

A NEW ERA

A new era of Purple Aces men's basketball is set to begin when our new head coach David Ragland and his team take to the floor this fall. In just a short time, Coach Ragland and his staff have generated a high level of excitement that will help our program take the next step in returning to greatness.

Growing up in the City of Evansville, Coach Ragland has seen firsthand how the success of the University of Evansville men's basketball team can lift the entire city to new heights. His appreciation for the tradition of our program was obvious from the start with former UE greats Craig Snow and Marcus Wilson being the first additions to his staff.

Each day, the foundation for success is being set by Coach Ragland, his staff, and our student-athletes. Every time I walk into our practice facility, you can feel the excitement as well as the family atmosphere that is so important. On the floor, our team is already hard at work to prepare for the season with our coaches implementing their system and philosophies.

One of the most important parts of building the championship program that we all envision is the Aces Assist Club. The generosity and backing from our most loyal supporters, fans and alumni gives our program the resources to compete at the highest level. Your support is even more pivotal at this time as the Missouri Valley Conference expands to 12 teams. With the additions of Belmont, Murray State and UIC, our league will be more competitive than ever before.

With this increased challenge, there is an increased opportunity. Every year, the champion of the MVC will truly be one of the best Mid-Major teams in the country. There is no doubt that we can work together to create that level of success. Thank you for your support.
