STEVE RIVES: AN ERA OF SUCCESS

From 1986 to 2006, Steve Rives stalked the sideline at Delta State University as head men's basketball coach. Coach, teacher, confidant, and friend are all adjectives former players have used to describe the man that led the Statesmen to 386 victories and four Gulf South Conference championships during his tenure in the Mississippi Delta.

The Jackson native came to DSU from Louisiana College in the summer of 1986. Known as one of the top prep coaches in the country before launching his collegiate coaching career, Rives was a talented and young coach bent on making the Statesmen program his own and leading the green-and-white into uncharted territory.

Rives philosophy was simple. In fact, it's a formula that led to over 700 career wins on the high school and collegiate levels. The formula that has worked so well for the ole ball coach is hard work + solid defense + offensive execution = success. That formula took Rives to the top of the Delta State University career coaching victories list with 386 and forever etched his name as one of the top coaches in the country.

Rives' first season, 1986-87, at Delta State proved to be a memorable experience. He took over a program that in 1985-86 had gone 23-8, claimed the GSC championship, and finished in the NCAA Regionals in Cape Girardeau, Missouri.

Obviously, expectations were riding high, but the 1986-87 season exceeded the expectations of most Statesmen faithful. DSU marched towards the NCAA Final Four with a 24-9 record and a second place finish in the GSC. Led by future NBA star Gerald Glass, the Statesmen downed Abilene-Christian (88-71), Southeast Missouri (90-84), and St. Cloud State (78-73, OT) before losing to Kentucky Wesleyan (75-98) in the semifinals.

Rives carried that momentum into the next decade and guided the Delta State University men's basketball program into the national elite. The Statesmen claimed Gulf South Conference Championships in 1992-93, 1996-97, and 1997-98.

As the century turned, Rives once again led the Statesmen to the top of the GSC standings in the West Division and competed for several league titles. In 2000-2001 and 2004-2005, the Statesmen knocked on the door of the GSC title, only to lose in the conference finals.

In 2005-2006, that all changed. Returning a bevy of talented players, including All-GSC and future Orlando Magic guard Jeremy Richardson, Rives added Southern Miss transfer Jasper Johnson to the mix. Johnson and Richardson flourished together, leading the Statesmen to 26-1 regular season finish and the nation's No. 1 ranking.

Heading into the postseason, DSU downed Valdosta State (74-70), Alabama-Huntsville (74-72) and Montevallo (71-67) en route to the program's fourth GSC championship under Rives. While the story doesn't end the way the Statesmen Nation would have wanted, DSU fell in the Region semifinals, the Statesmen concluded the season 30-2, Rives was named National Coach of the Year, and Jasper Johnson was named the National Player of the Year and was the program's first recipient of the CellularSouth Bailey Howell Award.

The legendary coach retired at the end of the season with a record of 386-188. His 386 wins rank as the most all-time in school history by more than 170. He finished his career with 11 20-win seasons and four other times his teams claimed 18 or 19 wins in a season. Delta State made eight trips to the NCAA Tournament under Rives, including a Final Four appearance during the 1986-1987.

