No. 54 tight end in the country (ESPN). He was recruited by some smaller schools to play on the offensive line, but he knew that his future was playing tight end.

He arrived on campus in June of 2014, weighing in at 250 lbs. He redshirted his first season at TE, missed workouts the following spring due to an injury and then moved over to the offensive line during fall camp. After being injured in the 2015 season opener, he missed a few games, then played sparingly for the remainder of the season, mainly on special teams.

Flash ahead to his redshirt sophomore season (2016), when the Charlotte native took the field and has basically never come off it since.

After playing just 36 snaps from scrimmage in his first two years, Bradbury, who now weighs in at 300 lbs., has now started 33 straight games and played in 2,381 snaps since 2016. He started every game of 2016 at left guard before moving to center prior to the 2017 campaign.

In his first year at that spot, he played 1,000 snaps (98% of the total) and was a first-team All-ACC choice (ACSMA). In just his second year at the position, he's been named to the 'watch' list for the Rimington Trophy as well as the Outland Trophy.

NON-CONFERENCE SUCCESS:
Following the win at Marshall, NC State posts a 22-5 overall out-of-conference mark under Dave Doeren.

The Wolfpack has won its last 12 home games against non-conference foes at home, with the last loss coming on Nov. 23, 2013 when Dave Doeren's first NC State squad fell to East Carolina. That was the only non-conference home loss during the Doeren era, as the Wolfpack holds a 15-1 overall OOC mark at home since he took over the program for the 2013 season.

The Pack posts a 4-3 mark in OOC regular season games played away from Carter-Finley under Doeren and a 3-1 record in bowl games.

THE SWOLE PATROL:
Every summer, the strength and conditioning staff, led by former Pack linebacker Dantonio Burnette, selects the young men who are their top performers during the offseason program.

It's no surprise that three of the award winners for 2018 were also chosen as team captains.

WR Stephen Louis and LB Germaine Pratt won the Alpha Wolf Award for leadership. The Iron Wolf Award, which is given to the top performer in the offseason program, was awarded to C Garrett Bradbury and DE James Smith-Williams.

COLE ON A ROLL:
Punter A.J. Cole, III, is now only the fourth punter in Wolfpack history who has started all four years of his career. Among those four punters, Cole posts the third-best career average with a 42.2 yards per punt mark.

Cole posts the 4th-best marks in school history for career punts (194) and for punting yards (8,195). His average is the third-best mark in school history.

FOUR-YEAR STARTERS AT PUNTER

Name	Year	Punts	Punt Yds	Avg.
Johnny Evans	1974-77	185	8,143	44.0
A.J. Cole, III	2015-pres.	194	8,195	42.2
Austin Herbert	2000-03	226	8,992	39.5
Wil Baumann	2011-14	266	10,868	40.8

A third-team All-ACC performer last season, Cole ranked 25th in the FBS in punt average (fifth in the ACC) in 2017. He ranks 5th in the ACC this season with a 42.7 average.

Off the field, he was named to the Allstate AFCA Good Works Team, which recognizes community service. He was an Academic All-ACC performer and was named to the AllState AFCA GoodWorks team.

He has spent his last five spring breaks serving in Kenya.

CARING COFFEE:
On Monday mornings throughout the 2018 will begin with something special for the Wolfpack football staff. Dave Doeren and his wife Sara have partnered with 321 Coffee to set up a "pop-up" coffee shop outside the coaches' offices in the Murphy Football Center.

Started by four NC State students, 321 Coffee is a pop-up coffee shop operated by individuals with developmental and intellectual disabilities ("321" is representative of Down Syndrome -- the 3rd copy of the 21st Chromosome.).

The mission of 321 Coffee is to provide a meaningful volunteer work experience for adults with special needs, and to give the staff a chance to interact with the special needs community.

Doeren has raised almost $300,000 for the Wake County Public Schools special needs in the past five years at the annual Chick Fil A Peach Bowl Challenge.

PACKed DRAFT:
NC State set a school record with seven draft picks in 2018. That mark ranked second nationally only to national champion Alabama.

