OF CONFERENCE USA

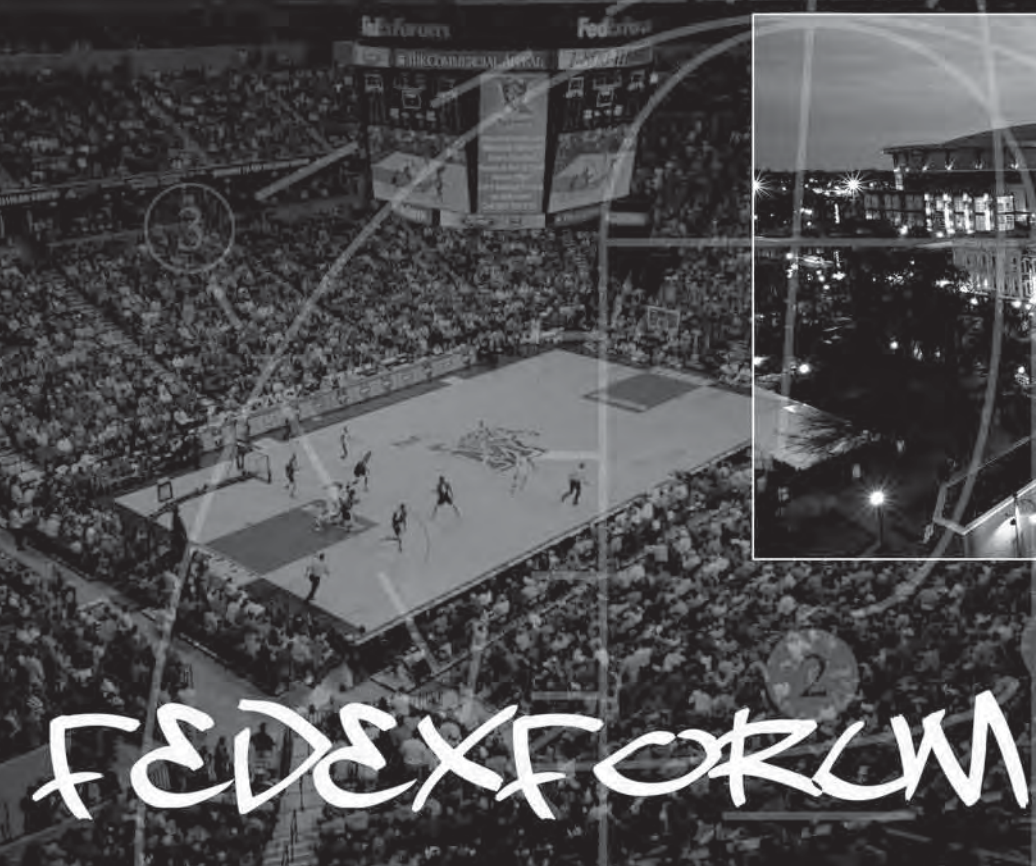

For the fourth straight season, the women's basketball team will take a handful of regular season games down to FedExForum, the NBA home of the Memphis Grizzlies and also the home of the Tiger men's basketball team.

The state-of-the-art arena opened in 2004 and, to date, is the largest public building construction in Memphis history. In addition to a full slate of NBA regular season games, the 250 million project has already played host to three Conference USA Championships, one NBA playoff series and to numerous concerts, including Alicia Keys, Brad Paisley, Alan Jackson, Justin Timberlake, Stevie Wonder, R. Kelly and numerous other tours and touring events.

In 2009, the facility will host its first-ever NCAA event when the Tigers host the 2009 NCAA Men's Basketball South Regional, Mar. 27 and 29th.

In 2010, the building will serve as a First and Second round site in the NCAA Women's Basketball Championship.

FEDEXFORUM

ELMA ROANE FIELDHOUSE

Considered one of the most intimidating arenas in all of women's basketball, the Elma Roane Fieldhouse serves as the home of the Tigers. The 2,500-plus seat arena is often packed with Tiger fans and gets loud and raucous during games. That has provided the Tigers with a great home-court advantage over the years.

A number of Memphis women's basketball victories have come in the Elma Roane Fieldhouse, which welcomed the Tigers in 1977. The 2,565-seat arena puts Memphis fans right on top of the action, providing opponents' with an intimidating, loud environment. And that factor has helped Memphis build quite a homecourt advantage, sporting a 123-64 record at home over the past 14 seasons, a 66 percent winning percentage.

The Fieldhouse is named after former women's athletic director Elma Roane. A pioneer for women's athletics at Memphis and in the Mid-South, Roane still attends games in her namesake building, cheering on the Blue and Gray.

Memphis has faced numerous ranked opponents in the Fieldhouse, including Tennessee, DePaul and Arkansas. Home court has been kind to the Tigers, with Memphis sporting a 268-127 record (67.8) over a 30-year stretch. The longest win streak for Memphis in the Elma Roane Fieldhouse came from 1977 to 1979 when the Tigers reeled off 28 straight wins.

And for women's student-athletes, the Fieldhouse is an all-in-one stop with a weight room in the lower level of the fieldhouse. The weight room, which opened in 2005, features top-of-the-line Power Lift combo racks with Iron Grip weights. The weight room also features four Woodway High Speed Treadmills, which are specifically made for training the elite level athlete.

With the athletic training facility right next door, the Tigers can train, get treated, practice and compete all in one building, right in the heart of the University of Memphis campus.

RECORD AT HOME IN THE LAST 14 YEARS

About Elma Roane

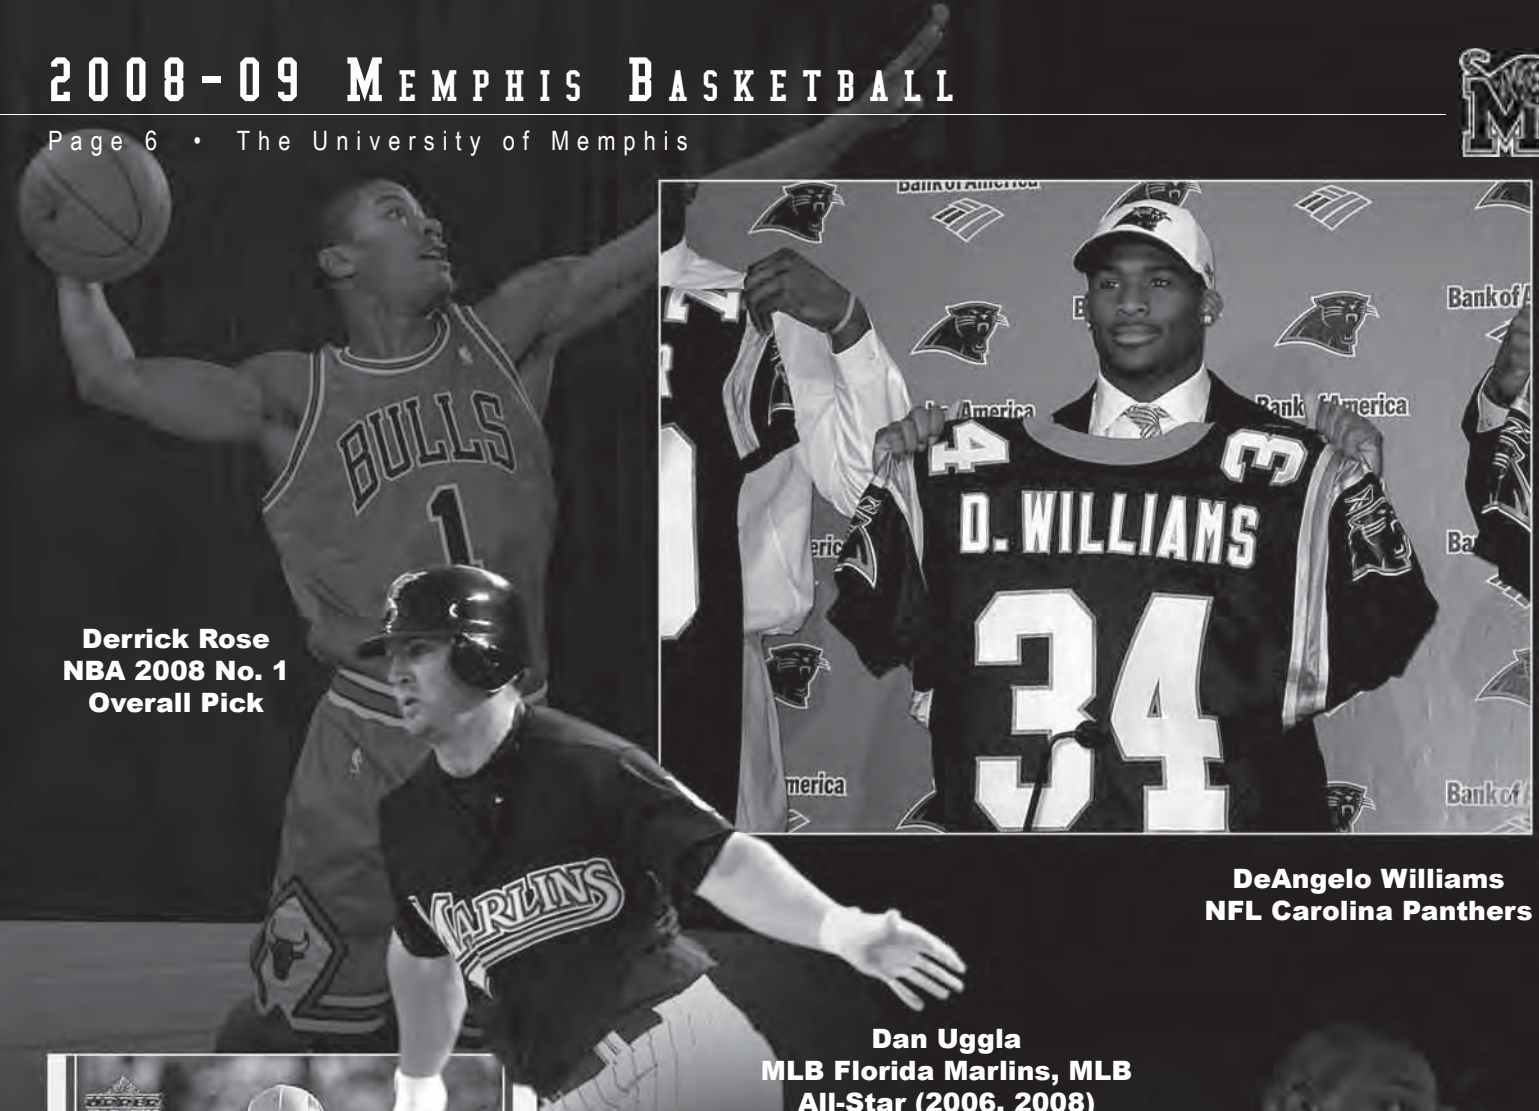

Every female student-athlete at the University of Memphis owes Elma Roane a thank you. A pioneer for women's athletics, Roane was one of the founders and the second president of the Tennessee College Women's Sports Federation, formed in 1969, to reinstitute intercollegiate athletic programs and competitions for women. The first recognized women's athletics director at then-Memphis State, Roane committed her career to providing young women opportunities to pursue their respective sports dreams at Memphis.

For her work, Roane received the National Association of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators (NACWAA) Lifetime Achievement Award in October of 2005.

Serving as a coach, administrator and teacher while at Memphis, Roane also chaired the Region II AIAW Gymnastics Championships, and in 1980-81, she chaired the Metro Athletic Conference women's committee. A member of NACWAA and the American Association of University Women, Roane retired from the University of Memphis, but continues to be a presence at Lady Tiger events and remains an avid golfer. A scholarship at Memphis has been established in her name, is now fully endowed at the university. That scholarship supports education students who aspire to careers in teaching, coaching, sports leadership or athletic training.

A member of the M-Club Hall of Fame, the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame and a former winner of the University of Memphis Educator of the Year Award, Roane continues to reside in Memphis.

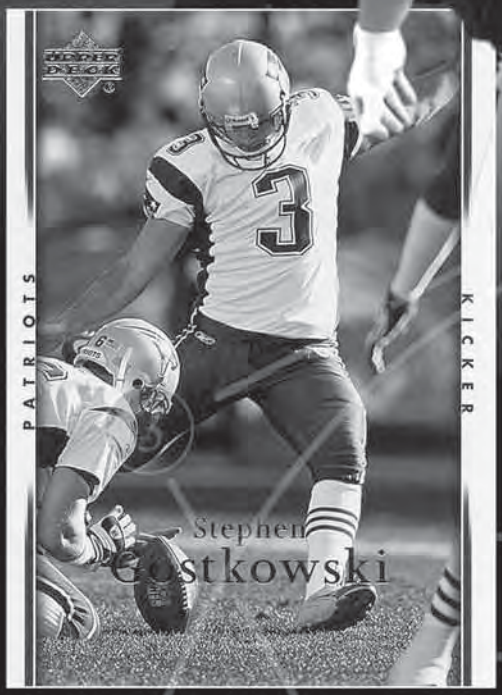

The athletic department's top female student-athlete award is also named for Roane.

The new University Center began construction in Spring of 2007 and is expected to take two years and will house a food court, a 350-seat theatre, a state-of-the-art ballroom, a copy center and a 24-hour computer lab.

The University of Memphis was designated a Level II Arboretum in July of 2008, meaning there are at least 60 different species of trees on campus labeled and located on a map for a self-tour of the campus.

In June of 2008, the U of M broke ground on a new residence hall to replace West Hall at the corner of Patterson Street and Alumni Drive. Two new buildings, with office and classroom space as well as living areas, will be completed by March of 2010. The buildings are expected to meet LEED Silver Standards in terms of sustainability and "green" design. West Hall will be the first and most sustainable ("green") public building to be constructed in the State of Tennessee.

In July of 2008, it was announced that thanks to a state grant, vehicles around The University of Memphis will be able to run on biofuel converted out of used cooking oil from the Tiger Den and the Blue Zone cafeteria at Richardson Towers. The machine to convert the cooking oil was created by John Hochstein, the current chair of the mechanical engineering department, and Srikant Gir, a mechanical engineering professor at Memphis.

The University of Memphis' Center for Athletic Academic Services (CAAS) is dedicated to the academic and personal development of all Tiger student-athletes. Its mission is to provide support services to ensure that U of M student-athletes succeed in the classroom and obtain undergraduate degrees. The services include orientation programs, tutoring, mentoring, academic counseling, study hall and academic advising.

