TIP OFF

• South Dakota has lost five consecutive games for the first time at the Division I level (since the 2008-09 season). Two of those losses have come at home where the team was 78-5 in its new facility entering the season

• South Dakota qualified for its fourth consecutive NCAA tournament last year, and advanced to the Sweet 16 with wins against Ole Miss and No. 5 Baylor before bowing out against Michigan

• It is a new coach and a new team. Former assistant Kayla Karius, an assistant at Drake last year, returned to Vermillion for the head gig and is working in a new starting five from last year.

• Heading the new starting five is Grace Larkins, the reigning Summit League Sixth Woman of the Year. Larkins leads the team in most categories.

• Take away the five starters from last year and add the preseason injuries to Natalie Mazurek and Allison Peplowski and USD lost 86 percent of its scoring, 84 percent of its rebounding and 83 percent of its minutes. The Madison Grange injury poured fuel on the fire. The Coyotes have lost all five games since Grange went down at the end of the game at Saint Louis.

Welcome to the Kayla Karius Era! Karius (CAR-ee-us) was named head coach back in April. She returns to Vermillion after spending two seasons as an assistant for Dawn Plitzuweit from 2016-18. Karius served three seasons at Wisconsin and one at Drake before accepting USD's head gig. She inherits a program that went 29-6 last year and advanced to the Sweet 16. But all five starters from that squad have moved on, opening the way for new roles for returning players and newcomers alike.

Karius hinted at a number of players shuffling through the rotation early this season, and indeed that has been the case. But injuries have mounted quickly and suddenly USD has 10 healthy bodies on its roster.

The latest injury is to Madison Grange, a graduate transfer who was averaging 11 points per game. She becomes one of four players expected to earn starter's status to become unavailable. Senior captain Allison Peplowski and true freshman Joy Bergstrom are two others. Natalie Mazurek is bouncing back from an injury sustained last year and is yet to return.

Those injuries mean more minutes for younger players. The Coyotes' roster includes redshirt freshmen Carley Duffney and Cassidy Carson along with true freshman Walker Demers. Carson has averaged 21 minutes since Grange's injury while Duffney and Demers have averaged 14. Duffney and Demers are the team's fifth- and sixth-leading scorers, respectively, this season.

The Coyotes' leader all season, as expected, has been true sophomore Grace Larkins, last year's Summit League Sixth Woman of the Year. Larkins was USD's fifth-leading scorer last season at 6.5 points per game. This year, she leads USD in points, rebounds, assists and steals. She registered her first collegiate double-double four games ago against Fordham and put up a career-high 30 points at Northern Colorado. It is the second time this season Larkins has scored at least 20.

Macy Guebert and Jeniah Ugofsky are two other veterans back from last year's Sweet 16 team. Both have started all 10 games. Guebert leads the team in minutes and leads the Summit League in assist-to-turnover ratio. Ugofsky is the only Coyote shooting above 40 percent from the field during this five-game skid. She is shooting 54 percent on the season and is USD's fourth-leading scorer.

Sophomore Alexi Hempe has provided more optimism on the injury front. She saw time as a true freshman two years ago, but sat out all of last season due to injury. Hempe is the Coyotes' second-leading scorer through 10 games. Her top highlight is 16 first-half points against Bradley on South Dakota's first road trip of the season.

Morgan Hansen is the latest Coyote to get a crack at the starting lineup. She has started the last two games and is South Dakota's second-leading scorer to Larkins over the last four games. Hansen is 8-of-20 from three-point range over those last four games and averaged 9.5 points.

Nicole Avila-Ambrosi was first to take Grange's spot in the starting lineup in Las Vegas. She played two seasons at California Baptist and earned WAC all-Newcomer honors in 2020-21 despite an injury ending her season early. She has had big games against NAIA foes Midland (14 points) and Bellevue (11 points), but has totaled eight points in seven games against Division I foes.

