Xavier Musketeers Reload For More Success In The 2008-09 Season

It's difficult to discuss the 2008-09 season without talking about recent success, especially the record-setting 2007-08 campaign behind the leadership of a trio of senior stars. Xavier lost three starters off of last year's team but has two starters and several key reserves back and a highly-touted class of newcomers. Those are a few of the reasons why The Sporting News has Xavier ranked number 19 in its preseason magazine.

Xavier made its third straight NCAA Tournament appearance last season and their seventh in the last eight years. Xavier (30-7) set the school record for most wins in an entire season on its way to a second NCAA "Elite Eight" appearance in five years. Xavier has now recorded three straight seasons of 20 wins or more and 11 in the last 12 years.

One of the key off-season moves by Xavier was to extend the contract of fifth-year head coach Sean Miller through the 2017-18 season. Miller, the 2007-08 Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year, was also the 2008 NABC District 10 Coach of the Year. Miller is 93-39 (.705) in four seasons at Xavier, which already ranks fifth for wins in Xavier history.

Xavier's two returning starters from its 2008 NCAA "Elite Eight" team that led the Atlantic 10 in scoring margin (+11.7 ppg.) include last season's second-leading scorer Derrick Brown (10.9 ppg.), a junior forward, and C.J. Anderson (10.7 ppg.), a senior forward. Brown was selected to the 2008-09 preseason All-Atlantic 10 First Team and the 2008-09 A-10 All-Defensive Team while Anderson was chosen for the preseason 2008-09 All-Atlantic 10 Third Team.

Senior guard/forward B.J. Raymond, the fifth-leading scorer last season at just under double figures (9.9 ppg.), also returns. XU returns 55.4 percent of its scoring from the 2007-08 season. Xavier also returns its top three rebounders from a team that led the Atlantic 10 and was 29th in the nation in rebounding margin at +5.2 rpg. Brown (6.5 rpg. as a sophomore), Anderson (5.9 rpg.) and junior Jason Love (5.5 rpg.) are all back for the upcoming season. XU returns 72.2 percent of its rebounding from the 2007-08 season. Sophomore Danté Jackson played understudy to last year's defensive leader, Stanley Burrell, and has high hopes to fill that role this season.

The talented incoming class includes four guards, 6-0 Terrell Holloway, 6-1 Mark Lyons, 6-0 Brad Redford and 6-4 Brian Walsh. In addition, Miller welcomes 7-0 high school All-America center Kenny Frease and two transfers, former Tulsa starting forward Jamel McLean and Hillsdale standout forward Andrew Taylor. Frease, Holloway and Lyons were all voted to the preseason Atlantic 10 Conference All-Rookie Team. Jordan Crawford, 6-4 sophomore guard, played at Indiana last season and will be a major factor in practice and even more of a factor once he becomes eligible. The additions add to Miller's optimism as XU guns for a third straight Atlantic 10 Regular Season Championship. Xavier won the 2008 A-10 regular season title with a 14-2 mark.

Some Thoughts From Sean Miller On The Season

Seniors have been a big part of XU's recent success. How important are the roles of the seniors this year?

"We really identify this year's senior class as B.J. Raymond, C.J. Anderson and Derrick Brown. I add Derrick to this group because this is his fourth year with us. As always, our team's success will be a direct result of the leadership capabilities of these three players. They each have won championships, they know what it takes to be a good team, and they have the most at stake being that this team marks "their legacy" at Xavier."

The point guard is very important to what you want to do on the court. How does that look for this season?

"We were very fortunate a year ago that we had a senior, Drew Lavender, as our point guard. He was exceptional for us. His back up was also a senior, Stanley Burrell, who did a tremendous job of filling in for Drew when we needed him. This season will be much different because our point guard position will be occupied by freshmen. The good news is we have three talented candidates in Brad Redford, Mark Lyons, and Terrell Holloway. Each of these three players is a big part of our future and is also capable of playing another position. It will be exciting for our coaching staff to help them develop and become familiar with our system."

What are this year's team strengths?

"The strengths of this year's team will lie in the experience and depth of our front court. Our two seniors, CJ Anderson and BJ Raymond are double-figure scorers from last year's team and they have been a part of big moments in their careers. Derrick Brown and Jason Love return as juniors filled with excellent game experience. We also add two talented newcomers in Jamel McLean and Kenny Frease. Adding all of these ingredients together, we should be a consistent rebounding team with the ability to get to the free throw line offensively. We will have to be able to take advantage of this depth, size and experience along our front line to be successful."

MILLER ON ANDERSON:

"C.J. will be one of the senior leaders of this year's team. He is so important to what we do because he brings a "toughness" level that is contagious to his teammates. Last year, C.J. was a double-figure scorer for us and I believe he can increase his scoring production on this year's team. We will count on him to be consistent defensively and in rebounding and scoring. He is a candidate to have a breakout senior year like several recent seniors have done."

MILLER ON RAYMOND:

"B.J. has had a major impact on all three of the teams that he has been on at Xavier. He has stepped up and made significant plays in big moments at the end of the year. His improvement as a player from one season to the next is a true credit to his work ethic and determination. He is a leader, a warrior and a terrific shooter. He will expand his offensive game to be more effective closer to the basket and will be a solid defender in his senior season. He has the opportunity to win his fourth championship and be a part of the NCAA tournament for a fourth consecutive season - two special goals that I know he is highly motivated to achieve."