In March 2002, vast improvements were beginning to take place in the CAAS. At that time, Dr. Joe Luckey took over the staff. Dr. Luckey, who was nationally recognized for his outstanding leadership in 1999, came to Memphis with a vision. In just one short year, Dr. Luckey recruited six new staff members, instituted new academic programs, designed and inspired two special sections of ACAD 1100 for student-athletes and transitioned the office from the basement of the Elma Roane Fieldhouse to the newly-renovated Wilder Tower.

Dr. Luckey heads a full-time staff of eight, while also utilizing 20-30 tutors, two academic in-terns, graduate assistants and student workers. CAAS has a unique responsibility as an office as it provides academic services to all student-athletes and conducts all necessary paperwork for NCAA academic compliance.

Assistant director Kelley Bickham, who was hired May 2007, was brought in specifically to handle NCAA, conference and institutional compliance matters associated with prospective and current student-athlete and serves as the women's basketball academic coordinator.

Dr. Luckey has continued to challenge the Center's staff, the coaching staffs and the student-athletes to collaboratively enhance the academic performance of U of M student-athletes. As the following highlights indicate, the group effort has resulted in positive results for the university. During the last six academic years, 14 teams have posted their highest-ever semester GPAs, a record number of student-athletes made the C-USA Commissioner's Honor Roll and the Tiger 3.0 Club and several individual student-athletes have been recognized for prestigious academic awards, such as the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship and Academic All-America.

The CAAS received a new home during the summer of 2003 with the completion of the Wilder Tower. The Wilder Tower also houses admissions, the bursar, financial aid, the registrar, student development and academic advising. A total of 8,000 square feet, encompassing the entire sixth and seventh floors of the tower, have been designated for the CAAS. The area supports 21 student computer stations, 17 offices and numerous study tables.

Four academic awards are sponsored by the CAAS as a means of honoring the top student-athletes. The Tiger 3.0 Club recognizes student-athletes who earned grade-point averages of 3.0 during the fall/spring semesters, while the Tiger Academic Thirty is dedicated to the 30 student-athletes with the best grade-point average on each team and then the next best group of student-athletes, totaling 30. The final honor, the TEAM GPA Award, is presented to the male and female team with the best grade point average for the semester. The fourth and newest award, CAAS Academic Achievement Award, is presented to the student-athlete(s) who has overcome personal hardship but has still worked hard in the classroom.

Women's basketball trains at a weight room located right in the heart of campus in the Elma Roane Fieldhouse. The weightroom was refurbished in 2005 and features top-of-the-line weight equipment and four high-speed treadmills meant to train elite level athletes.

While football, soccer, baseball and track utilize a weight room on the Park Avenue Campus, a number of Memphis teams train in the Elma Roane Fieldhouse.

The Elma Roane Fieldhouse weight room was refurbished in the spring of 2005 and benefits women's basketball, volleyball, men's tennis, women's tennis, cross country, women's golf and softball. Assistant Strength Coach Mike Jenkins is responsible for all workouts in the Fieldhouse. He is assisted by graduate assistant Jake Fitts.

The men's basketball team utilizes a weight room that is located in its practice facility, the Larry O. Finch Center. Assistant Strength Coach Richard Hogans is charged with the workouts of Tiger basketball, as well as the men's tennis and men's golf teams.

With three state-of-the-art facilities located around campus, the U of M Strength and Conditioning staff is well-equipped to handle the training needs of Tiger Athletes.

Strength and Conditioning

- The Lady Tigers' weight room opened in the summer of 2005 and features two weight lifting areas and an office area for the women's strength and conditioning staff.
- Workouts are designed and supervised by one or more of the Strength and Conditioning staff's certified specialists, and each student-athlete's individual progress is projected via a computerized database.
- The Tiger Power philosophy couples functional, multi-joint movements with fundamental principles: exercise techniques are simplified and performed on an alternating heavy/explosive basis in order to maximize training effects while minimizing teaching and training time (as well as fatigue). Performance based fitness and work quality are the bottom-line objective.
- Top-of-the-line Power lift combo racks line one wall of the area, complete with Iron Grip weights. A second room features additional Power Lift machines and more Iron Grip free weights. Four Woodway High Speed Treadmills line the opposite wall of the combo racks. These treadmills are specially made for training the elite level athlete.
- With the opening of the weight room, all the Lady Tigers' practice needs are now located in one central location on campus.
- In planning the long-range Tiger Power programs, student-athletes are assigned to respective developmental levels based on individual ability and training history. For example, newcomers begin with an extensive volume of "foundational" or generalized movements and progress toward more intensive and specialized exercises with each successive phase.

Athletic Training

The University of Memphis athletic training staff is second-to-none when it comes to ensuring that U of M student-athletes receive quality care in the areas of athletic injury, rehabilitation and preventative care.

With the renovation of the Murphy Athletic Complex training facility along with the Larry O. Finch Center training room, Memphis student-athletes can be assured of receiving the best medical attention and rehabilitation available.

The Murphy Athletic Complex training room was redesigned and reconstructed as part of the $6 million renovation of the Park Avenue Campus in 2003.

The new training facility, which more than doubles the size of the old training room, contains an in-ground aquatic rehabilitation pool, allowing trainers to work on rehabilitating injuries without having the student-athlete support his/her own body weight.

The training room also contains new doctor examination rooms, storage areas and the latest in rehabilitation equipment.

The athletic training staff uses a comprehensive approach to the injury care and wellness of student-athletes by utilizing state-of-the-art diagnostic and treatment equipment with the latest methods in the care and prevention of injuries.

Amos Mansfield is in his fourth year as head athletic trainer. Mansfield spent four years at Southern Miss as an assistant trainer and was the primary trainer for men's basketball, while also assisting with football. He has two full-time certified athletic trainers, two graduate assistants and 18 student trainers.

Chris Simmons is entering his third year as the trainer for men's basketball. He makes a return to the university where he earned his bachelor's degree in exercise and sport science in 2002. Simmons came to Memphis after working as the head trainer for the Arkansas RimRockers of the NBDL. Natasha Platt enters her fifth year as an assistant trainer for women's athletics. Platt was a student trainer at Memphis from 1998-2000 and earned her degree from the university in 2000.

The athletic training staff is surrounded by many qualified and generous team doctors who are available to the many student-athletes at the University of Memphis.

Dr. Barney Freeman, Dr. Fred Azar and Dr. Barry Phillips of The Campbell Clinic are directly responsible for the orthopedic needs of the Tiger football team, while Dr. Thomas Meriwether and Dr. Arthur Franklin serve as the team physicians. Dr. Allen Sills serves as the team's neurosurgeon.

Tiger student-athletes are fortunate to have the two largest privately-owned hospital systems in the world located in Memphis. Baptist Hospital and Methodist Hospital offer the finest in healthcare to area residents and handle the care of Memphis student-athletes.

The athletic training staff is one support group that the athletic teams cannot do without. They are responsible for staffing all practices and games as well as handling the day-to-day rehabilitation of injured or post-surgery student-athletes.

The goal of the sports medicine department is not only to care for the injuries, but also to assist the student-athletes in preventing injuries from occurring.

CITY OF MEMPHIS

Considered the "Home of the Blues" and the "Birthplace of Rock 'n Roll," the city of Memphis' musical roots run deep. However, music is just a chapter in the history as well as the future of the city located in the heart of Mid-America.

Memphis, named after the capital of ancient Egypt, boasts all the amenities you would expect in a city with over 1 million residents, while retaining the charm and down-to-earth feel of a small town.

Downtown Memphis is in the midst of a building boom valued at $2.3 billion which is transforming the heart of the city. One of the most visible projects has been the construction of AutoZone Park, the downtown ballpark which is the home of the Memphis Redbirds, the St. Louis Cardinals' Triple-A club. The 14,320-seat stadium includes 1,500 club seats, 48 luxury suites and is located at the corner of Third Street and Union Avenue across from the world-famous Peabody Hotel.

The city's newest downtown project is FedExForum, an entertainment arena that houses both the Memphis Grizzlies of the National Basketball Association and the University of Memphis men's basketball team. The $250 million state-of-the-art arena features a 35,000-square-foot outdoor plaza where fans of all ages can gather before an event. The arena has over 100 points of sale for concession stands and four full-service restaurants.

FedExForum is located one block south of Beale Street.

Memphis' musical roots can be traced to band leader W.C. Handy, who wrote the first blues song here in 1909, a campaign theme for Memphis mayor "Boss" Crump called "Boss Crump Blues" and later published as the "The Memphis Blues." The sound soon caught on and blues bands filled the clubs along Beale. Young musicians who have performed along Beale include Muddy Waters, Furry Lewis, Albert King, Bobby "Blue" Bland and B.B. King.

Beale Street has rapidly become the entertainment center of Memphis and visitors and locals alike enjoy the food and music offered in the various nightclubs. From B.B. King's to the Daisy Theatre, from Silky O'Sullivan's to the Hard Rock Café, from Pat O'Briens to the Rum Boogie Café, Beale Street has something to offer for everyone.

Where Beale Street meets the Mississippi River is Tom Lee Park, site of the annual Beale Street Music Festival. The weekend-long event is just a part of the month-long Memphis in May International Festival which also includes the World Championship Barbecue Cooking Contest and the Sunset Symphony.

Located just off Beale Street is the Peabody Place Retail and Entertainment Center which opened in 2002. The 300,000-square-foot retail complex offers visitors a one-stop-shop for fun and excitement with a unique mix of entertainment, dining and shopping options unlike anything else in the region.

Also located within a block of Beale is Gibson Guitar Memphis, which includes factory tours and cultural exhibits. Across the street is the Smithsonian's Rock 'n' Soul Museum located at the FedExForum, which includes artifacts documenting music's past.

Memphis' musical roots also include Stax and Hi-Records as well as Sun Records recording studio. Stax became known for

WHY TIGERS?

When the University of Memphis first fielded a football team in the fall of 1912, no one had selected a nickname for the squad.

Early references to the football team tabbed them only as the Blue and Gray Warriors of West Tennessee Normal School.

After the final game of the 1914 season, there was a student parade. During this event, several Normal students shouted, "We fight like Tigers." The nickname was born.

More and more the nickname "Tigers" was used, particularly in campus publications. But it did not catch on with the newspapers downtown. They continued to use "Normals" or the "Blue and Gray" when referring to the University.

Under Coach Lester Barnard in 1922, Normal's football team gave a ring of truth to that old student yell about Tigers. The team adopted a motto – "Every Man a Tiger" – and went on to score 174 points while allowing its opponents just 29 points.

In the late 1920s, student publications and downtown newspapers began referring to the football team as the "Teachers" or "Tutors." The Tiger nickname would return, but not until 1939 was it finally adopted as the official nickname for the University of Memphis.

A BENGAL FOR A MASCOT

For over 30 years, the sideline mascot for The University of Memphis has been the Bengal Tiger. TOM II, the current Tiger mascot, attends all Tiger football home games, and he can also be found at many other University events throughout the year as a powerful and majestic symbol of Tigers Athletics. TOM II travels in style in a custom-designed, climate-controlled trailer, always with police escort.

The first Tiger, TOM, was procured by the Highland Hundred Football Boosters in 1972 and served the U of M faithfully for nearly 20 years until passing away in February of 1992.

TOM came to the university on November 9, 1972, when the tiger cub was placed in a dog kennel in Michigan City, Ind., and put on a Memphis-bound flight via Chicago's O'Hare International Airport. He arrived in Memphis at 3:00 a.m., and C. Cleveland Drennon, President of the Highland Hundred, approved a check for $1,500 to purchase the animal. That morning, TOM was taken to Athletic Director Billy Murphy's office for a press conference. The Highland Hundred officially presented TOM to the University in a ceremony at Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium on November 11, 1972, during a football game against the University of Cincinnati.

TOM had initially been named 'Shane' at the suggestion of the breeder's daughter. Once in Memphis, though, a contest was held to name the mascot. More than 2,500 entries were submitted to a committee chaired by Judge Harry Pierotti, including colorful monikers like Spook, Sampson, Goliath, Bengo, Sultan, Sahib, Big Cat, Ptah, Touchdown, Sonny Shiloh, and even Bengie Wougie Bengal Boy from Tennessee. The list was ultimately reduced to two choices, Shane and TOM, which stands for Tigers Of Memphis. TOM won.

During his first few months in Memphis, TOM was housed by Highland Hundred member Bill Proctor in his garage, which the Club had redecorated, and was closely guarded by Proctor's hound dog.

As TOM grew older, the decision was made by the Highland Hundred to keep the Tiger Tradition alive by securing a new Tiger to be raised as TOM II. In the fall of 1991, Highland Hundred President Ray Daniels and President-Elect Bobby Wharton received TOM II as a gift from Tom and Carolyn Atchison of Florence, Alabama.

In 2005, TOM II moved to a new habitat in a rural area just south of Memphis on land offered by longtime Tiger fans Jeff and Mary Kuntz. The new facility was designed as a virtual copy of the original facility in Collierville, but includes many upgrades that improve TOM's comfort and safety.

As one of only two universities in America with a live Tiger mascot, the University of Memphis is unique in its Tiger Tradition.

SCHOOL COLORS

The University of Memphis' official school colors of Blue and Gray were selected in the early 1900s.

The colors were chosen in an effort to show unity in a nation that was still recovering from the effects of the Civil War. The student body thought that by picking the colors of the North and the South, the school would show a togetherness among all students.

THE LOGO

The University of Memphis' official logo was redesigned by Craig Thompson, from Disciple Design in Memphis, Tenn.

The original logo was an MSU with a leaping tiger coming out from behind the letters. The new logo is an "M" with a leaping Tiger coming up over the center of the "M."

Fastbreak Club

The Fastbreak Club is entering its 15th year as the support group for the University of Memphis women's basketball program.

The organization is made up of more than 125 dedicated supporters who stand behind the Lady Tigers every step of the way. They start the season off with a welcome picnic as well as providing food and snacks after all the games. In addition, the group sponsors a Christmas dinner and an end-of-the-year banquet for the Lady Tigers and the staff.

The Fastbreak Club has also established a scholarship in memory of Eva Phillips' husband, Les, a long-time Lady Tiger fan, who died late in the 1998-99 season. The scholarship is given at the end of each season to a member of the Lady Tiger "family" that exemplifies hard work, dedication and spirit throughout the season.

Highland Hundred

Just over 50 years ago, several Memphis area business men gathered one night on Highland Avenue and formed the Memphis football booster group, the Highland Hundred.

At its inception in 1954, the group, now regarded as one of the most energetic organizations in the nation, had just eight members and set its initial goal at a membership of 100. The group membership now totals over 800. But their goal remains the same--to promote Tiger football.

