WOLFPACK SPORTS NETWORK

The Wolfpack Sports Network, one of the strongest collegiate sports networks in the nation, will be heard for the 60th year throughout North Carolina and globally via GoPack.com's All-Access multimedia channel during the 2017 football season.

The network is managed by Wolfpack Sports Properties, a joint venture between Learfield Sports and Raleigh's Capitol Broadcasting Company. It covers three of the 45 largest radio markets in the country and is made up of over 20 affiliates that effectively blanket the state from the mountains to the coast. The flagship station is the powerful WRAL-FM, MIX 101.5 in Raleigh.

All the action is brought to the devoted Wolfpack listeners by veteran play-by-play man and former North Carolina Sportscaster of the Year, Gary Hahn, who is in his 30th season as the voice of the Wolfpack. Joining Hahn in the booth is former Wolfpack All-American Johnny Evans, who provides color commentary. Manning the sidelines will be NC State alumnus Tony Haynes, now in his 20th season covering NC State football. David Modlin is the engineer who makes all the magic happen.

CONNECTIVITY

The press box in Vaughn Towers is equipped with a limited number of pool telephones, but wireless access is available.

To request a specific internet, ISDN or other line for your media outlet, please contact: T.J. Buffaloe, Information Technology Manager-Support/Business Relations Specialist for NCSU Communication Technologies/OIT (tj_buffaloe@ncsu.edu or 919.515.0707).

There is a field level work room for photographers in the fieldhouse on the north end of the stadium.

HEAD COACH DAVE DOEREN

When former Wolfpack quarterback Philip Rivers came back to visit his alma mater several years ago, he told the football team that at NC State, "We play hard. We play tough. And we play together."

Those words resonated with head coach Dave Doeren, who was in his fourth year leading NC State at that time. Working hard is in his DNA. As he said in his introductory press conference in December of 2012, he's "lined the fields and driven the bus."

Tough? He spent countless hours as a house painter in the hot Kansas summer so that he could afford to pursue his passion when he first realized that coaching was his calling.

But what he really thrives on is the third part of that statement: together. Doeren's love for coaching is his love for those under his leadership - for seeing a group of young men come together to work toward a common goal. Then seeing those young men go on to be successful men, husbands and fathers, in addition to being great players. That, he says, is what makes him wake up every day, excited about going to work.

As he enters his ninth season leading the Wolfpack program, Doeren has become known for developing players who exhibit those same traits: hard ... tough ... together.

Between 2017-20, 13 of his players have been drafted by the NFL - including an ACC-best seven in 2017 - the sixth-highest total nationally. Doeren's players aren't just prepared for the NFL. During his tenure, 262 members of his team have graduated and NC State's graduation success rate for football is at an all-time high and continues to rise.

The Wolfpack has boasted 35 Academic All-ACC performers under his guidance and in 2018 had a player named to the prestigious NFF National Scholar-Athlete Team.

Last season, with five new coaches on staff (not to mention a global pandemic to contend with), the Wolfpack made one of the most inpressive turnarounds in college football, posting an 8-4 record and earning the sixth bowl bid of his Wolfpack tenure. Doeren led his resilient squad to seven ACC victories - a new school record.

That successful campaign followed a season that saw the Wolfpack decimated by injuries with seven players (including five starters) lost for the season. Because of injuries, a Power 5 conference-leading 45 players started games in 2019 and the Pack played the nation's second-highest total of freshmen.

With nine victories, the 2018 Wolfpack was one of just six teams in the 126-year history of NC State football to post nine or more regular season wins. It marked the first time since 1991-92 that NC State had posted back-to-back nine-win seasons and was only the third time in school history that had been accomplished.

Doeren's teams qualified for five consecutive bowl games (2014-18) - the second-longest bowl streak in school history - and he is only the second coach in school history to take teams to five straight postseason bowls. Doeren, a candidate for several coach of the year honors in 2017, has coached bowl eligible teams in 13 of his 17 years in Division 1.

One of his players won one of college football's national awards in back to back seasons. In 2017, defensive end Bradley Chubb won the Bronko Nagurski Trophy, which honors the top defender in college football, as well as the Ted Hendricks Award for the top DE. In 2018, Garrett Bradbury was the recipient of the Dave Rimington Trophy - given to nation's top center. Both went on to become First Round NFL Draft picks.

The Wolfpack boasted an ACC-best six first-team all-conference performers in 2018 and became the first team in school history to place two wide receivers on the first team.

