TIM CRAFT

HEAD COACH | FIFTH SEASON

CONSISTENT SUCCESS

One of the region's top young basketball minds, Tim Craft is in his fifth season as the head coach of the Gardner-Webb University program. During his time in charge of the Runnin' Bulldogs, Craft has posted 74 wins – the best total over a four-year span in Gardner-Webb's NCAA Division I history, and one of the best marks to start a career in Big South Conference history. The Tallahassee, Fla., native is one of only four head coaches to win at least 15 games in each of his first four seasons, and was one of only 10 coaches in league history to win 50 or more games in his first three seasons..

Craft's current run in Boiling Springs includes four-straight winning seasons, which is the longest stretch since the program's move to Division I, and three consecutive trips to the Big South Conference tournament semifinals. Gardner-Webb has gone 74-60 over the past four seasons, including 41 wins in Big South Conference action – and wins over Power Five programs Clemson, Purdue and Nebraska.

Craft led the Runnin' Bulldogs to an overall record of 18-15 in his first season at the helm, guiding Gardner-Webb to a 10-6 mark in the Big South Conference, which placed the Runnin' Bulldogs two games out of a tie with regular season champion High Point - who the Runnin' Bulldogs defeated 80-76 on February 8 in Paul Porter Arena. Prior to the victory over High Point, the Runnin' Bulldogs were involved in the longest NCAA Division I game of the season on February 5, falling to VMI 108-104 in a four-overtime marathon in Paul Porter Arena.

The Runnin' Bulldogs would close out the regular season in fine form, winning five of their last seven to earn the fifth seed in the Big South Tournament where they defeated Longwood, 81-65, to advance to the quarterfinal round. Gardner-Webb then fell to VMI, 90-77, to end the season.

For his efforts, Craft became the first coach in program history to be named one of the 10 finalists for the Joe B. Hall Award, given to the top first-year head coach in the nation. Sophomore Jerome Hill earned all-conference honors during the 2013-2014 season, as he was named to the Big South All-Conference Second Team.

Rookie Tyrell Nelson was recognized on the Big South All-Freshman team and senior Mike Byron garnered the program's second-ever Scholar Athlete of the Year honors. Hill also earned a spot on the Big South All-Tournament team. Craft and the Runnin' Bulldogs continued their climb during the 2014-2015 campaign, posting the program's second 20-win season in the last three years while finishing with a 10-8 record in Big South play.

Gardner-Webb notched a pair of landmark victories, including the program's first-ever win over an ACC opponent with a 72-70 victory over Clemson at the Paradise Jam, as well as an 89-84 come-from-behind win over Big Ten opponent and NCAA Tournament team Purdue.

The Runnin' Bulldogs would advance to the semifinal round of the Big South Tournament as the seventh seed, upsetting second-seeded High Point, 72-71, in overtime in the quarterfinals before falling to eventual tournament champion Coastal Carolina. Gardner-Webb made its second appearance in a postseason tournament several days later, accepting a bid to the Collegiate Basketball Invitational and taking on the University of Colorado - Boulder in the first round.

Three Runnin' Bulldogs earned postseason honors in 2014-2015, as Hill earned a spot on the Big South All-Conference First Team and senior Tyler Strange was named to the Second Team. Nelson was selected to the Big South All-Academic Team, while both he and Hill were named to the North Carolina Collegiate Sports Information Association's University Division All-State Team.

The 2015-2016 season saw Gardner-Webb post its third-straight winning record under Craft's guidance – the fourth season in a row overall finishing above the .500 mark. GWU won 17 games and advanced to the Big South Conference semifinals once again.

Nelson was named second-team All-Big South Conference and followed that selection up with a spectacular showing in three league tournament games. He also earned a spot on the Big South's All-Academic Team for the second year in a row.

Gardner-Webb reached the 19-win mark in 2016-2017, before falling to top-seed and host Winthrop in an epic, overtime thriller in the Big South Conference Tournament semifinals. GWU had a league-high three men earn All-Big South honors, won 11 league games for only the second time since joining the Big South and posted the program's highest GPA in nine seasons.

Craft, 40, returned to Gardner-Webb in 2013 after spending the previous three seasons as an assistant coach at East Carolina and the previous three seasons on staff at Auburn - one as Director of Basketball Operations and two as an assistant coach. Craft spent each of those six seasons at the side of former North Carolina point guard standout Jeff Lebo, who starred for the Tar Heels from 1986-1989. Auburn and East Carolina combined to win 109 games and make three postseason appearances during Craft's time on staff, averaging more than 18 wins per season.

