Brad Teague is in his third year as the head of the Delta State University Department of Athletics. Teague hit the ground running in his first year as the director of athletics at DSU, spearheading several fundraising projects that have led to the construction of the new Billy Dorgan, Jr. Student Performance Center and the J.A. "Bud" Thigpen, Jr. Baseball Annex.

DSU's baseball program posted a banner year in Teague's first year as athletic director, winning its first-ever NCAA National Championship. Additionally, the women's basketball team, men's and women's tennis teams, golf team, and men's and women's swimming and diving teams all qualified for NCAA post-season competition. A total of nine of DSU's thirteen sports competed in NCAA Championships during the 2003-04 seasons.

No stranger to Delta State athletics, Teague has been associated with the Statesmen athletic program since his days as an All-American pitcher for coach Bill Marchant from 1988-92. He currently ranks third on the DSU all-time career victories list with 29, and second in career appearances with 63. His 13 wins in 1991 rank fifth all-time in the DSU single season record book. In 1991, Teague was named to the All-GSC First Team, ABCA All-South Region Squad, and ABCA First-Team All-American. Teague repeated the All-GSC feat following his 1992 campaign, and claimed the coveted Gulf South Conference Commissioner's Trophy.

Teague began his professional career as the Assistant Director of the DSU Alumni Foundation in August of 1992, a post he would hold for four years. In June 1996, Teague moved to the University of Mississippi, assuming the post of Assistant to the Athletic Director. In July of 1998, he became the Associate Director of the Ole Miss Loyalty Foundation.

A native of Jackson, Teague is married to the former Gina Beach of Tunica. They have two sons, Parker (6) and Cooper (1), and one daughter, Berris (4).

Since taking over the program in 1997, Kinnison has compiled an amazing career overall record of 422-106 (.799) and a Gulf

South Conference mark of 153-29 (.841). His winning percentage has topped all coaches regardless of division over the past two seasons, and his career (.799) winning percentage ranks as the best of all-time.

The Statesmen placed three players on the ABCA All-America Team, led by First Team catcher Craig Newton. Right fielder Brett Donahoo and pitcher Brad Lightsey garnered Second Team honors.

Kinnison has had the pleasure of coaching two Rawlings/American Baseball Coaches Association National Players of the Year. Dee Haynes claimed the award in 2000 and Jud Thigpen walked away with the honor in 2004.

In 2004, the American Baseball Coaches Association named Mike Kinnison its "National Coach of the Year" and the Gulf South Conference name Kinnison the "GSC Coach of the Year" for a second-straight year.

In January, Kinnison was presented with the ABCA South Central Region Coach of the Year Award at the American Baseball Coaches Association National Convention. It was the fourth such award for Kinnison.

Prior to succeeding Bill Marchant, Kinnison served as an assistant coach for three seasons. He played a key role in guiding the Statesmen to World Series berths and Gulf South Conference Championships in 1994 and 1996. In his three years as an assistant the Statesmen compiled an impressive 138-36 (.793) record.

The Benton native was a standout shortstop for Coach Dave "Boo" Ferriss from 1977-1978. Kinnison garnered ABCA Second Team All-American honors during the 1978 season. In 1978 he batted .343 with 25 doubles and 56 RBI in leading the Statesmen to a second place finish at the NCAA College World Series. Kinnison currently holds the single season record for doubles (25-tied) and previously held the record for most games played (62) in a season.

Before returning to his alma mater, Kinnison was an accomplished high school coach in Mississippi. Kinnison coached in the high school ranks at Lee Academy (1979-81), Jackson Prep (1982-92), and Madison Central (1993). He claimed three Mississippi Private School Association State Championships at Jackson Prep in 1982, 1990 and 1991. During his prep head coaching career, Kinnison compiled a career record of 292-83 (.779).