His 2017 squad posted nine wins for the season, including a 6-2 mark in the ACC - the most in 23 years. The squad finished the year with a resounding win in the Hyundai Sun Bowl.

In 2016, while facing a daunting schedule, his squad won three of its last four games, including a win at rival UNC and an Independence Bowl victory over SEC opponent Vanderbilt. Four of the squad's losses in 2016, including two to ranked teams, were by seven points of less.

In 2015, Doeren took one of the nation's youngest teams and went to battle against three teams that ended the regular season ranked in the top 10. NC State won four road games in 2015, more than any Wolfpack squad since 2002. No other State team has turned in more road victories since 1957. The team posted numbers on offense and special teams that were among the top marks in school history.

In 2014, his second year as the head coach at NC State, his team was the second-most improved in the Power 5 conferences. The Wolfpack more than doubled its win total from the previous season, earned a bowl victory and posted its highest team GPA in program history.

The 2014 Wolfpack squad was only the second in school history to score 40 or more points in five regular season games and posted its best rushing average since 1992. Despite the tough league schedule in 2015, the team

Doeren has built a program at NC State that prides itself in giving back to the community. Members of his teams have turned in over 7,000 collective hours of community service since he took over as head coach. His team has won the NC State Athletics Community Service Award twice.

He puts his money and his time where his mouth is. Not only does he set a high standard for his team when it comes to community service, but he holds himself to that standard. He and his wife, Sara have raised money and brought awareness to special needs education in Wake County since coming to NC State and have been big supporters of 321 Coffee - a non-profit coffee shop that is staffed by individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities

Doeren has established a culture that develops the person by instituting "Real World Wednesdays." Every week from January until the season starts, a different speaker comes in to speak to the team about his or her experiences or to help teach real life lessons. Speakers have included former players from the NFL, the business world and other individuals who have shared their life experiences.

He believes that giving his athletes all the tools and knowledge they need to be great leaders is essential to their success, on and off the field. He knows that it takes strong leaders to develop strong leaders, so the training starts with himself and the coaching staff. He uses examples from other programs, university resources and outside speakers to help train his staff.

He came to NC State after leading the program at Northern Illinois to its most successful two years in program history. His first Husky squad won the school's first Mid-American Conference Championship since 1983 and tied the school record with 11 wins. His second version repeated as league champions and set a new school record by posting 12 victories for the season and earned a trip to the Orange Bowl - the first BCS berth ever for a MAC school. Doeren was a finalist for several national coach of the year awards following the 2012 campaign.

Under Doeren's leadership, NIU boasted the nation's longest conference winning streak with 17 straight wins versus MAC opponents. The Huskies never lost a home game during his tenure in DeKalb, winning a dozen home contests in his two seasons to extend the nation's longest home winning streak to 21 games.

Prior to his stint in DeKalb, Doeren spent five seasons in the Big Ten at Wisconsin, where he served as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. During Doeren's time in Madison, the Badgers posted a 49-15 overall mark and played in the Champs Sports Bowl twice, the Outback Bowl, the Capital One Bowl and the Rose Bowl.

For his first two seasons in Madison, he served as co-defensive coordinator/recruiting coordinator/linebackers coach and in 2008, was named the primary defensive coordinator.

* - Team competed in Orange Bowl after Doeren was named head coach at NC State

Doeren arrived at Wisconsin after four seasons (2002-05) at the University of Kansas, where he served as linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator for three seasons before being promoted to co-defensive coordinator under head coach Mark Mangino.

During Doeren's time at Kansas, the Jayhawks ended a seven-year bowl drought, earning bids to the 2003 Tangerine Bowl and the 2005 Ft. Worth Bowl. The opponent in that first bowl appearance was a Philip Rivers-led NC State team.

In 2000 and 2001, Doeren coached the secondary at NCAA Division I-AA (now Football Championship Subdivision) powerhouse Montana, also serving as the Grizzlies' recruiting coordinator for one year. Montana advanced to the I-AA national championship game in 2000, losing by two points, but returned to win the national title the following season. The Grizzlies posted a 28-3 record and won two Big Sky Conference championships in his two years with the program and he coached five All-Americans, four All-Big Sky performers and two league defensive MVPs.

Doeren grew up right outside of Kansas City, where he watched his grandfather, Thomas Glennon, coach high school basketball and track. He loved the respect his grandfather commanded from his players, even after he retired from coaching.

When he left for college at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, his goals were to play football, earn a pre-med degree, go to med school and become an orthopedic doctor. He accomplished the first two.

