Press, Radio, TV Information

Requests for press, radio and TV accommodations for Memphis State basketball games should be directed to Fred Middleton at the MSU sports information office.

The press section at the Mid-South Coliseum is located on the south side of the court. Radio and television booths are on the north side of the arena. A lounge for working newsmen is on the lower east concourse.

Middleton

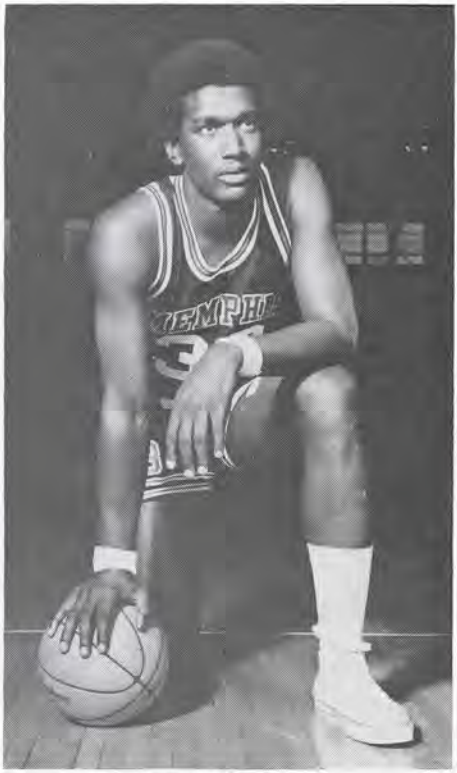
Fred Middleton is in his first year as MSU's sports information director, having come to the post in April of 1968. A graduate of Memphis State University with a B.S. in journalism, Middleton served as acting SID in 1962-63 and worked as an assistant in the school's public information office in 1963-64.

The 29-year-old Middleton was a sports writer 10 years prior to joining the MSU staff. He worked for the Arkansas Democrat in Little Rock, Ark., the Pine Bluff (Ark.) Commercial, The Commercial Appeal in Memphis, the Dayton (Ohio) Daily News and the Dallas Morning News.

All-America Candidate

RICHARD JONES

6-7, 215, Senior, Memphis, Center-Forward



RICHARD JONES

Richard Jones, a former great in Memphis high school circles at Lester High, is considered one of the top players in college basketball. He started his collegiate career at the University of Illinois, then transferred to Memphis State and sat out one year in order to be eligible for his senior season. Rich was the top draft choice of Phoenix, the new entry in the National Basketball Association, and of the Dallas Chaparrals of the ABA last winter.

Jones, All-Big Ten after lodging himself as the sixth best scorer in Illinois history with 510 points as a sophomore (which is the best scoring total by an Illinois sophomore), has tremendous strength. Despite his size and strength, he is exceptionally quick and is a dangerous shooter from the 15-20-foot range. Coach Moe Iba looks for Jones to give the Tigers outstanding rebounding strength.

Says Iba: "He's a great one-on-one basketball player, and he'll give opposing defenses problems. He's quicker than the big man some will assign to him, and he's too big for the quick little man some will want to use. Rich is one of the few players we'll have who has any college experience, and he has to have a good year for us to have a good team."

Jones will play the post this season, and it is to him that Iba looks for leadership.

He was the third leading scorer in the nation when he left Illinois and was a sure-fire All-America choice.

Jones was twice All-State for Lester, which was runnerup for the state championship in 1963. He captained Lester's basketball team in 1961-62, 1962-63, and 1963-64, seasons in which he was named to the All-Memphis team. He was captain of the freshman team at Illinois.

Aside from his athletics, Jones was a member of the National Honor Society at Lester High. He is married to the former Martyna Haynes of Las Vegas. Born December 27, 1946.

1968—A Brighter Outlook—1969

Although the record may not show as many victories as that of his first team, the 1968-69 Memphis State basketball team should be the best in Moe Iba's three seasons with the Tigers.

One year can make a lot of difference, and it has in the case of Iba and the Tigers. A year ago, Iba had a starting lineup returning intact from the previous season's National Invitation Tournament team, which posted a 17-9 record. This year, Iba heads the Tigers into their second Missouri Valley Conference campaign with almost as many combinations of starting lineups as there are players.

What success the Tigers have will depend, says Iba, "on getting the ball club together as a team. We have so many sophomores and transfers with no experience together, that familiarizing the personnel with each other and adapting them to our system will be our biggest problem in the early part of the season."