The activities and projects of the Highland Hundred are many and varied. The group sponsors a barbecue contest, a preseason kickoff banquet and a golf tournament. In addition, the Highland Hundred has undertaken several major projects like the restoration of Murphy Athletic Training Center and the purchasing of a Lexicon Video Sports Editing System. Recently, the club funded lights for Memphis' practice facility. The club also sponsors the Senior Banquet.

The group, once featured in Sports Illustrated, received national attention in 1972 when it purchased a Bengal Tiger mascot, TOM (which stands for Tigers-Of-Memphis). TOM I died in February 1992 and the Highland Hundred purchased TOM II, who is housed at Saint Nix Farms in his own 3,500-square-foot habitat.

Rebounders Club

The Rebounders Club is entering its 34th year as the support group for the University of Memphis men's basketball program. The organization consists of over 500 members.

The Rebounders promote the annual Blue-Gray scrimmage, the annual golf scramble, the end-of-the-year awards banquet, Midnight Madness and many special projects which the coach asks the group to assist him with throughout the year. The group also publishes a monthly newsletter that will be made available 10 months of the year. The publication is available the 15th of every month.

Dr. Shirley C. Raines became the 11th president of the University of Memphis on July 1, 2001. She is the first woman to hold the presidency of the University, which was founded in 1912.

Before her appointment at the University of Memphis, Dr. Raines was Vice Chancellor for Academic Services and Dean of the College of Education at the University of Kentucky. While at George Mason University in Fairfax, Virginia, she received the Distinguished Faculty Member award and has received two research awards from the Eastern Educational Research Association. She is the author of 14 books and numerous journal articles and is widely regarded as an expert in teacher education and early childhood education.

During the years of Dr. Raines' tenure at the University of Memphis, the following building projects have been completed: the FedEx Institute of Technology, the Kemmons Wilson School of Hospitality and Resort Management, the Student Activities Plaza and fountain, the clock tower, University Services Building with new bookstore, the Athletic Training Facility, additions to the Carpenter Student Housing Complex, and the renovation of Wilder Tower, which is devoted to student services. New construction ventures underway include renovation of the former Millington Naval Hospital to classrooms for the University's Millington Campus, a new student center, a new sustainable design residential dormitory, and the relocation of the Law School to the historic downtown location on the Mississippi River.

Described in The Commercial Appeal as "powerful, prepared and personable," she has become known for her effective work in building productive partnerships on and off the campus. An extraordinary motivational speaker, Dr. Raines speaks to hundreds of schools, boards, and civic and professional organizations both locally and nationally. The University has realized an 84 percent increase in donor giving to the University as well as a 118 percent increase in sponsored research grants and contracts, during Dr. Raines' tenure. Major focus areas of her work with students include expanding the University's Honors program and creating internships and co-op experiences in many majors.

Dr. Raines is one of 12 college presidents on the NCAA Board of Directors and chairs the NCAA Presidential Task Force Oversight and Monitoring Group while also serving on the Board of Directors of C-USA. While Chair of the Board of Directors of C-USA, Dr. Raines led the conference through realignment. As a community leader, she serves as the past chair of the Memphis Regional Chamber of Commerce and on the board of directors of several non-profit organizations, including Memphis Tomorrow, local PBS station WKNO, and the Higher Education Division of United Way. The April 2007 issue of Business TN, included her on the magazine's list of the 100 most powerful people in Tennessee.

Dr. Raines earned her Doctorate in Education and her Master of Science degree from the University of Tennessee in Knoxville. Her Bachelor of Science degree is from the University of Tennessee at Martin. She also completed the Management Development Program from the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

A native of Bells, Tennessee, she is married to retired professor, Dr. Robert J. Canady. In his retirement, he is a stained glass artist and a private pilot. Bob and Shirley are the parents of four adult children and three grandchildren.

R.C. JOHNSON – ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

R.C. Johnson has worked 35 years in athletic administration. He was named the Director of Athletics at the University of Memphis on December 29, 1995.

Johnson came aboard in February of 1996 and immediately set forth in bringing University of Memphis Tiger athletics into national prominence. Over the last 12-plus years, the dynamic administrator has structured one of the most successful coaching staffs in the history of Tiger athletics and continues to strive for athletic and academic excellence while recognizing the importance of building strong university and community ties.

Since his arrival, Johnson has hired such high-profile coaches as former Clemson head football coach Tommy West, who has taken the Tigers to a bowl game in four of the last five seasons, and former New Jersey Nets and UMass head basketball coach John Calipari, who had his squad in the 2008 National Championship Game. In the last five years, six U of M coaches have earned Conference USA Coach of the Year honors, including Calipari, who earned the league's top honor in both 2006 and 2008.

Also in the last five years under Johnson, the Tigers have captured 11 C-USA championships in men's basketball, men's soccer, women's soccer, women's golf and men's track. Calipari has led his Tigers to four regular-season titles (2004, 2006, 2007, 2008) and three C-USA Tournament championships (2006, 2007, 2008). Richie Grant led the men's soccer program to a league championship in 2004, while Brooks Monaghan piloted the women's soccer team to a C-USA title last fall. In the spring of 2007, Kevin Robinson earned C-USA Coach of the Year honors after leading the Tigers to an outdoor track championship.

Johnson is currently spearheading his second major capital campaign which will benefit nearly every area of the Tiger Athletic Department. Included in the $12.9 million project is a new addition to the Athletic Office Building, the newly-completed softball complex, an approaching redesign of the Tiger baseball stadium, a golf practice facility, a renovation of the Finch Center men's basketball practice facility and a Hall of Fame to honor Tiger athletes. Johnson's first capital campaign was previously the largest fund-raising effort in the history of Memphis athletics. The $8 million campaign included a new 8,000-square-foot football and basketball office complex addition, a new basketball practice facility, which is still considered one of the best in the country, and a complete renovation of the Murphy Athletic Complex.

During his tenure, Johnson has created the Athletic Director's Honor Roll, the Tiger Scholarship Fund Board of Directors and the Athletic Director's Ambassador's Club. The Ambassador's Club, which started with two members in 1997, has reached an all-time high of 32 members under Johnson. A significant revenue source for Tiger Athletics, members of the Ambassador's Club pledge to commit $500,000.

In June 2007, Johnson inked a lucrative long-term contract extension with Learfield Sports, which enabled Tiger Sports Properties to retain the multimedia rights for Memphis Athletics through 2017. In addition, the terms of the new agreement allow for options to continue through the 2021-22 academic year. The Tigers signed on with Learfield Sports in 2001, granting the partner radio and television rights, athletic venue signage, game day promotions and sponsorships, as well as the official athletic department web site. Terms for the contract call for the Tigers to receive a financial guarantee each year of the agreement and to participate in annual revenue sharing.

A believer in academic excellence as well as athletic success and national prominence, Johnson leads a department that set a school record with 50 percent of its student-athletes achieving a 3.0 or higher during the fall 2007 semester. For the most recent academic year, which includes fall 2007 and spring 2008, 315 student-athletes earned at least a 3.0 GPA and 35 students excelled with a 4.0 GPA. Ten teams logged a semester average of 3.0 or higher for the 2007 fall semester, and the athletic department as a whole is represented by a 2.8 GPA for the entire year. In May 2008, 39 athletes earned their degrees, marking the largest group for one ceremony since 2002 when the athletic academic services department began keeping record. And, under Johnson's guidance, Memphis boasts an 89 percent graduation rate of all student-athletes who complete their eligibility at the U of M.

Before taking over Tiger Athletics, Johnson was responsible for directing a Temple program with more than 500 student-athletes in 20 men's and women's intercollegiate sports, including nationally-visible programs in men's basketball and football. He was named Temple's director of athletics on May 9, 1994, after serving nearly six years as director of athletics at Miami (Ohio) University. He had also previously led the department at Eastern Illinois from 1980-88, and was the associate athletic director at Northern Iowa from 1974-80.

A former football coach himself, Johnson served as an assistant at Mankato State University from 1968-74. He coached at Youngstown State University during the 1967 and 1968 seasons after serving as an assistant coach at Northern Iowa (1965-67) and the University of Iowa (1963-65).

An Ottawa, Ill., native, Johnson holds his bachelor's degree in sociology from the University of Iowa in 1965 and earned his master's degree in physical education from the University of Northern Iowa in 1967.

Johnson is a member of the National Association of College Directors of Athletics and serves on the NCAA Leadership Council. A veteran administrator in Conference USA, Johnson sits on both the C-USA Bowl Committee and the league's Finance Committee. His involvement in the Memphis community includes serving on the Memphis and Shelby County Sports Authority, and he most recently was invited to serve on the Mayor's Stadium Committee which is charged with evaluating the feasibility of a new football stadium. In addition, he is a member of the University of Memphis President's Council.

Johnson and his wife, Melba, have three children: Jeff, P.A. and Michelle; five grandchildren and one great grandson.

WE WILL STRIVE TO BECOME THE CLASS OF CONFERENCE USA. That is our goal, that is our vision, that is what we will plan to happen over the next three or four years. We will be a team that has effort at the center of everything we do and that will begin with our coaching staff and the commitment that we have to our players to work very hard to put this program back in its rightful position. We will be a program that has a winning attitude, that has an attitude that will allow us to be successful. We will also have accountability within our program.

as a player and coach at some of the most respected institutions in the country."

McFerrin, the 2008 Patriot League Coach of the Year, spent the past four seasons at American University in Washington D.C. Her 2007 American team advanced to the Patriot League championship game and her 2008 squad won the school's first-ever Patriot League regular season championship, finishing with an 18-14 overall record. That team won 11 of 12 games down the stretch, advancing to the post season for the first time since 1997-98 with a WNIT bid. In four seasons at American, McFerrin compiled a 50-70 record and guided five different players to all-conference honors, while two other players earned all-freshman honors.

"I am extremely excited and honored to be a Tiger," McFerrin said. "I know that the University of Memphis is about winning and that is exactly the type of place that I want to be. I am so appreciative to R.C. Johnson and Lynn Parkes for making this opportunity available to me. We will become the class of Conference USA. We will have the vision, the plan, the ability and the desire to rise to the top of Conference USA. We will build our program around sound team values and effort. The City of Memphis will be central to our plans. We want fans from Memphis, we want players from Memphis and we want a strong relationship with the coaches of Memphis."

Prior to her stint with American, McFerrin was an associate head coach at the University of Minnesota from 2002-2004. She helped Minnesota to a 50-15 record, including an NCAA Final Four appearance in 2004 and a Sweet Sixteen berth in 2003. She signed two recruiting classes ranked

I KNOW THAT COACH MCFERRIN HAS A LOT TO ACCOMPLISH IN A VERY SHORT TIME PERIOD. WE ARE COMMITTED TO BUILDING OUR WOMENS BASKETBALL PROGRAM AT MEMPHIS AND FEEL THAT MELISSA IS THE RIGHT COACH FOR THE TIGERS.

– R.C. JOHNSON, DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

I HAVE KNOWN AND FOLLOWED MELISSA'S SUCCESS SINCE SHE WAS AN ASSISTANT BASKETBALL COACH AT CENTRAL MICHIGAN. SHE HAS THE PERFECT BASKETBALL PEDIGREE AT THIS TIME TO TAKE OVER THE MEMPHIS PROGRAM BECAUSE SHE IS CAPABLE IN THREE VITAL AREAS. . . SHE CAN RECRUIT, SHE CAN PREPARE, PLAN AND DEVELOP TALENT AND SHE CAN X AND O WITH THE BEST OF THEM ON THE SIDELINES. SHE IS ONE OF THE BRIGHT OFFENSIVE MINDS IN OUR GAME AND HAS THE ADAPTATIONS AND FLEXIBILITY IN HER OFFENSIVE SYSTEM TO GIVE THE PLAYERS AT MEMPHIS IMMEDIATE SUCCESS . MCFERRIN WILL PUT MEMPHIS WOMENS BASKETBALL ON THE NATIONAL MAP AND ENHANCE CONFERENCE USA. HER PLAYERS AND THE FANS OF MEMPHIS BASKETBALL WILL HAVE A LOT OF FUN FOLLOWING THIS PROGRAM.

the top 20 at Minnesota, and helped guide two Kodak All-Americans, including WNBA players Lindsey Whalen and Janel McCarville. She has also coached WNBA players Adrienne Johnson and three-time Olympian Katie Smith in her time at Ohio State.

McFerrin's time at Minnesota came after a five-year association with the WNBA. She began her affiliation with the WNBA as an assistant coach with the New York Liberty from 1997-1999, assisting with coaching duties for the 1997 WNBA Championship runner-up Liberty squad. She moved to the Washington Mystics as an assistant coach in 1999-2000, taking over as the Mystics' General Manager in 2000. As the GM, she guided a team that made its first-ever WNBA play-off appearance in 2000, and handled all player trades and draft decisions before joining the coaching staff at Minnesota.

Her WNBA stint followed a 14-year coaching career that made three different stops. McFerrin began her coaching career as a graduate assistant at Wayland Baptist University in Texas from 1983-84. She was then hired as an assistant coach at Central Michigan University, where she helped the Chippewas to a 95-77 record in her six seasons, including a 1985 Mid-American Conference championship.

She left Central Michigan in 1990 to become an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at The Ohio State University. At Ohio State, she helped the Buckeyes to a 118-90 record and a 1993 Big Ten championship and an NCAA National Championship runner-up. That 1993 squad benefited from a 1992 McFerrin recruiting class that was ranked No. 1 in the nation, one of seven Buckeye recruiting classes to be nationally-ranked under McFerrin's watch at OSU. In 1996, McFerrin helped guide the Buckeyes to the NCAA Second Round before leaving the following season for the WNBA.

A native of Cassville, Mo., McFerrin was a four-year letterwinner and starting point guard for the University of Missouri Tigers from 1979 to 1983. She helped Missouri to a 1983 Big Eight tournament championship and NCAA tournament berth and a 1982 NCAA Sweet Sixteen appearance, earning Big Eight honorable mention honors and Scholar-Athlete awards along the way. She graduated cum laude with a degree in

WE'RE GOING TO PLAY FAST.

The faster we play, the better. We're going to recruit kids that can play fast, we've got a system that we play fast. We do not, however, play out of control. We'll be a team that runs -- make, miss, turnover, steal. We're going to be a team that keeps a lot of pressure on the defense because of the tempo at which we are going to play. We are not run and gun, we will still value the basketball and we will take very good shots, but we will also be a team again where tempo between the circles is going to be incredibly important.

DANIELLE O'BANION

ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON
BOSTON COLLEGE, 2001

Danielle O'Banion joined the staff at the University of Memphis in June of 2008. O'Banion spent the past season coaching at Episcopal High School in Virginia after spending five seasons as an assistant coach at the University of Minnesota.