Kinnison earned his Bachelor's degree in Mathematics Education in 1977 from Delta State University. He later earned a Master's degree in Mathematics Education from DSU in 1978. The accomplished mathematician serves as an instructor at DSU as well as coaching baseball.

Kinnison is married to the former Cindy Colbert of Grenada. The couple are the proud parents of Mary Claire and Kate. Mary Claire (sophomore) and Kate (freshman) are both students at Delta State University.

II • Rodney Batts
 Assistant Coach • Fifth Season
 Delta State University (1996)

Rodney Batts is in his fifth season as an assistant coach after serving the 1999 & 2000 seasons as a graduate assistant.

Batts responsibilities include hitting instruction, coaching the infield and recruiting. The primary architect of Delta State's highly-rated recruiting classes over the last few seasons, Batts is known as one of the top recruiters in collegiate baseball.

"We are extremely blessed to have someone with Rodney's knowledge and ability working with our players," said DSU head coach Mike Kinnison. "He is an asset to this program."

The former Delta State second baseman returned to his alma mater in 1998 after spending two seasons in the Philadelphia Phillies minor league system.

Batts hit .334 with 24 doubles, eight triples, 10 home runs, 86 RBI and 39 stolen bases during his DSU career from 1995-96. He was a two-time All-Gulf South Conference selection under Bill Marchant and was named to the 1996 All-South Central Regional Team. Batts etched his name in DSU baseball history when he hit one of the most dramatic walk-off home runs in DSU and Gulf South Conference history. With two-outs in the 9th inning, Batts slammed a three-run home run over the left field fence at Ferriss Field to give the Statesmen a win over Alabama-Huntsville and the 1996 GSC Championship.

The Statesmen went on to win the NCAA South Central Regional and finish fourth at the NCAA Division II College World Series in Montgomery, Ala.

The New Hope native graduated from Delta State with a Bachelor's degree in Health, Physical Education, and Recreation in 1998 and received his Master's in HPER from DSU in 2000.

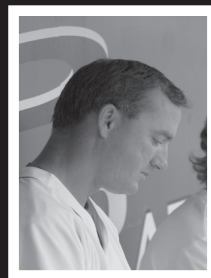

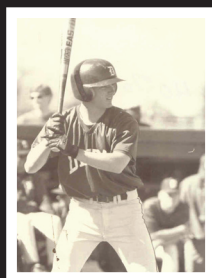

Batts married the former Scottie Moore of Senatobia in the summer of 2003. She is the Assistant Women's Basketball Coach for Coach Sandra Rushing and the Lady Statesmen. The couple has one son, Austin.

Same Song, Different Verse: Ten Years under Kinnison

One Team...One Dream...Montgomery!

Hi, my name is...
An Introduction to the 2006 Statesmen Squad
By Rori E. Herbison

At any level. In any sport. Nineteen new faces can be, to say the least, challenging and the plain reality of it – nineteen new faces take time to become a part of the team, a part of the program.

For the 2006 edition of the Delta State University baseball team, that is the reality, as the Statesmen welcomed 19 fresh additions to the program this fall.

And that reality and the challenges attached to that intimidating reality are something veteran head Statesmen Mike Kinnison is staunchly aware of, levying, “Realistically, we don’t have the guys coming back. We don’t have as much depth on the mound. Realistically, we are rebuilding the bullpen. We are inexperienced in a lot of areas, so realistically, I’m not looking for us to go out there and win the first 15 ball games, start the season 15-0 at the end of February. Realistically, I don’t think it’s fair to expect this team to have the win-loss record teams in recent years have had.

“But I also don’t think the realities of this program have changed. The end result and end objective have not changed. The goals and the where we want to end up are still the same. That will never change,” the always fiery, always competitive Kinnison continued.

The road in 2006 to that “end result, end objective” will be much different than the road Delta State journeyed two seasons ago to claim its first-ever national championship, as the 10th year headman acknowledges, “We are definitely a different type of ball club. There will not be an abundance of names that our fans will recognize. We are replacing so many guys that have been the core of our team the last several years.”