Prior to his time on Lebo's staff, Craft spent three seasons as an assistant coach at Gardner-Webb (2004-2007) and played a critical role in the two best seasons the Runnin' Bulldogs enjoyed as members of the Atlantic Sun Conference.

Craft returned to Gardner-Webb following perhaps the best season in East Carolina basketball history. The Pirates won a school-record 23 games in 2012-2013 and capped the run with a ColleagueInsider.com Postseason Tournament (CIT) championship.

The Pirates tied for fourth place in Conference USA and advanced to the league's tournament quarterfinals. ECU ranked second in C-USA in scoring, averaging a sizzling 76.5 points per game and led the league in assists per game (17.2), assist-turnover ratio (1.36) and 3-pointers made per game (7.8). Defensively, the Pirates ranked No. 3 in the conference in 3-point field goal percentage defense and were among the circuit's best in blocked shots (4.46 per game) and steals (7.97 per game). Nationally, East Carolina ranked No. 2 in assists per game and No. 18 in scoring offense.

Forward Maurice Kemp became the first ECU player to earn first-team All-Conference USA honors, averaging a league-best 18.9 points per game in addition to a solid 8.0 rebounds per game. Kemp was named MVP of the ColleagueInsider.com Postseason Tournament. Two-time All-C-USA guard Miguel Paul led the league in assists and averaged 13.3 points per game, turning that production into an NBA tryout with the Orlando Magic and Washington Wizards following the season.

Craft helped the Pirates to 56 wins during his three seasons in Greenville, N.C., helping oversee a complete turnaround of a program that had not experienced as many as 15 wins in a season since 1996-97. East Carolina posted 18 wins in Craft's first season, the program's first above .500 in 14 years.

Craft spent three seasons on staff at Auburn (2007-2010) and helped the Tigers average nearly 18 wins per season during his time in the Southeastern Conference. In 2008-09, Craft helped Auburn to 24 wins, a second-place finish in the SEC and a postseason run that ended in the quarterfinals of the NIT.

Craft has been a part of major success in Boiling Springs before. His first season on the bench in Paul Porter Arena saw Gardner-Webb win its first Division I team title, bolting to the top of the Atlantic Sun Conference in 2004-2005 to win the league's regular season crown. The Runnin' Bulldogs advanced to the A-Sun title game in the postseason, and finished with an 18-12 record. Gardner-Webb followed that effort with 17 wins in 2005-2006.

Craft helped develop four All-Conference players during his time with Gardner-Webb as an assistant coach, including two-time A-Sun Defensive Player of the Year Tim Jennings. He also helped assemble a recruiting class in his final season with the program that was ranked No. 49 nationally by Hoop Scoop.

Prior to coaching at Gardner-Webb, Craft spent two seasons as an assistant at Pensacola (Fla.) Junior College (PJC) under coach Paul Swanson. In 2003-04, the Pirates went 20-10 and were ranked as high as No. 13 nationally.

At PJC, he coached forward Joel Anthony, who has won a pair of NBA titles as a member of the Miami Heat. Anthony was the 2007 Mountain West Player of the Year at UNLV. He also coached Tim Jennings, who went on to star at Gardner-Webb for two seasons. Twelve of the players Craft coached at PJC signed Division I scholarships and 91 percent earned their two-year degrees.

Craft began his coaching career as the assistant varsity coach and head junior varsity coach at Robert F. Munroe School in Quincy, Fla., in 2000-01. He was promoted to the Head Varsity Boy's Basketball Coach at Munroe the following season in 2001-02 before moving to PJC in 2002-03.

Craft earned his Bachelor of Arts in history with a minor in secondary education from the University of Florida in 2000. Craft and his wife, Jessica, have three children – Lola, Macy and Bennett.

JEREMY LUTHER

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH | FIFTH SEASON

Jeremy Luther is in his fifth season with the Gardner-Webb University men's basketball program, and first as Associate Head Coach. He has nearly two decades of coaching experience on the collegiate level – including six successful seasons as head coach at Newberry and Armstrong Atlantic State.

Luther has been a vital part of Gardner-Webb's consistent success during head coach Tim Craft's tenure, including four-straight winning seasons, which is the longest stretch since the program's move to Division I. GWU has also posted three consecutive trips to the Big South Conference tournament semifinals. Gardner-Webb has gone 74-60 over the past four seasons, including 41 wins in Big South Conference action – and wins over Power Five programs Clemson, Purdue and Nebraska.