Name, Pos.	Team	Rd.	Pick
Bradley Chubb, DE	Denver	1	5
B.J. Hill, DT	NY Giants	3	69
Justin Jones, DT	LA Chargers	3	84
Nyheim Hines, RB	Indianapolis	4	104
Kentavius Street, DE	San Francisco	4	128
Will Richardson, OT	Jacksonville	4	129
Jaylen Samuels, H	Pittsburgh	5	165

REAL WORLD WEDNESDAYS:
One of key components of 1Pack1Goal is to prepare the Wolfpack for life after football. For the past three years, Real World Wednesdays have helped achieve this goal.

During Wednesday team meetings throughout the offseason, speakers have come in to present a variety of topics, including:

- domestic violence
- dealing with law enforcement
- drug abuse
- proper dress attire
- interview skills
- dining etiquette
- agents and runners
- money management

Former athletes from a variety of sports have come back to tell about their experiences as well.

WOLFPACK STORYLINES

Brady Bodine (RB, Gr.): Born at Camp LeJeune and son of Marine. Lt. Col. Wayne Bodine joined the U.S. Marine Corps, who has served four one-year deployments in Afghanistan and Iraq.

Adam Boselli (TE, RS-So.): Son of former NFL All-Pro Tony Boselli, the No. 2 pick in the 1995 NFL draft. His mother Angi is a former Miss California Teen USA, his brother Andrew played OL at Florida State. High school coach was former Jacsonville Jaguars QB Mark Brunell.

Garrett Bradbury: (C, Gr.): Started his career as a 250-lb. TE. He was recruited to play at OL by several smaller schools but didn't want to make the move. Now he's a 300-lb. center.

Eurndraus Bryant (DT, Sr.): 330-lb. DT was an all-region baseball player in high school, who batted .490 while playing LF. Bryant and a friend from home have their own YouTube channel (The Dre & Braylan Channel) with a purpose of making an impact in the community. In the videos, they've cooked and distributed meals to homeless people, as well as shopping for supplies for the homeless.

Kolin Byers (OL, RS-Fr.): Volunteer firefighter at Western Wake Fire Rescue - the responding department for Carter-Finley Stadium.

A.J. Cole, III (P, Sr.): Has spent his last five spring breaks in Kenya, working at a school.

Emeka Emezie (WR, So.): Parents are immigrants from Nigeria. Full name is Chukwuemeka Chitabera Emezie. (CHUKE wuh eh meka CHET eh berra eh MEZZ ee)

Ryan Finley (QB, Gr.): Was a member of the roller hockey Team USA for 10 years. Also played tennis and long jumped. Holds a master's degree + another graduate certificate.

Reggie Gallaspy, Jr. (RB, Sr.): The father of a two-year old daughter: Aliah.

Kelvin Harmon (WR, Jr.): Born in Liberia, he came to the U.S. when he was four.

Deonté Holden (DE, RS-Gr.): Seeing his first real action although he's a fifth-year player. Has completed a graduate certificate in brand marketing and textile managing. He is currently pursuing two master's degrees: in management and in global luxury management.

Tim Kidd-Glass (FS, RS-So.): Weighed 3 lbs, 15 oz. when he was born and wasn't expected to live.

Stephen Louis (WR, Gr.): One of seven children (five brothers and one sister) born to Haitian immigrants.

Alim McNeill (DT, Fr.): Also plans to play baseball for the Wolfpack, he batted .355 last season for Sanderson High School. 299 lb. DT who played LB in high school.

Larrell Murchison (DT, RS-Jr.): Has a twin brother, Farrell, who plays RB at Winston-Salem State. Farrell is currently battling testicular cancer.

Darian Roseboro (DE, Sr.): Lost his father, Johnny, the week of the Pitt game in 2017. The team wore his father's initials ("JR") on their jerseys for that game.

James Smith-Williams (DE, RS-Jr.): Has already been offered (and has accepted) a position with IBM for whenever his football career is completed. He worked a paid internship with that company over the summer of 2018.

Jaylynn Strickland (OT, Fr.): Wears a size 18 shoe and has a 7-foot wingspan.

Philip Walton, Jr. (OL, RS-Jr.): Was a competitive swimmer through ninth grade. Now is a 6'6, 300-lb. offensive lineman.

Payton Wilson (LB, Fr.): Brother Bryse was recently called up to the Atlanta Braves for a single game against the Pittsburgh Pirates. He pitched five shutout innings in his major league debut.

CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM

One of the landmarks of North Carolina's capital city, Carter-Finley Stadium has gained a reputation as being one of the nation's toughest places to play. The home of the Wolfpack boasts 57,600 permanent seats and is surrounded by acres of convenient parking.