To be exact, the Statesmen are replacing 18 players from a season ago and that turnover is historic, as in his years associated with Delta State baseball, Kinnison can not remember such high numbers. “No, never. I can’t recall a time with such turnover, with this many new faces,” he acknowledged. “But that is another trademark of Division II baseball – being able to adjust to your changes, your talent and that’s what we are doing. We’re learning what we are capable of and this team must answer some questions throughout the year.”

2006 Kinnison<sup>10</sup> the power of success

Question No. 1: How will the Statesmen score runs in 2006? "Like I said, we are definitely a different type of ball club, and that means offensively too," Kinnison maintained. "We are not nearly as big and physical as in years past. We don't have the Craig Newton, Jud Thigpen, Bert Pickard or Brett Donahoo – those guys that are capable of hitting one out of the park at any time. We're not that type of offense. We're smaller, more contact-orientated.

"It's not exactly the way I would want to draw it up," he deadpanned. "We are quicker, though, and that will allow us to create situations a little more, move more on the bases. We know we're going to have to play for a run. We can't sit back and wait for the three-run homerun."

What little hold over Delta State does have comes in the form of proven senior leaders, Bryan Williamson (OF/P 5-9 170 L/L Sr.-1L Fulton / Itawamba CC); Gary Scott Gabbert (3B/2B 5-8 185 R/R Sr.-1L Southaven / Northwest Miss. CC) and Tucker Bullard (OF 6-1 200 R/R Sr.-1L Carrollton / Mississippi Delta CC).

Bryan Williamson • P/OF

"There's no question. Our offense will be built around those three guys. All three are good athletes with good tools," Kinnison offered. "As for Tucker, his instincts are as good as any guy out there. There are times he tries to do too much and gets himself out. But, this season we know to be successful, he needs to be on the bases. He does things you just can't coach on the bases."

In 2005, Bullard finished the campaign atop the Statesmen's offensive ledger with a team-leading .406 batting average. In 170 at bats and 46 games played, he cracked six homeruns, two triples and eight doubles with 41 RBI, while also nabbing 12 stolen bases on 15 attempts. The always steady defenseman will once again patrol the center field grass in 2006.

As he did in 2005, Williamson will again carry dual responsibilities on the mound and in the field. "Bryan was a bright spot for us last year on the mound. He'll work late out of the bullpen and will carry more of the offensive load this year. Bryan plays a real important role for us."

At the plate, the sturdy southpaw fell just four points shy of hitting .300 last season, having played in all 62 contests for the Statesmen. He collected 72 hits in 2005 behind 13 doubles, four triples and eight homeruns. In his seven appearances on the mound, Williamson was credited with 13 strikeouts.

Tucker Bullard • OF

Despite battling through reconstructive Tommy John surgery in the fall, Gabbert appears poised to have an impact in the New Year. A fixture at the hot corner, he will be joined by an entirely new cast of characters in the infield this season.

Hunter Johnson (1B 6-3 225 R/R Sr.-1L Montgomery, Ala. / NW Shoals CC) is slated to anchor the right side of the infield for the Statesmen. "We feel like he's the guy for us at first base," Kinnison confirmed. "We expect a big year from Hunter. He's a solid hitter and can provide some good leadership."

The middle infield remains a question mark for Delta State, with several players battling for the starting job. "Unquestionably, the shortstop position is a big question for us. When you lose an Eric Patten, one of the best to ever play the position, you're going to have a tough time filling those shoes," Kinnison noted.