Hit double figures in scoring in 20 games, including a game-high and career-high 22 points in the win over Richmond in the regular season finale...didn't reach double figures but was a hero of the big win over West Virginia, scoring all eight of his points in overtime...hit two big three-pointers in the final 1:22 of overtime that erased a 74-72 WVU lead and gave XU a 78-74 lead with 30 seconds left...was nominated for one of the Pontiac "Game Changing Moments" during the NCAA Tournament...averaged 9.9 ppg., which was fifth on the team...tied for game-high scoring honors with 13 points in the Duquesne win...scored 14 points in the win at Rhode Island and 11 points in the win over Saint Joseph's, including the game-winning three-pointer...had a game-high 18 points on the strength of a career-high six three-pointers out of eight attempts at Auburn...scored a then career-high 21 points on the strength of five three-pointers against St. Bonaventure...hit 7-of-9 from the field, including 5-of-6 from three-point territory, on his way to a game-high 20 points against Fordham...hit 6-of-9 from the field, including 3-of-4 three-pointers, on his way to 15 points against Creighton...played 23.1 minutes per game...posted his first career double-double in the big win over Indiana, scoring 19 points to go with a career-high 10 rebounds.

ON TARGET

Hit five three-pointers on his way to the career-high 22 points against Richmond, which was the latest of seven times last season that he hit at least four three-pointers in a game...led the team in three-point field goals (10th in the Atlantic 10 at 2.2 per game)...led the team in three-point field goal percentage (10th in the Atlantic 10 at .412)...had a career-high six three-pointers at Auburn and five more each against St. Bonaventure, Richmond and Fordham.

BIG WEEK FOR RAYMOND

Enjoyed a great week in wins at Auburn (Jan. 6) and versus St. Bonaventure (Jan. 9) and Fordham (Jan. 12)...averaged 19.7 points, 3.3 rebounds and 1.7 assists while leading Xavier to three wins...

ST. JOHN'S JESUIT HIGH SCHOOL

shot 64.5 percent (20-of-31) from the field for the week, including 66.7 percent (16-of-24) from three-point territory...hit a career-high six three-pointers at Auburn and scored a then career-high 21 points against St. Bonaventure...Jay Bilas gave him First Team honors in his weekly "Bilas Honor Roll" (ESPN.com) for his efforts.

2006-07

Came up big in the win over BYU in the NCAA Tournament by hitting 3-of-4 from three-point range and contributing some energy on defense as well...also came up big in the last two regular season games...in the win over Saint Joseph's on February 28, had 10 points on the strength of three three-pointers, including a team-high seven points in the first half, helping to jumpstart the XU offense...followed that up with 14 points on the strength of four three-pointers in the win at La Salle on March 3...played 15.8 minutes per game over the last 12 games (a 10-2 XU stretch), which was tops among the non-starters...hit three three-pointers on his way to 12 points in the win over Charlotte.

Posted then career highs for points (12) and rebounds (five) and tied a career high for blocks (two) in 21 minutes versus Fordham on Feb. 15...topped that in the win over Duquesne on Feb. 18 with a new career high for points (16), three rebounds and a career-high tying two blocks...gave XU a lift off the bench in Xavier's last 11 games as a freshman, averaging 5.7 points and 2.6 rebounds in 21.1 minutes per game...averaged just 6.9 minutes per game through Xavier's first 21 games.

AT ST. JOHN'S JESUIT

Finished his career as the school's all-time leading scorer (1,466 points) and second all-time leading rebounder (577 rebounds)...2005 First Team Division I All-State selection...two-time selection as the Toledo Blade Player of the Year...District Player of the Year as a senior as he averaged 20.8 points and 7.8 rebounds while leading his team to a 19-4 record...Street & Smith's high honorable mention All-American...led his team to an 87-15 mark during his career...basketball coach: Ed Heintschel.

MILLER ON BROWN:

"Derrick Brown is a winner! He is a great teammate and is unselfish in every way, both on and off of the court. He is extremely versatile and also very intelligent as a basketball player. As he continues to add strength and size to his frame he will be more productive in the low post area. His greatest strength as a player lies in the fact that he can do virtually everything on the court to help his team win at both ends of the floor."

BROWN OPENED EYES THIS SUMMER

Was among a select group of elite college basketball players that were selected to be counselors at both Nike's Vince Carter Small Forward Camp and the LeBron James Skills Academy...was able to challenge himself against some great competition from collegiate and pro players...listed by the experts as one of the standouts of the camps.

BROWN LOVES THE NCAA TOURNEY

Has averaged 10.2 ppg. and 7.0 rpg. in six NCAA Tournament games for his career, while shooting 75.0 percent (24-of-32) from the field...had a career-high 19 points to go with a game-high 11 rebounds in the 2008 NCAA First Round win over Georgia...scored a team-high 13 points on the strength of five dunks to go with six rebounds vs. UCLA in the Regional Final, while being named XU's recipient of the CBS/Chevrolet Game MVP award...grabbed a career-high 16 rebounds in just 16 minutes of action in the 2007 NCAA First Round win over BYU...the 16 rebounds tied the Xavier record for an NCAA game first set by Brian Grant in a 1993 NCAA Second Round game against No. 1 Indiana.

2008-09

2008-09 Preseason First Team All-Atlantic 10 Conference selection.

