DR. JOHN HILPERT

DELTA STATE UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Dr. John Hilpert's seven year tenure as president has resulted in significant growth and progress for Delta State University.

A strong proponent of year-long themes, Dr. Hilpert's presidency has been marked by three clearly-defined, straight-forward initiatives – "The Best Regional University in America," "The Year of Cleveland," and "The Year of Health and Wellness in the Delta."

"Results come by way of concerted efforts and focused attentions, and I believe these year-long themes force us to magnify those specific areas," Hilpert explained. "I believe we can make lasting impacts this way."

His tenure would confirm that, as during "The Year of Cleveland," Delta State celebrated its 80th academic year recognizing the rich relationship it has had with its host community, Cleveland. The community rallied together in time of need, as after Hurricanes Katrina and Rita devastated the Gulf Coast regions, community and campus citizens acted quickly to offer food, clothing, shelter, and financial help.

His most recent program, "Health and Wellness in the Delta" has allowed thousands access to free educational programs and testing, in the form of Delta Health and Wellness Day, a breast cancer awareness forum and Dr. Hilpert's own leadership of the Delta Health Alliance (DHA), a collaborative partnership comprised of Delta State, Mississippi State University, University of Mississippi Medical Center, Mississippi Valley State University and Delta Council, aimed at promoting programs of health education, health research and increasing the availability and ease of access to health care in the Delta region. He will serve as president of the DHA through June 2008.

Under Dr. Hilpert's leadership, Delta State has also experienced expansive development, most notably in the area of student enrollment, with the fall 2006 enrollment figures marking the largest in school history. Additionally, Delta State boasts a ten percent increase over a five-year enrollment period.

Other credits during his tenure include: Delta State's accreditation was reaffirmed by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools in December 2005; the University announced the conclusion of its highly-successful, five-year "Wings & Roots: Let our Legacy Soar" fundraising campaign, with the final tally capping at $37,025,042, an amount that tripled the campaign's initial goal and stands as the largest collection of private support in the history of the university.

As shown in the Education Trust and the American Association of State Colleges and Universities' recent research Delta State stands atop its peer group of institutions for the percentage of entering students who graduate within six years of first enrollment. The number of doctoral degrees conferred in 2004 doubled, while the number of undergraduate degrees conferred ranked tops among any other Carnegie master's institution in the state.

Further evidence in the University's commitment to becoming "the best regional university in America," is the advent of five additional academic majors to Delta State's already diverse curriculum, including athletic training and gaming management. Dr. Hilpert's leadership has also seen heavy emphasis put toward the incorporation of classroom technology – a consistent theme on his presidential resume.

As president of Northern State University in Aberdeen, South Dakota, from 1997 until he assumed the presidency of Delta State, integrating technology into the university's academic programs was a major goal. Northern received legislative designation as the Center for Statewide E-learning in 2001, and today Northern offers daily classes to more than one-third of South Dakota's school districts from ten studios on the campus.

For seven years prior to his arrival at Northern, Dr. Hilpert served the University of South Dakota as Vice President for University Relations, and for an interim term as Acting President. He has also held senior administrative posts at Thiel College in Pennsylvania and at Finlandia University (formerly Suomi College) in Michigan, during the 28 years of his career in higher education.

Dr. Hilpert earned his doctorate – a Ph.D. in Higher Education Administration – from the Center for the Study of Higher Education at the University of Michigan. During his doctoral studies, he was honored with the prestigious Brubacher Award for scholarship by the faculty of the University of Michigan. He earned both a Master of Divinity degree from Concordia Seminary in St. Louis and a Bachelor of Arts degree from Concordia Senior College in Fort Wayne, Indiana. He also holds a two-year diploma from St. Paul's College in Missouri.

Throughout his career, Dr. Hilpert has served various organizations on boards, task forces, and committees. He was appointed in 2004 by Governor Haley Barbour to serve on Mississippi's Council for Education Technology.

Dr. Hilpert and his wife, Pat, have been married for 35 years. Both grew up in Missouri, he in Cape Girardeau and she in St. Louis. They have three adult sons, Joshua (daughter Julia), Zachary, and Adam (wife Megan). Pat spent 27 years as a Registered Nurse, serving in different settings as a nurse administrator and educator. She is also a published photographer who has exhibited her creative works in a variety of galleries and won several awards, including one co-sponsored by the Smithsonian Institution and the South Dakota Department of Tourism.