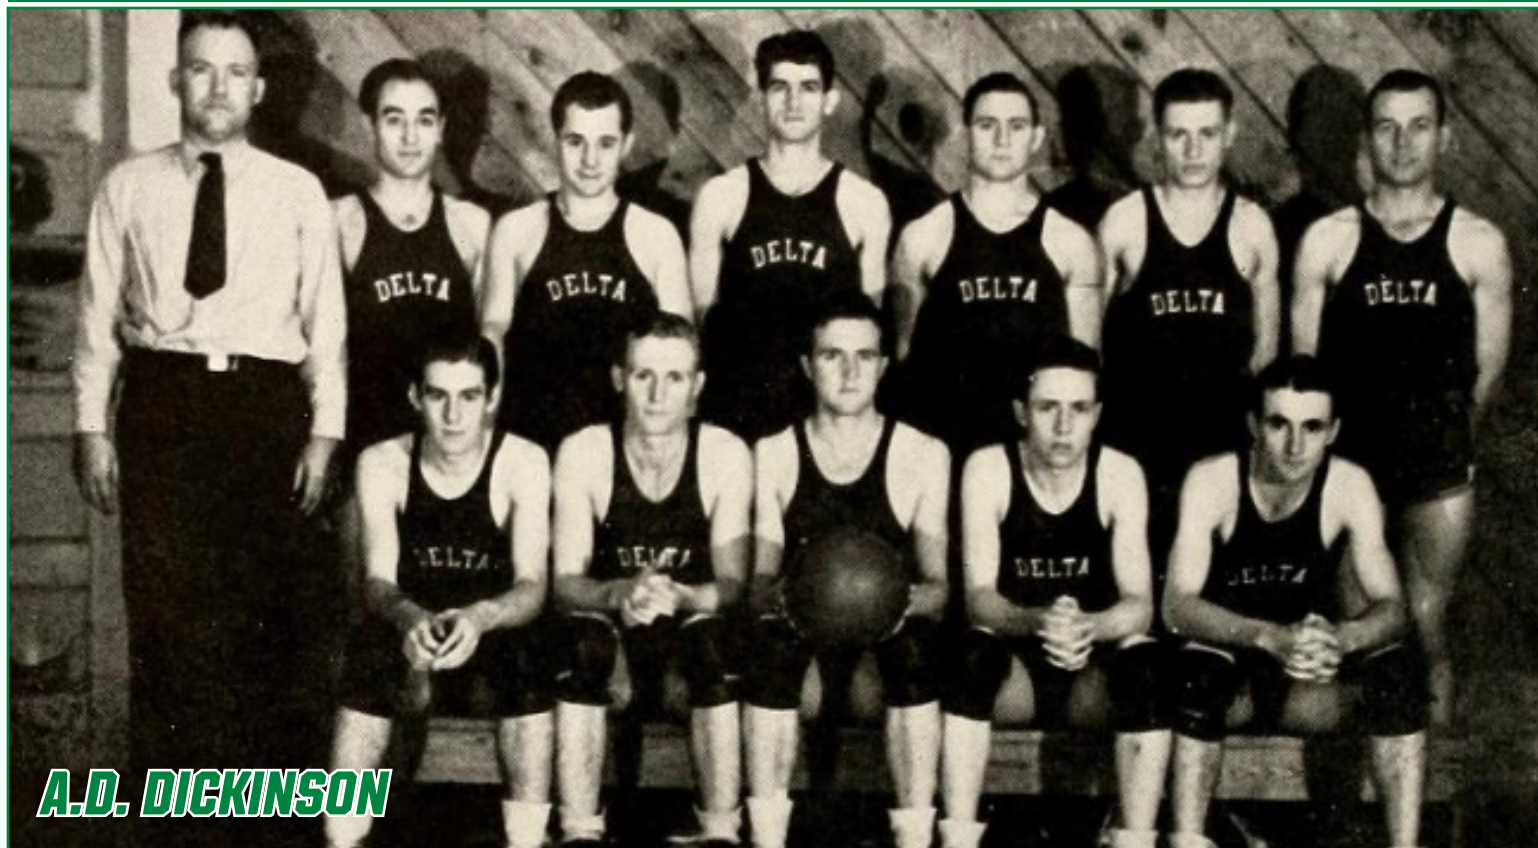

Possibly the greatest legacy Steve Rives has brought to the game of basketball is coaches. At last count, Rives had 63 former players or graduate assistants coaching in the high school or collegiate ranks, including current Statesmen head coach Jason Conner and graduate assistant Colby Harris.

Today, Rives and his wife, Sue, reside in the Jackson area. He remains very active in Mississippi in the basketball community and serves as one of the analysts for the Gulf South Conference's annual coverage of the GSC Tournament in Southaven.

The man known for his tenacious matchup zone defense and power offensive game has made an indelible mark on the Delta State University men's basketball program. His legacy is one all former Statesmen coaches will look to for inspiration and motivation for years to come.