First on the team in rebounding at 6.5 rpg. (11th in the Atlantic 10 Conference) and led the team in rebounds a team-high 19 times, including a game-high nine at Dayton and at Saint Louis and a game-high tying eight at Charlotte...started each of Xavier's 37 games and scored in double figures 23 times, including a career-high 19 points to go with a game-high 11 rebounds in the NCAA Tournament First Round win over Georgia...the Georgia game marked Brown's fifth double-double of the season...had a 13-point, 10-rebound effort against Kent State...scored all 13 of his points in XU's big second half surge in the Kent win...recorded a 14-point, 12-rebound game against Kansas State...had a 12-point, 10-rebound game against Tennessee...had game-high totals of 13 points and 11 rebounds against Duquesne...had 11 points to go with a game-high nine rebounds in the Dayton Atlantic 10 Tournament win...second on the team in scoring at 10.9 ppg., including his game-high 18-point effort at Saint Joseph's on 8-of-12 shooting from the field...had a 12-point game at Saint Louis that included the game-winning tip with 0.1 seconds left that was the number five "Play of the Day" on ESPN's Sportcenter...came up big in the win over Cincinnati with 17 points to go with six rebounds...scored 11 points in the decisive final 6:43 of action in the UC win...hit 5-of-6 from the field en route to 13 points and a game-high eight rebounds against Creighton...led Xavier in dunks for the season with 73...scored 15 points against SEMO in his first collegiate start in XU's season-opener and grabbed seven rebounds and two steals as well.

DERRICK BROWN5*6-8 | 227 | JUNIOR*FORWARD*DAYTON, OHIO*CHAMINADE-JULIENNE HIGH SCHOOL

FINDING HIS TOUCH

Hit a team-high 60.9 percent (148-of-243) from the field...hit 70.6 percent (96-of-136) from the free-throw line.

WHAT CAN BROWN DO FOR YOU?

This athletic, left-handed forward can certainly rebound and dunk...his 12 rebounds against Kansas State, 11 against Georgia and 10 against Tennessee and Kent State came as no surprise to those who saw him grab 16 rebounds in just 16 minutes of action in a 2007 NCAA Tournament first round win over BYU...two-time Slam Dunk Champion for XU's annual preseason basketball Musketeer Madness...he led XU in dunks this past season with 73 in 37 games, including one from the Indiana game that was No. 2 that night on ESPN's "Top 10 Plays of the Day" segment...his 12-point, nine-rebound, three-assist game at Saint Louis included the game-winning tip with 0.1 seconds left that was the number five "Play of the Day" on ESPN's Sportcenter...has made ESPN's "Top 10 Plays of the Day" four times, including twice in each of the past two seasons...over 50 percent (114-of-225 for .507) of his career field goals made have been via a dunk.

RIISING STAR

Sat out the 2005-06 season but burst onto the scene in 2006-07 as a redshirt freshman...2006-07 Atlantic 10 All-Rookie Team...had a career-high 16 rebounds to go with eight points in the NCAA Tournament win over BYU.

AT CHAMINADE-JULIENNE

Two-time Division II All-State...Street & Smith's high honorable mention High School

MILLER ON LOVE:

"Jason Love is one of the most responsible, hard-working, dedicated kids that I have ever coached. He improves by leaps and bounds every off season because of his approach to becoming the best he can be. A year ago he was a key part to our team's success. He gave us a defensive presence and exceptional offensive rebounding ability to compliment the strengths of his teammates. This season, Jason will be an improved scorer in addition to his strengths as a defender and rebounder. He is developing into an excellent front court player. He will be one of our veteran leaders that we will count on every day."

Scored in double figures in eight games, including 10 points and a game-high nine rebounds in the Atlantic 10 Semifinal versus Saint Joseph's...had his first career double-double with 12 points on 4-of-4 shooting from the field to go with a career-high and game-high 10 rebounds against George Washington at Cintas Center...scored 12 points to go with six rebounds in the Duquesne win...had 10 points in the win over La Salle and a career-high 13 points at Temple...led XU in rebounding nine times as a sophomore, including a game-high and career-high tying 10 rebounds in the win over West Virginia...had a team-high nine rebounds in the win at Rhode Island and a game-high eight rebounds in the win over Saint Joseph's at Cintas Center...made his first 21 career starts in the last 26 games...one of his greatest areas of improvement over his last 26 games was at the free-throw line...hit 65.2 percent (58-of-89) from the free-throw line in the last 25 games after hitting just 9-of-22 (.409) for the first 11 games...put in a lot of extra work before and after practice with extra shooting...for the season he played in all 37 games, averaging 6.0 ppg. and 5.5 rpg. in 18.0 minutes per game...led the team and was seventh in the Atlantic 10 Conference in offensive rebounding at 2.4 per game... Love, who is 6-9 and 255 pounds, has shed 30 pounds since coming to Xavier while getting stronger every day in XU's strength and conditioning program...has earned a look in the post but it hasn't come without some hard work and discipline.

CAREER NIGHTS FOR LOVE

Grabbed a career-high tying 10 rebounds in the win over West Virginia in the NCAA Tournament Regional Semifinal...scored a career-high 13 points at Temple...grabbed a career-high and game-high 10 rebounds against George Washington at Cintas Center...grabbed eight rebounds and scored a then career-high nine points to go with a career-high three blocked shots against Tennessee (Dec. 22) followed by a then career-high 10 points to go with a then career-high tying 9 rebounds against Delaware State in his first career start (Dec. 28)...on New Year's Eve night he made his second start and had a then career-high 11 points to go with seven rebounds in a then career-high tying 23 minutes against Michael Beasley and Kansas State...had a team-high eight rebounds in a then career-high 23 minutes at Arizona State on Dec. 15.

2006-07...SPREADING THE LOVE

Played in 12 of the last 16 games, averaging 4.8 minutes per game, while hitting 5-of-7 from the field...sustained a laceration on his left knee at practice on January 29 but amazingly was back in action on February 3 against Charlotte...reaggravated the injury and was forced to sit out two more games before returning to action for seven of the last eight games...scored four points, grabbed a then career-high four rebounds and had a block in 13 minutes against Charlotte...had three rebounds and two blocks in 12 minutes against Saint Louis...made a big impact when head coach Sean Miller called on him at St. Bonaventure due to injury and foul problems...scored a then career-high six points to go with three rebounds in nine minutes played...made the most of his four minutes of action against Western Carolina on December 2, hitting both of his shots from the field en route to then career highs of five points, three rebounds, one block and one steal.