Memphis State lost a big scoring punch from the 1967-68 team with the graduation of Mike Butler (career-record 1,409 points in three seasons) and Mike Stewart. Iba hopes the slack can be picked up by transfer Rich Jones. Jones, a former Memphis high school standout, has one year of eligibility remaining after transferring from Illinois. The 6-7, 215-pounder scored 510 points, which ranked him sixth on Illinois' list of single-season scorers, as an All-Big Ten sophomore. He could well develop in his last season into the best basketball player Memphis State has ever had.

Eugene Pendarvis is another 6-7 transfer, coming to the Tigers from Brooklyn, N.Y., by way of Ellsworth (Iowa) Junior College. Pendarvis had been ticketed for a major role in this year's attack, but a broken jow received early in the practices has left him behind schedule.

The Tigers will have more speed this time around, and Iba expects a much improved rebounding game with Jones, Pendarvis and 6-2½ James Douglas, up from the freshman team.

Defensively, the Tigers will be much stronger. Iba will be breaking in a couple of sophomores at the guard posts, and he says how fast John Gay (6-2) and Joe Proctor (6-0) develop will mean a great deal. Going in with them at guard will be Jeff Frost, a 6-3 transfer from Foothills (Calif.) Junior College.

Senior Mackie Don Smith, at 6-8 the tallest Tiger, will be ineligible until midterm. He missed more than half of the 1966-67 season due to a knee injury and has only one semester of eligibility remaining. He was back on the operating table after injuring his knee in pre-season practice. Smith averaged 12.7 points per game behind Butler's 19.4 and Stewart's 14.5 last season and led the team in rebounding.

Iba, who was 17-9 in his first season (1966-67) and 8-17 last season, will have five returning lettermen and a sixth when Smith becomes eligible. The veterans are Pat Beveridge, a 6-4 junior forward; Herb Hilliard, a 6-4 senior who plays forward or guard; James Jackson, a 6-5 senior forward-center; Dave Loos, a 6-1 senior guard; and Tom Quast, a 6-5 senior forward-center.

The third transfer is Rick Coughenour, a 6-5 forward-guard who played at Moberly (Mo.) Junior College. Paul Mann, a 6-0 junior guard, is a returning squadman, and rounding out the lineup is 6-5 sophomore forward Ross Furry.

"This year's team will be completely different from last year's in a number of ways," Iba says. "Where last year we had a guard offense (guards Butler and Stewart did the scoring) our offense this year will revolve around Rich Jones, our center. In most instances, this will make us a much better basketball team."

Iba cites quickness, speed and better rebounding as the strengths of this team, but points out "so much depends on how the sophomores and junior college transfers work out."

"We have no seasoned guards other than Dave Loos," Iba says. "We feel that our sophomore guards are adequate, but their lack of game experience is going to hurt them early in the season.

"We need to find another post man to play with Jones. We have other plans for Douglas (placing him on the wing), but we might be forced to use him as one of our post men (on the double post). We would have no problem if Mackie Don were eligible the first semester. Pendarvis is another post possibility, and we'll also be trying Quast and Jackson there.

"With the personnel we have, we feel we can handle our schedule a great deal better than we did last year (2-14 in the Valley). We feel we're stronger and deeper in most positions.

"As usual, the Valley will be the toughest conference in the country again. Cincinnati probably will be one of the top five teams in the country; and the rest of the league is very well balanced. It should be an interesting conference race."

1967-68 in Review

The 1967-68 season marked the beginning of a new era in Memphis State's basketball history. The Tigers began competition in the rugged Missouri Valley Conference.

Coach Moe Iba went into Valley competition with a veteran but undermanned team and came out as most expected. Lacking the strong rebounding game and overall team speed, the Tigers finished with an 8-17 overall record and a 2-14 MVC chart.

Senior Mike Butler, a 6-1 guard, established a schol record with 1,409 points for three seasons. He had 484 points in his senior season and was named to the five-man All-Missouri Valley Conference team.

Butler led the team in scoring with a 19.4 average (outstanding for a ball-control, defensive-minded team), was named to the Sugar Bowl all-tournament team, received a tryout with the United States Olympic team and eventually signed with the New Orleans Buccaneers of the American Basketball Association.