DELTA STATE UNIVERSITY DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

JEREMY McCLAIN

Jeremy McClain begins his third year as director of athletics at Delta State University after one of the most successful years in the program's history. In his first year as Director, McClain continued to build upon the championship success of Delta State's 13 intercollegiate athletic programs, while improving student services and community involvement.

The Statesmen Football and Baseball programs claimed Gulf South Conference titles, while Lady Statesmen Basketball returned to national prominence with a GSC and NCAA South Region title, and a trip to the Final Four. In all, eight teams competed in NCAA postseason play and the future looks even better for the Statesmen and Lady Statesmen under McClain's leadership.

Last year, DSU launched a comprehensive student-services program including the NCAA's Champs Life Skills Program. DSU Athletics now offers several seminars to student-athletes on several topics including financial planning, and time management.

McClain officially took the reigns of Delta State's Department of Athletics on July 1, 2007 and the former Delta State All-American from Houlka hasn't looked back since.

Prior to taking the helm of DSU Athletics, McClain served the University as director of development with the Delta State Foundation until June 30, 2007. McClain has been associated with athletics nearly his entire life. A standout two-sport athlete at Houlka High School, McClain turned heads with his prowess on the baseball diamond and earned a full scholarship to attend Delta State University.

An ace for the Statesmen pitching staff from 1996-1999, McClain still holds many of Delta State's career pitching marks, including most appearances (69), most victories (45), most strikeouts (324) and most innings pitched (363.1). His perfect 15-0 season in 1999 earned the prolific hurler All-American, All-Region and All-Conference accolades, as well as team MVP honors.

The hard-throwing right-hander was drafted by the Boston Red Sox organization in May 1999 after he earned his bachelor's of business administration. McClain pursued his dreams of playing professional baseball for the next five years, completing stints with the Red Sox (1999 - 2000), Jackson Diamondkats (2000 - 2001), Nashua Pride (2001), San Angelo Colts (2001) and Jackson Senators (2002 - 2003).

Although focused on making it to the next level, McClain remained realistic of his chances and completed work on his master's degree in business administration at Delta State in 2002. Also during that time, he worked as an account executive with the Jackson Senators.

From there, McClain hung up the spikes and became a marketing representative for Federated Insurance Company in Calhoun City, a firm he would stay with from Nov. 2003 - Nov. 2006. During his tenure, he operated the most profitable territory in a six-state region for two consecutive years, while also improving a two-year loss ratio from 20.4 percent to 3.3 percent.

When the opportunity to return to Delta State University presented itself, McClain did not hesitate, accepting the offer to become the director of development for Delta State's Foundation. In just under six months, McClain raised a total of $165,000 in cash gifts and over $250,000 in pledges.

"A great foundation has been laid here at Delta State University, and it is my desire to continue to build upon that foundation. It is my goal to continually enhance student-athlete services, while enriching their livens through community service. Our charge to help mold our student-athletes into the best people, not just competitors, they can be and we will not stop looking at ways to accomplish this goal," stated McClain.

He is a 1999 graduate of Delta State University with a bachelor's degree in business. In 2002, McClain completed his master's degree in business administration, and is currently pursuing a doctorate degree in educational leadership from Delta State University.

McClain is married to the former Christie Cannon of Calhoun City. The couple has one son, Cannon and one daughter, Kate.

STUDENT-ATHLETE CODE OF HONOR

As a student-athlete at Delta State, I realize that I have obligations and responsibilities much greater than those of the average student. I understand that the needs of the program supercede those of my own and to put my desires before those of my team is selfish and detrimental to my teammates and overall success of the program.

To be a part of the DSU program is to voluntarily put myself in the public's eye. Because of this, I must act in a manner that does not bring shame or embarrassment to the program or the people associated with it. My teammates, coaches, trainers, managers, and anyone else associated with the program deserve my utmost respect, courtesy, and effort. Thus, I will do my best in the athletics arena, in the classroom, and in life, not to disappoint either them or Delta State University.

I will also make a special effort to do the "little things" that will contribute to the success of the DSU Program. I will take care of my body, watch what I say and do, and be a role model of what a student athlete should be at DSU. I will attend, study and prepare properly for my classes in order to better myself and my future.

I realize being a part of the DSU athletic program is a privilege and an honor. I am part of a team that will encourage and support the coaching staff, the administration, as well as others on the team. DSU has provided me a great opportunity to further my education and have exciting new life experiences that will enrich my livelihood. I acknowledge that not following or honoring this code of conduct, as outlined here and evaluated by my Head Coach, could result in either a suspension or expulsion from the DSU Program.