Clay Sartain (IF/C 5-8 180 R/R Fr.-RS Horn Lake / Horn Lake HS) and Wes Burleson (SS/2B 5-11 170 R/R Jr.-TR Raymond / Hinds CC) are competing at second base, with Patrick Williams (SS/3B 5-11 185 R/R Jr.-TR Crystal Springs / Copiah-Lincoln CC) and Chris Weast (SS/P 6-2 185 R/R Jr.-RS Star City, Ark. / Uni. of Arkansas) vying for shortstop duties. Weast is also projected to platoon at third base, while Matt Teale (SS/2B 6-0 175 R/R Jr.-TR Hot Springs, Ark. / UA-Fort Smith) remains in the hunt for time at either middle infield position.

"All the guys are competing and they're all going to have something to say about it," Kinnison smiled. "It's been a strong battle, fun to watch."

Exiting the fall, Hunter Jobes (OF 5-10 170 L/R So.-Sq. Southaven / Southaven HS) carries the edge to become the starting right fielder in 2006. Showing determination and discipline, Jobes has "filled out and beefed up," according to Kinnison. "He has come on so well and has really caught our eye. He's shown us he can play it defensively."

Returners Williamson and Bullard complete the outfield trio in left field and center field, respectively, with Matthew Meeks (INF/OF 5-11 175 R/R Jr.-TR Lexington / UA-Monticello), Nathan Sanders (OF 5-10 185 R/R Sr.-TR Terry / Uni. of Southern Mississippi) and Clay Dozier (OF 5-9 185 L/L Jr.-TR Fulton / Itawamba CC) to serve as back-ups.

Rounding out the defensive scheme remains the hotly-contested battle for starting catching duties. An again realistic baseball veteran, Kinnison hedges, "I don't have an answer as to how you replace a Craig Newton. I don't think there is an answer. I think it will bear out as the season progresses, the so many things we will miss about him - his durability, his offense, his defense and his love of the game. How much we will miss him is the question."

A strong crop of contenders are currently competing at the backstop position, including the versatile Sartain, Derek Norris (C 5-11 190 R/R Fr.-RS Seminary / Seminary HS), Brett Boykin (C 5-10 175 R/R So.-Sq Hollandale / Deer Creek Academy), and Eli Dew (C 5-11 185 L/R So.-RS Kosciusko / Mississippi State).

"It's been a strong battle with no clear-cut favorite," Kinnison reported. "We're going to have some growing pains and that's expected."

The Statesmen coaching staff will return to calling pitches from the dugout, adding a dynamic to 2006 that hasn't been there the three previous years. "No question, it's a dynamic we're going to have battle. Craig was responsible and more than capable of calling pitches when he was here. He's not here and it puts a bigger burden back on Coach (Rick) McCarty. He's going to have try and mold these players we've got competing for the spot into pitch callers. Right now, though, the focus is doing their jobs, to perform. We don't want to weigh them down," the Statesmen boss continued.

Rusty Rayborn • RHP

Also committed to a mantra of "just performing" remains the final piece to the 2006 Statesmen – the pitchers. Rusty Rayborn (RHP 6-2 175 R/R Jr.-1L Tylertown / Parklane Academy) and Justin Smith (RHP 6-4 185 R/R So.-1L Ridgeland / Ridgeland HS) will captain the pitching duties, as both return with over 15 appearances to their credit. Rayborn tallied a team-leading 1.19 ERA behind an unblemished 11-0 record, while Smith finished the 2005 campaign with a 1.94 ERA and a 10-5 mark.

"They are the bright spots," Kinnison smiled. "Rusty can just pitch and Justin is going to be challenged, but he will be a solid second starter. The question is rounding out the starting rotation."

Justin Smith • RHP

Drew Nanney (P 5-11 155 L/L Sr.-1L New Albany / Northeast Miss. CC) and Tyler Brewer (LHP 6-2 175 L/L Jr.-2L Batesville / South Panola HS), both returning letter winners, will be given looks in the starting rotation with Robert Tucker (RHP 6-1 165 R/R Jr.-TR Columbus / East Mississippi CC) also receiving consideration. Cody Savell (RHP 6-3 215 R/R Jr.-TR Lawrence / East Central CC), Kyle Bridges (RHP 6-1 165 R/R Jr.-TR Jackson / Hinds CC), Kyle Ozbun (LHP 5-8 160 L/L Jr.-TR Webb City, Mo. / Crowder CC) and Williamson will all look to secure their roles in the pitching rotation, as well.