HIGH SCHOOL

Averaged 14.0 points, 9.1 rebounds and 2.0 blocks while shooting 58 percent from the field as a senior...led his team to a 25-2 record, earning a No. 5 ranking by the Philadelphia Daily News...2005-06 First Team All-Montgomery County "Super 10"...three-time First Team All-Friends League selection...averaged 13.1 points, 8.2 rebounds and 3.0 blocks a game as a junior, while earning Second Team All-Montgomery County honors and leading his team to a 19-10 record...an honorable mention high school All-American (Street & Smith's) prior to his senior season...basketball coach: Steve Chadwin.

The best thing about me: My work ethic

I'm as good as anyone at: Madden Football

If I want to be a better player this season, I need to improve on: My conditioning and post moves.

Two words to describe the way I play basketball: Physical and tough

My advice to kids: Work hard for anything you want in life.

What I like best about Xavier: The people, the campus and Cintas Center

Why I came to XU: For a good education.

What I like best about Cincinnati: The people

The thing I most admire about Coach Miller: His knowledge of the game.

Career goals: NBA player or basketball coach

I chose my number because: 31 is symbolic of the verse, "The last will be first and the first last; many are called but few are chosen."

If I could change one thing in the game of basketball it would be: Three-second call in the lane

The toughest part of being a student-athlete: The everyday schedule

MILLER ON JACKSON:

"Danté improved tremendously as a defender last season. He did a great job of using Stanley Burrell as a model of how much of an impact he could make on defense. Danté is a winner in every sense of the word. I love his demeanor as a player. It is obvious that he plays to win every time that he steps onto the floor. He is also very versatile in the way he plays which will allow him to contribute to our team at more than one position throughout his career."

MILLER ON McLEAN:

"We recruited Jamel out of high school and unfortunately he decided to attend Tulsa. Jamel had an excellent freshman campaign there. After deciding to transfer we were able to convince Jamel to join us the second time around. Jamel is the type of power forward that has done well for us over the years and we expect him to have an immediate and significant impact for us when he is able to return to the court this season. He has a bright future in our program."

TRANSFER NOW A MUSKETEER

A transfer from the University of Tulsa who practiced with the Musketeers last season... becomes eligible for game action in the 2008-09 season...will have three seasons of eligibility remaining beginning with the 2008-09 season...won the Slam Dunk Contest at last season's Musketeer Madness, the Xavier basketball preseason event for the fans.

2006-07 SEASON AT TULSA (AS A FRESHMAN)

Played in all 31 games, starting seven times, for the Golden Hurricane...averaged 6.0 points and shot 55.8 percent (67-of-120) from the field as a freshman...was second on the team with 4.8 rebounds a game...led the team in rebounding 11 times, including each of Tulsa's two games in the Conference USA Tournament...had two "double-doubles" in scoring-rebounding, including 10 points and a career-high 11 rebounds at Arkansas and 13 points and a career-high 11 rebounds versus Tulane in the Conference USA Tournament...had one of his best games of the year with a career-high 16 points, eight rebounds and a career-high

MILLER ON TAYLOR: "Andrew Taylor is the ultimate teammate. He has the mindset that he will do whatever it takes to help us be a better team and program. In high school he played alongside B.J. Raymond at Toledo St. John's and was very successful as both a player and as a part of teams there. He had a strong finish to his high school career and he grew several inches to add to his frame. He then went on to Hillsdale College (Mich.) where he had an excellent freshman season. Fortunately, Andrew decided he wanted to play at the D-I level and found Xavier. He sat out the 2007-08 season as a transfer but with a strong work ethic, especially in the weight room, Andrew will one day contribute at the forward position and help our future teams be successful. I am excited to have him as a part of our program."

MILLER ON FREASE:

"Kenny Frease has great size as a basketball player. However, with that size he has a very high skill level for someone as young as he is - he has the ability to shoot and is an excellent passer. It's the combination of both his size and skill that is so exciting for us to have as part of our future. He also has an excellent work ethic, which will allow him to continue his development at an accelerated pace. Perry did an excellent job of preparing Kenny for college basketball."

MILLER ON HOLLOWAY:

"Terrell Holloway's addition solidifies our backcourt and adds the necessary depth needed to replace the departure of our two senior guards, Stanley Burrell and Drew Lavender. Terrell has all of the qualities that we look for in our guards -- outstanding quickness on offense and defense and a great feel for the game. He is also an outstanding young man and fits into our team and University environments extremely well."

SMITH ON LYONS:

"Mark is an outstanding competitor who is as talented as any of the 30 players we've sent to Division I programs in the past four years. He's an explosive guard who can play either guard spot and do so effectively. He plays with a tremendous amount of passion and intensity. Mark is an excellent athlete and outstanding defender who will become a fan favorite at Xavier for how hard he competes."

CRAWFORD ON REDFORD:

"I don't know what else Brad could have done as a senior. He had a great senior year and did it with a great deal of pressure on him every night. The reason Brad shoots, passes and dribbles at such a high level is that he spends hours upon hours in the gym. He has worked himself into the player he is today. Brad can really shoot the ball and his shot mechanics are fundamentally sound. I know the new longer three-point line (in the NCAA in 2008-09) will be a problem for some guys but it won't be a problem for Brad. In addition, he handles the ball very well. You are not going to take it away from him. His decision-making is outstanding."