In conclusion, as a student-athlete and representative of Delta State University, I agree to uphold the mindset, values and expected behavior and attitude of the coaches and administrators at DSU. I realize failure to meet these guidelines could result in dismissal from my team, or even the University, if deemed appropriate.

SEASON PREVIEW

STATESMEN BASKETBALL

STATESMEN LOOKING FOR NEXT STEP IN 2009-2010

STATESMEN LOOKING TO BUILD ON 2008-09 SUCCESSES

By Alan Wiederhold - MBB Contact

The Delta State men's basketball team returned to its rightful place among the Gulf South Conference's and South Region's elite last season, but the Statesmen aren't looking to rest on their laurels. They're out to build upon their success.

After finishing the season 21-9 and advancing the South Regional tournament, the Statesmen are aiming for a second extended postseason in 2009-2010.

The Statesmen will rely heavily on returning senior point guard Chad Akins to lead the Statesmen back to the NCAA South Regional tournament. Akins (6-0, Madison, Miss.) was named to the All-GSC West Division and DakTronics All-South Region first teams last season.

Akins led the GSC in with 6.8 assists per game, and finished fifth in nation in that category; he also averaged 7.8 points per contest.

"Chad is a tremendous young man and individual accolades mean nothing to him, almost to a fault," head coach Jason Conner says. "He's the coach on the floor. He knows the system like the back of his hands and he makes everybody around him better, and that's what you want out of point guard."

SPENCER

Akins is also looking to etch his name in the Delta State record books. After doling out 205 assists during the 2008-2009 campaign, Akins currently ranks fourth on the school's career list in that category with 390. He will become Delta State's all-time leader in assists if he reaches 160 for the season.

"I think Chad will be able to surpass that this year," Conner says. "He's capable, he's deserving, and I'm wanting him to have the very best this year, because I know that everything he's doing is thinking strictly about the team."

The Statesmen will have one of the most explosive backcourts in the Gulf South Conference, as Joe McCray (6-5, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.) joins Akins in the starting lineup. In his first season at Delta State last year after transferring from Nebraska, McCray averaged 12.5 points and shot 39 percent (54-of-137) from the 3-point arc.

McCray is the leading returning scorer for the Statesmen in 2009-2010, and both Akins and McCray were named to this year's preseason All-GSC West team.

"I think he is going to be one of the better players in the whole country, certainly in the South Region," Conner said of McCray.

The Statesmen return two other starters from last season's team – senior forwards Arian Maliqi (6-6, Pristine, Kosovo) and Dmitri Pirshin (6-7, Moscow, Russia). Maliqi is a consistent scoring threat, having averaged 8.6 points per game last season, while Pirshin is a defensive force for the Statesmen.

"Dmitri has worked very hard this summer improving his of-to want him on your team. I don't want to have to fight against him."

Seven other players return for the Statesmen, including guards Eric Spencer (6-5, Marion, Ark.) and Ernesto Green (6-3, Jackson, Miss.). Spencer was a force off the bench for the Statesmen last season, averaging 12.1 points per game and shooting 40 percent (42-of-104) from the 3-point range.

Green returns to the Statesmen after missing the entire 2008-2009 season with an injury. During the 2007-2008 season, he averaged 11.9 points and 3.2 rebounds per contest and was named to the All-GSC West Division Second team.

NEWCOMERS

Conner also welcomes nine newcomers to the team this year, including six transfers who are expected to see court time this season. Headlining this group of newcomers is forward Marqueys Brown (6-9, Memphis, Tenn., Crichton College) and Division I transfers Roderrick Ollie (6-6, Indianola, Miss., UAB) and Dino Hair (6-10, Picayune, Miss., Middle Tennessee State).

Brown, a strong power forward with tremendous leaping ability and athleticism, is a gem of a find for the Statesmen, as he arrived in Cleveland after Crichton College dropped athletics in 2009.

"He is a tremendous athlete. He's raw and learning how to play. I want him to learn how to play with the basketball and with his back to the basket," Conner said of Brown. "He's pretty good when the shot goes up – if you don't put a tail on Marqueys Brown, he's going to dunk it on you."

Meanwhile, Ollie and Hair will also provide some athleticism and experience to the frontcourt. Hair, a former Mississippi Mr. Basketball will also provide defensive presence for the Statesmen, as he was the leading shot-blocker for Middle Tennessee State last season. Additionally, the Statesmen also welcome two other Division I transfers – Jeremie Davis (6-6, Arcadia, La., Univ. of New Orleans) and Will Poole (6-5, Batesville, Miss., Ole Miss). Sophomore guard Cody Walker (6-0, Minden, La., LSU-Shreveport) will also make his Statesmen debut this season.