And while many of the names have changed, the Statesmen's aged philosophy, "To be the best, you must play the best," remains soundly in tact. Delta State will open the year with an eight-game home stand.

"I can't remember when that's happened, but hopefully it will give the guys an opportunity to find themselves at home," Kinnison offers. "We know what level we've got to play once the Gulf South Conference schedule opens and we also know anybody can beat anybody at any time."

Delta State finished the 2005 campaign 52-10 overall, 19-4 in league play.

A look back at the 2004 NCAA Championship and Delta State's trips to glory

Third time proves to be the charm for Kinnison and the Statesmen

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS!

By David Johnson

At 9:41 p.m., Saturday, May 29, 2004, in Montgomery, Alabama, the national championship trophy for college baseball finally found its way to a place that had been eagerly awaiting its arrival for the better part of 40 years. It carried with it the perspiration, aspirations, dreams and desires of two generations of players and fans who knew deep in their hearts that someday - one day - it would be theirs.

A minute earlier junior righthander Scott Ellison took a deep breath, squinted and looked squarely in at catcher Craig Newton. Fate had placed the young pitcher from Houston, Mississippi, at center circle of perhaps the biggest moment in his school's rich and storied athletic history. And then it happened.

Ellison unleashed the 3-2 pitch to Grand Valley State designated hitter Matt Wright. Wright saw it coming right down the pipe. He clutched his bat and let loose a mighty swing. For a nanosecond, it was as if the air was sucked out of Paterson Field as nearly 2,500 people simultaneously held their collective breath. For just a hiccup the moment lay frozen, as Father Time, too, seemed to stop in recognition of the high tide of this carnival of dreams.

Whiff. Thud. "Strike Three." Final score: Delta State 12, Grand Valley State 8. Cheers swelled and tears welled as the Statesmen rushed the field.

The customary celebration in the middle of the infield began with Newton, grinning ear-to-ear, taking Ellison down like a middle linebacker. Soon followed first baseman Bert Pickard, second baseman Clay Smith, shortstop Eric Patten, third baseman Mark Broome, center fielder Jud Thigpen, left fielder Will Waldkirch, right fielder Brett Donahoo and the rest of the Statesmen that with one swing of a bat had their names etched into eternity at their beloved university.

Then Mike Kinnison took us all by surprise. In a move that could rival the classiest moments ever in any sport, there was hardly a dry eye remaining when it became apparent what the destination of Kinnison's sudden and purposeful jolt from the throng of celebrating players toward the dugout was. In a swift motion, trophy in hand, Kinnison leaped atop the first base dugout and climbed over the railing separating the playing field and seats at Paterson Field. Twenty rows up sat the patriarch of the family that Delta State baseball is - Dave "Boo" Ferriss. "Anybody that knows our program knows that Coach Ferriss is the guy who laid the foundation for this program and is responsible for the success that we've had," the humble Kinnison would later say at the post-game press conference. But he didn't need to say anything to anyone pulling for the Green and White. This beautiful moment was fully understood.

Kinnison made his way through the plethora of applauding Delta State fans to where his mentor of many years waited. Together holding the national championship trophy, the two embraced as tears streamed down each of their cheeks. It was as perfect of a moment to be found in the annals of Delta State history.

The celebration continued at Paterson Field as the vocals of country music singer Alan Jackson rang out with the familiar lyrics of the hauntingly appropriate "Midnight in Montgomery" over the stadium's public address system. Only now, the hands of Father Time stood frozen at 9:41 p.m., and finally, after eight previous trips to the ball of baseball, midnight would not come for the Statesmen. The team that had always been the champions of our hearts, was finally the nation's champion.