ACKERMANN ON WALSH:

"Brian is a winner. That's one of the main reasons he chose Xavier. Another big reason is the personal attention he got from coach Miller during the recruiting process. Brian shoots the ball extremely well with great form and releases it high and quick. He's also a great rebounder who is extremely quick off his feet. The one thing that will surprise a lot of people is that he is extremely athletic. He's much more than a shooter. He's such a great athlete he could be a star in football, baseball, basketball, whatever sport he chooses. I'm just happy he chose basketball. He anticipates and understands the game very well. He is very much a student of the game. Brian is very unselfish, almost to a fault. He sees the floor very well and finds the open man and is more than willing to pass up a shot if he can pass to a teammate for a better one. I know Brian will get better and better be-

Sean Miller, who has completed four seasons as the Xavier head coach, agreed in the off-season to an extended contract with Xavier University that will run through the 2017-18 season. The 39-year-old Miller, who had a six-year contract when he was hired on July 8, 2004, received his third contract extension and the longest ever given to a Xavier University head coach. The new deal announced in April is a 10-year agreement beginning in the 2008-09 season and running through the 2017-18 season.

Xavier University President Michael J. Graham, S.J., said Miller and XU share a common vision. "There is a tremendous amount of excitement surrounding our basketball program and its future," Graham said. "It's clear that Sean Miller shares our passion to compete to be the best on a national level, while also running the program the right way. Sean's vision complements the University's mission and what makes this institution special."

"This agreement represents an unprecedented commitment by Xavier University to head coach Sean Miller," said Xavier University Associate Vice President and Athletic Director Mike Bobinski. "It reflects our strong belief in Sean's leadership of our basketball program and further solidifies our mutual desire to achieve success at the highest level of Division I basketball."

"This commitment reinforces my own beliefs and excitement about our future together," said Miller. "With great anticipation, I look forward to continuing to build our program and the challenges that accompany doing so."

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Miller has raised his career record to 93-39 (.705) in four years at the helm, including 30-7 this past season and a trip to the NCAA Tournament "Elite Eight." The 30 wins broke the school record of 28 set in the 1989-90 season. Miller was named the 2007-08 Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year after leading Xavier to a 14-2 A-10 record and a second straight A-10 regular season title. The National Association of Basketball Coaches named Miller as its 2008 NABC District 10 Coach of the Year. He was a finalist for numerous National Coach of the Year awards.

Miller, the 16th head coach in Xavier history, has won 93 games and stands in fifth place for wins in school history. He is alone in first place all-time in XU history for most wins in the first four seasons as head coach.

Miller, who secured his third straight 20-win season, made his third straight NCAA Tournament appearance. Miller has won back-to-back Atlantic 10 Conference Regular Season Championships (2007 and 2008) and an A-10 Tournament Championship (2006).

"Sean Miller has done a phenomenal job at Xavier," said Dick Vitale, one of the many members of the national media that are singing his praises. Mike DeCourcy of The Sporting News said Miller has taken Xavier's program to another level. "What has happened with the program under Sean far exceeded anything I would have imagined," DeCourcy noted. "It's not because the Musketeers made the Elite Eight. Obviously, XU had done that recently. It's how relevant Xavier has become -- how seriously elite recruits view the program...it's easy to be a fan of Sean. I can't think of anyone in the profession who is more honest and more loyal. Sean is as good a person as there is in college basketball." There seems to be a consensus among the top national media. "Miller is one of the rising stars in the profession," said ESPN's Andy Katz. ESPN analyst and former Duke player Jay Bilas put it simply that "Sean is the kind of coach I would love to play for."

Xavier holds the second-best record in March in NCAA Division I since the 2001-02 season, which was Miller's first season on the Xavier campus, the first of his three seasons as Xavier's first-ever associate head coach. 2008 NCAA Champion Kansas (47-10 for .825) is first, Xavier (35-12 for .745) is second and 2008 NCAA Runner-up Memphis (43-15 for .741) is third on the list.

Xavier finished 25-9 overall in the 2006-07 season in Miller's third year as the Xavier head coach. Xavier won the 2007 Atlantic 10 Conference Regular Season Championship and advanced to the second round of the 2007 NCAA Tournament. Miller finished 21-11 in the 2005-06 season, winning the 2006 Atlantic 10 Tournament Championship and earning a berth into the NCAA Tournament.

Miller took over as head coach in 2004. Miller, who replaced Thad Matta, was Matta's right hand man the previous three seasons as XU's first-ever associate head coach. Miller helped XU record three straight 26-win seasons and three straight NCAA Tournament appearances that culminated in the 2004 "Elite Eight" run.

Miller came to Xavier after coaching stops at North Carolina State, Pittsburgh, Miami (Ohio) and Wisconsin. Miller has now coached on 13 teams that have advanced to postseason play in his first 16 seasons as a head coach, an assistant or an associate head coach. That includes six NCAA Tournaments in his first seven years at Xavier.

Do you like the high expectations?

"At Xavier the bar is always high. We challenge ourselves to continue to build on our tradition of winning. Each year our team faces new challenges. However, the best programs in college basketball compete for excellence every season regardless of what happened the year before. There is a difference between having a great team and having a program that can sustain excellence. We want to be that type of program."

Do you ever stop and think about the tradition Xavier continues to build?

"When I reflect on our trips to the Elite Eight in both 2004 and 2008 I focus on the players on those teams. I remember how hard they all worked, how they sacrificed for each other, how they handled the adversity that struck us. Most of all, I remember the seniors - Myles, Sato and Chalmers in 2004 and Burrell, Duncan and Lavender in 2008. They were not only exceptional players and great leaders, but they also had a burning desire to win. As a class they wanted to leave their mark at Xavier - and they did!"