THE OPPOSITION

While they find themselves ranked in the Top 25 in two polls (No. 21 – Division II Bulletin; No. 23 – National Association of Basketball Coaches), the Statesmen will not be able to coast through non-conference play if they want to keep their preseason ranks. After opening the season with a pair of exhibition games at Division I opponents Florida State and Nicholls State, the Statesmen will officially open the season with a trip to New Orleans where they will face Xavier and Loyola, two schools in the NAIA's Gulf Coast Athletic Conference.

Both Xavier and Loyola won 19 games last season and finished in the top half of their conference in 2008-2009. Loyola also picked up 12 votes in the preseason NAIA Top 25 polls.

Despite their proximity and conference affiliation, the two schools present vastly different challenges for the Statesmen.

"New Orleans is always a tough place to go play," Conner says. "Loyola gives us a great look at the Princeton, which they run and are very good at, which prepares us for Ouachita Baptist, Huntsville and Christian Brothers, so we wanted to let our kids see that at an early time of the year.

"Xavier is going to be very long and athletic," Conner says. "I think that's a very good depiction of our league, and that's why those games were scheduled."

Conner and the Statesmen will have only a few days to re-cooperate from the trip to the Big Easy before returning home to face some familiar foes. The 2009-2010 season marks the first season in which most Gulf South Conference teams will play a full slate of non-conference "crossover" games against squads from the opposite division.

Though the system is imbalanced (Delta State is the only West Division team predicted champion Valdosta State will face in the regular season), the Statesmen will get to see all six teams from the East Division once prior before Christmas. Delta State hosts West Alabama, Alabama-Huntsville and North Alabama in November and then travels to West Georgia, West Florida and Valdosta State in early December.

The Statesmen will also get their feet wet against other quality teams from the South Region when they compete at the University of Tampa Classic. Delta State will take the court against the hosts and Eckerd College during the two-game event. Both schools are members of the Sunshine State Conference.

"I think our schedule is very good. It's difficult, (but) I think it's what we need to play," Conner says. "We've got 15 road games, which isn't good, but if we're going to do it, it's got to be done with this team. If this team can't handle it, there's not going to be many teams that can handle it."

In addition to garnering national preseason rankings, Delta State is the preseason favorite to win the GSC West according to a poll of the division's coaches, just narrowly edging out defending league champion Arkansas Tech.

The Statesmen open conference play Jan. 8 when they travel to Ouachita Baptist.

"The West Division is a very, very, very difficult division," Conner says. "You've got to win them all at home and win more than the other folks on the road to win this West. Winning the West is something that is respected across the region."

STATESMEN BASKETBALL

STATESMEN BEGIN RETURN TO NATION'S ELITE

By Alan Wiederhold - MBB Contact

If the 2007-2008 basketball season was one of tough breaks and missed opportunities, then the 2008-2009 season was one of vindication and redemption for the Delta State Statesmen.

After missing out on a berth in the Gulf South Conference tournament in spite of a winning record (14-12, 8-6 GSC) in 2008, the Statesmen made a triumphant return to the postseason in 2009. In head coach Jason Conner's third season patrolling the sidelines, Delta State finished with a 21-9 record, including a 10-4 record in conference games.

The seven-win upswing not only yielded a return to the GSC's postseason event, it also helped the Statesmen punch their ticket to NCAA South Regional Tournament.

The Statesmen overcame adversity to reach the heights they attained during the 2008-2009 season, and some of that adversity came to the forefront before the season even started. Delta State's aspirations were dealt a sizable blow when preseason All-GSC West nominee Earnesto Green was sidelined with an injury.

In spite of the setback, the Statesmen were able to regroup. Point guard Chad Akins returned to quarterback the team that was a healthy mix of returners and transfers. With Akins leading the way, the Statesmen didn't miss a beat, winning eight of their first 10 games and 11 of their 16 non-conference contests before powering through the ultra-competitive GSC West.

A big factor for the Statesmen last season was the play of Colorado State transfer Alton Robinson, who took the GSC by storm en route to an All-GSC West selection. The 6-foot-7 power forward from Hattiesburg, Miss. led the Statesmen in scoring and rebounding, tallying 17.7 points and grabbing 7.3 rebounds per contest.

