SWIMMING AND DIVING HISTORY

The University of Hawai'i swimming program dates back to the beginning of the 20th century when assistant professor of geology, Harold Palmer, took students to Waikiki to instruct them on the art of swimming. Palmer, who was a former varsity swimmer at Yale, taught his students Ivy League swimming techniques.

In 1920, UH students raised $20,000 for the construction of the school's first swimming pool. The 75' x 35' tank was built at the site of the present day bookstore under the supervision of Palmer, who also helped in the planning process.

The new pool was dedicated July 29, 1921, with a meet featuring Yale and three other Honolulu swim clubs. The inaugural event was highlighted by Duke Kahanamoku's 50-yard freestyle exhibition, swam in 23.20 seconds.

Three years after the opening of the pool, student Albert E. "Toots" Minivielle Jr., organized a team, which took on McKinley High. UH fell to McKinley, 54-26. The following fall, UH officially recognized swimming as a minor sport.

The interest in swimming waned during the next five years and many of Hawai'i's most notorious swimmers were taking their talents elsewhere. For example, freshman Clarence "Buster" Crabbe swam for the Outrigger Canoe Club. After Crabbe won a bronze medal in the 1500-meter freestyle at the 1928 Olympics, he spent his sophomore year at UH, which did not have a swimming team, and later transferred to Ohio State.

In 1931, the Rainbows won their first swimming title as they grabbed the Zellerbach Trophy in the Star-Bulletin indoor swims. On Oct. 8, 1932, the ASUH unanimously voted to make swimming a major sport, which placed it on equal ground with football, baseball, basketball and track.

The arrival of native Japanese swimmers from Maui - Kiyoshi Nakama and Takashi Hirose - highlighted the UH program in 1941. The squad was captained by former State Supreme Court Chief Justice William Richardson and boasted former City Prosecutor Charles Marsland and the late State Legislator Larry Kuriyama. But soon World War II intervened, and the swimming program was temporarily halted.

In 1946, legendary swimming coach Soichi Sakamoto took over the program. Sakamoto built squads that were large and powerful. Unfortunately, these squads were soon crippled when a mass exodus of local high school talent decided to attend mainland colleges, which offered better facilities and scholarships.

Head coach Soichi Sakamoto gives pointers to a swimmer during a spring practice session in the 1955 season.

By 1955, the swimming squad was reduced to just four members. The next few years saw Shelly Mann, the 1956 Olympic (Melbourne) gold medalist in the 100-meter butterfly, along with teammate Ivanelle Hoe, give women's swimming a boost in 1957. Nevertheless, by 1961 varsity swimming was abolished.

The 1970s reintroduced the swimming program, splitting it into two intercollegiate teams for the first time in its history. Swimming coach Wesley Mock was hired in the fall of 1971 and took over the duties through 1976.

The women's program began under the guidance of coach Al Minn in 1974. In his 13 years with the program, Minn guided his teams to numerous national placings, including a 14th place finish at the AIAW (1978) and 16th at the NCAA Championship (1983). Minn led the Rainbow Wahine to its first Pacific Coast Athletic Association title in 1986. Jeanne Childs became the first and only swimmer to win national titles in both the 100 and 200-yard breaststroke events in 1983.

In 1971, diving officially got its start at UH, under the guidance of coach Wally Nakamoto. For the next 28 years, Nakamoto's pupils had an impressive list of accomplishments, including former Rainbow Wahine Keala O'Sullivan (Watson), who took the bronze medal in the 3-meter springboard at the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City.

In 1978, Jan Prins took over the men's team. In his nine years with the squad, Prins guided his team to two Western Athletic Conference titles (one later vacated) and an 18th place finish at the 1985 NCAA Championships.

In 1987, the teams combined for the first time in history under the leadership of Daniel Arakaki. Arakaki spent 10 years at UH, improving both the men and women's programs. During his first year at UH, the American Swimming Coaches Association awarded Arakaki the Excellence Award for his work with the women's team.

Following Arakaki's departure in 1997, Scott Hardman picked up the coaching duties for one season, followed by Sam Freas for two seasons, and Bruce Kennard for one. In 2000, Mike Brown and Anita Rossing were hired to lead the UH diving program from long-time coach Wally Nakamoto. In 2000, Freas brought the men's program to its highest placing at the NCAA Championship - tied for 15th.

In 2001, Mike Anderson came aboard leading both the men and women's programs to national rankings, All-America honors, and sent its highest number of swimmers to the NCAA Championship in 2004.