CAPACITY: 57,600. Double-decked with more than 22,000 lower level sideline seats, almost 18,000 upper deck seats, 13,000+ endzone seats.
FIRST GAME: Oct. 8, 1966
ORIGINAL COST: $3.7 million. Half the funds were raised from alumni and friends and the balance was borrowed.
NAME: The stadium honors Wilbert James (Nick) Carter (1902-1972) , Harry Clifton Carter (1908-1990), and Albert Earle Finley (1895-1985). The two Carter brothers graduated from NC State from the school of Textiles and became top executives in the J. P. Stevens Company. They contributed several hundred thousand dollars to fundraising for completion of the stadium.
FIELD: The playing surface at Wayne T. Day Family Field is built to USGA specifications for a golf green. The USGA specification has an elaborate drainage system and a 10" rootzone mix that is 90% sand and 10% peat. The field has Tiftway 419 hybrid bermudagrass from Sandhills turf farm in North Carolina. The irrigation system consists of 6 "big gun" sprinklers that spray over 200 gallons per minute. The water source is well water that is contained in tanks.

DAVE DOEREN, head coach

6th SEASON AT NC STATE • 8th CAREER SEASON • NC STATE RECORD: 39-32 • CAREER RECORD: 62-36• LED 7 OF 8 TEAMS TO BOWLS

Dave Doeren says that it is his goal to make sure the young men who play for him at NC State are well prepared to "chase two dreams: life with football and life without football."

In his sixth year leading the Wolfpack program, Doeren and his staff strive to develop the total person. The numbers show that they are succeeding. Last season, a school record seven players were drafted by the NFL. That was the highest total in the ACC and the second-highest total nationally.

His 2017 squad posted nine wins for the season - a mark that tied as the third-highest in school history and was the highest since 2002. The squad's six ACC victories tied a school record and was the most in 23 years. His teams have qualified for four consecutive bowl games and he could become only the second coach in school history to take teams to five straight in 2018.

But Doeren's players aren't just prepared for the NFL. During his tenure 155 members of his team have graduated and NC State's graduation success rate for football is at an all-time high (74%) and has risen each of the past four years. The Wolfpack has boasted 23 Academic All-ACC performers under his guidance.

Doeren, who was recently named to the midseason watch list for the Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year Trophy, was tabbed to lead NC State's football program in December of 2012, he introduced the concept of 1Pack1Goal to Wolfpack Nation. He has defined 1Pack1Goal as "A UNITED MISSION TO WIN A CHAMPIONSHIP." Although that may sound simple, the reality has been a little more complicated and encompasses much more than wins and losses. From day one, Doeren and his staff began to implement processes and programs designed to develop each young man who comes through their program in three ways: as a player, as a student and as a person.

Doeren was a candidate for several coach of the year honors in 2017 and he has now coached bowl eligible teams in 13 of his 16 years in Division 1.

In 2016, while facing a daunting schedule, his squad won three of its last four games, including a win at rival UNC and an Independence Bowl victory over SEC opponent Vanderbilt. Four of the squad's losses in 2016, including two to ranked teams, were by seven points of less.

In 2015, Doeren took one of the nation's youngest teams and went to battle against three teams that ended the regular season ranked in the top 10. NC State won four road games in 2015, more than any Wolfpack squad since 2002. No other State team has turned in more road victories since 1957. The team posted numbers on offense and special teams that were among the top marks in school history.

In 2014, his second year as the head coach at NC State, his team was the second-most improved in the Power 5 conferences. The Wolfpack more than doubled its win total from the previous season, earned a bowl victory and posted its highest team GPA in program history.

The 2014 Wolfpack squad was only the second in school history to score 40 or more points in five regular season games and posted its best rushing average since 1992. Despite the tough league schedule in 2015, the team posted four 40+ point games and an almost identical rushing output.

Doeren also believes that a championship mindset involves service and has built a program that prides itself in giving back to the community. Members of his teams have turned in over 6,000 collective hours of community service since he took over as head coach. His team has won the NC State Athletics Community Service Award twice.

He asks each of his position coaches to choose a service opportunity for his players each year. His players have embraced that commitment to service and now many volunteer individually for various ministries and outreaches.