He lettered at tight end for the Bulldogs, catching 19 catches for 237 yards for his career. He majored in pre-medical biology, earning Academic All-America honors as a senior. He took the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT). His plans for the future changed, however, during the summer between his junior and senior years when his former coach at Bishop Miege High School asked him to lead seven-on-seven drills.

From that moment on, he decided he wanted to be a coach. He pursued that goal with a relentlessness that never wavered. Instead of heading to med school, he landed his first coaching job in 1994, right there in Kansas at Shawnee Mission Northwest High School. His collegiate coaching career began just a year later, when he was named an assistant coach at Drake, leading the linebackers from 1995-97 before adding defensive coordinator chores in 1997. He also earned his master's degree from Drake in educational leadership.

Doeren got his first taste of a bowl experience as a defensive graduate assistant at the University of Southern California. During his stint with the Trojans, he began work on his Ph.D.

Doeren met his wife Sara while he was coaching at Drake and she was a nursing student. The couple has three sons: Jacob (21), Luke (19) and Connor (15).

An academic All-American, Gabriel saw his jersey retired and presented to him by Governor Terry Sanford on Jan. 20, 1962 at halftime of an NC State-Maryland basketball game in Reynolds Coliseum. A first-round draft pick by the Los Angeles Rams, he went on to a distinguished professional career.
As a Professional: Gabriel played 15 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Los Angeles Rams (1962-72) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1973-77). He was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1969 and earned Pro Bowl spots in 1967, 1968, 1969 and 1970. He was the MVP of the 1970 Pro Bowl. He ranked as the Rams' all-time passing leader with 22,223 yards and 154 touchdowns (1,705 com./3,313 att.) and threw for 7,221 yards and 45 touchdowns (661 com./1,185 att.) with the Eagles. In 1973, he led the NFL with 3,219 yards and 23 touchdown passes. A two-time consensus All-American, Ritcher won the award as a Wolfpack senior in 1979, when he literally cleared the way for NC State to win the ACC Championship. Still an active member of the Wolfpack family, Ritcher, whose sons John and Harrison both played for NC State, thrived in the NFL for 16 years, playing in four Super Bowls with the Buffalo Bills. Ritcher's No. 51 was retired on Feb. 8, 1987. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1998.
As a Professional: A first-round draft choice in 1980, Ritcher went on to play 16 seasons in the NFL, splitting time with the Buffalo Bills (1980-93) and the Atlanta Falcons (1994-95). He was also the first three-time All-ACC player in league history, earning accolades all three years that he lettered. NATIONAL FOOTBALL FOUNDATION

NATIONAL SCHOLAR-ATHLETE TEAM/ WILLIAM CAMPBELL TROPHY FINALIST

In 2018, Ryan Finley became NC State's first player to be named to the prestigious National Football Foundation's National Scholar-Athlete Team. He was a finalist for the William V. Campbell Trophy®, which recognizes the country's top student-athlete based on academic success, football performance and exemplary community leadership.

As a finalist, Finley received an $18,000 postgraduate scholarship as a member of the class and was honored at the 61st NFF Annual Awards Dinner in New York City.

Finley was the only player in the FBS who had already earned a master's degree heading into the season and he had also earned a second postgraduate degree and was working towards a third. He was named to the Academic All-ACC team three times, was a two-time Academic All-District performer and was also named to the NFF's Hampshire Honor Society.

The team captain finished his career ranked second in school history and third in ACC history with 10,505 career passing yards and was a first-team All-ACC performer.

He was selected in the fourth round of the 2019 NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals.

CHANCELLOR RANDY WOODSON

Dr. Randy Woodson became North Carolina State University's 14th chancellor in April 2010. Woodson leads the largest university in North Carolina, with more than 34,000 students and a $1.5 billion budget. Under his leadership, the university created and implemented The Pathway to the Future strategic plan that has elevated NC State's recognition among the nation's top public research universities.

NC State has become a lead university for two NSF Engineering Research Centers, one Manufacturing USA institute and partner on six others, and expanded to more than 75 industry and government partnerships on its nationally recognized Centennial Campus. NC State has also garnered national and international recognition for its faculty and student scholarship.

NC State launched the Think and Do the Extraordinary Campaign to raise $1.6 billion for scholarships, research, programs and facilities, propelling the university to even greater heights.
Leading by example to tackle the world's grand challenges, Woodson also chairs the APLU Commission of Global Food Security and serves on the US Council of Competitiveness Executive Committee.