In 2005, QiongJie Huang became the first UH diver to win a NCAA national title, claiming the 1-meter springboard event.

Victor Wales took over the men and women's swimming programs in the fall of 2006, leading the Rainbow Wahine to their first-ever Western Athletic Conference championship in the spring of 2006 and the Rainbow Warriors to their first-ever Conference-USA title in the spring of 2011.

In 2007 and 2008, Magnus Frick placed 2nd at the Men's NCAA Championships in the 1 meter events, the highest places ever by a Rainbow swimmer or diver. In 2008, Emma Friesen became the second UH diver to win a NCAA national title, also claiming the 1-meter title.

The 2013-14 season saw Amund Gismervik take 3rd in the NCAA Men's Championships in the 10-meter platform event.

At the 2015 Mountain Pacific Sports Federation Championships, the Rainbow Wahine brought home UH's first-ever MPSF title across any sport or gender while sweeping the conference's major end of the year awards.

UH'S OLYMPIC TRAIL

1948 - LONDON

Bill Smith, who is the only former UH swimmer to grab Olympic gold, won both the 400-meter Free (4:41.00) and was a member of the 4x200-meter Free Relay (8:46.00) team at the London Games two years after swimming with UH. Smith captained the USA Swimming team at the event, which won all six swimming events that year.

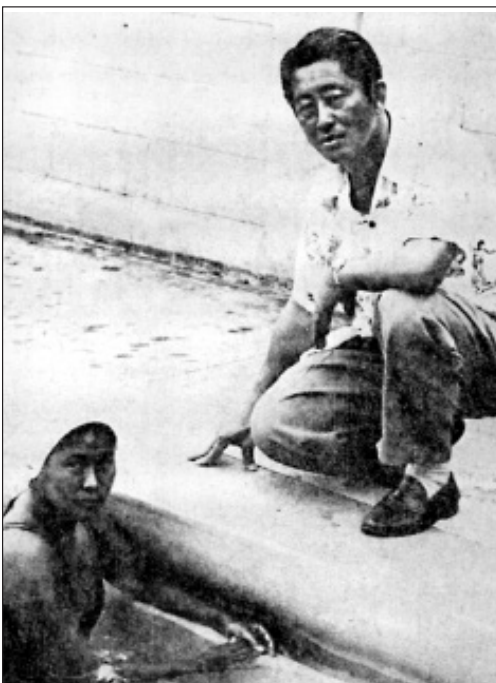

Smith started competitive swimming at the age of 15 at the Waikiki Natatorium in 1939. Just one year later, he competed at the Nationals in California where he finished the one mile swim in second and met renowned coach Soichi Sakamoto. Just one year under Sakamoto's guidance, Smith broke both the American and World swimming records and, at one point, he held eight world and 12 national records in the freestyle.

Bill Smith is the only former UH male swimmer or diver to earn a gold medal at the Olympics. He accomplished the feat in the 1948 games held in London. He later transferred to Ohio State where he finished out his collegiate career.

1952 - HELSINKI

During her first and only year with UH, Evelyn Kawamoto-Konno grabbed two bronze medals for USA at the Helsinki Games.

Head coach Soichi Sakamoto poolside with UH Olympian Evelyn Kawamoto-Konno. The swimmer won two bronze medals at the 1952 games in Helsinki, while Sakamoto served as an assistant for the USA men's team.

Kawamoto-Konno, who trained under coach Soichi Sakamoto, finished third in the 400-meter Free (5:14.60) and was a member of the 4x100-meter Free Relay (4:30.10) team. Sakamoto, the legendary Hawai'i coach, served as assistant coach for the USA men's team.

1956 - MELBOURNE

Coach Soichi Sakamoto is back at the Olympic games as an assistant coach for the USA men's squad. Future UH butterfly specialist Shelly Mann was a member of the USA women's camp and took home gold in the 100-meter fly (1:11.00).

1968 - MEXICO CITY

Prior to the year she spent with the UH team, Susie Atwood earned her place in American Swimming. Atwood was a member of the 1968 women's USA team at the Mexico City Games. Three years later, Atwood grabbed three silvers at the 1971 Pan-American Games (100-meter Back, 200-meter Back, and 200-meter IM) and a bronze (400-meter IM). She was also the world record holder in the 200 Back, a title she held for three years.