Mike Stewart, another senior guard at 6-2, added 362 points and a 14.5 scoring average for the Tigers, and Mackie Don Smith, who will be eligible for half this season, scored 318 and had a 12.7 average. Smith led the rebounding with 193 grabs for a 7.7 average.

MSU's first victory in the league came on Feb. 5, when the Tigers pulled out a 67-65 decision at North Texas State. They later beat Wichita State, 67-55, at home and took Cincinnati, Drake and North Texas into overtime before bowing.

Despite the record and the fact the Tigers closed out with a six-game losing streak, the team drew more than 7,500 fans on the average to 13 home games.

Three members of that team have departed. Butler, Stewart and center Chuck Neal are gone, but six lettermen, three junior college transfers and several prospects from the freshman team give Iba and his staff an optimistic outlook for 1968-69.

The University

Memphis State is one of the nation's fastest developing universities with an enrollment of 16,637.

This rapid growth from a small normal school to a respected university in a booming metropolis is due primarily to the foresight of its administration and president, Dr. C. C. Humphreys. Memphis State's structure includes a College of Arts and Sciences, a College of Business Administration, a College of Education, the Herff College of Engineering, a School of Law, a Graduate School, an Evening Division and a Downtown Center. Through these divisions the University offers more than 75 major areas of study leading to undergraduate and graduate degrees, including terminal degrees in education, psychology, history, political science and economics.

A gift of a 640-acre farm and acquisition of the 146-acre tract formerly the site of Kennedy Veterans Hospital increased the campus size to more than 1,100 acres in four locations within Shelby County.

Memphis State was founded in 1909 as West Tennessee State Normal School. The first classes were held in 1912. The name was changed to West Tennessee State Teachers College in 1929 and to Memphis State College in 1961. University status was granted by the state legislature in 1957.

The President

Dr. Cecil C. Humphreys first became associated with Memphis State in 1937, and he has served the university as teacher, coach, athletic director, director of the graduate school, assistant to the president, and president.

A native of Paris, Tenn., Dr. Humphreys is a 1936 graduate of the University of Tennessee. He played football for the Volunteers and his abilities on the playing field are attested to by his selection to Sports Illustrated's Silver Anniversary All-America Team in 1960.

Dr. Humphreys received his bachelor of science degree in 1936 and his master of arts degree in 1938 at Tennessee, and in 1957 he received his doctorate from New York University.

His career in education began in 1936 as an instructor of history at University of Tennessee Martin, and he came to Memphis State in 1937 as a history professor and assistant football coach. He began a three-year stint as head coach at MSU in 1939.

Dr. Humphreys served as a special agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1941-44; in 1944 he began two years active duty with the Navy; and in 1947 he returned to Memphis State as athletic director. He served in this capacity 12 years, during which time he laid the foundation for MSU's current athletic structure.

Prior to his appointment as president in March of 1960, Dr. Humphreys served as director of the graduate school and assistant to the president.

The community has not failed to take note of Dr. Humphreys' contributions in education. He was named "Vision's Man of the Year" by the Tennessee Optometric Association in 1962, and that same year Greater Memphis State, Inc., named him "Educator of the Year."

Dr. C. C. Humphreys

He received the third annual Community Salesman's Award of the Memphis Sales Executive Club in 1964, and in 1965 he was the recipient of the Liberty Bell Award given by the Memphis-Shelby County Bar Association. Dr. Humphreys received the Americanism Award from the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame in 1966, the same year he was awarded an honorary LL.D. degree from Southwestern at Memphis.

Dr. Humphreys is married to the former Florence Van Natta of Memphis, and they have two sons — Robert Hunter, 16, and Cecil Jr., 13.

The Athletic Director

Billy Murphy

Billy (Spook) Murphy, head football coach at Memphis State University since 1958, became the athletic director in June of 1966.

Already the winningest coach in the school's history, his 11 seasons at MSU places him second only to Ralph Hatley as the coach with the most years as boss of the Tigers. Murphy will equal Hatley's string next year.

Murphy became head coach in 1958, when Memphis State decided to project its football team into the major ranks. To say merely that he has done the job would be to understate the case. The Tigers' climb was made faster than anyone believed imaginable. Everyone, that is, except Murphy.

In one four-year period (1960-63), Murphy's teams won 33 games, lost only five and tied one. The building program reached a climax in 1963 when Memphis State was unbeaten in 10 games. Murphy was named Coach of the Year by a national publication and three Tigers made All-America teams. Going into 1968, the Murphy record read 66-28-1, the big seasons being 8-2-0 in 1960 and 1961, 8-1-0 in 1962 and 9-0-1 in 1963.