Luther's recruiting efforts have yielded terrific results, which was a key part of Gardner-Webb's outstanding year in 2016-2017. The 'Dogs posted 19 wins overall and won 11 games in the Big South for only the second time since joining the league in 2008-2009. GWU was the lone program to earn three All-Big South selections and forged the program's highest GPA in nine seasons.

Luther and the Runnin' Bulldogs were strong during the 2014-2015 campaign, posting the program's second 20-win season in the last three years while finishing with a 10-8 record in Big South play. Gardner-Webb notched a pair of landmark victories, including the program's first-ever win over an ACC opponent with a 72-70 victory over Clemson at the Paradise Jam, as well as an 89-84 come-from-behind win over Big Ten opponent and NCAA Tournament team Purdue.

The Runnin' Bulldogs would advance to the semifinal round of the Big South Tournament as the seventh seed, upsetting second-seeded High Point, 72-71, in overtime in the quarterfinals before falling to eventual tournament champion Coastal Carolina. Gardner-Webb made its second appearance in a postseason tournament several days later, accepting a bid to the Collegiate Basketball Invitational and taking on the University of Colorado - Boulder in the first round.

Three Runnin' Bulldogs earned postseason honors in 2014-2015, as Hill earned a spot on the Big South All-Conference First Team and senior Tyler Strange was named to the Second Team. Nelson was selected to the Big South All-Academic Team, while both he and Hill were named to the North Carolina Collegiate Sports Information Association's University Division All-State Team.

Under the direction of Luther and the rest of the Gardner-Webb coaching staff, the Runnin' Bulldogs put together an 18-15 record in Tim Craft's first year at the helm, finishing the regular season with a 10-6 mark in the Big South Conference to earn the fifth seed in the VisitMyrtleBeach.com Big South Conference Tournament.

A trio of Runnin' Bulldogs earned all-conference honors during the 2013-2014 season, as sophomore Jerome Hill was named to the Big South All-Conference Second Team, rookie Tyrell Nelson was recognized on the Big South All-Freshman team and senior Mike Byron garnered the program's second-ever Scholar Athlete of the Year honors. Hill also earned a spot on the Big South All-Tournament team.

Luther has 15 seasons of experience on the college sidelines, including six seasons as a head coach at a pair of NCAA Division II programs. The Tallahassee, Florida native forged an 82-80 overall record in those two head coaching stops.

He spent 2007-2009 rebuilding a Newberry program that had not won more than 12 games in a season since 2003-2004. In just his second season at the school, Luther led the Wolves to a record-setting campaign, posting a 21-8 overall record and a second-place finish in the South Atlantic Conference. The overall and league win total (10-6) both established new school records for Newberry.

Luther directed Armstrong Atlantic to a pair of winning campaigns during his time in Savannah, including a 15-12 mark in 2012-2013. Senior guard Aric Miller was named NABC Division II All-American and Daktronics/CoSIDA All-Southeast Region after leading the Peach Belt in scoring at 23.7 points per game.

The Pirates won 11 games in the ultra-competitive Peach Belt Conference. The 2012-2013 season also included a win over No. 20 St. Leo (Fla.) in November.

Luther spent 2001-2007 as an assistant coach at Mercer, helping the Bears to an Atlantic Sun Conference regular season title in 2002-2003.

Mercer finished that season with a 23-6 record, the most wins in school history at that time and the first winning season at the school since 1996. The season also marked the Bears' first season with more than 15 wins since 1985-1986 and included an impressive 14-2 mark in the Atlantic Sun Conference.

During Luther's time in Macon, 10 Bears student-athletes went on to play professionally. Luther also spent time as head coach at Windsor Academy in Macon, Ga. (2000-2001) and as an assistant at North Greenville (1998-2000).

Luther started his playing career at Robert Morris (1992-93) before playing two seasons at Liberty and Covenant College. In his final two seasons at Covenant, Luther netted 1,300 points. He was named to the NAIA Division II All-America team following his senior season, when he pumped in 26.0 points per game.

Luther graduated from North Greenville in 1999 with a Bachelor of Arts in English. He and his wife, Ginny, have three children – Bryson, Kendall and August.

PAUL HEMRICK

ASSISTANT COACH | FIFTH SEASON

Paul Hemrick is his fifth season as an assistant coach with the Runnin' Bulldogs, after serving at a high level as Director of Basketball Operations from 2011-2013. Hemrick has transitioned very well to the bench, providing a boost on the recruiting trail as well.

Hemrick has been involved with the program in each of the last six seasons – with the last five seasons ending with GWU above the .500 mark. No Gardner-Webb team has posted more than two consecutive winning seasons since the school made the jump to NCAA Division I in 2000-2001 – with the last instance coming between 1978-1983. Hemrick has seen GWU win 95 games over the past five seasons, which includes a pair of postseason appearances.

