We have kicked off year two under head coach Dawn Plitzuweit at South Dakota. Plitzuweit (PLITTS-zoo-white) has guided programs to 20 winning seasons in 22 years. The Coyotes finished 23-9 with an at-large bid to the Women's National Invitational Tournament in her first season. A win today gives Plitzuweit her 30th victory at South Dakota.

Plitzuweit brought with her a new motion offense that features player development and versatility. Experience will be a key factor as South Dakota returns seven players familiar with the system, including three starters in junior Allison Arens, junior Jaycee Bradley and sophomore Ciara Duffy.

This year's team features a deeper lineup and more balanced attack. Nine players average 15 minutes or more on the court this season and six different Coyotes have paced the Coyotes in scoring (Liveringhouse, A. Arens, Bradley, McKeever, M. Arens, Frederick).

Defense has been a point of emphasis under Plitzuweit. This year's squad is holding opponents to 61 points per game, even with four road games and neutral court match-ups against high-powered offenses Tennessee (89 ppg) and Oklahoma State (82 ppg). The last time a Coyote team held opponents to fewer points per game was in 2012-13 (57.6 ppg).

USD's held a 20-point scoring margin since the return from Cancun, while allowing an average of just 52 points in the last four contests.

Defensive bulldog, sophomore Madison McKeever, has made an impact since moving into the starting lineup. In the last four games, McKeever averaged 10.3 points, four steals, 2.5 rebounds and 2.5 assists. On the offensive end, she scored 17 points, two shy of her career best, in last Saturday's win over CSU Bakersfield. Defensively, she swiped away a career high six steals at Incarnate Word. McKeever's 29 steals this season rank second in the Summit and 26th in the nation.

Arens tallied her sixth double-figure game of the season against CSU Bakersfield. Earlier in the week, she recorded her 15th career 20-point game by scoring 21 at Incarnate Word. Arens was an all-Summit League first team honoree last season.

Senior guard Jasmine Trimboli has taken advantage of her fifth-year opportunity and been a leader on the court. She's coming off Saturday's game with CSU Bakersfield where her stat line included nine points, eight boards, three assists, three steals and no turnovers. Trimboli scored a career high 17 points at Incarnate Word. The 5-foot-9 guard leads the Coyotes on the glass with 53 rebounds and also has the best assist-to-turnover ratio on the team.

Arens and Bradley scored 17 points each in last year's contest at Tulsa while Duffy pitched in 13. The trio of guards combined for 64 percent of the Coyotes' scoring through 10 games a season ago. With the added depth of this year's roster, those three now account for 38 percent of the Coyotes' scoring.

Bradley was named to the preseason watch list for the Ann Meyers Drysdale Award, which recognizes the top shooting guards in the nation. Bradley leads the Coyotes outside the arc with 20 made treys.

The recipient of the 2016-17 NCAA Free Throw Shooting Percentage Award, the Coyotes are third in the nation this season at 81.1 percent from the charity stripe.

Freshman guards Monica Arens and Chloe Lamb have made a mark as reserves in their first 10 games as Coyotes. Arens played a three-game stretch of scoring 10 points each game. Lamb is coming off her first double-figure game with 12 points.

The Coyotes have played in four games decided by 20 or more points and seven decided by more than 10. Only two games this season have been decided by five points or less (Iowa State, Creighton). Last year the Coyotes won in Tulsa by three.

Since the Sanford Coyote Sports Center opened a year ago, South Dakota women's basketball boasts a 16-1 record on the court. Add in men's basketball and volleyball and the three teams boast a 49-5 record in the facility.

Whether it's the DakotaDome or the Sanford Coyote Sports Center, South Dakota has a definite home court advantage. The Coyote women are 59-4 in the last five seasons on their home floor.