Murphy's playing record is as distinguished as his coaching record. He was an outstanding athlete at Siloam Springs, Ark., where he was born and reared, and then starred as a tailback at Mississippi State. His schooling was interrupted after two years by World War II, and Murphy served three years as a Marine lieutenant in the Pacific theater. He was accorded the Bronze Star, the President's Citation and the Navy Citation during those years.

Returning to Mississippi State after his discharge, Murphy captained the Bulldog team and was named to the All-Southeastern Conference team in 1946. He was graduated from Mississippi State in 1947.

Murphy embarked immediately on a coaching career, his first job being at Memphis State as an assistant to Hatley. From that position, he went back to his alma mater as an assistant to Murray Warmath in 1952, and when Warmath moved north to Minnesota after the 1953 season, Murphy accompanied him and coached the Big Ten Gophers' backfield through the 1957 season.

By this time, another former Memphis State coach, Dr. C. C. Humphreys, was boosting the school's image as athletic director. In 1958, Dr. Humphreys, now president of Memphis State, chose Murphy for the job of building the Tigers into a football power.

Murphy is married to the former Elizabeth Parrish, a native of Starkville, Miss., and also a graduate of Mississippi State, and they have two children—Mike, 16, and Libby, 13.

Head Basketball Coach

Carrying on tradition sometimes can be a burden too much to struggle with, but Henry 'Moe' Iba is going about it with no problems even though he's carrying one of the biggest names and traditions in college basketball.

Iba, at 29 one of the youngest veterans in the coaching ranks, begins his third season as Memphis State University's head coach. The son of the famous Hank Iba at Oklahoma State, Moe comes by his coaching ambitions quite naturally. His father has compiled a brilliant record at OSU and only last October added an Olympic championship to his credentials.

The first Iba team at MSU posted a 17-9 record and capped the season with an appearance in the National Invitation Tournament. Along the way, MSU won its own Memphis State Classic and finished the season with the second best defense against scoring in the nation.

The deliberate, defensive style taught by Iba has been a big success in Memphis, and despite an 8-17 record last season—the Tigers' first in the Missouri Valley Conference—the team drew 102,589 persons for 13 games at the Mid-South Coliseum.

Iba came to Memphis State in August of 1966 after four highly successful seasons as an assistant to Don Haskins, another Iba disciple, at the University of Texas at El Paso (then Texas Western). His duties included all scouting, much of the recruiting and coaching the freshmen full time. He compiled a 64-9 record with the frosh, while the varsity was winning 89, losing 20 and taking the NCAA championship in 1966.

Moe Iba

Iba enjoyed a brilliant college basketball career, starting three years for his dad at OSU despite being sidelined three times by knee operations. He was considered the best long-range shooter in the Big Eight Conference, which he left via graduation in 1962.

An outstanding high school career at Stillwater (Okla.) High School preceded Iba's entry into the college ranks. He was selected to play in the High School All-America game at Hutchison, Kan., after his graduation in 1957.

Moe is married to the former Cynthia Jones, of Oklahoma City, and they have two sons—Bret, 9, and Greg, 6.

The Staff

BOB STEPHENSON

Assistant

Stephenson, who has played and coached under the past four head coaches at Memphis State, is in his seventh season as an assistant coach.

Bob's first contact with the Tiger program came in 1951 when he transferred to MSU from Tennessee Wesleyan. He was a member of the highly successful team of Coach Eugene Lambert in 1951-52, then served as freshman coach under Bob Vanatta in 1958, the same year in which he received his master's degree from MSU.

After head coaching stints at Halls (Tenn.) High School in 1959 and Memphis Catholic High School from 1960-62, Stephenson returned to MSU in March of 1962. He assisted Dean Ehlers through four seasons and begins his third season as Moe Iba's assistant.

Stephenson also served the Tigers as baseball coach in 1962, leading them to a 13-5 record.

The 37-year-old Stephenson is a native of Calhoun, Tenn., where he played basketball three years as a guard and center and won two letters as a first baseman on the baseball team, graduating in 1948. He was an end on the football teams at Tennessee Wesleyan and Memphis State and played forward and center on their basketball teams.