Your tough non-conference schedule helped you get a high NCAA seed last season. This year's schedule also looks very challenging. What is your philosophy on that? "For our program to be respected nationally and in line with our goal of being a part of postseason success consistently, we have to be willing to play a challenging non-conference schedule. In each of the last two years, our non-conference experiences made our teams better prepared to contend for our conference championship, and solidified our position as an at-large candidate for the NCAA tournament."

Have you had a chance to look back and enjoy last year's success?

"Last year's success is always a reminder to our future Xavier teams that playing together allows great things to happen. The fact that we had six players in double figures for most of the season says it all about the unselfishness that existed across the board. I am also very proud of our seniors. They led all of us from start to finish and played every game to win! They set a standard of excellence that will be hard to duplicate."

What style of defense do you prefer?

"Our defensive philosophy is to play half-court man-to-man and be able to get consecutive stops. Although we have the capability of playing zone, and we have at times done this effectively, we rely on our man defense and the principles of it."

What type of play do you prefer on offense?

"Our offensive style of play is predicated on "movement" - player movement, ball movement and a quick pace moving up the floor."

What effect will the change in the three-point shot distance have on college basketball?

"I really believe that the biggest beneficiary of the three-point line moving back is the low post scorer. He will have more space to operate because the defense will be more extended. It will become increasingly more difficult to defend terrific three-point shooters and at the same time crowd the low post."

How important is the Cintas Center to the program?

"Our home court is a phenomenal place to play college basketball. The fact that the Cintas Center is on campus and contains a practice facility adjacent to our main court is an incredible advantage for our players' development. Our home crowd of over 10,000 people for every game coupled with the energy that our student body provides our team is amazing. Our players love the Cintas Center!"

What does the continued commitment from the Xavier administration mean to you?

"I am often asked what separates Xavier from so many other private institutions when it comes to having a successful basketball program. The answer starts at the top with Father Graham and it is passed down through Dr. Kucia and Mike Bobinski. They are a team themselves, and because of their chemistry, organization, and passion for our program - it allows us to be successful. They provide not only great support but also strong leadership. The development of our students and the "total student-athlete experience" is never compromised at Xavier. Our players know that they are at an institution that cares about them as people first."

Chris Mack, 38, is in his fifth year on Sean Miller's staff. Mack returned to Xavier in 2004 as an assistant coach after spending three seasons as an assistant coach at Wake Forest under the late former XU head coach Skip Prosser.

"Chris is ready to become a head coach. He has a great basketball mind and is an excellent recruiter," said Xavier head coach Sean Miller. "Having played here and been a part of very successful teams, championship level teams, it goes without saying he is somebody that is a part of the Xavier family. His experience as a coach at Wake Forest University, where he was a part of an ACC Championship, is invaluable to our staff and players. Chris has a gift at being able to both coach and relate to our players. He has done what they are attempting to do - win championships and graduate from Xavier."

Earlier this year, Mack participated in Nike's 2008 Villa 7 Consortium. The Villa 7 Consortium selected and invited some of the top men's basketball assistant coaches from around the country to attend an educational symposium held on Nike's campus in Beaverton, Ore., this past May. The two-day event featured some of the greatest minds in coaching and served as a networking opportunity, as several athletic directors were on hand throughout the course of the program. The chief goal of the symposium was to provide opportunities for assistant coaches, who are considered to be the very best in college basketball.

In 2007, Mack was named to the Rivals.com "Top 25 Assistant Coaches" list. The site referred to Mack as a "solid recruiter and an excellent teacher." The College Bound

Cincinnati, Ohio

Hoops 2008 rankings (recruitingrumors.com) rank Mack 19th in the nation among assistant coaches.

Prosser praised Mack: "Chris was one of the toughest and brightest players I coached during my time at Xavier," said Prosser. "He brings the same competitiveness and love for the game to coaching that he brought to the game as a player. He shows tremendous energy and ability coaching on the floor, recruiting and in the office."

Operations from 1999-2001. He is a 1992 Xavier University graduate with a degree in communication arts.

Mack's college playing career began at Evansville, where he was a two-year starter as a freshman and sophomore. After two seasons with the Purple Aces, Mack transferred to Xavier, serving as a team captain his junior and senior years in 1991-92 and 1992-93. In high school, Mack earned Cincinnati Post Metro Player of the Year and Greater Cincinnati League Player of the Year honors while playing for St. Xavier High School.

After his graduation from Xavier, Mack played for Athletes in Action in 1993 and in Europe in 1994. Mack took over as the head coach at Mount Notre Dame from 1995-1999 and was named the 1996 Cincinnati Post Coach of the Year.

Mack was born December 30, 1969 in Cleveland, Ohio. He and his wife, Christi, live in Kentucky with their two-year-old daughter, Hailee, and their three-year-old daughter Lainee. Christi, the Director of Basketball Operations for Xavier University's women's basketball team from 2001-03, is now the head girls basketball coach at Colerain High School in Cincinnati.

James Whitford, who joined the Miller staff as an assistant in 2005, spent the previous 11 years working on staff at Miami University (Ohio), including seven years as the top assistant to head coach Charlie Coles.

"James, like Chris Mack, is ready to become a head coach," said Miller. "James has a special way of caring about and relating to our players. He is also an excellent teacher of the game. In particular, he understands our system defensively and has made our program better in this area. He is also a very effective and hard-working recruiter."

Whitford, 37, spent 11 years with the Miami basketball staff. In his most recent position as the top Miami (Ohio) assistant, he coordinated recruiting efforts, assisted in all facets of team and player development including practice planning, individual instruction and preseason conditioning. He was also involved in a variety of daily operations, including game scheduling, budgets and student-athlete class scheduling.

