The Tufts University men's lacrosse team looks to make history today, as it takes on No. 2 RIT in the NCAA Division III Championship game in Lincoln Financial Field in Philadelphia, PA. Tufts is making its seventh title game appearance today, looking to raise the trophy for the fourth time and first time since 2015.

Notes For This Weekend

New Threads

Sophomore face-off Victor Salcedo will be wearing a new number for the first time this season, as he will pull on the No. 92 for the contest. His familiar No. 0 was not available in today's uniform.

What to Wear

Tufts will be wearing brown tops today with white shorts along with its white Jumbo helmets.

Back To Back

Head coach Casey D'Annolfo is making his second appearance in the NCAA Championship game as a coach, both in the last two seasons.

Youth of the Nation

As opposed to last season, the Jumbos are very young all around the field. Right now, the attack consists of two sophomores and a junior, the first midfield line is a freshman, sophomore and junior while the defense is two juniors and a sophomore. The only starting senior is in goal with Conner Garzone.

Tested Tufts

The Jumbos have played 11 games against ranked opposition this season, while four more games have been against teams receiving votes in that week's USILA Top 20 poll.

One For The Road

The Jumbos are 10-1 this season when playing either on a neutral field or on the road. The only loss was to RIT back in March at Stevenson University in the Mustang Classic.

Hey, We Know You!

Tufts will see a very familiar face this week in Philadelphia, as last year's Division III National Player of the Year Jack Boyden will also be playing this weekend for Division I University of Virginia inside Lincoln Financial Field.

We're Going Streaking

The Jumbos are currently riding a four-game win streak in the NCAA Tournament, and it's the fourth win streak of four or more games this season for Tufts. Tufts won four straight three times this year, while adding a five-game win streak as well.

Had To Have Us Back

The Jumbos have been to every NCAA Tournament since 2007 except for one, missing the tournament in 2008. But since 2009, the Jumbos have been in the field every season.

This And That:

- Tufts picked up four All-NESCAC performers this season, as sophomores Jack Regnery and Garrett Kelly were honored, while juniors Joey Waldbaum and Charlie Tagliaferri also were selected.
- The USA Lacrosse Magazine All-American list was released last week, and Regnery and Waldbaum were First Team selections. Brooks Hauser was a Third Team pick, and Tagliaferri earned Honorable Mention.
- The Jumbos come into the game ranked No. 2 in the nation in scoring offense with 18.75 goals per game. Salisbury had the most goals per game with 19.09.
- Tufts led the NESCAC in caused turnovers this season with 11.20 per game.
- Clearing the ball will be huge on Sunday, and Tufts was fourth in Division III this year with an 89.9 percent clear success rate.
- The Jumbos will need to take care of the ball this weekend, as they are eighth in the NESCAC with 17.9 giveaways per game.
- Sophomore Jack Regnery is ranked 11th in the nation in goals per game with 3.70 while his 5.50 points per game is 15th nationally and second in the NESCAC.
- Regnery's 74 goals this season are the fourth-most in a season ever at Tufts, behind just Jack Boyden (86, 2022), Chris Schoenhut (80, 2014) and John Uppgren (76, 2015).
- Regnery also has 109 points, posting just the 11th season in Tufts lacrosse history with 100 or more points.
- Junior Parker Merrill led the NESCAC in face-off win percentage at 62.8, while face-off partner Victor Salcedo was third in the league at 58.7.
- 12 players have scored game-winning goals for the Jumbos this season, led by the three each from Jack Regnery and Charlie Tagliaferri.
- Tufts is an undefeated 16-0 this season when scoring 16 or more goals in a game this year.
- When the Jumbos score a man-up goal in a game, they are 12-2 on the campaign.
- Tufts is hitting its stride at the right time, as it has set team game-highs in the NCAA Tournament in goals, assists, shots, and ground balls.
- Sophomores Brooks Hauser and Garrett Kelly, who have combined for 85 goals this season, combined for just seven goals last season. The pair played in 25 total games last year, but has exploded this year.
- Making an impact as a freshman is incredibly difficult at Tufts, but Will Emsing and Chase Beyer have each done that this season. The offensive duo has combined for 19 goals, while Emsing has played in all 20 games.
- Defensively, freshmen Logan Lee and Jordan Ito have become mainstays in the lineup while fellow newcomer Elliot Rutherford has worked himself into big minutes as well on close defense.
- In the NCAA Tournament, Tufts leads all teams in ground balls per game with 55.5, while also ranking first in scoring at 22.25 goals per game through four NCAA games.
- Senior goalkeeper Conner Garzone has the best goals against average in the tournament of any goalkeeper, allowing just 7.64 goals per game.
- The defense has also helped out offensively in the postseason, as Tufts has gotten 14 goals from poles, face-off men and its goalies. Back-up keeper Ben Friedman scored TU's first goalie goal against Stevenson since 2019.
- Tufts and RIT have met in the NCAA Tournament seven times, with Tufts holding a 5-2 record including last year's NCAA Semifinal 15-11 win in Medford. This is their first meeting ever for a national title.