Active in the MSU chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Bob is married to the former Gaylia Gillespie of Shreveport, La., and they have two daughters—Melanie, 7, and Deborah, 8.

TOM HAMBY

Assistant

The most recent addition to the Memphis State basketball staff is Tom Hamby, a former teammate of head coach Moe Iba when the two were at Oklahoma State.

Hamby, a successful head coach in the Dallas school system before his move to Memphis State, begins his second year with the Tigers as head of the freshman program.

A native of El Reno, Okla., Hamby won three letters each in basketball and football and picked up one more in tennis. He made the all-district team in football and basketball, graduating from El Reno in 1957.

Three years as a forward on Hank Iba-coached teams at Oklahoma State followed, then he moved into the coaching ranks in Dallas after his graduation from OSU in 1961. The last four years in Dallas were spent as head coach at Kimball High School, where he had two zone runnerup teams. Tom received his master's degree from North Texas State University in 1965.

Hamby is married to the former Judy Cavin, also of El Reno, and they have a son—Tim, 1.

GEORGE BECK

Student Assistant

Now in his second year as freshman assistant to Tom Hamby, Beck is a former basketball and track standout at Commack (L.I.) High School. The 22-year-old Beck transferred to Memphis State after playing freshman basketball at Louisiana State University. He is married to the former Judy Quick of Commack.

The Staff

GENE SMITH

Trainer

Gene Smith is the graybeard of this 1968-69 basketball staff, having come to Memphis State as athletic trainer in the summer of 1959.

A native of Sterling, Kan., Smith is a 1949 graduate of Sterling College, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. Following his graduation from Sterling, Smith moved to Bazine (Kan.) High School as an assistant coach, working in football and basketball four years.

Gene made a move to Indiana University then, obtaining his master's degree in health and safety with an emphasis on athletic training in 1954. Following his study at Indiana, he went back to coaching at Great Bend (Kan.) High School in 1954-55.

Just prior to joining the MSU staff, 'Doc' was athletic trainer at Palo Duro High School in Amarillo, Texas, serving in that capacity from 1955-1959.

He is married to the former Paula Renollet of Sterling, and they have two children—Dana, 11, and Matt, 7.

Voice of the Tigers

The account of Memphis State University's every move on the basketball court again will be handled by Jack Eaton for WMC Radio.

This will be the 10th season Eaton has followed the Tigers.

A former basketball player at Washington and Jefferson, Eaton has been with the WMC and WMCT stations since 1956. He broke into sportscasting at WDAK-TV in Columbus, Ga.

Eaton's color commentator on the broadcasts will be Buck Patton, columnist and sportswriter for the Memphis Press-Scimitar.

The Athletic Staff

RUFFNER MURRAY

Assistant to the Athletic Director

The most recent addition to the Memphis State staff, Murray was appointed to his duties last June after serving 30 years as head coach at Memphis Central High School.

He is a native of Memphis, having played football as a tackle at Central in 1941-33. He moved on to play college football at Virginia Tech from 1933-37, and became head coach at Central in 1947.

During his 30 years as a coach, Murray's teams won 175 games, lost 71 and tied 11. He had eight city championship teams, winning four titles in succession from 1952-55.

Murray's primary duties at Memphis State are to coordinate the spring sports program and the athletic scholarship fund. He is the first fulltime assistant to the athletic director at Memphis State.

Murray and his wife Jean have three children—Mrs. Marshall (Sandra) Polk III, Ruffner, Jr., 25, and Rosser, 20, a student at Memphis State.

GABE HAWKINS

Business Manager

A 23-year veteran of the Air Force, Gabe Hawkins is a graduate of Mississippi State with Master's degrees from the Air Force Institute and Memphis State.

Hawkins retired from active duty in 1961 with the rank of colonel. A veteran of two wars, he was commanding officer of Memphis State's ROTC program four years. He is beginning his seventh year with the Memphis State athletic staff and also teaches industrial arts.

He and his wife Dorothy have three children—Renee, 24, Linda, 20, and Gabe Jr., 15.

J. W. PATRICK

Ticket Manager

A former assistant football coach at Memphis State, J. W. Patrick was appointed ticket manager in 1965.

Patrick was All-Southeastern Conference at Mississippi State in 1939, played on the Bulldogs' undefeated team in 1940 and on their SEC championship team in 1941.

He coached at Columbia, Miss., Yazoo City, Miss., Holmes Junior College, Louisiana College and Mississippi State before coming to MSU in 1961.