Doeren puts his money and his time where his mouth is. Not only does he set a high standard for his team when it comes to community service, but he holds himself to that standard. He and his wife, Sara have raised money and brought awareness to special needs education in Wake County since coming to NC State.

Another way that Doeren has established a culture that develops the person is by instituting "Real World Wednesdays." Every week from January until the season starts, a different speaker comes in to speak to the team about his or her experiences or to help teach real life lessons. Speakers have included former players from the NFL, the business world and other individuals who have shared their life experiences.

Doeren has provided practical guidance to his players that will help them in the professional world. They learned about proper dress attire for interviews and business and learned how to tie a tie. They have participated in etiquette dinners and have met with leaders from the financial world who taught them about money management.

He believes that giving his athletes all the tools and knowledge they need to be great leaders is essential to their success, on and off the field. He knows that it takes strong leaders to develop strong leaders, so the training starts with himself and the coaching staff. He uses examples from other programs, university resources and outside speakers to help train his staff.

He came to NC State after leading the program at Northern Illinois to its most successful two years in program history. His first Husky squad won the school's first Mid-American Conference Championship since 1983 and tied the school record with 11 wins. His second version repeated as league champions and set a new school record by posting 12 victories for the season and earned a trip to the Orange Bowl - the first BCS berth ever for a MAC school. Doeren was a finalist for several national coach of the year awards following the 2012 campaign.

Under Doeren's leadership, NIU boasted the nation's longest conference winning streak with 17 straight wins versus MAC opponents. The Huskies never lost a home game during his tenure in DeKalb, winning a dozen home contests in his two seasons to extend the nation's longest home winning streak to 21 games.

Prior to his stint in DeKalb, Doeren spent five seasons in the Big Ten at Wisconsin, where he served as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. During Doeren's time in Madison, the Badgers posted a 49-15 overall mark and played in the Champs Sports Bowl twice, the Outback Bowl, the Capital One Bowl and the Rose Bowl.

For his first two seasons in Madison, he served as co-defensive coordinator/recruiting coordinator/linebackers coach and in 2008, was named the primary defensive coordinator.

Doeren arrived at Wisconsin after four seasons (2002-05) at the University of Kansas, where he served as linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator for three seasons before being promoted to co-defensive coordinator under head coach Mark Mangino.

During Doeren's time at Kansas, the Jayhawks ended a seven-year bowl drought, earning bids to the 2003 Tangerine Bowl and the 2005 Ft. Worth Bowl. The opponent in that first bowl appearance was a Philip Rivers-led NC State team.

In 2000 and 2001, Doeren coached the secondary at NCAA Division I-AA (now Football Championship Subdivision) powerhouse Montana, also serving as the Grizzlies' recruiting coordinator for one year. Montana advanced to the the I-AA national championship game in 2000, losing by two points, but returned to win the national title the following season. The Grizzlies posted a 28-3 record and won two Big Sky Conference championships in his two years with the program and he coached five All-Americans, four All-Big Sky performers and two league defensive MVPs.

Doeren grew up right outside of Kansas City, where he watched his grandfather, Thomas Glennon, coach high school basketball and track. He loved the respect his grandfather commanded from his players, even after he retired from coaching.

When he left for college at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, his goals were to play football, earn a pre-med degree, go to med school and become an orthopedic doctor. He accomplished the first two.

He lettered at tight end for the Bulldogs, catching 19 catches for 237 yards for his career. He majored in pre-medical biology, earning Academic All-America honors as a senior. He took the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT). His plans for the future changed, however, during the summer between his junior and senior years when his former coach at Bishop Miege High School asked him to lead seven-on-seven drills.

From that moment on, he decided he wanted to be a coach. He pursued that goal with a relentlessness that never wavered. Instead of heading to med school, he landed his first coaching job in 1994, right there in Kansas at Shawnee Mission Northwest High School. His collegiate coaching career began just a year later, when he was named an assistant coach at Drake, leading the linebackers from 1995-97 before adding defensive coordinator chores in 1997. He also earned his master's degree from Drake in educational leadership.

Doeren got his first taste of a bowl experience as a defensive graduate assistant at the University of Southern California. During his stint with the Trojans, he began work on his Ph.D.

Doeren met his wife Sara while he was coaching at Drake and she was a nursing student. The couple has three sons: Jacob (18), Luke (15) and Connor (12).