Another Division I transfer poured in paints from the perimeter – Joe McCray, a former Big 12 Freshman of the Year at Nebraska, finished second to Robinson on the team by scoring 12.5 points per game. Meanwhile, Eric Spencer provided a spark off the bench, scoring 12.1 points per contest.

Arian Maliqi, a junior college transfer from Gulf Coast Community College in Florida, contributed with 8.6 points per game. Senior post Oliver Mansour poured 7.1 points per game while leading the Statesmen in field-goal percentage (57.2 percent from the field).

Robinson and Akins earned First Team All-GSC nods. Akins' 6.8 assists per game led the conference and was fifth in the NCAA's Division II.

The return to the postseason was not short-lived, as the Statesmen edged Alabama-Huntsville 46-45 in the opening round of the GSC tournament, avenging an earlier loss to the East Division foe. A loss to Valdosta State in the next round would not be enough to keep the Statesmen out of the South Regional Tournament, where they fell to fellow GSC team Christian Brothers in the first round.

With many junior transfers returning for their senior year, Conner and the Statesmen have their sights set on another deep postseason run in 2010.

THE HISTORY

STATESMEN BASKETBALL

AN ERA OF SUCCESS: STEVE RIVES

From 1986 to 2006, Steve Rives stalked the sideline at Delta State University as head men's basketball coach. Coach, teacher, confidant, and friend are all adjectives former players have used to describe the man that led the Statesmen to 386 victories and four Gulf South Conference championships during his tenure in the Mississippi Delta.

The Jackson native came to DSU from Louisiana College in the summer of 1986. Known as one of the top prep coaches in the country before launching his collegiate coaching career, Rives was a talented and young coach bent on making the Statesmen program his own and leading the green-and-white into uncharted territory.

Rives philosophy was simple. In fact, it's a formula that led to over 700 career wins on the high school and collegiate levels. The formula that has worked so well for the ole ball coach is hard work + solid defense + offensive execution = success. That formula took Rives to the top of the Delta State University career coaching victories list with 386 and forever etched his name as one of the top coaches in the country.

Rives' first season, 1986-87, at Delta State proved to be a memorable experience. He took over a program that in 1985-86 had gone 23-8, claimed the GSC championship, and finished in the NCAA Regionals in Cape Girardeau, Missouri.

Obviously, expectations were riding high, but the 1986-87 season exceeded the expectations of most Statesmen faithful. DSU marched towards the NCAA Final Four with a 24-9 record and a second place finish in the GSC. Led by future NBA star Gerald Glass, the Statesmen downed Abilene-Christian (88-71), Southeast Missouri (90-84), and St. Cloud State (78-73, OT) before losing to Kentucky Wesleyan (75-98) in the semifinals.

Rives carried that momentum into the next decade and guided the Delta State University men's basketball program into the national elite. The Statesmen claimed Gulf South Conference Championships in 1992-93, 1996-97, and 1997-98.

As the century turned, Rives once again led the Statesmen to the top of the GSC standings in the West Division and competed for several league titles. In 2000-2001 and 2004-2005, the Statesmen knocked on the door of the GSC title, only to lose in the conference finals.

In 2005-2006, that all changed. Returning a bevy of talented players, including All-GSC and future Orlando Magic guard Jeremy Richardson, Rives added Southern Miss transfer Jasper Johnson to the mix. Johnson and Richardson flourished together, leading the Statesmen to 26-1 regular season finish and the nation's No. 1 ranking.

Heading into the postseason, DSU downed Valdosta State (74-70), Alabama-Hunsville (74-72) and Montevallo (71-67) en route to the program's fourth GSC championship under Rives. While the story doesn't end the way the Statesmen Nation would have wanted, DSU fell in the Region semifinals, the Statesmen concluded the season 30-2, Rives was named National Coach of the Year, and Jasper Johnson was named the National Player of the Year and was the program's first recipient of the CellularSouth Bailey Howell Award.

The legendary coach retired at the end of the season with a record of 386-188. His 386 wins rank as the most all-time in school history by more than 170. He finished his career with 11 20-win seasons and four other times his teams claimed 18 or 19 wins in a season. Delta State made eight trips to the NCAA Tournament under Rives, including a Final Four appearance during the 1986-1987.

Possibly the greatest legacy Steve Rives has brought to the game of basketball is coaches. At last count, Rives had 63 former players or graduate assistants coaching in the high school or collegiate ranks, including current Statesmen head coach Jason Conner and graduate assistant Colby Harris.