"We are so fortunate to have Danielle complete our coaching staff at the University of Memphis," McFerrin said. "Danielle is one of the brightest young coaches in the country, has an extensive recruiting network, and is an exceptional basketball mind. She competed at a nationally elite level and has coached on the staff of a Final Four team. Her contributions will be seen immediately in the areas of recruiting, perimeter player development and team defensive concepts."

O'Banion played her college basketball at Boston College from 1997 to 2001, helping the Eagles to the first two NCAA berths in school history in 1999 and 2000. With O'Banion in the line-up, BC advanced to the second round in both NCAA tournament appearances. A team co-captain as a senior, O'Banion earned a degree in psychology in 2001, receiving Big East Academic All-Star honors. She also participated in the NCAA Leadership Conference in the summer of 2003 and served as a member of the Student-Athlete Advisory Board throughout her college career.

Following her playing career, O'Banion spent one season as an assistant coach at Harvard University (2001-02). There, she coached the guards, while assisting in recruiting and scouting. She also served as Harvard's junior varsity head coach, and helped the Crimson varsity squad win the Ivy League title and earn an NCAA tournament spot.

"The opportunity to join the University of Memphis family is one that I could not let pass," O'Banion said. "The enthusiasm and excitement about women's basketball in the city, combined with the university's commitment to our program's success make it a great time to be a Tiger. I have the utmost confidence that we will return to Conference USA prominence."

O'Banion is a native of Arlington, Va. She is a graduate of Episcopal High School.

TEMPIE BROWN

ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON
MICHIGAN, 1990

Tempie Brown joined the University of Memphis women's basketball staff in May of 2008 after spending the past four seasons as an assistant coach at Northwestern University in Chicago.

"Tempie brings an incredible amount of high-level recruiting basketball experience to the University of Memphis," McFerrin said. "She will hit the ground running in recruiting and has contacts in some of our key recruiting areas, meaning Chicago and Detroit, and will certainly make a home here in Memphis as well. She was an elite level basketball player in the Big 10 (playing at Michigan) and we expect her to bring that expertise to our program. "

Brown played at the University of Michigan from 1987-1990, graduating with a degree in kinesiology, also earning her master's degree in exercise physiology in 1992. On the court, she still ranks in the career top 10 in scoring with 1,142 points and ranks in the top 20 in scoring average, steals and assists. A four-year letterwinner, she was a two-time team co-captain and was named the team's Most Improved player in 1988, the same season she earned All-Big 10 Honorable Mention honors.

After coaching at the high school and AAU levels, Brown began her college coaching career in 2000 as an assistant coach for Saginaw Valley State. There, she worked primarily with recruiting as well as scouting opponents. She also worked closely with the post players and coordinated summer camp efforts.

She then went on to Eastern Michigan for the 2000-2001 season. There, she oversaw the academic progress of the student-athletes, and was also responsible for compliance issues as well as film exchange. She also helped the Eagles' marketing department to put together EMU's four-team tournament and played a major role in the team's strength and conditioning. The Eagles responded with a school-record 18 wins.

Brown left Eastern Michigan to join the staff at Lehigh in 2002. At Lehigh, Brown oversaw the guards and assisted in recruiting and compliance as well as strength and conditioning, helping the Mountain Hawks to a school-record number of Patriot League wins in her first season, a feat the team repeated in her final season at Lehigh.

She left Lehigh in 2004 to join the staff at Northwestern, where she handled compliance, player development, scouting and recruiting. She also served as the director for Northwestern's summer basketball camp. While at Northwestern, she also helped sign the No. 18 ranked recruiting class of 2007.

A native of West Palm Beach, Fla., Brown grew up in Denver, Colo., and will help with recruiting and individual player development and will serve as the team's academic liaison at Memphis.

MICHAEL WHOLEY

ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON
EMERSON COLLEGE, 2004

Michael Wholey joined the University of Memphis women's basketball staff in May of 2008 as the first hire at Memphis for head coach Melissa McFerrin. This marks the second season Wholey will work under McFerrin, as he was also an assistant on McFerrin's staff at American for the 2007-08 season.

Wholey's duties at Memphis will include handling perimeter player development, coordinating scouting and film exchange, directing Melissa McFerrin's Hoops School and serving as a liaison to the Fastbreak Club. In addition to those duties, Wholey will also handle a share of recruiting duties, with a specific concentration on the Memphis area.

"In a few short months, I have seen firsthand the excitement that surrounds the University of Memphis basketball program," Wholey said. "This is a city that lives and breathes Tiger basketball. I am really anxious to get this season started and to help restore this storied program to the top of Conference USA."

At American, Wholey held similar duties during his one season in Washington, DC. While with the Eagles, the team won a school-record 12 straight games (including an undefeated road record in conference), capturing its first-ever Patriot League conference title, and appearing in the post season for only the third time in school history. As the perimeter coach, he played a key role in the development of First Team All Conference selection, Liz Hayes.

Prior to American, Wholey held positions in both the WNBA and at the junior college level. For two seasons, he served as Video & Travel Coordinator of the San Antonio Silver Stars in the WNBA. There, he was responsible for all aspects of team travel, as well as handling all video responsibilities, including both opponent and self-scouting. He also worked closely with the coaching staff in putting together opponent scouting reports. While in Texas, Wholey also had a stint as an assistant coach with the nationally-ranked junior college, the Odessa College Wranglers, in Odessa, TX.

Wholey earned his bachelor's degree in Visual and Media Arts from Emerson College in 2004 and was also member of the men's basketball team. After graduating, Wholey got his start as the Video Coordinator for the Boston University men's basketball team.

The Marshfield, Mass., native is the son of Paul and Nancy Wholey. Wholey played for his father at Marshfield High School. Both of Wholey's siblings play college basketball. His brother Bryan graduated from Bates College in Lewiston, Maine in May 2008 and his sister Katie is entering her junior year at Tufts University in Somerville, Massachusetts.

TONY MARTIN

DIR. OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS
FIRST SEASON
MEMPHIS, 2003

Tony Martin is in his first season as the Director of Basketball Operations for the women's basketball program, joining the staff in June of 2008.

But Martin is no stranger to the Memphis area, having graduated from the university in 2003 and spending the last seven seasons working with the Memphis Redbirds organization, including the last four as the team's Manager of Baseball Operations. He started at the Redbirds in 2002 as a group sales intern. He then worked with the team in 2003 as an operations intern, assisting in all player operations, including travel, transactions, equipment and working with the team's parent club, the St. Louis Cardinals. Later in 2003, he was hired as the Redbirds' Operations Coordinator, overseeing the recruiting, hiring and training of 18 interns and assisting in the planning and implementation of all AutoZone Park rentals and special events.

He was promoted to the Redbirds' Manager of Baseball Operations in December of 2004, a position he held until rejoining the Tigers. As the Manager of Baseball Operations, he coordinated team travel, served as an umpire liaison, oversaw the operation of an $80 million facility and oversaw a staff that included eight full time staff members, 18 interns and 250 game day employees. He also coordinated such major events as the Inaugural National Civil Rights baseball game, four Major League Baseball exhibition games and numerous Tiger baseball games that were played at AutoZone Park.

"My father was a basketball coach for 30 years and basketball has always been in my blood," Martin said. "Getting the opportunity to work in the game I love is exciting, but working for my alma mater is a dream come true. This is a program on the rise and with the staff we have in place and the great city of Memphis behind us, we are destined for great things."

This will be Martin's second stint with the Athletic Department, who also worked as an intern in group sales for the Tiger football team in 2001 and assisted with other marketing duties for football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball and soccer.

Martin graduated from the University of Memphis in May of 2003 with a degree in Sports Management. He is a native of Camden, Tenn. and a graduate of Camden Central High School. He and his wife, Annie, have one daughter, Macee, and reside in Southaven.

08-09 PREVIEW

2008-09 MEMPHIS BASKETBALL SEASON PREVIEW

THE UNIVERSITY OF MEMPHIS WOMENS BASKETBALL TEAM HAS A NEW PLAN AND A NEW LOOK FOR THE UPCOMING 2008-09 SEASON WITH THE HIRING OF A NEW COACHING STAFF AND WITH AN INFLUX OF FIVE NEW PLAYERS.

THE COACHES

The change started on April 19, 2008 when Melissa McFerrin was hired by Memphis as the fourth head coach in the program's modern history. McFerrin, the 2007-08 Patriot League Coach of the Year, had just helped American University to its first post-season appearance since 1997-98 with a regular season title and a WNIT appearance, and brings with her basketball experience from not only the college ranks, but also from the professional ranks as both an assistant coach and a general manager in the WNBA.

McFerrin quickly moved to hire Michael Wholey, one of her assistants from American, to her Memphis staff, giving her someone who was familiar with her level of expectations for the program and her playing style. She then tapped former Northwestern University assistant coach Tempie Brown to bring not only Big 10 playing and coaching experience, but to also bring some Midwest recruiting contacts in cities such as Chicago and Detroit. McFerrin rounded out her coaching staff with the hire of Danielle O'Banion, who had served on the staff at Minnesota with McFerrin when the team advanced to the Final Four.

"I will be proud to present the credentials of our entire coaching staff to high school recruits, coaches and parents," McFerrin said. "Their players and daughters will benefit from exposure to coaches with elite level experiences. Few staffs can claim such extensive playing backgrounds -- Final Four, WNBA, and USA Basketball experiences. I feel very fortunate to have this staff represent the University of Memphis."

McFerrin put the final piece of her staff puzzle in place with the hiring of Memphis graduate and Tennessee native Tony Martin as the Director of Basketball Operations. Martin brings a lot of experience to the program from an operations standpoint, having spent the past seven seasons with the Memphis Redbirds, the AAA affiliate of the St. Louis Cardinals. He was the team's Manager of Baseball Operations for the last four seasons and brings a knowledge of Memphis to a coaching staff who is trying to quickly become acclimated with the city and the region.

THE TEAM

Memphis returns eight letterwinners from last year's 10-20 squad that finished seventh in the league. Seniors Jessica Jackson, Paris Leonard and Ashley Thornton give Memphis leadership throughout different positions in the line-up, while junior point guard LaToya Bullard comes back after a 100-assist season, despite not being eligible per NCAA transfer rules for the first semester of the 2007-08 season. All four of last year's freshmen now make up the sophomore class, with Shekeira Copeland, Savannah Ellis, Shae Seagraves and Alex Winchell all having played multiple games for the Tigers last season.

THE SENIORS

Memphis had one early signee who reported this fall, freshman forward Laquawanda Sippio. She was joined by two other spring signees in the freshman class, fellow forward Christine Lesane and guard Ramses Lonlack. A pair of transfers round out the 2008-09 roster, as junior college All-American Tehani Goldsmith comes in to strengthen the guard corps for this season, while University of Georgia transfer Brittany Carter will practice against her Memphis guard teammates this season while sitting out game days per NCAA transfer rules. Carter is the third SEC transfer in to the Memphis program, joining teammates Jessica Jackson and LaToya Bullard, who both transferred in to the program from the University of Florida.

THE BACKCOURT

Memphis returns two of its starting guards from last season in point guard LaToya Bullard and shooting guard Paris Leonard. Bullard started 19 of 22 games she played in last season, handing out 103 assists and finishing tied for fourth on the team with 31 steals. She scored double-digit points in 10 games, including a 27-point effort in the team's loss to Tulsa in the Conference USA tournament. Against league foes, Bullard averaged 5.8 assists per game, ranking her fourth in Conference USA.

Leonard will likely be the program's next 1,000 career point scorer, heading in to the season opener with 884 career points, including 101 field goals made from three-point range. Leonard scored double-digits in 18 of the team's 30 games, but just eight of those double-digit games were against league foes. Leonard was one of the better rebounding guards for Memphis last season, finishing second on the team with 53 offensive rebounds and third on the team with 133 total rebounds. Leonard also led Memphis with 59 steals on the season, giving her 131 thefts for her three-year Tiger career.

With the graduation of Jessica Hall, the team's leading scorer from last season with 13.0 ppg and 52 three-point field goals made, the door will be open for one of the newcomers to make their mark. Junior college transfer Tehani Goldsmith may have a bit of an edge in that competition with two years of college playing experience already under her belt. At Yavapai College in Arizona last season, Goldsmith set a new school scoring record with 598 points and 51 three-point field goals made. The ACCAC Player of the Year in a league that included the No. 1 ranked junior college in the country, Goldsmith also led the team with 71 steals and finished fourth on the team in rebounding. In addition to her shooting, Goldsmith has some college experience at point guard, as she started her post-secondary playing career at Cowley Community College in Kansas as the team's starting point guard.

Memphis also returns some experience at guard with the return of sophomore Alex Winchell. Winchell capped her freshman campaign with 149 points (5.0/game) and 59 assists, second on the team. The Georgia native also became a threat from three-point range as the season went on, knocking down 30.9 percent of her attempts to become the team's third-leading threat from beyond the arc with 30 field goals made. She took some big shots from three-point range as a freshman, getting off a half-court shot that bounced off the rim in her first collegiate game, and knocking down the game-winning three off a feed from LaToya Bullard in the program's first-ever win at East Carolina.

Freshman Ramses Lonlack rounds out the back court for this season, as her backcourt counterpart, Brittany Carter, will have to sit out the 2008-09 season after transferring from the University of Georgia in the summer. Lonlack is an athletic guard who the team will lean on for defensive stops. Also a prolific scorer, Lonlack scored 1,091 career points at Stoneleigh Burnham, despite only playing basketball there for two-and-a-half seasons after coming to the United States from her native Cameroon.

Carter will be able to practice against her Memphis teammates this year, giving the team a look at an extremely athletic guard in preparation for the non-conference and league opposing guards. Carter was the No. 21 ranked player in the country by the All-Star Girls Report coming out of Newton County High School in Georgia, and appeared in 14 games, averaging 3.4 points and 1.6 rebounds per game at the University of Georgia last year. A former AAU teammate of Alex Winchell's with the Georgia Nike Elite team, Carter will be considered a redshirt this season and will have three years of eligibility remaining beginning with the 2009-2010 season.

THE FRONTCOURT

Heading in to this season, Memphis will have more depth in the front court than it has had in a few seasons. Seven different players will fill the frontcourt spots, including seniors Jessica Jackson and Ashley Thornton and sophomores Shekeira Copeland, Savannah Ellis and Shae Seagraves, who all bring playing experience from last year in to this season.

