IDAHO HALL OF FAME

KATHY CLARK

In 25 years of service to the University of Idaho, Kathy Clark is remembered as the woman who built the foundation for women's athletics at Idaho. Clark helped start the Vandal volleyball team, acting as the first head coach and leading the team to a 22-6 record in its very first season and finishing second in the Eastern Area and third in the NCWSA. She held a 56-42 overall record in three seasons.

Tom Hilbert took Vandal volleyball to a new level from 1989-96, leading the team to an Idaho record 174 wins and a .707 win percentage in his eight years. Under Hilbert, Idaho became a mainstay at the NCAA tournament, making appearances every year from 1992 to 1995, winning the Big Sky title every year. Athletes under Hilbert earned nine AVCA All-Northwest Region honors, one AVCA and Volleyball Monthly All-America honor, four Big Sky MVP honors, 20 Big Sky All-Conference honors, four Big Sky Freshman of the Year honors and 14 Big Sky All-Tournament Team honors. Hilbert himself was honored as the 1993 and 1994 AVCA Northwest Region Coach of the Year and earned Big Sky Coach of the Year honors four times from 1992-95.

MEMORIAL GYM

Built in 1928 to honor Idahoans who died serving their country during World War I, Memorial Gym is truly one of the most intriguing buildings on the historic University of Idaho campus.

Miniaturized football-players-turned-gargoyles adorn the building's brick-layered and ivy-covered sides, while the roofline features a decorative frieze with an old Western motif. Inside, colorful stained-glass windows breathe life into the foyer. The overhang of the upper seating levels allows fans to view the game from right above the action and lets them feel like they are literally "in the game."

The facility was added to the United States National Register of Historic Places in 1977.

Memorial Gym is home to the Vandal volleyball team and is the former home to men's and women's basketball, although both still occasionally play home games there. The Idaho volleyball team has seen tremendous success in the facility.

From 1992-96, the team won 49 straight matches at Memorial Gym—the 11th-longest home winning streak in NCAA Division I history. On Sep. 17, 1996, a record 1,814 fans came to watch the Vandals take on Washington State and just under two months later, 1,804 fans showed up to see Idaho take on Long Beach State. That season, Idaho finished 22nd in the NCAA in home attendance.

In 1994, the facility added a pair of varsity locker rooms, as well as a satellite athletic training room courtside to provide instant medical attention, if necessary.

In addition to varsity sports, Memorial Gym is also home to several University of Idaho intramural sports and recreational programs, as well as the ROTC program.

Memorial Gym hasn't been used as a regular competition facility for Idaho basketball since the 2001-02 season when women's basketball moved into the Cowan Spectrum. The men's team moved out in 1976.

Both squads still play two to three games per season at the facility.

As a practice facility, Memorial Gym has eight baskets, one full-size court and three 77' x 45' courts. The unique shape of the court is ideal for practice and player development.

Due to a recent investigation, the NCAA Committee on Infractions (COI) found that rules violations occurred within the athletics department.

The financial aid violations involved improper reductions of student-athlete scholarships and incorrect calculations of scholarship equivalencies between Fall Semester 2016 and Spring Semester 2021.

The university and the enforcement staff used ranges identified by the Division I membership-approved infractions penalty guidelines to agree upon Level II-standard penalties for the university.

The report contains the full list of penalties as approved by the Committee on Infractions, including:

- Two years of probation that will run consecutive to the school's current probationary period.
- A $5,000 fine.
- The financial aid liaison in the financial aid department must participate in an NCAA Regional Rules Seminar.