Regardless of roster or injuries, replacing last year's team was going to be tall task. The Coyotes featured "The Big Three" in Chloe Lamb, Hannah Sjerven and Liv Korngable. Add in the two other starters in Maddie Krull (Nebraska) and Kyah Watson (West Virginia), and South Dakota is replacing 80 percent of its scoring, 74 percent of its minutes and 62 percent of its rebounds. The injuries to Peplowski and Mazurek push those percentages higher and now injuries to Bergstrom and Grange take away from the efforts to replace them.

Those numbers fail to give credit to the defensive contributions from last year's squad. USD is the first program to lead the Summit in scoring defense for five consecutive seasons. South Dakota held foes to 53.1 points per game last season which was eighth-best nationally. During the last six-plus seasons, South Dakota is 109-3 when holding teams to fewer than 60 points. Foes have scored into the 70s in each of the Coyotes' six losses this season.

It's been the second quarter in the three home games against Division I foes that have been troublesome. Against Creighton, Drake and Montana, South Dakota won the first quarter 53-40... and lost the second quarter 79-14. Montana scored the first 19 points of the second quarter Sunday, flipping a 20-12 deficit into a 31-20 lead that the Grizzlies never surrendered.

South Dakota currently ranks 15th nationally in fewest turnovers (12.3) and 30th nationally in 3-point percentage (.369). The Coyotes are also 31st in free-throw shooting (.768). USD made a program-record 19 three-pointers in its season-opener.

ABOUT UT MARTIN

The Skyhawks were 12-18 last year, but returns its top three scorers and added two talented freshmen in Kenley McCarn and Sharnecce Currie-Jelks. McCarn scored 31 points against Troy in her debut, but was injured in game four and has not returned. Currie-Jelks leads the team with nearly 13 points and seven boards per game. Paige Pipkin, the team's leading scorer last year, adds 11 points per game.

UT Martin's signature win thus far was a 66-54 road win at Vanderbilt back on Dec. 4. The Skyhawks were humbled Monday with a 75-36 setback at South Dakota State. The only good news there was the season debut of Ella Thompson, who started 19 games last year, but missed the first eight games this year due to injury. Wednesday is UT Martin's fourth game since Thanksgiving.

COACHES / HEAD COACH KAYLA KARIUS

Kayla Karius was announced as the 11th South Dakota women's basketball head coach on April 10, 2022.

Karius (CAR-ee-us) takes the helm of a Coyote squad fresh off the first Sweet 16 appearance in program history. A familiar face to the program, Karius (formerly Tetschlag) served as an assistant to Dawn Plitzuweit for two seasons from 2016-18. In her two seasons at USD, the Coyotes compiled a 52-16 record with a pair of Women's National Invitation Tournament berths. The Coyotes won the 2017-18 Summit League regular season title and became the first Summit champion to go undefeated in league play in 24 years. Karius received the WBCA's Thirty Under 30 award in 2018.

A key recruiter in the Midwest, Karius has served as the recruiting coordinator at all four stops in her coaching career – Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and Drake. Her recruiting classes at South Dakota included 2022 Summit League Player of the Year Chloe

Lamb, three-time Defensive Player of the Year Hannah Sjerven, two-time all-league pick Liv Korngable, Monica Arens, Claudia Kunzer, Regan Sankey and Allison Peplowski.

Karius spent three seasons at Wisconsin and last season on the bench at Drake. The Bulldogs won 20 games and reached the WNIT's round of 16. Karius worked with first-team all-Missouri Valley picks Grace Berg and Megan Meyer.

A native of Sheboygan, Wisconsin, Karius graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay in 2011 with a bachelor's of business administration with a marketing emphasis. Karius, a standout on the Phoenix basketball team, was the 2011 Horizon League Player of the Year. She led Green Bay to four Horizon League titles, three NCAA Tournaments and the NCAA Sweet 16 her senior year. She received the Horizon League Cecil N. Colman Medal of Honor at the conclusion of her playing career.

Prior to entering the coaching profession, Karius spent four seasons playing professionally abroad. Her stops included Germany, Luxembourg and Belgium. She averaged a double-double and consistently ranked among her respective league's top-three for points and rebounds.

Karius and her husband, Rick, have two sons, Treyton and Macklin.