Jackson has the game to be a force in Conference USA, ranking sixth in the league last season with 1.39 blocked shots per game. Jackson was also one of five Memphis players to finish with over 100 rebounds last season, despite only being eligible to play in the second semester games after sitting out the first season for NCAA transfer rules. A 6-3 post player with some range, Jackson averaged 6.4 points per game last year, but had her best game of the C-USA season at East Carolina, where she scored 18 points with nine rebounds in the program's first-ever road win at ECU.

The addition of Jackson to the line-up last year meant yet another position switch for Ashley Thornton. Thornton played the five her entire sophomore season, then played the five again for the first semester her junior year while Jackson was fulfilling her transfer requirements. Once Jackson came in to fill the center of the offense, Thornton was allowed to move back to a forward spot, where she continued to be the team's most consistent rebounder. Thornton has led Memphis in each of the past two seasons in rebounding, with 7.2 rebounds per game last year, ranking ninth in Conference USA. Thornton also worked hard on her offensive game in the off-season between her sophomore and junior seasons, improving from a 38.7 percent shooter to a 45.2 percent shooter from the floor. The team's fourth-leading scorer with 9.2 ppg, Thornton should be able to stay at forward this season with sophomore post Savannah Ellis also returning.

Ellis was named the team's Most Improved Player last season, appearing in 29 of the team's 30 games and averaging 2.7 points and 3.1 rebounds per game. Ellis also helped patrol the paint for Memphis, stuffing 18 blocks, ranking second on the team, despite averaging just 10.6 minutes per game. With McFerrin's offense being more up tempo, the posts ability to run the floor in transition and defend the paint may dictate playing time for the three returnees (Jackson, Thornton or Ellis).

On the wings, sophomore Shekeira Copeland and Shae Seagraves both have limited experience after playing behind Thornton and now-graduated Aroha Jennings last season. Seagraves is still making the transition from the guard spot to a forward spot, a move she made late in her freshman season, while Copeland, who saw action in 22 games, is hoping with more playing time now available, she will be able to demonstrate the ability to score that she showed when finishing with 12 points in 20 minutes of play off the bench at Creighton.

The loss of Jennings means the loss of 8.0 points and 4.6 rebounds per game and both Copeland and Seagraves appeared in over 20 games last season and should help fill the gap from Jennings' graduation. Freshmen forwards Laquawanda Sippio and Christine Lesane could also help fill the gap.

THE JUNIORS

Sippio was a fall signee for Memphis and opted to stay with the school despite the coaching change. A 5-11 forward who has already weathered a lot of personal challenges after evacuating her native New Orleans due to Hurricane Katrina, Sippio is an athletic forward who helped her team to state titles in both her junior and senior seasons.

Lesane is another athletic signee for McFerrin's up-tempo system, bringing a player who is used to scoring through contact.

THE SCHEDULE

Memphis will open its 2008-09 schedule with seven of its first nine games at home.

The Tigers open against Northern Arizona on Nov. 14th, then goes on the road to Nashville to face Belmont, Nov. 16th. The Tigers return home for a second game in the Fieldhouse against Louisiana Tech on Nov. 18th, then venture down the road to Oxford, Miss., to face the first of three SEC opponents on this year's schedule with a Nov. 21st game at Ole Miss.

The Tigers will then welcome back-to-back opponents with new head coaches to round out November. Memphis will host Semeka Randall's Ohio University squad, a 20-13 team a year ago, on Nov. 24th. Just four days later, Memphis will again face another coach new to her program in the opening game of the 24th Annual Piggly Wiggly Classic. Memphis will face Wichita State and new head coach Jody Adams in the first round, then will face either Stephen F. Austin, a team that swept the Southland with a 16-0 record two seasons ago, or Jacksonville State, a team returning all five starters from last year, on the secnod day of the tournament.

Memphis will then head downtown to FedExForum for back-to-back games, hosting SEC rival Arkansas in the 19th meeting between the two programs, Dec. 3rd. That game will be followed by fall semester exams, then a Dec. 11th meeting downtown against South Alabama, a 20-11 team that finished third in the Sun Belt last season.

The Tigers will face the final SEC opponent of the regular season schedule, Dec. 13th when the team travels to Starkville, Miss., to face Mississippi State in Humphrey Coliseum.

Memphis will step on to a plane for the first time of the fall semester on Dec. 16th when the team packs the passports and heads for the beaches of the Bahamas to participate in the Sunsplash Shootout. The Tigers will face the Mavericks of the University of Texas-Arlington in the opening round of the tournament on Dec. 18th. The Mavericks capped last season with a 19-10 overall record and tied for second in the Southland Conference behind Texas State. The Tigers will then face either Georgia Tech or Winthrop in the second day of competition on Dec. 20th. Both teams have some familiarity with the Tigers as former Tiger assistant coach Sytia Messner is now the associate head coach at Georgia Tech, while Winthrop faced Memphis just two seasons ago in the season-opening tournament at Louisville.

Memphis will return home following the semester break to wrap up the non-conference slate on the road at Tennessee Tech. Cookeville, Tenn., has been one of the tougher places for a Memphis team to play historically. Memphis is just 5-15 all-time against TTU, and is 1-4 against the Golden Eagles in Cookeville.

Similar to the opening of the non-conference schedule, Memphis will also have some home-court advantage in the opening of the league slate. The schedule opens against travel partner UAB on Jan. 4th, a team Memphis has not beaten since 2003-04.

The Tigers then host UCF and Southern Miss in the first two-game league weekend on Jan. 8th and 10th, respectively. UCF upended Memphis in the Elma Roane Fieldhouse on Senior Day last season, while Southern Miss returns all five starters from a team that went 21-14 last season and advanced to the third round of the WNIT tournament.

THE SOPHOMORES

After the home start, the Tigers will hit the road for four straight games, making a weekend stay in Houston to face Rice and Houston. The trip to Rice will be just the third trip Memphis has ever made to Rice, and the team is still winless in Houston against the Owls. The Houston team across town has not been much nicer to the Tigers, as Memphis carries a four-game winless streak against the Cougars in to Hofheinz Pavillion, where a Memphis team was last victorious in 2002-03.

After the tandem of games in Houston, Memphis will head back to the airport the following weekend for a trip to East Carolina (Jan. 22nd) and Marshall (Jan. 24th). Memphis picked up its first-ever win in Greenville last year to complete a regular season sweep of ECU, but then heads to Marshall to face a Thundering Herd team against which Memphis is still winless in seven attempts.

The Tigers will close out January with a pair of home games, facing defending regular season champion UTEP, Jan. 29th, at FedExForum, then facing Tulane, a team that is looking to avenge a Memphis victory in New Orleans last season, Jan. 31st.

February opens on the road at UAB, the site of the last Memphis victory in the series, on Feb. 7th, then the Tigers return home to begin a split weekend against West Division opponents by hosting SMU, then traveling to Tulsa to face the Golden Hurricane on Feb. 12th and 15th, respectively.

The final home games of the year will be the return part of the home-and-home series against East Division foes East Carolina (Feb. 20th) and Marshall (Feb. 22nd). The regular season closes out on the road at UCF (Feb. 26th) and Southern Miss (Feb. 28th) before the Conference USA tournament begins on Mar. 5th at Tulane University in New Orleans.

THE FRESHMEN

THE SYSTEM

The hire of Melissa McFerrin will mean a lot of new things for the Tiger faithful, including a new-look offense that is more up-tempo and a defense that relies on ball-pressure and getting out in transition. And to do that, the Tigers will step on the throttle a bit more than in the past, pushing the ball.