Whitford was a part of three NCAA Tournament appearances, two NIT appearances and four Mid-American Conference regular season championships. Over his 11-year span, Miami recorded a 201-130 (.607) overall mark. The RedHawks were 19-11 in the 2004-05 season, while winning the Mid-American Conference Regular Season Championship with a 12-6 record and earning a berth in the NIT.

Whitford spent two years as an administrative assistant on the Miami staff in the 1994-95 and 1995-96 seasons. He moved from a part-time position to a full-time position as an assistant coach in 1997, replacing former Xavier head coach and Miami assistant coach Thad Matta on Coles' staff. In June of 1998, he succeeded Ray Martin, who was named the Long Island University head coach, as Miami's top assistant.

Before coming to Miami, Whitford was a student at the University of Wisconsin. Whitford received a bachelor's degree in political science from Wisconsin in 1994.

The Madison, Wis., native served as a student manager for the Badger basketball team for three seasons, including head manager during the 1993-94 campaign. During his junior year, 1992-93, Xavier head coach Sean Miller was an assistant coach for the Badgers.

"I have known Sean for a long time, and I have a tremendous amount of respect for him," said Whitford. "I also have a tremendous amount of respect for Xavier, which has a rich tradition of success in college basketball, both on and off the court."

Whitford, who was born July 23, 1971 in Madison, Wis., is married to Amber Whitford, an assistant women's basketball coach at Xavier. The couple's first child, William, celebrated his first birthday in October.

Emanuel “Book” Richardson is in his second season as a member of Sean Miller’s staff. Richardson, 35, joined the Xavier family in August of 2007.

“Emanuel Richardson is an extremely talented basketball coach,” said Miller. “His background as an exceptional player, an assistant at Marist University, and most recently his involvement in New York City as the director of the Gauchos AAU program, has brought unique and valuable experiences to our program. We are excited to have him as part of the Xavier family.”

Immediately prior to joining Xavier, Richardson served as the head coach of the Under 18 USA Red Team at the USA Basketball 2007 Men’s Youth Development Festival. Richardson’s team won the gold medal, becoming the youngest head coach ever to win the event. Richardson was the first ever AAU coach selected to be a head coach at this USA Basketball organized festival.

Richardson was also named to Nike’s Travel Team Advisory Board. Richardson was the youngest of the six members of this extension of Nike Elite Youth Basketball.

Richardson has an extensive basketball background working with young men in the New York area, including most recently as the Director of Basketball for the New York Gauchos/Teamwork Foundation in Bronx, N.Y., since 2005. Richardson, an assistant coach at St. Raymond’s High School for Boys in the Bronx in 2004, was a head coach for 9th and 10th graders in the New York Gauchos system in 2003.

Richardson’s resume includes three stops in the collegiate coaching world. He was an NCAA Division I assistant coach at Marist College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., in 2004-05 prior to taking over the Gauchos. While at Marist he was the recruiting coordinator and was also responsible for scouting and individual skills work. He worked extensively with the guards on ball handling and offensive skill development.

Prior to his stint at Marist, Richardson spent three years as an assistant coach at Monroe College in the Bronx, a NJCAA Division I program, focusing his efforts heavily on recruiting and the implementation of workout regimens for the student-athletes. He helped guide Monroe to a 31-3 finish in 2003, winning Region 15 and District 3 Championships while placing fifth nationally in the NJCAA National Tournament for Division I Junior Colleges in Hutchinson, Kansas.

Richardson, a 1998 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown with a bachelor’s degree in business marketing and management, began his coaching career at his alma mater in 1999. He served as Associate Head Coach for the NCAA Division II school, handling recruiting, scouting opponents, running practices and scheduling study hall. He helped his alma mater record its best record in school history at 25-3.

Richardson resides in West Chester with his wife Erin along with daughter Sere (16) and son E.J. (7). Richardson was born December 15, 1972, in Queens, N.Y.

Mario Mercurio is in his fifth year as Xavier University's first-ever Director of Basketball Administration under head coach Sean Miller. He spent three years working with Thad Matta's staff and also worked two years under the late former head coach Skip Prosser.

Among other things, Mercurio's responsibilities include non-conference scheduling and coordination of all team travel. He has served as the budget administrator for the men's basketball program for the past five years. 2008 will mark the first season Mercurio will serve as the team's academic administrator. In addition, Mercurio served for the past five years as Xavier's liaison to Nike Basketball.

Miller said Mercurio's passion for Xavier makes the program better. "Mario is a Xavier graduate who also earned his MBA here. He has been a part of Coach Prosser's staff, our staff with Coach Matta for three years and our current staff for three years. He has been a part of our success in many ways. Mario knows what the Xavier mission statement is all about because he has lived it. His positive influence over our players has a significant impact on their success as people in our program."

Since taking over scheduling with Miller in 2004, Xavier has added home-and-home series with Virginia, LSU, Kansas State, Arizona State, Butler and Auburn.

Signing high major neutral court games has also been an important part of the Miller scheduling philosophy. Most recently, in the spring of 2008, Mercurio worked closely with Duke and the Meadowlands Sports Complex to create this year's December national television matchup between the two schools. In 2005 Xavier inked a two-year neutral court series with Illinois. With games at Cincinnati's U.S. Bank Arena and Chicago's United Center, that series marked Xavier's return to the Chicago area. Additionally, Mercurio worked with Pantheon International to help Xavier make its third appearance in the prestigious Wooden Tradition. The 2005 matchup with Purdue took place at Indianapolis' Conseco Fieldhouse.