Today, Rives and his wife, Sue, reside in the Jackson area. He remains very active in Mississippi in the basketball community and serves as one of the analysts for the Gulf South Conference's annual coverage of the GSC Tournament in Southaven.

The man known for his tenacious matchup zone defense and power offensive game has made an indelible mark on the Delta State University men's basketball program. His legacy is one all former Statesmen coaches will look to for inspiration and motivation for years to come.

STATE

GULF SOUTH CONFERENCE

The GULF SOUTH CONFERENCE (GSC) enters its 36th year of excellence, continuing a tradition of growth and success that has brought it distinction as one of the elite NCAA Division II conferences. With 14 universities in six southeastern states, the GSC is the largest playing Conference in Division II.

GSC members feature comprehensive athletic programs that compete for 13 official conference championships: football, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's soccer, women's volleyball, men's and women's basketball, baseball, softball, men's and women's tennis and men's golf. In 2003, the GSC conducted a provisional championship in women's golf, which will continue in 2004.

We take pride in our 37 National Team Championships in 10 sports and the emphasis on academic success by our coaches and student-athletes. Christian Brothers University joined the list of GSC National Champions in 2002, capturing the Women's Soccer Championship, the league's first in soccer. This last year, West Florida won their first men's tennis championship while Delta State captured their first baseball championship.

Originally known as the Mid-South Conference, the GSC was formed by six universities in the summer of 1970: Delta State, Florence State (now North Alabama), Jacksonville State, Livingston (now West Alabama), Tennessee-Martin and Troy State. Due to scheduling problems during the 1970-71 academic year, the only league sport was football. Jacksonville State won the league's first championship.

In 1971, the league changed its name to the GULF SOUTH CONFERENCE, added Southeastern Louisiana (SELA) and Nicholls State (increasing the membership to eight), and opened an office in Hammond, LA. The following year, Mississippi College and Northwestern Louisiana (NWLA, now Northwestern State) were admitted. NELA withdrew to go Division I two years later, followed by SELA and Nicholls State in 1979.

The conference continued with seven teams until 1981, when the presidents admitted Valdosta State. West Georgia joined in 1983. Eight years of stability ended in 1991 when Tennessee-Martin and Troy State went Division I, briefly dropping the GSC back to seven members, before the beginning of an expansion resulting in ten new members: Lincoln Memorial (1992-93); Alabama-Huntsville, Henderson State, Central Arkansas and Mississippi University for Women (1993-94); West Florida (1994-95); and Arkansas-Monticello, Arkansas Tech, Montevallo and Southern Arkansas (1995-96). Jacksonville State went Division I at the end of 1992-93. Mississippi College dropped to Division III at the end of 1995-96, and was replaced by Christian Brothers to keep the Conference at 16 schools. In July 2000, the GSC welcomed Harding University and Ouachita Baptist University, making it the largest NCAA conference at any level with 18 schools. The Conference membership decreased to 17 when MUW dropped its athletics program at the end of the 2002-03 season.

Former Commissioner Jim McCullough moved the GSC office to its present Birmingham location. The current Commissioner, Nathan (Nate) N. Salant, has been in office since October 1992. He is assisted by Sports Information Director Michael Anderson, Assistant Sports Information Directors Eric SanInocencio, Assistant Sports Information Director Michael Banks and Office Manager Andrea Nguyen. The Supervisors of Officials are Billy Johnson (Football), John Caldwell (Basketball-West) and Mike Murphy (Basketball-East).

All Delta State University games will be internet televised on GoStatesmen.com Internet TV as well!

THE CREW • J.T. WEBB & JIMMY SMITH

J.T. Webb begins his second season as one of the "Voices of Statesmen Basketball." Webb will team up with Jimmy Smith for all the action of Lady Statesmen basketball this season.

Webb has served as an analyst for the Statesmen Sports Network for five years, including sideline reporter for Statesmen football. He also handles the play-by-play for Lady Statesmen softball.

The President's List student is currently pursuing a degree in sports information with a minor in journalism.

The Clarksdale native is a life-long fan/observer of Delta State athletics and one day hopes to run his own sports information office.

The former sports director of WXTQ/WATH in Athens, Ohio will serve as the contact for Statesmen Football, while working as the primary contributor to GoStatesmen.com's "Statesmen Insider."

Smith will also lend his voice to the Statesmen Sports Network, joining the broadcast team for football, basketball and baseball. Smith will anchor all Statesmen road games, while serving as the play-by-play voice for DSU's football home games this season.