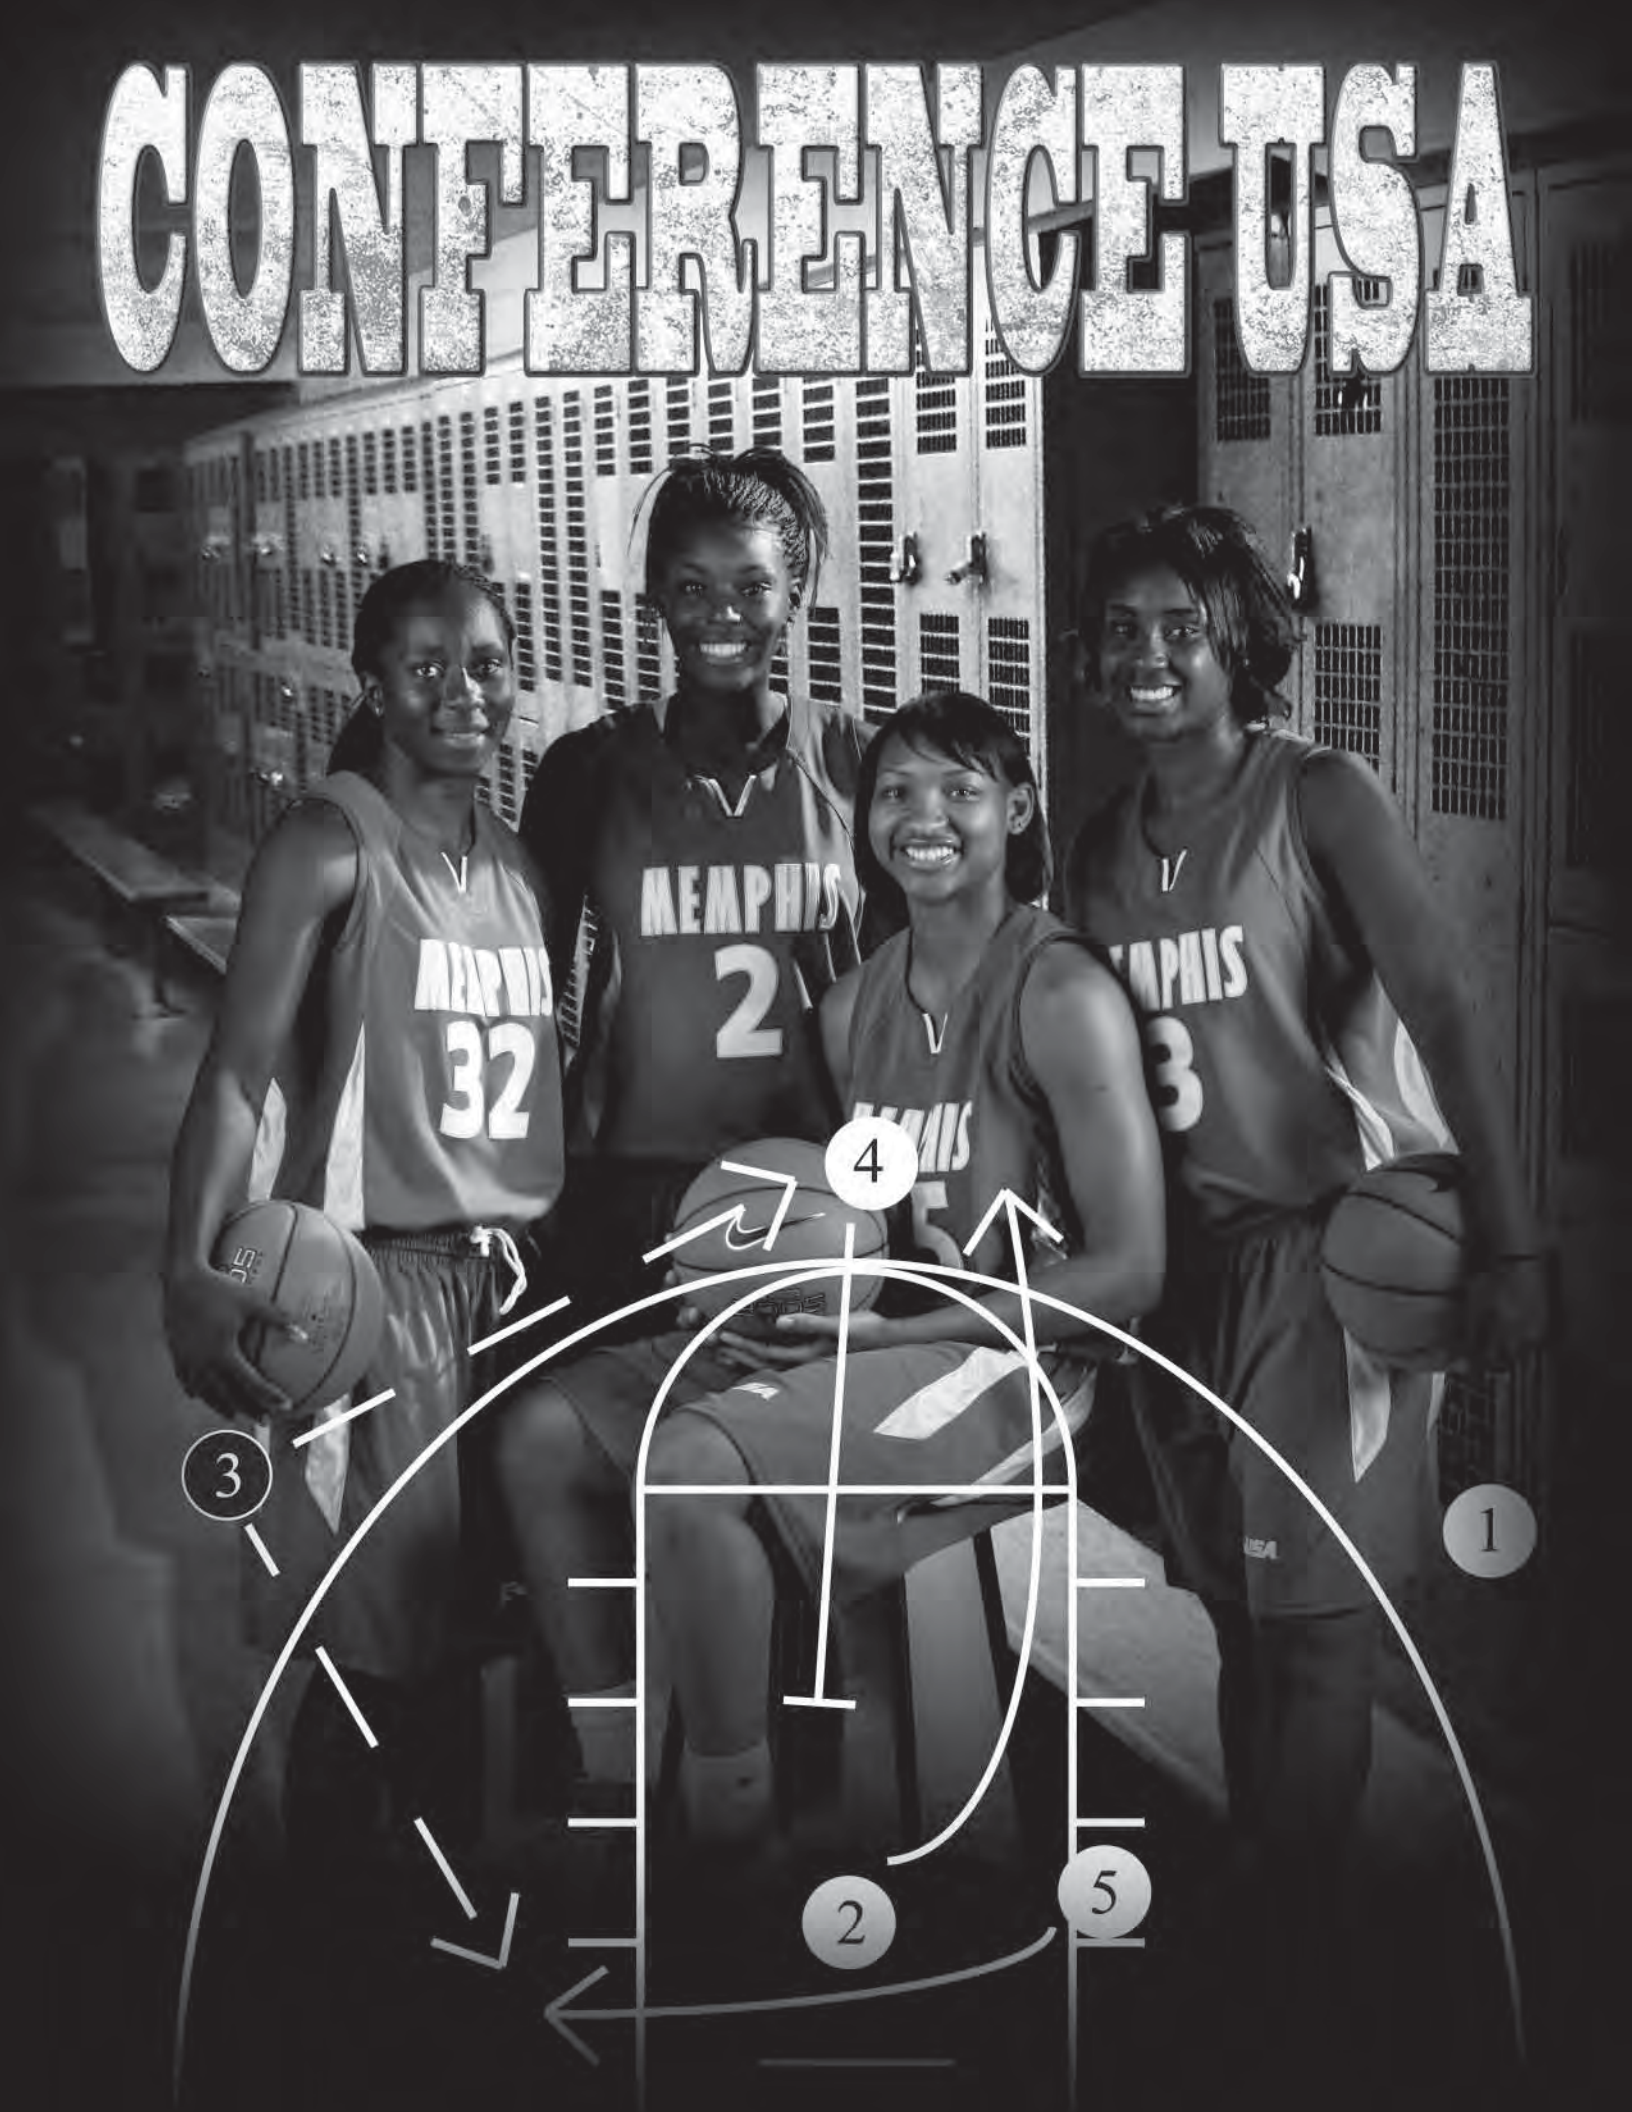

"We're going to play a four-out, one in motion, and we're going to play fast. The faster we play, the better," McFerrin said. "We're going to recruit kids that can play fast, we've got a system that we play fast, we do not, however, play out of control. We'll be a team that runs make, miss, turnover, steal. We're going to be a team that keeps a lot of pressure on the defense because of the tempo at which we are going to play."

A key component to the new system working may just be the work Memphis does before the season starts in conditioning. And in the true sense of the newness of this season, Memphis even has a new strength and conditioning coach, Mike Jenkins, a graduate of Texas A&M University. Jenkins and the Tiger coaching staff will have to get the team prepped for playing fast.

All the work in the pre-season is pointed toward one thing, becoming the class of the league.

"I unashamedly state that our goals are to be the class of Conference USA, to get back to the NCAA Tournament, and once we get there, to have the opportunity to compete and advance," McFerrin said.

The league has also had three national champions in NCAA track and field competition, one national champion in diving and numerous NCAA individual and team competitors in cross country, golf, swimming, tennis and track and field. Overall, Conference USA teams and individuals have made more than 500 NCAA appearances.

C-USA AND THE BCS

The Bowl Championship Series (BCS) is a five-game arrangement for post-season college football that is designed to match the two top-rated teams in a national championship game and to create exciting and competitive match ups between eight other highly regarded teams in four other games. The bowl games participating are the Fiesta Bowl, Orange Bowl, Rose Bowl and Sugar Bowl. In addition, a BCS National Championship Game will be played at one of the bowl sites.

The Conference USA champion (along with the champions of the Mid-American Conference, the Mountain West Conference, the Sun Belt Conference, and the Western Athletic Conference) will have an automatic berth in one of the five bowls if, and only if:

- It is a Conference Champion; and Either...
- It is ranked in the top 12 of the BCS Standings on Bowl Selection Sunday;
- It is ranked in the top 16 of the BCS Standings on Bowl Selection Sunday, and its ranking in the BCS Standings is better than that of a champion of a conference that has an annual automatic berth in one of the BCS bowl games.

SUCCESS OFF THE FIELD

C-USA institutions are among the nation's best in academic performance among student-athletes, bolstered by the fact that student-athletes at league schools have a higher graduation rate than the general student population. Among C-USA's 5,000 student-athletes, there are champions off the playing field as well. In 13 years, 115 student-athletes earned national ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America honors, while 405 were named All-District. In addition, more than 15,000 student-athletes have been named to the Commissioner's Honor Roll or received the Commissioner's Academic Medal, indicative of outstanding achievement in the classroom.

C-USA ON TV

C-USA enjoys significant television exposure through its partnerships with ESPN Inc. and CBS College Sports Television Networks (formerly CSTV). The league entered into long-term agreements with both ESPN and CBS College Sports, which, combined, provides C-USA with significant national and regional exposure for football, men's and women's basketball, and all other conference sports. Additionally, the CBS College Sports agreement includes video-on-demand, Internet, broadband, national over-the-air and satellite radio, and wireless distribution as well as corporate marketing rights, and website production through CSTV.com, part of CBS College Sports. The agreement with ESPN extends the conference's current regular season football package to include the broadcast of the conference's Football Championship Game. It also encompasses distribution of men's basketball and women's basketball on ESPN/ESPN2 and both tournament championship games.

C-USA IN THE COMMUNITY

The conference's footprint is concentrated with 12 members in nine states and a combined area population of nearly 17 million. More than 1.1 million living alumni represent C-USA schools across the nation. With a renewed commitment to community involvement, the conference has begun development of several initiatives to maintain strong ties in C-USA cities, as well as with fans and alumni across the country. C-USA schools also place a priority on giving back to their communities through volunteer service with local and national organizations.

GOVERNANCE

Along with the ACC, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and SEC, Conference USA is one of the seven conferences having significant representation in the NCAA governance structure. The Presidents of the member institutions serve as the league's Board of Directors. R. Gerald Turner of SMU currently serves as chair of the Board.

A PROUD HISTORY; A PROMISING FUTURE

Conference USA was formed in 1995 and quickly emerged as one of the nation's top conferences. The conference unveiled its name, logo and commissioner on April 24, 1995 in Chicago. The league's charter members included Charlotte, Cincinnati, DePaul, Houston, Louisville, Marquette, Memphis, Saint Louis, Southern Miss, Tulane, UAB and USF. Eleven of the institutions began athletic participation in 1995, while Houston joined competition in the fall of 1996.

The league's headquarters were established in Chicago and after nine years, relocated to the current office in Irving, Texas. Britton Banowsky was named Commissioner in October 2002, succeeding Mike Slive, the league's first commissioner.

C-USA added East Carolina (September, 1996) and the United States Military Academy (March, 1997) as football members. ECU began league competition in 1997; Army in 1998 and UAB began football play in 1999. The league added TCU and ECU (1999) for all sports and they began competition in 2001. USF started C-USA football in 2003.

After celebrating its 10th Anniversary during the 2004-05 season, C-USA began a new chapter in 2005-06 when its current membership came together to form the new look of the league.

Since its formation, C-USA has established a strong foundation, an identity and a history that reflects the league's national presence. Thirteen years of remarkable history has reinforced the league's position in collegiate athletics, setting the course for the next decade and beyond.

Junior Paris Leonard was named the 2005-2006 Conference USA Sixth Player of the Year.

07-08 REVIEW

PARIS LEONARD

2007-08 YEAR IN REVIEW

BEST LEAGUE SEED SINCE 2004

After going 7-9 in league play and ending up in a three-way tie for sixth with Marshall and East Carolina, the Tigers were the No. 7 seed for the Conference USA Championships held for the first-ever time at UCF in Orlando, Fla. The previous highest seed had been a No. 6 seed in 2003-04.

GRADUATING OFFENSE

Aroha Jennings and Jessica Hall each ended their respective Memphis careers following the 2007-08 season ranked among the top 53 scorers in school history; despite each player only playing two seasons for the Tigers.

Jennings caps her two-year career with 607 career points, good enough for 41st in school history. Jennings was a transfer from Dodge City Community College in Kansas.

Hall capped her career 53rd overall in scoring with 496 career points. After sitting out two seasons due to injury, Hall graduated on time in the classroom and decided to hang up her Memphis uniform after graduation.

JESSICA HALL NAMED FINALIST FOR V FOUNDATION COMEBACK AWARD

After coming back from three separate Achilles surgeries over two seasons, junior guard Jessica Hall was named one of 14 national finalists for the V Foundation Comeback Award. The honor is given annually to a men's or women's basketball player from any college basketball team who has accomplished a personal triumph in the face of true adversity.

100 ASSISTS IN LESS THAN THREE-QUARTERS OF A SEASON

Sophomore point guard LaToya Bullard led Memphis with 103 assists on the season, becoming the first player since Tamika Butler in 2005-06 to have 100 or more assists in a single season. While 23 other Tigers have had 100-assist seasons, what makes Bullard's accomplishment impressive is she played less than 75 percent of Memphis' schedule. She had to sit out the first seven games of the season due to NCAA transfer rules, then missed the Houston game due to illness, meaning she played in 73.3 percent of the Tigers' season.

ANOTHER SEASON OF CONSISTENCY UNDER THE GLASS FOR THORNTON

For the second straight season, Ashley Thornton was the team's leading rebounder, finishing with 215 rebounds, 77 more than her nearest teammate and ranking ninth in the league with 7.1 rebounds per game, and finishing the season with four double-doubles.

Thornton also made a big improvement in the offense for Memphis, improving from a 38.7 percent shooter from the floor in her first year in Memphis as a sophomore to a 45.2 percent shooter in 2007-08.

RARE ROAD WINS IN LEAGUE

Memphis was 3-5 on the road in Conference USA play in 2007-08, picking up wins at Tulane, UCF, and East Carolina.

The win at Tulane was the program's first win in New Orleans since 2000-2001, snapping a two-game losing streak in the Big Easy for the women's program.

The win at UCF was Memphis' first win in Orlando over the Knights since UCF joined Conference USA, while the victory over East Carolina in Greenville was the program's first-ever win in North Carolina in five tries.

The ECU win also marked a league series sweep for the Tigers for the first time since a two-game sweep of former member Saint Louis in 2003-04.

A SLOW START AND PICKING UP MOMENTUM

Memphis struggled early in the season, starting with a 3-12 overall record through its first 15 games. Included in that run were a pair of overtime losses (to Toledo and Arkansas Pine Bluff) and an 82-77 loss to Louisiana Tech in the championship game of the Lady Tiger Thanksgiving Classic.

But after dropping a pair of league games to open the schedule, Memphis went 7-6 over the next 13 games to vault in to a tie for fifth in the C-USA standings with two weeks to play. A loss at Marshall, where the Tigers led at the half before losing Jessica Hall to a shoulder injury for the second half, and against UCF in the regular season finale, dropped Memphis in to a tie for sixth at the end of the regular season.

POSTSEASON AWARDS

At the post-season banquet, freshman Savannah Ellis was named the Most Improved Player, while Paris Leonard was named the Defensive MVP. Jessica Hall received the Offensive MVP Award, and Ashley Thornton received both the Lady Tiger award and the Les Phillips Memorial Award.

LEONARD LINES UP FOR HISTORICAL POINTS

Junior guard Paris Leonard finished the season with 348 points, pushing her to 884 points so far in her three-year Tiger career. She knocked down her 100th career three-point field goal against UCF in the Tigers' regular season finale in the Elma Roane Fieldhouse on Mar. 1st.

At the end of the 2007-08 season, Leonard already ranks 22nd in career scoring at Memphis with 884 points.

Leonard's 101 career three-point field goals ranks sixth all-time at Memphis, while she also ranks 22nd in career steals with 131.

SAVAGE ENDS MEMPHIS COACHING AFFILIATION

On. Mar. 3rd, Head Coach Blair Savage resigned from the University of Memphis, ending a 12-year coaching affiliation with the program.

Savage came to the Tigers in 1994-95 as the team's restricted earnings coach and was named an assistant coach in 1996. She had planned on leaving Memphis before the 2002-03 season to join her husband in central Tennessee, but stayed on through the season at the team's request. She joined her husband in the Nashville area in 2003-04, also serving as an assistant coach at Belmont University. She returned to Memphis as the program's third-head coach on June 10th, 2004.

100TH C-USA VICTORY

Memphis' 64-60 victory over Southern Miss on Feb. 28, 2008 was the program's 100th Conference USA win. Only Tulane has more C-USA wins of the current league membership.

ROSTER CHANGES, PLANNED AND OTHERWISE

Heading in to the season, the Tigers knew they would gain the services of both Jessica Jackson and LaToya Bullard at the non-conference game against Belmont. Memphis was also regaining junior guard Jessica Hall, who had missed two straight seasons with three separate injuries requiring surgery.

But the roster also underwent three surprising losses early in the year.

Sophomore Hope Adams was lost to the team after nine games due to medical reasons, while sophomore guard Se'erra Fantroy decided to transfer closer to her native Nebraska following the Lady Tiger Thanksgiving Classic tournament in November.