Before her UH diving career, Keala O'Sullivan-Watson became the first Hawai'i diver to earn elite status when she won a bronze medal for USA in the 3-meter springboard (145.23) at the Mexico City Games. At that time, she was a 17-year-old senior at Punahou School.

Keala O'Sullivan-Watson is the only diver in UH history to grab a medal at the Olympic Games (Mexico City, 1968).

Camille Wright grabbed a bronze medal for USA at the Olympic Games (Montreal, 1976).

1972 - MUNICH

Susie Atwood returns to compete for Team USA at the 1972 Munich Games. A holder of 23 national titles, Atwood wins a silver and bronze medal in the 200-meter Back (2:20.38) and 100-meter Back (1:06.34), respectively.

1976 - MONTREAL

Before UH, Camille Wright won a silver medal for USA at the Montreal Games as she anchored the 4x100-meter Relay (4:14.55) team.

Before UH, Gary Hurring became the champion in the 200-meter back (2:04.37) at the 1978 Commonwealth Games in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

1984 - LOS ANGELES

During his first year with the UH swim program, Hurring competed for New Zealand at the Los Angeles Games, where he finished fourth in the 100-meter Back (56.90) and fifth in the 200-meter Back (2:03.10). Hurring was also a member of the 4x100-meter Medley Relay (3:50.56), which claimed ninth.

1996 - ATLANTA

Before coming on board at UH and winning her World Champion title, China's Yan Chen swam for the People's Republic of China at the Atlanta Games. In the 200-meter Back (2:14.37), Chen placed third in the "B" Finals. She also competed in the 100-meter Back (1:02.62, Heat 3) qualifying round, placing second.

UH'S OLYMPIC TRAIL

2000 - SYDNEY

Following their careers at UH, both Simon Thirsk and Nicholas Folker represented South Africa at the Sydney Games.

Both men were members of the 4x100-meter Medley Relay (3:42.44, Heat 2), which placed fourth in the qualifying round. Folker was also a member of the 4x100-meter Free Relay (3:21.28, Heat 2), which finished the qualifying round in fifth. Teammate Thirsk was competed in the 100-meter Back (57.06, Heat 6) qualifying round.

UH's Matthew Hon Ming Kwok, who had dual citizenship, competed for Hong Kong at the Sydney Games. Kwok swam in the 100-meter Breast (1:05.28, Heat 3), where he finished fifth in the qualifying round.

Across the way at the women's camp, former UH swimmers Renate DuPlessis and Yan Chen represented their respective countries. DuPlessis swam for South Africa and participated in the 100-meter Fly (1:01.32, Heat 4), placing fifth in the qualifying round. Chen, who was a former World Champion in 1998, swam for the People's Republic of China. She placed third in the 200-meter IM (2:16.01, Heat 5) qualifying round, fourth in the 400-meter IM qualifying round (Heat 2) and was a member of the 4x200m Free Relay (8:07.69, Heat 2), taking fifth.

Matt Kwok, who swam for the Rainbow Warriors in 2001, competed at the 2000 Games in Sydney for his home country of Hong Kong.

2004 - ATHENS

Former UH swimmer Katia Sarakatsani represented host country Greece, competing in her specialty, the 100-meter Breast (1:12.46, Heat 5).

2008 - BEIJING

Former UH swimmer Melanie Schlanger won a bronze medal in the 4x100 freestyle relay, representing Australia. Schlanger swam the third leg for the Australians, who finished with a time of 3:35.05. Schlanger also swam in the 4x200 freestyle relay, but the Australians didn't qualify for the final.

2012 - LONDON

Three Hawai'i swimmers competed in the 2012 games in London. Melanie Schlanger had another fantastic Olympic run in London, where she medaled twice. In the 4x200m relay, she swam the anchor leg as Australia won the gold with an Olympic record-breaking time of 3:33.15. She followed that with a silver medal in the 4x100m relay.

Jasmine Alkhalidi, who swam at UH from 2011-15, made her Olympic debut in the London games, competing for the Philippines in the 100m Freestyle with a time of 57.13 for a fifth-place finish in the preliminary heat.

Azad Al-Barazi, who graduated from Hawai'i in 2010, made his Olympic debut in London in 2012, competing in the 100 m breaststroke with a time of 1:03.48 in his heat.

2016 - RIO

Jasmine Alkaldi and Azad Al-Barazi each made their second Olympic appearance at the Rio games in 2016. Alkadi finished 33rd in the 100m freestyle with a heat time of 56.30, while Al-Barazi finished 36th with a 100m breaststroke time of 1:02.22.