Patrick and his wife Julia have five daughters—Mrs. Lary Klinger (Judy), Dianna, 21, Ruth, 16, Kay, 10, and Brenda Faye, 4.

1968-69 MEMPHIS STATE VARSITY

The Squad

40 BEVERIDGE, Pat — 6-5 — 200 — Junior — Forward — Columbus, Ohio

Beveridge will be changing positions this year and only time will tell how he takes to the inside game. A returning letterman, Beveridge was a guard last year but Iba hopes to take advantage of his good jumping ability by moving him to forward. Beveridge played in 19 games last season. He attended Walnut Ridge High School, playing football (tackle) as well as basketball. He was All-Conference in both sports in his junior and senior years. Beveridge was coached in basketball there by Jack Moore. Born July 12, 1947.

14 COUGHENOUR, Rick—6-5—180—Junior—Forward—Maplewood, Mo.

Another junior college transfer, Coughenour can play at forward or guard. He is a good shooter and ball handler and making the adjustment from junior college to the Tiger style will be his only apparent problem. Coughenour played for the National Junior College champion Moberly (Mo.) team, serving as the sixth starter in the title season of 1966-67. Scheduled to start last season, Coughenour was out for most of the season with a foot injury. He was All-Conference for John Howard Sanders at Maplewood High School. Born June 25, 1948.

43 DOUGLAS, James — 6-2½ — 190 — Soph. — Forward — Nashville, Tenn.

One reason Iba is confident that this year's rebounding will be better is because of James Douglas. He has the potential to develop into a great one in this phase of the game. Douglas led last season's freshman team in scoring and rebounding with an average of 20.3 points and a total of 291 rebounds. He is a good shooter from inside 15 feet. Douglas was a member of the outstanding teams at Nashville Pearl in 1965, 1966 and 1967, serving as captain two seasons. The team was tops in the state two years, Douglas was all-state in 1967 and he was named Player of the Year in the Nashville Interscholastic League. His coach there was Cornelius Ridley. Born February 24, 1949.

The Squad

13 FROST, Jeff — 6-3 — 170 — Junior — Guard — Los Altos, Calif.

One of three additions from the junior college ranks who will play a big role for the Tigers this year, Frost is a good ball handler and outside shooter. He is well-disciplined for a junior college transfer and needs only to learn the Tiger defensive system to become an excellent addition to the squad. Jeff transferred from Foothills (Calif.) Junior College, where he established a record for total points and shooting accuracy—518 points and a 53.7 shooting percentage. Frost was a member of the All-City and All-Conference high school basketball teams in 1965, the same year he won the conference golf championship and served as president of the Awalt High School student body. His coach in high school was Charles Cooke. Born March 18, 1947.

11 FURRY, Ross—6-5—195—Sophomore—Forward—Indianapolis, Indiana

Another up from the freshman team, for which he played in every game, Furry ranked third in rebounding for the frosh with 93 grabs. Although he faces formidable competition, Ross is expected to see action as a reserve this season. He was captain of the Arsenal Technical High School team in 1967. His coach was Jack Bradford. Born January 1, 1949.

20 GAY, John — 6-3 — 175 — Soph. — Guard — Miami, Fla.

Memphis State could have one of the Missouri Valley Conference's top defensive teams this season, and should that be the case, Gay will have to take a big share of the credit. He has the potential to be one of the best defensive players the Tigers have ever had. He has unlimited quickness and is a good one-on-one player. Gay is a good shooter and is tops at the driving layup. He was All-America for Phillip Petta at Miami's Archbishop Curley High School, which compiled a 55-3 record in 1965-67 and was runnerup in the 1967 state tournament. Gay averaged 14.9 points per game for the 1967-68 freshmen and was second in rebounds with 105 for 16 games. Born March 2, 1949.

The Squad

24 HILLIARD, Herb—6-4—185—Junior—Forward-Guard—Millington, Tenn.
Hilliard, a starter in most games and a player in all last season, is another of the lettermen. He was one of the 1968 team's top defensive players, but he also was a most accurate shooter (51.2 per cent) and ranked second in rebounds with 130. Hilliard came to Memphis State as a non-scholarship tryout, but he won his keep in his sophomore season. Herb, who played for Sam Montgomery at Woodstock High School, was All-Prep League in 1965 and was the leading player on championship teams at Woodstock in 1963, 1964 and 1965. Born September 26, 1947.