Six games later, sophomore forward Alysse Davis announced that she wanted to transfer closer to her native Corpus Christi, Texas, and was given her release.

So plus one, minus two, plus two, minus one went the Tiger roster, capping the season with 12 players in uniform.

BETTER ON THE ROAD?

In the first six league games, the Tigers were two different teams. On the road, Memphis had seven different players averaging 6.0 or more points, but at home against league foes, the offense became more stagnant. Outside of Jessica Hall, Paris Leonard and LaToya Bullard all averaging double-digit points, the entire rest of the team combined to average just 9.4 points among seven different players with three players scoreless at home in league play early in the year.

Memphis was also out-rebounded by 10.0 rebounds per game at home through the first three league home games, while trailing by 4.3 boards per game on the road.

SOMETHING ABOUT FEDEXFORUM?

Against UAB, the Tigers again gave up a double-digit halftime lead and ended up with a loss. Memphis fell 72-66 to UAB in the NBA arena after giving up a double-digit lead and falling in overtime to Toledo earlier in the season.

The Tigers fell to 0-5 all-time in the building with the loss and to 0-2 against Conference USA opponents in the building.

TAKING DOWN THE CONFERENCE CHAMPS

Memphis had a pretty remarkable run against the teams that C-USA honors the previous season.

The Tigers went on the road to win at Tulane (the defending regular season champs) and swept two games from defending tournament champion, East Carolina.

HALL TAKES CHARGE

After starting the conference schedule with an 0-2 mark, junior guard Jessica Hall had apparently had enough. Hall exploded for a career-high 21 points in a win over East Carolina that snapped a four-game losing streak.

Hall shot 8-for-12 from the field and 5-for-6 from three-point range, stating after the game that she had never had such a productive shooting night. The 69-50 victory over the defending C-USA tournament champs was the first league win of the season.

TOTAL TEAM EFFORT

WINCHELL FOR THE WIN

Greenville, N.C. is a place the Tiger women's basketball team has never found success at...until 2007-08.

The game at ECU this time was a tight-knit affair with neither team able to pull ahead by more than four points.

With the Tigers trailing 57-54 with 2:17 to play, junior guard Paris Leonard drained a three to send the game to its seventh tie of the night with 2:17 remaining. Leonard then got a defensive rebound off a LaCoya Terry missed jumper, which the Tigers then turned over. But Jasmine Young then turned the ball right back over for ECU, putting the ball in the Tigers' hands after the team called time-out with 43 seconds to play. In the huddle, Savage drew up a play for Bullard to continue slashing through the paint and either convert the lay-up or find Jessica Jackson, who had scored 18 points already in the game.

But the ECU defense packed the paint and cut off the drive, fronting the post and leaving Bullard pivoting on one foot in the paint. The sophomore guard caught a glimpse of freshman Alex Winchell spotted up on the wing, and delivered the ball. Winchell hit the three-point field goal to put Memphis up 60-57 with 35 seconds to play.

Nicole Days quickly answered with a lay-up on the other end and ECU began fouling to get the ball back. Memphis failed to take advantage at the free-throw line after Leonard missed the front end of the one-and-one and Winchell tracked down the offensive rebound, as Young fouled out of the game after fouling Winchell. But after Winchell missed both attempts at the line, ECU got the ball back and drove the length of the floor. But with Young not in the game, Leonard stepped in front of LaCoya Terry and drew a charge call, which sent the ECU bench into an uproar, drawing a technical foul. Aroha Jennings then hit one of two free-throws to secure the 61-59 win.

LaToya Bullard was only eligible for 73.3 percent of Memphis' season, but still managed to record the 25th 100-assist season in school history.

form, sophomore point guard LaToya Bullard turned in one of the school's top single-game performances against UAPB. She had eight steals in the overtime loss, tying the sixth-best single game performance record. The eight steals ties a mark shared with 10 other players. It did set a new school single game mark for sophomores, breaking Tamika Butler's mark of seven steals.

FREE BASKETBALL!

For the first time in school history, the Tigers played back-to-back overtime games against Arkansas-Pine Bluff (UAPB) and Toledo. Unfortunately, Memphis lost both games, giving up a 14-point second half lead against Toledo and a 14-point lead with 4:45 remaining against UAPB.

The losses drop the Tigers to 5-11 all-time in overtime and 0-3 in overtime under Coach Savage.

The last time Memphis has won a game in overtime was in the 2000-2001 season at USF, 81-71.

The Tigers have never played more than one overtime session in the previous 35 seasons of NCAA competition. at Saint Louis on Feb. 27, 2004.

THORNTON ALL TOURNEY AGAIN

Junior post Ashley Thornton was named to the Florida Gulf Coast All-Tournament team after a loss in the championship game. She averaged 12 points and 10 rebounds over two games.

LEONARD LIGHTS UP LOYOLA

Junior guard Paris Leonard might rally to have Loyola-Chicago added to the Tigers' schedule during her senior season after scoring a career-high 29 points against the Ramblers in the Florida Gulf Coast Tournament.

Leonard shot 9-of-20 from the floor and 4-for-6 from the beyond the three-point line in the win, which advanced the Tigers to the championship game against the host team.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN YOURE RANKED NOW?

Memphis headed into Fayetteville, Ark., to face a Lady Razorback team that had not yet lost on the season. After defeating Memphis and improving to 12-0 on the season, Arkansas broke in to the USA Today Coaches Poll.

ENOUGH SITTING ON THE PINE

With Memphis sporting a 2-5 record, fans were happy to see two players get off the bench for the first time on the season when LaToya Bullard and Jessica Jackson each became eligible at the end of the fall semester exams.

The expectations were probably unfair to both Bullard and Jackson, as Bullard had played one semester of college basketball at Florida and Jackson had played sparingly as a freshman for the Gators behind a pair of senior post players.

After that, both players had to sit the spring semester of 2006-07 and the fall semester of 2007-08 before they could get back on the basketball court.

After the team dropped two more games (to Belmont and Arkansas), fans may have wondered if the team could turn the corner. Memphis won just one game in the next six (including a pair of overtime losses), but both players impacts were really felt once league play began and Memphis split its first two-game conference weekend.

A FRESHMAN AT THE POINT, AGAIN

For the second straight season, Memphis began the year with a true freshman at the point. Alex Winchell led the Tigers early on, after Se'erra Fantroy had been the team's starting point guard in 30 of 31 games her freshman season. Winchell started for the team until the Florida Gulf Coast tournament, when LaToya Bullard stepped in as the team's starting point guard.

THORNTON, HALL NAMED TO ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM

Ashley Thornton and Jessica Hall were named to the Lady Tiger Thanksgiving Classic All-Tournament team after guiding Memphis to the championship game for the 18th time. Hall hit the game-winning jumper with 13 seconds remaining against Tennessee State while Thornton averaged 17.5 points and 7.0 rebounds over the two games.

HALL RETURNS TO THE TIGER LINEUP

Jessica Hall's No. 21 jersey spent a lot of time on the hangar over the past two seasons. After being named the team's Defensive MVP following her freshman season in 2004-05, Hall suffered three separate Achilles tears requiring three different surgeries over the next two seasons.

Follow a pair of comebacks, the redshirt junior stepped on the court for the first time on November 10th. From the time Hall hit a bucket against No. 12 DePaul in the 2005 Conference USA Championships until she scored a bucket against Tennessee Tech with 12:31 to play, she had gone 981 days without scoring or point or donning a uniform for the Tigers.

The Tallahassee, Fla., native didn't wait as long for her next scoring streak, knocking down a pair of free-throws 46 seconds later and finishing as the team's leading scorer with 13.0 ppg.

Jessica Hall waited 981 days to get back in to uniform and onto the court for Memphis after missing back-to-back seasons due to injuries. Hall finished as the team's leading scorer and ranked 8th in C-USA in three-point field goals made per game (1.79/game)

Memphis Women's Basketball History

The Start of It All

The doors of the West Tennessee State Normal School (WTNS) opened at 10:00 a.m. on the morning of September 10, 1912. Fewer than 300 students were enrolled in the two-year teachers' school located in rural Shelby County. President Seymore Mynders presided over a faculty of 25 teachers.

Smallpox?

The women's basketball team was off to a 13-0 record to start the 1921-22 season, but had to end the season as the result of having been vaccinated for smallpox. The team's 13-0 record was the first-ever unbeaten team at West Tennessee Normal School.

The first women's basketball team at West Tennessee Normal School (1917).

And To the Court We Go

The first women's practice game was played with no score reported in December of 1913. The first recorded interscholastic game was played on Jan. 24, 1914 when the Tigresses beat Whitehaven High School, 24-0 at Whitehaven.

Bring On the Pictures

The first photograph of a women's basketball team at then-West Tennessee Normal School appeared in the DeSoto (the now-defunct college yearbook) in 1917. Mrs. Caldwell is the coach and Miss King is the manager.

Hey Coach!

Prior to the start of the 1919-1920 year, Mrs. Frank (Martha) L.T. Teuton becomes the first women's coach at WTNS. She had played on a team at Peabody College. During her first season, the Tigresses finished 10-4.

The Ole College Try

West Tennessee Normal School played its first intercollegiate game on Dec. 4, 1920 against Union University (Jackson, Tenn.), winning 35-15. The team would go on to finished with a 15-1-1 record with the only loss being a 19-14 loss at Troy (a small west Tennessee high school).

Coaching Change

After the completion of the 1921-22 season, Teuton retired from coaching with a 38-5-1 record. W.H. DePriest, a senior at West Tennessee Normal School, took over the women's team. DePriest had been the men's coach during the 1921-22 campaign. In his one season at the helm of the Tigresses, DePriest posted an 11-0 mark. That same team (1922-23) also won the first out-of-state game ever played by a WTSNS team, defeating Ole Miss, 38-8 on Dec. 15, 1922.

Pay Up

The first record of an admission fee (25 cents) was charged for a women's basketball game in February of 1923 when the Tigresses played Alamo High School. WTSNS won that game 41-22 in front of a standing-room only crowd.

Coaching Change II, and III?

The Tigresses were without a coach until after Christmas in 1923-24. The team's first coach was Ernest C. Ball, but Crowley A. Davis was the coach at the end of the 4-4 season.

A Little Decoration

Willie Deverell was the first women's basketball player to letter for four years at WTSNS. That also marked the first year women were awarded letters for athletic competition.

Zach Curlin To the Helm

President Kincannon was not reappointed and J.W. Brister became the president. Zach Curlin was appointed the director of athletics and physical education. He also acted as both the men's and women's basketball coaches for the 1924-25 season.

Name Change I

On July 1, 1925, the name of the school changed to West Tennessee State Teachers College and offered a four-year course.

Coaching Change IV

Leo Lindsey takes over as the first full-time girls' physical education teacher and basketball coach in 1925. A star player at George Peabody College, Lindsey guides the team to a 11-0-1 record.

The one tie was against Middle Tennessee State Teachers College, 31-31. The West Tennessee team asked for a play-off, but the Middle Tennessee team refused. The Tigresses claimed a tie for state and southern honors.

Leave the Light On For Us

The 1925-26 team was the first to stay in dorms and hotels, not private, homes, when playing on the road. The team also began travelling by train to out-of-town games.

Conference Affiliation and the Ensuing Hardware

On Dec. 9, 1927, the Mississippi Valley Conference was formed. Included in this conference were Tennessee, Juniors at Martin, Lambuth College, Murray State Normal, Bethel College, Will Mayfield College, Jonesboro College, Delta State Teachers College and Sunflower Junior College.

WTSNS would win the first conference

The Early Years history was compiled from the dissertation of Dr. Jane H. Hooker, A History of the Women's Sports Program at Memphis State University: 1912-1938. Dr. Hooker received her B.S. in 1968 and her M. Ed. in 1968 in health, physical education and recreation from Memphis State University, and her Ed. S, 1974 and Ph.D., 1988 from the University of Mississippi. She was a member of the basketball team in the 1960s and was coach of the women's volleyball team from 1970-72.

championship in 1927-28. The team finished with a 12-3 record and was recognized as the city, tri-state and Mississippi Valley Conference Champions. WTSNS beat Delta State in the conference championships, 31-27.

Ophelia Gaulding, Dot Wood, Mary Sue Moody and Mary Skinner earned All-Conference honors.

FIRST ALL-AMERICAN

Mary Sue Moody was named the program's first All-American following the 1927-28 season. That team was also invited to the National AAU Girls Basketball Championship in Wichita, Kansas, Mar. 29-31.

COACHING CHANGE V

Leo Lindsey retired after the 1927-28 season to get married and to start a family, wrapping up her career with a 32-8-1 record.

Ethel Gentry Blackman, a former player at Middle Tennessee State Teachers, was named the girls athletic director, physical education teacher and basketball coach in 1929.

Blackman's first team went 8-1 with their lone loss being to a Margaret Wade-powered Delta State team.

NEW CONFERENCE FOES

The Tigresses also gained some new conference foes in 1929, as Tennessee Polytechnical Institute, Middle Tennessee State Teachers College, and Freed-Hardeman Junior College are added to the Mississippi Valley Conference.

FIRST ALL-AMERICAN

Mary Sue Moody was named the program's first All-American following the 1927-28 season. That team was also invited to the National AAU Girls Basketball Championship in Wichita, Kansas, Mar. 29-31.

RULE CHANGE

The women's basketball game changed in 1930-31. The team played two-division ball with six players. The center was allowed to go to forward after the tip, so there were three forwards and three guards.

SLUMP

The early 1930's were not very good to the Tigresses, as the team suffered its first losing season since 1924-25 by finishing with a 4-8 record in 1931-32.

MORE RULE CHANGES

Just two years after the last rule changes, the women's game changed again. The court was now divided into two sections. Guards were now allowed to guard the entire court and were allowed to keep the forwards from shooting from behind the head.

Also, all shots counted two points now.

The Mississippi Valley Conference also gained a new member when Martin College of Pulaski, Tenn., was added.

DECLINING AN INVITATION TO DANCE

The 1932-33 team got off to a school history worst 0-3 start, but rallied back to finish 4-6. They were invited to the National AAU Tournament in Wichita, Kan., but Head Coach Ethel Blackman declined the invite because the team did not win the MVC Tournament.

NO FUNDING, NO DANCING

The 1933-34 squad got back on track with a 14-2-2 record, losing to Lambuth in the finals of the MVC Tournament. Despite the loss, WTSTC was invited to the National Invitational Basketball Tournament, but was unable to go due to the lack of financial backing.