Last season, the 'Dogs posted 19 wins overall and won 11 games in the Big South for only the second time since joining the league in 2008-2009. GWU was the lone program to earn three All-Big South selections and forged the program's highest GPA in nine seasons.

GWU finished with a 17-16 mark in 2015-2016, with that showing bolstered with another run to the Big South Conference semifinals. Forward Tyrell Nelson earned All-Big South Conference second team honors for the second year in a row and was one of several GWU performers who stood out during the league tournament.

Hemrick and the Runnin' Bulldogs were strong during the 2014-2015 campaign, posting the program's second 20-win season in three years while finishing with a 10-8 record in Big South play. Gardner-Webb notched a pair of landmark victories, including the program's first-ever win over an ACC opponent with a 72-70 victory over Clemson at the Paradise Jam, as well as an 89-84 come-from-behind win over Big Ten opponent and NCAA Tournament team Purdue.

The Runnin' Bulldogs would advance to the semifinal round of the Big South Tournament as the seventh seed, upsetting second-seeded High Point, 72-71, in overtime in the quarterfinals before falling to eventual tournament champion Coastal Carolina. Gardner-Webb made its second appearance in a postseason tournament several days later, accepting a bid to the Collegiate Basketball Invitational and taking on the University of Colorado - Boulder in the first round.

Three Runnin' Bulldogs earned postseason honors in 2014-2015, as Hill earned a spot on the Big South All-Conference First Team and senior Tyler Strange was named to the Second Team. Nelson was selected to the Big South All-Academic Team, while both he and Hill were named to the North Carolina Collegiate Sports Information Association's University Division All-State Team.

Under the direction of Hemrick and the rest of the Gardner-Webb coaching staff, the Runnin' Bulldogs put together an 18-15 record in Tim Craft's first year at the helm, finishing the regular season with a 10-6 mark in the Big South Conference to earn the fifth seed in the VisitMyrtleBeach.com Big South Conference Tournament.

A trio of Runnin' Bulldogs earned all-conference honors during the 2013-2014 season, as sophomore Jerome Hill was named to the Big South All-Conference Second Team, rookie Tyrell Nelson was recognized on the Big South All-Freshman team and senior Mike Byron garnered the program's second-ever Scholar Athlete of the Year honors. Hill also earned a spot on the Big South All-Tournament team.

Hemrick played an integral role in leading the Runnin' Bulldogs to a record-setting season in 2012-2013. The Runnin' Bulldogs posted a 21-13 overall record and finished just a game out of first place in the final Big South Conference regular season standings. After advancing to the Big South Tournament semifinals, GWU made its first NCAA Division I postseason appearance – hosting OVC power Eastern Kentucky in the first round of the 2013 CollegeInsiders.com Postseason Tournament.

During his two seasons as Director of Basketball Operations, Hemrick had a hand in all aspects of the program, from administrative duties on a daily basis to overseeing the team's student managers and responsibilities for all video exchange and editing. His expertise with video was a very important aspect of Gardner-Webb's scouting success.

The John's Creek, Georgia native came to Boiling Springs after spending the past two seasons as head varsity men's basketball coach at Westminster Christian Academy in Watkinsville, Ga. He directed the squad to a 17-8 record in his first season, improving the previous season's win total by eight games. He directed the Lions to a pair of state tournament appearances and had five players named All-Region in two seasons.

Hemrick spent four seasons as a student manager at the University of Georgia from 2005-2009, coordinating film exchange in addition to responsibilities for equipment and filming.

Hemrick graduated from Georgia in May 2009 with a Bachelor of Arts in business administration-management and a Bachelor of Science in education-sports management. He and his wife, Melissa, are the proud parents of Eloise Grace.

DeANTOINE BEASLEY

ASSISTANT COACH | FOURTH SEASON

DeAntoine “Cat” Beasley is in his fourth season as an assistant coach at Gardner-Webb University with the men’s basketball program, where he has helped the Runnin’ Bulldogs develop into Big South Conference contenders.

He has helped Gardner-Webb to a finish of .500 or better in each of his seasons with the program. The ‘Dogs posted 19 wins overall and won 11 games in the Big South for only the second time since joining the league in 2008-2009. GWU was the lone program to earn three All-Big South selections and forged the program’s highest GPA in nine seasons.

Beasley and the ‘Dogs posted their fourth-straight winning campaign in 2015-2016, which saw Gardner-Webb advance to the semifinals of the Big South Conference Tournament for the second year in a row. Forward Tyrell Nelson earned All-Big South Conference honors and was one of the most dominant players in the league tournament – averaging 19.0 points and 10.0 rebounds in three games.