23 JACKSON, James—6-5—185—Senior—Forward-Center—Memphis, Tenn.
Jackson is another of the returnees, noted mostly for his defense and his aggressive rebounding. A graduate of Independence Junior College, where he was named the team's most valuable player in 1967. Tweety had an outstanding Prep League career at Memphis Carver for Calvin Halliburton, making All-Conference in 1965, a year the Cobras captured the conference championship. Born February 2, 1947.

30 LOOS, Dave — 6-0 — 175 — Senior — Guard — Mehlville, Missouri
Loos is one of the six returning lettermen and is considered to be an outstanding ball handler. His value to the team will be in his ball handling, play-making and leadership. Loos played in 20 of the Tigers' 25 games last season. He spends the spring months as a shortstop for the Tiger baseball team and tied a school record with five hits in a single game last spring. Loos captained the football, basketball and baseball teams in his senior year at Mehlville High School, and he was All-South County in those sports. His coach was Jim Carpenter. Born March 5, 1947.

The Squad

21 MANN, Paul — 6-0 — 180 — Junior — Guard — Affton, Mo.

Mann, a squadman, saw very little action last season after enjoying an outstanding freshman season, in which he scored at an average of 12.4 points per game. He is an outstanding floor leader and probably will see action as a reserve again. A two-sport standout at Affton High School for Joe Chambers, Mann set a school record with 1,072 points in his years there. Born October 18, 1948.

24 PENDARVIS, Eugene — 6-6 — 185 — Junior — Forward — Brooklyn, N.Y.

A transfer from Ellsworth (Iowa) Junior College, Pendarvis has the ability to handle the basketball as well as put his size to good use in the inside game he'll play. He has agility, quickness and is an excellent defensive rebounder. Pendarvis, who averaged 18 points and 16 rebounds per game in his final year at Ellsworth, is a good outside shooter and will shoulder a big burden despite the fact he'll be in his first season with the Tigers. He played his high school basketball for Kenny Kearns at Fort Hamilton High School. Born May 28, 1947.

10 PROCTOR, Joe — 5-11 — 160 — Soph. — Guard — Knoxville, Tenn.

Proctor represents the speed of the Tiger attack. An all-around athlete, who as a quarterback set every offensive record in the book at Knoxville Catholic High School, Jo-Jo has :09.9 speed for the 100-yard dash and was the Tennessee decathlon champion as a senior in high school. He has great jumping ability, being measured once at 11-2 from a flat-footed start. He is a good ball handler. Proctor had an 11.1 scoring average for the MSU freshmen last year. His high school coach was Glenn Campbell, who had to have Proctor on his mind as he averaged 19 points a game in his final season, when he was named to the All-State team. Born July 4, 1949.

The Squad

25 QUAST, Tom—6-6—200—Senior—Forward-Center—San Jacinto, Calif.

A convert from forward to center, Quast is a good jumper and a good shooter. He is another letterman, having seen duty in all 25 games last season. He snagged 94 rebounds and scored 132 points. Quast set a Memphis State record in the high jump last spring with a leap of 6-8, and he established a record of 6-7½ at Riverside City College, where he competed before moving east. He participated in football, basketball and track at San Jacinto High School, making All-Conference in all three sports. He was coached in basketball by Don St. Clair. Born April 26, 1944.

15 SMITH, Mackie — 6-8 — 200 — Senior — Forward — Booneville, Miss.

An exceptional shooter from outside for a man of his height, Smith will be missed during the first half of the season. He becomes eligible at semester break. Smith missed part of the first half and all of the last half of the 1966-67 season because of a knee injury which required surgery. He had a second operation this past October. A good leader, Smith will be an asset when he rejoins the squad in January. He was All-State for Ken Lindsey at Booneville High School and has averaged 11.1 and 12.7 respectively in his two seasons at MSU. He lettered both seasons, had a career-high 30 points against Loyola of the South last season and totals 566 points and 375 rebounds for the two seasons. Born October 19, 1946.

The Mid-South Coliseum

The Mid-South Coliseum, an 11-200-seat building located on the Fairgrounds, is the home of Memphis State's basketball Tigers. MSU will be playing its fifth season in the coliseum.

The Tigers have averaged well over 7,000 persons per game in four years, and last year's 13 home games drew 102,589 fans for an average of 7,891.