A nationally recognized scholar and academic leader, Chancellor Woodson came to NC State having most recently served as provost and executive vice chancellor for academic affairs at Purdue University. An internationally-renowned plant molecular biologist specializing in reproductive processes in agricultural crops, he earned his undergraduate degree in horticulture from the University of Arkansas and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in plant physiology from Cornell University.

Under his leadership, NC State has become a pre-eminent research enterprise known for solving real-world challenges – a true Think and Do university. Woodson's strategic vision has enabled the university to advance in areas of student success, innovative research, and collaborative partnerships. This has resulted in students ready to solve real-world challenges, public-private partnerships that transform ideas into solutions, and a creative, engaging center of learning and exploration for all.

True to its land-grant heritage, NC State creates economic, societal and intellectual prosperity for the people of North Carolina and the country — with increasing momentum under Woodson's direction.

AD BOO CORRIGAN

Boo Corrigan was selected by Chancellor Randy Woodson as NC State Director of Athletics on January 29, 2019 and began his tenure in Raleigh on April 30, 2019.
Corrigan arrived at NC State after eight years as director of athletics at West Point, where he was named a 2017 Athletic Director of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

At NC State, Corrigan leads a program that includes 23 teams and more than 200 full-time employees.

NC State is coming off an enormously successful 2020-21 campaign in which five programs finished in the Top 4 in the nation in their respective polls, helping the Wolfpack to a No. 23 finish in the Learfield Directors' Cup, the second highest finish in school history.

A total of 48 student-athletes earned All-American honors, while 93 earned Academic All-ACC honors. NC State student-athletes recorded the two highest term GPAs in school history over the Fall and Spring semesters of the 2020-21 academic year.

Corrigan helped NC State navigate the financial challenges of COVID-19 during the 2020-21 campaign. In a year in which NC State entered the year with the potential for a $22.8 million gap, Corrigan helped bring Athletics to a balanced budget and without the elimination of any positions.

Corrigan's first two years in Raleigh have been marked by action and advancing NC State Athletics. He spearheaded the development of NC State's Strategic Plan, Strengthening the Pack, the road map that will guide the Wolfpack from 2021-26. Over his first two years at the helm, NC State programs have won seven ACC titles.

In January of 2021, Corrigan was selected as a member of the College Football Playoff Selection Committee, beginning a three-year term.

In his first full year with the Pack, NC State won a league-high four ACC Championships and had a program-best 332 Academic All-ACC selections. His first-year was marked by progress in establishing the NC State Athletics Development Plan to address the future of athletics facilities, while also establishing notable partnerships, such as SAS analytics and TeamWorks.

Corrigan presided over one of the most successful eras in Army's history, setting milestones and records in competition and in the classroom. He oversaw a program that claimed 20 Patriot League regular season or tournament championships and that sent 14 teams to the NCAA postseason. A total of 80 cadets earned a major award from their conference during his tenure.
Corrigan oversaw an unprecedented increase in athletic fundraising during his time at West Point. Through his guidance the Army A Club experienced a 30 percent increase in membership while increasing the total money raised annually by 200 percent from $2.5 million to approximately $7.5 million. Corrigan also led significant growth of the Athletic Department's endowments establishing 16 new funds, more than doubling the number of endowments, and growing the department's total endowment funds by more than $18 million in his tenure. In addition, Corrigan raised more than $35 million in support of new and renovated facilities.

Throughout his career, Corrigan has placed a consistent emphasis on student-athlete wellness, prioritizing mental health and social-media training.

Corrigan is no stranger to the Atlantic Coast Conference. Before joining Army, Corrigan worked for three years in the athletic department at Duke, serving as senior associate athletic director for external affairs. He also served as assistant director of marketing at Florida State University from 1992 to 1996.

Corrigan also served five years as associate athletic director for marketing at the University of Notre Dame and three years as associate athletic director for marketing at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Corrigan spent much of his youth in Charlottesville while his father, the late Gene Corrigan, served as Virginia's athletic director from 1971-81. Gene Corrigan was later athletics director at Notre Dame and commissioner of the ACC.

Corrigan is married to the former Kristen Aceto, a field hockey and lacrosse player at the University of Virginia, who also earned a master's degree from the school. The couple have three children, Finley (20), Tre (18) and Brian (17).
Corrigan received his bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Notre Dame in 1990 and earned a master's degree in education from Virginia Commonwealth University in 2013.

CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM

One of the landmarks of North Carolina's capital city, Carter-Finley Stadium has gained a national reputation as being one of the toughest places to play. The home of the Wolfpack, which celebrated its 50th birthday in 2016, boasts 57,600 permanent seats and is surrounded by acres of convenient parking.

The playing surface at Carter-Finley Stadium was reconstructed in 2009. Named for Wolfpack alumnus Wayne T. Day in 2002, it is built to USGA specifications for a golf green.

The south end zone is the home of the 103,254 square-foot Murphy Center, which is the football team's home for training and preparation.

NC State practices just a stone's throw away at the Wolfpack Practice Complex and the mammoth Close-King Indoor Practice Facility. The outdoor complex covers seven acres and boasts three full fields, a training room, restrooms and a video/coaching tower. The indoor facility boasts a full, 120-yard football field and roof height sufficient for kicking game, with suspended goal posts, additional training and conditioning space beyond both end zones

The A.E. Finley Fieldhouse in the north end zone houses two spacious, state-of-the-art locker rooms that can be divided into smaller locker rooms when NC State plays host to high school championship games. There are also halftime locker room areas for the cheerleaders, the dance team, game referees and coaches.

CARTER-FINLEY STADIUM

The stadium honors Wilbert James (Nick) Carter (1902-1972), Harry Clifton Carter (1908-1990), and Albert Earle Finley (1895-1985). The two Carter brothers graduated from NC State from the school of Textiles and became top executives in the J. P. Stevens Company. They contributed several hundred thousand dollars to fundraising for completion of the stadium.

Finley was also a strong supporter of the athletics program at NC State. He kept an active interest in supporting the college, and even donated a motel on Western Boulevard to the Wolfpack Club as an athletics dormitory.

C. RICHARD VAUGHN TOWERS

Vaughn Towers dominates the skyline around Carter-Finley Stadium as it rises above the west stands. The 117,000 square-foot structure, which stretches from endzone to endzone, includes four levels, 51 private luxury suites and 1,000 club seats, as well as a University Suite for the Chancellor. The state-of-the-art facility also includes accomodations for the media, with 112 press seats.

The facility is named for C. Richard Vaughn, a resident of Mount Airy, who graduated from NC State with a degree in nuclear engineering.

WAYNE T. DAY FAMILY FIELD

The playing surface at Wayne T. Day Family Field is built to USGA specifications for a golf green. The USGA specification has an elaborate drainage system and a 10" rootzone mix that is 90% sand and 10% peat. The field has Tiftway 419 hybrid bermudagrass from Sandhills turf farm in North Carolina. The irrigation system consists of 6 "big gun" sprinklers that spray over 200 gallons per minute. The water source is well water that is contained in tanks.

WENDELL H. MURPHY CENTER

The 103,254-square-foot Wendell H. Murphy Center houses every aspect of Wolfpack football, from sports medicine, to equipment, to strength training, to academics. As functional as it is beautiful, the Murphy Center is definitely the Wolfpack's den.

Known as "The Murph" to the Wolfpack players, the Murphy Center is among the largest operations facilities in the country devoted solely to football. Visitors enter the building through Gant Plaza, where the 28' "Wolfpack Turf" statue and fountain stand proudly.

Visitors to the Murphy Center can experience the rich heritage of Wolfpack Football in the Finley Hall of Champions. This multimedia complex highlights NC State's football tradition and its partnership with Adidas - showcasing uniform options and gear.

From the lobby, double doors open into the massive Gunter Family strength training facility, which runs the entire length of the building and covers 15,000 square-feet. The facility houses huge area for stretching, a track, a juice bar and over 15 tons of weights.

The third floor of the Murphy Center houses a large dining room and a players' lounge that overlooks Wayne Day Family Field. The lounge contains couches, pool tables, ping-pong tables, wide-screen TVs and video games for the Wolfpack players to enjoy during breaks.

A large team meeting room and meeting rooms for each position are also on the third floor. Each room is equipped with the latest video playback equipment for reviewing film and breaking down an athlete's performance. That level also houses offices for the Wolfpack's academic advisors, as well as a large study room with computers in the Kirkland Academic Suite.

On the fourth floor, the coaches' offices, a large staff conference room, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, a television studio and the video production offices can be found.
The heartbeat of the Murphy Center is on the bottom floor. The locker room, which stretches the length of the building on one side of the hall, was renovated in the summer of 2016. It boasts 121 custom wood lockers, bathrooms, showers, a Sonos stereo system and two large screen Smart TVs with eight additional monitors. TThe other side of the hall is home to the equipment room and the state-of-the-art Albright Sports Medicine Unit.