Beasley’s first season with the Runnin’ Bulldogs in 2014-2015 saw GWU post the program’s second 20-win season in three years while finishing with a 10-8 record in Big South play. Gardner-Webb notched a pair of landmark victories, including the program’s first-ever win over an ACC opponent with a 72-70 victory over Clemson at the Paradise Jam, as well as an 89-84 come-from-behind win over Big Ten opponent and NCAA Tournament team Purdue.

The Runnin’ Bulldogs would advance to the semifinal round of the Big South Tournament as the seventh seed, upsetting second-seeded High Point, 72-71, in overtime in the quarterfinals before falling to eventual tournament champion Coastal Carolina. Gardner-Webb made its second appearance in a postseason tournament several days later, accepting a bid to the Collegiate Basketball Invitational and taking on the University of Colorado - Boulder in the first round.

Three Runnin’ Bulldogs earned postseason honors in 2014-2015, as Hill earned a spot on the Big South All-Conference First Team and senior Tyler Strange was named to the Second Team. Nelson was selected to the Big South All-Academic Team, while both he and Hill were named to the North Carolina Collegiate Sports Information Association’s University Division All-State Team.

Beasley spent the 2013-2014 season as an assistant at Pensacola State (Fla.) College, where he helped the Pirates to a 21-11 overall record in the junior college ranks and the program’s 15th Panhandle Conference title.

Beasley has a wealth of Division I coaching experience under his belt, having served for two seasons as an assistant coach at Chattanooga from 2011-2013 under Coach John Shulman. Beasley also coached one season at his alma mater, Tennessee Tech, under Coach Mike Sutton.

The Atlanta, Ga., native is familiar with Gardner-Webb head coach Tim Craft, who he worked with as a graduate manager at Auburn in 2009-2010.

Beasley joined the Auburn staff after playing seven seasons professionally in England – and also launched his coaching career internationally, coaching at the University of St. Mark and St. John from 2003-2005. His coaching was rewarded with national titles in 2003 and 2004.

Beasley was a perennial all-star during his playing career in England and was MVP in the National Trophy race in 2004. He also won the 2004 BBC Sports Personality Award for the Southwest Region.

As a player in the college ranks, Beasley played in 120 games for the Golden Eagles at Tennessee Tech – averaging a career-high 8.5 points per game as a junior. His biggest victory came off the court, as he overcame a Hodgkin’s Disease diagnosis midway through his sophomore season.

The former South Cobb (Ga.) High standout completed his sophomore season before starting treatment for the disease, redshirted the next season and returned for his junior season in 2000-2001.

Beasley helped the Golden Eagles to OVC titles in 2001 and 2002, with the 2002 squad going a strong 27-7 and winning three NIT games – over Georgia State, Dayton and Yale – before falling to John Calipari and eventual NIT champion Memphis in the quarterfinals by just six points.

Beasley was honored as the Sam Harley Lynn Award recipient in 1999 and earned the Golden Eagle Award for sacrifice, dedication and hard work in 2001-02. He also won the John P. Hendrix Leadership Award as a junior and senior while serving as the Golden Eagles’ team captain.

Beasley is the only student-athlete in Tennessee Tech history to win all three awards. He graduated from the Cookeville, Tenn., school with a Bachelor of Science in health and physical education in 2004.

Beasley and his wife, the former Katie Hesse of Sheffield, England, were married on August 11, 2011. They are the proud parents of a daughter, Charlotte.

HEATH GREENE

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS | THIRD SEASON

Heath Greene is in his fifth season with the Gardner-Webb University men's basketball program, and third as the Director of Basketball Operations after serving two years as a Graduate Assistant with the team.

In his capacity as Director of Basketball Operations, Greene serves as the program's camp director while also coordinating team travel and overseeing the graduate assistant staff.

Greene has been a part of the Gardner-Webb men's basketball program for the past six years, serving the previous two seasons as a graduate assistant with the program as the team's video coordinator while also being responsible for advanced scouts and all video edits, as well as film exchange.

Prior to serving as a graduate assistant, Greene served as a student manager with the program under Rick Scruggs and current Ohio State head coach Chris Holtmann. In Greene's final season as a student manager, Gardner-Webb posted its first 20-win season since 2001 and earned the program's first postseason berth as an NCAA Division I member.

Greene earned a Bachelor's of Science in sport management from Gardner-Webb in 2013, and a Masters of Business Administration from Gardner-Webb in 2015.