FIRST ALL-AMERICAN

Mary Sue Moody was named the program's first All-American following the 1927-28 season. That team was also invited to the National AAU Girls Basketball Championship in Wichita, Kansas, Mar. 29-31.

YET ANOTHER RUNNER-UP FINISH

In 1934-35, WTSTC lost in the championship game of the MVC tournament, this time falling to Lambuth. The loss dropped WTSTC to 12-1 on the season.

THE ELMA ROANE ERA BEGINS AND AN ATHLETICS PROGRAM ENDS

Elma Roane was an incoming freshman at WTSTC the year the women's athletic programs were abolished. The women of West Tennessee State Teachers College would have to play intramural sports for the next 35 years, also forming teams to play in the Memphis Park Commission League. The teams played under the name Memphis State in the Park Commission League, but did not receive financial support or other recognition as there was no women's athletic program.

COACH ROANE

Elma Roane became the team's coach in 1966-67 and the teams started to receive some funds to compete in limited extramural competition against other intercollegiate teams in the West Tennessee area. Roane expanded that area in 1966-67 to include Eastern Arkansas and Southwest Missouri areas. Jane Hooker was a member of this 1966-67 team.

TENNESSEE COLLEGE WOMENS SPORTS FOUNDATION

The Tennessee College Women's Sports Federation was formed in 1969. Memphis competed in some competition through the TCWSF under head coach Harriette Lavenue.

AND WE'RE BACK!

The 1970s saw the return of women's basketball to the Memphis campus after a 35-year absence. Mary Lou Johns was named the head coach of the Lady Tiger program and began a 20-year reign of the program that put Memphis in the national spotlight.

GAME ONE

In the winter of 1972, the Lady Tigers took the court for the first time in over 35 years. Memphis recorded an 83-27 victory over Jackson State Community College, the first of 377 victories in Johns' career. Memphis finished that season with a 17-6 record.

FIRST 20-WIN SEASON

The 1973-74 season was the first 20-win season in the history of the program. The team finished with a 23-9 record. The following year, the team would set a new record for total wins by winning 29 games.

100 POINT GAME

Memphis had its first 100-point game with a 114-49 win over Arkansas State. That same season, the Lady Tigers would defeat UT Chattanooga, 102-78.

FIRST TO 1,000

Terri Galloway became the first 1,000 point scorer in Memphis history in 1975. For her career (1973-1975), she finished with 1,046 points.

NEXT TO 1,000, ONE YEAR LATER

The following season, 1975-76, Lynn Enzweiller finished her career with 1,185 points.

CLOSING THE BOOKS ON BOOKER

Betty Booker wrapped up her playing career in 1979-80. When the 5-5 guard from Hampshire, Tenn., hung up her high tops, she held 20 of 32 individual records, including games played, scoring average and field goal percentage.

Booker also held the career record for single game scoring after scoring 41 points in a win over Middle Tennessee State on Nov. 18, 1978. That record stood until Tamika Whitmore broke it with a 45-point outing on Mar. 17, 1999.

INTO THE RANKINGS

Memphis broke in to the national rankings for the first time in 1977 (see page 86 for more detailed information). That same season, Memphis tied the school record for wins with a 29-9 overall record.

METRO CONFERENCE BEGINNINGS

The 1979-80 season was the first year Memphis competed in the Metro Conference. Memphis entered the tournament as the No. 1 seed that season, but fell to Louisville, 75-72, in the finals. Memphis managed an 18-13 record that year, despite losing two of their all-time leading scorers to injury.

BREAKING IN TO THE TOP 10

Memphis upended #10 Stephen F. Austin on Jan. 9, 1982 for the program's first-ever win over a top 10 program.

The team would move up to No. 10 itself on Jan. 31, 1981. Memphis ranked at No. 10 through a 13-game winning streak and fell to No. 16 with a loss to East Tennessee State.

CONFERENCE CHAMPS

The 1981-82 team claimed the Metro Conference Championship with an 83-59 win over Cincinnati in the finals. Memphis was the sixth-highest scoring team in the nation and had the seventh-best win-loss percentage (26-5, .830).

THE BIG DANCE APPEARANCE

Memphis appeared in its first NCAA Tournament in 1981-82, advancing all the way to the Sweet 16.

Kim Duppins was named a Kodak Region II All-American at the Mid-America Classic, while Linda McKinnie became the third Lady Tiger to score 2,000 points in her career. Regina Street was named the Most Valuable Player at the Metro Conference Tournament and Diane Jones was named to the All-Metro team.

The 1979-80 team was the first to play in the Metro Conference. The team earned the No. 1 seed for the conference tournament, falling to Louisville, but finishing with a 19-12 overall record.

GET THE LADDER, WERE HANGING MORE JERSEYS

The late 70's and early 80's saw a lot of 'gym improvements' take place at Memphis as four players had their jerseys retired. Following Betty Booker (1980) and Linda Street (1980), Memphis added Linda McKinnie and Kim Duppins to the rafters following the 1981-82 season.

Regina Street would have her jersey hung from the rafters in 1984-85.

No Lady Tiger since Regina Street has had her jersey retired.

A CHAMPIONSHIP GAME APPEARANCE

In 1982-83, the Lady Tigers earned a berth in the National Women's Invitational Tournament in Amarillo, Texas. The team defeated Southern Illinois, 77-69, in the first round, then defeated Oral Roberts, 88-61. In the championship game against the University of New Orleans, Memphis State fell 68-58.

A MAJOR STEP FORWARD

Leading up to the 1976-77 season, the women's athletic department received additional funding which enabled coaches to expand their recruiting base.

In addition to more funding, a full-time women's athletic trainer was added to the program with the hiring of Linda Arnold.

Arnold had a hand in caring for the first six scholarship athletes at the University of Memphis. The six scholarship players in 1976-77 were the first women's athletes to ever receive an athletic scholarship at the University of Memphis. One of those recipients was Betty Booker, who continues to be Memphis' all-time leading scorer with 2,835 career points. Linda Street was another of the first six scholarship athletes, finishing her career ranked fourth with 2,147 career points.

END OF AN ERA

Mary Lou Johns led the Lady Tigers to unprecedented heights. She had five nationally-ranked teams in the late 70's and early 80's (1976-77, 1977-78, 1978-79, 1981-82, 1984-85). She also guided Memphis to NCAA appearances in 1981-82, 1984-85 and 1986-87.

But following the program's first-ever .500 season in 1987-88 and back-to-back-to-back losing seasons from 1988-1991, Johns was replaced by Joye Lee-McNelis on Apr. 11, 1991.

Coach Johns finished her career with a 368-215 record.

NEW COACH, NEW CONFERENCE

Prior to the 1991-92 season at Memphis State, the team had to adjust not only to a new coach, but to a new conference as the Great Midwest Conference was formed on Nov. 11, 1990. The league included UAB, Cincinnati, DePaul, Marquette, Saint Louis and Memphis and began competition during the 1991-92 season.

BRINGING THE GREAT MIDWEST HARDWARE BACK TO MEMPHIS

It was not a coincidence that with the arrival of Keeta Matthews, came the addition of some honors and awards from the Great Midwest Conference Office.

Matthews was named the Great Midwest Newcomer of the Year and a first team all-conference honoree.

The following season, freshman Kitty Allen would be named the Great Midwest Newcomer of the Year.

NO LONGER MEMPHIS STATE

On July 1, 1994, Dr. V. Lane Rawlins announced a name change for the University, changing from Memphis State to the University of Memphis. The change was powered in an effort to bring more attention to the urban University's commitment to education and research.

MCNELIS FIRST NCAA TOURNAMENT TEAM

The 1994-95 team was Joye Lee-McNelis' first NCAA tournament team at Memphis. The team advanced to the second round after upending the University of Southern Cal, coached by Hall of Famer Cheryl Miller, at Memorial Coliseum in Nashville, Tenn.

CONFERENCE USA BEGINS

The Great Midwest Conference was short-lived for the Lady Tigers, as Memphis was one of 11 institutions to begin play in 1995 in the newly-formed Conference USA. The conference officially was officially unveiled on Apr. 25, 1995 at Harry Caray's Restaurant in Chicago.

FOUR STRAIGHT NCAA APPEARANCES

From 1994-1998, Memphis made four straight NCAA tournament appearances, advancing past the first round just once, in 1994-95.

TURN ON THE TUBE

The Lady Tigers made their first appearance on national television in 1996 when the team upset DePaul University in overtime of the Conference USA Championship Finals. (For complete history on TV, see pg. 85).

GOING PRO

Following the 1997-98 season, LaTonya Johnson was listed as an honorable mention pick on the Basketball Times all-America squad. Also an all-conference honoree and tournament MVP, Johnson capped her Memphis career with 2,232 points.

She was drafted by the Utah Starzz of the WNBA following the 1998 season. She would play seven seasons in the WNBA before returning to Memphis in 2007-08 to complete her degree.

MORE POST SEASONS

After appearing in four straight NCAA tournaments, the Lady Tigers appeared in three straight WNIT tournament from 1998-2001.

The 1998-99 squad advanced to the WNIT Final Four before falling at Wisconsin, 92-73.

ANOTHER SEASON, ANOTHER PRO

Tamika Whitmore capped her four-year career at Memphis in 1998-99 as one of the school's top scorers and rebounders.

After representing the United States on the Jones Cup team in the summer of 1998, Whitmore was drafted in 1999 30th overall by the New York Liberty. Whitmore capped her career as a two-time C-USA Player of the Year, a three-time all-conference honoree and an honorable mention all-American honoree by Associated Press, the Basketball Times and the Kodak All-American teams.

FIVE STRAIGHT 20-WIN SEASONS

From 1994 to 1999, Memphis posted five straight 20-win seasons. The five 20 win seasons were five of 16 total 20-win seasons the Tigers have posted coming in to the 2007-08 season.

POST SEASON STREAK SNAPPED

The 2001-02 team struggled to an 11-17 overall record, snapping a seven-year streak of post-season appearances by a Lady Tiger team.

TRIPLE DOUBLE WITHOUT A SHOT TAKEN

In that 2001-02 season, Memphis saw some history. Kalara McFadyen, a 5-6 point guard, recorded what is believed to be the first-ever triple-double in the NCAA, WNBA and NBA histories without ever taking a single shot. McFadyen totaled 10 rebounds, 12 assists, and 10 steals on Feb. 3, 2002 against Charlotte, as was featured in several national publications, including USA Today, Sports Illustrated and NCAA News.

CLOSING UP A MEMPHIS LANDMARK

No one knew it at the time, but Memphis' win over UALR on Dec. 20, 2003 would be the last Lady Tigers game played at the Pyramid. It would be announced during the off-season that Memphis would join the NBA Grizzlies and the Tiger men's basketball team in FedExForum beginning in 2004-05.

MCNELIS RETURNS HOME

On May 14, 2004, Joye Lee-McNelis was introduced as the new head coach at the University of Southern Miss, her alma mater. She wrapped her Lady Tiger coaching career with a 229-156 overall record and eight post-season appearances.

SAVAGE RETURNS

It took a little less than a month before the Tigers were introducing their third head coach of the modern era. On June 10, 2004, Blair Savage-Lansden was introduced as the new head coach. But she had a ton of familiarity with the program after serving as an assistant coach under McNelis for nine seasons.

A NEW HOME COURT?

On Oct. 15, 2004, the Lady Tigers joined the Tiger men's basketball team in Midnight Madness Festivities at FedExForum in downtown Memphis, the University's first event in the new facility.

ANOTHER MEMBERSHIP CHANGE

Heading in to the 2005-06 season, Memphis' league opponents looked a little different as Louisville, Cincinnati, DePaul, Marquette, Saint Louis, USF and TCU all left Conference USA and were replaced by UCF, Marshall, Rice, UTEP and Tulsa.

A PAIR OF FORMER MEMPHIS ASSISTANTS ON THE SIDELINES

The Lady Tigers opened Blair Savage's coaching career with a 54-40 win over Mercer on Nov. 19, 2004. The match-up featured two former Lady Tiger assistant coaches as Mercer was led by former assistant coach Brenda Welch-Nichols with former student-manager Toby Bush as an assistant.

MEMPHIAN BACK IN UNIFORM

In Blair Savage's first recruiting class was Wooddale HS alum Paris Leonard. Leonard became the first native Memphian in over 10 seasons to sign and suit up for the Lady Tiger basketball team.

1,000 POINT SCORERS

Under Savage's time at Memphis, two more Lady Tigers passed the 1,000-career point mark. Victoria Crawford passed the mark out of the country at a tournament in

BACK-TO-BACK WNBA DRAFTEES

Memphis had back-to-back seasons with WNBA draftees in 1998 and 1999.

LaTonya Johnson was drafted by the Utah Starzz in 1998, while Tamika Whitmore was drafted the following season by the New York Liberty.

Johnson played seven seasons in the WNBA, and is looking to possibly play overseas heading in to the 2008-09 season, while Whitmore is in her ninth season in the summer of 2008, suiting up for the Connecticut Sun. Whitmore was a WNBA All-Star in 2006 and helped the Connecticut Sun to a second place finish in the WNBA's Eastern Conference in the summer of 2008.

Cancun. She became the second Tiger in as many seasons to pass the 1,000 career point mark in a loss to Western Kentucky, a feat Princess Swilley accomplished the previous season.

Two seasons later, Devin Necaise became the 18th Memphis player to pass the 1,000 point mark with 13 points in a game at East Carolina.

SAVAGE ENDS MEMPHIS AFFILIATION

After guiding Memphis to a tie for sixth place in the regular season Conference USA standings, Blair Savage resigned from the Memphis head coaching job on Mar. 3, 2008. She finished her coaching career at Memphis with a 30-88 record over four seasons.

A NEW ERA BEGINS

On April 18, 2008, Memphis named Melissa McFerrin the fourth head coach of the program's modern era.

McFerrin, who had just been named the Patriot League Coach of the Year earlier in the season after guiding American University to its first post-season appearance since 1997-98, brings both college and WNBA experience to the Memphis program. In her four years at American, she helped the team to the championship game of the Patriot League and led a team that was recognized by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association as an Academic Top-25 team.

CAREER DOUBLE-DOUBLES

On February 3, 2002, junior college transfer Kalara McFadyen gave U of M fans something that they will not soon forget. McFadyen recorded what is believed to be the first-ever triple-double without ever taking a single shot. McFadyen totaled 10 rebounds, 12 assists and 10 steals versus C-USA foe Charlotte. She was featured nationally in USA Today, The New York Times, the NCAA News and on several sports related websites. She was also featured in Sports Illustrated's Faces in the Crowd. The NCAA, the WNBA, and even the NBA could not verify another player, collegiate or professional, had accomplished such a feat.