The building is named for Wendell H. Murphy, a lifelong supporter of both athletic and academic initiatives at NC State and a member of the NC State Athletics Hall of Fame. A member of the NC State Board of Trustees, Murphy was awarded the prestigious Watauga Medal in 1999, the school's highest award given for outstanding and distinguished service.

FACILITIES

CLOSE-KING INDOOR PRACTICE FACILITY

When it opened in the summer of 2015, the Close-King Indoor Practice Facility added the finishing touch to NC State's impressive array of football facilities. Now a year-round hub for practice and training, the Close-King ensures that at any time of the day or night and in any weather, the Wolfpack can keep grinding.

The state-of-the-art facility boasts a full, 120-yard football field with a 65' roof height sufficient for punts and suspended goalposts. It also contains additional training and conditioning space beyond both end zones and four spring lanes down the full length of the field.

Other features include in-ground and above-ground pads for long jump, triple jump, high jump and other track events, end zone and 50-yardline viewing platforms, clerestory windows and glass roll-up doors to allow natural light and cool breezes. A sound system that can be heard from blocks away and support areas for equipment, strength and conditioning and sports medicine are also amenities that the building offers.

The privately-funded $14 million building is named in honor of NC State alums Derick S. Close ('82) and James S. King ('62), who donated the lead gifts for the project. Close and King serve on the Wolfpack Club Board of Directors, while King is a past president of that board. Close previously served as the chairman of the Goalline Drive Campaign that raised funds for the Murphy Center and the South End Zone project. King served on the Construction Oversight Committee that helped facilitate the construction of the Murphy Center, Vaughn Towers and the North End Zone addition.

WOLFPACK FOOTBALL PRACTICE COMPLEX

The Wolfpack Football Practice Complex covers seven acres and boasts three full fields, a training room, restrooms and a video/coaching tower.

The two 400 x400 419 Bermuda grass fields alternate directions to ensure that practice is always held on new grass. The third Fieldturf field is used for practicing on synthetic turf for game prep or for bad weather days. All practice and drills areas are lighted by 75 ft candles, while the facility also contains a state-of-the-art sound system and 22 camera locations for coaches video.

ALBRIGHT SPORTS MEDICINE UNIT

In July, the Wolfpack's totally redesigned sports medicine facility - the Albright Sports Medicine Center - opened for use by the Pack. The 6,000 square-foot area, located across from the locker room on the first floor of the Murphy Center, features state-of-the-art features and equipment to ensure the health, safety and well being of the football team.

Among the new equipment in the facility is an anti-gravity treadmill, which allows for longer, safer and more sustained body movement.

Another addition is a Vision Therapy area, which helps with visual clarity, depth perception, eye-body coordination, hand-eye coordination, ocular motility (eye tracking), peripheral vision (side vision), visual reaction time and visual concentration.

In addition to all new equipment throughout the facility, The hydrotherapy area has been completely renovated, exam rooms have been updated and expanded and a steam room has been added.

The facility is named in honor of Andy and Jane Albright, proud supporters of both athletic and academic initiatives at NC State. Andy, a 1986 graduate, is a member of the NC State Entrepreneurship Initiative's advisory board and is the co-founder, president and CEO of National Agents Alliance (aka The Alliance). The Albrights are also the namesake of the Albright Entrepreneurs Village, the first named living and learning village at the university. Andy was named the Man of the Year by the Old North State Council of Boy Scouts of America in 2018.

NC STATE ATHLETICS BROADCAST CENTER

Located at the main entrance of the Wendell H. Murphy Football Center at Carter-Finley Stadium, the new NC State Athletics Broadcast and Production Center is a a state-of-the-art facility where the NC State Athletics Broadcast and Video staff tells the stories, promote the brand and create the narrative of NC State Athletics. The facility features working broadcast studio space, multiple modern production control rooms, a green screen studio and editing / production suites

The facility contains a main studio and control rooms for the production of game day video and year-round programming that meet the content creation and live game production requirements of the ACC Network. Live broadcast operations will be observable by students, faculty, staff and fans, creating a hub of activity at the studio year-round, as NC State's 23 varsity teams are featured on programming that will be seen digitally and via the ACC Network.

It serves as the home for production and on-set filming of NC State Athletics television and internet broadcasts and programming, as well as the game day operations center for in-venue display board productions for all NC State Athletics venues. The control room is the hub for NC State athletics over the airwaves, with fiber optic connections coming in from every arena and stadium on campus.