With high profile exempt events becoming an important staple in Xavier's non-conference slate, Mercurio has worked hard to secure spots in some of the country's top events. Xavier participated in the 2006 Paradise Jam with Villanova and Alabama. In 2007, Xavier won the Chicago Challenge with a field that included the Big Ten's Indiana. In 2008, Xavier faces a field at the ESPN Puerto Rico Tip-Off that includes Memphis, USC, Missouri and Virginia Tech. Future contracts that Xavier has secured include ESPN's 2009 Old Spice Classic in Orlando, Florida and a return to the Paradise Jam in 2010.

In addition to his work at Xavier, Mercurio has also been a part of Larry Brown's and John Calipari's yearly basketball retreat. Twice over the last five years, Mercurio was selected to produce a book compiling notes from the retreat. The hundred-plus page book is distributed only to members of the retreat, and consists of ideas, thoughts, philosophies, and plays from some of the greatest basketball minds today. Attendees of the retreat over the past three years have included Jerry West, Isiah Thomas and Jeff Van Gundy among others.

Mercurio was one of only two administrators included on College Bound Hoops 2008 rankings (recruitingrumors.com) of the Top 100 assistant coaches in college basketball. A Cincinnati Saint Xavier High School graduate, Mercurio, 28, graduated in 2003 from Xavier's Williams College of Business with a double major in finance and marketing. He also received his MBA at Xavier. Currently residing in Oakley, Mercurio was born on December 7, 1979 in Cincinnati.

Travis Steele is Xavier's new Director of Basketball Operations, coming to Xavier after two years at Indiana University.

After serving as the video coordinator for a season and a half while at Indiana, Steele was promoted to the position of assistant coach in February, 2008. In that role, he participated in recruiting both on and off-campus and coached daily practices, focusing on skills development of post players. He was also responsible for tracking the academic progress of the student-athletes.

Steele, 24, joined the Hoosiers in August 2006, taking on the duties of the video coordinator. He facilitated advanced scouting of opponents, was responsible for evaluating team practices and organized prospect recruiting on a national level to begin his stint with Indiana.

Prior to his time with the Hoosiers, he served as an assistant men's basketball coach at Wabash Valley College. Joining the Warriors in October, 2005, Steele also functioned as the program's Recruiting Coordinator and developed a skill instruction program.

Steele spent a year with the Ohio State basketball program, serving as a graduate manager. His responsibilities included assisting with the skill instruction program and scouting of opposing teams, and he also helped organize recruiting efforts.

From 2001-06, Steele served as a coach for the Spiece/Indiana Adidas Elite AAU Basketball program. Recruiting high school players, he also coordinated practice and communicated plans to staff while organizing all travel and scheduling. Steele also served as assistant varsity basketball coach at Ben Davis High School while attending Butler University from 2001-2004.

Steele graduated cum laude from Butler in May 2004, earning a bachelor of science degree in marketing. He was born November 12, 1983 in Danville, Ind.

Mike Mulcahey is in his 11th year as part of Xavier's Sports Medicine Staff and his sixth season as the primary athletic trainer for men's basketball.

Head coach Sean Miller said the Xavier basketball program is lucky to have a medical trainer like Mike Mulcahey.

"Working with Mike Mulcahey on a daily basis reminds you how much he loves his job," Miller said. "His enthusiasm is contagious around our program. To have a person that is so knowledgeable about his profession and so positive about life is a great combination. To have our trainer impact our players the way he does regarding rehabilitation, overcoming injuries, and preventing injuries and illness is invaluable. Mike is a Xavier graduate and he loves our university. He is passionate about our players' welfare. He cares deeply about their well-being."

Mulcahey, 34, said he's proud to get assistance this season from student trainers Jordan Leep, Maggie Schweer and Melissa Zimmerman. All of the student trainers are part of the Xavier Athletic Training program.

Mulcahey came to Xavier from Middletown (Ohio) Regional Sports Medicine and Spine Center where he worked with both Middletown High School and the Lebanon (Ohio) Clinic. He is an examiner for the NATABOC exam, American Red Cross First Aid and CPR Instructor and a Disaster Response Services Volunteer.

Hamilton, Ohio

Prior to Middletown, Mulcahey earned his master's degree in athletic training from Western Michigan University, with a Graduate Assistantship at Loy Norrix High School.

As a former student athletic trainer, Mulcahey is no stranger to Xavier athletics. He earned his bachelor's degree in sports medicine from Xavier in 1996 while working with several teams.

Mulcahey was born September 17, 1974 in Hamilton, Ohio. He and his wife, Emily, and sons, Patrick and Ryan, reside in Cincinnati.

Chris Rounds is in his fifth year as the school's head strength and conditioning coach.

Rounds, 36, came to Xavier after spending the previous four years as the strength coach at Loyola Marymount. He was also previously an assistant strength coach at the University of Kentucky.

"We have established an excellent strength and conditioning program that is both comprehensive and year-round in its approach," said Miller. "Our strength and conditioning coach, Chris Rounds, deserves a lot of credit in developing our players to be physically strong and mentally tough. His approach and the development of his program helps us peak at the right time of the year. My hope is that we can be at our best late in the season once again."

At LMU, Rounds oversaw the fitness of the university's 17 varsity programs and its more than 325 student-athletes. Rounds instituted many new programs. He opened eyes at LMU with the vast improvement in the strength and conditioning program for the men's basketball program.

Prior to being hired at LMU, Rounds served Kentucky from 1997-2000 as assistant strength coach for men's basketball and women's basketball. In his three seasons at Kentucky, his main responsibilities were the men's and women's basketball teams, tennis and golf. He was a part of the men's basketball national championship season in 1998.
